13 disagreements and differences of opinions.

14 [redacted] And why do you think that is.

15 A I believe that's based on, first and foremost, people being different, you

16 know, from the job, as well as having different experiences, investigative experiences,

17 prosecuting experiences. All of those things are going to come into play, their

18 understanding of a matter versus, you know, what someone else's understanding is. All

19 of those things, I believe, come into play as to why everyone is not going to be in 20 lockstep.

21 [redacted] Have you had instances where you thought a prosecutor should 22 bring a particular charge and the prosecutor disagreed with that assessment.

23 A Yes.

24 [redacted]. It's ultimately the prosecutors who make the decision in that case.

25 Right.

1 A Yes.

2 [redacted] And that's because prosecutors are best positioned to understand

3 the relative strength of the evidence and how it might appear to a jury. Is that fair to

4 say?

5 A I definitely think we have different specific roles when it comes to that, and

6 so, yes.

7 [redacted] Okay. And prosecutors are the ones who actually have to argue

8 the case in court. Right.

9 A That is correct.

10 [redacted]. And they're the ones that have to present it to the grand jury to get 11 an indictment. Correct.

12 A Yes.

13 [redacted]. And they might be in the best position to evaluate the strengths and 14 weaknesses of a witness and how a witness might appear before a jury. Correct.

15 A Yes.

16 [redacted] And is it fair to say that, in those instances where prosecutors and

17 investigators perhaps disagree about what charges might be brought, in some cases the

18 prosecutor will sit down with the investigators and explain why particular charges are 19 being brought and why particular charges are not being brought.

20 A Yes, that happens.

21 [redacted]. And sometimes prosecutors don't do that. Right.

22 A That happens as well.

23 [redacted] And, in those cases, it may just be the case that the prosecutor is 24 busy; it might be just a different style, but it happens.

25 A Yes. There would be various reasons as to why.

1 [redacted]. And there's not necessarily a malicious reason behind it. It might
2 be they were busy or perhaps it was -- you know, the timing didn't work out.
3 A Yes.
4 [redacted]. Have you ever had cases or supervised cases where agents take it
5 kind of personally when a prosecutor disagrees with them about charges, especially if 6 they have spent a long time building up a case and the prosecutor declines to bring
7 charges in that case.
8 A Yes.
9 [redacted]. Can you describe those situations broadly.
10 A Just generally speaking. And, you know, over the years of experience, I've 11 seen where -- because people are invested in seeing an investigation come to a
12 conclusion. And, again, as we talked about having different experiences and opinions,
13 there have been, I would say, occasions that I've seen people I think take things
14 personally and have to be, you know, reminded that we have a job and sometimes what 15 your ultimate opinion is, is not necessarily how things are going to turn out. Because,
16 again, you've investigated a case. You've brought the information to the prosecutor, 17 and the prosecutor has now that responsibility to make that determination.
18 [redacted]. And would you agree that prosecutors generally only bring cases
19 when they have a reasonable chance of securing a conviction in that case.
20 A Yes.
21 [redacted]. In other words, prosecutors like to win. Correct.
22 A Generally, yes, I would think so.
23 [redacted]. Okay. So, with this discussion of the ways that investigators and 24 prosecutors maybe don't always see eye to eye and prosecutors ultimately have the 25 ultimate charging authority in a case, getting back to the comment earlier about, as in

1 many investigations, there were disagreements between investigators and prosecutors, in
2 this case, was there anything remarkable in this case as opposed to other cases that 3 you've worked on.
4 A No, not in my opinion.
5 [redacted]. I want to turn to the release of information in cases or what
6 sometimes is referred to as a leak or leaking.
7 Are you familiar with the term "law enforcement sensitive information"?
8 A Yes.
9 [redacted]. What's your understanding of what that term means.
10 A That that is a classification, as you will, of information that is -- should be 11 kept -- held closely for law enforcement versus release to the public and, again, for those 12 who may not have a need to know.
13 [redacted] Does it encompass information about ongoing investigations.
14 A Yes.
15 [redacted]. And what's the potential harm if that information is released to the
16 public.
17 A So, like, having an investigation that is, you know, not being worked and 18 potentially around for an exhaustive amount of time, it can be harmful for, you know, not 19 being able to proceed in the investigation thoroughly as well as it can be harmful to the 20 individual or individuals that are being investigated.
21 [redacted]. And could it, for example -- could that release of that information
22 prevent investigators from gathering additional information going forward.
23 A Yes.
24 [redacted]. Because it could tip off other potential subjects or other potential
25 witnesses. Is that fair to say.

1 A Yes, it could do both.

2 [redacted] And it also could lead people to potentially conceal evidence or

3 prevent documents, for example, from being obtained.

4 A Yes.

5 [redacted]. Could it impair prosecutors' ability to use evidence effectively at 6 trial.

7 A Yes.

8 [redacted]. Could it even maybe prevent prosecutors from obtaining a

9 conviction in a case.

10 A Yes.

11 [redacted] Is it fair to say that the release of information about ongoing

12 investigations also creates a risk that the reputation of individuals involved in the 13 investigation, so maybe witnesses, but also potentially even targets or subjects, that 14 could injure their reputations even if they're not ultimately charged in that case.

15 A Yes.

16 [redacted] So, for all of these reasons, is it fair to say that the FBI takes a

17 pretty -- they work pretty hard to keep law enforcement sensitive information and 18 information about ongoing cases from being broadly released.

19 A That is correct.

20 [redacted]. Okay. When a -- and the release of that information is commonly 21 referred to as a leak. Is that fair to say.

22 A Yes.

23 [redacted] When a leak occurs, does the FBI conduct an investigation to 24 determine what might have happened.

25 A There is a process that will occur, but the FBI at least, depending on where

1 that potential leak is coming from, there's a referral process that's made. And so the FBI
2 may be working internally within different divisions or also with OIG.
3 [redacted]. Okay. But there's an investigation that takes place. Is that fair to 4 say.
5 A Yes.
6 [redacted] And those investigation can be pretty thorough.
7 A Yes.
8 [redacted] They might take a long time to complete.
9 A Yes.
10 [redacted]. And, while that investigation is ongoing, it's possible that the person
11 or the persons who released that information, the people who are responsible for that 12 leak could continue to release that information if they still have access to it. Right.
13 A Yes.
14 [redacted] So there are circumstances where a leak of sensitive information
15 about a case could actually justify removing an investigative team to protect the integrity
16 of that ongoing case. Right.
17 A Yes.
18 [redacted]. Okay. Ultimately, when whoever is conducting the investigation,
19 whether it's the FBI, the Inspector General's Office or, I guess, the inspection office of 20 another law enforcement entity, when that entity determines the source of the leak or 21 the identity of the leaker, there are likely to be ramifications for that person. Right.
22 A Yes.
23 [redacted]. For example, someone who leaks sensitive information to the media
24 could lose their security clearance. Is that right.
25 A Yes.

1 [redacted] And is it your understanding that FBI employees are required to
2 maintain a security clearance to do their jobs.
3 A Yes.
4 [redacted] Do you know if IRS agents are also required to maintain a security
5 clearance to do their jobs.
6 A I am not -- I do not know.
7 [redacted]. Okay. But, if an IRS agent was required to maintain such a security
8 clearance and that was imperiled because they had potentially leaked information to the 9 media, they would then have incentive or be motivated to prevent that from happening.
10 A Yes.
11 [redacted] I want to introduce -- okay.
12 BY [redacted]
13 [redacted] Just one other quick question, Special Agent, on this subject of leaks.
14 If it were the case that an investigator who was working on a criminal investigation had 15 leaked information inappropriately and shared law enforcement sensitive information,
16 could one of the repercussions of that be that the case itself was so weakened that it
17 would affect the prosecutor's decision to go forward in that case?
18 A Yes.
19 [redacted]. And that could be for a variety of reasons. Right.
20 A Yes.
21 [redacted] Some of that might be, like [redacted] was saying; it might affect the 22 additional evidence that you could obtain in the future. Correct.
23 A Correct.
24 [redacted] But it also could be fundamentally problematic because the leak or 25 inappropriate conduct by the investigator, who would be potentially a serious witness in

1 that case, could undermine the integrity of that witness, create discovery problems for
2 the prosecutor, and other weaknesses in that case that are particular to the investigator.
3 Is that correct.
4 A Yes.
5 BY [redacted]
6 [redacted] Just a couple of followup questions. I'm going to jump around a
7 little bit, so bear with me.
8 But, in the first hour, the statement was made by the Republican counsel that 9 partner, meaning partnering with the -- one U.S. Attorney's Office partnering with 10 another, that partnering and declining to partner is a euphemism for denying the right to 11 bring charges. Is that your understanding of what it means to partner? In other 12 words, does the U.S. Attorney's Office with whom another U.S. -- so, when Mr. Weiss was 13 seeking to partner with the District of Columbia, for example, and they declined to 14 partner with him, does that mean that they were denying him the right to bring charges?
15 A No.
16 [redacted]. Okay. He still had another route to bring charges.
17 A Yes.
18 [redacted] Okay. You said that, when the Shapley testimony, the transcript
19 came out, you skimmed it -- skimmed the transcript primarily because you were 20 concerned about seeing your team members' names in that transcript. Do you recall 21 saying that.
22 A Yes.
23 [redacted] Why was that a concern to you.
24 A Because I did not want them, one, you know, to be -- their names to be 25 published in the media and that it could potentially harm not only the ongoing matter, the discussion here, but also other ongoing matters that they are involved in. And also I just don't think that they deserve that. So I want to be able to protect them from that as much as possible.

[redacted]. And, when you say that you don't think they deserve that, what do you mean by that.

A Meaning that they're trying to do their jobs. They are focused on doing their jobs, and it's important to me and, I think, to SAC Sobocinski and them particularly to be able to do that and to do that, you know, free from any potential attention that can come from the media.

[redacted]. I think we can go off the record.

Thank you.

[Recess.]

BY [redacted]

[redacted] Good afternoon.

A Good afternoon.

[redacted] I want to ask you a couple of questions about what's been marked as exhibit 3. If you can pull that one out for me.

A Okay.

[redacted] And, when we were speaking previously about exhibit 2, we were talking about DOJ Tax and whether approval was discussed or discretion, all sort of related to the process that Mr. Weiss would have to undertake to bring a case in another jurisdiction.

Do you remember that general discussion?

A Yes.

[redacted]. So, looking at exhibit 3 and the statute you were shown, 28, U.S.C.,

515, it's pretty short. Based on your understanding here, if U.S. Attorney Weiss wanted to bring a case in another jurisdiction and those jurisdictions would not partner with him, what would he have to do under this statute to make that happen.

A Well, he would have the authority from this statute, and my understanding is he'd be able to proceed.

[redacted]. So, if you look at the second line of subsection A, it reads that when specifically directed by the Attorney General. Do you see that.

A Yes.

[redacted]. So he would have to be directed by the Attorney General to proceed. Is that correct.

A Yes.

[redacted]. Okay. So, to be directed by the Attorney General, he would have to ask for that direction. Is that fair?

A Based on, yeah, my reading of this, yes, it seems like he would have to have some kind of consultation there.

[redacted] Okay. So he would have to ask, and then the Attorney General would have to say yes, and then Mr. Weiss could proceed. Is that your understanding of this?

A Yes.

BY [redacted]:

[redacted]. But, as of the October 7th meeting, that hadn't occurred. Is that correct?

A I don't -- I don't think it had because my understanding at that meeting is that he was generally walking us through this process.

[redacted] Okay. So, as of the 10/7 meeting, he still had to seek the

1 authorization of the Attorney General to proceed as a special counsel or a special
2 attorney under the statute. Correct.
3 A My understanding is that he still had and was going to proceed with, you
4 know --
5 [redacted] Getting that approval.
6 A If that -- yeah, if that's what it is.
7 [redacted] But, as of the 10/7 meeting, he did not have the authority all by 8 himself to bring those cases. Correct?
9 A Based on seeing this document now -- I still thought at that time and think 10 that he has the authority, but it looks like from this description here of this statute that 11 there was more entailed that I was not aware of.
12 [redacted]. Okay. The minority asked you a number of questions about 13 whether you remember something, and then they followed it up with, "Do you think that 14 that is something you would remember."
15 Do you remember them asking you that?
16 A I do.
17 [redacted]. Now, when you're asked do you think that's something you would 18 remember about a fact and you say yes, I mean, is it fair to say that's almost a way to 19 dispute a fact that was discussed in the meeting.
20 A I think that, as I had said earlier, I didn't think -- well, I have no reason to 21 believe that Mr. Shapley is not being truthful. But, at the same time, my understanding 22 and recollection is different than his as noted in his document.
23 [redacted] Okay. If you look at the second page of the notes, No. 4: The FBI
24 SAC asked the room if anybody thought the case had been politicized.
25 Now, do you see that on there?

1 A I see it.

2 [redacted]. You were asked if you remembered that -- and correct me if I'm

3 wrong, but you said you didn't. And then you were asked, "Do you think that's

4 something you would remember if that did happen?" And you said yes.

5 Did I get that right?

6 A Yes.

7 [redacted]. Okay. So you don't remember Mr. Sobocinski asking the room if

8 anyone thought the case had been politicized.

9 A I do not.

10 [redacted] Okay. And your testimony still is, if he did say that, you think that 11 is something you would remember.

12 A I think I would.

13 [redacted] Okay. Now, we spoke with Mr. Sobocinski last week, and as you

14 can imagine we asked him about that.

15 A Uh-huh.

16 [redacted]. And so, you know, if for the sake of argument he acknowledged that

17 he said that, then would you agree that, you know, your recollection was different from 18 his.

19 A Yeah. I mean, again, based on my recollection, something that happened

20 almost a year ago, I don't remember that.

21 [redacted]. Okay. But when the minority asked you, Do you think that's

22 something that you would remember, and you said yes, as it relates to what the FBI

23 special agent in charge said -- I mean, that was something that the minority asked you.

24 You don't remember that, but you think you would remember it. Correct.

25 A I think I would, but I may not.

1 [redacted] Okay. And if we have testimony from Mr. Sobocinski where he
2 acknowledges that he said that, you would defer to that memory, wouldn't you.
3 A Whatever Mr. Sobocinski or anybody else has testified to, I would definitely 4 let that be their record, and my recollection is that I don't remember him saying that.

1 [12:16 p.m.]

2 BY [redacted]

3 [redacted] Okay.

4 Now, do you have any recollection of Mr. Shapley being concerned about the 5 special counsel issue?

6 A I don't have any specific recollection on that.

7 [redacted] Okay.

8 Now, I believe you were asked that if that was part of the meeting, I believe you

9 said that it's probably something you would remember, correct?

10 A Probably.

11 [redacted] Now, do you have any recollection at all of Mr. Shapley asking about 12 special counsel status or being concerned about it in his discussions with you.

13 A I don't remember.

14 [redacted] Okay. But do you know if there's any emails where he emailed you 15 about that very topic.

16 A I don't remember.

17 [redacted] Okay. But if he did email you about that topic, then is it fair to say

18 that he was bringing that issue up to you.

19 A You'd have to ask Mr. Shapley or check his email. I don't remember seeing 20 an email or discussing that with him.

21 [redacted]. So you knew when you were coming here today we were going to be

22 talking about the October 7th meeting, right.

23 A Yes.

24 [redacted]. What did you do to refresh your recollection about what happened

25 at that meeting.

1 A I didn't.

2 [redacted] You didn't do anything.

3 A No.

4 [redacted] Okay.

5 A Just, again, understanding what my authority was. That's it.

6 [redacted]. Okay. So you didn't go back and look at any of the email traffic

7 that you may have had with Mr. Shapley.

8 A No.

9 [redacted]. Or any email traffic that you had at all surrounding the October 7th

10 meeting.

11 A No.

12 [redacted] Is it possible you had emails with Mr. Sobocinski about, "Hey, we're 13 having this meeting, they're asking you to come," that type of thing.

14 A Probably. I mean, because we work in the same office and very close in 15 proximity, I probably just talked to him.

16 [redacted] Okay.

17 Did you and Mr. Sobocinski drive to the meeting together or did you drive

18 separately?

19 A Separately.

20 [redacted]. What was your understanding around the 10/7 meeting time frame?

21 What was your understanding of the way forward with these charges.

22 A I don't remember having a clear understanding other than now, again,

23 generally, I remember there being conversation of the Central District of California and 24 that that likely was not going to proceed with the U.S. attorney partnering.

25 So what my recollection is, is that Mr. Weiss would continue in his process to be able to move forward in whichever districts he needed to, and the ongoing matter would continue.

[redacted] Okay.

We talked a little bit in the last -- the minority was asking you about the leak. Are you aware that Mr. Shapley has categorically denied being involved with any type of communication with reporters?

A No.

[redacted] On this issue.

A No, I wasn't. I was not.

[redacted] Were you aware that Mr. Shapley specifically authorized the Washington Post reporter to disclose him as a source if he was a source? Were you aware he did that.

A No, I was not.

[redacted]. And The Washington Post, I can stipulate, has not identified Mr. Shapley as a source. Are you aware of that.

A I am now.

[redacted] Okay.

And these types of leaks that happen in high profile cases, is it fair to say that they very infrequently come from an FBI source?

A I don't know.

[redacted] The stakes are really high for an FBI official who leaks something to a reporter, correct.

A Yes.

[redacted] If an FBI official is found leaking to a reporter, they could lose their clearance immediately, couldn't they.

1 A I don't know how quickly. But, yes, they could definitely lose their 2 clearance.
3 [redacted] So that's a real danger that in many respects prevents the FBI being
4 the source of a lot of leaks. Isn't that fair to say generally.
5 A I would hope so.
6 [redacted] Okay.
7 A But I can't speak for everyone in the Bureau.
8 [redacted]. Right.
9 And is it the same issue at hand for IRS criminal investigators? I mean, aren't the 10 stakes really high if they're the leaker?
11 A I would generally think that anyone in law enforcement, particularly if you
12 have to have a security clearance like we have to have in the FBI, that you would consider 13 those high stakes.
14 [redacted]. And you're aware of the taxpayer confidentiality statute, 26 United 15 States Code 6103.
16 A No.
17 [redacted] That bars disclosure of taxpayer-specific information.
18 A Okay. I'm not aware of the specific statute.
19 [redacted]. Okay.
20 A Obviously, I understand when it comes to taxpayers and tax records. But 21 didn't know the statute.
22 [redacted] And so it's a felony if somebody in the IRS discloses taxpayer
23 information. So to suggest -- and counsel for Hunter Biden has suggested that Gary 24 Shapley was the leak for the October 6th story -- but to suggest that -- and I got the 25 impression that was sort of where my minority counsel was going with that, is that

1 Shapley was the source of the October 6th leak.

2 And I just would like to make sure we're all on the same page, that the stakes are

3 pretty high for the IRS investigators as well for leaks.

4 A Again, I don't know what their specific policies and procedures are, but I

5 would think overall they would be high for anyone.

6 [redacted] Okay.

7 And are you aware of anybody inside of the IRS identifying Mr. Shapley as the 8 leak, such as TIGTA, which is the IG over IRS matters?

9 A I'm not aware of anyone being identified as the leak.

10 [redacted] Okay.

11 So I'm not aware of any evidence, and you are not either, of Mr. Shapley being 12 identified as a leaker for the October 6th story.

13 A Yeah, I have no awareness of their investigation, TIGTA, OIG, or anyone else

14 as far as the leak is concerned. So I don't know who has been identified, if anyone.

15 [redacted]. Okay.

16 [redacted] And to clarify, did you intend to insinuate that anyone was 17 responsible for the leak to your knowledge?

18 Ms. Holley. I have no idea as to who or how the reporter received some of the 19 information that was in that article.

20 BY [redacted]

21 [redacted]. Are you aware of the allegation that Assistant United States

22 Attorney Lesley Wolf was having frequent communications back and forth with defense

23 counsel over the propriety of bringing charges?

24 A No. You said the allegation?

25 [redacted] Yes.

1 A No.

2 [redacted] Did you see the news articles published, I believe it was last month.

3 Was it the month of July or -- we're going to mark two news stories.

4 A Okay.

5 [redacted] Was it August 19th?

6 August 19th there were two stories that came out.

7 What number are we?

8 [redacted] 4 and 5.

9 [Holley exhibits Nos. 4 and 5.

10 Were marked for identification.]

11 BY [redacted]:

12 [redacted] These are two articles, one from Politico, exhibit 4, and one from 13 The New York Times, exhibit 5, published on August 19th of this year.

14 Did you -- have you seen these articles before?

15 A No.

16 [redacted] Did you hear about them.

17 A No.

18 [redacted]. Are you still working on the case.

19 A I'm still involved in the ongoing matter.

20 [redacted]. Okay. And you weren't aware of these two news articles.

21 A I try my best to not read the articles that come out.

22 [redacted] Okay.

23 Exhibit 4, the Politico story, it's 18 pages. I mean, it's a pretty meaty news

24 article.

25 And then exhibit 5, the New York Times article, is also -- it's pretty long and

1 it's -- this printout, which the font's a little bit smaller, but it's nine pages. And I'd note
2 exhibit 5, if you look at the fourth paragraph, it's talking about the Hunter Biden plea deal
3 collapsing.
4 So exhibit 5, the New York Times article, paragraph four, states: "The deal's
5 collapse -- chronicled in over 200 pages of confidential correspondence between 6 Mr. Weiss's office and Mr. Biden's legal team, and interviews with those close to 7 Mr. Biden, lawyers involved in the case and Justice Department officials -- came after 8 intense negotiations that started with the prospect that Mr. Biden would not be charged 9 at all and now could end in his possible indictment and trial."
10 So, I mean, this is a news article published by The New York Times that had access
11 to, like, 200 pages of confidential communications, as reported, between Mr. Weiss,
12 Mr. Weiss' office, and Mr. Biden's legal team. I mean, isn't it fair to say that somebody
13 packaged up these materials and handed them to a reporter?
14 A I don't know how the reporter received or has access to this information, so
15 I'm not sure.
16 [redacted] Okay. Oftentimes isn't it true that it's defense counsel that is the 17 source of these leaks.
18 A In my -- I've never been involved specifically in a suspected leak
19 investigation, but I've heard of it being defense, other people outside of the whole
20 investigative unit. So it varies.
21 [redacted]. Okay. But the stakes are a lot higher for an FBI official to leak that 22 type of correspondence, correct.
23 A I would think, yes, that the stakes are higher for a law enforcement
24 individual. But whether or not someone still would I think is that person's personal 25 choice.

1 [redacted]. This story, and we don't need to really go through it, but it
2 essentially chronicles Chris Clark, the defense counsel's communications with Lesley Wolf.
3 A Okay.
4 [redacted] Okay. And the same thing for the Politico story. It talks about 5 Clark writing a 32-page letter that has been reviewed by Politico. This is on page 2 of 6 exhibit 4.
7 A Uh-huh.
8 [redacted]. And no one's alleged that Mr. Shapley had any role in leaking to 9 Politico or The New York Times for these stories that you're aware of, correct.
10 A No, I'm not aware of that.
11 [redacted]. And if you look at these stories, and I guess you haven't read them,
12 but I'll stipulate to you it's really the saga between Chris Clark and Lesley Wolf, suggesting 13 that either Lesley Wolf leaked it or Chris Clark leaked it or Chris Clark leaked it through 14 the assistance of somebody.
15 [Holley exhibit No. 6.
16 Was marked for identification.]
17 [redacted]
18 [redacted]. And so now I want to mark exhibit 6, which is the Washington Post
19 story from October 6th. This is the Washington Post story from the day before your
20 meeting.
21 Was this the story that was the subject of the leak that you were discussing?
22 A I think so.
23 [redacted] And did you read the article at the time.
24 A I did back then.
25 [redacted] Okay. And do you remember during the 10/7 meeting whether

1 there was any discussion of how the leak occurred.

2 A I don't remember the specific conversation. I just remember, generally

3 speaking, that the potential or possibility of a leak had come up and what each entity a

4 part of that meeting, so the U.S. Attorney's Office, FBI, and IRS, would do in referring it to 5 their appropriate processes.

6 [redacted] Did anyone suggest that maybe Chris Clark is the leaker.

7 A I don't remember any suggestion of anyone particularly or anything.

8 [redacted] Okay. Because at this point in time, if Chris Clark had been having

9 ongoing discussions with the U.S. Attorney's Office in Delaware, it may have been in his

10 interest -- perceived interest -- to put a story out there like that. Isn't that possible.

11 A I have not made any surmise as to who leaked any information.

12 [redacted]. Okay. But unquestionably you have no evidence or suggestion that

13 Gary Shapley was the source of the story.

14 A I have no idea as to who it is.

15 [redacted] Okay. And nobody at the meeting had any suggestion that it was 16 Gary Shapley or Joseph Ziegler that was the source of the leak.

17 A No one.

18 [redacted] Okay. And is it fair to say that everyone was jointly as concerned

19 about the leak as everyone else.

20 A It appeared so.

21 [redacted] Okay.

22 On page 2 of exhibit 2, item 4 -- and this is on the second page of Mr. Shapley's

23 notes. And I know we're -- I guess we started to quarrel over whether it's fair to

24 characterize these notes as contemporaneous. But I think where we left off with that 25 quarrel is these were -- the meeting happened in the afternoon?

1 A Yes.

2 [redacted]. And these notes were prepared dated 6:09, correct.

3 A Yes.

4 [redacted] And you said you didn't see Mr. Shapley taking any notes.

5 A I don't remember if anyone took notes.

6 [redacted] But you don't remember whether he did or not, right.

7 A I don't.

8 [redacted] So for all we know, he could put them out on his own today, and we 9 would say, "Okay, there's Mr. Shapley's notes." Is that right.

10 A Yes.

11 [redacted] Okay.

12 You indicated that you had seen page 1 of these notes but not page 2? Did I get

13 that?

14 A Yes.

15 [redacted]. So can you help me understand that.

16 A Just in my discussion with counsel to my right, just asking if I remembered

17 this meeting and what I remember about this meeting.

18 [redacted]. Okay. But you didn't -- because this -- our exhibit 2 was exhibit 10

19 to Mr. Shapley's transcribed interview.

20 A Okay.

21 [redacted] And so it was released. It's been out there since mid-June. You

22 didn't look at it when it was released in mid-June.

23 A No.

24 [redacted] Okay. Did you have any discussions with anybody back then before

25 you started talking to counsel.

1 A No.

2 [redacted]. Okay. And so when counsel showed this to you as part of a prep

3 for today, was that --

4 A Yes. They asked me if I was familiar with it, and I told them no.

5 [redacted] Okay. And at that time, you didn't flip it over to look at page 2?

6 You just looked at page 1.

7 A I don't -- I remember one page.

8 [redacted] Okay.

9 A So if there was a backside, if it was, like, copied with double sides --

10 [redacted] Okay.

11 A -- I just -- I only remember the first page.

12 [redacted] Oh, okay.

13 And did you read it when they showed it to you, or did you just glance at it?

14 A No, I read it.

15 [redacted] Okay. And when you reviewed it, it was the first time you had seen

16 it.

17 A Yes.

18 [redacted] Okay. And what were your initial impressions.

19 A Just that a lot of the information that was there on the -- or is here on the 20 first page isn't as I remember the meeting.

21 [redacted] Okay. But you never got through to the second page.

22 A Not until today.

23 [redacted] Okay.

24 You said you didn't pull your emails for this time frame. Like, what did you do to 25 prepare for today?

1 A Just try to think back to the different meetings, the meeting that is called the
2 tax summit and the October meeting.
3 [redacted] Okay. But you didn't look at any documents? You just tried to 4 remember.
5 A Correct.
6 [redacted] And that's the extent of your preparation.
7 A Yes.
8 [redacted] Okay.
9 Were you presented with any other documents that you were asked if you
10 remembered?
11 A No.
12 [redacted] So it was just one document that you were showed.
13 A Just this.
14 [redacted] Okay.
15 On page 2, Mr. Sobocinski, according to Shapley's notes -- which were prepared
16 relatively close in time to the meeting. We can all agree to that, right?
17 A I would say it was definitely on the same day.
18 [redacted] Okay. But the same -- I mean, the same afternoon. You said it 19 was an afternoon meeting, and these were prepared at 6 o'clock.
20 A Yes.
21 [redacted] Okay.
22 "The FBI SAC asked the room if anyone thought the case had been politicized."
23 And you don't have any recollection of that?
24 A I don't.
25 [redacted] Okay. As you sit here today, what do you think that means.

1 A Only an opinion, because I don't have firsthand knowledge since I was not
2 the one that said this, is just that if this is what SAC Sobocinski said, he's asking the room
3 whether or not anyone believes that the investigation is not proceeding because of 4 political beliefs or opinions.
5 [redacted] Okay. Are you aware of the various investigative avenues that the 6 investigative team, whether it be FBI agents or the IRS agents, are you aware of any 7 avenues that they tried to pursue that were shut down by the U.S. Attorney's Office.
8 [redacted] And, again, this gets into the ongoing investigation and prosecution,
9 and she's not authorized to discuss that.
10 BY [redacted]
11 [redacted]. So are you aware of those allegations?
12 A No. I'm sorry, let me -- aware? Yes, I'm aware of allegations.
13 [redacted] Okay. But you're not aware of the underlying fact, whether it's 14 true or false.
15 A No, I have no awareness of that.
16 [redacted]. Okay.
17 So I'm going to go through some of those.
18 A Okay.
19 [redacted]. And we're probably going to have this back-and-forth where they 20 ask you not to answer and then I'm going to ask you whether you remember it. So here
21 we go.
22 Are you aware of a search warrant discussion about a storage unit for documents
23 belonging to Hunter Biden?
24 [redacted] And this is, to the extent whatever you're asking about occurred, it 25 involves the ongoing investigation and prosecution, and she is not authorized to discuss it today.

Ms. Holley. So I'm aware of various discussions of various steps in the ongoing matter. That's the extent I can speak to.

[redacted]. Okay. Are you aware that Mr. Shapley had a back-and-forth with the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office about how to get at the material inside of Hunter Biden's storage unit?

[redacted] That sounds like a deliberation about the ongoing investigation. So, again, she's not authorized to discuss that.

BY [redacted]

[redacted] Okay. But do you know the answer to that question?

A I do not.

When did you join the investigative team for this matter?

A I was assigned to and reported to Baltimore Field Office in July 2021.

[redacted]. Okay. Fair enough, because the storage unit issue happened in 2020.

Did anyone bring that to your attention after you joined in July of 2021?

[redacted] That's the same concern that involves the ongoing investigation. So she's not authorized to discuss it.

[redacted] Okay.

In September of 2021, are you aware that Lesley Wolf emailed Gary Shapley stating, "I do not think you are going to be able to do these interviews as planned," adding that they would require approval from DOJ Tax Division? Are you aware of that?

[redacted] Same objection.

[redacted] And so my follow-up question is, do you know the answer to that

1 question?

2 Ms. Holley. No.

3 [redacted]. Okay.

4 Are you aware in October of 2021 Lesley Wolf emailed Gary Shapley and the 5 investigative team that, "It will get us into hot water if we interview the President's

6 grandchildren"?

7 [redacted] Same concern. This involves the ongoing investigation, and she's 8 not authorized to discuss it.

9 [redacted] Okay.

10 Do you know if you were on that email?

11 Ms. Holley. I don't remember if I was on that email. I don't think so.

12 [redacted]. Okay. Do you remember any discussion about interviewing the 13 President's -- members of the President's family?

14 [redacted] And, again, that goes straight to steps that may have been taken

15 during an ongoing investigation, and it's beyond the scope of what she is authorized to 16 discuss.

17 [redacted] Okay. But do you know the answer to the question?

18 Ms. Holley. No.

19 [redacted]. Okay.

20 Are you aware in February of 2022 -- again, this is after you've been on the 21 case -- that the IRS sent a Special Agent Report -- is that what SAR stands for?

22 [redacted]. Yes.

23 [redacted]. Special Agent Report recommending tax charges for 2014, 2015,

24 through 2019?

25 [redacted] And, again, this gets into internal communications and deliberations about an ongoing investigation and prosecution. So she's not authorized to discuss it.

BY [redacted]

[redacted]. Do you know the answer to that question?

A What's the question again?

[redacted]. In February of 2022 the IRS sent a Special Agent Report to the Tax Division recommending tax charges, including felony counts, of the years 2014 through 2019.

A And your question is do I know the answer to that question?

[redacted] Yes.

[redacted] Can we go off the record for a minute?

[Discussion off the record.]

Ms. Holley. I'm sorry. Can you ask the question one more time?

[redacted] This is my third try.

In February of 2022, are you aware the IRS sent a memo recommending tax charges, and it's called a Special Agent Report in IRS terminology, recommending tax charges, including felony counts, to the DOJ Tax Division? And these were tax charges for the years 2014 through 2019.

So I asked whether you were aware of that, and then [redacted] lodged -- [redacted] sorry --

[redacted] That's fine.

[redacted]. -- lodged the objection. And then you comported with the objection.

So then my follow-up question was whether you know the answer to the question.

1 Ms. Holley. Thank you for reading -- or restating the question.

2 Outside of the ongoing matter, I'm not normally provided those reports. So to 3 that extent.

4 BY [redacted]

5 [redacted] So you may not know -- even know the answer to the question?

6 A To that extent, in the sense of I'm not normally given those reports. If 7 anything, that might be something at more of a case agent level.

8 [redacted] Okay. I mean, you're pretty close to a case agent, though. So, I

9 mean, have you worked DOJ -- have you worked cases with the IRS before, or is this one

10 of your first tax cases.

11 A So, yeah, my experience with IRS is not extensive.

12 [redacted]. Okay.

13 A So, no, I don't have a lot of experience to speak to what their process is or 14 how cases are worked with them, being an FBI employee.

15 And as the ASAC, although I may be closer to the case team than potentially the

16 SAC or someone at headquarters, I am still not going to have the specific awareness of

17 every detail in the case because I'm not the supervisor of the squad, nor the actual case

18 agent, or another role that is helping to support the case.

19 [redacted] Okay.

20 How many of your people worked on this matter? So how many special agents

21 did you have reporting in to you that were on this case?

22 A There have been a few folks over my time period here at the office. I

23 believe three.

24 [redacted] Okay. So there's --

25 A Correction. Four.

1 [redacted] So the universe of FBI special agents below you that worked on this
2 is three or four.
3 A Correct.
4 [redacted]. And Special Agent Gordon, is he one of them, or did he -- does he 5 predate your tenure.
6 A So that would actually make it like four or five --
7 [redacted] Okay.
8 A -- because I was not thinking about the supervisor. And there was -- yes,
9 there was a time period of crossover, overlap, with former, retired now, Special Agent
10 Gordon.
11 [redacted]. Okay. Was he a supervisory special agent, or was he a special
12 agent.
13 A He was a supervisory special agent.
14 [redacted] Okay. So as the structure works, there's the special agent in charge
15 and then there's the assistant special agent in charge, of which that's you, and then 16 there's supervisory special agents.
17 A Yes.
18 [redacted]. And then there's special agents.
19 A Correct.
20 [redacted] And among the universe of supervisory special agents and special
21 agents, you're suggesting there's four or five that worked on this case.
22 A Yes.
23 [redacted] And pardon me for just asking the same question again, but was 24 Gordon, did he predate you, or did you supervise him for a time, period of time.
25 A I supervised him for a period of time.

1 [redacted]. Okay. And what was that period of time, if you can remember.

2 A Just a little less than a year.

3 [redacted]. Okay. And do you remember at any point during his tenure him

4 bringing up the question of special counsel status --

5 A No.

6 [redacted]. -- or being concerned about it.

7 A No, I do not.

8 [redacted] So we asked you whether you remember Gary Shapley bringing up

9 the special counsel status. We asked you now whether special agent -- Supervisory

10 Special Agent Gordon brought it up.

11 Do you remember anyone on this case raising the question of whether David

12 Weiss needed special counsel status?

13 A I don't remember anyone raising that need. I do remember, and I couldn't

14 tell you when exactly, but just in general conversation with Mr. Gordon, that I -- that it

15 had at least come up between he and I.

16 [redacted] It had come up between --

17 A Between Mr. Gordon and I, but not in the need of raising it, just in more of a

18 question of if that was something that happens down the road, just kind of like how the 19 Bureau, or should I say how we, as the Baltimore team, would potentially be involved.

20 But, again, don't remember specifically when. It wasn't raising a need for it.

21 And it wasn't a request.

22 [redacted]. Okay.

23 Chairman Jordan. Before or after October 7th?

24 Ms. Holley. That would have been before.

25 [redacted] And just for clarity, we've talked about special counsel and special

1 attorney at various points throughout today. Is there a distinction in your mind
2 between those in terms of this recollection?
3 Ms. Holley. Yes, in the sense that my understanding is the special counsel is
4 something that is much more separate from the Department of Justice and -- well, yeah,
5 from the Department of Justice. So I understand the two to be different.
6 BY [redacted]
7 [redacted]. Do you have any other understanding of what the differences are?
8 A Just that with the special attorney that's -- my understanding is, again, that's 9 a process that a U.S. attorney or maybe a DOJ trial attorney would go through to bring a 10 case in another district.
11 [redacted] Okay.
12 A And special counsel is a little bit similar in the sense that they can still bring a 13 case in any district but at the same time will have some separate authorities and be more
14 separate from the Department of Justice.
15 [redacted] Okay. So in your mind a special counsel has more authorities than 16 a special attorney.
17 A In my mind it is more separate. Whether or not they have special authority
18 or different authority, more authority, I don't know.
19 [redacted]. Okay.
20 In your mind, when you think of special counsel, what types of special counsels do
21 you think of? Is it Robert Mueller? Is it -- do you have anyone in mind when you think 22 of a special counsel being different from a special attorney?
23 A Yes. So, like you just pointed out, Robert Mueller. I believe -- I don't 24 know his -- it might be Jack Smith. That's another one that I have some awareness of.
25 But, again, never having been on those, I don't know what it all entails.

1 [redacted]. And John Durham.

2 A That wasn't one that I just thought about, but, yes, now that you mention it.

3 [redacted]. Now, is it your understanding that when you're a special counsel you

4 get a whole separate office and you get dedicated employees.

5 A Yes, that's my understanding.

6 [redacted]. And when Robert Mueller was the special counsel he had his own

7 team of lawyers. They rented office space over here not too far from where we sit

8 today and they stood up a whole office. He had a press person, support staff. Is that

9 your understanding of a special counsel.

10 A That they will be separate. They will have their dedicated personnel.

11 [redacted]. And Jack Smith, for example, I mean, he has his own special office.

12 He detailed officials from FBI -- or he has detailed officials from the FBI, from Main

13 Justice, to support his special counsel's office, correct.

14 A Yes.

15 [redacted]. Jack Smith has National Security Division lawyers, such as Jay Bratt,

16 who have been detailed to his office. Is that your understanding.

17 A I don't know who is a part of it. But, again, my general understanding is

18 that there will be personnel that are specifically working the matter and detailed to that

19 team.

20 [redacted]. Okay. And they often have separate office space, correct.

21 A Possibly.

22 [redacted]. What can you tell us about U.S. Attorney Weiss, about his -- the 23 separate office space he has now that he's a special counsel.

24 A I'm not able -- again, ongoing matter as far as this investigation is concerned.

25 Generally speaking, my understanding is Mr. Weiss is still in the Delaware U.S. Attorney's

1 Office.

2 [redacted]. Okay. Do you know if he has special counsel status or special

3 attorney status.

4 A Based on the -- I'm sorry, media reporting and the Attorney General, my

5 understanding is, yes, he has special counsel -- yes, special counsel.

6 [redacted]. But you're still part of the team, right? In fact, you've been asked

7 not to answer certain questions because if you do answer them, it would compromise,

8 allegedly, the ongoing -- the alleged ongoing investigation, correct.

9 [redacted] And before she answers, to be clear, that is a concern irrespective of 10 whether someone is currently part of the special counsel team or not.

11 [redacted]. Okay.

12 Are you currently working with U.S. Attorney Weiss' investigation that has now

13 become a special counsel investigation?

14 Ms. Holley. Being so this investigation is still a Baltimore Field Office matter, I

15 am still overseeing the ongoing investigation.

16 [redacted]. Okay.

17 To your knowledge, has anyone from the FBI been detailed specifically to work

18 exclusively with U.S. Attorney Weiss on this matter?

19 [redacted] And I think at this point we're getting a little bit beyond the scope

20 when we start talking about the composition of the new special counsel's office.

21 [redacted]. Yeah, I would disagree. The question is whether he's a legitimate

22 special counsel.

23 [redacted] Well, I thought the question was whether he had the authority at the 24 time of the October 7th meeting to pursue charges in any venue. You're asking what

25 type of office space and staffing he has currently. That's a different question.

1 [redacted] Right, because if he's got new and different authorities now, then he
2 didn't have it then. So that would raise significant issues that at the time of 3 October 7th, 2022, he didn't have the necessary authorities to bring any case at any time
4 in any jurisdiction.
5 [redacted] And I didn't understand you to be asking about his authority. I
6 understood you to be asking about his office space and his staff.
7 [redacted]. Right. So if he didn't have special office space then, but he's got it
8 now, that would signify something has changed.
9 So do you know if he has --
10 [redacted] The witness has answered that she's continuing to work on this 11 matter, and she's not able to discuss specifics of the ongoing investigation beyond that.
12 [redacted] Okay.
13 Do you know if he has formed a team that's different than he had back on 14 October 7th?
15 Ms. Holley. I know that U.S. Attorney Weiss is still a part of the ongoing 16 investigation, and so he's still overseeing -- currently now as special counsel -- but he is 17 still overseeing the investigation.
18 [redacted] Okay.
19 I want to go back to whether anything in the case has been politicized, which,
20 according to --
21 Chairman Jordan. Can you tell me if you've met with U.S. Attorney Weiss since 22 the August 11th announcement from the U.S. -- from the Attorney General?
23 Ms. Holley. Yes.
24 Chairman Jordan. On this subject?
25 Ms. Holley. No.

1 [redacted]. So you haven't had any meetings with Mr. Weiss on the Hunter
2 Biden case?
3 Ms. Holley. On the ongoing matter, yes.
4 Is that what you're asking, sir?
5 Chairman Jordan. Yes, I am.
6 Ms. Holley. Okay. So, yes, on the ongoing matter.
7 BY [redacted]
8 [redacted] Okay. So you're still part of the ongoing team?
9 A Yes.
10 [redacted] Are you aware of allegations Mr. Shapley and Mr. Ziegler have made 11 about they believe search warrants were slow-walked.
12 A No.
13 [redacted] Are you aware of allegations that Mr. Shapley and Mr. Ziegler have 14 made that unnecessary approvals, unusually unnecessary approvals, were instituted for 15 certain investigative activities.
16 A No.
17 [redacted] Are you aware of allegations made by Mr. Shapley and Mr. Ziegler
18 that U.S. Attorney Wolf prohibited them from interviewing certain people.
19 [redacted] And just to clarify for the record, you have now been asking her
20 whether she is aware of allegations that the two IRS individuals have made, and she is 21 welcome to continue answering whether she has awareness of the allegations as 22 expressed by them.
23 But to the extent you are asking her about her awareness of any underlying facts
24 or the veracity of those allegations, that involves the ongoing investigation, and she can't 25 answer it.

1 Chairman Jordan. The Attorney General sent his announcement on August 11th
2 that earlier that week, "On Tuesday of this week, Mr. Weiss advised me that in his
3 judgment, the investigation has reached a stage at which he should continue his work as a
4 Special Counsel, and he asked to be so appointed."
5 Did U.S. Attorney Weiss consult with you or anyone else on the investigative team
6 before making that ask to the Attorney General?
7 Ms. Holley. No, he did not consult with me, and I'm not aware of him consulting
8 with anyone else on the team.
9 [redacted] Were you aware he was going to make that request when he did?
10 Mr. Holley. No.
11 [redacted]. After the October 7th, 2022, meeting and the August of 2023
12 request for special counsel status, do you remember any discussion of how to bring the 13 case forward in that almost one-year period, or at least three-quarters of a year? What 14 was going on for the three-quarters of the year between October 7th, 2022, and August 15 of this year?
16 [redacted] She can answer that at a high level of generality if she's able to, but 17 obviously not to the extent it involves specifics about the ongoing case.

1

2 BY [redacted]

3 [redacted] So if Mr. Weiss had the authority to bring the case in any jurisdiction

4 he wanted -- which was your belief, correct?

5 A Yes.

6 [redacted] Okay. What was happening between October of 2022 and August

7 of 2023? Because he didn't bring a case in Los Angeles. He didn't bring a case in D.C.

8 He tried to bring a case in Delaware, although it fell apart rather quickly.

9 What was going on in terms of bringing the case to a close?

10 A So, again, it's an ongoing matter. So there are other things and the 11 investigation is continuing.

12 As an ongoing matter, specifically what Mr. Weiss and his team were doing, I can't 13 really go into that, but I would say that the investigation was continuing.

14 [redacted] Okay.

15 Gary Shapley in his notes, number 5 on the exhibit 2, he states: "No major

16 investigative actions remain." Do you remember that being a source of discussion at the 17 October 7th meeting?

18 A I remember that we discussed the case. We discussed various aspects of 19 the case that we've talked about. But going into specifically investigative actions or 20 steps, again, because it's ongoing, I won't be able to really go into that.

21 [redacted] But do you remember if that was discussed at the 10/7 meeting,

22 what investigative steps needed to occur? Was there anything that had to happen? I

23 mean, I don't think we have heard of any -- anybody say that there needed to be any 24 further investigative activity after the October 7th meeting.

25 [redacted] And I think she's just indicated that she's not able to talk about investigative activity to the extent it was discussed at that meeting because the investigation is ongoing.

BY [redacted]

[redacted] Okay. Well, these notes state: "No major investigative actions remain." So do you have a different recollection?

A The investigation is ongoing, and so that includes many different facets. And so I would, yes, have a different recollection and --

[redacted]. So at the October 7th meeting, you have a different recollection that investigative actions still did remain and were discussed.

A Again, sir, not going into specifics, but, yes, that the investigation is ongoing and has been ongoing. It was at that time and there were still things that were proceeding.

[redacted] So, I mean, you've been authorized to tell us all about the October 7th meeting.

[redacted] Subject to constraints around ongoing investigations.

Chairman Jordan. When did the investigation open?

Ms. Holley. I don't remember the exact date --

Chairman Jordan. Were you briefed -- when you were brought on board -- it opened before you got there.

Ms. Holley. It was, yes, sir.

Chairman Jordan. Yes. And you're aware when the press reported that it was open?

Ms. Holley. I've heard 2018, but I don't remember the exact date that the press --

Chairman Jordan. Were you given a briefing when you came in 2021 about what had happened between '18 and 2021?

Ms. Holley. An overall general briefing, but that was not just specific to this investigation --

Chairman Jordan. I understand.

Ms. Holley. -- but many investigations in the division.

Chairman Jordan. I understand.

And then you said many times you wanted to keep the case moving forward. And I think what [redacted] getting at here, here we are on October 7th, and Mr. Shapley says there was nothing left to do.

Were you a little frustrated with the pace of everything?

Ms. Holley. Overall frustrated, yes, but I was frustrated in not just this investigation. Again, as I had mentioned earlier, the process, processing of investigations in the office were a little bit slower than what I was used to. So general frustration, yes.

Chairman Jordan. Okay. But, I mean, it's been 5 years, 2018 to 2023. Is that normal, for cases you deal with to take 5 years?

Ms. Holley. Some cases, yes, sir, they have taken that amount of time, if not longer. It really just depends on what all is included and happening in the investigation. I cannot say that every case is like a hard and fast that this type of case is going to be this period of time.

Chairman Jordan. Okay.

BY [redacted]:

[redacted] Turning back to exhibit 2, the first page, item number 2, where Gary Shapley says: "Weiss stated that he is not the deciding person on whether charges are filed." And I think you testified that you understood at this time that he could bring

1 charges in any jurisdiction he wanted. Is that right?

2 A Yes.

3 [redacted] Okay. And you were shown exhibit 3, which is 28 U.S.C. 515, and

4 we walked through that. And now that you've read that, do you still think that was the

5 case.

6 A Yes.

7 [redacted] We walked through 28 U.S.C. 515, and you responded to my

8 questions that he would have to ask the Attorney General and the Attorney General

9 would have to say yes in order for him to get this authority. Is that right.

10 A Yes, but my understanding is that that wasn't going to be an issue.

11 [redacted]. So he expected that he could get that authority.

12 A My understanding is that he had the authority and that he was going to 13 continue in the process of proceeding to move forward in those jurisdictions.

14 [redacted]. Okay. So you --

15 A Now reading this statute, I understand that there are more specifics involved

16 in the process than I originally was aware of, but that doesn't change my view that he had 17 the authority then to continue.

18 [redacted]. With approvals. Is that right? He had the authority if he got the 19 approvals. Is that correct.

20 A I'm not an attorney, and oftentimes, yes, when I read a statute, I have an

21 understanding, but I do sometimes seek the counsel of the AUSA or attorneys that we're

22 working with because I recognize some things can be interpreted differently. And so,

23 again, my understanding is that he had the authority and was able to proceed.

24 [redacted]. Okay. And I understand that during the 10/7 meeting that was

25 your understanding.

1 A Uh-huh.

2 [redacted] But now that we've walked through this and you've indicated that,

3 yes, he would have to ask the Attorney General and the Attorney General would have to

4 grant him that authority, do you now agree, sitting here today, that there was another

5 person involved before Mr. Weiss could bring charges in another jurisdiction.

6 A Yes, I agree that there is someone else involved in the process.

7 [redacted]. So when Mr. Shapley says, "Weiss stated that he is not the deciding

8 person," whether you remember that being said at that meeting or understood at the 9 time, that's correct, right.

10 A I don't know what Mr. Shapley meant by this statement. I don't know if he

11 meant because of this statute here or if there was something else. So I can't speak to 12 what he meant in this statement.

13 [redacted] Okay. But based on what we just discussed, it's true that 14 Mr. Weiss alone was not the deciding person on whether charges are filed.

15 A I would say, based on the statute, seeing that, as it reads here, the Attorney

16 General or any other officer of the Department of Justice or any attorney specifically

17 appointed to the Attorney General under law may, when specifically directed by the 18 Attorney General.

19 So, yes, I would say that there is someone else, the Attorney General, as it's noted 20 here in the statute, that is involved in this process.

21 [redacted] Okay. And I want to -- and I understand and absolutely respect

22 that you want to make sure you're getting that right in reviewing that, but the answer to

23 my question is yes, right.

24 [redacted] The witness can't provide a legal conclusion as to what authority

25 was. She can provide her understanding at the time, which she has done now several

1 times. But in terms of coming to a legal conclusion, she's not in a position to make that.

2 BY [redacted]

3 [redacted] I'm not asking you for a legal conclusion. I'm asking you, is it your

4 understanding today that there is another person involved in whether Mr. Weiss could

5 bring charges in another jurisdiction?

6 A Yes.

7 [redacted] And Chairman Jordan read to you the statement from Attorney

8 General Garland about his request last month, in August, about becoming a special

9 counsel. So separate from special attorney but becoming a special counsel.

10 And when he, Mr. Jordan, read you that statement, and Attorney General Garland

11 said that Mr. Weiss went to the Attorney General and said the investigation had reached

12 that stage and he asked to be named a special counsel, is that a correct -- is that

13 consistent with what Mr. Jordan read to you?

14 A That's consistent, yes.

15 [redacted]. Okay. So he had to ask the Attorney General to become a special 16 counsel. Is that right.

17 A Yes.

18 [redacted] Okay.

19 [redacted]. In August of 2023?

20 Ms. Holley. Yes.

21 BY [redacted]

22 [redacted]. So under either scenario, Mr. Weiss was not the only person that

23 would have to decide whether -- not the only deciding person on whether charges could

24 be filed in another jurisdiction?

25 A I'm sorry. One more time.

1 [redacted] Okay. I'll rephrase the question.

2 Whether what we discussed about the special attorney status or the request for

3 special counsel status, is it your understanding that under either scenario, Mr. Weiss was

4 not the only person involved in deciding whether charges could be filed in any

5 jurisdiction?

6 A I think the two are different. As of August 2023, Mr. Weiss was asking for

7 special counsel. That's separate to me from actually bringing charges in a particular

8 district, although I thought that he had and believed he has the authority.

9 Again, as I stated earlier, seeing the statute, I see that there is someone else

10 involved in the process. But, again, as I'm reading this, this is to make him a special

11 attorney in another district, not necessarily saying that he has to go back to the Attorney

12 General to say that, "I want to now bring charges against this individual or not." So I

13 think that there is a difference.

14 [redacted] Okay. And I think they are different. I'm just asking whether you

15 understand that there is a similarity here that in both cases he would have to make a

16 request of the Attorney General and the Attorney General would have to say yes. Is that

17 correct.

18 A Yes. But I still feel like there is a difference in the two. So --

19 [redacted] I'm not saying they're identical. I'm just saying on this one thing --

20 A No, I --

21 [redacted] -- he would have to ask -- he would have to make a request and did

22 in the special counsel case make a request to the Attorney General.

23 A I understand and, yes, would agree with you that there is a difference in

24 special counsel and special attorney. And, again, maybe it's me since I'm not a lawyer,

25 but I also still feel like there's another step that's being taken here in the sense of

1 whether or not he's able to bring charges once he has special attorney and special
2 counsel, and I think that that's separate.
3 So, again, answering your question initially, yes, there appears to be that there is
4 someone else involved in this process.
5 [redacted] And are you aware that the U.S. Attorney's Office determined that 6 there were felony charges worth prosecuting?
7 Ms. Holley. Outside of what is public, I'll leave it at that.
8 [redacted] Okay.
9 In March of 2022 the IRS, the investigative team, including FBI officials, which 10 presumably you were one of them, the U.S. Attorney's Office put together the papers 11 recommending the felony charges for this case, but they weren't -- they never came to 12 fruition.
13 [redacted] And, again, this gets straight to the ongoing investigation and 14 prosecution, and she's not authorized to discuss it.
15 [redacted] Well, there wasn't a question posed. What's the question?

1

2 BY [redacted]

3 [redacted] Are you aware?

4 A I am aware -- so papers, charges, again, that's the U.S. Attorney's Offices.

5 That's going to be the attorneys in any case to make that determination. And aware

6 of -- you're asking yes or no, am I aware of March '22?

7 [redacted] In the year 2022, in March.

8 A If -- I'm sorry, sir.

9 [redacted]. If everyone had agreed that felony charges were to be brought.

10 A Not going into any specifics of deliberations, I am aware that throughout this

11 ongoing investigation charges are being considered.

12 [redacted]. Okay.

13 When special -- when Ziegler, Special Agent Ziegler, prepared his Special Agent

14 Report, that was after he received the go-ahead from the U.S. Attorney's Office and the 15 investigative team.

16 I mean, he didn't write that because he thought that was a great use of his time.

17 He wrote that because that was the consensus decision of the team.

18 Am I not correct?

19 [redacted] Again, she can't speak to specific charging recommendations,

20 decisions, deliberations because that all involves the ongoing investigation.

21 BY [redacted]

22 [redacted] Are you aware of the answer to the question, though? Just yes or 23 no?

24 A No.

25 [redacted] You're not? You don't even know.

A No.

[redacted] Okay.

[redacted] My time's up.

[Recess.]

[redacted] Okay, we can go back on the record. It's 1:22.

Ms. Holley. I just generally wanted to go back to the last question that was asked in reference to, I believe, that was Mr. Ziegler's SAR, and the question was asked if I have an awareness that he produced one in March or February.

And so, generally speaking, I just wanted to note that, as I mentioned before, I don't have -- I don't know all of the workings of IRS and what reports are done when and specifically where they may go to.

So speaking to that specifically, I don't have a recollection of that specifically. But, again, in an ongoing matter and other, I don't know that I would, because, again, that's something so specific to their agency.

[redacted]. Thank you.

Ms. Holley. Sure.

BY [redacted]

[redacted]. I want to get back to kind of where we left off with the discussion about what's been marked as exhibit 2. But before I get there, you mentioned a couple times during the course of today that there was discussion about venue.

What's your understanding of what venue is?

A My understanding is venue will include potentially where a criminal act has occurred and/or there may be a victim and where that victim may be.

And so, for example, if a criminal violation has occurred in Maryland, that the Maryland U.S. Attorney's Office would have venue for charging and proceeding with that,

1 particularly charging directly and not having to go to any other sources because, again,
2 the violation occurred in the State of Maryland.
3 [redacted]. So, generally speaking, venue is where a case can be brought. Is 4 that fair to say.
5 A Yes.
6 [redacted] Is it your -- a U.S. attorney generally can't bring a case in a
7 jurisdiction other than their own, correct.
8 A Generally, yes.
9 [redacted] There is a process they have to go through to do so, correct.
10 A Yes.
11 [redacted] And was it your understanding going into the October 7th meeting
12 that Mr. Weiss could go through a process in order to bring a case in another jurisdiction.
13 A Yes.
14 [redacted] And was it your understanding leaving the meeting that Mr. Weiss
15 would have to go through a process to bring a case in another jurisdiction.
16 A Yes.
17 [redacted] You just didn't understand the particulars of the process. Is that
18 fair to say.
19 A That is fair to say. I had the -- prior to that meeting and during and leaving 20 that meeting my understanding was the same, that he had the authority, if that's what 21 we're calling it, to do so, and he was proceeding through that.
22 [redacted]. And was it ever -- do you have any reason to believe that the 23 Attorney General would prevent him from moving forward to bring cases in any 24 jurisdiction.
25 A No.

1 [redacted] Did he say anything at the October 7th meeting that might lead you
2 to believe that he would be denied permission or denied the ability to bring a case in 3 another jurisdiction.
4 A No.

[1:25 p.m.]

[redacted]. Okay. I want to introduce as exhibit 7 a June 30th letter from Mr. Weiss to Chairman Jordan.

[Holley Exhibit No. 7.

Was marked for identification.]

BY [redacted]

[redacted]. Have you seen this before?

A No. No, I haven't.

[redacted]. I'll give you a minute to read it, and let me know when you're ready to proceed.

A Thanks.

[Reviewing.]

[redacted] You've had a minute to review this letter, right?

A Yes.

[redacted] And this is a June 30th, 2023, letter from United States Attorney David Weiss to Chairman Jordan, correct?

A Yes.

[redacted] At the bottom of the page here, the last paragraph on the first page, Mr. Weiss says: "Second, in my June 7 letter I stated, 'I have been granted ultimate authority over this matter, including responsibility for deciding where, when and whether to file charges and for making decisions necessary to preserve the integrity of the prosecution, consistent with federal law, the Principles of Federal Prosecution, and Departmental regulations.' I stand by what I wrote and wish to expand on what this means."

Did I read that correctly?

1 A Yes.

2 [redacted]. Do you have any information to dispute Mr. Weiss' statement that

3 he was granted ultimate authority over this matter?

4 A No.

5 [redacted]. And do you have any information to dispute Mr. Weiss' statement

6 that his authority over this matter -- his ultimate authority over this matter includes

7 responsibility for deciding where, when, and whether to file charges?

8 A No.

9 [redacted]. And for making decisions necessary to preserve the integrity of the 10 prosecution?

11 A No.

12 [redacted] Turning the page.

13 At the top of the top paragraph of the second page, Mr. Weiss says: "As the U.S.

14 Attorney for the District of Delaware, my charging authority is geographically limited to 15 my home district."

16 Do you see where it says that?

17 A Yes.

18 [redacted]. And that's consistent with what we just spoke about, that U.S.

19 attorneys generally have authority to bring charges in their own district, correct?

20 A Yes.

21 [redacted]. And then it continues on: "If venue for a case lies elsewhere,

22 common Departmental practice is to contact the United States Attorney's Office for the 23 district in question and determine whether it wants to partner on the case."

24 What's your understanding of what "partner" means here?

25 A Partner in the sense of collaboratively, collectively bringing the case together

1 in the district where there's venue.

2 [redacted] So it's jointly prosecuting the case. Is that fair to say?

3 A Yes.

4 [redacted] And then it goes on: "If not, I may request Special Attorney status

5 from the Attorney General pursuant to 28 U.S.C. Section 515. Here, I have been assured

6 that, if necessary after the above process, I would be granted Section 515 authority in the

7 District of Columbia, the Central District of California, or any other district where charges

8 could be brought in this matter."

9 Do you see where it says that?

10 A Yes.

11 [redacted] Do you have any information to dispute that Mr. Weiss has said that

12 he has been assured that he would be granted Section 515 authority if he were to request

13 it?

14 A I have -- no.

15 [redacted]. And in fact, it was your understanding that there would be no issues

16 with obtaining 515 authority, correct?

17 A Correct.

18 [redacted] It was just a procedural step.

19 A Correct.

20 [redacted] And I'm sorry, turning back to the first page, as long as we're on this

21 letter, the third paragraph from the bottom -- from the top says: "First, the Department

22 of Justice did not retaliate against 'an Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Criminal Supervisory

23 Special Agent and whistleblower, as well as his entire investigative team...for making

24 protected disclosures to Congress.'"

25 Do you see where it says that?

1 A Yes.

2 [redacted] Do you have any information to dispute Mr. Weiss' statement that

3 there was no retaliation against an Internal Revenue Service criminal supervisory special

4 agent and whistleblower?

5 A No.

6 [redacted] Or against his entire team?

7 A No.

8 [redacted]. David Weiss told Congress that as of July 10th, 2023, he had not

9 requested special counsel status.

10 Do you have any reason to believe that David Weiss was not being truthful when 11 he told Congress that as of July 10th, 2023, he had not requested that status?

12 A I do not.

13 [redacted]. In fact, do you have any reason to believe that David Weiss

14 requested special counsel status any earlier than August 2023?

15 A No.

16 [redacted] There have been allegations that the Department of Justice has 17 limited Special Counsel Weiss' authority. Are you familiar with those allegations?

18 A Yes.

19 [redacted] To the best of your knowledge, has Attorney General Merrick

20 Garland placed any limitation on the type of cases that Mr. Weiss can bring?

21 A No.

22 [redacted]. Has anyone else at the Department of Justice placed such a

23 limitation on Mr. Weiss?

24 A No.

25 [redacted] Has FBI Director Wray placed any limitation on any steps that

1 Mr. Weiss can take?

2 A No. All --

3 [redacted] Has anyone else at the FBI?

4 A No. And I was just going to conclude that with none of this -- I have no

5 knowledge of any of this.

6 [redacted] Okay. Has President Biden ever placed any limitation on the -- on 7 any type -- on the type of case that Mr. Weiss can bring?

8 A No.

9 [redacted] To the best of your knowledge, has Mr. -- has President Biden had 10 any interactions with the Attorney General about this case at all?

11 A I'm unaware of any type of interactions.

12 [redacted]. To the best of your knowledge, has President Biden had any 13 interactions with Mr. Weiss about this case?

14 A No.

15 [redacted] Realizing that there are preexisting limitations on U.S. attorneys

16 can't bring cases outside of their district absent that authority, has Attorney General

17 Garland placed any limitation on the location in which Mr. Weiss can bring a case.

18 A No, not to my knowledge.

19 [redacted] And as you said, it was your understanding that it was -- seeking 515

20 authority was essentially a procedural step, correct?

21 A Yes.

22 [redacted]. And you never had any doubt that Mr. Weiss would be granted that

23 authority?

24 A No, I did not.

25 [redacted] Okay. And he said that he was, in fact, taking steps as necessary to make sure he could bring cases?

A Yeah. I mean, as he walked through that process, it was continuing to that next step.

[redacted]. So ultimately the decision about whether to charge or not was up to Mr. Weiss. Is that fair to say?

A Yes.

[redacted]. And I think we went through this a little bit ago, but, again, just to make it clear for the record, to the best of your knowledge, has there been any inappropriate political interference in this case?

A No.

[redacted]. And does that include -- when you say no, that includes there's been no interference by -- any inappropriate political interference by anybody at the FBI, correct?

A That includes I have no awareness of any political influence from the FBI, from the IRS, from the U.S. Attorney's Office. None.

[redacted] What about from President Biden or from the White House?

A I have no knowledge of any influence from the White House.

[redacted]. There have been allegations that FBI's and the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office's handling of this case is an example of a two-tiered system of justice. What's your reaction to that allegation?

A I think the investigation is being worked thoroughly, and I don't have a concern that there is a two-tiered system being applied to this investigation.

[redacted] I want to ask -- sorry, hold on one second.

I want to switch topics a little bit.

You said you've been with the FBI for 16 years, correct?

1 A Yes.

2 [redacted] Over the course of your time at the FBI, have you conducted

3 voluntary interviews of subjects or of witnesses?

4 A Yes.

5 [redacted]. What is a voluntary interview?

6 A An interview that an individual consents to and they are not in custody, not

7 arrested nor restrained or unpermitted to leave.

8 [redacted] And individuals -- and it's a voluntary interview, so they can decline

9 to talk to the FBI, correct?

10 A Yes. At any point of the interview.

11 [redacted]. So they can say -- you can go to their door and they can say, "No, go 12 away," correct?

13 A Yes.

14 [redacted] Or they can shut it down after 10 minutes?

15 A Yes.

16 [redacted]. Or they can shut it down after some other period of time?

17 A Yes.

18 [redacted]. In your -- have you ever interviewed an attorney as part of a 19 voluntary interview?

20 A I don't think so.

21 [redacted]. Have you ever interviewed somebody -- have you ever attempted to 22 interview -- to conduct a voluntary interview of an attorney?

23 A I don't think -- I don't recall ever interviewing an attorney.

24 [redacted]. Okay.

25 BY [redacted]

1 [redacted] Real quick, just to follow up on the question that [redacted] asked
2 you.
3 Do you have any sort of opinion, in your experience as an investigator, about why
4 it might be difficult to have an attorney submit to an interview, like why an attorney
5 might decline to submit to an interview if they were known to be a criminal subject or a 6 target?
7 A I mean, generally speaking, I think that an attorney, having a much more
8 in-depth legal expertise and education, and an -- probably knowing the legal system much
9 better than a layperson, would be hesitant and/or decline in volunteering for a 10 consensual interview without trying to know as much as they possibly could about what it 11 entails.
12 [redacted]. Because you understand, as an investigator, that every American 13 who is subject to criminal investigation has a Fifth Amendment right to remain silent,
14 right?
15 A Yes.
16 [redacted] And most attorneys have a better, probably -- are more likely to 17 understand that. Is that fair to say?
18 A Yes.
19 [redacted]. Okay. And if you in your investigation would like to talk to a 20 subject, certainly you can imagine that that would be on your mind as an investigator, to 21 try to get statements, because if you do elicit statements from the criminal subject you
22 could use them in your case, correct.
23 A Yes.
24 [redacted]. But you have no right to force them to provide those statements,
25 correct.

1 A Correct.

2 [redacted] And an attorney, if he were the subject of a criminal investigation, is

3 more likely to understand that, correct?

4 A Yes.

5 [redacted] And maybe that explains why, in your experience, you've never had

6 the occasion to interview a criminal subject that is an attorney, potentially?

7 A Potentially. And I just, off the top of my head right now, I can't think of 8 cases that I have worked in the past that involved an attorney as a specific subject.

9 [redacted]. Okay.

10 In the very first set of questions, I think a couple hours ago, you were asked -- or

11 you made an answer to a question where you kind of explained some of the experience

12 that you've had with different types of subject matter investigations, and I don't

13 remember if you gave an example.

14 But in your career as an FBI agent, have you ever investigated matters that kind of

15 fall within a specialized section at DOJ, like, for example, child sexual abuse or terrorism

16 or something where DOJ Main Justice has its own dedicated group of subject matter

17 experts?

18 A Yes.

19 [redacted]. And what kind of experience have you had generally with regard to 20 those specialized subjects?

21 A So in past investigative work -- and I will just say, this is something I would

22 ask to be redacted because --

23 [redacted] Well, don't share anything that you think is sensitive.

24 A Okay.

25 [redacted] I guess what I'm trying to get at is, like, in your experience have you

1 experienced, like, a concurrent jurisdiction with respect to DOJ attorneys?

2 And by that I mean sometimes the same kind of criminal offense, like a Federal

3 criminal offense, could be handled by DOJ's main prosecutors, people who work out of

4 Main Justice, or it could also be handled by an assistant United States attorney in a

5 specific geographic jurisdiction.

6 Do you know what I'm saying --

7 A Yes.

8 [redacted] -- by concurrent jurisdiction?

9 A Yes.

10 [redacted]. What's your understanding just generally of what concurrent

11 jurisdiction means in terms of where you would go if you were investigating an offense

12 that had specialized attorneys at Main Justice and also AUSAs in a district?

13 A Generally speaking, the U.S. Attorney's Office in the specific district is

14 possibly going to work, or can work, that particular violation with that specific entity from 15 Main Justice. I'm not sure if I'm answering or understanding the question properly.

16 [redacted]. That's fine. It might not be something that is within your 17 experience either, and that's a fair answer.

18 I guess what I'm trying to get at is, can it add confusion, from the investigator's

19 perspective, as to which element of justice you might be working with if you have a 20 specialized subject area that you're investigating?

21 A I think it just depends on the violation and the matter that's being 22 investigated.

23 [redacted]. Okay.

1

2 BY [redacted]

3 [redacted]. I want to talk a little bit about the impact that this investigation has

4 had on your team, on the FBI, on you.

5 If you had to put a number on it, how many investigations do you think you've

6 worked on during your time with the Bureau?

7 A I cannot put a number on it --

8 [redacted] That's fine.

9 A -- without taking some time to really think about it.

10 [redacted] Is it -- do you think it's over a hundred.

11 A Possibly, or close to.

12 [redacted] Okay. In your experience, has this investigation received more 13 press attention than others that you've worked on?

14 A Yes.

15 [redacted] The names of the agents working on this investigation have been 16 made public in some cases. Is that right?

17 A Yes.

18 [redacted] Is it common for the FBI to make agents' names public, particularly 19 during the course of an ongoing investigation?

20 A No.

21 [redacted] And why not?

22 A Just kind of explained earlier, it can hinder the investigative -- in their

23 investigation it can hinder not only being able to conduct that investigation thoroughly

24 but potentially anything afterwards. And so it's practice and it's something that you

25 strongly try to adhere to of keeping the active investigators' names out of the media.

1 [redacted] When you say it can hinder their ability to work on the investigation
2 they're working on or on other investigations in the future, what do you mean by
3 "hinder"? How can it have that impact.
4 A Just potentially stopping from other people cooperating and/or being able to 5 elicit information during interviews, being able to obtain other evidence. It can,
6 depending on how people are portrayed, it may harm their integrity. And so it -- it
7 is -- it's a hindrance, for sure.
8 [redacted]. In this particular case, have the press attention and the other 9 attention that has been on this case and the fact that these agents' names have been 10 made public in some instances, has that impacted those agents in any way?
11 A Yes. It can also add stress. Some stress is common and expected, but it
12 can definitely add additional stress. It can cause issues for their families, depending on 13 what information has been put out there, their families and friends.
14 And potentially one of the really big things, it could be a safety concern and cause
15 potential safety issues for them.
16 [redacted] And do you have concerns for the individuals who are working on 17 this case?
18 A Yes.
19 [redacted]. Can you -- and safety concerns?
20 A Yes. As best as possible, want to make sure that their names are not put 21 out there in the public while the ongoing matter continues.
22 And obviously with that don't want anybody to have the opportunity potentially 23 to locate where they reside or any of their family members.
24 And so those type of things are being taken into precaution, and working
25 internally obviously with the FBI to try to best ensure that their safety is of the utmost.

1 [redacted] And that was going to be my next question. Has the FBI taken any 2 particular steps to ensure that the agents in this case are being kept safe?
3 A We do.
4 [redacted]. And have there been -- has there been a particular need to do that
5 in this case?
6 A Yes. There have been contacts to an agent and family and friends. And 7 so wanting, again, to make sure that that agent is safe, that they're safe in their home
8 when they are not working, as well as making sure that their family and friends are safe,
9 just trying to take all the precautions that we can.
10 [redacted]. And were those contacts that were made of a threatening nature?
11 A They were of a concerning nature.
12 [redacted]. We spoke earlier about Lesley Wolf. Who is Ms. Wolf?
13 A She's an AUSA at the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office.
14 [redacted]. Has Ms. Wolf suffered any personal impacts from her name being 15 made public in this investigation?
16 A My understanding is some of the same stresses and some of the same
17 precautions are being taken and have been taken by the U.S. Marshals Service to assist 18 Ms. Wolf and anyone else over at the U.S. Attorney's Office.
19 [redacted]. And do you know if there have been kind of communications of a 20 threatening nature made to her.
21 A I believe that there have been some concerning comments and things. I
22 don't know specifics.
23 [redacted]. Do you have any concerns about your own safety because of this
24 investigation?
25 A Generally speaking, yes, but I'm more concerned about the people that work for me.

[redacted]. I appreciate that.

[redacted]. Okay. I think we can go off the record.

[Recess.]

[redacted]. We'll go back on the record. It's 1:51.

BY [redacted]

[redacted] The process for which Mr. Weiss would be able to bring charges, do you remember that being discussed at the October 7th meeting?

A Yes.

[redacted] So I'd just refer to exhibit 2 under the heading, "Weiss stated that he is not the deciding person on whether charges are filed." Under 2b, there's a set of notes about the process for decision.

Was it your understanding that he needed DOJ Tax approval first?

A No, that wasn't my understanding.

[redacted] Okay. What was your understanding of what he needed from DOJ Tax?

A My understanding was just that DOJ Tax would provide some type of discretionary opinion.

[redacted]. Okay. Do you know what their ultimate opinion was?

A Generally speaking, I know that they provided an opinion. I don't know the specifics or when that occurred.

[redacted]. Okay. At the end of our last round, I asked about the Special Agent Report prepared by Mr. Ziegler.

Do you remember when that was -- do you remember that being prepared?

A I don't know the -- like, I'm not familiar with the Special Agent Report, and so

1 I don't know when that may have been prepared or provided.

2 [redacted]. Okay. And the reason I ask is because it was related to us by

3 Mr. Shapley and Mr. Ziegler that there was a meeting before Special Agent Ziegler

4 prepared that report.

5 So before he prepared the report, there was a meeting of FBI personnel, IRS

6 personnel, and DOJ Tax personnel, and the U.S. Attorney's Office. And there was a

7 consensus that Ziegler would go away and prepare this report, that they were going to 8 charge -- recommend charges on felony tax matters.

9 And I'm asking, were you a part of that process?

10 Ms. Zdeb. And if there was such a meeting, it's outside the scope of what she's 11 authorized to discuss today.

12 [redacted]

13 [redacted] So were you part of that process?

14 A I was not a part of every meeting that has been had in this matter. So I'm 15 not sure if I was a part of that particular meeting.

16 [redacted]. Okay. You don't remember that at all?

17 A I don't recall that meeting.

18 [redacted]. Okay. Returning back to exhibit 2, bottom of the first page. "No

19 venue in Delaware has been known since at least June of 2021."

20 Are you aware of the mechanism with which they were going to bring the case

21 this past August in Delaware if they didn't have venue? Because it wasn't just the gun

22 charge that they were going to -- be part of the plea agreement.

23 A The mechanism that I'm familiar with was just kind of as we've talked about

24 earlier with he would talk to -- if it wasn't in the District of Delaware, he would talk to the

25 respective U.S. attorneys in that respective district --

1 [redacted] Right.

2 A -- look to partner. And if not, go through the -- now I know for sure -- the 3 special attorney process.

4 [redacted] Special attorney process or special counsel process or either/or?

5 A So my understanding is the special attorney process. Didn't know that that

6 was the specific name of it, but that is the process that I understood that would occur.

7 [redacted] Okay. And my original question, though, just now was that there

8 was no venue in Delaware, but yet in July of this year there were a series of charges that

9 David Weiss was trying to bring. It was the gun charge and then there were some other

10 items that were brought in Delaware.

11 Do you know the mechanism by which he was able to do that?

12 A No. I don't know any specifics other than what I've already discussed.

13 [redacted] Okay. The last item, iii, number 1. "U.S. Attorney Weiss

14 requested Special counsel authority when it was sent to D.C. and Main DOJ denied his

15 request and told him to follow the process."

16 Do you know what the process was that he was supposed to follow?

17 A No. I can only speak from what I'm understanding what Mr. Shapley has 18 written here, and I would refer back to the process of the special attorney process.

19 [redacted]. Okay.

20 A But I'm not familiar with the statement by Mr. Weiss or what Mr. Shapley

21 means here.

22 [redacted] Okay.

23 Chairman Jordan. Is it your understanding that Mr. Weiss is a special attorney or 24 a special counsel?

25 Ms. Holley. So at this time, my understanding was Mr. Weiss was the U.S.

1 attorney of the District of Delaware and would use the special attorney process to --

2 Chairman Jordan. I'm talking about right now. What is --

3 Ms. Holley. Oh, my understanding, based on what Attorney General Garland has 4 stated, is that he's the special counsel.

5 Chairman Jordan. Special counsel, right.

6 Why did he request special counsel status?

7 Ms. Holley. I think that would be best to ask Mr. Weiss.

8 Chairman Jordan. But I'm asking you. You said you've had meetings with U.S.

9 Attorney Weiss since the August 11th and now it's been since you went to the Attorney

10 General on August 8th and requested special counsel, not special attorney. I'm just 11 wondering, why did he need it?

12 Ms. Holley. Sir, again, I think that's a question best asked of him.

13 Chairman Jordan. But did he, in the conversation you've had there, did he give 14 you any indication why he was looking for that status?

15 Ms. Holley. No.

16 Chairman Jordan. Okay.

17 Earlier, with the Democrat counsel, you said that you'd done approximately a

18 hundred cases in your tenure with the FBI?

19 Ms. Holley. I'm really not sure. I'm estimating. It could be less, it could be 20 more.

21 Chairman Jordan. Well, you said approximately a hundred. And of those a

22 hundred cases, how many of them take 5 years or longer? Any idea? Is it most of 23 them? Is it --

24 Ms. Holley. There have been a few.

25 Chairman Jordan. A few meaning 20? A few meaning two?

Ms. Holley. A few meaning -- I would say a handful, maybe five or so.

Chairman Jordan. Maybe five. Okay.

Okay, I'm fine.

BY [redacted]:

[redacted]. Of course the significance of this case is that Hunter Biden is the son of the President of the United States, right?

A It depends on, I guess, who you ask.

[redacted]. Doesn't that make it more complicated?

A I think -- so I've worked and overseen cases that have complications for various reasons. Yes, I'll acknowledge the fact that I think the media has made it seem like it's more significant in that sense, but that is not how we picture it, and "we" as in the FBI.

[redacted]. So at any point in time during the investigation you don't think that the decisions made by the U.S. Attorney's Office were made to give Hunter Biden some favoritism.

A I do not.

[redacted]. So you don't think when Hunter Biden's lawyers were notified of pending search warrants, that wasn't an example of favoritism?

[redacted] She's not in a position to get in -- she can provide a general answer, like what she just did, but she's not in a position to get into any specific investigative steps that did or did not take place.

Ms. Holley. So, generally speaking, from my investigative experience, it's not uncommon for investigators and U.S. Attorney Offices to have dialogue with a subject's counsel when that subject and it's known that that subject has counsel. And that dialogue could be a multiple number of things to potentially elicit some cooperation or a

1 self-surrender, whatever.

2 So I would say, generally speaking, that's not uncommon. Again, speaking on

3 this ongoing matter, that's as far as I can speak to at this point.

4 BY [redacted]

5 [redacted] Notifying defense counsel of a pending search warrant when the

6 investigator and the U.S. attorney had agreed that would be a bad idea certainly is an

7 example of political favoritism.

8 A I am not able to comment specifically on this particular matter. I think that

9 would probably be more -- best to get that answer from those that were involved in that

10 conversation or discussions.

11 [redacted] You'd acknowledge that in some cases a search warrant is used to 12 take a defendant or target by surprise, correct?

13 A It depends on the situation, sir. I mean --

14 [redacted]. No, no, it's just that sometimes you want to use a search warrant to 15 get evidence when you're afraid that if the target would know you're coming that the 16 evidence might disappear.

17 A Search warrant could be for, yes, in advance, or it could be because that is

18 the best way to make sure that you avoid any legal issues down the road but you've

19 already elicited that person's cooperation. It just really depends.

20 [redacted] Fair enough. But sometimes you use search warrants in a surprise

21 fashion, correct?

22 A Yes, sometimes we do.

23 [redacted]. Do you think it's an example of political favoritism to limit the 24 number of interviews that investigators would be able to conduct?

25 [redacted] Do you mean political favoritism in this case --

1 [redacted] Yes.

2 [redacted] -- or just as a general matter?

3 [redacted]. Yes.

4 [redacted] If it's this case, then she can't speak to it.

5 BY [redacted]

6 [redacted] If members of the Biden family had information relevant to this

7 investigation, would it be an example of political favoritism to shut down those interviews

8 and not allow the investigators to conduct them?

9 A In this ongoing matter and generally speaking, why someone may have

10 information, how they received it, what is done with it, it's difficult to speak to because

11 there are various reasons for why those things may occur.

12 [redacted] Okay. If investigators were prohibited from referring to "the big

13 guy" on the day of action, December 8th, 2020, is that an example of political favoritism

14 when there's a real question of whether "the big guy" is the President?

15 A Right. Not sure of "the big guy." But also if there is some type of

16 legal -- wanting to make sure that legal process was followed, that potentially they're not

17 going outside of that, I think it just depends. There's consultation that will happen with 18 a prosecutor when conducting interviews.

19 [redacted] But if the investigators are trying to ascertain who "the big guy" was,

20 wouldn't it be helpful to ask a witness who might know the answer to that question?

21 A I think it depends on the situation. And this particular investigation, I can't 22 go into specifics of investigative steps that was before I came to Baltimore.

23 [redacted] After you came to Baltimore, though, did you learn about it?

24 A Did I learn about?

25 [redacted]. That when they went to interview Rob Walker, they were told you can't reference "the big guy."

[redacted] This is getting into a specific aspect of an ongoing investigation.

BY [redacted]

[redacted] I mean, wouldn't that be an example of political favoritism?

A I don't know that it would be an example of political favoritism.

[redacted]. What do you think would be an example of political favoritism? Just --

A I mean, it depends. It's just you're asking me to infer on a matter that I wasn't specifically involved in at that time. I don't know all the facts surrounding it. And so it's very difficult to make that inference.

[redacted]. In and of itself, if one of these things had happened, I might be a little bit more amenable to agree with your point, being the fact that you're an experienced FBI official.

But when you add it all up, I mean, there were examples of suggested -- where they were told to remove the subject's name from certain documents and DOJ officials said: Well, it'll get us most of the information we're looking for.

That statute of limitations were specifically allowed to lapse.

Certain types of investigative actions were prohibited or delayed.

The investigative team was excluded from certain meetings that in their own mind they weren't felt they were ordinarily excluded from.

Defense counsel was notified prior to the execution of search warrants when the agreement was supposed to -- that they were supposed to be conducted as a surprise.

Specific questions, like not asking about "the big guy" or "dad", were prohibited.

The U.S. attorney, Lesley Wolf, barred the investigators from interviewing certain members of the Biden family.

1 Investigators were prohibited from interviewing other family members about
2 certain payments that relate to the core of some of the tax charges.
3 When you add all these up, I mean, isn't it difficult to say that there wasn't
4 political favoritism?
5 A When I add that up, and as I am trying to understand what may have
6 happened before I arrived, and just what little bit I know of the folks presently, I don't
7 surmise that it had political affiliation.
8 [redacted]. Okay. What do you attribute it to?
9 A I attribute it to being very deliberate and trying to not -- trying to make sure
10 that, speaking in this case of Ms. Wolf, that she's trying to follow every process that there
11 is and make sure every "i" is dotted and "t" is crossed.
12 [redacted]. Okay. If U.S. Attorney Weiss has all the authority he needs to bring 13 whatever type of case he needs, is that not contradicted by the fact that his investigators
14 on the case needed permission from the Tax Division to conduct certain types of 15 interviews?
16 A I don't know how the DOJ Tax works and how -- what it is that they 17 absolutely would require and/or -- again, I just go back to what my understanding was, is 18 that they provided discretionary opinion. But I don't know of them that prohibit 19 someone from conducting interviews.
20 [redacted]. Do you think questions about the types of tactics used by the 21 investigators is fair for us to ask about?
22 A Fair as in you --
23 [redacted]. Yes.
24 A -- asking me?
25 [redacted] Well, just the subject of -- we're trying to get to the bottom of what

1 was Mr. Weiss' authority and when did it change and what was his authority at specific
2 points in time.
3 So the question is, do you think it's fair for us to ask about certain types of 4 investigative tactics that were denied according to the investigators on the case?
5 [redacted] And she's here to talk about her personal knowledge about the 6 authority issue, not to opine on the fairness of your questions or not.
7 [redacted]. So what I'm trying to get to, though, is if avenues of investigation are 8 shut down -- I mean, you can say Weiss has all the authority he needs, but if in practical
9 effect Avenue A, B, C, D, E, and F have been foreclosed to him, there's no way for him to 10 get to the bottom of the case that he supposedly has all the authority in the world to 11 pursue.
12 [redacted] I'm not sure she's agreed that anything has been foreclosed to him.
13 She has shared her firsthand knowledge, and beyond that, she has not gotten into the 14 specifics of the ongoing investigation.
15 [redacted] Okay. In your firsthand -- from your firsthand knowledge, are you
16 aware of any witness interview that was denied?
17 [redacted] And can't address that.
18 [redacted] Are you aware of any search warrant that was -- where defense
19 counsel was tipped off?
20 [redacted] Same objection.
21 [redacted]. And are you aware of any lines of questions that were -- the agents
22 were told they couldn't pursue?
23 [redacted] Same objection.
24 [redacted] Okay.
25 [redacted] That involves the ongoing investigation.

1 [redacted]. Okay. So it's kind of hard for us to get to the bottom of what we're
2 looking for when we're not able to ask, like, basic questions like that.
3 Chairman Jordan. In the month since the special counsel was named, how many 4 times has the team gotten together on this investigation?
5 Ms. Holley. So I think the last month, but the team, again, has been continuing 6 to work this and work the ongoing matter a couple times.
7 Chairman Jordan. So he was named August 11th, today is September 11th, and 8 twice the investigative team and the prosecutors have gotten together?
9 [redacted] And we're now getting into kind of internal deliberations around an 10 ongoing special counsel --
11 Chairman Jordan. I'm not asking about deliberations. I'm just asking how many 12 times they met.
13 Ms. Holley. So as far as -- there have been variations. So obviously want the 14 team to continue. As I mentioned before, every meeting that has happened throughout
15 my time assigned to Baltimore office I have not been a part of. Some of the meetings
16 are more team-specific. Some of the meetings involve myself.
17 Chairman Jordan. Well, let's ask it --
18 Ms. Holley. So there's been a variation of meetings.
19 Chairman Jordan. Thank you.
20 Let's ask it this way. How many times have you talked to U.S. Attorney Weiss or 21 anyone else in the U.S. Attorney's Office about this case since August 11th?
22 Ms. Holley. Again, I would say it's a handful of times. I can't say specifically,
23 but it's been a handful of times.
24 [redacted] But it hasn't been a full-time job. Is that correct?
25 Ms. Holley. My job is full-time and then some. And so this matter, along with all other matters, are full-time for me.

Chairman Jordan. So you're working on the special counsel investigation and you're doing all your other duties too?

Ms. Holley. I am still the ASAC in the Baltimore Field Office that has responsibility of this matter and other matters.

Chairman Jordan. Well, we appreciate that. Thanks.

BY [redacted]

[redacted] I want to go back to some questions that we had about former FBI Supervisory Special Agent Joe Gordon.

According to Gary Shapley, Agent Gordon told him that his field office thought they should push for this case to be given a special counsel.

Did you have any awareness of that?

A No.

[redacted]. And the reference to his field office, from an outside perspective, you would think that would include the chain of command that you're in.

A I don't know what Mr. Gordon specifically meant by that. It could mean a variation of things. It could mean just the office itself. It could mean leadership. It could mean headquarters. I don't know what he meant by it. I think it would be best asking him.

[redacted]. Okay. In May of 2022 -- now, that's after you came to the Baltimore Field Office, right?

A Correct.

[redacted] Agent Gordon told Agent Shapley that, "My leadership is wondering why your leadership isn't asking for a special counsel in this investigation."

Does that ring any bells or --

1 A No.

2 [redacted]. Okay. It doesn't change anything?

3 A No, sir.

4 [redacted]. Okay. But he worked for you at that time?

5 A Yes.

6 [redacted] And he was stationed in Wilmington?

7 A Yes.

8 [redacted] Okay. During the pendency of the investigation, did he bring any 9 concerns to your attention that he needed his boss' help with?

10 A No. The thing mostly, again, was just wanting to make sure that the 11 investigation continues and moves forward, communication, just understanding, as things

12 are developing, just making sure that he and the team were being -- that conversation

13 and communication was happening with the U.S. Attorney's Office and their partners

14 with IRS.

15 [redacted] Can we go off the record for 1 minute?

16 [Discussion off the record.]

17 Ms. Holley. So you were just asking in reference to -- you said Mr. Gordon made

18 a -- or Mr. Shapley said Mr. Gordon said his leadership? Can you repeat that, please?

19 BY [redacted]:

20 [redacted] So in May 2022, Agent Gordon reportedly told Agent Shapley that,

21 "My leadership is wondering why your leadership isn't asking for a special counsel in this

22 investigation."

23 A Okay. So just going back to what I had said earlier, I don't remember the 24 specifics of a general conversation that Mr. Gordon and I had about special counsel, but

25 I -- again, I do remember not asking for it, not saying that there was a need, and I do not

1 remember at all saying that IRS should be asking for it.

2 So like I said with that earlier, if Mr. Gordon made that statement, I don't know,

3 other than what I've just said, what that was in reference to.

4 [redacted] Okay. Do you know if Mr. Gordon ever expressed concern for

5 himself, trying to investigate the Bidens and living in Delaware?

6 A No. I don't remember anything specific, just, again, generally everyone was

7 aware that there had been some folks on the team who had had things put out there

8 about them or had been contacted. And so, generally speaking, I think everybody had

9 that awareness, but anything specifically I'm not aware from Mr. Gordon.

10 [redacted]. Because it's pretty complicated trying to investigate a Biden in 11 Delaware, right?

12 A I mean, it's a State.

13 [redacted] Pretty influential family in the State of Delaware, correct?

14 A I would just say that there are influential families in a lot of places that we

15 work and do investigations that sometimes cross over with their family, so I can't say

16 more than that.

17 [redacted] But you'd agree that he's possibly the most influential person in the 18 U.S., the President, correct?

19 A I would agree with that.

20 [redacted] Okay. And he's from Delaware. So this case presents that unique

21 complication, right?

22 A It presents a fact, but whether or not that presents a unique complication, I

23 think, like I said before, we have lots of different cases that are complicated for various 24 reasons.

25 [redacted]. But trying to investigate a Biden in Delaware is pretty complicated, I

1 would surmise?

2 A It depends on where the investigation is going to take you.

3 [redacted] Special Agent Ziegler testified -- this is different from Agent Shapley:

4 "I recall discussions with our FBI counterparts the same issue, and I thought they were

5 trying to raise the special counsel issue up through their leadership. On that note, I just

6 want to let you guys know that the way the FBI and their leadership -- their leadership

7 was very, very, very" -- three verys -- two verys -- "very much involved in this

8 investigation. I heard of multiple times that they were reporting up to their leadership,

9 meeting with their leadership, and they had to advise them on this."

10 Do you think that was you that they're referring to or that was the special agent in 11 charge?

12 A Not knowing who specifically told Mr. Ziegler that and what they meant by

13 that, "that leadership" could mean personnel within the Baltimore Field Office or it could

14 be mean personnel outside of the field office at FBI headquarters.

15 [redacted]. Okay. Was FBI headquarters interested in this case?

16 A Our FBI headquarters has a responsibility, as program managers, over all

17 cases that are worked in the field, and so they are interested in all cases that are worked.

18 [redacted] Right. But they don't ask about all cases?

19 A Yes, sir, they do.

20 [redacted]. So -- okay. You're saying the FBI leadership asks about all your

21 cases?

22 A There is leadership in FBI headquarters that will inquire about all matters

23 that their unit and section are responsible for.

24 [redacted]. So they weren't asking about the Hunter Biden case any more than 25 any other case?

1 A That's correct.

2 [redacted]. Okay.

3 Are you aware that Special Agent Gordon prepared a briefing in May of 2020,

4 which is before your time, for FBI leadership, recommending that the investigation should

5 be overseen by a special counsel?

6 A Again, knowing it's an ongoing matter, but, no, I have no awareness of this.

7 [redacted]. That he had prepared a briefing?

8 A I don't know anything specifically about that, or prepared a briefing, no.

9 [redacted] So after you became the ASAC, you didn't have any communications

10 with Mr. Gordon where he told you about that?

11 A So when I became the ASAC, amongst other cases that Mr. Gordon and my

12 other supervisors briefed me on, I do remember -- sorry -- like a collective PowerPoint

13 that he put together --

14 [redacted] Okay.

15 A -- to try to provide some background. But whether or not he did that

16 earlier or --

17 [redacted] Was it a PowerPoint on the Hunter Biden case?

18 A It was on this ongoing matter, so --

19 [redacted]. Okay. So it was limited to the case. It wasn't all the matters that 20 he was working on?

21 A It was on this one as well as I received briefings by PowerPoint on other

22 matters too.

23 [redacted]. Okay. But Joe Gordon put together a PowerPoint on this matter?

24 A I believe it was him.

25 [redacted] Okay. And do you remember when that was?

1 A No.

2 [redacted]. Okay. But is it, like, right after you took over, or was it part of your

3 onboarding experience or --

4 A It would probably be pretty soon after I arrived there. I would -- I think

5 sometime in 2021 possibly.

6 [redacted]. Okay. Was it an effort to bring you up to speed on the case?

7 A Yes.

8 [redacted] Okay. Did you ask for it or did he just initiate it himself?

9 A No. This was, I believe, something that he may have already had 10 or definitely did himself.

11 [redacted]. Okay. And did he give you the PowerPoint presentation in 12 Baltimore or Wilmington.

13 A I think it was in Baltimore.

14 [redacted] Okay. And so he came to Baltimore to give you this PowerPoint 15 presentation?

16 A Yes.

17 [redacted] When he did that, was he also meeting on other matters, or did he

18 come to Baltimore specifically just to talk about this case?

19 A I don't remember.

20 [redacted]. You don't remember. Okay.

21 When did you learn that there was a plea agreement in this case? Ultimately the 22 plea agreement fell apart.

23 [redacted] And she can answer that question with respect to the date on which

24 she may have become aware of it, but the plea agreement itself is outside the scope of 25 what she's authorized to talk about today.

BY [redacted]:

[redacted] Did you learn about it in the news media, or did you learn about it internally before it was announced publicly?

A The plea agreement?

[redacted]. Yeah. Hunter Biden's plea agreement this past July.

A I believe it was internally.

[redacted]. Okay. And how much earlier from when it was publicly announced?

A Oh, I'm sorry. Yes, it was internally. And it was prior to the public announcement.

[redacted]. But shortened time, like right before it became public or --

A Not wanting to really go into the specifics of the ongoing investigation, yes, I had awareness of deliberations that the U.S. Attorney's Office was engaged in.

[redacted]. Okay. And at that point when the plea agreement was announced did the investigation stop?

[redacted] She can't get into that because it involves the investigation and prosecution, and she is not authorized to discuss that.

BY [redacted]

[redacted]. Do you know the answer to the question?

A It's an ongoing matter, sir.

[redacted]. Right. I understand you're not going to answer my question. But just do you know the answer to my question? If DOJ wasn't blocking you from answering that question, would you be able to answer it?

A I know the answer to your question.

[redacted]. Okay.

1 So what can you tell us about what happened between October 7th, 2022, and
2 July 26th, which was the date of the plea hearing? Like, what types of investigative
3 activity were occurring during that time period?
4 [redacted] That is also outside the scope of what she is authorized to discuss
5 because it involves the ongoing investigation and prosecution.
6 Chairman Jordan. Did you have any conversations with U.S. Attorney Weiss
7 between June 20th, when the plea deal is announced, and July 26th, when there's the 8 actual hearing, about this case?
9 Ms. Holley. Not that I can think of at this time.
10 Chairman Jordan. Okay. So then let's back up to [redacted] point -- question.
11 Between October 7th, the meeting we've spent the bulk of our time on here this 12 morning and this afternoon, October 7th meeting, 2022, and June 20th, 2023, when the 13 plea deal is announced, how often did you meet with U.S. Attorney Weiss from -- in that 14 time frame?
15 Ms. Holley. I don't --
16 Chairman Jordan. On this subject.
17 Ms. Holley. I don't know. So on the subject of the ongoing investigation?
18 Chairman Jordan. Between October 7th and June 20th, how often did you get 19 together, how many times did you get together with Mr. Weiss to talk about this
20 investigation?
21 Ms. Holley. I don't know.
22 Chairman Jordan. Can you give us a guess?
23 Ms. Holley. I can't.
24 [redacted]. Was it regular?
25 Ms. Holley. I would say regular in a sense that, I don't believe it was weekly, but

1 regular that it hadn't been from October to June.

2 [redacted]. And ultimately the question we're getting to is, what was going on

3 between October 7th and June 20th?

4 [redacted] And she's not authorized to answer that question.

5 [redacted]. After the plea agreement fell apart, did meetings start back up

6 again?

7 Ms. Holley. The investigation has continued. Meetings are not necessary all

8 the time, and investigation still continues.

9 [redacted] In a typical case, not this case, in a typical case, when prosecutors

10 reach a plea agreement with a defendant, do you continue taking investigative steps,

11 issuing search warrants, et cetera?

12 Ms. Holley. It depends the case. So in a typical case, I don't want to use the 13 word "typical," but in prior experience, yes, there could be other investigative actions

14 that are occurring.

15 [redacted]. Let's go off the record.

16 [Discussion off the record.]

[2:30 p.m.]

[redacted] We can go back on the record. It's 2:30 in the afternoon.

BY [redacted]

[redacted]. Ms. Holley, in the prior hour, earlier in the hour, the Republican counsel went through a list of supposed investigative steps, allegations about search warrants being delayed and individuals not being able to be interviewed, and he asked if you thought that was an example of politicization. And you said you thought that was an example of an individual being very deliberative.

When you said that, you did not mean to suggest that any of the actions he had stated had actually occurred, correct?

A That is correct.

[redacted] Okay. There was a discussion about Mr. Gordon giving you a PowerPoint briefing when you came on board at the Baltimore Field Office.

A Yes.

[redacted]. That PowerPoint, did the PowerPoint say anything at all about a special counsel.

A No.

[redacted]. Did it recommend that -- did it say that he recommended that anybody from FBI should advocate for a special counsel.

A No.

[redacted] To the best of your recollection.

Ms. Holley. Yes.

[redacted] To the best of your recollection.

Ms. Holley. Yes. I don't remember exactly slide for slide, but I do not recall anything in reference to a special counsel in that briefing.

1 [redacted] Okay. And I think that's it. We can go off the record.

2 Thank you.

3 [Whereupon, at 2:32 p.m., the interview was concluded.]

2 [redacted] We'll go on the record.

3 Good morning. This is a transcribed interview of Mr. Timothy Thibault, former

4 FBI Assistant Special Agent in Charge.

5 Chairman Jordan has requested this interview as part of the committee's oversight

6 of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

7 Would the witness please state your name for the record?

8 Mr. Thibault. Timothy R. Thibault.

9 [redacted] We encourage witnesses who appear before the committee to

10 freely consult with counsel if they so choose. And it is my understanding that you are

11 appearing today with personal counsel. Is that correct, sir?

12 Mr. Thibault. Yes, ma'am.

13 [redacted] Could counsel please state your name for the record?

14 Mr. Lytle. Mark Lytle, L-y-t-l-e, with Nixon Peabody on behalf of Tim Thibault.

15 Mr. Duross. Charles Duross, D-u-r-o-s-s, on behalf of Tim Thibault.

16 [redacted] On behalf of the committee, I want to thank you for appearing here

17 today to answer our questions.

18 The chairman also appreciates your willingness to appear voluntarily.

19 My name is [redacted] and I'm with Chairman Jordan's staff.

20 I will now have everyone else from the committee who is here in the room

21 introduce themselves, as well.

22 [redacted] [redacted] Chairman Jordan's committee.

23 Mr. Thibault. Thank you.

24 [redacted] [redacted] Oversight counsel for the Democrats on the 25 Judiciary Committee.

1 [redacted] with Ranking Member Nadler's staff.

2 [redacted] legal intern, House Judiciary Democrats.

3 [redacted] legal intern for House Judiciary, Democrats.

4 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

5 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

6 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

7 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

8 [redacted] Thank you.

9 I'd like to now go over the ground rules and guidelines we will follow today during 10 the interview.

11 Our questioning will proceed in rounds. The majority will ask questions first for

12 one hour, and then the minority will have an equal opportunity to ask questions if they so

13 choose. We'll alternate back and forth until there are no more questions and the 14 interview is over.

15 Typically we take a short break at the end of each hour. But if you need a break

16 apart from that, please just let us know.

17 As you can see, there's an official court reporter taking down everything we say to

18 make a written record. So we ask that you give verbal responses to all questions.

19 Do you understand that?

20 Mr. Thibault. Yes, ma'am.

21 [redacted] So the court reporter can take down a clear record, we'll do our best

22 to limit the number of staff directing questions to you during any given hour to those

23 people just on the staff whose turn it is.

24 Please try and speak clearly so the court reporter can understand and so the folks

25 down at the end of the table can hear you as well.

1 It is important that we don't talk over one another or interrupt each other if we
2 can help it. That goes for everybody present at today's interview.
3 We want you to answer our questions in the most complete and truthful manner
4 as possible. So we'll take our time.
5 If you have any questions or don't understand one of our questions, please just let 6 us know.
7 Our questions will cover a wide range of topics. So if you need clarification at 8 any point, just say so.
9 Mr. Thibault. Great.
10 [redacted] If you honestly don't know the answer to a question or do not 11 remember, it is best not to guess. Please give us your best recollection, and it is okay to 12 tell us if you learned information from someone else. Just indicate how you came to 13 know the information.
14 If there are things you don't know or can't remember, just say so and please
15 inform us who to the best of your knowledge might be able to provide a more complete
16 answer to the question.
17 You should also understand that by law you are required to answer questions
18 from Congress truthfully.
19 Do you understand this?
20 Mr. Thibault. I do.
21 [redacted] This also applies to questions posed by congressional staff in an
22 interview.
23 Do you understand this?
24 Mr. Thibault. I do.
25 [redacted] Witnesses that knowingly provide false testimony could be subject

1 to criminal prosecution for making false statements under 18 United States Code Section
2 1001.
3 As a tenured FBI professional, we're sure you understand that.
4 But do you understand this?
5 Mr. Thibault. I do, yes.
6 [redacted] Is there any reason you are unable to provide truthful answers to
7 today's questions?
8 Mr. Thibault. No.
9 [redacted] Finally, I'd like to make note that the content of what we discuss
10 here today is confidential. We ask that you not speak about what we discuss in this 11 interview to any outside individuals to preserve the integrity of our investigation, for the 12 same reason that marked exhibits we will use today will remain with the court reporter so 13 they can go in the official transcript and we'll collect any exhibits at the end of the 14 interview.
15 I know I think we've had new staff walk in so I'll have her introduce herself for the 16 record.
17 Ms. Fontenot. Cierra Fontenot. I'm a professional staff member for the 18 Democrats.
19 Mr. Thibault. Good morning.
20 [redacted] Thank you. All right, that's the end of my preamble.
21 Is there anything my colleagues from the minority want to add?
22 [redacted] Just we thank the witness for appearing today.
23 Mr. Thibault. Thank you.
24 [redacted] Mr. Thibault, I understand you have an opening statement you'd like 25 to provide.

1 Mr. Thibault. Yes, ma'am, if I may.

2 [redacted] Please go ahead.

3 Mr. Thibault. Good morning.

4 I appreciate the opportunity to talk to you today and welcome the opportunity to

5 discuss my official actions as an FBI supervisor and special agent.

6 Let me start by making one point clear. I never used my position in the FBI to

7 advance a political agenda, not once in the 26 years I worked for the Bureau and not once

8 in the 4 years before that, that I worked for the Air Force Office of Special Investigations.

9 Any and all assertions to the contrary are false.

10 In 1996, I joined the FBI as a Special Agent assigned to the Washington Field

11 Office, or WFO, which is was my professional home for my entire career except for 12 periods where I was assigned to FBI headquarters.

13 I spent 22 years of my 30-year career as a case agent, specifically and successfully

14 investigating complex, high-profile public corruption in government fraud matters.

15 From 1999 to 2014, I was assigned to the FBI's flagship Federal Public Corruption

16 Squad currently known as CR-15.

17 In January 2019, I was promoted to Supervisory Special Agent.

18 Mr. Duross. 2014.

19 Mr. Thibault. January 2014, I was promoted to supervisory Special Agent of a 20 Financial Institution Fraud Squad.

21 In October 2014, WFO executive management selected me to lead CR-15.

22 In December 2018, I was promoted to Assistant Section Chief in the International

23 Operations section with the bureau's Counterterrorism Division, or CTD. At CTD, I

24 worked to detect and prevent international terrorist threats outside the United States.

25 On August 30th, 2020, I was again promoted to serve as the Assistant Special

1 Agent in Charge, or ASAC, in WFO's Criminal division.

2 I retired on August 26th, 2022, after 26 years of FBI service and a total of 30 years

3 Federal Government service.

4 In 2022, my social media activity on LinkedIn and Twitter came under scrutiny.

5 While the First Amendment protects my ability to express my personal opinions, including

6 political ones, within the limits of the Hatch Act, I deeply, deeply regret my social media

7 activity became a distraction for the FBI and created appearance issues which resulted in

8 false allegations that my work in the FBI was impacted by political bias or partisanship. I

9 should have exercised better judgment and refrained from such social media activity.

10 Regardless of my social media activity, I have always taken great care not to let my 11 personal beliefs or political opinions affect my work at the bureau. My record both as

12 an agent and supervisor reflects that my leadership, decisionmaking, and investigations

13 were never impacted by political bias or partisanship. My decisions as an agent and 14 supervisor were always consistent with the FBI's high standards for ethics and integrity.

15 In fact, even a cursory review of my record reveals that.

16 During my time at the FBI, I supervised and led investigations into public officials

17 of both political parties without regard for their political affiliation. I personally

18 conducted investigations that resulted in the convictions of two Democratic Members of

19 Congress, and I supervised an investigation that resulted in a conviction of one

20 Republican Member of Congress.

21 I was also involved in the opening -- in the opening of the investigation into the 22 Clinton Foundation, which is now public.

23 My job required me to professionally investigate powerful and influential people

24 without fear or favor, and my record of service demonstrates that I did precisely that.

25 In performing my official duties, I did the right things in the right ways and for the

1 right reasons. None of my official actions or decisions, not a single one, were affected
2 by my personal views including political opinions.
3 I welcome the opportunity to discuss my actions today with the committee. I
4 must state at the outset that I am limited in what I can say by DOJ and FBI policy
5 regarding ongoing investigations. But within those limits, however, I will try to answer
6 the committee's questions to the best of my ability.
7 Again, thank you for your time and this opportunity to answer questions.
8 [redacted] Thank you, sir. We appreciate your opening statement.
9 You also provided a written statement that we'll mark as exhibit number 1.
10 Mr. Thibault. Great. Yes, ma'am.
11 [Thibault Exhibit No. 1
12 Was marked for identification.]
13 [redacted] Mr. Lytle, do you have any other opening remarks or anything you 14 wish to say?
15 Mr. Lytle. No, thank you.
16 [redacted] Okay. The clock now reads 10:08 a.m.
17 We'll start with the first round of questioning.
18 EXAMINATION
19 BY [redacted]
20 Q Mr. Thibault, I know in your opening statement you kind of just walked 21 through your tenure at the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and I kind of just want to 22 highlight some of those, some of your tenure at the FBI.
23 You said you joined in 1996. Is that correct?
24 A Yes, ma'am. August 18th.
25 Q And what was your motivation for joining the FBI?

1 A I had worked previously as an 1811, which is a criminal investigator, for the
2 Air Force Office of Special Investigations. It was just a natural progression to continue
3 the work of the FBI.
4 The Air Force wanted me to move from Atlanta to Houston.
5 Q Uh-huh.
6 A And I wasn't prepared to move there at that point, and I started looking for 7 other opportunities. And I applied for the bureau.
8 And, you know, I've -- my dad served the country for 40 years and I -- that's 9 exactly what I've always wanted to do.
10 Q Uh-huh. And during your opening statement, you kind of walked through 11 your tenure at the FBI and said that you were mostly assigned to the Washington Field
12 Office but you did do some time at headquarters.
13 Can you help identify which positions you were assigned to the WFO and which 14 positions you were assigned to headquarters?
15 A Sure. As a Special Agent --
16 Q Uh-huh.
17 A -- coming out, after I graduated from the academy in December of 20 -- of 18 1996, I was immediately assigned to Washington Field Office. And during that period, I
19 worked as a special agent at WFO --
20 Q Uh-huh.
21 A -- until the September 11th attacks. On the September 11th attacks, I
22 spent maybe a week or to 10 days, something like that -- it's fuzzy at this point --
23 Q Uh-huh.
24 A -- at the Pentagon.
25 And then I was moved on a temporary basis. That was not a TDY.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A I was then TDY'd to the FBI director's detail because, as a part of the SWAT

3 team, Director Mueller was new and didn't have a protection detail. So I was TDY'd to

4 headquarters. I can't remember the exact number of months, but it was probably

5 around 4 months.

6 Q Okay.

7 A Spent that time and then went back to Washington Field Office --

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A -- as a special agent.

10 And then I was a special agent the entire time up until 2014, in January --

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A -- where I was promoted to a supervisory special agent of the Financial 13 Institution Fraud Squad.

14 In --

15 Q Was that Washington Field Office?

16 A Yes, ma'am.

17 Q Or headquarters?

18 A Washington Field Office.

19 Q Okay.

20 A So I was a line supervisor at the --

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A -- field office.

23 After about a year -- I think it was around October or November 2014 -- executive 24 management moved me.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A It was just a regular position transfer, not a promotion to CR-15.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A So I literally picked my bags up and went next door and worked on CR-15

4 from January -- from October 2014 until December, first week of December 2018.

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A I was promoted at that point to really my first true headquarters job. Okay.

7 Q Uh-huh.

8 A So that was as an Assistant Section Chief in the Counterintelligence Division.

9 And I -- I worked there until I think my official transfer date was August 30th of 10 2020. And I was assigned back to WFO.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A And then I worked there at WFO until the end of May, beginning of June.

13 And I did a TDY at headquarters after that briefly until my retirement.

14 Q Okay. And so the last position you held at the FBI was the Assistant Special

15 Agent in Charge at Washington Field Office. Is that correct?

16 A That's correct, yes, ma'am.

17 Q And you were over the criminal elements of the Washington Field Office. Is

18 that correct?

19 A Yes. There's three branches --

20 Q Uh-huh.

21 A -- within the criminal division at WFO.

22 Q Okay.

23 A There's Cyber, Violent Crime, and the White Collar section.

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A I had the White Collar section. I believe there were 12 squads that I

1 supervised.

2 Q Okay.

3 A I think it's 12.

4 Q And who was your direct supervisor when you were the ASAC?

5 A My first direct supervisor was Jim Dawson.

6 Q Okay.

7 A Now he was the SAC --

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A -- when I first got there.

10 Q Uh-huh.

11 A But I also believe he was dual hatted. He was also the acting ADIC.

12 Q Okay.

13 A He was still working both jobs, but we also had Rob Bornstein that would

14 pick up some of his jobs --

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A -- because Rob Bornstein was an ASAC like myself.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A I think he was acting SAC for that period, too, but they worked together.

19 But I reported to both of them.

20 Q Okay.

21 A And then he left.

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A And then Rob Bornstein again spent a month or two as acting SAC.

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A And then a gentleman by the name of Wayne Jacobs --

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A -- came in and Mr. Jacobs became the SAC throughout my tenure until I left.

3 Q And so the SAC of the Washington Field Office would have been your direct

4 supervisor.

5 And then was the Assistant Director in Charge above the SAC?

6 A Yes, ma'am.

7 Q Okay. And how many people reported to you as an ASAC?

8 A There was about 130.

9 Q Okay.

10 A About 110, I believe, were FBI agents. And the rest were -- FBI agents and 11 their supervisors.

12 Q Uh-huh.

13 A And the rest were Financial Analysts --

14 Q Okay.

15 A -- and their supervisors.

16 Q And you said that there were 12 squads?

17 A I think there's 12 squads. If you want me to go through them all, I could,

18 make sure. It's about 12.

19 Q Okay. And all 12 squads focused on white-collar crime. Is that correct?

20 A White collar. Some people would say that public corruption wasn't exactly 21 white collar.

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A But it fell under me, and also Civil Rights fell under me.

24 Q Okay.

25 A So your traditional financial crimes, healthcare fraud, public corruption, civil

1 rights.

2 Q And how many squads focused on public corruption?

3 A There were traditional public corruption. There were three squads.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A That was a D.C. Public Corruption Squad --

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A -- which also handled a little bit of Federal corruption --

8 Q Okay.

9 A -- in additional to the city corruption.

10 Then you had CR-15, which I had supervised previously, all Federal corruption.

11 Q Okay.

12 A And then you had a squad that was known as Northern Virginia Public

13 Corruption Squad --

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A -- which also had some fraud work that they did, government fraud work.

16 There is a nontraditional Corruption Squad also.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A It's a Foreign Corrupt Practices Act Squad.

19 Q I'm sorry you said?

20 A It's a nontraditional corruption squad. It's international.

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A They investigated Foreign Corrupt Practices Act violations, antitrust. That's 23 basically what they looked at.

24 Q And was the Federal Public Corruption Squad, also known as CR-15, was that

25 unique to the Washington Field Office or were there Federal corruption squads

1 throughout the Nation?

2 A Yes, ma'am. There's Federal corruption squads throughout the Nation.

3 Q Uh-huh.

4 A And the offices vary in size.

5 Q Okay.

6 A So they might not be specific to just investigating public corruption, but

7 certainly Baltimore has one.

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A You know, they may do all corruption.

10 Q Uh-huh.

11 A Right? It just depends on what -- Chicago, for instance --

12 Q Uh-huh.

13 A -- they may have a couple squads just doing city corruption in Chicago.

14 Q Okay. And when you led CR-15, can you kind of quantify how large that 15 squad was?

16 A Sure. So the FSO which is --

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A -- is basically the manning, how many spots there are in that squad --

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A -- was I believe 15.

21 Q Okay.

22 A Very seldom did we get to 15.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A It was usually between 13, 14 agents, always trying to recruit, and then 25 people would leave but about 15.

1 Q And when you were the ASAC who was supervising the 15 or -- excuse
2 me -- the 12 squads, was the size the same for CR-15?
3 A Same. Right.
4 Q Same? Okay. So it never fluctuated.
5 A Between 13 and 15 at any one point.
6 Q Uh-huh. When you were the Assistant Special Agent in Charge, how often
7 did you interact with the FBI deputy director?
8 A Very seldom.
9 Q Uh-huh.
10 A I briefed him one time --
11 Q Okay.
12 A -- on a case.
13 Q Okay.
14 A I don't believe I briefed him on any other cases.
15 Q Can you describe the case that you briefed him on, just high level?
16 A Yes, ma'am.
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A It was a case involving two subjects --
19 Q Uh-huh.
20 A -- that were impersonating secret service --
21 Q Okay.
22 A -- agents and there was a concern that they had co-opted some people in 23 the Secret Service.
24 Q Okay.
25 A And that was it.

1 Q And did you ever have the opportunity to interact with the FBI Director
2 when you were at the ASAC?
3 A No ma'am.
4 Q How often would you say that you interacted with individuals at 5 headquarters when you were ASAC?
6 A It was a regular basis.
7 Q Uh-huh.
8 A At least weekly, if not sometimes -- it would depend on what's going on.
9 Sometimes it was daily. Like when that case was going on --
10 Q Uh-huh.
11 A -- that I just mentioned, it was every day.
12 Q Uh-huh.
13 A I was writing briefing sheets to them every single day.
14 Q And when you interacted with headquarters, was there a main point of 15 contact that you would go through?
16 A Yes, ma'am.
17 Q And who was that main point of contact?
18 A So the main -- depending on the subject matter --
19 Q Uh-huh.
20 A -- if it was public corruption --
21 Q Uh-huh.
22 A Can I say names? I guess I don't have to but the public corruption --
23 Q Uh-huh.
24 A -- I would talk to the Public Corruption Unit chief.
25 Q Okay.

1 A I would talk to the section chief over Public Corruptions and Civil Rights.
2 Q Uh-huh.
3 A I would talk to -- over Financial Crimes there's also a section chief.
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A Talk to them. But mostly I would spend a lot more time interacting with on 6 the Public Corruption side --
7 Q Okay.
8 A -- So the section chief for Public Corruption.
9 Q Uh-huh.
10 A When you're -- when you're working financial crimes --
11 Q Uh-huh.
12 A -- like when I was a supervisor, a CR-11 --
13 Q Uh-huh.
14 A -- The Financial Fraud Squad, I hardly ever talked to anybody at FBI
15 headquarters.
16 Q Uh-huh.
17 A When I was a CR-15 --
18 Q Uh-huh.
19 A -- it was almost every day because of the sensitivity of the cases --
20 Q Uh-huh.
21 A -- and what headquarters would want to know about.
22 Q Uh-huh.
23 A Anybody else that I talked to, on occasion, on occasion I would talk to 24 supervisors that oversaw the financial analysts.
25 Q Okay.

1 A A lot of that was trying to increase their ability to work --

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A -- and their job satisfaction, how can we make their job better.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A And that's mostly it.

6 Q Okay. And how often would you interact with Main Justice?

7 A Regularly.

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A I made it a point to -- to -- to talk to them regularly.

10 My main point of contact would have been the -- within the Criminal Division --

11 Q Okay.

12 A -- Public Integrity.

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A So maybe, when I say regularly talking with Public Integrity, that's a monthly

15 basis.

16 Q Uh-huh.

17 A So --

18 Q Okay.

19 A -- on a monthly basis.

20 Q And who at the Public Integrity Division at the Department of Justice would 21 you interact with?

22 A Usually it would be the deputy chief.

23 Q Okay.

24 A There were some contacts as well with the Fraud section --

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A -- because of some of their initiatives. So from time to time I would
2 interact with high-level people in the Fraud section --
3 Q Okay.
4 A -- as well.
5 Q And during your tenure at the FBI, did you ever work or were you ever
6 detailed to any of the special counsel investigations?
7 A No.
8 Q So you never worked for Special Counsel Mueller?
9 A No, I did not.
10 Q Special counsel Durham?
11 A I did not.
12 Q Okay. In your opening statement, you stated that you retired on August
13 26, 2022. Is that correct?
14 A Yes, ma'am.
15 Q And can you kind of tell us what brought about your retirement? Was it
16 planned?
17 A Well, I decided to retire in July.
18 Q Okay.
19 A And so I began the process in July to retire.
20 Q And why did you decide to retire?
21 A I think it was at that point it was I just made it my best interest.
22 Q Uh-huh.
23 A You know, i had worked for 30 years.
24 Q Uh-huh.
25 A I think I was just as what most people, do they're assessing, hey, what do

1 you want to do.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A And given, you now, where I was --

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A -- and everything that was, you know, I had -- so to back up, I actually

6 considered retiring in 2018.

7 Q Uh-huh.

8 A The reason I stayed is because the job kept pulling me back and back.

9 Right? So I loved the operational aspect of the bureau. And so I was continually

10 assessing, even when I was with counterterrorism, I thought about getting out.

11 And so, you know; in July I made that decision what was best for me and my 12 family.

13 Q Okay. And to the extent there is, you know, media reporting that you were 14 forced out or escorted out of the FBI, is that accurate?

15 A I can't emphasize how inaccurate that was.

16 Q Uh-huh.

17 A No one ever asked me --

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A -- to leave. It was a personal decision, and I did so voluntarily.

20 Q Uh-huh.

21 A And I notified my bosses I intended to retire. So --

22 Q Okay. I want to turn to part of your tenure at the Washington Field Office

23 and kind of focus on any role that you had investigating the events that occurred at the 24 Capitol on January 6th, 2021.

25 What position were you in on that date?

1 A I was an ASAC.

2 Q Un-huh. And, you know, in testimony to the committee, several individuals

3 who had worked at the Washington Field Office on that day said that they had been

4 dispatched to the Capitol.

5 Were you one of the individuals that was dispatched to the Capitol that day?

6 A No, I was not.

7 Q Did you play any role in, you know, any investigations or awareness of 8 planned protests that were going to occur on January 6th?

9 A No, I did not.

10 Q On the day, January 6th, did you have any awareness of what was going on 11 at the Capitol? Were you getting briefs?

12 A In the morning?

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A I just had the TV on in my office.

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A And that's it. I actually went to lunch, and at lunch I received a text

17 message from my boss --

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A -- Mr. Jim Dawson --

20 Q Uh-huh.

21 A -- that told me to prepare to have agents respond to D.C.

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A And so I put that announcement out to have my agents prepare, make sure

24 their radios were coded.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A And then not long after, he said, hey, have your agents come down to D.C.
2 So I did. And I also --
3 Q Uh-huh.
4 A -- drove in from northern Virginia to D.C. I just drove to the Washington
5 Field Office --
6 Q Okay.
7 A -- and was there until midnight maybe --
8 Q Uh-huh.
9 A -- maybe a little later.
10 Q Uh-huh. And what was your role on that day?
11 A I was available at the command post.
12 Q Uh-huh.
13 A I didn't really have a formal role. I was there just trying to support --
14 Q Uh-huh.
15 A -- however was needed. If -- whatever taskings came through --
16 Q Uh-huh.
17 A -- I was there to support that.
18 Q Okay.
19 A I didn't make any decisions with regard to the Capitol.
20 Q Uh-huh.
21 A I wasn't down there. So --
22 Q And how many of your agents were dispatched to the Capitol that day?
23 A I don't exactly know --
24 Q Uh-huh.
25 A -- because what happened was they were told to report to the Washington

1 Field Office.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A But at some point they were diverted to a parking lot.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A Some of them were, not all of them. I'm not sure what squads were.

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A My boss was running that. So he wasn't at the Washington Field Office.

8 Neither was the ASAC over Violent Crimes. He wasn't at the Washington Field Office.

9 He was actually with my boss.

10 Q Uh-huh.

11 A They were sort of at -- in the parking lot, providing direction.

12 Q And your boss at the time was Mr. Dawson?

13 A Yes, ma'am.

14 Q Is that correct?

15 And so you said you had 110 agents that you supervised.

16 A Right.

17 Q Did all 110 get the notification that they needed to dispatch to the Capitol?

18 A I sent an email to all the supervisors.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A My intent was that they all would --

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A -- get the email to go to, excuse me, Washington Field Office, not the Capitol.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A I think at some point, because of traffic, because of traffic issues, they were

25 told to go to a parking lot.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A But I wasn't -- at that point I was in the car. I was outside of comms really.

3 Q Uh-huh.

4 A I wasn't inside, so I just stayed in my lane and didn't have any role in sending

5 who was going to go to who. What I think happened --

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A -- was certain squads were assigned to go one place and I'm pretty sure that

8 certain squads that I supervised probably went to Washington Field Office.

9 So between parking lot and the Washington Field Office, there are probably a mix.

10 Q And did you ever get any sort of back-briefing on what the squads were 11 doing that day from the squad supervisors or individuals on the squad?

12 A Not a formal brief.

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A At -- during the -- during the actual January 6 --

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A -- activity, I was just in the command post --

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A -- trying to understand what was going on --

19 Q Yeah.

20 A -- and trying to be helpful and not get in the way.

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A Afterwards, my boss came back to the office and gave me a little, sort of a

23 informal brief --

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A -- about what he experienced.

1 Q Okay. And do you remember any sort of content of that brief that you
2 received?
3 A A little bit, a little bit. He was told to help clear the Capitol --
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A -- and to assist MPD and the Capitol Police --
6 Q Uh-huh.
7 A -- with anything they needed outside of the Capitol.
8 Q Okay. And how many supervisors did you oversee of the squads?
9 A So if there are 12 squads --
10 Q Uh-huh.
11 A -- I'm hoping I'm right on that. God, my memory.
12 I think there are 12 squads.
13 Q Uh-huh.
14 A So there would have been a supervisor for each squad.
15 Q Okay.
16 A There were -- nine of those would have been Supervisory Special Agents.
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A The other three --
19 Q Uh-huh.
20 A -- would have been Supervisory Forensic Accountants.
21 Q Okay. And to the extent you needed to know what was going on with one 22 of your squads, would you go to the supervisor?
23 A I was in contact with them --
24 Q Uh-huh.
25 A -- a lot, yes, I was.

1 Q Daily basis?

2 A Daily basis.

3 Q Okay. Focusing back in on January 6th, 2021, after that day, did you have 4 any involvement in the ongoing investigations?

5 A Limited.

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A So I was in the command post --

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A -- for a period of time.

10 Q Okay.

11 A The exact number of days escapes me but it was -- it was probably between 12 the 6th I had a couple days off between the 6th and the inauguration.

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A And so I was going into the command post regularly --

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A -- working a shift. All the ASACS received shift work.

17 Q Okay.

18 A So there wasn't a specific tasking that they gave to Tim Thibault.

19 Q Okay.

20 A It was go in. You're relieving this ASAC before you.

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A You need to make sure that any taskings that they have that they didn't 23 finish, you pick up.

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A Provide a -- be there for the out-brief of agents were coming off shift and

1 prepare to do an in-brief for the agents coming on the shift.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A So for a period it was 24-7.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A And so trying to keep continuity of information --

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A -- that was a role.

8 And then I was in support. I was handling any number of taskings which could

9 have involved -- there might have been some evidence that needed to be reviewed by

10 headquarters.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A Hey, an agent's having a problem getting this done. Can you help them

13 make some calls?

14 I was basically in a support role.

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A I was also regularly in touch with my supervisors, making sure my agents

17 were okay.

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A Because they were working off shift, a lot of people work white collar.

20 Q Uh-huh.

21 A And because it's -- you're not responding in the middle of the night.

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A Or so it's a regular basis. So some of them have childcare issues. Right?

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A So I'm in touch with my supervisors, making sure my people were okay.

1 And then also it was a complex, complex time --

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A -- with so much information coming in to Washington Field Office during the 4 situation. I was actually around, as I said, on 9/11.

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A I was in the command post during periods on 9/11.

7 Q Uh-huh.

8 A This morphed it, not because of -- not because of the -- not because of 9/11.

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A But -- not because this was more devastating from 9/11. I'm not saying

11 that. It was just the amount of sheer data that we deal with nowadays in cases, the 12 amount of video coming in, the amount of potential subjects.

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A And so those cases -- those cases were -- there was -- there was a forward

15 command post.

16 Q Uh-huh.

17 A The FBI and the Capitol Police had a forward command post.

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A They were -- they were sort of getting things from an Intake Squad.

20 Q Uh-huh.

21 A They would get the information. They would try to put it together and

22 assign case numbers to subjects --

23 Q Okay.

24 A -- potential subjects. So they -- they were beginning to open a lot of cases.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A And they needed agents to work those cases.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A Because WFO, while it's a large field office, it's not that large, so if you only

4 had a few cases, they would most likely have been assigned to the Violent Crimes

5 Squads --

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A -- or Domestic Terrorism Squads.

8 Here, there's so many cases that every squad was taking cases. My branch had

9 more case agents than any other branch at WFO.

10 Q Uh-huh.

11 A And so my squads took on approximately 20 to 25 cases.

12 Q Uh-huh.

13 A And I just needed to make sure that my supervisors were getting cases

14 assigned --

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A -- because what happened for that short period of time is agents stopped

17 working other cases and they started. So, like, my -- my case agents were working bank

18 fraud.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A They weren't going to be working bank fraud for a month or so. They had 21 these cases to kind of work.

22 And those -- that direction, right, so that direction came from executive

23 management, hey -- and commander's intent is, like, you're going to work -- we're going

24 to work these cases and we got to get them assigned.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A And so I had a support role, not in investigating those cases --
2 Q Uh-huh.
3 A -- but making sure those cases were assigned as sort of as a resource. I was 4 an admin guy.
5 Q Uh-huh.
6 A When those -- when those case are were assigned, now I had all my agents
7 who, in addition to their full case load, now had some other cases that they had to work.
8 Q Uh-huh.
9 A Most of those cases were called -- I think they were called 176 cases --
10 Q Uh-huh.
11 A -- trespassing type of cases. Those weren't cases in my portfolio.
12 Q Uh-huh.
13 A We also had some cases that were assault on Federal officers.
14 Q Uh-huh.
15 A Those cases weren't in my portfolio, meaning I shouldn't be reviewing those
16 cases.
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A Okay. When -- so I didn't have an operational role in oversight. I just had 19 a role in making sure my agents were accountable to be working any cases assigned to 20 them, whatever they were.
21 Q And so who was supervising those cases then if they weren't in your 22 portfolio that your agents were handling?
23 A They were being supervised by, if it was assault on Federal officers --
24 Q Uh-huh.
25 A -- they were being supervised by the ASAC for the Violent Crimes.

1 Q Okay.

2 A Okay. If they were 176, I believe that's a domestic terrorism classification.

3 That would -- they'd be supervised by the ASAC for Domestic Terrorism.

4 There were a small number of cases that within that branch --

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A -- that were for one reason or another -- and I don't know why this

7 happened. I have a sense of why. But there was a small number of assault on media

8 cases that were assigned to my case agents, and I was to oversee them.

9 Q Okay.

10 A I think the reason that was made, that decision was made, was because any

11 cases that involved media --

12 Q Uh-huh.

13 A -- involved some sort of sensitivity or additional approvals to --

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A -- either if the media person is a subject or a victim. I didn't make that

16 decision, and I didn't make the decision either on how cases were classified with

17 respect --

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A -- to 176 or assault on Federal officers. Those were made by other people.

20 Q Were those made at people -- at the Washington Field Office or at

21 headquarters?

22 A My understanding is, is that ultimately the decision was at headquarters

23 between the Criminal Division and Counterterrorism Division.

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A At the beginning I think that, like, in the first number of days I think that the

1 Washington Field Office between Domestic Terrorism section and Violent Crime section,
2 they were making the decisions at the very beginning because of everything that was
3 going on. And I think headquarters later reviewed that.
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A I don't have any direct knowledge of that. I wasn't in those meetings.
6 Q And when you said that some of your agents had to stop working their other
7 cases to work their assigned January 6th cases, was that for an extended period of time?
8 A It differed between case agents.
9 Q Uh-huh.
10 A So they were responsible for working with their prosecutors.
11 Q Uh-huh.
12 A And the ASAC has very little insight. When a case is open for instance, if it's 13 an assault on a Federal officer case, I don't have any insight as to how that case is being 14 worked really. I didn't see the communications with the prosecutors.
15 Q Uh-huh.
16 A I didn't see the complexity of a case or not, if it was --
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A -- an unknown subject or a known subject. It would really depend on what 19 the case was and what the agents were working on.
20 Now, for instance, if there was a case that was going to trial, obviously, that case
21 agent would not be --
22 Q Uh-huh.
23 A -- able to take on that load. Right? So they'd have to prioritize. So 110
24 agents, I would say there's probably 110 different formulations. But as a general rule, 25 for a couple months at least, they were working, most agents were working primarily

1 their cases from January 6th.

2 Q And that general rule, did that come down from Washington Field Office or

3 headquarters? How was that known that there was this general rule?

4 A I got direction from my bosses, Jim Dawson and Steve D'Antuono.

5 Q Okay.

6 A Sort of commander's intent, here is what we're working.

7 Q And Dawson was the Special Agent in Charge, and D'Antuono was the ADIC.

8 Is that correct?

9 A Yes, ma'am.

10 Q And when -- did you kind of have a sense of how your agents were working 11 their January 6th cases?

12 A I did -- I did because I required daily updates --

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A -- for -- the supervisors gave me daily updates. Sometimes they'd have a

15 day where they didn't have anything. But if something was going to be indicted or there

16 was going to be a search warrant, I just asked them to inform me, because I wanted to

17 know what my folks were doing --

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A -- number one. Number two, I wanted to know what the op tempo was 20 because I wanted to keep sort of a health measure on how my folks were doing.

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A This was during COVID.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A Like I said, they had different family situations. So I wanted to make sure

25 my folks were okay.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A I was not generally able to review the cases that weren't under my portfolio.

3 Q Uh-huh.

4 A So when I review cases, I do it on a quarterly basis.

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A Every -- every ASAC has to do it. The supervisor first does the first review.

7 I would do the second. I would review every case --

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A -- that people have assigned. And generally those cases wouldn't

10 allow -- they wouldn't pop up in the FBI system to allow me to look at them.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A I could -- I want to be clear. I could look at them -- at them if I wanted to 13 but they didn't appear on the file review for my agents.

14 Q Okay.

15 A So I just didn't regularly look at the file, unless there was an actual reason for 16 me to do it.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A I don't recall looking at that many of them.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A So --

21 Q Did you have an understanding if your case agents were reaching out to 22 other field offices across the country to work leads?

23 A I did.

24 Q What can you tell us about that?

25 A A couple -- a couple times. So there came a time --

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A -- when someone at headquarters, and I don't know who, made a decision

3 that a case would be opened, sort of maybe dual captioned or in such a way that, for

4 instance, Dallas would open the case on the same subject that WFO would have the case

5 open.

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A I don't know who made that decision. That's not -- that's not how it was at 8 the very beginning.

9 Q Okay.

10 A I understand that decision, again, might have been meat at Counterterrorism

11 Division or Criminal Division.

12 Q And why do you think that decision was made?

13 A So as a -- as a long-term FBI --

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A -- guy, I thought it was made because a lot of the people that were being

16 investigated lived outside of Washington, D.C.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A But the prosecution was going to be in Washington, D.C.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A So I thought that the decision was made -- what made sense to me was they

21 would open it in another field office. So that field office would, one, have situational

22 awareness if there --

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A -- was an issue there. Also, logistically it just made sense because maybe

25 some of the leads, most of the leads might be done in that field office.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A Washington Field Office, though, had the interaction piece with the

3 prosecutor.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A Now that was good. Right?

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A But also the downside is there had to be really good communication

8 between --

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A -- the field office out in, say, Dallas or whatever and Washington Field Office.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A Some agents had a couple of cases that they were working towards

13 prosecution, and a couple of times I was asking about that case --

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A -- because it maybe it was an interesting case or something had come up to 16 spark my attention. And so I would ask a case agent, hey, how's it going.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A How you doing on this thing? What are your challenges?

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A Because some of the -- some of the work being done was actually pretty 21 cool.

22 As a old guy, it's, like, how did you find this person? Right. You have this video

23 of these people. How did you locate who this person was?

24 And so I was just interested to see what type of work they were doing. It

25 was what challenges they faced. That's how I came across knowing.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A Right?

3 Q And the committee has received testimony from former officials that -- and

4 current officials that there was sometimes some tension between the Washington Field

5 Office and other field offices across the country where Washington Field Office would

6 send a lead to the, you know, home field office, if you will, and the home field office

7 would do some investigation and say there's nothing here. And then Washington Field

8 Office would say go back and look again.

9 Do you have any knowledge of that occurring?

10 A No, I really don't.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A I -- anytime you have a case, especially if you're working a case together, I

13 don't think it's unreasonable that there's disagreements or -- but that -- I can't think of an

14 instance where I had to get involved.

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A You know, but there are -- I could -- when I say that, now I remember.

17 There was one case --

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A -- where there was an arrest of a subject. I forget where. But it was in a 20 place that was sort of we would call nonpermissive.

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A It was hard to get to where this person lived and the person might have 23 been -- they might have been a little bit of risk when you do this arrest.

24 And I think our field office was, like, hey, why is this taking so long.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A And then that field office was, like, here's why. Here's what the situation
2 is. It's hard and there's a risk and we need to balance the risk with your timing or your 3 prosecutor's timing.
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A So there's always that tension. But on a regular basis I didn't see it. I
6 certainly didn't get involved much at all in that.
7 Q And do you know if the case that was opened in the Washington Field Office,
8 was it classified as a domestic terrorism case and then the case that the other field office
9 would be opened as a domestic terrorism case? Did you have any awareness of that?
10 A No. And I would say that the Domestic Terrorism ASAC would have been 11 the one that was most in tune to those issues.
12 Q Uh-huh. Okay.
13 And the committee has also been told about information that was received from 14 Bank of America. Do you have any awareness of information coming in from Bank of 15 America related to January 6th?
16 A No, ma'am, I don't remember specifically that.
17 Q Okay. Do you have you any familiarity with the FBI's investigation of the 18 pipe bombs that were placed near the DNC and the RNC on that day?
19 A I have a -- a knowledge of it, of course.
20 Q Uh-huh.
21 A But I wasn't directly involved in anything with regard to that case. Most of 22 my knowledge comes from just being a bystander in the command post when that was
23 happening --
24 Q Okay. And what --
25 A -- The investigation. So I saw some video.

1 Q Okay.

2 A And I'd be there because there were -- in the command post you have

3 regular briefings. So they're called situational reports.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A And So I would be in the -- in the room when people were reporting new 6 facts with regard to that.

7 Q Okay. And did you have any awareness of the ongoing investigation

8 between January 6th and the inauguration? I know you said you were in the command

9 post. Do you have a general sense of the pace of the investigation?

10 A It was -- well, the pace of the investigation, I just know that people were 11 working 24-7 shifts.

12 Q Uh-huh.

13 A And that there was a lot of potential video and a lot of potential leads

14 coming in. We had a whole section that was just doing intake or taking phone calls.

15 And so they were also providing in the situational reports how many leads were

16 coming in, how many cases were being opened. And so I saw the numbers and the 17 Washington Field Office kept records --

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A -- like of those four at least a month that would come out on a regular basis.

20 So anybody that was -- probably it went out to most supervisors but I didn't have any 21 special knowledge.

22 Q And did you ever have an understanding of who was running that

23 investigation? Was it the Washington Field Office or was it FBI headquarters?

24 A It was the Washington Field Office.

25 Q And who did you perceive to be in charge of that investigation? What was

1 the level?

2 A So Steve D'Antuono was the ADIC.

3 Q Uh-huh. Uh-huh.

4 Mr. Lytle. Are you -- I'm sorry.

5 You're referring to the bomb investigations?

6 [redacted] Correct.

7 Mr. Lytle. I just want to make sure.

8 Mr. Thibault. Oh, the bomb investigations.

9 [redacted] The bomb investigations.

10 Mr. Lytle. Just want to be correct.

11 Mr. Thibault. I just put them all together. I'm sorry.

12 BY [redacted]

13 Q That's okay.

14 A So I don't have any special insight into the bomb investigation. But

15 working -- working in International Terrorism --

16 Q Uh-huh.

17 A -- when there's a terrorism case, I know how involved headquarters is.

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A Okay? They -- Domestic Terrorism Operations section I think would have 20 been deeply involved --

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A -- not so much running the case, because I think that, you know, field offices

23 run the cases. But with regard to just any general terrorism case --

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A -- I mean, I've been there when the Pensacola bombing happened.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A Right? When -- I think that was the first bombing since 9/11 on U.S. soil. I

3 was there in -- at headquarters and I saw how involved it was.

4 So I would say that headquarters had a supportive role and they were engaged.

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A But WFO was running that case I believe from what I saw. But, again, they

7 were on a separate floor, and the information was siloed.

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A I don't know anything about that case except what was briefed in the 10 situation reports.

11 Q And when you were at the command post from January 6th until the 12 inauguration, did you receive briefings on the pipe bomb investigation?

13 A There would be high-level sort of snippets that were given on that 14 situational reports.

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A But I didn't receive in-depth reporting. I don't know how many leads

17 specifically that they had. I don't recall. I think those were in the sheets, but I really 18 wasn't paying attention to that much at all.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A I was in a support role, looking at things other than --

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A -- that case. I was sort of siloed.

23 Q Okay. And as your tenure went on at the Washington Field Office from

24 after the inauguration until your retirement in August of 2022, did you have any other

25 awareness of how the pipe bomb investigation was progressing?

1 A No, ma'am.

2 Q Okay. I want to turn to another subject. I'll enter as exhibit number 2 a

3 July 25th, 2022, letter from Senator Grassley to Attorney General Garland and FBI

4 Director Christopher Wray.

5 A Sure.

6 [Thibault Exhibit No. 2

7 Was marked for identification.]

8 BY [redacted]

9 Q Thank you.

10 A Thank you.

11 Q And I'll give you a moment to review the letter.

12 A Okay. Yes, ma'am.

13 Q Have you had sufficient time to review?

14 A Yes, ma'am. Thank you.

15 Q Were you aware of this letter prior to today?

16 A Yes, ma'am.

17 Q And kind of the, you know, gist of this letter is regarding information that

18 Senator Grassley received from whistleblowers regarding some Hunter Biden

19 information.

20 During your tenure at the FBI, were you involved in any matters or investigations

21 related to Hunter Biden?

22 A I was involved in a supporting role. First of all, let me say --

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A -- I did not manage the Hunter Biden case.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A I had no role at all in the Hunter Biden laptop.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A I didn't even have access to the Hunter Biden case, meaning I never looked

4 at it in the FBI's system.

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A My first knowledge of the -- of really anything about the case in a working

7 matter was shortly after I got to the Washington Field Office.

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A So I got there in August 30th, 2020, and sometime -- sometime in 10 September -- and this is a recollection. The FBI did not allow me to go back and 11 review --

12 Q Uh-huh.

13 A -- a source file.

14 Q Okay.

15 A Okay? I have a recollection of a 1023 --

16 Q Uh-huh.

17 A -- which is a source report, raw source report, and of reviewing it and/or

18 approving it.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A I wanted to make sure that I -- what I told you today was absolutely as 21 accurate as could be.

22 Q Absolutely.

23 A The reason why I say I approved it, sometimes it's -- it involved a sensitive 24 source, I believe. Somehow I saw that source report.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A And I believe I approved it.

2 Q Okay.

3 A At the very least I reviewed it, I believe.

4 To me, when I first saw it, it didn't stick out.

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A And then fast-forward to sometime in October, I received an unsolicited

7 call --

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A -- from the supervisor of the Hunter Biden case. I knew him because he

10 had been assigned to Washington Field Office as the case agent.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A My squad was right down the hallway from him. And he was also a medic

13 on SWAT team.

14 Q Okay. Uh-huh.

15 A And so I got to know him really well. He's a smart guy. So when he calls

16 me, I'm going to listen to him. Right?

17 He calls me and says: Hey, I have concerns about a CHS that has been opened by 18 the Washington Field Office and sent us a 1023.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A And I said: Okay. What are your concerns?

21 And basically said: Look, the information isn't of any value to us, number one.

22 My -- I deduced from everything he said that they already had the information --

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A -- from some other source, some other channel, maybe not a human source

25 but some other channel. He also said that that person was politically connected --

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A -- and partisan in his view and he was concerned about the source being on

3 media platforms. I -- at the time I, you know, was fairly new.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A And we a lot of sources and a lot of cases. So I was so learning. And so I

6 confirmed with him. Who is this?

7 Q Uh-huh.

8 A And he told me. And I said: Okay. I get it.

9 Mr. Jordan. Wait. Who's this? Who's the source or who's the --

10 Mr. Thibault. The source.

11 Mr. Jordan. Okay.

12 Mr. Thibault. The source.

13 And so at that point it was clear to me that -- and we talked a little bit about, wow,

14 there could be a problem. He felt there could be a problem because when you have a

15 source --

16 BY [redacted]

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A -- as he characterized it, it could harm a case. It could cause problems

19 when you get to prosecution --

20 Q Uh-huh.

21 A -- and to open doors for defense attorneys.

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A The last thing I wanted WFO to do was hurt any other office's case.

24 And a little bit of background. Any field office should not be taking, especially in

25 a sensitive case like that, should not be taking any actions that are not explicitly directed

1 by that case team.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A Why? One, they have a case file. They've been investigating this for 2

4 years, 2 years.

5 Two, we're not in their strategy meetings with their AUSA's. And so being an FBI

6 agent for 26 years and working complex matters and running sources like myself, it's so

7 important to vet your sources.

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A So I was getting a call from this supervisor. And my -- my takeaway was we

10 don't need your source reporting and also: Why are you sending a file to our -- to our

11 case file that we didn't know about? Right? So Washington Field Office wrote this

12 1023 and it went to headquarters and it went to Baltimore. And so when I get this call,

13 I'm a little defensive --

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A -- because I'm there to defend my agents.

16 Q Uh-huh.

17 A And I was like, okay. Let me get to the bottom of it.

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A I understand you don't need the reporting anymore. I understand that if

20 this goes to trial, Hunter Biden's attorney --

21 Q Uh-huh?

22 A -- could have some ammunition.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A And it shocked me a bit because I'm, like, the purpose of us -- a confidential

25 informant is to support a case. It's to get information from some place that you might

1 not be able to otherwise get information from.

2 There's always a value risk assessment here. It's like a -- it's a value proposition.

3 So Washington Field Office in this example is the originator. Baltimore Field Office is the 4 consumer.

5 Q And is that the individual who called you, that was person to from the 6 Baltimore Field Office?

7 A Yes, ma'am. He was the supervisor of the Hunter Biden case.

8 Q Okay.

9 A Right. And so --

10 Q What was his title?

11 A Supervisory Special Agent. He was in the Wilmington Field Office.

12 Q Okay.

13 A He's the guy that I knew.

14 Q Okay.

15 A So in this value proposition, what he's telling me is there's no value. So

16 why was a CHS opened in the first place? That's what's going through my mind.

17 And then I also, in the FBI, just so you know, you may have heard this before.

18 The FBI rates agents' performance on source. You know, part of it is how you

19 investigate, how you collaborate, how many sources you have, and how good they are.

20 And a lot of agents, it's heart -- there's heartburn with that because sometimes

21 you work on a Bank Fraud Squad. How many sources do you need? Not as much as on 22 a Drug Squad.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A Sometimes it's not easy to get sources. And so we have a source. Do I

25 have to -- what am I going to do now, you know? Do I keep the source open? Is there

1 any value at all whatsoever now? The supervisor of the Baltimore -- let me make this
2 clear. The supervisor of the Baltimore case, the Hunter Biden case, didn't say close the 3 source down.
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A Because in that -- and he would have never done that because he didn't
6 have access to the source file.
7 Q Uh-huh.
8 A For all he could have known, the source could have been reporting on 9 something unrelated to his case. He was just like, hey, you're feeding me stuff I don't
10 need.
11 Q And so the source reporting came into the Washington Field Office at 10:23,
12 was recreated, that you approved. Is that correct?

1 [10:59 a.m.]

2 Mr. Thibault. I think I approved it.

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q Okay.

5 A I have a recollection, but I wasn't able to review -- I asked if I could review

6 the file. I wasn't allowed to.

7 Q Uh-huh.

8 A I approved it or I reviewed it. There's a possibility I didn't approve it, but I

9 wasn't there when the source was opened.

10 Q Uh-huh.

11 A And so my recollection is because -- and the reason I'm thinking this is

12 because when I got the call from the Baltimore supervisor, I kind of -- in the back of my

13 mind, I had some recollection of what he was talking about. But I wanted to confirm it,

14 so I asked him the name.

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A Right?

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A So I want to be real careful. Because if you get the source report, it could 19 say that I didn't approve it, but I think I at least looked at it.

20 Q Did you have any other conversations with the Baltimore Field Office or the 21 Wilmington resident agency regarding the Hunter Biden investigation?

22 A Around that time or --

23 Q Throughout your whole tenure.

24 A I had a few.

25 Q A few?

1 A I had a few.

2 Q And who was your point of contact at the Baltimore Field Office? Was is

3 this SSA?

4 A It was that SSA --

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A -- for a few of the conversations.

7 Q Uh-huh.

8 A And then with respect to, well, a matter I think you will get into --

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A -- Tony Bobulinski, it was Alfred Watson.

11 Q Okay.

12 A And then later on, almost towards the time I was going to leave, it was 13 another ASAC, and her name escapes me. I think it was Holley.

14 Q Ryeshia Holley?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And Alfred Watson, was he the ASAC before Ms. Holley?

17 A Yes, ma'am.

18 Q And so you had a conversation with the SSA regarding this FD-1023. Is that

19 correct?

20 A Right.

21 Q What were your other discussions -- involved Mr. Bobulinski. Is that

22 correct?

23 A Well, yes, yes, ma'am.

24 And if I might. So I left that conversation thinking, okay, I've got a pause

25 reporting to the Baltimore case file.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A That was obvious to me. So I would have had a conversation with the SSA

3 on CR-15 who supervised the two agents who had -- were running that source.

4 Q Okay.

5 A Okay. So my thought process was, okay, there's a breakdown.

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A And trying to figure out, you know, with positive intent, you know, like, why

8 was that source opened in the first place and what am I missing? Where did the

9 communication break down? Because I didn't want to have that happen again. I was 10 going to treat it as a lessons learned.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A But then a short -- and when I say "short," it was probably within a week, a

13 week and a half --

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A -- I get another unsolicited call from the Public Corruption Unit chief. The 16 Public Corruption Unit chief --

17 Q This is at FBI headquarters?

18 A Yes, ma'am. And the Public Corruption Unit chief is very well respected,

19 and his job is to have an idea -- he has a number of supervisors that work for him that

20 cover the entire FBI, all the regions. So they have a different perspective than I might 21 have.

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A He calls me, and he says, Hey, personnel at the FBI are advocating that this

24 source be closed. And I thought what source? It's the same one. And I said, I know

25 about Baltimore. And he goes, It's not about -- specifically he wasn't calling me about

1 Baltimore.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A He told me that -- and I said, Well, look, before I close any source, can you
4 give me the facts? Why? And he tells me it's a classified conversation. And So I said,
5 okay, got it. And I said, Hey, can I get the information that you have? He said, Sure, I
6 can arrange for a classified meeting.

7 And I said the second thing I want is I want my supervisor, the SSA of CR-15 in the 8 meeting, and I want my two handling agents, the two supervisory -- the two agents that
9 are working this source in the meeting. Why? I was a new ASAC of WFO. I wanted 10 transparency.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A I wanted the -- and I was like, okay, this will help me explain, because no
13 case agent -- I was a case agent for 22 years.

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A No case agent likes to be told --

16 Chairman Jordan. How long did the source -- how long was the -- how long was 17 this conference from the source -- how long had you worked with him, had the agents
18 worked with him?

19 Mr. Thibault. So I wish I could begin to answer your question. I wanted to 20 review a file to see that. I don't think it was very long, but I -- I don't recall that in the 21 file, sir.

22 Chairman Jordan. So you had a source who came to the agents -- to some of the 23 agents who worked for you, who gave you this information. You reviewed that 24 information, and you think you approved that information. And then within a week and 25 a half you have two people from other locations -- one is the Wilmington guy running the

1 Hunter Biden case -- call you up and say, This source is no good. And then you get a call
2 from headquarters telling you this source is no good.
3 Mr. Thibault. The Baltimore office didn't tell me the source was no good.
4 Chairman Jordan. The information was no good?
5 Mr. Thibault. The Balt -- no, he didn't.
6 Chairman Jordan. What did he say?
7 Mr. Thibault. He didn't. He just indicated that the information wasn't of value,
8 so I had no way to characterize that information. I didn't because I didn't have access.
9 Chairman Jordan. So it could have been accurate information?
10 Mr. Thibault. Pardon?
11 Chairman Jordan. It could have been accurate information? It just wasn't of 12 value to them because they already had it?
13 Mr. Thibault. I just didn't characterize it. Right? Because I didn't know. So I 14 don't even know that it was the actual -- like the 1023 --
15 Chairman Jordan. Uh-huh.
16 Mr. Thibault. -- I don't think conveyed the information that was going to be 17 passed. I think it described it.
18 Chairman Jordan. Okay.
19 Mr. Thibault. Okay. And so Joe Gordon was cryptic with me, not because he 20 didn't trust me, but I think in working these sensitive type of cases, you get really used to 21 not talking about your case with people and not giving information that you don't need.
22 And so I had to, like, drag information out of Joe in our conversation, like, Is this helpful?
23 Is this useful? Is this of value? And he's, like, It's not of value. We are good.
24 I got the impression and the conclusion that I drew from this is they don't need
25 the information. His -- based on not needing the information and also based on the

1 risks, how it could potentially hurt the Hunter Biden case, because when you take a case
2 to trial, the defense attorneys will scrutinize everything, how you got the information.
3 So that's where he was coming from. But, again, I -- you know, that was --
4 Chairman Jordan. So a week and a half later you get a call from headquarters?
5 Mr. Thibault. Headquarters.
6 Chairman Jordan. Tell us about that call.
7 Mr. Thibault. Sure. So in that call the first conversation was pretty much
8 nothing other than there's a problem with the source that we see. Now, I didn't just say
9 I'm going to close this based on this phone call. I -- I wanted to know more. I was 10 curious --
11 Chairman Jordan. Is that a normal course of business for headquarters to call a 12 field office and tell them, Hey, one of the sources that your agency is using is not up to 13 snuff? Is that normal?
14 Mr. Thibault. I had only been an ASAC at that point in time for a short period, so
15 I hadn't been there long enough to say it's not -- it's normal or it's not. What is not --
16 Chairman Jordan. Had that happened before?
17 Mr. Thibault. What is not --
18 Chairman Jordan. Had that happened before?
19 Mr. Thibault. Not in my -- as a case agent, I can't remember it happening.
20 Now, people have said, hey, we need to close a source at the field office level because the 21 source may have gotten into trouble. The source may have provided inaccurate
22 information or something at the field office level when I was a case agent. But I was 23 new in my position.
24 What was surprising to me was when Joe Gordon called me and said we didn't
25 need the information because -- and I'll tell you why -- when you go and -- when you sign

1 up a source, you've got to vet them.

2 And you've got this Hunter Biden case that's been going on for 2 years. For any
3 agent that's going to recruit a source on a Hunter Biden case, there's got to be a phone
4 call and discussion with the Baltimore Field Office to say, Okay, we potentially have a
5 source. The source has this information. So they're talking case agent to case agent --

6 Chairman Jordan. Uh-huh.

7 Mr. Thibault. -- do we -- is this valuable to you or not? Those discussions
8 should be happening at the case agent level. The ASAC wouldn't have any insight into
9 that.

10 Chairman Jordan. Right.

11 Mr. Thibault. I just don't. Then, in a big case again like this, as a case agent I
12 was involved in some pretty significant cases. One case I was involved in where we 13 were looking at running a source out of New Orleans to support my case, we actually 14 traveled down, traveled down to New Orleans to meet the guy that was handling the 15 source. Not only I traveled down, my supervisor traveled down, and Noel Hillman who 16 ran the Public Integrity Unit traveled down to make sure that before the source was 17 signed up by us that we knew everything we could get.

18 My sense is that that may not have happened, but I can't say for sure because I
19 wasn't involved in the recruiting of this source. So what surprised me was why is 20 Baltimore even calling me with this? There should have been conversations between 21 those case agents and Baltimore in the Hunter Biden case and the CR-15 agents that were 22 handling this source. That -- so that's something that I identified. Okay.

23 Now, the call I had from headquarters, sir --

24 Chairman Jordan. Do you know what -- but there may have been that. That 25 may have happened. Right?

1 Mr. Thibault. I wasn't there. It could have. But given my fact pattern, the
2 fact that the supervisor from the Hunter Biden case -- again, 2 years of working a case like
3 Hunter Biden and I don't know who the case agents were on that case. I was not
4 involved in the supervision. But I know -- I've worked big cases before. That's the 5 only -- when I was working the case against William Jefferson out of New Orleans, that's
6 really the only case I was working. That was my life --
7 Ms. Lytle. As a case agent?
8 Mr. Thibault. As a case agent. That's the only case I had. So if that's the case
9 with the Hunter Biden case agent, that's their life. So are you telling me that a
10 Washington Field Office agent -- it could happen, but you're telling me that they came up
11 with a source for singular information unknown to Baltimore? It's possible, but there
12 should have been that communication before.
13 And, again, I was -- I was new at WFO. I didn't know what conversations were 14 there. But based on my -- just my conversation with the supervisor of the Hunter Biden
15 case, he's, like, Hey, Tim, this is problematic. And he came to me. I was happy to look
16 over that -- I didn't close the source on my own. And if I had continued, you know, I
17 think that whoever made the allegation that I closed the source --
18 Chairman Jordan. I think we're done with our first hour. But did you view the 19 call from headquarters then as a follow-up to the call you received from the Baltimore
20 Field Office?
21 Mr. Thibault. No, sir. It was -- and to my surprise it was totally different.
22 Chairman Jordan. But it was about the same individual?
23 Mr. Thibault. It was the same -- it was about the same source. And I was, like,
24 Are you kidding me? I mean -- and so I received that call, and I wanted -- I was a case
25 agent for 22 years. One of the handling agents was a close friend of mine. I brought her -- I was her first supervisor on CR-15. I wanted them to have an opportunity to defend their source. I wanted them to come to that meeting.

And the second call I got from the Public Corruption Unit chief I learned a little bit more. He said, Okay, the meeting is going to occur at the FITF, in a SCIF. So I understood, okay, a little bit about what that meant. And he said also, You can come and the supervisor can come, but the two handling agents can't. I protested a bit. I was, like, Why not? That doesn't make sense to me. But it was nonnegotiable. I tried to get them there. I didn't understand it at that point. I would learn later why.

[redacted] Uh-huh.

Mr. Thibault. But I went to the meeting, and it was classified.

[redacted] And we'll discuss this meeting during our next hour.

Mr. Thibault. Okay.

[redacted] We'll go off the record.

[Recess.]

[redacted] We can go back on the record.

EXAMINATION

BY [redacted]

Q Good morning, Mr. Thibault.

A Good morning.

Q Thanks again for agreeing to talk with us voluntarily here today.

I want to start right back up with the subject you were having with the counsel's first hour.

You were starting to describe your involvement with an FD-1023. Right?

A Yes, ma'am.

Q And you had said that you may have -- but you don't know for sure. You

1 may have reviewed and approved that source at one point when you were ASAC at WFO.
2 Is that right?
3 A Not the source but the actual 1023.
4 Q Okay. Can you explain what that means, first of all? What's the 5 difference between approving the 1023 and approving the source or opening the source?
6 A Sure.
7 Q Just the terms, please.
8 A So FBI agents will be the ones to recruit a source.
9 Q Yep.
10 A And they're responsible for conducting all the administrative background in 11 the recruiting process. They have to do checks on their criminal history. They have to 12 make sure that they're not sources for some other field office or some other agency so
13 there's not a conflict of interest. They've got to make sure they don't fall into a special
14 category such as an attorney or a priest or some other sensitive position. But the most 15 important thing that they have to do is vet the source.
16 Q And what do you mean by "vet the source"?
17 A They have to understand what the information is that's being provided.
18 They have to understand if there's any motivations. You know, what are the source's
19 motivations? They have to understand -- and sometimes you do tests to see if the 20 source is actually good.
21 For instance, I'll come back to the source in the William Jefferson case. She had 22 alleged serious criminal activity on the part of a Democratic Congressman. And she had 23 alleged that there were certain meetings that took place.
24 So prior to opening her as a source, I asked if she could confirm those meetings.
25 She said that they occurred in New Orleans. Okay. Do you have plane tickets? Do

1 you have emails? That sort of vetting to kind of understand if the information is
2 accurate.
3 So the case line agents will do all the vetting, and then when they're done with 4 that, they have to fill out a form to open the source. And that form consists of, you
5 know, the background checks that they've done, telling management who needs to help
6 them open the source what the motivations of the source are.
7 And so once that occurs, then it will go to a supervisor, and the supervisor will 8 look over the source opening documentation and make sure everything is there. And 9 then that source can be approved for opening before the source has reported any 10 information officially.
11 When the -- after the source is opened, any information that source provides 12 should be documented in a 1023. All contacts with that source, whether there's 13 information or not provided, should be documented. It could be just a contact form, no
14 information provided.
15 Anytime that source does something that the FBI should know about, such as if 16 they get into trouble, for instance -- not this source, not any particular source, but any 17 source, if they have a contact with law enforcement, it should be provided to the FBI so
18 that we understand that. If they get into the news -- in news, right, media reports, that 19 should be fronted to the FBI.
20 And then they're also told about -- during this phase they're also told about, you
21 know, confidentiality requirements, how payments work because some sources are paid.
22 Some aren't. And so there's an agreement that takes place between the FBI and the 23 source.
24 Q Okay. So fair to say that in your career as a line agent, you have had the 25 experience of handling sources like, for instance, in your Jefferson investigation. Is that

1 right?

2 A Yes, ma'am.

3 Q And also as the ASAC in WFO, you had at least this occasion that you're

4 describing to deal with other line agents who are handling human sources. Is that fair to

5 say?

6 A And as a supervisor, as line supervisor as well, yes, ma'am.

7 Q Right, in between those two positions.

8 Okay. So let's get to this source in particular that you were talking about in the 9 first hour. This is the person that you refer to in your written statement, which is 10 marked as exhibit 1, as CHS 1. Is that correct?

11 A Yes, ma'am.

12 Q Okay. And CHS stands for confidential human source?

13 A Yes, ma'am.

14 Q Okay. And I think that you've helpfully described here the difference

15 between opening a confidential human source at the FBI and then later documenting

16 what information that the CHS provides in the course of that relationship. Is that --

17 A Yes, ma'am.

18 Q -- what you're trying to explain; that there's a difference between the 19 opening of the source and then later receiving information from that source?

20 A Yes, ma'am.

21 Q And the 1023 is a document that the FBI uses to memorialize the 22 interactions between the line agent and the CHS after it has been open. Is that right?

23 A Yes, ma'am.

24 Q Okay. And I think that you said earlier that this CHS 1 that you refer to in

25 your statement is some person that had been opened as a source prior to your

1 involvement as the ASAC at WFO. Is that right?

2 A Yes, ma'am.

3 Q So you did not participate in any way in the approval or review of the 4 opening of that source. Is that right?

5 A That's right.

6 Q Okay. The first time, as far as you know, that you became aware that this

7 CHS 1 was being used by -- or handled by an agent at WFO was when you saw this 1023

8 that was memorializing some of the information that this person had given. Is that

9 right?

10 A The first time I became aware was just when I was going around talking to

11 agents and supervisors, and the supervisor of CR-15 said, Hey, there's a source being run

12 by this case agent, but didn't go into details, so I didn't know who it was at that time.

13 Then the next thing was the 1023 that I reviewed and/or approved.

14 Q Okay. So when that supervisory special agent came to you, was he or she

15 raising concerns about the use of that source at that time or just sort of mentioning it to

16 you?

17 A Just mentioning it to me.

18 Q Okay. Do you know when that was roughly in time?

19 A It would have been sometime in September.

20 Q Of which year?

21 A Of 2020.

22 Q Okay. And then you said sometime later is when you actually had occasion

23 to come across this 1023 that you were talking about. Is that right?

24 A Yes, ma'am.

25 Q And approximately when was that?

1 A My best guess is sometime early October.
2 Q 2020 again?
3 A Yes, ma'am.
4 Q Okay. And you indicated that you did not have a chance to review that file
5 so it's maybe not fresh in your mind at this point. Is that right?
6 A That's correct.
7 Q But based on your recollection when you drafted this statement and as 8 you're testifying here today, do you know why it is that you were looking at the 1023?
9 Like, how did it come to your attention?
10 A My best recollection is it would have maybe because it was a sensitive
11 source. And so if it's a sensitive source, sometimes 1023s are routed to the ASAC. So
12 after they're written by the line agent, it goes to the supervisor, and then the ASAC --
13 Q Okay.
14 A -- who I believe, has to review it.
15 Q Okay. So when you saw this 1023 for the first time, tell us what you can
16 about what you were looking at. What was in the document?
17 A My only recollection is it wasn't anything that I -- that's okay. It wasn't
18 anything that I really understood because -- and that's not unusual because sometimes a 19 1023 will contain raw intel or my assumption is that it's going to be valuable because the 20 agents below me are doing their job. And so this is my -- I also believe that there's a 21 reason that the case would need this information, so I just approved it.
22 Q So you're trusting the agent who is handling the source to be doing things
23 properly at this point. Right?
24 A The agent and the supervisor.
25 Q Okay. But you didn't actually review any of their work before that point.

1 Right?

2 A I was brand new there, so I didn't -- I didn't have occasion to review in depth

3 that source, the source file at that point.

4 Q Okay. And at that point when you're looking at the 1023, you don't

5 actually know who the source is. Correct?

6 A I don't have a recollection that I knew who the source was at that point. At 7 some -- that's what's fuzzy to me is did I look at -- did I look in the system and identify the

8 source? Because it's not on the 1023. It would have required me to go into the source

9 file, and I can't recall if I did or not. It might have been that I didn't have access. It was 10 so early in my tenure, I wasn't given access to that source file. I just can't remember.

11 Q Okay. But the document itself does not identify that person in terms of 12 who they are? It's actually masked on purpose. Is that right?

13 A Correct.

14 Q Okay. The case agents who were handling CHS 1, was it one or more case

15 agent who was handling that source?

16 A I believe it was two. There will normally be a primary handling agent and a 17 secondary handling agent.

18 Q And how are those case agents identified in your statement, exhibit 1 here?

19 A Special Agent No. 1 I believe would have been the secondary handling agent,

20 and Special Agent No. 2 would have been the primary handling agent. And, again, I

21 didn't review the source file, so that's my -- the best of my recollection.

22 Q Did you personally know Special Agent No. 1?

23 A I didn't know him well.

24 Q What was your experience with him at that point?

25 A So I left -- if you recall, I left CR-15 in December of 2020. I do not believe he

1 was on CR-15 squad when I left. When I came back in -- on August 30th, he was on
2 CR-15. So that would have -- I remember my first -- what I believe is my first occasion to 3 meet him. Him and another agent came into my office to discuss another case. I think
4 that's the first time I met him. It wouldn't have -- there may have been an occasion
5 prior to when I left WFO when he came into my office looking to maybe move to the 6 squad, but that's foggy. I just don't remember. But I didn't know him. I didn't know
7 his work.
8 Q Okay.
9 A I had no history with him.
10 BY [redacted]
11 Q And I'm sorry. You said that he wanted to be moved onto the squad?
12 A Well, that's my impression is he would have -- I don't have firsthand
13 knowledge of that. Usually the people that want to get on the CR-15 that are already in 14 the FBI come in and talk to the supervisor.
15 Q Okay.
16 A I don't have a recollection that I approved his move on the CR-15. I think it
17 occurred after I left.
18 Q Okay.
19 A But I didn't know him. I didn't know his work. And so in early September 20 of 2020, I just really didn't know who he was.
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q And I don't -- I'm just going to ask you to jump ahead in time just a little bit,
23 but that Special Agent No. 1 who at the time you didn't know well, do you know whether 24 he is a current or a former FBI agent as we sit here today?
25 A My -- my belief is he retired a week -- 2 weeks after me. And the only

1 reason I know that is because when I scheduled my debrief with the FBI, his name was on
2 the calendar.
3 Q Okay. And since he's no longer an FBI agent, would you be willing to state
4 his name?
5 A Tom Olohan.
6 Q Okay. And Mr. Olohan, to your knowledge -- do you know that he works
7 for the Heritage Foundation now?
8 A I don't have direct knowledge of that. I've seen -- I've seen -- I've heard 9 that he might.
10 Q Okay. And do you understand what the Heritage Foundation is?
11 A I'm not very familiar with it. I think it's a think tank. I've seen the 12 website.
13 Q Does it have any political or partisan affiliation, to your knowledge?
14 A I think it might be conservative leaning.
15 Q Okay. And in your experience with Mr. Olohan while he was at the FBI, did
16 you ever have any concerns or have any concerns brought to you about Mr. Olohan's
17 political partisanship?
18 A Yes.
19 Q And can you describe those?
20 A Sure. Like I said, I did not know him in September 2020. I wanted both of 21 the agents to go to the FITF meeting. Most of the FITF meeting was classified. There
22 was a small portion at the very end --
23 Ms. Lytle. She asked you if he had partisan leanings. I thought that was the 24 question you asked.
25 BY [redacted]

1 Q I did, yeah. I was just --

2 A Yeah. So I don't know a lot about it. In talking with the supervisor for

3 CR-15, a couple of comments that he made led me to believe there might be an issue

4 there with -- but at that time it wasn't reflected in anything that I saw.

5 Q Okay.

6 A I'm very hesitant to make an overall characterization of anybody without a

7 lot of evidence. And so I don't have like direct knowledge of it.

8 Q Okay. I'm just going to ask you some very direct questions so we don't go

9 off too much.

10 A Sure.

11 Q But are you -- or were you aware that while Agent Olohan was working as an

12 agent on CR-15 he had a daughter that was in media who was writing about subjects that

13 related to Mr. Olohan's investigations on CR-15?

14 A Yes.

15 Q How did you become aware of that allegation?

16 A So after the FITF meeting was closing down and the classified portion was

17 done, we were ready to leave. And someone in that meeting told me and the supervisor

18 of CR-15 that they had come across some potential articles that were written by Mr.

19 Olohan's children. One of them was in a -- something called The Daily Wire. I think it

20 was The Daily Wire. The other one was an academic piece. And I turned to the

21 supervisor from CR-15, and I said, Are you aware of this? And he said, No, I wasn't 22 aware of this.

23 And then the supervisor said, But I should have been told this, because there was

24 a conversation between him and Mr. Olohan predating the time I was there that he said

25 this information should have come out.

1 Q Okay. So -- sorry. Did you want to --

2 Okay. Can you just explain what you just described that relationship in writing

3 about these investigations that her father was working on CR-15, why would that be

4 problematic for the FBI?

5 A If it were to go to trial, it could have an appearance issue.

6 Q Of impartiality or bias?

7 A It could be raised by the defense, yes.

8 Q And that could hurt your case?

9 A It could hurt the case. It could also hurt the case agent and his daughter.

10 Q Okay. Let's --

11 BY [redacted]

12 Q Just a couple of quick follow-up questions.

13 You said that the supervisor said he should have been told about that information

14 sooner?

15 A Yes.

16 Q By Mr. Olohan?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Can you explain why he believed he should have been told? What were 19 the circumstances around that?

20 A We didn't have an in depth discussion at all at that time about this. I later

21 asked some questions regarding just the general climate on the squad, and he had told

22 me that there were some discussions of partisan discourse that took place in the squad

23 that some of the older agents had raised. And I was led to believe that he might have 24 been one of them that participated in it.

25 And I asked, Well, what happened? He said, We just had a meeting and told

1 people to cut it out. I said, Okay, let's make sure you continue to make sure that that
2 happens. And that was the end of it. I didn't do an investigation into any of that.
3 I later had a meeting with Mr. Olohan and his supervisor to just ask him if it was
4 true. And I said, Hey, did your daughter write an article about a subject in your case?
5 And he said, Yes. And I asked him if he provided any FBI operational information to his
6 daughter. He said, No. And so I just indicated that, Look, I talked to the legal people
7 with WFO to see what their response would be, you know, and I talked to my boss about 8 what we should do. And I think the decision, the collaborative decision was just to 9 remove him off that one case, not remove him off the squad, just remove him off that 10 one case because of the appearance issue, and we're all good.
11 And my -- then he -- at that meeting he indicated that he might want to leave the 12 squad. And I told him, Hey, I don't want you to leave the squad. I'm not asking you to 13 leave the squad. But he was not happy with me at that point, and he indicated there 14 might be another squad he wants to work on.
15 And so within a couple of days he e-mailed me and said, Hey, I would like to go to 16 an organized crime squad. And I said, Okay, if you're sure, I'll help you get there if you
17 want to go. It's voluntary on your part. I did not take any management action to move
18 him off the squad. I want to make that clear.
19 I went to the ASAC in charge of that organized crime squad, and he goes, Hey, Tim,
20 I'd like to help you out, but they don't have people -- we don't have any FSL there for him.
21 And so I said, Look --
22 Q And I'm sorry. What is FSL?
23 A FSL is like the manpower level, so they were full.
24 Q Okay. They didn't have an open spot?
25 A They didn't have an open spot. So I said, Hey, I have an open FSL that I

1 have. I'll loan you it to see if he likes the squad. And so he was able to move to the 2 squad he wanted to move to.
3 Q Okay.
4 A So there was no action taken against him other than taking him off of that
5 one case.
6 [redacted] Sorry. I didn't mean to get you off track.
7 [redacted] No. That's okay.
8 BY [redacted]
9 Q I'm going to go back to the source itself that we were talking about, your CHS 10 1.
11 A Sure.
12 Q So CHS 1 was being handled by Agent Olohan and another agent that you
13 identify in your statement as Special Agent 2. Is that right?
14 A Yes.
15 Q Okay. And Special Agent 2, do you know Special Agent 2?
16 A I know her very well.
17 Q Okay. And how do you know her? What's your experience with her?
18 A So she was a law enforcement officer before she came into the bureau.
19 She came onto my squad when I was supervisor of CR-15. I tried my best to develop all 20 of my newer agents, especially when they're being sent to CR-15. It's a hard squad to 21 work because some of the cases can be hard. It's not like you get a case and there's a
22 violation of a crime, you know. So you might work a case for a couple of years, and 23 you're spinning your wheels.
24 So I took a lot of effort with her and all the agents that were newer on the squad,
25 and I became -- not only was I her supervisor, but we became friends. I went to her

1 wedding. The person that I'm in a relationship with lives in St. Pete. Her -- this agent's
2 mother was ill, and the person I'm in a relationship with from one time or another helped
3 her mom, went to her mom's funeral in May of 2022. So I would consider her a friend.
4 We didn't socialize outside the office in events that were sort of extra FBI events, except
5 the point I went to her wedding.
6 Q Okay. Now, at the time in October of 2020, around the time of this
7 FD-1023 and this source that we've been talking about, did you know Special Agent 2 well
8 at that time?
9 A Yes.
10 Q Okay.
11 A I hadn't really -- I had been away for over a year and a half, and I really
12 hadn't seen her in all that time, but we still had that fond relationship of each other, I
13 think.
14 Q Okay. Let's talk about what you learned about CHS 1.
15 So you indicated in the first hour that at some point you got information from two 16 completely different sources within the FBI that there might be concerns with this source.
17 Is that right?
18 A Yes, ma'am.
19 Q All right. And I think that you indicated the first information you got in that 20 regard came from the Baltimore Field Office agent. Is that right?
21 A Yes, the supervisor.
22 Q And about what time was that in terms of month and year?
23 A The best of my recollection it was sometime in early October.
24 Q Okay. So soon after you first discovered the 1023 and reviewed it. Is that
25 right?

1 A It would have been, I think, a week or two after it. I had some -- something
2 in my mind that I referenced when he called me.
3 Q Okay. And you, I think fairly clearly, indicated that that agent approached
4 you because his concern was this WFO-handled source information could potentially
5 cause problems in his case, which was the Hunter Biden investigation. Is that right?
6 A It could potentially hurt their prosecution, yes.
7 Q And you indicated one of the ways that he thought it might hurt their 8 prosecution was it appeared to him that this source was not properly vetted. Is that
9 right?
10 A He didn't say those words specifically, but he had questions about the 11 motivations.
12 Q Okay. What were those concerns that he expressed to you?
13 A Just that, you know, Hey, this is who the source is. This is what he -- and he 14 provided a little bit of information about who the source was and there could be a 15 motivational issue there.
16 Q Okay. Let's stop right there.
17 A Sure.
18 Q I'm sorry to interrupt you.
19 So he provided a little information about who he was. Did he identify that 20 source to you at that point?
21 A Yes, because I wanted to make sure we were talking about the same person.
22 So I asked him. I said, Okay, got you. I got it.
23 Q Okay. When he identified the source to you, was the source a person that 24 was known to you?
25 A Yes, ma'am.

1 Q Was he a person that was a public figure?

2 A I think I -- you could say that.

3 Q Okay. Was he a person that made --

4 A I want to be very --

5 Ms. Lytle. He doesn't want to identify sources.

6 [redacted] I understand. I'm just trying to get why it was a problem.

7 Mr. Lytle. So as he rules things out, it becomes problematic for him to do that.

8 BY [redacted]

9 Q Okay. I'll be careful with the questions, and obviously I'll defer to your 10 attorney's advice here.

11 But I'm trying to understand why was it a problem, this particular source. Right?

12 So he's a person that's known to people because he makes media appearances. Is that

13 fair to say?

14 A I think --

15 Ms. Lytle. I don't think you can answer it.

16 Mr. Thibault. My response is -- what?

17 Ms. Lytle. I don't think -- he doesn't want to identify the source. He's wed to 18 that policy, and so these questions that narrow it down would do that.

19 BY [redacted]

20 Q Can I just ask you, based on the statement that you provided, on page 3 of

21 your statement, the last paragraph on that page, it says: The SSA told me that using CHS

22 1 likely posed an unnecessary risk to the case's operational security and prosecutorial

23 integrity --

24 A Yes.

25 Q -- because CHS 1 had numerous political ties and made frequent media appearances on political issues.

So you stand by that statement?

Ms. Lytle. Yes, that's about as far as we're going to go.

Mr. Thibault. Right. And just as background with any source -- and you've got to remember at this point I didn't know what the Hunter Biden case was focused on. I didn't know anything about the case. When a case is tight hold -- close hold just within the FBI and not even outside of the case team, they're really careful about even having a source that you could ask questions of because, by the very nature of you asking questions, someone might be able to glean what the case is looking at, which it hadn't been public I think at that point?

BY [redacted]

Q Sorry. When you say "ask questions of," what does that mean? Like a public -- like people in the outside world can ask questions of a prosecutor, a defense attorney might ask questions? What do you mean?

A So those FBI agents who don't -- who aren't involved in the Hunter Biden case on a daily basis, who aren't in strategy meetings could just by asking a question of the source give away information that the Hunter Biden team doesn't want anybody to know.

Q I see.

A Because sometimes, you know, there's an advantage to the FBI when the subject of a case doesn't know you're looking at them, you know. Very, very regularly you try not to -- you try to keep the case covert so the subject can't take actions which would hurt your ability to gain evidence. And so that's going through my head --

Q Uh-huh.

A -- when Joe's talking to me. And, again, I can't make -- based on what Joe's

1 telling me, I can't make a characterization of the information. I'm just -- I'm taking
2 orders from him at that point. You know, Hey, you fed us something and we've got 3 concerns about it.
4 BY [redacted]
5 Q Okay. And Mr. Gordon had told you that he already had the information
6 that was supposedly being relayed to him by the source. Right?
7 A In so many words he basically did. But, again, he was being very -- I was 8 having to pull information out of him. But I recall after getting off the phone call with 9 him, I was curious, so I did my own couple searches on like -- not on FBI systems, but I go,
10 oh, okay, here's two other channels the information could have come from. But he 11 never told me where that information came from on their case. He never told me how 12 he got it.
13 Q Okay. Now, the portion of your statement on page 3 that [redacted] just 14 read that described the source as somebody who had, quote, numerous political ties and,
15 quote, made frequent media appearances on political issues, end quote.
16 I want to ask you a little bit about frequent media appearances. What -- does 17 that mean television?
18 A I can't -- I don't want to get into it.
19 Q Okay. All right. Let me ask you this then. You just said that one of the 20 reasons that you might concerned about a source who made frequent media
21 appearances is because you think it's possible that the source could be actually providing 22 information about the investigation and, like, broadcasting it out since he's so visible? Is 23 that what you were saying could be one concern, let's say for Mr. Gordon and the case
24 agent?
25 A I can't -- I don't know that I know of any source I've ever worked or any

1 source that I've had supervision over that have been in the media. That's a -- that's like
2 a high-level issue. And I didn't hear that from anybody except Joe Gordon -- oh, I
3 couldn't say his name -- the supervisor of the Hunter Biden team.
4 Q You already said his name.
5 A Sorry. So I heard it from him. Again, it's not my case. I'm trying to 6 take -- I'm trying not to hurt their potential case.
7 Q I understand. I'm just trying to understand that concern in particular.
8 But is it correct to say that the concern that you're describing here with a source
9 that does make public media appearances, this one concern that is being articulated is 10 that that person might be spreading information about the case because they're so visible
11 and out there and making media appearances?
12 A Any source that's talking to the media, the concern would be that, yes, that 13 somehow something that was important to an FBI case could be shared --
14 Q Okay.
15 A -- publicly.
16 Q Thank you for that clarification.
17 And then you also described CHS 1 as somebody who had, quote, numerous 18 political ties, end quote.
19 Is there anything more you can tell us about that? Does this mean that this 20 person was running for office?
21 Ms. Lytle. Say you can't get into it.
22 Mr. Thibault. I can't get into it?
23 [redacted] Okay.
24 BY [redacted]
25 Q Can you explain why it would have been of concern that an individual might

1 have numerous political ties, not -- maybe not this specific individual.

2 A Sure.

3 Q But in general if a source has -- is known to have political ties, is that a

4 concern?

5 A So in the FBI's CHS handbook, I think it actually talks about a source that may

6 have partisan views. It doesn't say they can't be opened, because they can. The FBI

7 will take information from anybody. It's up to the FBI to vet that information. It just

8 means extra scrutiny should be provided, and that would be one of the reasons why I

9 believe that the ASAC would have to review reporting. And it just means a little extra

10 attention should be given, because the FBI doesn't want to be in a position to get into the

11 political -- you know, there's sensitivities with elections and politics that you want to be 12 careful about.

13 Q And is it fair to say that with political ties in particular one concern is that

14 that could also create a trial issue? In other words, that could also create a risk to the 15 case at trial?

16 Ms. Lytle. We're speaking generally?

17 [redacted] Yes, generally, definitely. Again, generally speaking.

18 Mr. Thibault. Generally there are lots of issues. One, if a source has a criminal 19 background, that could create an issue because prosecutors have to handle that issue.

20 If a person has a certain political leaning, it could be a concern for a prosecutor going to

21 trial, and you have to just take that into consideration in weighing the value of the 22 information and also being able to show why it's not a concern. Right?

23 [redacted] Right. Could it also create -- I'm sorry.

24 [redacted] No.

25 BY [redacted]

1 Q Could it also create a concern about the reliability of the information? In
2 other words, if an individual has a particular motivation for providing it for the FBI,
3 perhaps for political purposes, that could just -- you have to look at the information a
4 little differently in that light?
5 A It goes with vetting. It's the same with any information we get. It's a
6 factor that you look at, and you try to make sure -- and you -- the way you do that is you
7 talk to prosecutors. You talk to other case agents. You talk to your supervisor. You
8 talk to your ASAC and go, Here's what we are dealing with.
9 But it's so important to talk to your prosecutor when you sign up a source. And
10 when you sign up a source, you've actually got to get the concurrence of a prosecutor. I
11 can't remember if the prosecutor in the Hunter Biden case was ever consulted on this.
12 He should have been. If the case is going to be reported to the Baltimore case team,
13 you should consult with the AUSA. And, again, I was unable to -- they may have done it.
14 They may not have done it. I just don't know because I wasn't there when they opened
15 it, and I didn't see the file -- I saw the file, but I can't remember it.
16 BY [redacted]
17 Q All right. And just for completeness on this subject, as you described the 18 source CHS 1 in your statement here on page 4, second paragraph, you said -- the first 19 sentence of the second paragraph, it says: Quote, I came to understand that CHS 1 was 20 a middleman relying on another source, end quote.
21 Can you explain why that was a concern to you with respect to this source, the 22 fact that he was a middleman relying on some other person?
23 A Why this was --
24 Q A concern to you or why you note that in your statement?
25 A A concern? It's not so much a concern about the source.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A It just -- it just helped me to understand, okay, Baltimore must have gotten it

3 from somebody else that they viewed the information coming from that other

4 source -- not someone else, but some other source. Could be a person, could be

5 something else, could be a search warrant. Right?

6 Q Right.

7 A I don't know. It just helped me to understand that our information wasn't

8 singular in nature, and by not providing reporting to Baltimore, it wasn't going to hurt

9 their case.

10 [redacted] Okay.

11 [redacted] And is it also fair to say -- I'm sorry.

12 [redacted] No, that's okay.

13 BY [redacted]

14 Q Is it fair to say that if CHS 1 was a middleman and didn't have first knowledge

15 of the information, whatever CHS 1 was relating was hearsay effectively. Right?

16 A Hearsay really doesn't apply --

17 Q Okay.

18 A -- I think. It applies to the case agent trying to characterize the 19 information. It didn't apply to me because all I wanted to know was is anything I'm 20 doing going to hurt their case.

21 Q Okay.

22 A That's it.

23 Q Understood.

24 A That's it.

25 [redacted] Okay. In the same paragraph in your -- page 4 of this statement,

1 the next sentence reads: Quote, I also learned that CHS 1 publicly disclosed information
2 in the media that -- I'm sorry. Am I reading that right.
3 [redacted] Yes.
4 BY [redacted]
5 Q -- in the media that CHS 1 was planning to provide or had provided to the 6 handling agents, end quote.
7 I read that terribly, but do you recall writing that? I apologize for my situation.
8 A I do recall writing that.
9 Q Okay. So basically this person did publicly disclose information that was 10 either the same information or related information to what he was providing the FBI. Is 11 that right?
12 A Or was planning to provide. And that's my belief.
13 Q Okay.
14 A Based on just knowing what the description of the info was.
15 Q Can you explain what that means? I'm a little confused. So why did you 16 think that?
17 A Well, the source had a -- I understood what the description of the 18 information was that was going to be provided to some extent, and then --
19 Q Is that from the 1023?
20 A From the 1023 and talking with the handling agents --
21 Q Okay.
22 A -- and talking with the supervisor from the Hunter Biden case.
23 Q Okay. And so you also understood, though, that that information that was 24 supposed to be provided was also being provided by the source to the media?
25 A That's my belief. It was provided publicly. That's my belief.

1 Q But provided by this source or by someone else?
2 A By the source.
3 Q Okay. And what led you to believe that?
4 A Just the information I received from numerous channels.
5 Q Okay. Including publicly available information?
6 A Yes, ma'am.
7 Q Like Googling?
8 A Yeah, I don't want to get into the information.
9 Q Got it.
10 Okay. So now that I think is what you described as -- sort of the first approach
11 that you received about this potentially problematic source. And then you said that 12 there was a completely separate approach from somebody in the Public Integrity or 13 Public Corruption Unit --
14 A Public Corruption Unit.
15 Q -- who came to you with some concerns about CHS 1. Is that right?
16 A Yes, ma'am.
17 Q Can you, again, sort of tell us, how did that information come to you?
18 A So the Public Corruption Unit chief called me and said that personnel -- he 19 didn't identify them, but personnel headquarters had concerns about the source. I
20 asked what those concerns were. He told me they were classified, couldn't talk on the 21 open phone about them. I asked for that information. He said he could set up a
22 meeting, and that's when I asked that four people from my office, the supervisor and the 23 two handling agents, attend along with myself.
24 I received a call a couple of days later from the same person. He let me know
25 that the meeting was going to be in the FITF. That's the first time I heard that, and

1 that's the time he told me that only myself and the supervisor could get.

2 Q What's the FITF?

3 A It's the Foreign Influence Task Force.

4 Q Okay. And do you know what their concerns are generally?

5 A Generally. I had very little direct contact with them. I think their -- when

6 I was a supervisor I think they were being newly formed, but I just didn't have a lot of 7 contact with them during my career.

8 Q Okay. So you went to this meeting. Is this also October 2020?

9 A This is October 2lst, I believe, 2020.

10 Q Okay. And this is the meeting at the FITF in WFO or headquarters?

11 A This is at headquarters in a SCIF.

12 Q Okay. And the CHS 1 is discussed during this classified meeting. Is that

13 right?

14 A I -- yes, but I don't want to get into anything regarding the details of what 15 was told to me.

16 Q Okay.

17 A I was a consumer. I don't even know what parts were classified and what 18 parts weren't or what the sources of their information were.

19 Q Okay. Let me ask you this. Was it clear to you that the information that

20 you were being provided at this meeting was about the same source that you had been

21 concerned about when the other -- the Baltimore office folks had approached you?

22 You're talking the same person?

23 A The same -- among other things, the same person was raised.

24 Q Okay.

25 A But they talked about other things as well.

1 Q Okay. So just with regard to the CHS 1, what can you tell us about the
2 concerns or the nature of the concerns that were raised about CHS 1?
3 A At that meeting?
4 Q At that meeting.
5 A I can't tell you anything about it.
6 Q Okay.
7 BY [redacted]
8 Q So you said that you are -- the FITF is the Foreign Influence Task Force.
9 Right?
10 A Right.
11 Q Are you familiar with the purpose of the Foreign Influence Task Force, the 12 mission of that task force?
13 A Generally, yes.
14 Q And what is your understanding of that?
15 A They're looking to see if foreign actors are trying to influence governmental 16 decisions or even elections.
17 Q And in your statement -- and so I assume this is unclassified -- you reference
18 that there were 10 to 12 FITF and PCU agents and analysts in the room. So there was 19 approximately, along with the PCU unit chief, myself, and the CR-15 SSA. So that's 20 probably 12, 13, 14 -- 15 people, thereabouts?
21 A About there.
22 Q Okay.
23 A It's a small room. A lot of people for that room.
24 Q And what's the PCU stand for here?
25 A Public Corruption Unit.

1 Q Okay. So you had individuals both from the Foreign Influence Task Force,
2 which you just said is tasked with investigating efforts to influence -- foreign influence to
3 influence the United States --
4 A Yes.
5 Q -- and individuals from the Public Corruption Unit all in the same -- all in this
6 small SCIF with you?
7 A Yes, ma'am.
8 Q Okay. And the SCIF was at FBI headquarters?
9 A Yes, ma'am.
10 Q And you said it was classified. Can you tell us what level the classification
11 was, if it was top secret, top secret SCI, secret?
12 A I don't recall.
13 Q Okay.
14 BY [redacted]
15 Q You indicate in your statement on page 4, which is the third paragraph and 16 the end of the first sentence, you're referring to this mid-October 2020 meeting with the 17 PCU unit chief, and it says that at that meeting, quote, FBIHQ were advocating that CHS 1
18 be closed for additional reasons unrelated to Baltimore's concerns, end quote.
19 Is this the meeting that you're discussing?
20 A That wasn't the meeting. That was a telephone call.
21 Q Okay.
22 A That was the initial telephone call from the unit chief --
23 Q Got it.
24 A -- from the Public Corruption Unit.
25 Q So you had a phone call before you had the meeting at the SCIF?

1 A Correct.

2 Q Okay. And it was at the phone call that you were told that you should close

3 CHS 1?

4 A I wasn't told -- to close the CHS 1? I was told that people were advocating

5 for the closure.

6 Q Okay. So there's a difference between advocating for and being ordered to 7 do it, for example. Is that what you're saying?

8 A Yes, ma'am.

9 Q Okay. So tell me, in your own words, what was it that you were they were

10 trying to express to you about CHS 1 in that phone call, the unclassified?

11 A Sure. That they had a perspective that I didn't have. And so I needed to

12 listen to what their perspective was, and I asked for the underlying information because I

13 was trying to do my due diligence, you know, trying to be curious about it and not just 14 rubber stamp something that headquarters was advocating.

15 And so, you know, that's why I asked for a meeting. That wasn't something that 16 he called me up and said, Let's have a meeting and discuss it. It was I had asked for it.

17 Q Okay. The reason that you asked for it was because you just wanted to

18 better understand where they were coming from when they advocated for the CHS 1

19 being closed?

20 A Yes. I needed to be able to understand it because I have a boss who might

21 ask me, Well, why? And also I have agents that work hard, and they work hard to run

22 investigations and to get sources. And I owed it to them as well to have an

23 understanding of what the factual basis was and why they were recommending

24 something one way or the other.

25 Q Okay. Let me just ask you this without disclosing anything that you learned

1 in that classified setting or elsewhere about this CHS 1.

2 Did you -- after you attended that meeting in the SCIF, did you have any doubt

3 whatsoever that that CHS 1 should be closed?

4 A I didn't think it was a difficult decision, and I'll tell you why. And I followed

5 back with Special Agent No. 2 to discuss the closing.

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A But I didn't have any information to suggest that Baltimore needed the

8 information, number one. So no one had told me what the value of the source was, but

9 I had learned from Baltimore that there was risk and what -- sort of what their feeling was

10 about source reporting. And then the information provided by the FITF sort of gave me

11 a whole different perspective.

12 And at that point in time, the logical decision seemed to be to close the source.

13 And so I would have discussed it with two units at headquarters, my supervisor, the

14 supervisor of CR-15, the supervisor of the Hunter Biden case, and I talked to one of the 15 handling agents, Supervisory Agent No. 2. Never did I receive information that would

16 have provided some objective where the source was needed. Okay? And also I

17 understood at the same time that there's nothing to prohibit a source from being 18 reopened.

19 As I said in my statement, if I had made a mistake and misunderstood Baltimore,

20 Baltimore could have opened that source the very next day, the very next day. I think I

21 was accused of closing a source forever. I didn't understand that.

22 And, look, I -- you know, reading the source -- the confidential human source

23 manual, my understanding is that when you close a source, you can close them for -- two 24 ways. You can just close them, and it can be reopened at any time by an agent with the

25 approval of their supervisor, or if you close a source for cause, that has to be approved by

1 the supervisor, but then the head of the office of the SAC, and then an executive at the

2 intel branch. So it could have been reopened.

1 [12:11 p.m.]

2 Mr. Thibault. So it could have been reopened.

3 But, here, look, I didn't make a mistake. I'd make the same decision again today

4 based on the facts that I had.

5 I -- because of transparency and because I felt bad that the handling agents were

6 not in the -- in the meeting with the FITF, I came back and wanted to discuss this with

7 Special Agent No. 2. Special Agent No. 1, the FITF had a problem and headquarters had

8 a problem with him being at the meeting.

9 BY [redacted]

10 Q And that's Olohan we've already discussed.

11 A Yes.

12 Q Right?

13 A So that's one reason I didn't invite him into the meeting with the supervisor

14 and Special Agent No. 2.

15 The second reason was because he had requested to voluntarily leave the squad

16 and was in the process, and I had helped him get on a squad that he wanted to go to.

17 So he wasn't going to be working the source on a squad anymore.

18 Q There was no need to another that classified information --

19 A Right.

20 Q -- by that point.

21 A Right. And I didn't -- and, again, the information provided by the FITF, I

22 don't have a CI background. I'm always a little uncomfortable --

23 [redacted] CI is "counterintelligence"?

24 Mr. Thibault. Counterintelligence. I'm always a little uncomfortable in the 25 counterintelligence realm because I never worked it.

1 And so I wanted to meet with Special Agent No. 2 and my supervisor to give her a
2 bit of an understanding of what I -- the information I was provided with.
3 And, at that meeting, I knew that she was unhappy with me in this decision, and I
4 was trying to explain the best I could in a unclassified environment what it was. And at 5 one point I even offered to call the FITF to see if she could get some time up there to get 6 their perspective, and she declined that, but I tried.
7 BY [redacted]
8 Q So it was Special Agent 2 that refused to go to FITF to receive the briefing
9 and not the other way around?
10 A Well, she refused my assistance in helping to arrange that meeting.
11 Q Okay.
12 A I wanted them both there.
13 Q Right.
14 A And, again, like, I tried to get them both there. And so it would have been 15 helpful to me because, as a leader, you want people to have confidence in the decisions
16 you make. It's hard to say no sometimes.
17 Q Special -- sorry. Go ahead.
18 [redacted] No. Go on.
19 BY [redacted]
20 Q Special Agent 2, it sound like she wasn't happy with the decision you made
21 to close the source. Is that fair to say?
22 A I think -- I can't get in her head, but that's why I was -- I think it's -- I can't get 23 in her head. That's my impression was that I -- that that was occurring. Right.
24 Q But she didn't give you any compelling reason to keep that source open at 25 that point. Is that fair to say?

1 A That's correct.

2 Q And she didn't take you up on your offer to get more information from FITF

3 regarding this source?

4 A My assistance in arranging a separate avenue for her to learn.

5 Q Okay. As far as you know, did Special Agent 2 make any complaints to your

6 supervisor or anyone else in the FBI about your decision to close that source?

7 A No, ma'am.

8 Q As far as you know, did she do anything with that information, go to any

9 other body to complain about your decision?

10 A Not that I know of.

11 [redacted] Okay. Sorry.

12 [redacted] Are you done with Special Agent 2?

13 Ms. Slezak. You go ahead.

14 [redacted] Can I ask some questions? Okay.

15 BY [redacted]

16 Q In the bottom paragraph on page 4, you say you met with Special Agent 2

17 and: During this meeting, I passed along information about the source that had been

18 presented to me by Baltimore.

19 With respect to that, to the extent that you recall, did you tell her both that there

20 were concerns about the possible motivations or the possible media ties that the 21 individual had?

22 A I don't have a clear recollection of everything I said.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A I was trying to be a bit gentle.

25 Q Uh-huh. Right.

1 A I was trying to treat it as a learning experience.
2 Q Uh-huh.
3 A And I -- but I made clear that there was no value.
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A My trying to assume positive intent --
6 Q Uh-huh.
7 A -- as an ASAC, I'm the second-level supervisor. I didn't want to get into the 8 lane of her first line supervisor. So I wasn't there to -- I didn't -- I wasn't there to -- I was 9 just there to provide sort of my overall --
10 Q Uh-huh.
11 A -- impression of why the source should be closed.
12 Q And during that, did either you or did Special Agent 2 mention anything
13 about the process by which the source had been opened?
14 A Not that I recall.
15 Q Okay. So it wasn't like she said, "Well, we vetted this person when we 16 brought them -- when we brought them in"? Anything like that, nothing like that came 17 up?
18 A She might have said: Hey, the information's verified.
19 Q Uh-huh.
20 A But, at that point, you know, what was clear to me was that Baltimore didn't 21 want the source information.
22 Q Uh-huh. And they had it from another source.
23 A Right.
24 Q They didn't need it.
25 A Right. And my hope -- and I don't know what happened after this. My

1 hope was that the supervisor and her would kind of work to understand what the issues
2 were.
3 Q And, when she said the information was verified, she might have said that,
4 do you have any knowledge if that's true or not?
5 A Verified or verifiable.
6 Q Oh, verifiable. Okay --
7 A Either one --
8 Q That's different, yeah.
9 A It's hard for me to verbatim but there's something in my head that, you
10 know, she -- there was some reason she brought up that: Hey, you really shouldn't close 11 this source --
12 Q Uh-huh.
13 A -- and here's why.
14 Q Uh-huh. And in your opinion that didn't overcome the concerns raised by 15 Baltimore?
16 A No.
17 Q Okay. And then you say: And, to a lesser extent, FBI HQ, because we're 18 an unclassified office space.
19 What did you tell her about what happened in that FITF meeting or generally?
20 A I would have just said that the FITF had concerns --
21 Q Okay.
22 A -- and about -- about the source. And, again, I'm sure I said more, but I just 23 can't remember --
24 Q Huh.
25 A -- what -- what exactly I said.

1 Q Okay.

2 A And, look, I -- I was trying to be clear. But not having a -- I hadn't worked in

3 public corruption at that point for, like, over a year and a half. I'd been at the 4 Counterterrorism Division. I was not paying attention to the things that I was briefed on

5 by the FITF. I did not feel like I had expertise in that area.

6 And I was -- not only was I concerned about the classification, but I was also

7 concerned about not being accurate with the information I was portraying. I didn't take

8 notes when I went into that FITF meeting.

9 Q Because it was in the SCIF.

10 A Yeah. And so but it -- her supervisor was right there with me.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A And, you know, I hoped that there would be some interaction there.

13 Q Do you know if the supervisor ever did speak with her directly?

14 A I don't know what their conversations were.

15 Q Okay. And just real quick, I know we already talked about the FITF

16 meeting. But talking about all the personnel in that small SCIF, the 15 or so people in 17 that small room, did that strike you as a lot of individuals?

18 A I had not really been in a meeting with the FITF before. So I didn't know.

19 Q Okay.

20 A But you have two units there.

21 Q Right. And so it seems like it was something that they were taking pretty

22 seriously. Is that fair to say?

23 A It was certainly serious content matter, and it was information I was 24 unaware of.

25 [redacted] Okay. Thank you.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q All right. You indicated that your decision to close that source, you made

3 that decision after getting input from the Baltimore special agent, two FBI Headquarters

4 units, and the CR-15's supervising special agent. Is that right?

5 A And I would have talked to my boss as well.

6 Q Okay. And your boss was the SAC.

7 A Yes, ma'am.

8 Q Okay. And did any of those people object to your decision to close that

9 source?

10 A No.

11 Mr. Lytle. Are you referring to page 5?

12 [redacted] Yeah, sorry. Sorry about that.

13 BY [redacted]

14 Q Paragraph 2 on page 5.

15 A Yes.

16 Q Yeah. Okay. Sorry.

17 Did they concur with your decision or just give you any opinion whatsoever when 18 you made that consultation?

19 A These are sort of informal processes where you're just briefing and talking.

20 And no one raised an issue contrary. You know, my biggest concern was: Again, is it

21 going to hurt the Hunter Biden case? Because they were the consumer.

22 And so if -- let's just say that Baltimore didn't want the source closed. That 23 would have been -- that would have let to a whole bunch of other meetings.

24 Q Right.

25 A No one came to me and said: You're making the wrong decision, or we

1 don't agree with what decision you're making.

2 Q Okay. Is it fair to say the consumers, the people who are prosecuting or

3 investigating Hunter Biden in that criminal investigation, didn't want their case messed up

4 and thought that this information could potentially cause problems for them? Right?

5 A Right.

6 Q So the source in your mind and in their mind had no value to their

7 investigation and actually might have detracted from it.

8 A Right.

9 Q Is that right?

10 A Right. And put another way, if the people that are saying that I shut this

11 down and hurt the case maybe, let's -- if I had okayed and they received other 1023s on

12 this, I wouldn't have been the one receiving the call. It would have been my boss saying:

13 What are you doing?

14 Right?

15 So Baltimore controlled their case. I never took any action with regard to 16 Baltimore's case without the express direction from them. Right?

17 So there's sort of two stages. You had the Baltimore stage where they called for:

18 We don't need the information anymore.

19 And then you had the stage from headquarters where there's another problem, a 20 more comprehensive issue.

21 And I took both of those into consideration, looking across at what the objectives

22 of the source are, looking at the options, and I could find no value at that point that

23 anybody provided to me.

24 Otherwise, I would have done what I always do. And what's evident here is I'd

25 ask questions and try to coordinate and collaborate and understand what the best

1 decision is.

2 Q Okay. And I think, in the first hour, you indicated with respect to the 3 opening of that source, again, you had no role in approving or reviewing that opening.

4 Right?

5 A Correct.

6 Q But did you later at any point look back and try to see why your case agents

7 wanted to open the source or how that process might have broken down?

8 A I viewed that as the frontline supervisor's role. I routinely, every place I've

9 been, whether it's a supervisor of a squad or even at Counterterrorism Division, I

10 provided training on how to run sources properly and how to vet sources.

11 I was going to provide training to my folks as I was there longer. So I would

12 have -- I looked at it as a lessons learned. Right?

13 Q Did you find problems in the opening of that source?

14 A I did not. I did not, no.

15 Q Did you review it?

16 A I did -- I don't believe I reviewed it for -- for the -- for that issue.

17 Q Okay. Do you know if the supervisor reviewed it?

18 A I don't, no.

19 Q OKAY.

20 BY [redacted]

21 Q On page 4, turning back to -- and I'm sorry. I know we're jumping around a 22 little bit here, but this should be kind of a concise question line.

23 On page 4, the one, two, three, the fourth paragraph down talking about Special

24 Agent 1, who you previously said was Mr. Olohan. Correct?

25 A Yes.

1 Q You say: Around the same time, the section chief of the Public Corruption
2 and Civil Rights section, which oversees PCU, sent me an email with an attached 40-plus
3 page electronic communication, EC, written by Special Agent 1.
4 What is an electronic communication, first?
5 A It's an FBI memo.
6 Q Okay. And this 40-page -- 40-plus page electronic communication, do you
7 remember what it said?
8 A I remember portions of it. It was a long EC.
9 Q Uh-huh.
10 A There's not many ECs that are that long --
11 Q Okay.
12 A -- ever in the Bureau. So I don't remember everything it said. Two things
13 stuck out to me. One, well, it was written in October -- it was written in, like, 2019. I
14 was no longer there. It was sent to me with no context by the section chief.
15 Q Uh-huh.
16 A I think as a reason, because I was protesting, I wanted the -- I wanted them
17 there at the FITF meeting.
18 Q Right.
19 A And I think he sent it because of that. I don't know. He never told me,
20 and we never talked about this. He just sent it to me.
21 I think he was -- I think there -- it was indicative of why someone might be
22 concerned, because of some of the content. Now it's a classified EC. So I can't get too
23 much into it. There's certain things in there, though, that would cause concern.
24 Q And the -- I'm sorry. You said that the EC was actually written by 25 Mr. Olohan in 2019.

1 A Right. And I'll be clear about this, too.

2 I didn't review that until much later. Because there was no content, I think I

3 responded when I got the -- when I got it, I was, like: Thanks.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A But there was no: Hey, you need to read this or this related to something.

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A I never went back and reviewed it until much later. It just got lost in all of 8 my emails --

9 Q Okay.

10 A -- because was no content. I don't even know if there was a subject

11 heading.

12 Q Okay.

13 A But Dave Scott is the -- he's an SESer.

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A He was the boss of the people in the Public Corruption Unit. And he

16 probably heard from them that: Hey, Tim's not too happy that his case agents can't

17 attend this meeting.

18 Q Okay.

19 A So I am -- so that was sent and then the little snippet at the end of the 20 meeting and that --

21 Q And that was enough to give you --

22 A It just helped me understand why FBI didn't want Mr. Olohan in that

23 meeting.

24 Q Okay. And did you ever sit down with Mr. Olohan the way you sat down

25 with Special Agent 2 to describe to him why he hadn't been able to attend that meeting?

1 A No.
2 Q Okay.
3 A We didn't really discuss why he couldn't come to the meeting.
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A So, after the information I received from the FITF about him, I knew that that 6 was going to be pretty sensitive. It would be for me if someone said had to talk about 7 your daughter.
8 Q Right.
9 A It wasn't something that I was looking forward to.
10 Q Uh-huh.
11 A And so I took a week or two or a short time period to let it settle --
12 Q Okay.
13 A -- and to understand how I was going approach this meeting because you try
14 to be good to people.
15 Q Right.
16 A And you try not to overreact. And so I just asked them the question of if 17 this happened. He said it did. And I tried not to be confrontational at that point.
18 Q Uh-huh.
19 A And that wasn't the purpose of the meeting. It was just to say, to make a 20 determination about this one case.
21 Q Uh-huh.
22 A And, at that meeting, that's when he said: I may want to move squads.
23 And that kind of shocked me a little bit.
24 But I said I would do everything I can to get you on the squad you want to be to 25 including given an FSL.

A couple of weeks later I received a phone call from my boss, Jim Dawson, that the deputy director had been told by a retired agent that knew Mr. Olohan, I think he told him that I removed him from a case because his daughter was a reporter.

I have some recollection of people, and I don't know if it was that in a conversation I had actually removed him from the squad. That wasn't true. I don't know where the disconnect came. It could have been a simple miscommunication that -- but I remember having that communication.

So I just clarified that it wasn't because his daughter worked for the media. It was because of the case issue.

Q Uh-huh.

A And the deputy director was okay with that, and so nothing happened. I never brought it up again. But we didn't discuss at that point in time anything about the FITF meeting except for that one little piece. And then, when he said he wanted to leave the squad and asked for my assistance to leave the squad, that's kind of what I was focused on was helping him --

Q Understood.

A -- out.

[redacted] Understood. All right. Thank you. Our hour is up. So we can go off the record.

[Recess.]

[redacted] We'll go back on the record?

It's 10:10 -- or excuse me -- 1:10 p.m.

BY [redacted]

Q Mr. Thibault, at the end of our first hour, we were kind of discussing this 1023 involved in the Hunter Biden investigation. And we were talking about a meeting

1 that you had had with the FITF.

2 A Yes, ma'am.

3 Q So I kind of just wanted to briefly, on the FD-1023, I know you spoke with my

4 minority colleagues about kind of the content of the 1023.

5 Would you define the information that was in the 1023 as derogatory Hunter

6 Biden information?

7 A It was laying out what could have been in there. I never looked at that

8 information --

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A -- specifically --

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A -- in the course of my -- as an FBI agent.

13 And so I'm unable to characterize it based on --

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A -- what was said to me about it by Baltimore.

16 Q And so, in exhibit No. 2, the letter from Senator Grassley, it talks about a line

17 of derogatory information that was closed.

18 Do you infer that derogatory information to be the FD-1023?

19 A The FD-1023, to the best of my knowledge, described what information

20 could be provided. I think the reference is to whatever information could have been

21 provided. I don't think it was in the 1023.

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A My recollection is the 1023 is, like, a one-pager.

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A It was whatever was described in there.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A Right.

3 Q The information that that source could have provided, would that have been

4 derogatory information regarding Hunter Biden?

5 A It could have been.

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A Or it might not have been.

8 Q Okay.

9 A But it certainly could have been. I just wasn't in a position -- I -- since I

10 didn't know anything about the Hunter Biden case.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A -- and I didn't know anything about that information, I never looked at it, I

13 never made that judgment myself.

14 [redacted] Okay.

15 [redacted] So it just laid out the placement and access of the source?

16 Mr. Thibault. Pardon?

17 [redacted] It just laid out the placement and access of this particular source.

18 Mr. Thibault. Yeah, and what the source could provide. Okay?

19 BY [redacted]

20 Q Okay. And so you get this call from SSA Gordon. You said -- was it

21 mid-September to October, or was it in October 2020 that you received the call from SSA

22 Gordon?

23 A It was October 2020. And, to be clear, we didn't discuss the character of 24 the information on that call.

25 Q Okay. He was just calling because he had seen the FD-1023, and he said he

1 already had that information; it wasn't necessary.

2 A Yes.

3 Q Is that a correct --

4 A Yes.

5 Q -- characterization?

6 A Yes, ma'am.

7 Q So then, in mid-October 2020, you receive a call from the PCU unit chief. Is

8 that correct?

9 A Yes, ma'am.

10 Q And how many calls did you have with the unit chief?

11 A Two that I recall.

12 Chairman Jordan. Let me back up a second.

13 When the Baltimore Field Office called you, did they specifically critique the 1023,

14 or did they go right to the source who provided the information on the 1023?

15 Mr. Thibault. The initial concern was: Hey, there's a 1023 in our file, which we

16 didn't -- appeared, and it came from WFO, and we didn't know anything about it. So

17 that's a concern for us because we should know everything that's going into the file.

18 And then it turned to the concern about the CHS. Right.

19 Chairman Jordan. Okay.

20 BY [redacted]

21 Q So then you have the calls with the PCU unit chief, and then the meeting

22 with the FITF happened on October 21st? Is that correct?

23 A Yes, ma'am.

24 Q And had you ever had any meetings with the FITF prior to October 21st, 25 2020?

A Not that I can recall. You know, there might have been some conference calls that they might have been in, like, nationwide.

Q Uh-huh.

A But that's the first time I ever had a direct, one-on-one meeting with a FITF that I can ever recall.

Q And, in the FITF briefing, understanding that it was classified, so I don't want you to reveal any classified information, was there any discussion of a potential hack-and-leak operation?

A Hack-and-leak. I don't recall that --

Q Uh-huh.

A -- specifically at all.

Q Was there any information about communications that they had with social media companies in that briefing?

Mr. Lytle. So, if I could -- I mean, it's classified briefing.

[redacted] Uh-huh.

Mr. Lytle. He doesn't want to cross that line in discussing the classified briefing. If it starts to go through, like, a process of elimination --

[redacted] Uh-huh.

Mr. Lytle. -- it does start to reveal maybe what it was.

[redacted] Uh-huh.

Mr. Lytle. So I don't know if -- I don't think --

Mr. Thibault. Yeah.

Mr. Lytle. -- he should talk about that briefing. It's kind of a line he's drawn on talking about classified information.

BY [redacted]

1 Q At a high level, did you have any awareness of conversations that the FITF
2 was having with social media companies?
3 A At a high level?
4 Q Uh-huh. At a high level, not talking just about the briefing but at a high
5 level, did have you an awareness?
6 A Not before that meeting, I did not.
7 Q Not before that meeting.
8 Did you ever have any interactions with social media companies?
9 A No, ma'am.
10 Q And what was your awareness of the interactions that FITF was having with 11 social media companies?
12 A I just know that the FBI had relationships with commercial firms. I knew it
13 because I worked in counterterrorism.
14 Q Uh-huh.
15 A And so, when you're looking at threats, from a counterterrorism perspective,
16 they would rely on social media providers --
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A -- and others to be able to do their work.
19 Q Uh-huh.
20 A So that's what I understood.
21 With regard to the FITF, I didn't know anything about -- I just really didn't have a
22 good understanding of what the FITF was at that time. I learned it later, of course,
23 because it's been in the news.
24 Q Uh-huh. When you were having calls with the PCU unit chief in that 25 mid-October 2020 range, did discussion of this New York Post story that broke about the

1 Hunter Biden laptop on October 14th come up on those discussions?

2 A No, ma'am.

3 Q Did it come up in any of your conversations with the FITF?

4 A No, ma'am, not -- not that I recall.

5 Q And, in your conversations with the FITF or regarding this FD-1023, was

6 there any discussion of an open letter that 51 former intel officials publicized on October

7 19th, 2020?

8 A Just to correct on a question --

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A -- the 1023, I can't remember what was discussed in the FITF about that 11 1023.

12 Q Okay.

13 A Okay. But otherwise, no.

14 Q Okay. But the 1023, was that the subject of the reason that that meeting, 15 that briefing was called?

16 A It was broader. It was --

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A -- much greater context. It's much greater context.

19 Chairman Jordan. About the source.

20 Mr. Thibault. Overall. The source and other things. It was broader is all I

21 could say.

22 BY [redacted]

23 Q And, after this October 21st, 2020, meeting with the FITF, have you ever had 24 any other interactions with the FITF?

25 A I don't believe so.

1 Q And do you remember who was in charge of the FITF at the time of the 2 October 21st briefing?
3 A No, ma'am.
4 Q Did you know any of the individuals on the FITF at the time of the October
5 21st briefing?
6 A No, ma'am. It's quite possible I could have been in meetings with them,
7 you know, online or something. But I didn't have relationships with them at all.
8 Chairman Jordan. Did you know at the time that the FITF that was -- that they 9 were having regular meetings with Big Tech companies? And as it got closer to the 10 election in this time period, it was actually like weekly meetings that they were having 11 with tech companies?
12 Mr. Thibault. I didn't know how frequent the meetings were. I think I
13 understood at some point. I'm not exactly sure that there -- there were meetings with 14 private sector people because -- and I just equated that, again, to my work with 15 counterterrorism because it was so important to our work.
16 But I don't know -- I didn't really understand how involved or who was doing it.
17 Chairman Jordan. Uh-huh.
18 Mr. Thibault. But it didn't -- didn't surprise me. I learned about it some, from 19 some location. I just can't recall where.
20 [redacted] So, during the meeting, were they -- were they pushing to close
21 that source? Was that one of the topics of the discussion?
22 Mr. Thibault. So, you know, they never brought up, that I can recall, saying:
23 We want to you close the source because of this.
24 They were just providing information that they felt was relevant to enable me to 25 make a decision.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q And, in regards to, you know, any aspect of the Hunter Biden investigation, I
3 know we kind of talked about your communications with FBI Baltimore. And you said
4 you spoke with, obviously, SSA Gordon. And then you said you had one
5 conversation -- was it one conversation with ASAC Alfred Watson? Or how many 6 conversations did have you with him?

7 A I didn't have any conversations with him --

8 Q Okay.

9 A -- concerning Hunter Biden at all.

10 Q Did you have any conversations with ASAC Holley?

11 A Let me correct that. With regard to what we were talking about on this 12 source.

13 Q Okay.

14 A Later, with regard to Tony Bobulinski, I did.

15 Q Okay. So you had a conversation about Bobulinski with ASAC Alfred 16 Watson. Correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And then, regarding all aspects of the Hunter Biden investigation, not just 19 the FD-1023, which we've been speaking about, did have you conversations with ASAC
20 Ryeshia Holley?

21 A No.

22 Q So no discussions with Ms. Holley?

23 A No.

24 Q Did you have any discussions with SAC Thomas Sobocinski about the Hunter
25 Biden investigation?

1 A Oh, are we talking about not just the 1023?

2 Q Correct.

3 A Okay.

4 Q Very broad.

5 A Okay. I'm sorry.

6 Q No, you're okay.

7 A So with regard to Ms. Holley --

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A -- I didn't have any conversations regarding the case that they had opened --

10 Q Uh-huh.

11 A -- on Hunter Biden.

12 Q Okay.

13 A I was involved in a conversation unrelated to that case about another topic

14 involving Hunter Biden that I can't get into because I don't know if that was ever looked 15 at at all. So I don't want to get into that conversation, but Joe Gordon is aware of that.

16 Q Uh-huh.

17 A Ms. Holley and people from headquarters are aware of that conversation.

18 Q And did at the time that this conversation between you and Ms. Holley was 19 occurring, was headquarters aware that that WFO was reaching out to Baltimore?

20 A Well, we didn't reach out to Baltimore with regard to that conversation.

21 Q Okay.

22 A Headquarters in Baltimore reached out to me.

23 Q Okay. About a specific aspect of the Hunter Biden investigation.

24 A Not that ongoing investigation. It was another matter.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A I don't believe that they had officially opened the case on --
2 Q Okay.
3 A -- that other matter.
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A And because I -- and I don't even know if they -- I don't even know if they
6 looked -- if they got that case, you know, if it's looked on. So I don't know if that's open 7 or not.
8 Q Uh-huh.
9 A So I want to be careful about this.
10 Q But it's accurate to say that Ms. Holley and headquarters connected to you
11 them. Is that correct?
12 A They called me.
13 Q Okay.
14 A They called me and said -- and asked me some questions.
15 Q Uh-huh.
16 A And asked me -- it's almost like, you know, my background was public
17 corruption and whatnot. So it was about: Hey, in your experience, what do you think 18 about this?
19 Q Uh-huh. So was there someone from headquarters on the call with 20 Ms. Holley and you?
21 A Yes.
22 Q Okay.
23 A It was the -- it would have been the acting -- it would have been the acting 24 section chief or the section chief.
25 Q Okay.

1 A And it would have --

2 Mr. Lytle. You spoke earlier. You said Baltimore headquarters. You mean FBI

3 Headquarters in Washington, D.C.?

4 Mr. Thibault. Yes. And then also it would have been the ASAC Holley --

5 BY [redacted]

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A -- and Joe Gordon.

8 Q And the acting section chief over what division?

9 A It was the -- over the Public Corruption and Civil Rights.

10 Q Okay. And then sticking with the Baltimore Field Office, prior to SAC

11 Sobocinski coming on board, there was an SAC named Jennifer Boone. Did you ever

12 have any conversations with her regarding any matter related to Hunter Biden?

13 A No, ma'am.

14 Q Did you ever have any conversations or intersections with F -- the FBI Field

15 Office from Pittsburgh regarding Hunter Biden investigation?

16 A No, ma'am.

17 Q What about the U.S. Attorney's Office from Pittsburgh, which would be the 18 Western District of Pennsylvania? Any conversations?

19 A No, ma'am.

20 Q Okay. And I'm just speaking very broadly about the Hunter Biden

21 investigation --

22 A Of course.

23 Q -- right now when I'm asking but these interactions. Did you ever interact

24 with U.S. Attorney David Weiss from Delaware?

25 A No, ma'am.

1 Q Did you ever interact with anyone from his office?

2 A No, ma'am.

3 Q Did you ever interact with anyone from U.S. Attorney Estrada's office from 4 the Central District of California?

5 A No, ma'am.

6 Q Did you ever interact with anyone from U.S. Attorney Matthew Graves'

7 office for the District of Columbia?

8 A Um --

9 Mr. Lytle. Regarding Hunter Biden?

10 BY [redacted]

11 Q Right.

12 A Regarding the case on Hunter Biden, no.

13 Q But you -- did you engage with him over other matters related --

14 A This other matter that I just talked about?

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A Baltimore asked me to reach out to him.

17 Q And you spoke --

18 A Not Mr. Graves. I spoke to a gentleman named J.P. Cooney.

19 Q And had you spoken with Mr. Cooney prior to this?

20 A No. It was only one phone call.

21 Q And that --

22 A It was at the request of the Baltimore Field Office and headquarters that I

23 make that call.

24 Q And was the call that they would, you know, push for a prosecution --

25 A I don't want --

1 Q -- in the District of Columbia?

2 A I don't want to get into it because I don't know if that matter was opened or

3 not.

4 Q Okay. Wouldn't the venue have been in D.C.?

5 A They were talking about a matter that maybe could have been venued in

6 D.C.

7 Q Did you ever have any conversations with anyone from the DOJ Tax Division

8 related to any Hunter Biden investigation?

9 A No, ma'am.

10 Q And you said you have had intersections with the Public Corruption Division

11 related to the Hunter Biden investigation? Is that accurate?

12 A Very narrow scope.

13 Q Okay. And was it just that one call when the acting section chief was on 14 the phone with Ms. Holley?

15 A Well, that wasn't -- again, that --

16 Q Uh-huh?

17 A -- wasn't about an ongoing case.

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A It wasn't -- it wasn't opened --

20 Q Okay.

21 A -- that I knew of.

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A Okay? My interactions with Baltimore were regard to CHS 1.

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A Mr. Bobulinski.

1 Q Uh-huh.
2 A I think that there were some legal process --
3 Q Uh-huh.
4 A -- that was being served one day, and my agents were serving legal process.
5 Q Okay. In regards to the Hunter Biden investigation?
6 A Yes.
7 Q Okay.
8 A That's all that comes to mind right now.
9 Q So how many times did you speak with the Public Corruption Division in 10 regards to any aspect of the Hunter Biden investigation, open or not opened?
11 A Okay. To the Hunter Biden investigation that's opened, there were two 12 phone calls, which I've already talked about extensively.
13 Q Uh-huh.
14 A There was the meeting at the FITF. I received a phone call the day that 15 Tony Bobulinski was interviewed --
16 Q Uh-huh.
17 A -- because they didn't know I wasn't at work that day. So I got a call from 18 Dave Scott, the section chief. I told him I wasn't working. I think there was one phone 19 call after --
20 Q Uh-huh.
21 A -- the Mr. Bobulinski interview. That's all I can recall right now for that.
22 And then there was probably two or three interactions on the matter that I don't 23 know if it was open or not.
24 Q Uh-huh. And did these phone calls or interactions with the Public
25 Corruption Unit chief, did they happen in a short period of time, or was it kind of

1 throughout your tenure as ASAC?

2 A With regard to the Hunter Biden case?

3 Q Correct.

4 A They didn't happen very much at all. It was right around the time with

5 regard to CH 1.

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A And then there was the one call about Mr. Bobulinski that I can recall.

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A Which --

10 Chairman Jordan. Go ahead and finish.

11 Mr. Thibault. And then, at some later time, there was the other series of calls

12 with regard to something that I don't know if it was open or not.

13 Chairman Jordan. Okay. That's what I want to know.

14 Mr. Thibault. Yes.

15 Chairman Jordan. What was the timeframe for that?

16 Mr. Thibault. Yes, sir.

17 Chairman Jordan. What was the timeframe for that?

18 Mr. Thibault. I want to -- I believe it was sometime in the spring of 2022.

19 Chairman Jordan. Spring of '22.

20 Mr. Thibault. Yes, sir. Best of my recollection, it was the spring of '22.

21 Chairman Jordan. Okay. Thank you.

22 And you said there was some calls you had regarding that issue. You had contact

23 with the U.S. Attorney here in D.C.

24 Mr. Thibault. One of his prosecutors.

25 Chairman Jordan. Okay.

1 Mr. Thibault. I just made a quick call and that -- the Baltimore Field Office --
2 Chairman Jordan. It was prompted by that whole issue.
3 Mr. Thibault. Baltimore Field Office asked me to do it.
4 Chairman Jordan. Okay.
5 [redacted] And kind of moving to -- I know there are different portions of the 6 Hunter Biden investigation. You know, there was the FD-1023 and then we've 7 also -- you've mentioned Tony Bobulinski. Can you tell us about your involvement with
8 Mr. Bobulinski?
9 Chairman Jordan. Let me do one other thing real quick, and then we'll go to
10 Mr. Bobulinski.
11 I want to make sure I got the story, the framework exactly right. So your agents
12 put together a 1023 on Confidential Human Source No. 1.
13 Mr. Thibault. Yes, sir.
14 Chairman Jordan. And that gets sent to the Baltimore office.
15 Mr. Thibault. Yes, Baltimore and I believe headquarters.
16 Chairman Jordan. So both Baltimore and headquarters get it.
17 Subsequent to that, you get a call from the Baltimore Field Office, saying, hey, we 18 don't need this.
19 Mr. Thibault. Yes, sir.
20 Chairman Jordan. We don't need the information. We don't want it. Don't 21 send it to us.
22 Mr. Thibault. Yes, sir.
23 Chairman Jordan. And you were somewhat surprised that that hadn't been 24 coordinated ahead of time with the two agents who had worked on the case from your 25 office and the folks from Baltimore. Right?

1 Mr. Thibault. Yes, sir.

2 Chairman Jordan. Okay. And then, a week and a half after that, you get a call
3 from headquarters, saying the same thing: Hey, we don't like this 1023 and no
4 confidential human source. We don't want that.

5 Mr. Thibault. Well, they -- they were advocating -- some people who they didn't 6 identify on the phone were advocating that probably should be closed.

7 Chairman Jordan. Okay. So get rid of that source.

8 So you get a call from headquarters. And they're saying people higher up than 9 them, whoever called you, are advocating to get rid of this source.

10 Mr. Thibault. I didn't know where those people were assigned, and that was a
11 bit frustrating. And, you know, I wanted to know, and I couldn't get the information
12 over the phone because it was classified.

13 Chairman Jordan. And then it escalates even further because they give you a
14 classified briefing, and the Foreign Influence Task Force is in this briefing on this subject.

15 Mr. Thibault. I requested that briefing.

16 Chairman Jordan. You requested it?

17 Mr. Thibault. Yes, sir.

18 Chairman Jordan. Okay. And so FITF and all come to that briefing. And you
19 request it because your case agent said: No, no, no, we should keep this source; we 20 should use this information.

21 Is that right?

22 Mr. Thibault. They didn't say anything to me. I just -- I wanted to know before 23 I was going to close the source, why, why were people advocating for that.

24 Chairman Jordan. But, after you close the source, the case agents were 25 concerned that you did closed the source. Is that right.

1 Mr. Thibault. One case agent I don't believe agreed with me. That's correct.
2 Chairman Jordan. Okay. Okay. And, again, this was a 1023 form that you had 3 reviewed and approved on the front end of all this.
4 Mr. Thibault. My statement was I may have approved it, but I believe I reviewed
5 it and/or approved it. I couldn't remember. If I approved it, my name's going to be on 6 that form and I was unable to --
7 Chairman Jordan. Is it accurate? I want to make sure I have --
8 Mr. Thibault. Sure.
9 Chairman Jordan. -- the case agents right. The case agent who strongly
10 disagreed with that is also the case agent who said: I want to be assigned somewhere
11 else now.
12 Mr. Thibault. No.
13 Chairman Jordan. It's the other one.
14 Mr. Thibault. It's the other one.
15 Chairman Jordan. So it's not Mr. Olohan. The one who disagreed the most was 16 not Mr. Olohan. Is that right?
17 Mr. Thibault. I didn't have a conversation after the FITF meeting with Mr.
18 Olohan concerning that.
19 Chairman Jordan. That's what I thought. So it's the other agent --
20 Mr. Thibault. Yes.
21 Chairman Jordan. -- who strongly disagreed.
22 Mr. Thibault. Well, she disagreed. I don't know. You know, she just -- I
23 believe she disagreed --
24 Chairman Jordan. Okay.
25 Mr. Thibault. -- with my decision.

1 Chairman Jordan. I just want to make sure I had it clear.

2 Mr. Thibault. Yes, sir.

3 Chairman Jordan. Thanks.

4 BY [redacted]

5 Q You mentioned that you requested the briefing where FITF attended?

6 A Well, well, FITF -- the Public Corruption Unit was telling me: Hey, there's

7 some people that are advocating that maybe the source be closed.

8 And I was like: Well, who are they and why?

9 And the response was: I can't talk bit over the phone.

10 And so I said: Can I get the information?

11 And he said: Well, I'll try to schedule a meeting.

12 And so that's how that happened.

13 Q And so did you find out in the meeting that FITF would be attending or --

14 A The second phone call from the public corruption supervisor, the unit chief?

15 He told me it was going to be at FITF in a SCIF.

16 Q And, when you had that second phone call, at that point in time, did you

17 know what FITF was?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And you hadn't had any interactions with them previously?

20 A Not very many, not very many. You know, back in two thousand -- so I'd

21 been from late 2018 through the time that this occurred, I had been working at

22 Counterterrorism Division and really don't recall having much interaction with the FITF at 23 all. I don't even know when they began.

24 Q Do you recall in the briefing if it was leadership members within FITF?

25 A I didn't know anybody in FITF, and so I didn't know their names. I don't

1 think I had any conversations with them before or after, no.

2 Q Did they identify during the meeting how FITF was structured, whether

3 there's a unit devoted to China or to Russia?

4 A No, sir.

5 BY [redacted]

6 Q So, in your written testimony, you talk about your interaction, you know,

7 with Mr. Bobulinski, as well as his attorney.

8 You know, there's been some reporting, as you mentioned in your written

9 testimony, about how you were designated as the point man to manage Mr. Bobulinski.

10 What can you tell us about that?

11 A Yes, ma'am. Yes, ma'am. So I believe he was interviewed --

12 Q Uh-huh.

13 A -- by the Washington Field Office on October --

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A -- 23rd, 2020, which was a Friday. I was on leave that day, and so I wasn't

16 involved in the logistics for setting that up meeting. I got a call and kind of really kind of 17 learned.

18 Dave Scott called me and said: Hey, Tim, what's going on with this meeting?

19 Dave was calling me from headquarters. And I said: Dave, I don't know, and 20 I'm on leave. Call Giulio Arseni.

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A Giulio was acting as my acting that day, and I didn't get involved in any of

23 that. Right?

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A So things were obviously going on. People were busy. I wasn't going to

1 try to get in the middle of it because I could have messed things up.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A So that meeting happens.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A That interview happens. I still don't know much about it. That Saturday, I

6 was off, of course. I got an email from my boss, Jim Dawson.

7 Q Uh-huh.

8 A I was unable to review that email. So I'm working off memory. But that

9 email went something to the effect of:

10 Mr. Bobulinski has some devices he'd like to turn over to the FBI. Your contact

11 for that is Mr. Stefan Passantino. Call him.

12 Q Uh-huh.

13 A So I got that information on an afternoon, Saturday. Within an hour or two

14 after I got that, I called Mr. Passantino and left a voicemail on his phone. That was first

15 communication --

16 Q Uh-huh.

17 A -- that I ever had was on Saturday with Mr. Passantino. I think

18 Mr. Bobulinski said I had an hour a and half interview with him on a Friday. That wasn't

19 me. I didn't talk to him on Friday.

20 Q And so Mr. Arseni, did you understand that he was in the interview with

21 Mr. Bobulinski?

22 A Usually in an interview --

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A -- is just case agents like line case agents.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A I would never want a supervisor in an interview --

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A -- because that's not really their job.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A I don't know who was in the interview with him.

6 Q Were they line agents for CR-15?

7 A There were -- I believe that there were two line agents, but they were from

8 CR-10.

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A CR-10 is a D.C. Corruption Squad. They also do some Federal.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A I believe they picked them because they're in Chinatown.

13 Q Okay.

14 A So they're close to the field office at WFO --

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A -- where the interview was prearranged, and I had nothing do with how that 17 was arranged.

18 Q Uh-huh. So what was Mr. Arseni's development or, excuse me,

19 involvement?

20 A Just he was standing in for me on Friday.

21 Q So --

22 A That's it.

23 Q What did he have to do in regard to the Bobulinski interview that occurred?

24 A I'm not sure exactly what he did because it was being overseen by Mr.

25 Dawson.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A So Mr. Dawson and Mr. Arseni would have been working that matter

3 together.

4 Q And what did -- was it just this email from Mr. Dawson, was that the total

5 sum of the information he conveyed to you about the Bobulinski interview?

6 A Well, he just said: Hey, you're tasked with making contact with

7 Mr. Bobulinski's counsel --

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A -- and facilitating the turnover of the devices for the FBI.

10 Q And why would you have been that individual that Mr. Dawson would have 11 gone to for that?

12 A Because I worked for him directly.

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A I oversaw the squad that did the interviews.

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A That's why.

17 Q So you oversaw the CR-10?

18 A CR-10 was one of the squads I supervised. Now I believe he could have said

19 to me: Tim, either you or Giulio --

20 Q Uh-huh.

21 A -- make this contact.

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A And, just because I didn't want to have Giulio to do more work for me --

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A -- I made the contact on Saturday. I left the voicemail.

1 Q And so did you ever get any sort of briefing from the CR-10 case agents
2 regarding the Bobulinski interview?
3 A No. The 302, I think I took a quick look at it, which was the write-up of the 4 interview.
5 Q Uh-huh.
6 A But, after I received my instructions from Mr. Dawson and called and left a
7 voicemail, I asked Mr. Passantino to call me back when he could but do it before 8 o'clock
8 because I was going to be tied up after 8.
9 Q Uh-huh.
10 A I think he called me sometime after 8 and left a voicemail. So we never had 11 a conversation that Saturday.
12 Q Uh-huh.
13 A The next day, on Sunday, sometime around 11 a.m., I called Mr. Passantino,
14 and we had a brief -- it may have been a 5-minute conversation. And he laid out his 15 concerns. He wanted -- advised that his client had some devices to turn over, and he 16 asked a couple of things. There were conditions.
17 He said: Hey, can the FBI selectively image parts of the devices but not anything
18 personal that Mr. Bobulinski doesn't want imaged? The second was, if that's impossible,
19 can the FBI authorize the FBI -- can the FBI authorize Mr. Bobulinski to I don't know if it
20 was delete information or modify information.
21 I told him to be -- that I wanted to be absolutely sure the device I gave him was 22 correct. So I said: Look, I need to talk to some attorneys with the FBI and let me know 23 what the policy is.
24 And we agreed. So that conversation ended.
25 The next morning, Monday morning, I met with chief division counsel on this

1 matter.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A And he said: Look, the policy of the FBI is we can't selectively image.

4 That's not the way our CART people or the people that do computer investigations --

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A -- it's against their policy.

7 I said: Okay. Roger that.

8 And he said, with regard to authorizing Mr. Bobulinski to do it, he said, since it's

9 private, he told me, since it's private devices and the FBI isn't asking for it, that we can't,

10 like, give them FBI authorization to do it. Right?

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A The point is, is that we were going to accept whatever they gave us. But

13 we couldn't as the FBI do those two things.

14 So then we had a call. I made the call from my office. The -- Dennis Kompf (ph)

15 was the assistant division counsel attorney in my office when I made the call to 16 Mr. Passantino.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A And that call may have lasted 10, 15 minutes at the most.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A I relayed that information to Mr. Passantino.

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A And he told me, he said that he was going to -- at that point in time, they

23 were not going to provide the devices to us --

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A -- but maybe later. He said he would secure them in his office safe.

1 I let him know that -- for some reason -- I don't know why -- I thought he was in
2 Los Angeles.
3 Q Uh-huh.
4 A But I'm not sure. In my mind, I thought he was in L.A.
5 Q And so, turning to your written statement on page 8, you know, after your 6 interactions regarding the Bobulinski interview, as well as your communications with 7 Passantino, it says: Apart from the above -- this is the kind of the last full paragraph.
8 A Yes.
9 Q Apart from the above, I took several actions to ensure continuity between 10 WFO and Baltimore on the Bobulinski interview and communication with Mr. Passantino.
11 I called and emailed the Baltimore ASAC to ensure that he and his investigative team
12 knew about all actions WFO took on their behalf concerning Mr. Bobulinski.
13 Was the Baltimore ASAC you referred to here, was that Mr. Watson?
14 A Yes, ma'am.
15 Q And were you told to interact with the Baltimore Field Office, or how did you
16 know to send the information to Baltimore?
17 A It's what I do.
18 Q Uh-huh.
19 A Just, look, there's a lesson learned and you try to learn your lessons. But 20 you want to make sure there's nothing lost in emails. Right?
21 Q Uh-huh.
22 A You want to make sure there's nothing lost in phone calls.
23 The first concern was to make sure that Baltimore got the FD-302s --
24 Q Uh-huh.
25 A -- that the agents had written and to also make sure that anything he had

1 turned over to the agents got there.

2 And so I called the supervisor for CR-10 and said: Hey, how are you sending this

3 information to Baltimore.

4 And I was advised it was like an e-Guardian system. So there's receipts for that.

5 So we can show.

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A I said: Okay, great.

8 I asked to see a copy of the written FD-302 just so I knew, hey, it was done good.

9 I just reviewed it really quickly. Made no comments. Didn't have any followup

10 questions. That information was going to be sent. I was good with it.

11 I called Alfred Watson to let him know how we were going to send it.

12 Q Uh-huh.

13 A Alfred Watson told me: Hey, that's great.

14 But with regard to -- I think there might have been some loose media or 15 something. He said: Can you have your agents send it a certain way so we can get it

16 quicker?

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A I relayed that information to the supervisor of CR-10. So that was handled.

19 What -- and then I needed to do something so that they understood that I had 20 conversations with Mr. Passantino because I didn't want these devices to get lost.

21 Right? Because we didn't take custody of them.

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A And I was not in a position. I wasn't on the Hunter Biden case. I didn't 24 want someone just to forget about them absentmindedly or something.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A So my recollection is I did a Memo for Record --

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A -- identifying all my interactions with Mr. Passantino.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A I had the CDC review it. He actually made a couple of edits, as I recall.

6 And I sent that also to Mr. Watson out of continuity.

7 And let me tell you. There was a case that the FBI was involved in, involving

8 some sexual abuse of gymnasts in Michigan --

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A -- or something up there in the north.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A Indianapolis I think was involved. The lesson learned there is you got to 13 communicate, you know.

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A One of them has got to pass the baton. And So I got a good handshake 16 from them and so that -- that answers your question.

17 Q And --

18 Chairman Jordan. So your contact -- oh, I'm sorry.

19 Your contact was with the, first, the voicemail you left for Passantino and then

20 two calls with him after that.

21 Did you have any other contact with Mr. Bobulinski or Passantano -- tino, excuse

22 me -- after that?

23 A I never talked with Mr. Bobulinski at all, and I did not have any contacts

24 afterwards. I know there's an allegation made against me that I should have been the 25 one scheduling, like, a followup call with Mr. Bobulinski.

1 I don't -- in the light most favorable to Mr. Bobulinski, I don't know what he was
2 told by any other agent. I don't know if he was told that the FBI was going to follow up.
3 I'm sure he was told that I was the point of contact on the Hunter Biden matter
4 with respect to him. In the light most favorable to him, he could have thought: Oh,
5 this is the guy.
6 What he didn't know was I was the point of contact on this very small item.
7 The whole idea that he came to WFO is they were trying not to disclose that there
8 was an investigation in Baltimore is my belief. I don't understand otherwise why he 9 came to Washington Field Office.
10 Chairman Jordan. You didn't have any contact with Mr. Bobulinski during this 11 whole time --
12 Mr. Thibault. Right.
13 Chairman Jordan. -- certainly not subsequent to the interaction with his 14 attorney. Has anyone in the FBI had any contact with Mr. Bobulinski since then?
15 Mr. Thibault. I don't know, sir. I don't know.
16 BY [redacted]
17 Q And, in your written testimony, it says, when you're talking about conferring 18 with the Baltimore ASAC, you wanted to let him know about all actions WFO took on their 19 behalf.
20 A Yes.
21 Q Was this a Baltimore request to hold the interview at the WFO, or how did
22 the interview occur at the WFO rather than Baltimore?
23 A I was on leave that day. So those communications with that --
24 Q Uh-huh.
25 A -- that is a question that would best be addressed by Mr. Dawson.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A I was on the of the loop on that.

3 Q Okay. Turning back --

4 Chairman Jordan. No one told you why? I mean --

5 Mr. Thibault. I --

6 Chairman Jordan. -- a 302.

7 Mr. Thibault. I ascertained and later asked Mr. Dawson why. And he told me

8 what I believe was because Baltimore case, I don't know that it was public at that time.

9 And so someone made a decision.

10 And so my -- it's secondhand information?

11 Chairman Jordan. Uh-huh.

12 Mr. Thibault. But I would confirm that with Mr. Dawson.

13 BY [redacted]

14 Q And, if we look back at the letter from Senator Grassley on July 25th, 2022,

15 at the bottom of the first page, it says: It is further alleged that, in August 2020, FBI

16 Supervisory Intelligence Analyst Brian Auten opened an assessment which was used by an

17 FBI Headquarters team to improperly discredit negative Hunter Biden information as

18 disinformation and caused investigative activity to cease.

19 Based on allegations verified and verifiable, derogatory information on Hunter

20 Biden was falsely labeled as disinformation.

21 Are you familiar with SIA Brian Auten?

22 A I don't know him. I've heard his name before because of all this, but I

23 never knew him. He may have been in the meeting with me. I suspect he was. But I

24 don't know him personally.

25 Q So he wasn't on the CR-15 squad on under your leadership?

1 A That's correct.

2 Chairman Jordan. He was in the FITF meeting.

3 Mr. Thibault. I don't know for sure. It wouldn't surprise me if he was.

4 Mr. Lytle. But he was not in CR-15 as far as you know.

5 Mr. Thibault. That's correct. And I couldn't -- I couldn't point out Mr. Auten if

6 he was in this meeting to you. I just don't know him.

7 [redacted] What about Laurie Dehmlow?

8 Mr. Thibault. I don't know her either. I've heard her name since then but only 9 since then because of the news.

10 BY [redacted]

11 Q Did have you familiarity with the -- we'll call it for these purposes the Auten

12 assessment prior to this letter becoming public?

13 A No, ma'am.

14 Q Did you have during your tenure as ASAC, did you ever learned of this

15 assessment that Mr. Auten had put together?

16 A No, ma'am. In this letter --

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A -- is actually first time I heard about it, I think, is from this letter.

19 Q Okay.

20 [redacted] Does Round River ring a bell --

21 Mr. Thibault. No, sir.

22 [redacted] -- for that assessment?

23 Mr. Thibault. No, sir. And, as matter of fact, there's a mention of -- on some

24 file that was in the -- that the FITF kept. I did haven't access to that file. I didn't know

25 about the file either. Right? I didn't know about it until one of these letters came out.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q And so, when you were looking at the Hunter Biden investigation as a whole,

3 you had involvement with this one FD-1023. Is that correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And then you had involvement, you know, with the followup from the 6 Bobulinski interview. Is that correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And then you had the one engagement with Baltimore and headquarters

9 regarding this investigation that wasn't old, but they wanted your expertise on. And 10 then you reached out to the U.S. Attorney for D.C. Is that correct?

11 A Yes, ma'am.

12 Q Is that the sum total of your involvement in any aspect of the Hunter Biden

13 investigation?

14 A There was one other issue I think I might have mention --

15 Q Okay.

16 A -- which was the legal process.

17 Q Okay.

18 A And I didn't have any involvement in that other than Baltimore had sent a 19 lead to one of my squads.

20 Q Uh-huh.

21 A And there was some deconfliction with that that was needed.

22 And so, actually, Mr. D'Antuono, Steve D'Antuono, wanted the Secret Service --

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A -- involved in the legal, and that's it. And I really -- I just made -- I just acted

25 as the communicator between Baltimore and my ASAC -- my ADIC, Steve D'Antuono, and

1 Alfred Watson, the ASAC in Baltimore.

2 Mr. Lytle. If I could clarify something. I think you said the US Attorney in D.C. --

3 [redacted] Uh-huh.

4 Mr. Lytle. -- on the Hunter Biden, but it was actually J.D. Cooney, who was the

5 U.S. Attorney.

6 Mr. Thibault. He was an assistant.

7 Mr. Lytle. Yeah.

8 BY [redacted]

9 Q So the U.S. attorney. Okay. So, for the legal process, what was the legal

10 process? Was it a subpoena?

11 A I can't --

12 Q Was it a warrant?

13 A I can't disclose that information because of Federal criminal law.

14 Q And you said that the -- it was coming from Baltimore.

15 A From Baltimore. It was just legal process on something that needed to be 16 handled -- handed to somebody.

[1:50 p.m.]

BY [redacted]

Q And, when you say "deconflicted," what do you mean by "deconflicted"?

A So the person had Secret Service detail.

Q Okay.

A And, generally, when we had to do whatever we were going to do, you just do it. Right, but, because of that detail, there's a concern -- always a concern of blue on blue.

Q Uh-huh.

A And so Mr. D'Antuono said notify the Secret Service so we don't have a blue-on-blue issue.

Q And what was the timeframe for this legal process when it was --

A I'm guessing here.

Q Uh-huh.

A -- because it was such a small minor thing.

Q Uh-huh.

A It might have been between October and December of 2020.

Q Of 2020?

A Yes, ma'am.

Q And so was that the -- with the legal process, was that it in the sum total of your involvement with any aspect of the Hunter Biden investigation?

A To the best of my knowledge, yes, and I think a total of 4, 5 hours of my 26 years in the Bureau.

Q Uh-huh.

A That's what it amounted to.

1 Q And recently there have been some IRS special agents that have come to
2 Congress to talk about some deviations from standard practice at the Department of
3 Justice regarding the Hunter Biden investigation.
4 Are you aware of the whistleblowers that have come forward and made public
5 testimony regarding the investigation?
6 A I've read agent reports.
7 Q Did you have any involvement in the matters that they were related with?
8 A No, ma'am. You know, I didn't even know -- when the initial stuff was 9 going on with the CHS 1, I didn't even know IRS was involved in the case. I didn't know 10 what they were really looking at.
11 Q Okay. So --
12 A They -- I don't know -- I didn't know. I didn't have any involvement with 13 any of those agents from the IRS.
14 Q So your awareness only came from the public reporting. Is that correct?
15 A Of that, yes, ma'am.
16 Q Okay. I want to turn our attention to the CR-15.
17 A Okay.
18 Q And you said, at one point, you were the lead for CR-15, the squad lead.
19 What was that timeframe again?
20 A October -- October 2014 through December 2018.
21 Q And you said you handled several high-profile cases. Is that correct?
22 A Well, throughout my career --
23 Q Uh-huh.
24 A -- there's been several high profile cases, yes, ma'am.
25 Q So was your tenure as quad supervisor, was that the first time that you had

1 dealt with the CR-15 squad?

2 A No. So I had been front line -- a frontline agent from --

3 Q Uh-huh.

4 A -- 1999 until January of 2014. I had been assigned to CR-15. For a period,

5 it was known as CR-20, up until -- from '99 until maybe 2003 or '4, and they merged two

6 squads, and it became CR-15 at that point.

7 Q Okay. And then, you know, your next role in supervising CR-15 came when

8 you were ASAC at WFO. Is that correct?

9 A Yes, ma'am.

10 Q At what point in your tenure -- in your written testimony you talk about 11 opening of the Clinton Foundation investigation.

12 A Uh-huh.

13 Q What part of your tenure did that occur in?

14 A It was early 2016.

15 Q And was that the same Clinton Foundation that was discussed in the Durham

16 report?

17 A Yes, ma'am.

18 Q Okay.

19 [redacted] We'll enter that as exhibit number -- I'm sorry -- 3.

20 [Thibault Exhibit No. 3

21 Was marked for identification.]

22 BY [redacted]

23 Q We're not going to enter the whole Durham report --

24 A Of course.

25 Q -- just the front cover and then the relevant portions of that.

1 A Of course.

2 Do you want me to read the whole thing you gave me?

3 Q If you need to refresh your recollection, please do.

4 Ms. Lytle. Is there a part you're focused on, or is it the whole thing?

5 [redacted] Definitely the first paragraph for sure and then just kind of the 6 interactions that are discussed in here.

7 Mr. Thibault. Okay.

8 Ms. Lytle. Just take your time and read it.

9 Mr. Thibault. Okay.

10 BY [redacted]

11 Q Okay. And had you read this portion of the Durham report prior to today?

12 A Yes, ma'am.

13 Q Okay. Were you interviewed by Special Counsel Durham?

14 A I was interviewed just in regard to the case on the Clinton Foundation --

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A -- and the other matter that involved a source out of a western office.

17 Q Okay. But you were interviewed by Mr. Durham's team. Is that correct?

18 A I was interviewed, and I believe it was recorded.

19 Q Okay.

20 A I mean, I was a witness.

21 Q Yeah, okay. And, looking at page 78 of the Durham report, again the first

22 sentence says: Beginning in January 2016, three different FBI field offices, the New York

23 Field Office, the Washington Field Office, and the Little Rock Field Office, opened

24 investigations into possible criminal activity involving the Clinton Foundation.

25 Is this the investigation that you refer to in your opening or your written

1 testimony?

2 A Yes, ma'am.

3 Q And a little bit further down, it says: The WFO investigation was opened as

4 a preliminary investigation because the case agent wanted to determine if he could

5 develop additional information to corroborate the allegations in a recently-published

6 book, "Clinton Cash" by Peter Schweizer, before seeking to convert the matter to a full

7 investigation.

8 What was your role and involvement in opening the Washington Field Office's

9 Clinton Foundation investigation?

10 A Okay. So I was a supervisor of the CR-15. I might have been acting ASAC

11 at the time. Prior to the opening, my boss, the SAC -- and I forgot his last 12 name -- Timothy -- he was the ADIC before Steve D'Antuono. The name is escaping me.

13 Q That's okay.

14 A Anyway, we had a discussion about the book.

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A And that prompted me to buy the book and read it.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A So I read the book. And then, at some point, in time, he called me and

19 said: Hey, New York is getting ready or they've drafted an opening EC --

20 Q Uh-huh.

21 A -- regarding the Clinton Foundation. And I said, Well, I think it might be

22 better worked out of WFO --

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A -- because of venue issues anyway raised in the book with regard -- and

25 Secretary Clinton was in D.C. at the State Department, so I said it only -- I believe -- and

1 we had really good relationships with the State Department OIG. And so he was, like:
2 Well, draft an opening EC, but you've got to do it quick. I might have done it without
3 even his -- but he's, like: We need to do it quickly because New York is trying to get the
4 case.
5 Q Uh-huh.
6 A Sometimes that's how you get a case in the FBI, the first one that can get it
7 open.
8 And so I -- since I had read the book, I couldn't give it to an agent on the squad to 9 draft it within a day or two. They just didn't have the information. And so I was, like,
10 I'll just draft it myself. So I drafted it.
11 Q Uh-huh.
12 A Under DIOG, it was self-source, so it was only one source, and it was a book.
13 So you really can't hope a full on one source. Right?
14 Q Uh-huh.
15 A So it appeared to me and in talking with the CDC, the lawyers in the office, 16 preliminary is what you probably want to open it as.
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A So I remember drafting it. I think I had one of the case agents on my squad
19 look at it, review it, make sure that, you know, I was -- just to get their opinion on it.
20 Q Uh-huh.
21 A -- what they thought. And then I -- we went through the approval process.
22 I reached out to the D.C. U.S. Attorney's office.
23 Q Uh-huh.
24 A I never heard back from them really. And I was talking to headquarters
25 because I couldn't get a prosecutor to kind of approve and concur with the Bureau.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A And usually you need to do that before a case is opened. But I was working

3 really closely with the SAC. He was, like: Write it up; we'll get it approved; get it up to

4 headquarters.

5 And so that's what I did.

6 Q So, when you opened this investigation as a preliminary investigation, the 7 SAC was involved. And then was someone else at headquarters involved as well?

8 A Yes, ma'am. I think high levels at headquarters like the assistant director.

9 Q And did the assistant director kind of approve of the preliminary

10 investigation, that it could, you know, go forward and see what was there?

11 A I don't think that the ADIC would have signed off on it or the SAC would have

12 signed off on it --

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A -- if it had not had buy-in from headquarters.

15 Q Okay.

16 A So they had those discussions. I really worked on the lower end of it.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A And then that got sent up to headquarters, and then they had three 19 openings, but they had to make a decision who was going to open up the case.

20 Q And so, in the first paragraph here, it kind of characterizes what the Little

21 Rock investigation, you know, centered on large monetary contributions in exchange for

22 favorable government action or influence. Was that kind of similar to what you were

23 investigating at the Washington Field Office?

24 A I think it was laid out -- there were several allegations in that book.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A And that's the basis for it --

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A -- was -- you know, was there any evidence that there was a potential bribe

4 or conflict of interest or anything like that.

5 Q Besides reading through the book, were there any other investigative steps

6 that were taken by the Washington Field Office on this specific preliminary investigation?

7 A Sure. So there was a big meeting, and it was at headquarters. I don't

8 believe it was at any of the meetings referred to in this.

9 Q Okay.

10 A Okay. So it was a meeting between the heads of the Washington Field

11 Office, case agents --

12 Q Uh-huh.

13 A -- me -- middle management, me. Little Rock flew in for it. So they had

14 Little Rock; they had the ADIC and agents from New York; Diego Rodriguez I think because

15 he's the former SAC so I remember -- or ASAC. I remember him. And it was chaired by 16 Joe Campbell, who was the assistant director.

17 Q Okay.

18 A And I think the EAD was there as well.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A He's mentioned in here somewhere. So it was a meeting of a lot of people.

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A I didn't really have a speaking role.

23 Q Okay.

24 A But they were kind of going through sort of the laying out -- each office had 25 something to say.

1 Q Uh-huh. Each field office involved?

2 A Each field office got to speak up.

3 Q Okay.

4 A And they were generally the same, except for New York because New York

5 had some CHS they said. I don't know who it was, but us at WFO are, like: Sure,

6 they've got a CHS. Right?

7 Q Uh-huh.

8 A You know, that's their in. Our strength was we're in D.C. We think we 9 have venue. So we were lobbying to get that case.

10 Q Uh-huh.

11 A The instructions -- and, at one point, Mr. Campbell -- and I remember talking

12 to Mr. Durham's team. There was a DOJ buy-in at that point in time. I don't know

13 what meetings they had or they didn't have, but I remember Mr. Campbell pounding his 14 fist on the table going: We're the FBI. We can investigate this.

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A The problem is for everybody is you've got to do it with a prosecutor.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A You're not going to get anywhere in a case if you don't have legal process.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A So --

21 Q But you said there wasn't Department of Justice buy-in at that time?

22 A Not at that point in time.

23 Q Okay.

24 A So then they decide to have each of the offices open up a case.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A So how is that going to work? Right? That's odd.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A So three offices open up a case and -- so go back to our office, and we'll

4 wait -- and they say: But don't do anything just yet.

5 Q Okay.

6 A So we went back to our office. And, in the weeks later, they basically said:

7 Hey, offices can do whatever internal searches they want to do.

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A They can query CHSs, but they can't do any overt outward investigation at 10 that time.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A The three offices are doing this. And so I had some of the agents just run

13 some public --

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A -- available public information. We didn't have any sources that I can

16 remember that we had to use. So the case kind of sits there for a number of months --

17 Chairman Jordan. Is that unusual that they limited what you could do?

18 Mr. Thibault. Well --

19 Chairman Jordan. It's not October 2016. It's January.

20 Mr. Thibault. Well, it's unusual that there's three cases open because you never

21 want to have different offices running into each other. It's unusual that we have a case

22 open without DOJ involvement yet or buy-in.

23 [redacted] Uh-huh.

24 [redacted] These were all PIs, all three were PIs?

25 Mr. Thibault. Mine was a PI. It says in here that one of them, I think, was a full.

1 [redacted] What office?

2 Mr. Thibault. I think it was maybe New York was a full.

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q But, beside this meeting that you just discussed, you had -- at some point,

5 there started to be these coordination meetings. Is that correct?

6 A I wasn't involved in any of those.

7 Q You weren't involved in any of those?

8 A No.

9 Q Okay. Was there anyone from the WFO that was involved in the 10 coordination meetings?

11 A It may have been at a very high level. I just don't know.

12 Q Uh-huh.

13 A I was not involved in them.

14 Q Were you ever briefed on what occurred at the coordination meetings?

15 A No, ma'am -- well, except for in August of 2016.

16 Q Okay.

17 A In August of --

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A We all have points of contact at headquarters in the Public Corruption Unit.

20 So my point of contact, I was probably pinging him going: Hey, we should be working 21 this. Right?

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A WFO, we felt strongly that we were in the best position. And we fought

24 with New York on cases before.

25 Q Yeah.

1 A So it's not unusual. So that's it. And I pinged the public corruption
2 program manager and trying to say: Hey, we're here. We're doing this. But it was 3 clear to me that, hey, you can't do any more than this.
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A Not that we could have anyway. We could have done interviews, but we 6 didn't have a prosecutor, so there was no providing of grand jury subpoenas --
7 Q Uh-huh.
8 A -- which is what you want to get out. I did make contact with -- I think I
9 made contact with the OIG with the State Department.
10 Q Okay.
11 A We had another case involving a subject --
12 Q Uh-huh.
13 A -- that would have been interviewed -- which would have been in a close
14 relationship with the Clintons.
15 Q Uh-huh.
16 A And we had pause to get information on that case that might overlap.
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A And so that was also one of our selling points is we got a case on this guy.
19 Q Uh-huh.
20 A We think it would help us on the Clinton case.
21 So -- but the point was, you know, the Bureau believed we should be involved in 22 this case investigating it.
23 Q Uh-huh.
24 A My sense is that the problem was we couldn't get DOJ to help us.
25 Q And, between that January 2016 and August 2016 timeframe, did you ever

1 get the impression that there was Department of Justice buy-in? Did you ever get a
2 prosecutor?
3 A No, no, ma'am.
4 Q Okay.
5 A In August, I was called by my contact at the Public Corruption Unit and told 6 that we were to close our case and that we were to forward any information that we had
7 up to New York. And so I did -- I think I did the closing EC.
8 Q Uh-huh.
9 A I may have been put in something, like: I still feel we're the best
10 person -- best office to do this, and here's a list of investigative steps I would do if I were 11 in charge of this case.
12 Q Uh-huh. And did the New York case, to your knowledge, ever move
13 forward on the Clinton Foundation?
14 A I don't know what happened with their case.
15 Q Uh-huh.
16 A But eventually it was sent to Little Rock.
17 Q Okay. And did you ever -- do you know if the Little Rock investigation ever
18 progressed?
19 A From time to time, the supervisor in the Little Rock case would call me --
20 Q Uh-huh.
21 A -- just, I think, asking information -- for information about maybe another 22 case that we had that might be similar.
23 Q Uh-huh.
24 A Or not similar, but there might be a nexus.
25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A I had a friend in Little Rock --

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A -- that was a really good public corruptionist. And, from time to time, I

4 would -- you know, we would talk, and I'd say: Hey, how's it going?

5 It's just, like: Oh, it's going.

6 But I never knew how well or what they were doing. That wasn't related to me.

7 [redacted] We'll go off the record.

8 [Recess.]

9 [redacted] We can go back on the record, please. It is 2:17.

10 BY [redacted]

11 Q Okay. Mr. Thibault -- hold on just a second -- let's go back to the subject at 12 hand according to the Republicans who asked you to come here today.

13 There were a number of allegations waged against you regarding generally

14 political bias that you're alleged to have expressed in your investigative decisions at the 15 FBI. And I just want to return to that subject of the CHS 1. We discussed at length the

16 problems with that source according to the Baltimore Field Office and the Public

17 Integrity -- or in the FITF and other FBI sources. And I think that we also talked quite a

18 bit about your -- who you refer to in your statement as Agent 1.

19 A Yes, ma'am.

20 Q That's Olohan. Right?

21 A Yes, ma'am.

22 Q Okay. So let's talk about Agent 2. You said a little bit about that agent is

23 somebody that you knew pretty well. She had worked for you a bit, and you considered

24 her -- or you considered yourself sort of a mentor in some ways?

25 A A mentor and a friend, yes.

1 Q Okay.

2 A Professionally though.

3 Q Yes. You made that clear.

4 And she, you indicated, was maybe frustrated -- or I don't know what word you

5 used -- when the CH 1 -- CHS 1 was closed. Correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay. But she also was not able to give you any compelling reason to keep

8 that source open given what you already knew about the source. Correct?

9 A Correct.

10 Q And she wasn't interested in taking up on your offer to facilitate her

11 receiving that classified briefing that you had received from FITF. Right?

12 A Right. And it was more than just a classified briefing. It was: Hey, do

13 you want to go up there and get their perspective? Because I think for agents it's always

14 useful to do that, right, to cross-train a little bit --

15 Q Yeah.

16 A -- and to understand why they're making this decision.

17 Q Okay. Now, let's talk about that agent's experience in other contexts that

18 you had with her. Did there come a time when you had learned that that agent was

19 trying to open a source or trying to investigate something that had been referred to in the 20 media as Italygate?

21 A Yes, ma'am.

22 Q Okay. Can you first tell us, what is Italygate? What's your understanding

23 of what that means?

24 A I didn't really know it at the time. I hadn't -- it hadn't come to my

25 attention. But what I understood that to be was an allegation that came up in -- I don't

1 know -- November, December of 2020. And it alleged that U.S. Government entities, to
2 include the CIA, were working with the U.S. Embassy and others to include a guy who was
3 a hacker that had worked for an Italian defense company, and they had a way to hack
4 into election machines on the evening of the 2020 election and change votes real-time
5 using Italian government satellite -- satellites to do so.
6 Q What was your reaction to that theory when you first heard about it?
7 A You know, it was a little bit distressing because I didn't learn about it from 8 my agents. I only learned that they wanted to interview -- initially they wanted to 9 interview someone over in Italy. I learned about it because I was trying to -- to back up
10 a little bit, it first came to my attention when I got a call from -- a call from this supervisor,
11 Special Agent from CR-15, and he said: Look, my agents are trying to do an interview of 12 a subject with regard to election fraud, and the subject is in Italy. And he told me that 13 they had tried to get the Legal Attache Office in Rome to do the interview and that they 14 had declined.
15 Then they had tried to get funding through FBI Headquarters, Public Corruption
16 Unit, to travel over to Italy to do the interview of this person, a potential witness who was 17 in jail. And so I just got briefed on that. It was a phone call --
18 Q Okay. Can I stop you just one second?
19 A Sure.
20 Q When you say "they," who were you referring to; they were making these
21 efforts?
22 A It was CR-15. So it was the supervisor in CR-15, and it was Special Agent
23 No. 2, and there was another agent that Special Agent No. 2 was having help her with it.
24 I don't know how involved he was or not. He was a really good agent, though.
25 Q Okay.

1 A So he had worked some really good cases, and so he was also involved.
2 And I had asked basic questions when they called me. They were trying to get me to
3 help them get funding, and this is for this travel. And so I said: Okay, give me some
4 background.
5 And they basically told me it's an allegation of election fraud. I don't know if
6 they said 2020 Presidential election -- they might have or they might not have -- that
7 Rome had turned them down as far as doing the interview. And I said: Okay, good,
8 good to go. Let me call --
9 Q Did you know why Rome turned them down or what reason --
10 A Initially I was told Rome is too busy.
11 Q Okay.
12 A I'm not sure if that was the right -- the reason or not.
13 Q Okay.
14 A So I got off the phone with them, and my next call was to the Public
15 Corruption Unit chief at headquarters, and I said: Hey, what's the problem with 16 funding?
17 And he goes: Are you kidding me, basically.
18 And I go: No.
19 And he goes: Do you know that this is to support an opening of a case that's 20 been sent to the Public Corruption Unit as a draft?
21 I said: I don't know about that.
22 Q What does that mean "as a draft"?
23 A So sometimes FBI agents will try to get a prosecutor opinion before they 24 open a case.
25 Q Okay.

1 A So that wouldn't be unusual that -- in some cases. But, if you're trying to
2 open up a case on a Presidential election, you're not going to be sending draft openings
3 outside the office before you kind of brief up to your management that we want to open
4 up this big case. Right?
5 Q Okay. So some special agent had asked an attorney at the Public
6 Corruption Unit for this sort of draft opinion with respect to this theory?
7 A They sent over an email. So Special Agent No. 2 asked another agent who 8 was working a lot of cases and had a really good reputation --
9 Q Uh-huh.
10 A -- to send an email to Public Integrity Section.
11 Q A lawyer there?
12 A Yes, to the same prosecutor that he was working with on another case.
13 Q Do you know if that --
14 Ms. Lytle. Sorry. Can we clarify something? So, when you say Public
15 Corruption Unit --
16 Mr. Thibault. Public Integrity Unit.
17 [redacted] Oh, I'm sorry. At DOJ?
18 Mr. Thibault. DOJ.
19 Ms. Lytle. Public Corruption is at FBI Headquarters?
20 Mr. Thibault. FBI Headquarters.
21 Now, the first conversation I'm having with funding is with the Public Corruption
22 Unit.
23 BY [redacted]
24 Q Okay.
25 A He's telling me that he has received a communication from Public Integrity

1 about a draft case opening.

2 Q DOJ?

3 A DOJ. He's assuming at the time that I would have seen this because --

4 Q This is from your agent?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Okay.

7 A Because of the gravity of the allegation and what it meant, he couldn't

8 believe that I hadn't been briefed on it. He actually thought, I think, that I was

9 approving it --

10 Q I'm sorry. Before you continue, so this is Special Agent No. 2, as you've

11 identified her in your statement, exhibit 1, and she has asked another special agent on 12 CR-15 to send this email to the Public Integrity attorney on her behalf?

13 A Yes. And it has an attachment, and it's a draft -- like, it's a draft opening.

14 And what they're seeking is sort of a prosecutive opinion: Is this worth investigating --

15 Q Okay.

16 A -- type of thing.

17 Q And would that in some way support their efforts to travel to Italy and be

18 able to interview these people? Is that the effort or --

19 A I don't think what their effort was. I think in the light most favorable to

20 her, to Special Agent No. 2, it could have been just trying to get a prosecutor on board to

21 support an opening eventually. But they could have traveled without that case even 22 being open.

23 Q Okay.

24 A So this is what's interesting. So the head of the Public Corruption Unit tells

25 me that he has received an email forwarded to him from Public Integrity, and it contains a

1 draft opening language, and he was shocked that I didn't know about this. Because of
2 the type of case it was, you would expect that the ASAC would be in the loop.
3 Q Because it was related to election --
4 A Because it was sort of -- it's a big deal. Right? It's a Presidential -- 2020
5 Presidential case.
6 Q Would it be considered a sensitive investigative matter under --
7 A Yes. It would be -- it would be -- so when I opened up the William Jefferson
8 case, before I opened that up, my boss, the supervisor, knew. My ASAC had been 9 briefed. The SAC knew. The ADIC knew. People at headquarters knew before that 10 case was even opened.
11 Q Okay. So would you say it's fair to say that this email that went eventually 12 to the DOJ Public Integrity lawyer was proceeding in unusual channels for the type of case
13 that this was meant to open?
14 A It should have been vetted through FBI executive management.
15 Q And it wasn't?
16 A It wasn't.
17 Q Okay. So what did you learn then at that point?
18 A So I asked him to send it to me, so he did. And he also said this. He 19 goes -- he said: Tim, in my conversation with Public Integrity -- I'm not sure who he was 20 talking with -- he goes: They were kind of laughing.
21 And I came to understand why because I reviewed the EC.
22 Q What's the EC again?
23 A It's a draft opening EC.
24 Q The electronic communication?
25 A Right. Now, they weren't looking for it to be opened by sending it to the

1 Public Integrity Unit at that point. I think they were looking for a prosecutor opinion.
2 Q Okay.
3 A Okay. So I receive this email and attachment, and I read it, and that's when 4 I understand, I believe, what Italygate is. I was able to put 2 and 2 together, and it was 5 Italygate.
6 Q Okay. So what was in the email?
7 A Well, it was a draft EC, and then it was the communications from Public -- it
8 was a communication from the Washington Field Office which had the attachment to a
9 line prosecutor at Public Integrity. And then it was an email from the deputy, I believe,
10 deputy chief at Public Integrity to the Public Corruption Unit, and then that was sent to 11 me.
12 Q Okay. And why did the deputy chief of the Public Integrity Unit send the 13 email to the Public Corruption? What was the point of him trying to 14 communicate -- him or her trying to communicate with the Public Corruption --
15 A So I wasn't involved in that communication.
16 Q Okay.
17 A I don't want to speculate what the conversations were.
18 Q Okay.
19 A They talk routinely, I would imagine, on any big case.
20 Q I'm talking about this particular communication.
21 A This particular communication, I don't recall what was in the email. There
22 might have been some texts in the email.
23 Q Okay.
24 A I don't recall what he said.
25 Q Okay. And why was it eventually forward to you from the Public

1 Corruption Unit?

2 A Because it was then obvious to the Public Corruption Unit supervisor that I

3 didn't know what was going on. He would have assumed that I did know, and I think the 4 Public Integrity prosecutors would have assumed that I would have known.

5 Q Okay.

6 A And they never reached out to call to me because I think they would have

7 said: What's going on with Tim Thibault, like --

8 Q Why would they have said that?

9 A Because the draft EC --

10 Q Uh-huh.

11 A -- is not -- is not of the quality that one should be being sent out. And,

12 number two --

13 Q I'm sorry. But what do you mean it's not of the quality that should be sent 14 out?

15 A It didn't contain enough predication, in my opinion, to even talk about a.

16 Q Was it well below professional standards in terms of predication, would you

17 say?

18 A It just lacked predication, in my opinion.

19 Q Completely or --

20 A Well, you have to -- there's several layers to that, and I can get into that a 21 little bit.

22 Q Do that and elaborate. It would be helpful.

23 A So the first -- I spent a number of hours. I'm talking more than 5 -- 5 to 24 8 hours over the course of a number of days looking into, one, the allegation itself,

25 because I didn't really understand it, and I didn't have the background. This is the same allegation that, 6 months prior to, the then Acting Deputy Attorney General Donahue --

Q Uh-huh.

A -- said was -- characterized as pure insanity.

Q Could you pause right there?

A Sure.

[redacted] All right. I'm going to mark this as exhibit 4.

[Thibault Exhibit No. 4

Was marked for identification.]

BY [redacted]

Q This is a Washington Post article, dated June 15, 2021, entitled "Pure Insanity: Here's perhaps the craziest election fraud conspiracy the Trump team pushed."

Have you seen this article before?

A Yes, ma'am.

Q Okay. Take a minute to look at it if you need to kind of refresh yourself.

A I remember enough about it.

Q Okay. So this article refers to I think the email that you just mentioned where Donahue essentially characterizes this Italygate conspiracy as, quote, pure insanity. Correct?

A Correct.

Q Okay. And can you tell us, why do you think it is that he characterized this theory or this conspiracy theory in that way?

A I don't want to put words in his mouth, but it seemed sort of fantastical. But you know what? I didn't take his word for it either. I spent time asking questions.

1 For instance, one of the questions I asked the case agents is, is this technically feasible?
2 Can a defense satellite manipulate voting machines that aren't connected to the internet?
3 Can that happen? Has there been any evidence that a crime has occurred, a hacking
4 crime has occurred? I didn't get those basic answers.
5 So I dug deeper. And in the opening draft -- it was a draft. Right? So this 6 wasn't -- it's not like these agents were going to say this is a finished product. They 7 would probably say: Look, we just sent this over. We knew it wasn't finished. We 8 knew there wasn't, like, full predication. But there was three sources mentioned in that 9 opening draft memo.
10 Q Uh-huh.
11 A And so one was a source that I would describe as having political ties,
12 partisan political ties, even maybe an operative. One was a subsource to that same
13 person who I would say that description may apply to that person as well. And then a 14 third was an ongoing source that the FBI had been using for a while that had, I think,
15 provided some good information on other cases.
16 And so my next due diligence, right -- so I'm trying to do due diligence. And,
17 look, this isn't the ASAC's job. But, at this point, I was sort of losing some confidence.
18 Q Why were you losing confidence?
19 A Because I wasn't told about this, and even in my -- I wasn't told about it,
20 number one. But, number two, when I was having conversations with people about 21 this, no one told me -- they didn't raise Italygate. I wasn't told about what -- the 22 allegation that this had previously been reviewed by, like, the Deputy Attorney General
23 had made that comment. I wasn't provided situational awareness. Right?
24 Q So it's your understanding that this Italygate allegation or the information
25 from these three sources that you just described somehow made its way to the Deputy

1 Attorney General, and he had dismissed it as, quote, pure insanity before your agents
2 tried to raise it again 6 months later?
3 A Six months before.
4 Q Okay. So, first, it was raised to the Deputy Attorney General and dismissed
5 as pure insanity, and then, 6 months later, someone tried to raise it without your 6 knowledge within CR-15?
7 A Right. And, to be fair, I don't know if the Deputy Attorney General asked or 8 tasked headquarters to look at this or not. I just don't know. I don't know what the 9 basis of him saying that is. I'd be speculating. But then, 6 months later, people want
10 to travel halfway around the world to talk to someone who's in prison. Any FBI agents
11 knows, number one, first of all, an argument can be raised -- and it was raised by people
12 when we were discussing this at the squad level: Well, Tim, we talk to people all the 13 time that appear to have kind of whacky theories.
14 And I was, like: Yeah, we might. We might go down the road to Manassas and 15 talk to someone about some whacky theory. On a low-level case, we do do that.
16 But I think, you know, the situational awareness that I was gaining as an ASAC and 17 working consistently with headquarters and learning, that Public Corruption Unit chief 18 was unbelievable in terms of his knowledge of foreign influence. I had the benefit of 19 that information. The case agents here did not.
20 And so, while I was losing faith, I also wanted to be in a position where I could 21 come back and ask them questions. Because, if they could have answered my 22 questions, who knows if I would have said: Okay, let's keep these sources open.
23 Q I'm sorry. You're talking about foreign influence. What is the relevance
24 of that here? Can you explain?
25 A Well, all it is, is that it's obvious to me that -- while the time I was at

1 Counterterrorism Division and before that, there are people that have an interest in
2 influencing an election. Right?
3 Q Right.
4 A And the Public Corruption Unit chief had to work really closely with the FITF.
5 In my discussions with him with regard to CHS 1, I mean, he would just tell me: Hey,
6 here's what's some issues are. It's classified.
7 Q Uh-huh.
8 A That was information I didn't have.
9 Q Right.
10 A So I looked to him as sort of -- like a vast wealth of knowledge. So, when I
11 got into this, you know, I was trying to explain to the case agents that there's a difference
12 between going and interviewing someone that's in jail in another country on a case that 13 involves the 2020 election and on some small case that it doesn't matter where the 14 person is in Manassas. Okay. I was trying to give them that perspective, not that we --
15 Q Was there some hint of foreign influence here that you're -- 16 A I'm not saying that.
17 Q Okay.
18 A Right? I'm not saying that on this case.
19 Q Okay.
20 A What I'm saying is there's just another perspective which the case agents
21 might not have had which I tried to share with them --
22 Q Which was what in this case? What were you trying to share with them?
23 A Well, the national perspective of whenever there's a -- you know, there's a 24 perspective other than just theirs, that if you go and interview someone in jail
25 without -- on a big case without really good foundation, first of all, you've got to have

1 your ducks in a row, number one. You know, you've got to have a predicated case
2 opened probably to do those things. You've got to have headquarters buy-in --
3 Q Okay. So, in this case, was there a predicated case?
4 A No, there wasn't.
5 Q Was there headquarters buy-in?
6 A No.
7 Q Did you even have knowledge that they were seeking to open this source?
8 A Well, the sources were -- the source was opened previously.
9 Q Okay. But they were seeking to, I guess, proceed with this interview in 10 Italy?
11 A Alls I knew at the initial point was they wanted to do an interview. Maybe 12 they believed that that interview would help them predicate a case.
13 Q Okay.
14 A That's a possible answer right there --
15 Q Okay.
16 A -- to their benefit. But why I was doing the work is because I was trying to 17 understand if there was anything in there that would have allowed us to open up a case.
18 I didn't go into this saying: This is preposterous. You're not going to do anymore on 19 this.
20 I actually took time to go through and actually try to understand where the 21 information was coming from.
22 Q Okay. And did you find anything to lead you to believe that it was anything
23 other than preposterous?
24 A I couldn't find a reason to predicate the case. And my review included a 25 review of the source file.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A And my review included open source queries of who the one CHS was and

3 the CHS' subsource. And that provided concern enough for me that those sources were 4 problematic.

5 Q Is that because you found them to be political partisans or political

6 operatives?

7 A It's always more than that.

8 Q Okay.

9 A I would never close a case down just because someone is politically partisan

10 unless someone else tells me that's going to hurt a Bureau case or hurt the Bureau.

11 Q Okay.

12 A So it has to be something more.

13 Q What more did you see here?

14 A There were credibility issues.

15 Q Like what?

16 A There were things that were being stated by both -- one of the CHSes and 17 the CHS' subsource that I found difficult to believe and unsupported.

18 Q Can you explain why you felt that way?

19 A Without getting into the information and identifying the sources, I can't.

20 Q Is it classified?

21 A No, it's not classified, but it's a CHS.

22 Q Okay.

23 A So what I don't want to do here is identify a CHS.

24 Q Okay. But you found that the issues were related to credibility?

25 A Credibility, yes. Credibility, reliability issues.

1 Q Okay. And can you characterize how significant your concern was with
2 respect to credibility and reliability? I mean, you have evaluated witnesses and sources
3 throughout your career --
4 A Right.
5 Q -- had, I imagine, sometimes a feeling that maybe this person isn't credible,
6 and then maybe had a feeling sometimes of definitely isn't credible. How would you
7 characterize the level of concern that you had for the credibility of these -- the source and 8 the subsource?
9 A It was significant.
10 Q Okay.
11 A There was significant issues.
12 Q And is it something that you would have expected your agent, Ms. -- I guess
13 agent number -- Special Agent 2 to recognize herself as an experienced agent, these 14 credibility issues?
15 A I would have expected more vetting, more investigative rigor and more
16 socialization before the fact.
17 Now, I don't believe that CHS 2 actually opened this source --
18 Q You mean Special Agent 2?
19 A Special Agent 2.
20 Q Yeah.
21 A I don't believe that was opened by Special Agent 2. We have what's called
22 in the FBI as HUMINT squads. There was a HUMINT squad that is tasked with recruiting
23 sources where there's intelligence gaps. I believe that this source was recruited by 24 somebody else and then transferred to Special Agent No. 2.
25 Q Okay. Nevertheless, though, you found that you were surprised or

1 concerned that she didn't vet this source better before relying on it to try to take these
2 investigative steps in Italygate. Is that fair?
3 A Yes.
4 Q Okay. Can you explain -- I mean, what happened when you discovered this,
5 that she was trying to rely on this source that you found had significant credibility issues
6 and then trying to take this investigative step without your knowledge or without your 7 consultation and kind of in contravention of normal processes for these type of cases?
8 A Well, I was trying to give the agent the benefit of the doubt. And it raised
9 questions for me. So, again, I wasn't trying to be accusatory. I was trying to be a good
10 mentor and a good supervisor --
11 Q Uh-huh.
12 A -- and to explain, you know, what I had found and to ask questions. And, in 13 the meeting -- you know, I had a meeting with Special Agent No. 2, the supervisor from 14 CR-15, and another agent, and I tried to ask relevant --
15 Q About this?
16 A About the source, about the source --
17 Q Okay.
18 A -- and the subsource.
19 Q Okay.
20 A And I tried to ask questions about things I had learned, and it didn't seem to 21 me that they knew -- I mean, I spent a day or two vetting myself, but it didn't seem like 22 the agents knew the information that I knew.
23 Q So did that lead you to believe that they hadn't done the due diligence that 24 you had done in the last few days?
25 A That's what I believed.

1 Q Okay.

2 A At one point I said, like: What are you doing here?

3 And I remember Special Agent No. 2 saying to me: I'm peeling the onion from 4 the outside.

5 Q What does that mean?

6 A I don't know.

7 Q Did you ask?

8 A I just assumed that -- that it was some excuse for a lack of rigor, right, like a

9 lack of getting into the facts and details. Maybe it was a fact that that source was

10 passed off from a HUMINT agent. And those HUMINT agents, that's what they do all

11 day. So maybe she was putting the credibility of the source and saying: Hey, a 12 HUMINT agent actually recruited this source so it has to be good.

13 Ms. Lytle. Is that an acronym? What are you --

14 Mr. Thibault. HUMINT. It's the Human Intelligence -- Human Intelligence

15 Squad.

16 Mr. Lytle. So HUMINT for short for Human Intelligence Squad?

17 Mr. Thibault. Yeah, Human Intelligence Squad.

18 And so, you know, maybe she thought that that was the case.

19 BY [redacted]

20 Q I mean, you're saying maybe. Does that mean she didn't actually say that?

21 You're just thinking it's possible?

22 A I'm giving the benefit of the doubt. Right?

23 Q But, just factually, in terms of that meeting and what she said to you, did you

24 raise your concerns with her about the lack of vetting and the fact that she hadn't

25 discovered the things that you had pretty easily discovered when you did your due

1 diligence?

2 A Yes. And there's a term in the Bureau I learned a long time ago. You're

3 either working a source, or they're working you. I was concerned that there wasn't an

4 element of savviness here on the agent's behalf, that maybe this source was working her.

5 Q In what way?

6 A It just seemed to me that, you know, you're going and you're trying to open

7 a case, but you haven't asked the very basic questions, like who -- I couldn't understand

8 how they were trying to work a case without -- we've got all the resources in the Federal

9 Government to find out if a breach of information or a breach of data had occurred.

10 We've got CISA. We've got the NSA. And, you know, I think I misspoke a second ago

11 about foreign influence because there was the whole Italy connection. Right? There

12 was a subject in Italy. And so there -- of course, there could have been some element in

13 my mind that was thinking, you know, foreign influence because the general allegation is 14 that this person was working and somehow the Italian Government was involved too.

15 Q Oh, okay. Right.

16 A So I may have misspoke. There just wasn't a rigor there --

17 Q Right.

18 A -- either with the opening of the case or with how the CHSes -- the CHS was 19 being worked.

20 Q Okay. So you confronted the agent in this meeting about that lack of rigor,

21 the failure to discover these credibility issues. And her response was something to the 22 effect of: I was peeling the onion from the outside.

23 A Yes. I just -- that sticks in my mind. I'm sure she said some other things.

24 Q Yeah.

25 A But that phrase stuck in my mind.

1 Q Did she say anything to you in that meeting that led you to change your 2 opinion that she had been careless or improperly vetted this source?
3 A Again, I was trying not to break anybody's spirit.
4 Q I know, but I'm just trying to get an answer first --
5 A Right.
6 Q -- and then you can explain it.
7 A Yeah.
8 Q Did she say anything that --
9 A No, not that I recall.
10 Q So your concern remained after she spoke to you during that meeting?
11 A Yes.
12 Q Okay. But go on. You said you were trying to --
13 A So I was trying to use the meeting again as a lessons learned. I wasn't 14 trying to break anybody's spirit; I wanted this to be another lessons learned. But, after 15 the meeting, I did ask the CR-15 supervisor: Is something else going on?
16 Q With who?
17 A It was just me and the CR-15 --
18 Q I mean, something else going on with --
19 A With the squad.
20 Q With the squad?
21 A Right.
22 Q Okay.
23 A Why is this case being opened?
24 Q What led you to ask that question of the supervising special agent?
25 A Because I was concerned that --

1 Q About what?

2 A About this case being sent to Public Integrity without my review. I was
3 concerned about the lack of investigative rigor with regard to the CHS and the subsource.
4 I was concerned about the lack of communication. Why didn't I receive a full briefing on
5 everything that was going on? And so, you know, I just asked the question, like: Is 6 there something I should be concerned about here?

7 Q Were you worried that your agents, as you said, were being kind of worked
8 by other people from the outside or kind of exploited in some way here?

9 A I was concerned. I was concerned about this CHS potentially trying to work
10 someone in the FBI, yes.

11 Q And when you say "work them," do you mean -- what do you mean?

12 A Trying to get a case opened that shouldn't be opened, trying to influence the 13 Bureau maybe for their own motivations. Now, I don't know if that's the case or not
14 because I never met the source, but that's always a concern. And here -- that's why I
15 took an interest in it. It just seemed -- it seemed very odd, very odd.

16 In my experience on CR-15, all the years I was a case agent, I had never seen
17 anything like this before.

18 Q In what way?

19 A The lack of investigative rigor, the lack of follow-through. I mean, we 20 have -- when you're talking about a potential of the CIA being involved, the U.S. Embassy
21 being involved, foreign countries being -- a foreign citizen being involved --

22 Q Was that part of the allegation?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Okay.

25 A And, also, you know, that you're going to go halfway around the world and

1 do an interview of someone in prison. You know, usually that involves notifying the
2 foreign government. That's why I say it's not like going down the street in Manassas and 3 interviewing someone. You've got to notify the foreign government. When that
4 happens it could become public. Sometimes you'd have to do an MLAT. How are you
5 going to get into a prison with a potential witness on the case? And you could 6 unintentionally provide the imprimatur of legitimacy that the election from 2020 was 7 undermined here after the Deputy Attorney General says it's pure insanity? Yes, I was 8 concerned. I was really concerned. Okay?
9 Q And did your concern extend specifically to Special Agent No. 2 and her
10 judgment?
11 A I was concerned that there was a lack of investigative rigor and the judgment
12 issue, yes, because I wasn't allowed to intervene, you know, where an ASAC is there for to 13 help guide. This isn't how CR-15 works cases. I was on that squad. We're the 14 flagship public corruption squad in the country. This isn't how it's done.
15 Q Would you say this was sort of an embarrassment if it were to get out that 16 the FBI agent on CR-15, this Special Agent No. 2, the way she was handling this particular 17 matter? It would be kind of embarrassing to the FBI if it was public?
18 A Yes, ma'am.
19 Q And why is that?
20 A Because there was a lack of investigative rigor. There was a lack of 21 communication. There was a lack of source vetting.
22 Q Okay. What happened to this particular request or effort on the part of 23 Special Agent 2 and the other agent to try to continue with this investigation?
24 A So I closed the source for cause.
25 Q Okay.

1 A I directed -- I can't close a source in Delta. Only a case agent can do that.
2 Q What's Delta?
3 A Delta is the case file system for sources.
4 Q Okay.
5 A Sentinel is for cases.
6 Q Uh-huh.
7 A Delta is for sources.
8 Q Okay.
9 A So I can't as an ASAC actually go in there and close a source.
10 Q Okay.
11 A So I directed CR-15 to close the source for cause.
12 Q Does that require any further approval or review above you or --
13 A I socialized it as I always do with my boss.
14 Q Okay.
15 A Excuse me.
16 Q Did he agree?
17 A I believe so, yes.
18 Q Okay.
19 A I socialized it with headquarters, of course, because I wanted to let them
20 know that, you know, first of all, I wasn't aware of this. And I even followed back with 21 the Deputy Chief for Public Integrity and said: Hey, I didn't know about this, and next
22 time, if you see something that's this questionable, please call me. Don't assume that I
23 know about this.
24 Because of my reputation as a public corruption supervisor and agent, I think that 25 they were shocked. They assumed I already knew about it.

1 Q They were shocked because they would have assumed that someone of your
2 stature would never have gone along with this kind of ridiculous --
3 A Well, I wouldn't say "stature." I would say they would be shocked that any 4 supervisor -- in a case of this nature, you're alleging -- what they're alleging here, that 5 case is going to be socialized up and down WFO executive management.
6 Q Because it relates to election fraud and the --
7 A It's a significant case.
8 Q Okay. So they would be shocked if you had bought onto this because it was 9 so insane basically what was being alleged and the thing was so unpredicated? Is that 10 why they would be shocked?
11 A I would say they would be shocked because of the quality of the case --
12 Q Uh-huh.
13 A -- and just the fact that something was being contemplated being opened
14 would be shared outside of Washington Field Office without my knowledge.
15 Q Uh-huh.
16 A And so they didn't -- they decided not to call me. And so I directed the 17 source to be closed.
18 Q Uh-huh.
19 A So, effectively, after reviewing -- you know, I didn't do this on my own, first 20 of all. I talked to numerous people. I reviewed the source file. I did my own due
21 diligence. I asked questions. And, when I couldn't get those questions answered, I
22 directed that the source CHS 2 be closed for cause.
23 Q When you say you couldn't get your answer -- the questions answered, does 24 that mean you couldn't find the answer or just that the information that you learned just 25 didn't substantiate any of the allegations?

1 A I couldn't be told how this was feasible, technically feasible. I didn't think
2 that the rigor had been done by running down angles which would give me the necessary
3 feeling that, hey, it's -- there's a factual predication for this case --
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A -- that there's a factual pattern that would predicate a case like this. I
6 didn't have that. I also wasn't getting answers that I felt comfortable with that the CHS
7 and the subsource were properly vetted.
8 So, based on that, I ordered the source closed for cause.

[2:57 p.m.]

BY [redacted]

Q Okay. And when was the source closed for cause?

A It would have been sometime in I think July of 2021.

Q Okay.

A And so I never had to close or I -- I never had to refuse to open a case. It was never brought up to me formally.

Like it never came to me as, okay, here's a case. We've gone back. We've got new information. We've answered your questions. Here's another case.

It never came back up to me ever.

Q Okay.

A So if it had, I would have welcomed it. Because you know what? I try to not take anything for granted, and I'm not going to blow off case agents. I'm not going to -- even if something sounds fantastical, I didn't just say this is fantastical. No way. I tried to do my due diligence to make sure I was making the best decision.

Q Did it sound fantastical?

A Well, given the information that I received and that I gleaned, yes, it seemed -- it seemed like it wasn't -- it seemed like a theory that was impossible.

Q Okay. And I think you've made it clear that, despite this theory being fantastical or impossible, you still gave your Special Agent No. 2 the credit for you to actually look into what she was saying and to hear her reasons. Correct?

A Yes.

Q And at the end of all of that, you heard nothing that changed your mind that this was fantastical and sort of an impossible theory. Right?

A Yes. And -- and impossible just because I was never told anything

1 to -- to -- to show me that this -- that this happened.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A That this could happen.

4 Q Right. Okay. So July 2021, this particular source is closed by you for

5 cause. Was there any complaints from anyone about that decision that you made, that

6 was directed to you?

7 A No, ma'am.

8 Q Okay. This article that we've marked as exhibit 4, it refers to -- I'm sorry.

9 Let me find it. Okay. I'm sorry. On the very first page, this is the last paragraph,

10 beginning on January 1. That paragraph indicates that:

11 White House Chief of Staff Mark Meadows forwarded Acting Attorney General

12 Jeffrey Rosen a YouTube video of a former intelligence officer named Brad Johnson,

13 detailing what had been dubbed the Italygate conspiracy theory.

14 Have you heard of Brad Johnson?

15 A Yes, ma'am.

16 Q What's your association with him, if any?

17 A None.

18 Q Okay. When did you hear of him?

19 A When I was researching the basis for this potential case.

20 Q Okay. And did you come to understand from that research that Brad

21 Johnson was somehow the source of this information or this allegation?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Okay. And do you --

24 A One of the sources.

25 Q Okay. Who are the others, if you know?

1 A I kind of don't want to get into those.

2 Q According to this article, one of the other people working with Johnson was

3 Rudy Giuliani.

4 Do you see that on page 2? It's like the second -- the first full paragraph on page

5 2.

6 And that full sentence says: Rosen seemed to agree with the characterization.

7 That was referring to that pure insanity characterization.

8 A Right.

9 Q Replying that he had been aware Johnson was working with Trump's

10 personal lawyer, Rudolph W. Giuliani, and that he had been asked to meet with Johnson.

11 He said he had declined to do so.

12 So according to the article, Mr. Johnson was working with Mr. Giuliani. Right?

13 A According to the article.

14 Q Okay. Did any of your research indicate to that you that Mr. Giuliani was 15 involved in the Italygate conspiracy theory?

16 A It doesn't. I can't remember. It's not something that sticks in my mind.

17 Q Okay. This also says, according to the article, Rosen said he became of 18 Johnson -- he became aware of Johnson working with Giuliani and says that Rosen was 19 asked to meet with Johnson.

20 Like do you have any idea from your research or any of your work with the FBI

21 how that request was made? So it sounds like what they're saying is that somebody

22 asked for Johnson to meet with Rosen to kind of advance this Italygate theory.

23 A Right. I didn't follow that. It wasn't of much interest to me at that point.

24 Q Okay. And there actually, this contact with the DOJ with Rosen and Richard

25 Donoghue, that happened before the events that you described with Special Agent 2

1 Italygate. Right?

2 A I think so, yes, ma'am.

3 Q Okay. But when you were coming to kind of investigate this on your own,

4 as you said, and doing your due diligence, were you already aware of this interaction that

5 was reported with Rosen?

6 A No. I came upon it when I was doing my due diligence. I really hadn't

7 paid much attention to this -- this line of belief prior to when it was raised to me.

8 Q Okay. So when I started this line of questioning about Special Agent 2, I

9 was actually asking kind of as a follow-up to our prior conversation with respect to your

10 CHS 1 -- I'm sorry. That's really confusing.

11 But your CHS 1 that was in your statement in our exhibit 1 had two agents that

12 were handling him or her, that was Special Agent 1 which is Olohan, we've determined,

13 and then Special Agent 2. And Special Agent 2 is the same person here that, you know,

14 lost a little bit of credibility in your mind because of this Italygate affair. Correct?

15 A Yes. I was losing -- I wouldn't say credibility.

16 Q Sorry.

17 A I just lost a little confidence, and I thought it was a training issue at the time,

18 you know. Maybe needs more training.

19 Q Okay.

20 A So I wouldn't say credibility. I'm trying -- that wasn't in my mind at the 21 time. I'm brand new there. I'm trying to be a good leader, and I'm trying to train

22 people. And I saw this as a way to -- it's lessons learned. Okay. Let's learn from this.

23 Q Right.

24 A Okay?

25 Q Which issue are you saying she needed to learn from? The Italygate thing?

1 A Both of them.

2 Q Okay.

3 A Right?

4 Q Right. But the one that happened first in time was the first, the CHS 1 --

5 A Sure.

6 Q -- which you had -- which was closed. Right?

7 A Right.

8 Q But at that time you didn't know about how she would handle the Italygate

9 thing because that hasn't happened yet. Right?

10 A Correct.

11 Q Okay. As far as you knew.

12 A Correct.

13 Q All right. So when this Italygate thing happened, this was I guess almost a 14 year later?

15 A It was --

16 Q Right?

17 A It was a year, 7, 6 or 7 months later.

18 Q Okay. This was the second incident or at least the second incident in which

19 you found that Special Agent 2 was handling a source in a way that raised some concerns.

20 A Yes, ma'am.

21 Q Okay. Were there any other instances that you had with Special Agent 2

22 that caused you to have the same concerns or similar concerns?

23 A These are the only two instances, and they both dealt with CHSs.

24 When I supervised her directly in, know, the 2016, '17 timeframe, while she had

25 some prior law enforcement, it was -- I don't believe it was public corruption. I was

1 trying to develop her as a really good case agent, along with the other new agents on my
2 squad.
3 It's not -- it's a hard assignment. It's hard job. New agents don't come to CR-15
4 that often. And so I was trying -- I had some empathy with them that it's difficult.
5 They're just trying to make good cases usually. Right?
6 And so that was my mindset here is how can I help them. And one of the 7 conversations hi right after my meeting with her was, look, there's a lot of other things
8 that we work on CR-15. They're not all -- I know people want to work the big cases, but 9 the way you really learn how to work good cases is to work sometimes the smaller cases
10 and the nuts and bolts -- that's the way I learned. -- and to also, know, work with 11 your -- work with your senior agents and continually ask questions and check yourself.
12 And so that's what I was trying to be a good -- a good mentor and leader.
13 Q Uh-huh.
14 A I wasn't trying to nail her to the wall or categorically say that she had lost
15 credibility. I didn't believe that at the time. I really didn't. I just thought it was a 16 training issue --
17 Q Okay.
18 A -- you know?
19 Q In retrospect and now that time has passed, do you still believe it was a
20 training issue with respect to Special Agent 2?
21 A It was definitely a training issue.
22 Q Uh-huh.
23 A And there could have been more.
24 Q Like what, for example?
25 A A judgment issue and a leadership issue, the supervisor on the squad, these

1 are decisions that normally aren't made by an ASAC. These are decisions --
2 Q The decision to close the sources or --
3 A The decision to review sources --
4 Q Okay.
5 A -- to question sources, to understand the larger perspective.
6 Q So you're saying that maybe there was a gap and somehow your Supervisory
7 Special Agent should have caught some of the judgment problems --
8 A Yes.
9 Q -- that Special Agent 2 was exhibiting?
10 A Absolutely.
11 Q Okay.
12 A Absolutely.
13 Q Did Special Agent 2 remain on CR-15 after these two instances of maybe 14 problems with handling these sources?
15 A Yes, ma'am.
16 Q And was there ever any effort on your part or anyone else's to either get her
17 additional training or some kind of remedial instruction on how to keep -- improve her
18 handling of sources?
19 A That was in the plans for all the agents on CR-15 to get some training.
20 Q Was it as a result of this, like finding this problem here with the sources?
21 A Part of it was. It just reminded me, hey, we need training here.
22 Q Okay.
23 A And I actually engaged in an effort across all my programs to increase
24 awareness. I had each of the supervisors come to me with a plan on how to increase
25 CHS recruitment, how to do it properly. I actually put that into place. I had them do

1 papers on how they were going to do it. I had them give presentations on how they
2 were going do it.
3 So I was actively engaged in trying to make people better at recruiting and
4 handling CHSs across all the programs.
5 Q When was it that you were doing this, like, remedial training or whatever
6 you want to call it?
7 A Yeah. So it was more I wasn't giving remedial training. It was -- it was 8 asking the supervisors to come up with a plan on how they could do it. And each -- each
9 supervisor, there had to be a training component to it.
10 That would have been I would say maybe the fall of 2021 into the spring of 2022.
11 I don't have the exact dates, but they did PowerPoints. The SAC attended. I even had 12 the HUMINT supervisor come in and review the presentations we were giving. So I was 13 actively trying to make things better.
14 Q Okay. And just so I can be clear, like, that effort that you made in the fall of 15 2021 and spring of 2022 to help these agents on CR-15 to better handle sources, was that
16 motivated, in part at least, by this incident like the handling of CHS 1 in your statement
17 and the handling of this other source with Italygate?
18 A It may have played a part, but also I knew that that's an area in white collar
19 that can always be improved.
20 Q Okay.
21 A So that's, like, an easy problem for a supervisor to address. It's not an easy
22 problem to find the solution necessarily, but I wanted to work with my supervisors to
23 focus on it, because it's always been sort of a, if you look at WFO on -- we're really good
24 at making cases. Our stats are incredible.
25 But every time we're evaluated on our ability to get good sources, it's always one

1 of those things where you can do better. Right?

2 Q I'm just trying to get a sense. I don't mean to interrupt you.

3 A Sure.

4 Q I'm trying to get a sense of where this incident rated, specifically the

5 Italygate incident that we just discussed. Like you -- you seem like you were kind of 6 shocked by it.

7 A I was.

8 Q And you acknowledged that the FBI would probably have been embarrassed

9 if the public were to see what information these agents were relying on, this fantastical,

10 impossible theory to open investigations and to, you know --

11 A Yes.

12 Q -- potentially move forward even in an unpredicated, unexamined manner.

13 Like how did this rate in your experience? Is this something that really caught

14 your attention and you wanted to do something about it or was it something that you just

15 thought, well --

16 A No, it really caught my attention.

17 Q Okay.

18 A And I wanted to improve upon it --

19 Q Okay.

20 A -- in a way that was positive. Right.

21 Q Right.

22 A I didn't sanction anybody. I wanted to look for a way that was positive to 23 correct the issue.

24 Q Okay. And did you identify -- did you -- did you raise this issue or your 25 concern with anyone above you, at headquarters or elsewhere?

1 A I would have talked to my SAC about it.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A For sure.

4 Q Do you recall what it is that you said generally to him?

5 A I think I just may have talked about the case and what was happening.

6 Q Did you talk specifically about Special Agent No. 2?

7 A I night have or I probably did, but I don't have, like, a clear recollection.

8 Q Okay.

9 A But he -- he was also of the same mind as me is sort of giving people the 10 benefit of the doubt and trying to improve.

11 Q Okay. And I just want to ask a little bit more about this particular special

12 agent. Like when we talked about CHS 1 and the inadequacies or the problems that you

13 saw with respect to that source, you mentioned, you know, it -- that person had a

14 partisan affiliation. Like that was one of the particular concerns you had with CHS 1.

15 Right?

16 A Yes. A partisan -- our political --

17 Q Like a --

18 A -- meetings one way or the other?

19 Q Right. That were apparent.

20 A Right.

21 Q Right? Okay. And that maybe, see, in this case Special Agent 2 didn't

22 seem to fully appreciate how that could be a problem if she were relying on this source

23 with those kind of affiliations.

24 A I don't want to speak to her -- what she was thinking.

25 Q Okay.

1 A I was trying to impress upon her that operating these types of sources is
2 difficult.
3 Q Uh-huh.
4 A And you've really got to do good vetting --
5 Q Right.
6 A -- because they can cause you and the FBI some problems.
7 I would never say you can't operate. As a general rule, I wouldn't say you can't 8 operate a source that works in -- that's partisan.
9 Q Right. You just wanted her to understand what --
10 A Yes.
11 Q -- the potential dangers were.
12 A Yes.
13 Q Right? And in this case CHS 1, the partisan connection or leanings that that 14 person displayed were conservative partisan leanings. Right?
15 A I don't want to get into that. I don't want to get into anything that --
16 Q Was nit your statement or no?
17 A I don't think so.
18 Q No? Okay.
19 Well, let me ask you this. The second source that was underlying the Italygate, 20 you mentioned that source was also unduly partisan, obviously, if anyone were to look at 21 it. Right?
22 A I would say partisan.
23 Q Uh-huh.
24 A I don't want to, like, qualify it unduly.
25 Q Okay.

1 A Because, again, I would be willing to work with a partisan source and it's
2 going to be more than that.
3 Q I understand.
4 A Okay.
5 Q I'm just saying that you want your agents to know that partisanship in a
6 source is relevant consideration. Right?
7 A It's in FBI guidelines.
8 Q Of course. Right?
9 A So it's in FBI -- I want them to understand that you got to vet.
10 Q Got it.
11 A And you got understand what the motivations are.
12 Q Right. And you saw some deficiency with respect to Special Agent 2 13 because she was maybe not appreciating the partisan leanings or the implications of the 14 partisan leanings of SHS 1 and also the source in the Italygate. Same thing, right?
15 A I would say not necessarily the partisan leanings. I would say the impact
16 that someone who is a source that has partisan leanings can have on a case --
17 Q Absolutely.
18 A -- if not checked. So Baltimore --
19 Q Right.
20 A -- Baltimore said they had an issue but they said they had the information
21 from somewhere else.
22 Q I understand that.
23 A Okay.
24 Q Yep.
25 A Here, I would have been okay with the source if -- if there weren't credibility

1 issues, meaning the information that was being passed couldn't be verified. It -- it -- you
2 know?
3 Q Okay.
4 A Okay.
5 Q So you said, right, like, that allegation in Italygate was impossible. So you
6 just -- you were not going to get past that to a certain extent.
7 A The information that I received made it so there was no logical explanation
8 how that could have occurred from the information I received.
9 Q Okay. So again, Special Agent 2 --
10 A And there was no crime -- there was no factual articulative basis that a crime
11 had occurred.
12 Q Okay. That's another problem.
13 A Right.
14 Q So Special Agent 2 has, you know, relied on CHS 1 who has some problems
15 related to partisanship. And then she later relies on a source in Italygate who also has 16 problems related to partisanship potentially or at least things you would want her to 17 recognize in the balance. Right?
18 A I would say -- I would say there's always that potential.
19 Q But in these particular cases, when she relied on CHS 1, that one potential 20 thing she didn't fully understand in your view was the ramifications of that person's 21 partisanship. Right?
22 A She may have, or she may not have.
23 Q Were you concerned about that?
24 A I was concerned about, yes, I wanted people to understand the 25 possible -- possible implications --

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A -- of not fully vetting a source and understanding what the motivations are.

3 Q Right. Including partisanship of the source. Right?

4 A That, along with --

5 Q Right.

6 A -- case facts.

7 Q Sure.

8 A But, again, a partisan source will not eliminate them from being an FBI

9 source.

10 Q Right. It's just one factor, right?

11 A It's one factor.

12 Q And you wanted her to understand the potential relevance of that factor.

13 Right?

14 A I made it clear that my expectations with regard to how you open a case

15 were not met here --

16 Q Right.

17 A -- and understanding that there they were in the process of doing it but,

18 larger, the implications of traveling halfway around the world --

19 Q Yeah, I understand.

20 A -- were a problem.

21 Q Right.

22 A Right.

23 Q Okay. Okay. Did it at all bother you that there was sort of a pattern here

24 with Special Agent 2 that it just so happened that the two sources that were partisan,

25 that she didn't seem to really appreciate, happened to be partisan in the same direction?

1 A It bothered me to the -- but only to the extent that I needed -- it was my -- it
2 was my responsibility to make sure she was trained.
3 Q Did you ever have any concerns that she herself was partisan?
4 A At that point I did not.
5 Q Did you later get -- have those concerns?
6 A I began to wonder --
7 Q Okay.
8 A -- later.
9 Q When?
10 A I asked -- I asked Eric Miller at one point who -- the supervisor of CR-15 at 11 one point.
12 Q Yep.
13 A Like what's going on with stuff on the squad? Right? You're telling me
14 that you had a conversation with Mr. Olohan that should have been a response that he 15 had a daughter that had written a case.
16 So we -- while I didn't go into that with Mr. Olohan, I didn't feel the need to at that 17 point, we -- at some point me and the SSA from CR-15 had a discussion.
18 And he said that senior members of CR-15, he didn't tell me who, but had raised 19 concerns to him that there was uncharacteristically partisan discussions happening on the 20 squad floor.
21 Q Did you have those concerns about Special Agent 2?
22 A I didn't know she was involved or not. Okay.
23 Q Did you have any concerns about her with respect to partisanship?
24 A Not really. And here's why.
25 Q Okay.

1 A Every FBI agent that I know of -- not every FBI. I hate to say "every." But
2 a lot of FBI agents that I know of have thoughts and beliefs and opinions.
3 Q Sure. Did you think they were affecting her evaluation of sources like with 4 respect to --
5 A No.
6 Q -- CHS 1 or --
7 A No.
8 Q -- Italygate source?
9 A No, I did not.
10 Q Never had that concern.
11 A I didn't think -- I couldn't get into her head.
12 Q Sure.
13 A It could have been a number of reasons, and I can't tell you which one
14 because I wasn't in her head.
15 It could have been: I want to work a good source. The FBI is making me recruit 16 sources. I've got a good source.
17 It could have been -- it -- it could have been that she wanted to run a big case.
18 Q Okay. But just in these two cases, she was relying on two conservative --
19 A Yes.
20 Q -- leaning sources?
21 A And I spoke to her about that.
22 Q Did she rely on a liberal-leaning source that you thought was --
23 A I don't know.
24 Q Okay.
25 A Okay.

1 [redacted] I think we're out of time.

2 Mr. Thibault. Okay. Can I finish one thought?

3 [redacted] Sure.

4 [redacted] Yeah, please go ahead.

5 Mr. Thibault. There are agents on CR-15 that have political views. They have

6 personal views.

7 BY [redacted]

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A FBI office space is really a different -- and especially on CR-15, I was on there

10 for a long time. And you really never talked about political leanings on that squad. It's 11 almost like talking about religion.

12 Q Expect for Olohan. Right?

13 A Well, look, I wasn't on the squad and so --

14 Q You heard about it from your supervisor?

15 A Well, I heard --

16 Q Supervisor --

17 A I heard about it that it was a number of people.

18 Q Including Olohan?

19 A Including him.

20 Q Okay.

21 A But I thought to myself at this point, okay. Everybody has political leanings.

22 I didn't call to talk to them.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A I didn't take managerial action. I said to my supervisor, you know, just out

25 of respect to everybody else on the squad, make sure people kind of knock it off and

1 respect each other.

2 FBI agents -- and this is the last thing I'll say. FBI agents, like, they worked cases

3 against Robert Hansen. They worked cases against child predators. Those FBI agents

4 have to work those cases and, I can assure you there's probably not a soft spot in their

5 heart for those subjects.

6 But they're able to lay those feelings at the door before they walk into that FBI

7 office space, and they're able to investigate those objectively and do it. And it's called

8 professionalism, and they're able to do it. I saw it day in and day out.

9 In my years as a squad agent on CR-15, I never saw a case opened or closed or

10 anything for a political reason. So my -- my time, when I'm going through this, the last 11 thing on my mind is someone's opening a case because of politics.

12 Q Because you never saw that.

13 A I never saw it happen.

14 Q Okay.

15 A Never saw it happen.

16 Q Including by you. Right?

17 A Of course not.

18 Q Despite the allegation of this committee.

19 A Well, people can make all the allegations against me. The good thing about 20 me is I have 14-year record of investigating for the FBI. And that record, I've

21 opened -- there's only one agent that I know of that's successfully prosecuted two

22 members of Congress in two separate cases in the last 30 years and that's me and they

23 are both Democrats.

24 Q Right.

25 A And if you go back -- and I asked. If anybody goes back and takes a look at

1 all my cases, one, they're well-predicated. I will swear on a Bible. I would love for
2 someone to go look at them because really that's the only way I'm going to gain any
3 sense of reputation back.
4 Excuse me.
5 Q No, I mean, actually, please, like, how do you feel that your reputation has 6 been lost?
7 A Well, look, because I involved myself in social media, which was wrong, and I
8 didn't recognize the appearance issue in my own actions.
9 So, look, I've worked cases. I know they're hard. And when I was a case agent
10 and when I was a supervisor on -- on CR-15, I was so diligent and I kick myself.
11 But so to have it -- any FBI agent do something that's political wasn't in my mind at 12 the time. And I wasn't thinking -- I was thinking, okay, they're talking about politics?
13 Okay. Everybody has a political leaning. Just make sure they're respectful of other
14 agents and let's not do it on CR-15.
15 I was just told they had a meeting while I was at Counterterrorism Division where 16 they addressed it.
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A And I was, like, okay. I'm good with that. Maybe you have to have 19 another meeting, Eric.
20 And that's it. I didn't take managerial action against anybody for their beliefs.
21 Q Were you surprised by the allegations this committee raised that you had 22 been partisan and that those partisanships, that partisanship was affecting your 23 decisions?
24 A I was surprised by the FBI -- there's some FBI agents that made some 25 statements about me that I took someone off a squad because of their vacc status. Not

1 true. That I was fired. Not true. That I hurt the Hunter Biden case. Not true.
2 That, you know, there may be some other ones, you know.
3 And that led to no one on this committee, but it led to media then saying I was
4 involved with Mar-a-Lago. Not true. That I was involved with Twitter and Hunter
5 Biden laptop. Not true. That I was involved with the laptop. Not true.
6 So this is first time I've spoken publicly about this issue and I -- I appreciate that.
7 Okay.
8 But I want you just to know that my time as a case agent and a supervisor, it never 9 occurred to me that anybody would do something because of politics because really all an 10 FBI agent wants to do is open a good case. We don't get paid to open crap. That's not 11 what pays the bills. One, we want to open good cases.
12 And, two, I have never -- okay. I've actually opened more cases against 13 Democrats or Democratic associated. Now I've opened a fair share of cases against 14 Republicans, too. But I have never been a source of leaking information on a case
15 against a Member. Why?
16 And when I -- when I've gone through and I've taught people, because I taught a
17 lot of corruption classes, I was proud of the fact that I understood that just the mere 18 allegation or just the mere appearance of the FBI's investigating someone could hurt a
19 Member's career. That didn't happen under me.
20 What I tried to do was find inculpatory and exculpatory information and then 21 provide that to the prosecutor and say, here, make a prosecutive decision. That's what 22 you're supposed to do. So that's the way I've always handled cases.
23 And so, yeah, I -- I would have been shocked. And that's why it wasn't in my 24 mind, and that's why I didn't take, like, affirmative action and say there's a problem here
25 because it's -- it would have -- it's foreign to me.

1 I'm sorry I went over.

2 [redacted] That's okay. We'll give you a break now.

3 We'll go off the record.

4 [Recess.]

5 [redacted] We'll go back on the record.

6 It's now 3:3 p.m.

7 BY [redacted]

8 Q Last hour you talked to my colleague about an investigation related to the

9 2020 election.

10 I want to talk to you about a different investigation that was related to the 2020

11 election and one that was -- you mentioned in your written statement regarding the 12 Georgia electors. Do you remember writing about that, the Presidential electors case?

13 A Yes, ma'am.

14 Q I'll enter as exhibit number 5 the July 18th, 2022, letter from Senator

15 Grassley to the Attorney General and the FBI Director.

16 [Thibault Exhibit No. 5

17 Was marked for identification.]

18 Mr. Thibault. Thank you.

19 BY [redacted]

20 Q Take your time to review, please.

21 A Yes, ma'am.

22 Q Have you had sufficient time to review, sir?

23 A Yes, ma'am.

24 Q Okay. I'm going to direct you to page 2 --

25 A Okay.

1 Q -- of the letter. In that first sentence of the second paragraph, it states:
2 According to CNN, the FBI is investigating former President Trump's campaign and
3 its advisors, and the Justice Department has issued subpoenas to individuals linked to 4 electors during the 2020 election.
5 Are you familiar with this case that's referred to here?
6 A I'm familiar with a case that was opened which I believe it references.
7 Q Okay. And what was your role in that case?
8 A As in any other case.
9 Q Uh-huh.
10 A I had some managerial role in it --
11 Q Uh-huh.
12 A -- To make sure that, one, it was assigned, the case was assigned, it was 13 vetted, it was assigned to a good to good case agents.
14 Q Uh-huh.
15 A It was vetted, that case agents were doing their job.
16 Q Uh-huh.
17 A Also had a role in coordinating with headquarters, with U.S. Attorney's 18 Office, and my upper management.
19 Q Okay. And your upper management being the SAC and the ADIC?
20 A The SAC --
21 Q Uh-huh.
22 A -- in this instance I was the Acting SAC.
23 Q Okay.
24 A So I would go right to the ADIC --
25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A -- and also the chief investigative counsel --
2 Q Uh-huh.
3 A -- The head lawyer in our office.
4 Q Uh-huh. And what was the timeframe that your work began on this
5 specific investigation?
6 A Yes, ma'am. I think it was -- I want to say February or March of 2022.
7 Q And did your work, you know, prior to your retirement ever end on this
8 investigation or was it going throughout the end of your tenure?
9 A No. It ended beginning of June, end of May 2022.
10 Q And did it end because it was, the case was switched to a different field
11 office? Or why did your management role end?
12 A Right. So an appearance issue on my part.
13 Q Okay.
14 A And so I was temporarily assigned to headquarters.
15 Q Uh-huh.
16 A So it stayed in Washington Field Office to the best of my knowledge --
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A -- until -- and through my retirement which could would have been a couple
19 of months later.
20 Q Okay. So in May of 2022 were you reassigned to headquarters?
21 A Yes, on a temporary duty basis.
22 Q Okay. And what was your role there at headquarters from May until 23 August?
24 A I was just working in one of, like, the facilities. It was an admin branch.
25 And so I was just doing work, helping them.

1 Q Okay. And was this because of the information that had come out about
2 your social media posts and then you were transferred to the headquarters?
3 A Yes. Yes.
4 Q Okay.
5 A I actually, when it was brought to my attention, I initially volunteered
6 because I understood --
7 Q Uh-huh.
8 A -- the appearance issue.
9 Q Uh-huh.
10 A Somehow I had -- you know, when it came to my attention, I had to look 11 back to my social media. And I was like, oh, my God. Right?
12 Q Uh-huh.
13 A I get it. It's an --
14 Q Yes.
15 A -- appearance issue.
16 Q Uh-huh.
17 A So I, you know, not that it was going be left up to me but I volunteered at 18 first. And then the decision was made by the ADIC and maybe others that, hey, it's a 19 good move for the FBI at this point --
20 Q Uh-huh.
21 A -- on a temporary basis and I understood that.
22 Q And during the February, March to May timeframe, did you have any 23 correspondence on this case with FBI headquarters?
24 A I would always have correspondence in any case.
25 Q Uh-huh. And who would be have been your primary point of contact on

1 this case? Was there a certain division you would have acted with the? The Public
2 Corruption Unit?
3 A Just as in any case --
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A -- it would have been the Public Corruption Unit, the section chief --
6 Q Okay.
7 A -- of the Public Corruption Civil Rights Section --
8 Q Uh-huh.
9 A -- would be my main points of contact there.
10 Q Uh-huh.
11 A And I would also have had contacts with the D.C. U.S. Attorney's Office.
12 Q Okay. And who was your main point of contact at the D.C. U.S. Attorney's
13 Office?
14 A Mr. Crabb.
15 Q Okay. I know you mentioned him earlier: J.P. Cooney. Did have you any 16 conversations with him about this case?
17 A Not that I can recall specifically.
18 Q Okay. And in regards to the Washington Field Office, did you have 19 correspondence with, you know, the case agents that were working the case?
20 A Yes. And also to some extent, although not a lot, but Mr. Thomas Windom.
21 Q Okay. And what was Mr. Windom's --
22 A He was assigned to the U.S. Attorney's Office in D.C.
23 Q Okay. Was he out of the Justice Department?
24 A I don't know where he came from before. I thought for some reason he 25 came from, like, Baltimore.

1 Q Okay.
2 A But I wasn't sure what -- I think he reported to Mr. Crabb --
3 Q Okay.
4 A -- my understanding.
5 Q Uh-huh.
6 A But most of my conversations --
7 Q Uh-huh.
8 A -- were with Mr. Crabb.
9 Q Oh, okay. And so Mr. Windom, I believe -- is that who you said?
10 A Yes, ma'am.
11 Q Was he an attorney?
12 A He's a prosecutor.
13 Q Okay. And was there any other, you know, other than managerial
14 responses, what was your role in the investigation?
15 A So in the ASAC role --
16 Q Uh-huh.
17 A -- I was -- and I was Acting SAC for this case here.
18 Q Uh-huh.
19 A My role was to sort of got the -- you know, I was the initial point of contact
20 with the D.C. U.S. Attorney's Office --
21 Q Uh-huh.
22 A -- and helping to get an agent assigned --
23 Q Uh-huh.
24 A -- To basically do all the investigative, pre-investigation work that one would 25 do.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A And to -- and then my role was to, like, review documents --

3 Q Uh-huh.

4 A -- review documents as they -- meaning opening draft documents --

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A -- as I would do from time to time.

7 Q Uh-huh. The next sentence in that paragraph says: Whistleblowers have

8 indicated that Thibault and Richard Pilger, director of the Election Crimes branch within

9 the Justice Department's Public Integrity Section, were deeply involved in the decision to 10 open and pursue this investigation.

11 Did you review the opening documentation for this investigation?

12 A So there were a lot of reviewers.

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A I was just one of the people that had to review the case.

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A I never talked to Richard Pilger --

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A -- about this case here.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A My last recollection of talking to Mr. Pilger was in, like 2018.

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A However, according to FBI guidelines --

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A -- before you open a public -- a case on election crimes --

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A -- case agents should confer with -- with the Public Integrity Section. So as I
2 said in my written statement, it wouldn't be unusual for a case agent to have talked to
3 Mr. Pilger but I never did.
4 Q Do you know if Mr. Pilger was involved in this case?
5 A I believe he was involved in getting concurrence from Public Integrity, but I
6 don't think that Public Integrity was involved in the actual case. You know what I'm 7 saying?
8 Q Uh-huh.
9 A So California's got a case open.
10 Q Uh-huh.
11 A They are -- maybe they're working with the Northern District of California.
12 They still have to call Public Integrity. Public Integrity might have the option to join or 13 not. I'm not sure how they worked that out. That's their internal process, but in here I
14 don't believe that Public Integrity was a participant.
15 Q And what do you mean by they needed a concurrence from Public Integrity?
16 A So it's a -- it's in the DOJ -- it's in the FBI DIOG guidelines that says that any 17 election crimes case has to -- you have to consult with Public Integrity --
18 Q Uh-huh.
19 A -- on election crimes matters.
20 Q Uh-huh.
21 A I think there he they there are similar guidelines with respect to, say, if you
22 have maybe a case on RICO or something like that where you may have to go to a specific 23 DOJ unit to get approval.
24 Q Uh-huh.
25 A But that stands out as any case I've ever had to open, you know, at some

1 point I think you have to get, as long as the DIOG been the effect --

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A -- because before that I think maybe you didn't have to. Maybe you could

4 go to the U.S. Attorney's Office.

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A But we're talking about making sure you have a U.S. -- an attorney, a

7 prosecutor on board.

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A But regardless of that, you have to go to Public Integrity.

10 Q And so, you know, in an election crimes case, if someone from your squad

11 went to Richard Pilger to get a concurrence, would they need that concurrence in order

12 to move forward on the investigation?

13 A That's my understanding, yes.

14 Q Okay. And do you know if that occurred here in this case?

15 A I believe it did.

16 Q Okay.

17 A But I wasn't, again, involved in the discussions with Mr. Pilger.

18 Q Was there a Supervisory Special Agent hat was in charge of the investigation

19 that was one step below you?

20 A Yes, ma'am.

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A I think it was an acting supervisor.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A It may have been an acting supervisor. I'm not sure when Josh -- I'm not

25 sure when Mr. Miller left.

1 Q Okay.

2 A He left the Bureau. We had a -- a number of acting supervisors.

3 Q Uh-huh.

4 A But there was one, sure.

5 Q And can you tell us about the review process for the opening

6 documentation? You said there were levels of review. Would Mr. Miller have had to 7 review this opening document before it would go to you?

8 A The SSA would review the document --

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A -- whoever that was.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A The -- someone from the Chief Division Counsel's Office --

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A -- would have to review that document.

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A Then it would come to me.

17 Q Okay.

18 A Then I -- and I would be -- this kind of case --

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A -- would be being reviewed by headquarters --

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A -- along the way, sort of an incremental review, meaning socialized with the 23 Public Corruption Unit and the section chief and his people.

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A And the ADIC would have to review it.

1 Q Okay.
2 A And then, you know, when you get to the point where it's actually a
3 document that is -- and you're also talking about the prosecutor. So you've got a
4 number --
5 Q Uh-huh.
6 A -- of prosecutors that are reviewing it. I don't know how far it went up
7 their chain.
8 Q Uh-huh.
9 A It may have gone as far up as the U.S. Attorney separately from us. And 10 that's when be the office, D.C. U.S. Attorney's Office might say, okay, we approve this or 11 not.
12 Q Uh-huh.
13 A But the prosecutor's working hand in hand with the case agents at this point
14 in time.
15 Q Uh-huh.
16 A Really making sure that everything in the document is accurate and there's 17 predication.
18 Q Uh-huh.
19 A But then at the headquarters level, you have a section chief that's looking at 20 it and approving it.
21 Q Uh-huh.
22 A Above them, have you an assistant director. Then you have an executive --
23 Q Uh-huh.
24 A -- assistant director. And then you have the deputy director's office --
25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A -- and then the FBI Director and then the Attorney General. So there's a lot
2 of people.
3 Q Uh-huh.
4 A So I wasn't actually even responsible for openings the case. It doesn't get 5 opened until the highest level approves it.
6 Q Uh-huh. But you reviewed the predicating document as the opening
7 document, if you will, before it went up to the director and the Attorney General? Is
8 that correct?
9 A Yes, ma'am.
10 Q In this paragraph, the next sentence says: Based on allegations, the 11 investigation's predicating document is based in substantial part on January 2022 CNN
12 news articles which relied on information derived from a liberal nonprofit, American 13 Oversight, in reference to a Boris Epshteyn interview on MSNBC.
14 Do you remember any sort of the sources that were cited in the predicating
15 document?
16 A So because it's an ongoing case --
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A -- I'm not going to get into what's in the document.
19 Q Uh-huh.
20 A Okay? I will say with any case, it's never going to be -- a case that's going to 21 be opened as a full investigation is never going to substantially rely on just one element.
22 Q Uh-huh.
23 A There's going to be multiple. I -- this appears to me to be a
24 mischaracterization --
25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A -- of what actually happened or what was actually in the document. I think
2 I state it best in my -- I address it in my written statement.
3 Q So was CNN cited in the predicating document?
4 A I can't get into that. Now if the FBI would okay me to talk about it, happy
5 to do that.
6 Q Do you remember what sources? I'm not asking you about the specific
7 sources. But do you remember what sources were in the predicating document?
8 A I don't remember specifically.
9 Q Uh-huh.
10 A I don't remember specifically that item.
11 Q Uh-huh.
12 A I'd have to review it.
13 Q Do you remember if it cited to an MSNBC interview?
14 A Again, I just don't -- I don't recall what the -- the document over the course 15 of 2 months went through --
16 Q Uh-huh.
17 A -- quite a few revisions. People at all levels were suggesting things to go in 18 and being taken out --
19 Q Uh-huh.
20 A -- for different reasons, you know.
21 Q In the DIOG and the AG guidelines, does it reference what kind of sources
22 such as media sources as like CNN and MSNBC can be cited to in a predicating document?
23 A I don't -- I don't believe so.
24 Q Okay.
25 A But I will say that what you want to see --

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A -- is never an overreliance on any one source. It should be balanced. It

3 doesn't preclude a media source from being referenced.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A But what's behind that, right? So I will point to a case I opened before

6 it -- before DIOG was even in existence but it was, like, one of the first cases I worked on.

7 Q Uh-huh.

8 A So since DIOG wasn't in existence, I was using a different, different -- I think

9 it was called MIOG or something like that, MAOP or MIOG.

10 Q Uh-huh.

11 A I opened a case. It was one of my first cases. I opened a case. The 12 source was a media source, I believe. But it was more than that because there was

13 information within that media source on, like, property records where I was able to go,

14 for instance, and I maybe double-check and see if those --

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A -- see, check the accuracy. So you're always trying -- just like we try to vet

17 human sources, we're trying to vet any other information we're getting. You know, is it

18 accurate?

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A You know, I -- I -- and so I just know that that EC was looked at by a lot of 21 people, and I think it was taken into consideration that it needs to be really

22 well-predicated.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A And there has to be a -- there has to be a good factual basis and there has to 25 be an authorized purpose.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A And I believe that it was accurate, that there was an authorized purpose, and

3 it was -- there was clear predication in my -- my belief or I wouldn't have -- I wouldn't

4 have signed my name to it.

5 Q And so with the case that you were just referring to when the predicating

6 document relied upon news sources, there was also another element that you could go

7 check and see for the accuracy. Is that correct?

8 A Well, I'm saying that not specifically to this case but --

9 Q Yes.

10 A -- generally --

11 Q Generally, uh-huh.

12 A -- generally because I don't recall.

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A I asked --

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A -- To see this from the FBI and I wasn't given permission to review it.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A And, again, I can't get into just, like, the source information that might --

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A -- be used. I don't want to get into the --

21 Q But if this was just based in the -- in the letter it says in substantial part on 22 reporting, would that have been enough for the predicating document?

23 A I don't want to get into that. I just think that's a mischaracterization.

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A I'll tell you what I mean is if we're able to sit down here --

1 Q Uh-huh.
2 A -- with that document and --
3 Q Uh-huh.
4 A -- and look, I think that the end conclusion would be it's a
5 mischaracterization.
6 Q Yeah, we're just trying to understand, given your written testimony that says
7 with the sound articulated factual basis --
8 A Right.
9 Q -- establishing clear predication.
10 There's this other letter that says it was substantially based on biased news
11 sources.
12 So I'm just trying to understand how we jive those two together.
13 A Well, I would just say there's -- there's information out there from other
14 sources --
15 Q Uh-huh.
16 A -- not necessarily media, that helped to predicate that case.
17 Q And you talked about different -- you know, as the document went through 18 review process, it changed.
19 A Uh-huh.
20 Q Is that correct?
21 A Yes, ma'am.
22 Q Do you know how much the document changed between your review and 23 then the review by the director and the Attorney General?
24 A No, because there were several iterations of it going up the chain and 25 coming back and up the chain and coming back and up the chain and coming back.

1 And then even that last review, that was done, like, at the high level of the FBI
2 and --
3 Q Uh-huh.
4 A -- the chief division counsel at Washington Field Office and I wasn't even 5 involved in that. They were talking about, hey, these things need to be done.
6 And one of the reasons why, I think, is because Attorney General Barr put into
7 place guidelines to -- and that kind of strengthened DIOG.
8 Q Uh-huh.
9 A And this was one of the first cases I think that implicated it, so meaning the 10 Attorney General Barr's guidelines. So we had to comply with that, and so we were 11 trying to make sure that we were in compliance with all FBI and AG guidelines.
12 Q Uh-huh. And who put the predicated document together? Was that a
13 CR-15 case agent?
14 A It was a conglomerate of --
15 Q Uh-huh.
16 A -- the U.S. Attorney's Office.
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A -- the case agents. I was -- certainly had a role in the document, as did the 19 prosecutor's office.
20 Q Uh-huh. The next -- not the very next sentence but the sentence after that,
21 it says: Based on allegations, the opening memo that you approved -- meaning the AG
22 and the director --
23 A Yes.
24 Q -- included selective assertions created in large part by Thibault and either 25 moved or watered down material connected to the aforementioned leftwing entities that

1 existed in previous versions and recommended that a full investigation, not a preliminary
2 investigation, be approved.
3 Was there any sort of back and forth regarding whether this was going to be a
4 preliminary investigation or a full investigation?
5 A Well, let me address the first thing first.
6 Q Uh-huh.
7 A I never tried to strengthen information or water it down.
8 Q Uh-huh.
9 A My sole goal was to make sure that whoever read this document after I did
10 would have accurate information, that -- that if there were sources there, if there were 11 media sources, that they were actually sourced.
12 I wanted people to know where the information came from, whether it -- you 13 know, in today's world, everything it seems like it's either conservative media or 14 progressive liberal media. So it's important to source that information so the reader 15 knows where it's coming from.
16 I wanted everything in there to be crystal clear and accurate. That was -- that 17 was my goal.
18 Q And did you suggest changes to the --
19 A Watered down --
20 Q -- document at any point?
21 A Oh, of course. I would have had my own suggestions, as did case agents.
22 Q Uh-huh.
23 A They had the main role of, you know, hey, dig in and write what you think 24 and then let us -- let us look at it. But headquarters had opinions on it. The 25 prosecutors, the prosecutor had an important role in it.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A So a number of people did. I was just one of the people that did.

3 Q And did you see the final opening document before it went up to the 4 director and the Attorney General?

5 A Yes, ma'am.

6 Q And did you review that document at all?

7 A Yes, ma'am.

8 Q And was that document different than what you had previously reviewed

9 before it went through the ladder of review?

10 A It went up and down numerous times, and it changed.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A Based on people's inputs, yes, and that's not unusual.

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A In any big case, that would happen when you're working with prosecutors.

15 We just -- you know, Attorney General Barr, what is unusual is we had to deal with 16 some new guidelines. And so this is one of the first times we would have to do that.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A And so, you know, it went -- it was reviewed. And once it went up to 19 headquarters in either a draft, you know, in draft form --

20 Q Uh-huh.

21 A -- there were discussions that I wasn't involved with between Mr. D'Antuono

22 and headquarters and our attorneys at Washington Field Office with the CDC and

23 headquarters. I wasn't involved in a lot of those discussions.

24 Q Uh-huh. And when you were doing your review of the document, you said

25 that you wanted to make sure that everything was sourced appropriately and accurately.

1 Was that in regards to news articles that were used?

2 A It was in regards to everything including any -- any media that might have

3 been cited.

4 Q During your role in this investigation from the beginning of 2022 until you

5 were temporarily placed at headquarters, was there any sort of conversation about this

6 case going to special counsel?

7 A No.

8 Q Did you have any interactions with --

9 A Not that I can recall.

10 Q Okay.

11 A It wasn't even -- I don't think so.

12 Q Did you ever have any interactions with individuals from the Fulton County

13 District Attorney's Office?

14 A No, ma'am.

15 Q In sum total or --

16 A Never.

17 Q -- just in relation to -- never?

18 A Never.

19 Q Did any -- were you aware of any of your individuals under your leadership

20 having conversations with Fulton County?

21 A No, ma'am. Although --

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A -- I will say that there was an acting section chief.

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A He was there was for, like -- he was doing like a one-month TDY at

1 headquarters.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A And he reviewed the thing, and he was from Atlanta.

4 Q Okay.

5 A I don't remember his name, but he was from Atlanta. I did know that

6 Atlanta FBI, I -- at no time was I advised that Atlanta FBI had a case open.

7 Q Okay.

8 A Right?

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A So could he have? Maybe. I don't know.

11 Q Did you have any conversations with FBI Atlanta about --

12 A No, ma'am.

13 Q -- any sort of elector's case?

14 A No, ma'am.

[4:04 p.m.]

[redacted] We're going to jump around a little bit now. I apologize.

BY [redacted]

Q Do you know who Laura Dehmlow is?

A I've come to learn that she was at the FITF, but I don't have a recollection of meeting her.

Q What about Brad Benevidas (ph)?

A That name doesn't sound familiar. What's his last name?

Q Benevidas (ph).

A No, sir.

Q Do you know who Elvis Chan is?

A I've seen his name in news articles. And I think, like, way back when, there might have been a chance I might have seen him when I was working on CR-15 at some point. I'm just not sure. That would have been totally unrelated to anything, but I only have seen Elvis Chan in news articles.

Q To your understanding, what does FITF do?

A FITF is concerned with malign foreign influence.

Q And, if you could just walk me through again. So the FITF meeting is October -- I think it was in your statement -- 2lst of 2020?

A 21st, yes, sir.

Q And there were two phone calls or conversations that predated that?

A With the Public Corruption Unit chief.

Q And it's in the second one where you learned FITF was the entity behind the concern with the --

A I think the concern was with both the Public Corruption Unit and FITF, but

1 you're correct in saying that the name wasn't raised to me until the second conversation.
2 Q Okay. And, in that second conversation -- well, first, let me take a step
3 back.
4 Do you recall how soon before the meeting those two conversations occurred?
5 A I think it was a matter of days. So 2 to 5 days maybe.
6 Q Yeah.
7 A Yes, 2 to 5 days.
8 Q For total, during the first phone call and the meeting?
9 A Yes. It could have been a week between the first call and the meeting, but 10 it wasn't that long. It was pretty quick.
11 Q During that second call, do you -- when you were -- when you hear for the 12 first time that FITF has these concerns, did you at that time have an understanding of 13 what FITF was and what FITF did?
14 A I understood what they did. I certainly didn't have a great understanding
15 because I had never really met them, and I never worked counterintelligence. So I'm 16 sure that they get into things that I don't know anything about. And when I went to the 17 briefing, it was sort of like my aperture was opened up. I didn't know about the 18 information they were telling me about.
19 Q And you said this meeting took place in a SCIF?
20 A Yes, sir.
21 Q So it was in person?
22 A Yes, sir.
23 Q Do you recall how many people attended this meeting?
24 A It was like 10 to 12, and they were both -- I don't know that everybody
25 identified themselves, or if they did, I can't remember, but it was a mix of agents,

1 supervisors, and analysts from both the FITF and Public Corruption Unit.

2 Q And, of that 10 to 12, do you recall how many approximately were from

3 FITF?

4 A No, sir. I think most of them were just because I think I had gone to the

5 Public Corruption Unit first to kind of meet up with the unit chief and walked over with

6 him, and I don't recall there being a huge gaggle. So I think it was mostly FITF people.

7 Q And, during this meeting, did you have, I guess, a kind of sufficient base

8 understanding of what FITF did that you could just jump right into the matter at hand, or 9 did FITF have to explain what their role was?

10 A I don't think they went into in large detail. I think they generally said:

11 Hey, here's what we do.

12 But they didn't go really deep into what they did. They gave me sort of a

13 baseline. And then, through their briefing, I came to understand more, of which I

14 didn't -- hadn't known beforehand.

15 And, again, it's because, when I was in the public -- doing public corruption work,

16 for the most part, FITF didn't exist. I heard a little bit about them when they were

17 formed. I'm not even sure what date they were formed on. But then I went to public

18 corruption -- then I went to the Counterterrorism Division and kind of brain dumped

19 everything. And, when I came back, it was a whole new perspective for me, I'll just say

20 that.

21 Q And, as they're presenting evidence and they're laying out their concerns,

22 did you have the opportunity to question the veracity of that evidence or what they're 23 basing their claims off of?

24 A I had the opportunity. Mostly I just listened.

25 Q And did you find it persuasive?

1 A It was a lot of information I didn't know anything about. So, yes, I found it
2 compelling, and I found it enlightening because I just didn't -- I just didn't have that
3 perspective, and I wasn't involved in that.
4 Q Other than this instance, are you aware of FITF having similar meetings
5 regarding confidential human sources?
6 A No, sir.
7 Q And was this a confidential human source that worked in any way with FITF,
8 or did FITF just have information on the source?
9 A Can you repeat that question? I'm sorry.
10 Q Sure. I'm just trying to understand the nature of FITF's involvement or the 11 awareness of.
12 A Yeah. So --
13 Mr. Lytle. Was CHS 1 a source for FITF?
14 Mr. Thibault. I don't believe so, but it appeared to me -- I mean, that meeting
15 was -- it was sort of a broad meeting. It just wasn't focused on the source. It was 16 broader.
17 BY [redacted]
18 Q But part of the focus was on the source?
19 A Certainly.
20 Q And is the concern with the source that the source was a victim of a foreign
21 influence?
22 Mr. Lytle. So he can't talk about this meeting because it's classified, so I would 23 ask you --
24 Mr. Thibault. That might implicate me in providing classified information. And 25 I don't even know -- like oftentimes when you get a brief, whether it be counterterrorism

1 or whatnot, you're never told what the source is, you know, because it might be really
2 sensitive. They may not even raise it. But, look, they were the subject matter experts.
3 I was a neophyte. I knew public corruption. But, with regard to the FITF stuff, I was 4 absolutely relying on them. And they were bolstered because -- and I'll tell you this,
5 because of the fact that the Public Corruption Unit chief was in there, he did a lot of the 6 briefing. Okay. So it wasn't just FITF briefing it. He did a lot of the briefing. And a
7 lot of the credibility came from him because I knew he was solid. I knew it just from him
8 presenting himself. I think I had some idea of his background and his reputation, and it
9 was stellar. He was a hardworking dude. And so that gave me a comfort.
10 BY [redacted]
11 Q And is he -- when you say he lends his credibility and he's also talking at this 12 meeting, is he bolstering the evidence that FITF is providing, or are they presenting two 13 different types of --
14 A It's them in concert, hand in glove.
15 Q Okay. When did you first become aware of the New York Post article about 16 the Hunter Biden laptop story?
17 A I don't know. It was maybe around the election when everybody -- when it
18 all came out, right, when it all came out.
19 Q And do you recall having any discussions with anyone at the FBI about that 20 story?
21 A No, sir. It wasn't on my radar. I had nothing to do with the Hunter Biden
22 case. I didn't know what was true and what wasn't. I didn't even have access to the 23 case file. And when -- I don't even think -- that never came up in my conversation with a
24 supervisor, just didn't. It would have been inappropriate for me to ask at that time.
25 Q Prior to your meeting on October 2lst with FITF, did you know whether the

1 FBI was in possession of Hunter Biden's laptop or not?

2 A No. You know, look, I think I -- just because I was interested, at some

3 point, I was reading an article, and I saw a receipt, property receipt. It was, like, public.

4 Now, I don't remember if it was that time or later, but I just saw that. But I didn't know

5 if they had an image of it, if they had a laptop. I knew nothing about it at all, because

6 the way it works is, you know, usually the field office or the -- and the RA would seize

7 material. And so I didn't know how -- if it was seized, how it was seized. I didn't know

8 if it was a search warrant or consensual. I didn't know any of that stuff. I knew

9 nothing about the Hunter Biden laptop at all.

10 Q In October of 2020, were you coming into the office every day?

11 A October? Yes, I was.

12 Q Yeah. And were most people in the office?

13 A Mixed bag. Right? It was COVID. We were just beginning to try

14 to -- because people had family issues. A lot of people by that time had gotten FBI

15 laptops, and so we were trying to be cognizant that some people had childcare issues. I

16 was leaving it at that point in time to the supervisors to kind of follow gently what we've

17 been doing, but I wanted my supervisors in the office. Right? Some of them weren't

18 coming in as much as I wanted them to. And so I was trying to get the supervisors back

19 in. Right?

20 Q Did you have any interactions with FITF after this October 2lst meeting?

21 A Not that I recall.

22 Q There was some discussion -- this might have been 1 hour earlier or 2 hours

23 earlier -- regarding your decision with respect to the confidential human source?

24 A Number one?

25 Q Yes.

1 A Okay.

2 Q Were you able to -- and since you had to, to your colleagues you were 3 talking about, when explaining your decision, reference anything that was raised in the 4 meeting?

5 A I did, but at a very high level. And, because I wasn't -- one, the information
6 I was getting, I wasn't taking notes. Two, I wasn't sure what was classified and what
7 wasn't. I just gave a very high level.

8 And part of me was thinking, okay, maybe I'm not doing a very good job of 9 communicating that aspect of it. Like, I communicated the Baltimore stuff, which I also 10 expected the case agent to understand. I'm just assuming that they're talking the 11 Baltimore team. And I didn't want to be, like, too hard. And that's why I said, you
12 know, it wouldn't be a bad idea for you to go to the FITF and get the perspective.
13 Because, as an ASAC, I don't have the -- it's not my job and I couldn't go to the FITF and 14 dig into their intel and punch holes in it. Okay? I expected a case agent, a handling
15 agent who's working a source that, if they had an issue and someone is calling -- someone 16 is making a characterization or Baltimore is saying, "We don't need it," I expect them to 17 tell me what's wrong with it. Right? Go to the FITF, be intellectually curious, and 18 punch holes in it and maybe come back and say: Tim, you're wrong. That never 19 happened. But I didn't discourage it. Right? I wanted that. And that's why I 20 wanted those two in the meeting to begin with.

21 BY [redacted]

22 Q And jumping topics again to, you know, some -- an aspect that the 23 committee has written to you about regarding domestic violent extremism cases and the 24 classification of cases, in your written statement, you know, you say that you never told 25 any agents to reclassify a case.

1 Did you have any involvement in domestic terrorism or domestic violent
2 extremism cases?
3 A No. I will say that -- I'll give you a little bit of background.
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A So the supervisor -- the ASAC would have been Lyonel Myrthil.
6 Q Uh-huh.
7 A He was the supervisor over domestic terrorism. He was my counterpart
8 over domestic terrorism.
9 Q Uh-huh.
10 A When January 6th happened, it was all hands on board. There were some 11 agents that were assigned to me --
12 Q Uh-huh.
13 A -- that got leads.
14 Q Uh-huh.
15 A They got leads into what turned out to be, I think, the Oathkeepers case.
16 Q Uh-huh.
17 A That was, I think, a 262, which was a domestic terrorism matter. While 18 they were initially assigned to me, that team was moved off into another offsite. I no
19 longer had any role, either managerial role or oversight of their case. That was an 20 instance where it was a DT case removed, and my -- and two or three of my agents went 21 with that case, and I never saw it, never supervised it.
22 Q Uh-huh.
23 A There were cases that came to my agents that were working. To my 24 recollection, there were no 262 domestic terrorism cases that my agents were working 25 other than maybe that. Maybe some of my agents worked on Proud Boys. I don't

1 remember.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A But I had no authority over those.

4 Q And, in regards to the January 6 cases that your agents were working, would

5 the agents kind of brief you on what was going on in the cases or no?

6 A Generally not.

7 Q Uh-huh.

8 A Every now and then, I would walk around the squad areas --

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A -- and talk to my agents --

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A -- about stuff: Hey, what are you doing? And, for a couple of months,

13 they were working on these cases, and they might say: Hey, we've got somebody that 14 we found.

15 And they'll tell me about it, just because I was interested about what they were 16 working on.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A Do you need any help with anything?

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A You know, I know these cases are being supervised by domestic terrorism

21 or -- not really domestic terrorism in the sense of a terrorism case, but like the 176 cases,

22 those were more riot, trespassing --

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A -- still being supervised by domestic terrorism. Are you getting the support

25 you need? How can I help?

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A So, in that instance I am. I also want to make sure that we're reporting to

3 my bosses any investigative activity that could hit the news that agents that work for me

4 are provided because they may not get it at their meetings with the domestic terrorism

5 folks.

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A So just giving them situational awareness. But the reclassification issue --

8 Q Uh-huh.

9 A -- I saw that, and I just didn't understand what it was.

10 Q Uh-huh.

11 A Because I've never -- I can't recall ever being involved in decisionmaking

12 about reclassification. That wasn't something -- that's a program level issue at 13 headquarters, I think.

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A I don't know where that came from.

16 Q And, in the January 6 cases, if any of your case agents were talking to you

17 about the January 6 cases they were working, you know, they said there's no more

18 investigative work to do, would you ever suggest that they go back and do more on those

19 cases?

20 A That wasn't a role I had.

21 Q Uh-huh.

22 A I don't ever recall doing that.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A Even on the cases -- the few cases that I did have managerial control over --

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A -- like the violent -- where media was involved, where there was an assault
2 on media --
3 Q Uh-huh.
4 A -- I don't recall an instance where I did that. That would be more of a
5 supervisory role.
6 Q Uh-huh.
7 A And another ASAC is reviewing those cases on a quarterly basis. I think 8 there are one or two times where somehow one of those cases got into my bucket where 9 I'm reviewing a case on a case file.
10 Q Uh-huh.
11 A I just don't remember that happening.
12 Q And, in the time period when you were in the command post and 13 involved -- also after that and involved in some of the January 6 investigations that your 14 case agents were working, were you ever in sort of nationwide calls focusing on the 15 ongoing efforts regarding January 6 related investigations?
16 A So, when I was in the command post, they were having situational reports.
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A And those were open calls --
19 Q Uh-huh.
20 A -- you know, in which, from time to time, I had to relay information. I was 21 relaying information, like: Here's some stats.
22 So I was involved in that.
23 Q Uh-huh.
24 A As far as other nationwide calls, I don't recall being involved in any. There
25 was a call one time --

1 Q Uh-huh.
2 A -- that I think it was maybe nationwide.
3 Q Uh-huh.
4 A I may have listened in to it, but I was, like, it had no speaking role, and I
5 quickly figured out there was no role for me.
6 Q Uh-huh.
7 A I will say this. There -- it was brought to my attention that an agent
8 accused me of hyperbole, or something like that, or acting unprofessionally in a meeting.
9 Q Uh-huh.
10 A But he also referenced Steve Jensen being in that meeting --
11 Q Uh-huh.
12 A -- and Mr. D'Antuono.
13 Q Uh-huh.
14 A If Steve Jensen was in that meeting, the ASAC would have been Lyonel
15 Myrthil.
16 Q Uh-huh. So you were never involved in a call with Steve Jensen regarding
17 January 6?
18 A Well, not a nationwide call involving -- other than outside of Sit reports in 19 the first 2 weeks of the investigation.
20 Q Uh-huh.
21 A But I had a very limited role, and nothing I said --
22 Q Did you have a speaking role on those calls?
23 A On a couple I did, but it was only -- it wasn't arguing anything. It was, like,
24 providing stats, like: Here's how many cases are being worked by the Criminal Division.
25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A It wasn't anything where I would have acted un -- and, generally, I didn't act
2 unprofessional in these meetings anyway. Nationwide calls, I can't think of one time
3 where someone could accuse me of acting unprofessionally or using hyperbole.
4 Q But you do remember a call where Steve Jensen was also on the call
5 regarding January 6th and you had a speaking role?
6 A No -- well, it wasn't -- I remember a situation report --
7 Q Uh-huh.
8 A -- which was hosted by WFO where Steve Jensen may or may not have been 9 on the other end of headquarters.
10 Q Uh-huh.
11 A There would have been people from CTD, from Criminal.
12 Q Uh-huh.
13 A I don't remember specifically if he was there or not.
14 Q Okay.
15 A But I don't recall any other matters where Steve Jensen would have been on 16 the call and I would have been in those meetings.
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A I recall being in some meetings, because I had a weekly call with the U.S.
19 Attorney's Office --
20 Q Uh-huh.
21 A -- with my SAC and my counterparts -- my counterpart ASACs in Cyber and 22 Criminal.
23 Q Uh-huh.
24 A And we were talking just with the prosecutors in D.C. U.S. Attorney's office,
25 but that was not a nationwide call. I've wracked my brain --

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A -- because I cannot for the life of me understand where that came from.

3 Q Uh-huh.

4 A And, if there's any information which would help me do that, I would

5 appreciate it because I just don't know where it came from. I can't say anything to fight

6 that. Right? I don't know where it came from.

7 Q So, in even some of these situation -- situational reports that you were on,

8 do you ever remember when Steve Jensen said something and you said something on the 9 same call related to January 6?

10 A No, ma'am.

11 Q Switching to your social media posts, when did you kind of learn or figure

12 out that there may be an appearance problem with some of your posts with regards to 13 your work as an FBI ASAC?

14 A The end of May when it first came out.

15 Q And you said you kind of did a review of your social media. Is that correct?

16 A I looked at those -- what was referenced in Senator Grassley's letter.

17 Q And, after Senator Grassley sent his letter on May 3l, 2022, did you take any 18 steps in regards to your social media?

19 A Yes. I shut it off to the public. Right? And that's all I did.

20 Q And what did you think was problematic with the posts that you made?

21 A So the posts that I made gave an appearance -- they created an appearance

22 issue because of my private views. Okay?

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A And it created an appearance issue, and for that I was -- deeply regretted

25 that --

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A -- and was also surprised because I was -- it was kind of click and forget on

3 some of it. I just didn't -- I wasn't careful enough. And, look, I shouldn't have been on

4 social media. I realize that. And, you know -- but let me underscore --

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A -- that never affected anything I ever did officially in the Bureau, ever. It

7 just didn't.

8 Q And, after the May 3l, 2022, letter from Senator Grassley, did you remain

9 active on social media?

10 A No. I stopped. I stopped.

11 Q Even with your personal accounts you stopped?

12 A Well, they were personal accounts, and so I -- yes. I sort of -- certainly I

13 saw some things that were said about me, you know, in social media and whatnot, but 14 largely stopped posting anything and wanted to avoid media altogether.

15 Q And have you only used the social media accounts that are under your name

16 to make posts on social media?

17 A Yes, I've only used my accounts to make posts.

18 Q And what are your accounts?

19 A So I had a few Twitter accounts, a Facebook account, a TikTok account, I

20 think, and a couple of LinkedIn accounts.

21 Q And the few Twitter accounts, what were the handles for your --

22 A So I don't recall, but I think my attorneys would be happy to provide them,

23 yeah.

24 Q Okay. And to the extent there are, you know, reporting that you're using a 25 different account other than yourself, is that accurate?

1 A No.

2 Q Okay.

3 A Which accounts specifically are you saying?

4 Q There's an individual that was kind of posting in your defense, and there was

5 maybe some allegations that that was you and not the individual?

6 A Missy Morgan?

7 Q That's correct.

8 A Yes. No, I never used her account.

9 Q Okay.

10 A I never collaborated with her on her postings. I never logged onto her

11 account. That was never under my control.

12 Q Okay. And, in regards to -- I'm sorry to jump around. Just a couple more

13 questions from me.

14 On the January 6th front, during the time that you were at the command post and

15 even when your agents were still working the cases, did you ever become aware of 16 confidential human sources, the FBI's confidential human sources that were at the Capitol

17 on January 6th?

18 A Not that I can recall.

19 Q Not that you -- so you've never become aware of any CHSes in attendance?

20 A No, I don't. Someone called me from Counterterrorism Division for some

21 reason about something out of the Miami office, and they asked me if I knew about it

22 and -- just because I was at WFO. And I said: No. You're going to have to talk to 23 Miami.

24 I don't know if there were or weren't.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A Never came to understand that whole issue.

2 [redacted] Okay. Can we go off the record?

3 [Discussion off the record.]

4 [redacted] Can we go back on the record.

5 BY [redacted]

6 Q I apologize. I just have a couple more questions.

7 A Sure.

8 Q The FITF briefing that we've been referring to, the August -- or excuse me,

9 the October 2lst meeting, do you remember how long that briefing lasted?

10 A It was a couple hours.

11 Q And you said that you told your agents high level what went on at that. Is 12 that correct?

13 A Very high level.

14 Q Okay. And --

15 A One agent, Agent No. 2.

16 Q And was the information that you told that agent at a high level classified?

17 A No. I kept it unclassified, and that was part of the problem was I couldn't --

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A -- adequately discuss it. And that's why I encouraged her to go talk with 20 the FITF.

21 Q And do you remember what you told her about the briefing, the high level?

22 A Not specifically.

23 Q Okay.

24 A Not specifically.

25 Q You don't remember anything that you discussed with her about the

1 briefing?

2 A I just told her that, you know, there's a problem with the source and

3 potentially information from the source, not --

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A And I don't recall that that specifically characterized the information from

6 Baltimore, if you understand what I'm saying.

7 Q Uh-huh. Okay.

8 A It was a larger briefing that talked about other things.

9 Q And, with the individuals under your command on the CR-15 squad, did you

10 expect them to keep their political leanings out of their investigative work?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Did it ever come to your attention that they did not?

13 A With specific -- with respect to specific investigations?

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A I didn't have any information at that time to make it clear to me --

16 Q Uh-huh.

17 A -- that they had not. Right?

18 [redacted] Okay. We can go off the record.

19 [Recess.]

20 [redacted] I'm going to go back on the record, please. It's 4:33.

21 BY [redacted]

22 Q Okay, Mr. Thibault, almost done.

23 A couple of quick questions on the subject of January 6. I think that, in the very

24 first or second hour, you were asked some questions about the pipe bomb investigation,

25 and you indicated that you actually didn't have any role in that investigation, supervising

1 it or working on it. Is that right?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q Are you aware that Mr. D'Antuono testified before this committee that he

4 actually did supervise that and that he was sure that he and his agents did everything

5 they could to take that seriously, to turn over every rock, and to make sure that they got

6 everything they needed to prioritize that investigation? Do you have any information

7 that would suggest that that is not true?

8 A No, ma'am.

9 Q Okay. January 6 cases you were told -- or it was alleged that you somehow

10 tagged or reclassified January 6 cases to make it look like they were more domestic

11 terrorism related cases than they really were. And you've made clear that you had no

12 such role. Is that right?

13 A Correct.

14 Q Okay. You did indicate, though, that your WFO employees did have quite a 15 few cases that were January 6 related. Is that right?

16 A Yes, ma'am.

17 Q And that you supervised those cases at some point?

18 A I didn't supervise most of them. There's a very small subset that were

19 assault on media --

20 Q Okay.

21 A -- that I supervised.

22 Q Got it.

23 A -- with regard to, you know, the traditional January 6 or people that entered

24 the Capitol.

25 Q Right. The trespass?

1 A Correct.

2 Q Okay.

3 A The other cases that were not assault on media were either supervised

4 by -- they were supervised by the Domestic Terrorism, so it would have been Lyonel

5 Myrthil was the ASAC.

6 Q Okay.

7 A He was over Domestic Terrorism at WFO, or Robert Borstein, who was over

8 violent crimes.

9 Q Okay. I just want to make clear, you, I think, were saying something to the 10 effect of, because of the volume of cases related to January 6 that came to WFO, there

11 was some adjustment of priorities with some of the case agents in terms of having to 12 focus on those at least initially as they came in?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Is that right?

15 A Yes, ma'am.

16 Q Did you have any objection to that focus?

17 A No, ma'am.

18 Q Do you -- in your opinion, do you believe that those cases that they were

19 asked to focus on are serious cases and that it merited the attention of the FBI?

20 A Well, you know, I think the cases were predicated. Some of them they

21 might have found lacked evidence, and so those cases could have been closed. So the

22 January 6 certainly was a serious investigation. And, you know, commander's intent is

23 important in the FBI, and I certainly got commander's intent from Steve D'Antuono that

24 said: Hey -- and he said this to all agents. He said: We're going to be working these 25 cases for a little while until we can get a handle on them.

1 And there were exceptions made for people that were going to trial or had to
2 testify in the grand jury. But, over the course of time, people got back to their own
3 investigations.
4 Q Did you see any problem with that decision from D'Antuono or others that 5 they had to focus on this for a little while?
6 A No, ma'am.
7 Q Is that because those cases were serious and you agreed that it was
8 important that the FBI look at them at least initially to see whether they needed to go
9 prosecuted?
10 A I respond to bosses. And when the boss says, "This is how it's going to 11 work," as long as there's nothing ethically problematic with his decision, yeah, you're 12 going to follow it. And he has the right to set his priorities, and that's what I took my -- I 13 took my, you know, commander's intent from.
14 Q Okay. So, moving on from the January 6 subject, I wanted to ask you a little 15 bit more about just how this congressional investigation has impacted you.
16 And I think I understand, but I want you to tell me if I'm wrong about the timing
17 here. When was the first time that you became aware that your name was kind of out
18 in the public as somebody who had been accused of, you know, having political bias that 19 was affecting your job at the FBI?
20 A It was like June 1st or right around there.
21 Q Of what year?
22 A Of 2022.
23 Q So was that -- so that was a day after the May 3lst -- no. I'm sorry.
24 A It was the same day that the press came out with Mr. Grassley's initial letter.
25 Q Okay. So it was the May 31, 2022 --

1 A Okay.

2 Q -- letter that was the instigating kind of event for what happened to you --

3 A Yes, ma'am.

4 Q -- in terms of your experience?

5 Okay. Did you -- so you read about the letter in a media setting or did you

6 receive the letter or --

7 A I think my bosses gave it to me.

8 Q Okay.

9 A And then I saw a reporting. It came out simultaneously with, like, reporting

10 from newspapers.

11 Q Okay. What was your reaction?

12 A I was heartbroken that I made that decision.

13 Q Oh, you mean about the social media posts?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay.

16 A I was accountable. The first I learned was just my media posts.

17 Q Right.

18 A But I -- and I didn't even realize. Right? And I was, like, oh, my God.

19 And I went back and looked because it's very odd that you make -- you can make social

20 media posts and not even realize because you don't go through your timeline. And I

21 was, like, yeah, this is an issue, and I'm going to be accountable for it. This is my

22 mistake. And I shouldn't have let it happen, and I let myself down, and I let people who

23 counted on me down, so --

24 Q I think you've made it clear in your written statement and other testimony

25 that you regret the appearance that was created by those social media posts. Right?

1 A Absolutely, yes.

2 Q But you also have stated clearly that none of those political or personal

3 views that you had affected any of the decisions that you ever made in the FBI.

4 Do you stand by that?

5 A I do. And, you know, if you look at just the cases I worked on that were

6 prosecuted, no one has -- look for agents who have prosecuted cases like I have, and you

7 can't reconcile the two. Right? You can't say that I'm partisan and look at the matters

8 that I worked on. It can't be reconciled. So I'm confident in my own record and -- yes.

9 Q And that letter that you became aware of in early June or May 3lst, that was

10 not the -- that was the beginning, but it wasn't the end of the attention that you were

11 going to sort of have directed at you from Congress. Correct?

12 A I would say from the media --

13 Q Well, you also got additional letters from Congressmen. Correct?

14 A Right.

15 Q Including Senator Grassley. Right?

16 A Right.

17 Q And communications from the chairman of this committee, Mr. Jordan?

18 A Right.

19 Q And those letters contained various allegations of partisanship on your part

20 or basically poor behavior at the FBI. Right?

21 A Yes. I was accused of -- and, look, the underlying accusations come from

22 some whistleblowers. I don't know who they are. But, if that had been raised and 23 those were true, people have every right to ask questions about me.

24 Q Sure. But what was your reaction when you saw those particular

25 allegations?

1 A Oh, sure.

2 Q We have gone through a number today. We talked about the idea that you

3 were somehow suppressing information regarding the Hunter Biden investigation, talked

4 about Mr. Bobulinski. We talked about the January 6 stuff. We talked about you

5 inappropriately opening an investigation in the Trump electors. We went through them,

6 like, methodically here today.

7 A Yes.

8 Q And those were all outlined in some fashion in these letters. So, when you

9 saw those allegations, again, what was your reaction to those allegations?

10 A I could not believe that FBI agents would present information which was not

11 accurate or lack candor to Members of Congress.

12 Q And is that what you believed is that the people who were making these 13 accusations were lacking candor?

14 A Again, I don't know who the whistleblowers are.

15 Q I understand, but whoever they were.

16 A But I believed -- here's what I believed, that if the information was accurately

17 portrayed in the letters by Members of Congress, if that information was accurately

18 portrayed from people, then I -- there's obvious defenses because it just wasn't true.

19 Q Right.

20 A And you don't have to believe me. You don't have to believe me. With

21 regard to Hunter Biden, you can talk to the Hunter Biden team all day long. With regard

22 to the electors case, you can talk to my bosses, Mr. D'Antuono. You can talk to the

23 Public Corruption Unit. You can talk to the U.S. Attorney's office. With regard to DT

24 matters, you can talk to WFO. With regard to if I was fired or not, that's evident.

25 What I wanted was someone from the FBI -- because they know the truth -- was

1 someone to defend me after 26 years. I understand they can't defend every allegation
2 that's made, so -- I wish they would have. Right? I didn't have that. And so that's 3 how I felt was I just wanted a defense. And I'm not blaming the FBI, because if they
4 would respond to accusations against FBI agents from the media, they would be doing
5 that a lot. So I'm not special.
6 But, when those accusations were made against me in July, I was, like, outraged.
7 Why -- no FBI agent that I know would put their reputation and honor on the line just to 8 square up. They wouldn't do that.
9 Q Because those allegations were just not true. Right?
10 A They're extremely serious, and it makes me look like a corrupt FBI agent.
11 Q And none of those allegations were true. Correct?
12 A No, they weren't. What I did do is I screwed up on social media, and I
13 should be accountable for that, and I have been. But those other allegations are just not 14 true.
15 Q And I know that, you know, you're a witness here today, and you don't have 16 visibility in the congressional investigation, but were you aware that this committee has 17 had testimony from 18 FBI -- former or current FBI agents with respect to allegations of 18 weaponization of the FBI, some of which involve these allegations that are directed at
19 you?
20 A I assume that there were FBI agents being called, sure.
21 Q And are you aware that not a single one of them when asked about you or 22 your conduct ever corroborated any of those allegations?
23 A It doesn't surprise me at all.
24 Q Does it surprise you that, despite the fact that this committee has heard
25 from 18 witnesses who are former or current FBI agents that really offer evidence that

1 those allegations against you were not true, that the public push or allegations that were 2 being sort of repeated by this committee never stopped? In other words, they 3 continued to make comments, and the media -- no one ever stopped the media from 4 inferring that you -- these allegations against you were true?
5 A Right. So I put that on whoever initiated these allegations against me.
6 I'm not accusing anybody. You know, I look at, potentially, if you're told something that 7 isn't completely honest or lacks candor, you're sort of a victim too. So I put that on 8 whoever, either through just not knowing or gross misrepresentation or -- but not 9 checking the facts or shading the truth, I put that on them. And I understand how the 10 media is today, believe me.
11 Q Uh-huh.
12 A And, yes, it's ongoing, and it will be. And I take responsibility for my part of 13 it too because guess what? If I wasn't on social media, no one would have had a 14 foothold to come after me. So I'm responsible too.
15 Q Well, that's one thing is the social media posts which, as you said, created an 16 appearance.
17 A But, if I hadn't done that, there's no foothold.
18 Q Okay.
19 A Because there's nothing I did as an FBI agent or supervisor to support any of
20 it.
21 Q Okay. How about are you aware that currently, as we speak, this
22 committee's website, the House Judiciary Committee's majority website, refers to a
23 Breitbart article, January 7, 2023, in which a GOP aide is quoted as saying that you,
24 Timothy Thibault, are a top priority for Republicans on this committee, and it describes 25 you as, quote, Public Enemy No. 1. Are you aware of that?

1 A I learned about that sometime at the end of the year.

2 Q Did that affect you in any way?

3 A I never want to be labeled Public Enemy No. 1, number one. No one does.

4 But, look, again, that's a person speaking to a media --

5 Q Well, that's this committee's website as we sit here today.

6 A Well, this committee I think was lied to. Okay? And it's within the

7 jurisdiction of Congress. Look, if I was that corrupt agent -- I fought corruption my

8 entire career, and I'm probably too passionate about corruption because I don't like it at

9 any level. If I was that corrupt, they should be investigating me, but I'm not. I was a

10 good agent who made a mistake on social media.

11 So, you know -- but, you know what? I'm here today because I want people to 12 know I'm not Public Enemy No. 1. And I appreciate that opportunity. Right?

13 Q Did you ever receive any threats that you think might be directed to the fact

14 that your name is out there and you've been labeled by prior partisans and others as

15 Public Enemy No. 1?

16 A I'm aware of some social media, you know, threats of doxing. I received

17 some hate mail, that kind of thing.

18 Q Do you think it has affected you professionally in any way in terms of your

19 reputation?

20 A Well, my reputation has definitely been affected. Again, I have a role in 21 that and I own my role. What I -- you know, you can't put toothpaste back in a tube.

22 And a lot of things are highly political these days. And, you know, I don't want to be a

23 victim, okay, at all. I just don't want to be a victim. But, yeah, I've received some stuff.

24 I mean, before I left the Bureau, there was an insider threat case against somebody that

25 was opened up. I don't know if they ever knew that they sent hate mail or someone put

1 a screw in the side of my FBI tire, you know. It was done intentionally. I don't know if
2 that was someone who did it on the street or if it was done while it was parked in an FBI
3 space. But I had two -- you know, another nail in my personal vehicle's tire while it was 4 parked there.
5 I don't know -- I don't want to be a conspiracy theorist. I don't want to be a
6 victim. Some things have happened. It's definitely affected me, but I had a role in it,
7 and I want to own that role. And if there's anything that can come out of this, FBI
8 agents, stay off of social media. Because I'm going to be the poster boy for that, and it's 9 a shame because I had a damn good career.
10 Q Well, I mean, to be fair too, I mean, you're not the only one who is an FBI 11 agent, former or current --
12 A Right.
13 Q -- who's been publicly -- whose name has been thrown out there publicly by 14 members of this committee --
15 A Sure.
16 Q -- who have not had social media posts.
17 A So, for instance, those two agents that worked on the Tony Bobulinski EC,
18 I'm aware that they received significant backlash for only doing their job. Why?
19 Because of my social media conduct and Mr. Bobulinski thinking I was a bad agent, that 20 put them in a bad spotlight. Those are the guys that are the victims, the true victims.
21 And no one came and spoke on their behalf. Right? They -- they're just line agents
22 doing their darn job.
23 Q Right.
24 A And so, hopefully, we'll get past this time, hopefully, but -- and I don't want
25 to be a victim here, so I'll tell that to the camera.

1 Q Okay. And there's a couple of questions I wanted to ask you about the
2 subject of the fake electors scheme.
3 A Sure.
4 Q You were asked in the last hour about your role in, I guess, reviewing the 5 predicating document in that case or that investigation. Is that right?
6 A Yes.
7 Q And there was an allegation specifically that there was an unbalanced type
8 of reliance on a media source that could be considered bias.
9 Do you recall those questions?
10 A Yes.
11 Q Okay. And I just want to ask you -- I know that you're not going to talk
12 about what was inside that document. But, hypothetically speaking, when you as an FBI 13 agent are evaluating media sourcing or stories as a basis for predication in an 14 investigation, does it matter what is inside that story? Like, for example, if you're 15 looking at a piece of reporting that is just based on, say, anonymous people's words,
16 maybe you would be a little bit more skeptical of what you were reading than if you were 17 looking at a piece of media that was, like, a live interview with a person making a
18 confession and you could see that for yourself. Like, do you understand the difference
19 that I'm trying to say?
20 A Oh, absolutely, yeah.
21 Q So, if you had a situation where a witness or even a subject or target in an
22 investigation was essentially confessing on live TV to his part in the fake electors scheme,
23 would you be able to dismiss the alleged bias of the media outlet that was airing that live
24 interview to some extent because you were seeing the witness make a confession live on 25 TV?

1 A I think I've sort of answered your question because I talked about --
2 Q Yeah.
3 A -- hey, you're able to go outside and look at property records.
4 Q Yes.
5 A Right? So, yes, we would definitely evaluate. If it's an anonymous source,
6 it's going to be harder to evaluate. But I don't want to go any further than that.
7 Q Okay. But the fake electors scheme eventually resulted in an indictment.
8 Are you aware of that?
9 A Yes, ma'am.
10 Q Okay. And, in that case, that was an indictment that was filed in the United 11 States District Court for the District of Columbia on August 1, 2023, and it's the United
12 States v. Donald J. Trump, where he is charged with three counts of conspiracy under 18,
13 U.S.C., 371, 1812(k), and 1512(c)(2),2 -- actually, four counts. Sorry -- and 18, U.S.C., 14 241.
15 You're aware of that indictment. Correct?
16 A Yes, ma'am.
17 Q In some ways --
18 A I haven't read it, but I'm aware of it.
19 Q Okay. But the investigation that we talked about, the fake electors
20 investigation that you -- the predicating document for which you reviewed, eventually 21 grew in part into this indictment. Correct?
22 A It's my belief, yes.
23 Q And an indictment means that a grand jury found probable cause to believe
24 there was enough evidence to level these charges against the defendant. Correct?
25 A Right.

1 Q You had no role in that process. Right?

2 A I had no role. But I do want to say that an indictment and an

3 opening -- even if you were to get an indictment, but you were to have an opening EC

4 that's not written properly --

5 Q Yes.

6 A -- that's a problem. That's going to undergo scrutiny --

7 Q Uh-huh.

8 A -- at pretrial hearings and during a trial. And so that opening -- what I'm

9 trying to say is that doesn't excuse a document that's not well predicated. Just because

10 they're able to get there doesn't mean, oh, you just take shortcuts on an opening

11 document. And that didn't happen. So I'm saying the document as it was opened is 12 squared away and solid.

13 Q And so is the indictment, as far as you know?

14 A Well, I'm not going to comment on that. That's not -- no.

15 Q Okay. All right. What else do we got here?

16 I guess the last thing I want to offer to you is just the opportunity to tell the

17 committee anything that you feel like we haven't asked you that you think it's important

18 for them to know about either your experience or any of the subjects that have been

19 raised here today?

20 A No. I think you've been pretty comprehensive. I want to be cooperative.

21 I regret that there's some things I couldn't fully discuss. I'm confident that, if there's a

22 time that comes later when I'm able to discuss that because something gets closed,

23 something goes to trial, I want to be completely cooperative. I owe it to myself. I owe

24 it to you guys to do that. So, you know, my cooperation may not end here.

25 Q Well, thank you for your cooperation, Mr. Thibault. Appreciate it.

A Thank you.

[redacted] We can go off the record.

2 [redacted] This is a transcribed interview of [redacted].

3 Chairman Jordan has requested this interview as part of the committee's

4 investigation of how and the extent to which the executive branch has coerced and

5 colluded with companies and other intermediaries to censor speech.

6 Would the witness please state your name for the record?

7 [redacted] My name is [redacted].

8 [redacted] On behalf of the committee, I want to thank you for appearing here

9 today to answer our questions. The Chairman also appreciates your willingness to

10 appear voluntarily.

11 My name is [redacted] and I am with Chairman Jordan's staff. I'll now have

12 everyone else from the committee who's here at the table and in the room introduce

13 themselves as well.

14 [redacted] [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

15 [redacted] [redacted] minority intern for House Judiciary Democrats.

16 [redacted] [redacted] with Ranking Member Nadler.

17 [redacted] [redacted] with House Judiciary Democrats.

18 [redacted] [redacted] with Ranking Member Nadler.

19 [redacted] [redacted] Jordan's staff.

20 Mr. Brown. Sorry. Could you spell your last name, please?

21 [redacted] [redacted]

22 Mr. Brown. Thank you.

23 [redacted] I'd like to now go over the ground rules and guidelines that we will

24 follow during today's interview.

25 Our questioning will proceed in rounds. The majority will ask questions first for 1

1 hour, and then the minority will have an opportunity to ask questions for an equal period
2 of time if they choose. We will alternate back and forth until there are no more
3 questions and the interview is over.
4 Typically, we take a short break at the end of each hour, but if you would like to
5 take a break apart from that, please just let us know.
6 As you can see, there is an official court reporter taking down everything we say to
7 make a written record, so we ask that you give verbal responses to all questions. Do
8 you understand?
9 [redacted] Yes.
10 [redacted] So the court reporter can take down a clear record, we will do our best
11 to limit the number of people directing questions at you during any given hour to just 12 those people on the staff whose turn it is.
13 Please try and speak clearly so the court reporter can understand and so the folks
14 down at the end of the table can hear you. It is important that we don't talk over one
15 another or interrupt each other if we can help it, and that goes for everybody present at
16 today's interview.
17 We encourage witnesses who appear before the committee to freely consult with 18 counsel if they so chose. It is my understanding that you are appearing today with 19 counsel. Is that correct?
20 [redacted] Correct.
21 [redacted] Could counsel please state your name for the record?
22 Mr. Brown. Reg Brown, Kirkland & Ellis.
23 Ms. Gallagher. Maureen Gallagher, Kirkland & Ellis.
24 [redacted] Thank you.
25 We want you to answer our questions in the most complete and truthful manner

as possible, so we will take our time. If you have any questions or if you do not understand one of our questions, please just let us know. Our questions will cover a wide range of topics, so if you need clarification at any point, just say so.

If you honestly don't know the answer to a question or do not remember, it is best not to guess. Please give us your best recollection. And it is okay to tell us if you learned the information from someone else; just indicate how you came to know the information.

If there are things you don't know or can't remember, just say so, and please inform us who, to the best of your knowledge, might be able to provide a more complete answer to the question.

You should also understand that although this interview is not under oath that, by law, you are required to answer questions from Congress truthfully. Do you understand that?

[redacted] Yes.

[redacted] This also applies to questions posed by congressional staff in an interview. Do you understand this?

[redacted] Yes.

[redacted] Witnesses that knowingly provide false testimony could be subject to criminal prosecution for perjury or for making false statements under 18 U.S.C. section 1001. Do you understand this?

[redacted] I do.

[redacted] Is there any reason you are unable to provide truthful answers to today's questions?

[redacted] Not that I know of.

[redacted] Finally, I'd like to make a note that the content of what we discuss

1 here today is confidential. We ask that you not speak about what we discuss in this
2 interview to any outside individuals to preserve the integrity of our investigation.
3 For the same reason, the marked exhibits that we will use today will remain with
4 the court reporter so that they can go in the official transcript, and any copies of those
5 exhibits will be returned to us when we wrap up.
6 That is the end of my preamble. Is there anything that my colleagues from the 7 minority would like to add?
8 [redacted] No, thank you.
9 [redacted] Counsel, I understand you --
10 Mr. Brown. Before we start, in addition to the court reporter, the interview
11 today is being videotaped, unlike in prior hearings. There are multiple cameras and 12 additional audio equipment.
13 We would like to object to videotaping, given the nature of the work that the 14 witness does in both his current and former employment.
15 To the extent the committee decides it would like to release some video of the 16 witness, we'd respectfully request the opportunity to be heard by the committee prior to 17 the release because of the potential risk to the safety of the witness.
18 [redacted] Thank you.
19 We will now start the first hour of questioning. The clock reads 10:11.
20 EXAMINATION
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q Could you state your full name again for the record, please?
23 A My full name is [redacted].
24 Q And what is your current place of employment?
25 A Meta.

1 Q And what is your current title?

2 A I'm a security engineering manager.

3 Q And how long have you worked in that role?

4 A At -- sorry -- Meta or in this role?

5 Q In this specific role.

6 A About 4 years.

7 Q Beginning with college, what is your educational background?

8 A I went to college at Boston University.

9 Q And what degree did you receive?

10 A I finished in 2003 with an aerospace engineering degree.

11 Q And after college?

12 A I went to graduate school.

13 Q And where did you go?

14 A The Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta.

15 Q And what degree did you receive?

16 A A master's degree in aerospace engineering.

17 Q Did you receive any other post-college degrees?

18 A Yes. Later, I went to New York University.

19 Q And what degree did you receive?

20 A A master's degree in cybersecurity.

21 Q Starting with your first job after college, what is your professional

22 background?

23 A Right after college, I went into the FBI -- sorry, after graduate school. After 24 college, I went to graduate school. After graduate school, I went to the FBI.

25 Q Okay. And what year was that?

1 A '05.

2 Q And when you joined the FBI, what was your first position and with which

3 division?

4 A Special agent. My first -- I mean, first, I went into the training academy.

5 And when I graduated, I went to the New York Field Office.

6 Q And what was your next position at the FBI?

7 A I was in the New York Field Office for a number of years before going to

8 headquarters.

9 Q When did you move to headquarters?

10 A It was in 2013.

11 Q What was your position in the New York Field Office prior to moving to

12 headquarters?

13 A I was a special agent for the entirety of my time in the New York Field Office.

14 Q And just at a very high level, what were you working on?

15 Mr. Brown. With respect, he can tell you things that are in the public domain.

16 The FBI is not here, and he's here to talk about his role at Meta. So I'm going to ask the

17 witness to keep it at a very high level. And if you want to know more about his FBI

18 work, you'd need to talk to the Bureau.

19 [redacted] At a high level, I worked on national security issues.

20 BY [redacted]

21 Q And what was your position when you moved to headquarters?

22 A Supervisory special agent.

23 Q And at a high level, what were your responsibilities in that position?

24 A I was in the Cyber Division.

25 Q How long were you in this role for?

1 A Eighteen months.

2 Q And what was your next position?

3 A Moved back to the New York Field Office. This was a temporary

4 assignment to headquarters, a typical assignment for 18 months. After that, I returned

5 to the New York Field Office.

6 Q And did you continue to do work that you were doing prior to your move to

7 headquarters?

8 A At a high level, yes. And then I became a supervisory special agent in the

9 field office.

10 Q And how long were you in the New York Field Office after your move back?

11 A Until -- came back in 2014, until about 2017.

12 Q And in 2017, what was your next position?

13 A I had another temporary duty assignment to headquarters in the FBI.

14 Q And at a high level, what was your assignment?

15 A It was related to foreign influence.

16 Q And how long was this assignment for?

17 A Five to 6 months, if I recall.

18 Q At the conclusion of the assignment, where did you --

19 A I returned to the New York Field Office.

20 Q And how long were you in the New York Field Office at that point?

21 A Just several months, until I left the FBI.

22 Q So what was your final position at the FBI?

23 A Supervisory special agent in the New York Field Office.

24 Q And when you left the FBI, what was your next position?

25 A Facebook, now Meta.

1 Q And when did you join Facebook?
2 A 2018.
3 Q And what was your position when you joined the company?
4 A I was a threat investigator.
5 Q Which team were you part of when you first joined?
6 A I was part of the integrity organization within Meta.
7 Q And how long were you a threat investigator for?
8 A About a year. Maybe just a bit longer than a year.
9 Q And what was your next position?
10 A Manager.
11 Q And is that the same position you hold today?
12 A Roughly. The scope has changed somewhat and grown over time, but it's 13 the same position, yeah. I manage people at Facebook.
14 Q How has the scope changed over time?
15 A Over time, my role has expanded to include additional teams and additional 16 responsibilities.
17 Q Which additional teams and responsibilities?
18 A Do you mean currently, at the time, or -- 19 Q Just from the time you became manager, you mentioned that your 20 additional teams, responsibilities as part of the scope expanded. If you could just say a 21 little bit about what teams, what responsibilities. How did your role change --
22 A Sure.
23 Q -- if it's the same position?
24 A So, when I started as a manager, I managed a threat intelligence team that 25 was focused on state-sponsored actors. And over time, I helped manage additional

1 teams. I helped manage the influence operations team, another threat intelligence
2 team within our group. And I currently manage a number of groups within the
3 department.
4 Q When you were a threat investigator, who did you report to?
5 A I think I had two managers during my time as a threat investigator. One
6 was [redacted], who is my current manager as well.
7 Q And who is [redacted]?
8 A He's my current manager.
9 Q What's his title?
10 A He is the director that runs my department.
11 Q And what's the name of your department?
12 A Integrity, Investigations, and Intelligence.
13 Q Who was your other manager when you were a threat investigator?
14 A [redacted].
15 Q And who is [redacted]?
16 A She was my former manager and a colleague later.
17 Q What was her title when she was your manager?
18 A I believe it was security analyst manager or something like that, but I don't 19 have a perfect recollection of what the exact title was.
20 Q What's her title today?
21 A She is no longer with the company.
22 Q When did she leave?
23 A To the best of my knowledge, it was during this past summer, but I don't
24 know the exact date.
25 Q What was her title before she left the company?

1 A She was in a different role that was outside of my department. I'm not
2 sure what her exact title was.
3 Q Do you know which department she was with?
4 A I don't actually know exactly. It was within the larger integrity
5 organization. I don't know exactly what the department was called.
6 Q When did she leave your department for this other department?
7 A I don't recall the exact date. I want to say about a year prior, but that's a
8 guess. I don't have a perfect recollection.
9 Q And you said Bill's current title is director of integrity investigations. What 10 was his title when he was your --
11 A My manager?
12 Q -- manager?
13 A I think security engineering manager or something like that.
14 Q When you first joined, how large was your team?
15 A The team that I joined?
16 Q Yeah.
17 A I don't recall the precise number of people on that team.
18 Q Do you have a ballpark sense?
19 A The team was growing rapidly at that time, so I'd rather not guess. I don't 20 exactly recall what the total number was.
21 Q Where were you located? Which office?
22 A D.C. office.
23 Q Do you know how many people on your team were in the D.C. office?
24 A I don't.
25 Q Do you have a ballpark sense?

1 A Several people, but I don't have a precise number.

2 Q The team as a whole -- well, let me ask -- let me strike that.

3 When you first joined, was it Bill or Susan who was your first manager?

4 A Let me try to recall.

5 I believe it was Bill at first, and then changed to Susan.

6 Q You mentioned that the team was expanding when you joined. By how

7 much did it expand?

8 A We hired several new teammates during my first few months there.

9 Q So we'll say by end of 2018 or 2019, do you have a sense of how big the 10 team was at that point?

11 A Not really. Not that I'm comfortable guessing.

12 Q Was it more or less than 50?

13 A I don't have anything to add beyond my previous answer.

14 Q You're not sure.

15 A I'm not sure.

16 Q How many offices had people on your team?

17 A How many offices?

18 Q Uh-huh.

19 A At least two, the office in California and D.C., but there may have been more

20 offices.

21 Q So in 2019 you become manager? Is that right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q At that point, in 2019, who were you reporting?

24 A Bill Slattery.

25 Q And in your first role, when you were a threat investigator, was there anyone

1 that reported to you?

2 A No. I was an individual contributor.

3 Q When you became manager, did you have anyone reporting to you?

4 A Yes.

5 Q How many people?

6 A Approximately eight.

7 Q Did you have a primary deputy or anyone assisting you?

8 A I did not.

9 Q At this time, how many people were reporting to Bill?

10 A I don't know.

11 Q What were the roles of the eight people who were reporting to you?

12 A They were all threat investigators.

13 Q Has the size of your team changed since 2019?

14 A To today?

15 Q Yes.

16 A Yes.

17 Q How so?

18 A I manage multiple teams now. And so they all have people on those teams

19 that are managed by managers. So my scope is larger in terms of the people, overall, in 20 my organization.

21 Q And how many managers do you oversee?

22 A I oversee three managers now.

23 Q And who are they?

24 A Is there a specific reason or person that you're interested in?

25 Q I'm just here to gather information on your role.

1 A I'd rather not provide the names of the people that I currently manage.
2 Q What are their three titles?
3 A They're all security engineering managers.
4 Q How long have you been supervising these three individuals?
5 A Since April of this year, 2023.
6 Q And what about before April of this year?
7 A I had a different role. We -- I mean, the same department. We
8 restructured, and so my role changed.
9 Q What was the structure before the restructuring in April of 2023?
10 A I had a little bit less of a scope. So I still was responsible for some of the 11 teams that I manage now, but my scope expanded in April.
12 Q Do each of these managers manage one team or multiple teams?
13 A One team.
14 Q And what is the name of each of those three teams?
15 A One is called counterespionage. It's a state-sponsored hacking team. The 16 other is influence operations. And the third is dangerous organizations and individuals.
17 Q You mentioned that the scope of your responsibilities changed when you
18 became a manager in 2019. Of those three teams, what was added to your portfolio 19 and when?
20 A Okay. So the first team that I managed was the counterespionage team.
21 Over time, I helped manage the influence operations team in addition to my 22 counterespionage team. There were other teams that I managed in the interim period.
23 And then, today, I manage those three teams. It's a branch of my organization that I
24 manage.
25 Q Is there anyone you oversee besides these three teams?

1 A I do.

2 Q Who else do you oversee?

3 A I oversee two senior individual contributors in my organization. And then I

4 am also helping to cover while someone is on leave for an additional team.

5 Q So the two senior contributors, what is their role? What are they

6 responsible for?

7 A They are threat investigators, and they help -- because of their level and

8 position, they help run the department, part of my department, and help across all of the 9 teams.

10 Q And who are they?

11 A Same answer as before. I'd rather not provide their names.

12 Q And what is the team that you're managing while someone is on leave?

13 A Say that again?

14 Q What team are you helping to cover?

15 A Oh. I help manage one of our threat intelligence teams while someone is 16 on leave.

17 Q How many threat intelligence teams are there?

18 A In my department?

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A There are a number of teams in my department that are focused on 21 different problem areas. I don't have the exact number off the top of my head.

22 Q Do you have a ballpark sense?

23 A There are a number of teams.

24 Q More than 12?

25 A I don't have anything to add. I just don't have the exact number off the top

1 of my head.

2 Q Do you have sense of -- you manage three teams, two senior contributors,

3 and are covering for one additional team -- what percentage of the department that

4 accounts for?

5 A There are three pillars in the department, and I manage one of them.

6 Q And what are the names of the three pillars?

7 A I don't think that they have precise names.

8 Q Okay. How --

9 A They're just groupings of teams.

10 Q How are the groupings of teams understood internally?

11 A We don't have a precise nomenclature to describe them. They're just 12 groupings with three leaders that report to Bill.

13 Q Okay. Who are the other two leaders besides you?

14 A They're my counterparts that help run the other pillars.

15 Q And what are their names?

16 A I'd rather not provide their names.

17 Q Are you refusing to answer?

18 A If you have a specific question about, like, an issue, I'm happy to talk about

19 it, but just don't want to provide the names generally of people that work there if it's not

20 relevant to the topic today.

21 Q Happy to discuss with your counsel, but, as discussed, if there's an objection,

22 that needs to be stated and the grounds need to be stated. So, again --

23 Mr. Brown. He just gave you an answer. His answer was, if it's particularly

24 relevant to something, you know, he's happy to give you names, but he doesn't want to 25 give you the names otherwise, given the nature of the work that they do.

1 He's here voluntarily. If there are specific questions that you want to ask where
2 the name of the individual, as opposed to the work that they do, is important, perhaps
3 he'll feel comfortable answering.
4 [redacted] If --
5 Mr. Brown. He's answered your question. You might not like the -- 6 [redacted] Well, so far, he hasn't identified what the three pillars are.
7 Apparently they don't have names.
8 Mr. Brown. If they don't have names, then --
9 [Cross-talk.]
10 [redacted] -- practically.
11 Mr. Brown. I mean, what's he supposed to tell you? Is he supposed to make 12 up a name? I don't understand what you want him to do.
13 [redacted] Well, there's some sort of internal organization to have three pillars
14 and to have three managers.
15 Mr. Brown. If you want an org chart from me, you're free to ask for that. In 16 fact, we suggested that many months ago.
17 But the -- you know, the witness is going to give you honest answers, and as long
18 as he's giving you honest answers, I feel like he's doing his job here today, so I don't want
19 to badger him.
20 But I think he specifically said, if you had a particular reason for needing to know
21 someone's name and you articulated it, then he would respond.
22 [redacted] It's not a matter of an honest answer or a dishonest answer. He said
23 he's not providing an answer.
24 Mr. Brown. No, he said he'd rather not, and if you have a specific question, if 25 you could articulate the reason why you need the names --

1 [redacted] We are not going to go through and have to justify every single
2 question. We --
3 Mr. Brown. I didn't ask you to.
4 [redacted] There's not a practical way to ask about relationships if we're not sure
5 who the individuals are.
6 Mr. Brown. Why don't we go off the record, if that's okay?
7 [redacted] We can go off the record.
8 [Discussion off the record.]
9 [redacted] Back on the record.
10 BY [redacted]
11 Q Are you familiar with the terms "misinformation," "disinformation," and 12 "malinformation"?
13 A I am.
14 Q To your understanding, what is the difference between those terms?
15 A I think so. Oh, sorry, what --
16 Q What is the difference between --
17 A Oh, what is the difference?
18 Misinformation is, to my understanding, information that is erroneous or wrong
19 that's shared to someone without realizing that fact.
20 The other terms, I think you said "disinformation" and "malinformation"?
21 Disinformation, to me, means information that is shared with the intent to 22 deceive, so there's a purpose behind sharing that information. It could be truthful; it
23 could be erroneous.
24 Malinformation, I'm actually not quite sure about the definition of that term. I
25 don't use it frequently.

1 Q Have you heard the term "malinformation" used before?
2 A I have, yeah.
3 Q In what context?
4 A Like, reading online, people mentioning it, using that term sort of somewhat
5 interchangeably with the previous two terms that you mentioned. But I don't tend to 6 use it.
7 Q To your understanding, what is the most common definition of
8 "malinformation"?
9 A I wouldn't want to speculate because I don't typically use the term, so I'm 10 not sure how other people define it. I typically use the terms "misinformation" or 11 "disinformation" in my work.
12 Q At Meta, do others use the term "malinformation"?
13 A They might. Not frequently. Not in conversations with me that I recall.
14 Q What about when you were at the FBI, did --
15 A "Malinformation"? It's not a term I frequently used or heard.
16 Q Have you ever heard any individual from a government agency use the term
17 "malinformation"?
18 A I don't recall a specific instance. It's certainly possible. It doesn't stick out
19 in my mind of someone that has used it.
20 Q Do you work with the public policy or government relations team at --
21 A At Meta?
22 Q -- Meta?
23 A We've had interactions. There are a number of teams that work in that
24 capacity, and I've had interactions with them, but not, like, super-closely.
25 Q And for those interactions you did have, what's the nature of those

1 interactions?

2 A Sorry. Let's go over specific teams that you're interested in.

3 Q Well, let's take a step back. What is the name of the public policy or 4 government relations team?

5 A I don't actually know their exact names, but there are a number of people

6 that work with issues related to government interaction. So, if you give me, like, a

7 specific instance or an example, I can talk about that team.

8 Q Which team do you have in mind?

9 A I'm just trying to answer your question. So, maybe, could you repeat your

10 question?

11 Q Sure. Have you worked with individuals whose primary responsibility is 12 interfacing with the U.S. Government?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And what is the name of that team or of those teams?

15 A I think a number of teams would fit that description, and I don't know

16 exactly all of their names. One of the teams that I recall that I worked with is LE

17 outreach, or law enforcement outreach, team.

18 Q Okay. And who leads that team?

19 A I don't actually know who leads that team currently.

20 Q What about previously?

21 A I don't know who the head of the department is for that team, or was.

22 Q When you have interactions with that team, who do you interact with on 23 that team?

24 A On that team? One name I recall is [redacted] on that team. But I've 25 interacted with a number of individuals on that team.

1 Q Any others that came to mind?

2 A Not currently.

3 Q Do you know what [redacted] title is?

4 A I don't know his precise title.

5 Q Do you know who [redacted] is?

6 A I do.

7 Q And who is he?

8 A He is the director of security policy at Meta.

9 Q Do you work with him?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And what's the nature of your interactions?

12 A [redacted] is a close partner, his team is a close partner to the teams that I run.

13 Q And is he in a department different than yours, or a different division within 14 the same department?

15 A Different department and division. It's a totally different function. He's in 16 the policy function.

17 Q What about [redacted]?

18 A I do know [redacted], yes.

19 Q And do you work with him?

20 A Yes. Not as closely as with [redacted] but I do work with [redacted]

21 Q When you're working with [redacted] what's the nature of your interactions?

22 A Sure. So we are cross-functional partners that are focused on disruptions

23 of threat actors on the platform. And our roles are different, but the mission or the 24 function that we collaborate on is the same, which is disruption of threat actors on the 25 platform.

1 Q And how are your roles different?

2 A So David is responsible for the security policy function, and I'm responsible

3 for the threat intelligence and investigative function.

4 Q And how do those two responsibilities interact with each other?

5 A There are a number of cross-functional partners that collaborate closely,

6 with different, you know, skill sets and disciplines that they bring to the table. But we

7 are all focused on the application of our discipline for the disruption of threat actors on

8 the platform. So the nature of my work is threat investigations and intelligence.

9 Q And so, when you and your team are conducting analysis, are you

10 communicating that to David?

11 A Among other partners, yes.

12 Q Who are some of the other partners you will pass your analysis to?

13 A There are legal partners that are part of our cross-functional group. There

14 are strategic communications partners that are part of our group. And there are a 15 number of others at times that we interact with as part of that work.

16 Q Are you familiar with Facebook's community standards?

17 A Generally.

18 Q At a high level, what are those?

19 A At a high level, they are terms of service, or rules, that people should follow

20 when they are interacting with our platform.

21 Q As part of your responsibilities, do you play any role in shaping these

22 policies?

23 A My team has played a role, to provide input into the shaping of some of 24 those policies. But, typically, we don't -- my team does not write policies or create

25 them. We sometimes provide input.

1 Q And for which policies did your team provide input?
2 A Over time? In general?
3 Q Yes.
4 A Probably a number of policies. One that comes to mind is brigading, for
5 example.
6 Q What is that?
7 A Brigading is a policy that prohibits coordinated harassment of people on the
8 platform.
9 Q Which other policies has your team provided input on?
10 A That's the one that comes to mind right now.
11 Q Have you or anyone on your team provided input on the 12 coordinated-inauthentic-behavior-related policies?
13 A It's one of the -- CIB, coordinated inauthentic behavior, is one of the policies
14 we enforce. If we did provide -- your question was about input into that policy?
15 Q Yes.
16 A If we did provide input into that policy, it was prior to my time. I think the 17 policy was formed before I joined Meta.
18 Q What about the hack-and-leak policy?
19 A Yes. I'm familiar with this policy.
20 Q And have you or your team provided input on that policy?
21 A Yes. I believe we provided some input into, like, the thresholds for that 22 policy. But I wasn't involved in writing the actual policy.
23 Q When, approximately, did your team provide input on the thresholds for this
24 policy?
25 A It was during 2020, but I don't remember the exact date or month.

1 Q Did you, specifically -- you mentioned your team -- you, specifically, provide
2 input on this as well?
3 A I was involved with the discussions around the policy. I don't recall
4 whether it was -- it would've been a group discussion, so I don't recall the specifics of who
5 may have provided specific inputs.
6 Q And by "group discussion," do you mean individuals from multiple teams?
7 A Yeah.
8 Q And which other teams?
9 A So the two that come to mind would have been security policy team, and 10 then my team would've had a role in providing input.
11 Q Do you recall if [redacted] was involved in these discussions?
12 A I don't recall specifically, but likely he would've. He was part of the security 13 policy team at the time.
14 Q What about [redacted]?
15 A Same answer.
16 Q Did you have any discussions with [redacted] regarding this policy?
17 A Not in person, no.
18 Q What about otherwise?
19 A I just mean not directly with [redacted].
20 Q When you said "thresholds" a couple answers earlier, what did you mean by
21 that?
22 A Right. So the role of my teams is investigations and intelligence, so we 23 provide input into how threat actors might manifest on the platform and what we might 24 observe and how we might detect their behavior on the platforms. So that would've 25 been -- that's what I'm referring to.

1 So describing the type of evidence or information that we would try to look for or
2 collect or how we would frame that information is the nature of the discussions that
3 would've been the input that I would've -- me or my teams would've provided.
4 Q Have you or your team provided any input on any of the 5 misinformation-related policies?
6 A Not to my knowledge.
7 Q Do you recall the reason why the company developed a hack-and-leak policy
8 during 2020?
9 A Generally I do. And this was a number of years ago, so my recollection isn't 10 perfect, but I understand why you're asking the question. It's an important question.
11 So, to my knowledge, in preparation for the major elections generally, we conduct
12 a risk assessment to understand what types of -- basically, like a threat-modeling exercise
13 to understand what types of risks might be likely and where we need to prepare.
14 And so my understanding is that this was one of the risks that we highlighted as 15 potentially likely. And so we would've wanted to prepare for that risk by understanding 16 what our policy landscape was, what our processes were, and then preparing the teams.
17 Q Do you recall how long you spent helping to prepare this policy?
18 A Like, over time?
19 Q Sure. Just from when you first started to when the policy was adopted, do 20 you have a ballpark sense of --
21 A I don't have a precise recollection, because there was a number issues that 22 we would've been discussing. This wasn't a singular issue that I was focused on at the 23 time, so it would've been part of a lot of work that we were doing at that time. So I
24 don't recall, like, when we first started and then ended the discussions on the 25 hack-and-leak policy, but months.

1 Q What other issues were you working on?

2 A So, generally, I was covering issues related to threat actors on the platform.

3 So there were a number of investigations that we -- me or my teams would've been

4 conducting across a number of problem areas. That's the majority of my work, is

5 tracking threat actors, supporting the teams that are doing that, enforcing against and

6 removing them from the platform.

7 Q So which policies in the community standards is your team responsible for

8 helping to enforce?

9 A So you mentioned CIB already. The other policies: cybersecurity policy,

10 which deals with instances of hacking or attempted hacking on the platform; and then a

11 set of policies related to dangerous organizations and individuals.

12 Q And when it comes to your team's assistance with enforcing --

13 A Uh-huh.

14 Q -- it sounds like you're providing analysis. Is it your team -- is it responsible 15 for ultimately making the decision of whether to enforce or not?

16 A Whether to enforce or not?

17 Q Yes.

18 A Typically, no, not my team. We provide an assessment and a

19 recommendation. And then there's a cross-functional group of partners that makes a

20 decision based on the analysis and the evidence that we provided of whether the policy

21 thresholds have been met. And if there is a consensus decision that they have, then my

22 team would enforce it.

23 Q And who is part of this cross-functional group?

24 A So I mentioned the security policy team is one of those core partners; legal

25 team; communications -- security communications; and then I3 are some of the ones that

1 come to mind.

2 Q What is I3?

3 A Sorry. That's my organization -- integrity, investigations, and intelligence.

4 Q When you provide an assessment and a recommendation, is that provided in 5 writing?

6 A Typically. And sometimes with a brief as well, verbal brief.

7 Q And as manager, do you review every recommendation that your team

8 makes?

9 A That has changed over time. In the current role, I have frontline managers

10 that manage specific areas. It's more their responsibility to, you know, review -- I do

11 read them and I review them, but probably not every one of them. When I was the 12 frontline manager, I did review every one of them.

13 Q So, once your team has passed along your assessment and recommendation,

14 do you always hear back, one way or another, from the cross-functional group on what

15 the decision is?

16 A I would say typically. There may be instances in which that didn't happen,

17 but typically that's the process.

18 Q And do they provide any rationale regarding their decision, or do they

19 provide just the decision itself?

20 A Typically, there's some rationale, and that could take several shapes.

21 Q Such as?

22 A It could be, you know, discussed verbally during our briefing. It could be,

23 you know, followed up on with a written note.

24 Q And then it goes back to your team, because your team is responsible for 25 actually executing the decision?

1 A Right, on the set of issues that we investigate and enforce. I want to be
2 clear, we're not the only team that disables accounts or enforces at Meta. But for the 3 issues that we investigate, yes, it would come back to one of my teams, and then they 4 would actually, you know, enforce on the accounts.
5 Q How frequently -- or, I shouldn't say "how frequently." For the typical case,
6 how long does it take from when the recommendation is given to when a decision is
7 made?
8 A That can fluctuate. So there is a range of time.
9 Q Do you have a -- what is that range?
10 A It could be a number of factors. For example, we may be asked, if there is 11 an additional piece of evidence that, you know, we can investigate or provide, maybe
12 there's additional analysis. It really can range from a few days to a few weeks.
13 Q Are you familiar with the term "attribution"?
14 A Yes.
15 Q And what does that term mean?
16 A I mean, I think I know what you're referring to, but could you give -- like, that 17 term can be used in --
18 Q Sure. The way I'm intending to use it -- and correct me if you have a 19 different understanding -- is, in your line of work, part of the analysis might be whether 20 an account is foreign or domestic --
21 A Sure.
22 Q -- so that'd be analysis for an attribution. Is that right?
23 A Yeah. I understand your question.
24 Yes, "attribution" refers to who is behind a specific operation, whether we can 25 make a connection to a specific department, agency, country -- so, whatever level, the

1 threat actor behind the operation.

2 Q Since you've been at the company, has the

3 coordinated-inauthentic-behavior policy changed?

4 A Not materially, to my knowledge. I think it still has the same elements that

5 I was aware of when I first joined the company.

6 Q Are you familiar with policy forums that the company has?

7 A I have a vague understanding of what they are.

8 Q Have you ever attended one?

9 A No. Not to my knowledge, I don't think.

10 Q Have you had any interactions with [redacted]?

11 A I'm trying to recall any inter- -- it's possible I may have been on group calls

12 with her. I don't recall any specific ones. And I don't recall any ones in, you know,

13 one-on-one settings with her.

14 Mr. Brown. Could we go off the record for a second?

15 [redacted] Yeah, we can go off the record.

16 [Discussion off the record.]

17 Mr. Brown. We're ready to go back on the record.

18 [redacted] Could I go back to your previous question about [redacted]?

19 [redacted] Yes.

20 [redacted] It's possible I was on group calls with her. I don't recall any

21 specific calls, but, having been at the company for just this long, it's possible I've been on

22 email exchanges where, you know, we were both on the "To" or "CC" line, or group calls.

23 But I don't have specific meetings that come to mind.

24 BY [redacted]

25 Q With respect to your line of work, do you work with or have any interactions

1 with the U.S. Government?

2 A Yes, periodically.

3 Q And which agencies do you interact with?

4 A Mostly -- the two agencies that come to mind is the FBI and DHS.

5 Q And which offices or sub-agencies within DHS do you most frequently

6 interact with?

7 A Not recently -- I haven't interacted with DHS recently. In the past, it was

8 mainly CISA, Cybersecurity -- sorry.

9 Q Infrastructure and Security Agency?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And what was the nature of your interactions with CISA?

12 A We had regular meetings as part of election preparedness with DHS. So

13 most of the meetings that I was a part of or that I'm aware of were usually around

14 election integrity.

15 Q And were these meetings the, quote/unquote, "USG-industry meetings" with 16 multiple members of --

17 A Sorry. With both industry and government?

18 Q Yes.

19 A I think we had both -- with just government, and then industry and

20 government.

21 Q For the ones with just government, who from the government side would

22 attend those meetings?

23 A The names, you mean?

24 Q Let's start first with just the agency and --

25 A Are we still talking about DHS --

1 Q Yes.

2 A -- specifically CISA? So I don't know the specific departments. I'm not

3 familiar with the structure of the agency. But it was DHS -- as far as I knew, it was CISA,

4 but I didn't know specific departments.

5 Q And who from CISA?

6 A Two names that come to mind was Chris Krebs and -- I think his name was 7 Matt Masterson. But there were others; I just don't recall their names.

8 Q How many government officials would be on a typical call?

9 A I don't recall. I think it might vary. And some of them may have been

10 video calls, like, video meetings, and some may have been phone calls, so I'm not

11 precisely sure how many people would attend each one.

12 Q Who from Facebook would attend?

13 A It was -- I don't know that there was, like, a standard set of people that 14 would attend.

15 Q Who from Facebook most frequently attended?

16 A [redacted] would have been one person, or [redacted] that would've been regular

17 in those meetings.

18 Q And, to your recollection, these meetings were just CISA and Facebook?

19 A This specific -- I think this specific set of meetings was CISA and Facebook,

20 yeah.

21 Q Do you recall when these meetings started?

22 A I don't.

23 Q Did they start prior to the 2020 U.S. election?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Do you know how long they continued?

1 A I don't.

2 Q Did they continue in the lead-up to the 2022 midterm election?

3 A I don't recall.

4 Q In the lead-up to the 2020 election, how frequently did these meetings

5 occur?

6 A I don't know about the -- they were regular. I don't know the specific

7 interval that they were on. I didn't own those meetings; I was an attendee. And I

8 didn't attend every one of them. So I'm not exactly sure.

9 Q Were you invited to every meeting?

10 A Every meeting? I'm not sure. I think I was regularly invited.

11 Q Maybe another way to ask the question is: Were you attending the 12 meetings because you were invited due to the subject matter of that specific meeting, or

13 were you invited to all of them and sometimes you had a conflict and just couldn't make

14 the regular scheduled meeting?

15 A I think it's the latter.

16 Q And during these -- we'll call them the CISA-Facebook meetings, who is 17 sharing information with who?

18 A Sharing information?

19 Q Who's presenting at these meetings? Who's speaking?

20 A So I think it was -- there would typically be an agenda. Both sides would 21 speak.

22 I'm also trying to recall whether -- I don't have a perfect recollection of whether

23 they were only CISA-Meta or whether the FBI -- I know that there are meetings in which

24 CISA, FBI, and Meta met together, but I don't know if it's a separate series of meetings or 25 the same series where just one of the agencies attended.

1 Q And I think you said earlier it was regarding election-security-related issues?
2 A Yes. Yeah.
3 Q Were there any other topics raised during these meetings?
4 A The recollection I have is, the central kind of theme for all of the meetings in 5 which CISA was present was around election integrity or, you know, protecting the
6 elections.
7 Q And in advance of a CISA-Facebook meeting or if it's CISA and perhaps other
8 government agencies and Facebook, would there be an internal Facebook meeting first to 9 prepare for that meeting?
10 A Not that I'm aware. Not typically.
11 Q Do you know if anyone took notes during these meetings?
12 A I don't know.
13 Q Do you recall ever seeing meeting minutes circulated by anyone at Facebook
14 or by the government?
15 A No, I don't.
16 Q For the set of meetings attended by CISA, FBI, perhaps others, for the 17 individuals from the FBI who would attend these meetings, were all those individuals
18 from the FBI part of the Foreign Influence Task Force?
19 A I don't know if they were all part of the Foreign Influence Task Force.
20 Foreign Influence Task Force people usually were on those calls. I don't know who else
21 may have attended.
22 Q And then you said there were meetings with multiple agencies and industry,
23 multiple companies --
24 A Uh-huh.
25 Q -- is that right? How frequently would you attend those meetings?

1 A I think they were held, again, regularly. I don't know the specific interval.
2 And I would attend -- it would fluctuate over time. I would attend most of them at some 3 points and then some of them at other points.
4 But in -- I think the time period you were interested in is 2020 -- I would attend
5 fairly regularly, I would say, unless I had a conflict.
6 Q In advance of these meetings, would there be internal Facebook meetings to 7 prepare for them?
8 A Meetings, no. I don't recall any, like, preparatory meetings at the time.
9 Sometimes we would chat, you know, about any topics that we would want to share or 10 topics that we had to share.
11 Q Who from Facebook would most frequently attend these USG-industry
12 meetings?
13 A So I think the meeting series was owned by Nathaniel. He would be the 14 most frequent person to organize them and speak at them and attend them.
15 Q How many people from your team would attend?
16 A From I3? From the org that I run?
17 Q Uh-huh.
18 A There may have been more than me that attended at different times.
19 Maybe several people. But I don't have, like, an exact number. It wasn't a standard
20 attendance.
21 Q Were you the one from your team that would most frequently attend?
22 A Those USG-industry meetings?
23 Q Yes.
24 A From I3? I think that's likely. But I'm not sure.
25 Q Is there anyone else that attended most of them?

1 A Most of them? I don't know. I don't think so.

2 Q What about the CISA-Facebook meetings? Who else from your team would

3 attend?

4 A It's possible that others attended, but I don't recall specific names, besides

5 me, who would've attended.

6 Q And for the CISA-FBI-Facebook meetings?

7 A Sorry. What was the previous question?

8 Q Sure. Who would most frequently attend from your team for those

9 meetings?

10 A I meant, the previous question you asked me was about which set of

11 meetings?

12 Q The previous question was just about the CISA-Facebook ones, and I was

13 going to ask CISA-FBI- --

14 A Same answer probably. Those tend to blend in my mind, and I don't recall

15 if it was the same series of meetings that CISA and FBI attended or a separate set of 16 meetings with CISA. But I'm sure I also wasn't in all of those meetings that were

17 happening.

18 Q Do you know what the Global Engagement Center is?

19 A Generally, I do, yeah.

20 Q To your understanding, what is it?

21 A In my understanding? It's a department of the U.S. State Department.

22 Q At your role at Meta, have you had any interactions with the Global

23 Engagement Center?

24 A I think I have. I think I've been on calls in which they may have been

25 present. I don't have a specific recollection.

1 Q Do you recall, high level, what the subject matter would've been for these
2 meetings?
3 A I don't. I remember, I did meet with an analyst from the Global
4 Engagement Center, maybe in 2018 or '19 timeframe.
5 Q Do you remember the analyst's name?
6 A I don't.
7 Q For the meetings between industry and the U.S. Government, in addition to 8 CISA, the FBI, do you recall which other government agencies would attend?
9 A Those were the regular ones that I'm aware of.
10 Q Do you recall the Global Engagement Center ever attending?
11 A I don't recall them attending. I think we may have had discussions about 12 them attending, but I now -- it was quite a while ago, so, just looking back, I don't 13 remember if they actually joined or if they joined and I wasn't in those meetings. I don't 14 have a perfect recollection of it.
15 Q Do you recall any opposition from Facebook or other industry partners about 16 the Global Engagement Center joining those meetings?
17 A I remember seeing discussions about it. I wasn't involved in those 18 discussions.
19 Q Do you have an understanding of why there was opposition?
20 A Not a precise one, no.
21 Q What about at a general level?
22 A I think there were just questions about, you know, what they would bring 23 into that forum and what role they had in election integrity, which was the general focus
24 of the conversations we were having with DHS and FBI at the time.
25 Q Do you communicate with government officials via Signal?

1 A Not typically, no.

2 Q Have you ever?

3 A I have, yes.

4 Q And what's the nature of those Signal communications?

5 A So there's one person that I am aware of that I can recall right now that I've

6 communicated via Signal with, with the FBI. The nature is -- like, I think I recall, like,

7 sharing information with this person that we were approved to share. But I don't know

8 if it was -- I actually don't have a perfect recollection of if it happened via Signal or

9 WhatsApp or another means, but I've communicated with this person.

10 Q And who is that?

11 A [redacted].

12 Q Who is [redacted]?

13 A Sorry, say again?

14 Q And who is that?

15 A [redacted] is -- he is an FBI agent that I know.

16 Q Did you have to get approval from the company or the FBI before sharing

17 information over Signal or WhatsApp?

18 A Certainly before sharing information, regardless of the means, I had to get

19 approval, if there was any information that we were sharing. Signal, specifically, I don't 20 recall getting any special permission to use it.

21 Q Okay. Who did you get approval from to share the information?

22 A Oh, that typically goes through our legal department.

23 Q Are you aware of group Signal channels between industry and the FBI?

24 A Industry and the FBI? I am not.

25 Q So, for your line of work, do you receive tips or reports from the U.S.

1 Government?

2 A Sometimes.

3 Q And which agencies will --

4 A Typically, the FBI.

5 Q And which division or which office in the FBI typically will communicate

6 these to you?

7 A So the origin of the information is not always transparent to me, meaning

8 I'm not sure, like, which division it may have come from or which field office it may have

9 come from. But, typically, it would either be shared by someone at the Foreign

10 Influence Task Force or a liaison out of San Francisco Field Office of the FBI.

11 Q And is that Elvis Chan?

12 A Yes. Or others in that field office.

13 Q How frequently would it be Elvis Chan as opposed to someone else in that

14 office?

15 A To share information?

16 Q Yes.

1

2 [11:12 a.m.]

3 [redacted]. So I'm sure that it's changed over time, and I don't have a

4 specific current understanding of who the most, like, frequent sharers are.

5 Elvis was one of the people that was the conduit for the information frequently

6 back in the timeframe that we're talking about.

7 BY [redacted]

8 Q I don't know if we've asked this yet. To your understanding, what is the

9 Foreign Influence Task Force?

10 A Foreign Influence Task Force? My understanding is it's a cross-functional

11 unit at FBI headquarters that looks for -- that investigates foreign interference from 12 foreign threat actors or foreign influence in the U.S. democratic process from foreign

13 threat actors.

14 Q And when you were at the FBI, did you have any interactions with the task

15 force?

16 A I did.

17 Q What was the nature of those interactions?

18 A I was the acting unit chief of the task force.

19 Q Were you the first acting unit chief of the task force?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Was that the 2017 assignment that you received?

22 A Yep.

23 Q Who assigned you to the task force?

24 Mr. Brown. I would ask, we're encroaching here on FBI-related information, and

25 he's here as a witness for Meta about his work at Meta. I'm not his lawyer as to

1 FBI-related activities, and so I guess I would ask that you defer this or if you can make
2 representations that the FBI has no objections. I wasn't prepared for him to be talking
3 about FBI-related roles, and they would be his counsel for those issues.
4 So I'm wondering if it makes sense to defer this line. If this is the only question,
5 we could possibly work through it. But if you've got a series of questions about work
6 that happened at the FBI, then that should be discussed with the FBI.
7 [redacted] We'll continue this discussion. We've got about 5 minutes left, so
8 we'll talk at the next break.
9 Mr. Brown. Okay. Good.
10 [redacted] Are you instructing him not to answer that question?
11 Mr. Brown. I'm going to ask him to defer answering questions about his work at 12 the FBI so we can have another discussion, because I'm not his lawyer for that time
13 period, I don't know what the sensitivities are on the FBI.
14 And I don't want you to take that as a negative against the witness. But he's a 15 witness here for Meta, not a witness for the FBI, and they may have concerns about these 16 issues.
17 BY [redacted]
18 Q Starting then with when you joined Meta, did you have interactions with 19 FITF?
20 A After I joined Meta?
21 Q Yes.
22 A Yes.
23 Q And what's the nature of those interactions?
24 A So, first, we had regular calls, regular meetings with the FITF, and I would 25 typically attend -- maybe not every one of them, but most of them. That probably is the 1 main nature of those interactions.

2 Q Okay. And when the meetings first started -- or I shouldn't say

3 meetings -- the communications generally first started, how frequently were they

4 occurring?

5 A I recall -- I'm not sure initially if there was actually a cadence to them or if

6 they were more ad hoc meetings. But we would talk about different topics related to

7 threat activity that we were tracking, and usually that was related to the mission of the 8 Foreign Influence Task Force. Later those meetings became more regular.

9 Q Do you recall when approximately they became more regular?

10 A Sometime in 2020, but I don't recall the specific date. It could -- actually it

11 could have been even before 2020 that they became regular. I'm not sure.

12 Q Do you know why they became regular?

13 A One of the reasons was that we were preparing for the upcoming elections,

14 and so we wanted to make sure that we had regular interactions that were around

15 sharing of threat information or trends that we were observing. But, again, I don't recall

16 a specific date when that happened.

17 Q And how frequently did these FITF-Facebook meetings occur in 2020?

18 A I recall them being quarterly at first and then becoming more frequent as we

19 got closer to the election.

20 Q And did you attend all of these meetings or most of these meetings?

21 A I would say most. I'm not sure if I missed some.

22 Q How many members of your team would attend a typical meeting?

23 A That depended on the topics that we would discuss. So if there was

24 analysts working on specific issues that were relevant or on the agenda, they would

25 attend, but they may not attend the next time if those topics were not on it.

1 Q How many people from Facebook would typically attend?

2 A That also fluctuates. There were some of the people that were probably

3 regular in those meetings and some would attend periodically, but I'm not sure if there

4 was, like, a specific core group that would attend every meeting.

5 Q Did they typically attend in person or over Zoom?

6 A Oh, the meetings?

7 Q Yes.

8 A They were typically not in person, though it's possible we had some in

9 person as well. We probably used -- I don't recall the specific software we would use.

10 I don't think it was Zoom. Maybe Webex or something like that.

11 Q And would there be internal Facebook meetings in advance of these

12 Facebook-FITF meetings?

13 A Typically not a meeting, but sometimes we would chat and discuss. If there

14 were topics that we wanted to share or there were threat indicators we wanted to 15 approve for sharing, we would sometimes have a chat to coordinate that.

16 Q And would [redacted] or [redacted] attend these meetings?

17 A It's possible they attended sometimes. I don't remember [redacted] being a

18 regular attendee. I don't recall specifically whether they attended or not.

19 Q So there's your team, I3. There's [redacted] team, Security Policy.

20 A Yes.

21 Q Is that right?

22 A Uh-huh.

23 Q Which other teams would typically attend these Facebook-FITF meetings?

24 A So typically our legal team would be on the call. And sometimes a

25 representative from the Law Enforcement Outreach team would be on the call or would

1 help organize the meeting.

2 Q Besides those four teams, are there any other teams that would typically

3 attend?

4 A Those are the ones that come to mind.

5 Q And for the FITF meetings, for the FBI personnel, would it be only individuals

6 who are part of FITF, or would the FBI bring in other people?

7 A I don't know. There were instances in which other FBI people -- like, not

8 people assigned to the FITF would attend if we were discussing a specific threat issue.

9 For example, I recall getting specific briefings on a threat actor that were shared with us

10 that would have been shared by the case agent or the office working those matters.

11 Q And what about other government agencies?

12 A Not that I'm aware of.

13 Q Did these meetings continue past the 2020 election?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And how long did they continue to?

16 A They continued regularly, though I think the cadence may have changed.

17 I'm not sure.

18 Over time I've attended them less and deferred to other folks on attending them.

19 So I'm actually not sure what the current state is of who attends them or how frequent 20 they are.

21 Q When was the last time you attended a FITF meeting?

22 A I don't have a particular recollection of the last one. It's been some time.

23 Q Was it this year?

24 A It's possible, but I don't have a -- I don't recall exactly.

25 [redacted] Can we go off the record, please?

1 [Recess.]

2 [redacted] We can go back on the record.

3 [redacted] thank you so much for joining us today. We appreciate it.

4 EXAMINATION

5 BY [redacted]

6 Q As a security manager at Meta, you focus on or you oversee Meta's

7 disruption of influence operations and cyber espionage networks, correct?

8 A Among other areas, yes.

9 Q Among other areas. And you mentioned some of those areas include

10 dangerous operations and individuals.

11 A Dangerous organizations.

12 Q Organizations. Thank you.

13 A Yeah.

14 Q And you also work on coordinated inauthentic behavior or work to disrupt it.

15 A That is the influence operations area, yes.

16 Q Thank you.

17 And, generally speaking, your work at the FBI before you got to Meta also focused

18 on cybersecurity and counterespionage work.

19 A Generally speaking, it was really international security work.

20 Q And I believe you said at some point you were working in the field of 21 cybersecurity.

22 A Say again?

23 Q One of your assignments was specifically in the field of cybersecurity.

24 A Right.

25 Q So your work at Meta builds on your government service at the FBI.

1 A In some way.

2 Q And in your work as a security manager, you do not engage in content

3 moderation at Meta.

4 A What do you mean by "content moderation"?

5 Q You were not determining whether the content of a post violates Meta's

6 community standards.

7 A That's typically not my role.

8 Q Okay. Thank you.

9 So the three types of threats that you talk about, influence operations,

10 counterespionage, and dangerous organizations and individuals.

11 A Uh-huh.

12 Q Can you talk about the types of threats they pose to American society?

13 A Generally?

14 Q Yes.

15 A I mean, it could be a range of -- it's hard to kind of talk about all of the 16 potential threats, but it could be a range of threats that any one of those can pose to the

17 safety of our users on our platform, which is why we track those threat actors and disrupt

18 them.

19 Q Can we try and be a little more specific? Let's talk about, for example,

20 cyber espionage.

21 A Sure.

22 Q Can you talk about some of the tactics that the threat actors use and how

23 specifically those tactics can endanger your company's users?

24 A Sure. So typically state-sponsored hackers are after information that's not

25 publicly available and they use a range of techniques at their disposal to try to get at that

1 information.

2 Our platform is just one of the platforms on which we typically -- in which those

3 threat actors would typically prosecute their operations. But they may use specifically

4 our platform to conduct surveillance on those users, try to hack into their accounts, try to

5 get sensitive information in some other ways, or use it as part of a broader operation

6 across the internet, including other platforms, to obtain information that's sensitive from 7 their targets.

8 Q And you focus on state-sponsored espionage?

9 A Primarily, yes.

10 Q And you work on something called surveillance for hire or countering

11 surveillance for hire?

12 A I do.

13 Q Can you describe a little bit what surveillance for hire is and --

14 A Sure.

15 Q -- the targets?

16 A Sure.

17 So surveillance for hire industry or set of companies or vendors are those that

18 provide capabilities to conduct surveillance, hacking-for-hire operations on behalf of their

19 clients. And oftentimes those clients are governments or state-sponsored 20 organizations.

21 So generally the industry exists to provide those services and lower the barrier for

22 entry for governments that don't have their own native capabilities to be able to do that

23 by purchasing those capabilities or services.

24 Q And who are the targets of surveillance-for-hire operations, either unwitting

25 or intentional?

1 A It's really wide-ranging, and we've seen targets in that specific set of
2 operations across probably most countries in the world and across a number of industries
3 or occupations in the world. It's very wide-ranging.
4 Q And have you seen surveillance-for-hire operations target, for example,
5 journalists?
6 A We have.
7 Q Dissidents?
8 A Yes.
9 Q Critics of authoritarian regimes?
10 A Yes.
11 Q Families of opposition members?
12 A I don't recall a specific instance, but that sounds likely.
13 Q And human rights activists?
14 A Yes.
15 Q And the dangerous organizations that -- your Dangerous Organizations and 16 Individuals team, can you talk a little bit about that? You don't have to name the 17 specific organizations, but what types of organizations you're talking about.
18 A Sure. Generally they fall in three different areas. One is terrorism.
19 Another is, like, transnational criminal organizations, well-financed transnational criminal
20 organizations. And then hate organizations.
21 Q Can you talk about how those organizations use or try to use Meta's
22 platforms to advance their criminal activity?
23 A Sometimes it's about advancing their criminal activities, like recruitment, for 24 example, trying to recruit new members. Other times it's not specifically advancing 25 their criminal activities but their presence on the platform is banned.

1 So it could be, like, praise, support, and representation. Someone might
2 associate with a certain group that we don't allow on our platform.
3 They're not particularly advancing -- or maybe they're, like, praising their group,
4 but they're not particularly advancing a criminal conspiracy on our platform, but they are
5 still not allowed on our platform. So we will find them and try to remove them.
6 Q And are they banned from your platform -- if you don't know the answer to 7 this, this is fine -- because you don't want, for example, terrorist organizations using the 8 platform to gain influence, to gain members, that sort of thing?
9 A Yeah. Generally, we don't want our platform to be used in a way that 10 compromises the safety or the experience of users on our platform. And there are 11 certain organizations that we don't allow to be on our platform for those reasons.
12 Q And I imagine that the work of detecting those organizations that are trying 13 to be on your platform but know that they are banned is something that -- they're using 14 tactics to disguise their presence I imagine?
15 A Sometimes.
16 Q Can you explain how some of the threat actors that you work to counter
17 have attempted to or successfully used Meta's platforms to interfere specifically in
18 elections?
19 A Elections? In a couple of ways.
20 One would be attempted reconnaissance or compromise of civic actor accounts.
21 And, again, we don't always know the intent or the purpose behind the activity, but 22 that's --
23 Q What does that look like? When you say "civic actor accounts," what do
24 you mean?
25 A Like, individuals involved in civics or politics in a specific country. So

1 attempts to compromise their accounts, we don't know always the purpose of that
2 activity, but it could be related to an election in a specific country.
3 Another way we would see it is in our influence operations domain where 4 coordinated inauthentic networks of threat actors are using political narratives that 5 sometimes align with one or the other political side in a given electoral context that 6 would try to make those narratives seem as though they're grassroots or authentic, but 7 our investigations would point out some deception or inauthenticity behind it.
8 Q And you work to counter those types of influence operations regardless of 9 what the actual message is that they're attempting to spread, correct?
10 A Correct.
11 Q And with respect to the hacking, for example, of civic actors, you work to 12 protect all civil actors on your platform, correct?
13 A Correct, yes.
14 Q Regardless of where they fall on the political spectrum?
15 A Correct.
16 Q And regardless of what country they're in?
17 A Correct.
18 Q Influence operations, the types of organizations that you work to counter,
19 they're not active only in the United States, correct?
20 A That's right.
21 Q And they have targeted elections throughout the world.
22 A The team has a global remit.
23 Q I'm sorry. The team has a global --
24 A Remit.
25 Q Thank you.

1 What types of activity would you expect to see on Meta's platforms if your teams
2 did not engage in the work that you do?
3 A Sure. And I appreciate the question.
4 My teams are part of the integrity organization. So there are a number of teams
5 that work on trust and safety of our users.
6 My team's specific focus is on the more advanced or sophisticated or persistent
7 ends of the threat actors. So typically we focus on the most organized groups, the 8 groups that are most persistent on our platform, groups that try to evade our detection
9 or come back persistently.
10 So I think your question was what it would look like. I mean, it would look like 11 there is no team responsible for investigating some of the most persistent and likely risky
12 threat actors, so high severity type of threat actors on our platform, that both understand
13 how those threat actors target our users and protecting those users and then 14 understanding how to scale that understanding to protect users more globally.
15 Q And the work that you do, you say that it -- it's not just about protecting 16 individual users but also national security?
17 A At Meta?
18 Q Uh-huh.
19 A We are focused on protecting the platform and the users on our platform.
20 It often has context that's related to national security. If you're referring to the national 21 security of the United States?
22 Q I am. Thank you.
23 A It can have relevance to it, for example, when we're talking about potential
24 election interference or issues like that, but it's not specifically focused on national 25 security.

1 Q And the types of threats that you talked about, the three main areas that
2 you focus on, I imagine there's some overlap, that some of the dangerous organizations
3 and individuals engage in counterespionage -- I'm sorry, engage in cyber espionage, for 4 example, or use coordinated inauthentic behavior?
5 A I suppose it's possible. I don't have specific instances that come to my 6 mind right now.
7 Q So you see them as three distinct threats?
8 A We treat them as distinct threats, but we certainly coordinate. If we do 9 have instances of where one actor might be deploying several different techniques, we 10 will coordinate across the teams and look for commonalities.
11 Q I want to talk a little bit about coordinated inauthentic behavior specifically.
12 A Sure.
13 Q Meta prohibits people from misrepresenting themselves about who they are 14 on its platforms, correct?
15 A That's my understanding.
16 Q And -- well, can you explain what your understanding of coordinated 17 inauthentic behavior is, what that term means?
18 A I can. I just want to preface I'm not a policy expert.
19 Q Right.
20 A So I can give you my understanding of what it is.
21 Q Okay.
22 A There are essential elements to the policy that are in the name, coordination
23 and inauthenticity. So my teams, when they investigate, look for those elements. Do
24 we see coordination? In other words, is there -- is this a coordinated network, a group
25 of accounts working together. That's the first element.

1 The second element is inauthenticity. Are they trying to -- are they inauthentic
2 in some way? Are they misrepresenting who they are? Is there deception behind that
3 representation?
4 So when those two elements are working together, we will investigate, collect the 5 evidence, and present the case for enforcement.
6 Q And, for example, if you have a network of Facebook pages designed to look
7 like independent news organizations but they're all being controlled by a government
8 somewhere, a foreign government somewhere, but they're misrepresenting themselves
9 as an independent news organization, that would be prohibited by your platform.
10 A It's hard to talk about a hypothetical. I would need to see the evidence.
11 But general -- the general shape of the policy is, so yes.
12 Q And your team does work on enforcing against that type of activity?
13 A Investigating and enforcing, yeah.
14 Q Okay. And if this is outside the scope of what you do, please let me know.
15 But when Meta removes accounts for engaging in coordinated inauthentic
16 behavior, it's because of the deceptive nature? It's not based on the content that those 17 accounts are posting, correct?
18 A It's based on the determination that the behavior of the threat network we 19 were investigating crossed the thresholds of the CIB policy. Content is not one of those 20 thresholds.
21 Q Thank you.
22 You talked in the first hour about some of your work with various government
23 agencies while you've been at Meta.
24 A Yeah.
25 Q I want to start by talking about FITF, the Foreign Influence Task Force.

1 You had mentioned that your work with CISA was focused on election integrity.
2 Was your work with FITF also focused on election integrity or does FITF have a broader
3 scope?
4 A It's broader. It was certainly at times related or coincided with our 5 preparatory activities ahead of elections. But generally threat actors don't always 6 engage around the time of elections on our platform. So we discuss threats to the 7 platform, the threat landscape that we're observing, general trends about threats that 8 we're observing, not exclusively in the context of elections.
9 Q And your -- the company's participation, first Facebook, now Meta, in the 10 task force, as you understand it, is voluntary, correct?
11 A Sorry. Could you repeat your question?
12 Q Your work with the task force.
13 A Right. Just to be clear, we're not participating in the task force. The 14 company is not part of it.
15 Q Yeah, I know. That was inelegant.
16 A Right. Is -- what was the question? Is --
17 Q It's voluntary.
18 A Correct.
19 Q Right? Meta could choose not to send any representative to those 20 meetings or have them --
21 A I suppose that's true.
22 Q And you have at times chosen not to attend or been unable to attend some 23 of the meetings that your team would normally have somebody present at.
24 A Sure.
25 Q And, to your knowledge, has any government official ever told Meta, or

1 someone at Meta or then Facebook, that it had to participate in meetings with the task
2 force?
3 A Had to participate?
4 Q Yes.
5 A Not to my knowledge.
6 Q And, to your knowledge, was there ever pressure on Meta to participate in 7 those meetings?
8 A I'm not aware of any specific pressures.
9 Q Why did you choose to attend the meetings with the Foreign Influence Task
10 Force that you chose to attend? What was the value in your eyes?
11 A For me? You mean, like, for my teams more generally or for me personally 12 or --
13 Q For the teams. Or we can do both.
14 A So generally we would talk about -- the general topics would include 15 discussions of maybe specific threat actors or threat trends that we're observing and that 16 has relevance to our work, since we track some of the similar threat actors across the 17 foreign influence spectrum on our platform.
18 So the general value proposition is that we can compare notes on different trends
19 that we're seeing from -- in the threat space. We would sometimes share more specific 20 information, like threat indicators, bidirectionally.
21 And so those exchanges of information help us collect an additional data point
22 from a government partner in addition to the investigations that we're conducting 23 independently on the platforms.
24 Q So you said it's bidirectionally. That means that the company is providing 25 information to the government and the government is also providing information to the

1 company.

2 A Right. Both have happened.

3 Q And is it fair to say that there are circumstances where it's the company that

4 has more information about a particular threat network that the government doesn't

5 have?

6 A It's hard for me to know that because I don't have visibility of what the FBI

7 might have access to on the other side. But there are certainly instances in which we

8 would provide information that we observe that we have not received previously from

9 the FBI.

10 So, to my knowledge, it's the first time that we're sharing that information, but I

11 don't know what other information the FBI or government in general right have or receive

12 from other sources.

13 Q And have there been instances in which the information you've received

14 from the FBI are about -- are threat actors that you had not detected or information

15 about those threat actors that you did not have and that you could not have had without

16 the FBI? I shouldn't say could not have had, but that you did not have prior to receiving 17 the information.

18 A Yeah, I understand the question.

19 There are some instances in which the information we received or the indicators

20 we received were new to us. It doesn't always mean that we weren't aware of that

21 specific threat actor, but in some cases would enhance our understanding or even point

22 us to new activity on the platform.

23 [[redacted] Exhibit No. 1

24 Was marked for identification.]

25 Mr. Brown. This is exhibit 1?

1 [redacted] This is exhibit 1, yes.

2 And, [redacted] I'm going to be showing you a few emails just to get a sense

3 of the types of interactions you would have with the FBI.

4 So once you've had a few minutes to review this, just let me know.

5 [redacted] Are these related?

6 Mr. Brown. No, they're the same.

7 [redacted] They're the same.

8 [Witness reviewing.]

9 [redacted] Okay.

10 [redacted] Great. So --

11 Mr. Brown. Could we have 1 more minute?

12 [redacted] Sure.

13 Mr. Brown. Go ahead.

14 [redacted] Thank you.

15 BY [redacted]

16 Q First, as a threshold question, what does IOC stand for?

17 A Indicator of compromise.

18 Q Indicator of compromise. Thank you.

19 Okay. So we're looking at an email from FBI Agent Elvis Chan to you, with

20 several others cc'd, on October 29th, 2020. And this email contains a series of questions

21 that the FBI is asking you about Facebook's attribution of activities to something called

22 Poison Carp.

23 A Uh-huh.

24 Q Do you remember Poison Carp?

25 A Quite vaguely.

1 Q Okay. Can you tell us what your recollection is?

2 A I don't recall this specific interaction, but I believe it refers to one of the sets

3 of indicators we passed at this time to the FBI on threat activity that we observed on our

4 platform.

5 The name of the group -- the Poison Carp refers to a threat group. That is the 6 industry name for it. I just don't recall the specifics of it.

7 [Discussion off the record.]

8 [redacted] Right. And from this email -- or from the questions back, it

9 looks like the details that we provided referred to the targeting of Congress Members

10 that we shared with the FBI.

11 BY [redacted]

12 Q And their accounts on Meta's platform it appears were targeted, correct?

13 A That's my understanding just by reading this, yes.

14 Q Okay. And in this email it appears that an FBI agent in New York is asking

15 then Facebook for details about its investigation and the indicators of compromise that it

16 found relating to these attempts to attack --

17 A Uh-huh.

18 Q -- Congress Members' accounts?

19 A It looks like it's this way, yeah.

20 Q Okay. So this is an example of Facebook providing the FBI with information

21 that the FBI then sought follow-up assistance from Facebook? Is that a fair

22 characterization?

23 A Yes, I think so.

24 [[redacted] Exhibit No. 2

25 Was marked for identification.]

1 [redacted] This next exchange is a little bit longer, so it might take a few
2 minutes.
3 Mr. Brown. Thank you.
4 [redacted] There's just one, right?
5 Okay.
6 [redacted] Thank you.
7 Reg, let me know if you need more time.
8 Mr. Brown. We're good.
9 [redacted] You're good? Thank you.
10 So we're looking at an exchange from December of 2020 that --
11 Mr. Brown. This is January.
12 [redacted] I'm sorry. January 2020, yes.
13 [redacted] Yes, January.
14 [redacted] Apparently I need a stronger prescription.
15 BY [redacted]
16 Q It began with Agent Chan asking [redacted] -- I'm not sure if I'm 17 pronouncing that correctly, but one of your colleagues at Facebook -- a series of 18 questions about a takedown -- a series of takedowns that had been publicly announced
19 by Facebook. Is that what this appears to be?
20 A Just from my reading of this, it looks like he's asking questions related to 21 takedown and then specific questions related to GAN detection.
22 Q Can you explain what GAN is?
23 A I'm not an expert in this. To my knowledge, GAN stands for generated 24 adversarial networks, which is a machine learning technique to generate images and 25 videos.

1 Q And one of these questions was specifically routed to you, correct?
2 A Yes.
3 Q And that was a question about Facebook's detection of GAN-generated
4 images and videos, correct?
5 A Yes. It looks like Elvis here is asking about -- he's sharing that the FBI is 6 investigating techniques for detecting GAN-generated images and videos and referring to 7 a recent takedown in which we might have mentioned this and he's asking for a
8 follow-up.
9 Q And the follow-up he was asking is if you could provide the FBI with "the 10 relevant accounts, images, and videos," correct?
11 A That's what he's asking, yes.
12 Q And then he says, "so we can serve legal process to obtain it," correct?
13 A Can you point me to the line where --
14 Q I'm sorry. I'm on page 678.
15 A The last line here?
16 Q Yep.
17 A "Can you send it to us when you get a chance so we can follow up with legal 18 process?" Correct.
19 Q Can you what legal process means?
20 A My understanding is it typically refers to a legal instrument that the 21 company responds to, like a subpoena or a search warrant.
22 Q And that's part of the company's relationship with the government is it
23 sometimes receives legal process and then has to provide whatever documents, whatever
24 information is referenced in the subpoena or the legal instrument, correct?
25 A That is my general understanding. However, I don't work in the

1 department that responds to legal process, so I don't have the specifics on how that
2 works.
3 Q Fair enough.
4 Going back to the nature of the request, this is another example of the FBI asking
5 for information to assist in its own investigations, correct?
6 A It appears so.
7 Q And this was not -- there's nothing in here that you interpreted to be a
8 demand, correct?
9 A Reading this now, it doesn't appear to be a demand.
10 Q Does it appear to be coercive to you?
11 A This looks like a request for a follow-up. I'm not interpreting this as 12 coercive.
13 Q And is this the type of request that Facebook could say, "I'm sorry, we can't 14 provide that information"?
15 A It's hard to talk about a hypothetical. It looks like here I followed up with 16 trying to track down this information. I don't recall what happened afterwards. But 17 it's hard to kind of talk about a hypothetical where this didn't happen.
18 Q Is it fair to say that the tone of this request is typical of the requests you
19 would receive for assistance from the FBI, outside of legal process?
20 A Nothing about this exchange strikes me as unusual.
21 Q Okay.
22 A Hard to comment on tone.
23 Q Fair. Thank you.
24 Now, you mentioned -- I think you just touched on this in the last hour -- that
25 Facebook or Meta would sometimes receive tips from the FBI --

1 A Yes.

2 Q -- about accounts that might violate its community standards, correct?

3 A Generally correct. Not just accounts.

4 Q Okay. What else?

5 A We call them threat indicators. So it could be accounts, it could be IP

6 addresses or other types of threat indicators that could point us to activity on our

7 platform that's violating our standards.

8 Q Thank you. I appreciate that.

9 A Okay.

10 [[redacted] Exhibit No. 3

11 Was marked for identification.]

12 BY [redacted]

13 Q Okay. So we're looking at an email from September of 2020 where the FBI

14 notified Facebook about an account impersonating a senator in Puerto Rico. Is that

15 correct?

16 A That's what it looks like, yes, from the email.

17 Q And in that email Elvis Chan states -- or in the email from September 8th,

18 2020 -- "We just got a tipper from the San Juan field office. Please see below. This

19 appears to violate your terms of service but we'll defer to you. Let us know if you take 20 any actions."

21 A Uh-huh.

22 Q Is this typical of the types of tips that Facebook receives?

23 A I don't recall the specific interaction. I know I'm on the "to" line here, but

24 I'm not sure how I engaged with it at the time.

25 This is -- I'm not sure actually how typical this is. I've seen instances similar to

1 this in the past, but I'm not sure how frequent.

2 Q And in this situation there's no request for action, correct, other than, "Let

3 us know if you take any actions"?

4 A Right. Elvis is stating here, "We'll defer to you," which I interpret to mean

5 it's your determination on whether this activity violates the terms of service or not. And 6 there's a request to share whether we've taken any action or not.

7 Q And regardless of whether or not Agent Chan had said, "We'll defer to you,"

8 when Meta receives tips about -- whether it's from the government or elsewhere -- about 9 potential violations of its terms of service, it conducts its own investigation, correct?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q It never just takes down an account because somebody says they think it

12 violates -- somebody outside of Meta thinks it violates Meta's terms of service.

13 A So I can talk about how my teams operate or within my area.

14 Q Thank you.

15 A I'm not sure -- you know, I don't know all of the decisions that are made by

16 the company.

17 But certainly in my area we conduct our independent assessment and

18 investigation. We receive tips from a number of different partners or sources, and we

19 usually use those tips to conduct our own assessment, to confirm their validity or 20 veracity, and corroborate the information.

21 Q And, ultimately, it's Meta who decides whether or not to take any action on 22 an account, on an IP address, on any of the threat indicators that you mentioned earlier.

23 A That's my understanding.

24 Q And if your investigation determines that there is no violation, then no

25 action is taken, correct?

1 A That is -- if you have a specific example, it's easier to talk about it. But
2 that's my general understanding, is that if we don't find our own independent
3 corroboration or additional information to verify the lead, then we wouldn't take action.
4 Q In your time at Meta has -- well, let me back up actually.
5 I just wanted to ask you briefly, you spoke about your interactions with CISA and 6 meetings that you would attend with CISA. Like the meetings with FITF, it was your 7 choice to attend those meetings, correct?
8 A That's my understanding.
9 Q Okay. And it's your understanding that if Meta did not want to work with 10 CISA, it could choose not to attend those meetings and not to have a relationship with 11 them.
12 A That's my understanding. But, again, those meetings weren't scheduled by 13 me or -- and I wasn't always in attendance for those meetings.
14 Mr. Brown. Can we go off the record?
15 [redacted] Sure.
16 [Discussion off the record.]
17 Mr. Brown. We can go back on.
18 [redacted] Thank you.
19 BY [redacted]
20 Q In your time working at Facebook and now Meta, has any government
21 official ordered you to remove an account or a post or demote an account or a post?
22 A Not that I'm aware.
23 Q And has anyone in the government in your time at Meta threatened Meta,
24 to your knowledge, with any adverse consequences if Meta did not remove a particular
25 piece of content or an account?

A Not to my knowledge. To be clear, you're referring to the U.S. Government?

Q Correct, yes.

A Not to my knowledge.

Q Any other governments?

A Also not to my knowledge.

Q Okay. Thank you.

You do not experience unrelenting pressure from the U.S. Government to take certain actions or any actions?

A I personally have not experienced pressure to take any actions.

[redacted] I think that's it for now. Thank you.

We can take a break and then --

Mr. Brown. That's great.

[Recess.]

1

2 [1:04 p.m.]

3 [redacted] Can we go on the record, please?

4 BY [redacted]

5 Q What is Teleporter?

6 A What is Teleporter? My understanding is, it's a -- I don't know the specifics

7 of how it works, but I believe it's a file transfer site that the FBI has used to either receive

8 or send the information to Meta.

9 Q Okay. And during your time at Meta, have you been on the receiving end

10 of any Teleporter links or messages, whatever --

11 A I have.

12 Q -- the proper term is?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And how frequently have you received Teleporter links from the FBI?

15 A Periodically. Not very frequently.

16 Q And at a high level, what is contained in a Teleporter link?

17 A In the link? Usually it's a path to download a file or a path to upload a file

18 to the FBI.

19 Q And then is there information that is transmitted once the file has been 20 uploaded?

21 A You mean, like, metadata around the --

22 Q Or, what is being communicated?

23 A Oh, the nature of the files themselves. Usually it's an exchange of threat

24 intelligence information or indicators.

25 Q Okay. And I think you went over this a little bit in the last hour, but

1 indicators would include IP addresses? Accounts?

2 A Yes, a range of identifiers that can be used in further investigative activity.

3 And that could include the things that you mentioned, yes.

4 Q And, then, when identifiers are sent, how many might be included in a

5 message?

6 A That really depends. Depending on the circumstances of what is being

7 shared, sometimes few, sometimes many, sometimes a table. So it really does depend

8 on the specific issue.

9 Q When you say "many," are we talking hundreds? Thousands?

10 A It could be, like, a spreadsheet, so it could involve a number of indicators,

11 yeah.

12 Q When the FBI is sending this information -- we talked earlier about

13 attribution -- will they provide an assessment of whether an account or when an identifier

14 is domestic or foreign?

15 A I recall instances in which the information we received would be attributed

16 to a foreign actor. So it does happen.

17 Q And what about to a domestic actor?

18 A I don't recall any instances in which they passed information on a domestic 19 U.S. actor.

20 Q And how confident are you that -- is it you don't recall or that you believe

21 they did not pass --

22 A So the areas I focused on largely deal with foreign actors, so, in my area of 23 competence, I don't recall specific instances in which threat information on a U.S.

24 domestic actor was passed. I'm not confident that it didn't happen outside of my area,

25 but --

1 Q Do you recall ever hearing from one of your colleagues at Meta that the FBI
2 passed along information related to a domestic account or user?
3 A Not that I recall.
4 Q Do you recall ever disagreeing with the FBI's assessments as it related to
5 attribution?
6 A I don't remember specific instances in which I questioned the attribution or 7 disagreed with it. Typically, we would receive the information and conduct our own
8 investigation after that information was received.
9 Q Do you recall instances where you did that -- received the information,
10 conducted your own investigation, and reached a different conclusion?
11 A As to attribution specifically?
12 Q Yes.
13 A No. I'm happy to take a look if you have any, like, records or documents
14 that can help me with my recollection, but I don't recall, like, specific instances in which I
15 would disagree.
16 Sometimes we would investigate and find additional information on our platform
17 or, like, you know, facets of it that happened on our platform that may not have been 18 familiar to the FBI. But I don't recall specific instances in which I, like, disapproved of 19 the attribution, I think is what you're asking.
20 Q Yeah. And just to clarify, for the sake of your response, regardless of 21 whether you recall, like, a specific instance and you can provide details on that instance,
22 just at a high level, do you recall ever receiving information, your team conducts a 23 separate analysis, and your team looks at it and reaches a different conclusion with 24 respect to attribution?
25 A I don't recall.

1 But, also, typically, the information that's provided to us is provided with very
2 high-level attribution, so, like, to a specific country, and we don't typically get information
3 on, you know, very granular attribution, you know, like, a specific department or an
4 individual. So, when we conduct our investigation, we may find additional details
5 behind that attribution, but I don't recall instances in which we would be completely
6 wrong about the country.
7 Q You mentioned earlier there might be a whole spreadsheet of identifiers.
8 Would it be -- the description, would it be that the whole spreadsheet of identifiers is 9 attributed to a particular country?
10 [Discussion off the record.]
11 [redacted] I'm sorry. Could you repeat the question?
12 BY [redacted]
13 Q Sure. So, in an earlier response, you said that there might be a whole 14 spreadsheet of --
15 A Uh-huh.
16 Q -- I think you used the term "identifiers"?
17 A Uh-huh.
18 Q And, then, in the answer before this, you had said that the attributions at a 19 high level might be just generally to one country, let's say --
20 A Uh-huh.
21 Q -- right? I guess I'm asking, is it correct to piece those two things together,
22 where a spreadsheet might be attributed to a particular country?
23 A So, like, one particular example could be: If we are conducting a disruption
24 or enforcement against a network of actors that we've found, and we've attributed that 25 network or are going to attribute it publicly to a foreign threat actor, we would share a

1 list -- "spreadsheet" is, like, a formatting term; it can be a list or a spreadsheet; you know,
2 I'm not exactly sure which format we would share that with -- but a list of indicators
3 related to the accounts that we were disrupting related to this specific disruption.
4 So, in that instance, it would be clear which, you know, country attribution that 5 specific network is referring to.
6 Q And have there ever been instances where your team has conducted its own
7 assessment and is going through the different identifiers and reaches a different
8 conclusion, that either this identifier is not part of the network or this is an account that's 9 not part of the foreign country but just part of the U.S.?
10 A Are you talking about just an investigation that we are conducting? Any 11 general investigation?
12 Q No, no, no. Any instance where the FBI has provided --
13 A Oh.
14 Q -- information. And then you said -- correct me if I'm wrong -- every time,
15 your team conducts its own investigation?
16 A Generally, if we conduct an investigation, we conduct our own investigation.
17 We don't always conduct an investigation, if we receive indicators that may not be 18 relevant or we may not prioritize them.
19 And, sorry, what was the question after that?
20 Q Sure. Going back to the list of identifiers, if it's, as part of the message that 21 the FBI is communicating to Meta, attributing to a foreign country, have there been 22 instances where your team, because it's chosen to conduct its own investigation, digs in 23 deeper, gains additional information, and realizes that some of the identifiers on that list
24 or on that spreadsheet are, in fact, not part of that same network and do not have the 25 attribution that the FBI believed that it did?

1 A I don't recall a specific instance or example to give you, but I am fairly certain
2 that that has happened.
3 Q And in instances where that may happen, is that something where you
4 would communicate that back to the FBI, with your team's findings?
5 A I don't think in all cases. There wasn't an expectation that I would share
6 what we found or what we didn't find in all of the cases. I think it's possible that in 7 some cases we did it and in some that we didn't.
8 Q In addition to the FBI, were there other government agencies that played a
9 similar role and provided information to you and your team?
10 A Not that I'm aware of. The information that we typically would receive 11 related to threat activity would come through the FBI. I don't know who the original,
12 you know, creator or source or owner of that information may have been, but we would 13 typically receive it through the FBI.
14 Q As far as you know, was that intentional? Did the FBI ever say, we're going
15 to serve as the point for other communications from the U.S. Government?
16 A I'm not aware of what the discussions or policy was on the FBI side. I know,
17 for our side, they were the primary interlocutor in conversations around threat
18 intelligence and threat-sharing.
19 Q Did they ever say, you know, in passing information, "Here is something
20 that's relevant for your team, but, by the way, this was not FBI originally, we're just 21 passing it along"? I guess my question is, how did you know that it wasn't always FBI?
22 A Oh, I -- there is -- you know, there's lots of government agencies that the FBI
23 works with, so I don't know, like, what discussions happened on the other end of it. The 24 information that came to us usually came to us through the FBI, so I have no basis to 25 know, like, where it originated from.

1 Q Okay. Would the FBI ever say, this came from a different agency?

2 Mr. Brown. Could we go off the record?

3 [redacted] Yes.

4 Mr. Brown. Thank you.

5 [Discussion off the record.]

6 [redacted] Can we go back on the record, please?

7 BY [redacted]

8 Q So the question was, were there ever instances where the FBI was passing

9 information and would say, this is coming from a different government agency?

10 A There are no specific instances that I recall.

11 Q Do you recall any instances where -- or, actually, let me take a step back.

12 Did you ever receive direct communications from anyone at CISA where they

13 would forward information regarding election security or anything relevant to your team?

14 Mr. Brown. I'm sorry. What's the second half of that?

15 [redacted] Or anything relevant to his team.

16 [redacted] From CISA?

17 [redacted] Yes.

18 [redacted] It's possible there was on the email exchanges, like, group email

19 exchanges with CISA, but I don't recall specific instances in which information was passed

20 directly to me or my team from CISA.

21 BY [redacted]

22 Q Do you recall any instances where the FBI was passing something on behalf

23 of CISA?

24 A I don't recall specific instances. If you have any documents that I can take a

25 look at to refresh my memory, I'm happy to do that. But off the top of my mind, I don't

1 recall any specific instances like that.

2 Q To your understanding, what is CISA's responsibility as it relates to the space

3 you work in?

4 A So I can talk very generally about it. You know, I never worked at DHS or at

5 CISA, and I'm probably not comfortable speculating on what they do or what their mission

6 is. Generally, I know that they work on protecting the integrity of elections, at least in 7 the departments that we've interacted with.

8 Q And when you would participate in USG-industry meetings and the different

9 agencies would present information, it sounds like the FBI had information that was

10 relevant to your team. Do you recall what type of information CISA would present at 11 these meetings?

12 A Sure. The meetings that I attended focused more generally on, kind of,

13 like, electoral calendar and electoral process just for, like, awareness of the different, you

14 know, timelines; focused on just general -- sometimes general threat landscape or 15 concerns that CISA had. And I think one of their concerns was election infrastructure,

16 specifically.

17 There was no -- I don't recall any, like, specific threat briefings or discussions

18 about it. It was quite high-level. But those were the general topics that we would go 19 into.

20 Q Do you know who Brad Benavides is?

21 A I generally know the name, yes.

22 Q And have you worked with him at all in your role at Meta?

23 A We've interacted, typically in group conversations, a few times.

24 Q And what was his role during these interactions?

25 A I knew him as -- I believe he was the section chief -- I believe that was his

1 role -- that oversaw the Foreign Influence Task Force.

2 Q And during your time at Meta, did you interact with him as part of his role,

3 the section chief of FITF?

4 A I would say infrequently. I think sometimes he would be in FITF meetings

5 or calls. But, typically -- I think there were some times that he was on those calls or

6 meetings, but I don't know if it was regular.

7 Q Do you know who Laura Dehmlow is?

8 A I do.

9 Q And who is she?

10 A I don't know the role that she has now. At the time, she was, I believe, one

11 of the unit chiefs in the FITF.

12 Q And would she frequently attend the FITF calls?

13 A I think so, yes. More regularly.

14 Q We spoke about Elvis Chan earlier.

15 A Uh-huh.

16 Q Would Agent Chan attend the FITF meetings?

17 A I think sometimes. He wasn't part of the FITF, but I think he would attend

18 as the, like, liaison.

19 Q We've identified Teleporter -- let me take a step back.

20 Who from the FBI would send the Teleporter links most frequently?

21 A Elvis was one of those people. There were others as well.

22 Q Besides the Teleporter links, the FITF meetings, scheduling the FITF

23 meetings, what other interactions did you have with Elvis Chan?

24 A Elvis Chan? We would communicate -- so, in the context of -- so you

25 mentioned the FITF meetings. We would communicate in the context of meetings

1 related to state-sponsored cyber activity that were typically not part of the FITF
2 discussions since it's a different, kind of, set of units at the FBI that runs those
3 investigations. Elvis would be the liaison that would help, like, bring those teams
4 together and facilitate those discussions.
5 We've also had some one-on-one interactions with Elvis, as well, throughout, you
6 know, my time working at Meta.
7 Q At the end of the first hour, we sort of touched upon briefly that the FITF
8 meetings, you recall, were ongoing for a little while --
9 A Uh-huh.
10 Q -- but you don't recall the last one that you attended?
11 A Yes -- I don't recall the specific last one that I attended. But I more recently
12 have attended fewer of them, because I have folks on my teams that more regularly
13 attend now, and I attend just generally fewer of them.
14 Q When you have folks on your team who attend, do they brief you afterwards
15 on what happened?
16 A Sometimes I'll ask, was there anything relevant, anything specific that was 17 discussed. Sometimes the topics tend to be general enough where I don't need a 18 readout afterwards.
19 Q Do you recall whether any of your team members have attended a FITF
20 meeting this year?
21 A This year? I believe the answer to that is yes. I just don't recall the 22 specific date.
23 Q Have you had communications with Elvis Chan this year?
24 A No, not that I recall.
25 Q With respect to the FITF meetings or with anything?

A I don't remember any interactions this year with Elvis Chan. It's possible I'm maybe on group emails with him, but I don't take as central of a role in, like, organizing the FITF meetings or participating in them, so I don't recall any specific interactions with Elvis this year.

Q And what about, like, the Teleporter links?

A I'm not really involved anymore in sending those or receiving Teleporter links. So I'm not sure if someone on my team may be using them or sending them, but I haven't this year.

Q Do you know who [redacted] is?

A I do.

Q Who is he?

A [redacted], at the time, was -- I used to work with him at the FBI, and he was in the Foreign Influence Task Force at the time.

Q Would he attend the FITF meetings with Facebook?

A I think, typically, yes. He had a similar role to Laura's.

Q And by that, you mean he was one of the unit chiefs?

A He was one of the unit chiefs in the FITF, yeah.

Q Do you recall which unit?

A One of the units, but I can't go into the specifics without naming, like, the area that it worked on -- the unit worked on.

Q During these FITF meetings, how many representatives from the FBI typically would attend?

A That's hard for me to know, because I don't -- I typically don't get, like, an attendance sheet from the FBI side, and I don't always -- you don't always see each other, because some people may be off-video or may be dialing in by phone. So I don't know exactly, like, which units or how many people would attend.

Q How many people would speak at a typical meeting?

A In number? It would depend on the topics we were discussing. If we were, you know, talking -- typically, there's an agenda that we would go through, you know, a number of threat actors or a number of countries that we would be discussing. So each one of those would represent a separate either unit or expert that would provide a briefing or ask for questions. Sometimes various people from different field offices would attend to provide us, you know, more detail. And so it really varied by meeting.

Q Do you know who [redacted] is?

A I do.

Q And who is he?

A He's a colleague at Meta.

Q Which department is he in?

A He's in the -- he's one of the legal teams.

Q And do you know who [redacted] is? Am I pronouncing the last name --

A What's his last name?

Q [redacted].

A [redacted]? Yes, I do.

Q Who is that?

A He's a former employee of Meta.

Q In which department?

A He was in my department. He was one of the threat analysts in my department.

Q Do you know who [redacted] is?

A I do.

1 Q Who is that?

2 A A former colleague at Meta.

3 Q Which department?

4 A My department. We were peer managers together.

5 Q Do you know who [redacted] is?

6 A I do.

7 Q Who is that?

8 A He's a current colleague at Meta, and he reports to me.

9 Q For [redacted], would he typically attend the Facebook-FITF meetings?

10 A He would be a frequent attendee. I don't know how typically or regularly

11 he would attend, but he did definitely attend some of them.

12 Q With these meetings, was there any sort of written readout or notes that 13 would be produced afterwards?

14 A Like, minutes afterwards?

15 Q Yeah.

16 A Not that I recall.

17 Q Do you recall the scope of the FITF meetings changing during your time at 18 Meta?

19 A How do you mean?

20 Q If I understood you correctly, there would be an agenda in advance and --

21 A Uh-huh.

22 Q At a high level. It sounds like there was a consistent subject matter, but I

23 guess the question is to confirm that.

24 So, from when the FITF meetings started to at least when you were still attending

25 regularly, did the scope or the subject matter change during that time?

1 A Not generally. They stayed pretty consistent in the general agenda and the
2 purpose of the meetings. We do discuss different topics in different meetings, but the
3 general scope is similar to when we started, as I remember.
4 Q Would you present at these meetings?
5 A Typically, no. By presentation, if you mean, like, a formal briefing, typically,
6 no. I would ask questions or maybe have a discussion, but I wouldn't have, like,
7 prepared remarks.
8 Q This will be exhibit 4.
9 [[redacted] Exhibit No. 4
10 Was marked for identification.]
11 BY [redacted]
12 Q Do you recall if you had attended this FITF meeting?
13 Mr. Brown. Which one? There's a bunch of different ones referenced on here.
14 BY [redacted]
15 Q With reference to the August 10th, on page 1, Bates number 889.
16 A I don't specifically recall whether I attended this particular meeting or not.
17 Q Do you recall any meetings where you discussed planning for U.S. elections
18 and discussed the FBI's posture as well as the company's posture?
19 A Yes.
20 Q And what was the FBI's posture in August or in the lead-up to the 2020
21 election?
22 A What I remember is, in the context that was relevant to me, we would talk
23 about specific threat actors and, kind of, discussing the prioritization of those actors
24 based on their relevance and the threat that they posed to the U.S. electoral process.
25 So, as one of the -- when we talk about FBI posture, you know, the company posture, we

1 would talk about which threat actors that we considered to be the high-risk.
2 And we would also talk about -- I think your question was about FBI posture.
3 What I recall is getting, kind of, like, a high-level overview of how the FBI was preparing to 4 run the command center during the election process and whom to contact if, you know,
5 we found information that was relevant, or how to best communicate.
6 And then we would discuss our posture, as well, and how we were preparing for 7 the elections.
8 Q And what did you tell the FBI was the company's posture?
9 A Sure. So we talked about generally, again, the threat actors that we were 10 preparing or tracking, kind of, like, which teams were involved in that preparation, what 11 processes we would have in place to be able to react quickly to issues if they came up.
12 We generally talked about, you know, the company -- we don't call it a command
13 center, but there's, you know, kind of, like, a war room that gets set up around election
14 time, as well. So we would just generally talk about how that process would run at the 15 company and then how my teams would interact with that process.
16 It was mostly centered around how to communicate in a crisis if we had any 17 indicators to pass to each other.
18 Q To that end, the bullet point below "Your Posture" says, "Information sharing 19 channels and methods."
20 A Uh-huh.
21 Q What forms of information-sharing existed between Meta and -- or, at this
22 time, Facebook and the FBI?
23 A So email was one of them. And, then, for actually passing of the 24 information back and forth, I believe we were using Teleporter around that time.
25 Q Is Teleporter something that Facebook would send to the FBI, or was it just a

1 one-way?

2 A It was a tool or a process owned by the FBI. But I think your question is

3 about whether we would share information bidirectionally through it. I believe it was

4 bidirectional. We would both receive and share information.

5 Q Do you recall discussions during these ongoing FITF meetings regarding the 6 risk of a potential hack-and-leak operation?

7 A I generally recall the topic of hack-and-leaks as being a commonly discussed

8 risk around the election timeframe, around that time period. I don't recall, like, a

9 specific meeting with the FBI in which this was discussed in detail, but it's likely that it did

10 come up in some of those meetings, because it was just kind of, like, a general risk that

11 we were aware of.

12 Meta was attuned to it independently, and we had discussed it in a number of

13 venues, so it's very likely that it came up in some of those meetings. I just don't recall

14 the specific ones in which we may have discussed it.

15 Q You mentioned that Meta was independently aware of it. Did Meta

16 provide information regarding the risk of a hack-and-leak during these FITF meetings?

17 A There was no specific information, if that's what you mean. Or, like, the 18 general process of preparation? Or --

19 Q With whatever -- to the extent that the issue was raised --

20 A Yeah.

21 Q -- whatever information was provided with respect to that issue.

22 A We would probably discuss that this was one of the risks that we were 23 considering and preparing for, but speaking in general terms.

24 Q Did the FBI provide information relevant to either a specific risk or a general

25 risk of a hack-and-leak operation?

1 A So I just generally recall that this was a topic that would -- I don't recall a
2 specific meeting or the way in which it was discussed. But we had a number of 3 interactions and discussions around hack-and-leak generally, so it's hard to kind of recall
4 now what the FBI specifically said. But, from what I recall, it was just the general, kind
5 of, risk around hack-and-leaks that was top of mind.
6 Q But, to your recollection, there was information being provided by both
7 parties, Facebook and the FBI? It was not just one direction?
8 A Specific to hack-and-leak?
9 Q Yes.
10 A So I don't have any specific information that comes to mind that was shared,
11 more just the general awareness of that risk. And, you know, from our side, I could 12 speak to what we -- you know, how we were preparing for the process generally.
13 Q But do you recall ever receiving any information from the FBI regarding 14 hack-and-leak?
15 A You mean, like, any specific hack-and-leak? Or -- 16 Q Well, I suppose the -- I'll ask the question both ways. To a specific 17 hack-and-leak or just -- you've mentioned a couple times now there was a general
18 awareness of the risk. So in either scenario.
19 A I recall general conversations about the risk of hack-and-leaks. There was 20 also a lot of information in the public domain about hack-and-leaks at the time, so it's 21 hard for me to recall whether that content was mentioned in specific meetings by the FBI
22 or I knew about it independently from, you know, like, our own research or press reports.
23 In terms of specifics, I don't recall any specific indicators shared with us by the FBI
24 regarding any particular hack-and-leak.
25 Q Do you recall any discussions of which foreign state was most likely to

1 attempt a hack-and-leak operation?

2 A Well, I recall that from, like, public discussions and things that were publicly

3 stated.

4 Q What about these discussions between Facebook and the Foreign Influence

5 Task Force?

6 A I think they would largely have reflected the public discussions that were

7 going on at the time of things that we already knew or independently considered.

8 Q If the information that is relevant to hack-and-leak is already out in the

9 public domain, why are you and the FBI spending time discussing it during your

10 Facebook-FITF meeting?

11 A Again, I think it was, like, a general topic of discussions that would come up,

12 but I don't recall specific meetings in which it was discussed in detail. As a general

13 threat matter or general risk matter, it was current in our minds at that time throughout

14 the preparation for the 2020 elections.

15 Mr. Brown. Are we done with this document?

16 [redacted] We'll hang on to it just for the moment, but --

17 Mr. Brown. Okay.

18 BY [redacted]

19 Q Taking one step back, outside of hack-and-leak and the risk there, are these

20 meetings between Facebook and the FBI -- are you discussing information that's not

21 public?

22 A So sometimes there were indicators that we would share that were not

23 public during those meetings. So we would, you know, pass threat information to the 24 FBI that was approved for passage, and, you know, that information was not always

25 public. And sometimes we would receive information from the FBI that was not always

1 public. And then we could, in some of the FITF meetings, discuss the context behind
2 that information that wasn't public.
3 But that's not related to hack-and-leak; that's generally how those meetings might 4 go. I don't recall any specific indicators passed related to hack-and-leak in particular.
5 Q Okay. What about that second half of your sentence, that the context
6 behind --
7 A Uh-huh.
8 Q -- or the contents might not involve public information? Do you recall any 9 discussions to that end regarding hack-and-leak?
10 A I don't recall any discussions with the FBI about any specifics behind any 11 hack-and-leak operations that I wouldn't have already known from, like, the public -- that 12 I would've not known independently from the public conversation at that time.
13 Q Did the FBI know that you already knew this information independently?
14 A So I don't have any specific instance in which, like, particular information
15 was shared, that I recall. So just general atmospherics or risks around hack-and-leak
16 was something that I was familiar with and I think that most people in the industry were 17 probably familiar with.
18 Q Okay. If most people in the industry are familiar with it, why are you
19 spending the time discussing it?
20 A Well, I can speak for, like, why my team thought it was important to have
21 those discussions. We would talk about just general preparation, or how the companies
22 would share information in case of an incident, whether it was a hack-and-leak or not. I
23 remember we did a tabletop exercise with the companies just to kind of prepare for any 24 potential, you know, circumstances.
25 Q Did you ever discuss with the FBI that the company was developing a

1 hack-and-leak policy?

2 A I don't recall specifically whether we had that discussion or not. It's 3 possible.

4 Q Do you recall ever receiving questions from the FBI about whether you had a

5 hack-and-leak policy?

6 A I don't recall receiving specific questions about a hack-and-leak policy.

7 Q What about generally, questions about what Facebook would do if there

8 were a hack-and-leak?

9 A Oh, general questions about, like, process? No, I don't remember specific

10 questions about hack-and-leak. The discussions I do recall were just general risk

11 assessments related to the possibility of hack-and-leaks.

12 Q And what was the risk assessment?

13 A Well, our independent risk assessment at the time was -- this was, as I

14 mentioned before, something that Meta was independently attuned to. Our

15 assessment was that it was one of the risks that we should prepare for in coming up to 16 the election, based on a number of factors.

17 Q What was the FBI's risk assessment?

18 A I don't know what their risk assessment was.

19 Q Did they share it with you?

20 A Not that I know. Not that I recall.

21 Q If the FBI was not sharing their risk assessment, what information were they 22 sharing as it related to hack-and-leak?

23 A Oh, sorry, when I say "risk assessment," I just mean a more formal exercise

24 at Meta that we would do -- we would call it threat modeling or threat ideation -- to kind

25 of assess what is the possible universe of risks that we might be confronted with in the

1 context of a high-risk event like elections.

2 I don't know if the FBI did similar analysis or not. They didn't share that.

3 Generally, they -- I think I recall discussions in which the topic of hack-and-leak

4 would come up as a risk. So my assumption is that the FBI would consider that to be a

5 risk, or one of the risks, to the election. But we certainly did, independently of the FBI,

6 at the time.

7 Q How many times did it come up in the lead-up to the 2020 election?

8 A I don't recall. There wasn't, like, a specific set of agenda points that I recall

9 that specifically talked about hack-and-leak policy.

10 So we had a number of discussions about the risk of hack-and-leaks at the time

11 across industry. It's possible that they came up in conversations with government as

12 well. But I don't recall the specifics.

13 Q With your meetings between just CISA and Facebook, were there discussions

14 regarding hack-and-leak?

15 A Not that I recall. It's possible, but I don't recall specifics.

16 Q Okay. What about the CISA-FBI-Facebook meetings?

17 A Same answer; I don't recall the specifics. It's possible that they came up,

18 but, again, as a mentioned, it was a common topic, a common concern across the 19 industry at the time.

20 Q Okay. What about the USG-industry meetings?

21 A Same answer.

22 Q In the USG-industry meetings -- well, let me take a step back.

23 A Uh-huh.

24 Q By "same answer," it's possible it came up because it was a general topic but

25 you don't recall any specific instances?

1 A I don't recall a specific discussion or, like, specifics about a particular
2 hack-and-leak operation that would've come up. But, generally, the topic of the risk of
3 hack-and-leaks generally was top of mind across the industry, and it would've up in a
4 number of conversations. I just don't recall the specific ones.
5 Q Okay.
6 For the USG-industry, to the extent hack-and-leak came up during the discussion,
7 do you recall if any government agency other than the FBI commented in any relation to
8 hack-and-leak?
9 A Sorry, could you repeat the question?
10 Q Sure. In the USG-industry meetings, for any discussions -- the extent
11 hack-and-leak was raised as a discussion --
12 A Uh-huh.
13 Q -- whether by an industry member, by the FBI, or whoever, do you recall any 14 of the other government agencies commenting on anything related to the risk of 15 hack-and-leak?
16 A Commenting?
17 Q Yes.
18 A I don't recall specifically, no.
19 Q Okay. What about generally?
20 A It's possible, but I don't recall specifically.
21 Q Who is William Glass?
22 A Yeah, Will Glass is a former Meta employee.
23 Q What department?
24 A Will was in my department. He was one of the threat analysts in my
25 department.

1 Q You mentioned that there was a tabletop exercise that the industry partners
2 did; is that right?
3 A Uh-huh.
4 Q When did that tabletop exercise take place?
5 A It was sometime -- some months before the election. I don't recall
6 specifically which month. But it was in the, you know, months running up to the
7 election.
8 Q Did you participate?
9 A Yes.
10 Q Who else participated?
11 A It was a number of industry partners from the common firms that we -- or 12 companies that we work with in the sector.
13 Q Okay. Who else from Facebook participated?
14 A A number of folks from, you know, my teams and sister teams across the,
15 like, threat intelligence space.
16 Q Okay. Individuals. Who else participated?
17 A Oh. One name that comes to mind -- so we had several different, you
18 know, like, topics for the exercise that we discussed. It was in the context of a broader,
19 kind of, like, threat-sharing conference that we had with the industry peers at the time,
20 all aimed at information-sharing ahead of the elections. So one of the topics or tracks in 21 that conference was this tabletop exercise.
22 I don't recall -- there were other people from Meta that participated in the overall
23 conference. I just don't recall if all of them -- not all of them would've participated in 24 this specific tabletop exercise.
25 Q Okay. Who else was at the conference?

1 A So some of my analysts at the time were at the conference. Some of them
2 are here on this email, like [redacted] and I think Lisa was another person. I don't know if
3 [redacted] on this email. But a number of my analysts would've participated.
4 Q Is that [redacted]?
5 A Yes.
6 Q And she currently is or was a --
7 A She is not with Meta any longer, but she was at the time an analyst on my 8 team, and she helped organize the conference.
9 Q Were you referring to [redacted]?
10 A Yes.
11 Q And who is [redacted]
12 A Similar position to [redacted] She's no longer with the company, but at the 13 time she was one of the threat analysts on my team.
14 Q What was the name of this conference that had the tabletop exercise?
15 A I don't think we gave it a particular name. It was just an informal -- like, we 16 organized it ourselves. It wasn't, like, an industry conference. So I don't know if we 17 called it anything other than, like, an industry meeting.
18 Q Was it in person or --
19 A No. It was dial-in.
20 Q Which other industry partners participated?
21 A Sure. Some of the ones I recall are Twitter, Microsoft. I believe Verizon
22 Media or Yahoo -- I forget what they were called at the time -- participated. And I think
23 Google. I'm not certain about those. I think those were the typical companies I
24 would've assumed would've been invited.
25 Q And what was the tabletop exercise? What was the --

1 A Yeah. The exercise would focus on, like, a hypothetical scenario and would
2 sort of test - if you're familiar with, like, crisis response or incident response
3 methodologies, you know, just kind of test our responses, how we would coordinate or 4 deconflict. So it was focused on, kind of, you know, hypothetical injection points or, you
5 know, hypothetical scenarios that would evolve over time.
6 And then we would -- I ran the exercise, and it was run as, you know: "Here is an
7 additional bit of information. Imagine this has happened. What are your typical 8 responses?" And then we would kind of go around the room, and each of the 9 companies would share, okay, in this situation, we would do X or we would do Y.
10 And it was aimed at a couple things: one, just kind of general familiarization with 11 how each company would approach the risk, how would they assess that risk, and what 12 actions they would take; and then focusing on how we would share information in case
13 there was any information to share.
14 Q During this exercise, what did Facebook tell or present to the other industry
15 partners of how Facebook would respond to a potential hack-and-leak?
16 A Oh, I don't actually -- the tabletop exercise wasn't specifically focused on 17 hack-and-leak --
18 Q Okay.
19 A -- to my recollection.
20 Q What was it focused on?
21 A I'd need to refresh my memory. I don't recall. It was a completely, you
22 know, hypothetical scenario of -- the details I recall right now is, you know, a hypothetical
23 in which a government agency, like the FBI, shares some threat indicators with us, and 24 then the, you know, investigation proceeds after that based on what we discover with 25 those threat indicators.

1 I don't recall it being particularly tied to a hack-and-leak scenario. It's possible
2 there were some elements of that, but I would need to refresh my memory. I haven't 3 seen that documentation in a number of years.
4 Q I apologize if I'm getting her pronunciation of her name wrong. Is it [redacted]
5 [redacted]?
6 A [redacted] I think.
7 Q [redacted]?
8 A Uh-huh.
9 Q Who is she again? I know you covered it in the last hour.
10 A Emily worked for the law enforcement outreach group at Meta.
11 Q During the Facebook-FITF meetings, do you recall any discussions regarding 12 the company's content moderation policies?
13 A Maybe, can you help me, what do you mean by "content moderation
14 policies"?
15 Q Sure. The community standards -- how they're developed, how they're 16 applied, and how they're enforced.
17 A Not that I recall.
18 Q Following a FITF meeting, if there was -- sounds like there was discussions of 19 things that were both public and not public. For the things that were not public, who 20 would you -- first, let me take a step back. Who at the company would you be able to 21 share that information with?
22 A Typically, folks to whom it was relevant. So one example is, if we received
23 indicators or, you know, contextual information about what a threat actor might be trying 24 to do on our platform, internally my department shared with -- if the analyst that typically 25 works that issue or, you know, problem area, wasn't at the meeting, we would share it

1 with that team or analyst so they could take further action to document it and investigate
2 it.
3 Q How frequently, at the end of a FITF meeting, would there be a situation
4 where --
5 A That happens?
6 Q -- you'd have to share -- yeah.
7 A So, typically, we actually wouldn't receive that information at the FITF
8 meeting. It would either proceed it or follow it afterwards. We might discuss it, you
9 know, the topic, there. So, in a scenario where we received information prior, they may 10 ask, do you have any questions about this information? Do you have any feedback on 11 this information?
12 In some cases, they would, you know, give us a threat brief or preview some issue
13 and then share information afterwards.
14 But a lot of the discussions didn't involve, you know, passing of specific threat
15 indicators. It was just more high-level, kind of, threat landscape and trends that they 16 would make us aware of. In some cases, we knew about this; in some cases, we didn't;
17 in some cases, it was relevant; in others, it wasn't.
18 Q And when these high-level discussions are occurring regarding 19 hack-and-leak, was there discussion about the risk of a hack-and-leak operation from 20 Russia?
21 A Generally, we were attuned to that risk independently of discussions with 22 the FBI because of everything that was going on at the time. So I don't recall a specific 23 discussion in which specific information was passed by the FBI, but it's a discussion that,
24 when we were talking about hack-and-leak, the primary discussion would be around the 25 hack-and-leak threat from Russia.

1 Q Was there discussion of timing of when a hack-and-leak might occur?

2 A Not that I recall specifically. But, you know, generally, hack-and-leak

3 around election time would be the timeframe of the elections. But that is something

4 that we were independently attuned to and aware of. I don't recall specific details

5 about the timing of a hack-and-leak.

6 Q During these high-level discussions at the FITF meetings with the FBI, were

7 there any discussions regarding whether a hack-and-leak would target particular

8 American politicians?

9 A That information was -- we were attuned to that independently from public

10 knowledge. So there was a statement that was published, I think, months before the

11 election via the -- I think it was called the National Counterintelligence and Security

12 Center, NCSC, that talked about -- I think it broke down, kind of, like, country threats by

13 country -- Russia, China, and Iran. So we would've been aware of that. Like, that's an 14 example of, you know, a public statement that we would've been aware of.

15 We were also aware of a number of other issues at the time, such as, like,

16 historical precedent of Russian threat actors targeting, you know, the U.S. 2016 elections

17 or the French 2017 elections.

18 We were aware of public reporting around Russian alleged compromise of

19 Ukrainian energy company Burisma by Russian military intelligence actors that came out

20 that year, I believe early in 2020.

21 We would've been aware of statements made by a Ukrainian -- he was a

22 parliamentarian in Ukraine with suspected Russian intelligence ties -- his name was Andrii

23 Derkach -- who had made statements about, you know, information related to the 24 political figures in the U.S.

25 So all of that would've, kind of, made it into our analysis all together.

1 Q And if you're aware of that, presumably the Foreign Influence Task Force
2 would be aware of that information as well?
3 A Yeah, I assume so. It should.
4 Q Okay. And when you're having discussions with the Foreign Influence Task
5 Force, are you discussing these sorts of materials?
6 A So there was nothing that I recall that went beyond what was publicly
7 already available. So, you know, I don't recall a particular instance in which we would've
8 discussed in more detail that information.
9 Q But do you recall discussing all the different facets you laid out regarding --
10 A Not how I laid them out. Like, I was explaining to you, like, why we were 11 independently aware of that risk or considered it a risk at the time. But I don't recall
12 going through those reasons or that assessment with the FBI.
13 Q Well, you recall multiple discussions in this area. You're not sure about the 14 facts you just laid out. I guess the question is, what was being discussed, then, between 15 Facebook and the FBI on this matter?
16 A Again, I don't recall specific discussions in which we talked about 17 hack-and-leak. It was a common topic of discussion at the time, so I don't -- you know,
18 it was -- I appreciate the question, and I understand why you're asking it. It was a 19 number of years ago, and because there was so much conversation generally about 20 hack-and-leak, I don't recall the specific discussions in which it would've come up with the 21 FBI.
22 Q Were you asking questions about hack-and-leak, asking the FBI, "Hey, do you
23 have anything more you could tell us about this risk?"
24 A About the risk generally? I don't recall asking such questions about the risk 25 generally.

1 Q Okay. About anything related to hack-and-leak?

2 A When you say "hack-and-leak," do you mean any specific -- like, do you

3 mean the policy or our preparation process, just generally what was going on, or any

4 specific issue?

5 Q All of the above. Hack-and-leak, a specific operation --

6 Mr. Brown. Can we pick one question at a time for the witness?

7 [redacted] Sure. We'll go through each of these.

8 BY [redacted]

9 Q We'll start first with a specific hack-and-leak operation.

10 A And what's the question?

11 Q Do you recall asking the FBI any questions?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. And what do you recall?

14 A I recall a conversation with the FBI in which -- so I don't know if the FBI

15 considered it hack-and-leak or not. I can speak only for the activity that we were 16 conducting at the time.

17 And I recall having a conversation around -- there was a story in the New York Post

18 about a laptop that allegedly belonged to Hunter Biden. And I recall having a

19 conversation with the FBI asking whether there was any evidence behind that

20 information that would indicate foreign direction or sponsorship of that. That's the only

21 instance in which I remember specific discussions.

22 Q And during those discussions, what did the FBI respond?

23 [Discussion off the record.]

24 [redacted] I remember -- sorry, could you repeat the question?

25 BY [redacted]

1 Q Sure. I said, you recall one instance of where you asked about a specific
2 hack-and-leak operation.
3 A Right.
4 Q What did the FBI respond?
5 A So let me just correct that. I didn't know if it was a hack-and-leak
6 operation. You know, as, sort of, the circumstances unfolded, I remember asking the 7 FBI whether there was any information that they could share that would indicate any 8 foreign direction or sponsorship behind this information.
9 Did that answer your question? Sorry.
10 Q And what did the FBI respond?
11 A Oh. My takeaway from those conversations was that there was no such 12 indication.
13 Q You say your "takeaway." What was said specifically?
14 A That it wasn't a matter related to foreign influence or national security.
15 That was my takeaway.
16 Q Taking a step back, I'm not asking necessarily what your takeaway was.
17 A Uh-huh.
18 Q What were the words? What was said by the FBI to either you or to the 19 company?
20 A I don't recall the specific, like, phrasing that was used. But my questions
21 would've been whether there was any additional information, and my reason for asking
22 those questions was to assess whether there was any foreign direction or sponsorship.
23 I don't recall the particular phrasing around the response, other than that the 24 groups responsible for working foreign influence and national security were not looking at 25 this matter. Something to the effect.

1 Mr. Brown. We've given you documents on the topic, and if you want to share
2 the documents with him, it might help refresh his memory.
3 I know we're just about at time. So, if you want to take a break and come back
4 at it later, that's fine.
5 [redacted] Yeah. I will ask a few more questions.
6 Mr. Brown. It's 2 o'clock. Would it be a decent time to just take a break and 7 pick up?
8 [redacted] Yeah. Yeah. Certainly.
9 [redacted] You know, I only have -- based on what you've done, I have a very
10 short amount of questioning. I'm happy to save it, to let you just continue.
11 [redacted] Okay.
12 [redacted] I mean, we can take a break, obviously, but --
13 Mr. Brown. Let's take a break.
14 [redacted] We can go off the record.
15 [Recess.]

1

2 [2:06 p.m.]

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q So right before we broke, we started talking about a story -- just so we're

5 clear for the record, we're talking about the October 14th, 2020, New York Post story

6 about Hunter Biden's laptop?

7 A Yes.

8 Q When did you first become aware of the laptop story?

9 A I think it was that day when it came out.

10 Q And did you know prior to that story's publication whether the FBI was in 11 possession of a laptop or a hard drive or anything similar related to that story?

12 A No. No, I did not.

13 Q To your recollection, walk me through the day.

14 Did you find out about the story early in the morning when it was first published?

15 A Yeah. I appreciate the question. I can talk about the general timeline if

16 you'd like, but also it was -- it's hard to recall when I first saw the story or how I became

17 aware of it. It was just a number of issues I was handling on that day.

18 So I don't recall the specifics of how the story -- whether I saw it or someone

19 forwarded it to me or someone mentioned it. I don't recall how I initially came to be 20 aware of it. But I do believe I became to be aware of it on the 14th.

21 Mr. Brown. Can you just walk him through what you know? He said walk him

22 through.

23 [redacted] Oh, sure. What I know about the story generally?

24 BY [redacted]

25 Q No. No. Just the reaction of -- you said you're tracking a lot of things.

1 This was one of them. You become aware of the story. What happens next? We'll
2 start first in the early hours of the morning.
3 A Early hours of the morning. I remember that day I was at an in-person
4 on-site event, meeting, at my manager's house with some colleagues. So we were at 5 that meeting. I think we were planning to be at that meeting for the full day talking 6 about organizational strategy, issues like that, team strategy, things like that.
7 And then the story -- I don't recall the specific time it was published or came out,
8 but I believe it was in the morning I would become aware of it. I think I probably had a
9 number of internal discussions with people about the story. I don't recall the specific 10 ones, but it's likely that I would have.
11 Then, later in the day, we had a previously scheduled meeting with the Foreign 12 Influence Task Force that I dialed into. So we had that meeting.
13 And I don't recall the specific activities after that related to the story. But things
14 related to it sort of followed for the next few days.
15 Oh. Just to go back to the Foreign Influence Task Force meeting. I believe it
16 was me who asked -- Meta asked a question, and I think it was me who asked that 17 question about whether the FBI had any additional information -- this is what I was 18 referring to earlier -- additional information behind the story that they were able to share
19 at the time.
20 I think your question was, what was said? And so I recall that at that time there
21 was no additional information that the FBI was able to provide related -- or that the FBI
22 had at the time related to any foreign aspect or directional sponsorship behind this
23 information.
24 BY [redacted]
25 Q Did they provide any information, if it was related to a criminal matter?

A I believe I recall someone indicating that this was a criminal matter, or that it was a matter -- I forget the specific wording, but a matter that was being handled or addressed by the Criminal Division of the FBI. And my takeaway was that the national security or foreign influence folks at the FBI were not tracking this.

Q Do you know if anyone else at Facebook that day reached out to anyone else at the FBI?

A I don't know.

Q We're going to run through a couple exhibits here.

A Sure.

[[redacted] Exhibit No. 5

Was marked for identification.]

BY [redacted]

Q The first is exhibit 5.

This is exhibit 5.

[Witness reviewing.]

A Okay.

Q So, first, is this the same [redacted] as you referenced earlier from Meta's legal department?

A Yes.

Q If you turn to the back of the first page at the top, [redacted] writes, "I forwarded the invite to Security Policy, [redacted] and [redacted] And I forgot to forward to [redacted]

Who are [redacted] [redacted] and [redacted] that he's referring to there?

A So as I think we mentioned, [redacted], who is a colleague, current colleague at Meta. [redacted] was a peer at the time. She's no longer with Meta. And then [redacted] was also a peer manager at the time. Also no longer with Meta.

1 Q And, at the bottom, you say, "Yes, outside in [redacted] backyard." Who is that
2 referring to?
3 A [redacted], my manager.
4 Q At the next line, [redacted] asks, "Who else should I send an invite?" You
5 mentioned [redacted] [redacted] [redacted] and [redacted] Who is he referring to there?
6 A All of these folks are analysts -- or former -- they're all actually former
7 analysts at Meta in my department.
8 Q And can you say their full names for us?
9 A Is there, like, a particular name that you're interested?
10 Q We're interested in each of the names listed there.
11 Mr. Brown. Can you tell us why you need the last names? I mean, he has 12 indicated previously that he's concerned about the security of his team members.
13 You're videotaping this. And a fear is that their names will be put in the public to 14 intimidate them.
15 And so we prefer not to provide the last names here. We'd be happy to get
16 them to you in another form if that is useful for you. But putting them on a videotape
17 that could be made public might result in and then they're subject to harassment.
18 We'd be happy to get you the names. But it should be possible to track who said
19 what and all that without the last names for this purpose. But I'd be happy to get that 20 to you in writing.
21 [redacted] Are you instructing the witness not to answer?
22 Mr. Brown. I'm just asking if we could get this kind of an accommodation given 23 the security concerns. You want this individual to put the names -- you're asking him to 24 publish their names so you can put it on videotape, and that would potentially result in 25 them being intimidated.

1 So we're prepared to get you that in writing if that would work, and if there is
2 some reason why you couldn't follow on, this is the comfort of the witness. He doesn't 3 want to be in a position of publishing for the world the names of his employees so they 4 could be intimidated about this topic.
5 So I was hoping you could accommodate that. If you're instructing the witness
6 that he has to do that or he's not cooperating with the inquiry, then we'll -- I want you to 7 say that.
8 [redacted] Just so we're clear on the basis here, the witness is appearing 9 voluntarily. I'm asking you as counsel, are you instructing the witness not to answer?
10 Mr. Brown. I'm telling you what the witness told you. Obviously, you have a
11 legal right to ask him to give you the last names. He told you he was uncomfortable
12 giving the last names because he's worried about the security of his people.
13 I think you could follow this without the last names here. I'm happy to give them
14 to you after we're done with the session so he's not put in a position of publishing the 15 names of his employees in a way that might lead to them being intimidated.
16 But if you want him to give you those names and you instruct him that the 17 committee's not worried about that and you want him to give you the names, just say
18 that.
19 [redacted] Yeah. There's no basis to accuse the committee of improperly
20 disclosing names or using it to intimidate.
21 Mr. Brown. There's a video camera here, and there are one, two, three, four,
22 five, six microphones.
23 [redacted] Yes. It's a transcribed interview, and this is consistent with the 24 committee's protocol with every other interview that we've done.
25 Mr. Brown. This is the only person that has got security people on his team, and he's concerned about that. But if you're instructing him to give you the last names, then he will --

[redacted] These names are on documents that have been produced to the committee.

Mr. Brown. That's correct. Which is why you don't --

[redacted] You did not flag that these individuals, that there's a particular sensitivity --

Mr. Brown. We're comfortable giving you the names. He doesn't want to repeat the names on a video that you might make public. He has asked you at the beginning of this to not make the video public.

[redacted] But that objection was not raised at any point prior to this interview. You produced these documents.

Mr. Brown. This is a concern of the witness, and I'm sharing it with you now. If you want to insist that he disclose the names, just do it. Insist it.

[redacted] The protocol here is I will ask the questions. And if you, as counsel, instruct him not to answer or if there is an objection to be made, it needs to be stated why the witness --

Mr. Brown. We have articulated the nature of the objection. If you want him to give you --

[redacted] You're conflating an objection. Is he still willing to answer?

Mr. Brown. Are you going to instruct him to answer? If you want to instruct him to answer, please do, and we'll go from there.

BY [redacted]

Q Does [redacted] refer to [redacted]?

A Yes.

1 Q And does [redacted] refer to [redacted] (ph)?

2 A I believe so.

3 Q Does [redacted] refer to [redacted]?

4 A I believe so.

5 Q And does [redacted] refer to [redacted]?

6 A I believe so.

7 Q Okay. At the bottom of that page, 59914, there's a text from [redacted] where

8 he says, "Did Elvis send the leads to you?"

9 Do you recall receiving any leads from Elvis Chan related to hack and leak?

10 A Sorry. I see the line, which is, "Did Elvis send the leads to you?" I believe

11 he is referring to the line -- if I could just call your attention to the line above that,

12 6:46:07. "Also [redacted] since they sent IR leads yesterday." I believe this is the lead that

13 Steve is referring to.

14 Q And what is "IR leads"? What does IR stand for?

15 A IR stands for Iran.

16 Q Independent of that, do you recall Elvis Chan sending you any leads related 17 to hack and leak or anything related to the article?

18 A I don't recall any specific leads related to the hack and leak or the article.

19 Q We can take these back.

20 Mr. Brown. For the record, in our cover letter to you along with this

21 production --

22 [[redacted] Exhibit No. 6

23 Was marked for identification.]

24 [redacted] This is exhibit 6.

25 Mr. Brown. Excuse me. I was speaking.

1 In our cover letter in connection with production of these documents we did ask
2 for confidential treatment of the names of any employees.
3 [redacted] Okay. During the preamble, we mentioned that what's discussed
4 here today is intended to be kept confidential and we asked the parties not to discuss
5 what we discuss here today.
6 BY [redacted]
7 Q The first message from you says, "TD is starting to look at first posters."
8 Who does TD refer to?
9 A I believe this refers to initials for one of our threat intelligence teams, threat
10 discovery in my department.
11 Q Your next message, you say, "We also have a call with LE today." First,
12 does LE refer to law enforcement?
13 A Yes.
14 Q Is that in reference to the FITF call or something else?
15 A No. I believe it's in reference to the FITF call, the meeting with FITF that we 16 previously had scheduled.
17 Q Your next message you say, "I think we should be on the record asking the 18 question."
19 A Uh-huh.
20 Q What are you referring to there?
21 A So I think, if you refer to [redacted] message at 9:16, where one of her questions
22 is, "if it's being amplified or originating in some way from foreign actors," et cetera, so
23 then I say at 9:32, "We also have a call with LE today and will try to get a sense from 24 them." I'm referring to the sense of whether there's any -- whether there is any 25 evidence that the FBI can share to suggest any foreign direction or amplification.

1 Q Okay. And why did you think it was appropriate to ask FITF that question?
2 A Why was it appropriate?
3 Q Yes.
4 A Well, I thought it was -- it would be useful to know what the assessment was 5 at that time as one of the data points that we would use in our analysis.
6 I didn't expect the FBI to be able to share the details of their sources or methods,
7 but asking the question would help us assess whether they were a partner, one of our 8 partners with whom we were communicating at the time, whether they had any 9 information to suggest any foreign direction or amplification of the story.
10 Q And if they did, how would that impact how the company decided to handle
11 the story?
12 A It would have been one of the data sources that we would have collected,
13 much like we've had an earlier discussion about what happens when they share threat
14 indicators. We would have conducted our own investigation to verify or corroborate
15 the information. But having knowledge that your partner has some additional 16 information to share would have been useful in our investigation as one of the data
17 points.
18 Q And why did you think the Foreign Influence Task Force may have 19 information on this?
20 A I didn't know whether they would have information on this or not. This 21 was a due diligence check. So we wanted to ask the question to see if there was any 22 additional information. But I had no way of knowing one way or the other whether they 23 would or not.
24 Q But, generally, does the Foreign Influence Task Force conduct analysis or 25 time share information related to hack-and-leak operations?

1 A So I don't recall any specific instances, but we do discuss generally threat
2 trends or share indicators related to threats. So I didn't know whether they would have
3 information on this topic or not, but wanted to ask the question to check.
4 Q But isn't the concern that this hack and leak may be from foreign actors? I
5 mean, that was the question.
6 A Right. That was my question, is whether there was any information at the 7 time to suggest whether there was any foreign direction or sponsorship, which was the 8 role of my team, to assess whether there was that information or not.
9 Q Sure. But within the FBI, what is the best division or team or task force to 10 reach out to?
11 A Oh. So regarding the question of foreign, like, direction or foreign 12 sponsorship, our primary interlocutor would have been the FITF.
13 Q And is that because this is the kind of issue that they work on?
14 A They work on foreign influence generally. So, yes.
15 Q We can take these back.
16 Do you know if [redacted] spoke to the FBI independent of the FITF meeting that 17 same day?
18 A I don't know.
19 Q What is the nature of your -- I understand you're in different departments.
20 Is Steve more senior than you? Were you roughly equals within the company?
21 A Like levels-wise?
22 Q Yes.
23 A His title is director.
24 Q And how does that compare to your title?
25 A Say that again. Sorry.

1 Q How does that compare to where you were at this time?

2 A I am a senior manager, so different titles, different -- like, general different

3 roles. But he's in a different department. He's in the legal department. So if your

4 question's around scope, I couldn't really compare that. We work on similar issues as 5 partners.

6 Q Less scope, but there's discussions, obviously, he and you are speaking or

7 texting early in the morning. Is it a dynamic where one of you could instruct the other

8 to reach out to the FBI?

9 A I don't really think of it as instruction. We were close partners at the time.

10 We still are. So we have -- I have frequent discussions with [redacted] And so we would 11 have a discussion. I didn't perceive this conversation to be an instruction.

12 Q Outside of the texting, did you speak to [redacted] on the phone that morning?

13 A I don't recall.

14 Q Who is [redacted]?

15 A Who?

16 Q [redacted], [redacted].

17 A I interacted with [redacted] around this time. I know who she was, but I don't

18 know where she is now. She was a Meta employee at the time that I knew her.

19 Q In which department?

20 A It was a different department of mine, and I don't exactly know what the 21 name of the department was.

22 Q Do you know who [redacted] is?

23 A I do.

24 Q Who is he?

25 A [redacted] is still -- he's a Meta employee. He's in a different department now,

1 but at the time he was the head of my department.

2 Q Which department is he with now?

3 A He's with the internal security, like, organization. I don't exactly know what

4 the formal name of the department is.

5 Q Were you planning to be on this FITF call before the story broke?

6 A I don't recall. I likely would have been invited, as I generally was. And I

7 don't remember whether I was planning to attend that particular call or not.

8 Q Do you recall if there's anyone from Facebook who was at that meeting who

9 normally did not attend FITF?

10 A Normally did not attend? No, I don't recall. I don't recall who from 11 Facebook was on that call, who dialed in.

12 Q Do you recall any discussions about -- went over the one text thread -- about

13 who best to include in the meeting? Do you recall was there an effort or -- let me

14 restart that.

15 Without having to identify each and every person from Facebook that was on that

16 call, do you recall if there were people on that call who normally would not be on a

17 Facebook-FITF call?

18 A I think that same answer as before. I don't recall -- so the attendance of 19 the meetings is generally rotating. Not everyone would dial in every time. People

20 would dial in based on their availability or the topics that were being discussed.

21 So I don't -- nothing sticks out as unusual in my mind for someone who attended

22 the call that would have never been on other calls, if that's your question.

23 Q There was an effort, that you and Steve were texting in the morning about

24 adding members of your team to the call. Why was there a discussion about adding

25 members of your team?

1 Mr. Brown. I'm going to instruct the witness, one thing you should not do is
2 disclose any legal advice that you were given by [redacted]. He's an attorney for the 3 company, and the company is not intending to waive any privileges. So if there was any 4 legal advice given to you by [redacted], you should not answer the question.
5 [redacted] Understood.
6 Sorry. Could you repeat the questions?
7 BY [redacted]
8 Q Sure. Why was there a discussion about members of your team joining this
9 call?
10 A The analysts whose names we went through earlier?
11 Q Yes.
12 A I believe it was because the topics on the agenda may have related to the 13 issues or threat investigations that those analysts were involved with.
14 Q Were these analysts involved with efforts related to a potential hack and 15 leak?
16 A Not to my knowledge.
17 Q So it's your understanding that that discussion with Steve was not because of 18 the story, but was independent of it?
19 A To include those analysts?
20 Q Yeah.
21 A That's my understanding. It was related to other topics.
22 Q Was there an internal Facebook meeting in advance of the FITF meeting?
23 Mr. Brown. Stop. Can we go off the record?
24 [Discussion off the record.]
25 Mr. Brown. We can go back on the record. And we're going to ask to pull exhibit 6 back out to answer the question you were -- sorry, exhibit 5. This would be the "chat transcript."

Go ahead.

[redacted] Right. So if you don't mind referring to, I think it's the third page, 6:46:07, regarding the Iran leads, 6:45:25 (sic), Mexico lead, where I say, "If so, we should invite Luis."

Then, on the next page, 6:52:37, we were talking about the Iran leads again. And then 15:50:56, [redacted] is telling me about the Sandworm indicted -- sorry, Sandworm indictment. Sandworm refers to a particular threat actor that we would have been tracking at the time.

So I believe those were the general topics that would have been topics on the agenda for the conversation.

[redacted] At the bottom of the first page, the text from [redacted] it says, "Think we want to get more info on the email leak in NY Post from today."

[redacted] Yup.

Mr. Brown. Well, that's not what it says. It says, "Think we want to get more info on the email leak in the New York Post from today and also on China based on the DNI's statement that they are more prolific at IOs now than Russia." So it's multiple topics.

BY [redacted]

Q Okay. And it's your understanding that those next texts, about forwarding invites to Security Policy, [redacted] [redacted] as well as to [redacted] related to the second half of that text, the and China based on the DNI's statement that they are more prolific at influence operations now than Russia?

A I don't know what the intent is behind [redacted] -- like, I don't know what [redacted]

1 is thinking in adding these folks, but none of them would have been unusual to invite to
2 this meeting. All the functions here and people would have been in previous FITF
3 meetings.
4 Q So you are unsure, you do not know if part of [redacted] sending the invite to 5 those folks is related to his desire to get more info on the email leak and the New York
6 Post story?
7 A I don't.
8 Q All right. Was there an internal Facebook meeting in advance of the FITF
9 meeting?
10 A Not that I recall.
11 Q Prior to the FITF meeting, did you or anyone at the company have 12 knowledge of whether the FBI was in possession of Hunter Biden's laptop, hard drive,
13 anything related to it?
14 A I think you asked that question before. No, I was not aware of that.
15 Q Are you aware with -- are you aware of the company's decision on how to 16 handle the New York Post story?
17 A In general terms.
18 Q Okay. And how did you get that awareness? How did you learn of that?
19 A I don't actually know. I don't remember how I came to be aware of it.
20 Q Do you know if the company had made a decision prior to the FITF meeting?
21 A I don't know when that decision was made.
22 Q Were you involved in the decisionmaking process?
23 A Could we clarify which decision are you referring to?
24 Q Sure. Let's take one step back.
25 Your understanding of what steps did the company take with respect to New York

1 Post story?

2 A So I'm not -- I wasn't part of that decision, so I don't want to speculate on

3 the specific steps that were taken, that I think my recollection happened on that day, on

4 the 14th. But I don't know the exact, like, steps that were taken or the decisions that

5 led to it. I wasn't part of those decisions.

6 Q To your understanding, who were part of those decisions?

7 A I don't know.

8 Q Was it decided in advance of the FITF meeting if you were the one who

9 would ask the question?

10 A The specific question regarding the laptop?

11 Q Yes.

12 A I don't remember having a specific discussion determining who would ask

13 that question. I believe that it was me who asked that question, but I don't remember,

14 like, coordinating or agreeing that it would have been me to ask that question.

15 Q Do you recall if [redacted] was on the FITF call?

16 A I don't specifically recall whether Steve was on that call. It's possible, but I

17 don't remember.

18 Q Was [redacted]?

19 A I don't think so. I don't recall [redacted] being on that call, but he didn't

20 frequently attend those calls. So I don't remember exactly whether he was on or not,

21 but I don't think so.

22 Q Was [redacted] on that call?

23 A I don't remember.

24 Q Is there anyone from Facebook that you remember joined you on the call?

25 A That was on the call?

1 Q Yes.

2 A One name that comes to mind is [redacted] who was in the chat with [redacted]

3 Q You were in person in [redacted] backyard?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Was there anyone who was with you in person that day who also joined the

6 call?

7 A There were people who were with me there in person. I don't recall

8 whether they joined or not, the call. Because, as you recall, we were there for a

9 strategy session with [redacted] So I don't remember if I stepped out to dial into this meeting,

10 or if there were others that dialed in. I'm not exactly sure.

11 Q Okay. Do you recall where you took the call? I mean, did you step out of 12 the house altogether? How did you join?

13 A I mean, I don't remember the specific details, but I think I stepped out of -- I

14 think it was all outside in the backyard. And I think I probably stepped into, like, a 15 different area of the backyard and dialed into the meeting.

16 Q Do you recall if Elvis Chan was on this FITF call?

17 A I don't recall specifically whether he was on that call or not. It wouldn't 18 have been unusual for him to attend. But I don't remember the specific call.

19 Q Do you recall who from the FBI provided a response?

20 A I don't. But also, I dialed in by phone, so I didn't have the benefit of seeing

21 people in front of me. And I don't know all their voices, so I'm not sure who answered

22 the question.

23 Q Okay. At the end of the -- before we took a break, or maybe the start of 24 this hour, sounds like there were a couple statements or pieces of communications or

25 pieces of information were communicated.

1 First was with respect to if there was evidence of foreign sponsorship or anything
2 related to that.
3 And then the second was whether there was a criminal investigation or something
4 like that separate from the foreign sponsorship.
5 Is that consistent with your recollection before I ask the next set of questions?
6 A I don't remember the specific, like, phrasing that was provided back. The 7 question I would have asked would have been, is there any additional information the FBI
8 could share about the laptop or the story itself.
9 And I remember that my takeaway was that there were two we went over.
10 One was that there was at that time no reason or no involvement of the foreign 11 influence folks in this. They were not aware or involved in the story.
12 And the other piece was the FBI indicated that there was the Criminal Division that 13 was looking at this matter. We didn't go further than that.
14 So my takeaway was that there was no, at the time, any evidence or reason to 15 believe or that the FBI could share about any foreign direction or sponsorship behind the 16 story.
17 Q I guess the parts -- for the foreign sponsorship aspect, was the answer we do
18 not have any information regarding foreign sponsorship, or we're not able to share
19 information regarding foreign sponsorship?
20 A It was basically no answer, we're not looking at it, that type of answer. The 21 specific phrasing I don't recall, but it was not a long discussion.
22 Q And do you recall who from the FBI said that?
23 A No, I don't.
24 Q Do you recall if it was a man or a woman?
25 A I don't.

1 Q Okay. What about with respect to the Criminal Division, someone else is 2 looking into it? Was it the same person or did someone else say something?
3 A I believe it was a different person that said it, gave some indication that this
4 was -- that the Criminal Division was looking at this.
5 Q Do you know who from the FBI?
6 A I don't.
7 Q Do you know if Laura Dehmlow was on the call?
8 A I don't know whether she was -- I don't remember whether she was on this 9 specific call or not. I mean, she frequently attended FITF calls, but I don't know if she 10 was on this one.
11 Q Was [redacted] on this call?
12 A Same answer. It's likely he was, but I don't recall specifically.
13 Q In the midst of these two answers, the first regarding foreign sponsorship,
14 the second regarding the Criminal Division, did the FBI say anything that informed you
15 and the others from Facebook on the call that the FBI was in possession of a laptop?
16 A Uh-huh. Sorry. Yes.
17 Q Which answer did that come up in?
18 A I recall a confirmation that the laptop existed, that it was real, which I think 19 answers your question, that that was my recollection of the conversations, it was 20 confirmed that there was a laptop.
21 Q Did the person from the FBI who said no foreign sponsorship also say that, or 22 the person who was commenting about the Criminal Division taking a look, or was there a
23 third person?
24 A Just to be clear, no one from the FBI said there's no foreign sponsorship.
25 That's not the phrasing that they would have used. And I don't recall the specific

1 phrasing.

2 But the essence of it was that the foreign influence folks or the national security

3 folks at the FBI were not tracking this, which I took to mean that at the time the FBI had

4 no information to share about any -- or knowledge of any information related to foreign

5 origin sponsorship of the story. I don't recall who said that on the call.

6 Q When you say they were not tracking this, do you mean the New York Post

7 story? What do you mean by that?

8 A They were not involved with any follow-on actions related to the New York

9 Post story or any investigation related to that story on the foreign influence side. That 10 was my understanding of how the -- the input that we received.

11 Q Did you ask any follow-up questions?

12 A On this specific topic?

13 Q Yes.

14 A No. I think I got my answer. Oh. Do you mean in this meeting or 15 follow-up?

16 Q First, in this meeting, then we'll get to other.

17 A I think in this meeting, no. I recall it was a short interaction, we asked our

18 question, we received a response, and then there was a number of other topics, as I

19 recall, that we talked about during this meeting. So I don't recall any further discussion

20 on this topic.

21 Q Did you -- do recall when in the meeting you asked this question? Was it

22 the beginning? Was it the end?

23 A I'd be guessing. I don't remember.

24 Q Did anyone else from Facebook ask a question?

25 A On this topic?

1 Q Yes.

2 A I don't think so. It's possible there was cross-talk or maybe people

3 clarifying things, but I don't remember.

4 So I had a follow-up after this meeting, so I'm happy to go into that unless you

5 have questions further about this FITF meeting.

6 Q Yes. We can -- yeah. We'll go into the follow-up discussions you had.

7 A Sure. So I remember following up the following day with the FBI to see if

8 they had any additional information to share, which it wasn't a scheduled meeting. It

9 was -- I believe it was a quick call with Elvis Chan that I had the following day in which I

10 would have asked whether there's any new or additional information that the FBI could

11 share, and I got the same response back.

12 Mr. Brown. And, [redacted] that's memorialized in a document which the company

13 provided to you all.

14 BY [redacted]

15 Q Why were you following up with the FBI?

16 A I think I was just doing my due diligence. It was a day later. The story was

17 very new when we initially spoke to FITF at that pre-scheduled meeting that we had on 18 the 14th.

19 So I followed up a day later to see if there was any more information since they

20 didn't have much information to share the previous day. I wanted to do my due

21 diligence and follow up to see if there was any more information that was discovered.

22 To my recollection, there wasn't.

23 Q Besides Elvis Chan, who else at the FBI did you reach out to, to follow up?

24 A I had a different or separate conversation with Marc Cappellini regarding a

25 different topic. It was a topic of sharing indicators. I believe it was Meta sharing

1 indicators with the FBI that I shared through Marc. And I believe in that conversation
2 the topic of the New York Post story also came up with the same answer, that foreign
3 influence folks weren't tracking this or weren't involved in this investigation. I don't 4 recall which day it was. It's possible it was also that day or maybe the day after.
5 Q Remind me which division Marc is with?
6 A Marc is or was at the time -- I don't know where he is now, I think he's still
7 there -- but he was at the Washington Field Office.
8 Q And what did Elvis Chan say on the -- as the document memorializes -- on 9 the 15th, the call you had?
10 Mr. Brown. Can we have the document so he doesn't put himself in a position of 11 misremembering information that's on a document that you have in your possession?
12 [[redacted] Exhibit No. 7
13 Was marked for identification.]
14 [redacted] This is exhibit 7.
15 Mr. Brown. We're ready.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Is the summary you provided here consistent with your recollection of what

4 Elvis Chan told you on the 15th?

5 A It is.

6 Q How long did your call last?

7 A I remember it was a very short call. I don't exactly remember how long it

8 lasted. And this is probably the essence of the discussion on the call.

9 Q Okay. And it sounds like there was a -- two pieces of information going on.

10 First, the question of whether there was foreign sponsorship. And then second -- this

11 was during the FITF call -- second about the Criminal Division.

12 When Chan says -- this is what your summary states -- "advised that he was up to 13 speed on the current state of the matter within the FBI," what was he referring to?

14 A I'm not sure what Elvis is referring to here.

15 Q Did Elvis mention that there was an investigation by the Criminal Division?

16 A You know, I don't recall specifically. It's not documented here in my notes

17 after the call. I don't recall him mentioning specifically whether this was a criminal

18 investigation or not.

19 Q Do you recall him mentioning the laptop?

20 A In this call?

21 Q Yes.

22 A I don't remember the words that he used. We talked about the New York

23 Post story generally, and the central sort of piece of that story was the laptop, so it's 24 possible that he used the word "laptop" in our discussion.

25 Q Did he say who brought him up to speed?

1 A I don't think so. I don't recall him saying anything specific beyond what is
2 in here.
3 Q Just based off the context, was he talking about the -- any analysis or lack
4 thereof conducted by the Foreign Influence Task Force or folks looking for foreign
5 sponsorship, or was he referring to the Criminal Division's investigation?
6 A I'm not sure what he is referring to. My takeaway was that I was interested
7 in the follow-up call to see if there was any new information that was discovered as part
8 of my due diligence of conducting this investigation to see if there was any foreign 9 connection or any evidence of foreign connection.
10 And my takeaway was that, from my notes with Elvis, that there was no current 11 evidence at the time to suggest any foreign connection or direction. That's my 12 recollection.
13 Q Was Elvis typically kept up to speed with the Foreign Influence Task Force
14 and what was going on?
15 A He was a central point of contact in the FBI, like a liaison. His duties include
16 being liaisoned with Meta and Facebook at the time.
17 So as a matter of frequently meeting with the Foreign Influence Task Force, he 18 would have been like a common partner who would have been aware of the Foreign 19 Influence Task Force. He helped organize some of the calls, bring specific parties into 20 those calls if we were talking about specific threat issues. He would arrange those 21 experts to come in.
22 So he was generally in communication, I assume, with the Foreign Influence Task
23 Force, but he wasn't a part of it.
24 Q Again, I'm trying to parse out what he meant by caught up to speed on the 25 current state of the matter. You said your takeaway from the FITF call was that the 1 foreign influence guys were not tracking this?

2 A Uh-huh.

3 Q So did that takeaway change after this call with Elvis Chan?

4 A No. I think the call with Elvis confirmed that there was no additional

5 information to share at that time. He also mentioned that if there were any additional

6 information that was later developed, he would be in contact -- or the FBI would be in

7 contact.

8 Q Yeah. But I guess my question is, if there's no foreign -- no evidence of

9 foreign sponsorship on this, and your takeaway from the FITF folks is they're not tracking

10 this, what is there to get caught up to speed on?

11 A Are you referring to Elvis, what he's saying?

12 Q These are your notes about what Elvis told you, and I'm just trying to

13 understand what it is Elvis is communicating to you based on what was discussed at the 14 FITF call?

15 A Again, I don't know what Elvis is referring to when he says he's up to speed.

16 Q You didn't ask?

17 A No.

18 Q Okay. Did you have any other communications with Elvis Chan on this

19 issue?

20 A I don't recall conversations with Elvis Chan on this issue. I had a

21 subsequent conversation with [redacted] several days later that I'm happy to talk about,

22 but I don't believe we had any more exchanges with -- we had a number of exchanges

23 with Elvis around that time, but I think on this specific issue, I don't recall any other

24 conversations.

25 Q Okay. What were your communications with [redacted] a few days later?

A I remember there was a story in -- and I forget the publication in which it came out --

Mr. Brown. There's a document that reflects that communication, which we also provided to the committee. It might be useful to look at that.

[redacted] Are there other communications besides --

Mr. Brown. If there's something other than what's in the email, you can tell him about that. If it's the email, it would be great to look at the actual document.

[redacted] It would be great if we could have the witness have the opportunity to answer first.

Mr. Brown. Sure. Go ahead.

[redacted] Sorry. Could you repeat your question?

BY [redacted]

Q Yes. You mentioned that there was communication or communications you had with Brady Olson during this time. To your recollection, what were those?

A Right. So there was a story -- I forget the publication in which it came out -- about the Ukrainian politician, Andrii Derkach, whom I mentioned earlier, kind of alluding to the existence of a second laptop, if I recall correctly.

That came out -- don't know the specific date, but several days after these interactions that we just spoke about.

So I recall that I reached out to [redacted] I think I sent him an email and forwarded him the publication, the link to the publication, and asked whether that changed any assessment previously provided by the FBI.

And then we had a short call, I believe, after my email to [redacted] if I recall correctly.

Q And what did [redacted] say on the call?

A I don't remember the specific phrasing, but my -- again, my takeaway was that he recommended that we treat the Derkach narrative as either a parallel or aligned narrative to the story.

And I was -- basically that it was unrelated to the initial allegations in the New York Post story, but to treat it with suspicion as a, like, an aligned narrative or parallel narrative. I forget the phrasing.

Q Why did you speak to [redacted] about this -- or why did you choose to tell Brady about this?

A [redacted] at the time was the unit chief of one of the units in the Foreign Influence Task Force and one with whom I believe we had communicated about Derkach specifically previously.

Q Had you worked with [redacted] when you were at the FBI?

A I did.

Q Do you know what [redacted] current role is?

A No, not exactly. I don't.

Q Do you know is he at the FBI still?

A To my knowledge, but I don't think he's at headquarters any longer.

Q Going back to the FITF meeting on the 14th, do you recall any of the FBI agents, personnel who were on the call, did anyone say "no comment" initially?

A I don't recall that specific phrasing.

Q Who did you debrief with after the end of the FITF call on the 14th?

A I believe it was -- I believe there was an internal chat in which we talked about it generally. But I don't remember all of the people who -- it was a group chat, I think, and I don't remember all of the people who would have been on that chat. Steve would have been one of the people on that chat most likely.

Q And by this point, post-meeting, has the company made a decision yet on 1 how to handle the story?

2 A I don't know the timing of when that decision -- I believe it was made on the

3 14th by the company, but I don't know -- like, the timeline is not clear to me when the 4 decision was made or enforced.

5 Q And you said that you weren't part of the decisionmaking process?

6 A Right.

7 Q But you said you're providing information to folks. Was it your

8 understanding that a decision had not yet been made, or that the decision could be

9 changed based off information the FBI was providing?

10 A I'm not aware of the timing or how the decision was made or who was in the 11 room to make that decision. So it's hard for me to speculate.

12 So maybe just to clarify what my role was, my teams would provide analysis

13 related to the hack-and-leak policy we were talking about earlier.

14 And so our input into that process, into that protocol would be to provide an

15 assessment for whether we believed based on the evidence available to us whether there

16 was any foreign sponsorship or direction behind -- whether there was a hack of 17 information obtained illicitly, whether there was any foreign direction or sponsorship for

18 that, whether there was any evidence that there was foreign direction or sponsorship of

19 the subsequent release or leak of that information, and then whether there was any

20 evidence of amplification by foreign actors of that information once it was released.

21 So my team's role was to conduct that analysis and then share that with our

22 cross-functional partners who would then use it for a decision on the basis of the 23 hack-and-leak policy protocol.

24 But at the time, we hadn't completed our analysis yet, so we had no information

25 to share. We just had the FITF meeting that we were just discussing.

I think -- I believe there was a subsequent group discussion in which I would have shared a quick readout of what the FBI shared with us at that meeting, but we hadn't yet completed our investigation or analysis to share as part of the hack-and-leak protocol.

Q Do you recall when your team finished its analysis on this issue?

A I remember that was ongoing for several days, maybe even longer, a week or longer. And the reason I remember that is because when the Derkach story came out and I reached out to Brady, there was an additional input for us to consider. And then I remember updating our, based on that story, kind of like updating our analysis.

But I don't know -- I don't have, like, a formal completion date for the investigation. It just kind of evolved over several days.

Q In October of 2020, what is [redacted] title?

A She was a manager. I believe her exact title was security analyst manager in charge of the threat discovery team.

Q So was she --

A She was a peer to me.

Q Okay.

[[redacted] Exhibit No. 8

Was marked for identification.]

[redacted] This will be exhibit 8.

[3:00 p.m.]

Mr. Brown. Can we go off the record?

[Discussion off the record.]

[redacted] We can go back on the record, please.

BY [redacted]

Q Do you recall this text exchange with [redacted] before and after the FITF meeting on the 14th?

A Yes, now that I've read it.

Q Okay. And I think I asked this earlier, but your recollection, was [redacted] on the FITF call?

A It seems from reading this that she was, yeah.

Q The second message from the bottom on Bates number 60152, there's a message from [redacted] --

A Uh-huh.

Q -- who's talking about the laptop, you know, that finishes with, "Never told FITF or anyone on the national security side."

A Uh-huh.

Q Did you find it strange that the FITF appeared unaware of the laptop?

A I don't know if I found that particular aspect strange. My recollection is the FITF wasn't aware or wasn't tracking on this, but I don't know that I had an opinion on whether that was strange or not.

Q Okay.

Taking one step back, independent of this text, your recollection of that meeting, when FITF is answering the question --

A Uh-huh.

Q -- was it your understanding they were just unaware of the facts generally related to the laptop, or that they were aware of the laptop but that it was a Criminal Division matter and, therefore, outside their scope?

A You know, my recollection is that they were not familiar with this matter generally, like, not tracking it. And I think that's what [redacted] and I are -- that is our impression here in discussing this as well, is that they seemed -- I think I read somewhere, "clueless" is the word that we used, meaning not familiar with this at all, at the time that we had the call.

Q And does this refresh your memory at all, as far as what was said by the FITF folks, in particular, that would lead you guys to -- or, at least, [redacted] to use the word -- I think [redacted] used the word "clueless" -- but that the FITF folks seem unaware?

A So there's general -- 10:49:26, [redacted] was referring to someone saying "he could confirm that such a laptop existed."

And then later, next statement, I say, "I thought he said it was a criminal matter on the Bu crim side," meaning the Bureau criminal side.

Q Uh-huh.

A So those are the specific -- so the confirmation that the laptop existed and then there was a criminal matter on the Bureau criminal side is my recollection.

Mr. Brown. And that the gender was male?

[redacted] Yeah. It looks like the person who said it was a he. I referred to them as "he."

BY [redacted]

Q So, I guess, to spell out your answer a little bit more: So you have evidence on the call that the Bureau's Criminal Division is aware of the laptop.

1 A Yes.

2 Q Was there a reaction by the FITF folks on the call when he revealed that

3 information?

4 A I don't recall a specific reaction, other than they didn't -- my impression was

5 that they didn't seem to be aware of it. Perhaps because the story was new. I'm not

6 sure. But my recollection is that they weren't familiar with the investigation or the

7 background.

8 Q Do you recall any discussions with Elvis Chan regarding whether Elvis Chan

9 spoke to anyone at the Criminal Division?

10 A I only had one followup -- so, on this matter, I had one followup, you know,

11 the next day, my quick followup call with Elvis. I don't recall him mentioning what he

12 knew or how he knew it. I just remember him, you know, confirming that it was a

13 criminal issue and that there was no foreign influence or direction that they were aware

14 of at that time. But I don't think he shared how he knew that.

15 Q But it's your recollection that he confirmed, kind of, both pieces of 16 information -- both that there's no additional information of any evidence of foreign

17 sponsorship and that it was a criminal matter?

18 A I'm just trying to go back to the document you previously shared with me,

19 the exhibit --

20 Q The document -- I'd be happy have you look at it again -- just says that he's 21 up to the current state of the matter.

22 A That's my --

23 Q So I'm just trying to get your sense of your memory of what Elvis Chan told

24 you.

25 A That's my recollection, is that he was up to speed on it. I don't remember a

1 particular discussion about details of the matter or, you know, whether it was criminal or
2 not; just that he was up to speed on the context and that there was still no indication of 3 foreign influence or sponsorship at that time.
4 Q Did you reach out to anyone in the Criminal Division?
5 A No. No, not that I'm aware of.
6 Q Did anyone from Facebook reach out to anyone in the Criminal Division?
7 A Not that I know.
8 [Discussion off the record.]
9 [redacted] I'm not aware.
10 BY [redacted]
11 Q I mean, as someone who works in this space, was there not -- if one of the 12 FBI divisions is saying they have a laptop and your team is trying to help [redacted]
13 and his team figure out, hey, does this apply to our hack-and-leak policy -- you've done
14 tabletop exercises -- would it not have been appropriate to reach out to the Criminal
15 Division to see if they could provide any additional information?
16 A So the question that we were most interested in understanding the answer
17 to was whether there was any foreign direction or sponsorship of the information. That 18 was the scope of our hack-and-leak policy, right, the context behind it and the reason that 19 we highlighted that as a risk.
20 So I feel like, in these interactions, I have gotten that answer -- or, at least, you
21 know, based on what the information was that was available to be shared at that time,
22 that there was no such indication that the FBI was able to share at that time. There was 23 no foreign influence connection or direction behind this operation. And that was the 24 information I was seeking.
25 So the details of the actual criminal investigation were not as relevant.

1 Q But did you find it concerning that the foreign influence folks appeared to be
2 unaware of what the Criminal Division knew?
3 A I don't know if I found it concerning. I mean, I think, like, reading this
4 exchange with Susan, we both find it to be a strange situation, probably just referring to,
5 you know, just a lot of fog and ambiguity around it on its first day. But I don't find it
6 concerning that another FBI division would've known or not known something that a 7 different FBI division is involved in.
8 Q So, to kind of build that out a bit, as you mentioned, Susan is texting you
9 about this on 60153. She says, "But either way hard to imagine all of the impeachment
10 stuff going on in [December] that this didn't make its way to FITF or at least national 11 security side."
12 Do you agree with [redacted]
13 A Can you point me to the timestamp?
14 Q Sure. Sure. Timestamp is 10:34:48. The second message from the 15 bottom on 60153.
16 A Sorry, what was the question? Whether I agree with [redacted] --
17 Q Yeah. [redacted] says, "But either way hard to imagine all of the impeachment
18 stuff going on in [December] that this didn't make its way to FITF or at least national
19 security side."
20 A Look, it's hard to speculate. This was very early in the day, and this was,
21 you know, two people that were, kind of, like, spitballing a situation that seemed strange
22 at the time. I don't want to speculate on whether I agree with her statements or not.
23 Q Okay. Well, you've got a lengthy tenure at the FBI --
24 A Uh-huh.
25 Q -- have worked in multiple offices, been at Meta for a while.

1 Based off the information going into this day and then the information that was
2 provided at the FITF meeting, do you recall if you shared a similar sentiment to [redacted]
3 that it was difficult to imagine that FITF would be unaware of the Criminal Division's
4 possession of the laptop?
5 A I don't recall my specific impression at the time, other than general
6 confusion around the story. There was a lot happening, and we didn't have a lot of 7 information at that time.
8 Q Would FITF ever receive information from the Criminal Division?
9 A I don't know. I wasn't, at this time, at the FITF, so I'm not sure.
10 Q Do you recall any FITF meeting between FITF and Facebook where FITF
11 referenced communications with the Criminal Division?
12 A No, not in particular.
13 Q Okay. But there were Criminal Division FBI agents on the FITF call?
14 A So there were -- at the time that I was at the FITF, there were Criminal
15 Division representatives within the FITF.
16 Q If I could have you flip to 60155. The Bates stamp is 10:49:26. [redacted]
17 [redacted] says, "Bu crim guy said he could confirm such a laptop existed is what he said?"
18 Is she referring to a crim guy who's part of the Foreign Influence Task Force, or 19 were there individuals there from the Criminal Division?
20 A I'm not sure.
21 Q Did either occur previously?
22 A I don't recall specific instances where someone had identified themselves
23 as -- yeah, I don't recall specific instances where someone had identified themselves as 24 specifically being detailed, you know, or being part of the Criminal Division.
25 But, you know, here, [redacted] says at 10:50:09 that she noted that he said he was

1 from Criminal Division. And I'm not sure whether he was part of Criminal Division
2 attending the meeting or detailed to the task force or not.
3 Q Okay. When people would identify themselves and say they were from the 4 Foreign Influence Task Force, would they say, "I'm part of the Foreign Influence Task
5 Force," or would they say wherever they were from before they got to the task force?
6 A They may generally identify the unit or area that they would work on as part
7 of the Foreign Influence Task Force. Or if they were in a -- I guess, if they were in a
8 different division, they may identify which division they were with. Like, if we had a 9 field office that was dialing in, they may say, we're from a different field office, talking
10 about this specific threat actor.
11 Q Okay. So, with field offices, folks would come in, dial in, say where they're 12 from.
13 A Uh-huh.
14 Q Folks from the Criminal Division would do that as well?
15 A This is a -- I don't recall other instances in which someone specifically
16 identified themselves as part of the Criminal Division on my calls with FITF --
17 Q Okay.
18 A -- other than this one.
19 Q I guess, then, back to the question a couple minutes earlier: So FITF is 20 divided -- the portfolios are divided geographically. Is that right?
21 A I don't know how they're divided now.
22 Q Okay. In your experience?
23 A I'm not comfortable talking about my experience at the FBI without 24 discussing it first.
25 Q In your experience at Facebook?

A In my experience at Facebook, we would discuss different topics regionally with different individuals from the FITF.

Q Would they identify themselves as working on units devoted to specific geographical regions?

A They did.

Q Okay. Is there a unit devoted to the Criminal Division within FITF?

A I'm not aware of such a unit.

Q So, to your knowledge, if someone says they're from the Criminal Division, they're referring to the actual Criminal Division? This is not a subsection of FITF or anything else?

A I actually don't know what they're referring to.

Q Okay. Did you ask for clarification when they gave that --

A I don't recall asking for a clarification. No.

Q Okay.

On the previous page, 60154, [redacted] responds -- you and her were going back and forth on what it would be, what's behind it.

A Uh-huh.

Q Susan sends a few messages in a row, dating back from the previous page. And then at the top of the page says, "Could be, but still would think national security side of the house would know."

Actually, first, let me -- before we get into this message, did [redacted] ever work for the FBI?

A Yes, to my knowledge, she did.

Q How long did she work at the FBI for?

A I think she retired from the FBI.

Q And then joined Meta? Or --

A Yes.

Q So she had an entire career at the FBI first?

A That's my understanding, yeah.

Q Which division or divisions was she with?

A I don't know. I don't recall. I didn't work with [redacted] while we were both at the FBI, so I'm not sure.

Q Okay. But as colleagues at Meta, did she ever share with you her bio and background?

A I think she had a number of postings. For example, I know she had a posting overseas in the Legal Attache Office. So I think she had a generally -- I mean, she had a long career there, so she probably moved around. But I don't recall specific units that she worked on.

Q So this is someone who's familiar with the FBI.

A [redacted]

Q Yes.

A Sure.

Q And this is someone who's familiar with how the divisions would communicate with each other?

A I'm not sure what she's specifically familiar with, but it's fair to say that [redacted] you know, was an experienced FBI agent; she would've been familiar with the Bureau.

Q Okay. So this is an exchange between two folks with a good amount of FBI experience between the two of you.

A Sure.

1 Q Okay. Why does she think that the national security side of the house
2 would know?
3 A I'm not sure why she's -- you know, what she's referring to, why she thinks
4 this.
5 Q So, given her context of having a whole career at the FBI and your context,
6 having served a number of years at the FBI previously, you don't know what she means by 7 this statement?
8 A It's hard for me to speculate on what Susan means by her statement here.
9 Q The text is to you, yes?
10 A Right, but it's her saying that.
11 Mr. Brown. You're asking him to read somebody else's mind.
12 [redacted] No, no, no.
13 Mr. Brown. You're asking why somebody else thinks something.
14 BY [redacted]
15 Q Okay. How did you interpret this message?
16 A I don't have a specific recollection of, you know, interpreting this message or 17 responding to it. I can direct you to two texts below where it says 10:47:24. I found 18 the entire situation somewhat strange at the time.
19 And, if you recall, this was early in the day. The story had just come out. We 20 had just had the meeting with the FBI. There was a lot of fog that I recall around and 21 just a lot of ambiguity around the story.
22 I recall thinking that it was a strange story. But I'm not sure what [redacted] was
23 referring to.
24 Q Okay. So here you recall that you're referring to the story being strange,
25 but you're not referring to the dynamic between the two divisions from the FBI being

1 strange?

2 A It looks to me like I'm making a general comment here, "It's all very fishy,"

3 about just about the general, kind of, story and what we were learning on that day.

4 Q Okay.

5 What is your recollection of what your impression was after the meeting that the 6 Criminal Division knew about the laptop and the FITF did not?

7 A What was my impression of that?

8 Q Yes.

9 A My takeaway was that -- and I think I remember communicating my

10 takeaway -- was that there was no information that the FBI had regarding any foreign

11 direction or sponsorship of this matter. That was my takeaway and the reason why I

12 asked the call, to get that information.

13 So the whole, like, you know, "Criminal Division versus the FITF" issue wasn't

14 prominent in my mind. I got the answer that I was looking for, which was, at the time,

15 there was no information that the FBI had to suggest any foreign direction or sponsorship

16 behind this.

17 Q Okay. Sitting here today, looking at the facts as they were unfolding, do

18 you find it strange that the Criminal Division had this information that the Foreign

19 Influence Task Force was unaware of?

20 A I have no opinion on this matter.

21 Q Do you think Susan was out of place to have this concern?

22 A What I would just say about this exchange generally is that these are just

23 two colleagues that are kind of discussing a story that appears strange to both of them at 24 the time. I can't comment on the specific concerns that she may have had.

25 Q Well, she's not talking just about the story. She's talking about why apparently a relevant division in the FBI did not know about it.

A Right. I can't comment on what [redacted] means by this.

Q Well, I mean, the messages are to you. I respectfully don't agree with the fact that you can't comment on it. These messages are to you. You both have experience with the FBI.

A But you're asking me to analyze what [redacted] might mean by her messages. I'm not comfortable doing that.

Q The messages were sent to you.

A By [redacted]

Q That's right. So asking how you interpret them or understood them is completely appropriate.

You and [redacted] go back and forth on page 60156 about what you distinctly remember and what [redacted] remembers.

A Uh-huh.

Q And, actually, it starts on the previous page, 60155.

Do you recall how you ultimately confirmed, one way or the other, about what was said regarding the laptop and whether it was a criminal matter?

A So I think we were having a discussion here about the specific nature of the criminal investigation. [redacted] is asking some questions here, whether this was an FBI or maybe another agency criminal matter.

But, again, the takeaway wasn't, like, what the nature of the criminal investigation was. The main reason for having that discussion or asking the question was to see if there was any foreign direction or sponsorship behind this. And I do think that I got that answer at that time. So the whole criminal aspect of it was, kind of, not as important to me at the time.

1 Q So whether the Criminal Division is in possession of a laptop is not relevant
2 to your team's analysis?
3 A To the extent that it confirms that there is a laptop and confirms, you know,
4 that that's true, that the story refers to a laptop that exists, and then to the extent that it
5 was not the foreign influence people or the national security people that were working 6 that matter, that is what is relevant to me.
7 Q But, again, the text chain here seems to imply that the foreign influence folks
8 were unaware of the matter, not that they were aware of it and chose not to work on it.
9 Is that correct?
10 A That's correct.
11 Q So, at the time this is happening, the laptop could be relevant.
12 A It's possible -- I guess -- I think you're referring to, maybe there is additional 13 information that could be discovered later. But, at the time, there was no indication 14 given to us that there was any foreign influence concern or information to suggest any 15 foreign influence direction that the FBI had in their possession at the time.
16 Q Okay.
17 On page 60158, timestamp 10:57:50, [redacted] texts you, "Somehow the laptop 18 should have surfaced to the national security folks at the bureau before today."
19 A Uh-huh.
20 Q This statement is different than the others. She is saying: This is what 21 should have been done at the FBI. Based off your experience at the FBI, do you agree?
22 A I don't have all the facts -- it wouldn't be appropriate for me to agree or 23 disagree. I don't have all the facts that the FBI might've used in determining whether it
24 should've been referred or should not have been referred. So I don't feel comfortable
25 speculating on whether it should've been referred or not. I wasn't at the FBI at that time.

Q So you were unit chief for the Foreign Influence Task Force?

A Acting unit chief.

Q Okay. How long were you in that role for?

A I believe it was 5 to 6 months.

Q Did you interact with the Criminal Division during those 5 to 6 months?

Mr. Brown. We're not going to talk about this without the FBI clearing it. I asked you all to give me a contact at the FBI so I could see if they were comfortable with it, and no one has given me a contact.

And we're happy to follow up on these topics later if they say that it's okay for him to talk about his work at the FBI, but without having spoken to them, it's not appropriate for him to talk about the FBI.

[redacted] Okay. But this objection was not raised before this morning.

Mr. Brown. I had no idea what your questions were going to be in advance. You didn't send them to me, [redacted]

[redacted] That's correct. Did you not know that he was acting chief of the --

Mr. Brown. I did know --

[redacted] -- Foreign Influence Task Force?

Mr. Brown. I knew that you wanted to talk to him about Meta and the New York Post story. That's what you all asked him to come in and talk about. He's done that for, I think, almost 2 hours straight right now.

The conversation about the FBI -- I'm not saying he's unwilling to talk about the FBI. I'm saying, the FBI needs to be consulted first before somebody talks about the work that they did for them. Right?

We were happy to make that call during the lunch break if you all had given us a

1 point of contact. Obviously, you're in touch with the FBI on a regular basis. If you'd
2 shared that information with me, we would've followed up promptly and in good faith.
3 It just is what it is. I'm not blaming you or accusing you, and I don't think you
4 should blame or accuse us. But the reality is, that relates to one of his prior employers.
5 That employer is involved in this controversy. They have equities. We need to make 6 sure that they're comfortable with him talking about this without them being here.
7 [redacted] Is your instruction to the witness not to answer?
8 Mr. Brown. My instruction to the witness is to be prepared to answer the 9 question as soon as we're allowed to consult with the relevant people at the FBI.
10 [redacted] Well, there was no one that prevented you from consulting with the
11 FBI --
12 Mr. Brown. I couldn't consult with the FBI because I didn't know -- I -- for all I
13 know, you could've asked him about the Justice Department, the State Department,
14 whatever. I don't know what you're going to ask in advance, other than you told me you
15 wanted to talk to him about his work at Meta.
16 He answered those questions voluntarily, fulsomely, on every single topic you
17 asked him about with respect to the FBI, including -- with respect to his work at Meta,
18 including names of personnel that he didn't want to actually disclose because of concern
19 about their safety.
20 As to the FBI, we're not refusing to answer questions. We're saying, we need to 21 be given an opportunity to consult with the FBI first to make sure that they're 22 comfortable with him talking about his work for them without them being in the room.
23 [redacted] Okay.
24 BY [redacted]
25 Q Do you stay in touch with your colleagues at the FBI?

A So, over time, that has lessened, because some of them have left. I don't -- I would say sporadically is probably a fair answer right now.

Q Okay. Do any of them know that you're interviewing before the committee?

A Yes, one of them knows.

Q And who is that?

A He's no longer with the FBI, actually. He's a former FBI agent that's left that's a close friend of mine.

Q When did he leave the FBI?

A Prior to me leaving. Maybe 7 or 8 years ago.

[redacted] Can we go off the record, please?

[Recess.]

[redacted] I just want to clarify that --

Mr. Brown. Are we going to go back on the record?

[redacted] Oh, I thought we were. Sorry.

Mr. Brown. Okay. Let's go back on the record.

[redacted] Okay. So the witness has left. And I don't think this comment was on the record, but I just wanted to be clear. We did give up our time, because it didn't make sense to go through the switching of the seats so that I could ask two questions. But in the previous -- you know, in the additional hour or so of testimony after the first hour, we had more questions, and had the witness stayed, we would've asked them.

So I just wanted to be clear that we were not ceding our time. We were just trying to be more efficient so that we were not wasting time switching seats.

Mr. Brown. The witness has a train to catch --

1 [redacted] Sure.

2 Mr. Brown. -- to go home to his family. It's the only train. He's got to pick up

3 his luggage, and so he's gone to do that.

4 I hope you got a lot of the answers that you needed. The company has made the 5 documents available to you. He came in voluntarily.

6 If you have additional questions that need to be answered, we're happy to work

7 with you to try to get answers to those questions.

8 With respect to the FBI and his time working for the FBI, he is not refusing to

9 answer questions. He wants to consult with the FBI first to understand what his

10 obligations are to the Bureau before he answers questions about his prior employment

11 without the Bureau in the room.

12 So that's kind of where we are. If we need to pick this up again, we'll figure out a 13 way to pick it up again.

14 [redacted] Okay. Yeah. We have an interest in bringing him back, so we will 15 figure out how to best do that.

16 Mr. Brown. Great. Terrific.

17 [redacted] Off the record.

18 [Whereupon, at 3:34 p.m., the interview was concluded.]

2 [redacted]. Thank you again for joining us.

3 Can we go on the record, please.

4 [redacted]. This is a transcribed interview of Matthew Masterson.

5 Chairman Jordan has requested this interview as part of the committee's

6 investigation of how and to what extent the executive branch has coerced and colluded

7 with companies and other intermediaries to censor speech.

8 Would the witness please state their name for the record?

9 Mr. Masterson. Sure. It's Matthew Masterson.

10 [redacted]. On behalf of the committee, I want to thank you for appearing

11 here today to answer our questions. The chair also appreciates your willingness to 12 appear voluntarily.

13 My name is [redacted]. I'm with Chairman Jordan's staff.

14 I'll now have everyone else with the committee who is here introduce themselves

15 as well.

16 [redacted]. [redacted], Chairman Jordan's staff.

17 [redacted]. [redacted], Chairman Jordan's staff.

18 [redacted]. [redacted], senior staff.

19 [redacted]. [redacted], Chairman Jordan's staff.

20 [redacted]. [redacted], Chairman Jordan's staff.

21 [redacted]. [redacted], Ranking Member Nadler's staff.

22 [redacted]. [redacted], Ranking Member Nadler's staff.

23 [redacted]. I would like to now go over the ground rules and guidelines we

24 will follow during today's interview.

25 Our questioning will proceed in rounds. The majority will ask questions first for 1

1 hour, and then the minority will have an opportunity to ask questions for an equal period
2 of time if they so choose. We will alternate back and forth until there are no more
3 questions and the interview is over.
4 Typically, we take a short break at the end of each hour. But if you would like to
5 take a break apart from that, please just let us know.
6 As you can see, there is an official court reporter taking down everything we say to
7 make a written record. So we ask that you give verbal responses to all questions.
8 Do you understand?
9 Mr. Masterson. Yes.
10 [redacted]. So the court reporter can take down a clear record, we will do
11 our best to limit the number of people directing questions at you during any given hour to 12 just those people on the staff whose turn it is.
13 Please try and speak clearly so the court reporter can understand and so the folks
14 down at the end of the table can hear you.
15 It is important that we don't talk over one another or interrupt each other if we 16 help it, and that goes for everybody present at today's interview.
17 We encourage witnesses who appear before the committee to freely consult with 18 counsel if they so choose.
19 It is my understanding that you are appearing today with counsel. Is that
20 correct?
21 Mr. Masterson. Yes.
22 [redacted]. Will counsel please state their name for the record?
23 Mr. Leland. David Leland of Skadden, Arps on behalf of Mr. Masterson
24 personally.
25 Ms. Christian. Karen Christian from Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld on behalf of

1 Microsoft.

2 [redacted]. Thank you.

3 We want you to answer our questions in the most complete and truthful manner

4 as possible. So we will take our time.

5 If you have any questions or if you do not understand one of our questions, please

6 let us know. Our questions will cover a wide range of topics. So if you need

7 clarification at any point, please just say so.

8 If you honestly don't know the answers to a question or do not remember the

9 answer, it is best not to guess. Please give us your best recollection, and it is okay to tell

10 us if you learned information from someone else. Just indicate how you came to know

11 that information.

12 If there are things you don't know or can't remember, just say so. And please

13 inform us who, to the best of your knowledge, may be able to provide a more complete

14 answer to the question.

15 You should also understand that, although this interview is not under oath, by law

16 you are required to answer questions from Congress truthfully.

17 Do you understand this?

18 Mr. Masterson. I do.

19 [redacted]. This also applies to questions posed by congressional staff in an

20 interview.

21 Do you understand this?

22 Mr. Masterson. Yes.

23 [redacted]. Witnesses that knowingly provide false testimony could be

24 subject to criminal prosecution for perjury or for making false statements under 18

25 United States Code 1001.

1 Do you understand this?

2 Mr. Masterson. Yes.

3 [redacted]. Is there any reason you are unable provide truthful answers to

4 today's questions?

5 Mr. Masterson. No.

6 [redacted]. Finally, I'd like to make note that the content of what we discuss

7 here today is confidential. We ask that you not speak about what we discuss in this

8 interview to any outside individuals to preserve the integrity of our investigation.

9 For the same reason, the marked exhibits that we will use today will remain with

10 the court reporter so that they can go in the official transcript. And any copies of those

11 exhibits will be returned to us when we wrap up.

12 All right. That is the end of my preamble.

13 Is there anything that my colleagues from the minority would like to add at this

14 time?

15 [redacted] We just thank the witness for taking time out of your schedule to join

16 us today.

17 [redacted]. The clock now reads 10:05.

18 We will start the first hour of questions.

19 EXAMINATION

20 BY [redacted]:

21 Q Could you state your full name again, please?

22 A Sure. Full name is Matthew Vincent Masterson.

23 Q And what is your current place of employment?

24 A Microsoft.

25 Q And what is your current title?

1 A I am the Director of Information Integrity within the Democracy Forward
2 program.
3 Q And how long have you been in that role for?
4 A Since March of 2022.
5 Q Beginning with college, what is your educational background?
6 A So I received a B.A. and B.S. from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio.
7 I then went to the University of Dayton where I received a J.D. from the University
8 of Dayton School of Law. That's it.
9 Q Well, then starting after law school, what is your professional background?
10 A So after graduating from law school and being admitted to the bar in the 11 State of Ohio, I started at the Election Assistance Commission in 2006 as a legal intern to 12 then Republican Chairman Paul DeGregorio.
13 After the departure of his special assistant, I became his specialty assistant for a 14 very short amount of time and then went on to become his -- or went on to become the 15 Deputy Director of the Testing and Certification Program within the Election Assistance
16 Commission.
17 After spending some time as the Deputy Director of the Testing and Certification
18 Program at the EAC, I moved on to the Ohio Secretary of State's office under Secretary of 19 State John Husted. I served in three roles there. I started as the Deputy Director of 20 Elections, became the Chief Information Officer, and then went on to become the Deputy 21 Chief of Staff and briefly served as his interim Chief of Staff until my departure in 2015.
22 I departed in 2015 from the Ohio Secretary of State's office in order to take an 23 appointment to the U.S. Election Assistance Commission as one of the Republican
24 commissioners at the EAC. I served as a commissioner at the EAC from 2015 to 2018.
25 I departed the EAC in 2018 to become the Senior Cybersecurity advisor at CISA,

1 the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency.

2 I served in that role from 2018 until December of 2020, at which point I departed

3 and went to be a nonresident fellow at Stanford University in March of 2021. I was at 4 Stanford from March of 2021 until taking the role at Microsoft in 2022.

5 Q And do you recall when in 2022 you left Stanford and joined Microsoft?

6 A I believe it was February, March.

7 Q Before we get any further, are you familiar with the terms misinformation,

8 disinformation, and malinformation?

9 A I am.

10 Q And to your understanding, what is different between those terms?

11 A So, disinformation is the intentional spreading of false or misleading

12 information to confuse, mislead.

13 Misinformation is the unintentional spreading of false or misleading information

14 that can lead to confusion or, what, nonbelief.

15 And then malinformation is the intentional sharing of facts out of context to 16 mislead someone.

17 Q During your tenure at the EAC, just at a high level, what were your 18 responsibilities as commissioner?

19 A As a commissioner, so in my time as commissioner.

20 Q Yes.

21 A Yeah, so, generally speaking, the role of the commissioner is defined in the 22 Help America Vote Act. The commissioners are the policy-setting body for the 23 commission. So they handle all policy decisions. The commissioners also serve as the 24 faces of commission, particularly to the State and local election officials that they serve.

25 I served as chairman in 2017 of the EAC. And the chairman, whilst the same as

1 the other commissioners, typically just per designation of the commissioner serves as the 2 chief spokesperson for the agency, taking press calls, doing congressional hearings if
3 necessary, although oftentimes, it will be handled in a bipartisan manner at the EAC.
4 And so a lot of my work at the EAC focused on rebuilding the commission. At the 5 time that I became a commissioner at the EAC in 2015, the EAC had been without 6 commissioners or quorum of commissioners for almost 5 years. And so, a lot of my 7 work at the EAC, along with my fellow commissioners, was spent traveling out to the 8 elections community, meeting, talking, reestablishing the role, understanding the needs
9 that they had, and how the EAC can contribute to their work.
10 Q For these questions related to the EAC, unless I say otherwise, just refer to 11 your tenure as commissioner.
12 A Uh-huh.
13 Q During -- when working with the EAC, did your work involve anything related 14 to mis-, dis-, or malinformation?
15 A I don't remember those terms being used.
16 But false or misleading information, whether intentional or not, has been a part of 17 the elections world that I've known since 2006 when I started working in this space.
18 On -- in almost every election, you see folks not understand the process, not
19 understand the work that election officials do, how things like canvassing, auditing, voting
20 machines, voter registration work and election officials working to ensure that the facts
21 about the process, the facts about the work they do, the facts about the security, 22 integrity, accessibility of the process are available to their voters, both before the 23 election, during, and after but also in response to claims.
24 So for instance, in my time in Ohio, I was frequently asked about the 2004 Ohio
25 election and narratives that implied the rigging of the 2004 election.

1 I didn't work elections in Ohio in 2004 but was very familiar with the claims,
2 including that a voting system company had rigged the election in Ohio and so very
3 frequently had to respond questions and correct the facts about what happened in Ohio
4 generally, about how we secured the process, but also, you know, the security of the 5 2004 election specifically.
6 And so in my time at the EAC, we spent a lot of time producing best practices,
7 producing information, working collaboratively with State and local election officials in all
8 50 States, the five territories to ensure that voters, policymakers, and others had access
9 to trusted information from State and local election officials about the process, to, you
10 know, either respond to or get out in front of possible narratives around the election.
11 Q To your knowledge, is the EAC currently involved in work related to mis-,
12 dis-, or malinformation?
13 A I don't know.
14 Q You said you joined CISA in 2018?
15 A Yes.
16 Q Was that shortly after the agency was created?
17 A To the best of my recollection, when I joined, it was still NPPD. And I
18 cannot remember what those initials stand for, to be honor with you.
19 And then at some point when I was there, the CISA bill was signed by President
20 Trump. But I can't remember the timing exactly.
21 Q Including both NPPD and CISA, what positions did you hold at that agency?
22 A I was the senior cybersecurity advisor the entire time I was at NPPD and
23 CISA.
24 Q And what were your responsibilities in that position?
25 A My primary responsibility was to lead the election security work within the

1 agency, whichever one, NPPD or CISA. For purposes of this conversation, I'll refer to it
2 as CISA. Is that okay?
3 Q Yes.
4 A Thanks. So just as background on those responsibilities, in January of 2017,
5 in response to the Russian activity targeting election infrastructure and the 2016 election,
6 then Secretary Jeh Johnson declared elections as part of the Nation's critical
7 infrastructure. So it joined the 18 other sectors and subsectors, things like the 8 electrical-water sectors, financial services sectors, to be part of critical infrastructure.
9 I was at the EAC at the time, and the election community as a whole responded
10 with skepticism, concern, some fear about what was the role of the Federal Government;
11 what was the role of DHS in this; what could this look like; a lot of, I think, healthy
12 concern about what this could look like.
13 And I share that only because at that time, I was the chairman at the EAC, and part 14 of my responsibility as chairman was to work with the elections community to 15 understand the designation.
16 So we created a number of products. We hosted a number of conversations.
17 Part of our role at the EAC, we thought, was to help support the creation of what's called 18 the Government Coordinating Council, or GCC.
19 The Government Coordinating Council is a kind of common structural aspect of 20 areas of critical infrastructure. There's a govern -- typically a Government Coordinating 21 Council and a Sector Coordinating Council within an area of infrastructure.
22 And the Government Coordinating Council, in this case, was made up of State and 23 local election officials. The Sector Coordinating Council was made up of the private 24 sector companies that support elections, voting machine providers, voter registration 25 providers, folks like that.

1 And so, when the designation was made at the EAC, we -- we helped to bridge
2 that gap and really support and communicate to DHS and others within the Federal
3 Government the concern, the fear. The election officials were doing that also, I think,
4 effectively.
5 And so from 2017 until I left in 2018, a lot of my work was spent around, one,
6 understanding the risk environment that election officials were now operating in,
7 following the activity of Russia targeting the infrastructure itself, understanding the steps
8 election officials could take, but also then, helping to bridge the gap and understand the 9 impact of what the critical infrastructure designation could or couldn't mean, and really,
10 to help shape it so that it benefited the community and many of the fears that the 11 community had wouldn't come about.
12 So I share that only because then I get to CISA in 2018, and my responsibility was 13 to go work within the community that I worked in my entire career, to support them, to 14 build trust with them, to build out the sector, which included things like creating formally
15 the GCC and SEC, creating the Information Sharing and Analysis Center, ensuring that 16 State and local officials had access to the services that NPPD, CISA could provide to them,
17 ensuring that those services were actually useful and just generally providing value to the 18 community because every day at CISA we had to reestablish trust with the community.
19 There was -- there was no room for error or mistake because they rightfully were 20 highly skeptical of what this partnership could look like, what this designation could look 21 like.
22 So I spent the vast majority of my time at CISA, the entire time I was there,
23 traveling to State and local official offices, conferences, talking, engaging, doing anything I
24 could to understand the risk environment, to understand the support we could provide,
25 and to build trust with the community.

1 Q A couple of times during your answer you mentioned skepticism and
2 concern from people in this space. I don't want to put words in your mouth. It
3 sounded like from State and local election officials. Is that --
4 A That is correct.
5 Q Is that right?
6 Why -- why was there skepticism from these officials about the Federal
7 Government having a potential role?
8 A Sure. So in my experience, there's always rightful skepticism from State
9 and local election officials when the Federal Government's involved in the space.
10 I remember this exact same reaction when I started at the EAC in 2006 when the 11 EAC was created, coming out of the Help America Vote Act of 2002.
12 The State and local election officials, in my opinion, rightfully are very protective
13 of their constitutional role to run elections, and are very skeptical of any Federal activity
14 in and around elections.
15 And so, at the EAC we had to demonstrate, for instance, that the voting system
16 testing and certification process was, in fact, voluntarily, right, that there was no intent to 17 make that a mandatory process for them. But, instead, it existed for them to take and 18 use in whatever way they see fit.
19 The State of Ohio has their own Board of Voting Machine Examiners that uses EAC
20 results, but then also does their own testing. Other States take and use EAC certification
21 completely. Other States ignore it and don't use it at all. Right?
22 And so, that kind of -- that same kind of approach was critical as we looked at the 23 critical infrastructure designation and ensuring that they understood that they were the 24 system owners and operators. They managed the risk. They understood the process
25 and were constitutionally empowered to run an election.

1 And our job was to support them, to make sure they had the information they
2 needed to manage risk, to understand the threat environment, and to secure the people,
3 processes, and systems needed to run the process.
4 And so, I mean, I remember vividly then-Secretary of State Brian Kemp, who I'd 5 known for quite some time, now Governor Kemp, accusing DHS of trying to hack them in 6 and around that designation time and in and around the election.
7 That was the trust deficit we were operating in when I walked into CISA in 2018.
8 Q You mentioned in your previous answer part of your efforts were convincing
9 the State and local officials that any help was voluntary, they had the option.
10 Was there a fear then, based off what you were hearing from the State and local 11 officials, that just practically it wasn't voluntary, that there was a either -- I don't want to 12 put words in your mouth. Is that -- was that -- spell it out a little bit more. Was that 13 what the fear was?
14 A Yep, absolutely. It was either that it wasn't voluntarily, that, in fact, critical
15 infrastructure meant some sort of regulations. It doesn't. But, you know, it behooved
16 us to constantly engage, to talk about what it did mean.
17 There was concern about, even if it was voluntary, that it would become sort of 18 obligated through, what, actions, right, as other States used it, would there be pressure
19 put on, a very legitimate concern, something we had heard at the EAC about the Testing
20 and Certification Program many times.
21 And so, again, you know, then Republican Secretary of State of Indiana, Connie
22 Lawson, referred to it as an arranged marriage at one point, right, where it was like, okay,
23 like, we're going to give this a go. But every day we're going to make sure that you're 24 doing this in a way that supports us and empowers us, not in a way that dictates to us,
25 right?

1 And so, the work for us was all about understanding and supporting the risk that
2 they were managing across 8,800 election jurisdictions in the United States, right? And
3 everyone is different. Every State is different. Every county, township, city, they're 4 different.
5 And so, really digging in and understanding that was my job. That was my job to 6 do that, and the fears they had, or anxiety they had, was not new to me. I recognized it.
7 I shared it when I was in Ohio, right, as Deputy Elections Director and working in Secretary
8 Husted's office.
9 And so for me, it was really about supporting a community that I knew deeply.
10 Q From the perspective of the State and local officials, what were some of the 11 ways that the Federal Government could apply pressure or create a situation where it felt 12 like an obligation to work with the Federal Government in this space?
13 A So I don't know -- outside of fear of regulations, right, that was a big -- big 14 concern, I don't know that they had specific actions other than voluntary becoming 15 involuntarily, whatever -- whatever that would mean.
16 And so the actions we took, the way that services -- and this is true, by the way,
17 across all of critical infrastructure for CISA, right? This is not unique to elections. CISA,
18 in providing services and being the risk areas of critical infrastructure, it's all voluntary.
19 It's all support. It's all based on partnership. It's not based on regulation, with the 20 exception of one sector that I didn't work in.
21 And so their -- their concerns were just a, I think, a general concern of does this 22 grow into a Federal overreach, and more importantly, we're going work you with to 23 ensure it doesn't grow into a Federal overreach.
24 [redacted]. Which sector?
25 Mr. Masterson. I believe, the best of my recollection, the chemical sector has

1 some regulatory component it to but I don't -- I don't know it.

2 BY [redacted]:

3 Q During this -- so let me make sure I have the timeline correctly. End of 4 2016, beginning of 2017, elections are declared a critical infrastructure. Is that right?

5 A January of 2017.

6 Q Great. So starting from that time up until you joined CISA and then once

7 you're at the agency, when you're hearing feedback from State and local officials, did any

8 of it concern -- concerns related to speech or misinformation, disinformation,

9 malinformation?

10 A Yes. So one of the concerns for the community, generally, were narratives

11 targeting the trust in the process that they administer, right?

12 So, I remember vividly 2018, 2019, Secretary of State Mac Warner, in West

13 Virginia, engaging with us heavily, and then eventually going around the State of West

14 Virginia and to other States, talking about how adversaries, Russia specifically, would

15 attempt to undermine your confidence in the election process and the steps you as a

16 voter, you as an election official otherwise could take to be resilient to those attempts.

17 He had an entire PowerPoint presentation he would give on this to his voters

18 about, you know, sort of preparing for those possible narratives, and understanding the 19 process and understanding how your vote is counted and audited and all of those things.

20 I mean, in my work at CISA, that was part of the concern. And the work we did

21 with State and local election officials to secure the systems, to improve the resilience, to

22 share threat intelligence, in part, was to empower them to have those conversations with 23 their voters about the security and integrity of the process.

24 Q Whether you were at EAC or at CISA, when you're hearing feedback from

25 State and local officials, we discussed concerns about what the Federal Government's role

1 would be. There was concerns about influence operations.

2 Were there any concerns about the constitutional implications of having the

3 Federal Government play a role related to issues concerning speech?

4 Ms. Christian. When this is, [redacted]?

5 [redacted]. Anytime during Mr. Masterson's tenure at EAC or at CISA.

6 Mr. Masterson. Not that I recall regarding speech. It was about the State and 7 local role, constitutionally empowered role to run elections.

8 BY [redacted]:

9 Q When you were at CISA, who did you report to?

10 A I reported to Emily Early.

11 Q And who is she?

12 A I believe she was the Chief of Staff.

13 Q To the director?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And how many people did you have reporting to you?

16 A None.

17 Q Did you work with Brian Scully while you were at CISA?

18 A I did.

19 Q And who is Mr. Scully?

20 A Currently?

21 Q During this time, I believe, while you were at CISA.

22 A So to my recollection, he held several roles. I think he actually worked in

23 Infrastructure Protection when I started there, though I'm not positive exactly. At some

24 point, he worked for the lead of the Foreign Influence Task Force, and then eventually led

25 the Foreign Influence Task Force.

1 Q Is that the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force, the --

2 A Yes.

3 Q -- not the FBI's foreign --

4 A Yes, yes, apologies for that.

5 Q So for the -- is there an internal acronym, the CFITF? Or what would you

6 call it when you were at CISA?

7 A Man, I think we called it the CFI team, if I recall correctly.

8 Q For the -- what is the CFI team or what was if it's different now?

9 A I don't know if it's different now. When I was there, what I recall is the CFI

10 team was created by then-Secretary Nielsen, Kirstjen Nielsen, in response to the Russian

11 activity in 2016, and the sort of overwhelming congressional expectation that we, the 12 USG, would be better prepared if a foreign government attempted to interfere in our

13 elections including through information operations.

14 And so my understanding of their work, not working -- I didn't work within the CFI

15 team. My understanding of their work was to coordinate with other Federal agencies

16 around foreign influence operations targeting our election.

17 Q What were your day-to-day responsibilities while you were at CISA?

18 A Again, the vast majority of my time was spent on the road at State and local

19 election official conferences, meeting with State and local election officials, building trust,

20 understanding the risk environment. If I wasn't traveling, I spent a great deal of time

21 engaging the interagency about how elections are run in the United States, the 22 differences.

23 When I was at the EAC, and then in CISA, it was clear that the Federal

24 Government, in general, with the exception of the EAC, did not understand how elections

25 operate in the United States. They hadn't done a lot of elections work.

1 I remember vividly in August of 2016, as an EAC commissioner, being called into a
2 meeting with a number of Federal Government agencies where, I believe, ostensibly, they
3 were going to talk to us a little bit about the activity targeting election infrastructure.
4 We didn't have clear answers at the time. So what could be shared was limited.
5 But the meeting that was supposed to be 30 minutes turned into a 3, 3-1/2-hour meeting
6 of us, myself, representatives of the National Association of Secretaries of State, National
7 Association of State Election Directors, other EAC personnel and employees, walking
8 them through how elections are operated in the United States, because they did not
9 understand sort of the posture of elections in the United States.
10 And so that, you know, that one meeting didn't bridge that gap, right? And so
11 there was a lot of work to be done, working within the interagency, and then briefing Hill
12 staffers, Members of Congress about the work we were doing.
13 We did dozens of briefings to staff and Members, both publicly and privately,
14 about the work we were doing and how we viewed the rest of the systems.
15 Q You said that you didn't have anyone reporting to you. Were you a part of 16 a team, or were you operating more or less on your own? This is during your time at
17 CISA.
18 A Yeah, so when I arrived at CISA, there was the -- I think it was called the 19 Election Task Force, ETF. That was already formed and sort of running, coming out of 20 2017, right, and the critical infrastructure designation.
21 Obviously, administrations had changed by that point. So you had gone from 22 one administration to the other, and I was brought in as a political appointee in the 23 Trump administration to lead the election security work.
24 And so my, first team that I worked with was the Election Task Force, but they did
25 not report to me because I was a political appointee in the Trump administration, and so

1 could not have direct reports that were not political.

2 And then, it became the Election Security Initiative, or ESI, at some point in my

3 time. And my perception of the name change or importance of the name change is it

4 moved it from, you know, a quasi, sort of, temporary task force that had people detailed

5 to it to having full-time employees and a full-fledged initiative within at that time NPPD

6 and then CISA.

7 Q By 2020, how big was ESI?

8 A I don't recall an exact number. If I had a range, I would say eight to twelve

9 maybe. I really don't recall the exact number. And the part -- part of the reason I

10 don't, for what it's worth, is a big part of our job as a team was to work across CISA within 11 the various division to ensure that we were supporting election officials.

12 And so, the reason I sort of pause on the number is at times we would have

13 people from other divisions working directly with us to accomplish a tabletop exercise,

14 right, for the entire community. And then those folks would remain with their exercise

15 team, but for me, they were part of the team in that time period.

16 And so it's hard for me to put an exact number because we might be working with

17 Vulnerability Management for a while and the exercises team and folks like that, the 18 regional teams, right? So that's the best guess I have on numbers.

19 Q For some of the other teams that would work with ESI, would that include

20 the CFI team?

21 A It would. We -- we would, what, coordinate with them, be in the same

22 meetings with them because it was all geared around protecting the election. And so, I

23 recall when the, what, in 2018, when I, either when I arrived, or close to when I arrived,

24 having the CFI team, you know, join meetings, things like that.

25 Q And just to clarify, for ESI, by 2020, are you the head of this team, a member

1 of this team?

2 A So it's a little bureaucratic. So I apologize for that.

3 I was not the head of the team, because I wasn't allowed to manage the folks in

4 the team. Geoff Hale was ostensibly the head of the team, but I led all of the work, set

5 the priorities for the election security work that we did.

6 Q And who is Mr. Hale?

7 A He was, what, the -- I don't know his exact title. But I was the lead for the

8 nonpolitical staff on the ESI team, and he had previously worked on -- he was part of the 9 ETF when I arrived in 2018.

10 Q ETF being the Election Task Force?

11 A Yes, sir. Sorry.

12 Q And had you worked with Mr. Hale prior to joining CISA?

13 A Yes, yes, I knew Mr. Hale. He was not the lead for the work that was being 14 done there, but he was one of the folks working on the issue.

15 Q Do you know what his current role is?

16 A I don't know his current title or position.

17 Q Do you know where he's -- who he's employed by?

18 A My understanding he's still employed at CISA.

19 Q What about Mr. Scully? Do you know what his current role is?

20 A I don't know what Mr. Scully's current role is.

21 Q Do you know if he's still at CISA?

22 A Honestly, no, I'm not sure if he's still at CISA or not.

23 Q Do you know who [redacted] is?

24 A I do.

25 Q Who's that?

1 A [redacted] in my experience and time at CISA was a junior staffer that
2 helped support the team, so schedule meetings, ensure that, you know, we were
3 coordinated, things like that.
4 Q Do you know who Robert Shaul is?
5 A I do.
6 Q And who's that?
7 A In my time at CISA, he was a staff member of the Foreign Influence Task
8 Force or -- sorry -- the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force.
9 Q Do you know who Kim Wyman is?
10 A I do.
11 Q And who is she?
12 A Wow. So Kim Wyman's someone I've known for almost 20 years. She 13 was a former local election official in the State of Washington that became the Secretary
14 of State of Washington, Republican Secretary of State. For many years, I worked with 15 her in all of my roles. And then left to being Secretary of State of Washington to 16 become the, you know, the ostensible lead of the Election Security Initiative in CISA after 17 my departure.
18 Q Did you have any role in helping find or pick your successor in this role?
19 A From what I recall, I was -- I was asked. But I don't -- I didn't have any 20 formal role. I was not part of any interview process. I did not make a formal
21 recommendation for her hiring. From what I recall, I was asked if there was anyone I
22 thought would be good.
23 Q And did you think she would be good for this role?
24 A Yes.
25 Q Do you know who [redacted] is?

1 A I do.

2 Q And who is he?

3 A At my time at CISA, I believe -- this is the best of my recollection because he

4 had several positions. So I may have this wrong. I think he was worked in

5 Infrastructure Protection for some time while I was there, and then at some point,

6 worked in the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force, CFI.

7 Q Do you know [redacted] is?

8 A I do.

9 Q Who is she?

10 A She was -- I don't know her exact job title, but she was -- it's -- I chuckle only

11 because technically I'm not allowed to say, like, chief of staff. That wasn't her role or 12 title.

13 But she was sort of the -- the one that kind of organized and kept us all going,

14 handled things like hiring into the team, managing the team day to day on many issues,

15 not all, as far as, like, managing, like, ensuring we're in the right places and -- and, you

16 know, attending the right meetings and meetings were covered, and getting us organized,

17 as well as handling much of the bureaucracy that comes with working within the Federal

18 Government.

19 Q I know you said you didn't have anyone directly reporting to you. And

20 whether that's because of you were a political appointee or regardless of the reason, did

21 have you a primary deputy or assistant or someone that would assist you day-to-day with 22 what you were doing?

23 A I did not have an -- that's -- so I -- there were executive assistants that came

24 and went to support the team. They weren't directly -- and I don't even mean from a

25 management standpoint. They were not directly assigned to me and I did not really

1 use -- it was infrequent I would say that I had someone like that.

2 Q And, again, I think, so just to make sure we're clear, you were never part of

3 the CFI Task Force. Is that right?

4 A No.

5 Q Do you know who was responsible for determining who would be part of the 6 CFI Task Force?

7 A When?

8 Q During your time at CISA.

9 A I don't -- I don't really know how assignments to the task force were made.

10 I mean, I knew who was leading the task force at any given time, but I don't know how 11 personnel decisions within the task force were made.

12 Q And who were the leaders of the task force during your tenure at CISA?

13 A To the best of my recollection, it started with Dan Sutherland, I believe, is 14 who Secretary Nielsen appointed to lead the task force.

15 At some point, I don't recall when, I believe Nate Blumenthal became the head of 16 the task force. And then at some point -- again, I don't recall the timing -- I believe Brian

17 Scully became the head of the task force.

18 Q By 2020, do you recall how big the CFI Task Force was?

19 A I don't.

20 Q Do you recall if it was bigger or smaller than ESI?

21 A I don't recall. If I had to guess, it would be smaller. But I don't recall.

22 Q Who was your primary point of contact for the CFI Task Force?

23 A It changed over time. So it went from Dan to Nate to Brian.

24 Q Were you ever asked to join the CFI team?

25 A No, not that I recall.

1 Q To your understanding, did the CFI team's work relate to mis-, dis-, and
2 malinformation?
3 A Yes.
4 Q How so?
5 A Again, my understanding of their mission and work was to anticipate work
6 across the Federal Government, to ensure that we were, what, prepared for possible
7 foreign -- attempts by foreign adversaries to interfere in the election.
8 What that meant day to day for them, I don't know, but that -- generally, I think 9 their mission was based around that in response to the 2016 election.
10 Q Did the CFI team's work, was any of it domestic-facing?
11 A I mean, not that I know of. The focus, obviously, was countering foreign 12 influence, per the name. Some of the products that they produced around, you know, 13 general mis-, dis-, or -- yeah, like, the products that were up on the website were just 14 general, right? They weren't focused on any content at all. They were around things
15 like thinking before you link or reading beyond a headline, not content specific or actor 16 specific.
17 Q Do you recall anything that was content specific that related to domestic 18 actors?
19 A Can you define "content specific" at least in the context of this question?
20 Q Sure. So I was referencing your previous response.
21 A Sure.
22 Q You mentioned content. You mentioned actors. Process, it's good to 23 make sure we're using them the same way.
24 To your understanding, as you were using it in your response, what did you mean
25 was the difference between content and actors?

1 A So it didn't -- actors would be a product that focuses on the, for instance, as
2 an example, the tactics and techniques that a given actor -- Russia, China, Iran -- might
3 use to either execute an influence operation or support one.
4 Content specific, at least, in my view would be focused on a specific piece of 5 content, right, whether that's an article, post, whatever the case may be.
6 Q Did the CFI team work on products related both to actors and content?
7 A Actors, yes. So, for instance, the pineapple on pizza products that was 8 created took a controversial issue, I guess we'll say, that being whether pineapple belongs
9 on pizza, to use as an example to show how the steps a -- in particular, specifically, a
10 Russian campaign might take to influence. So that's an example, right, where it very 11 specifically on the product talks about Russian tactics.
12 I don't recall a content specific, like a product focused on specific pieces of 13 content. I can't say for sure, but I don't recall that being part of their work.
14 Q You were talking earlier about the different terms, misinformation,
15 disinformation, malinformation. You mentioned intent with respect to disinformation
16 and malinformation, and intent would imply an actor.
17 Regarding the CFI team's work related to misinformation, how would that work
18 apply to an actor? I'll start -- stop there first.
19 Mr. Leland. Can you restate that question?
20 BY [redacted]:
21 Q Sure. Take one step back. We covered this. But to your knowledge, the 22 CFI team worked on disinformation, misinformation, and malinformation issues. Is that
23 right?
24 A To my -- I mean, as I described before, to my knowledge, the CFI team
25 focused on foreign influence, the threat of foreign influence in our elections process,

1 right? That was my experience with the CFI team. That may include the use of mis-,
2 dis-, or mal-.
3 But they're focus, their work as I understood it was to understand the risk and
4 coordinate with other Federal agencies to manage that risk within the elections process,
5 whatever that meant.
6 Q Okay. And understanding that risk, are they looking only at actors? Are 7 they looking at both actors and content?
8 A I don't know exactly how they approached it, except in my experience there
9 was -- there was a focus on tactics and techniques, not -- not content, right?
10 Again, using the pineapple-on-pizza product is kind of the simplest example I can 11 give you. That wasn't specific to any known piece of content. I don't know that 12 Russia's taken a position on pineapple on pizza for sure. But the focus was on what are 13 the tactics and techniques that played out there.
14 So that's -- that's an example of sort of how they, you know, attempted to engage 15 or educate around that.
16 Q And what sort of tactics and techniques would use misinformation?
17 A I don't know. That -- that wasn't a focus of my work. I'm sure there are 18 products that may have been produced by the team around that, but it wasn't a focus of 19 the work I did.
20 Q During your tenure at CISA, did the scope of the CFI team's work change?
21 A I don't know.
22 Q So were your interactions with the CFI team consistent during your tenure at
23 CISA?
24 A Generally, yes. I mean, the -- it depends what you mean by consistent.
25 They were consistent in that we worked together. We understood, you know, the

1 community together. I didn't notice any change in the way we operated together or the
2 work that we did together throughout my time at CISA.
3 Q To your knowledge, did any entity within CISA have the responsibility to 4 work on countering mis-, dis-, and malinformation as it related to content?
5 A I don't -- I don't recall that being a mission for anyone within CISA but I don't 6 know for sure. That certainly wasn't the focus of my work and the work that I did with 7 the community.
8 Q Regardless of whether it was part of the stated mission or not, are you -- do
9 you know whether anyone at CISA, any entity within CISA, was working to counter mis-,
10 dis-, and malinformation as it related to content?
11 A I mean, I don't know, because I don't -- I'm hung -- I apologize.
12 I'm hung up on the word "countering" in relation to con -- I mean, again, as I said,
13 my understanding of the countering -- Countering Foreign Influence Task Force job was to 14 anticipate and be prepared to, in coordination with the State and local election officials in 15 the USG, to counter a possible foreign influence operation and that -- so in my -- let me
16 give you an example. That may be helpful.
17 In my experience in the 2020 election, part of the role that both my team played
18 and the CFI team played around the Iranian activity, so in the 2020 election Iran targeted
19 our election with attempt to interfere both on the cyber side, so targeting election
20 systems, similar to what we saw from Russia, as well as narratives.
21 They sent emails to voters, purporting to be from the Proud Boys, saying, We 22 know how you're going vote, you know. There are consequences for that, right, trying 23 to intimate, trying to target them.
24 Our team, the CFI team, the whole of USG, working with State and local election
25 officials who reported that activity and, Hey, our voters are receiving these emails, within

1 24 hours was able to respond, counter that activity by, one, engaging the election officials
2 and alerting them to that activity; two, holding a press conference where the FBI Director,
3 the National Security Advisor, and Director Krebs briefed the public on this activity, right,
4 and, you know, countered it, right, publicly exposed it, and ensured that the American
5 public understood the facts around that activity.
6 And so that -- that, to me, is, you know, it was countering foreign influence,
7 including the specific content related to the emails that were sent to voters, right?
8 So that's an example of the type of activity that I saw that countered those Iranian
9 attempts to interfere in the election.
10 Q Are you familiar with the FBI's Foreign Influence Task Force?
11 A I am.
12 Q And to your understanding, what is their mission?
13 A I don't know their specific mission. My interactions with the FITF were 14 limited to their participation in meetings that I was also in, and, you know, attending
15 briefings with them, things like that. And so, I don't know their specific mission.
16 I mean, I take their name for what it's worth. I think their specific mission was to 17 identify and counter foreign influence, specifically in my experience in elections, but I
18 don't know their specific mission.
19 Q To your knowledge then, what was the difference and the responsibilities of 20 the mission between the FBI's Foreign Influence Task Force and CISA's Countering Foreign
21 Influence Task Force?
22 A So I don't know, again, because I don't -- I don't fully know what the FITF 23 mission was.
24 In my experience, I mean, this is the most obvious statement. There's law
25 enforcement involved when you have the FBI involved. I don't know sort of how that

1 was leveraged specifically within the FITF, but that's the largest difference that I would
2 identify is that the FBI obviously has a law enforcement capability that CISA has no
3 responsibility for, role for.
4 So that, to me, would be the largest difference.
5 Q To your knowledge, do you know which came first, the FBI's or CISA's?
6 A I do not.
7 Q Do you recall, during your tenure at CISA, whether anyone was concerned
8 that CISA's CFI team's work was duplicative of what the FBI was already doing?
9 A I don't know.
10 BY [redacted]:
11 Q You said earlier that you weren't sure if there was a CISA subcomponent
12 tasked with counting MDM. Is that correct?
13 A If that was their -- I don't remember how the question was phrased, but if 14 that was their primary component. Again, my understanding was that the Countering
15 Foreign Influence Task Force was focused on countering foreign influence, which may 16 include mis-, dis-, and malinformation.
17 Q Was there a CISA subcomponent that was primarily responsible, relative to 18 the other subcomponents, for the assessment of MDM, rather than countering?
19 A What do you mean by assessment of MDM?
20 Q That could be anything from sort of monitoring or, you know, determining 21 the truth of certain narratives or anything of that nature without actively countering it.
22 Sort of in a general sense, was there a subcomponent most responsible for handling or 23 assessing MDM?
24 A I mean, I don't -- certainly don't recall -- I don't know the full activities of the 25 Countering Foreign Influence Task Force, that team, to know. Certainly, I would -- my

1 experience would be that they played some sort of but not -- I don't recall them, for
2 instance, monitoring activity. That was not something I understood or experienced in 3 their role, but --
4 Q Were there other CISA subcomponents that played any sort of 5 MDM-adjacent or MDM-facing role?
6 A Not that I recall. It's possible.
7 BY [redacted]:
8 Q Are you familiar with the term "switchboarding"?
9 A I am.
10 Q What does it mean?
11 A Within my experience at CISA, it was a process for me by which if I received,
12 which only happened a handful of times, a small number of times, if I received reporting
13 from State or local election officials about activity, narratives targeting the process that 14 the trusts or veracity of the process, for me, switchboarding meant forwarding any of 15 those reports on to Brian and team who then had a process to share that with social 16 media platforms.
17 Q When did that process first start?
18 A I don't know. I don't know when that first started happening.
19 Q Did you join CISA prior to the 2018 midterm election?
20 A I did.
21 Q Was switchboarding occurring prior to the 2018 midterm election?
22 A Honestly, I don't remember. I -- it's possible but I do not remember
23 whether or not it took place leading up to 2018.
24 Q Do you recall who first at CISA told you about -- actually, let me strike that.
25 While you were at EAC, were you familiar at all with the process of

1 switchboarding?

2 A I don't recall hearing that term in my time at the EAC. My pause is only

3 that in my time at EAC, 2016 specifically, there were certainly concerns that I heard from

4 State and local election officials about narratives targeting trust in the process and sort of 5 how to handle that.

6 But I don't recall the term "switchboarding" being used in my time at the EAC.

7 Q What about the process being used, maybe under a different name, but as

8 far as passing along these concerns that are then passed along to the relevant social

9 media companies?

10 A Not that I recall. I don't know.

11 Q Do you understand, was switchboarding used prior to the 2020 U.S.

12 election?

13 A Yes, I recall at least some of that activity prior to 2020.

14 Q And who at CISA had primary responsibility for managing the messages

15 being sent to social media platforms?

16 A Again, my experience with the process was if I received, on the limited

17 number of occasions that I did, information from State or local election officials, in my

18 experience I shared it with Brian to put into the process.

19 So I don't know from there sort of who or what did -- you know, executed the 20 process. I just know I sent it to Brian.

21 Q What sort of processes did you have in place regarding when it was

22 appropriate to send a message from a State and local officials on to Brian?

23 A My instruction for the process was, if I received reporting from any State or

24 local election official, to share it into the process, that there was not discretion used by 25 me to determine just if you receive it, share it.

1 Q So you wouldn't look at what the State or local official was saying and
2 conduct your own analysis first. Is that right?
3 A That's correct.
4 Q When the State and local official is sending you a concern, a report, is the 5 message that's being sent, does it identify concerns related to who the actor is behind the 6 post?
7 A I don't recall specific messages, to be honest. It may have. It may not
8 have. I don't -- I don't know. I just knew, if I received something from State or local 9 officials, to share it into the process and it would move from there, whatever needed to 10 happen.
11 Q Were there ever instances where a State and local official was flagging
12 something, or they didn't know who the actor was, didn't know if it was foreign, didn't 13 know if it was domestic, but they were saying the post here is wrong, it's factually
14 incorrect, it relates to elections, and so it was just content focused and they were passing
15 that along to you?
16 A Again, I don't recall specific messages. That is possible, but I don't -- I don't 17 remember sort of what was sent to me in that timeframe.
18 Q What about with respect to Brian? Did -- once he receives the 19 forwarded -- I assume this is taking place over email. I shouldn't assume. So is this 20 taking --
21 A That's my --
22 Q -- place by email?
23 A That's my understanding, yes.
24 Q So when you received the -- or when he receives the email that's been 25 forwarded from you, does he then conduct any sort of analysis regarding the message

1 itself?

2 A I don't know for sure. My understanding of the process for myself and the

3 team was that there was no analysis to be conducted, that you receive a message, you

4 pass it on. That was my understanding and my experience with the process.

5 Q So your understanding is that a State and local official would send a message

6 sometimes to you. You would not conduct any analysis of the underlying message,

7 forward it to Brian Scully. He, likewise, would not conduct any analysis of the underlying

8 message and then direct it to what CISA understood to be the appropriate party, the 9 relevant social media platform?

10 A Again, I didn't run the process. But that was my understanding and 11 experience with the process, yes.

12 Q Did you ever have any conversations with Brian Scully about

13 switchboarding?

14 A I don't recall a specific conversation with Brian, but I was certainly in 15 meetings in which it was discussed. But I don't recall a specific switchboarding

16 conversation with Brian.

17 Q You left CISA at the end of 2020, went to Stanford, then to Microsoft. To

18 your understanding, did CISA engage in any switchboarding efforts prior to the 2022

19 midterm election?

20 A I don't -- I don't know.

1

2 [11:01 a.m.]

3 BY [redacted]:

4 Q Once you're at Stanford, or during your tenure now at Microsoft, did you

5 ever engage in switchboarding to the extent you would either flag posts directly or you

6 would receive a post from State and local officials that would send it to you and you

7 would send to CISA?

8 A I don't recall -- I don't recall doing that at either Stanford or Microsoft.

9 Yeah, that was not part of my job at either one of those places. So I don't recall doing

10 that, no.

11 Q Do you know whether CISA engages in switchboarding today?

12 A I do not.

13 Q Do you recall anybody within CISA raising concerns regarding the process of 14 switchboarding during your tenure at CISA?

15 A I don't recall the specific conversation about that. I recall being in meetings

16 with the lawyers about the process generally, but I don't recall anyone specifically, any

17 specific conversation raising those concerns. It was more conversations about how the 18 lawyers were thinking about it.

19 Q You mentioned many times, obviously, you were previously a State and local 20 election official.

21 A Just State, never local.

22 Q Previous State official, and engaged with State and local officials in a number

23 of roles. During your tenure at CISA, while this switchboarding process is ongoing, to

24 your understanding, did the State and local officials understand the switchboarding

25 process, insofar as, if they send something to CISA that ultimately it would get its way to

1 the appropriate social media platform?

2 A So in my limited experience receiving, right, reports, I don't, I think their

3 understanding was that was the expectation. I don't know that they understood sort of

4 how the process might or might not work and whether there was sort of a expectation or

5 guarantee that it would get to the platform or not. I think they, at least in my

6 experience, knew that if they shared it with me, we -- that the team at least knew the

7 social media platforms. I don't know, I don't remember anyone expressing an

8 expectation of this must go, or something like that. It was just, we know we can share

9 them with CISA.

10 Q To your understanding, how did this process first start, insofar as, State and 11 local officials have concerns regarding these posts, or whatever else it might be with?

12 When did it first start where they realized that CISA can be a resource in getting those 13 reports ultimately to the social media companies?

14 A Again, I don't recall the timing of sort of when it started. You can tell me a

15 time, and I would say, okay, that seems right. I really don't recall. From my

16 experience, with this, has been or was that State and local officials coming out of 2016

17 into 2017, then when I get to CISA in 2018, but I was hearing it -- again I was hearing it at

18 the EAC even in 2017 -- became increasingly concerned about the information

19 environment that they were operating in and were experiencing -- election officials, in my

20 experience, my entire career faced blow-back, criticism, after every election, right? No

21 one like to lose. I don't like to lose either.

22 But starting really in 2017 and sort of building from there, election officials were

23 expressing to me, right, as I interacted with the community, an increasing weariness and

24 fear that the information environment was going to impact the people, process, and

25 systems that they administered. That they were worried for themselves, they were

1 worried for their personnel, they were worried someone might do something to their
2 warehouse, to their voting systems, and it was growing in concern. And so my
3 experience is that increasingly they needed or felt disconnected or an inability to connect 4 with the platforms that were, you know, they were experiencing these narratives from 5 and were desperate for any avenue to pursue that might help alleviate this risk that they
6 were feeling to the people processes and systems that they administered. So that 7 doesn't answer your timing questions, because candidly except for, in my experience,
8 2017 building from there, this became -- I mean, the number of election officials in 2018,
9 2019, 2020, that would say to me the biggest risk now is not any individual, you know,
10 cyber actor; it is the doubt, distrust, and dissent around the process and the targeting 11 that we are receiving, right?
12 They were worried about the information environment and didn't -- felt like they 13 were just yelling into a chasm because their voices were so limited. They're small, right?
14 They're small. And so that was my experience as information got shared or as the 15 community assessed risk was that they were used to -- and I can't stress this enough.
16 This is a tough community. They do not mind criticism and do not back down. And 17 they were sounding the alarm in a way that I had not experienced before.
18 [redacted]. Can we go off the record, please?
19 [Discussion off the record.]
20 EXAMINATION
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q All right. It is 11:16, we can go back on the record.
23 Mr. Masterson, and thank you again for joining us today. Before we get too far
24 down my line of questions, I want to start with just some definitional questions. There's 25 been some -- a fair amount of discussion today or a fair amount of usage of the term

1 election community and election workers.

2 Can you just describe what's your understanding, or what would your definition

3 be of who -- what is the election community? Who are the election workers?

4 A Sure. And I apologize for not being more specific when I use those terms.

5 Because for me that's the community that I've worked in and built my career with. And

6 so for me the community is State and local election officials, certainly poll workers, and

7 those that helped administer the process, the private sector companies that support

8 State and local election officials.

9 So voting machine, voter registration, electronic poll book providers. And then

10 those that -- of us that work in support of them, right? I certainly viewed my assistant

11 team, the EAC team as part of the election community as well.

12 Q And with respect so the election workers, specifically still thinking about the 13 poll workers, for example, in a lot of cases, are those positions volunteer?

14 A It depends State by State, which is the answer all the time in elections. So

15 most States will pay, it is not very much pay, and it is an incredibly long day, some places

16 there are volunteer opportunities, including for high school or college students. So it

17 just depends.

18 Q And even thinking about the paid positions, though, that's generally not a 19 full-time career, right; it's more of like a stipend for the work that they do?

20 A Yes, correct. It's a day's pay. And, again, it's not very much. It will buy 21 you a cup of coffee and a meal at the end of a long day.

22 Q Okay. You were asked about the Election Security Initiative in the earlier

23 hour. Just briefly, who decided to kind of stand up the Election Security Initiative as a 24 standalone entity?

25 A My recollection is that that was Director Krebs' decision. It may have gone

1 higher than that, but I don't recall.

2 Q And Director Krebs was a Trump appointee, correct?

3 A That's my understanding, yes.

4 Q Why was the Election Security Initiative needed to the extent that you

5 recall?

6 A So my recollection is -- again, I think as I said before that there was a task

7 force and when a arrived at CISA in 2018 or NPPD. And the task force was temporary

8 assignments, right, detailees. And so my understanding of the standing up of the 9 initiative was to take it from a temporary task force detailee to having permanent

10 employees dedicated to the election mission, which would be consistent with how CISA

11 would handle areas of critical infrastructure. Generally, it's a little bit unique because

12 elections is the sector-specific agency for the election security work. And so there's

13 additional responsibilities that come with being the SSA that if you're not, you wouldn't

14 need as much personnel.

15 Q And can you just briefly describe what those additional responsibilities are?

16 A Yeah, so you administer the Government Coordinating Council, the Sector

17 Coordinating Council. There's additional responsibilities in coordinating the,

18 community, bringing the community together when you're the sector-specific agency.

19 Q Okay. You were asked in the earlier hour -- or I think maybe you

20 mentioned it yourself that election security was designated as a critical infrastructure

21 subsector by Secretary Johnson, correct?

22 A Correct.

23 Q So that would have been under the Obama administration, correct?

24 A Correct.

25 Q Do you have an understanding of why that decision was made?

1 A As I recall, the decision was made in sort of response to the Russian attempts
2 to interfere in the 2016 election by targeting State and local election systems. So, you
3 know, the Senate intelligence report following the 2016 election details, scanning or 4 probing of what the Federal Government assessed to be all 50 States by the Russian
5 Government in a limited number of cases actually accessing for the registration data from 6 voter registration databases. And so while I, you know, was not privy to the 7 decisionmaking process, my understanding was that it was to bring the additional support
8 that being in an area of critical infrastructure like the other sectors and subsectors to 9 elections.
10 Q And do you have an understanding of why election security, specifically, was 11 deemed important enough to be designated as a critical infrastructure subsector?
12 A I mean, as I recall Secretary Johnson issued a statement and sort of outlining 13 the importance of protecting the people -- processing systems that underlie our 14 democracy. But I don't recall the exact words he used.
15 Q And then throughout your time with CISA, you served under Secretary
16 Nielsen, correct? You started out starting under Secretary Nielsen?
17 A Correct. I started out serving under Secretary Nielsen.
18 Q And Secretary Nielsen was a Trump appointee, correct?
19 A That is my understanding, yes.
20 Q And then you served under Acting Secretary McAleenan?
21 A McAleenan.
22 Q McAleenan, thank you. Sorry. Correct?
23 A Correct.
24 Q And he was also a Trump appointee, correct?
25 A I don't know -- that's my understanding. But again with the acting role I

1 don't really know how that works.

2 Q But it was under President Trump, correct?

3 A Yes, it was during the Trump administration.

4 Q And then you served under Acting Secretary Chad Wolf, correct?

5 A Correct.

6 Q And Mr. Wolf was also a Trump appointee?

7 A He was part of the Trump administration, yes. Again, I don't know.

8 Q So during your time with CISA, to the best of your recollection, did any

9 Trump DHS appointees from the Secretary level on down ever suggest rescinding the 10 designation of election security as a critical infrastructure subsector?

11 A Not that I recall, no.

12 Q Okay. So the designation was made -- because I am getting at -- the 13 designation was made by Secretary Johnson, but it was upheld throughout the Trump

14 administration with really no question about it?

15 A Again, it's possible -- in my experience, I did not experience anyone

16 questioning or asking if the designation should be removed, but there may have been

17 discussions I wasn't privy to.

18 Q But not to your knowledge?

19 A Not to my knowledge, correct.

20 Q During your time with CISA, and to the extent that you know today, broadly

21 speaking, what did the election security subsector encompass?

22 A So the election security subsector is defined in the sort of designation. So I

23 may miss some areas. But my understanding of the definition of the election security

24 subsector included essentially the people, the facilities, the systems, the companies that

25 support or run the systems that allow for the administration of elections in the United

1 States.

2 Q Okay. And I am just going to go through a list and just to make the record.

3 So, for example, do voter registration databases and IT systems, would that be

4 encompassed under the elections security subsector?

5 A Yes, that's my understanding.

6 Q And what about kind of the IT systems that a State or local official may use

7 to manage an election?

8 A Yes, that's my understanding.

9 Q What about the storage facilities that would hold a voting machine and that

10 might hold ballots?

11 A Yes, that's my understanding.

12 Q And what about the polling places themselves?

13 A Yes, that's my understanding.

14 Q Okay. You were asked a number of questions about, in the earlier hour

15 about what CISA and the CFI team member, in particular, did to quote, unquote counter

16 misinformation or disinformation. And I want to take a step back. During your time

17 with CISA, was an understanding that disinformation posed a particular risk to this 18 election security kind of sectors that we just talked through?

19 A Yes, I mean, I think, as I described at the end of the last hour, there's two

20 facets to this. One is coming out of the 2016 election and the Russian activity targeting 21 the election offices and narratives, there was a growing concern among election officials.

22 Again, I saw election officials out engaging their voters proactively in a way that I hadn't

23 seen before to educate, to talk about the process. I used Secretary Warner of West

24 Virginia for an example. We literally did a tour of the State and went to other States,

25 including Ohio to talk about this.

1 And that was done because there was a growing recognition, in my experience,
2 from the community I worked within that the ongoing narratives targeting elections were
3 posing a risk to those items, right, the people, process system that underlie.
4 In addition to that, in my experience with the CISA, there was a growing
5 expectation coming out of 2016 from both sides of Congress when we would do briefings
6 to staff, when we would do briefings to Members that we were aware of those risks, in 7 coordinating with the State and local election officials to understand the challenges they 8 were facing around that, and working with or at least knew the social media platforms.
9 Because in 2016, business cards were sort of exchanged in the midst of the 10 challenge. So there was an expectation, in my experience, in these briefings that that 11 would not happen again; that folks would know each other if or when a foreign adversary
12 attempted to interfere again.
13 Q And is it fair to say that there was concern, specifically, that these actions by 14 foreign adversaries to push disinformation or to spread disinformation could undermine 15 Americans' face in the Democratic system?
16 A That was certainly the concern of the election community that I was working 17 with, yes.
18 Q And so is it fair to say that CISA was responding to that concern or felt a 19 need to respond to that concern?
20 A Certainly, the work I was doing was responding to that concern, yes.
21 Q I want to talk about the steps that you, specifically, and CISA more broadly, I
22 guess, took to address this concern. In the prior hour, there was the -- the word
23 "countering" was used. And I think there was some confusion maybe about what 24 countering is. What is your definition of the term "countering"?
25 A So, again, I wasn't a member of that team, so I'm not sure how they defined

1 it within their own mission work, right? To me the work that I did with State and local
2 election officials and the private sector entities that support them was amplify their
3 voices as the trusted voices.
4 What steps could we take to ensure that they had a louder megaphone; that their 5 voters were receiving the information they needed, not just on where to vote, when to 6 vote, how to vote, all very important, but also on the resilience of the process; the 7 security steps that had been taken.
8 I'll give an example. We undertook an effort that we called the last mile within 9 the Election Security Initiative that was geared towards reaching mid to small local 10 election jurisdictions. Against, there's 8,800 of these jurisdictions out there.
11 A State like Wisconsin has 1,800 localities that run elections just on its own. How 12 to do we reach those mid to small that otherwise wouldn't know about the services we 13 were offering? In order to both provide the support that we could provide, but then 14 empower them to message their voters about the steps that they were taking to secure
15 the process, to respond to the, you know, new risk environment that is a sophisticated 16 threat actor targeting their systems, and reassure voters that the process was secure, it is 17 resilient, it was accessible for voters.
18 And so the last mile, not earth shattering, was a poster that outlined specific steps
19 within that given jurisdiction and State that were being taken through a checklist. That 20 as they took those steps, they would check it off, and then kind of outline how the 21 process worked within that jurisdiction; what voting machines were used? Was there
22 post-election auditing? How were those audits administered, canvassing, things like
23 that.
24 The importance of that work wasn't just that we, you know, supported the 25 creation of a poster, but in fact, they would take these posters to county fairs, to State

1 fairs, to libraries to public appearance themselves would make and talk their voters
2 through in a very tangible way the steps they were taking to engage and build out their
3 trust with the community further on the steps they had taken to respond to activity
4 targeting their systems.
5 So that's like a really tangible example of us attempting to empower them and
6 amplify their voices. And then we would highlight the work they were doing through
7 those posters as talk to Congress. Right? We bring the posters with us and talk
8 through it, as we talked to the public, as we did interviews so we were amplifying the 9 good work that they were doing consistently.
10 Q And you used a couple of terms just now. You are trying to give the State
11 and local officials, the election workers a louder megaphone and amplify their voices. Is 12 it fair to say that one way you accomplished your goal was by speaking more or by 13 helping them to have their speech heard.
14 A Yes, I mean I think speaking more -- it threw me off a little bit. I speak a lot
15 already. We aggressively tried to support them and amplify them. And I'll give you a 16 couple of examples.
17 One is going to the State conferences that I would go to, and speaking to them
18 was not just about that trust building that was a big part of it, but it was also -- it allowed
19 me to do -- so I remember going to Iowa with Secretary Pate and doing press with him, so
20 that he could say, you know, here's all the work we've done in Iowa with the 99 auditors
21 of elections, and we're working with the Federal Government to ensure the security by 22 taking advantage of their penetration testing and their scanning.
23 And he is one of the ones that brought that poster to the State fair. So it gave
24 Secretaries of auditors of election the opportunity to really talk about the election
25 security community that we had built. That this wasn't -- because one of the big

1 messages from election officials and us was that no one's in this alone.
2 That we are a community together managing this risk together. No one is asking
3 you, Cheryl, in Jackson County Ohio to thwart the Russians. That is not your job. We 4 can all support each other to do that, right? And so that was a big part of the work we 5 did, yes, with speaking with them, with the media. The other was to promote the 6 incredible work they were doing nationally.
7 So Secretary Nielsen was the first Secretary of Homeland Security to speak at the 8 National Association of Secretaries State Conference in Philadelphia. And at a time
9 when certainly when there was plenty of conversation about Homeland Security, the 10 Secretaries gave her a standing ovation because of the way she amplified the good work
11 that they were doing and talked about the importance of their job, right?
12 That was a really important national moment to highlight that in the midst of 13 coming out of 2016 and the critical infrastructure designation, and items like that.
14 Q Thank you for that. And so there's been a lot of discussion here and in the 15 realms of this investigation about content removal or, you know, taking -- addressing 16 misinformation by taking content down. But I think I what I hear you saying is that, in 17 fact, that wasn't what your focus was; that wasn't something you did; that your focus was 18 really on amplifying voices, on amplifying what the election workers had to say and 19 helping them get their message out.
20 A Yeah, certainly for my work I had no content management responsibilities.
21 My job was focused on the community amplifying their voices, but also ensuring that we 22 were all taking the necessary steps to ensure the process was secure, resilient, and 23 accessible, right? Not just talking about it, but making progress towards a more 24 resilient, secure election.
25 Q And what does that mean to make progress towards a more resilient

1 election?

2 A Sure. This can be a long answer. So coming out of 2016, as I have
3 described previously, there was an immense amount of distrust with the Federal 4 Government with the designation. And so progress started with building that trust, and 5 then ensuring that the lines of communication that were needed to respond to a possible
6 nation state, interference in the election were established, trusted, and exercised, right?

7 So we created the Election Infrastructure Information Sharing and Analysis Center
8 or EI-ISAC. The purpose of an ISAC, in general, within critical infrastructure is to serve as 9 a hub of information sharing with that sector, right? So critical infrastructure, sectors
10 have ISACs, traditionally, that share threat intelligence, risk information, mitigation
11 information, you know, whatever is helpful to manage the risks to the sector.

12 The ISAC was established in 2018. It's sort of the sister ISAC to what's called the 13 Multistate Information Sharing Analysis Center, which was an existing ISAC that helped 14 State and local so county administrators, others, administer their systems, but this was 15 focused on elections. And it was the fastest growing ISAC in all of critical infrastructure
16 in 2018 and 2020.

17 We went from literally zero to -- and my numbers may be a little off from 2018 to 18 2020, but as I recall over a thousand members in the ISAC in 2018, and over 2,000
19 members in the ISAC in 2020. So this means we've now established this hub of 20 information sharing and channels of communication.

21 In addition to that, we worked with State and local election officials and built
22 enough trust that we deployed what's known as Albert sensors. These are open-source 23 intrusion detection centers that are deployed on election infrastructure in this case to 24 monitor for malicious traffic targeting that system and then alerts to known malicious
25 traffic.

1 Q And just to jump in, so that's to put it in laymen's terms --
2 A Sorry.
3 Q -- malicious traffic is if somebody is trying to hack into the machine. Is that
4 fair to say?
5 A It could be, although, I caution a little bit on that because there's traffic all 6 the time that appears malicious that may just be a bot looking to scrape data from 7 website or something like that. Right? And it may still flag, depending, but I wouldn't 8 view it as attempting to hack, right?
9 Q Okay.
10 A But, yes, generally, that's what it's supposed to alert to is to bring about an 11 awareness of possible traffic that's attempting to gain illicit access to the system, right?
12 And so in -- I should note also in 2018 we had all 49 of the 50 States as members.
13 And by 2020, we had all 50 States participating. And to put that in context, all of 14 it, and I'm sorry for going a little long, but we went from a trust environment in which 15 States were literally accusing us of trying to hack them, right, and with very legitimate
16 concerns about approach to an environment in which -- that we were actively sharing
17 information with them, all 50 States were participating, and by 2020, all 50 States had 18 allowed us to work with them to put this intrusion detection system Albert on their 19 infrastructure to look for malicious traffic, right? That is exactly the type of work that 20 we felt we needed to do based on the lessons done from 2016 to management risk.
21 In addition to that, we did things like offer free penetration testing, offer free
22 vulnerability scanning, which is just a remote scan, which is just a remote scan looking for 23 vulnerables, proactively alert to unpatched or outdated systems that they had, physical 24 security. We did over a thousand physical security reviews of election offices across the 25 United States in that timeframe.

1 Our protective security advisors across the United States just worked incredibly
2 hard, right? And so we did national level tabletop exercises in 2018, in 2019, in 2020, so
3 that we could exercise those channels of communication within the Federal Government,
4 within State government, within local government, across the private sector such that if 5 something were to happen, we were confident that, one, we would know, and two, we 6 would be able to respond.
7 And as I have described before, so I won't go into it too much, that Iranian activity
8 targeting the 2020 election is the perfect example of how prepared we were. Within 9 24 hours, we were able to respond, and the election officials could move forward.
10 And it had little to no impact because of that. And so we had built a robust
11 community, and it is a credit to the State and local officials, to private sector partners
12 who the entire time demanded that we validate that trust with them, but were willing to 13 work with us in addition to build a more resilient process.
14 I mean, we had in 2020, 95 percent or so of votes cast on audited paper records
15 that could be audited after the election. That is a significant resilience measure that 16 previously in 2016 it was around 80-something percent. Right? That's a huge increase 17 in resilience.
18 Q And the goal of this resilience was to build trust in the election systems. Is
19 that fair to say?
20 A That was one of the goals, yeah. Certainly, I mean one of the goals is to 21 secure process, right?
22 Q Yeah.
23 A But then to be able to message to voters and make sure they understood 24 that the work that had gone on.
25 Q The Iranian example that you just mentioned, that was the example you

1 talked through in the earlier hour involving the Proud Boys?

2 A Correct.

3 Q To the extent you can get in the setting, and I understand there may be

4 some law enforcement sensitive information, can you talk briefly about how that came to 5 your attention or your understanding of that?

6 Mr. Masterson. Sure, I'll share my experience. That activity has been reported

7 publicly, but I won't get into details, because I candidly can't remember sort of how

8 much. But it became or came to my attention when State and local election officials

9 started sharing into the ISAC and contacting me, saying, our voters are receiving these

10 emails, right? What is happening? And it was, you know, a couple States, maybe

11 three. And immediately we sprang into action. We had practiced, right? We had 12 exercised this?

13 Can you send us the headers on the emails? Can you send us more information

14 that we can take in, we're able to pass the information within the U.S. Government as 15 well as, you know, across the ISAC to really analyze it.

16 It was paired with additional context or information that was available working

17 with the IC and was exposed within 24 hours.

18 So it all started with State and local election officials trusting us and sharing it, and 19 it ended with attribution within 24 hours, which is remarkably fast.

20 BY [redacted]

21 Q And when you say that CISA responded, is that -- was that a specific part of 22 CISA, and which part?

23 A Yeah, thank you. I used the Royal we there. So it started with the 24 Election Security Initiative team. That's where the information came into as well as the

25 ISAC. And then it was across CISA, right? So we have cyber experts that can dig in and 1 analyze.

2 We have a, you know, team connected with the intelligence community to begin

3 to coordinate around that right; get it into the necessary channel to begin the share; as

4 well as regional folks on the ground in those States, right; able to coordinate and connect.

5 So it was a whole of CISA and really a whole of USG effort in coordinator with the

6 State and local election officials.

7 Q You've used the term a couple times building -- resilience we talked with

8 that in a couple different terms of what that means. Does resiliency involve also helping

9 State and local officials to be aware of when there might be disinformation or when there

10 might be something targeting false information targeting their processes?

11 A Less when, in my experience, or at least in the work that I did, in more -- so

12 we spent time -- the community knows, right? The community is experiencing it in real

13 time, right? They see the narratives. They see the questions that are getting into their

14 call centers. Items like that.

15 For us it really was about building awareness about the tactic and techniques that

16 described the pineapple on pizza product, but also building awareness to in red-teaming

17 out sort of the areas of the election that might be most likely to be -- to face narratives,

18 right?

19 So if an election night reporting website is hacked, even if it's just defaced, not the

20 numbers changed, are you prepared to message to your community that, one, that has

21 no impact on the integrity of an election. These are unofficial results and not part of the 22 official certification process.

23 Two, can you respond to get that website back up and running. Three, what are 24 your communication channels to make sure that voters know what that looked like.

25 And so we spent -- in the exercises that we did with State and local election officials, at a

1 lot of time kind of talking about not just what could happen from a physical or cyber
2 perspective, but also how will you communicate about what's going on?
3 I remember vividly in the 2018 election in Knox County, Tennessee, there was a
4 mayoral race in which the election night reporting site went down during the Knox
5 County. And the Secretary of State's office, hospital, the county were all over it and
6 responded. But it got some attention because, initially, the county sort of attributed it
7 to nation State activity, to my knowledge.
8 That didn't prove out to be true. But I remember that because it was an exact
9 scenario we had thought through with them in exercise, which is this isn't even a site
10 being defaced, it just went down. And immediately there are questions with what's 11 happening, why don't we know the results? I also remember that because the winner of 12 the race was WWE Superstar Kane, which is a weird twist of events, who I believe may 13 still be the mayor in Knox County.
14 But anyway that's a relief. Like perfect use case of how, the cyber environment, 15 the information environment could have really headed in a different direction, but they 16 were prepared to communicate. So we spent a lot of time talking about not just the 17 systems, but how you communicate about the process.
18 Q And looking back to the how you would help the election workers build 19 awareness or understand what's going on. I do want to turn to the pineapple on pizza
20 example.
21 A Great.
22 Q We'll introduce that as exhibit 1.
23 [Masterson Exhibit No. 1
24 Was marked for identification.]
25 BY [redacted]

1 Q And I'll give you a minute to look it over. Ready to go?
2 A I am.
3 Q And so I just handed you a one-page graphic entitled, The War on Pineapple:
4 Understanding Foreign Interference in 5 Steps. Is this the pineapple on pizza example
5 you were referring to earlier?
6 A It is.
7 Q And this is dated July 2019, which is when you were at CISA, correct?
8 A Correct.
9 Q Were you involved in the creation of this one-pager?
10 A I was.
11 Q Okay. And can you describe both? Can you describe what it says or what 12 it does?
13 A Sure. So the purpose of this product as, as we worked with the 14 community, if I can use that term again, it became clear to us that one of the things that 15 would be useful or helpful to them as they worked to understand how to prepare, how to 16 mitigate the risk of information operations was to lay out what a campaign looks like,
17 what an information operation, how it might play out to understand the tactics and 18 techniques used.
19 And so the purpose of this is to take what I think is a relatively noncontroversial
20 issue, though, I have strong feelings, and use it to educate, not just the election officials
21 but empower them to talk to their voters about how information operations take hold
22 and the steps that they could take to be resilient to it, to not be influenced by it.
23 So that's the the purpose. It goes through five steps from targeting the divisive
24 issue of pineapple on pizza to prepositioning moving accounts into place, to then 25 amplifying and distorting or changing the conversation, to then taking those

1 conversations mainstream. So beyond individual accounts or platforms to other venues,
2 right?
3 And then, finally, taking into the real world. And this is not earth shattering in its 4 steps, this is in part what we saw the Russians do in 2016 when they literally organized or 5 pushed for the organization of protests, counter protests in communities against each
6 other.
7 Q So in the earlier hour, there's some discussion of -- did you put -- were there
8 the CISA or the Counter Foreign Influence Task Force or some entity within CISA put out
9 products focusing on actors, specifically.
10 Is it fair to say that this type of product, meaning this product that describes what
11 all foreign interference might look like without discussing specific actors was more in line
12 with paper products that would have been put out?
13 A Like, again, I wasn't responsible for a lot of that work. I worked with that 14 team. Again, I helped generate this product by arguing with Geoff about pineapple on 15 pizza, but this product, initially, was focused, as you could see sort of in the top box there
16 on Russia, right, the Russian tactic and techniques. But these tactics and techniques are 17 not specific to Russia, right?
18 Q Right.
19 A This is what an information operation generally could look like.
20 Q And this is essentially educational in nature. Is that fair to say?
21 A Yes.
22 Q Okay. Are you familiar with the term prebunking?
23 A Yes.
24 Q What does prebunking refer to?
25 A In my experience, prebunking refers to the ability to anticipate and put out

1 information specific to elections, in my experience, about the process, about the 2 resilience, about the security in advance, factual information about how the process is
3 run by State and local official and others, in order to educate the public voters on it, such
4 that if or when there are attempts to undermine trust in that process or any given access
5 to that process, the systems, whatever the case may be, that that information is already
6 out, is already public, and hopefully they've already been exposed to it and it at least
7 allows those voters to say, oh, I think, I have read something. I think I have seen
8 information.
9 My local election officials talked about this in a press release, in a press
10 conference, in the media on their website in order to sort of slow the acceptance of any 11 given narrative that are false or misleading about the process.
12 Q And so again prebunking is putting information out into the public, correct?
13 A Yes, in my experience, yes.
14 Q Okay. Are you familiar with CISA's rumor control website?
15 A I am.
16 Q What was that?
17 A So rumor control came about as a result of the Iranian activity. I'd like to 18 say that we were original in creating it, but FEMA had a rumor control website
19 around disasters because they had seen at times information operations arise around 20 natural disasters.
21 So we took the rumor control concept from FEMA in order, initially, to counter the 22 narratives around secrecy of the ballot and what the Iranian activity was claiming, right?
23 That we know how you're going to vote.
24 And so then as I recall the initial rumor dealt with secrecy of the ballot and how 25 election officials protect the secrecy of the ballot. The focus of rumor control was to

1 take and amplify what election officials were saying about the process, given any
2 narrative that they were experiencing, and just amplify the facts.
3 So we would sum up -- because, again, elections are different in every State or 4 county, we would sum up the basics. Here is how secrecy of the ballot works; here is
5 how they protect secrecy of the ballot. They may differ State to State, but generally
6 every State protects secrecy of the ballot. And simply state the facts, the rumor, and 7 then the details about in this case how secrecy of the ballot is protected.
8 So it was an attempt to amplify the facts as the election officials were sharing
9 them to voters.
10 Q And so is it fair to say that the rumor control -- again, the focus was on 11 pushing out information, pushing out facts?
12 A Correct. The purpose of rumor control was to share the facts that election
13 officials were sharing more broadly about the process. And I will say -- and this gets 14 back -- to empower them to continue to push that information out.
15 We saw, after the establishment of rumor control, States establishing their own 16 rumor control page that said we're more specific to their processes, more specific to their 17 systems, and that allowed us to better understand sort of the narrative they're 18 experiencing and the answers, right, the facts, so that we can, you know, have our rumor
19 control page. So a big part of it was, again, amplifying their voice and empowering them
20 to speak to their voters.
21 Q So just looking through a fair amount that we had just spoken through,
22 prebunking, the rumor control mill website, the war on pineapple one-pager, all of these
23 methods, as you said, involved pushing information out to the public. Is it fair to say
24 that with respect to your experience at CISA, the focus was on making more information
25 available and not having information taken down?

1 A My experience at CISA, yes. I mean, the focus for me was largely
2 on -- again, I'm sorry for repeating -- but largely on supporting the State and local election
3 officials and private sector entities that support the election and amplifying the 4 information and their voices so that they think felt like they had the support they needed
5 to continue to talk to their voters about the process.
6 Q And I think you answered this question earlier, but just to have it again in a
7 clean form for the record. To your knowledge, did CISA ever monitor social media
8 platforms to determine there was disinformation on their websites?
9 A I'm not aware of that taking place, and it was not part of the work I did.
10 Q Okay. And to your knowledge, did CISA ever instruct or coerce or demand
11 that a platform remove particular content?
12 A In my experience, I never -- that was never part of anything that I recalled
13 doing, and I'm not aware of that being part of CISA's activities. Though, again, I didn't 14 run that program.
15 Q I want to turn to switchboarding and the conversation that started in the 16 prior hour. You described your -- in the prior hour, you described your understanding of 17 what switchboarding was. Is it fair to say that what is referred to as switchboarding, in 18 your experience, is really, essentially, is just forwarding emails?
19 A In my experience, switchboarding was forwarding emails that I received from 20 State or local or private sector partners to Brian to put into the process. That was my 21 experience.
22 Q And so we could just call it forwarding. Switchboarding is a term that I
23 think that maybe it has some entry built up around it, but really it's just forwarding.
24 A Again, that was my experience with how I handled it.
25 Q And I want to look at two examples of emails being forwarded from you to

1 Brian and then from Brian to the social media companies.

2 [Masterson Exhibit No. 2

3 Was marked for identification.]

4 BY [redacted]

5 Q So we will start out with exhibit 2, which is an email exchange dated October

6 5th, 2020.

7 A Sorry, I'm just reading.

8 Q Okay.

9 A Okay.

10 Q Having had a minute to review, do you recall this email chain?

11 A I do not.

12 Q But you see that your name is on the bottom of the first page of it --

13 A It's --

14 Q -- Bates Stamp page 6?

15 A I do.

16 Q Okay. Starting out on -- it's the second and third page of the email Bates

17 stamped -- Bates pages 7 and 8, that last -- the last email in the chain, chronologically -- or

18 the earliest email in the chain, I should say, chronologically.

19 The email shows concerns about Twitter posts suggesting that Russia may be

20 preparing to change votes in Florida, correct? And that's on page 3 of the original

21 underlying Twitter post that's why?

22 A That appears to be what that says.

23 Q Okay. And this information, this Twitter post was originally identified by 24 MITRE, correct?

25 A That appears to be what this says.

1 Q Who or what is MITRE?
2 A Oh, my goodness. So my understanding, MITRE is I think -- well, I mean, I
3 don't really know except I think they're an FDRC and an lab of some sort.
4 Q If I represent to you that they were a contractor retained by the State of 5 Florida, would you have anything to dispute that? I think they do more than that, but 6 for purposes of this.
7 A I did not know that, but okay.
8 Q And do you, sitting here today, do you have any information as to why
9 MITRE have been commended, become aware of this information?
10 A So as I recall, though, I don't know -- again, I didn't know they were working 11 for the State of Florida, as you represented. They ran a program called SQUINT that 12 identified election-related information --
13 Q Okay.
14 A -- apparently for clients.
15 Q And somebody at MITRE, whose the names are redacted, passed it along to 16 an email address that's also redacted, but it's at Escambiavotes.com. Is that correct?
17 A Yes, that appears to be what that says, yes.
18 Q And that's a reference to Escambia County, Florida, correct?
19 A As far as I know, yes. As far as I know.
20 Q And that individual at Escambia County, apparently forwarded it to you,
21 correct?
22 A It appears that way.
23 Q Okay. And so you actually don't have any information about this, this is 24 just an email that was passed along to you that sitting here today you don't recall, and
25 you aren't even really sure why MITRE would have had this information or how, you

1 know, who Escambia County is, right?

2 A I mean I know who Escambia County is, but yes this appears to be an email

3 that was sent to me as you described.

4 Q Okay. And then you forwarded it to Brian Scully and a number of others

5 listed in that email; the "to" line of that email, right?

6 A It appears that way.

7 Q And I want to look at the message that you included with that message.

8 The text, the substance of that message just says: See below info provided by MITRE to 9 some local officials in Florida, correct?

10 A That's what that says, yes.

11 Q You don't weigh in on whether this information is accurate or not, right?

12 A I do not appear to.

13 Q And you don't offer any comment on who MITRE is. You just say MITRE

14 identified it, right?

15 A It appears that way, yes.

16 Q And, again, there's no commentary at all, really. This is the information I

17 received and I'm passing it along?

18 A It appears that way, yes.

19 Q Is this generally consistent -- to the best of your recollection, is this generally

20 consistent with the way that handled emails that were sent to you from State and local

21 officials concerning social media content?

22 A Yes, this would be consistent with, again, what I described in the first hour

23 and what I recall which is to simply forward it on.

24 Q Okay. So you forwarded it to Mr. Scully at 1 o'clock p.m. on October 5th,

25 2020. About 18 minutes later Mr. Scully forwarded it to two addresses, the names are

1 redacted, but they're both at Twitter.com, right?

2 A It appears that way, yes.

3 Q So it appears that Mr. Scully forwarded this to Twitter?

4 A It appears that way.

5 Q And the content of Mr. Scully's email just says: We received the below

6 reporting from a Florida election official via MITRE, correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q So again, Mr. Scully doesn't offer any commentary on whether the 9 information is true or false or anything else, correct?

10 A He does not appear to.

11 Q Kind of like you did when you forwarded it to him. He just passes it along.

12 Is that fair to say?

13 A It appears that way.

14 Q Okay. And I want to look below Mr. Scully's email. Do you see there's 15 two paragraphs?

16 A I do.

17 Q Would you say that the font in those paragraphs is larger than the font in his 18 actual message?

19 A It appears to be larger than the font in his message.

20 Q Is it fair to say that that's more prominent, or at least at equally as 21 prominent as the content of his message itself?

22 A Yes, I'm no font expert, but sure.

23 Q But just looking at this email, it's not in size five font where it's not readable,

24 right? I mean, it's pretty prominent. It's easy to read this message?

25 A I can read the message, yes.

1 Q And I want to talk through what that message says. The first paragraph
2 reads: The Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency, CISA, of the U.S.
3 Department of Homeland Security, DHS, is not the originator of this information. CISA is 4 forwarding this information unedited from its original source. This information has not
5 been originated or generated by CISA. This information may also be shared with law
6 enforcement or intelligence agencies. Did I read that correctly?
7 A Yes.
8 Q So CISA made it clear in this forward to social media companies that it was 9 not the originator of the post that was originally by MITRE, correct?
10 A That appears to be what that says.
11 Q And it also made it abundantly clear to Twitter that the information was 12 being forwarded, quote, unedited, correct?
13 A That is what that says.
14 Q And so that means that it is being forwarded without any -- sorry, and it was 15 forwarded without any commentary about the veracity or falsity of the information,
16 correct?
17 A I'm sorry, I am just reading it again.
18 Q Actually, I'll withdraw that.
19 A Okay.
20 Q I will go to the next paragraph.
21 A I was going to say, that is not what that paragraph says.
22 Q Looking at the next paragraph, the first sentence of the second paragraph of 23 this disclaimer message reads: CISA affirms that it neither has nor seeks the ability to 24 remove or edit what information is made available on social media platforms. What's 25 your understanding of what that sentence means?

1 A I mean, I take that sentence to mean what it says, which is that CISA is not
2 seeking the remove the ability to remove or edit what's made available on the given
3 platforms.
4 Q And the second sentence reads: CISA makes no recommendations about
5 how the information it is sharing should be handled or used by social media companies,
6 correct?
7 A That's what that sentence says.
8 Q CISA is plainly saying that it's not asking the companies to do anything, and it
9 doesn't -- isn't making any recommendation about what they should do, correct?
10 A I mean, that's what -- yes, that's what that sentence says.
11 Q And then the final sentence of that disclaimer reads: Additionally, CISA will 12 not take any action favorable or unfavorable towards social media companies based on 13 decisions about how or whether to use this information, correct?
14 A That's what that sentence says.
15 Q What is your understanding of what that sentence means?
16 A I mean, again, I take the sentence for what it says which is that CISA will not 17 take any action towards the social media companies, bad or good, based on how they 18 handled this information.
19 Q So CISA was expressly saying that it's not asking the social media companies
20 to do anything, correct?
21 A That appears to be what that sentence says.
22 Q It's not making any recommendation about what they should do, correct?
23 A That's what the second sentence in the last paragraph appears to say.
24 Q And that it will not take any action, whatsoever, against any social media
25 companies based on their decisions about how to handle this information, correct?

1 A That is what the third sentence in the last paragraph appears to say.

2 Q Okay. Were you part of the -- to your knowledge, was a similar disclaimer

3 included on the email that CISA sent to social media companies?

4 A Again, I wasn't running the process. I was not responsible for the process,

5 but my understanding is that this disclaimer should be included in their emails.

6 Q And were you part of the decisionmaking process by which it was 7 determined that this disclaimer should be included?

8 A I don't recall being part of the decisionmaking process. I recall again being

9 in discussions around sort of the lawyers' conversations, but frankly I don't recall how the 10 decision was made to include this or the language, I don't recall.

1

2 [12:07 p.m.]

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q But is the language in here generally consistent with your understanding of

5 how CISA would handle content that was forwarded to it by State and local election

6 officials?

7 A This language is consistent with my understanding of how I would handle

8 this information, right? This -- this entire exchange is consistent with my experience in 9 that way.

10 Q And is it consistent with your understanding of how CISA would interact with 11 social media companies with respect to this content?

12 A Again, I was not in charge of the process, so -- but generally, it's consistent

13 with my understanding. But I -- I was not in charge of that process or running it.

14 Q Understood.

15 I want to turn to one more chain. And we'll mark this as exhibit 3.

16 [Masterson Exhibit No. 3

17 Was marked for identification.]

18 BY [redacted]

19 Q This is a November 8th email exchange, which is, I believe, 2 days after the 20 election, maybe the day after the election.

21 A Okay.

22 Q Having had a minute to review, do you recall this email exchange?

23 A I do not.

24 Q Okay. But you do see that your name is on this email exchange?

25 A I do.

1 Q Okay. This is an email chain that begins between individuals at the 2 Republican National Committee and Donald J. Trump for President, correct?
3 I mean -- sorry -- an individual at Donald J. Trump for President, I should say.
4 Ms. Christian. Could you repeat that one more time?
5 [redacted] Yeah.
6 BY [redacted]
7 Q So this email exchange -- so I'll just walk through it one by one.
8 A Okay.
9 Q So the email exchange begins with an email at 7:12 a.m. on November 8th,
10 2020, from an individual whose name is redacted, but it's at serykim.com, to a number of 11 individuals at gmail.com, at gop.com, and at donaldtrump.com, correct?
12 A Yes.
13 Q And can you describe, on page -- well, it's page 5 of the production,
14 or -- sorry -- page 5 of the document, page 13 of the Bates stamp, page 13.
15 Can you describe what your understanding is of the underlying concern that this 16 individual identified?
17 A I mean, I don't -- I don't know except for what they say, which is they appear 18 concerned that the dollar amount of the stipend is different than what it should be.
19 Q Okay. And this individual at -- I think it's serykim.com -- identified this and 20 forwarded it to those people. And then an individual at donaldtrump.com -- and, if you
21 look at the signature block, it says it's -- that's an individual at Donald J. Trump for 22 President, Inc. -- forwarded it to somebody in the legal department of the GOP, or the 23 Republican National Committee, correct?
24 A That appears to be the case.
25 Q And then there was some internal discussion at the GOP between GOP Legal,

1 GOP Political. Somebody is asking, Is this real? Who is this person at gmail.com?
2 Why is he sending around a list offering a $350 a day volunteer stipend, right?
3 A That appears correct.
4 Q And then, in the next email -- it's 12:28 p.m. -- somebody at gop.com says,
5 It's not real. I've been telling everyone to delete the email, and then suggests who the 6 person might be.
7 It goes -- there is a couple more internal email exchanges at gop.com, right?
8 A It appears that way.
9 Q And then, eventually, on -- this is on page 2 of the document, or 10 page 10 -- Bates stamp page 10. Somebody at Network Operations at gop.com forwards
11 it to you, correct?
12 A That appears to be the case.
13 Q Okay. And then the information that that person passes on to you is, Matt,
14 FYI, we had someone masquerade as a GOP op, sending people a Google form. See 15 below, right?
16 A Yes.
17 Q And that person says -- at GOP says, masquerade, which suggests that the 18 information is false, correct?
19 A That appears to be the case.
20 Q Okay. And then there is actually not the email from you forwarding it to 21 whoever it might have been at the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force, but -- and I'm 22 not sure that -- I think that was a production error by CISA. But somehow, it got from 23 you to somebody at the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force, right, because they then 24 passed this along to Google?
25 A That is the next email, is someone from -- well, I don't know who it's from,

1 because the whole from line is redacted, right?

2 Q Oh, I guess that's right.

3 A But the signature block suggests an analyst from the Countering Foreign

4 Influence Task Force sending it to Google.

5 Q Okay. And I just want to note for the record that the "from" line is

6 redacted, but the redaction is much shorter than your name on the prior page, and your

7 name is not redacted. So I think we can conclude it wasn't you who forwarded it.

8 A I believe that is correct. I --

9 Q You don't recall forwarding this to Google?

10 A I don't recall this exchange at all.

11 Q Okay. So the -- whoever it was that sent this to Google said, Good

12 afternoon, named redacted, please see below reporting from the RNC, correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And there is no commentary whatsoever on whether the information

15 contained is true or accurate or false or anything else, correct?

16 A I do not see any content like that, no.

17 Q And, on page 2, there is that disclaimer we talked through before, right?

18 A I haven't matched that statement to the other one, but that -- they appear

19 to be the same or similar.

20 Q Okay. And it's italicized, correct?

21 A It is.

22 Q And it's fairly prominent. Is that fair to say?

23 A Again, it's -- it's certainly readable.

24 Q Okay. And then, after that, somebody at the 25 countering -- somebody -- name is redacted, but it says that they're an analyst

1 countering -- with the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force, relayed back that the 2 information had been reported, and that was the end of the road, correct?
3 A That appears to be the case.
4 Q Okay. So this is another example of what's been referred to as 5 switchboarding, correct?
6 A I think so, yes.
7 Q And it's --
8 A At least my experience of switchboarding.
9 Q And, on the face of this, this is purely just passing and forwarding
10 information along. Is that fair to say?
11 A Yes, with the exception of the email at the top, where it says it has been 12 reported.
13 Q Right, and that's -- but that's back internally. That's reporting back
14 internally.
15 A Okay. Yes.
16 Q But, with respect to the outgoing information to social media companies, it's 17 just forwarding -- in this case, forwarding the information?
18 A Yes.
19 Q The reporting from RNC, correct, with no commentary?
20 A Yes.
21 Q And there is actually a pretty big disclaimer that says, We at CISA are not
22 asking you to do anything, we are not recommending that you do anything, and we're not 23 going to take any action against you either way, correct?
24 A I mean, that's a summary of what is said in that -- in that disclaimer, yes.
25 [redacted] We are out of time, so we can go off the record.

1 [Recess.]

2 BY [redacted]:

3 Q Mr. Masterson, I'm going to start this hour with the two exhibits we were

4 looking at the end of the last hour. This will be exhibits 2 and 3.

5 First, with exhibit 2, which is the one from Mitre and the folks down in Florida, if

6 you go to the, you know, earliest email in the chain, the last page of the exhibit, there

7 looks to be a tweet responding to another tweet, and then there is some back and forth.

8 There is an email middle of page 007 that says, "Thanks for the heads up.

9 Obviously voter registration databases and changing votes are apples and oranges."

10 To your understanding, is that a comment that would get at the actors behind this

11 tweet, or the content of the tweet itself?

12 A I was not the author of this email, so I don't know the exact intent. Based

13 on the content of the tweet, it appears to be addressing the content in the tweet related

14 to voter registration database for every Florida county, so a rush to change votes, but I -- I

15 did not write this tweet, so I don't know, or, I mean, this email.

16 Q Sure. And then, looking at exhibit 3, again with the clear understanding

17 you did not write the previous emails, that these are being reported to -- to CISA, when

18 the -- this is the bottom of page 0010, page 2 of the exhibit. When the GOP is emailing

19 you at CISA, it says, Matt, FYI, we had someone masquerade as a GOP op, sending people

20 a Google form. See below.

21 To your understanding, is that a complaint regarding the actor, or the content?

22 A Again, I -- I didn't write this. And I know you recognize that. So it appears

23 to be a reference to both the person sending it and the contents of the Google form per

24 what's said. So it says, the G -- masquerading as a GOP op appears to reference a

25 person, and then sending people on a Google form appears to reference the content of

1 the form.

2 Q Great. Looking at exhibit 2, which is the other one -- sorry I had to go back

3 and forth.

4 A That's okay.

5 Q At the front page there of one of the exhibits -- 006 is the Bates

6 number -- you answered a few questions about the disclaimer before Brian's signature.

7 Again, just to clarify, to your recollection, you weren't involved in the 8 development of this statement?

9 A Again, my recollection is being in the conversations around, you know, sort

10 of the legal considerations, but I don't recall the specifics of the discussion or sort of how

11 the final content was determined.

12 Q Okay. Do you know how high up the decision was regarding to include this

13 statement?

14 A I do not.

15 Q Do you know if Director Krebs was involved?

16 A I do not.

17 Q The second paragraph refers to actions that will or will not be taken by CISA.

18 Is that right?

19 A In part, yes.

20 Q And it doesn't reference other government agencies in that second

21 paragraph. Is that right?

22 A It does not appear to reference other government agencies.

23 Q And, at the last sentence of the first paragraph of the disclaimer, it says, This

24 information may also be shared with law enforcement or intelligence agencies.

25 Is that right?

1 A It does say that.

2 Q When I asked in the first hour what the difference was between CISA's

3 Countering Foreign Influence Task Force and the FBI's Foreign Influence Task Force, if

4 there was any difference, part of your answer, to make sure I'm including all the

5 necessary context, is that you didn't have, you know, full or direct knowledge of what the

6 FBI's role was, but the answer you provided was the FBI is obviously a law enforcement

7 agency. Is that right?

8 A That is -- yeah. That's an accurate summary of at least, I mean, yeah, my

9 comment. Again --

10 Q Yeah.

11 A -- thank you for noting that I don't know the exact mission of the Foreign

12 Influence Task Force.

13 Q And so, as the last sentence of this first paragraph of the disclaimer is saying

14 that, This information may also be shared with law enforcement or intelligence agencies,

15 do you interpret that sentence to mean that CISA may forward the information to the

16 FBI?

17 A I read that sentence to mean that it could be shared with law enforcement

18 or intelligence agencies. It doesn't specify which law enforcement agencies.

19 Q Sure, but one could be the FBI?

20 A The FBI is a law enforcement agency.

21 Q Okay. And then, first page of exhibit 3 -- this is Bates No. 0009 -- the other

22 document.

23 A Sorry.

24 Q No, you're all right.

25 This appears to be the redactions, but this appears to be either an internal CISA

1 email, but an email that's not going to Google. But someone from CISA says, "For your
2 situational awareness, FYSA, the below has been reported to Google and the FBI."
3 Before reviewing this document, did you know that CISA would forward reports to
4 the FBI?
5 A I don't recall knowing that or not. I don't remember knowing if we would
6 send to the FBI or not, because I wasn't part of, sort of, that process.
7 Q Okay. During your time at CISA, what interactions did you have with the 8 FBI?
9 A Just generally?
10 Q Uh-huh, yes.
11 A Sure. So the FBI was a critical partner for us. I worked very closely, for 12 instance, with the FBI Cyber Division on cyber activity targeting or possibly targeting State
13 and local election officials.
14 I'm trying to think if there was any -- I mean, the main -- the main division that I
15 worked with on the election security side was the cyber division. There were times I
16 recall -- you know, we -- for instance, the FBI participated in Tabletop to Vote, which was 17 our national-level exercise, in 2018, 2019, and 2020. And I believe there were FBI
18 representatives present for those -- a number of FBI representatives.
19 Also, on occasion, would work with -- I can think of at least one occasion -- field
20 offices that were responding to something that a State or a local election official may 21 need.
22 At one point, I recall providing a briefing to then-Governor DeSantis in Florida with 23 the FBI National Cybersecurity Division Field Office and Cyber Division about 24 election-related activity from 2016. So that would be an example where there was 25 multiple FBI participants.

1 The Foreign Influence Task Force, as I think I noted before, would attend some of
2 the same meetings as we would attend.
3 Q When CISA's engaging in switchboarding, to your knowledge, would CISA
4 ever follow up with the tech companies?
5 A I don't -- I don't recall follow-up. That doesn't mean it didn't happen.
6 At -- in my experience, I didn't -- I don't recall following up with tech companies.
7 Q And, in your experience, it appears, at least from the examples we've
8 reviewed, you're not directly at the stage of the switchboarding where it's being passed
9 on to the tech companies. That is typically Brian Scully's role. Is that right?
10 A It was the CFI team's role. I'm --
11 Q Sure.
12 A I'm not sure of how the delegation of labor took place.
13 Q Thank you for clarifying.
14 A Yeah.
15 Q CFI teams.
16 At the start of the interview, we talked about the terms mis-, dis-, and
17 malinformation.
18 During your tenure, either at CISA, Stanford, or now at Microsoft, do you recall
19 any criticism regarding the term "malinformation"?
20 A I don't recall any specific criticism. I will say that, in my experience outside
21 of CISA -- so I think probably at Stanford, though I can't say for sure -- I have heard it, you
22 know, in sort of general convenings that malinformation isn't a term that all at industry
23 use. So I've heard it sort of referenced as some use it, some don't. That's -- that's 24 what I recall around that.
25 Q And, for the folks who don't use it, what is your understanding of why they

1 don't use the term?

2 A I don't know that I have an understanding of why, except for it's not just -- it

3 was not part of how they talked about this work. It was only notable to me because

4 some would use it and some wouldn't. So I would notice that some would include it,

5 and some wouldn't, but I don't know why one would leave it off and one wouldn't. I

6 don't know.

7 Q During your tenure at CISA, the folks you were dealing with at CISA,

8 "malinformation" was one of the terms that would be used?

9 A Towards the end maybe. I don't know when that kind of became common.

10 I don't recall the usage of that term in a product, or when that term was used in a product

11 or not. And so, the hard part for me is splitting sort of the timing when it might have

12 been used more by CISA after I left. And I don't -- I don't have a good feel for the timing 13 on that.

14 Q And so, when you're referring that some folks would use it, some folks

15 would not, do you remember generally or if you remember specifics, too, but, generally,

16 for the folks who did not use it, did they typically come from academia, from industry,

17 from government?

18 A I don't recall. Again, this would be in the context of, you know, a larger

19 roundtable discussion or something like that. So I don't recall the specific people that

20 would or wouldn't use it. I just remember it being notable to me that some would use

21 it, and some wouldn't.

22 Q Do you recall anyone specifically staking their claim in the debate, you know,

23 that you recall specifically either would definitively use the term "malinformation" or

24 made a point to note that they were opposed to the term "malinformation"?

25 A I don't recall a specific conversation like that where I could tell you an

1 individual or an event where that took place.

2 Q When industry and government are meeting -- you mentioned whether it's a

3 roundtable or whatever else -- do you remember there being discussions -- you

4 mentioned that you noticed that some folks would use malinformation, some wouldn't.

5 Do you remember any discussions about the use of malinformation?

6 A So I do not. And also, you know, the -- the events I'm referring to, I didn't

7 specify industry, government, right? It could be academics. It could be nonprofits. It

8 could be, you know, these sort of larger events. And I do not recall someone specifically

9 culling that issue out. Certainly possible, but not that I recall.

10 Q Okay. To your knowledge, does CISA or did CISA have a, quote/unquote,

11 "MDM" team?

12 A To my knowledge, at some point, yes, but I don't know when that occurred

13 or how that change took place.

14 Q To your understanding, is that team the successor to the CFI team?

15 A I think I -- my recollection is yes, but I -- again, I don't know when that took 16 place. Yeah.

17 Q To your understanding, what does the MDM team at CISA do?

18 A Again, I don't know, because it either took place as I was leaving, or after I

19 left. I don't know the timing. I mean, you can see, in some of the emails, it was still

20 the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force after the 2020 election, and I left pretty soon

21 after the 2020 election. But my -- my limited understanding is that they carried on the 22 same or similar mission to what the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force did.

23 Q When you left CISA, did you stay in touch with your former colleagues at

24 CISA?

25 A I did.

1 Q Do you recall if they notified you, or how did you learn of this new MDM
2 team at CISA?
3 A I don't recall specifically how I learned. No one -- I don't recall ever
4 receiving a notice for sure, but I don't know. I don't know how I sort of became aware.
5 I think it -- it just sort of happened, and I was still in the space, but I don't -- I don't recall a
6 specific conversation about it, for sure.
7 Q To your understanding, did the mission change at all from the CFI team to 8 the MDM team?
9 A I don't know.
10 [Masterson Exhibit No. 4
11 Was marked for identification.]
12 BY [redacted]:
13 Q This will be exhibit 4.
14 A Thank you.
15 Okay.
16 Q So this email exchange is dated February 10th, 2021. You have a Stanford
17 email by this point. This is consistent with your recollection that you have since left CISA
18 and are currently a nonresident fellow at Stanford. Is that right?
19 A That's correct, although I will correct -- I mean, now that you've refreshed
20 my recollection, it's February, not March that apparently --
21 Q Yep.
22 A -- I was at Stanford.
23 Q And then there are a number of folks who are still at CISA who are part of 24 this email chain.
25 Who is [redacted]?

1 A I believe -- I believe [redacted] was a member of the Foreign Influence Task Force
2 when I was there, I think.
3 Q And what about [redacted]?
4 A [redacted] was a member of the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force when I
5 was at CISA.
6 Q [redacted]?
7 A I'm not familiar with that name.
8 Q Okay. So the email is -- appears to be consistent with your recollection that 9 the name change occurred after you had left the agency.
10 A It does appear that way, yes.
11 Q Do you recall if you ultimately had a conversation with someone at CISA
12 about what MDM is?
13 A I do not recall ever having that conversation.
14 Q Okay. Taking one step back, the subject, it says, Virality Project weekly
15 briefing February 9th.
16 What is the Virality Project?
17 A The Virality Project was a project led by Stanford Internet Observatory and I
18 believe the University of Washington around the information environment impacting
19 COVID, and specifically, vaccines.
20 Q Okay. Besides the Virality Project, what other sorts of interactions did you
21 have with CISA while you were at Stanford?
22 A I don't recall specific interactions, so I don't know. I -- my guess is I may 23 have had interactions around some of the work I was doing around election security.
24 But I don't recall a specific interaction.
25 Q For the Virality Project, did the Virality Project only look at foreign influence,

1 or did it consider -- I'm reading off the sentence here -- it refers to social media narratives
2 and misinformation.
3 Could that also include domestic actors?
4 A As I recall, yes.
5 Q Do you recall why Stanford is reaching out to CISA regarding the work with 6 the Virality Project?
7 A I don't know specifically why, because I -- I'm not the one that obviously sent 8 this email. So I don't know specifically why this went to CISA, or why CISA was on the 9 distribution list.
10 Q So the email appears -- it's not just a distribution list but is to specific CISA
11 individuals. And, I mean, you're right, you didn't send the email, but you're copied. Is 12 that right?
13 A Yes, that's correct.
14 Q During your experience, either at CISA, or then once you're at Stanford and 15 having engagements with CISA, do you recall if there was any sort of firewall regarding 16 concerns of when CISA could act regarding foreign actors, whether there is something
17 they couldn't do or couldn't act with respect to domestic actors?
18 A I don't recall having a discussion about that with CISA.
19 Q Okay. Regarding the MDM team, with the understanding you don't recall if 20 you had a discussion with the CISA team, you know, post this email, sitting here today, do
21 you have an understanding of what the CISA MDM team does?
22 A I -- sitting here today, candidly, I don't know if there is still an MDM team. I
23 have not interacted with CISA on -- or the MDM team that I recall, at least for a while. I
24 can't recall the last interaction. And, again, as I think I previously indicated, I -- my 25 understanding -- again, it took place after I left -- is that the MDM team was consistent

1 with the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force, so I don't know.

2 Q Okay. Do you recall any discussions during your tenure at CISA regarding if

3 there are any constitutional implications if CISA's work engaged with, we'll say,

4 misinformation, disinformation, malinformation, coming from domestic actors?

5 A I don't recall a specific conversation around that. I recall that -- obviously

6 that CISA lawyers were involved, as I previously indicated, for instance, around the

7 disclaimer conversation, including lawyers around constitutional and civil liberties. But I

8 don't know or recall the specifics of any given conversation around that.

9 Q Okay. Do you recall anybody at CISA that felt frustrated that the focus was

10 on foreign influence as opposed to mis-, dis-, and malinformation being spread by both

11 foreign and domestic actors?

12 A I don't recall a specific frustration about that. No, I don't -- I don't recall a

13 specific frustration about that. I think there was -- I recall just being frustrated by the

14 impact, or by the information environment election officials were operating in, but I -- I

15 do not recall a specific conversation about frustration one way or the other.

16 Q You've talked a couple times about the information environment that 17 election officials are operating in.

18 Is that environment created by both foreign and domestic actors online?

19 A Yes.

20 Q To your understanding, does CISA have the authority to take steps with

21 respect to both foreign and domestic actors as it relates to creating the information

22 environment you've referenced?

23 A I -- I never, as part of my work, had to engage in an analysis sort of, of CISA's

24 authorities or nonauthorities on that. So I don't -- I don't recall -- I don't recall having

25 a -- a view on that, or position, on sort of -- and, also, I mean, I hesitate only because your

1 question says "actions." There are, you know, obviously a lot of actions that could be
2 taken. For instance, like creating the pineapple-on-pizza product, that is educational,
3 informational.
4 That would be an action taken, but I don't recall any specific conversations on sort
5 of -- or doing an analysis on CISA's specific authorities. That would have fell with the 6 legal team that was working on it.
7 BY [redacted]:
8 Q You mentioned that you were involved generally in discussions about the 9 disclaimer.
10 Do you recall generally what concerns led to its inclusion in emails, like the ones
11 that we've seen?
12 A I don't. I don't remember the specifics of that conversation. It was -- it
13 was one that was happening at times with my presence, I think at times without. I'm 14 sure the lawyers had conversations as well, and I don't remember sort of the specific 15 considerations they took into account.
16 Q Well, understanding that you don't recall the specific considerations, do you
17 remember general themes or generally why they decided to include this disclaimer?
18 A I don't. I just recall that it existed.
19 BY [redacted]:
20 Q So you had your election -- your EIS team. You had the CFI team, task
21 force. In addition to those two subcomponents, were there any other subcomponents
22 that would touch upon issues related to mis-, dis-, and malinformation?
23 A Of CISA?
24 Q Of CISA.
25 A Not that I recall. Not -- no, not that I recall.

1 Q Did you -- how frequently would you interact with the Director Chris Krebs
2 when you were at CISA?
3 A Just generally?
4 Q Yes.
5 A The reason I ask is because, in and around election times, it would have been
6 far more frequent than not in and around election times, right? So, generally speaking,
7 depending on his travel schedule and other issues ongoing, once a week.
8 Q And then during the kind of the height of election season, how frequently?
9 A I mean, I don't recall, like, specific numbers. He would frequently say that,
10 in and around elections, he'd spend -- and I forget the exact number, if it's 70 percent of 11 his time, 60 percent of his time on elections. And that was probably reflected in the 12 amount of interaction I would have with Chris. But it was, in and around elections or 13 election events, daily.
14 Q Did you know Mr. Krebs prior to taking the job at CISA?
15 A I had met Mr. Krebs prior to taking the job at CISA, yes.
16 Q Okay. And then, by the end of 2020, you both have -- no longer worked at 17 CISA. Is that correct?
18 A By the end of 2020, that's correct.
19 Q Okay. In 2021 to today, do you have interactions with Mr. Krebs as part of 20 your work?
21 A Not as part of my work, no.
22 Q Okay.
23 BY [redacted]:
24 Q In what capacity did you first meet former Director Krebs?
25 A When I was a commissioner at the Election Assistance Commission, and he

1 was -- and I am going to butcher this, but the senior official serving as the something,
2 something NPPD director. I met him in the course of the work that was happening at 3 EAC and NPPD around standing up the sector.
4 BY [redacted]:
5 Q Again, we've talked a couple times about the -- the information
6 environment -- I want to make sure I'm using the term correctly -- that election workers
7 and folks in this space are dealing with.
8 A [Nonverbal response.]
9 Q To your understanding -- and we'll -- for the sake of the question, we'll focus
10 on the 2020 election timeframe -- what percent of that environment is created by foreign 11 actors as opposed to domestic actors?
12 A I appreciate the question, but I don't -- I don't think I have the expertise or 13 skill set to break down sort of into a percentage. It just -- including not having done the 14 work around sort of understanding the two sides of the activity in that way. My 15 experience is just that. It's the amount of targeting, threatening, harassing of State and 16 local election officials, and the private sector entities that support them has gone up
17 exponentially over the last several years. I don't -- I don't have the knowledge base to 18 give you a percentage on that.
19 Q When you're referring to the information environment, certainly there 20 have -- unfortunate thing -- there are posts that are, as you mentioned, threatening in 21 nature. When you're referring to the information environment, does that also include
22 posts that are not threatening that just contain misinformation about elections?
23 A Yeah. I mean, that's certainly part of the information environment,
24 absolutely, that what we saw in 2016 with some of the activity and then moving forward
25 was an environment in which claims about the process, the security of the process, the

1 accessibility of the process, the integrity of the process that were false or misleading,
2 whether intentionally or unintentionally, increased, which led to an increase of activity
3 targeting the election officials, and, you know, harassing or threatening behavior at times.
4 And, again -- and I know I said this before, but some of the -- false or misleading
5 narratives around elections are not new, right? History is littered with some of that.
6 It's the notable uptick that the community would, you know, bring forward and say, This 7 is -- this is more than we can handle. We can't -- we can't respond quick enough or 8 loudly enough to push back on this.
9 Q Was that the purpose of switchboarding, then? You mentioned, prior to 10 switchboarding, social media companies thought they were, you know, kind of shouting 11 out and no one was listening to them.
12 A Election officials.
13 Q Election officials. Excuse me.
14 A Yeah.
15 Q Did switchboarding allow their complaints, their concerns to get to the front
16 of the line, so to speak, with the social media companies?
17 A I don't know. I don't know how or even if social media companies
18 processed whatever was reported or what -- what that looked like.
19 The purpose for me, in my experience and my work, was to ensure that the risk 20 environment that the election officials were operating in was -- was understood by all of 21 us working in the space, including the social media companies. So I would pass it on.
22 The information would be shared. But it allowed for a fuller understanding of 23 what -- what that environment looked like for those election officials on the ground.
24 Q Did you -- I mean, you mentioned you were in constant contact with 25 different State and local officials. During 2020, do you recall hearing any feedback that

1 the switchboarding was helping their situation?

2 A Can I expand it beyond 2020?

3 Q Sure.

4 A Okay. So the answer is, I don't remember specific, like, this is -- this is

5 awesome, but what I do remember is -- and you're going to have to bear with me,

6 because I can't remember if it was 2018 or 2019. It would be easy to look up, but

7 Secretary of State Michael Adams and his team in Kentucky experienced quite a bit -- it

8 had to have been 2020, I guess, because it involved COVID. Maybe 2019.

9 Anyway -- I'm sorry -- experienced a great deal of false or misleading information

10 around the elections process having to do with vote centers, the availability of vote

11 centers, voter suppression, items like that, to the point where the State election director

12 received death threats, phone messages.

13 And I recall them reporting in to CISA using the switchboarding function and

14 appreciating that that was available. I wouldn't say they, you know, praised it, but that

15 there was appreciation from the State election officials in Kentucky who were facing, I

16 mean, very real threats, that they had that availability to report that information.

17 So I -- that example sticks out in my mind, because I recall it was very bad down

18 there and tough for them. And I believe he -- I believe he's testified in front of Congress

19 on some of those challenges. It was bad.

20 BY [redacted]:

21 Q To your knowledge, could State and local election officials report social

22 media activity of concern directly to the social media platforms?

23 A It's my understanding that some of the platforms had -- well, I shouldn't say

24 all, because I don't know for sure, but the -- many of the platforms have reporting

25 mechanisms, yes.

1 Q And, given that many of the platforms have direct reporting mechanisms
2 and, as you stated earlier, neither you nor Mr. Scully conducted independent analysis or
3 employed any sort of discretion in passing these along, what was the purpose of CISA
4 playing that intermediary role as opposed to the State and local election officials directly
5 reporting?
6 A Yeah. So my recollection and experience is that the State and local election
7 officials were experiencing two things: One is confusion on the exact lines that they
8 could or couldn't use into the social media companies. There was a lot of conversation
9 happening in 2018, 2019, 2020 on sort of how to -- it would change that -- you know, you
10 can imagine if you're a small county election official in Ohio. You've got enough to do in 11 figuring out who exactly you're supposed to be contacting or not. So there was some 12 frustration there.
13 And there was a familiarity with reporting to us because of some of the cyber 14 work we had done. And so the -- my recollection, for me, was that they found -- they 15 just wanted their voice heard. They -- they wanted someone -- us, the companies -- to 16 understand what they were experiencing on the ground. And this was the avenue that 17 some of them chose to use to do that, because it was available to them.
18 BY [redacted]:
19 Q I don't think we've covered it yet. If we have, I apologize for the repeat 20 question. Do you know what the Center for Internet Security is?
21 A I do.
22 Q And what is CIS, if I can call it that?
23 A CIS?
24 Q Yeah.
25 A I never heard it called CIS, but I'll use it.

1 Q We have CIS and CISA.

2 A Yeah. It's --

3 Q We'll call it CIS.

4 A We love the abbreviations.

5 So the Center for Internet Security, as I understand it, is a nonprofit, run out of

6 Albany, New York, that manages the Multi-State Information Sharing and Analysis Center,

7 which, again, is county and State IT departments, and the information -- Election

8 Infrastructure-Information Sharing and Analysis Center, which is specific to election and 9 election offices.

10 Q Did you work with CIS during your time at CISA?

11 A I did.

12 Q What was the nature of your interactions with CIS?

13 A The majority of my work with CIS was focused on work with the EI-ISAC, so

14 the team that led the ISAC on, one, standing up the ISAC, the creation of the ISAC; two,

15 ensuring that the channels for information distribution to State and local election officials

16 and back from State and election officials was functioning properly, was responsive; and,

17 three, getting as many State and local election officials as we could to be members of the 18 ISAC so they could benefit from the information that was being generated. And so I

19 worked most closely with the team at the ISAC to do those things.

20 Q And I know we discussed this in the previous hour, but what was the EI-ISAC

21 first stood up?

22 A 2018 --

23 Q Okay.

24 A -- as I recall.

25 Q Do you recall whether there were discussions between CISA and CIS in early

1 2020 regarding setting up a misinformation reporting portal separate from the EI-ISAC?
2 A I recall -- yes. I recall those discussions happening. I don't remember the
3 specifics of sort of how that happened, but I recall the conversation.
4 Q And to what extent you recall, you know, what was the purpose or the need
5 that was spurring these considerations?
6 A Again, from my perspective -- and I can't speak for CIS, right? They have 7 their own considerations.
8 My perspective or understanding was that State and local election officials were 9 being inundated with false or misleading information and needed an avenue or wanted
10 an avenue to try to share that information as appropriate.
11 Q And was the EI-ISAC not filling that need?
12 A I don't recall, but I don't think the EI-ISAC did that. But I don't recall
13 specifically if, for instance, a State or local could report something like that into the ISAC.
14 I don't know.
15 Q So you're not sure about the EI-ISAC, if that's an avenue to report. There is 16 the switchboarding that we've gone over some examples of where they're just emailing
17 you or someone at CISA directly and CISA then would forward along as appropriate.
18 And to your recollection, there was discussion of a third option, a portal devoted 19 specifically to misinformation reports?
20 A I recall a general discussion around that, yes.
21 Q Do you recall if that portal was ever created?
22 A I don't -- I don't know. I don't know. No.
23 Q Okay. Do you know who [redacted] is?
24 A I do.
25 Q Okay. Who is [redacted]?

1 A At the time, in 2020, [redacted] was an employee of CIS.

2 Q How frequently would you interact with [redacted] while you were at CISA?

3 A Not very regularly. From time to time. Again, he was on calls from time

4 to time, but he was certainly not my primary point of contact at CIS.

5 Q Who was your primary point of contact?

6 A EI-ISAC staff that were working with the election officials primarily, which

7 wasn't [redacted]'s role.

8 Q Okay. Would you have a primary point of contact among that EI-ISAC staff?

9 A I did.

10 Q And who was that?

11 A [redacted].

12 Q With respect to the misinformation portal idea, did you have discussions

13 with social media companies regarding this potential portal?

14 A I don't recall ever having discussions with social media companies about

15 that.

16 Q Okay.

17 BY [redacted]:

18 Q Independent of the misinformation reporting portal, to your knowledge, did

19 the EI-ISAC, independently of CISA, forward reports of social media activity from State

20 and local election officials to the social media companies?

21 A So did the EI-ISAC communicate directly with social media companies?

22 Was that the question?

23 Q Did the EI-ISAC also serve a similar switchboarding role independently of

24 CISA?

25 A I don't know.

1 [Masterson Exhibit No. 5
2 Was marked for identification.]
3 BY [redacted]:
4 Q This will be exhibit 5.
5 A Okay.
6 Q Do you recall whether you attended this meeting or not?
7 A I do not recall this meeting.
8 Q Okay. Do you recall if you had discussions with Brian Scully about setting
9 up a misinformation reporting portal?
10 A I don't recall it being specific, just Brian and I, but, again, I recall a general
11 discussion of the portal.
12 Q Of all the different folks at CISA who could be looped into these discussions, 13 why were you looped in to that?
14 A I don't recall specifically why, and I don't -- I don't want to speculate except 15 for the presence of State election representatives on here, NASS and NASED, who I 16 worked very closely with.
17 Q So among the folks at CISA, were you the one that had the best or most 18 relationships with State and local officials?
19 A Yes.
20 Q And that's based off your prior experience?
21 A Well, I -- I think prior experience, yes. I mean, I -- I've worked in the -- this 22 community for a long time, as well as the work we had done at CISA up until May 11th,
23 2020.
24 Q And, at the bottom, three bolded lines up, there is reference to CIS, [redacted]
25 [redacted] and [redacted]. Who is [redacted]?

1 A In my time at CISA, [redacted] was a contractor for CIS.

2 Q Do you recall how Twitter responded to the proposal of a misinformation

3 portal being created?

4 A I don't. I don't recall this conversation, or how Twitter responded.

5 Q Do you recall it even in a general sense, if they were in favor or not in favor

6 of the idea?

7 A I do not.

8 Q To your understanding, how would this misinformation portal work if it were

9 to be created?

10 A I -- I don't -- I don't know exactly how they envisioned it to work. I mean,

11 there is a description on here that I could use to sort of inform it, but I don't know exactly

12 how they -- they intended it to work, except for what's referenced here. Generally

13 speaking, it appears that they -- they intended a portal for State and local election

14 officials to be able to report.

15 [redacted]. We can -- we can take these back. Thank you.

16 BY [redacted]:

17 Q Do you know if similar discussions occurred with other tech companies?

18 A I don't recall those discussions, but it's possible.

19 Q Do you know who [redacted] is?

20 A [redacted], when I was at CISA, was an employee of Facebook, I believe.

21 Q And how did you know [redacted]?

22 A I had -- I had met [redacted] in meetings. She -- the first interaction I

23 remember having -- and this may not be the first, but in my recollection -- was that she

24 came to the CISA offices in 2018 during Election Day to say hello, to, like, meet us.

25 That's the first interaction I remember having with [redacted].

1 Q During your tenure at CISA, what was the nature of your interactions with
2 [redacted] as part of your work?
3 A Primarily, she was on, you know, calls that I would have. Occasionally, I
4 think she might email me about a specific question of elections. But my recollection
5 with [redacted] is largely, sort of, setting up a meeting or attending a meeting or being in 6 the same, sort of, general sphere of meetings that we had together.

1

2 [1:16 p.m.]

3 [redacted]. This will be exhibit 6.

4 [Masterson Exhibit No. 6

5 Was marked for identification.]

6 Mr. Masterson. Can I ask: Is it better to start from the back in reviewing this,

7 do you know, like the order in which these go?

8 BY [redacted]:

9 Q Yes, yes.

10 A Okay. Thank you.

11 Sorry. It's a lot of questions.

12 Okay.

13 Q Great. First off, do you recall these discussions taking place between CISA,

14 CIS, and Facebook in the summer of 2020?

15 A I do not.

16 Q To your understanding with respect to the potential of a Misinformation

17 Reporting Portal being created, do you recall CIS being in favor of the creation of this 18 portal?

19 A Yeah, I mean, I recall CIS -- in favor's a hard one for me. I recall CIS sort of 20 leading the discussion, I would say.

21 Q Before reaching out -- so, obviously, multiple people from CISA are copied

22 including yourself. Would CIS ever undertake this type of engagement with Facebook

23 without having prior discussions with CISA first?

24 A I don't recall prior discussions, but CIS is free to operate as a nonprofit in 25 anyway they need to.

1 So I don't -- I don't know that they sought CISA's feedback or not. I see,
2 obviously, CISA people on the email but I don't -- generally speaking, CISA wouldn't -- I
3 mean, CIS wouldn't need CISA's approval to pursue any line of work.
4 Q But what about pursuing a line of work and copying CISA on it?
5 A I see that's what they did, yes.
6 Q And how do you interpret that?
7 A Again, I can only speak from my experience that they were working with or 8 interacting with State and local election officials who I worked closely with.
9 And so I -- my read on that is these were people that all of us had daily contact
10 with and they put me on the email. But I don't recall the nature of the discussion itself.
11 Q I guess, taking even one step back from that, not necessarily the nature of 12 any specific discussion, but as you mentioned, CIS is a nonprofit, can engage with 13 whomever it would like to. Right?
14 But in this instance CIS is engaging with CISA on the email chain. Right? The 15 emails are addressed to Facebook but copy multiple people from CISA.
16 Was that standard practice for CIS, or is this reflective of CIS and CISA had 17 discussions previously about the Misinformation Reporting Portal?
18 A Again, I don't recall specific prior discussions with CIS. I see that we're cc'd.
19 My recollection generally around this, as I've said, and I think as reflected at least 20 in part in this email exchange, is that the election community was the one asking for 21 support and help. And all of us were trying to understand the risk environment in which 22 they were operating in and ways to support them. Right?
23 And so I see that reflected in some of the verbiage here, as well, and in some of 24 the language somewhere in here. It may have been in the prior one where, you know,
25 NASS, NASS said -- the outline above talks about the -- the -- how challenging the

1 information environment was for them.

2 And so that's reflective of, I think, what this email exchange. But I don't recall a

3 specific discussion that didn't include, you know, a broader group including State or local

4 election officials about the portal.

5 Q In your current role at Microsoft, if there's a proposal that comes only from

6 CIS, as opposed to a proposal that comes from CIS and copies individuals from CISA, when

7 you report to the rest of your team members at Microsoft, how would you interpret that

8 second hypothetical?

9 A How would I interpret -- can you -- can you -- I'm sorry.

10 Q Sure.

11 A Can you lay that hypothetical out for me.

12 Q So CISA is contacting in this case Facebook. Right? But for your role at

13 Microsoft, if CIS were to contact Microsoft and it was only CIS, as opposed to if CIS were

14 to contact Microsoft with a proposal and copy multiple members of CISA, is that 15 something that would be a notable difference to you?

16 A It's -- candidly, it's hard for me to operate in this hypothetical in part because

17 it would depend on the topic. It would depend on the people included and the current

18 work that I would be doing at that time.

19 It may or may not be notable, depending on a variety of factors including what I'm

20 working on, who I've been working with, who's included from any given organization.

21 Q Okay. We'll use the factors then from this exhibit. The -- you reviewed

22 the email chain. The back and forth, it's addressing to Facebook, asking for Facebook's

23 input. Is that right?

24 A I mean, I -- I read this as Facebook seeking input from CIS as I read the 25 context of these emails, which is Facebook asking a list of 22 questions around the portal.

1 Q Okay. Is -- who is proposing the idea of a Misinformation Reporting Portal?

2 A It appears [redacted] is seeking to engage in a conversation or hold a meeting

3 based on the email in the back, or I guess [redacted] is seeking to hold a meeting to 4 discuss this portal.

5 Q And then based off the questions that Facebook is asking, the 22 that start

6 on Bates number 26420, does this sound like an idea that Facebook is proposing or an

7 idea that CIS is proposing?

8 A This would appear to be Facebook asking questions in response to a

9 proposal that CIS has brought to them.

10 Q Okay. And is there anything in the email chain where CISA is objecting to 11 this proposal?

12 A I see -- let me look.

13 Ms. Christian. Do you have a recollection of this aside from this document?

14 Mr. Masterson. What is "this"? Of this exchange?

15 Ms. Christian. Yeah.

16 Mr. Masterson. Again, I have a recollection of discussions about the portal. I

17 do not recall sort of this specific exchange or if the call happened.

18 I'm sorry. What was your question? Apologies. Oh the question was do I

19 see -- I don't see in this email exchange that you've provided any interaction from CISA at 20 all.

21 BY [redacted]:

22 Q Okay. Do you recall any objections from CISA, whether in discussions with

23 CIS, a social media company, and CISA, or discussion between CIS and CISA where CISA

24 objected to the idea of a Misinformation Reporting Portal?

25 A I don't recall a specific conversation about that in that way, no.

1 Q And what about generally?

2 A Again, I generally remember conversations about the portal. But I don't

3 recall any specific support or objections that went on.

4 Q Do you recall a neutral posture from CISA? Or you don't recall either way,

5 whether CISA was supportive or not supportive of the idea?

6 A I don't recall it either way.

7 Q Okay. We'll take these back.

8 Who took over your responsibilities once you left for CISA?

9 A Short-term or long-term?

10 Q I'll ask both.

11 A Short-term, I mean, I think the team as a whole filled the gap with Geoff Hale

12 primarily. And then Kim Wyman was hired eventually.

13 [redacted]. Okay. Can we go off the record, please?

14 [Recess.]

15 [redacted] It is 1:50. We can go back on the record.

16 BY [redacted]

17 Q Mr. Masterson, I want to talk about some of the challenges that face

18 election workers today.

19 But before we get there, and I know you talked through your background earlier.

20 I want to just go through it again. That was a couple of hours ago.

21 So you worked -- you twice worked for the U.S. Election Assistance Commission.

22 Correct?

23 A I did, yes.

24 Q And you started your career there and then you went back there after you

25 started at the Secretary of State's office and you were actually a commissioner there.

1 Right?

2 A Correct.

3 Q Okay. And you worked for -- you said you worked for the Ohio Secretary of 4 State. Correct?

5 A Correct.

6 Q And who was the Secretary of State?

7 A John Husted.

8 Q And that was -- he was a Republican, correct?

9 A He's a Republican, yes.

10 Q Okay. Can you describe the process by which you joined CISA?

11 A As I recall, I think I -- as I've noted before, I knew some of the folks at NPPD

12 from the work we were doing at EAC to help support the community's understanding of 13 critical infrastructure designation.

14 And so as I recall, I had an informal conversation with [redacted] who was at that

15 time was leading the election security work at NPPD after I had been informed that I

16 would not be reappointed to the EAC and then had a discussion with [redacted]

17 who is the cyber lead at NPPD, again, informally and then had a formal conversation with

18 Director Krebs in which he expressed interest in me joining NPPD to lead the election

19 security work.

20 Q Is it fair to say you were brought into CISA because of your election security

21 expertise?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Are you familiar with Alex Stamos?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And briefly who is he?

1 A Currently I believe Alex is still employed at the Stanford Internet Observatory
2 and also runs his own consulting company. He was the head of the Stanford Internet
3 Observatory when I worked there.
4 Q I'll represent to you that Mr. Stamos appeared before this committee. He
5 was asked about you, and he said that are probably, quote, the man who knows more
6 about election security than any other living American, end quote.
7 A Well, that's very kind.
8 Q Is it fair to say that you are widely considered to be an expert in election
9 security?
10 A Yes, I think that's fair.
11 Q And is it fair to say that you're something of an expert on election processes
12 and procedures specifically?
13 A Yes.
14 Q Okay. And you've spoken earlier that -- about your interactions with State
15 and local election officials. Is it fair to say that you've had the opportunity to work
16 extensively with State and local election officials?
17 A Yes.
18 Q So based on that experience, working with State and local election officials,
19 are you familiar with the challenges that these officials face when administering
20 elections?
21 A Yes.
22 Q Have the challenges that they face changed since you first started with the 23 election -- with the EAC in 2006, 2007?
24 A Yes and no. So there have been some challenges that have been consistent
25 within the community. For instance, adequate resourcing --

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A -- not just money but also staffing and personnel and the ability to hire the 3 folks that they need to manage the process, as well as modernization, right, being able to 4 maintain a modern process, serve their voters in the way that they need to. But then
5 every election has its own story that presents its own challenges that at times are unique.

6 So I think back to the 2000 election and the challenges -- this is where I'm dating
7 myself. But the challenges of butterfly ballots and hanging chads were not new.
8 Election officials had experienced that. But it brought to the surface around voter 9 intent, voter interpretation, things like that, that, as well as accessibility issues, things like
10 that.

11 2016 changed in my estimation election administration in a way that we hadn't
12 seen really since 2000 when a nation state adversary targeted our election infrastructure.

13 We always, those of us who worked in and around election security, always 14 recognized that as a risk, you know, talked and worked with election officials as that 15 being a possibility. But this is first time we saw it actually come to fruition.

16 And So that changes the risk environment. It immediately, obviously led to a 17 response by the community, by all of us working on securing the systems to invest in the 18 overall resilience of the process, the systems, the people in response.

19 And then some items are present but ebb and flow or get worse. So as I've said, 20 the information environment and the challenges around misunderstanding of the 21 process, every election official I've ever worked with, with the exception of perhaps 22 elected secretaries, because it's the nature of their job, their goal, every local election
23 official, their goal is to not be anywhere in the newspaper the next day.

24 They want the candidates. They want the issues to be front and center and their 25 name to show up nowhere.

1 And in the last several years themselves, their staff, their systems, their work have
2 been brought to the forefront and targeted in way that I'd seen on small scales before but
3 never this broadly.
4 Q Why do you believe that they've been brought to the forefront more in the 5 last several years?
6 A I mean, I think we've seen the information environment change to where 7 they have been targeted and harassed in a way that previously they weren't. Every
8 election produces questions from voters, and the vast majority of election officials I know
9 embrace those questions, want to be transparent with voters.
10 But the -- really since 2016, the ability for them to constantly respond to 11 inaccurate, false claims about the administration of the process has increased and made
12 it more difficult for them.
13 Q And the specific driver of that increase and just thinking back to -- and I think
14 you said earlier that there's always been false information, that it happened in 2004. It
15 happened in 2000.
16 In your opinion, has the growth of the internet and the growth of internet
17 technologies helped to drive that, helped to fuel part of that increased threat
18 environment?
19 A I think it's a contributing factor, but I think there's a lot of factors. So, sure,
20 it's a contributing factor, but I think there's a lot that goes into that.
21 Q And can you speak to some of the other contributing factors?
22 A I mean, I -- one is that the attention to election administration has increased,
23 which isn't, again, a bad thing. Voters deserve to know how the process works.
24 But the combination of the speed at which information can be shared with the 25 additional attention, as well as the continued misunderstanding of the process, has led

1 to -- has all contributed to the factors.

2 People -- people think they know because they vote and so it leads to assumptions

3 that aren't correct about the process or theories about what happened or claims about

4 what happened. I think the availability of not just technical platforms which is I think

5 what you said --

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A -- but technology in general, so the existence of cameras on cellphones,

8 right, is both positive and negative in this because people can take and use a video in

9 anyway that they see fit.

10 And that's contributed to the challenges at times but also allowed for greater

11 transparency, which is a good thing.

12 I mean, I think of an example of a narrative that I've seen over my career that has

13 come back around voting machines, rigging of voting. That's sort of one that, again, I

14 mentioned in Ohio in 2004 was present and completely false. And it kind of has found

15 its way back and then died down again and then found its way back again in the last

16 several years. Right?

17 And so these weaving of narratives have been consistent, but the way in which

18 election officials are being targeted with them and sort of harassed them -- with them has 19 changed.

20 Q In the prior hour, you were talking about the information environment or

21 the threat environment. And you said that claims about the process being false or

22 misleading or increasing and that led to the increase in activity -- the increase in threat

23 activity against election officials. I want to play that out a little bit.

24 Can you describe how claims that might in and of themselves not contain a threat

25 against an election official might fuel threats or might fuel other actions against election

1 officials?

2 A Sure. So an example would be from Ottawa, Michigan, in the 2020

3 election. The local election official in Michigan, a woman named [redacted]. She was 4 a wonderful election official.

5 On election night, there was a mistake with the configuration of their database

6 that misreported the vote totals. They spotted it in their process, fixed the problem,

7 publicly talked about what the issue was, and reversed it, you know, saying here's what

8 happened. Here's how this played out.

9 Before or while they were attempting to do that, the information environment

10 and sort of the virality of the message became that it was rigid, right, that it wasn't any

11 sort of mistake that could be fixed but, in fact, intentional and resulted in threats against

12 [redacted] for quite sometime against her and her family.

13 Q Looking at this -- I'm sorry.

14 Actually, before I get there, the misinformation, putting aside the question that it

15 might fuel threats, it also can undermine confidence in the election process itself.

16 Correct?

17 A Yes, it certainly could result in that.

18 Q So, for example, if there's information spreading, suggesting that ballots

19 are -- ballots aren't valid, that could dissuade people from casting a ballot. Right?

20 A It could. I'm not aware of sort of any measurable impact in that way --

21 Q Okay.

22 A -- but it's possible but --

23 Q Are --

24 A We -- there's been enough research --

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A -- conducted, polls conducted about sort of Americans' confidence in the 2 elections process that suggests impacts on things like confidence --
3 Q Okay.
4 A -- generally.
5 Q Are you familiar with the Sonoma County ballot allegations?
6 A It sounds familiar, but I don't know that I could give you specifics about that.
7 Q Okay. Talking through broadly the challenges, kind of this environment,
8 this information or threat environment, is this something that in your experience officials
9 across the country are facing?
10 A Yes, in my experience officials at the State and local level, in small, medium,
11 rural city, Republican, Democrat, Independent are facing these challenges.
12 Q And in your experience, looking at State and local election officials in 13 particular, do they have the resources to address those challenges without extra
14 assistance?
15 A Generally speaking, no. This is why we did the work we did both to 16 support, when I was at CISA and the EAC, both to support both improvements to the 17 process, better security, better resilience, when I at the EAC, accessibility, but also to 18 empower them to message and talk about it. Right?
19 Q Uh-huh.
20 A This is why -- this is why we focused so much on this.
21 Q And along those lines, is it fair to say that State and local election officials
22 don't necessarily have the competency or the expertise to deal with the challenges posed
23 by false narratives without assistance?
24 A Some do. Some don't.
25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A I think there are very sophisticated offices that have done a very, an
2 exceptional job messaging, providing facts, getting out in front -- in front of their
3 community and talking about the security of the process and responding. Some don't.
4 Some don't have comms departments at all or IT departments. Some are one person
5 that works 3 days a week. Right?
6 So I hesitate only because that is a true statement. Again, as I think I indicated
7 earlier, part of what we attempted to do and hopefully accomplished was create a
8 community that made sure that no one felt like they had to do it all by themselves, right,
9 whatever that challenge was that they were facing.
10 And so no one should have to face some of those challenges by themselves, but 11 there are certainly some -- many election officials that do an incredible job around this.
12 Q You -- there was some discussion in the earlier hour about the Election
13 Infrastructure Information Sharing Analysis Center. It's also known as EI-ISAC. And 14 there's also some discussion about the Multi-State Information Sharing and Analysis
15 Center which is MS-ISAC.
16 With regard to EI-ISAC specifically, I think there was discussion around it but not 17 specifically. What is the actual mission of the EI-ISAC to the extent you're familiar with 18 it?
19 A Yeah, my -- I don't know their exact mission statement. Right. I'm sure
20 there is one. But their mission, as with any ISAC in an area of critical infrastructure, to 21 be the information sharing hub for that critical infrastructure sector -- so in this case State
22 and local election officials, the private sector partners -- around risk mitigation, risk
23 management, threat intelligence and threat management, and best practices.
24 Q And I'm sorry. What's the mission of the MS-ISAC?
25 A So same concept but for county, State, city, governments generally, not

1 specific to elections.

2 Q Who manages the EI-ISAC?

3 A The person or the entity?

4 Q The entity. The entity.

5 A The Center for Internet Security.

6 Q Okay.

7 A Currently.

8 Q And is the -- and who manages the MS-ISAC?

9 A The Center for Internet Security.

10 Q And who manages the Center for Internet Security?

11 A The person?

12 Q Is it -- is it run by a board? Is it run by a chief executive, to the best of your 13 knowledge?

14 A I don't know specifically. I believe they have a president or executive

15 director and also a board, but I don't know their governance structure.

16 Q Okay. Is CIS an arm of CISA?

17 A No. I mean, I -- you'd have to -- no. The answer's --

18 Q Is it --

19 A -- no. It's a non -- an independent nonprofit.

20 Q Is it under the control of the CISA?

21 A Not that I know of.

22 Q Okay. Have you to the best of your knowledge, just based on your

23 experience with CISA, do you know if CISA ever vetoed an act that CISA might have -- that

24 CIS might have taken?

25 A I'm not aware of that occurring or an ability for CISA to do so.

1 Q Okay. Are you aware of CISA ever conditioning CIS funding or grants on CIS
2 taking a particular action?
3 A I'm not familiar enough with sort of the process by which the award happens
4 to create the MS-ISAC, EI-ISAC to know what conditions are present or not present within
5 that documentation. I don't know.
6 Q There have been allegations that during the 2020 election CISA, quote,
7 funded and utilized CIS for the purpose of having social media companies moderate
8 content.
9 Are you familiar with that allegation?
10 A Generally, yes.
11 Q Do you believe that allegation is accurate, that CISA used CIS to enact 12 content moderation that it couldn't do itself?
13 A That -- in my experience, that is not correct in my experience.
14 Q Okay. And you have no information to support that allegation. Is that fair
15 to say?
16 A I'm not aware of any information to support that.
17 Q Okay. There have been allegations that during the 2020 election the 18 EI-ISAC, quote, facilitated attempts to sensor core political speech.
19 Are you familiar with that allegation?
20 A No.
21 Q To your knowledge, during the 2020 election did the EI-ISAC take any steps
22 to sensor political speech?
23 A Again, I didn't run the EI-ISAC. But I'm not aware of anything to support
24 that.
25 Q Are you aware of any information to support an allegation that the MS-ISAC

1 took any steps to sensor political speech during the 2020 election?

2 A I'm not aware of anything like that. But, again, I also didn't run the

3 MS-ISAC.

4 Q To your knowledge during the 2020 election, did the EI-ISAC have employees

5 engaged in monitoring social media for election-related misinformation or

6 disinformation?

7 A I don't know.

8 Q Okay. To your knowledge during the 2020 election, did the EI-ISAC monitor

9 social media for election-related disinformation using any other method, so not talking

10 employees but a contractor or some other method having a software program, for 11 example?

12 A I don't know.

13 Q Okay. There was some discussion -- actually, we talked a little bit just now

14 about the election workers and the threat environment that they're facing. I want to 15 talk about that in a little more detail.

16 A Okay.

17 Q You said that you are generally familiar with the circumstances

18 that -- that -- that -- the threat environment facing election workers.

19 A Yeah, I'm very familiar.

20 Q Have you heard about these threats from election workers themselves?

21 A From State and local election officials? Absolutely.

22 Q Can you describe some of the things that you've heard from State and local

23 election workers?

24 A Sure. And, you know, it's fairly well-documented.

25 But I know State and local election officials that have received consistent threats,

1 death threats, have had to get restraining orders, have had to engage local or State law
2 enforcement to patrol more regularly around their house or even sit in front of their 3 house.
4 I know some State or local election officials that have relocated for a period of 5 time out of fear for their safety and their family's safety.
6 I mean, there's some pretty well-documented cases of charges being brought 7 against folks that have been targeting or threatening election offices. I know some 8 election offices where the entire staff has quit because they did not want to face the 9 harassment any longer.
10 I mean, those are just a few examples.
11 Q And the examples you just provided, are those from within the past couple
12 of years? Is that fair to say?
13 A Couple of years? I mean, over the last 3 to 4 years I would say, yes.
14 Q So since 2020, approximately.
15 A Or even before. I mean, again, the example I used with Kentucky, it may 16 have been like 2019, 2020, somewhere in there.
17 Q Okay. Are you familiar with the Justice Department's Election Threats Task
18 Force?
19 A I'm familiar that it exists, yes.
20 Q Okay. What's your understanding of what it is?
21 A I mean, I -- very limited. I believe that it's intended to be a task force
22 looking into possible criminal activity targeting election officials, but I don't know
23 specifically how they operate.
24 [Masterson Exhibit No. 7
25 Was marked for identification.]

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q I want to introduce exhibit 6 -- 7 -- sorry -- a threat sheet that the Justice
3 Department's Election Threats Task Force put out at the end of August of this year.
4 A Okay.
5 Q So what I just handed you is a list of 13 cases that the Justice Department's
6 Election Threats Task Force has brought. They're enforcement actions involving threats
7 to the election community, and the Justice Department has brought these since the task
8 force was established in 2021. Correct?
9 A I believe that's what the -- the paragraph after discusses, as well as the sort
10 of introduction, yes.
11 Q And these are threats against election officials and poll workers and in some 12 cases candidates, as well. Correct?
13 A Yeah, it appears that this says threats of violence against election workers
14 and then some of the descriptions do include -- at least one can -- said a candidate, it
15 appears.
16 Q So I'm looking at, for example, the first listed is the District of New Mexico
17 case in which an individual allegedly went on a shooting spree, targeting the homes of 18 elected officials and a candidate for office. Right?
19 A Yes.
20 Q And then the ninth case is from the Northern District of Texas. It says that 21 the defendant was sentenced to 3 years in prison for, quote, suggesting a mass shooting
22 of poll workers. Correct?
23 A Yes, that's what that says.
24 Q And so are these kind of threats that are documented and here, are these 25 consistent with what you've heard anecdotally from election workers over the past

1 several years?

2 A Yes. These would be some examples of --

3 Q Correct.

4 A And I'm familiar with some of these examples specifically.

5 Q And which ones specifically are you familiar with?

6 A I'd have to go through, but the one that jumped out was the one that you

7 just shared from Arizona. I was familiar with that one specifically.

8 Q And can you share why you're familiar with that?

9 A I think just public reporting --

10 Q Okay.

11 A -- and conversation.

12 Q You didn't know the individuals involved there.

13 A No.

14 Q Okay.

15 A Although the -- it doesn't matter.

16 Number five, I'm familiar with the person that they're speaking about.

17 Q This is the list of 13, and these are the cases that have actually been charged.

18 But it sounds like based on what you are saying a couple of minutes ago that what you're

19 hearing anecdotally is that this is probably a small subset of what election workers are

20 actually experiencing. Is that fair to say? In other words, you've heard about many 21 more than 13 threats or 13 dangerous situations.

22 A Yeah, I hesitate only because there's a very specific definition for the DOJ

23 and FBI --

24 Q Absolutely.

25 A -- on sort of what would arise to criminal conduct.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A What I'm aware of is anecdotally, yeah, a broad environment of harassment

3 and threats. Whether or not would raise to legal prosecution --

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A -- I don't know.

6 Q And looking at the environment as a whole, so both the situations that rise

7 to the level of actually being legally prosecutable and also just the situations that create a

8 threatening environment for workers, are you familiar with reports that individuals are

9 less willing to serve in these election worker roles or less willing to serve as part of the 10 election community because of this threat environment?

11 A I'm familiar with that assertion. I don't know its veracity. My experience

12 has been that certainly there's been greater turnover among election officials.

13 So if we could kind of take poll workers off of it, there's, you know, depending on

14 the numbers that you see, you know, I saw a report today that in Arizona over 50 percent

15 of the election officials have changed or left. That's unusually high in my estimation.

16 As far as people refusing, I mean, I've seen the reports of that. I've also heard

17 from some election officials that they've got folks who sort of want to show resilience in 18 the face of that and are serving.

19 So I don't -- I don't know how -- whether it's true or not.

20 Q With respect to the -- well, with respect to the individuals who are hoping to

21 show resilience and who want to show that they can withstand this type of threat

22 environment, are you hearing that they are looking for additional support in doing that

23 and showing that resilience and facing those threats?

24 A I don't know that it would be specific to that class of people.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A But what I hear consistently from State and local election officials is that an
2 ongoing need, desire, at times frustration that they aren't receiving the support that they
3 need from whether it's law enforcement, other officials, even sometimes the Federal
4 Government, that they at times feel isolated and on an island.
5 Q Do you have concerns that that feeling of isolation might impair their 6 election -- those election workers' willingness to continue doing the work they're doing?
7 A Again, we've seen quite a bit of turnover. I don't know if that's specifically
8 why. Some have cited that. For instance, a county in Texas where essentially the 9 whole office resigned cited specifically basically not wanting to continue the abuse.
10 Q Uh-huh.
11 A So it just -- it's dependent.
12 Q Are you familiar with reports that members of academia who study
13 disinformation are also facing threats?
14 A Yes, I think I recently saw something than.
15 Q Some have expressed concern that the threats that -- academia, that 16 members of academia are facing, so people like Stanford, right, so the people like the 17 employees at the Stanford Internet Observatory, it might chill their willingness to 18 continue doing disinformation research in the future. Are you familiar with those 19 concerns?
20 A Again, I'm generally familiar based on, I think, a recent report.
21 Q A recent public report.
22 A Yeah.
23 Q Okay. Has your name been in the public eye because of this investigation
24 or other investigations?
25 A I'm not aware of my name arising as a result of this investigation or others.

1 It's possible.

2 Q Do you have concerns about what the implications might be for yourself and

3 for your safety if your name were to be made public as part of this investigation?

4 A As part of this investigation?

5 Q Or as part of, broadly, this, you know, the Twitter Files reporting, the 6 reporting around this investigation.

7 A I mean, I wouldn't cite it specifically to anything here. I have concerns and

8 have experienced a little bit, although not anything near what some election officials

9 have, some targeting. And I have two young children and a wife.

10 And so do I worry about that? Yes. But I -- I can't say as though I've

11 experienced anything near what many of my colleagues in the elections field have 12 experienced and certainly can't cite to any specific actions I've had to take as of yet.

13 [redacted] Okay. Thank you.

14 We don't have anymore questions this round. We can go off the record.

15 Mr. Masterson. Thank you.

16 [Recess.]

17 [redacted]. Can we go back on the record, please.

18 BY [redacted]:

19 Q Mr. Masterson, when you were at CISA, do you recall ever receiving a

20 briefing from CISA lawyers or anyone, leadership, about what could or could not be said

21 when CISA personnel were interacting with social media companies?

22 A I do not recall specific briefing on that.

23 Q Okay. What about generally? Do you recall receiving any instructions

24 about --

25 A Again, I recall conversations around the language on the emails. I don't

1 recall a specific conversation beyond that. It's possible. I knew, you know, the lawyers
2 were involved, but I don't recall anything specific on that.
3 Q Do you recall if the social media companies prior to that disclosure language
4 being added had said anything to CISA?
5 A I do not.
6 Q During your time at CISA, did you have any standing meetings with social
7 media companies?
8 A Yes.
9 Q And what were those standing meetings?
10 A We had a -- I probably won't get the title exactly right but a
11 government-industry sync that I was invited to and participated in.
12 Q And when did these government-industry sync meetings begin?
13 A I don't -- I don't recall when they started. I don't recall when they started.
14 Q Do you recall if they had started prior to the 2018 midterm election?
15 A I don't, no.
16 Q Do you recall if they had started prior to the 2020 U.S. election?
17 A Yes, they had started prior to the 2020 U.S. election.
18 Q Okay. How frequently would these meetings occur?
19 A As I recall, they were -- I may have this wrong. To the best of my 20 recollection, they were monthly and increased in frequency as we got closer to the 21 election to maybe biweekly or maybe weekly. I can't remember.
22 Q And based off that frequency that you recall, how frequently would you
23 attend those meetings?
24 A That -- that was entirely dependent on what else was going on. So, I mean,
25 I would say I tried to attend. But there, as you might imagine, was a lot going on. So I

1 can't tell you sort of a percentage or amount that I attended.

2 Q For the -- you mentioned government industry. Were there multiple

3 Federal Government agencies represented at these meetings?

4 A Yes.

5 Q To your recollection, which -- which agencies?

6 A As I recall, CISA, the FBI, ODNI, DOJ. That's who I recall. There may have

7 been others.

8 Q Do you recall any components of DHS outside of CISA that would attend?

9 A Yes. DHS I&A. Thank you.

10 Q As during your tenure at CISA, did have you interactions with ODNI outside

11 of these standing meetings?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And at a high level, what was the nature of those interactions?

14 A So and I won't get the dates right. So I apologize. Somewhere I think in

15 2019, it may have been 2018, then Director of National Intelligence Dan Coats appointed

16 a Election Threat Executive named Shelby Pierson who was then became the ODNI

17 representative for election intelligence work.

18 And so we regularly met with and engaged with Shelby throughout her tenure.

19 And, again, I can't quite remember when that took place. I remember when it

20 happened and Director Coats, who was a Trump appointee, being on the call with us,

21 appointing her. And so I would regularly sync with Shelby.

22 And so their role, as I understood it or experienced it, was largely one of ensuring

23 that all of the USG that was working the election security work had access to and was 24 coordinated around the intelligence that was available specifically to protect the election.

25 Q And was this, again, high level, intelligence and reporting as it related to

1 foreign influence operations? Was it broader than that?

2 A It was broader than that, as I recall. It -- from what I recall, it was any cyber

3 or information operations that foreign adversaries may undertake to target the election.

4 Q To your understanding -- so certainly the ODNI had access to classified

5 materials. Setting that aside, in terms of scope, the subject matter of this element of 6 ODNI's mission, how did that compare to CISA's CFI team's mission?

7 A So I don't -- you know, I probably didn't have full visibility into the full scope

8 of what the election threat executives' agreement was but I --ply experience with the two

9 is that they had very different agreements.

10 ODNI, my experience was very focused on the intelligence side of things and

11 ensuring, again, that the whole of the USG and, therefore, the election community -- so,

12 for instance, ODNI, with us, led the intelligence briefings to the election officials, right, the

13 classified briefings that we would do, which was something that prior to us doing that in 14 2018 had never taken place before.

15 That's very different than at least what I perceived the Foreign Influence Task

16 Force -- I'm sorry -- the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force, the CISA Task Force

17 agreement around tangible products around like the pineapple product around foreign

18 influence.

19 That pineapple product isn't something I perceived that ODNI would do. I might 20 be wrong, but that's very different. ODNI was specifically intelligence focused.

21 Q For these USG Industry sync meetings, was the information being shared

22 classified or sensitive or is this -- let me stop there -- to your recollection?

23 A I don't recall there ever being a classified government-industry sync.

24 Q Okay. And so to your recollection, when ODNI -- well, would ODNI present

25 at these, to your recollection, to these Government Industry Sync meetings?

1 A I don't recall a presentation from ODNI. They would participate. They
2 would be present. I don't recall any specific sharing they did, but that doesn't mean it
3 didn't take place.
4 My experience in the government-industry syncs was largely that the private 5 sector participants, when they had something to share, it was typically a report on 6 coordinated inauthentic behavior that they either had already reported publicly on or 7 were about to report publicly on and then, you know, just general updates.
8 I don't recall ODNI giving a specific presentation or something like that.
9 Q Would CISA provide information during these meetings or participate in
10 these meetings?
11 A Yes. So we would participate.
12 Q Yeah, and what types of information would CISA share?
13 A So my experience was that I was, because I was the one on the call that 14 understood the election process the best, the systems, procedures, and otherwise, most 15 of what I would share related to understanding of risk in the process, both from a cyber
16 side but also from an information side generally on how, how -- what areas of the process
17 could be targeted with both cyber activity and narratives to undermine trust or to call
18 into question the integrity of the election.
19 So I spent some amount of time on the calls kind of generally laying out where the 20 risk in my estimation existed within the process that narratives could be targeted.
21 So, again, to use an example that I used before, election night reporting systems,
22 generally the public doesn't understand the unofficial nature of election night reporting,
23 doesn't understand the entire canvas process and auditing process that exists in the vast 24 majority of States.
25 And, therefore, it is sort of a fertile ground for confusion and possible narratives

1 targeting it. So that would be an example of an area that we would -- we identified as a
2 possibility and had seen. Right?
3 Russia in Ukraine in 2014 did exactly that around election night reporting and
4 attempted to manipulate the election night reporting results in Ukraine in 2014. So it's 5 something we had seen in the Russian playbook before, as well.
6 Q In your previous answer you mentioned both risks as they related to cyber
7 and risks as they related to narratives. Just so we're on the same page, can you say a
8 little bit more about what you mean by each of those risks?
9 A Sure. So, you know, there's cyber risk with any process that uses IT
10 systems. Right? Systems can be hacked. Systems cannot work. Systems can be 11 targeted for manipulation or even just targeted to appear not to have functioned 12 correctly.
13 And then those incidents or perceived incidents can be used to message about the 14 process in a way that allows for questions and/or distrust of the results or the integrity of 15 the process.
16 And so the -- they're not two separate pillars but, in fact, overlap where a cyber 17 incident can result in narratives that lead to confusion, distrust of the process.
18 Q Are there any risks that CISA had identified with respect to narratives that 19 did not share an overlap with the cyber risk?
20 A That's a good question. Yes, there's general -- the one that comes to 21 mind -- and I don't know that CISA specifically identified it but it's certainly one I was 22 keenly aware of and had experienced.
23 It was one around how vote -- election night results and the winner or perceived 24 winner can change over time as early ballots, mailed ballots, provisional battles, or 25 counted. Right? That is a common narrative where, you know, understandably some

1 people don't understand that votes continue to be counted until you count every vote.
2 That's the election official's job, count every eligible vote.
3 And in some States, that's done fairly quickly. In some States it takes a while.
4 And so there's a lack -- there's at least confusion about how that works that I had seen
5 over my entire election career.
6 Q Who else from CISA would -- actually, let me take one step back.
7 So just from -- when CISA's making these, sharing information on this, are you the 8 one that's typically participating on the call or is it -- who on behalf of CISA is speaking?
9 A It just depended on sort of what was happening, who was on the call. You
10 know, if I wasn't on the call, obviously, I wasn't participating. What I was sharing is my 11 experience of what I tended to share, which was a very election administration-focused
12 either what election officials were actually experiencing and/or where I saw risks play out.
13 Q Who else from CISA would regularly attend these meetings?
14 A As I recall, Brian, Geoff, perhaps other ESI or Countering Foreign Influence
15 Task Force members as well.

1

2 [2:37 p.m.]

3 BY [redacted]:

4 Q And for Brian and Geoff, do you recall what type of information, or what sort

5 of things they would be sharing when they participated?

6 A I don't recall a specifically what update or not. I mean, there were several

7 of these calls, right? No, I don't recall specifically what they might have shared on there.

8 Q What about sort of general level?

9 A I mean, again, I don't recall specifically, but Brian would have shared about

10 the work of his team, presumably, and Geoff may have updated on the work we were

11 doing if I wasn't on, or if it was something additional that we had heard from the State or

12 local election official, private sector entity, or something going on. But it would have

13 related to work we were doing.

14 Q Would there be a government-only synch prior to these

15 government-industry syncs or agency priors who would preview what we discussed on 16 the upcoming call?

17 A I recall that may have occurred on occasion. I don't recall that being a

18 regular thing. It is possible. But I don't -- I don't recall, you know, sort of a standing

19 government synch in that way, but it is possible that on occasion that occurred.

20 Q Do you recall who, whether on the government side or the industry side,

21 took the lead in scheduling these meetings?

22 A As I recall -- which meetings, the government?

23 Q The full government industry standing meetings.

24 A As I recall, it was -- I think it was Brian and/or a member of his team.

25 Q Do you recall any discussion during these government-industry synch

1 meetings in 2020, do you recall any discussion regarding the potential risk of
2 hack-and-leak operation?
3 A I don't recall a specific discussion on that, but hack and leak, I do recall
4 generally. So, again, not a specific call, but generally hack and leak being, one, a
5 recognized common adversary tactic, especially at Russia. As there are endless
6 examples of Russian cyber operators hacking and leaking information that the Russians
7 will use to leverage for any number of purposes, right? And so, hack and leak would fall
8 into sort of the red-teaming risk bucket as we looked at possible tactics and techniques
9 that could be used to target and undermine the process for the people involved,
10 especially since we had seen Russians do that before, right? The Russians hacked and 11 leaked into our registration data. The Iranians hacked and then used email information
12 that they got -- well, they accessed it, in some cases, because it was public and other
13 cases it's not, but that's a hack and leak. And we had seen that take place in other 14 elections around the world from adversaries. So hack and leak unquestionably would 15 have been in the sort of playbook that we would have perceived as a possibility. And I 16 recall that being part of the discussion what that could look like had that been able to 17 play out?
18 Q You mentioned a couple of times tabletop exercises. Do you recall any 19 occurring in 2020 or where the tabletop exercise was about how to handle a potential
20 hack-and-leak operation?
21 A I don't recall the scenario from 2020 or scenarios. There's multiple 22 scenarios within the tabletop. It kind of is like the progressively worst day ever, right?
23 And so, I don't recall if hack and leak was part of the 2020 scenario. But, again, hack and 24 leak would have been a pretty common tactic that we would have identified as a
25 possibility.

1 Q In the government industry synch meetings, do you recall which government
2 agencies discussed and any sort of high-level or more specific, the risk of hack-and-leak
3 operation?
4 A I don't recall the specific discussion on it to know the specific agencies. But 5 again, hack and leak would have been something we all recognized as a risk, and the 6 election officials recognized as a risk.
7 Q With respect to these discussions of a potential hack and leak, do you recall
8 any of the industry government synch meetings, whether there was a discussion of 9 whether the Ukrainian company, Burisma, was at risk of being part of hack-and-leak
10 operation?
11 A I do not recall a specific conversation about that, no.
12 Q Do you recall on a general level whether that was ever discussed?
13 [redacted] Would you please speak up.
14 Ms. Christian. Yeah, I'm having a hard time?
15 BY [redacted]:
16 Q Do you recall whether at a general level whether that was ever discussed?
17 Ms. Christian. May I ask what you're referring to?
18 [redacted]. Yeah, sorry, the reference to Burisma and one of the government
19 industry synch standing meetings from 2020.
20 Mr. Masterson. No, my recollection, again, was on general conversations about 21 hack and leak as a tactic that could be employed.
22 BY [redacted]:
23 Q Was there ever discussions about timing of one hack-and-leak operation
24 would be likely to take place?
25 A I don't recall that specifically, no, but it is possible only in the sense that

1 we -- at CISA, as we evaluate a risk, and you can see this in some of the published
2 products that we had. We evaluated risks sort of in the preelection timeframe, in and
3 around Election Day, and then post-election timeframe, and sort of what systems were in 4 use, what processes were being used. And so it is possible that was part of the 5 discussion, but I don't recall that being the specific conversation about sort of when hack
6 and leak can take place and what time -- or even what hack and leaks could take place at 7 the different points in the process, I don't recall that.
8 Q Do you recall Hunter Biden ever being mentioned in one of these standing
9 U.S. Government industry synch meetings?
10 A I do not.
11 Q Do you recall Hunter Biden ever being mentioned in any meetings with social 12 media companies prior to the 2020 election?
13 A I do not recall that, no.
14 Q Do you recall any mention of Hunter Biden in government-only meetings
15 prior to the 2020 election?
16 A I do not recall that, no.
17 Q This will be exhibit 8.
18 A Okay.
19 [Masterson Exhibit No. 8
20 Was marked for identification.]
21 BY [redacted]:
22 Q If I can have you turn to the back half of the page. It will be Bates No.
23 36979. There's an email from [redacted]. Is that the same [redacted] that we had 24 discussed earlier? Your contact at META?
25 A I presume so. Is that who you are referring to?

1 Q Yes. Her email -- so this is about four or five lines from the bottom. She
2 references G-E-C or the GEC. Do you know what the GEC is?
3 A I'm familiar with the GEC, yes.
4 Q And to your understanding what is it?
5 A It is the Global Engagement Center within the State Department. Candidly,
6 I don't know, specifically, what they do.
7 Q Was there consideration about whether to add the GEC to these, the 8 standing government industry synch meetings?
9 A Based on this email, it appears there was. I don't recall the specific 10 conversation. Although, I do recall them not being added to the synchs, but I don't 11 know why, or recall why.
12 Q [redacted] references that it sounds like speaking on behalf of the industry that
13 they would prefer not to add new participants referring to the GEC. Do you know why
14 industry referred to not have the GEC join these meetings?
15 A I don't recall, specifically, why they didn't.
16 Q So [redacted] sends you an agenda for one of the upcoming synch meetings.
17 Would you typically go back and forth with industry about what would be on the agenda
18 in advance of one of these meetings?
19 A I don't -- so the answer is, I don't know. I don't recall being a big part of 20 that process. I may have added items. I see that I later say we haven't heard anything
21 back. I wouldn't say that that was typical, which is the word you used. My -- at least 22 recollection, is that typically came from Brian or someone on that team, not me, but
23 there could be reasons why that occurred this way this time. But from what I recall, I
24 may have added items to the agenda, but I don't recall being sort of the agenda setter.
25 Q And so you recall Brian Scully playing the primary role of getting the agenda

1 set?

2 A Brian or someone on the team, as I recall. It may have been, you know,

3 someone else I don't know. But I just don't remember it being my primary responsibility

4 most of the time.

5 Q If you flip the page, Bates No. 36978, you said: We have not heard back on

6 agenda from other Feds, so we will report back. Just to piece together your previous

7 answers, is it your understanding that typically Brian Scully would hear from the other

8 government agencies on what they would be interested in, adding to the agenda and

9 incorporate that in?

10 A That's my recollection of how the process works.

11 Q We can take these back. Thank you. We're not using them anymore.

12 Are you generally familiar with The New York Post article published on October 14th,

13 2020, regarding Hunter Biden's laptop?

14 A I have not -- I don't recall reading the article. I guess I have heard the 15 kerfuffle around it.

16 Q Fair enough. Are you aware of the steps that social media platforms took 17 to reduce the circulation of that story?

18 A I'm not familiar with the specific steps any company took. I am just kind of 19 generally aware of the existence of the story.

20 Q Okay. Are you generally aware that some social media companies took 21 some steps regarding the circulation of the story?

22 A I mean, kind of, right? I'm generally aware that this is a conversation that is 23 happening, I would say. I haven't paid a lot of attention to it.

24 Q You mentioned that these government industry sync meetings occurred with 25 an increased frequency ahead of the 2020 election. Is that right?

1 A That's my recollection, yes.

2 Q Do you recall in any of the government industry meetings following the

3 story's publication whether the story was raised during any of these meetings?

4 A I do not. I do not recall a specific conversation about it.

5 Q Do you recall any discussions regarding the story with social media

6 companies outside of these standing meetings that were scheduled to occur?

7 A I do not recall him participating in any discussion specific to that, no.

8 Q Of the different subcomponents at CISA, your ESI team, you have CFI team,

9 which team had primary responsibility when it came to trying to assess the risk of 10 potential hack-and-leak operation?

11 A I don't know that any one team had primary responsibility. Again, from my

12 perspective in work, hack and leak I viewed as a possible tactic that could be used

13 targeting the election officials to process the systems to cause confusion or distrust to the

14 process. So that's -- my recollection is in my work, it being a possible tactic that could

15 be used. I don't know that anyone was primarily responsible for that, right? I mean, it

16 could be part of a number of sort of risk assessment or equations that we would look at.

17 Q Do you recall if anyone at CISA conducted some sort of risk assessment after

18 the story came out about whether it was the product of a Russian hack-and-leak

19 operation?

20 A No, I'm not aware of that taking place.

21 Q Do you recall anyone from industry reaching out to anyone at CISA about

22 whether CISA had any information to share regarding whether the story was related to a

23 Russian hack-and-leak operation?

24 A I don't recall that taking place, no.

25 Q While you were at CISA, did you have interactions with the Stanford Internet

1 Observatory?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And at a high level, what were those interactions?

4 A As I recall, we received at least one briefing or presentation from them at

5 some point on the creation, or possible creation, of the Election Integrity Partnership.

6 Q And what is the Election Integrity Partnership?

7 A The Election Integrity Partnership, as I recall, was a collaboration between

8 Stanford Internet Observatory, University of Washington, I believe, DFR Lab and Graphika

9 possibly were partners in it as well to identify and expose mis- or disinformation around

10 the election process or procedures.

11 Q And this initial meeting between Stanford and CISA, do you recall when 12 approximately that was?

13 A I don't recall specifically when it was. My guess is maybe late summer, but 14 I don't know the exact day, no.

15 Q And what was the purpose of the meeting?

16 A My recollection is it was simply sort of an update about what Stanford was 17 going to do or did. I don't recall if the EIP was in place or about to be in place.

18 Q You mentioned DFR Lab. Just very briefly what is DFR Lab?

19 A Wow, as I recall -- I don't know the specifics on DFR Lab, but I believe DFR

20 Lab is a nonprofit research entity that looks at information operations probably, I think.

21 Q And what is Graphika?

22 A I believe Graphika is a company -- they may be nonprofit. I don't know. I

23 don't know sort of their status, I guess, that identifies and tracks mis- and disinformation,

24 actors, and narratives.

25 Q Who is Renee DiResta?

1 A Renee DiResta is an employee at the Stanford Internet Observatory. I don't
2 know her title.
3 Q And did you work with her while you were at CISA?
4 A I don't recall working with Renee at my time in CISA. It was possible at that 5 time she was on that call, but I don't recall her participation in that.
6 Q Who from Stanford do you recall participating as it related to the EIP?
7 A I remember Alex Stamos sort of leading the call. I don't recall who else was 8 on.
9 Q Do you know who [redacted] is?
10 A She is an employee at the Stanford Internet Observatory, or was. I don't 11 know if she still is.
12 Q Actually, did you have interactions with her while you were at CISA?
13 A Again, it's possible, but I don't recall a specific interaction with [redacted].
14 Q Following the meeting between the EIP and CISA, or Stanford and CISA,
15 depending on who was on the call exactly in late summer 2020, what was the result of 16 that meeting? Were there any do-out, did CISA have any continuing communications
17 with the EIP?
18 A I don't recall any do-outs, and it is possible -- I don't recall having continuing
19 conversations or interactions with the EIP, but it is certainly possible. It was not -- if it
20 occurred, it was not something that was a big part of my work, and so I don't -- I don't 21 remember that taking place.
22 Q Do you recall if other people from CISA attended this initial meeting?
23 A I believe Brian was there, as I recall.
24 Q Do you know if Brian continued to have communications with Stanford
25 regarding the EIP after this first meeting?

1 A I don't know.
2 Q Do you recall having any sort of role or receiving information from the EIP
3 following this first meeting?
4 A I don't recall any specific communication or receiving anything specifically
5 from them. It's possible, but not that I recall.
6 Q To your understanding, why did EIP, or why did Stanford want to inform CISA
7 about EIP?
8 A No. I don't know. I mean, Stanford could certainly answer that question.
9 I think it was -- I think it was an update on what they were doing. I don't know why that 10 was important to them except for, you know, we knew of them, right?
11 Q How did you know of them?
12 A We had had Stanford interns work for us previously.
13 Q Did you have any other interactions or connections with the Stanford
14 Internet Observatory, part of the intern starting CISA?
15 A Yeah, I don't know if it -- honestly, I don't know if Alex was at Stanford
16 Internet Observatory yet, but I attended at least one meeting, as I recall, that Alex was 17 present at, but I don't know his status at that point in time. And so, I knew Alex -- I had 18 met Alex a couple of times as I recall. But I don't recall any -- any specific sort of work
19 we had done together when I was at CISA.
20 Q When you were at CISA when CISA was having the Stanford students as 21 interns, do you know how many interns there were?
22 A As I recall, four or five.
23 Q And who did they work for at CISA?
24 A I don't recall. I recall them generally their work being divided between the 25 election security work and the task force, but I don't know sort of the divide or how that

1 works. I don't recall.

2 Q So by election security work, you said you recall their time is divided

3 between your team and Brian Scully's team?

4 A Yes, yes.

5 Q Can I have 3C141?

6 Ms. Christian. Is this 9?

7 [redacted]. Yes, this will be exhibit 9.

8 [Masterson Exhibit No. 9

9 Was marked for identification.]

10 BY [redacted]:

11 Q First, do you recognize this email exchange?

12 A I do not.

13 Q Do you know who [redacted] is?

14 A Based on an email, she is an employee at the University of Washington, and 15 she is someone I am familiar with and have heard of.

16 Q Do you know who Graham Brookie is?

17 A I believe -- I believe Graham -- I don't know his title -- but works at DFR Lab, I

18 think.

19 Q [redacted] -- this is in the first sentence, second clause. She is saying: We

20 thought it would make sense to bring together those who played a management or

21 leadership role in the 2020 EIP work. Do you think she is including -- also you are copied

22 on the email -- is it your understanding that she is referring to you as one of the people

23 who would be understood to play a management or leadership role in the 2020 EIP work?

24 A I don't know what -- how [redacted] considered me -- I'll be honest. I don't know

25 that I recall meeting [redacted] in my time at CISA. It's possible. And so, I don't know what her intent is at this point on November 30th, 2021, obviously, almost a full year after I had left CISA. She didn't include me on the initial email because, I guess, she didn't have my email, but I don't know the intent there.

Q Would you describe what role you had with respect to the work EIP did in 2020? Would you describe that role as a management or leadership role?

A No.

Q All right. This is the deposition of Brian Scully from the Missouri v. Biden case. It's going to be exhibit 10. This is -- we'll direct you to the specific page numbers. We're going to ask about only a couple, but we want to make sure your counsel and you have a full copy. If you have any questions, you know, I don't know if you've had --

Ms. Christian. What is the deposition?

[redacted]. This is Brian Scully's deposition in the Missouri matter.

[redacted] Are you entering the whole deposition into the record?

[redacted]. Yeah, we're only going to reference a few pages. The deposition is publicly available.

[redacted] Oh, no, no. It's just going to make it a massive transcript for us, but that's fine.

[redacted]. Okay.

[Masterson Exhibit No. 10
Was marked for identification.]

BY [redacted]:

Q If I can have you turn to pages 83 and 84. And if you want to have a chance to review the full context, you're happy to read back a couple of pages. But the part we'll question about starts midway through page 83 that comes back through some technical difficulties, and then there's a couple of questions regarding you and Mr.

1 Scully's recollection of what role you had, if any, in EIP.

2 A Do you want me to read all of page 84 as well or just --

3 Q Yes. We're going to ask down to line 18, but to the sense you feel

4 comfortable, make sure you have an opportunity to review before and after.

5 A Sorry, I went back just to get context. Okay.

6 Q So regarding back and forth, starting in the middle of page 83, Mr. Scully had

7 asked about you and whether -- what role you had, if any, in originating the concept for

8 EIP. Mr. Scully responds: So his primary role was the same as mine, in terms of just

9 clarifying the gap that election officials faced for the folks at the Stanford Internet

10 Observatory early on in the process. To your understanding, what sort of gap was EIP

11 trying to fill?

12 A I don't know, specifically, what the gap referred to here that Brian is

13 speaking of. In my work in support to State and local election officials, as I think I have

14 expressed, there was a growing concern of an inability or disconnect between the 15 election officials' ability to keep up with the emerging narratives that were targeting the 16 process themselves, the systems, and their ability to both identify and respond. They

17 felt ill-equipped to both understand the speed at which it was coming at them, the impact

18 it was having, how to sort of push back, and how to connect with the platforms in a way

19 that would allow them to respond, right, to impact it.

20 So the perceived gap, at least for me, in time in that work was election officials

21 had no ability to keep up and understand the information environment that was a direct

22 risk, or at least as they viewed it, to the people processing systems they were running.

23 Q And how what was the plan? How would EIP property address this gap as 24 you understood it?

25 A I don't know specifically. I mean, they wrote their plan. I mean, I guess

1 could you look at the work that they did throughout and the reporting that they
2 published as a means to publicly report on those narratives that could help support
3 election officials understanding of that information environment. But you would have 4 to ask them sort of what the plan was for them.
5 Q In terms of different ways to address this gap, what other options being
6 considered by CISA?
7 A I don't recall discussing other options with regard to the gap -- or that
8 environment except for, you know, my ability to take, if they shared something with me
9 and provided as part of the switchboarding activity. That's all I recall. I don't -- I think
10 from CISA's perspective, our work -- well, I should say that's not true. The tool for us
11 was to simplify their voice, right? To take and use what they were saying to 12 communicate broadly to the public about the security resilience and integrity of the 13 process. Right? For us that was, or at least for me, I'll speak for me, that was my 14 avenue to amplify their voice, to allow them to share about the work that they were 15 doing, and to respond to growing concerns about the people processing systems.
16 Q So to your understanding, switchboarding was one tool that could be used to 17 help someone ameliorate this gap that had been identified?
18 A Not specific to the gaps. Switchboarding was, at least for me, one way in 19 which I took what election officials were providing me and supported them. They 20 wanted -- they were concerned that there wasn't that connectivity. And for me, if they 21 provided it to me, I could get it into the process. That was -- but my primary avenue was 22 one in which I tried to amplify their concerns, right? That's what rumor control was,
23 right? Rumor control was my and our attempt to amplify their messaging about the 24 process, and the steps they had taken to ensure the integrity of it.
25 Q We mentioned the connectivity. You're talking about the State and local

1 officials and the social media platforms. Who's trying to get connected?
2 A Yeah, right, I think as I've expressed previously, what I was hearing
3 overwhelmingly was that they felt like their voice wasn't heard, that they weren't 4 connected. And so for me, if I received something, I could put it in the process and
5 know that at least that their voice had been passed on in that way. That was what I did
6 with it.
7 Q To your understanding, going back to switchboarding, when state and local 8 officials are flagging pieces of content that are part of the information environment that 9 are leading people to question the integrity in elections, in your earlier responses you said
10 you are not conducting an analysis of the post-deflagging, whether it's true or false.
11 When you passed it to Mr. Scully, you said, you know, obviously, you said, you're not in 12 his head, but you understand he also was not performing some sort of analysis, whether 13 that was true or false. To your understanding, is anyone in the process taking a look to 14 see if the flag post is problematic as the initial State and local official claims it is?
15 A I don't know. I'm not aware of any review of that taking place. Again, as I
16 said, I didn't do that. But I don't think that was part of the process. I didn't perceive
17 that as part of the process, but I can't say for sure.
18 Q Regarding the concerns of connecting State and local officials to social media
19 platforms -- again, we've talked a lot about switchboarding where the discussions that CIS
20 was proposing, the misinformation reporting portal, another tool that was trying to be 21 considered as a way to help connect State and local officials to social media companies.
22 A I mean, you'd have to ask CIS their intent behind that. But based on what I
23 understood, I think that was what was considered.
24 Q To your understanding, was EIP engaging directly with social media
25 companies?

1 A So just to distinguish, at the time I was at CISA, I didn't have any knowledge
2 about sort of how EIP was operating. When I arrived at Stanford, I had a better
3 understanding in that, yes, they were connected with social media companies, but I don't 4 recall like needing or wanting, you know, understanding that at the time. But once I got
5 to Stanford, because the work at Stanford, I understood that.
6 Q Once you get to Stanford, what is the State of EIP, obviously, it's 7 post-election at this point.
8 A Yeah.
9 Q Yeah, I'll stop there. You joined in early 2021 at Stanford. Is that correct?
10 A That is correct.
11 Q When you joined, what is the state of EIP?
12 A As I recall, EIP was in the final stages of writing their final report. It was 13 largely completely written, as I recall at that point, and had sort of completed their 14 activity from what I recall.
15 Q Did you play any role in preparing or finalizing that report?
16 A I do not play any role in preparing the report. I was asked to review the 17 report, specifically, around some of the description of the Iranian activity and sort of the 18 general election administration work and activity, but was not asked to edit or write any 19 sections of it. Just to look at specific areas and just read the report for consistency as a 20 whole.
21 Q Did you see any versions of the report while you still were at CISA?
22 A No, I don't recall that taking place.
23 Q Once the report comes out in 2021, for the rest of your tenure at Stanford,
24 did EIP still exist, and if so, did you have any interactions with it?
25 A So it existed in the sense that it was, as I recall, a project that they just

1 wrapped up, but I don't recall that work continuing because the -- as I recall, the 2 resources sort of pivoted toward the Virality Project. So I think when the report was 3 released, as I recall, the EIP sort of wrapped up that portion of the work.
4 Q And it's your understanding, was EIP -- did EIP do work with respect to the
5 2022 election?
6 A I don't know.
7 Q Were you involved with the Virality Project?
8 A I was.
9 Q What was your role?
10 A My primary role was to draft, publish recommendations around policies and 11 policy approaches. So there's two or three blog posts, and then I contributed that 12 portion of the report around kind of structuring and policy discussions on how State and 13 local officials, nonprofits, government academia, policy-wise could work to respond to the 14 sort of information environment that exists around the vaccines.
15 So that was primarily my role. And then I was responsible for distribution of the 16 public reporting that would come out to subset of folks like the National Governors
17 Association, the National Conference of the State Legislators, the National Association of 18 Counties that I had known from my time in elections that I could distribute the reporting.
19 So every week I'd send out the email and distribute the reporting to them.
20 Q Can we go off the record, please.
21 [Discussion off the record.]

1

2 [3:32 p.m.]

3 [redacted] It is 3:32. We can go back on the record.

4 BY [redacted]

5 Q I want to pick up where we left off -- kind of -- at the end of the last hour.

6 There was a discussion about switchboarding, and the question was posed whether

7 anyone in the process was taking a look at the information in the email itself before

8 passing it along.

9 I just want to reiterate that the process that is referred to, which we talked

10 through in some length -- at some length earlier, is forwarding emails, right? It's

11 not -- there is not a platform that's used or a special portal or anything like that. It's 12 forwarding an email, correct?

13 A I'm not aware of a platform or portal that was used.

14 Q But, with respect to your own personal experience --

15 A Yes.

16 Q -- it was purely forwarding emails, correct?

17 A As I recall, yes.

18 Q Okay. And after the information was sent along to social media companies,

19 which, again -- and you didn't send anything to social media companies directly, correct?

20 A I don't recall doing that.

21 Q To the best of --

22 A Yeah.

23 Q To the best of your recollection.

24 And are you aware of what social media companies might have done with that

25 information after they received it?

1 A No. Again, I didn't, that I recall, contact them or follow up in any way.
2 Q Is it your understanding or -- we've heard that social media companies would
3 then assess that against their own content moderation policies.
4 Given what you do now, would that make sense to you?
5 A I don't have that responsibility at Microsoft, so I don't know sort of how the 6 social media companies handled that.
7 Q To the extent that social media companies did then assess that information
8 against their own content moderation policies, that would effectively be looking at the 9 information to determine its truth or falsity or what proper steps to take, right?
10 A That may be the process that they use. I don't know.
11 Q Did you ever provide any input on social media company content
12 moderation guidelines?
13 A In my time at CISA?
14 Q Uh-huh.
15 A I do not recall ever doing that.
16 Q Okay. Are you generally familiar with community guidelines or user
17 guidelines or the -- they have different names at different social media companies.
18 A I'm familiar with the -- yeah, the concept. I'm not familiar with the specifics
19 of any given platform's guidelines or policies.
20 Q Okay. I want to turn back to the discussion about CISA's engagement with 21 the Election Integrity Partnership, or the EIP.
22 You were asked a number of questions about Mr. Scully's deposition, and so I
23 want to turn back to that deposition.
24 On page 49, Mr. Scully is asked: "Did CISA have any involvement in the Election
25 Integrity Partnership?" This is lines 5 to 7 down there, 5 to 7.

1 And then his response was: "Involvement in the sense that a couple of our
2 interns came up with the idea and that we had some communications with them, yes."
3 Is this consistent with your understanding of the extent of CISA's involvement with 4 the EIP?
5 A Do you mind if I read --
6 Q Uh-huh. Take as long as you need.
7 A Thank you.
8 Okay. I'm sorry.
9 Q So is that consistent with your understanding of the extent of CISA's
10 involvement with the EIP?
11 A Generally, yes. I mean, again, I think Brian likely had a better
12 understanding than I did, but it seems consistent with his recollection.
13 Q Okay. On page 55, Mr. Scully is asked -- and the actual content of this is he 14 was asked -- I'm sorry. I'll let you --
15 A It's okay.
16 Q He was asked if they had been invited -- if CISA had been invited to 17 participate again in 2022. This is at lines 11 to 12.
18 And he responds: "No. CISA didn't -- I mean, I wouldn't say CISA participated in 19 2020."
20 Do you see where it says that?
21 A I see where it says that, yes.
22 Q Do you agree that it would be mischaracterizing CISA's role to say that CISA
23 participated in the EIP in 2020?
24 A Do you mind if I read the --
25 Q Of course.

1 A Sorry. I just want the context.

2 Q Sure. Absolutely.

3 A I'm sorry. Do you mind repeating the question?

4 Q Yeah. So at lines 13 to 14, Mr. Scully says that he wouldn't say that CISA

5 participated, meaning participated in the EIP in 2020.

6 A So I can --

7 Q Uh-huh. And I'm just asking, do you agree that CISA didn't participate in

8 the EIP in 2020?

9 A That was certainly my experience. I wouldn't say that I was a participant in 10 the EIP in my time at CISA.

11 Q There has been an allegation made -- I'm turning away from the transcript.

12 A Okay.

13 Q There has been an allegation made that the EIP was thoroughly intertwined

14 with CISA.

15 Do you believe that's an accurate characterization of CISA's interactions with the 16 EIP, that it was thoroughly intertwined?

17 A Again, my experience with my work was not that we had a thoroughly

18 intertwined relationship. That was not my experience at CISA.

19 Q Is it fair to say that your interactions with EIP during your time at CISA could

20 be characterized as, frankly, very limited?

21 A Yeah. I think, as I said earlier, I don't recall very much interaction at all with

22 EIP.

23 Q Okay. There has been an allegation made that CISA, quote, "aided EIP in 24 the process of reporting undesirable election-related speech to social media platforms."

25 Do you believe this is an accurate characterization of CISA's interactions with EIP?

1 A That would not be an accurate characterization of my experience and work
2 at CISA.
3 Q Okay. To your knowledge, did CISA, quote/unquote, "flag content for EIP
4 for the purpose of having social media companies delete that content"?
5 A I don't know. I did not participate in that, that I recall.
6 Q And do you know if anybody else did?
7 A I don't know.
8 Q Okay. I want to turn back to this conversation about the gap that we had 9 earlier. There was a reference to -- I think it was page 89, I want to say -- the 10 reference -- where the gap was -- the discussion of the gap was raised. And you said
11 that you don't know what Scully meant when he said that.
12 He actually described what he meant when he said the gap, and that's at page 57
13 in this transcript.
14 I'm sorry. It actually begins at the bottom of page 56 to the top of page 57.
15 And he was asked -- so the question was asked: "What's the gap that you're referring 16 to?"
17 And the answer was: "Sure. So we had a conversation with the interns, and 18 they were asking questions about the kind of needs that the election officials have,
19 generally. One of the gaps that we identified from 2018 is, as you know, most election
20 officials, their offices are fairly low staff, low resourced, and so there was no -- they didn't 21 have the capabilities to try to identify disinformation targeting their jurisdictions.
22 "And so it was -- essentially the gap is that most election offices throughout the 23 country just didn't have the capacity or capability to be monitoring anything -- to be 24 monitoring so they could identify anything that would potentially target their 25 jurisdictions, so that was the gap?"

1 Do you see where it says that?

2 A I do.

3 Q Is that consistent with your understanding of what this gap was?

4 A Do you mind if I read for context?

5 Q Uh-huh. Absolutely.

6 A Okay.

7 Q So is Mr. Scully's description of his understanding of the gap consistent with 8 your understanding of what this gap was?

9 A I think, as I described earlier, in the previous hour, this description is

10 consistent with my understanding or what I was hearing from State and local election

11 officials, which was a lack of resources and time to understand the narratives and 12 information environment that they were operating in. They didn't have that capability.

13 Q So is it fair to say that this gap was actually with the capabilities that State

14 and local election workers have or had?

15 A That was at least my experience of the challenge that they were facing, what

16 I was hearing on a consistent basis from them.

17 Q Okay. So there has been an allegation made that CISA helped to establish

18 the EIP to fill a gap in -- quote/unquote, "gap" -- in the government's -- the Federal

19 Government's ability to, quote, "police disinformation."

20 Are you aware of that allegation?

21 A I don't -- I mean, vaguely. I don't know that specifically. But, vaguely, I'm 22 aware that that has been a conversation.

23 Q Is it fair to say that that's not an accurate characterization of what this gap

24 refers to?

25 A Again, in my experience, in the work that I did, the State and local election

1 officials were struggling to understand and identify the information environment and the
2 emerging narratives that they were working in. That, to me, was what I was hearing
3 from the community on a consistent basis.
4 Q Okay. And is it your understanding -- putting aside Mr. Scully's
5 understanding of the gap in general, just looking at the EIP writ large -- to your 6 knowledge, did CISA work to establish the EIP in order to, quote/unquote, "police
7 disinformation"?
8 A In my experience, I didn't work to establish EIP in any way.
9 Q Okay. So that's an inaccurate statement. Is that fair to say?
10 A In my experience, yes.
11 Q Okay. Moving on, you were asked a couple questions -- or several 12 questions in the earlier hour about the purpose of -- about the meetings between CISA
13 and --
14 A Can I close this?
15 Q We're going to go back to that.
16 A Sorry. Okay. Thank you.
17 Q Different section, different topic.
18 A Okay.
19 Q But just going to stick with the transcript for a minute.
20 There was a discussion in the earlier hour about meetings between CISA and other
21 Federal Government agencies and private sector entities with the tech companies.
22 Do you recall that conversation?
23 A I do.
24 Q Okay. Mr. Scully said that the purpose of these meetings was to share
25 information about -- from a CISA perspective, to share information about resilience

1 building. That's at page 45 to 46 of the transcript. It's the bottom of page 45,
2 beginning on line 22 and carrying on to the next page.
3 A Okay.
4 Q Is that generally consistent with your understanding of the purpose of these
5 meetings?
6 A No, because my focus was much more on -- I mean, generally, resilience
7 building could probably cover a variety of functions. And I don't fully understand,
8 candidly, some of what's being referenced here, because he referenced -- "So there are 9 some other countries that are much more mature." I'm not sure what that's in 10 reference to.
11 In my experience, those government-industry syncs were, for me, much more
12 about carrying forward what was happening throughout the election cycle, what State 13 and local election officials, like, where in the process they were, sort of where their 14 preparations were, what they were experiencing.
15 And then really thinking through, kind of as we play this out, where the risks lie
16 and what -- how we could sort of prepare and work with them to amplify their voices in 17 advance to really highlight where we were in the process.
18 So if we were approaching registration deadlines, we're really talking about the 19 security of voter registration databases. And so there is a common misperception about 20 what's public and not public about voter registration data, how do we get out in front of 21 that so voters don't think their information is being leaked, things like that.
22 And so, for me, it was very much focused on the State and local election officials
23 and conveying to the folks in that meeting sort of where we were in the process and 24 where identified risks might exist.
25 Q Okay. I'm looking -- and thank you for that -- looking specifically at -- he

1 references, from his perspective -- and his job was different than yours, right?

2 A Uh-huh.

3 Q So his perspective on the purpose of these meetings might have differed

4 from yours. But, specifically, he said the purpose was to share information.

5 Would you agree that the purpose of these meetings was to share information

6 with the private sector and to have the private sector share information with you -- with

7 CISA?

8 A At a very high level, yes.

9 Q Okay.

10 [redacted] All right. I think we can go off the record.

11 [Recess.]

12 BY [redacted]:

13 Q I know it's been a while since we first went over these questions, but could

14 you say again your current role at Microsoft?

15 A Sure. So I'm the director of information integrity within the Democracy

16 Forward Program at Microsoft.

17 Q And what is the Democracy Forward Program?

18 A The Democracy Forward Program is a program focused on support to and 19 defense of critical democratic institutions.

20 So we do everything from cybersecurity support to election officials and

21 campaigns, to media and information literacy work, to support to journalists and

22 newsrooms, cybersecurity, legal support, otherwise.

23 Q And have you been in this role since you joined the company?

24 A I have, yes.

25 Q How big is your team?

1 A We have -- sorry for the pause. We literally just restructured, so I have to
2 add it up. So we have three people on my team that are full-time FTEs.
3 Q And what about before the restructuring?
4 A It wasn't a team that sort of has the three pillars that we have now, so it's
5 just me. I didn't have anyone else underneath me at that time.
6 Q And both before this restructuring and afterwards, who do you report to?
7 A I report to [redacted], who is the director of the Democracy Forward
8 team.
9 Q In your role at Microsoft, which government agencies do you interact with?
10 A Ever, or regularly, or both?
11 Q Well, let's start with regularly.
12 A I don't believe I interact with -- well, U.S. or worldwide?
13 Q For this question and the others, only U.S. agencies.
14 A Okay. Thank you.
15 I don't believe I have regular interaction with any U.S. Government agencies as 16 part of my role currently.
17 Q Okay. What about, I guess, on an ad hoc basis, which Federal agencies
18 have you interacted with?
19 A Yeah. In my time at Microsoft, as I recall, I've had some interaction with 20 CISA, very limited interaction with -- oh, that's not true. Sorry. I'd like to correct a 21 point. I do have interactions with USAID on a journalism project that we're doing.
22 Apologies for that. So USAID.
23 I have had maybe one interaction with the FBI FITF. That was to set up a
24 meeting that I don't recall ever occurred. It's possible I've had other limited
25 interactions, but it would have been like a one-off kind of interaction, as I recall.

1 Q Those government-industry sync meetings we were discussing back in 2020
2 when you were at CISA, are those still ongoing, and do you participate in them on the 3 industry side now?
4 A So, as I recall, when I started at Microsoft they were still ongoing. But I
5 don't recall attending them anytime recently. So I think at some point either I stopped
6 attending, or they stopped.
7 Q When you were attending as a -- as part of Microsoft, who else from 8 Microsoft would attend those meetings?
9 A As I recall, a representative from the Microsoft Threat Intelligence Group, or 10 MSTIC, as they're known, occasionally, and possibly one of my other teammates on 11 Democracy Forward.
12 I don't -- [redacted] may have attended at some point. I don't recall that. And then 13 maybe another member of the team. But I don't think it was consistent.
14 Q When was the last government-industry sync that you recall attending?
15 A I honestly don't recall when the last one was that I attended.
16 Q Do you think it was sometime this year?
17 A I really don't remember. I don't know.
18 Q When answering about which personnel from Microsoft may be attending,
19 would that include personnel from LinkedIn as well?
20 A That is possible, though I don't recall. It's certainly possible, but I don't 21 recall LinkedIn's participation.
22 Q Okay. For Microsoft's Threat Intelligence team, do you know if that's for 23 the company-wide or as including both LinkedIn and the rest of Microsoft, or only
24 Microsoft?
25 A I don't know the relationship between MSTIC and LinkedIn. I know

1 LinkedIn has their own capability as well, but I don't know if they coordinate regularly on
2 information or not.
3 Q Other than these standing government-industry sync meetings, does your
4 team have interactions with the MSTIC team?
5 A Yes, around cyber threats to some of the democratic institutions that we 6 work on.
7 Q Do you have familiarity with LinkedIn's content moderation policies?
8 A No.
9 Q Do you have familiarity with any of the content moderation policies for any
10 product or company within Microsoft?
11 A Familiarity? I'm aware of their existence. I have at times been asked to 12 look at -- I wouldn't even call them content moderation policies, per se.
13 So, for instance, I have looked at Search's general policies around -- that are 14 published publicly, but I wouldn't call those content moderation policies, per se. So 15 occasionally I'm asked to look at those.
16 Q And when you're asked to look at Search's policies, who is asking you to take 17 a look?
18 A It could -- just generally speaking, not even specific to Search, it could come 19 from the product team, or it could come from one of the lawyers that works for the 20 product team.
21 Q Do you recall approximately on how many occasions you've been asked to 22 take a look at Search's policies?
23 A Search specifically?
24 Q Yes.
25 A I don't. Not -- it's not a regular occurrence. Maybe once or twice.

1 Q And was there a particular aspect of the policies, or what was the purpose of
2 having you take a look at them?
3 A So my recollection generally is that -- well, specifically -- is that we had, in 4 June of 2022, we had adopted Microsoft's information integrity principles. They're
5 publicly available on our Democracy Forward website. There's four of them.
6 And so I was asked to look quickly, you know, quick review to ensure that I
7 thought that Search's approach generally aligned with the principles.
8 Q Other than assessing Search's policies and whether the policies are 9 consistent with the information integrity principles, do you recall other examples where 10 you were asked to take a look at content moderation policies?
11 A Again, I wouldn't define what Search's policies were as content moderation
12 policies. It's different. Microsoft's hard or different because we have so many 13 different product lines, many of which aren't -- we're not a traditional social media
14 company in that way, right?
15 So, yes, the search engine, we have things like Xbox, GitHub, that have policies as 16 well that are very different. They differ so wildly. And so that's why I hesitate a little 17 bit, because it's so different product to product.
18 To my recollection, I think I've been asked on one occasion to look at ads policy
19 sometime ago.
20 And then that may be it. My hesitation is only because the information integrity
21 principles were adopted across many product teams, but I wasn't asked to look at the 22 corresponding policies in all the cases of those product teams. And my review would be 23 just for the consistency to those -- that approach.
24 Q With the understanding that these -- you wouldn't describe them precisely
25 as content moderation policies, but for any policies related to the different products

1 within Microsoft, when you've been asked to conduct any sort of assessment or take a
2 look, has it been in any scenario other than to see if those policies are consistent with the 3 information integrity principles?
4 A Yes. I mean, I think generally I've been asked to look at, again, ads, just at a
5 high level, like take a look. But I don't recall specifically it having to apply to the 6 principles. I think it was, "Hey, can you look at these policies or this change in policy?"
7 just if there's any feedback.
8 Q And with respect to if there is any feedback, would these policies, as they 9 related to ads, did the policies relate to election-related ads?
10 A No. No. Not that I recall.
11 Q Okay. Was there a certain aspect within the policy or a particular concern
12 that the company was hoping you could assess when looking at the ad-related policies?
13 A I don't recall a specific concern. I think it was a change in the general
14 review around this. "Do you have thoughts on this approach?" Not even -- if it's 15 helpful.
16 At Microsoft, which I think is different, at least in my perception, than some of the 17 other companies, each individual product team sets their own policies, procedures, 18 process for how they administer that.
19 And so they may seek advice from a number of teams -- any number of teams. I
20 don't know how that works within any given product team. But they make the decisions
21 around how their policies or procedures are written, how they implement them. I have 22 no sort of authority to tell them what policies should or should not exist.
23 And so, for me, if, for example, the ads team comes, it's just a general feedback of,
24 "Oh, here are some thoughts on this." They may take them. They may not take them.
25 It's just feedback for them.

1 Q We'll stick with the ads example.

2 I mean, certainly you've got some expertise and experience as it relates to

3 elections and security.

4 To your understanding, why was the ads team coming to you to take a look at the

5 policy?

6 A Because of -- I mean, this is my perception -- because of my experience in

7 having the information integrity principles adopted.

8 Q When the Search team came to you, do you recall who specifically at Search

9 you interacted with?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And who was that?

12 A [redacted] -- I don't know how to -- [redacted].

13 Q Okay. And do you know who the leader of that team is, the Search team?

14 A I don't know who the sort of senior vice president or vice president might be.

15 Q Do you have any other points of contact besides [redacted] on the Search

16 team?

17 A I think he has a new employee, but I have not done any work with that

18 person that I recall. I think they may be on an email or something. But the prior

19 employee that I worked with is no longer at Microsoft.

20 Q And who is that?

21 A I don't know her last name. Her first name was [redacted] (ph).

22 Q And for the ads team, do you recall specifically who your point of contact

23 was, or who reached out to you to take a look at the policies?

24 A Yes. There is an attorney, a CELA attorney, named [redacted].

25 Q And do you know who the head of the ads team is?

1 A I do not.

2 Q You mentioned you can recall one brief interaction with the FBI's FITF

3 regarding potentially scheduling a meeting. You're not sure if the meeting ultimately

4 occurred or not.

5 To your understanding, since you've joined the company, have there been FBI FITF

6 meetings with Microsoft?

7 A Not in my experience. Again, I do not believe that meeting happened.

8 Q So, if a meeting were to have occurred, you would have been one of the 9 participants, is your understanding?

10 A I don't know. I don't know. It is certainly possible. Microsoft is a very

11 large company, as I learn every day, so it is possible that others have interactions. But I

12 don't know for sure.

13 Q Okay. What about prior to your time joining the company? Do you have 14 any knowledge of whether Microsoft was meeting with the FITF -- the FBI's FITF?

15 A I don't.

16 Q Do you recall who at the FBI you spoke to about potentially scheduling a

17 meeting?

18 A I don't recall her name, no.

19 Q You also said CISA was one of the agencies you've had some interactions

20 with since joining Microsoft. Do you recall the nature of those interactions?

21 A I recall providing a briefing -- well, being part of a briefing; it wasn't me

22 briefing -- on a project, I guess you'd call it, called ElectionGuard. And that

23 was -- ElectionGuard is an end-to-end verifiable election auditing technology, open

24 source, that State or local election officials and vendors could use to offer end-to-end

25 evidence of the integrity of the election.

1 And so I remember providing or being part of, in attendance at the briefing for
2 CISA on what ElectionGuard was and talking to them just about that.
3 And then -- I mean, I interact with CISA. they're at the same election meetings
4 that I would attend. The National Association of Secretaries of State, State election
5 directors. But that's not a formal Microsoft meeting. I will see them there.
6 I attended a call that CISA hosted around the war in Ukraine that had just started 7 in which they provided a briefing around the possible implications of the war to the 8 information environment around the critical infrastructure sectors. I recall that call.
9 There may have been other limited calls, but I don't recall any specific calls outside 10 of that.
11 Q Are you familiar with the Global Disinformation Index?
12 A I am, yes.
13 Q And what is that?
14 A GDI is a -- they're a nonprofit or a company -- again, I don't know their 15 status -- that identifies and I'll say rates sources of information, domains, news sources
16 and otherwise.
17 Q Did you work with GDI while you were at CISA?
18 A No, I don't recall working with GDI in my time at CISA.
19 Q What about while you were at Stanford?
20 A No, I don't recall working with GDI in my time at Stanford.
21 Q Have you worked with GDI while at Microsoft?
22 A Yes.
23 Q And what was the context of those interactions?
24 A So when I arrived at Microsoft there were already in place negotiations
25 around using GDI data to help inform various product teams' work around what we would

1 call trustworthiness indicators, so the ability to identify sources of information.
2 And so when I joined Microsoft I inherited sort of the finalization of the work with 3 GDI that had started, getting the contract finalized, and the product teams implemented
4 it however they needed to.
5 Q Which product teams were involved?
6 A By that point, I don't recall, because it was late enough in the process that I
7 think the product teams had already weighed in in some way, shape, or form. It was 8 kind of just finishing it.
9 Q And, to your knowledge, whatever was being negotiated, was it ultimately 10 finished? Was an agreement reached?
11 A There is an agreement to use GDI data that was reached, yes, or to have 12 access to GDI data. That's probably a better way to say.
13 Q Who is the primary person responsible at Microsoft for having the right to 14 access this GDI data?
15 A For having the right to access the data?
16 Q Well, or just for this issue, for the fact that Microsoft negotiated to be able 17 to access the -- to be able to access GDI's data, who is the point person at Microsoft with 18 the responsibility for overseeing it?
19 A So it's a difficult question to answer, only because each product team
20 decides what data they want to access and use and how to use it, and so I don't know 21 that there is a primary point person in that the data is made available and then the 22 product teams can take and use the data sort of as they see fit.
23 Q Do you know, for the Search team, who would be responsible for that?
24 A My experience is that [redacted], again, sort of does that, but I can't say for 25 sure. I don't know that that's -- he may have a totally different team that deals with

1 that. I don't know.

2 Q Yeah. What about LinkedIn?

3 A I don't know if LinkedIn uses or doesn't use that data or who would do that.

4 Q Do you have a primary point of contact at LinkedIn?

5 A So my primary point of contact at LinkedIn is largely related to work that we

6 do around the European Union code of practice, not these types of issues.

7 Q With any issues regarding -- we'll just stick broadly -- with the United States,

8 do you have a primary point of contact at LinkedIn?

9 A It would -- I mean, yes, but it's relatively infrequent.

10 So there is an attorney at LinkedIn named [redacted] (ph). I don't know

11 [redacted]'s (ph) last name. But he would be the --

12 Q Do you know if the ads team accesses GDI's data, if they're one of the 13 products?

14 A Yes, I believe they have. I don't know currently what they do with the ads

15 data or the GDI data.

16 Q And, to your understanding of the agreement with GDI, is it for a time period

17 that the company has access to GDI's data? Is GDI updating what's being provided?

18 A So I don't access the GDI data to be able to sort of give you a good feel for it.

19 But my understanding is, generally, at some point there is a -- there is data provided by

20 GDI that may include prior data or not. I don't know. And then it's -- it could be pulled 21 by the product teams if they need or use it.

22 Q Do you know what NewsGuard is?

23 A I do.

24 Q What is NewsGuard?

25 A NewsGuard is, again, a third-party, I think, company, I think, that provides

1 ratings of news sites per transparent journalistic processes. So they have criteria that
2 they assess news sites against that are public on their website.
3 Q Did you work with NewsGuard while you were at CISA?
4 A I do not recall working with NewsGuard in my time at CISA.
5 Q What about while you were at Stanford?
6 A I do not recall working with NewsGuard in my time at Stanford.
7 Q What about while at Microsoft?
8 A Yes.
9 Q Okay. What's the nature of your interactions with NewsGuard?
10 A So NewsGuard is another data set that we have available for the product
11 teams. I have regular meetings with NewsGuard in which we simply check in. They'll 12 update on sort of processes, more ratings that they've done or countries that they're 13 operating in, things like that.
14 Q Does Microsoft provide any updates in these meetings?
15 A Occasionally they'll ask me if I'm aware of if a product team needs something 16 or something like that.
17 Q With respect to GDI or NewsGuard, are you aware of any consideration
18 internally within Microsoft about how to account for any political bias from GDI or 19 NewsGuard?
20 A So, again, I don't know how the individual product teams implement the use
21 of the data. That's entirely in their purview or how they assess the information.
22 I do know that NewsGuard data or GDI data that is made available is just one of a
23 multitude of data points that they may have available to them. Again, it depends on the 24 product team and sort of how they implement. So I don't know how they assess, except 25 for these are two possible sources of data that they can use in sort of a myriad of possible

1 other ones.

2 Q When was the NewsGuard agreement negotiated?

3 A Before I was at Microsoft. I don't know.

4 Q During your time at Microsoft has anyone ever expressed any concerns

5 about if there is bias with the data that NewsGuard and GDI are providing?

6 A Internally, externally, both?

7 Q Both.

8 A So, with respect to NewsGuard, I mean, I'm not aware of any -- I have not

9 received any specific complaints as far as their bias or nonbias or sort of approach. I'm

10 aware that they've been asked about that and that there's been public reports about it,

11 but I don't -- it has not come directly to me in my time at Microsoft.

12 GDI, I'm aware of public reporting as well that led to a discussion that I was, what,

13 invited to or privy to around process improvements for the product team around sort of

14 how to implement and use any data and ensuring that no one singular data source was

15 determinative on making decisions, whatever those decisions might be for a product

16 team.

17 Q Just to clarify, the discussions you were privy to were internal Microsoft-only 18 discussions?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And when did those discussions occur?

21 A They've been ongoing.

22 Q When is the first time you recall having those discussions?

23 A I don't recall. Some months ago, but I don't recall sort of the timeframe.

24 Q Who from Microsoft has participated in these discussions?

25 A I don't recall every -- I mean, myself, [redacted], my boss, and then members of a

1 product team or CELA lawyers. But I don't recall sort of specifically all the people that
2 participated.
3 Q Which product teams do you recall participating?
4 A Specifically, as I recall, the ads team.
5 Q What about Search?
6 A I don't recall their participation, but that's possible.
7 Q Do you recall anyone from LinkedIn attending?
8 A I don't recall anyone from LinkedIn attending.
9 Q Do you recall how these discussions occur, if they were an in-person
10 meeting, an email chain?
11 A I believe, as I recall at least, that there was calls, conference calls.
12 Q And you mentioned that the discussions are ongoing. But since they 13 started to this point, what has been the takeaway, or has any agreement been reached
14 on --
15 A So I don't recall the specifics. I know there were -- I know that the team
16 worked to take some sort of actions -- I don't know the specific actions that were 17 taken -- and then to reevaluate, again, sort of generally their approach, not specific to any 18 one source of data, but to ensure that there was multiple data points used in their
19 process.
20 And I don't know where that stands as far as sort of whether it's been adopted or 21 not or implemented or not yet. I don't know.
22 Q And why were you included in these discussions?
23 A I mean, I don't know for sure except for my prior work with the GDI work.
24 Q And that's in reference to your finalizing negotiations when you first joined
25 the company?

1 A Yeah. Sort of finalized the last part of that, to bring the data on board.
2 Q For these internal discussions, at least among the folks from Microsoft who
3 were part of these discussions, what is their understanding of what bias GDI may have?
4 A I mean, I think you'd have to ask them what their sort of perception or
5 understanding was. I think there was just generally a recognition that having multiple 6 data points is beneficial to being able to administer the policies.
7 Q What's your understanding of what bias GDI may have?
8 A I don't know that I have an -- because I don't review or look at their data
9 specifically, I don't know that I have a deep understanding of their data or possible bias.
10 I know what the public conversation was around it and sort of the response.
11 Q What's your understanding of what the public allegations are regarding bias
12 in GDI?
13 A Yeah. My understanding was that, per some sort of article, that there was 14 concerns about GDI data targeting conservative groups in some way, shape, or form.
15 Q And is it that public reporting that spurred the ongoing discussions?
16 A I don't know. I was pulled in after the discussion started, so I don't sort of 17 know the genesis or how that began.
18 Q Okay. Do you know if there's internally been any sort of assessment to try 19 to determine the veracity of those allegations?
20 A Again, I don't know -- I know that there's sort of an ongoing review of the 21 policy surrounding just use of data in general to ensure greater use of multiple data
22 sources.
23 Q But what about are you aware of any internal assessment done by Microsoft
24 with respect specifically to GDI?
25 A I'm not aware -- that may be a thing that is taking place or took place, but

1 I'm not aware of sort of a formal review or report or something like that. It's certainly
2 possible, but not something I'm aware of.
3 Q In these ongoing discussions, it sounds like related, in part, to GDI, is it GDI
4 only, or are there other data sources that are being discussed?
5 A Well, yeah. But by the nature of needing to use more than one data
6 source, you'll have multiple data sources kind of considered saying, "We have to have 7 multiple sources to kind of make determinations here."
8 Q All right. What other data sources besides GDI have been referenced in 9 these internal discussions regarding the risk of bias?
10 A I don't recall the other specific ones, because, again, product teams have 11 access to multiple data sources. I just know that there has been a conversation around 12 the desire to use multiple data sources that could include any number of the ones that 13 are available to the teams.
14 Q Are you aware of any other data sources from Microsoft that have been 15 accused of targeting conservatives?
16 A Not that I recall, no.
17 Q Okay. Who is your point of contact at GDI?
18 A Probably [redacted] [redacted]. Is that his name? Or [redacted]. I always get [redacted]
19 and [redacted] --
20 Q Anybody else at GDI that you recall being in touch with?
21 A I mean, there are other folks that are -- I think I've emailed with or been on 22 emails with, but I don't recall besides sort of [redacted] and [redacted].
23 Q Is GDI aware of the ongoing discussions that Microsoft is having?
24 A I don't know. I think so, but I don't know for sure.
25 Q Okay. Has GDI provided any sort of response to Microsoft about the public

1 allegations that have been made against GDI?

2 A I'm not aware of any response from GDI regarding the public allegations.

3 Q Are you familiar with the advisory MDM Subcommittee to CISA?

4 A I am, yes.

5 Q And what's your understanding of what that was?

6 A I believe that was a advisory committee to the Director around -- I mean, it's

7 pretty self-explanatory, but I guess around issues of MDM. But I don't know their exact

8 sort of charter or role.

9 Q And this all postdates -- well postdates your time at CISA?

10 A I was not aware of the existence of something like that in my time at CISA.

11 Q Yeah. And did you overlap at all with Jen Easterly?

12 A I did not, no.

13 Q No? Did you attend one of the MDM Subcommittee meetings?

14 A I believe I did.

15 Q Do you have any memory of who invited you?

16 A If I recall, I was invited by -- I don't recall. I think it might have been 17 Kim Wyman, but I cannot say for sure.

18 Q When you attended, was it while you were at Microsoft?

19 A I don't know the timing.

1

2 [Masterson Exhibit No. 11

3 Was marked for identification.]

4 BY [redacted]:

5 Q This will be exhibit 11. So I'll give you a moment to review. These are the

6 meeting minutes from February 15th, 2022, of this advisory subcommittee. And the 7 notes reflect that you provided a briefing at some point during the meeting.

8 A Okay.

9 Q Does this refresh your memory at all about presenting at this meeting?

10 A I mean, vaguely, yes. I recall the meeting.

11 Q Okay. Do you know who Kate Starbird is?

12 A I do, yes.

13 Q Who is she?

14 A According to this document, she's the associate professor for Human

15 Centered Design and Engineering at University of Washington.

16 Q Prior to this meeting, what interactions had you had with Dr. Starbird?

17 A So in my time at Stanford I attended meetings and interacted with 18 Dr. Starbird as part of the Virality Project work.

19 Q And what about during your tenure at CISA?

20 A I don't recall interacting with Dr. Starbird at CISA. It's possible. But I don't 21 recall her being on any of the calls.

22 Q Have you interacted with her during your time with Microsoft?

23 A I mean --

24 Q Outside of this meeting. Sorry.

25 A Yes. So we -- there was an existing relationship before I got to Microsoft

1 with UW, as you might expect being a company being based in Redmond, Washington,
2 and had had conversations with Dr. Starbird about her work, support for her work, as well
3 as support to UW in general.
4 Q Regarding support of her work, could you spell out a little bit more regarding
5 Microsoft's support of her work?
6 A Possible support to her work or UW's work in general.
7 So, for instance, Microsoft supported prior to -- sort of as I was arriving, work
8 around a -- sort of like a media and information literacy escape room, virtual escape room
9 concept. So we supported that work at UW, items like that. And we had 10 discussed -- they sort of would send us proposals.
11 I don't recall any specific support to her. We may have, like, Azure credits
12 sometimes or things like that. But I don't recall specifically what we did or didn't 13 support specific to Dr. Starbird.
14 Q Has, to your knowledge, Microsoft provided any sort of support to EIP?
15 A Not to my knowledge, no.
16 Q If I could have you -- call your attention to the last big bullet point on page 1,
17 Bates number 4576. It details -- whoever the notetaker is -- what they understood you 18 were presenting on.
19 A couple sentences in it says: "The CISA MDM mission dates back to 2018 when 20 a task force was created to work with election teams to understand what election MDM
21 would look like."
22 To your understanding, is that -- the task force being referenced, is that CISA's
23 Countering Foreign Influence Task Force?
24 A That would be my assumption. I did not obviously take these notes or 25 approve these notes, so I can't say for sure, but that would be my assumption, that that's

1 a reference.

2 Q A few lines down there is a question: "What would the conversation look

3 like coming in from a foreign adversary as well as inside the domestic space?"

4 Do you recall, during your briefing, if there was any discussion about foreign and

5 domestic actors playing a role in the information environment?

6 A I don't recall that specific discussion, no.

7 Q What about just generally? Was there discussion about foreign and 8 domestic actors?

9 A I don't recall. I don't know.

10 Q To your understanding, does CISA have a role to play with respect to both

11 foreign and domestic actors as it relates to MDM?

12 A I mean, I think, at least as I -- as noted here, we'll say, and as I've said I think

13 multiple times today, actor agnostic, CISA's role, or at least my role as I perceived it when

14 I was at CISA, was, as it says here, to build a community that allows and amplifies the

15 voices of the trusted sources of information around elections, which is the State and local 16 election officials.

1

2 [4:34 p.m.]

3 BY [redacted]:

4 Q Besides amplifying, does CISA play a role in countering mis-, dis-, and

5 malinformation?

6 A I mean, again, I don't know if you count something. I consider rumor

7 control to be that amplification. And that would be, in some sense, I guess, sort of

8 countering narratives that are targeting the election's process, and ensuring that we're

9 amplifying the facts as per what the State and local election officials are doing and

10 supporting that community. That's how I viewed my work at CISA.

11 Q To your understanding, does CISA play any role, in addition to any 12 amplification efforts, with respect to assessing the veracity of content or facilitating the 13 removal of content online?

14 A That is not -- that is not work that I did in my time at CISA, no, that I recall.

15 Q To your knowledge, has CISA ever done either of those?

16 A Will you restate what the two are?

17 Q Sure. Assessing the veracity of content or facilitating the removal of 18 content online.

19 A The only aspects of that that I might consider "yes" is that rumor control

20 directly states the facts about any given -- not a specific piece of content. It was never

21 focused on a specific piece of content. But, you know, certainly offers -- says right there,

22 "fact," about the election administration process as per what State and local election

23 officials may be saying about a given narrative, right, so not a specific piece of content,

24 but certainly a given narrative.

25 Q With the understanding it was not your specific team, but with the CFI team,

1 with the tools and techniques and authority that they had to try to counter foreign
2 influence, was there anything that they were able to do with respect to foreign actors
3 that they were not able to do with respect to domestic actors?
4 A I don't know. I don't know.
5 Q Who would best know the answer to that question?
6 A I mean, presumably, those who ran the Countering Foreign Influence Task
7 Force, and I would say specifically when it was chartered by Secretary Nielsen. I mean,
8 there was -- there's a document that sort of outlined their purpose. I don't know the 9 details of, sort of, what it laid out, but that, to me, would sort of lay out their purpose at 10 least.
11 Q Who was in charge of the team, and this is either end of 2020, beginning of 12 2021, when the CFI Task Force is renamed as the MDM team?
13 A I wasn't at CISA at that time, but my understanding is that Brian Scully was in 14 charge. But I can't say for sure because I wasn't there.
15 Q We can take these back. Thanks.
16 During your year at Stanford, you mentioned work with the Virality Project. To 17 your recollection, what subject areas did you work on with respect to mis- or
18 disinformation?
19 A So my -- my role at the Virality Project, again, was -- and it's public, so I
20 assume you already have it -- but to provide blog posts and then -- blog posts and analysis
21 around policies, and possible approaches, proposing possible approaches for 22 government, nongovernment, a little bit platform -- but I didn't do a lot of platform policy
23 recommendations, that wasn't my area -- and then also distributing the reports, the 24 weekly reports to sort of those groups that I mentioned before.
25 Q Who from Stanford do you recall would conduct sort of analysis or reports

1 on platforms policies?

2 A So, I mean, there's public reports that folks have conducted. A number of

3 people I'm sure did it. I don't recall all the people that did it. But I recall, you know,

4 some students and Renee and Alex possibly. But, I mean, again there's public reports on

5 the Virality Project website that would outline that.

6 Q Did you ever meet with HHS as -- while you were at Stanford?

7 A Yes, I think so.

8 Q And do you recall the context?

9 A The context I recall was a meeting that we hosted with the Surgeon General,

10 and I believe HHS was on that. But I can't say for sure like sort of the planning.

11 Q And for the call that you remembered with respect to the Surgeon General's

12 office, or -- let me clarify. Was it the Office of the Surgeon General or the Surgeon

13 General himself?

14 A It was a meeting with the Surgeon General himself. So there was a public,

15 sort of, I don't know, public meeting, event. That's the better word.

16 Q Other than the public meeting with the Surgeon General, do you recall any 17 meetings with the Office of the Surgeon General or just HHS generally?

18 A I don't recall. It's possible, but it was not -- certainly not a standing

19 meeting or a regular meeting that occurred that I remember.

20 Q How would you say -- how much of your bandwidth was spent working on 21 the Virality Project during your first we'll say 6 months at Stanford?

22 A I don't recall, like, a percentage. The other item I was working on at the

23 time was an election security report that was published, as well as a sort of video

24 lookback at the 2020 election from the perspective of election officials, right, almost like a

25 video diary from the perspective of election officials.

1 So I was working on those reports throughout my time at Stanford, as well as on
2 the Virality Project work. So I don't know an exact breakdown, but those were the sort
3 of core things I was working on after the first month or so.
4 Q Prior to your work at Stanford, had you had any experience working with 5 health-related misinformation, disinformation issues?
6 A Not that I recall.
7 Mr. Masterson. Thank you.
8 [redacted]. This will be exhibit 12.
9 [Masterson Exhibit No. 12
10 Was marked for identification.]
11 Mr. Masterson. Is it safe to assume I don't need to be able to read the sort of --
12 BY [redacted]:
13 Q Yes.
14 A Okay. Just making sure because I can't and I'm old.
15 Q I can't either for the record.
16 A Okay.
17 Q First, just at a high level, do you recall this email exchange or the context at 18 all?
19 A No.
20 Q Do you know who [redacted] is?
21 A I don't recall knowing a [redacted].
22 Q The -- first, the email address is to [redacted].
23 A Uh-huh.
24 Q Do you know who that is?
25 A I recall her being someone that I interacted with from time to time at my

1 time at Stanford. I don't know her exact position.

2 Q To your understanding, what was the purpose or nature of when you were

3 interacting with her?

4 A Specifically I remember working or being in communication with her, along

5 with others, around the Surgeon General's event, but I don't -- I don't know what her role

6 was.

7 Q And do you recognize the name Ann Kim from HHS?

8 A I don't, but --

9 Q On the second page, Bates number 8578, there's a -- a message from

10 Cam -- that's how he signed it in his email -- where he says:

11 Ignoring the fact that Ivermectin is a useful drug for humans undermines trust in 12 the voices raised in concern about use for COVID.

13 And it goes on to say: The tone has been condescending, leaves out half the

14 story, and thus reinforces many existing conspiracy theories about why this cheap drug is 15 being ignored in favor of the new hot and expensive thing.

16 Independent of this specific email exchange, do you recall, during your time at

17 Stanford, being part of any discussions about how to counter narratives with respect

18 specifically to Ivermectin?

19 A I do not. That wasn't -- that wasn't a big focus of my work, sort of the 20 countering or analyzing narratives.

21 Q Okay. Do you recall being part of any discussions related to Ivermectin that

22 HHS was a part of?

23 A I don't, no.

24 Q Do you know who Cam is referring to when he says the tone has been 25 condescending?

A I do not. I don't recall this exchange at all.

[redacted]. We can take these back.

Ms. Christian. Is this 13?

[redacted]. Yes. This will be exhibit 13.

Mr. Masterson. Okay.

[Masterson Exhibit No. 13

Was marked for identification.]

BY [redacted]:

Q The second page, which is Bates number 7861, there's an email from you. A couple of paragraphs down you say:

We would love to find some time next week to talk about the model we created at SIO and how we believe it can support CISA's ongoing MDM activities.

Which SIO are you -- what are you referring to?

A So I don't recall this exchange specifically. I don't know. I don't know what model I might be referring to. It may -- may be about the approach to one of the projects but I don't know specifically what I'm referring to there. And I don't recall -- I don't recall this conversation.

Q In September of 2021, you were still working on the Virality Project?

A Yes.

Q Okay. Is there any other projects that you were working on at this time that you recall?

A Yes, the election security projects that I was working on.

Q You mentioned the one that you, if I quote you correctly, is almost like a video diary?

A Uh-huh.

1 Q Were there other election security projects besides that that you were
2 working on?
3 A Yes, there's a report that I published on, sort of, lessons learned and 4 approaches to improving election security and resilience moving forward.
5 Q Okay. Besides the video diary and that report, were there other
6 election-related projects that you were working on?
7 A Not that I recall.
8 Q Of those projects that you recall working on, do any of those fit into 9 the -- what type of model SIO had created?
10 A I mean, some -- some of the information in the report may be useful. I 11 don't -- I don't know. I don't know -- I really don't know what that's referencing to.
12 Q At the bottom, there's -- the last sentence from Geoff, it says:
13 Last, we'd love to find time to speak with you about the Election Integrity
14 Partnership and the Virality Project and what those models look like in support of larger 15 efforts to counter MDM.
16 Did you receive a briefing from Stanford about what EIP was and its role?
17 A So I was at Stanford at this time.
18 Q Yes. But you weren't during the Election Integrity Partnership, right?
19 Ms. Christian. I'm sorry. Could you point me to where you are? I was flipping 20 back and forth.
21 [redacted]. Sure. And we are a couple of minutes over. So this will be the 22 last --
23 [redacted] You can finish the question.
24 [redacted]. Thanks.
25 [redacted]. We are looking at --

1 Ms. Christian. It's down at the middle.

2 [redacted]. -- it's Bates number 7861.

3 Ms. Christian. Okay.

4 [redacted]. Last sentence.

5 Ms. Christian. Okay.

6 Mr. Masterson. So I apologize. What was the question?

7 BY [redacted]:

8 Q Sure. I guess the email exchange suggests that when you're referring to 9 the model in your response that you're referring to EIP and the Virality Project.

10 In the earlier hour, we were discussing, you said you weren't part in any

11 meaningful sense EIP while you were at CISA.

12 Did you get a briefing from Stanford? How did you come to, you know, feel

13 prepared to talk about or perhaps you don't? But at this point in September 2021,

14 would you have been in a position to talk about the EIP model to your former colleagues

15 at CISA?

16 A So my read of this, as documented, is that -- is that others at Stanford also

17 would participate, right? So I don't know that I perceived -- again, I don't -- I don't recall

18 this exact exchange but that I perceived myself as needing to be the one to do that.

19 Also that by this point, the EIP report had been released and it sort of outlines at

20 least how the EIP approach worked, and I would have read that. So I at least had that 21 understanding from reading the report.

22 So I don't -- I don't -- I mean, I don't know, one, that I would have been the one

23 that would have had to do that. And two, you know, there was public information out

24 there about the approach EIP was taking through the report at that point.

25 [redacted]. Okay. Can we go off the record?

1 [Discussion off the record.]

2 [redacted] It's 5:02. We can go back on the record.

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q Mr. Masterson, I want to return to the discussion of GDI and NewsGuard

5 that we had in the prior hour.

6 Just again, for the record, can you state what kind of products these companies

7 produce?

8 A So my understanding of the data that they provide to Microsoft is ratings of 9 news or other information sources.

10 Q And Microsoft has a contract with both GDI and with NewsGuard, correct?

11 A That's my understanding, yes.

12 Q So is it fair to say that Microsoft has determined that those ratings are useful

13 for it?

14 A So, again, the product teams sort of determine use of that information. So

15 we wouldn't -- the product teams have determined some usefulness from using that data.

16 What it is or how they use it, I'm not positive.

17 Q Okay. Is it fair to say you don't know the value of the contract, do you?

18 A I don't.

19 Q Is it fair to say that Microsoft generally doesn't have contracts with 20 companies if there's not some use to be derived from whatever service or product it's 21 getting from that company?

22 A Again, my experience with this is that the product teams have found use in

23 the data --

24 Q Okay.

25 A -- in some way.

1 Q Okay. And my point is just that this is a business decision, right? Like it's 2 Microsoft wouldn't have a contract. They wouldn't spend the money on a contract if 3 the product wasn't of some use to it.
4 A I would think not.
5 Q You referenced that you had heard about something about GDI and
6 allegations about bias at GDI through public sources. Do you recall what public sources
7 those were?
8 A I don't recall the sort of news outlet or news story that was run. I don't.
9 Q You don't recall, for example, if it was Fox News or if it was another source?
10 A I don't.
11 Q Okay. But you had said that you'd not -- you didn't recall internal 12 conversations about those allegations specifically?
13 A Again, what I recall is conversations around the use of data from or sources 14 generally and finding, or the product teams evaluating their policies and procedures to 15 use multiple data points.
16 Q But you've not been part of any internal conversations at Microsoft that 17 commented on allegations about bias at GDI specifically?
18 A I don't recall any specific conversations. Again, I've been sort of on the 19 email chain around this issue, but I don't recall any specific conversations about that.
20 Q Okay. In your current position at Microsoft, you don't do content
21 moderation, correct?
22 A Correct, I do not.
23 Q But you do, on occasion, as you talked through, have interactions with 24 Federal Government agencies?
25 A On -- yeah, on rare occasions, yes.

1 Q So I think you mentioned CISA you've had conversations with, for example.
2 A Yes.
3 Q Throughout these conversations, has anybody from the Federal Government
4 ever ordered you to remove a post, an account, or other content from Microsoft's
5 platforms?
6 A Not in my experience, no.
7 Q Okay. Has anyone from the Federal Government ever tried to pressure or 8 coerce you into removing a post, an account, or other content from Microsoft's
9 platforms?
10 A Not in my experience, no.
11 [redacted] Okay. Thank you. We can go off the record.
12 [Discussion off the record.]
13 [redacted]. Can we go back on the record, please?
14 BY [redacted]:
15 Q Mr. Masterson, when you left Stanford, was there anyone who filled your 16 role or was it intended to be a kind of short-term stint?
17 A I'm not aware of anyone taking my role. And, yeah, it was a fellowship. It 18 was intended to be a temporary.
19 Q With EIP, to your knowledge, did CIS participate?
20 A I don't know. I know they're not listed as partner, but I don't know if they 21 participated or not.
22 Q To your knowledge, did the EI-ISAC participate?
23 A I don't know.
24 Q Do you know what a Jira ticket is?
25 A Generally or specifically?

1 Q Specifically with reference to the EIP.

2 A So specifically -- well, so I know what a Jira ticket is specifically to Virality

3 Project, So I would assume it might apply in the same or similar way to EIP, though I can't

4 say for sure.

5 So Jira is a ticketing system used by any number of organizations and companies

6 to allow for tracking of a ticket, right? So Help Desk will use it in the IT sense, right?

7 And so my understanding is that Jira was used as part of EIP. I know it was used as part

8 of Virality Project to track and escalate tickets that they were following.

9 Q For the tickets as they were used for the Virality Project, who had access to 10 we'll say comment on those tickets?

11 A I don't --

12 Ms. Christian. I couldn't hear you. What did you say?

13 BY [redacted]:

14 Q To comment on those tickets if that's the proper term or --

15 A I don't know. I actually don't know. I don't recall -- so I may have had

16 access but I don't recall ever accessing the Jira system and it certainly was not part of 17 regular work that I did. I don't recall using the Jira system in my time at Stanford.

18 Q Do you recall anyone explaining to you the differences of how Jira was used

19 previously for EIP?

20 A No.

21 Q When communicating with people by -- with the Virality Project, when you

22 were doing the communications, was it always by email to your recollection?

23 A I mean, I certainly had phone calls and, you know, meetings. Email would

24 be another primary source. Again, I don't recall ever using the Jira system as part of my

25 work. So it would have been email or conference calls or the like.

1 Q Do you know if anyone at Stanford was communicating with social media
2 companies via the Jira ticket for the Virality Project?
3 A I don't know for sure. I think the ticketing system was possibly used in that
4 way, but I don't for sure because I didn't -- I didn't use it. There's a description in the 5 Virality Project document, I believe, about sort of how Jira was used, I think.
6 Q Who at Stanford was responsible for the day-to-day management of the 7 Virality Project?
8 A I mean, I think Alex, and possibly Renee. That was at least who I
9 understood to be in charge.
10 Q When you joined Stanford, did you know that you'd be working on the 11 Virality Project?
12 A I don't recall. I want to say no, that I don't recall sort of the existence of 13 the Virality Project. But there was, you know, there was a statement of work. I don't 14 recall it including the Virality Project, but I can't say for sure.
15 Ms. Christian. [redacted], this is 15?
16 [redacted]. I think 14.
17 [Masterson Exhibit No. 14
18 Was marked for identification.]
19 BY [redacted]:
20 Q Do you recognize this email chain?
21 A I do not.
22 Q If I could have you turn to Bates number 952. Take a look at [redacted]
23 [redacted]'s email at 1:12 p.m. The second sentence says:
24 We just got misinformation@cisecurity.org up and running this morning. We 25 have some additional configuration to do on the back end to alert CISA and EIP.

1 Do you recognize the email address misinformation@cisecurity.org?

2 A Vaguely. I think I recall, perhaps, knowing of its existence. I don't know,

3 like, when I learned of it, right? It could have been at my time at CISA or afterwards.

4 Q What was its purpose?

5 A I don't know.

6 Q Is it still in use today?

7 A I don't know.

8 Q [redacted] writes in that next sentence:

9 We have some additional configuration to do on the back end to alert CISA and

10 EIP.

11 Do you know what he's referring to?

12 A I don't.

13 Q To your knowledge, was there a system by which CIS would alert both CISA

14 and EIP?

15 A I don't know.

16 Q There are -- looks like four people from CISA included on this email chain,

17 not including [redacted], which I understand is one of the interns. Is that right?

18 A Yes.

19 Q You, [redacted], Brian Scully, Geoff Hale, those are all full-time CISA

20 personnel. Is that right?

21 A Yes, at the time of this email.

22 Q Do you recall any sort of alert system between CIS and CISA, independent of 23 whether EIP was also part of that alert system?

24 A In general? So the ISAC had an alert system of sorts for reporting of cyber

25 and physical security threats, incidents, threat intelligence, items like that, right?

1 So they had an alert system that utilized the traffic light protocol, you know,
2 green, yellow, red, as far as how information could be shared.
3 Specific to this, I don't -- I don't recall being, in my work, being a part of an alert
4 system, no.
5 Q What about anyone else at CISA? Was Brian Scully ever part of a different
6 alert system other than the EI-ISAC one you just referenced?
7 A I don't know if he was part of an alert system. I don't know.
8 Q Do you recognize the email addresses on Bates number 948 from [redacted]'s
9 email to [redacted] and the CFI team? There's a reference to 10 jira@2020partnership.atlassian.net. And then there's the one email address we were 11 discussing earlier, the misinformation@cisecurity.org, and then, also,
12 misinformationreportingportal@cisecurity.org.
13 Let me just restate that question.
14 Do you recognize the Jira email address?
15 A I do not, no.
16 Q Do you recognize the longer cisecurity.org email address, Misinformation
17 Reporting Portal?
18 A That -- no, I don't recall that email address.
19 Q To your knowledge, was there ever a Misinformation Reporting Portal
20 created other than, or independent from, EIP, the EI-ISAC, and the switchboarding
21 forwarding of emails?
22 A I don't know whether CIS ever stood up a Misinformation Reporting Portal or 23 not. I don't -- I don't recall.
24 Q Who at CISA during this time, fall 2020, would be most likely to know if CIS
25 were to stand up a Misinformation Reporting Portal?

A In all likelihood, Brian would have been the most likely to know.

[redacted]. We can take these back.

[redacted]. This will be exhibit 15.

Mr. Masterson. Okay.

[Masterson Exhibit No. 15

Was marked for identification.]

BY [redacted]:

Q Do you -- do you recall a meeting taking place in late October 2020 between EIP and the EIS team?

A I do not.

Q During this time, you were head of the EIS?

A Yes.

Q And you received the meeting invite. Is that right?

A It appears I did based on this email.

Q To your knowledge, why would a meeting like this be taking place?

A Based on just this email -- again, I don't recall this meeting taking place, or if it did take place, or what the nature of the discussion was. I -- I don't know honestly.

It -- it reads to me like EIP wanted to share with us something they were about to perhaps report on, but I cannot say for sure. And I don't recall this. It's only a 15-minute meeting. I don't know.

Q If CISA was receiving Jira tickets from EIP, is that something you would have had knowledge of, given your role at CISA?

A I don't recall having knowledge or lack of knowledge whether or not anyone was receiving Jira tickets. I don't know that.

Q Independent of whether you have knowledge or not, if CISA were to be on

1 the receiving end of Jira tickets, is that something that likely would have gone across your
2 desk or your team's scope of responsibilities?
3 A I don't know. Not necessarily, but I can't say for sure whether or not it
4 would have or not, given, you know, the responsibilities I had around ESI and election
5 security and Brian's responsibilities. I don't know whether that would have and I don't
6 recall myself receiving Jira tickets, certainly not something I recall happening, or the team,
7 my team's, receipt of Jira tickets. I don't know.
8 Q How frequently were you talking to Brian Scully during September and 9 October of 2020?
10 A Frequently. He was located close to us, and there was, you know, shared 11 work around the election.
12 Q Would you say daily?
13 A Again, it's hard for me to say. I'm really not trying to be dodgy, because I
14 may have been traveling, right? I may have been out of the office. It's hard for me to 15 say at any given time whether or not it was daily, weekly, whatever the case may be,
16 depending on what I was doing in the midst of that.
17 Also at this time, 10-29-20, I was located in Cincinnati, right? I had moved to 18 Cincinnati by this point. And so it's harder for me to sort of estimate, but I had regular 19 interaction with Brian for sure.
20 Q What about with CIS? How frequently would you interact with CIS in 21 September or October of 2020?
22 A Independent of the ISAC?
23 Q We'll ask both ways, first independent of the ISAC and then including.
24 A So I'm going to reverse it, if that's okay.
25 Q Sure.

A I interacted with the ISAC regularly, I mean, virtually every day, because of the need to want to ensure that information was reaching election officials, that they were sharing information, you know, any threat indicators, anything like that. So I certainly would have been communicating with the ISAC.

CIS is harder for me to estimate. I don't -- I don't recall. I mean, you know, I had interactions with [redacted], or primarily [redacted], I would say, at CIS. I knew [redacted] and [redacted]. I interacted with [redacted], and [redacted], but I wouldn't say it was common for me.

Q Do you know if Brian was interacting with [redacted] and [redacted]?

A I don't know both whether he was or how much he was.

Q When you're interacting, when you say you're interacting with the ISAC, are the personnel you're interacting with at the ISAC, are they ultimately CIS personnel? Is that just for the same clarity?

A My understanding, though you should ask them, is that EI-ISAC employees are CIS employees. That's my understanding.

[redacted]. We can take these back.

This will be exhibit 16.

Mr. Masterson. Okay.

[Masterson Exhibit No. 16
Was marked for identification.]

BY [redacted]:

Q First, with the understanding that there's not -- there's redactions, but it does not appear your email is on this chain. Does this email chain look familiar at all to you? Do you recognize any parts of it?

A No.

Q If I could have you turn to the second page, which is Bates number 123,

1 there's a "from" at the top of the page that says Misinformation Reports. And it says at 2 cisecurity.org. Obviously, there's a redaction, but that's the same email domain name
3 we looked at a couple of minutes ago. Is that right?
4 A It appears to be.
5 Q And then it's sent to Brian Scully, CISA Central, CFITF, multiple Atlassian
6 email addresses.
7 First, are those Atlassian email domains, are those the same as the -- same domain
8 as the email address we looked at two exhibits ago?
9 A Is it okay for me to look at the exhibits?
10 Q Yes, please.
11 A Also there's a redaction.
12 Q Yes. But the part after the "at," this would be Bates number 948 CIS.
13 A It appears to have the same after the "at."
14 Q If I could have you turn to the front page of this exhibit, which is Bates
15 number 122. Again, there are redactions, but the "from" is from a cisa.dhs.gov email
16 address, sending it to multiple Twitter addresses. It's addressed to the Twitter Gov
17 Team, and it says in the second sentence:
18 The ticket is also tagged EIP-572.
19 To your understanding of how Jira tickets worked at least with respect to the 20 Virality Project, is that in reference to an EIP Jira ticket number?
21 A I don't -- I don't know. And I promise I'm not being difficult in that 22 I -- again, I don't recall accessing the Jira ticketing system at any point. It is possible I
23 did, but I don't recall doing so. And so don't know that I'd be familiar with what the 24 tagging on the ticketing system might be.
25 Q To your understanding, how would someone from CISA know what the EIP

1 number was for this report?

2 A I don't know. Again, I'm not familiar with both the process or what the

3 ticketing system produced.

4 Q As mentioned earlier, we got the similar disclosure. Got perhaps identical

5 to the ones we were looking at the other switchboarding exhibits in the first and second

6 hour of this interview.

7 Because the email appears to be being forwarded, would Twitter be able to see

8 what's beneath the email, including the prior message showing that CISA is receiving

9 communications from CIS the same time EIP is?

10 A I don't know. I mean, I wasn't included on this email, as you noted. I

11 mean, based on what you've presented to me here, one might be able to say yes. But I

12 don't know how the process sort of produced it and specific to this one to say for sure

13 yes.

14 But based on what you've given me here, it would appear that you could have the

15 email history, which is what I think you're asking, but I don't know, having not been on 16 this.

17 Q To you, does this suggest involvement of CISA in EIP?

18 A I don't know. I don't know how you would define "involvement." This

19 suggests to me that there are emails with CISA and EIP on them.

20 Q There's an email at the very top of the chain, and the whole "to" line is 21 redacted. The Bates numbers reflect this was produced to the committee by CISA.

22 In November of 2020, CISA is forwarding the email to someone else, saying, you

23 know:

24 Please find reporting forwarded to Twitter below.

25 Do you know what the purpose of that top email being forwarded?

1 A I -- I don't know what the purpose is or who sent it even, given the "from."
2 So I don't know who sent it to even be able to guess at the purpose.
3 Q With respect to CISA in the context that this is, you know, it says from CFITF,
4 there's CISA email addresses, what would you understand the terms "OCC" and "Privacy"
5 to mean for an internal CISA document?
6 A So, again, without knowing here, OCC was counsel's office and Privacy was 7 the privacy lawyer's office, generally speaking. I don't know -- that could be who this
8 went to here, but I don't know for sure.
9 Q Do you know if CISA had any sort of protocol or communications with social
10 media companies had to be forwarded to OCC and Privacy?
11 A I don't know.
12 [redacted]. We can take these back.
13 Mr. Leland. Counsel, how much longer do you think you'll have? We're getting 14 to the point you're presenting the witness with documents he's not on and asking him
15 what the recipients of those documents and how they might interpret it.
16 [redacted]. Well, he's been on the other exhibits, and the exhibits are directly
17 relevant to that one. But I don't think we'll have much longer. We'll certainly -- this 18 will be our last hour.
19 BY [redacted]:
20 Q To your knowledge, while you were at CISA, did CISA make any efforts to try 21 to counter disinformation sent via text message?
22 A To my knowledge, I don't recall that specifically taking place. It is possible
23 that, for instance, a State or local election official received something via text message,
24 text message, and screenshotted and shared it or something, but I don't recall a specific 25 incident or issue around that.

1 Q And you don't recall just at a general level, right? Like, certainly, everyone
2 is well aware there's research being done on misinformation on social media platforms.
3 Do you recall just even general discussions of CISA's work in that space and how it
4 might apply to communications being sent via text message?
5 A I do not, no.
6 Mr. Masterson. Karen, can I get a bottle of water?
7 Ms. Christian. Sorry. I should have shared it earlier. There you go.
8 Mr. Masterson. Thank you.
9 [redacted]. This will be exhibit 17.
10 Mr. Masterson. Okay.
11 [Masterson Exhibit No. 17
12 Was marked for identification.]
13 BY [redacted]:
14 Q Do you recognize this email exchange?
15 A I do not.
16 Q Who's [redacted]?
17 A [redacted] was a staff member of the Internet Observatory towards the 18 end of my time at Stanford.
19 Q Do you remember just a high level, what sorts of projects or what you were 20 doing with [redacted] while you were at Stanford?
21 A I don't specifically. I believe [redacted] was brought in to deal with policy and 22 issues around policy. He was, if I recall correctly, D.C.-based. So it was a 23 policy-centered discussion, but I don't recall working with [redacted] on anything specific.
24 Q Do you recall any discussions with CIS directly or with others regarding CIS
25 near the end of your time at Stanford about what sort of role CIS could or should play in

1 the upcoming 2022 election?

2 A I don't. I don't recall a specific discussion. I mean, I see, you know,

3 obviously, the content of the email, but I do not recall the specific call or sort of the 4 purpose of what it was.

5 Q With the understanding you don't recall this specific email exchange, your

6 email at the bottom of 15533 says:

7 I've been pounding on them for 2 months to do what they do best.

8 To your understanding, what is that it CIS does best, at least in the context of your

9 interactions with them?

10 A Yeah, and just to be clear, I can't say for sure this is what I'm referring to 11 here because I don't recall sort of the specific conversation.

12 But generally speaking, my experience with CIS is what they do best is providing,

13 well, twofold:

14 One, best practices and services to improve the sort of security and resilience of

15 an operation, so they issue a number of tools, best practices around Windows security

16 database security, things like that. And so, that's one.

17 And then, two, obviously my experience with CIS with the ISAC is that they, you

18 know, did a very effective job in my experience operating the elections ISAC and

19 supporting the election community with the risk information they needed, threat

20 information they needed, best practices, regular kind of contact, but not to overwhelm

21 them so they don't read the emails anymore.

22 So they did a very good job in sort of that communications and hub role that they

23 served within the EI-ISAC.

2 [5:45 p.m.]

3 BY [redacted]:

4 Q Do you recall at any point, in 2020, anything related up to the 2020 election,

5 anything related up to the 2022 election, where CIS was considering expanding their

6 responsibilities further than you thought they were capable of or should be trying to do?

7 A I don't recall, except for generally I recall CIS on occasion looking for 8 additional business opportunities.

9 And so, again, I don't know specifically what this was referring to, but at times CIS

10 in their sort of quest to identify additional opportunities lost focus on what they did well.

11 But I don't know what this is specific to.

12 Q Do you recall any opportunities in particular that you recall CIS trying to 13 pursue?

14 A So I remember at one point they considered some sort of work around

15 doxxing and an anti-doxxing campaign around election officials -- so providing support or

16 services to election officials to help them remove their information off the web, respond

17 to a report of doxxing -- and thinking, "Well, I think that would be useful. I don't know

18 that CIS would be the right one to do that."

19 Q So Graham responds to you. And a couple sentences into the middle

20 paragraph there he says: "The primary logistical concern is that it seems like CIS, which

21 does some really great work, essentially described EIP and sees it as a growth area and

22 consistent funding source."

23 Do you recall any discussions with CIS or regarding CIS where CIS would try to 24 adopt a role similar to what EIP served?

25 A I don't -- no, I don't recall specific conversations except for I think there was

1 a point where everyone was sort of evaluating next steps to 2022.

2 But I don't recall specific conversation around CIS wants to stand up an EIP or

3 monitor social media platforms in that way. It would not -- again, I just don't recall that

4 it -- it could be in reference to that. I don't know.

5 Q Did you participate in any discussions while you were at Stanford about what

6 EIP would look like for the 2022 election?

7 A I don't recall doing that. I don't know that that had begun when I got there

8 or not. It is possible, but I don't recall specific conversation around sort of EIP 2022 and 9 what it could look like.

10 [redacted]. Can we go off the record, please?

11 [Discussion off the record.]

12 [redacted] We can go back on the record.

13 BY [redacted]

14 Q I want to go back to what's been marked as exhibit 13 (sic). It's the 15 September 10th, 2020, email thread.

16 A Yes. Okay.

17 Q So there are two individuals, and we can just look at the very top email. I

18 think their names are throughout this, but I want to look -- we can just look at the first

19 one.

20 [redacted]? I think I'm pronouncing that right.

21 A Yes.

22 Q [redacted] was a CISA intern, correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And she was also a Stanford University student, correct?

25 A Yes.

Q And so she -- and she was a -- do you know whether she was a research assistant for the Stanford Internet Observatory?

A Yes. Yes.

Q Okay. And so she used her CISA email address here, but in fact she was also a Stanford student at the time?

A I believe that's correct.

Q Okay. What about [redacted]? Was he a Stanford -- was he a CISA intern?

A Yes.

Q And was he also a Stanford student?

A Yes.

Q And was he a research assistant at the Stanford Internet Observatory?

A I believe so, yes.

Q Okay. Thanks. We can go off the record.

[Whereupon, at 5:51 p.m., the interview was concluded.]

1 [redacted] This is a transcribed interview of Bradley Benavides. Chairman
2 Jordan has requested this interview as part of the committee's investigation of how and
3 the extent to which the executive branch has coerced and colluded with companies and 4 other intermediaries to censor speech.
5 Would the witness please state your name for the record.
6 Mr. Benavides. Yes. Bradley Benavides.
7 [redacted] On behalf of the committee, I want to thank you for appearing here
8 today to answer our questions. The chairman also appreciates your willingness to 9 appear voluntarily.
10 My name is [redacted] and I am with Chairman Jordan's staff. I'll now have 11 everyone else from the committee who is here at the table introduce themselves as well.
12 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.
13 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.
14 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.
15 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.
16 [redacted] Chair Nadler's staff.
17 [redacted] Ranking Member Nadler's staff.
18 [redacted] Chair Nadler's staff.
19 [redacted] with FBI.
20 [redacted] from FBI's Office of General Counsel.
21 [redacted] I'll now go over the ground rules and guidelines that we will follow
22 during today's interview. Our questioning will proceed in rounds. The majority will ask 23 questions first for 1 hour and then the minority will have the opportunity to question for 24 an equal period of time. We will alternate back and forth until there are no more
25 questions and the interview is over.

1 Typically, we take a short break at the end of each hour, but if you would like to
2 take one before that, just let us know.
3 As you can see, there is an official court reporter taking down everything we say to
4 make a written record, so we ask that you give verbal responses to all questions.
5 This is your first test: Do you understand?
6 Mr. Benavides. Yes.
7 [redacted] So the court reporter can take down a clear record, we will do our
8 best to limit the number of people directing questions at you during any given hour to 9 just those people on the staff whose turn it is.
10 Please try and speak clearly so the court reporter can understand and so the folks
11 down at the end of the table can hear you. It is important that we don't talk over one
12 another or interrupt each other if we can help it, and that goes for everybody present at
13 today's interview.
14 We encourage witnesses who appear before the committee to fully consult with 15 counsel if they so choose. It is my understanding that you are appearing here today
16 with counsel. Is that correct?
17 Mr. Benavides. I am.
18 [redacted] Now, you all are counsel with the FBI. Correct?
19 [redacted] Correct.
20 [redacted] So we typically give an -- I won't say admonishment, but you're no
21 longer with the FBI, correct, Mr. Benavides?
22 Mr. Benavides. That is correct.
23 [redacted] So we typically just like to inform witnesses that agency counsel is 24 ultimately representing the interest of the agency, and we ask if you are aware of that as 25 a witness.

1 Are you aware of this?

2 Mr. Benavides. I am aware of that.

3 [redacted] Is that permissible to you?

4 Mr. Benavides. It is.

5 [redacted] We want you to answer our questions in the most complete and

6 truthful manner possible, so we will take our time. If you have any questions or if you

7 do not understand one of our questions, just let us know. Our questions will cover a

8 wide range of topics, so if you need clarification at any point, just say so.

9 Mr. Benavides. Thank you.

10 [redacted] If you do not know the answer to a question or do not remember,

11 it's best not to guess unless we specifically ask you to speculate. That's unlikely but if 12 we do, so be it.

13 Please give us your best recollection, and it is okay to tell us if you learned

14 information from someone else. Please indicate how you came to know that

15 information.

16 If there are things you do not know or cannot remember, just say so, but inform

17 us to the best of your knowledge who might be able to provide those answers to us.

18 You should also understand that, although this interview is not under oath, that by 19 law you are required to answer questions from Congress truthfully.

20 Do you understand that?

21 Mr. Benavides. I do.

22 [redacted] This also applies to questions posed by congressional staff in this

23 interview.

24 Do you understand this?

25 Mr. Benavides. I do.

1 [redacted] Witnesses that knowingly provide false testimony can be subject to
2 criminal prosecution for perjury or for making false statements under 18 United States
3 Code, section 1001.
4 Do you understand this?
5 Mr. Benavides. I do.
6 [redacted] Is there any reason today you are unable to provide truthful
7 answers to our questions?
8 Mr. Benavides. No reason.
9 [redacted] Finally, I would like to make a note that the content of what we 10 discuss here today is confidential. We ask that you not speak about what we discuss in 11 this interview to any outside individuals to preserve the integrity of our investigation.
12 Similarly, we will show you exhibits, and we will be collecting those exhibits at the 13 end.
14 Can I get a -- can I ask you for a commitment that you will not share the contents
15 of this information with anyone?
16 Mr. Benavides. I will not share the contents with anyone.
17 [redacted] Thank you.
18 For the same reason, the marked exhibits we use today will remain with the court
19 reporter and go into the official transcript, but we will return them when we wrap up.
20 I think I jumped the gun on that instruction.
21 In any event, this is the end of my preamble. Is there anything from my 22 colleagues in the minority would like to add?
23 [redacted] Just thank you for coming voluntarily here today, Mr. Benavides.
24 Mr. Benavides. Yes, ma'am. Thank you.
25 [redacted] Before we start the hour, if I could, you referenced questions from

1 the chairman regarding the social media investigation. The witness can certainly answer
2 what questions he can on that.
3 The letter that he received from the chairman was specific to the defensive
4 briefing from 2020, which he is certainly prepared to talk about here today. And, on 5 that point, a note I made before, the FBI typically doesn't talk about specific defensive 6 briefings given to an individual member, but in this instance, given Senator Grassley and 7 Senator Johnson's public statements and request that the committee conduct this
8 investigation, we are proceeding with the understanding that they consent to us sharing
9 details of that briefing here today.
10 [redacted] I appreciate you making that record. I will just respond, as you
11 know, notwithstanding the indications in the initial letter, the committee recognizes no
12 limitations on its right to conduct its oversight, particularly when it has a witness in front
13 of it. So, obviously, your client, Mr. Benavides is here voluntarily, so. But we do intend 14 to probe on the tech investigations and the like, and we'll ask the questions that we need
15 to ask, ultimately, and you all respond how you respond.
16 [redacted] Yep.
17 [redacted] Okay. The clock now reads 10:13 a.m. We will start the first 18 hour of questions.
19 EXAMINATION
20 BY [redacted]
21 Q Good morning.
22 A Good morning.
23 Q Could you state your name again for the record, please.
24 A Bradley Benavides.
25 Q And what is your current place of employment?

1 A I am currently employed in a contract position with Battelle Savannah River
2 Alliance.
3 Q And how long have you been in that role for?
4 A A couple weeks. Brandnew.
5 Q And where were you before this?
6 A Prior to that, I was employed by Amazon.
7 Q And what was your position at Amazon?
8 A I was a senior manager over a program generally referred to as fraud and 9 abuse prevention.
10 Q Beginning with college, what is your educational background?
11 A I have a bachelor's degree in chemistry and practiced as a chemist for some 12 time in the private sector before going into the FBI. I had a couple of certificates from 13 other universities. I have a certificate, like a leadership certificate from Northwestern
14 and a national security certificate from the Kennedy School at Harvard.
15 Q And, following college, what is your professional background?
16 A After college, I took a job in the private sector working as a scientist, a
17 chemist. I did that for about a decade and then decided that I was going to join the FBI.
18 I joined the FBI, spent a little more than 20 years with the FBI, retired, and then
19 took a job with Amazon, left Amazon after about a year, and am currently employed with 20 Battelle Savannah River Alliance.
21 Q When did you join the FBI?
22 A March of 2002.
23 Q And what positions have you held at the FBI?
24 A A variety of positions. Overall, I was an FBI special agent. From that, I
25 then moved into the supervisory special agent role. I then did an assistant section chief

1 role. I then did an assistant special agent in charge role. I then did a section chief role,
2 and then ultimately finished my career as the Deputy Assistant Director.
3 Q In these roles, which divisions were you in at the FBI?
4 A All national security. If you were to cut it up nicely, about 10 years of 5 counterterrorism, about 10 years of counterintelligence, and about a year of cyber.
6 Q For the year of cyber, which role is that?
7 A I would have been an acting in the Cyber Division. I can't remember which 8 part, but altogether I had an acting assistant section chief role in Cyber and then I had the 9 cyber program from a national security perspective when I was an assistant special agent
10 in charge out of the Denver division. So a little bit of time at headquarters and a little 11 more than a year in Denver.
12 Q For which position or positions were you in at headquarters for?
13 A Headquarters? So the acting assistant section chief for Cyber. I think that 14 was around 4 months. I did a 2-year, about 2-year TDY to Counterterrorism Division as 15 an assistant section chief where I ran a program there. I was a section chief in 16 Counterintelligence Division and then the Deputy Assistant Director position was also in 17 Counterintelligence.
18 Q In addition to Denver headquarters, where else were you based?
19 A Chicago.
20 Q Anywhere else?
21 A So FBI headquarters, Denver, Chicago.
22 Q Your second to last role at the FBI, the section chief role?
23 A Yes.
24 Q Was that the Foreign Influence Task Force?
25 A It was.

1 Q What years were you the section chief?

2 A From 2019 to 2020.

3 Q And then could you state your title again for the role after you were section

4 chief?

5 A After section chief, it would be Deputy Assistant Director for the China

6 Branch, Counterintelligence Division.

7 Q When you were section chief of the FITF, who did you report to?

8 A My direct boss would have been Nicky Flores. She would have been the 9 Deputy Assistant Director, Intelligence Branch, Counterintelligence Division.

10 Q As part of your role as unit chief of FITF, did you have --

11 A Assistant or section chief.

12 Q Excuse me, section chief of FITF. Did you have interactions with the FBI

13 Director?

14 A I did.

15 Q And what were the nature of those interactions?

16 A We had meetings with the Director to bring the Director what it was that the

17 U.S. intelligence community was assessing with regards to the upcoming election. So it

18 would have been a general FITF brief to the Director.

19 Q How frequently were you providing briefings?

20 A I want to say it was monthly. As my recollection, I think it was monthly.

21 Q Were these briefings in person?

22 A They were.

23 Q When in 2020 did you leave the position as section chief of FITF?

24 A Yeah, thank you.

25 So I competed for the Deputy Assistant Director job while I was a section chief in

1 FITF. I was awarded the Deputy Assistant Director job in, by my recollection, either late
2 September or early October of 2020. I would have essentially wore two hats at that
3 time. I would have technically been the Deputy Assistant Director of the China branch,
4 but I would have also helped the FITF section chief mission leading up to the election.
5 So kind of between two worlds but serving both.
6 Q When did you stop serving the role as section chief of FITF?
7 A It's hard for me to properly assess, but I would have stayed on working as a
8 section chief right up to the election, so sometime in November.
9 Q And, prior to your new position of Deputy Assistant Director, what were your 10 day-to-day responsibilities as section chief of FITF?
11 A So FITF was, in FBI terms, it was a section, right, with a section chief. There
12 were other sections within the intelligence branch. So I would have had a variety -- I
13 would have had an assistant section chief. I would have had a unit chief or two. I
14 would have had some supervisors.
15 And the way that that construct comes together is it's a variety of professional 16 support, analysts, agent roles, but ultimately coming up to the section chief.
17 Q Who was your assistant section chief?
18 A That is a non-SES position -- at the time.
19 [redacted] Is the individual SES?
20 Mr. Benavides. The individual is SES now.
21 [redacted] Okay. Who?
22 Mr. Benavides. [redacted]
23 BY [redacted]
24 Q How many people did you have reporting to you while you were section
25 chief?

1 A This would be a ballpark. Approximately -- you mean like from working
2 level all the way up to my assistant section chief?
3 Q I guess both. You mentioned an assistant section chief, a couple unit
4 chiefs.
5 A Yeah.
6 Q So the first question is just how many direct reports and then how big the 7 task force would have been.
8 A My assistant section chief would have been my direct report.
9 Q And then how big was the task force at the time?
10 A Approximately 50, maybe a little more.
11 Q And do you recall when in 2019 you took the position of section chief?
12 A Mid to late summer. I'm going -- my best recollection would be July or 13 August of 2019.
14 Q And who was the section chief before you?
15 A I don't think there was one. I don't think that the FITF had a section chief
16 prior to me. I think it was still being formed.
17 Q How big was the task force when you started as section chief?
18 A Again, my best guess would be 50 plus.
19 Q To your understanding, did the size of the task force change at all in the 20 roughly year, year and a half when you were section chief?
21 A If anything, it grew, but resource constraints being what they are, it was not 22 significant growth based on my recollection. We had the personnel that we had, and if 23 anything, it grew. It didn't shrink, but I don't recall it growing significantly.
24 Q Prior to your joining as section chief in the summer of 2019, or thereabouts,
25 what was your prior role?

1 A I would have been the assistant special agent in charge of national security in
2 Denver, the Denver division.
3 Q Just at a high level, are you familiar with the terms "misinformation,"
4 "disinformation," and "malinformation"?
5 A Generally, yes.
6 Q And, to your understanding, what's the difference between those terms?
7 A I'm not an attorney, make no mistake about it. My best assessment is a lot
8 of it goes back to intent: Am I trying to deceive you versus did I accidentally put out,
9 you know, incorrect information? That would be my best way of trying to push it:
10 Intent versus this is wholly incorrect, but I don't necessarily know that the person who 11 released it had an intent to deceive or mislead.
12 So that would be the way I would try to differentiate.
13 Q When you were section chief, how frequently did you interact with the FBI
14 field offices?
15 A With the FBI field offices? With the FBI field offices, depending on the 16 topic, monthly, sometimes biweekly. It really would be specific to what it was that I was 17 trying to do with a particular field office. But to generally say, the frequency of contact
18 with field offices, there's 56 field offices. FITF is a headquarters component. Monthly, 19 monthly plus.
20 Q Were there any field offices that you recall interacting with more than 21 others?
22 A Yes.
23 Q Which ones?
24 A This is going to be a reflection of area of responsibility and size. The New 25 York field office is a big field office. San Francisco Division. Those would be the two

1 that immediately come to mind. Maybe Los Angeles, again, because of how big it was,
2 but New York for sure and San Francisco.
3 Q Do you recall why you had more interactions with the San Francisco Field
4 Office than the rest of the ones at large?
5 A San Francisco? It would be that the San Francisco Division would have had 6 close proximity to Silicon Valley.
7 Q And, as a section chief of FITF, were you having interactions with Silicon
8 Valley?
9 A The FITF held --
10 [redacted] You. The question was you.
11 Mr. Benavides. I was --
12 [redacted] Sorry.
13 Mr. Benavides. Thank you.
14 The FITF did hold engagements with tech companies and social media companies,
15 and on at least one or two occasions, I would have provided opening comments.
16 BY [redacted]
17 Q You said the task force is a headquarters component. So was everyone
18 part of the task force based in headquarters?
19 A If you were FITF, you would have been, by my chair, by my position, that 20 would have been a headquarters component.
21 Q To your understanding, how frequently were members of the FITF meeting
22 with social media companies during your tenure as section chief?
23 A Monthly.
24 Q And, to your recollection, you only appeared once or twice for these 25 meetings?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Do you recall why you appeared for those couple of meetings?

3 A This is very consistent with how executives engage. It is literally to show

4 appreciation. It is to show appreciation for people taking time out of their schedule, to

5 taking the time to dial in and be part of understanding threat, understanding

6 counterintelligence. It would have been that sort of thing.

7 I had done that a number of times in multiple different positions, but it would

8 have been a 5-minute introduction to just thank people for their time.

9 Q Do you know which position within the task force was typically in charge of 10 leading the meetings for the other ones, except for the couple that you participated in?

11 A I don't think that would have been the structure. What you have is me as a

12 section chief. I had an assistant section chief. For the record, my assistant section

13 chief, it took a while for me to actually pick one and onboard. So I was without an

14 assistant section chief for some amount of time.

15 And so then, if you look at the construct, you have a unit chief that might be

16 responsible for a particular threat vector, and so each of those unit chiefs would have

17 been participated to inform their particular area of responsibility. I don't think it would

18 be correct to say that there was a single person in charge, in other words. As you work

19 your way through the engagement, you would have gone from one briefing to another

20 briefing to another briefing based on the area of responsibility, if that makes sense.

21 Q When did you have an assistant section chief join you?

22 A I don't know how long it took. FITF is a cross-programmatic construct, and

23 as I recall, I was doing my best to get another component of FBI to pay for my assistant

24 section chief. My assistant section chief would have technically been a cyber body and

25 bureaucracies being what they are, it's: Will you please pay for this individual for me?

1 This is an important mission. I need it.

2 I want to say we were without [redacted] for maybe 2 months.

3 Q Is it your recollection that he was your assistant section chief before the end

4 of 2019?

5 A Yes. Yes, that would be my recollection.

6 Q How frequently were you having interactions with Nikki Floris during your

7 time as section chief?

8 A Daily, daily interactions.

9 Q How did you first hear about the position of section chief of FITF before you

10 joined?

11 A I believe Nikki called me while I was in Denver.

12 Q Prior to taking the role of section chief, were you familiar with FITF and its 13 role?

14 A I was not.

15 Q And, prior to taking the job, what was your understanding of -- either when

16 Ms. Floris called you or when you first learned about the position, what, you know, what

17 was the FITF doing at that time?

18 A I don't know what FITF was doing at that time. I do remember I ran the 19 Syria-Iraq task force out of Counterterrorism Division. Again, a cross-programmatic

20 construct, the whole of the USIC coming together to counter ISIS in particular.

21 The way she described FITF sounded very similar to my time as FITF Syria-Iraq task

22 force. My immediate assessment was it sounded like something that I would be

23 comfortable doing, this type of work. The mission was different than counterterrorism,

24 but the construct resonated with me, and I was interested.

25 Q During your tenure as section chief of FITF, what was FITF's mission?

1 A FITF's mission would have been to interact with the U.S. intelligence
2 community, Department of Homeland Security, others within the U.S. intelligence
3 community, the usual cast or characters.
4 Every member of the USIC brought something to the table. In other words, you
5 might get something from one member of the USIC that the FBI wouldn't necessarily have 6 immediate access to, and what the FITF was trying to do is have a common operating 7 picture across the USIC on foreign malign influence efforts from nation-state adversaries.
8 Importantly, it was also meant to be proactive. In other words, if the FITF
9 learned of a particular account or selector and the assessment was that it was foreign
10 adversary attributed, we would then want to pass it so that a private sector company
11 might be able to take some sort of situational awareness and potentially take some sort
12 of protective measure.
13 Q Besides the intelligence agency, which other Federal agencies did the FITF
14 work with?
15 A Can you please restate the question?
16 Q Sure. So --
17 A I'm so sorry.
18 Q In your prior response, it sounded like part of FITF's mission is engaging with 19 some of the intelligence agencies. Is that an accurate restatement?
20 A Yes. Yes.
21 Q Setting aside any intelligence agencies that FITF was interacting with, were 22 there any other Federal agencies that the FITF was engaging with?
23 A You mean non-USIC Federal agencies?
24 Q Yes.
25 A I don't remember -- not based on my recollection, no.

1 [redacted] You said DHS earlier. Were you counting them?

2 Mr. Benavides. I think Department of Homeland Security is part of the intel

3 community, yeah.

4 BY [redacted]

5 Q Are you familiar with CISA, the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security

6 Agency within DHS?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Did you work with CISA as part of your role as section chief of FITF?

9 A Again, FITF was cross-programmatic, so we would have had a cyber

10 component that we would have worked with. For foreign malign influence threat

11 narratives, we would -- the FITF would have engaged with CISA. Otherwise, if it were

12 like infrastructure, cyber attacks, indicators of compromise, that likely would have gone

13 from FITF to Cyber into CISA.

14 Q Are you familiar with the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force within 15 CISA that existed at the same time?

16 A I'm not. I'm not.

17 Q About CISA's MDM team, mis-, dis-, and malinformation team?

18 A No.

19 Q Who are your unit chiefs in 2020?

20 A These would be non-SES employees.

21 [redacted] You can describe the different units, but he's not authorized to 22 disclose the names.

23 Mr. Benavides. I had a unit chief that would have been over -- the description

24 would have been global. But when you're racking and stacking threats, it would have

25 been an Iran and DPRK focused. I had a China mission, and then I had a Russia mission.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q What is your -- or excuse me.

3 When you were at Amazon, as of just a few weeks ago, you said you were senior

4 manager for the --

5 A One of many senior managers.

6 Q For fraud and abuse prevention?

7 A The program, the Director that I would have reported up through would

8 have been fraud and abuse prevention.

9 Q And what were your day-to-day responsibilities in that role?

10 A Efforts to prevent bad actors from taking advantage and defrauding

11 Amazon.com.

12 Q And who did you report to in that role?

13 [redacted] Can we go off the record for a second?

14 [redacted] Yes, of course.

15 [Discussion off the record.]

16 [redacted] Okay. Thank you.

17 [redacted] Can we go back on the record, please.

18 Mr. Benavides. Yeah, I'm not comfortable giving the name. I can give you the 19 title.

20 BY [redacted]

21 Q What was the title?

22 A Director of fraud and abuse prevention.

23 Q Did you interact with Federal agencies as part of your role as Amazon?

24 A I did not.

25 Q To your knowledge, were there any teams or divisions within Amazon that

1 were interacting with the foreign influence task force?

2 A No. No, none that I'm aware of.

3 Q Now, when did these -- actually, let me rephrase that question.

4 You mentioned that the FITF would have maybe monthly meetings with the social

5 media companies. Were those meetings ongoing when you took the position of section

6 chief?

7 A I don't recall.

8 Q Did they change in any frequency in the lead up to the election? The 2020

9 election, for clarity.

10 A I don't recall.

11 Q When you took the position sometime in 2019, you said roughly maybe 50

12 people were in the task force, were you responsible for the hiring and firing of folks

13 during your tenure as section chief?

14 A I would have been responsible for hiring my assistant section chief. I would

15 not have been responsible for hiring others.

16 Q Who was ultimately the decisionmaker to hire you as section chief of FITF?

17 A Oh, I think it goes through a panel. The ultimate decider would have been 18 the Assistant Director of Counterintelligence Division.

19 Q Who was that at the time?

20 A I believe it was [redacted].

21 Q Are you familiar with the term "attribution"?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And, to your understanding, what does that mean in the context of the work

24 you used to do?

25 A In the context of the work that I used to do or lead, attribution is an

1 assessment that informs who owns a particular -- perhaps an account or a selector, like
2 an email or a telephone number. Attribution is an overall assessment to inform 3 ownership.
4 Q In an earlier response, you mentioned there would be times where the FITF
5 may share information with social media companies regarding the actions of foreign 6 adversaries. Piecing the two answers together, and I don't want to put words in your 7 mouth, is it fair to say then the information being shared was when the FITF could
8 conduct that sort of assessment and be confident that, when it comes to attribution, it
9 was a foreign actor as opposed to a domestic actor behind the account?
10 A I have absolutely no recollection of ever sharing U.S. person information
11 with anyone. Attribution would have been absolutely critical before information would 12 have been passed to a social media or a tech company.
13 [redacted] May I ask a question?
14 [redacted] Yes.
15 [redacted] How do you define "U.S. person"?
16 Mr. Benavides. I would define "U.S. person" as fairly liberally: a green card
17 holder, a lawful permanent resident, a naturalized U.S. citizen, a U.S. person, a person
18 born here. Again, I'm not an attorney, but it would hit each of those categories I would 19 assess as U.S. person for purposes of the way the FBI conducts its investigations and its 20 work.
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q So being on U.S. soil itself would not be a bucket in which you would 23 consider somebody a U.S. person?
24 A If I had attribution that the person was on U.S. soil, I would U.S. person that.
25 I think I would include that bucket.

1 Q Without regard to any of the prior categories that you've listed?

2 A I don't think I understand. You mean in addition to those other categories?

3 Q In addition to.

4 A Yes, sir. Yes.

5 Q Thank you.

6 A In other words, if I -- you may be from another country, but if I have

7 attributed or if I have knowledge that you're in the United States of America, I would treat

8 you as a U.S. person, if that helps clarify.

9 BY [redacted]

10 Q Can you describe as you understood it the practice or the process of how,

11 from when the assessment is being conducted to whatever is being shared with social

12 media companies, what did that process look like during your tenure of section chief?

13 A I did not lead that or I didn't conduct that type of work. I could give you my 14 understanding of how that type of work would be done.

15 Because FITF was meant to be an inject into the whole of the U.S. intelligence

16 community, there were members of the U.S. intelligence community that might have

17 intelligence that they want to pass to the FBI. Looking at that intelligence would be able 18 to inform the assessment of attribution, if that makes sense.

19 I'm not a practitioner. I don't sit in front of a computer and actually make the

20 assessment, but there are standard practices that multiple U.S. intelligence community

21 employees would use in order to gain a high level of confidence that a particular account

22 or selector is attributed to a foreign actor.

23 Q And then, once that assessment is made -- first, let me ask, is there an

24 internal term that the FBI uses? Like, what was the threshold called that you -- before

25 information would be considered being shared with a social media company?

1 A I don't know that there is a term.

2 Q Who is making the decision? Like, what level at the FITF is making the

3 decision that, yes, we have a high enough confidence level that we can attribute this to a

4 foreign source?

5 A If it comes from a member of the USIC that wanted to downgrade

6 information and pass it to FITF, I think their assessment would have been part of the 7 overall assessment. I don't know like how exactly one would make that final decision,

8 we feel confident or we feel -- we have high confidence, or whatever the term would be,

9 that this is foreign actor attributed. But it would be signed off through the normal chain

10 of command, likely a supervisor or a unit chief.

11 Q To your understanding, if someone from the USIC has their high confidence

12 this is foreign actor attributed, was it always the case that the FBI would still conduct its

13 own analysis, or was it ever the case that the FBI would pass information to social media

14 companies relying on the assessment done by a different agency?

15 A I don't know.

16 Q If we could finish kind of walking through the process, so some sort of 17 assessment is conducted. Maybe it's someone from USIC. Maybe it's from the task

18 force. Maybe it's both. A determination is made at a supervisory level, maybe a unit

19 chief. What is the next step in the process then before it goes to a social media

20 company? And I'll stop there.

21 A I think that a meeting would be scheduled where the social media company

22 or tech company would have been informed: This is downgraded information. We're

23 passing it to you for your own assessment.

24 And so the U.S. intelligence community may form an assessment. A social media

25 or tech company forms their own assessment, quite frankly. And sometimes they are

1 simply going to say: We don't agree.

2 Or sometimes they may say: We agree.

3 The foreignness of the attribution on the U.S. intelligence community side is

4 important from my chair. From the social media and tech company's position, it would

5 be a look for activity that violates their terms of service. It is truly a private sector view

6 of what is it that the FBI has passed or, you know, with little regard to anything that the

7 FITF or the FBI might say. It is truly looking at it from a private sector equity what

8 activity is occurring on our platform that may violate a terms of service at a point that

9 they might take some action against what was passed.

10 Q How do you know that sometimes social media companies did not agree or 11 did not take action following a tip or information from the FBI?

12 A Perhaps the account stayed up.

13 Q To your knowledge, would members of the FITF keep track initially of 14 accounts that were flagged and try to see if they were taken down shortly thereafter?

15 A There was a lot of work going on. I am unaware of a tracking mechanism

16 or something that would inform a tickler to follow up. I'm unaware of that, but there's,

17 in the totality of things that are going on, a particular account may be linked to other

18 accounts, and so an analyst somewhere, perhaps in the FITF or perhaps in the USIC, may 19 be looking at something and then see that this other account is still up.

20 And so there are a variety of ways that you would come back, if you were doing

21 the work, to say that account stayed up. Isn't that an account that we know was foreign

22 actor attributed, blah, blah, blah, which is a reflection of just the difference between the 23 private sector and the government in the United States of America.

24 It's completely different in other forms of government, but here there is truly a

25 line between the two, and that to me is a reflection of that.

1 Q In that sort of situation you just were describing where maybe you've
2 identified accounts that are part of the same network and you notice the accounts you
3 flagged previously are still --
4 A I would not.
5 Q Not you personally, but the FITF, I should say.
6 A Or, or, I mean, there was a lot of work from other components of the U.S.
7 intelligence community.
8 Q In those situations, would the FITF ever follow up with the social media
9 companies and ask again about a specific account?
10 A I don't know. I don't know.
11 [redacted] You don't have any firsthand experience?
12 Mr. Benavides. I don't have firsthand experience of that, no.
13 BY [redacted]
14 Q To your understanding, would the social media companies ever say one way
15 or another if they were taking action, like voluntarily say what they were doing?
16 A They may, yes.
17 Q Is that something that your unit chiefs would brief you on? What level of 18 the FITF is having these sort of engagements?
19 A My type of engagement, I couldn't -- I would not have a recollection of any 20 time that someone came to me and said a particular selector or account has been taken
21 down. That's just not how, at my level, how that -- that type of information would not 22 have come up to me.
23 Q Are you aware of any instances during your tenure as section chief where 24 either the FBI or someone in the USIC determined an actor to be a foreign actor but the 25 social media company's assessment was different?

1 A No. I'm not aware of that.

2 Q If there were a situation where there was a difference in the social media
3 company's assessment regarding a foreign actor, U.S. actor, and someone from -- an 4 assessment from USIC or the FBI, is that a type of issue that would be raised to your 5 level?

6 A The way that you phrased your question, the U.S. intelligence community
7 would be overindexing on the foreignness. The private sector entity, I don't even know
8 if foreignness even was part of their world view. It would have been a terms of service
9 violation.

10 And so I would not be aware of an instance where the private sector company
11 said: We think you're wrong. We think this is a U.S. person or U.S. account.

12 I would not -- I cannot recall anything like that.

13 Q Are you familiar with the Global Engagement Center?

14 A I am.

15 Q And what is that?

16 A I want to make sure that I'm right. I think that the GEC was U.S. State
17 Department, if my memory serves.

18 Q Yeah, please.

19 A And my recollection of the GEC would have been informed by my time in the 20 Syria-Iraq task force. That's when I think I first learned of the GEC.

21 Q Just at a high level, what was the nature of your interaction with the GEC
22 during your time with the Syria and Iraq task force?

23 A My engagement with the GEC would have been based on -- if I remember
24 correctly, the way we were going to counter ISIS was through LOEs, lines of effort, of 25 which the FBI had a particular line of effort or two, which would be disruptions and

1 arrests and the normal things that you hear in the counterterrorism arena.
2 GEC would have been a State Department construct for talking to other
3 likeminded countries with regards to ISIS but not necessarily along the lines of like an FBI
4 counterterrorism mission. Theirs would have been, I believe, unclassified threat
5 warnings for particular regions, areas that might impact State Department equities.
6 I am not a GEC professional. That is my best understanding.
7 Q To a certain degree, you already answered this, but to your understanding,
8 what is the GEC's mission or what was the GEC's mission during your time with the FBI?
9 A I think that they were an unclassified -- they were unclassified broad threat
10 narratives and understanding with specific regards to ISIS travelers, areas, conflict zones,
11 areas that could potentially represent either threat or danger to State Department
12 employees.
13 Q And did you have interactions with the GEC during your time as section chief
14 of FITF?
15 A I did not.
16 Q Do you know if anyone at the FITF was working with the GEC?
17 A No.
18 Q Just at a high level, so we've kind of gone over the structure of the FITF
19 during your tenure. There is you. There is the assistant section chief. There is, it 20 sounds like, a couple of unit chiefs.
21 A I believe three.
22 Q What type of roles were the folks underneath the unit chiefs? And, based 23 off of title, responsibility, who comprised the task force, the actual members?
24 A I mean, the way the FBI is just generally run, you have professional support
25 employees, you have analysts, and then you have, you know, for lack of a better

1 description, special agents. So agents, analysts, professional support. We all, every FBI
2 employee falls into one of those categories. Despite the title, they fall into one of those
3 categories. And so it would have been a mix of those three responsibilities.
4 Q And then would there be -- let's say, analysts -- analysts devoted only to the 5 China Unit?
6 A Yes. I would have expected to have an understanding of collectively, you
7 know, threats against the upcoming election, threats against polling stations and civil 8 rights and that sort of thing, but there would have been special -- there would have been 9 specialty in aligning with Russia or China or the global mission.
10 Q You were talking a short while ago about the USIC would conduct certain 11 assessments. The FBI might independently conduct its own assessments or might be 12 receiving assessments from those other intel agencies. To your knowledge, were there
13 ever instances where an intelligence agency was telling the FBI, "We have a high degree
14 of confidence that this is a foreign actor," and that the FBI conducted its own assessment
15 and disagreed?
16 A I'm not aware of that.
17 Q Is that a type of situation that you would be made aware of as section chief
18 of FITF?
19 A If it was a friction point where the FBI or the other agency couldn't reach
20 alignment without it being raised higher, if it reached a point where they wanted 21 someone like me to intervene and make a phone call or sit down, they would have 22 pushed it to me.
23 Q And, to your recollection, that never happened?
24 A No.
25 Q You mentioned a couple times that social media companies would conduct

1 assessments based off of their terms of service. To your understanding, did members of 2 the FITF ever ask social media companies what their terms of service were?
3 A I don't know. I don't know. If you've ever signed up for an account, I
4 think the terms of service are voluminous. So I don't know that there would have ever
5 been that type of dialogue.
6 Q Is it your understanding that, during your tenure as section chief of FITF, that
7 social media companies had terms of service, had sections within those terms of service
8 that were specifically devoted to coordinated inauthentic behavior or hacked materials?
9 A Both I believe, yes.
10 Q And, to your understanding, were members of the FITF ever in discussions
11 with social media companies about how those specific provisions might apply?
12 A I would not be aware of that, no.
13 [redacted] May I?
14 [redacted] Yeah, of course.
15 BY [redacted]
16 Q According to your experience, it would make sense if the task force was 17 notified of a social media actor, this foreign individual or group seeking to interfere, it 18 would make sense for someone to know the term of service that would be applicable to 19 get the account flagged or taken down?
20 A I actually don't agree. Respectfully, I don't agree. An assessment of 21 account attribution being passed to a social media or tech company, I don't think any 22 member of the USIC or member of the FITF would feel like they need to be aware of what
23 the company's terms of service might look like. Everyone has their expertise. I can't 24 imagine that that would be something that they would -- they would have a vague or 25 broad awareness, but I don't think that they would pass something and say: This is for

1 this particular terms of service violation.

2 I just can't imagine that that would happen.

3 Q But if the impetus is to -- if the information is deemed seeking or attempting

4 to interfere in U.S. election, the idea is presumably to have the account taken down to

5 essentially vitiate the foreign actor's scheme to interfere in U.S. election. Correct?

6 A I want to be really careful with the way that you worded it. If it were to

7 interfere in the election, an upcoming election, that would likely fall under the

8 notification framework from the ODNI. So that is the piece of your question that is -- I'm 9 now going to try to separate the two.

10 If the U.S. intelligence community or the FBI had intelligence that a particular

11 account or selector, foreign actor attributed that was not deemed assessed as interfering

12 with the election, that's the category that I was speaking of. Does that make sense?

13 Q I think. And it may be just that my question was too specific.

14 I'm speaking now broadly. You are attributing an account to a foreign actor.

15 Presumably the intent is to malign and notify the social media actor. I guess what I'm

16 suggesting is, in an ideal world, that account would be flagged and the post would be

17 removed. Correct?

18 A Yes. In an ideal world, yes.

19 Q Okay.

20 A Otherwise, it wouldn't have been passed.

21 Q And so then, building upon that predicate, my initial question, relating to my

22 initial question, it would behoove the task force to know the provision of the terms of

23 service in the event there is pushback by, as you say, these private actors who do not

24 have the same interest as the task force?

25 A The private sector?

1 Q Private sector.

2 A Yeah, again, if you've ever signed up for an account, the terms of service is

3 voluminous. I am unaware of -- this goes back to my time in counterterrorism. I am

4 unaware of anyone who was steeped in understanding terms of service violations.

5 Q Okay, but that isn't my question.

6 A Okay.

7 Q So, just as a practical matter, I'm the person notifying a social media

8 company that there is an account, foreign attribution, malign intentions. This is

9 essentially a big part of what the task force was doing. Correct?

10 A It was a part.

11 Q A part.

12 A Yes.

13 Q So, notwithstanding the voluminous nature of the terms of service, I have to

14 imagine the Federal Government has the resources to figure out where does this

15 particular activity fall under their terms of service, and let's instruct them, because we 16 want them to act in a certain way, as to where we think it falls?

17 A I am unaware that that would have been the way the engagement works.

18 It typically would have been: We have some level of confidence that this is foreign actor

19 attributed. We're passing it for your situational awareness. Do with it as you see fit.

1

2 [11:07 a.m.]

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q So that was how it was framed in each case: Do with it as you see fit?

5 A Based on my understanding, yes.

6 [redacted] From the FBI's perspective?

7 Mr. Benavides. From the FBI's perspective, which -- yeah. Yeah.

8 [redacted] Okay.

9 BY [redacted]

10 Q But why is the FBI going through the effort to flag -- actually, let me take one

11 step back.

12 To your understanding, do the social media companies have teams of folks who

13 look for things like coordinated inauthentic behavior?

14 A Yes. I believe they do.

15 Q If the social media companies are engaged in that type of activity, why is the 16 FBI flagging accounts for social media companies?

17 A So it wouldn't always be the FBI. It could be a member of the U.S.

18 intelligence community. I believe after 2016, there was a fair amount of criticism on 19 information sharing between the Federal Government and the private sector.

20 Members of the U.S. intelligence community might have technologies that might

21 inform of foreign actor activity that a private sector company wouldn't necessarily be able

22 to detect. But there's, you know, a reasonable expectation that the Federal

23 Government would work very hard to be able to pass information to the private sector so

24 that they could perhaps take some sort of protective measures.

25 I don't think it's a -- I don't think that anyone would be able to say the private

1 sectors are wholly capable of protecting their platforms, and I also don't think it would be
2 fair to say that the Federal Government should try to protect private sectors. I don't
3 think it works that way. I think that there is a private sector and there is a Federal
4 Government in the United States of America. Other countries, completely different.
5 But, here, there is that line. And the FBI, in the domestic space, does try to work
6 with the private sector -- universities, academia, across an entire spectrum, interagency,
7 within the Federal Government, to share information where applicable.
8 Q But what is the FBI's interest in sharing this information with the social
9 media companies?
10 A I think it would be so that private sector companies would be able to 11 potentially take proactive protective measures. That would be the FBI's interest.
12 It's difficult for me to say interest, but I think that there isn't a reasonable
13 expectation that the FBI be as proactive and share with academia, with other members of 14 the U.S. intelligence community, particularly after 9/11.
15 For example, the private sector would be no different. The Federal Government,
16 in the way that our government is structured, there is a clear line. And in the domestic
17 space, I think the FBI works diligently to share as much as possible so that private sector
18 and academia, universities can have situational awareness and potentially take protective 19 measures.
20 Q Are some of the measures that a company could take with the FBI's, you
21 know, providing this information account takedowns?
22 A I think that if information that was passed to a private sector entity -- if their 23 assessment was that it violated some terms of service, they -- it would be within their 24 power to do something about the account, such as take it down.
25 Q I guess, you know, asking the question, putting yourself in the shoes of one

1 of your analysts, say in the China Unit, conducts this assessment, is putting all this effort
2 into it, the information then goes up through the chain of command, it meets all the
3 thresholds, you're only sending out the information that's got the highest level
4 threshold -- you're confident it's a foreign actor attribution -- it's being sent to the social
5 media companies at that point. From the view of the members of the FITF, you know,
6 what is the -- what is the purpose of going through all that effort to share with the social
7 media companies at that point?
8 A To ensure that we're not -- that the FBI is not targeting U.S. persons. I -- I
9 can't state that -- I can't state that firmly enough.
10 BY [redacted]
11 Q But that's one consideration?
12 A That is the consideration, as far as I'm concerned. That is a -- that is a big 13 deal.
14 Q Well, to ensure you're not targeting, but, again, I think what my colleague's
15 question is: The interest or the stake the FBI has, proactive, what is its objective? It's a 16 Federal law enforcement agency, right?
17 A It's an intelligence apparatus and law enforcement. The FBI has both sides
18 of that coin.
19 Q So in this particular context, one, ensuring U.S. persons are protected,
20 granted.
21 A The whole of the FBI has to ensure that.
22 Q Right. But, again, if we're talking about foreign attribution, the reason you
23 have been saying protective measures -- they, social media companies, may want to take 24 protective measures. The implicit assumption of that claim is that there's something off,
25 there's something worth taking protective measure. Fair?

1 A Potentially.

2 Q And that protective measure may be the removal of the account?

3 A I can't speak for the private sector entity, but that is something that

4 potentially, based on a terms-of-service violation, the company could take the account

5 down.

6 Q And the FBI thought enough of it to notify them?

7 A To notify, yes, or share.

8 Q Yeah.

9 A Share the information. But also other members of the U.S. intelligence 10 community as well.

11 [redacted] Okay.

12 [redacted] But from the -- again, based off your answers of what the FITF's

13 mission was, again, once this assessment's been conducted and you're getting to the

14 point where the information is being shared, from the viewpoint of your team, these are

15 accounts of a foreign adversary, use of malign influence. Isn't it the viewpoint of the 16 FITF from that point that these accounts should be taken down?

17 Mr. Benavides. No. No. No. No.

18 [redacted] Why engage in the effort, then, to find out who they are?

19 Mr. Benavides. The FBI has a responsibility to reach out to private sector entities

20 and share information as proactively as possible. The beauty of this government, there

21 is a clear line been the Federal Government and the private sector. There is a clear line

22 between the Federal Government and universities.

23 The FBI would -- doesn't have the authority, doesn't have the power to compel.

24 Our government just doesn't work that way. But we also have a responsibility to share.

25 And it might be frustrating to an analyst to learn that an account wasn't taken down or actioned. That's too bad. That's just the way it works.

[redacted] Can we go off the record, please?

[Recess.]

[redacted] We can go on the record, please. It is 11:26.

EXAMINATION

BY [redacted]

Q Good morning again, Mr. Benavides.

A Good morning.

Q I just want to ask you a couple questions about your background. You went through a lot of your positions at the FBI, but I noticed that you joined the FBI in 2002. Is that right?

A Yes, ma'am.

Q And a lot of people who joined the FBI around that year, it had something to do with 9/11. Is that true in your case?

A It is not.

Q No?

A I applied to the FBI prior to 9/11.

Q Okay. But you worked in counterterrorism. Is that right?

A I started my career in counterterrorism.

Q And at one point, I think in your LinkedIn, I saw that you had done like a deployment with the DOD, while you were an FBI agent, overseas. Is that right?

A I did a deployment with Department of Defense into Iraq.

Q And can you explain at all what that was -- what the mission was there, if it's, I mean, unclassified, or just high level?

1 A It's classified.

2 Q Okay. Well, we won't get into it then.

3 Fair to say that you've had a long career in the FBI and that the bulk of your

4 subject matter has been either counterterrorism or counterintelligence?

5 A Yes, ma'am.

6 Q Okay. Let's talk about some of the information-sharing relationship that

7 you talked about in the first hour. This is when you were at FITF in the section chief

8 position. You had a series of questions about what kind of information your employees

9 in FITF would share with social media companies.

10 Do you recall those questions?

11 A Yes.

12 Q You personally were never involved in that type of information sharing with 13 the social media companies. Is that fair?

14 A That is correct.

15 Q Instead, you were above the employees who were actually in those 16 relationships, right?

17 A That is correct.

18 [Benavides Exhibit No. 1

19 Was marked for identification.]

20 BY [redacted]

21 Q Okay. I want to show you a letter -- this will be marked as exhibit 1, I

22 believe.

23 A I knew I was going to need these.

24 Q You're going to need them. I'm going to need mine too.

25 A There we go.

1 Q This is a -- what year is this? Sorry.

2 This is a letter from Assistant Attorney General [redacted] to ranking -- or

3 sorry -- to Chairman Jordan -- yes -- to Chairman Jordan dated June 21st, 2023.

4 Okay. I'll hand you a copy, and you can take a look at that while we're passing

5 these out.

6 Have you seen this letter before, Mr. Benavides?

7 This is a couple pages. Just take a minute to look at it. You don't have to read

8 it. I'm just asking if you're familiar with it now. If not, I'll direct you to where I'm going

9 to ask questions.

10 A Ma'am, I -- I don't know that I'm familiar with this letter.

11 Q Okay. I'll have you turn to page 2, if you don't mind, and there is a section

12 entitled Countering Foreign Malign Influence Operations.

13 A Okay.

14 Q I'm just going to read this, and you can read along with me, and I'll ask you a 15 couple questions.

16 A Okay.

17 Q The letter states: The identification and disruption of foreign malign

18 influence operations is a longstanding and critical concern for the Department and the

19 FBI. Foreign influence operations include covert actions by foreign governments

20 intended to affect U.S. political sentiment and public discourse, sow divisions in our

21 society, or undermine confidence in our democratic institutions to achieve strategic

22 geopolitical objectives. These concerns are not hypothetical. For example, in 2018,

23 the United States Government obtained an indictment of Russian individuals and entities

24 for Federal crimes in connection with efforts to interfere in the 2016 election, an effort

25 the Russian defendants refer to as, quote, "information warfare," unquote. In 2020,

1 then-Attorney General Barr joined numerous other officials in a joint statement advising,
2 quote, "We continue to work with all 50 States, U.S. territories, local officials, political
3 parties, and private sector partners to keep elections free from foreign interference," end
4 quote. The statement continues, quote, "Americans must also remain aware that 5 foreign actors continue to try to influence public sentiment and shape voter perceptions.
6 They spread false information and propaganda about political processes and candidates
7 on social media in hopes to cause confusion and to create doubt in our system," end
8 quote.
9 Let me stop right there and ask you: Are you familiar, first of all, with the 10 indictment that's referred to in that paragraph? This was an indictment in 2018 of the 11 Internet Research Agency and Yevgeniy Prigozhin, among others.
12 Are you familiar with that indictment?
13 A I am.
14 Q Do you know who Yevgeniy Prigozhin was?
15 A Well, he had a storied career, but at one point, I believe he was Vladimir
16 Putin's chef and recently died. His plane went down, as I recall.
17 Q At the time of the indictment in 2018, were you aware that he was the 18 controller of the Internet Research Agency?
19 A That is our assessment and, more importantly, part of the criminal 20 indictment.
21 Q Are you familiar with that indictment?
22 A I may have read it at some point. It would have been a long time ago. I
23 certainly don't have it fresh in my mind or recollection.
24 [Benavides Exhibit No. 2
25 Was marked for identification.]

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q Okay. I'm going to mark for exhibit 2 that indictment. And just keep that

3 letter next to you --

4 A Okay.

5 Q -- because I'm going to ask you a couple questions kind of going back and 6 forth.

7 Okay. Now, with regard to the indictment, if you would look at paragraph 4,

8 which is on page -- let's see. It's on page 3. It should be highlighted in the exhibit that

9 you have in front of you. I'm going to read this paragraph to you as well.

10 Paragraph 4 states, quote, "Defendants, posing as U.S. persons and creating false

11 U.S. personas, operating social media pages and groups designed to attract U.S.

12 audiences. These groups and pages, which addressed divisive U.S. political and social

13 issues, falsely claimed to be controlled by U.S. activists when, in fact, they were controlled

14 by defendants. Defendants also used the stolen identities of real U.S. persons to post

15 on organization-controlled social media accounts. Over time, these social media

16 accounts became defendants' means to reach significant numbers of Americans for

17 purposes of interfering with the U.S. political system, including the Presidential election

18 of 2016."

19 Did I read that correctly?

20 A Yes, ma'am.

21 Q Are you familiar with that particular allegation that's included --

22 A Yes.

23 Q -- in the indictment?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Did you in any way work on that case?

1 A I did not work on that case. You mean as an investigator --

2 Q Yeah. In your --

3 A -- or an FBI agent?

4 Q Yeah. As an FBI agent.

5 A No, ma'am.

6 Q Okay. Now, the conduct described in that paragraph is colloquially known

7 as like a troll farm. Is that fair to say?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And do you have any -- anything further you can add in terms of what troll

10 farms are and what they do in the foreign influence sector?

11 A My understanding is a troll farm would be responsible for setting up fake

12 accounts or otherwise compromising the accounts as a way to, you know, disseminate

13 their propaganda, for lack of a better description, without attribution -- without

14 attribution to the foreign actor, the foreign adversary, which I think is incredibly

15 important, because with attribution, it is straight-up propaganda, and the United States is

16 fine with that as long as you let the recipient know that you're a foreign government,

17 regardless of which government it is. But without attribution, it becomes problematic.

18 And so a troll farm would attempt to disseminate pieces of information with an

19 agenda, without attribution to the foreign adversary.

20 Q Okay. And so that's the point that the FBI is concerned with. It's the fact

21 that they're hiding their identity or trying to deceive people as to who they are. Is that

22 fair to say?

23 A That is -- that is a fair assessment, yes, ma'am.

24 Q But the FBI is not interested in the actual content or what you called 25 propaganda. It's not the message. It's the fact that the speaker is hiding who they are.

1 Is that right?

2 A That is right. I'll -- I'll state this as the section chief. I went out of my way,

3 every opportunity -- the FBI does not look at content. I don't care what the content

4 says, to be perfectly honest with you. You start with a seed account and work your way

5 through attribution.

6 Content, I personally -- and I would have instructed -- the FBI does not occupy

7 itself with content. I'm not the only FBI agent that has ever said that either. It is

8 working from the account looking for attribution. Content is not even part of the 9 equation.

10 Q Okay. And just continuing with respect to this exhibit 2, the IRA

11 indictment, if you would turn to page 6, it's paragraph 10(c) that we've highlighted.

12 That paragraph states, quote, "The organization sought, in part, to conduct what it

13 called, quote, 'information warfare against the United States,' quote, through fictitious

14 U.S. personas on social media platforms and other internet-based media," end quote.

15 Did I read that correctly?

16 A Yes, ma'am.

17 Q Are you familiar with the fact that, as alleged in this indictment, the Internet

18 Research Agency and the other defendants in this case actually referred to their own

19 conduct as information warfare against the United States?

20 A I am aware of that, yes, ma'am.

21 Q Okay. And you can set the indictment aside. I don't have any more

22 questions about that for the moment.

23 But turning back to the letter, exhibit 1. Okay. Now, we have read the first -- I

24 guess it was the -- the paragraph under Countering Foreign Malign Influence Operations,

25 and that is supposed to be a general statement from the DOJ about what that mission is

1 within the FBI.

2 As it's stated there, do you -- is that generally consistent with your understanding

3 of the FBI's foreign influence mission?

4 A Can I reread it, please?

5 Q Of course, yeah. I'm sorry. I should have stayed with you.

6 A No. That -- I apologize.

7 Q Yep.

8 A I am aligned with the way this paragraph is written.

9 Q Okay. I'm going to have you turn to the next page of the letter. And here,

10 there's a paragraph that describes the origin of the Foreign Influence Task Force. The 11 letter states -- this is on the top of page 3 -- quote, The FBI established the Foreign

12 Influence Task Force in 2017 to identify and counteract foreign malign influence

13 operations targeting the United States. The FITF investigates and seeks to disrupt

14 actions including: Attempts by adversaries, hoping to reach a wide swath of Americans

15 covertly from outside the United States, to use false personas and fabricated stories on

16 social media platforms to target U.S. individuals and institutions; targeting U.S. officials

17 and other U.S. persons through traditional intelligence tradecraft; criminal efforts to

18 suppress voting and provide illegal campaign financing; and cyber attacks against voting

19 infrastructure, along with computer intrusions targeting elected officials and others.

20 Did I read that correctly?

21 A Yes, ma'am.

22 Q And is that your understanding of the mission of the Foreign Influence Task

23 Force as you performed it?

24 A Broadly, yes.

25 Q Okay. So the first bullet point there, which refers to attempts by

1 adversaries to use false personas and fabricated stories on social media platforms to
2 discredit U.S. individuals and institutions, is that referring to sort of what you were saying
3 earlier, the foreign malign influence, the hidden attribution?
4 A Yes, ma'am.
5 Q Okay. Why, in your opinion and your experience, is it important for the FBI
6 to try to have countermeasures with respect to that foreign influence operation?
7 A I think that the Federal Government, not just the FBI, has to be concerned
8 with any attempt to undermine what it is that this country represents, our democracy,
9 the way that we do our business, the way that we conduct ourselves, our elections,
10 et cetera.
11 The FITF is a small -- a small part of this. But without attribution, it's incredibly 12 easy to potentially mislead someone who's consuming, you know, unattributed
13 propaganda. This would have been the FBI's attempt to bring together the whole of the 14 FBI to work these types of threats in a way to inform, illuminate -- the best way to deal
15 with this type of work is sometimes cast a light on it, illuminate, bring it out into the open.
16 And so that -- that is one of many things that the FITF was attempting to do, if that makes 17 sense.
18 Q Yeah. Could you expand on that a little bit? You're saying that the main
19 kind of weapon that the FITF was using was illuminating things that were hidden. Is that
20 correct?
21 A I think that this indictment is an example of that. Anytime that you can 22 downgrade classified information, for example, and pass it for someone to look at and 23 make an assessment, that is a way of casting light on something that might otherwise stay
24 obfuscated.
25 Q Okay. And even -- you stated that, clearly, I think, on several occasions in

1 the first hour, that the FBI doesn't necessarily have an interest in, like, social media
2 companies, for example, taking down accounts or taking any action with respect to
3 content. But the FBI does have an interest in illuminating the attribution, right, like of 4 who is speaking in that case, so sharing information about who is speaking, so that private
5 actors can take whatever action they choose?
6 A The FBI's interest is in sharing. I think I would -- I would phrase it that way.
7 The FBI's interest is in sharing with not just the private sector, but universities,
8 interagency -- the FBI is in the business of sharing, when possible, so that someone might 9 be able to take a protective or gain a better understanding of what it is that we've
10 learned.
11 Q Okay. I just want to take a step to the side for a second. In your 12 experience with the FBI generally, are there other examples that you can think of where 13 the FBI tries to share information with private sectors in order to help them protect their 14 own industry? I mean outside of the social media context.
15 A Oh, absolutely.
16 Q What are some other examples of that that you know?
17 A I was a squad supervisor in Chicago 5 years working PRC/China matters. A
18 significant -- a significant way that the FBI conducts counterintelligence is through 19 outreach. And in that instance, it could be with academia or with the private sector.
20 But it would have been protect your intellectual property. Your intellectual property has 21 value.
22 And so, in that, the FBI would have worked with the private sector or with a 23 university to understand what it is that foreign adversaries may want in terms of 24 intellectual property, cutting-edge technologies.
25 And then, also, it would have been a way to educate what it means to do this,

1 which is a criminal indictment. And so understanding how to prove in a court of law
2 that you took measures to protect your intellectual property is incredibly difficult
3 sometimes. We would provide a threat warning that would say, here, you -- here are 4 some best practices that you yourself can enact to protect your intellectual property.
5 So that, to me, would be an example.
6 Q Yeah. Let me just ask you a couple questions about that. So you're 7 talking about a company that might have a cutting-edge technology, an American 8 company, right, some kind of valuable technology that you're interacting with?
9 A Yes.
10 Q And your concern is, say, China or some other foreign state might be trying 11 to steal that intellectual property in some way?
12 A Yes.
13 Q Now, in an ideal world, as my colleague said, the FBI or everybody would 14 want that private company to take some action, right, to keep, you know, China from 15 stealing that technology. Fair to say?
16 A That is fair to say.
17 Q But the FBI is not going to order that company to take any action with 18 respect to their own intellectual property, are they?
19 A No.
20 Q Why not?
21 A Well, that's not what the FBI does. That's not what the Federal 22 Government does really. A private sector company is independent, separate, and apart
23 from an organization like the FBI, but the FBI has an obligation to share what it knows 24 about activities so that private sectors, companies, or universities, could protect 25 themselves. And we've gotten much, much better at that over time.

1 There are all kinds of different things that private sector companies don't always
2 or universities don't always take into account: insider threat, cyber attacks, the benefits
3 of filing and holding on to a patent. You know, all of those things, the FBI has gained a
4 substantive understanding, and it's our responsibility to share.
5 Q And is that responsibility because you are one of the main Federal law
6 enforcement agencies in the United States and the FBI sees its mission as helping all
7 Americans, including American companies, to protect themselves?
8 A Yes.
9 Q Okay. Even though the FBI itself might not have a particular interest in any 10 action that that company might take to protect itself?
11 A We have an interest in sharing, and I personally would take that serious.
12 But what the recipient does with that information or intelligence is up to the recipient.
13 Q Okay. And not to beat a dead horse here, but another example that occurs
14 to me is, in the counterterrorism field, when 9/11 happened and the U.S. intelligence
15 community suddenly became aware that one of the tactics that foreign malign states or 16 actors wanted to use against the United States was to take airlines and to use those as 17 weapons against us. After that happened on 9/11, was there an interest on the part of 18 the U.S. Government, the FBI and others, in having a relationship with airlines, private 19 sector airlines, to try to let them be aware of what you knew about that threat?
20 A Yes.
21 Q Now, the airlines themselves, they're private companies, right?
22 A Correct.
23 Q So the FBI can't order them to take any particular action to protect 24 themselves, right?
25 A The FBI cannot.

1 Q But you can share information with them about what you might know about
2 foreign malign actors planning to use them to hurt Americans, right?
3 A That is correct.
4 Q And did that happen in that case before 9/11, if you know? I know that you
5 may not know anything about this.
6 A I don't know about prior to 9/11. That was a long time ago. But certainly 7 after 9/11, the FBI really established ways to share information as broadly and as 8 proactively as possible.
9 Q Okay. Now, getting back to the purpose here of this discussion and your
10 presence here today, there is an allegation that some on this committee have that the FBI 11 is attempting to coerce social media companies into taking certain action with respect to 12 accounts or other content on their platforms.
13 What is your response to that allegation?
14 A It's -- it would be an untrue allegation.
15 Q And what instead, in your view, is the FBI trying to do with that 16 information-sharing relationship?
17 A Do what the FBI should do, which is seek to downgrade information and pass
18 it to private sector, universities, academia, others within the Federal Government; seek to 19 share as broadly and as proactively as possible so that they may be able to take some sort
20 of protective measure.
21 Q Okay. And I'm just going to ask you a couple of these questions for clarity.
22 Is it fair to say that the FBI shares information with social media companies,
23 including threat indicators, with the expectation that the companies will use their own
24 means of verifying these indicators and will ultimately make their own determination as 25 to whether the identified accounts or postings violate the company's own terms of service?

A That is accurate.

Q Does the FBI ever ask the social media companies to remove any account or any particular content from their platforms?

A No.

Q Does the FBI ever decide to share information regarding an account or post based on the nature of the content rather than the attribution of foreignness?

A No.

Q Why not?

A I mentioned it earlier. Content is -- is not part of the calculation. The effort is to disseminate and share, as broadly and as proactively as possible, what foreign adversaries are up to so that the recipient may be able to take some sort of protective measure. Content is -- it's just not part of the calculation.

[redacted] Can I go back to a prior question, which was about the whole of the FBI in terms of content?

[redacted] Sure.

[redacted] You're not speaking for criminal investigations or instances where there might be, say, CSAM online or something like that where the FBI might be involved with social media companies about content? That's not what you're talking about --

Mr. Benavides. That's not --

[redacted] -- correct?

Mr. Benavides. That's not what I'm talking about.

[redacted] That's not within your bandwidth.

[redacted] Sorry. I meant to clarify. I'm asking you in the context here of FITF and their interaction with social media companies about foreign influence.

1 [redacted] Thank you.

2 [redacted] But thank you for that clarification.

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q Mr. Benavides, I noticed on your LinkedIn profile, your description of what

5 FITF does or what you did with FITF, and you used some interesting words I just wanted

6 to ask you about. I apologize I don't have this in front of me. I'm just going to read my

7 recollection of what your LinkedIn says, and you can tell me if it's right.

8 But with regard to your experience at FITF, you said that FITF was, quote, "the 9 primary effort for proactive" --

10 [redacted] You do have it. Look at you.

11 Okay. I'm going to mark this as exhibit 3, because we actually do have a copy of 12 your LinkedIn page.

13 Mr. Benavides. Oh, interesting.

14 [redacted] Thank you.

15 [Benavides Exhibit No. 3

16 Was marked for identification.]

17 BY [redacted]

18 Q All right. So your FITF experience is -- where is it?

19 A It's not on here.

20 Q Actually, it's not on here. Sorry. We're going to have to go back to what I

21 was reading. I think you had to expand it to see this part because you have a lot of 22 experience.

23 My recollection, though, is that you said FITF is, quote, "the primary effort for

24 proactive engagement with other intelligence community partners, Congress, the White

25 House, and technology and social media companies to identify and confront foreign

1 malign, i.e., subversive, undeclared, coercive, and/or criminal activities in the United
2 States," end quote.
3 And the thing I want to ask you about first is, you talked about foreign malign
4 influence as, quote, subversive, undeclared, coercive, or criminal. Why did you choose
5 those words to illuminate the idea of foreign influence? What's important about those 6 words?
7 A Again, in this country, you can -- you can talk propaganda with attribution,
8 and that -- that's just part of the way this country is structured. That is acceptable and 9 okay. You need to comport with certain rules and regulations, but generally, we are an 10 open, free, and -- society.
11 So for the FBI's mission, you're looking for something that falls into that area that 12 is outside being open. And the way that's described, I think, captures the difficulty of 13 the space that we would occupy in the domestic space. That subversive, undeclared,
14 coercive, and/or criminal, I think, captures that area that is the purview of the Federal 15 Bureau of Investigation. That would be my best description of how I wrote that.
16 Q Okay. Thank you for that.
17 And you also said that the FITF is, quote, "the primary effort for proactive 18 engagement."
19 Does that mean that the FITF, in your experience, is, I mean, the main tool that 20 the FBI uses to fight or counteract foreign malign influence?
21 A For foreign malign influence, the FITF would be that component of the FBI
22 that is cross-programmatic in nature, housed under the Counterintelligence Division's
23 intelligence branch.
24 Did that answer your question?
25 Q I think so. And I noticed that the -- I mean, you said primary and you said

1 proactive, and I assume that, by proactive, you mean what that word means, like, you're
2 going out there and you're trying to confront this foreign malign influence before damage
3 is done necessarily, right? You're trying to share the information early. Is that fair?
4 A That is fair. That is a reflection of my personality as well. I -- I was -- I still
5 feel like I'm part of the FBI. It's been a year, but I -- it's hard for me to shed
6 it -- proactive, proactive, proactive. That is what the FBI should be. Every FBI agent,
7 quite frankly.
8 Q And in this case, proactive in sharing information that the FBI has --
9 A Yeah.
10 Q -- about foreign malign influence, correct?
11 A Yes.
12 Q And sharing that with other intelligence community partners and also with 13 the private sector, correct?
14 A Yes.
15 Q Okay. What would happen, in your experience or in your opinion, if the 16 FITF were no longer able to engage in that mission of proactively sharing this information
17 with social media companies and other partners?
18 A It's difficult for me to speculate. And I apologize. Can you please restate
19 the question?
20 Q Well, just if you have any concerns -- do you have any concerns if the FITF 21 were no longer able to share the information that they're sharing or they have been 22 sharing with social media companies about these foreign attributions, for example?
23 A Would my -- again, I'm not -- I'm not trying to -- I'm not -- I am trying to 24 answer your question.
25 Are you asking if I have concerns that if FITF were to no longer be in existence,

1 would social media and tech companies suffer, like, that the FBI wouldn't have a
2 mechanism to share? I don't think I understand.
3 Q It's not so much that the social media companies would suffer. My 4 question is about -- you know, you said before in the first hour that part of when -- the 5 reason that FITF was stood up was due to criticism, right, that --
6 A Part of it, yes.
7 Q -- happened after the 2016 election. Is that right?
8 A Yes. I believe so, yes.
9 Q And tell me what you mean by that. I'm not going to ask. You tell me.
10 A After the 2016 election, there was criticism of the Federal Government, the 11 FBI, and others on its ability to share what it knew. Sitting in classified holdings, you 12 need a mechanism to take that information and then proactively share it with 13 stakeholders, with an entity that might be able to take proactive measures.
14 And so after the 2016 election, in the malign foreign influence space, the FITF
15 would be stood up to be cross-programmatic, the whole of the FBI coming together in 16 order to help the FBI, the USIC, share as -- as allowed, share proactively with an entity
17 that might be able to take proactive measures.
18 And so, in that, that criticism after 2016 election is, did the Federal Government
19 have pieces of information that they could have proactively shared? I think the answer
20 is yes. That assessment would be yes.
21 Okay. How do we get to a better state where we are doing our very best to 22 share proactively? For the FBI specifically, this FITF construct would have prompted
23 that.
24 Q Okay. And that's kind of what this letter that we had marked as exhibit 1 is 25 explaining when they talk about why FITF was created. They specifically reference the

1 indictment that we talked about, our exhibit 2, the indictment against the IRA and
2 Yevgeniy Prigozhin, because the conduct, the troll farms and other activity that were
3 described in that indictment, that was happening during the 2016 election, correct?
4 A Yes.
5 Q And there were probably agencies in the U.S. Government that knew about 6 that. Is that fair to say?
7 A I can't speak for other --
8 Q Okay.
9 A -- members of the U.S. intelligence community.
10 Q But the criticism is, if information was out there, it would have been nice to 11 have some mechanism to share that with stakeholders like social media companies or 12 others that were being used by these foreign actors to commit what they called 13 information warfare against the United States, right?
14 A I think that it would have been appropriate -- I think it was fair criticism and I
15 think appropriate for the Federal Government to do its absolute best to share proactively
16 pieces of information with a stakeholder that might be able to take some sort of proactive
17 protective measure.
18 Q Okay. And asking you to look back to the beginning of your career -- and 19 you may not recall this, but, after 9/11, was there not a similar criticism about the FBI and 20 the intelligence community, that there was information out there about what al-Qaida
21 and others were trying to do, even sort of discussion of airplanes, but there was no
22 mechanism for that to be shared in a way that would cause someone to be able to take 23 proactive measures to protect Americans? Do you recall that?
24 A I do recall that.
25 Q Do you see any similarities here in terms of the FBI and the U.S. Government

1 coming up with FITF as a way to proactively deal with this threat that we knew was there
2 and we needed to kind of confront?
3 A Yes.
4 Q Okay.
5 A Yes. Broadly, yes.
6 Q Okay. So I'm asking you now: If there were any reason -- a court order,
7 for example, or some other pressure from Congress or elsewhere -- that caused FITF to no
8 longer engage in this mission of sharing foreign malign influence attribution with social
9 media companies, do you have any concerns about what would happen if that mission
10 were no longer able to be carried out by FITF?
11 [redacted] So he's not a current FBI official.
12 [redacted] Understood.
13 [redacted] But you can provide a personal opinion, if you have one.
14 Mr. Benavides. My personal assessment is FITF occupies a space in the foreign 15 malign influence arena that if it were to no longer do that particular piece, which is 16 proactively sharing with, fill in the blank, private sector entity, I think that that would be a
17 detriment to what it is that the FBI and others within the U.S. intelligence community 18 attempted to do more of post-2016 in particular.
19 BY [redacted]
20 Q The kind of harms that were described in the IRA indictment, correct?
21 Those are the things that would be harder to prevent?
22 A I think that that would be a reasonable assessment -- a reasonable potential
23 conclusion, but --
24 Q Thank you for sharing that.
25 Now, in the first hour, you started to make a distinction between the FITF's work

1 in sharing accounts and indicators that had foreign attribution with the defensive
2 notification framework and matters that were specifically meant to interfere in elections,
3 correct?
4 A Yes.
5 Q Can you elaborate a little bit on those two differences in terms of what the 6 FITF's mission is, like, when they confront those two problems?
7 A Well, there are -- again, FITF is meant to be cross-programmatic, having the 8 whole of the FBI coming together in order to share and pass information. This is a
9 nuance, but I think it is an important distinction between like a counterintelligence threat
10 awareness briefing versus what I believe a defensive briefing would be.
11 The defensive briefing was born from the notification framework with particular
12 focus on threats to election and that sort of mind set. So a defensive brief would be 13 appropriately -- that term would be appropriately attributed to the notification
14 framework, where you do have a -- the FBI's always had, since it had its 15 counterintelligence stood up, a need to share counterintelligence information that we 16 had with other stakeholders.
17 So you have a counterintelligence awareness piece and then you have a defensive 18 brief per the notification framework. It's slightly different, but in my mind -- it's clear in 19 my mind the difference between the two mechanisms.
20 Q Is the notification framework, does that -- I understand that that applies to 21 defensive briefings, but does it also apply to, like, public announcements, like, when there
22 would be like an IC community statement that was put out to the public to warn the 23 public about something?
24 A To warn about election --
25 Q Election threats, for example.

1 A Or what we knew about elections? That would be housed under the
2 notification framework, yes.
3 Q And they also have -- the notification framework also has a mechanism for 4 informing people who are specifically targeted in the defensive briefing context, right?
5 A That is correct.
6 Q And those are private briefings?
7 A Defensive briefs can be privately given, yes.
8 Q Okay. Now, did FITF have a specific function with respect to election
9 interference and threats that were being seen in that space?
10 A We -- I want to make sure that I understand your question.
11 Q Uh-huh.
12 A There are all kinds of things that can go wrong in an election. You could 13 have threats against a polling station. You could have disinformation that confuses the 14 public on which day to vote, some of which are civil rights violations, some of which are 15 potentially cyber attacks, some of which may be foreign malign influence.
16 So the FITF would have needed to have situational awareness. But there
17 are -- let's say it's perceived as a civil rights violation. There would be a mechanism
18 within the FBI to investigate that civil rights violation.
19 Q On the criminal side?
20 A That would be on the criminal side of the house, yes.
21 Q Okay. But then there's also -- that's not FITF's responsibility. Is that right?
22 A That would not be FITF's responsibility.
23 Q But you would potentially have some responsibility if you saw, like, a foreign 24 malign actor trying to interfere with the election?
25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. And --

2 [redacted] What is that? Sorry.

3 Mr. Benavides. What would the FITF -- what would the FITF role be?

4 [redacted] Yeah. Is it to investigate?

5 Mr. Benavides. It would be to be able to investigate, gain an understanding

6 within the FBI and then also across the U.S. intelligence community as to what that

7 foreign adversary may be up to. And if it's regarding the election, if some sort of

8 warning or public statement or a defensive brief was warranted, it would fall under the 9 notification framework to be acted upon.

10 [redacted] Okay. And earlier, you were distinguishing between information

11 that is provided under the notification framework and then information that is shared

12 with social media companies. Is that what you were distinguishing?

13 Mr. Benavides. There are -- the notification framework is an ODNI construct that 14 deals with threats and anything that might impact the upcoming election, the election

15 space.

16 There is a space where sharing something with a social media or tech company for

17 them to assess and do what they want to do that might not necessarily be a threat to the

18 election, but it may actually be something that the FBI or a member of the USIC wants to 19 proactively share.

20 [Benavides Exhibit No. 4

21 Was marked for identification.]

22 BY [redacted]

23 Q Okay. I'm just going to show you the -- this will be our exhibit 4. It's 24 called the "Overview of the Process for the Executive Branch to Notify the Public and

25 Others Regarding Foreign Malign Influence and Interference Operations Targeting U.S.

1 Elections."

2 Take a minute to look at that, and let me know if it's familiar to you.

3 A Yeah. I am familiar with this document.

4 Q Okay. Is this the notification framework or does that refer to something

5 else?

6 A I would call this as part of the notification framework, yes. I would refer to 7 this as the notification framework, yes.

8 Q Okay. This notification framework was approved under the Trump

9 administration on October 31st, 2019. Are you aware of that?

10 A I am aware that this was approved under the previous administration, yes,

11 under the Trump administration.

12 Q Okay. This framework is an interagency framework which standardizes the 13 process for notifying potentially impacted parties, including Members of Congress,

14 political candidates, private sector entities, and the public that they may have been

15 targeted by foreign attempts to influence the U.S. democratic process. Is that correct?

16 A I think that that's accurate, yes.

17 Q Okay. Now, at the beginning of the third paragraph, beginning with the 18 words "public exposure," the framework recognizes, quote, "public exposure and

19 attribution of foreign election influence and interference can render these operations less

20 effective," end quote.

21 Do you have an understanding about what that means?

22 A I have my understanding of what that means.

23 Q What do you think that means?

24 A When you let the public know that there is a foreign adversary behind a

25 particular piece of information, it could shed a light on the activity of the foreign

1 adversary and potentially allow the public to better contextualize what it is that they're
2 consuming. It puts the public in the position to know by providing attribution. That's 3 how I would interpret this.
4 Q And so tell me if this is consistent with your understanding. By putting
5 information out there, the FBI -- in terms of the attribution, the FBI or the intelligence
6 community is trying to give the American public more information, not take away
7 information that they deem propaganda or something else. Is that fair to say?
8 A That is correct, yeah.
9 Q Because you think that by giving them more information based on what you
10 know, that's arming the American people to understand the context better. Is that fair?
11 A I think that that is a fair assessment, the way you describe that, based on the 12 way this sentence is written.
13 Q And is that the way you've seen it operate in your own experience in terms
14 of a focus on giving out information to the American people rather than trying to 15 suppress or coerce others to suppress information?
16 A Correct.
17 Q Okay. This continues, the same paragraph. It says -- the framework goes
18 on in that paragraph to recognize that nonpublic notification to targets of election 19 interference, quote, "may also mitigate the impacts of these operations by providing 20 accurate and reliable information and by enhancing resilience against future attempts."
21 Do you see that?
22 A Where are you?
23 Q I'm sorry. That's supposed to be in the same section. It's actually right
24 after the first sentence that I read you. It says -- this is paragraph 3.
25 A Ah, I see it. Thank you.

1 Q The first sentence that starts "public."
2 A Yep.
3 Q Yep. So I guess what I'm saying is, these two sentences appear to me to 4 describe two different processes. One is the public exposure, and the other is like the 5 private exposure of somebody who's been specifically targeted. Is that right?
6 A Correct.
7 Q Okay. So the defensive briefings that you've referred to, those are the 8 private notifications?
9 A In this construct, yes. Yes.
10 Q Okay. And then the public would be like a notice going out to the public
11 about something that the IC sees?
12 A I think that for public -- for public it would be still the whole of the U.S.
13 intelligence community coming together. And perhaps -- I'm going to use as like for an 14 example a published op-ed or something like that to broadly inform the public. It would 15 not necessarily be something specifically from the FBI. It would be the whole of the 16 U.S. Government coming together.
17 Q Okay. There's quite a bit of description in this framework about the 18 mechanics of this notification framework. And I don't know if you've been in a position
19 to actually be a part of these decisions. Have you?
20 A My role, I would have reported to a deputy assistant director. That role
21 would have been the appropriate rank to participate. I would have been involved as an 22 executive at the section chief level. And so for these type conversations, it would be
23 myself and Nikki in the conversation, but -- which is different than, you know, like the FBI
24 is making a decision. Sometimes that would even be something that would have to be 25 pushed up even higher.

1 So there's participation, and then there's like the moment a decision has to be
2 made.
3 Q Okay.
4 A I'm just --
5 Q Yep.
6 A I'm not trying to be -- I'm trying to separate the two. I would have been 7 involved in these type conversations.
8 Q Okay. And I'm just trying to be clear, because I know it can get a little bit
9 dense. And there's a difference between you describing what you think might happen in 10 a position where you haven't actually been a part of it, and then there's your own
11 personal experience. So if you could clarify as I ask these questions --
12 A Okay.
13 Q -- which ones you actually have been a part of and which ones it's just your 14 understanding is what happens, I would appreciate that.
15 When you refer to Nikki, are you talking about Nikki Floris, your --
16 A Yes, ma'am.
17 Q -- boss -- okay -- at the time at FITF?
18 The framework has a description -- where is this? This is page -- so the 19 framework describes the process by which notification decisions are made in the last four 20 bullet points in the right column of the document, so right-hand column, last four bullet
21 points. This is like the process that's described in the framework for how these 22 decisions are made --
23 A Uh-huh.
24 Q -- and I'm just going to read them.
25 A Uh-huh.

1 Q All right. It says, quote, When relevant foreign intelligence is identified, the 2 ODNI will convene a Credibility Assessment Group, CAG, comprised of experts from 3 different intelligence community, IC, agencies, to conduct a credibility assessment of the 4 intelligence.
5 When appropriate, the ODNI will provide the CAG assessment to an experts group
6 comprised of senior representatives of the IC elements within the CAG and the 7 Department of Defense, Treasury, Justice, and Homeland Security, which will evaluate 8 whether a public or nonpublic notification is appropriate under the notification
9 framework.
10 When the experts group recommends a nonpublic notification, the FBI and/or DHS
11 will provide the notification.
12 When the experts group recommends a public notification, the Director of 13 National Intelligence will convene a leaders group comprised of the Secretaries of State, 14 Defense, Homeland Security, and the Treasury, the Attorney General, and the directors of 15 the Central Intelligence Agency, FBI, Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency, 16 and the National Security Agency, to determine if a public notification is appropriate, the 17 nature of the notification, and the notification agency, end quote.
18 All right. Are you familiar generally with that process?

1

2 [12:14 p.m.]

3 Mr. Benavides. I am familiar generally with that process.

4 BY [redacted]

5 Q Have you ever been a part of the Credibility Assessment Group or the 6 experts group determinations?

7 A Not the Credibility Assessment Group. That would be subject-matter

8 experts by my understanding of what the CAG would convene, but I would have been a

9 part of the experts group. I never used the term "experts group." I would have said

10 subprincipals because they're certainly below the Director of the FBI, who in my mind

11 would be like a principal.

12 So, if I'm reading this and contextualizing, I would consider myself to be part of 13 the experts group, but I would have referred to it likely as subprincipals.

14 Q Okay.

15 [redacted] Were you the designee or Nikki on behalf of the FBI?

16 Mr. Benavides. Nikki on behalf of the FBI.

17 [redacted] Okay.

18 BY [redacted]

19 Q The framework describes several, quote, principles, which guide the 20 decisions of the intelligence community whether or not to provide notifications to targets

21 of foreign influence operations. Starting at the bottom of the left column and

22 continuing to the top of the right column, do you see that? There is sort of a bold that

23 says: The executive branch relies on guiding principles. And then it has a couple

24 bullets. The bottom of the first column.

25 A Oh, the bottom of the first column?

1 Q Yes. And there is like a small bullet point.

2 A I see it. I see it. Yes. Yes.

3 Q The notification framework refers to these as, quote, guiding principles.

4 They are supposed to guide the decision on whether to provide notifications.

5 Do you see that?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay.

8 And the framework states, first bullet point: Notification decisions shall serve

9 U.S. national security interests consistent with the responsibility to protect the American

10 people and to uphold the Constitution.

11 The next bullet point says: Partisan politics shall not play a role in the decision to 12 provide notifications.

13 Next: Notification decisions shall not be intended to censor or chill political and

14 social discourse or other First Amendment protected activities. Notification decisions

15 shall be intended to support broader Federal Government efforts to protect U.S.

16 democratic institutions and processes, including elections, and to counter foreign malign

17 influence.

18 Are you familiar with those principles?

19 A Yes.

20 Q In your experience, are these principles adhered to when the notification

21 decisions have been made while you were at the FBI?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Have you ever been called upon to give defensive briefings on behalf of the 24 FBI and to the IC community?

25 A I have been called on to be part of a defensive brief, but based on rank, I

1 would not have delivered the defensive brief, but I would have been in the room.

2 Q So you would have heard the defensive brief being given?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Okay. But you haven't yourself given them?

5 A I don't think that I have.

6 Q Do you know how many times you've given defensive briefings or been a

7 part -- I'm sorry -- or even witnessed them, as you just described?

8 A I'm going to approximately say 10.

9 Q Okay.

10 A Maybe a little more but I'm going to -- approximately 10.

11 Q In those 10 times, have some of those been you actually giving the briefing?

12 A I don't recall ever giving a defensive brief but certainly in the room when 13 given.

14 Q Okay. During those experiences when the defensive briefings have been

15 given, have you and others that you've witnessed followed the guidance that we've

16 discussed that's listed in these principles in the ODNI defensive notification framework?

17 A By my assessment, yes.

18 Q Okay. Have you ever been called upon to participate in a decision to notify 19 a target of a foreign influence operation?

20 A I, as described earlier, would have been part of that experts group,

21 subprincipal group where I would have been in the room with Nikki Floris when the 22 conversation occurred.

23 Q Okay. How many times have you participated in that type of 24 decisionmaking process with respect to targets of foreign malign influence operations?

25 A At the expert group level?

1 Q Sure.

2 A Again, I'm going to say approximately 10. It may be more.

3 Q Okay. So all of the times that you've described giving a defensive briefing

4 or participating, it's always been about targets of foreign malign influence?

5 A For defensive briefs, it would be under the notification framework per the 6 ODNI.

7 Q Okay.

8 When you've participated in these decisions, have you adhered to the principles

9 listed in the framework?

10 A Yes.

11 Q In particular, when you've participated in a notification decision, have you

12 rigorously adhered to the principle articulated in the framework that states, quote,

13 "partisan politics shall not play a role in the decision," end quote?

14 A Absolutely.

15 Q Have you observed similarly strict adherence to this principle from the other

16 members of the IC community and the FBI who were involved in these notification

17 decisions?

18 A Yes.

19 Q When you've participated in a notification decision, have you rigorously

20 adhered to the principle articulated in the defensive framework that, quote, "notification

21 decisions shall not be intended to censor or chill political and social discourse or other

22 First Amendment protected activities," end quote?

23 A Of which I have been in the room when defensive briefs have been given, my 24 assessment is that was adhered to strictly.

25 Q Okay.

1 The same with the principle that the notification decision shall be intended to
2 support broad Federal Government efforts and protect U.S. democratic institutions and
3 processes, including elections, and to counter foreign influence?
4 A Yes.
5 Q Okay.
6 Have you ever seen anybody in the FBI participate in one of these decisions for 7 any reason other than those stated in the guiding principles of the notification
8 framework?
9 A No, ma'am.
10 [redacted] We can go off the record.
11 [Recess.]
12 [redacted] Back on the record.
13 BY [redacted]
14 Q Mr. Benavides, do you recall that, on August 6, 2020, you and Ms. Nikki
15 Floris provided a defensive briefing to Senators Chuck Grassley and Ron Johnson?
16 A I would have been in the room for that. I would not have delivered the 17 defensive brief.
18 Q So Ms. Floris gave the defensive briefing, to your recollection?
19 A Yes, sir.
20 Q Who is Nikki Floris?
21 A Nikki Floris at the time would have been the Deputy Assistant Director for 22 the Intelligence Branch within the Counterintelligence Division of the FBI.
23 Q And, as far as you know, what were her responsibilities in that role?
24 A She ran a branch, the Intelligence Branch, and her role would have been a 25 senior executive over intelligence, intelligence products, the part of the 1 counterintelligence division's intelligence apparatus, if that make sense.

2 Q Yeah.

3 And you may have testified to this already, so forgive me, but was she your

4 supervisor at the time?

5 A She would have been my supervisor at the time.

6 Q Before we get into the particulars of the briefing, I want to discuss an

7 investigation that Senators Grassley and Johnson were conducting in 2019. Were you

8 aware that, in August of 2019, Senator Grassley of the Senate Finance Committee, and

9 Senator Johnson of the Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee

10 opened an investigation into potential conflicts of interest involving the Biden family's

11 foreign business ventures while Joe Biden was Vice President?

12 A I am generally aware that that was an investigation.

13 Q Okay. When and how did you become aware of this?

14 A Probably through maybe reading an article. It certainly would have been in 15 some of the prep material. I would have saw it there as well.

16 Q Prep material?

17 A Yes.

18 Q For?

19 A For this particular engagement.

20 Q How large was the prep material that you reviewed?

21 A It was articles.

22 Q Okay.

23 A Primarily articles.

24 Q The Senators' investigation, that's how I'll refer to it, into the Biden family's

25 foreign business dealings, did this in any way -- were you in any way involved in that from

1 the -- withdraw.

2 Did the Senators' investigation in any way affect your role at the FBI?

3 A It did not.

4 Q Did it in any way relate to your role at the FBI?

5 A Their investigation?

6 Q Yes.

7 A Did not.

8 Q And what was your understanding or is your understanding of their

9 investigation?

10 A I don't have a good understanding of their investigation.

11 Q Are you aware that, upon concluding their investigation, the staff of the

12 Senate Finance Committee and the Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs

13 Committee issued a report in September of 2020?

14 A I am not immediately aware of that.

15 [redacted] I'm going to mark as exhibit 5 and enter into the record the "Hunter

16 Biden, Burisma, and Corruption: The Impact on U.S. Government Policy and Related

17 Concerns," a report from the Senate Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental 18 Affairs and the Senate Committee on Finance.

19 [Benavides Exhibit No. 5

20 Was marked for identification.]

21 BY [redacted]

22 Q Now, this is only 6 pages of a much larger document. It contains the table

23 of contents and the executive summary. I am not asking you to read this right now,

24 Mr. Benavides, but I will direct your attention to specific --

25 A Okay.

1 Q -- key findings.

2 A Okay.

3 Q I'd like to discuss those.

4 But I will ask, having reviewed the cover page and the executive summary, have

5 you seen this report in part or in full before?

6 A I don't think I have.

7 Q I'm going to direct your attention to page 4 under the rubric key findings.

8 [redacted] I'm sorry. I think you stated it, but what was the date of the report?

9 [redacted] September 2020. I will make that representation.

10 [redacted] Thank you.

11 [redacted] I realize there is no date on this particular document.

12 BY [redacted]

13 Q Directing your attention to the second paragraph under key findings, it

14 reads: In October 2015, senior State Department official Amos Hochstein raised

15 concerns with Vice President Biden, as well as with Hunter Biden, that Hunter Biden's

16 position on Burisma's board enabled Russian disinformation efforts and risked

17 undermining U.S. policy in Ukraine.

18 In your briefings with Senator Grassley -- when I refer to your briefing, I'm talking

19 about on August 6th with Ms. Floris.

20 A Yes.

21 Q Now, I understand you're saying you did not provide the -- you did not make

22 oral representations to the Senators. Correct?

23 A That is correct.

24 Q But you were there?

25 A I was in the room, yes.

1 Q So in that briefing, did you or Ms. Floris mention that the FBI or FITF had 2 similar concerns?
3 A Although Nikki Floris and myself would have been employees of the FBI, we,
4 or Nikki, would not have attributed the defensive brief to the FBI. I don't even know
5 that the FBI's name was brought up in the defensive brief other than a standard preamble
6 that would describe we're here on behalf of the U.S. intelligence community. We are 7 executives -- or Nikki is an executive from the FBI. I don't recall the FBI being brought up
8 with the Senators directly, not based on my recollection.
9 Q I'm going to probe more of the actual details of the briefing.
10 A Okay.
11 Q So I appreciate the sort of comprehensive response. But for purposes of 12 going through these findings --
13 A Okay.
14 Q And, again, it may be that it's your recollection that there was no response
15 to it, but I'm asking specifically this key finding, was this something that Ms. Floris
16 mentioned in this briefing?
17 A This key finding?
18 Q Yes.
19 A No, sir.
20 Q Okay.
21 A Not based on my recollection.
22 Q Fair enough.
23 Let's move on to the fifth page of this document. Directing your attention to the 24 second -- the first second full paragraph where it reads: Hunter Biden was serving on 25 Burisma's board, supposedly consulting on corporate governance and transparency

1 when -- I'm going to butcher these names -- Zlochevsky allegedly paid a $7 million bribe
2 to officials serving under Ukraine's prosecutor general, Vitaly Yarema, to, quote, shut the
3 case against Zlochevsky.
4 Kent, who was former acting deputy chief of mission at the U.S. Embassy in Kyiv,
5 Ukraine, George Kent, testified that this bribe occurred in December of 2014, 7 months
6 after Hunter joined Burisma's board and after learning about it, he and the resident legal
7 advisor reported this allegation to the FBI.
8 Did you or Ms. Floris discuss this allegation in your August 6th briefing with the 9 Senators?
10 A I don't recall that.
11 Q Do you have any information as to this -- in your role at the FBI, did you
12 come across this allegation?
13 A Not this specific allegation in my role at the FBI.
14 Q Anything related, if not specific?
15 A Not to my recollection.
16 Q Were you aware of this allegation generally?
17 A No, sir.
18 Q Do you know if the FBI did anything about this allegation?
19 A I don't know.
20 Q Okay.
21 Directing your attention to the third paragraph from the bottom of page 5, it
22 reads: In addition to the over $4 million paid by Burisma for Hunter Biden's and 23 Archer's -- and that's referring to Hunter Biden's business partner, Devon Archer that's 24 been in the news as of late -- Archer's Board memberships, Hunter Biden, his family, and 25 Archer received millions of dollars from foreign nationals with questionable backgrounds.

1 Do you know if this allegation came up in the August 6th briefing?

2 A Not to my recollection.

3 Q Okay.

4 Were you aware that Burisma paid Hunter Biden and his partner over $4 million?

5 A Not personally.

6 Q Were you aware that those two made millions more from foreign nationals

7 with questionable backgrounds?

8 A I am not aware of that specific allegation.

9 Q Let me ask you: Do you know if this was a concern for the FBI?

10 A I do not know.

11 Q Given your vast experience with the FBI, would this be the sort of thing the 12 FBI should be concerned about?

13 A My career with the FBI is the national security side of the house. The FBI

14 has a large investigative purview. I don't know that that would have necessarily been

15 something -- it would not have been something that would have hit my charter in my 16 career.

17 Q Well, let me ask you this: What's your personal impression?

18 A My personal impression?

19 Q Your personal impression of your own experience. I understand your 20 caveat is this is not your lane.

21 A Uh-huh.

22 Q But, you are not a potted plant. You have experience. You've worked at

23 the FBI many years. You pay attention to what's going on in the world, presumably. Is

24 this the sort of allegation the FBI would be concerned with, your personal opinion, or

25 should be, for that matter?

1 A You're asking my personal opinion. My personal opinion is an allegation is
2 an allegation. The veracity behind an allegation, where the allegation originated, who 3 gave the allegation, where it came from.
4 You're right, I have been an FBI agent for some amount of time. An allegation is
5 an allegation. How did you form the allegation? Where did it come from? Do I trust
6 the allegation? Those are questions me personally, as an FBI agent, I would ask as an
7 investigator. Once those questions were satisfied, this would be an allegation that I
8 think I would potentially look into, perhaps.
9 You're asking me to speculate. I'm doing my very best. But I had an over 10 20-year career. Allegations are what they are, but where did you get it? And prove to 11 me, show me, I'm an FBI agent, that you know what you're talking about. Not you
12 specifically, sir, but a confidential human source or something that's passed to the FBI for 13 action. A walk-in wants to give a tip to the FBI.
14 It is part of the initial investigative steps to really dig in to, can I trust the person?
15 Do I have a reason to believe that what they are alleging might be true?
16 So, for me, you're asking me personally. Those are the types of steps that I
17 would have gone through in my career when someone made an allegation.
18 Q No, that's fair.
19 So I'm not going to ask you to -- we're not going to spend the remainder of the 20 time going into your personal opinion, but it is relevant for Congress' oversight to get an 21 understanding of how these things unfold, and when we have someone with your 22 experience, we're, obviously, going to take advantage of that.
23 So, assuming the concern as to reliability, which is what I think you're saying, have 24 been satisfied. This is a credible source. It all checks out, the substance of the 25 allegation itself. Again, assuming its credibility, based on all the factors you, in your

1 experience, would use to make that determination, is this something the FBI should be
2 concerned with?
3 A It's incredibly difficult for me to answer. Again, I'm looking at this bullet
4 with questionable backgrounds. I have no idea what that means. It's incredibly
5 difficult for me to say based on what I'm looking at should the FBI -- I think you used
6 should the FBI.
7 Q I did.
8 A I don't know.
9 Q Okay.
10 Let's go to the first key finding on page 4. It reads: In early 2015, the former
11 acting deputy chief of mission at the U.S. Embassy in Kyiv, Ukraine, George Kent raised
12 concerns to officials in Vice President Joe Biden's office about the perception of a conflict
13 of interest with respect to Hunter Biden's role on Burisma's board. Kent's concern went 14 unaddressed, and in September of 2016, he emphasized in an email to his colleagues,
15 quote: Furthermore, the presence of Hunter Biden on the Burisma board was very 16 awkward for all U.S. officials pushing an anticorruption agenda in Ukraine, end quote.
17 Do you know if the FBI did anything with respect to this concern?
18 A I do not know.
19 Q I'm going to come back to a hypothetical. Given your vast experience with 20 the FBI and your personal experience, and, again, things you may have reviewed in 21 preparation for this interview, is George Kent's concern something that -- withdrawn.
22 Given your vast experience with the FBI, would you agree with George Kent's
23 assessment that this creates a potential conflict of interest given those facts?
24 A I don't see facts. It is impossible for me to answer your question. Kent's
25 concerns went unaddressed. I have no idea what that means. I also don't know that

1 that's true or untrue. I honestly have no idea. He emphasized in an email to his
2 colleagues: Furthermore the presence of Hunter Biden on the Burisma board was very 3 awkward --
4 Q So that's a fact, right?
5 A -- awkward for all U.S. officials pushing an anticorruption agenda in Ukraine.
6 I can't speak to that.
7 Q But, in terms of the facts, Hunter Biden is on the Burisma's board. That's a
8 fact.
9 A Okay.
10 Q Joe Biden was Vice President under the Obama administration, and they 11 were pursuing an anticorruption policy in Ukraine.
12 So, again, this is just an interview. You're a witness with a lot of experience.
13 You don't have to be necessarily an ambassador to the Ukraine to sort of help us get a
14 sense of where the FBI might stand. And I agree, the word "awkward," as used, is not 15 very precise, and that's an opinion, right.
16 But the larger context on which this is operating is that Hunter Biden is being paid
17 millions of dollars by Burisma. It's a credible allegation that it's a corrupt energy
18 company in Ukraine. And his father is pursuing anticorruption in Ukraine. That creates 19 an appearance of a conflict of interest.
20 That's the central premise here. In your view, is this something the FBI generally 21 should have been concerned with?
22 A This is outside of my area of expertise.
23 Q Then that is the answer.
24 Let us go to the defensive briefing. Are you familiar with a letter sent to the FBI
25 on July 13, 2020, from Senator Chuck Schumer, Senator Mark Warner, then Speaker

1 Nancy Pelosi, and then chairman of the House Permanent Select Committee on
2 Intelligence Adam Schiff to Director Wray expressing their belief that Congress was the 3 subject of a foreign disinformation campaign?
4 A I am aware generally of that letter.
5 Q Okay.
6 [redacted] I am entering into the record as exhibit 6 the letter we just 7 referenced.
8 [Benavides Exhibit No. 6
9 Was marked for identification.]
10 BY [redacted]
11 Q If you would, Mr. Benavides, take a look at the first paragraph and then the 12 penultimate paragraph of the first page. Have you reviewed this letter before today?
13 A I don't know that I have reviewed this letter before today.
14 Q So it doesn't look familiar?
15 A The topic is familiar to me. I don't know that I've read this where I've seen
16 these signatures below.
17 Q Was it your understanding that Congress may have been subjected to a
18 concerted foreign interference campaign?
19 A A defensive brief to like the Members of the House of Representatives, a 20 request that Congress appears to be -- we are gravely concerned, in particular, that 21 Congress appears to be the target of a concerted foreign influence campaign, which seeks 22 to launder and amplify disinformation in order to influence congressional activity.
23 What's your question?
24 Q Was it your understanding that Congress may have been subjected to a
25 concerted foreign influence interference campaign?

1 A I don't know that that would have been my understanding. The way this
2 reads to me, this would fall under the notification framework. This would fall under the 3 whole of USIC discussing a request for a defensive brief be made to Congress.
4 This looks like a request for a defensive brief, and it coming to the FBI, my
5 assessment is that this would have been then moved into the notification framework
6 where the notification framework would have been triggered in a way that an 7 agreed-upon script or narrative across the USIC, if this defensive brief occurred, would 8 have been given to Members.
9 Q Well, let me ask you this, because this is a letter from partisan Democrats.
10 So let's put this to the side for a second.
11 Was it your understanding, in the role of FBI, that Congress may have been 12 subjected to a concerted foreign interference campaign? Just put this aside. Just your 13 basic understanding.
14 A I would need more information. To broadly say Congress is the target of a
15 malign foreign influence campaign, I would need much more information to know
16 precisely what this foreign interference campaign would look like.
17 Me, as a national security person in the FITF -- Congress is this large body.
18 Malign foreign interference has a broad definition -- I would need much more information
19 in order to then understand what this is saying. I don't know what this is saying.
20 Q Let me -- again, let's put this out of view for a moment.
21 A Are you requesting that I turn it over?
22 Q If you want.
23 A Done.
24 Q In your capacity at the FBI, did you have specific intelligence to some sort of 25 malign operation or influence campaign against Congress or Members of Congress?

1 A In my capacity as section chief of FITF, I would have been made aware if
2 Members of the Congress broadly and/or the Senate would be potentially targeted in a
3 foreign malign influence campaign. I would have been made aware of that.
4 Q Perfect.
5 So now my question is, were you made aware of that?
6 A In some instances, yes.
7 Q When?
8 A What does that mean, when? Like a date?
9 Q An approximate date, a timeframe.
10 A Sometime in 2020.
11 Q Okay. Before July 2020, if you know?
12 A I don't know.
13 [redacted] For the times that you remember, was it the Congress as a body or 14 was it individual members?
15 Mr. Benavides. I remember sitting in I would call it a defensive brief where many 16 Members of Congress were in the room. I do recall that. I also recall one on one 17 defensive briefs given to particular individuals.
18 BY [redacted]
19 Q Do large-scale defensive briefing with Congress, would you apprise a group
20 that individual members were targeted?
21 A If an individual -- if the FBI and the USIC has specific information that not just 22 Members of Congress but staffers, anyone is being specifically targeted, we would have 23 worked to do a defensive brief, and it would have likely been one on one. And so, if you
24 think of it as concentric circles, you can harden the target as you move out or move in.
25 As you move in, it may be one on one. As you move out, it may be everyone in this

1 room. As you move out any further, it might be an op-ed to the American people. It's 2 just the way it kind of worked.
3 I do remember a defensive brief broadly given to Members.
4 Q Would this letter prompt the FBI to give a defensive briefing to Members?
5 A I don't know. I don't know if that letter would. I think specific and
6 actionable intelligence that a body like the Congress could be the target of foreign malign
7 influence campaign would trigger a defensive brief. I don't know that that would spur
8 the USIC into action.
9 Q Okay. In your experience, has requests from Members of Congress,
10 powerful Members of Congress making claims that they are subjected to malign foreign 11 influence campaign, could that prompt a defensive briefing generally for other Members
12 of Congress?
13 A Not that I'm aware of.
14 Q Okay.
15 A No.
16 Q But do you see the logic of my question?
17 A I do see the logic of your question. Yes, sir.
18 Q That's kind of -- if it's inartfully asked, just let me know.
19 And I guess I ask that because you have the chair of the intelligence committee.
20 You have the Speaker of the House essentially saying: Congress is being targeted. Can 21 somebody come and talk to us about it, right -- because they're not an intelligence
22 agency.
23 But in your experience, you don't know of that specifically happening?
24 A No.
25 Q Okay.

1 Let's turn to the August 6, 2020, defensive briefing. At whose request was that
2 briefing provided to Senators Johnson and Grassley?
3 A It would have been at the request of the ODNI, for lack of a better
4 description.
5 Q Other than Ms. Floris, did you speak to anyone else at the FBI about this
6 defensive briefing?
7 A I don't think I understand the question.
8 Q Well, let me ask you this. You briefed Senators Grassley and Johnson
9 separately. Correct? If you recall.
10 A I believe so, yes.
11 Q Is that your recollection?
12 A That's my recollection, yes.
13 Q You spoke with Ms. Floris in advance of giving the briefings to the Senators?
14 A Yes.
15 Q Did you speak to anyone else at the FBI about these particular briefings?
16 A Before the briefing?
17 Q Before you gave them, yes.
18 A Oh, for situational awareness, the front office would know that Nikki and I
19 planned to deliver a defensive brief to the Senators.
20 Q You would inform the front office, the front office would inform you that you
21 were going to give this briefing?
22 A The front office would have had awareness that the notification framework
23 had been triggered in a way that allows the USIC to come together and develop a script, a
24 narrative, the date of which the engagement might not have been fully determined. But 25 there would have been an awareness of the front office that this activity was taking place.

1 Q And the notification framework, you get some sort of notification from the
2 Office of the National Director of Intelligence, who I'll call ODNI. Is that correct?
3 A I don't understand the question.
4 Q The triggering, the framework or the triggering event that makes you and
5 Ms. Floris go give a defensive briefing to two United States Senators, that's a notification
6 from ODNI. Correct?
7 A Maybe a bit more nuanced than that.
8 Q Please.
9 A Any member of the USIC can nominate a piece of intelligence into the 10 notification framework, which then prompts the USIC to come together and assess, based 11 on those guidelines, the merit of a defensive brief, for example.
12 At that point, the ODNI's role would have been to coordinate how that script is 13 crafted in a way that allows the recipient of the defensive brief to take some measure.
14 Q In terms of the actual notification, it goes to -- it went to Ms. Floris?
15 A When you say "actual notification," you mean saying that we are going to 16 deliver a defensive brief to two Senators and a script has been generated. Is that the 17 notification?
18 Q I think that's right. Are there more notifications? Well, let me say this.
19 ODNI works on the script without input from the FBI?
20 A I think that the whole of the USIC comes together, but it may not be FBI
21 intelligence that prompts the notification.
22 Q So let me be a little more specific. How did you and Ms. Floris come to 23 learn that you would be giving a defensive briefing to Senators?
24 A Once a piece of intelligence was put into the notification framework, was 25 nominated for consideration.

1 Q Okay.

2 And then how are you actually notified? Is there an email? Is there somebody

3 that knocks on the door?

4 A That someone notified a piece of intelligence?

5 Q Yes.

6 A Oh, it would have been perhaps, perhaps via email or through a SVTC, a

7 secure video call with other, for lack of a better description, subprincipals.

8 Q And it's the FBI's role to actually, in the end, give these defensive briefings.

9 Correct?

10 A Or the Department of Homeland Security, but more often than not, it would

11 be the FBI in the domestic space being the mouth piece for the defensive brief.

12 Q Okay.

13 And your office is chosen because the targets -- your office is chosen because

14 these Senators are actually in Washington, D.C. Correct? That's how the Washington

15 office is involved in giving this particular defensive briefing?

16 A Are you meaning that the recipients are in Washington, D.C. proper, for lack

17 of a better description, and the foreign influence task force is at FBI headquarters? Is 18 that what you're asking? Why Nikki gave a defensive brief?

19 Q Yes.

20 A Okay.

21 Q Yes, that is my question.

22 A I think it's a little more complicated than that. I think that -- these are

23 sitting Senators. Nikki is a Deputy Assistant Director who has given an uncountable

24 number of briefings broadly, defensive briefings notwithstanding, where there would

25 have been a high level of competence in her proficiency in engaging Senators in a way

1 that represented what was being done well, if that makes sense.

2 Q Yeah.

3 A In other words, you're not going to send a low-level person into a Senator's

4 office. You're just not going to do that. I think there is some protocol here. There is

5 some rank here, and then there is also just breadth of experience.

6 Q Okay.

7 A Some of that is taken into account.

8 Q Okay.

9 So what was the subject and the purpose of that defensive brief?

10 A It has been a while since I read through that particular defensive brief.

11 Based on my recollection, the USIC came together, developed a script to provide to the 12 Senators that the USIC has the following information. And the defensive brief would

13 have been classified. There would have likely been some level of detail sufficient so that

14 the recipient could contextualize what was being said and then, perhaps, take that into

15 account for their own personal situational awareness.

16 Q Does anyone at the FBI assist in drafting the script or editing or providing 17 comments?

18 A If it were FBI intelligence being nominated into the framework, the FBI

19 would take a proactive role. Part of this is to ensure sensitive sources, means, and

20 methods are protected. And so, if the FBI had an equity, it's our intelligence, we would 21 certainly want to have a hand in developing the script.

22 [redacted] But here.

23 Mr. Benavides. Oh, for this one?

24 [redacted] Yes.

25 Mr. Benavides. I'm sorry. That is not, based on my understanding, FBI

1 intelligence that was nominated.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Right.

4 But you and Ms. Floris are going to convey this defensive briefing?

5 A Yes.

6 Q To two sitting United States Senators?

7 A Yes.

8 Q So presumably the equity is: We're going to meet with these men. We

9 may have certain objections to things in the script, and maybe we want to take an

10 editorial pen to it.

11 A Are you saying does the notification framework allow that?

12 Q I'm saying, did that happen in this case?

13 A Oh, I don't know.

14 Q So you did not --

15 A No.

16 Q -- make any changes or edits to the script?

17 A Not that I'm aware of.

18 Q To your knowledge, did Ms. Floris make any edits?

19 A I don't know.

20 Q Did anyone at the FBI edit the script, as far as you know?

21 A Not as far as I know.

22 Q And, in this particular instance, the script came from ODNI?

23 A The script would have been coordinated through the ODNI framework and

24 then delivered, in this instance, by Nikki Floris, and I would have been in the room with 25 her.

1 Q Now, you testified the intelligence underlying the script was not FBI
2 intelligence.
3 A My understanding is it was not nominated by the FBI.
4 Q So my question is: Did you vet the intelligence in the script at all?
5 A Me personally?
6 Q Yes.
7 A I did not.
8 Q Do you know if Ms. Floris did?
9 A I don't know.
10 Q Do you know if anyone at the FBI did?
11 A I don't know.
12 Q If you did not vet the information contained in the script -- well, withdrawn.
13 Were you confident that the information contained in -- let's go back.
14 You gave a criteria earlier when I asked about the key findings in the Hunter Biden
15 report of an allegation is just an allegation. Who did it come from. You know, you
16 make credibility assessments.
17 Did you make credibility assessments with respect to the script?
18 A I want to make sure that I understand what you're asking.
19 Q Please.
20 A We, Nikki and I, would have concurred with the script or otherwise pushed
21 back on the script and not delivered it or had -- requested modification. So the fact that 22 Nikki read the script, I assess that Nikki was comfortable with the script and agreed with 23 the underlying intelligence that generated the script.
24 Q Even though it was not FBI intelligence?
25 A The U.S. intelligence community has multiple ways of generating

1 intelligence. Some agencies have a particular focus and other agencies have a slightly
2 different focus, and so the fact that it's not FBI intelligence does not surprise me or it
3 doesn't alarm me or surprise me.
4 Q Okay.
5 The fact that Ms. Floris concurred with these intelligence assessments, did she 6 have a conversation with you about that?
7 A No, she didn't. Not that I'm aware of. Not that I recall.
8 Q Did you have an inquiry for her as to "you're comfortable with this? Why,
9 I'm curious?"
10 A If I was comfortable with the script?
11 Q Well, no. She was comfortable with it. So I'm asking you did you say,
12 "Hey, I see you're comfortable with the script. May I ask why? Did anything like that 13 transpire?"
14 A No, I would not have asked that.
15 Q So, in terms of the veracity of the underlying intelligence, you did not do 16 anything to vet one way or the other?
17 A Me personally?
18 Q Yes.
19 A I did not.
20 Q And you're comfortable with -- well, withdrawn.
21 How does one determine its reliability? This is a general question.
22 A I think, generally, if you go back to the notification framework, the CAG,
23 Credibility Assessment Group, if I'm getting the acronym correct --
24 Q I think it's CAG, yes.
25 A -- would have been a part of that.

1 Q And now I'm just surmising, based on your testimony, you could not
2 definitively say that the information contained in the script came from a reliable
3 intelligence source?
4 A I would have high confidence that it came from a reliable intelligence source
5 because of the way that -- the way the framework is structured. It is meant to be -- it is
6 meant to be inspected. It is meant to be questioned. It is meant to provide high
7 confidence so that individuals or large bodies could take some level of protective stance.
8 You inherently undermine that if the process doesn't have those inspection points.
9 I would have high confidence that the Credibility Assessment Group and that the agency
10 nominating the intelligence into the framework, that it would have been argumentative in 11 nature, potentially, to arrive at a script that the USIC and the ODNI agreed would have 12 merit and actionable and action items in it.
13 Q It sounds like you're saying: I have high confidence in the process and, as a
14 result, I have high confidence in the assessment.
15 But my question to you is you cannot definitively say the intelligence underlying 16 the script that formed the basis of the defensive briefing to the two United States
17 Senators is reliable. I'm asking you definitively. I'm not asking about confidence. I'm 18 saying you personally do not -- cannot definitively say that.
19 A Repeat the question one more time. I apologize.
20 Q No, that's okay. That's a long question.
21 I understand you to be testifying as to the high confidence you have in the 22 process, and as a result of that process, you tend to have high confidence in the 23 conclusions drawn. Correct?
24 A Yes.
25 Q In this particular instance, you have high confidence in the assessment

1 because of your general high confidence in the process. Correct?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. But you cannot definitively say -- and this is not a trick question.

4 You cannot definitively say in this particular instance -- you cannot vouch for the 5 veracity of the intelligence?

6 A I cannot.

7 Q That was my question.

8 And you and Ms. Floris did not do anything additionally to try to vet that

9 underlying intelligence?

10 A I don't know if I can answer that with a simple yes or no. The way that this

11 notification framework is set up, the way the process is set up would have allowed

12 multiple iterations, perhaps multiple iterations of a script being brought together. It is

13 meant to be argued and inspected in a way that resulted in a script of high confidence so

14 that the recipient could take some level of situational awareness and take

15 protective -- but also, if someone comes -- someone from the U.S. intelligence community

16 sits across from a sitting Senator, that Senator has to have some level of confidence that

17 the individuals that are delivering this, that the script that's being delivered, that the USIC

18 assesses that this is an important topic to be discussed.

19 And so I don't want to downplay the seriousness of which high confidence would

20 be attributed to something like that, if that make sense.

21 Q It does. And, again, I think we're sort of speaking broadly about the

22 process. You're saying: Hey, if we come in, a Senator should take that seriously. And 23 we'll speak specifically about these Senators in a moment.

24 It's meant to be an argumentative process, but did you do anything specific? I

25 think you've answered this, but I want to be very clear for the record. In this particular

1 script, for these particular Senators, did you have any pushback or questions about it?
2 A Not that I recall.
3 Q And you don't recall Ms. Floris conveying to you concerns that she had about 4 the script?
5 A No.
6 Q Okay.
7 Now, let's talk about the briefing. Where did you brief Senator Chuck Grassley?
8 A In an office.
9 Q Was it a SCIF?
10 A It would have been a classified briefing. I would have relied on our Office
11 of Congressional Affairs. I don't know why I'm pointing at her. I would have relied on 12 the mechanisms by which Senators received classified -- I don't know if it was in a SCIF.
13 It certainly would have been in an environment that a Senator would have received
14 classified information.
15 Q Okay. So it wasn't in Senator Grassley's office?
16 A I don't think so.
17 Q Okay.
18 Did you brief Senator Johnson in the same office?
19 A I don't recall. In an office. I don't know if it was the same office.
20 Q Okay.
21 Well, let me just ask. Again, these may just seem like minor details, but we have 22 a method to our madness.
23 Who did you brief first that day on August 6th?
24 A I don't recall.
25 Q Okay.

1 A I don't recall who we briefed first. It was 3 years ago, more or less.

2 Q During the briefing, did you provide any documents to the Senators?

3 A I don't think we did.

4 Q Okay. Did you say anything at all to Senator Grassley other than "good

5 morning" or something, I mean?

6 A Yeah, I would have thanked him at the end.

7 Q But the briefing was done by Ms. Floris?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Now, to the best of your recollection, what did Ms. Floris say to Senator

10 Grassley at the briefing?

11 A Oh, she would have read verbatim the contents of the script.

12 Q Now, you say would. Your specific recollection, what is your specific

13 recollection that day? Are you saying she did read it, or are you saying she would have 14 read it? There is a difference.

15 A She did read it.

16 Q Okay.

17 A And, based on my recollection, I likely -- I did have a copy of the script, and I

18 would have followed along to ensure that Ms. Floris didn't accidently maybe leave

19 something out.

20 Q Okay.

21 What did Senator Grassley say to Ms. Floris during this briefing?

22 A Based on my recollection?

23 Q Yes.

24 A I found Senator Grassley's response to be he was the epitome of a

25 gentleman. He was thankful. He expressed gratitude. I don't recall specific

1 questions. His overall posture was consistent with when I briefed Members or staffers
2 on other topics. He was very -- he was a gentleman.
3 Q So these are impressions, but you don't recall specifically what he said?
4 A I don't recall specifically what he said.
5 Q Okay.
6 What about Senator Johnson?
7 A Specifically what he said at the end?
8 Q Yeah, what did he say in response to the briefing?
9 A I remember him asking Ms. Floris -- and it's not a verbatim. It is a 10 paraphrase -- who sent you? I remember him telling Ms. Floris that he felt like he had 11 an obligation to continue his investigation. And, based on my recollection, that 12 prompted Ms. Floris to reiterate: In no way, shape, or form is this meant to derail or 13 quash or stop what you, sir, are doing.
14 She was there to deliver a defensive brief, and it was relatively clear to me that he
15 had -- he felt compelled to say: I feel like I have an obligation. I have an investigation,
16 and I'm going to proceed -- which, again, prompted Nikki to reiterate: Do your job. Do
17 what you need to do. I'm here to give you this defensive brief.
18 Those two points, he asked who sent us, and then he made a general statement
19 that he felt like he had a job to do. He had an investigation to conduct.
20 Q So the substance of the briefing was related to Hunter Biden's overseas
21 activities?
22 A I honestly don't remember Hunter Biden's name coming up.
23 Q Or, well, what about Joe Biden?
24 A I think, based on my best recollection, the Biden family might have been 25 included but --

1 Q Because why else would he say, "I'm not going to stop my investigation," if
2 it's an investigation into the Biden family?
3 A I'm giving you my best recollection, but I absolutely don't know precisely
4 what was going on in the Senator's mind.
5 Q But you think the Biden family did come up in that briefing?
6 A Based on my best recollection, potentially. But remember, the briefing
7 itself is classified.
8 Q Yes.
9 A And I feel like I might not have should have said that now and I apologize.
10 Your question -- I was trying to be responsive to your question, but I am now saying that I
11 recall -- I know the script is classified, and so the contents of the script -- it was 12 inappropriate for me to say that.
13 [redacted] And in terms of the content of the script, we've said before ODNI
14 owns that script, so we would refer you to them for what the actual content is.
15 [redacted] Right, but the FBI -- well, let me ask your client.
16 BY [redacted]
17 Q Mr. Benavides, the FBI still has that script in its possession. Correct? That 18 script as to Senators Grassley and Johnson.
19 A I don't know.
20 [redacted] He's no longer at the FBI.
21 Mr. Benavides. I don't know.
22 BY [redacted]
23 Q Did either Senator ask to review the script that Ms. Floris read from?
24 A I don't recall.
25 Q Did they ask for the underlying intelligence information that informed the 1 script?

2 A I don't recall.

3 Q Were you aware that Senator Grassley did not believe that there was a,

4 quote, real purpose, end quote, for the briefing you and Ms. Floris provided?

5 A Who did you attribute that to?

6 Q Senator Grassley.

7 A I don't recall.

8 Q How do you respond to that?

9 A I respond positively to it, to be perfectly honest.

10 Q Elaborate, please.

11 A The whole point of a defensive brief is to provide intelligence in a way that

12 allows someone to contextualize and understand what it is the U.S. intelligence

13 community may have with regards to them specifically or a process or a group. For a

14 highly intelligent person to then respond, "Thanks, but I don't really see the point here,"

15 would inform me that he contextualized the information and did precisely what the 16 defensive brief was meant to do: He drew some sort of conclusion.

17 That would be my best assessment.

18 Q Oh, we'll get to some of the conclusions Senator Grassley drew in a moment.

19 Following the briefing, did you provide anyone at the FBI a breakdown of what 20 happened at the briefing?

21 A I did not.

22 Q Do you know if Ms. Floris did?

23 A I believe she did.

24 Q Okay. Do you know to whom she provided that breakdown?

25 A It would have been, again, to the front office.

1

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q Now, Mr. Benavides, did you receive a letter from Senators Grassley and 5 Johnson dated August 25th, 2022, in relation to the briefing you provided?

6 A I would like to know if this is the letter that went to Amazon.

7 Q I don't think so. I think you were at the FBI when this went out. Let me

8 see.

9 A Oh, then, I'm not --

10 Q You're going to see it.

11 A Yeah. Okay.

12 Q Give this to you.

13 [Benavides Exhibit No. 7

14 Was marked for identification.]

15 BY [redacted]

16 Q Mr. Benavides, before we return to what I've marked as exhibit 7, how did

17 you respond to Senator Johnson's question, "Who sent you"?

18 A For this letter?

19 Q No. Ignore that letter.

20 A Oh, I'm sorry.

21 Q I'm sorry. Just a moment ago, we were discussing Senator Johnson's 22 interactions during the defense briefing, yes?

23 A Yes.

24 Q You said he asked, Who sent you? What was your response, or Ms. Floris'

25 response?

1 A I think, as I recall, Ms. Floris' response would have been, We're here on
2 behalf of the U.S. intelligence community.
3 Q Did he have a reply to that?
4 A No, not that I recall.
5 Q Okay. Let's take a look at exhibit 7, entering that into the record. It is a
6 letter, August 25th, 2022, from Senators Charles Grassley and Ron Johnson, directed to 7 Ms. Nikki Floris and Mr. Bradley Benavides.
8 I'm not going to ask you to read the entire thing, but why don't you take a couple
9 minutes, Mr. Benavides, to review, and then I'll direct you to specific passages.
10 A I would not have been with the FBI during this. I retired in July of 2022.
11 Q Did you not -- is this the first time -- is this your first time seeing this letter?
12 A For this particular letter, this is the first time I'm seeing it, sir.
13 Q Okay. Well, in the interest of time, let me go through specifics. It looks 14 like -- wow, the time is going fast. Let's go through some specifics in the next 6 minutes.
15 Page 1, first, second -- second sentence, the Senators state, "As we have publicly
16 and privately stated to you and Director Wray since that briefing" -- they're referencing
17 the August 6, 2020, defensive briefing -- "the briefing was unnecessary and was only done
18 because of pressure from our Democratic colleagues, including Democratic leadership, to 19 falsely attack our Biden investigation as advancing Russian disinformation."
20 Did the Senators state this to you at the time of the briefing?
21 A Not that I recall explicitly, no.
22 Q Well, what do you recall implicitly, if it's not an explicit?
23 A As I mentioned earlier, I remember Senator Johnson stating he had a job to 24 do, he had an investigation to conduct.
25 Q You would agree that being accused by a United States Senator or providing

1 a politically motivated briefing to advantage one party over the other is a very serious
2 allegation?
3 A The allegation made in this letter?
4 Q Yes.
5 A I --
6 Q You just read this. It's quite serious.
7 A I would assess the allegation to be serious.
8 Q Okay.
9 A Yes.
10 Q Next, the Senators state -- I want to -- stop.
11 [redacted] Did either Senator or anyone from their staff follow up after the 12 defensive briefing and communicate this to you?
13 Mr. Benavides. Not that I'm aware of. I received a letter through Amazon
14 headquarters --
15 [redacted] But it postdates this letter?
16 Mr. Benavides. I'd have to see it to be -- but it was the -- it was a letter that I
17 received asking would I be willing to come in for a transcribed interview. And that letter
18 prompted me calling the FBI and saying, Hey, I received this letter. Tell me more.
19 BY [redacted]
20 Q Was that from Senator Grassley's office or from what institution?
21 A I would have to look at the letter.
22 Q I want to direct your attention to page 2, it looks like the last paragraph.
23 "With respect to the substance of the briefing, it consisted primarily of 24 information that we already knew and information unconnected to our Biden
25 investigation. We made clear to you at the briefing that it was not relevant to the

1 substance of our work. In response, you stated that the FBI is not attempting to -- it's in 2 quotes -- 'quash, curtail, or interfere,' end quote, in the investigation in any way."
3 Did the Senators properly characterize you or Ms. Floris' response to their
4 concerns?
5 A I think -- it's quoted. There's no way for me to recollect if that was 6 specifically what was -- was the response, but it generally fits with how Ms. Floris
7 responded.
8 Q Okay. And what do you think she meant by that phrase?
9 A I think that -- again, I don't -- with regards to Senator Grassley, I remember
10 him being receptive, thankful, and relatively -- he was a gentleman. With regards to 11 Senator Johnson, I remember him feeling compelled to say, I have an investigation. I
12 have a job to do, which that likely prompted Nikki -- Ms. Floris to say, Look, we're not 13 here to interfere in your investigation in any way.
14 Q Okay.
15 A I don't recall Nikki saying that the FBI is not attempting -- my recollection is 16 Nikki would have reminded the Senator that she was there on behalf of the U.S.
17 intelligence community. Her employment notwithstanding, that would have been a 18 point that she would have continued to drive home.
19 Q Right, but you don't have a specific recollection as to this. You're saying 20 what would have.
21 A Oh, she -- I think it's -- I believe it's in the script that it is -- this is intelligence
22 being shared with the recipient -- in this instance, a Senator -- so that they could know
23 what the U.S. intelligence community knows so that they could take some level of 24 protective measure and have situational awareness.
25 The entire script is structured around the U.S. intelligence community, and it hammers, U.S. intelligence community, and it goes --

Q Yeah, but you're both from the FBI.

A That is a fact. We were both from the FBI. In the domestic space, the FBI and/or Department of Homeland Security, just based on the way that this government is structured, it would make sense that the FBI would deliver the intelligence because of our space in the domestic arena, but Nikki would have emphasized that it was U.S. intelligence community -- an assessment from the U.S. intelligence community.

Q Fair enough.

[redacted] We'll go off the record. We're out of time.

[Recess.]

[redacted] We can go back on the record. It is 1:36.

BY [redacted]

Q All right. I just want to clarify a few things really quickly.

Exhibit No. -- what was this? I don't remember. What exhibit was this? This was the Senate majority's --

[redacted] Five.

[redacted] Yeah, 5.

BY [redacted]

Q You were asked a couple of questions about the key findings in this -- I guess it's a report. It doesn't have a date or anything on it -- page 4. The key finding, which is under this, like, little arrow kind of symbol, the first one, I think that [redacted] asked you something about, given that you're in the FBI, would you be concerned about what he characterized as allegations that are reported in this key finding.

Do you recall those questions?

A I do.

1 Q And I guess -- I mean, what I see here is the allegation is, quote, a perception
2 of a conflict of interest, unquote, regarding Hunter Biden.
3 Does the FBI investigate perceptions of conflicts of interest, to your knowledge?
4 A That, again, is a very difficult question to answer. The FBI would seek to 5 understand the origin and the veracity behind an allegation before feeling comfortable
6 conducting an investigation. So, I mean, as a special agent, the term "perception" would 7 be something that I would want to definitely understand more about, but -- if that makes
8 sense.
9 Q Okay. But do you -- I know you didn't spend a lot of time in your career on 10 the criminal side, but are you aware of any Federal criminal statute that would criminalize
11 a, quote, perception of a conflict of interest?
12 A I'm not aware of a --
13 Q Neither am I.
14 A -- a criminal statute.
15 Q But fair to say that you have no personal experience at all with any of the 16 so-called allegations that are discussed in this exhibit?
17 A I do not.
18 Q Okay. We can set that aside.
19 Let's look at -- back to the defensive framework generally. I think it would be 20 helpful to get a little bit of clarification again just on what that defensive framework is 21 meant to do, right? Like, when there's going to be a notification, we talked earlier about 22 nominations of information into the -- I think it's the Credibility Assessment Group. Is 23 that right?
24 A [Nonverbal response.]
25 Q What -- sorry.

1 A Yes. That is correct.

2 Q Can you explain what it means to nominate information?

3 A It's as it sounds. A member of the U.S. intelligence community might have

4 a piece of intelligence in their possession that they assess is meaningful to get to a

5 individual or the broad public or to a particular group so that they would have the same

6 level of understanding that the intelligence community has so that they then would be

7 able to understand what it is that the U.S. intelligence community is tracking and

8 understanding. It is meant to provide a defensive brief so that the recipient would then

9 be in the position to know, in essence, what the U.S. intelligence community knows --

10 Q Okay.

11 A -- about a particular threat.

12 Q And you talked -- when you were discussing with me the notification

13 framework, you talked about the principles that guide those decisions, correct?

14 A Yes.

15 Q When information is nominated, it's fair to say that is actually coming from 16 inside the intelligence community somewhere. Is that right?

17 A Yes.

18 Q So somebody who sees information, they think this might be something that 19 we need to evaluate under the notification framework, right?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Okay. Did you have any role in nominating the information that later

22 resulted in the defensive briefing to Senators Grassley and Johnson?

23 A I did not.

24 Q Okay. And you've been retired from the FBI now for more than 2 years.

25 Is that right?

1 A One year.

2 Q Okay.

3 A One year this past July.

4 Q Okay. Have you had any occasion to review any emails or documents that

5 had to do with the nomination of that information that led to Senators Grassley and

6 Johnson's --

7 A No. I have not.

8 Q Okay. Are you aware that Nikki Floris testified in front of this committee on 9 Wednesday, July 19th, 2023?

10 A I am aware that Nikki did a transcribed interview. I don't know the date.

11 Q Okay. And she was asked a series of questions about this same defensive

12 briefing that you and she participated in of Senators Grassley and Johnson on August 6th, 13 2020.

14 Were you aware of that?

15 A I don't know what was asked of Nikki.

16 Q Okay. Well, I'll represent to you that she was asked about the nomination

17 of the information that led to the defensive briefing so that -- who nominated it and

18 when, and then kind of the process of how that went through the defensive notification

19 framework and ended up with the defensive briefing.

20 And Ms. Floris testified -- this is her transcript before the committee.

21 On page 25, lines 12 through 13, she said, quote, And I say all this because your

22 question, as far as the July 13th letter, the Credibility Assessment Group, the information

23 was nominated into that, I think, July 8th. The experts group, so my colleagues, we met

24 on July 17th and confirmed that, yes, a defensive briefing is warranted. But that experts

25 group who caucused on the accuracy of that intelligence, met, I would say, July 8th, which

1 was a Friday, and probably early into the next week. So doing my math -- 9, 10, so
2 probably 11, 12th, 13th of that week.
3 Okay. So what she was doing there is explaining to this committee that the 4 information was nominated on July 8th.
5 Do you have any reason to doubt that Nikki Floris was correct when she said that?
6 A I have no reason to doubt that.
7 Q Okay. And she explained further that she had reviewed her emails in 8 advance of testifying before the committee --
9 A Oh.
10 Q -- and that's how she knew that that information was nominated on the 8th,
11 which was before the letter that was written by the -- I guess it was Nancy Pelosi,
12 Charles Schumer -- this is our exhibit 6 that was referred to in the previous hour. I don't 13 know if you have that in front of you.
14 A No.
15 Q But exhibit 6 is this July 13th letter --
16 A Oh, okay.
17 Q -- written to Director Wray by various Democrats in Congress asking for a 18 counterintelligence briefing.
19 A Okay.
20 Q I point that out because -- are you aware that the allegation in this
21 committee and that Senators Johnson and Grassley has raised is that you all at the FBI
22 and the intelligence committee -- or community -- gave that defensive briefing because 23 you were responding to this July 13th letter, because you were being asked by the 24 Democrats to make that defensive briefing? Are you aware of that allegation?
25 A I am generally aware of that allegation, yes.

1 Q And when Nikki Floris testified that, actually, the nomination of the 2 information that led to the briefing happened before this letter, she was making the point
3 that, no, we were not responding to this letter; there was something else that prompted
4 that defensive briefing.
5 Do you have any reason to dispute what she testified to?
6 A I have no reason to dispute what she testified or spoke about.
7 Q Do you have any other information that would lead you to believe that the 8 FBI or the intelligence community was motivated by partisan interests or any kind of 9 influence from Democrats or anybody else outside of the intelligence community to give 10 that briefing to Johnson and Grassley on that day?
11 A No.
12 Q Why do you think that that briefing was given?
13 A My assessment is the briefing -- the defensive brief was given so that these
14 sitting Senators would have the same level of understanding that the U.S. intelligence
15 community had with regards to threat information by foreign adversaries.
16 Q So somebody inside the intelligence community, apparently on July 8th,
17 nominated information that they thought the Senators should have. Is that fair to say?
18 A Yes.
19 [Benavides Exhibit No. 8
20 Was marked for identification.]
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q I'm going to mark as exhibit 8 a press release from the Office of the Director
23 of National Intelligence, dated August 7th, 2020.
24 Okay. If you would turn to the second page, please, Mr. Benavides, we have a
25 highlighted portion there.

1 A Okay.

2 Q Actually, first of all, on the first page, since you're still there, can you see the

3 date on that?

4 A I see a date.

5 Q Yep. August 7th, 2020, correct?

6 A Yes. For the news release, if I'm attributing August 7th correctly.

7 Q Okay. And that was the day after your defensive briefing to Senators

8 Grassley and Johnson, correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay. If you look on the second page, please, the highlighted portion

11 under the heading "Russia." That portion reads, quote, We assess that Russia is using a

12 range of measures to primarily denigrate former Vice President Biden and what it sees as

13 an anti-Russia, quote, "establishment." This is consistent with Moscow's public criticism

14 of him when he was Vice President for his role in the Obama administration's policy on

15 Ukraine and its support for the anti-Putin opposition inside Russia. For example,

16 pro-Russia Ukrainian Parliamentarian Andrii Derkach is spreading claims about

17 corruption, including through publicizing leaked phone calls, to undermine former Vice

18 President's -- sorry -- former Vice President Biden's candidacy and the Democratic Party.

19 Some Kremlin-linked actors are also seeking to boost President Trump's candidacy on 20 social media and Russian television, end quote.

21 That assessment that's included under the Russia piece there, were you familiar

22 with that at the time in 2020 when it came out in this public announcement?

23 A These broad things, yes.

24 Q Okay. And this notice itself, it was a public notice, correct?

25 A It says press release, and I don't see classification. Yes, I think this was

1 meant for public consumption.

2 Q Okay. Would this public notice have been of the sort that was

3 contemplated in the framework that we discussed earlier, like, this would be the public

4 version and then the defensive briefing that you gave would be the private version. Is

5 that fair to say?

6 A I would not want to link the two.

7 Q Okay.

8 A But this is a public version -- or this is a public release meant for a broad

9 audience, the American people, to consume. And that would have been guided under 10 the notification framework for a public release of threat intelligence.

11 Q Can you explain what, if any, difference there is in the notification

12 framework when information is nominated to be released publicly versus when it's 13 nominated to be released privately in a defensive briefing?

14 A I don't know the answer. In other words, it would be -- it would be

15 dependent on the type of intelligence and how the intelligence was being nominated into

16 the framework. That might dictate what further mechanisms would need to play out in

17 order to get the intelligence into the public domain or get the intelligence into a script

18 meant for an individual.

19 Q Do you know if the public release, like this one in exhibit 8, if the nomination

20 and experts group and assessment process is the same up to the point of the release of

21 the information? Like, does this information get nominated initially by someone within

22 the intelligence community just like the information that would end up in a defensive

23 briefing is nominated? Is that how it starts?

24 A I don't know the answer. I don't know the answer to that.

25 Q Okay. Do you know if there is a convening of a experts group for the public

1 release of intelligence like this, like there is with the defensive briefing?

2 A I think the experts group or the subprincipals group, which would be the

3 term that I would tend to use, would have awareness that a release of -- a compilation, a

4 summary of threat information was being contemplated and then drafted in a way that

5 would go public. The experts groups would have awareness of that.

6 Q Okay. And the initial step in the notification framework for both public and

7 private, as it's described in that notification framework exhibit, the initial step is

8 credibility assessment, correct?

9 A That is a step, yes.

10 Q Actually, the initial step is nomination, right? I should say that, but that's 11 not discussed in the framework.

12 A I mean, are you asking what I think the initial step is for the framework?

13 Q Yes. I'm trying to sort of understand the process. If you're following

14 through like the nomination of information that's within the intelligence community to be

15 shared, either publicly or in the defensive briefing context, what happens after the 16 nomination of that information? Does it always go to the Credibility Assessment Group

17 first? Is that the first step after the nomination, if you know?

18 A I don't know if there's a mechanism. Generally, yes, but I don't know if

19 there's a mechanism where you might not invoke the CAG. That would be a question

20 for the ODNI. I would not know.

21 Q Okay. And I don't want to push you on something that you don't know, but

22 is it fair to say that you believe that the CAG is something that is used in the ordinary

23 circumstance before information is released?

24 A That would be my assessment, yes.

25 Q Okay. So what you're saying is, like, there might be some extraordinary

1 situation where that wouldn't happen, but you just don't know of that?

2 A That is correct.

3 Q Okay. So in the normal course of business here, when this information was

4 released in exhibit 8 to the public, it's fair to assume that somebody within the

5 intelligence community nominated some version of this information to the Credibility

6 Assessment Group to be evaluated, correct, before release?

7 A I think that that would be correct.

8 Q Okay. And I don't know if you have participated in those. Have you ever

9 participated in the --

10 A In a CAG?

11 Q -- CAG?

12 A No.

13 Q Okay. My understanding of those is that subject matter experts will discuss

14 what the intelligence community knows and that the focus of that credibility assessment

15 is not on the information itself; it's the source. Again, you're trying to figure out, with

16 your intelligence gathering, who the source is, is it foreign attributed? That's what

17 you're trying to figure out, is that intelligence credible, right, that this information is

18 coming from a foreign source? Is that the focus of the CAG?

19 A I think the focus of the CAG broadly is to assess the credibility of the source

20 of intelligence.

21 Q And the intelligence -- what you're talking about in terms of foreign 22 influence is where information is coming from, like the foreign attribution of the speaker.

23 Is that right?

24 A I think it's more complicated than that.

25 Q What else is there to it that you could explain?

1 A In an unclassified setting, is the source of the information from a human or
2 from a technical collect effort? I think that the credibility of the source of information,
3 there's more to be considered.
4 Q I see what you're saying.
5 Let's just look at the example of this public release, because it's unclassified and
6 we can talk about what is in here. Again, this is exhibit 8, and the Russia portion that's 7 highlighted.
8 The information that was released to the public, here, what they're saying is that a
9 state actor, Russia, is using a range of measures to denigrate former President -- former 10 Vice President Biden, and they're talking about using another person -- here, they identify 11 him as Andrii Derkach -- to spread claims about corruption. And they specifically say,
12 including publicized leaked phone calls to undermine former Vice President's candidacy.
13 The point I'm trying to have you explain to us here is the distinction between the 14 focus of the intelligence community on the speaker and his motivations, like the fact that 15 it's Russian and the fact that the Russian has a motive that the intelligence community
16 assesses to interfere with our election, right? That's the focus of the intelligence
17 community. It's not the information itself that they're spreading. Is that fair to say?
18 I'm sorry if that wasn't clear. I can repeat it.
19 A Well, I mean, if you read the paragraph --
20 Q Uh-huh.
21 A -- it says, "to primarily denigrate former Vice President Biden and what it 22 sees as an anti-Russia establishment," so it is Russia-attributed intelligence that does have 23 a theme.
24 Q Right.
25 A And so I don't know that you can separate the two.

1 Q But the FBI is not interested in the content of the message, correct? And to
2 the extent that -- it's not a problem if it's propaganda, like you said earlier, right?
3 A Yeah. You are correct in that propaganda, if attributed to a nation-state
4 actor, is a completely different concept than covert misinformation or disinformation
5 being disseminated without attribution.
6 The Russia piece of this gives you the foreign attribution.
7 Q And that's what the intelligence community is meaning to put out there for 8 the public, is what they thought was covert, which is the Russian attribution, correct?
9 A Attributing this type of information to Russia would allow the recipient to 10 understand what the Russians are potentially attempting to do without attributing it back
11 to Russia.
12 Q Okay. So the attribution is the point, correct?
13 A Yes.
14 Q Okay. And if for some reason that an overt Russian actor like RT or some 15 media organization that has the Russian flag and says, We're Russian, if they had said
16 something about Vice President Biden's candidacy or corruption, the FBI would not be 17 interested in providing any kind of notice about that or warning about that to Americans,
18 because that information is being shared overtly by Russians, and so there's nothing for 19 the FBI to add.
20 Is that fair to say?
21 A That is correct.
22 Q Okay. So I guess getting back to my point about what the Credibility
23 Assessment Group is doing when they're trying to decide what to release to the American 24 people, their focus isn't on the message or the propaganda necessarily. It's on 25 the -- they're trying to figure out if they have credible intelligence to attribute that to

1 Russians, in the case of Russians?

2 A Yes, and in a way that a recipient could then contextualize or potentially take

3 some sort of situational awareness, countermeasures, protective measures.

4 Q Okay. Now, the information that was nominated that eventually resulted

5 in this public notification under the framework that we have here in exhibit 8, could that

6 information have also led to private notifications if it involved some kind of specific

7 information about specific people being targeted?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Is it possible that the Credibility Assessment Group that evaluated the

10 information resulting in the press release in exhibit 8 was the same group that evaluated

11 the information that resulted in defensive briefings around that time?

12 A I wouldn't know.

13 Q Okay.

14 A I mean, to go on record, this is an ODNI press release --

15 Q Yes.

16 A -- so --

17 Q But it went through the same notification framework that the information

18 leading to the Grassley and Johnson briefings went through, correct?

19 A I mean, if you are -- you would need to ask ODNI.

20 Q Well, it's fair to say, and don't you -- can you say with confidence that the 21 defensive briefing that you participated in on August 6th had to have gone through the

22 defensive -- sorry --

23 A Oh.

24 Q -- the defensive network framework?

25 A The defensive brief that Nikki Floris and I worked to deliver went through the

1 notification framework, of which included the Credibility Assessment Group.

2 Q Okay. And it went through around the same time as the information that

3 resulted in this public release on August 7th, correct?

4 A The dates and timeline tend to support your statement.

5 Q Okay. You had a couple questions in the previous hour about whether you

6 personally participated in the validation or assessment of the information that you passed

7 in the defensive briefing.

8 A Uh-huh.

9 Q Do you recall those questions?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And you said, no, you didn't personally validate that information, correct?

12 A Correct.

13 Q But, yet, you have confidence in it. Is that fair to say?

14 A I have high confidence in the information that was shared with the Senators.

15 Q Okay. And when your colleague, Nikki Floris, testified on July 19th, she was

16 asked the same question, and she testified, quote, I'm not assuming it was validated. I

17 know it came from reliable collection, unquote.

18 Do you have any reason to dispute what she says is true?

19 A I don't have any reason to dispute what you conveyed to me.

20 [Benavides Exhibit No. 9

21 Was marked for identification.]

22 BY [redacted]

23 Q Okay. I'm going to mark for identifica- -- or for -- exhibit 9. It's a Politico

24 article entitled, "Democrats: Packets sent to Trump allies are part of foreign plot to 25 damage Biden."

1 This is dated July 19th, 2023. Oh, no, that's when I printed it. I'm sorry. This
2 was dated July 23rd, 2020. That makes more sense.
3 Are you familiar with this article?
4 A I am not.
5 Q Take a couple minutes just to look at it. It's a few pages, but it's big font.
6 A Okay. I read through this.
7 Q Okay. Thanks for taking the time to do that.
8 Have you read that article before?
9 A I have not.
10 Q Okay. Does it refresh your recollection at all about what was in the public
11 domain at the time of July 2020, shortly before your defensive briefing to Senators
12 Grassley and Johnson?
13 A I think that it does inform that there were pieces of information and 14 intelligence that a news source such as Politico had access to and would have pushed out.
15 Q Okay. Now, according to this article, someone by the name of 16 Andrii Derkach, who is a Ukrainian former parliamentarian, I believe, was meeting with 17 Trump's personal lawyer, Rudy Giuliani, in Kyiv in December of 2019 to discuss 18 investigations of the Biden family.
19 That's according to the article, correct?
20 A Yes.
21 Q Do you have any reason to believe that that's not true?
22 A I wouldn't have firsthand information, but I don't have information that 23 would say that it's not true.
24 Q Okay. And Derkach himself said publicly that he had sent materials to U.S.
25 lawmakers, including Lindsey Graham, Chuck Grassley, Devin Nunes, and also to

1 then-White House Chief of Staff Mick Mulvaney, about alleged corruption in Ukraine,
2 specifically alleged involvement of some of the Biden family, correct, according to the
3 article?
4 A According to the article.
5 Q Okay. Now, the fact that you have -- and Mr. -- sorry. Mr. Derkach was 6 referred to in our exhibit 8, the public release of -- this intelligence information
7 specifically referred to Andrii Derkach as spreading claims about corruption, including 8 through publicizing leaked phone calls to undermine Vice President Biden's candidacy in 9 the Democratic Party.
10 And then, later -- actually, do you know who Andrii Derkach is?
11 A I have an awareness that Andrii Derkach is an individual associated with the 12 Ukrainian Parliament, and my understanding is that he was a KGB operative.
13 Q He was directly linked to Russian intelligence, correct?
14 A That is my understanding.
15 Q Okay. So if the Politico reporting is true and what Andrii Derkach himself
16 claims is true, that he was passing information to sitting U.S. Senators and Congressmen,
17 as well as people in the White House, about alleged corruption of the lawmakers' political 18 rivals, would that have been of concern to FITF?
19 A That would have been of concern to FITF and, more broadly, the U.S.
20 intelligence community.
21 Q What's the concern there?
22 A A concern would be having an individual at the behest of the Kremlin
23 attempt to insert information into the United States without fully attributing that
24 operation to the Kremlin or to an intelligence service.
25 Q Okay. So if some intelligence analyst within the U.S. Government, in the IC

1 community, were to come across information about what Andrii Derkach was doing, say,
2 for example, by actually watching the press conference or the announcement that he
3 publicly made -- Derkach made --
4 A Uh-huh.
5 Q -- about passing information to sitting U.S. lawmakers, is it possible that that 6 analyst would, you know, reasonably nominate that information into the CAG for
7 notification?
8 A What would the source of the information or intelligence be?
9 Q Let's just suppose it's, like, public information. They see Andrii Derkach,
10 they know who he is because they're an intelligence officer in the United States, they 11 know he's Kremlin linked, and they see him out there saying, I'm passing packets of 12 information to Senators Grassley and Johnson.
13 Would that alone be of concern, just the fact that a Russian agent is saying out
14 loud that he's passing information to U.S. Congressmen?
15 A It would be a concern for the missing piece of information or intelligence
16 that is absent from what Andrii Derkach would have said publicly, which is that attribution
17 and affiliation with the Kremlin, with the KGB, with what that intel analyst knows
18 additionally about Andrii Derkach.
19 Q Okay.
20 A Having said that, what Andrii Derkach put out in the public domain likely 21 would not have preoccupied the analyst. It would have been the affiliation and the 22 pieces of information absent that would have preoccupied the intelligence analyst.
23 Q Okay. So if Andrii Derkach was out there saying, I'm Andrii Derkach, I'm a
24 KGB agent, the FBI wouldn't have been as concerned because that information wouldn't 25 have been missing? Is that fair to say?

1 A The fact that this individual would have affiliated with a foreign intelligence
2 service would have allowed any person to understand what Andrii Derkach was saying
3 was -- helps with his bona fides, so to speak. And so that would be of less concern; not
4 just the FBI, but everyone within the intelligence community.
5 Q Okay. So, again, as you've been saying all along, the FBI's interest here was 6 putting out the information about Andrii Derkach, or whoever, and his affiliation, his 7 foreign attribution that had been hidden. That was the information that you wanted to 8 put out or you would want to put out if you were making a notification?
9 A If the FBI had intelligence attributed to Andrii Derkach that the FBI assessed
10 would be of defensive value, a defensive brief, the FBI could have nominated that 11 intelligence into the framework such that that information could then be even given 12 one-on-one or potentially to a broader audience.
13 Q Okay.
14 A But the FBI is a piece of the overall U.S. intelligence community apparatus.
15 Q So the information itself that Andrii Derkach, in this example, is a
16 KGB-affiliated person or Russian-affiliated actor, that could be information that is owned 17 by someone else in the intelligence community, a different agency?
18 A That is correct.
19 Q But they're bringing it together in this notification process, and somebody is 20 evaluating that, right, in the CAG?
21 A Yes. If it is nominated into the notification framework, it would have 22 allowed the CAG to come together to assess the credibility of the intelligence and the 23 source of the intelligence, which could have resulted in a defensive briefing.
24 [Benavides Exhibit No. 10
25 Was marked for identification.]

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q Okay. I'm going to mark as exhibit 10 -- this is a U.S. Department of
3 Treasury sanctions notice, dated September 10th, 2020.
4 Mr. Benavides, have you seen this exhibit before?
5 A I have not seen this exhibit.
6 Q Okay. This is a little bit shorter, but if I would just direct your attention to 7 the highlighted portion in page 1. The title is, "Treasury Sanctions Russia-Linked Election
8 Interference Actors."
9 And the highlighted portion reads, quote, "Treasury designated Andrii Derkach
10 pursuant to Executive Order 13848 for his efforts to influence the 2020 U.S. Presidential 11 election. Derkach, a member of the Ukrainian Parliament, has been an active Russian
12 agent for over a decade, maintaining close connections with the Russian Intelligence
13 Services. Derkach has directly or indirectly engaged in, sponsored, concealed, or 14 otherwise been complicit in foreign interference in an attempt to undermine the 15 upcoming 2020 U.S. Presidential election," end quote.
16 So fair to say, like, this notice is a further action taken by the Treasury based on 17 what U.S. intelligence assesses is Mr. Derkach's foreign affiliation and his actions taken to 18 interfere with the U.S. Presidential election in 2020, correct?
19 A As I read this, my assessment is the U.S. Treasury Department pulled 20 together information that would allow them to sanction this individual. I don't work for 21 Department of Treasury, and I don't know their process. But if I read this at face value,
22 the way it's described is exactly as you described it.
23 Q And the underlying intelligence here, is it apparently consistent with what 24 we've read in the exhibit 8 press release from the ODNI regarding Mr. Derkach and his 25 intent to interfere with the election?

1 A I want to make sure that I understand.

2 Q Yeah.

3 A Are you asking me to compare what was in the Treasury Department's

4 announcement to the public statement from the ODNI?

5 Q Yes. Just generally, does it appear to be based on the same general

6 category of intelligence about Mr. Derkach, the same type of information?

7 A I mean, broadly, yes. Broadly, yes, but unless I'm overlooking it, I don't see

8 in the public statement from the ODNI attribution to the Kremlin or to the KGB, for 9 example, an intelligence service.

10 Q Okay. So actually --

11 A It is explicitly stated here in the Treasury Department.

12 Q You're right there. It looks like the Treasury went further in describing that

13 attribution.

14 A My total understanding of Andrii Derkach, neither of these contradict each

15 other's, but each of these have a small piece of information that might be missing.

16 Q So it seems like, as time went on, maybe from the month that the public

17 notice went out, which was August 7th, 2022, about a month later, September 10th,

18 when the Treasury notice went out, more information was added? I'll just put it that 19 way.

20 A I -- I don't know.

21 Q Okay. All right. So going back to the defensive briefing. Again, this is

22 the context where you and Ms. Floris gave a defensive briefing to Senators Grassley and

23 Johnson. Exhibit 8, this press release came out a day later. The Treasury sanction of 24 Mr. Derkach came out a month later.

25 What can you say about what motivated the FBI to give that defensive briefing at

1 that time?

2 A I think it's a mischaracterization to say what motivated the FBI. The FBI

3 occupies in the domestic space a unique position within the U.S. intelligence community.

4 The fact that it's in the domestic space would have been why the FBI would have

5 delivered information from the whole of the U.S. intelligence community per the 6 notification framework.

7 So what motivated the FBI would have been our duty in the domestic space to

8 deliver the defensive brief. That would've -- if you want to use the term "motive," what

9 the motivation would have been, that would have been the motivation.

10 Q Okay. And the motive that was attributed to you in the letter from 11 Senator Grassley and Senator Johnson, which was to respond to a request from 12 Democrats or some partisan motive, can you confidently reject that as the motivation?

13 A I can confidently reject that.

14 Q Okay. And I think we've already said this very clearly, but the origin of that

15 defensive briefing was in some analyst within the IC nominating information into the CAG,

16 correct?

17 A Into the notification framework.

18 Q Okay. And according to Nikki Floris, that notification happened on July 8th, 19 2020, and you have no reason to dispute that, correct?

20 A I have no reason to dispute that.

21 Q Okay. And that came before the letter from the Democrats that we've

22 talked about, correct, which was July 13th?

23 A Looking at the dates that have been presented, I agree.

24 Q Okay. And you have no reason, as you sit here, to believe that there was

25 any reason for the IC community or the FBI to have that defensive briefing with Senators

1 Johnson and Grassley other than to give them information that you thought they should
2 have about foreign attribution?
3 A That is correct.
4 [redacted] We can go off the record. I have no other questions right now.
5 [Recess.]
6 [redacted] Back on the record.
7 BY [redacted]
8 Q All right. Mr. Benavides, I'm going to ask you to look again at the 9 August 25th, 2022, letter from Senators Grassley and Johnson to you and Ms. Floris.
10 A Okay. We'll keep going until we find it. This one? Yes. Found it.
11 Q I'll direct your attention to page 3.
12 It's the first full sentence on page 3: "We also made clear our concern that the 13 briefing would be subject to a leak that would shed a false light on the focus of our 14 investigation. Indeed, on May 1, 2021, The Washington Post did exactly that and so did
15 the other inaccurate media articles during the course of our investigation which falsely
16 labeled our investigation as advancing Russian disinformation."
17 Do you see that?
18 A Yes, sir.
19 Q How do you respond to that concern? Or how did you respond to that 20 concern?
21 A I don't recall the Senators clearly stating something like -- that this
22 information would be leaked. The way this reads, I don't remember either
23 Senator stating that.
24 Q Okay. What is your view today as you sit here on that allegation?
25 A On the allegation?

1 Q Uh-huh, or the statement they claim -- the statement they say they made to
2 you and Ms. Floris.
3 A I don't remember the statement and -- I guess I don't have a strong opinion.
4 Q Okay.
5 A If you -- well --
6 Q Well, no. We can move on.
7 According to the Senators, your briefing was leaked and permitted a major
8 newspaper to, quote, "falsely labeled," end quote, an investigation by the United States
9 Senate as, quote, "advancing Russian disinformation," end quote.
10 How do you account for this?
11 A Again, I don't know what you're specifically asking. The Washington Post
12 did exactly what they apparently said. I attribute this to The Washington Post
13 attempted to tie the investigation to advancing Russian disinformation. Nikki Floris nor I 14 would have said anything like that.
15 Q No, but he's saying that the briefing was subject to a leak, and he's 16 suggesting that that briefing was leaked to The Washington Post, permitting it to falsely
17 label an investigation by the United States Senate as advancing Russian disinformation.
18 So I'm asking you how you respond to that, because you and Ms. Floris gave the 19 briefing that he's referring to.
20 A I have no idea how The Washington Post would have gotten that type of
21 information.
22 Q We will direct your attention to the same paragraph, where it reads:
23 "Moreover, whistleblowers have recently alleged that in August 2020, the same month
24 you provided the briefing to us, FBI officials initiated a scheme to downplay derogatory
25 information on Hunter Biden for the purpose of shutting down investigative activity

1 relating to his potential criminal exposure by labeling it, quote, 'disinformation,' end
2 quote. Whistleblowers have also alleged that local FBI leadership instructed employees
3 not to look at the Hunter Biden laptop immediately after the FBI had obtained it."
4 Are you familiar with these whistleblower allegations about FBI officials
5 downplaying or scheming to downplay derogatory information by labeling it -- derogatory
6 information about Hunter Biden by labeling it disinformation?

1

2 [2:35 p.m.]

3 Mr. Benavides. In the context of reading this, I am familiar with this.

4 BY [redacted]

5 Q Okay. Why are the Senators -- wait. Withdrawn.

6 You're familiar -- what specifically are you familiar with?

7 A Having read this, I am seeing that, in this letter, the Senators articulate that

8 they feel like that there are whistleblowers alleging that, on August 2020, that the same

9 month, provided the briefing, FBI officials initiated a scheme to downplay -- I am not

10 familiar with the activity. I am seeing this, and I have read this before.

11 Q This letter or this allegation? Just so I know.

12 A This letter.

13 Q Okay. When did you read this letter last?

14 A It might have been, it might have been in the prep material. I'm certainly 15 reading it now. I would have been out of the FBI by August 25th.

16 Q Do you have knowledge about local FBI leaderships instructing employees

17 not to look at the Hunter Biden laptop immediately after the FBI obtained it?

18 A No.

19 Q Why do you think the Senators are tying this allegation to you and 20 Ms. Floris?

21 A They are tying it to whistleblowers. They are not tying it to Ms. Floris.

22 Q Well, this letter is directed to you and Ms. Floris.

23 A I see. I see your point. Okay. You're asking me why?

24 Q Do you have an opinion on why this is even included in the letter directed to 25 you about a defensive briefing?

1 A No. I don't know.

2 Q Let's go to the next paragraph on page 3, at the briefing.

3 The Senators indicate, quote: At the briefing, as well as after we requested
4 relevant records relating to what happened at the briefing, including the 302 or similar 5 summary, the intelligence basis for the briefing and the personnel involved in making the 6 decision to brief us. On August 12, 2020; May 3, 2021; July 25, 2022; and August 11,
7 2022, those requests were made. The FBI has consistently failed to respond in full to 8 each request and failed to provide those critical records, which cast further doubt on the 9 true purpose for the briefing.

10 To your knowledge, why has the FBI failed to respond to these requests?

11 A Oh, I don't know that the FBI has failed to respond to these requests. I
12 know it's articulated in this letter.

13 The way the FBI responds to requests for information is completely outside of my 14 job at this time. I mean, I was retired at this time, but there are mechanisms for how 15 the FBI responds to information that I don't necessarily have a full comprehensive 16 understanding of.

17 Q When did you leave the FBI again?

18 A I believe my last day was July 29th.

19 Q Of 2022?

20 A Yes, sir.

21 Q So they began making requests for documents in 2020. So, while you were 22 employed by the FBI, had you been approached in connection with the Senators' request
23 for these documents?

24 A I had not.

25 Q Have you been asked to provide any documents responsive to the Senators'

1 request?

2 A Me personally --

3 Q Yes.

4 A -- I have not.

5 Q Do you have any documents responsive to their request, given what you've

6 read in this paragraph?

7 A I do not.

8 Q Do you know if the FBI has them?

9 A I've been out of the FBI for more than a year. I don't know what the FBI

10 has.

11 Q Going back to, prior to July 29th, 2022, do you have a reason to suspect the 12 FBI has these documents that are being requested? Then?

13 A I understand, yes. I have no reason to believe that the FBI has a 302. The

14 intelligence basis for the briefing and personnel involved in making the decisions to brief

15 this, that would fall outside of the FBI. That would fall to -- I think it would fall to the

16 ODNI, but a 302 is a document that belongs to the FBI. It's a classification of document,

17 but I am unaware of an FD-302. They don't use the term FD-302. They just say 302,

18 but in the FBI, it would be called an FD-302.

19 Q So you can't say one way or the other if these documents exist --

20 A I can't.

21 Q -- at the FBI?

22 A I can't.

23 Q Let's look at the last paragraph on page 3.

24 And it reads, the Senators write: Simply put, the unnecessary FBI briefing

25 provided the Democrats and liberal media the vehicle to spread their false narrative that

1 our work advanced Russian disinformation. Although you stated that the FBI didn't 2 intend to, quote, interfere, end quote, in our investigation, the practical effect of such an
3 unnecessary briefing and the subsequent leaks relating to it created interference, which 4 frustrated and obstructed congressional oversight efforts.
5 Again, Mr. Benavides, can we stipulate this is a very serious allegation from two 6 United States Senators?
7 A The way this is written, I would want to take it line by line. I don't recall
8 Nikki nor I saying that the FBI didn't intend. It was two FBI employees delivering a
9 defensive brief, and when Senator Johnson expressed that he had a job and an
10 investigation, it would have prompted: We are not here to interfere with your work.
11 I don't recall Nikki saying the FBI. So I would take issue with the FBI didn't intend
12 to interfere in our investigation. It wasn't an FBI briefing. Again, I know that -- I am
13 trying to be as precise with you as possible. This was not an FBI briefing. I absolutely 14 do not agree with that statement.
15 Q But let's just focus on -- maybe that level of precision is getting in the way of 16 our understanding. You and Ms. Floris work for the FBI. That's a statement of fact at 17 the time.
18 A That is correct. At the time, yes.
19 Q I read this paragraph to be saying the issue is the defensive brief, and when I
20 see in this particular instance the FBI, whether they're speaking broadly about the agency,
21 your view, I just want to speak precise here, were conveying a script that -- whether the 22 intelligence comes from another intel community, it comes through the ODNI. I
23 understand that. I think the record is pretty clear on that.
24 I think in just sort of reading this, these Senators, and tell me if that's your 25 understanding as well, just the plain reading of this paragraph is the defensive briefing

1 you and Ms. Floris provide helped to frustrate and obstruct their oversight efforts.
2 That's the thrust of the allegation in this paragraph. Is that fair to say?
3 A Sir, with all due respect, I don't think that's fair to say --
4 Q Tell me.
5 A -- because what the paragraph says is the FBI briefing provided the 6 Democrats and liberal media the vehicle to spread their false narrative that our work
7 advanced Russian disinformation. That is a position that I don't have the information to 8 make this type of assessment.
9 Number one, it was not an FBI briefing. So you are substituting FBI briefing for 10 the defensive brief, and you have the right to do that. The problem that I've got is that
11 the letter doesn't state that, and so I wholly disagree with the way this is written, and I
12 don't know enough about what the Senators' intent in writing this where I would feel 13 comfortable stipulating to you inserting -- remove FBI and replace it with defensive brief.
14 I just don't have enough information --
15 Q Let me just understand --
16 A -- to stipulate to that.
17 Q Sorry to interrupt, but let me understand the nature of the confusion. Is it
18 your testimony that where the Senators reference in this paragraph the unnecessary FBI 19 briefing, are you saying you're not confident, based on this, that they are discussing the 20 August 6, 2020, defensive briefing?
21 A I don't -- it was not an FBI briefing. Simply put, the unnecessary FBI briefing
22 provided --
23 Q Okay, Mr. Benavides, I'm sorry. I won't belabor this, but you're a
24 sophisticated guy and a long time with the FBI. Reading this -- we went over this letter
25 fairly detailed, some of these paragraphs. It's directed to you and Ms. Floris. It opens

1 with August 6, 2020, and your concern is that when they say "the unnecessary FBI
2 briefing," you don't think they're talking about the August 6, 2020, defensive briefing you
3 and Ms. Floris gave to them?
4 A The opening paragraph states: On August 6th, as we were finishing our
5 September 23rd, 2020, report on Hunter Biden's financial connection to foreign
6 governments and questionable foreign nationals, you provided a briefing to us on behalf
7 of the FBI and intelligence community.
8 Again, August 6th, Nikki and I were in a position to provide a defensive brief. It
9 was not on behalf of the FBI. It was on behalf of the intelligence community. The fact
10 that it says intelligence community and August 6th in the opening paragraph, I can see
11 where you're coming from that they are referring to the August 6th defensive brief. I
12 will tie those two together because of the date.
13 Q Well, and the next sentence says it as well, right -- you stated, right. The 14 next sentence directly seems to relate to the first one, which is the briefing.
15 A I don't know that anyone -- I don't know that Nikki said the FBI didn't intend 16 to interfere in our investigation. I don't know that she mentioned the FBI. It says it in 17 this letter. I don't believe that she would have mentioned the FBI.
18 Q Okay. So let's move on.
19 Did you create a record after you provided the defensive briefing to these 20 Senators on August 6th or memorialize in any way what was stated in that briefing?
21 A I did not create a record.
22 Q Do you know if Ms. Floris created a record?
23 A I don't. I don't know.
24 Q Did you and Ms. Floris promise these Senators confidentiality at the 25 defensive briefing?

1 A I don't recall.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q What's the FBI's standard practice for when the FBI provides a defensive

4 briefing to U.S. Senators? Is it to create a record of some kind afterwards?

5 A You mean to memorialize the engagement?

6 Q Yes.

7 A I think that there would have been an effort to memorialize the engagement.

8 Q And who would have been responsible for that?

9 A Based on my understanding, it would have been the Office of Congressional

10 Affairs, perhaps.

11 Q And who did you speak to at the Office of Congressional Affairs?

12 A I didn't speak to anyone.

13 Q Who did Nikki Floris speak to?

14 A I don't know. I don't know.

15 Q Who was your point of contact at the Office of Congressional Affairs prior to 16 the briefing?

17 A I don't remember. I don't remember.

18 Q Who was your most frequent point of contact in the Office of Congressional

19 Affairs in the summer of 2020?

20 A In the summer of 2020? It is a non-SES employee.

21 [redacted] Give a title.

22 Mr. Benavides. Huh?

23 [redacted] You can give a title if you have it.

24 Mr. Benavides. Her title?

25 [redacted] Uh-huh.

Mr. Benavides. Office of Congressional Affairs person, liaison. I don't know what her title would be.

BY [redacted]

Q Was she in the briefing?

A It would have been classified. I would think no. I don't recall her being in the briefing.

Q Then how was she able to memorialize what happened in the briefing?

A Well, I don't know that it would have been meant to memorialize what happened in the briefing. The briefing is a one-way door. It is: Here is intelligence. Do with this intelligence as you see fit. Any attempt to memorialize would have been: On such and such a date, Nikki Floris, Brad Benavides would have provided a defensive brief to Senators Grassley and Johnson. And that may be all that it stated.

This is meant to be -- there is one thing to say we need to memorialize an engagement. There's another thing to say: Behind closed doors to Senators, we're here on behalf of the USIC. This is the script. Read it verbatim. Do with it as you understand.

I am unaware of any attempt to memorialize that.

[redacted] But the script is a record.

Mr. Benavides. The script was classified. I do believe the script -- the script would be a record. Is it a record within the FBI, or is it a record within the ODNI, I'm not immediately -- I don't immediately know.

BY [redacted]

Q But the FBI meets with two sitting Senators who provide reactions and responses in real time. Those aren't memorialized in any way?

A Are you asking would, like, the atmospherics of how these Senators

1 responded be memorialized?

2 Q Yes.

3 A No.

4 BY [redacted]

5 Q You, Ms. Floris, and there was a third person with you at the briefing with 6 Senator Grassley and Senator Johnson?

7 A I don't know. You mean with the FBI?

8 Q With you, yes.

9 A No, I think it was just me and Nikki.

10 Q That's it?

11 A Yes.

12 Q But you indicated before that the FBI is part of the intelligence community.

13 Correct?

14 A That is correct.

15 Q So, at the briefings on behalf of the intelligence community, it's also, in part,

16 on behalf of the FBI. Fair to say?

17 A For a defensive brief?

18 Q Yes.

19 A That is -- no, that is incorrect.

20 Q How does that work then? It's part of the intel community but not part of 21 the defensive brief?

22 A Part of the intelligence community is a fact. The FBI is part of the 23 intelligence community. Through the ODNI construct, a mechanism was created so that

24 the U.S. intelligence community could push pieces of intelligence that it had in its

25 possession and share it with someone, perhaps a large body, perhaps a company, you

1 name it, in a way that they could then understand what the U.S. intelligence community
2 had.
3 In the domestic space, the FBI would have been primarily responsible for 4 delivering that narrative. It would not have been the FBI delivering the narrative from 5 the FBI. It would have been, in the domestic space, the FBI occupies a specific position,
6 and the FBI would have delivered the defensive brief.
7 Q So it still would be in part, though. Correct?
8 A I don't know what you mean by "in part."
9 Q Well, I guess I can appreciate the precision here.
10 A And I think it's precise on purpose and not by me. By everything that's 11 here.
12 Q It's important to be precise. I don't disagree.
13 So, as sort of the larger point, it just seems semantic hair splitting to the point of 14 being I don't want to say intentionally evasive. It just -- the notion that he is not -- that 15 the Senators are not referring to the August 6th briefing, whatever they call it, it just 16 seems in some ways it's difficult to understand the sort of objection to that or the view
17 that that's not what they're referring to. It's a little confusing.
18 A Sir, I actually said, after I read the first paragraph, it is clear that they are 19 referencing August 6th and briefing on behalf of the intelligence community. It is 20 reasonable to assess that they are referring to the August 6th defensive brief in their final 21 paragraph.
22 Q Okay. So thank you for that.
23 A I said that earlier after looking at the opening paragraph.
24 [redacted] I'm just going to share with you two articles. The first I'm marking
25 as exhibit 11. It's a Washington Post story: Senate Republicans advance Ukraine probe

1 aimed at Biden despite foreign interference concerns.

2 [Benavides Exhibit No. 11

3 Was marked for identification.]

4 BY [redacted]

5 Q In the interest of time, I won't get into too many specifics. So this article

6 discusses the Senators' investigation involving Hunter Biden, Joe Biden, Burisma, Ukraine.

7 I'm going to direct your attention to the second page, the first full paragraph. It

8 reads: Senator Johnson is diverting his committee from oversight of the failing response

9 to the pandemic, even though over 4.5 million Americans have been affected, and instead

10 is facilitating a foreign influence operation to undermine our democracy. Biden

11 campaign spokesman Andrew Bates.

12 Do you see that?

13 A I do.

14 Q Were you familiar with the media coverage of the Grassley-Johnson

15 investigation that we're discussing?

16 A Not specifically, no.

17 Q Were you aware that Senator Richard Blumenthal published an op-ed piece

18 in the Washington Post on August 7th, 2 days after this article and 1 day after you briefed

19 Senators Grassley and Johnson, claiming that their investigation was perpetrating Russian

20 disinformation in the U.S. Senate?

21 A I am not. You would have to show it to me.

22 Q I will do that.

23 [redacted] I am marking as exhibit 12 an op-ed in the Washington Post by 24 Richard Blumenthal dated August 7, 2020.

25 [Benavides Exhibit No. 12

1 Was marked for identification.]

2 Mr. Benavides. Thank you.

3 I have not seen this article.

4 BY [redacted]

5 Q Okay. I direct your attention to the second page.

6 A Of the Blumenthal?

7 Q Of the Blumenthal.

8 A Yes, sir.

9 Q Now, this is dated, as far as you can tell, right, looking at page 1, August 7, 10 2020?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. And you gave your defensive briefing on August 6, 2020?

13 A Yes, sir.

14 Q At the bottom of page 2, the op-ed references an August 5th Washington

15 Post story that Senator Johnson's investigation into Joe Biden's family is relying on 16 debunked Kremlin conspiracy theories. It's the penultimate paragraph on page 2.

17 A I am sorry. Where are you?

19 A Okay. I'll read that.

20 Q Do you see that?

21 A I do see it.

22 Q And then the very next line says: There is no excuse for perpetuating

23 Russian disinformation in the U.S. Senate.

24 Do you see that?

25 A I do see that.

1 Q So, Mr. Benavides, we'll cut to the chase, because there is more to cover.
2 August 5th, 2020, we have a Washington Post article in which the claim is being made
3 that two U.S. Senators investigating the Biden family is advancing Russian disinformation.
4 August 6th, 2020, you and Ms. Floris give a defensive briefing to Senators Grassley and
5 Johnson, which they say is leaked. August 7th, Senator Blumenthal, a Democrat, writes
6 an op-ed saying that Russian disinformation is being pushed in the U.S. Senate by Ron 7 Johnson.
8 These three consecutive unifying events, the Washington Post story, your 9 defensive briefing, the Blumenthal op-ed led Senator Grassley to testify before the Select
10 Subcommittee on the Weaponization of the Federal Government that this was out of a
11 fiction spy thriller, and he places you and Ms. Floris as primary players in this spy thriller.
12 Given how this unfolded, August 5th, 6th, and 7th, can you understand why that 13 is?
14 A No. I am not a character in a spy thriller, period.
15 Q But you understand why the Senator might draw that conclusion?
16 A I do not. I also don't know -- perhaps the August 7th opinion is referencing
17 content, perhaps, from -- I haven't read these but, perhaps, from August 5th. So you
18 have an August 5th prior to August 6th defensive brief and then an August 7th op-ed. I 19 would --
20 Q It's smack in between those two defensive briefings.
21 A Absolutely smack in between. I'm not going to argue the dates. I don't 22 know where the content for this came from, and I don't know if the article references the 23 same type of stuff that might be in this August 5th article. I don't know.
24 Q Understood.
25 BY [redacted]

1 Q Do you know who Elvis Chan is?
2 A I do.
3 Q Who is he?
4 A Elvis Chan is an FBI agent in the San Francisco Field Office.
5 Q During your time at the FBI, did you have any interactions with Elvis Chan?
6 A At the FBI?
7 Q Yes.
8 A Yes.
9 Q What was the nature of those interactions?
10 A When I led the Syria-Iraq task force, ISIS prolifically used social media to 11 disseminate their jihadist points of view in an attempt to recruit operatives. I would 12 have known Elvis during that time.
13 Additionally, when I was a supervisor in Chicago, al-Qaida's attempt to recruit
14 operatives via the internet during that time, I would have also known Elvis. And then,
15 more recently, I would have known Elvis Chan through my time on FITF, the Foreign
16 Influence Task Force.
17 Q What was the nature of your interactions with Mr. Chan as part of 18 your -- when you were section chief of the FITF?
19 A I don't recall interacting with Elvis Chan. I knew that Elvis Chan, because of 20 my time in Counterterrorism Division, that Elvis would be working out of the San 21 Francisco division because of his proximity to Silicon Valley to help facilitate points of 22 contact within the tech and social media companies.
23 Q When did you last speak to Mr. Chan?
24 A Several years ago. I don't recall exactly the date. I spoke to Elvis to get
25 his point of view on someone that I was considering to hire. It would have been -- now I

1 can be more precise. It would have been during my time as Deputy Assistant Director of
2 the China Branch. I was attempting to hire someone, and I felt that Elvis might be able
3 to give me insight into the qualifications of the candidate.
4 Q Do you know who Laura Dehmlow is?
5 A I do.
6 Q And who is she?
7 A Laura Dehmlow was a unit chief in FITF and later served as section chief of
8 FITF.
9 Q Was she the section chief immediately after you?
10 A I believe so, yes.
11 Q Did you have any say in who would be the section chief after you?
12 A No.
13 Q Was she the unit chief of the China Unit?
14 A Yes.
15 Q Was she part of FITF when you became section chief of FITF?
16 A Yes.
17 Q Had you interacted with Ms. Dehmlow prior to that?
18 A No.
19 Q After you left the FITF, did you continue to work with her in any capacity?
20 A We would have attended the same like daily operational meetings, but my 21 portfolio would have been as the Deputy Assistant Director Over the China Branch, and 22 she would have remained under the Intel Branch.
23 Q And have you spoken with Ms. Dehmlow since she left the FBI?
24 A Yes.
25 Q How recently?

1 A I don't recall exactly, but the topic of the conversation would have been, I
2 believe, her going away.
3 Q Do you know who [redacted] is?
4 A I do.
5 Q And who is he?
6 A Is his name -- he's a GS employee. Is he part of this?
7 [redacted] You can answer the question.
8 Mr. Benavides. Oh, he would have been the unit chief for the Russia portion of 9 the Foreign Influence Task Force.
10 BY [redacted]
11 Q During your tenure?
12 A Yes.
13 Q Was he the unit chief when you took the role?
14 A Yes, I believe so.
15 Q Had you worked with him previously prior to taking --
16 A No. No.
17 Q To your understanding, would the unit chiefs attend most of the FITF
18 meetings with the social media companies?
19 A I believe so, yes.
20 Q And how frequently would your unit chiefs provide briefings or updates to
21 you?
22 A About specific social media engagement?
23 Q Providing engagement with the social media companies.
24 A Only if there was like a perceived problem or something like that, or I might 25 have like asked, oh, how did the engagement go? But it was general just kind of update.

1 Q What sort of perceived problems do you recall arising in the context of the 2 unit chief's communications with the social media companies?
3 A I don't. I don't recall any problems.
4 Q You don't recall any specifically, or you don't recall ever having unit chiefs
5 raise concerns?
6 A With social media, I don't recall. I don't recall specific concerns.
7 Q Do you have a sense of what information the unit chiefs were sharing with 8 the FITF -- or excuse me, with the social media companies?
9 A I think it would run the spectrum that I have attempted to describe, general
10 threat understanding, things that the U.S. intelligence community were tracking for 11 situational awareness, all the way over to instances where a selector or an identified
12 account where we had confidence was attributed to a foreign actor could be passed. So
13 some information that could be passed where a social media company could look at it
14 and say: I might be able to look into this and be able to do something about this.
15 Thank you for passing that over -- to just broad, general understanding as we led up to 16 the 2020 election.
17 Q And, before there is a meeting between the FITF and social media
18 companies, would members of the FITF, you know, internally get together to determine 19 an agenda or what information is going to be shared?
20 A Yes.
21 Q Would you participate in those internal meetings?
22 A I would not have participated.
23 Q Were you ever given the opportunity to review an agenda or made aware of 24 what information would be shared in advance of a meeting?
25 A For FITF engagement with social media?

1 Q Yes.

2 A I don't recall an instance.

3 Q We, in the first hour, were talking about -- I believe the title was your

4 assistant section chief?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Would he attend the FITF meetings between the FITF and the social media

7 companies?

8 A I think if he had time on his calendar, he may.

9 Q And remind me his name. I know you provided it earlier.

10 A [redacted]

11 Q And, in terms of the hierarchy of the FITF, was [redacted] as part of his 12 responsibilities, overseeing the three unit chiefs?

13 A Yes. They would have been direct reports to the assistant section chief.

14 Q And, when FITF has these internal meetings in advance of a FITF social media

15 company meeting, would [redacted] partake in those meetings?

16 A My best assessment is, if he had time in his calendar, he would have.

17 Q So it's your understanding if he had time in his calendar, he would attend

18 both the internal pre-meeting, as well as the actual FITF meeting with the social media

19 companies?

20 A Yes.

21 [redacted] Do you know that for sure?

22 Mr. Benavides. I don't know it for sure. Again, the assistant section chief is a

23 relatively senior role. This would have been -- I think he would have done what he

24 could, but it would be based on his calendar and availability. I'm not saying that

25 it's -- I'm not saying that it's 100 percent yes. I'm not saying it's 100 percent no. I'm

1 saying that, in his role, if he had time, I'm sure he would have tried.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Do you know whether the potential of a hack-and-leak operation was

4 discussed during any FITF meeting with a social media company in the lead up to the 2020

5 election?

6 A It would not -- I am not aware of specific hack-and-leak narratives being

7 shared out of FITF. I'm not aware.

8 Q If FITF was in possession of information to suggest there was a heightened

9 risk of a potential hack-and-leak operation in the lead up to the 2020 election, is that the

10 type of information that could be shared in a meeting between FITF and the social media

11 companies?

12 A Potentially. A lot of this goes back to sensitive sources, means, and

13 methods and whether or not the information could be conveyed in an unclassified

14 environment in a meaningful way.

15 Q Are you aware of whether the social media companies provided any

16 information to the FITF regarding concerns of a potential hack and leak operation?

17 A No.

18 Q Do you know if the companies were ever warned to be suspicious if a trove

19 of documents or emails appeared online?

20 A I would need a bit more attribution. A trail of documents to appear online?

21 That would be a difficult thing to convey to a social media tech company because you've

22 not given them enough context to understand what they might be looking for. So, if you

23 say documents related to a particular intelligence apparatus of the Iranian regime, that

24 would be a way of conveying it, but not just broadly documents.

25 Q What about documents targeting a particular political candidate?

1 A If the U.S. intelligence community or the FBI had intelligence that we could
2 pass to social media companies to inform them of threats and threat narratives, we
3 would have done so. You're asking me a very specific instance, and I don't recall a 4 specific instance of that.
5 Q Other than members of the FITF, would other members of the FBI attend
6 these FITF meetings, these kind of standing meetings between FITF and the social media
7 companies?
8 A So I want to be precise. The purpose of FITF is cross-programmatic. So
9 FITF is a construct in that you might have someone from the FBI's Cyber Division leverage
10 an opportunity to discuss with social media and tech through the FITF construct, an 11 opportunity to engage social media and tech on, you know, cyber activity, you know,
12 ransomware, things of that nature. If they knew of it, they could potentially leverage
13 that engagement.
14 It wouldn't necessarily be coming from FITF, but it could certainly be through the 15 FITF meeting.
16 Q To your understanding, and using the hypothetical that you gave, would the 17 individual from the Cyber Division actually attend the meeting between FITF and the 18 social media companies, or would the member provide the information to FITF and only 19 FITF members were on the call?
20 A It could be either or.
21 Q To your understanding, would that include individuals from the Criminal
22 Division?
23 A Yes.
24 Q Just at a high level, what is your understanding of the types of matters that 25 would involve a representative from the Criminal Division to be part of the meetings with

1 the social media companies?

2 A Violations of civil rights. And, to give a hypothetical, Republicans are going

3 to vote on this day, but Democrats are going to vote on this day. Something that would

4 confuse in a way that would rise to a violation that could be investigated and potentially

5 indicted.

6 Q In a situation like that, if there is an ongoing investigation, could the Criminal

7 Division provide any sort of information?

8 A I don't understand your question.

9 Q Sure. So let's use your hypothetical. There is a concern about civil rights.

10 If I understood the example correctly, someone is sharing information online that could

11 lead people to believe the election is on a different day than it actually is. Is that right?

12 A I think that the way it would go it would be that the agent or analyst

13 participating would say: Be aware that that type of activity occurs, and it's a violation of 14 Federal law. It's a violation of civil rights. If you see something like that, please report

15 it.

16 Q And what about if there were examples, real-life examples that the FBI was 17 aware of? Could those examples be shared with the social media companies?

18 A I don't think I understand the question.

19 Q Sure. So there is -- it sounds like they would be permitted, "they" being the 20 FBI, would be permitted to share the risk. Be on the lookout for this type of criminal

21 wrongdoing. Is that fair to say?

22 A Yes.

23 Q I guess two questions. First, if there is information or intelligence that is

24 supporting that conclusion, can members of the FITF or other members of the FBI share

25 that with the social media companies to explain why they are saying be on the lookout for

1 this?

2 A It is, I think, established that this type of activity has occurred, either in print

3 or across a social media channel, in various areas across the country. There is enough

4 information there. There is enough activity where the FBI would be able to say: Be on

5 the lookout for this type of behavior. It's a violation of Federal statute, and please

6 report it to us.

7 So, in that instance, you would be able to share that, with a high level of

8 confidence, that this activity has occurred and could occur and so please be on the 9 lookout for it.

10 Q And, to your knowledge, did the FBI have evidence to that threshold that 11 would permit the FBI to share information about the risk of a hack-and-leak operation?

12 A I am not tracking a hack-and-leak operation.

13 Q Do you know if anyone in the FITF was?

14 A I don't know.

15 Q Do you know who Yoel Roth is?

16 A Yes, only -- yes.

17 Q And how do you know who he is?

18 A I recall seeing his name. I recall seeing his name in, I believe, in the prep

19 material.

20 Q To your knowledge, have you ever communicated with Mr. Roth, had any 21 interactions with him?

22 A There is a chance that he would have been a recipient of me doing an

23 introduction and thanking everyone for their time. I don't recall ever having a specific

24 engagement with him.

25 Q Did you have a primary point of contact at any of the social media

1 companies during this time?

2 A Me personally?

3 Q Yes.

4 A No.

5 Q So, in addition to -- you have the members of FITF. Depending on if it's

6 appropriate, there may be someone from the Cyber Division or someone who is not part

7 of the task force itself. Would there ever be members from other Federal agencies that

8 would attend a call, calls between --

9 A From other Federal agencies?

10 Q Yes.

11 A I'm not aware.

12 Q Are you familiar with the October 14th, 2020, New York Post story regarding

13 Hunter Biden's laptop?

14 A Only in the -- from the prep material. I read through it.

15 Q Do you recall if you were aware of it in October of 2020, when the story

16 came out or shortly thereafter?

17 A I don't know if I would have gotten it from the story, but I was aware of a

18 Hunter Biden laptop narrative that was out in the public domain in 2020.

19 Q And, to your understanding, what was that Hunter Biden laptop narrative?

20 A My understanding, and I'll be honest, some of this came from 2 days ago. I

21 was on Wikipedia, anticipating what might be asked. There was a purported laptop

22 dropped off at a repair shop attributed to Hunter Biden.

23 Q And, to your knowledge, is the FBI in possession of that laptop?

24 A Only because of the Wikipedia article, my understanding is, according to that

25 article, the FBI is in possession of the laptop.

1 Q So, until a couple days ago, you didn't know whether the FBI was in
2 possession of the laptop?
3 A I was absolutely aware of a narrative that was being discussed about a
4 laptop attributed to Hunter Biden. I don't know when I would have been made aware
5 that the FBI has the laptop or has a laptop. I did see it in the Wikipedia article.
6 Q Were you ever made aware that the FBI was in possession of the laptop
7 while you were section chief of FITF?
8 A I remember a question being posed broadly if there was a laptop purported
9 to be attributed to Hunter Biden, is it possible that a foreign adversary, like the Russians,
10 could be using that as a way to insert into the U.S. political system false information, bad
11 information, corrupted information, all kinds of things that could be on the laptop? Is it
12 possible, FITF, that the Russians are capable of doing this? And my response would have 13 been yes.
14 Q And who asked that?
15 A At the time, my recollection is it would have come from the EAD, Executive 16 Assistant Director for National Security.
17 Q And who was that at the time?
18 A John Brown.
19 Q And when was this?
20 A Sometime in 2020.
21 Q Do you recall roughly when it was?
22 A Mid, late -- sometime in late 2020.
23 Q Before or after the election?
24 A I don't know -- it would have been before the election because I would have 25 moved on to Deputy Assistant Director.

1 Q Was it before or after the New York Post story came out?

2 A I don't know.

3 Q How did he ask the question? Was it verbally?

4 A It was broad. It would have been, is it possible that the Russians had the

5 sophistication, the capabilities to potentially insert a laptop purported to be associated

6 with Hunter Biden? It would have been a broad question based on my recollection.

7 Q And do you recall the context in which it occurred? Did you receive a

8 phone call? Did you get an email one day?

9 A It would have been face to face.

10 Q Face to face? Here in D.C.?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And the gentleman's name, I'm sorry, was John Brown?

13 A John Brown.

14 Q How frequently did you interact with John Brown as section chief of FITF?

15 A Frequently, relatively frequently.

16 Q And so your recollection is he asked you this broad question, and you

17 respond broadly, just yes?

18 A I mean, without more information, is it conceivable that something like this

19 could happen, my answer would have been yes.

20 Q Did you have to take anything back to your team or conduct your own

21 analysis, or you just were able to provide an answer immediately?

22 A I would have provided the answer immediately based on my understanding

23 of sophisticated Russian operations.

24 Q Did you do anything else after this conversation with him?

25 A Not that I immediately recall. Not that I recall.

1 Q Did you have any discussions with your assistant section chief?

2 A With my assistant section chief? Not necessarily with my assistant section

3 chief. It is likely, because I know myself, that I would have asked: Please be mindful.

4 Look for chatter that might inform this type of question.

5 Q And who would you have said that to?

6 A I would have said that to my assistant section chief, my unit chiefs, et cetera.

7 Q Would [redacted] have been the most appropriate unit chief to talk to?

8 A Yes.

9 Q During your tenure as section chief of FITF, did [redacted] ever raise, you

10 know, concerns or notify you regarding chatter of a Russian hack and leak?

11 A No, not that I'm aware of.

12 Q Did Mr. Brown ever follow up with you?

13 A Say that one more time.

14 Q Did Mr. Brown ever follow up with you after his initial question?

15 A I don't recall a specific instance of a followup.

16 Q Are you aware of the statements from various whistleblowers that the FBI

17 was first in possession of the laptop as early as the end of 2019?

18 A No.

19 Q Even today? You don't have any knowledge of that?

20 A No.

21 Q Are you aware that Laura Dehmlow testified before this committee?

22 A I am.

23 Q Are you aware that she was asked if she knew whether the FBI was in 24 possession of a laptop?

25 A No.

1 Q To your understanding, did other members of the FITF know whether the FBI
2 was in possession of this laptop?
3 A I don't know.
4 Q Did you ever have any conversations with them about it?
5 A Broadly, from a FITF perspective, could it be a Russia intelligence operation?
6 Please be mindful and be on the lookout for anything that might inform that type of 7 question that came down from John.
8 Q Prior to John, your conversation with John Brown, did you have any 9 conversations with anyone in the FITF regarding the FBI's possession of the laptop?
10 A No.
11 Q Did you have any -- prior to your conversation with John Brown, did you
12 have any conversations with anyone in the FBI regarding the FBI's possession of the 13 laptop?
14 A I don't recall having those types of conversations, no.
15 Q Okay.
16 Prior to your conversation with John Brown, did you have any discussions with 17 anyone in the government regarding the FBI's possession of the laptop?
18 A I would not have discussed anything about the laptop within the 19 government. If I knew that the FBI had possession of it, that would have been outside of 20 FITF.
21 Q What do you mean by that?
22 A Meaning that there would not have been a FITF part of our mandate.
23 Knowing that the FBI had the laptop, the FITF would not have had the laptop. I would 24 have known that the FITF had the laptop, in other words.
25 Q Sure, sure.

1 To your understanding, which division would have had the laptop?
2 A Likely the Criminal Division.
3 Q Did you have any discussions with anyone from the Criminal Division
4 regarding the FBI's possession of the laptop?
5 A I did not.
6 Q To your knowledge, did anyone part of the FITF have any conversations with 7 anyone in the Criminal Division regarding the FBI's possession of the laptop?
8 A Regarding the FBI's possession of the laptop? I don't know. But FITF
9 would have been in a position to inform of general threat understanding of what a 10 foreign adversary could be up to.
11 Q Taking the related issue, to your understanding, did anyone from FITF have a
12 conversation with anyone from the Criminal Division regarding whether a foreign 13 adversary was working to possibly conduct a hack-and-leak operation as related to 14 Hunter Biden?
15 A A hack-and-leak operation? I don't have knowledge of that, no.
16 Q Knowledge of the operation or knowledge of any conversation between the 17 FITF and the Criminal Division?
18 A Specifically on hack and leak?
19 Q Yes.
20 A No, I don't.
21 Q Anything related to the laptop.
22 A I think, again, the FITF would have been in a position to provide general
23 threat understanding of what a foreign adversary like Russia would be capable of doing.
24 Q To your knowledge, did anyone from the FITF share information with any 25 social media company on the day the story broke about the FBI's possession of the

1 laptop?

2 A I am not sure that FITF did that or that FITF would have done that.

3 Q Why do you say you're unsure?

4 A The FITF would have provided broad threat understanding. The FITF on the 5 other end could have provided actionable intelligence, such as a selector or an account.

6 The FITF I don't assess would have been discussing a laptop with social media or tech

7 companies.

8 Q Do you know if the FITF was being asked by the social media companies the 9 day the story broke whether the FBI has the laptop?

10 A As part of my prep material, I know that that question was asked to Laura, I

11 believe.

12 [redacted] At the time, you were section chief of FITF did you know that?

13 Mr. Benavides. Not at the time I was section chief of FITF, no. Apologies.

14 BY [redacted]

15 Q So your assistant section chief and none of the unit chiefs raised the issue

16 with you?

17 A Not that I'm aware of.

18 Q Do you know if it was raised by -- in multiple meetings, multiple FITF social 19 media companies, the same question?

20 A I don't.

21 Q Are you aware of any discussions among FITF and other FBI personnel about 22 how to respond to that question?

23 A Only because of the prep material.

24 Q So, during your time as section chief, you were unaware of the internal 25 discussions that FITF members were having about how to respond to this question?

A I was not aware of that.

Q Is that a set of issues that should have been raised to you as section chief of FITF?

A I don't know. I don't know. Typically, if the FBI has an investigation, that would be outside -- that would be outside of what FITF would be attempting to do. FBI predicating -- the FBI doesn't really comment on investigations. The FBI doesn't comment on investigations generally.

Q To your understanding then, why did there have to be internal discussions among FITF members following a meeting with -- between FITF and the social media company where this question was asked?

A Oh, I don't know.

Q You don't know.

How frequently were you in touch with your unit chiefs in October of 2020?

A Daily.

Q Daily?

What was the threshold as far as what issues would be raised to your desk?

A If there was a friction point where an executive could potentially remove the barrier or otherwise reach alignment or otherwise reach some sort of consensus.

Q Ms. Dehmlow testified that, during these internal discussions, a decision was made and that she was not the decisionmaker. If you were not part of these discussions, who are the decisionmakers above Ms. Dehmlow that could have made that decision?

A I don't know. I mean, if you look at the way FITF is structured, it would only be potentially [redacted] or myself above Laura Dehmlow. Outside of that, you've got the national security law branch. You have all kinds of components within the FBI that

1 could be consulted. I don't know.

2 [redacted] Can we go off the record, please.

3 [Recess.]

1

2 [3:38 p.m.]

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q A couple clarifying questions about what we were just covering at the end of

5 the previous hour.

6 Are you aware of any element of the FBI that was warning about hack and leak

7 narratives and was sharing that with social media companies?

8 A No.

9 Q In your conversation between you and Mr. Brown, was it just the two of

10 you?

11 A I don't recall.

12 Q Okay. And when you provided your response, walk me through what your

13 exact -- was it just a short yes? Did you provide --

14 A I think it was a short yes.

15 Q Did you provide any sort of detail?

16 A There would not have been a need to do that.

17 Q Why not?

18 A John Brown is a counterintelligence professional.

19 Q And what do you mean by that would not need any further detail to --

20 A The -- for all I know, the question could have been rhetorical. I don't know.

21 I mean, John is steeped in counterintelligence methodologies. There would not have

22 been a need for me to contextualize for John Brown.

23 Q Why did he need to ask you the question?

24 A Again, it might have even been rhetorical. He might have been thinking out

25 loud. I don't know. But it is my assessment that he asked the question and I said, yes,

1 of course. And that would -- that was the end of the conversation.

2 Q Do you recall any meetings with anyone in FBI leadership in between when

3 the New York Post story came out and the days that followed -- we'll say, before the 4 election -- regarding the laptop?

5 A Ask the question again, please?

6 Q Sure. Just from October 14th until election day, early November of 2020,

7 did you have any discussions with anyone in FBI leadership regarding the laptop?

8 A Not to my recollection, outside of the conversation with John.

9 Q Okay. Are you aware of whether social media companies continued to 10 contact the FBI requesting information on --

11 A I am unaware of that.

12 Q Are you aware that Ms. Dehmlow testified that she believed you were aware 13 that the FBI had the laptop?

14 A Based on what I saw in the prep binder, I don't think that those would have

15 been the words, sir. I think, for what -- based on my recollection, if the laptop was real,

16 which is a completely different issue in my mind as opposed to Hunter Biden laptop

17 generically.

18 Q Okay. How so?

19 A I don't know what real means, and I would need context for that. And I

20 can't put myself in Laura's testimony to understand what she might have been trying to 21 convey based on the question that was asked to her.

22 Q Did you have any knowledge of the FBI's possession of any laptop, regardless

23 of whether the laptop had been authenticated, determined to be Hunter Biden's laptop,

24 determined to be a version of Hunter Biden's laptop possibly corrupted, possession of any 25 laptop whatsoever connected to this issue?

1 A I was aware of a public narrative around this generally. I assessed, based
2 on John's question, that the FBI might be in possession of the laptop. I was never told,
3 nor would I have asked, Does the FBI have this laptop? I would not have done that.
4 Q Why would you not have asked?
5 A This is important for you to understand. Years of experience in the FBI,
6 there are policies and protocols. There are ways that the FBI conducts -- comports itself,
7 conducts. There are crimes against children, which are egregious, and there are 8 protocols to protect that. There are counterterrorism investigations that may be 9 incredibly sensitive, counterintelligence investigations that may be incredibly sensitive.
10 I would not have asked because it would not have been within my purview at that 11 time on if a component of the FBI had Hunter Biden's laptop. That's why I would not 12 have asked.
13 I would have known if the FITF had the laptop. I would have known that, but I
14 would not have asked proactively if some other element within the FBI had it.
15 Q How do you think members of the FITF learned that the FBI was in 16 possession of the laptop?
17 A There was a public narrative about this. I don't know that the FITF actually 18 knew that the FBI had possession of the laptop. I don't know that.
19 Q Are you aware that Ms. Dehmlow testified that during one of the meetings
20 between the FITF and the social media companies, that someone from the FBI answered
21 affirmatively when asked about the laptop?
22 A I am vaguely aware of that because of the prep material, but I don't know 23 the exact details of that.
24 Q Okay. Given what you stated two answers ago about the FBI's protocol, 25 does that surprise you?

A You mean if true?

Q If true.

A It would surprise me if true. The FBI doesn't comment on investigations, but it's also a human -- it's a human -- it's a human entity where people, if asked a question, could respond.

So, if true, would I be surprised? Yes, potentially.

Q Are you familiar that Ms. Dehmlow testified that when that meeting occurred on the 14th, that was not when she learned about the laptop's existence?

A Oh, I don't know.

Q She knew prior to that meeting?

A I don't know.

[redacted] Are you referring to her transcript, a certain page, or what testimony are you referring to?

[redacted] Yeah. I'm referring to her testimony before the committee.

[redacted] Can you just give us a cite so we can confirm that that's accurate?

[redacted] Sure. I mean, we have the -- we can go through the --

[redacted] Just the page would be fine.

[redacted] -- testimony itself right now.

[redacted] Just the page from what you just said, for the record.

[redacted] I want to make sure I read it correctly, then, for the record.

[redacted] To be clear, [redacted] is doing a courtesy for the minority request. There is no requirement that we cite to this document. If he asks a question and he represents that this is what was testified to, we still expect an answer to that question.

[redacted] I think to the extent that the question is precise, we've been talking about whether the laptop was real and what that means versus whether the FBI had it in its possession. So I just want to be very clear that he knows what exactly -- which one of those questions Ms. Dehmlow was responding to.

Question from staff: When the information was relayed to you following the Twitter call, the first agent had said the laptop was real. Just to clarify, you knew prior to that conversation that the laptop was real. Is that correct?

Ms. Dehmlow answers: I did, yes.

BY [redacted]

Q Mr. Benavides, given your understanding of the FITF's interactions with the Criminal Division, to your understanding, how would have Ms. Dehmlow learned that information?

A The FITF is a cross-programmatic construct. It is possible that Laura did receive that type of information from -- from the Criminal Division. That is a possibility.

Q And she's on the China Unit at this time. Is that right?

A Yes.

Q So if Ms. Dehmlow's receiving that information, do you think it's likely members of the Russia Unit were receiving this information?

A It is plausible.

Q But your testimony is that you did not receive any information?

A I do not remember -- I do not recall a moment where I was given information that the FBI was in possession of a laptop.

[redacted] That's not what the excerpt said. It said that the laptop was real.

Mr. Benavides. But that wasn't your question. You weren't asking me if the laptop is real.

BY [redacted]

1 Q That's right. The question was about possession.

2 A You were asking me about possession of the laptop.

3 Q We'll ask the same set of questions regarding whether the laptop was real.

4 A Okay.

5 Q So, first, did you have knowledge in the fall of 2020 that the laptop was real?

6 A I don't know what real means, and in my mind, if someone says "the laptop

7 is real," it is a real laptop, not a thumb drive, not a compact disk, not an external drive.

8 In other words, a real laptop, not to be confused with a desktop. It was how I would

9 understand if someone says "the laptop is real." It is a real thing in existence, which

10 would be completely different than authenticated or attributed.

11 Q Okay. Not saying authenticated, not saying attributed. Did you have any 12 knowledge about whether the laptop was real?

13 A That a laptop was being discussed in a public narrative, a public way, I was

14 aware that that was being discussed. And after John asked me the question, I assessed

15 that John had some understanding that there was a laptop.

16 Q And what led you to that assessment?

17 A No, I don't recall anyone telling me the FBI has possession of a laptop.

18 Q Okay. What about -- what was it about John's question that led you to that

19 assessment?

20 A John is a counterintelligence professional who I respect. If he asked the 21 question, it is reasonable to assess that John is tracking a laptop.

22 Q Did he ask anyone else this question?

23 A I don't know if anyone else was in the room. He -- I remember him asking

24 me this question.

25 Q So it's possible others may have heard the question?

A I don't know. Yes, if others were in the room, it would be plausible that they would have heard. I can't recall if anyone else was in the room.

[redacted] Can you speak to other conversations that John Brown had with others that you weren't a party to?

Mr. Benavides. No. Yeah. I mean, I can, but I am unaware of other conversations that John Brown had.

BY [redacted]

Q Okay. In an earlier response, you had said it would have been likely -- you don't have a specific recollection -- but you might have spoken to [redacted] about this.

A I do not recall a direct conversation with [redacted]

Q Under standard protocol of how FITF operates, if John Brown asks you a question as it relates to Russia's capabilities, would you convey that question to [redacted]?

A I don't know that I would have conveyed it as a John Brown question. It would have been reasonable for me to say, Be mindful, let's make sure that we are tracking if anything comes across for us to inform our understanding to better understand, is a foreign actor up to something. That would have been exactly what the FITF would have been meant to do.

Q And if you had said that to [redacted] would he have reached a similar conclusion to you that there must be something else going on here?

A I think that it would have -- he could have assessed that, but I think it would have been reinforcing that there was a -- there was a public narrative about this already. I think that he -- he could have assessed that. I don't know what he thought, but he could have assessed it. I don't -- I do not have -- I don't recall having a direct conversation with [redacted]

Q In the lead-up to the 2020 election, did you learn of any nonpublic information regarding the laptop?

A No.

Q All right. To your knowledge, did anyone part of the FITF at the time, did they learn of any nonpublic information regarding the laptop?

A I don't know.

Q So based off your recollection, the whole extent of your knowledge as it relates to the laptop is a single question and a single conversation from John Brown?

A At the time that I was in the FITF, it would have been a public awareness -- a general understanding that this narrative was out and in John asking, Is this something that the Russians could be capable of doing?

Q When did you learn that there was a criminal investigation ongoing related to the laptop?

[redacted] Can we go off the record for a minute?

[redacted] Yes.

[Discussion off the record.]

[redacted] Are we back on the record?

[redacted] Yes. Mindful of the ongoing investigation, we need to be careful about questions regarding specific investigative activity, but he can answer this question.

Mr. Benavides. Can you ask the question again, please?

[redacted] Sure.

BY [redacted]

Q When did you learn that there was an ongoing criminal investigation related to the laptop?

A The Wikipedia page.

Q In prep for today?

A Yes.

Q So you had no knowledge during your tenure at the FBI?

A Of an investigation related to the laptop?

Q Yes.

A No.

Q Are you familiar with the October 21st, 2020, briefing that the FITF provided to [redacted]?

A No.

Q Do you know who [redacted] [redacted] is?

A I don't. I mean, I know that his name is out there, but I've never met him, that I recall. I don't know him as a person.

Q Did you work on the investigation into the DNC hack in the summer of 2016?

A I did not.

Q Did you work on the Crossfire Hurricane investigation?

A I did not.

Q Have you ever worked with Jim Baker?

A I've never worked with Jim Baker. I know who Jim Baker is.

Q Have you ever worked on any investigation involving Hunter Biden?

A No.

Q Do you know if FITF would provide briefings regarding whether a confidential human source was the victim of a foreign influence operation?

A Briefings to whom?

Q To other members of the FBI.

A Yes.

1 Q And how frequently would those occur?

2 A I don't know the frequency of which that would have occurred.

3 Q When a briefing like that occurs, who from the FITF attends those meetings?

4 A It would likely be the unit chief.

5 Q Do you know what switchboarding is?

6 A Not without more context.

7 Q Okay. Are you familiar with -- the agency CISA says it engages in 8 switchboarding or used to engage in switchboarding and no longer does.

9 Does that term mean anything to you?

10 A It does not.

11 Q Now, when the FBI would send materials to social media companies --

12 A I don't know that the FBI sent materials to social media companies.

13 Q Are you familiar with what teleporter is?

14 A No.

15 Q Are you familiar with -- that Elvis Chan provided a deposition in the Missouri

16 v. Biden case?

17 A No.

18 Q You're unaware of that?

19 A I'm unaware of that.

20 Q Are you familiar with the ODNI's Foreign Malign Influence Center?

21 A Broadly. That -- I have -- I think I've heard that, yes.

22 Q Do you recall if you worked with them in any capacity?

23 A No, I did not. Not that I'm aware of.

24 Q Do you know if ODNI personnel would ever attend the FITF meetings with 25 the social media companies?

1 A I don't know.

2 Q Now, what is Sentinel?

3 A Sentinel is the FBI's investigative and intelligence system of record, would be

4 my best way to describe Sentinel.

5 Q Do you know if following a meeting between the FITF and a social media

6 company, if anyone from the FITF or from the FBI generally would memorialize that

7 meeting in any way?

8 A I think that that would be standard, yes.

9 Q Okay. And to your understanding, based under the FBI's protocols, would 10 those records from meetings with social media companies in 2020 be available still?

11 A If it occurred and was uploaded into Sentinel, that would be available.

12 Q Besides the meetings that would take place, are you aware of other forms of

13 communication between the FBI -- I'll start specifically between the FITF and social media

14 companies?

15 A No.

16 Q You testified earlier you have a general awareness of or knew of Mr. Chan

17 from some prior interactions.

18 A Yes.

19 Q And then, if I understood your testimony correctly, while you were part of 20 FITF, you were not directly engaged with Mr. Chan, but you were aware that members of 21 your team were. Is that right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Do you have an awareness of how Mr. Chan was interacting with the social

24 media companies?

25 A No.

1 Q Do you know if he ever sent -- would communicate materials via text
2 message or via Signal --
3 A I don't know.
4 Q -- to members of the social media companies?
5 A I don't know.
6 Q Are you familiar in any context of the FBI communicating with private
7 partners via Signal?
8 A No.
9 Q To your understanding, is that consistent with the FBI's standard practices,
10 protocols?
11 A What's the que- -- I don't --
12 Q To communicate with private partners via Signal.
13 A I would -- I'm not aware of that.
14 Q We were discussing -- I think this was back in the first hour -- the whole
15 process by which the FITF would conduct assessments if they determine that there was a,
16 you know, foreign state attribution, foreign actor attribution, it would -- you know, if it
17 met a certain threshold, at that point, it would be potentially communicated to the social 18 media companies.
19 A Potentially.
20 Q Yeah. During your tenure as section chief of the FITF, do you know how 21 many accounts --
22 A No.
23 Q -- were communicated to --
24 A No, sir.
25 Q Who at the FITF would probably know that, the answer to that question?

1 A Oh, I -- I don't know.

2 Q To clarify an earlier answer, you said that if you were to have spoken to

3 [redacted] following your conversation with Mr. Brown, you might have said something

4 like, Be mindful of this, look for chatter for this.

5 Independent of whether it was actually following that conversation with

6 Mr. Brown, do you recall any conversations with [redacted] in 2020 regarding, Be on the 7 lookout for chatter regarding a Russian hack and leak operation?

8 A Not specifically with -- with [redacted] or a hack and leak operation.

9 Q Okay. What about with others within the FBI?

10 A I would have broad -- it would have made sense for me to broadly state, Be

11 mindful, this narrative is out there. Look for evidence. Look for -- look for this to 12 inform the threat picture.

13 Q So I appreciate your response, start off with it would make sense. Do you

14 have any recollections of actually doing that?

15 A No.

16 Q Even in a general sense?

17 A Even in a general sense.

18 Q When, like, a issue would occur, you know, where your unit chiefs had an

19 issue that they felt they needed to raise to you, in the fall of 2020 -- obviously this is

20 during COVID -- is everyone in person? Is everyone remote? How do you -- how are 21 you typically communicating with your team?

22 A In person.

23 Q And so these typically would be in-person conversations then?

24 A Yes. Or secure email or something like that.

25 Q And to your recollection, were there any conversations you had with the unit

1 chiefs regarding a laptop that may or may not be real? Not necessarily Hunter Biden's
2 laptop, not necessarily that the FBI is or is not in possession. Just generally the same
3 kind of broader issue we were discussing earlier, did you have any discussions with your 4 unit chiefs on this issue?
5 A I don't recall a general discussion with my unit chiefs on this. It would have
6 made sense that, after John asked the question, that I would have said, Let's inform this
7 and understand that there is a threat. I don't recall saying -- I don't recall doing that.
8 Q And as we've been going back and forth on this for a little bit now and you're 9 thinking about it, do you have any sense of whether -- of when that conversation with 10 Mr. Brown occurred in 2020?
11 A Sometime in late 2020.
12 Q Okay. Do you think it was more than a month before the election?
13 A I don't know.
14 Q And given his title, I would assume Mr. Brown is working in D.C. every day.
15 Is that a correct assumption?
16 A At the time?
17 Q At the time.
18 A Yes, he would have been in Washington, D.C.
19 Q Was the entire FITF Task Force working in person?
20 A Are you asking did every FITF member come to the office each day?
21 Q No.
22 A Okay.
23 Q Just during 2020, some folks were working remotely. Some folks were 24 working in person. The office of the FBI --
25 A The FBI doesn't work remote.

Q Okay.

A Yeah.

Q So everyone, barring sickness or vacation days, from FITF was in the D.C. -- was in headquarters. Is that right?

A It was a headquarters construct, yes.

Q Okay. All right. Independent of the FITF social media standing meetings, did you have any primary points of contact at any social media company?

A No.

Q Even from prior roles at the FBI?

A No.

Q When you became section chief of FITF, was Elvis Chan already serving his role as the conduit between social media companies and FITF?

A Yes.

Q You testified you only attended a couple meetings, but for the couple meetings you did attend, is it your understanding whether Mr. Chan would attend those meetings?

A It would be likely that he would have.

[redacted] Do you recall?

Mr. Benavides. I don't recall specifically.

[redacted] Can we go off the record, please?

[Discussion off the record.]

[redacted] Okay. Can we go back on the record, please?

BY [redacted]

Q Okay. I just want to clarify some of the language that was being used in the questioning and answers, especially last hour, that seemed sort of hypothetical, like

1 questions that used the word "would you" or "could you" or "if this happened."

2 Can you just help clarify for the record: What part of what you said is things that

3 happened and what part of what you said is sort of like speculation that's hypothetical?

4 And specifically regarding this conversation that you had with John Brown, I think that

5 you indicated that there was a narrative, is how you put it, about a laptop.

6 Do you recall talking about a narrative about a laptop?

7 A With John?

8 [redacted] Public narrative?

9 [redacted] Yes.

10 Mr. Benavides. Public narrative? My understanding is that there were things

11 out discussing a laptop purported to be associated with Hunter Biden in the general

12 public.

13 BY [redacted]

14 Q Okay. And when you said narrative, are you talking about just, again, 15 information out there in public?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. And you said that you did have a conversation with John Brown that 18 actually happened. It wasn't hypothetical, right?

19 A That is correct.

20 Q Okay. But that conversation, was it about a narrative about a laptop or was

21 there something that led you to believe that John Brown had -- or did he tell -- let me just

22 ask this: Did John Brown tell you he had a laptop?

23 A John Brown did not tell me that.

24 Q Okay. Did he tell you that he had knowledge that there was a laptop?

25 A He did not.

1 Q Okay. Did you and John Brown discuss a narrative about a laptop?
2 A No.
3 Q Okay. And so when you responded to John Brown, you I think made this 4 clear, but just for further clarification, you had no knowledge of a laptop purported to 5 belong to Hunter Biden outside of whatever narrative you were speaking of?
6 A That is correct.
7 Q Okay. And as far as you know, John Brown didn't either?
8 A Oh, I -- I can't speak for John Brown.
9 Q Okay. So that conversation was mostly about narratives in the public
10 domain and hypothetical --
11 A Based on my recollection, it was a -- it was a broad question, Is this
12 something -- is something like this something that the intel -- Russian intel apparatus
13 could potentially be capable of doing. And my response would have been yes.
14 Q Okay. And as far as you know, when you say this, like something like this,
15 he could have been referring to the story or the narrative that he had come across?
16 A Yes.
17 Q He's not necessarily talking about the laptop itself?
18 A I don't think so.
19 Q Okay. You mentioned that at some point -- I think you said, when you were 20 reading a Wikipedia article, you came to learn that there was an ongoing criminal 21 investigation that related to a laptop?
22 A I don't recall that from the Wikipedia. I was made aware per the Wikipedia
23 article that the FBI had taken possession of a laptop circa December of 2019.
24 Q Okay. You didn't have that knowledge from your role in the FBI?
25 A Absolutely not.

1 Q And you don't know anything about whether there was a criminal
2 investigation. Is that fair to say?
3 A A criminal investigation into a laptop?
4 Q Yeah. Let's --
5 A I'm unaware of that.
6 Q Okay. I just want to clarify, because some of the questions were just so
7 broad and so hypothetical. Like, let's be really specific.
8 Do you have any knowledge that the FBI has an ongoing criminal investigation
9 related to a laptop purported to belong to Hunter Biden?
10 A I do not have firsthand knowledge of that.
11 Q Okay. Do you have any knowledge outside of the Wikipedia or media
12 articles that you would have read?
13 A No.
14 Q Nothing specific to your time in the FBI?
15 A No.
16 Q And you never had that kind of knowledge, is that fair to say, that was 17 specific to your role in the FBI?
18 A In the investigation into a laptop, no.
19 Q Okay. Going back to the time when, you know, these defensive briefings
20 occurred and a lot of the other timeframe that we were discussing in previous hours. So
21 this is 2020 right before the 2020 election. I think that you made this clear, but FITF and 22 your role that you were occupying there at the time was not interested in criminal
23 investigations. You were interested in foreign influence operations, right?
24 A I can't speak to investigations. I can't speak to investigations.
25 Q FITF didn't conduct investigations, right?

1 A FITF did not conduct investigations like -- FITF did not -- FITF is a
2 headquarters component. The FBI headquarters components typically do not conduct
3 investigations. Field offices conduct investigations.
4 Q Okay. Are you familiar with FARA, the Foreign Agent Registration Act?
5 A Generally, yes. I'm not an expert.
6 Q Okay. You've never been in a role where you were investigating those 7 offenses?
8 A Where I was investigating those offenses? No. I would not have been the 9 primary investigator, no.
10 Q Okay. In your role in counterintelligence or specifically with FITF, would 11 there ever have been a point where you needed to work with investigators on the 12 criminal side who were prosecuting those offenses?
13 A Yes. Potentially, yes.
14 Q Did that ever actually happen in your experience?
15 A You said in my time in counterintelligence plus FITF.
16 Q Yes.
17 A Specifically with regards to the criminal side of the house, I don't recall an 18 instance of that.
19 Q The FITF sometimes was charged with sharing information to people on the 20 operations and investigations side. Is that right?
21 A Yes.
22 Q I mean, your information would have been related to foreign influence,
23 right?
24 A Our information would have been related to malign foreign influence and 25 what foreign adversaries may be up to.

Q So if there was, hypothetically, some kind of investigation on the criminal side that involved foreign influence, like, say, a FARA-type charge, for example, there's a possibility that FITF might have been involved in giving information or sharing information with an operational team in that context. Is that fair?

A I think that that is a hypothetical, but it would have been -- if the FITF had information that another component within the FBI needed to understand what it is that FITF knew, FITF would have had a mechanism to share that.

Q Okay. In 2020, leading up to the election, we talked a lot about kind of what was going on. We shared some articles that had public information about certain actors -- Rudy Giuliani, for example, and Andrii Derkach, and the foreign information that they were pushing to Senators Grassley and Johnson and other people.

Did you ever have any role in providing information to investigators that was related to the placement of that foreign -- of that information?

So, like, we talked about this Andrii Derkach's information that came from Ukraine related to the Bidens, allegedly. There's lots of information now in the public record that that was foreign-attributed to Andrii Derkach and others in the Russian Government.

Was there ever any criminal investigation that you were aware of regarding the foreign, like, placement of that information, FARA investigation, anything in that regard?

A Not that I'm immediately aware of.

Q Okay.

[redacted] All right. I don't have any further questions. Go off the record.

[Discussion off the record.]

[redacted] If we can go back on the record, please.

BY [redacted]

Q Do you know who [redacted] [redacted] is?

1 A The name does not ring a bell.

2 Q Okay. Do you know who [redacted] is?

3 A The name does not immediately ring a bell.

4 Q To clarify, I guess, a couple rounds of questions on this, your conversation

5 with Mr. Brown, it was your testimony earlier that although the laptop wasn't mentioned

6 by Mr. Brown directly, that your assessment walking away from that conversation was 7 that the laptop -- that there was a laptop that was real because of it?

8 A My assessment would have been -- if John is asking if the Russian

9 Intelligence Service is capable of an operation, my assessment would have been that

10 there was potentially a laptop.

11 Q Independent of whether it's related to a laptop or not, did FITF personnel

12 ever escalate to your attention concerns related to Hunter Biden?

13 A I don't know. What context do you mean?

14 Q So you have your unit chiefs.

15 A Uh-huh.

16 Q During your tenure at FITF from 2019 to 2020, obviously there is -- you

17 testified earlier only issues of a certain threshold are going to get raised for your

18 consideration. Was there ever an instance where an issue that was raised to your

19 attention related to Hunter Biden?

20 A Not that I recall.

21 Q What about the Biden family generally?

22 A There was a tremendous amount of information being provided in various

23 ways that the Russia Intel Service sought to denigrate the Biden family.

24 Q And was there anything that you recall, you know, separate from whatever is 25 out in the public domain, where your unit chiefs raised an issue to you?

A Specifically about Hunter Biden?

Q Specifically about anything related to the Biden family.

A Not that I'm aware of.

Q And for these questions, your unit chiefs or your assistant section chief, it's the same answer?

A Yes.

Q Do you recall receiving -- or do you recall having anything escalated to your attention from either your assistant section chief or any of the unit chiefs regarding Burisma?

A No.

Q Do you recall any discussions with anyone at the FBI regarding Burisma?

A No.

[redacted] Can we go off the record, please?

[Whereupon, at 4:26 p.m., the interview was adjourned.]

Hi [redacted],

Hope you had a great weekend!

For [redacted], I have not been able to find any notes from an errata review. If possible, I'm happy to come up this week to review if there's a time that works on the Committee's end? Perhaps Wednesday afternoon?

For Benavides, I tracked down the errata we provided (my understanding is that OLA sent this by email as part of a submission of multiple interview errata responses):

Bradley Benavides Transcribed Interview, September 2023

Errata:

- Pg. 5, ln 5: Should be a space in "Brandnew"
- Pg. 9, ln 19: "Denver headquarters" should be Denver Field Office
- Pg. 10, ln 12: "assistant or section chief" should be Assistant Section Chief

2 [redacted] Good morning.

3 Mr. Graves. Good morning.

4 [redacted] This is a transcribed interview of United States Attorney for the 5 District of Columbia Matthew Graves.

6 Chairman Jordan has requested this interview as part of the committee's oversight

7 of the Justice Department's handling of the Hunter Biden investigation.

8 Would you just please state your name for the record?

9 Mr. Graves. Matthew Graves.

10 [redacted] And you're joined here with agency counsel. I'll have them

11 introduce themselves.

12 [redacted] [redacted] Department of Justice.

13 [redacted] [redacted] Department of Justice.

14 [redacted] And you understand agency counsel has a fiduciary duty to the 15 Department and not you personally?

16 Mr. Graves. Yes.

17 [redacted] And you've decided to proceed with agency counsel as opposed to 18 personal counsel, correct?

19 Mr. Graves. That is correct.

20 [redacted] Okay.

21 On behalf of the committee, I want to thank you for appearing here today

22 voluntarily to answer our questions.

23 My name is [redacted] I'm with Mr. Jordan's Judiciary Committee staff. I'll 24 have the staffers here in the room introduce themselves.

25 [redacted] [redacted] with Chairman Jordan's staff.

1 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

2 [redacted] Ranking Member Nadler's staff.

3 [redacted] Ranking Member Nadler's staff.

4 [redacted] Ranking Member Nadler's staff.

5 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

6 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

7 [redacted] Chairman Jordan.

8 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

9 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

10 [redacted] Ranking Member Nadler's staff.

11 [redacted] The staff participation here is limited to the committee staff, so we

12 won't have additional staffers -- if other folks come in the room, we might stop and have

13 them announce themselves for the record.

14 I'll go over the ground rules and guidelines that we'll follow during today's

15 interview.

16 Our questioning will proceed in rounds. The majority will ask questions first for 1

17 hour, and then the minority will have an opportunity to also ask questions for an hour.

18 We will alternate back and forth until the interview is complete.

19 Ordinarily, we take a break at the end of each hour, but if you'd like to take a

20 break apart from that, just let us know.

21 As you can see, there's an official House reporter taking down everything we say.

22 So we will, from time to time, need to make sure you give a verbal response, if you nod

23 your head and that type of thing.

24 Do you understand that?

25 Mr. Graves. Yes.

1 [redacted] We want you to answer our questions in the most complete and
2 truthful manner possible, so we'll take our time. If you don't understand our question,
3 just ask, and we can go back.
4 The Rules of Evidence don't apply, and so if a question calls for hearsay, you can
5 just tell us that you didn't learn something firsthand, but maybe you could just tell us how 6 you did learn it. Is that okay?
7 Mr. Graves. Yes.
8 [redacted] You understand you're required to answer questions before
9 Congress truthfully?
10 Mr. Graves. Yes.
11 [redacted] And 18 United States Code, 1001, covers false statements before
12 Congress and proceedings like this. You understand that, correct?
13 Mr. Graves. Yes.
14 [redacted] We try to keep the information that we talk about confidential. A 15 lot of times that doesn't happen. Sometimes the transcripts come in and they get sent 16 to The Washington Post. So we don't like the fact that that happens, but we do try to 17 keep things confidential. So, to the extent we mark exhibits, we'll collect them.
18 That's the end of my welcoming remarks.
19 [redacted] do you have anything?
20 [redacted] We just thank the witness for joining us today.
21 Mr. Graves. Thank you.
22 [redacted] [redacted] do you have any welcoming remarks?
23 [redacted] I do. Thank you --
24 [redacted] Okay, good.
25 [redacted] -- [redacted]

1 As you're aware, the committee's inquiry implicates an ongoing criminal
2 investigation and prosecution. At this juncture, Mr. Graves is going to be able to 3 address questions that can be answered without compromising the ongoing matter.
4 Specifically, the Department has authorized him to discuss U.S. Attorney and
5 now-Special Counsel Weiss's authority. And that would include the committee's interest
6 in whether Mr. Graves and his office prevented or denied Mr. Weiss the ability to bring
7 charges related to his investigation in the District of Columbia.
8 There may be some additional information Mr. Graves can share, depending on 9 the question, but, again, consistent with the Department's need to protect the ongoing
10 investigation.
11 I think you know, but to the extent you have questions that are outside the scope
12 of what Mr. Graves has been authorized to discuss at this point, we reiterate our 13 willingness to take those questions back and consider further accommodations at the 14 appropriate time.
15 All that said, our goal today is very much to facilitate Mr. Graves sharing as much
16 information as he can consistent with the scope of his authorization.
17 [redacted] Great.
18 We'll start the clock. It's 10:05.
19 EXAMINATION
20 BY [redacted]
21 Q When were you nominated to be the U.S. attorney for D.C.?
22 A I was nominated in July of 2021.
23 Q And you were confirmed by the United States Senate when?
24 A October of 2021, I believe.
25 Q Okay. And then you were sworn in as the U.S. attorney?

1 A In November of 2021.

2 Q Okay.

3 Prior to joining the U.S. Attorney's Office in November of 2021, what was your

4 experience with the Justice Department?

5 A I had been a career prosecutor at the Justice Department, serving both as a

6 line assistant and as a career supervisor.

7 Q Okay. And for how many years?

8 A Collectively, a little bit under 10.

9 Q Okay. And in what sections or what divisions of the Department did you

10 work?

11 A So I worked in the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia in a 12 number of different capacities.

13 Q Okay. But never Main Justice?

14 A That is correct; I never worked at Main Justice. Some of my investigations

15 involved me working with Main Justice, though.

16 Q Okay.

17 And your office right now, how many attorneys work in your organization?

18 A Counting temporary attorneys and attorneys on detail to us, ballpark,

19 roughly 450.

20 Q Okay.

21 And can you articulate for us your interactions with Main Justice? Do you

22 consider the DAG your supervisor or your direct -- the person you report to?

23 A And just to be clear, we're talking in my current capacity?

24 Q Yes.

25 A I think the way that it's articulated is, my direct supervisor is the Attorney

1 General --

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A -- but there's a dotted line reporting to the Deputy Attorney General --

4 Q Okay.

5 A -- in her capacity as chief operating officer of the Department.

6 Q Okay. And in your day-to-day report, like, who do you ordinarily

7 communicate with at Main Justice? Is it Ms. Monaco or Mr. Miller?

8 A So I think the question assumes a level of coordination or communication

9 that doesn't necessarily exist.

10 Q Uh-huh.

11 A As U.S. attorneys, in general, we don't have day-to-day communication with 12 either the Office of the Deputy Attorney General or the Office of the Attorney General.

13 Q Okay. How often do you speak with Ms. Monaco?

14 A Ms. Monaco herself?

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A Probably once a month, once every other month.

17 Q Okay. And Mr. Miller, Marshall Miller, the PADAG?

18 A Probably the same.

19 Q Okay.

20 A And it's changed over time in the role. I would say less now.

21 Q Okay. And is there anyone in the DAG's Office that you talk to more than 22 that, on a frequent basis?

23 A Yes. I talk to and members of my team talk to people on their staff more 24 than we talk to the principals.

25 Q Okay. And for you personally, who's the person in the DAG's Office that

1 you have the most frequent communications with?

2 A So it varies depending on the issue that's covered.

3 Q Okay.

4 A They're kind of divided into subject-matter expertise.

5 Q Okay.

6 A So at different times it's been different people, depending on the issue being

7 discussed.

8 Q Okay. With regard to the Hunter Biden matter, who in the DAG's Office did

9 you have communications with?

10 A To the best of my recollection, I don't think I had communications with 11 anybody in the DAG's Office.

12 Q Okay. So you didn't speak with Lisa Monaco about the Hunter Biden case?

13 A Certainly not --

14 Q Okay.

15 A -- her.

16 Q And Marshall Miller?

17 A No.

18 Q How about Mr. Weinsheimer, Brad Weinsheimer?

19 A I mean, other than --

20 Q About the Hunter Biden case.

21 A No.

22 Q Zero communications with Brad Weinsheimer?

23 A None.

24 Q Okay. Any other official in the DAG's Office that you had communications

25 with about the Hunter Biden case?

1 A So I can't recall. At that point in time, we were having more conversations
2 than we typically were with members of the Office of the Deputy Attorney General, given
3 what was occurring in our office at that point in time.
4 Q Okay.
5 A It is possible that the subject came up, but I have no recollection of it in one
6 of those communications.
7 Q So you have no specific recollection of any communications with anybody in 8 the DAG's Office about the Hunter Biden case.
9 A That is correct.
10 Q How about anybody in the Attorney General's Office?
11 A No.
12 Q About the Hunter Biden case.
13 A Absolutely not.
14 Q Okay. So you didn't speak to the Attorney General?
15 A That is correct.
16 Q Okay.
17 The chairman has joined us.
18 Mr. Graves. Chairman.
19 Chairman Jordan. Mr. Graves, thank you. Thanks for being here.
20 Mr. Graves. Thank you for having me.
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q Along the same lines, how often do you interact with the Tax Division in your 23 current role?
24 A Attorneys from the Tax Division?
25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A To the best of my recollection, I don't think I've interacted with them at all in
2 my current role.
3 Q Okay. But to bring a tax case, the lawyers in your department have 4 interactions with the Tax Division, correct?
5 A That is correct.
6 Q And how would you describe that?
7 A I'm sorry. Can you reframe the question?
8 Q How would you describe the communications on an ordinary basis that your 9 U.S. attorneys, your AUSAs, would communicate with the Tax Division lawyers?
10 A Yeah, so it depends on a variety of factors. And I did this when I was a 11 career prosecutor.
12 Q Uh-huh.
13 A There are cases where you're jointly prosecuting matters with them. The 14 contact looks different in that context than cases where you're prosecuting the case on 15 your own but, per the Justice Manual, there are certain authorizations you need to obtain
16 from the Tax Division in connection with those prosecutions.
17 Q Okay. And so it is fair to say, in Federal criminal tax cases, approval from 18 DOJ Tax is required before a U.S. attorney's office may issue subpoenas or undertake
19 other investigative actions?
20 A There are various steps along the investigative process that have to be 21 approved by the Tax Division in connection with the prosecution or investigation of tax
22 charges.
23 Q Okay. And so, if a U.S. attorney, whether it's yourself or Mr. Weiss, wanted
24 to bring tax charges against an individual, it would require the approval of the Tax
25 Division, correct?

1 A That is correct.

2 Q Under the Justice Manual.

3 A That is correct.

4 Q Okay.

5 If there is a disagreement, ordinarily, between a U.S. attorney's office and DOJ

6 Tax, in your experience, how is that sorted out? If, for example, the AUSA or the

7 U.S. attorney wants to bring tax charges and the Tax Division is balking, how does that

8 ordinarily get sorted out?

9 A So, first and foremost, in my experience -- and I'm drawing on my experience

10 as a career prosecutor, not my current role -- that is handled at the line level. And if

11 things need to be elevated, they're elevated in normal order up the career supervisory

12 chain.

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A In my experience, generally, the Department arrives at consensus on --

15 Q Okay.

16 A -- how we should proceed.

17 Q Are there ever instances that you're aware of where the DOJ tax lawyers

18 wanted to bring a tax case but the local U.S. attorney or the AUSA assigned to it did not?

19 A To the best of my recollection, when I was on the line and when I was 20 supervising line attorneys, I can't recall that situation occurring.

21 But an important caveat to that is, I can't remember many cases where we

22 actually partnered with the Tax Division, as opposed to interacting with the Tax Division --

23 Q Okay.

24 A -- to get their approval.

25 Q Okay. And how is that different? If there's a tax prosecution in D.C. that

1 your AUSAs are working, how does the partnership work with the Tax Division?

2 A So, in general, when we're partnering with any Main Justice component, Tax

3 Division or otherwise, they're fully fledged on the case; both supervisory chains have to

4 approve all actions --

5 Q Okay.

6 A -- that are taken in connection with the prosecution.

7 Q Okay. Are there ever instances where you'll bring a tax case without the 8 assistance of the Tax Division lawyers?

9 A Yes. So that's what I was saying before. All of the cases that I can recall

10 that I worked on or supervised where there were tax charges, we were doing those cases

11 on our own without the Tax Division.

12 Q Okay. And why was that, or why would that occur, where you wouldn't 13 lean on Tax Division resources to prosecute a case?

14 A It's actually fairly normal --

15 Q Okay.

16 A -- in my experience. There is, unfortunately, lots of tax evasion out there,

17 and the Tax Division, it isn't structured to have prosecutors --

18 Q Okay.

19 A -- in all of them. The idea is that the U.S. attorney's offices in general will 20 handle a lot of those cases.

21 Q Okay. So the Tax Division reviews the charges, okays them, and then your 22 office would move forward?

23 A Correct.

24 Q Okay.

25 Has there ever been an instance where a U.S. attorney from a different district

1 came to you with a case that needed to be prosecuted in D.C.?

2 A So I think, outside of this situation, the technical answer to your question is

3 no, because it's assuming that those communications are occurring at the U.S. attorney

4 level.

5 There have been instances where other offices have reached out to career people

6 in my office and said, for a variety of reasons, there's this investigation that we have here,

7 where it's actually -- the venue is appropriate in your jurisdiction.

8 Q Okay. And so how does that ordinarily work? The line AUSAs talk to each

9 other and reach a conclusion?

10 A That's correct, the line AUSAs or -- usually, the interaction is at the line level.

11 It's a career supervisor reaching out to another career supervisor, because people in 12 general know each other.

13 This most commonly happens, in my experience, for our office with the Eastern

14 District of Virginia and Maryland --

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A -- because you can be in an investigation in one jurisdiction and realize,

17 because of our proximity, that, actually, the better venue is another jurisdiction.

18 Q Okay. And so, ordinarily, those types of decisions don't make their way up

19 to the U.S. attorney for approval?

20 A What I would say is, they certainly don't require U.S. attorney approval

21 necessarily. I am briefed when those happen as part of my normal briefing on what is

22 happening in our Criminal Division.

23 Q And when these types of situations occur, how does the prosecution move

24 forward? Let's say it's an AUSA in Maryland that realizes venue's appropriate in D.C.,

25 wants to bring a tax case, confers with your line AUSAs, decide that they will take the

1 case. How does that work?

2 A It varies, and it's very case-specific. It can be what you just described, that

3 we actually take the case and then we try it with our prosecutors. It can be that

4 assistant United States attorneys from other jurisdictions get designated as special

5 assistant United States --

6 Q Okay.

7 A -- attorneys in our jurisdiction --

8 Q Okay.

9 A -- and then prosecute the case that way.

10 Q Okay. And how often would you say it happens? What's the more

11 ordinary situation? Is it your prosecutors taking the case, or is it you, your office,

12 designating the lawyers from Maryland or Virginia as special AUSAs?

13 A It's -- I'm sorry, I just want to clarify. Are you saying, what's more

14 common --

15 Q Yeah.

16 A -- for prosecutors from another jurisdiction to come here and try the cases

17 or for us to take the case in its entirety? Is that the question?

18 Q Yes.

19 A Okay. I think, in general, in my experience, it's prosecutors from other

20 jurisdictions coming or --

21 Q Okay.

22 A -- us going out and trying. But it depends.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A A big factor is going to be, like, how far along are you in the investigation.

25 Q Right. Okay.

1 Is there a difference in the DOJ Tax world between approval of charges and
2 discretion? Are you aware of that distinction?
3 A No.
4 Q Okay. So, as far as you're concerned, DOJ Tax, they either approve or 5 decline to recommend charges?
6 A In my experience, that's been the case --
7 Q Okay.
8 A -- yes. You either get approval or you don't get approval.
9 Q Okay. So there's no middle ground, something called "discretion"?
10 A In my experience. I can't claim that I've seen every iteration possible of a 11 tax case.
12 Q Okay. Fair enough.
13 Now, as far as the Hunter Biden case is concerned, what is your awareness of DOJ
14 Tax's position on that?
15 A I have no knowledge from within the Department.
16 Q Okay.
17 A I mean, there are things that I've seen in public reporting, but I have no
18 job-related knowledge of what the Tax Division's position is.
19 Q So you're unaware of whether the Tax Division recommended charges or not 20 in the Hunter Biden case?
21 A That is correct.
22 Q Okay.
23 Can you walk us through your recollection of how the Hunter Biden case was 24 brought to your office?
25 A Yes. To the best of my recollection, in late February or early March of 1 2022, then-U.S. Attorney Weiss, now-Special Counsel Weiss, called me directly.

2 Q Okay. And what did he say?

3 A To my recollection, he said that he had a case where there was a component

4 of that case that he had deemed he wanted to bring in the District of Columbia.

5 Q Okay. And what did you say?

6 A So, at a high level, without getting into the case specifics, my recollection

7 was generally saying -- asking him whether he was just looking for the kind of normal

8 administrative support that any U.S. attorney would need if they were going to come and

9 bring a case in another jurisdiction or have their people bring a case in another

10 jurisdiction, or whether he was asking for us to join the investigation.

11 Q And what was his answer?

12 A To the best of my recollection, his answer was that, at a minimum, it was 13 providing the support but we could discuss further joining or not.

14 Q And what happened next after that telephone call? Did you resolve

15 anything on the call?

16 A Nothing other than a high-level commitment that we would provide

17 whatever logistical support that he needed, and I would work with my career people to 18 put them in touch with his career people.

19 Q Okay. And that was the end of the call?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And do you remember how long that lasted?

22 A Best recollection, roughly 10 minutes.

23 Q And then what did you do next?

24 A I went to the then-head of our Criminal Division.

25 Q And who's that?

1 A Well -- so, in general, I would prefer, in the context of this interview, given
2 what you referenced before about, despite all of our best efforts, some of these
3 transcripts becoming public, giving positions as opposed to names. We can work with 4 OPA if this really does become --
5 Q I mean, we'd ask you for the name of the head of the Criminal Division; we 6 might ask, you know, your first assistant. I think we're looking for those two names, but 7 about other than that, I think we can --
8 A So can we -- my request to you would be that we kind of work this through
9 OLC as opposed to putting it in an official transcript. I'm already dealing with enough
10 threats and harassment of my assistant United States attorneys --
11 Q Okay.
12 A -- who are career prosecutors.
13 Q So you're unwilling to tell us who the head of the Criminal Division is?
14 A So --
15 Q I mean, we can probably look that up on the internet, can't we?
16 A So I'm not sure that you could look it up at that point in time. But what I
17 am saying is, I would like to work this out so that it's not in the official transcript.
18 Q Okay.
19 So you had a telephone call with the head of the Criminal Division?
20 A No. I went to the head of the Criminal Division's office.
21 Q Okay. And what did you say, to the best of your recollection?
22 A To the best of my recollection, I relayed what had just been conveyed to me.
23 I asked the head of the Criminal Division to have some of our career prosecutors work
24 with their counterparts in Delaware to get a briefing on the case --
25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A -- to make a recommendation about how we should proceed, in terms of
2 whether we would continue to seek to potentially join the investigation.
3 Q And did you have any communications with your first assistant on this
4 matter?
5 A My first assistant was present for a number of these conversations -- well,
6 sorry. Strike that.
7 I just want to be crystal-clear. Technically, we don't have a first assistant.
8 There's no one who had that title in our office.
9 Q Okay. So what title does the person who serves effectively -- effectively as 10 the first assistant?
11 A It's the principal assistant.
12 Q Okay. So it's just a different name, principal assistant as opposed to a first
13 assistant?
14 A It's a different name and -- it's a different name.
15 Q Okay.
16 So tell us about the communications you had with your principal assistant.
17 A So my principal assistant, to the best of my recollection, was present for this 18 meeting and a couple other limited meetings that occurred, but my principal assistant 19 didn't take any active role in moving anything forward in our office or having 20 communications with anyone outside of our office.
21 Q Okay.
22 Now, you indicated that you went down the hall to speak with the head of the 23 Criminal Division, correct?
24 A That is correct.
25 Q Now, was it just a -- was it an official meeting, in your view, or was it just a

1 conversation?

2 A I'm not sure of the distinction you're trying --

3 Q Well, was something on a calendar that you scheduled?

4 A No, there was no calendar invite.

5 Q Okay. So you just walked down the hallway and the head of the Criminal

6 Division was able to talk to you about this?

7 A That is correct.

8 Q And do you remember any other communications or meetings like this that

9 you had on the case?

10 A So I -- there was one other meeting that I recall.

11 Q Okay. With the head of the Criminal Division?

12 A Just in general, there's one other meeting that I recall.

13 Q Okay.

14 And so what was the next step after you had this discussion with the Criminal

15 Division head?

16 A So the next step was for the Criminal Division head to reach out to the

17 appropriate section within our office that does tax investigations to have the matter

18 staffed for an assessment and to get back to me quickly with their recommendation.

19 Q Okay. And what did they do, as far as you know, next? Did they go to

20 Delaware? Did they communicate with the AUSAs in Delaware on the phone? How 21 did they conduct their assessment?

22 A My understanding at a high level is, there was some interaction with the

23 AUSAs in Delaware. They got some case-related or investigation-related material. I

24 don't know specifically who the individuals were that they interacted with or what

25 materials they reviewed or gathered.

1 Q Okay. Now, did you review any materials?

2 A To the best of my recollection, no, I didn't review any underlying case

3 materials.

4 Q Okay.

5 So you had the conversation with Mr. Weiss; then you had that conversation with

6 the head of the Criminal Division. The head of the Criminal Division, as far as you know,

7 instructed the AUSAs in your office to communicate with the AUSAs in Delaware. Some 8 materials were exchanged, but you don't know what materials they were?

9 A That is correct.

10 Q Okay. And then what happened?

11 A Well, during the course of all of this, we're taking steps to facilitate whatever

12 then-U.S. Attorney Weiss would need in terms of bringing a case in the District --

13 Q Okay.

14 A -- separate and apart from whether we would join the investigation.

15 Q Okay. And tell us what that is.

16 A So some of it is protected, but what I can say at a high level, in general:

17 Whenever you're trying to return an indictment, if it's a felony charge, we can't just bring

18 those charges on our own. We have to present evidence to a grand jury, and a grand

19 jury has to --

20 Q Of course.

21 A -- vote those charges. So that's a key step that's done in any case where 22 someone wants to bring charges, and kind of facilitating that process.

23 Q Okay. And did you facilitate that process?

24 A So I can't speak specifically about the case, but what I'm telling you generally

25 is that that's what we would do when we receive requests to help with returning an

1 indictment in our jurisdiction.

2 Q Okay. And what else?

3 A At a high level, without getting into case specifics, I think that generally

4 describes what was occurring at that point in time.

5 Q Okay.

6 What feedback did you receive from your people after the interactions that they

7 had with the U.S. Attorney's Office in Delaware?

8 A To my recollection, they had a meeting with the relevant career supervisors

9 and the career prosecutor who was assigned to the matter, where they provided their

10 assessment.

11 Q And what was their assessment?

12 A So I can't get into what their assessment was, because it concerns an 13 ongoing investigation.

14 Q Okay.

15 So is that the universe of meetings you had in this case? You had the -- or,

16 meetings or calls? You had the call with Mr. Weiss. You had the drop-by meeting with

17 the head of your Criminal Division. And then now you said you had a meeting with your

18 AUSAs.

19 A Those are the most prominent.

20 Q Uh-huh.

21 A It's possible -- because, I mean, my Criminal Division chief and I, at that point

22 in time, were in daily contact --

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A -- I mean, multiple times per day.

25 Q Right.

1 A So it's possible, in any one of our other various times that we were together,
2 the issue came up.
3 But those are kind of the three most prominent events that I recall.
4 Q And -- go ahead.
5 Chairman Jordan. Earlier, Mr. Graves, you said you had one other meeting, 2
6 minutes ago, and you described it as a general meeting. Is that related to all this? Or 7 tell me about that meeting.
8 Mr. Graves. That is the meeting that I was describing where I met with the 9 career prosecutor, yep, yes.
10 Chairman Jordan. Fine.
11 BY [redacted]
12 Q And when was that?
13 A I think it was March 19, 2022.
14 Q And was a decision made at that meeting?
15 A Yes.
16 Q Okay. And the decision was made not to move forward with the case,
17 correct?
18 A So I wouldn't describe it that way.
19 Q The decision was made not to partner with the U.S. Attorney's Office from 20 Delaware, correct?
21 A So I think what has obviously been publicly reported and is known -- and I'm 22 trying to be careful, given that there's an ongoing investigation -- is that we ultimately did 23 not join.
24 And recall, when this came up, to my recollection, I was the first person to raise
25 whether they wanted a local counsel on the case. And I think the best way of

1 characterizing the decision was, we instructed -- I instructed to say that we weren't going
2 to pursue being a local counsel on the case.
3 Q So the meeting that you had on March 19th, the decision was made not to 4 join.
5 A So, not to continue to pursue to see if they'd be willing to allow us to serve
6 as local counsel, but to provide all assistance that was necessary for them to do whatever
7 they wanted to do in our jurisdiction.
8 Q So the decision was made to invite them into your jurisdiction and let them
9 prosecute the case?
10 A That decision had been made when then-U.S. Attorney Weiss called me.
11 Q Okay.
12 A Then I made the decision, we were going to do whatever he needed --
13 Q Okay.
14 A -- done logistically in our jurisdiction.
15 Q Okay. So you were going to welcome the prosecutors from Delaware into 16 D.C. and let them prosecute the case?
17 A Yes. The only issue was whether we were going to seek to join their 18 investigation or not.
19 Q Okay. And you decided not to join their investigation.
20 A That is correct.
21 Q And can you tell us why?
22 A So I unfortunately cannot get into the why without getting into the case
23 specifics of an ongoing investigation.
24 Q Okay.
25 And how was the decision not to partner or not to join -- everyone's got a

1 different way of saying it -- how was that communicated to the Delaware U.S. Attorney's
2 Office?
3 A Instructed it to occur at the line level.
4 Q At the line level?
5 A Yes.
6 Q Did you have any telephone calls or anything of that nature with Mr. Weiss?
7 A To the best of my recollection, no. I only recall that first conversation. It's 8 possible that we had one. I'm talking about, like, a year and a half ago. But that's all I
9 recall.
10 Q Okay.
11 And in the March 19th meeting, were all the officials in the meeting your staff?
12 A That's correct.
13 Q Okay. And who was in that meeting?
14 A The --
15 Q How many people?
16 A Roughly, to the best of my recollection, five or six.
17 Q And who were those five or six people?
18 A The principal assistant; Criminal Division chief; the head of our fraud, public
19 corruption, and civil rights practice; the head of our Fraud and Public Corruption Unit; and 20 a line assistant, I believe.
21 Q And can you tell us anything more about the March 19th meeting, about 22 what was communicated to you and what decision -- what types of things led to the 23 ultimate decision?
24 A So I understand the question, and in the constraints we're operating under, I
25 can't answer it directly.

1 What I can say generally, in terms of how I run these meetings, is, if it's a decision
2 that rises to my level, I make everyone present give their view of how we should proceed.
3 Q And was the view unanimous?
4 A So I can't get into this case specifically. I will say, in general, in my 5 experience, most of the things that come to me, the overwhelming majority are 6 unanimous.
7 Q Uh-huh.
8 A There are some times where there's disagreement among various
9 supervisors, and that's where I have to decide with one camp or another.
10 Q Okay. But this is a very unusual case, correct? I mean, this doesn't fall
11 into the ordinary type of matter, right?
12 A In what sense?
13 Q Well, it's the son of the President of the United States.
14 A So I understand where you're coming from, and I get your point. Being in 15 D.C., we have a good number of cases that involve very prominent individuals.
16 Q Okay, but nothing like the son of the President of the United States.
17 A I would actually -- I mean, I can't get into all of it, but I'd actually disagree. I 18 think there are things of that level that --
19 Q So this was common?
20 A I didn't say "common."
21 Q Uh-huh.
22 A I didn't say "common" at all.
23 Q Right.
24 A But it's not unusual or a one-of-a-kind to have a family member of someone 25 who is prominent, or someone who is prominent themselves, under investigation in our office.

Chairman Jordan. When did U.S. Attorney Weiss call you? In March of 2022?

Mr. Graves. So, to the best of my recollection, it was late February or early March.

Chairman Jordan. So, in 3 weeks' time -- so you've got the U.S. attorney calling you about an important case, as [redacted] just talked about, a somewhat unusual case. He calls you and asks that you partner with them and assist them, right? I think you made those two distinctions.

And -- go ahead. Correct me if I'm wrong.

Mr. Graves. So I just want to clarify. He asked for assistance. I asked if he needed us to partner or if he wanted us to partner. And he said he was open to a conversation about that --

Chairman Jordan. Okay.

Mr. Graves. -- but needed the assistance.

Chairman Jordan. Okay.

But in 3 weeks' time, you decide not to partner. On March 19th you have the meeting, and the determination is made you were not going to partner with the U.S. attorney.

Mr. Graves. We decided that we were not going to join the investigation. And, again, the context here is, I was the one who brought it up, not them. And I understood, for a variety of reasons, it was important for us to move quickly.

Chairman Jordan. And then you didn't call David Weiss; you just let your assistant attorneys let Delaware know.

So the only conversation you had with David Weiss was, he calls you up about a pretty important case and asks for your assistance. You raise the issue of whether you

1 can partner or not. Three weeks later, you decide you're not going to. And then you
2 don't communicate back to him.
3 Mr. Graves. So --
4 Chairman Jordan. You, personally, don't.
5 Mr. Graves. So me, personally? No. I instructed my career prosecutors to 6 convey the decision and the basis for the decision to his career prosecutors.
7 Chairman Jordan. Okay.
8 BY [redacted]
9 Q Now, you're a big-time Democrat, correct?
10 A I wouldn't describe it that way, but okay.
11 Q You were nominated by the President of the United States to be the U.S.
12 Attorney for D.C., correct?
13 A That is correct.
14 Q You worked on the Biden campaign, right?
15 A That is -- I understand where your question is coming from. I actually 16 wouldn't characterize it that way.
17 Q You had a role with the Biden campaign?
18 A So do you want me to actually clarify what that was?
19 Q Sure.
20 A So I knew someone who had some affiliation to the campaign; said that I was 21 interested in criminal justice issues. I got put on this committee, and my 22 responsibilities, being on this committee, consisted of receiving emails from the 23 committee that anybody -- basically, almost anybody who contributed. I had no direct 24 interaction --
25 Q Okay.

1 A -- or indirect interaction with anybody on the campaign.

2 Q Contributed money?

3 A I did contribute money.

4 Q Okay.

5 Mr. Swalwell. Sorry, what was it?

6 Mr. Graves. I did contribute money.

7 BY [redacted]

8 Q And you also had a role with the Kerry campaign, as I understand it?

9 A So the firm that I was working with at the time provided some support to the 10 Kerry campaign in connection with its vetting process for Vice Presidential candidates.

11 Q Anything else with the Kerry campaign?

12 A No, that was it. And I had no direct interaction or indirect interaction with 13 anyone from the Kerry campaign. It was strictly working for people within the firm.

14 Q Okay.

15 I mean, this isn't surprising. I mean, you know, you're the U.S. attorney pick for 16 President Biden.

17 A Yes.

18 Q Obviously you're aligned with his political party and so forth. So, you know,

19 you shouldn't be, you know, alarmed that we're asking these questions or that the

20 answers are, yes, I'm somebody that's been affiliated with the Biden campaign, the Kerry

21 campaign, and also the Clinton-Gore campaign. Is that correct?

22 A Yes. The Clinton-Gore campaign, my sophomore -- junior year of college, I

23 took off my fall semester to work advance for that campaign.

24 Q Okay. And did you ever work on any Republican campaigns?

25 A I did not work on any Republican campaigns. I worked for a Republican

1 State senator.

2 Q Okay. Any other bipartisan elected work, work for elected officials?

3 A Other than -- I mean, I had very limited work for elected officials. And,

4 again, the only time that I worked directly for an elected official, not in the campaign

5 context, was when I worked for a Republican State senator.

6 Q Okay.

7 Now, let me take a step back. In the Hunter Biden case, do you think a

8 special-counsel situation would've made sense from the outset?

9 A So, you know, I've been authorized to discuss U.S. Attorney Weiss's authority

10 and the circumstances around his interaction with our office about bringing charges.

11 That kind of goes outside of it. And, candidly, I don't know that I have enough

12 information about the investigation to make that kind of assessment.

13 Q Uh-huh. But you understand the perception problem. You're an

14 appointee of President Biden, and, here, you've been asked to weigh in on a prosecution

15 involving his son. I mean, certainly, there's an obvious perceived -- at least the 16 perceived conflict of interest, correct?

17 A I don't -- I don't see it that way.

18 Q Okay. And why is that?

19 A So we have investigations all the time --

20 Q Uh-huh.

21 A -- the Department does, of individuals who are members of the 22 administration.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A A family member of the administration? I don't see it as necessarily a 25 conflict of interest or perception of a conflict of interest.

1 Q Uh-huh. So you don't believe you should've recused yourself?
2 A No.
3 Q And in your communications with Mr. Weiss, did he alert you that he
4 believed he had ultimate authority to bring this case?
5 A The subject of his authority never came up, to the best of my recollection,
6 because it was just assumed that, from the moment I got on the call, he was gonna be 7 able to do whatever he needed to do in our jurisdiction to bring the case, if that was his 8 prerogative.
9 Q And do you know if, ultimately, the line -- when your line AUSAs were talking
10 to his line AUSAs, do you know if they made any requests of -- like, what did they need
11 from your office other than help with the grand jury --
12 A So --
13 Q -- to bring the case?
14 A Yeah. So, again, it's hard to get into this without getting into the specifics
15 of the case. But I would say, in any case, the primary thing you need, once you're at the 16 stage where a charging decision has ostensibly been made, is the logistical support and 17 the grand jury -- getting before a grand jury, securing time in a grand jury --
18 Q Right.
19 A -- presenting evidence to a grand jury, and ultimately asking a grand 20 jury -- presenting charges to the grand jury, and ultimately asking a grand jury to return
21 an indictment.
22 Q And so your testimony is, your office was willing to facilitate that fully.
23 A Those were my instructions from the first.
24 Q And do you know if your staff communicated that to the Delaware U.S.
25 Attorney's Office?

1 A My understanding is, that was communicated instantly.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 And after the March 19th meeting where the decision was made not to join, not

4 to partner, did you give any instructions to your staff to go back and tell the Delaware

5 U.S. Attorney's Office that, while you weren't joining and you weren't partnering, you

6 wanted to make all the resources available?

7 A So we had already made that clear at the outset, so I didn't feel like I needed

8 to give the instruction. And based on what was happening, I knew that there was no

9 reason that I needed to give that instruction again.

10 Chairman Jordan. So, then, tell me what the distinction is. In this March 19th

11 meeting, when you decide that you're not going to do some things but you are going to 12 do others, what is the actual distinction? What did you decide not to do?

13 Mr. Graves. So let me take a step back and just talk about this in general.

14 So, as we were talking about before, there are some times, where we have

15 neighboring jurisdictions, where they realize that, for whatever reason, something they

16 were investigating is better venued in D.C. We work with them all the time -- not "all

17 the time." It comes up not infrequently, and we have mechanisms for working with

18 them to be able to, like, get their charges brought in the District. And we work through 19 that. We often don't join those cases, but we support them.

20 We also have Main Justice components that will come into our jurisdiction and

21 want to bring cases, where, for a variety of reasons, either because we don't want to or

22 they don't want to, we don't partner and they just do it in our jurisdiction. They have all

23 kinds of questions -- because they don't prosecute here -- about the practicalities. Like,

24 what do the templates look like? Who do you contact in the clerk's office? Like, all of

25 those things are the questions that come up. Just as, if I went into Delaware, like, I

1 would have no clue. I couldn't just go in and say, "Hey, I'm a U.S. attorney from D.C. I
2 want to enter in a grand jury." I would need Delaware to facilitate that.
3 Chairman Jordan. I just want to -- you told the Delaware U.S. attorneys that "we
4 don't want to join, but we'll assist with the grand jury." Does that cut to the chase?
5 Mr. Graves. No. Cutting to the chase is, "We'll do whatever you need done to 6 bring this case. And we're kind of withdrawing our request or our interest -- the 7 question we asked about whether you want local counsel, we're kind of tabling that issue
8 and not interested in pursuing that."
9 [redacted] So you weren't willing to offer your AUSAs to sit at the table?
10 Mr. Graves. So -- I want to be clear on this. I had raised -- and let me take a
11 step back --
12 Chairman Jordan. Is there a distinction between not being local counsel and 13 joining the case, or are those one and the same?
14 Mr. Graves. Those are one and the same, in response to your question.
15 Chairman Jordan. Okay.
16 Mr. Graves. Going back a question, I want to be clear about this from, like, what 17 is happening here.
18 So, in general, putting this case aside, U.S. Attorney's Offices don't partner with 19 other U.S. Attorney's Offices. Each U.S. attorney is the chief law enforcement officer in 20 his or her jurisdiction. They generally stick in their jurisdiction.
21 If there is something that happens where we have, kind of, these venue problems
22 or you realize a case initiated in one jurisdiction has to be brought in another, usually it is 23 the AUSAs from those jurisdictions going to the other jurisdiction and handling it that 24 way.
25 When our office, in general, decides to join with another Department of Justice

1 component, that's usually done at the beginning of an investigation. It's exceedingly 2 rare for an ongoing investigation for someone to join as a partner afterwards.
3 There are a lot of issues. First of all, the component that has been conducting
4 the investigation generally doesn't want another component coming on at the 11th hour.
5 [redacted] Fair enough.
6 Mr. Graves. The challenge is -- particularly when you're talking about U.S.
7 attorney and U.S. attorney -- is you're bringing in another chain of command. And once
8 you're partnered, you have to reach consensus. So, as a manager, in general, we don't 9 want to do that.
10 And on our end of it, if it's an ongoing investigation, there is no way, whether it's 3
11 weeks, 3 months, if it's been a multiyear investigation, that we can get up to speed on 12 everything that has occurred beforehand. So you're kind of buying a mansion without 13 an inspection, and whatever problems exist, you are buying those.
14 Chairman Jordan. I understand.
15 But you said earlier, U.S. attorneys don't partner with other U.S. attorneys. But 16 that's not what the Attorney General told us; that's not what David Weiss told us.
17 We've got all kinds of correspondence that uses that exact language, that you do partner.
18 And that was the question. And that's why we're asking the questions we're asking.
19 Mr. Graves. So I've seen some of the correspondence. I don't quite read it the 20 way that you do. I'm telling you, just in general, it would be difficult to find a single 21 prosecution where there are two U.S. attorneys operating in one of their jurisdictions.
22 BY [redacted]
23 Q So what happened next after the March 19th meeting, to the best of your 24 knowledge? Your staff went and communicated the decision to --
25 A The staff went and communicated the decision that we weren't going to

1 seek to join but would continue to support whatever they needed in the jurisdiction.
2 And I don't recall any other subsequent calls.
3 Q Okay.
4 Did your staff, before the March 19th meeting, have any communications that
5 you're aware of with Main Justice?
6 A Who do you mean by "Main Justice"?
7 Q Anybody in the Tax Division, anybody in the DAG's Office, anybody in the 8 AG's Office, anybody in any other office at Main Justice.
9 A So the Tax Division, potentially, though I don't know.
10 Q Uh-huh.
11 A The AG's Office, certainly not.
12 And I am not aware of the Deputy Attorney General's Office. But, at that point in 13 time, I would point out that we were kind of, as I said before, in daily contact with them
14 related to some other prosecutions, so it's possible that it came up.
15 Q Okay. So it's possible.
16 Now, of all the people in the meeting -- the principal assistant; the Criminal
17 Division chief; the head of the fraud, civil division; the head of the public corruption
18 division; or the line assistant -- of that universe of people, who would be the individual
19 having communications with the DAG's Office?
20 A So, after myself, the person who had the most independent -- at that point
21 in time, the most independent conversations with the DAG's Office would've been the 22 Criminal Division chief.
23 Q Okay. So, if anyone was having communications with the DAG's Office on 24 this issue, it was either you or the Criminal Division chief?
25 A I'd be speculating -- I'm speculating now.

1 Q Right.

2 A But I'm just telling you who had the most contact with the Office of --

3 Q Okay.

4 A -- the Deputy Attorney General at that point in time.

5 Q And do you know if the Criminal Division chief -- and you won't give us the 6 name of that person? Is that right?

7 A In the context of the transcribed interview, I am requesting not to.

8 Q Okay.

9 A If this is something that you're interested in, we can work through OLC.

10 [redacted] OLA.

11 Mr. Graves. Oh, sorry. Sorry. OLA.

12 [redacted] Okay. OLC definitely doesn't want to do this.

13 Mr. Graves. Yeah. That would be a very slow process, if we worked through 14 OLC.

15 BY [redacted]

16 Q So the Criminal Division chief, what do you know about the

17 communications -- can we -- is it a he or she? Can we --

18 A Sure. At that point in time, it was a he.

19 Q Okay. So do you know what communications he had with the DAG's Office

20 on this case?

21 A I am not aware of him having any communications. I am just not

22 foreclosing the possibility that the subject --

23 Q Okay.

24 A -- maybe came up.

25 Q Okay. So, to the best of your knowledge, nobody on your team, including

1 yourself, had any communications with the DAG's Office on the Hunter Biden case.

2 A Correct.

3 Q Or anybody at Main Justice, other than the Tax Division.

4 A Correct.

5 Q And who from your office was working with the Tax Division at Main Justice?

6 A So I'm not aware. Given the -- it is possible that individuals, either career

7 supervisors or the career prosecutor, had communications. I just don't know.

8 Q Okay.

9 Now, are you aware that the whistleblower testimony from the IRS

10 whistleblowers -- Mr. Shapley, Mr. Ziegler -- tell of a conversation that Mark Daly -- Mark

11 Daly is a Tax Division lawyer. Mark Daly related to Mr. Ziegler that he had conversations

12 with -- it was described as your first assistant, but presumably it was the principal

13 assistant.

14 Are you aware of that testimony?

15 A I've generally seen some public reporting around that testimony.

16 Q And do you know if that's accurate?

17 A So, again --

18 Q At the time, was your principal assistant -- is it a he or a she?

19 A A she.

20 Q Okay. So do you know if your principal assistant had communications with 21 Mark Daly on this topic?

22 A So, again, we're kind of straying very close to the subject matter of the 23 investigation. What I can say at a high level with respect to the principal assistant: I do

24 not recall her doing anything other than attending meetings that I happened to be at in 25 connection with this case.

1 Q Okay. So you're not aware of her having a conversation with Mark Daly on
2 this issue? That wasn't reported back to you?
3 A That is correct.
4 Q Okay. Is it possible the Criminal Division chief was the one talking with 5 Mark Daly?
6 A So, sure, anything is possible. And this is why I was saying earlier the 7 principal assistant versus first assistant wasn't, like, a distinction without a meaning.
8 Q Okay.
9 A I do not think the principal assistant was involved. So if whoever this
10 conversation --
11 Q But who do you think was talking to Mark Daly?
12 A I don't know. It could've been -- with the people that were involved, I think 13 there could've been a lot of assumptions that they were the first assistant when they 14 weren't the first assistant. I don't know. I'm --
15 Q Fair enough.
16 A -- speculating.
17 Q But it was someone from your office.
18 A Someone from my office, sure.
19 Q Like, who do you think that was?
20 A One of the people that I just described --
21 Q Okay.
22 A -- that was at that March 19th meeting.
23 Q Okay.
24 Chairman Jordan. One of those five to six people --
25 Mr. Graves. Yeah.

1 Chairman Jordan. -- at the March 19th --

2 Mr. Graves. Yes.

3 Chairman Jordan. -- meeting? Okay.

4 Mr. Graves. Yes.

5 BY [redacted]

6 Q And did you learn about that communication from them? Or did you learn

7 about that apparent communication from Mr. Ziegler's testimony or Mr. Shapley's

8 testimony?

9 A The first time I heard about the communication was the public reporting.

10 Q Okay. And did you go back and circle up with your staff to see what they 11 remembered when that became public?

12 A No.

13 Q You did not.

14 A No.

15 Q Okay.

16 After the whistleblower testimony became public and there was news stories

17 about it, did you read the whistleblower testimony?

18 A The whole testimony? No. I've seen news coverage.

19 Q Okay. So you didn't read any of the transcripts?

20 A I mean, I might have seen portions of transcripts in news --

21 Q In news stories.

22 A -- coverage, but I did not, like, pull a transcript and read it from beginning to

23 end.

24 Q Okay.

25 And did you talk with any of the people that were in this meeting about what the

1 public reporting was?

2 A Not in any great substance.

3 Q I mean, were you surprised by the public reporting?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And why is that?

6 A I'm trying to think of how to best answer this without getting into the 7 substance.

8 So let me take a step back and talk about why I was surprised and why I was not

9 surprised.

10 So why I was not surprised is that I have worked, personally, a number of 11 whistleblower investigations and kind of understand how these things can unfold and the 12 garble that can happen when you layer hearsay on top of hearsay on top of hearsay.

13 And when you look at a lot of this, it's someone said that someone said that someone

14 said. So, not surprised that these things can happen.

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A But definitely surprised by the allegation, because it's not consistent with my

17 recollection.

18 Q Which allegation?

19 A Well, the allegations, as I understand them, have evolved over time.

20 Q Okay. So what do you understand are the allegations?

21 A So, in the first, it was that the U.S. Attorney's Office in the District of 22 Columbia blocked charges.

23 Q Okay.

24 A I understand from the public reporting that that has shifted --

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A -- and I've seen the letters from USA Weiss denying that that occurred.
2 So -- so there's that.
3 Q Okay.
4 I mean, witnesses have phrased it, you know, in different ways -- that the U.S.
5 Attorney's Office in D.C. declined to partner, that they rejected the case. But, at the end
6 of the day, it's consistent that your office didn't want to move forward as a partner on the 7 case.
8 A I would describe those as radically different, right? If we are taking steps to 9 stop an investigation from going forward, that is markedly different from whether we are 10 facilitating --
11 Q Uh-huh.
12 A -- whatever another U.S. attorney wants to do and giving them all of the 13 logistical support they would need to do that.
14 Q Okay. And so you maintain here today that your office was willing to give 15 the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office all the logistical support they needed to come into 16 your district and prosecute that case.
17 A Yes.
18 Q Now, did you ever follow up to make sure something wasn't lost in 19 translation between your office and the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office?
20 A No.
21 Q Okay. I mean, is it possible that after the March 19th meeting your staff
22 communicated to Mr. Weiss's staff and something got lost in translation, that they 23 interpreted the message incorrectly?
24 A I mean, anything is possible.
25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A I was very clear in my initial conversation with U.S. Attorney Weiss that we
2 would provide support.
3 Q Uh-huh.
4 A I know that we took steps that would signal that we were very clear in that
5 commitment. And I was very clear with my staff about what they should communicate
6 about our decision about whether we would seek to join the investigation and the basis
7 for our decision to their counterparts.
8 Q Okay.
9 This is in March of 2022. As it reached, like, later parts in the year 2022, did you
10 ever have any followups with your staff, like, "Hey, are you sure that we haven't assured
11 the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office that they have the green light to walk into our 12 jurisdiction and we'll help them with the logistical aspects?"
13 A I did have a conversation or two along those lines. I can't really get into the 14 specifics of the conversation.
15 Q When were they?
16 A Best of my recollection, that spring.
17 Q Okay. Like, April/May?
18 A That timeframe, yes.
19 Q Okay. And who were they with?
20 A The Criminal Division chief and potentially the principal assistant.
21 Q Okay. And what do you remember saying to them, at a high level?
22 A So I can't get into the specifics of, or even at a high level, what it was,
23 because it would implicate ethical rules that we operate --
24 Chairman Jordan. What did you say to them? "Hey, what's going on with this 25 case that David Weiss called me about a month ago? What's happening? I know we

1 made a decision on the 19th that we were going to say, you guys can come on in but we
2 ain't joining." Was that the nature of the conversation?
3 Mr. Graves. It was them flagging an issue for me.
4 Chairman Jordan. So they brought up to you that there was still a concern
5 with --
6 Mr. Graves. Not a --
7 Chairman Jordan. -- what was decided on the 19th?
8 Mr. Graves. No, not a concern.
9 Chairman Jordan. Okay.
10 Mr. Graves. Not a concern with what was decided on the 19th. Just kind
11 of -- I'm trying to think of how to do this.
12 I could just say at a high level, they alerted me to something about the status of 13 Delaware's investigation.

1 [11:00 a.m.]

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Did they say that the investigation was moving forward, or not moving

4 forward?

5 A So --

6 Q Obviously they mentioned it to you that they needed to raise it to your

7 level?

8 A So -- yeah. And, again, I can't get into the specifics. The reason they

9 raised it with me had nothing to do with the investigation itself and more in terms of my

10 situational awareness for managing relationships with the court.

11 Chairman Jordan. Can we go back to the initial call from U.S. Attorney Weiss,

12 now Special Counsel Weiss? Tell me what happened in that call again exactly.

13 Mr. Weiss calls you and says: We want to bring charges in D.C.

14 Tell me what happens.

15 Mr. Graves. Sure. So Mr. Weiss said that he had an investigation that he had

16 been conducting. Some of the charges related to that investigation needed to be

17 venued out of the District, and he described the logistical support that he needed.

18 I told him we would provide the logistical support and asked him if he was also

19 interested in us joining the investigation as effectively local counsel once charges are 20 brought.

21 Chairman Jordan. You said a couple times you brought that up.

22 Mr. Graves. Yes.

23 Chairman Jordan. Okay. And then what did he say again?

24 Mr. Graves. He said: Definitely need the logistical support, and we can talk

25 about joining the investigation.

1 Chairman Jordan. But then you never talked to him about that. But you and
2 your team, your chief of the Criminal Division, the principal assistant, and one other
3 individual in the next 3 weeks, looked at whether you're going to become local counsel
4 and join. And then, on the 19th, you have a meeting, and you decide you're not going to 5 do that?
6 Mr. Graves. So trying to -- there was a lot in the question. I just want to make 7 sure.
8 So let me just state it to make sure that we're on the same page.
9 Chairman Jordan. Sure.
10 Mr. Graves. I tasked our Criminal Division chief with immediately taking steps to 11 provide the logistical support, asked him to assign the section leadership and an AUSA
12 from the relevant section to do a quick assessment because time was of the essence, and 13 we had to make a decision quickly, and --
14 Chairman Jordan. Why did you have to make a decision quickly?
15 Mr. Graves. For a variety -- I can say, at a high level, we needed to make a
16 decision quickly. I understand your question about the 3-week timeframe --
17 [redacted] He can't answer that.
18 Mr. Graves. -- but why specifically, I can't get into.
19 Chairman Jordan. I get it.
20 Mr. Graves. So we had to make a decision quickly, and I instructed my team to 21 move with all speed, and they did.
22 Chairman Jordan. And then, on the 19th, the day you decided, is that the day
23 you also communicated?
24 Mr. Graves. I don't know if it was the exact day. And I'm saying the 19th. I'm 25 relying on my calendar for that being the day. It's possible that I'm looking at the wrong

1 meeting, but it would have been sometime then, like mid- to late March.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Were you aware around that time that the White House Communications

4 Office was issuing public statements --

5 A No.

6 Q -- about this case, that -- so you don't remember anything that was said from

7 the podium at the White House?

8 A Sorry. I should have let you finish your question.

9 No, I do not.

10 Q Okay. Do you remember anything that was said on the Sunday shows?

11 A No.

12 Q Okay. Were you aware of the President's position that, you know, he didn't 13 think his son had done anything wrong?

14 A I don't -- I actually don't think so. Yeah.

15 Q Did you hear him at the debate?

16 A Which debate?

17 Q You know, during the debate.

18 A Oh, like during the --

19 Chairman Jordan. Campaign.

20 Mr. Graves. -- campaign?

21 Chairman Jordan. Yeah.

22 [redacted] Yeah.

23 Mr. Graves. I watched the debates, so I'm sure that I did. That's not something 24 that sticks out in my mind.

25 BY [redacted]

1 Q So, after March 19th, your office communicates to Weiss' office that you're
2 not going to join the case. You said that there were two other times that this case sort
3 of was brought to your attention by the Criminal Division chief, right, in the spring of 4 2022?
5 A No. I was saying there were two times total that I recall --
6 Q After the 19th?
7 A Not after the 19th. Including the 19th. The 19th and the original
8 conversation --
9 Q Okay.
10 A -- were the two meetings that I recall. I'm sure there was intervening
11 where we talked about it.
12 Q But didn't you say -- and maybe I misunderstood, but didn't you say
13 subsequent to the 19th --
14 A Oh --
15 Chairman Jordan. The conversation with the Criminal Division and during the -- 16 [redacted] Can we go off the record for one second?
17 [Discussion off the record.]
18 [redacted] Go ahead.
19 Mr. Graves. Yes. So yes. They were not full-blown meetings. It was in the 20 context of another conversation or meeting, something that I was told for my situational
21 awareness about aspects of the support that we had agreed to provide to Delaware and,
22 in fact, had provided to Delaware.
23 BY [redacted]
24 Q And did you instruct anyone to call Weiss' office and say, "Hey, to be sure, 25 you can do whatever you need, and we will assist you"?

1 A I did not because I was incredibly clear in my conversation -- and I know the
2 subsequent steps that we took would have left no doubt that they knew they had all the 3 support they needed in D.C.
4 Q My time is up, but the subsequent steps you took, you're not willing to tell
5 us what they are?
6 A I'm not able to tell you what they are.
7 Q Okay.
8 [redacted] Our time is up, so we'll --
9 [redacted] Off the record.
10 [Recess.]
11 [redacted] All right. It is 11:15. We can go back on the record.
12 EXAMINATION
13 BY [redacted]
14 Q Mr. Graves, before we get into our case in chief, or most of our questioning,
15 I wanted to clarify. In the prior hour, you had previously referenced the Criminal 16 Division. Do you recall that?
17 A Yes.
18 Q Was that a reference to the Criminal Division at Main Justice, or was that a 19 reference to the Criminal Division at the U.S. Attorney's Office?
20 A Thank you for clarifying that. That was a reference to the Criminal Division
21 within the D.C. U.S. Attorney's Office, not Main Justice.
22 Q Okay. And, just to put a finer point on this, the head of the Criminal
23 Division at Main Justice at that time period would have been Kenneth Polite. It wasn't 24 Kenneth Polite that you were having conversations with, correct?
25 A That is correct.

1 Q Okay. In the prior hour, we also talked about the Tax Division's
2 responsibility over certain matters and the way that you would consult with Tax Division
3 in certain instances, and I want to return to that discussion.
4 The responsibility that you're referring to is actually -- it's laid out in the Justice
5 Manual, correct?
6 A Correct.
7 Q So it's not specific to any particular case. It's guidance that applies to any
8 case?
9 A That is correct.
10 Q Okay. What's your understanding of why the Justice Manual grants the Tax
11 Division responsibility over these matters?
12 A So, at a high level, my understanding is that the Tax Code is one of the most
13 complicated criminal regimes that we have. It has, among the various levels of scienter,
14 kind of mental intent, the highest mental intent. There are all kinds of violations of the 15 Tax Code that don't rise to the criminal level. And you want a centralized group that is 16 very much steeped in these issues and able to make sure that tax prosecutions across the 17 country are being implemented uniformly.
18 [redacted] I want to introduce -- I think this is actually exhibit 1, Justice Manual
19 section 6-1.000, which is entitled "Department of Justice Policy and Responsibilities, Tax
20 Division."
21 [Graves Exhibit No. 1
22 Was marked for identification.]
23 [redacted] There is a couple copies.
24 [redacted] Oh, I think you have a couple copies there.
25 Mr. Graves. Oh, I have a couple copies. Sorry.

1 [redacted] If you can pass them down.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Have you had a minute to review?

4 A I have reviewed exhibit No. 1, yes.

5 Q And have you seen this before?

6 A I have, yes.

7 Q So I want to look at specifically the very first sentence here. It reads: The

8 Assistant Attorney General for the Tax Division, subject to the general supervision of the 9 Attorney General and under the direction of the Associate Attorney General, is 10 responsible for conducting, handling, or supervising the following matters, correct?

11 A Correct.

12 Q And it specifically uses the word "responsible," correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q It doesn't say "has authority over." It says "he's responsible for doing these 15 things"?

16 A Correct.

17 Q And then there is a list of seven bullet points?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Okay. So, while the Tax Division is responsible for conducting, handling, or 20 supervising these matters, the entire division is actually directed by the Associate

21 Attorney General, correct?

22 A Correct.

23 Q And the Attorney General himself, or herself, I guess, has supervisory

24 authority over all the matters, correct?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And that's true actually for everything the Department of Justice does, right?
2 A Correct.
3 Q So, if a U.S. attorney disagrees with the decision that the Tax Division makes,
4 they can appeal that to the Attorney General, correct?
5 A Correct.
6 Q And, if the Attorney General has, for example, assured a U.S. attorney that
7 that U.S. attorney will have full authority over a matter, then the Attorney General could 8 overrule the Tax Division and grant the U.S. attorney whatever it is he's seeking?
9 A Yes. That is correct.
10 Q Okay.
11 BY [redacted]
12 Q I mean, just to be clear, prosecuting authority in the Department of Justice
13 ultimately lies with the Attorney General in all cases. Is that fair to say?
14 A Correct.
15 Q And he can delegate -- he or she can delegate that authority as he wishes
16 within the Department of Justice or the U.S. Attorney's Offices as he chooses?
17 A That's my understanding.
18 Q Okay. So, when we had some discussion in the previous hour about 19 approvals or responsibilities of the Tax Division, all of that authority is ultimately derived
20 from the Attorney General himself, correct?
21 A That's correct.
22 Q And, if the Attorney General says that someone -- in this case,
23 Mr. Weiss -- has the authority to make charging decisions, do you have any reason to 24 believe that Mr. Weiss did not have that authority?
25 A I have no reason to believe Mr. Weiss did not have that authority, and, yes,

1 the Attorney General can supersede anything in terms of the structure that's laid out in
2 the Justice Manual.
3 Q Okay.
4 BY [redacted]
5 Q Thank you.
6 I want to take a step back. You talked a little bit about your background in the 7 first hour, but I want to talk about that in a little more depth. So I understand that you
8 were appointed U.S. attorney in 2021, but way back in the 2000s, you actually worked at 9 the U.S. Attorney's Office as a career employee, correct?
10 A That is correct.
11 Q When did you actually first join the District of Columbia U.S. Attorney's
12 Office?
13 A May 2007.
14 Q And what was your role at that time?
15 A I was a line assistant in our Superior Court Division.
16 Q What type of cases did you prosecute in that role?
17 A Started off prosecuting misdemeanors. We have a rotation system in the 18 U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia because we are responsible for 19 prosecuting local crimes as well as Federal crimes, and you kind of work your way up from 20 misdemeanors all the way up to very serious felonies.
21 Q You stayed at the D.C. U.S. Attorney's Office for a fair number of years,
22 correct?
23 A Yes. I left in October 2016, so 9.5 years.
24 Q So almost a decade. Is that fair --
25 A Yes.

1 Q -- to say?

2 And, during that entire time, you were a career prosecutor?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q During that time, did you have the opportunity to try cases before a jury?

5 A Yes.

6 Q How many cases did you try before a jury?

7 A Roughly two dozen.

8 Q Okay. And, during your time as a line prosecutor, did you hold any 9 supervisory positions?

10 A Yes, I did.

11 Q So I guess at that point you're not a line prosecutor; you're a supervisory --

12 A Yes.

13 Q -- prosecutor?

14 Could you describe those positions?

15 A I was an acting assistant chief of our Fraud and Public Corruption Section in

16 our Criminal Division, which is what we refer to as our division that prosecutes Federal

17 crimes as opposed to local crimes. And then I ultimately became the acting chief of that 18 section.

19 Q And when did you become the acting assistant chief?

20 A Acting assistant chief, I believe that was in 2015.

21 Q Okay. And then when did you become the acting chief?

22 A That would have been early spring of 2016.

23 Q Okay. What type of cases did you oversee as a supervisor?

24 A The whole gamut of fraud, public corruption, and civil rights cases. So,

25 in -- I can expand on that if you want, or --

1 Q Yeah. I mean, I think what I'm -- did you oversee white-collar crime cases
2 specifically?
3 A Yeah. It was exclusively what -- well, it was almost exclusively what people
4 would call white-collar crime cases. The only one that was different is civil rights, which 5 involved officer -- which a component of that involved use of force and use of deadly
6 force by officers, which we conceptualize as a public corruption crime.
7 Q And did your duties sometimes involve overseeing or prosecuting tax fraud
8 cases specifically?
9 A Yes.
10 Q Okay. And, in fact, you were the lead prosecutor in United States v. Jesse 11 Jackson, Jr., and Sandra Stevens Jackson, correct?
12 A That is correct.
13 Q Who was Jesse Jackson, Jr., or who is Jesse Jackson, Jr.?
14 A Jesse Jackson, Jr., is a prominent political figure and, at the time of the 15 investigation, was an elected Member of Congress.
16 Q What political party does he belong to?
17 A Democrat.
18 Q And, in that case, Sandra Jackson actually pleaded guilty to filing false tax 19 returns, didn't she?
20 A That is correct.
21 Q So that was actually a tax fraud case involving a Democratic politician that 22 you prosecuted?
23 A Two Democratic politicians. She was a local alderman.
24 Q A Democratic alderman?
25 A Correct.

1 Q And you also prosecuted Neil Rodgers, correct?

2 A That is correct.

3 Q Who was Mr. Rodgers?

4 A Mr. Rodgers was a staffer to a D.C. Council member, D.C. Council member

5 Harry Thomas.

6 Q And what political party was Mr. Thomas a member of?

7 A Mr. Thomas was a member of the Democratic Party.

8 Q And can you briefly describe the facts of that case?

9 A Yes. Mr. Thomas, who I also was part of that prosecution team, because he

10 also was prosecuted, had directed city funds to charitable organizations that he was

11 affiliated with and then had conduits at those charitable organizations who funneled the 12 money back to him.

13 Q And was that around the time of President Obama's first inaugural?

14 A Yes. That would -- the conduct occurred around the time of the first 15 inaugural.

16 Q And was some of the money actually used to fund an event of the first

17 inaugural?

18 A Yes. He had like -- yes. There are -- obviously a number of people have

19 events associated with the inaugurals that might not be official inaugural event but in

20 honor of the inauguration, and some of the money was used to fund an inaugural party,

21 celebrating President Obama's first inaugural.

22 Q So these were Democratic political figures who were using money to fund an

23 event around President Obama's first inauguration, correct?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q And you were the -- you prosecuted that case?

1 A That is correct.

2 Q Okay. So, taking a step back, it's fair to say you've had experience

3 overseeing white-collar cases and, specifically, tax fraud cases, both as a line prosecutor

4 and as a supervisor, correct?

5 A Yes. And if I could just add one thing --

6 Q Sure.

7 A -- to your finer point, I also was part of the prosecution team that

8 prosecuted another Democratic member of the D.C. Council for bank fraud.

9 Q Who was that?

10 A Kwame Brown.

11 Q And what timeframe was that?

12 A The same timeframe as the -- it happened around the exact same time as 13 the Harry Thomas, so kind of the 2012-2013 timeframe.

14 Q Thank you for that?

15 A Yeah.

16 Q Is it fair to say, talking about white-collar cases specifically, that they can be

17 complex in nature?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Are you familiar with the complexities that are associated with white-collar

20 cases?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And with tax fraud cases as well?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Okay. And so you are familiar specifically with the considerations that 25 might arise when deciding whether to bring charges in a white-collar case, correct?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And in tax fraud cases specifically?

3 A Yes.

4 Q So I want to turn to some of those considerations and the considerations

5 that prosecutors take into account when deciding whether to bring charges in any matter,

6 but especially in complex matters like white-collar case and tax fraud cases.

7 We discussed the Justice Manual earlier. Are you familiar with the principles of 8 Federal prosecution in the Justice Manual?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay. It's section 9-27.

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay.

13 [redacted] Let me introduce as exhibit 2 section 9-27.220.

14 [Graves Exhibit No. 2

15 Was marked for identification.]

16 Mr. Graves. Okay. Thank you.

17 BY [redacted]

18 Q And this is the section entitled "Grounds for Commencing or Declining

19 Prosecution."

20 A Yes.

21 Q And I believe it's on the second page.

22 A I'm very familiar, yes.

23 Q Okay. And I'm actually -- we're going to look at the very first paragraph

24 under 9-27.220. That section reads: The attorney for the government, which is the 25 prosecutor, right?

1 A Uh-huh.

2 Q -- should commence or recommend Federal prosecution if he or she believes

3 that the person's conduct constitutes a Federal offense and that the admissible evidence

4 will probably be sufficient to obtain and sustain a conviction unless, number one, the

5 prosecution would serve no substantial Federal interest; number two, the person is

6 subject to effective prosecution in another jurisdiction; or, number three, there exists an

7 adequate, noncriminal alternative to prosecution.

8 Did I read that correctly?

9 A Yes. I'm very -- I know that off the top of my head, but I was struggling to 10 find exactly where you were reading from at first, but yes. You --

11 Q But -- so I read that correctly?

12 A You read it correctly, yes.

13 Q So, under these principles, prosecutors should only bring charges when,

14 among other considerations, they believe that the admissible evidence will probably be 15 sufficient to obtain and sustain a conviction, correct?

16 A Correct.

17 Q In layperson's terms, what does "admissible evidence" mean?

18 A "Admissible evidence" means that, when you get to trial, you're going to be

19 able to introduce witness statements or documents that a court is going to say: Yes, this

20 can come in at this trial.

21 Q And it's evidence that meets the standards of the Federal Rules of Evidence.

22 Is that fair to say?

23 A Correct. Yes.

24 Q Okay. What type of considerations might a prosecutor take into account

25 when weighing whether the admissible evidence will probably be sufficient to obtain and

1 sustain a conviction?

2 A Their experiences with similar cases comparing it to other cases. They'll

3 look at defenses, particularly in the white collar context, where usually, unlike the violent

4 crime context, in the white collar context, there is actually a complete agreement on

5 what factually occurred and it's all about what is in a person's head, which is what makes

6 white-collar cases so difficult, but kind of what the defenses might be and how you're

7 going to prove beyond a reasonable doubt the significant scienter or mens rea

8 requirements.

9 Q And are you familiar with the term "sufficiency of the evidence"?

10 A Yes.

11 Q What does that term refer to?

12 A So, I mean, in general, "sufficiency of the evidence" is whether you have a

13 sufficient -- whether you have enough evidence to get over whatever the evidentiary

14 burden is at that point in the process.

15 Q Is that something that prosecutors would take into account when

16 considering whether to bring charges?

17 A Yes. It's whether you have sufficient evidence to prove the case beyond a

18 reasonable doubt, which is obviously the highest standard in the legal system.

19 Q Okay. And I want to turn back to that in a minute. But, along with 20 sufficiency of the evidence, does a prosecutor also consider the ability to explain the 21 charges and the evidence to a jury?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Why is that important?

24 A Because of the nature of the trial process, you don't get to often kind of 25 cleanly put in, from beginning to end in a logical fashion: This is what happens.

1 You have to introduce evidence through witnesses, and witnesses usually only
2 know a portion. So, as you're talking about, in the white collar context, a complex fraud
3 scheme, you're constantly thinking through how am I going to prove this in a way that a
4 lay jury is going to understand, assuming as -- you know, take the same approach that the 5 journalism industry takes, that you're talking to people with a middle school education.
6 Q And that's because jurors are any -- they're anybody, right? They're drawn
7 from the people of the community, right?
8 A Correct.
9 Q And they maybe are not lawyers?
10 A Correct.
11 Q They maybe aren't accountants?
12 A That is correct.
13 Q They may not be familiar with the rules of evidence, for example?
14 A That is correct.
15 Q Okay.
16 A Or, because we actually do tend to have a lot of lawyers and accountants in 17 this jurisdiction in particular that practice in areas other than the area that is the subject
18 of the case, they think they know things about the law that they actually don't know --
19 Q And that's --
20 A -- which is another complication for trying these cases.
21 Q In a tax case specifically, might it be relevant if the potential defendant had 22 actually paid the taxes due?
23 A Yes.
24 Q Why would that be relevant?
25 A So, in tax cases, as I was saying earlier, the Tax Code, as we probably know

1 through all of our limited experiences and then jurors would know from their limited
2 experiences, is incredibly complex, so there is lots of room for good-faith mistakes. And
3 that's why people have all kinds of experience with people who either come under audit
4 or get a notice of tax deficiency, just paying it and it never amounting to a crime.
5 So, when someone immediately turns around and pays, you have to deal with the 6 defense, as soon as they're alerted to an issue, that this was a good-faith mistake that 7 does not rise to the level of intentionality required for a criminal violation.
8 Q Again, speaking of things that a prosecutor might consider with respect to 9 bringing a case before a jury, might it be something to consider if the potential defendant
10 has a sympathetic personal story?
11 A Yes.
12 Q How can that impact a prosecutor's thinking?
13 A So it can impact on at least two levels in the context of a tax prosecution.
14 One, you're always worried in these kinds of cases, where no one was actually 15 hurt, about juror nullification, and you have to guard against that, just because they feel
16 bad for the defendant. But, more importantly, depending on what the sympathetic
17 nature of the story might be, that can get intertwined with the intent issue.
18 Q How so?
19 A So, like, hypothetically speaking, the person is going through some kind of 20 trauma or some -- or there is documented evidence of substance abuse, right? Now
21 you're getting into defenses of: My client was so distracted by X, or my client was under 22 the influence of Y, that, when they were filling out -- when they were working with their 23 return preparer, they just were, like, not focused on this. That's why this was wrong,
24 not because they were trying to be evasive.
25 Q And, to obtain a conviction in a tax fraud case, for example, is the prosecutor

1 required to prove intent?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And can you briefly describe in layperson's terms what that means?

4 A It's that you knew exactly what the Tax Code required and you intentionally

5 didn't do that, which is exceedingly hard to prove in tax cases because of how complex

6 the Tax Code is.

7 Q Thank you for that.

8 We just talked through many concerns or many issues that prosecutors should

9 consider when deciding whether to bring charges. How do prosecutors learn to assess

10 and evaluate these types of concerns?

11 A Some of it is through experience and supervisors who have been through 12 these cases before who will say, you know: Well, this is how I would defend this case.

13 What are you going to do in response if that's the defense, and kind of talking through 14 those kinds of issues.

15 But, in my view, there is nothing -- no greater teacher than experience, which is 16 why, like, the supervisory chain is so important, because they've seen these cases before.

17 Q And prosecutors -- you don't start out prosecuting white-collar crime, right?

18 A That is correct. Well, I mean, I should say that, in our office, you don't start

19 off prosecuting white-collar crime. There are places within the Department you can go

20 where you can specialize in white-collar crime.

21 Q But, in the U.S. Attorney's Office in particular, you might start off

22 prosecuting misdemeanors, right?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And you learn from experience doing misdemeanors, right?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And then you may be assigned to progressively more complex cases,
2 correct?
3 A Yes.
4 Q And you may be paired up with a more senior attorney to have them mentor
5 you on a more complex case, right?
6 A Yes.
7 Q And so my point is that there is learning -- there is a learning process that is 8 garnered through experience as a prosecutor?
9 A That is correct, and that's just on the violent crime. And then, when you
10 get over to the fraud and public corruption, you're not immediately by yourself doing
11 multimillion-dollar fraud cases. It's like 100,000, 200,000, $300,000 embezzlement.
12 And then you kind of start the process all over again in the white collar context of learning
13 those cases, because prosecuting white collar is like a different animal than violent crime.
14 Q So it's fair to say that prosecutors have fairly unique training, learn on the 15 job, and experience in assessing things like the sufficiency of admissible evidence?
16 A That is correct.
17 Q And it's fair to say that prosecutors have unique training and experience in 18 assessing the likelihood that the admissible evidence will be persuasive to a jury, correct?
19 A Correct.
20 Q So it's fair to say that prosecutors have unique training and experience in 21 assessing whether the admissible evidence is reasonably likely to result in a conviction
22 ultimately, correct?
23 A Yes.
24 Q In your experience, is it fair to say that investigators, whether they're from 25 the FBI or from the IRS or some other investigative entity, don't have the same

1 experience specifically with regard to assessing the admissible evidence and whether it
2 would be persuasive to a jury?
3 A Yes.
4 Q And is it fair to say that one unique difference between investigators and
5 prosecutors is that investigators generally do their work -- so investigators do their work
6 before the stage when the evidence is tested by trial, and prosecutors are looking at it
7 specifically with respect to the trial itself?
8 A In general, yes.
9 Q In some cases, the investigation might continue?
10 A Yes. So, I mean, just to expand on your point, I agree with the premise
11 behind the question. So the investigators are gathering evidence and often don't see 12 how the evidence plays out in court. Even when they themselves are called to testify,
13 they're only there for their period of when they're testifying and maybe closing
14 arguments. So they don't see the trial process and how all this plays out, with the 15 limited exception of sometimes, in Federal cases and white-collar cases, you can have an 16 agent sitting with you -- a law enforcement agent sitting with you for the entire trial.
17 And I only raise that because that is one of the best experiences that a law
18 enforcement officer can get, because sometimes they sit through the whole trial and they 19 say: Oh, now I see why we were having those conversations before that I didn't 20 understand.
21 Q And, if they don't sit through that, or if they haven't had the opportunity to 22 sit through that, they might not really understand how the trial process works?
23 A Correct.
24 Q And they might not really understand the prosecutor's thinking?
25 A Correct.

1 Q Given the difference in roles between investigators and prosecutors, it's not
2 surprising that there might be differences in opinion among investigators and prosecutors
3 about the strength of the evidence and the likelihood of success at trial, correct?
4 A Not only is it not surprising, but, in my experience, in Federal charges, blue
5 collar or white collar, it's kind of more often than not that there is some disagreement,
6 with the agents usually thinking that more charges should be brought than the attorneys.
7 Q And, in those cases where the agents think more charges should be brought 8 than the attorneys do, the prosecutors have the final say, correct?
9 A They have -- yes. Well, yes. I -- in my office, we try to do things
10 collaboratively because the agents have spent so much time and we try to talk through 11 the issues and explain to them, like: This is -- these are the challenges we see.
12 And you hope to be able to get and we often do get to a consensus of: Yeah, I
13 wanted to do A, B, C, X, Y, and Z before, but now I understand A, B, C.
14 There are some times where they are like: I still think X, Y, Z, but I respect the 15 decision that you're making.
16 Q And I appreciate that.
17 A Yeah.
18 Q But, ultimately, if there is -- if you can't get them to see your point of view,
19 at the end of the day, it is the prosecutors whose word goes, right?
20 A Yes.
21 Q And that's because prosecutors have that specialized experience we talked 22 through, correct?
23 A Yes. And that's our role in the process.
24 Q Right. They're the ones that have to present the case to the jury?
25 A Yes. Yes.

1 Q So, when Mr. Weiss approached you at the end of February in 2022 and 2 asked you to consider or asked you to support -- provide administrative support in the 3 potential tax-related or potential prosecution of Hunter Biden and you asked if he wanted
4 you to join the case, he said, "We can talk about that," and then you went back and had 5 some further conversations, right, or your investigator -- your staff looked into the case a
6 little bit more, correct?
7 A Yes.
8 Q As they were doing that additional look into the case, was there examination
9 guided by the consideration of the Justice Manual principles we just talked through, so
10 sufficiency of the evidence, the ability to present the charge to the jury, for example?
11 A Yeah. I think, at a high level, I can say -- I can say yes to that.
12 Q Okay. Without revealing any of the actual deliberations, realizing this is an 13 ongoing case, did they consider whether there was sufficient admissible evidence such 14 that prosecutors could probably sustain a conviction from a jury in the District -- in your 15 district.
16 [redacted] And I think, before he answers, he can certainly talk in general about 17 the types of considerations in any case, but obviously not the specifics.
18 [redacted] Understood.
19 BY [redacted]
20 Q And I'm asking, you know, if these are considerations that apply to every 21 case, were they applied here?
22 A So I am trying to thread this needle. I think I am authorized to say, in any 23 case, we are going to go through these Justice Manual factors, like sufficiency of the 24 evidence. In terms of making an assessment about whether we should proceed with the 25 case, join a case, whatever, is kind of like the process, and the normal order is that starts

1 at the line level, and that recommendation makes its way up the supervisory chain.
2 Q And, in this case, like in any case, the prosecutors would have to show that
3 the evidence was probably sufficient to convince a D.C. jury of the defendant's guilt
4 beyond a reasonable doubt, correct?
5 A Correct.
6 Q So the burden of proof, we've said earlier, is beyond a reasonable doubt.
7 That's actually the highest evidentiary standard in the law, correct?
8 A That is correct.
9 Q Can you briefly describe what beyond a reasonable doubt is?
10 A Yes. It's not beyond any doubt, not beyond imagined or a fantastical
11 doubt, but beyond any doubt that any reasonable person would have about the outcome;
12 as our very good public defender service says, it's a higher standard than what you need
13 to take a child away from his or her mother.
14 Q And it's also a higher standard than probable cause, correct?
15 A Much higher than probable cause.
16 Q So what's the standard for probable cause?
17 A Probable cause is, is it likely?
18 Q And beyond a reasonable doubt is a higher standard than the 19 preponderance of the evidence standard that's needed to obtain a judgment in a civil 20 case, correct?
21 A Yes. It -- yes. Exactly.
22 Q And --
23 A Probable cause, preponderance of the evidence, reasonable doubt.
24 Q And so preponderance -- what is preponderance of the evidence?
25 A Preponderance means majority.

1 Q So it's more than 50 percent?
2 A Yeah.
3 Q In your experience as a Federal prosecutor, is it fair to say that it can be
4 difficult to convince a jury, quote, "beyond a reasonable doubt," even when you have a
5 significant amount of evidence that a defendant may have actually committed a crime?
6 A It certainly can be, yes.
7 Q And, in order to obtain a criminal conviction, you need to not only establish
8 that the defendant is guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, but you also have to convince 12
9 jurors that you've met that standard, correct?
10 A Correct.
11 Q And that jury's decision has to be unanimous, correct?
12 A Correct.
13 Q That means that, if even one single juror has a doubt or has what he or she 14 considers to be a reasonable doubt about the sufficiency of the evidence that you've 15 presented, then that juror will be instructed to find your defendant not guilty, correct?
16 A So what will happen is, if the jury cannot reach unanimity, if 11 jurors agree
17 a conviction and one doesn't, eventually a mistrial will be declared.
18 Q Have you ever had the experience as a prosecutor where you felt very 19 strongly that you had presented the jury with sufficient evidence to prove a case beyond
20 a reasonable doubt, but there was one juror who didn't agree, and so the defendant
21 wasn't convicted?
22 A Yes.
23 Q Can you describe broadly the circumstances of that case --
24 A Yes.
25 Q -- or cases?

1 A Yes. I can. Case or cases. One that comes to mind, one of my first jury
2 trials, an individual was riding in the back of a car that got stopped. Officers see in plain
3 sight a bag that contains 20 Ziplocks of an illicit substance by his feet. They step him out
4 of the car, and they search him, and they find additional illegal drugs on him. That was 5 an 11-1 hang for conviction.
6 Q And, in that case, there had been evidence found in the car?
7 A Yes.
8 Q There had been --
9 A Two officers testified in basically unimpeached fashion that: I saw drugs
10 sitting next to the person. I stepped him out of the car and found additional drugs.
11 The jury was shown those drugs. The jury was shown photos from the scene of where 12 the drugs were, and there was one juror who held out.
13 Q So it can be difficult to convince 12 jurors to convict a defendant?
14 A That is correct.
15 Q Okay. And prosecutors, as we talked through a couple minutes ago, have 16 to consider the perspective of jurors when they make charging decisions?
17 A That's correct.
18 Q How do those considerations play out in your experience when prosecutors
19 are making those decisions?
20 A I'm sorry. In what sense?
21 Q So, for example, might prosecutors have discussions with other prosecutors
22 to assess how the evidence might play out before a jury?
23 A Yes. Particularly in the white collar context, you'll have discussions with 24 your supervisors, in our office, at both the indictment phase and at the trial phase.
25 We'll assemble other people who haven't worked on the case. We try to -- really try to

1 bring in professional staff who are not lawyers, particularly at the trial phase, to say:
2 Hey, is this all making sense?
3 Q And, among other things, the prosecutors might discuss what's happened in 4 other similar cases, right?
5 A That is correct.
6 Q So, using the drug case as an example, you might say: Well, I had a case
7 where the officers found drugs on the person of this defendant, and we still had an 11-1
8 split.
9 Right?
10 A Yes.
11 Q And that would inform the prosecutors as to their charging decisions?
12 A Yes.
13 Q Okay. In addition to the probability of obtaining a conviction at trial, the 14 Justice Manual's principles of Federal prosecution also instruct that prosecutors must 15 consider whether there exists an adequate noncriminal alternative to prosecution,
16 correct?
17 A That's correct.
18 Q Was this something that you were required to consider or that your career
19 prosecutors were required to consider when deciding whether to join Mr. Weiss' case?
20 A So it's in the Justice Manual, so on any case -- I wouldn't limit it to 21 Mr. Weiss' -- we would be required to consider that.
22 Q And so they would be required to consider the fact that, in tax-related cases,
23 there are alternatives to criminal prosecution that are routinely pursued, such as the 24 payment of civil penalties?
25 A So what I -- yeah. What I can say in general is this is a regular conversation

1 that we have in the context of tax cases and other cases where there is a regulatory or 2 civil remedy. Why are we doing this criminally as opposed to regulatory or civil?
3 [redacted] And I want to introduce as exhibit No. 3 the civil complaint in a case.
4 It's United States of America v. Robert J. Shaughnessy and Susan J. Shaughnessy.
5 [Graves Exhibit No. 3
6 Was marked for identification.]
7 BY [redacted]
8 Q And this is a 2022 civil case from the United States District Court for the 9 District of Columbia.
10 A Okay.
11 Q Do you recall this case?
12 A I don't, and I don't think that this is a case that our office brought.
13 Q So this was actually brought by the Tax Division, correct?
14 A I believe so, although, as luck would have it, we have a member of our team
15 who is also named Emily Miller, but I believe it is a different Emily Miller.
16 Q And we'll ask to redact that from the transcript --
17 A Yeah.
18 Q -- because I believe that's a line attorney.
19 A Okay.
20 Q But it is a tax case --
21 A Yes.
22 Q -- that was brought in the District of Columbia Federal district court, correct?
23 A Yes, correct.
24 Q In 2022?
25 A Correct.

1 Q And, if you look at page 2 of this complaint, the civil complaint, there is a
2 table, right?
3 A Yes.
4 Q And, at the table, it says that the total outstanding balance or -- refers to the 5 total outstanding tax balance as of April 18th, 2022, was almost $7 million, correct?
6 A Yes.
7 Q And then, on page 3, paragraph No. 8, it says that the defendants in this
8 case, despite being given notice of those taxes due, they neglected or refused to make full
9 payments of those assessments to the United States, correct?
10 A Yes.
11 Q And then, further down on page 3, under the prayer for relief, it says that 12 the United States respectfully prays that this court enter judgment in favor of the United 13 States. And then it says in the amount of roughly $7 million, plus interest, correct?
14 A Yes. Yes.
15 Q So this is an example of a tax case where taxes were not paid, correct?
16 A Correct.
17 Q And the government did bring a case, but it brought a civil case?
18 A Correct.
19 Q And the demand for relief was that the defendants pay the taxes due?
20 A Correct.
21 Q All right. So you've explained that, when Mr. Weiss first contacted you in 22 February of 2022 and that you raised the possibility of joining the case, that your team's 23 consideration as they were evaluating that was guided, as in all cases, by consideration of 24 the Justice Manual's principles of Federal prosecution, correct?
25 A Yes.

1 Q Was their consideration influenced in any way by personal or political or
2 partisan considerations?
3 A I -- it's across the board, no. In none of our cases does that ever come up.
4 Q Was the evaluation of the case influenced in any way by people outside of 5 your office, such as individuals at Main Justice, the White House, or elsewhere, who 6 sought to impact your decision?
7 A No.
8 Q And you said that you did offer to provide any and all logistical support,
9 correct?
10 A Correct.
11 Q And you instructed your team to provide any and all logistical support?
12 A Correct.
13 Q In light of that, what impact do you believe that your decision not to actually
14 join the case would have had on Mr. Weiss' efforts to prosecute Mr. Biden in the District
15 of Columbia if he chose to do so?
16 A I, at the time, believed that my decision had no impact, and the first time
17 that I heard concerns about the decision that we reached was in the public reporting
18 around the whistleblowers' allegation.
19 Q So in the past couple months?
20 A Yes.
21 Q And, if anything, your determination that you would provide him with any 22 and all administrative and logistical support actually would have made it easier for him to 23 bring the case if he so chose?
24 A Yes. I believe we had done everything we needed to do in order for him to 25 bring a case if he chose to bring a case.

1 Q Okay. And it was never your intent to block Mr. Weiss from pursuing
2 charges that he, meaning Mr. Weiss, wished to pursue against Hunter Biden, correct?
3 A Absolutely not.
4 Q Okay.
5 BY [redacted]
6 Q Mr. Graves, Mr. Weiss never actually asked you directly to be local counsel in 7 the Hunter Biden case. Is that fair to say?
8 A That's my recollection, that I was the first one to raise it. And that kind of 9 informed my thinking that that was an ask from me as opposed to an ask from him.
10 Q Okay. So it's fair to say that Mr. Weiss, no one on his staff, as far as you
11 know, asked anyone at the U.S. Attorney's Office in D.C. to be a local prosecutor and was 12 denied that request?
13 A As far as I am aware, yes.
14 Q Okay.
15 [redacted] Yes, that's accurate, what Karen said?
16 Mr. Graves. Yes. What you said is accurate as far as I am aware.
17 [redacted] Thank you for that clarification.
18 BY [redacted]
19 Q And, also to be clear, you personally, in your position as the United 20 States attorney for the District of Columbia, never took any action to block Mr. Weiss or 21 anyone from his office from bringing any charges against Hunter Biden within the District
22 of Columbia?
23 A No.
24 Q And you indicated that you had some familiarity based on press reporting of 25 what the whistleblower allegations in this case have suggested, and that is generally that

1 you did block Mr. Weiss in some manner from bringing charges in the District against
2 Hunter Biden.
3 Are you aware of that allegation generally?
4 A I am generally aware of that allegation.
5 Q Okay. And what is your response to it as you sit here today based on 6 everything that you know and you can share with us?
7 A So my -- allegation or my response or my position is that that is not accurate.
8 I want to be careful and respectful, because I've worked with whistleblowers my entire 9 career. I believe these people are saying what they believe to be true. But, if you look 10 at a lot of the communications, it's second or thirdhand, never direct communication with 11 us after a decision was made.
12 Q Is it fair to say that you think there may be some confusion on the part of the 13 whistleblowers as to what you did in this case in your communications with Mr. Weiss?
14 A So I don't want to get into the specifics of this case, but I have been around
15 large institutions -- and the Department is a large institution enough -- to see the garbles
16 that can occur when there are communications across different components and people
17 aren't talking directly to each other.
18 Q Okay. But, to the extent that there has been public reporting that the 19 whistleblowers have said that you blocked Mr. Weiss in some manner in bringing charges
20 against Mr. Biden in the District, that is incorrect. Is that fair to say?
21 A The -- I'm just -- there is -- constitutionally, I don't like taking issue with what,
22 like, whistleblowers are saying. I'd rather speak directly. I did not take steps to block
23 any investigation by Mr. Weiss in the District of Columbia. I offered to help.
24 Q Okay. And, Mr. Graves, do you know who Ken Wainstein is?
25 A Yes, I do.

1 Q How do you know him?

2 A He was the U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia during the kind of -- the 3 early part of the George W. Bush administration.

4 Q Did he happen to hire you when you became a prosecutor at the 5 U.S. Attorney's Office?

6 A So it's -- it's funny. He was the U.S. attorney when I started the process. I

7 knew him from before. We had multiple rounds of interviews.

8 He saw me at the first-round interview, and he asked what I was doing there.

9 And I told him I was interviewing.

10 And he asked if he wanted me to hire him on the spot.

11 And I said, I don't think it works that way. I think we have to go through this

12 process.

13 By the time I got to the third round, which is the interview with the U.S. attorney,

14 he had actually transitioned out of that role, and Jeff Taylor was in that role.

15 Q Okay. Mr. -- sorry. Go ahead.

16 A Yeah. Mr. Taylor is a lifelong Republican, had worked in the White House

17 and had worked in Senate Judiciary Committee, and so I had my final interview with him.

18 Q And Mr. Taylor hired you then?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Did you have any concerns about becoming a prosecutor under a Republican

21 U.S. attorney?

22 A So not necessarily, but a little bit of context and a story that I think goes to

23 your question. So this was right around the period of the point when there were a lot of 24 inquiries into whether there was political influence on career hires. And we were kind

25 of the first U.S. attorney class coming up, and the person who had just put in this -- been

1 put in this role and had no connection to D.C. -- and Mr. Wainstein had had a connection
2 to D.C. and had all of this political background in addition to being a career
3 prosecutor -- was the person I was interviewing with.
4 So I didn't quite know what to expect. I tell this story all the time. We got in.
5 He saw my resume, saw that I had done advance for Clinton-Gore and started asking
6 about politics.
7 And I was like: Oh, no, here we go.
8 And he said: I don't care about your political background. I'm a lifelong
9 Republican. When we do this job as prosecutors, we prosecute. Can you check politics
10 at the door whenever you do anything?
11 I said: Absolutely.
12 He's like: You're hired.
13 So -- well, he didn't say it in the interview, but, like, that was the question -- the 14 real question he wanted to ask. And he was one of the greatest U.S. attorneys I served
15 under, and it's a conversation that I remember and I repeat often.
16 Q And so, when you became a prosecutor at the U.S. Attorney's Office, it was 17 your intention to be a career prosecutor and not to be influenced in any way by politics of 18 the person who was at the head of the office. Is that fair to say?
19 A That is correct.
20 Q And, in your experience in that office for 10 years as a career prosecutor, is 21 that the way you were allowed to do your work?
22 A Absolutely.
23 Q Nonpartisan?
24 A Absolutely.
25 Q And, as a U.S. attorney currently, do you have anything that you would like

1 to share about how partisanship does or doesn't influence the decisions that you make?
2 A It doesn't influence in any way whatsoever. As you pointed out in the 3 earlier questioning, every elected official that we've ever ultimately prosecuted was a
4 Democrat. That is irrelevant to us. It is simply these Justice Manual requirements and 5 whether they are met.
6 Q Okay. So there has been an allegation made that Mr. Weiss, quote, "went
7 to D.C. U.S. Attorney's Office in early summer to request to charge there," and the, quote,
8 "Biden-appointed U.S. attorney," end quote, said that you couldn't charge in the district.
9 Do you have any response to being referred to in that context as the, quote,
10 "Biden-appointed United States Attorney"?
11 A I mean, it is true, like every other presidentially appointed, Senate-confirmed
12 U.S. attorney that is currently serving, that I was appointed by the President. But the 13 fact that I was appointed by the President, if this is the insinuation, has absolutely nothing
14 to do with the charging decisions that we make in any case.
15 Q I'm sorry. Mr. Graves, let me just -- one last set of questions.
16 You were asked a little bit about your experience as a prosecutor when there was 17 a disagreement between what investigators saw in the evidence and what prosecutors
18 might see in the evidence. Do you have any opinion based on your experience as to why
19 investigators tend to sometimes overvalue evidence as compared to what prosecutors 20 might think?
21 A It's because they're looking at it -- in my experience, first, they're kind of not 22 seeing how all this plays out in trial. Second, their job is to kind of assemble facts and 23 build a narrative, and they do a great job of that in general, by the way. But they 24 don't -- because this isn't their job or their training, they don't see the ways in which that,
25 you know, house they assembled can be taken apart brick by brick.

1 Q Does it surprise you when investigators complain that prosecutors are trying
2 to block them, for example, or not allowing them to take investigative steps that they
3 think that they should be able to take?
4 A That can happen from time to time, for sure, in all kinds of different cases.
5 Q It's not that uncommon for that kind of complaint to happen, right, in the 6 context of a criminal investigation, that an investigator might think that the prosecutor is 7 holding them back in a sense?
8 A Yes. That can happen, particularly in complex cases. There are all kinds
9 of really complex strategy decisions you have to make, and looking at a proposed action
10 in isolation, you might have one view of it. But, if you're the attorney and you're 11 thinking about how this might play out before a court or before a jury, you might have a 12 different view of it.
13 Q And often the investigators are not lawyers. Is that right?
14 A That is correct. They are often not. They are typically not.
15 Q And they may not have the same responsibility as prosecutors to consider a 16 defendant's constitutional rights, for example?
17 A I think they have a duty to consider the constitutional rights, but I don't think 18 they are as necessarily attuned to all the nuances because they're not attorneys.
19 Q Understood.
20 [redacted] Thank you. We can go off the record.
21 [Recess.]
22 BY [redacted]
23 Q I want to go back to that 3-week period that you testified about, in March
24 of 2022.
25 First, Mr. Weiss called you, and you told him that you'd be able to assist with

1 whatever he needed, correct?

2 A That is correct. And I just want to clarify. I'm going off my best of my

3 recollection. Roughly 3 weeks.

4 Q Okay. And then you went through a process where your principal assistant,

5 the Criminal Division chief, the head of the Fraud Civil Division and the Public Corruption

6 Division, and your line AUSAs evaluated something, correct?

7 A Correct.

8 Q And do you know if those meetings occurred in person that they had?

9 A I do not know.

10 Q Do you know if Lesley Wolf, the AUSA in Delaware, came to D.C.?

11 A I don't know. But, just to reorient, that's at a time when we are still under 12 maximal telework, so that would -- I could speculate. That would -- a lot was probably 13 done virtually.

14 Q Okay. Do you know if any of your personnel went to Delaware?

15 A I am not aware of that.

16 Q And do you know what type of paper was exchanged?

17 A I do not know.

18 Q Do you know if your team reviewed the special agent report prepared by 19 Agent Ziegler?

20 A So I know they have reviewed investigative material. What investigative

21 material specifically, I don't know.

22 Q And were you aware that DOJ Tax had also prepared a report recommending

23 charges?

24 A Not aware.

25 Q Okay. So you didn't review that report?

1 A I did not review any underlying case material.

2 Q Okay. And you didn't review any PowerPoint presentations that may or

3 may not have been made?

4 A No.

5 Q Okay. So you didn't evaluate any paper?

6 A No. My briefing from my team was oral.

7 Q Okay. Now, there is a little bit of a disconnect. I mean, during the last

8 hour, there was some back and forth about how D.C. juries are very tough, and you

9 walked us through a case that I believe you said you were involved with where they found

10 all the evidence you would ordinarily need to --

11 A Yes.

12 Q -- convict somebody, and yet you were unable to get that conviction.

13 A Correct.

14 Q Did your team communicate that to the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office, that 15 D.C. juries are real tough?

16 A I think what I can say at a high level was that I told my team to explain why

17 we weren't going to seek to join the investigation.

18 Q Now, earlier this morning, you said that joining an investigation after it's 19 already started, like halfway through, would be very unusual, correct?

20 A In my experience, yes. Usually, if you join or partner, it's at the beginning

21 of an investigation, not the end.

22 Q Right. So the Hunter Biden investigation began in -- at least the IRS portion

23 of it began in 2018, and then the Justice Department portion began in 2019. So several 24 years had unfolded by the time you evaluated whether to join, correct?

25 A So I am not tracking all those details. What I can say at a high level --

1 Q Right.

2 A -- was that I was aware that U.S. Attorney Weiss had been a U.S. attorney in

3 the prior administration, and he was one of two of those U.S. attorneys held over because

4 he had an ongoing investigation involving Hunter Biden. But, prior to him calling me, I

5 think I don't know much -- I didn't know much more than that. So whether it started

6 in -- by definition, it would have had to have started before the current administration

7 came in. How long he was doing it, I don't know.

1 [12:12 p.m.]

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Now, the fact that he was held over, was it your understanding that he was

4 held over particularly for this case?

5 A So I'm just going off of public reporting, nothing internal, but that was my

6 understanding from public reporting.

7 Q And why do you think whoever made that decision wanted to hold Mr.

8 Weiss over?

9 A I couldn't -- I mean, I could only speculate.

10 Q Is it because he was a Republican-appointed U.S. attorney and the 11 investigation involved the son of a Democrat Presidential --

12 A So, I mean, anything is possible. It's also, if there is a long-running

13 investigation, there's continuity in keeping the entire --

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A -- supervisory chain in place.

16 Q Right. Have you heard the Attorney General state, though, that the reason

17 he was kept was that he was a Republican-appointed U.S. attorney?

18 A I certainly haven't heard the Attorney General say that, and I haven't seen

19 that in any of the reporting.

20 Q So, no?

21 A Yeah, no. I mean, like, I've had no conversations with the Attorney General

22 about this issue generally, and in public reporting I don't recall seeing anything along

23 those lines.

24 Q Have you recalled anyone at the Justice Department touting the fact that

25 Weiss was a Trump appointee that made him a good prosecutor for this case, because

1 he's supposedly not aligned with President Biden?

2 A No, I don't -- no. No.

3 Q No?

4 A No.

5 Q So the only reason, in your mind, that Mr. Weiss was held over was because

6 he had this investigation ongoing.

7 A So that's the thing I knew for certain. I could speculate about other

8 reasons. I'm not saying what you're saying is necessarily unreasonable. I just don't

9 know that. I've never heard that.

10 Q Do you think there's a perception that maybe Weiss could be viewed as 11 more fair because he's not a Democrat-appointed U.S. attorney to begin with?

12 A Um --

13 Q It's a good look, isn't it? It's certainly a good look.

14 A I understand what you're saying. I understand what you're saying.

15 Q You knew it was a good look, right?

16 A I mean, kind of in the way "good look" -- I mean, I understand the optics

17 issue there, yes.

18 Q And it's a good look optically, right?

19 A Well, you're leaving in place the person who was in charge of the 20 investigation before you were -- before the administration changed.

21 Q Okay.

22 And along the same lines, I mean, you can certainly understand how some

23 Republicans might have concerns that a U.S. attorney appointed by President Biden might

24 have some conflict-of-interest types of issues, weighing in on a case against the 25 President's son.

1 A I mean, people can have whatever concerns they might have. I do not view
2 it that way. And I'm not aware of any ethical canon that says that U.S. attorneys have 3 an obligation to recuse whenever --
4 Q But you can --
5 A -- a family member of the President is implicated.
6 Q But you can certainly understand a reasonable person might wonder
7 whether a U.S. attorney appointed by President Biden can fairly make a decision on a
8 case involving his son.
9 A So, kind of -- I mean, I wouldn't -- I don't even know that I would necessarily 10 go that narrow. I understand that people have questions when we make 11 determinations about matters of significant public consequence all the time about the 12 basis.
13 Q What would be the process in your office today if you did have a conflict of 14 interest? Who would be the decision-maker?
15 A So we have an ethics officer within our office who is the first line that we run
16 potential conflicts of interest past. That can lead to -- from there, it can go to the 17 General Counsel's Office of the Executive Office for United States Attorneys. And the 18 Associate Deputy Attorney General who's responsible for ethical matters can also become 19 involved when there are questions about whether recusal is required.
20 Q So, hypothetically, let's say you did have a conflict of interest. You ran it
21 through that process --
22 A Yes.
23 Q -- and it was determined that, in fact, you did have a conflict of interest.
24 Who would then be the decision-maker in your office?
25 A So --

1 Q Who would you defer to?

2 A -- I mean, it depends. I mean, sometimes the conflict is resolved by -- it

3 could be deemed a district-wide conflict, and it's taken away from the district and

4 assigned to another U.S. Attorney's Office.

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A In other instances, it could be -- you know, within our office, it

7 would typically become -- the Principal Assistant United States Attorney would be the

8 final decision-maker. And if she had a conflict like me, then it would go --

9 Q Okay.

10 A -- to one of our division chiefs.

11 Q So, in your office, is the principal assistant considered the number two?

12 A The principal assistant is the number two, yes.

13 Q Okay. And did you ever contemplate deferring this matter to her?

14 A No.

15 Q Why not?

16 A Because there was no conflict of interest and no reason for me to do so.

17 Q You may have felt that way, but others looking from the outside optically

18 might have felt differently, that a U.S. attorney appointed by President Biden wasn't a fair

19 arbiter of a case involving President Biden's son.

20 A So --

21 Q I mean, that's not an outlandish thing to suggest.

22 A I understand what you're saying.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A I am saying there is no ethical reason for me to put this decision on someone

25 else. And, in my experience, when you start trying to do things that aren't required to

1 placate people on the outside --

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A -- you still wind up with those accusations despite what you did.

4 Q Okay. Do you think U.S. Attorney Weiss was kept in his position to placate

5 people on the outside?

6 A No.

7 Q No?

8 Do you know who kept U.S. Attorney Weiss on, whose decision that was? Was

9 that the decision of the Justice Department, or was that the decision of the White House?

10 A I don't know.

11 Q Now, during the last hour, counsel asked you questions about the types of 12 considerations that you went through, citing the Justice Manual. And I was a little, I

13 guess, confused, because it seemed like you were walking us through potentially the 14 decision-making process that your office made with respect to this particular case.

15 And that just struck me as a little bit different than what you had said in the first

16 hour when we were speaking with you, that this was a decision for the U.S. attorney in 17 Delaware to make. Could you help us resolve that?

18 A So what I was trying to do in the last hour when I was getting asked

19 questions about specifically was this factor considered in the context of this case, to say,

20 in general, in all cases, the principles of Federal prosecution, factors like sufficiency of the 21 evidence, are things that we are considering at all points, and taking it out of the context

22 of an assessment about whether we should seek to join this particular case.

23 Q Right. But you also have said that the decision whether you would join this

24 case would be unusual, because the case had been ongoing for a number of years.

25 And so I took -- and maybe you can correct me if I misunderstood what you were

1 saying. But I took what you said this morning, in the first hour, that after the case had
2 been up and running for a couple years, it would be very unusual for you to join. In your
3 experience, you hadn't had any case in your experience where after a number of years
4 had unfolded that you would decide to join it.
5 A It would be -- so, yes, it would be unusual to -- in my experience, it would be 6 unusual to join an investigation, just in general, that is late in the process. In my 7 experience, if a component has been conducting an investigation for a period of time,
8 they, in general, don't want to bring in another supervisory chain, because they've 9 already gotten all the sweat equity and now you're just adding additional layers of 10 supervision.
11 Q So --
12 A In --
13 Q Go ahead. I'm sorry.
14 A In terms of the jurisdiction in which the case is gonna be brought, it's a really
15 complicated analysis. There's, in general, all the concerns I was talking about before
16 about, kind of, buying an investigation largely sight unseen. On the other side, people 17 are gonna be in your jurisdiction litigating potentially complex issues that could result in 18 case authority that you are then subsequently stuck with.
19 So there's, like, a whole host of complications that weigh for and against in any of 20 these cases where you're considering getting involved.
21 Q Right. But, you know, you told us about that you spent 3 weeks going 22 through this analysis. And I'm just confused, why you didn't tell Mr. Weiss from the 23 beginning, hey, whatever you need, you just come into D.C. and we will help you get the 24 grand jury set up and we'll give you a copy of the local rules, that type of stuff. Like, you
25 went through a 3-week process that ended in either a declination or a decision not to

1 partner.

2 So I'm just trying to reconcile those two things.

3 A That's a good question that it's hard to get into without case-specific, but I

4 think you are absolutely right. If one were inclined not to join from the outset, that

5 conversation could've gone a very different way.

6 Q Right.

7 A I could've not even brought up joining, and I could have simply said, we'll

8 provide you whatever support you need.

9 Q Right. So don't you think going through the process, the 3-week process,

10 you know, sends the message to Delaware that this is a loser of a case and you shouldn't 11 bring it?

12 A No. I mean, I've told you I didn't know anything factually about the case

13 before that call.

14 Q But I'm talking about the end of the 3-week process.

15 A I'm sorry. Can you repeat the question then?

16 Q At the end of the 3-week process, you told Delaware that you didn't want to

17 partner or you didn't want to join, whatever words you want to use. Don't you think 18 that may have had the effect of trying to convince them not to bring the case?

19 A No, not -- no. No, I don't. And that certainly, just to be clear, was not the 20 intent of why we went through the 3-week process.

21 Q Okay.

22 A number of witnesses -- and it's not just Ziegler and Shapley. We've heard from

23 two FBI officials. We've heard from IRS officials. If there's one thing that's clear,

24 nobody thinks that your office was willing or interested to partner on this case. You

25 know, whatever semantics you want to use -- you either denied the case, you didn't want

1 to partner, you neglected to join, like, whatever. And Shapley and Ziegler testified that
2 Weiss himself, you know, characterized your decision as, you know, a failure to partner.
3 And that's very different than, "Hey, you can have anything you need, and you're 4 welcome to bring a prosecution, and we'll help you."
5 A So, I mean, I can't get into and I'm not tracking the details of what everyone
6 said. I can just tell you -- and lay out the chronology again.
7 And one thing I want to be clear on: A lot of your questions are assuming that 8 the conclusion of that process was known at the outset. And --
9 Q Right.
10 A -- that's not the case.
11 Chairman Jordan. Why'd you --
12 [redacted] Go ahead, sir. Sorry.
13 Chairman Jordan. Well, why'd you offer it on the front end, then?
14 You said earlier that U.S. attorneys don't like to partner, you don't want two cooks
15 in the kitchen. But this is a -- they'd already done 3 years of investigation. And he calls
16 you and says, hey, we're looking to bring this case. And then he said you volunteered to 17 partner with him or potentially partner with him.
18 So why'd you offer it on the front end?
19 Mr. Graves. So I just want to clarify something you said. In general, if you're 20 the U.S. attorney who has been conducting an investigation for a long period of time, you,
21 in general, don't want to bring another U.S. attorney into the decision-making chain.
22 The calculus is different if you're the recipient of the request, if the investigation is 23 coming to your jurisdiction.
24 And, I mean, what I can say at a high level, I think, is, I made the ask because it
25 was something I wanted to explore.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q And at the end of the 3-week process, you communicated to Delaware,

3 through your staff, that you didn't want the case to be brought. Is that correct?

4 A I had my staff reach out and explain that we weren't going to seek to join

5 and explain why.

6 One other point that hasn't come up: I did follow up to confirm that that

7 conversation occurred, and I asked if --

8 Q Which conversation?

9 A The conversation I just described, my staff communicating our decision --

10 Q Okay.

11 Chairman Jordan. After the 19th meeting.

12 Mr. Graves. -- to them --

13 Chairman Jordan. Got it.

14 Mr. Graves. -- to ask how the meeting went or if any additional information was 15 learned.

16 BY [redacted]

17 Q And what did they tell you?

18 A They told me how the meeting went. And I did not receive any additional

19 information.

20 Q And that communication you had was with your first assistant or who -- head

21 of the Criminal --

22 A I can't remember whether it was the head of the Criminal Division or --

23 Q Or your principal assistant?

24 A -- lower-level supervisors. It might've been directly with the lower-level

25 supervisors.

1 Chairman Jordan. And how did that meeting go? What was the feedback?

2 Mr. Graves. I can't get into specifics, but, like, at a high level, I think I am

3 authorized to say that they conveyed that we weren't going to seek to join, our rationale

4 and our thought process about why we weren't going to seek to join, and we did not

5 receive any information back that would cause us to change our analysis.

6 BY [redacted]

7 Q And, during the course of that, did your staff communicate to Delaware that

8 they were welcome to bring the case themselves, that you would do everything possible

9 to facilitate that?

10 A So I don't know if that happened during the course of that conversation,

11 because I didn't participate in that conversation. Based on what I know was occurring at

12 that time in terms of what we were facilitating, there is no doubt in my mind that they

13 understood they could bring whatever charges they wanted in the District.

14 Q And do you know why they later characterized your decision as blocking the

15 case?

16 [redacted] Who is "they"? The whistleblowers?

17 Mr. Graves. So I think -- and this is what I was referring to earlier. I think I have

18 seen the whistleblowers initially use language of "blocking." I've definitely seen

19 correspondence from now-Special Counsel Weiss saying there was no blocking, and then

20 this shifting to "partnering" and "not partnering."

21 BY [redacted]

22 Q What was your understanding of Mr. Weiss's authority to bring this case?

23 A So, from my perspective, I never thought about it in terms of his authority.

24 It's a fellow U.S. attorney that has a matter that he believes needs to be brought.

25 Q Uh-huh.

1 A I'm not saying, "What is your basis for doing so in D.C.?" I'm immediately
2 shifting to, "What do you need from us?"
3 Q Uh-huh. Did he ever communicate to you that the Attorney General had 4 given him authority to bring the cases he needs?
5 A I don't recall if that came up in our conversation. And, again, that would be 6 of no significance to me. The last thing I'm thinking when he's calling is, "Well, what is
7 your basis for doing these charges in D.C.?" It's, "You're doing an investigation that you
8 say you've realized you have to bring charges in D.C. Let's talk about how you get it
9 done."
10 Q Uh-huh. So you didn't have a discussion with Mr. Weiss about special
11 counsel authority?
12 A No.
13 Q When was the first time you learned that he was interested in special
14 counsel authority?
15 A Through the public reporting of the Attorney General naming him to be
16 special counsel.
17 Q Okay. But before that, there was -- I mean, the Attorney General testified
18 on a couple different occasions. I'm sure you were watching the letter exchange that 19 Mr. Weiss sent to the Hill, correct?
20 A That is correct. And, like, at a high level, my understanding was, the 21 Attorney General was of the position that then-U.S. Attorney Weiss had not asked to be 22 special counsel. And I hadn't seen anything from then-U.S. Attorney Weiss saying that,
23 at a point in time earlier to him being named special counsel, he needed to be named
24 special counsel.
25 Q Right. But, during that letter exchange, didn't it strike you as maybe a

1 point in time that you needed to call and clarify to Mr. Weiss that if he needed to bring
2 anything in D.C. that he would have your support?
3 A During the letter exchange? No. And my chronology could be off,
4 because I am following this as a recipient of news, but, like, in the middle of all this, there
5 was a negotiated resolution as well.
6 Q Uh-huh.
7 Well, in June of this year -- that was before any negotiated resolution -- Weiss
8 wrote to Mr. Jordan and stated, "I've been granted ultimate authority over this matter, 9 including responsibility for deciding where, when, and whether to file charges and for 10 making decisions necessary to preserve the integrity of the prosecution."
11 Is that, like, accurate?
12 A To my understanding, yes.
13 Q Because before getting special counsel authority, for Mr. Weiss to bring 14 some of these charges, he would've needed, as we discussed this morning, the approval
15 of the Tax Division.
16 A So, again, I don't know the specifics of this case. The way the Justice
17 Manual is set up, certainly Tax Division approval would be required.
18 Q Uh-huh.
19 A But the Justice Manual exists under the Attorney General's authority. So, if 20 he wants to say in a particular case that consultation and approval is not going to be 21 required, he can say consultation and approval is not required.
22 Q But doesn't he have to go through the 28 United States Code 515 process?
23 A Well, I guess that's a process one could go through. I'm not sure that 515
24 would necessarily take you out of Tax Division approval necessarily.
25 Q Is there another way the Attorney General can grant Weiss ultimate

1 authority?

2 A So I'm not sure of all the ways. I mean, from my perspective -- because I

3 can tell you, as U.S. attorney, 515 is not something that I have ever dealt with --

4 Q Right.

5 A -- these are just worked out more informally, which is my frame of reference

6 of, "Okay, you have charges you want to bring. We'll work it out. You'll get charges

7 brought here."

8 Q When Weiss said, "I've been granted ultimate authority over this matter, 9 including responsibility for deciding where, when, and whether to file charges," did that

10 strike you as a little odd? I mean, he's essentially saying he can walk right into D.C. and 11 file charges without your input.

12 A In the context of the investigation, no, it didn't strike me as odd. And, like I

13 said, it's an -- it was a preexisting investigation, and I understand the reasons for having

14 him continue to run it.

15 Q But as of June 7th, that's a totally untrue statement, what Weiss said here.

16 I mean, he did not have ultimate authority. He had to go through the Tax Division.

17 And if he was going to bring charges in Los Angeles or D.C., he had to go through the U.S.

18 attorney.

19 A So I don't know that that's -- again, I don't know that that's an untrue

20 statement. I mean, again, I never got to the intellectual point of what happens if I just

21 say, no, we're not going to facilitate you doing anything in here, what's going to happen

22 next, because it never crossed my mind to do that.

23 Q Right.

24 But then he follows up on June 30th, okay -- this is well before the special counsel

25 status in August -- and he essentially acknowledges that his June 7th letter was incorrect.

1 And he writes, "I stand by what I wrote" -- which, of course, is an euphemism for
2 "I need to correct it" -- "but wish to expand. As the U.S. Attorney for the District of 3 Delaware, my charging authority is geographically limited to my home district." Okay?
4 So, going back to what he said on June 7th, he did not have ultimate authority to 5 bring cases in D.C. Isn't that correct?
6 A I'm not sure.
7 Q He didn't have the ultimate authority to bring cases in Los Angeles, right?
8 A I don't know.
9 Q Well, I mean, he now, on June 30th, he's saying that is, in fact, the case,
10 which totally contradicts the June 7th letter.
11 "If venue for a case lies elsewhere, common departmental practice is to contact
12 the United States Attorney's Office for the district in question and determine whether it
13 wants to partner on the case."
14 Now, you've testified that you went through a 3-week process and determined
15 that you did not want to partner on the case, correct?
16 A So I'm not sure what he means by "partner" in that context, but, yes, we 17 weren't going to join.
18 Q Right.
19 A Now, if he means, by "partner," are they going to support us, then we'd 20 already said in the initial call, we'll support you guys returning whatever charges you want
21 to return in our district.
22 Q Right.
23 "If not, I may request special attorney status," which, as of June 30th, he didn't
24 request special attorney status, pursuant to 28 United States Code 515.
25 "Here I have been assured that, if necessary, after the above process, I would be

1 granted 515 authority in the District of Columbia."

2 So isn't he saying that, for him now to bring charges, he needs 515 authority in

3 D.C.?

4 A So I'm -- I can hear the words you're saying as you're reading it. I have no

5 firsthand knowledge, so I can just kind of surmise, in the way that you can surmise, what

6 he is saying.

7 Q But what he says in the June 30th letter, in fairness, contradicts what he said

8 in the June 7th letter and contradicts what you've told us.

9 A So, I don't see it that way.

10 Q Okay.

11 A I mean, I see the June 30th letter as a clarification of the June 7th letter,

12 which is consistent with --

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A -- my understanding of where things were, which is that he is running an

15 investigation and he has authority to bring the charges, and the Attorney General is going

16 to work to make sure, if it comes to it, that he can bring charges in whatever jurisdiction

17 he wants.

18 Q But --

19 Chairman Jordan. Could you tell him "no"?

20 Mr. Graves. So, could I have told him, "No, we're not going to support you, I'm 21 not going to make my grand jury available"? I mean, I never considered it, but I guess I

22 could've told him "no."

23 Chairman Jordan. Okay. So, then, where's the authority coming from?

24 Mr. Graves. Because I could get a call from the Office of Attorney General

25 saying, "You are going to."

1 Chairman Jordan. Well, based on what [redacted] just read you, what authority does
2 he have that says he can bring the case when, where, and whether he decides to bring
3 charges at all? What authority is that?
4 Mr. Graves. So, as I --
5 Chairman Jordan. And how does he get that authority? Because you said it's 6 not 515, so what is it?
7 Mr. Graves. So, as I understand the letters and the public reporting, he was 8 given assurance by the Attorney General, who heads our department, that he is going to 9 be able to bring whatever charges wherever he wants to bring charges that he thinks are 10 appropriate.
11 So, I mean, I can -- this has never happened, but I can make all kinds of 12 determinations I want to make on my own. If the Deputy Attorney General or the 13 Attorney General calls me up and says, you are going to do the opposite of what you said,
14 I am going to do the opposite of what I said. That's the way the Department works.
15 BY [redacted]
16 Q If this was real, if this was actually the case, don't you think the Deputy
17 Attorney General's Office or the Attorney General's Office would've looped you in before 18 these letters were sent?
19 Like, if Weiss was really going to bring a case in D.C., okay, if that was a genuine 20 possibility, okay, don't you think they would've looped you in, rather than just, like, have 21 you learn about this in the letter exchange?
22 A No, not really. I mean, I think this is --
23 Q No?
24 A Again, while the situation is unique, it is not uncommon for cases to start in 25 one jurisdiction and venue to lie in another jurisdiction, and we all just work it out

1 amongst each other. We're not saying, what authority are you acting pursuant to?
2 We are one Department. And if we have someone else who is, you know, the head of
3 an office, and in this case a Presidentially appointed Senate confirmed head of his office,
4 that wants to bring charges --
5 Q Uh-huh.
6 A -- the immediate mindset is, we're going to support it.
7 And I think the Attorney General and the Deputy Attorney General know that's 8 out there, and they don't need to kind of lay the groundwork for the request that's 9 coming in.
10 Q Right.
11 But isn't it likely that your office, when you communicated back in March of '22,
12 on March 19th -- subsequent to March 19th, that the message received from Mr. Weiss
13 was, no, you can't do it in D.C.?
14 A I cannot -- I don't know, since I didn't have conversations with him, what 15 message he heard when he got briefed.
16 Q Right.
17 A I'm presuming he got briefed by his team.
18 Q Right.
19 A It would be hard for me to believe that, given the steps that we had taken,
20 but anything is possible.
21 Q Okay.
22 Weiss sent another letter in July, July 10th --
23 A Uh-huh.
24 Q -- a couple weeks later, and he asserted to Senator Graham, "I have not
25 requested special counsel designation pursuant to 28" -- the CFR -- "CFR section 600.

1 Rather, I had discussions with departmental officials regarding potential appointment
2 under 28 U.S.C. 515, which would have allowed me to file charges in a district outside my
3 own without the partnership of a local U.S. attorney."
4 So Weiss is now saying that, for him to bring a case outside of the District of 5 Delaware, he needed to go through, you know, 515 or at least through senior officials of 6 the Department.
7 A Sorry, what's the question?
8 Q So this -- I mean, these words indicate, in Weiss's own mind, he didn't have 9 the ability to bring the case in D.C. like you've testified.
10 A So I don't read the correspondence that way.
11 Q Okay. So your testimony is, if Weiss wanted to bring a case in D.C., he 12 could've done it and you would've assisted, without 515 authority.
13 A So let me take a couple steps back.
14 My understanding, which was largely informed by public statements, is that the 15 Attorney General had given his assurance to U.S. Attorney Weiss that he would get 16 whatever he needed from the Department in order to bring the charges that he thought
17 was appropriate in the venue that he thought was appropriate.
18 Which would include, from my reading of the public statements and what I've 19 heard, if he ultimately needed it, a grant of 515 authority to act outside of Delaware.
20 There are all kinds of ways short of 515 that these charges could have been brought in
21 D.C.
22 Q Right. But, according to your testimony, he didn't need 515 authority,
23 because you were gonna let him come into D.C. and do it if he really wanted to. You
24 weren't gonna partner --
25 A So we didn't --

1 Q -- but you were gonna facilitate.

2 A Yeah, so we didn't have conversations along those lines. But, like, what

3 one could do, right, if you wanted to proceed, is, he could ask to have all of his trial team

4 designated as special assistant United States attorneys in D.C., and they would be

5 designated as such, and --

6 Q And did you tell him you were willing to do that?

7 A Never -- that never came up. But they would be designated as such, and 8 then a grand jury indictment would be returned under my name.

9 Q Right. But your conversation in March of 2022, you said you told him that

10 he could have whatever he needed to bring the charges. And there was a question of 11 whether you'd officially partner or join --

12 A Uh-huh.

13 Q -- but, regardless of whether you'd officially partner or join, you'd still

14 facilitate him bringing a case.

15 A Correct.

16 Q Okay. But that's, like, totally different than what he says in the July 2023

17 letter and these letters where he says, if I need to bring charges outside of my district,

18 without the partnership of a local U.S. attorney, you know, I had to go through either 515

19 authority or some other, you know, process.

20 So does he misunderstand, like, what you communicated to him?

21 A I mean, I can only speculate as to what is going on in his mind.

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A The solution that I just laid out, if we weren't going to put our own AUSAs on

24 the trial team, he might've deemed that inadequate and he might've preferred 515 over

25 that solution.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A I don't know. We never had that conversation.

3 Q Okay.

4 How frequently, in your experience, do you decline to partner when a U.S.

5 attorney from -- you know, AUSA from Maryland or AUSA from Virginia or some other

6 State asks you to partner?

7 A So it doesn't happen -- it happens; it doesn't happen all that -- well, let me

8 strike that.

9 It's not framed that way. It is framed as -- and, again, this doesn't happen all that

10 often -- "We have this case that we need to bring," and they're usually not looking for us,

11 in those instances, to staff the cases. They're usually looking to figure out a way of 12 getting the cases charged in our district. And we work with them on that, as we offered

13 to work with --

14 Q Okay.

15 A -- U.S. Attorney Weiss here.

16 Q So is it fair to say there's, sort of, two tracks when venue lies outside of your

17 district? Track one is you join, you partner, you team up; and then, if you join, if you

18 partner, if you team up, you put your AUSAs on the trial team. Correct?

19 A No. I thought you were going to describe two different tracks.

20 Q Okay. Well, what are the two tracks, in your mind?

21 A The two tracks, in my mind, are the AUSAs from the other jurisdiction just

22 come in and handle everything themselves --

23 Q Okay.

24 A -- or the other jurisdiction just transfers the case to us and then we

25 prosecute it.

1 Q Okay.

2 A I can't think of a situation where it's the hybrid model that you just --

3 Q Okay.

4 A -- described, where it's two offices joining --

5 Q So what was Weiss looking for here?

6 Chairman Jordan. Yeah. Was he track one, track two, or hybrid?

7 Mr. Graves. So, again, this wasn't explicitly said, but he was talking about -- my

8 recollection of the conversation was, he was immediately talking about what he needed

9 to do and the support that he needed to complete that. So my frame of --

10 Chairman Jordan. Was it track one or track two?

11 Mr. Graves. -- my frame of reference, how I'm hearing it, is, he is most focused

12 on getting his charges brought by his people in the District.

13 I am the one that introduces the idea of, "Hey, can we maybe join up with this?"

14 And he says, "We can discuss that."

15 Chairman Jordan. Well, why would you do that? If that's not one of the two 16 tracks, why would you do that?

17 And you just told us earlier that U.S. Attorney's Offices, when they're on the 18 receiving end, someone's coming in, they don't like that. The investigation's been going

19 for 3 years; you've got, as I said before, two cooks in the kitchen then.

20 Why would you offer that?

21 Mr. Graves. So the giving end, in my experience, rarely -- the end that already 22 has the case very rarely wants to do that, for all of the reasons you just articulated.

23 Chairman Jordan. Right.

24 Mr. Graves. The end that's on the receiving end of it is looking at things

25 differently. And I laid out some of the considerations before.

1 Like, you know, particularly in complex matters where there's gonna be a lot of
2 litigation, you can have authority generated in the course of those cases that you're stuck
3 with. And if you have a bunch of people who aren't from the jurisdiction litigating those 4 issues -- and this has happened to us with Main Justice components before -- that can
5 have massive programmatic consequences for you.
6 Chairman Jordan. And 3 weeks later, you decided you didn't want to go that 7 route.
8 Mr. Graves. Yes, that is correct.
9 Chairman Jordan. Okay. So you can't have it -- I guess the point we're making
10 is, you can't have it every way. You can't say there's two tracks, but then you
11 offered -- and you don't like the second track, necessarily, or you do like the second track
12 because it's gonna be in your district and you're gonna work with them, and then 3 weeks
13 later decide you don't want to do it and there's this hybrid model.
14 I mean, that's what's creating all the confusion, not to mention the three different
15 things we got from U.S. Attorney Weiss in the correspondence to Congress.
16 Mr. Graves. So let me try to unpack everything. So what I'm talking
17 about -- because we are talking about two tracks in a different context.
18 Putting aside this investigation, the cases that I've typically seen where there has 19 been a venue issue -- a gun case where someone is going back and forth over Eastern 20 Avenue, which is the dividing line between us and Maryland in one quadrant, and the 21 case actually should've been brought in a different jurisdiction -- those cases, the 22 conversations are, are we gonna bring people in as SAUSAs, special assistant United 23 States attorneys, or are we going to transfer the case to the right jurisdiction? Like, how 24 are we logistically gonna make it work?
25 I agree that, in general, I can't think of a time where in an ongoing case U.S.

1 Attorney's Offices have teamed up.

2 As a career prosecutor, I had a case where I had an investigation, the Southern

3 District of New York had an investigation; the same company was the target of the

4 investigation. We ultimately agreed that we should do it in one jurisdiction and we

5 would team up and have our resolution together. But that wasn't talking about trying a

6 case together, which is a different animal.

7 There are a host of reasons not to join an existing -- any existing investigation.

8 There are also countervailing reasons to join an investigation that is gonna come into your

9 jurisdiction that might be of some significance and likely will lead to the creation of 10 binding authority. And those weigh against each other. And that's what we had to 11 weigh against each other on an incredibly short and compressed timeframe.

12 BY [redacted]

13 Q It's very unusual for Weiss to call you directly, right? You've only had one

14 conversation during this saga, right?

15 A So, I mean, I don't know that I'd characterize it as unusual. I would say, in

16 the past, that when these issues have come up, they've kind of started at the line level

17 and worked their way up. There are some obvious sensitivities around this one --

18 Q But, clearly, Weiss called you because he wanted to bring a case in D.C.,

19 right?

20 A Yes.

21 Q So he wanted to bring a case in D.C. And, you know, as I understand what

22 you're saying, there are two tracks: Either you take over the case for him, or you

23 facilitate him prosecuting the case.

24 A Yes.

25 Q So that 3-week process, was that an evaluation of whether you were gonna

1 take the case over for him?

2 A It was an evaluation of whether we would continue the conversation that I

3 started about whether he'd be open to us joining the case.

4 Q Okay. And so would that have been a hybrid model?

5 A That would've been the rare hybrid model that we were proposing --

6 Q Okay.

7 A -- yes.

8 Q So there are three tracks.

9 A I've never seen track three before, in all candor.

10 Q Okay.

11 So Weiss wanted, though -- Weiss wanted to bring the case. Did he tell you he 12 needed your help, your partnership? Did he need that hybrid model?

13 A No. And that was after our communication -- after we communicated that

14 we were not gonna explore potentially joining the investigation, I never heard anything

15 about that decision.

16 Q So I think we're just wondering why you couldn't have just facilitated track

17 one and let Weiss bring the case himself with his own U.S. attorneys.

18 A We could have started in that position. And that's where we ultimately 19 landed of what we were going to do. From my perspective, we were back in what we

20 are now calling track one.

21 Q Uh-huh. But, unquestionably, I mean, Weiss believed that you had denied 22 him the ability to bring a case in D.C.

23 A I don't know what he believed, and that's not my read of the letters, 24 necessarily.

25 Q It's not just what he wrote in the letters. It's what was related to the

1 witnesses that we have subsequently spoken with -- I mean, all the witnesses, from, you
2 know, the two FBI officials, who aren't whistleblowers by any stretch --
3 A Uh-huh.
4 Q -- you know, in addition to the two whistleblowers, and then the IRS officials
5 who are more senior than the whistleblowers, who had direct communication with Weiss.
6 A Uh-huh.
7 Q I mean, universally, their understanding was, the D.C. U.S. Attorney's Office
8 denied us the ability to bring the case, or declined to partner, or whatever word you want
9 to use.
10 [redacted] I think those are two separate things. And I am concerned that what 11 you just said mischaracterizes at least some of the testimony that witnesses have 12 provided.
13 Mr. Graves. So I have never heard that the ability to go forward was predicated
14 on our decision of whether we should assign one of our own AUSAs to the case or not.
15 Which is essentially what we're talking about: Are we gonna have an assistant United 16 States attorney from the District of Columbia on the case?
17 Chairman Jordan. I just want to make -- we can simplify this. Like, it's either
18 they bring the case or you take over the case. That's how it's always worked, until this 19 one.
20 And, in this one, there was this hybrid model put forward where -- and it was 21 offered by you. And you said, we can partner with you, you know, like we're a partner, 22 whatever, we can join with you, we can -- this different model than what's ever been
23 used, this different model. And then you take 3 weeks to discuss it and decide, no, 24 we're not gonna do that, and it's back to they bring the case.
25 Mr. Graves. So --

1 Chairman Jordan. Is that summarizing it?

2 Mr. Graves. Yeah, so let me clarify. When I'm saying "not used," it's not

3 something we typically do with other U.S. attorneys -- it's not something we do generally

4 with other U.S. Attorney's Offices, because, in general, U.S. Attorney's Offices don't work

5 together.

6 What I had in the back of my mind and what I've definitely seen before is, when

7 Main Justice components come into our jurisdiction, special counsel's offices come into

8 our jurisdiction, it's not uncommon for us to assign an assistant if that component wants

9 an assistant on those cases as special counsel.

10 Chairman Jordan. But that wasn't this case. This is just another U.S. attorney.

11 This wasn't Main Justice; this wasn't a special counsel.

12 Mr. Graves. It is another U.S. attorney, but it is another U.S. attorney -- this isn't

13 some gun case that happened to go across Eastern Avenue. This is a white-collar case

14 where they're -- this is a white-collar case where, based on the nature of the charges

15 contemplated, you could expect that there is gonna be a lot of litigation and litigation

16 that might create binding precedent in our jurisdiction.

17 BY [redacted]

18 Q Were you aware that a statute of limitations was about to expire?

19 A I don't think I'm allowed to get into that, given the contours of what I've 20 been authorized to discuss.

21 Q Were you aware of the nature of the 2014 and 2015 income at issue here

22 that was not reported?

23 A Yeah, I don't think I'm allowed to get into that, given the contours of what I

24 have been allowed to discuss.

25 Q But do you know the answer?

1 A So, again, if I get into that I know the answer, then that's a backdoor way of
2 getting into --
3 Q I don't think so. You either know the answer or you don't know the 4 answer, but that doesn't get into the substance.
5 A Um --
6 Q If all the restrictions the Justice Department has imposed on you were lifted,
7 would you be able to answer my question?
8 A So, to be clear, the reason the restrictions exist is because we are trying to 9 protect the integrity of an investigation that is very much ongoing. Like, what is and is 10 not in that investigation I don't know, and I, candidly, in my role, should not know.
11 So I'm trying to be very careful not to say anything which we acknowledged at the 12 outset might become public that could be deleterious to that investigation.
13 Q Okay.
14 Can I have that exhibit?
15 This is exhibit 4?
16 The Reporter. Uh-huh.
17 Mr. Graves. Well, this is convenient.
18 [redacted] Yeah.
19 [Graves Exhibit No. 4
20 Was marked for identification.]
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q This is an email from Eric Schwerin, one of Hunter Biden's business
23 associates.
24 A Uh-huh.
25 Q In the fourth paragraph -- take your time reading it. I'm gonna direct your

1 attention to the fourth paragraph, though, when you're ready.

2 A Okay, I've read it.

3 Q Page 2 is an easier one to read.

4 A Yes, page 2 was very easy to read.

5 Q Were you aware that, in 2014 and 2015, in the Hunter Biden case -- we're

6 talking about the Burisma income. I mean, he's making, like, a million bucks a year for 7 doing nothing except, potentially, political favors.

8 Were you aware that the 2014 and 2015 income hadn't been captured for tax

9 purposes?

10 A So, again, I appreciate -- and I'm reviewing the exhibit. Again, I can't get

11 into the ongoing investigation and facts that were considered and not considered during 12 the course of it, because it gets into our internal deliberations.

13 Q Last hour, Democratic counsel asked you -- you know, you were talking

14 about how intent is very tricky with tax cases sometimes. Is that right?

15 A Yes, it can be, in general.

16 Q Okay. But if you have an email from your business partner whose -- you

17 know, Eric Schwerin's job was to manage this money for Hunter Biden. If you have an

18 email to the potential defendant which states, "In 2014" -- this is the fourth paragraph

19 down, second sentence of the fourth paragraph.

20 "In 2014 you joined the Burisma board and we still need to amend your 2014

21 returns to reflect the unreported Burisma income. That is approximately $400,000 extra

22 so your income in 2014 was closer to [$1.2 million]."

23 This is a pretty good piece of evidence that goes to intent, isn't it?

24 A So what I can say in general, in the context of -- in general about tax returns

25 is, in my experience, individuals who have businesses and complicated taxes are not

1 preparing their tax returns themselves. There is a tax-return preparer. So, in tax cases
2 in general, it often comes down to what was and was not communicated to the tax
3 preparer --
4 Q Okay.
5 A -- and what the taxpayer directed others to tell.
6 Q Uh-huh.
7 A So it could be that you have a communication where someone is talking
8 about income. Well, then you have to trace down, did the taxpayer expect that person
9 to tell the tax preparer? Did the person actually forward the --
10 Q Okay.
11 A -- document to the tax preparer and it --
12 Q I mean, you sound --
13 A -- got lost?
14 Q -- like a defense attorney for Hunter Biden.
15 A No, but this is -- but, like, this is very serious. This is what you have to do as 16 a prosecutor.
17 Q Right.
18 A You have to think through all the defenses and how we're going to disprove
19 it.
20 I have to go down and deal with, if I'm in a tax case like this, saying, "In addition,
21 you reported a million dollars of income that all went to RSB, and you report 180,616 --
22 Q Right.
23 A -- in income that also went to RSB. You didn't receive this in cash, and it is 24 really phantom income. So, like, I have questions about, did you over-report?" And all 25 of that gets complicated in a tax-evasion scheme.

1 So that's just one example of --

2 Q But Schwerin is telling Hunter Biden, "You didn't report your Burisma

3 income." He's getting a million bucks a year -- you know, $83,000, I think, a month. I

4 mean, isn't this at least a good piece of evidence that goes to intent?

5 A I can't judge from the outside of the investigation. I'd also note that this is

6 in 2017, so it's clearly some retrospective. I'd have questions about whether the taxes

7 were paid, because that could be consistent with a good-faith mistake. So it's very

8 complicated.

9 Q Okay.

10 During your discussions with your team in March of 2022, was statute of 11 limitations brought up?

12 A Again, I can't get into internal deliberations. What I can say at a very high

13 level -- and I have acknowledged today, we were -- I instructed my team to operate on a

14 very tight and compressed timeframe and to do the best we could do. And that wasn't 15 arbitrary, that we were doing that.

16 Q Do you think Weiss and his team believed you had a gatekeeper role here?

17 A I don't know. I had always assumed not, because of the steps we were 18 taking to facilitate the bringing of charges.

19 Q What did your team tell you about the result of the -- you had your meeting

20 March 19th. Your team then communicated to the U.S. Attorney's Office in Delaware

21 the outcome of that meeting, that you weren't gonna join, you weren't gonna partner.

22 What feedback did you get from your team about how Weiss reacted?

23 A So, to my understanding, U.S. Attorney Weiss was not part of that

24 conversation that occurred at the career level.

25 Q Okay.

1 A At a high level, what I can say is, there certainly weren't concerns raised
2 about an inability to go forward if we didn't assign an assistant to the case.
3 Q Uh-huh.
4 A And to the extent substance of the investigation and that kind of stuff was
5 discussed, there was nothing that I learned that was new --
6 Q Okay.
7 A -- that was from that conversation.
8 Q Do you think Weiss thought he needed a D.C.-based U.S. attorney from your 9 office on the trial team?
10 A So I'd always been under the impression -- my belief was, no, he didn't think
11 that.
12 Q Okay.
13 A Because, remember, when I raised, would you be open to us adding 14 someone, he said that's something we would discuss. It wasn't, like, "Absolutely. We 15 can't go forward without you adding someone."
16 Q Right.
17 A That was not the response that I recall.
18 Q Okay. So, then, were you surprised when you saw his letters, which -- you
19 know, the plain language of the letters indicates that he thought he needed you.
20 A I don't read the letters that way, necessarily, collectively. I read the letters
21 as saying either I was gonna partner with them, whatever partnership looks like --
22 Q Uh-huh.
23 A -- whether that's just them kind of making my people special assistants or 24 them adding an assistant to the case so that we're full-fledged partners --
25 Q Uh-huh.

A -- or I was gonna get authority under 515. And I knew that I would get authority under 515, because the Attorney General told me, if it came to that, he would do that.

Q Uh-huh.

Who is J.P. Cooney?

A He is a career prosecutor who was in our office.

Q Is he one of the people involved with the March 19th meeting?

A So, again, I'm gonna go through Office of Legislative Affairs in, kind of, providing specific names.

Q I mean, I just want to know if he was involved with this particular meeting. Was he one of the four -- he was not the principal assistant, we know that, right?

A So --

[redacted] I'm sorry. I think what Mr. Graves has said a couple of times now is that, to the extent you have questions about individuals --

[redacted] I do.

[redacted] -- who participated, that we are happy to discuss those with you offline, but, given the concerns he has expressed about the safety of his prosecutors, that we would prefer not to discuss names --

[redacted] Yeah. I'm very sensitive --

[redacted] -- in a transcript -- in a transcript.

BY [redacted]

Q I'm very sensitive to safety concerns, but come on. I'm asking you whether J.P. Cooney was in the March 19th meeting. Let's get real. That's not going to, you know, invoke safety concerns here.

A What I can tell you is, I've unfortunately had way too many instances of 1 documents getting into the public domain that have our prosecutors' names in them and

2 me receiving what we call urgent reports about security concerns because of threatening
3 or harassing behavior that they're receiving --
4 Q Uh-huh.
5 A -- and that we've had to take steps for a number of people in our office to 6 mitigate the risk.
7 Q Okay. So you're refusing to acknowledge whether he was in this March 8 19th meeting?
9 A I am laying forward what I would believe to be a very reasonable
10 accommodation, not to have this in a transcript which we all acknowledge might become 11 public at some point in time.
12 Q Okay. Do you want to go off the record and tell us?
13 [redacted] Are you going to redact his name?
14 [redacted] I said go off the record and you can tell us.
15 [redacted] Why don't we take this question back, [redacted]
16 [redacted] So you're not willing to go off the record and tell us; then it wouldn't 17 be in the transcript. And then -- so it's like a totally different answer now.
18 Mr. Graves. So --
19 [redacted] I'm inviting you to go off the record, and then it's not in the 20 transcript.
21 [redacted] The scope of what he's here to talk about and --
22 [redacted] That's a whole different topic.
23 [redacted] Well, I understand, but he has been here for some time now
24 discussing --
25 [redacted] It's 1 o'clock. It's not been that long.

1 [redacted] -- the scope of Mr. Weiss's authority and --

2 [redacted] Right.

3 [redacted] -- the issue of the perception or lack thereof of him being blocked in

4 the District.

5 [redacted] Uh-huh.

6 [redacted] It does not explicitly include the name and identity of every person in

7 his office or any other office that may have participated in that process.

8 [redacted] But when I first started asking about the 3/19 meeting, I was told

9 that, yeah, you can have the names, you just can't do it on the record.

10 So now I'm inviting everyone to go off the record to give us the name, and now I'm 11 getting a different answer, correct?

12 [redacted] I think what he said was, let's confer -- why don't you confer with the 13 Office of Legislative Affairs.

14 [redacted] I'm conferring with you right now.

15 [redacted] And we are happy to continue conferring after the interview is done.

16 [redacted] Okay. So you're not willing to go off the record and tell us.

17 [redacted] I'm not willing to do that right now, given the concerns that have 18 been expressed.

19 [redacted] Okay.

20 We've got, like, a minute left, boss. Got anything else?

21 Chairman Jordan. Off the record.

22 [redacted] Okay. We're done with our hour.

23 Mr. Graves. Great.

24 [Recess.]

25 [redacted] It is 1:16. We can go back on the record.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q U.S. Attorney Graves, we had talked through the letters that Mr. Weiss sent
3 to Congress in the prior hour pretty extensively, but I don't think the letters were actually
4 put in front of you at any stage. So I want to walk through the letters themselves and 5 just ask you if you have any information that contradicts them.

6 So we will start with the June 7, 2023, letter from Mr. Weiss to Chairman Jordan.
7 We'll mark that as exhibit 5.

8 [Graves Exhibit No. 5
9 Was marked for identification.]

10 Mr. Graves. Okay, I'm prepared.

11 BY [redacted]

12 Q Have you seen this letter before?

13 A I have.

14 Q Okay. And so you know that this letter, it's actually -- it's a response that 15 Mr. Weiss sent to a May 25th letter from Chairman Jordan.

16 A I see that in the body of the letter. I have not seen the May 25th letter.

17 Q Okay. And this letter is a response to Chairman Jordan's letter about the 18 matter involving, among others, Robert Hunter Biden, correct?

19 A That is my understanding from reading the June 7th letter, correct.

20 Q Okay.

21 The second paragraph of this letter reads, quote, "While your letter does not
22 specify by name the ongoing investigation that is the subject of the Committee's
23 oversight, its content suggests your inquiry is related to an investigation in my District.
24 If my assumption is correct, I want to make clear that, as the Attorney General has stated,
25 I have been granted ultimate authority over this matter, including responsibility for

1 deciding where, when, and whether to file charges and for making decisions necessary to
2 preserve the integrity of the prosecution, consistent with federal law, the Principles of
3 Federal Prosecution, and Departmental regulations."
4 Did I read that correctly?
5 A You read that correctly.
6 Q Are you aware of any information which contradicts Mr. Weiss's statement
7 that he was granted ultimate authority over this matter?
8 A No.
9 Q Are you aware of any information that contradicts Mr. Weiss's statement 10 that his authority over this matter includes responsibility to decide where, when, and 11 whether to file charges?
12 A No.
13 Q And are you aware of any information that contradicts Mr. Weiss's 14 statement that his authority over this matter includes making all decisions necessary to 15 preserve the integrity of the prosecution?
16 A No.
17 Q And I want to turn to the last paragraph of this letter, which is actually on 18 page 3 of the letter.
19 That paragraph reads, quote, "In February 2021, I was asked to remain as United 20 States Attorney for the District of Delaware to continue my oversight of the matter.
21 Since that time, I have fulfilled my responsibilities, consistent with Department practices
22 and procedures, and will continue to do so. Throughout my tenure as U.S. Attorney my 23 decisions have been made -- and with respect to the matter must be made -- without 24 reference to political considerations."
25 Did I read that correctly?

1 A You read that correctly.

2 Q Are you aware of any information that contradicts Mr. Weiss's statement

3 that his decisions in this matter have been made without reference to political

4 considerations?

5 A I am not aware of any such information.

6 Q Okay.

7 So, following Mr. Weiss's June 7, 2023, letter, Chairman Jordan wrote to Mr. Weiss

8 directly. Mr. Weiss responded on June 30, 2023, and I'm going to introduce that letter

9 as exhibit 6.

10 [Graves Exhibit No. 6

11 Was marked for identification.]

1 [1:21 p.m.]

2 Mr. Graves. All right.

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q Have you seen this letter before?

5 A I have.

6 Q Okay. The third paragraph of this letter reads: First, the Department of

7 Justice did not retaliate against, quote, an Internal Revenue Service, IRS, criminal

8 supervisory special agent and whistleblower, as well as his entire investigative team, for

9 making protected disclosures to Congress.

10 Are you aware of any information that contradicts this statement?

11 A I am not.

12 Q The June 30th letter then quotes his June 7th letter. That's at the bottom

13 of the first page.

14 A Yeah.

15 Q And then it continues on, on the second page. As the U.S. attorney -- I'm 16 sorry.

17 It says that: I stand by what I wrote and wish to expand on what this means.

18 And then it continues: As the U.S. attorney for the district of Delaware, my

19 charging authority is geographically limited to my home district. If venue for a case lies

20 elsewhere, common departmental practice is to contact the United States Attorney's

21 Office for the district in question and determine whether it wants to partner on the case.

22 If not, I may request special attorney status from the Attorney General pursuant to 28

23 U.S.C., section 515. Here, I have been assured that, if necessary after the above process,

24 I would be granted section 515 authority in the District of Columbia, the Central District of 25 California, or any other district where charges could be brought in this matter.

1 Did I read that correctly?

2 A You read that correctly.

3 Q Are you aware of any information that contradicts Mr. Weiss' statement that

4 he was assured that he would be granted by section 515 authority if another U.S.

5 Attorney's Office declined to partner with him on the case?

6 A I am not aware of anything that contradicts that statement.

7 Q And, finally, Senator Lindsey Graham, who is the Republican senior ranking

8 member on the Senate Judiciary Committee, wrote to Mr. Weiss on June 28, 2023, and 9 Mr. Weiss responded on July 10th, 2023.

10 [redacted] We'll introduce that as exhibit 7.

11 [Graves Exhibit No. 7

12 Was marked for identification.]

13 Mr. Graves. Okay.

14 Q The first sentence of the third paragraph on the first page of this letter

15 reads, quote: To clarify an apparent misperception and to avoid future confusion, I wish

16 to make one point clear. In this case, I have not requested special counsel designation

17 pursuant to 28 C.F.R., section 600, et seq.

18 28 C.F.R., section 600, et seq, gives the Attorney General authority to appoint a 19 special counsel, correct?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. Are you aware of any information that contradicts Mr. Weiss'

22 statement that, as of July 10th, 2023, the date of this letter, he had not requested special

23 counsel designation pursuant to 28 C.F.R., section 600, et seq?

24 A I am not.

25 Q Okay. The July 10 letter continues, quote: Rather, I had discussions with

1 departmental officials regarding potential appointment under 28 U.S.C., section 515,
2 which would have allowed me to file charges in a district outside my own without the
3 partnership of the local U.S. attorney. I was assured that I would be granted this
4 authority if it proved necessary. And this assurance came months before the October 7,
5 2022, meeting referenced throughout the whistleblower's allegations. In this case, I've 6 followed the process outlined in my June 30 letter and have never been denied the 7 authority to bring charges in any jurisdiction.
8 Did I read that correctly?
9 A Yes, you did.
10 Q To the best of your knowledge, is it accurate that Mr. Weiss was never 11 denied the authority to bring charges in any jurisdiction?
12 A Yes.
13 Q And is it true specifically with respect to the District of Columbia that Mr.
14 Weiss was never denied authority to bring charges in the District of Columbia?
15 A Yes.
16 Q Okay.
17 BY [redacted]
18 Q Okay. Mr. Graves, on September 20th of this year, Attorney General
19 Garland testified before the House Judiciary Committee, and he told the committee that,
20 quote: Mr. Weiss has full authority to conduct his investigation however he wishes,
21 unquote.
22 Do you have any information to contradict that portion of the Attorney General's 23 statement?
24 A No.
25 Q The Attorney General also said, quote: Mr. Weiss had, as I said from the

1 beginning -- at the very beginning -- that he had authority over all matters that pertain to
2 Hunter Biden, end quote.
3 Do you have any information to contradict the Attorney General's statement in 4 that respect?
5 A No.
6 Q To sum up, do you have any reason to believe that David Weiss lied to 7 Congress about the extent of the authority -- excuse me, not Weiss -- but that the 8 Attorney General had lied to Congress about the extent of the authority he had been 9 granted?
10 A Absolutely not.
11 Q I want to ask you just a little bit -- there's some confusion, I think, on this 12 committee and in the public about the authority that Mr. Weiss had.
13 And do you understand, just generally as a prosecutor, the difference between a 14 factual question and a legal question?
15 A Yes.
16 Q And generally, witnesses who are involved in testimony like you are today
17 are asked factual questions, correct?
18 A Correct.
19 Q But we may have to ask you a legal question, if you wouldn't mind giving me
20 a little bit of latitude here, because it seems to me that the confusion is a legal question
21 and not so much a factual question.
22 There, in the previous hour, were suggestions that the Attorney General may not 23 have had the authority in some respect under statutes to allow Mr. Weiss to bring 24 charges in the District of Columbia. Do you recall those questions or suggestions from 25 the previous hour?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay.

3 A Yes.

4 Q And, I mean, as you sit here before us, you don't have a statute in front of

5 you, but you do have the experience of being a United States attorney in the District of 6 Columbia, correct?

7 A Correct.

8 Q Okay.

9 [redacted] I'm going to show you what we're going to mark as exhibit 8, and this

10 is a statute.

11 [Graves Exhibit No. 8

12 Was marked for identification.]

13 BY [redacted]

14 Q It's 20 U.S.C., section 509. Just the first page, I think, is what you'll have in 15 front of you.

16 Let me ask you first, are you familiar with this statute, Mr. Graves?

17 A I am not.

18 Q Okay. Just direct your attention to section 509, which is the bold part of 19 the first column. It's entitled "Functions of the Attorney General."

20 If you just want to review that brief section.

21 A Yes.

22 Q Let me know when you've had a chance to see it.

23 A Yes.

24 Q Okay. Now, this statute says, quote: All functions of other officers of the 25 Department of Justice and all functions of agencies and employees of the Department of

1 Justice are vested in the Attorney General except these functions.

2 And then it lists, under paragraph 1 there, vested -- those vested by subchapter 2

3 of chapter 5 of title 5, administrative law judges?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And then it accepts certain responsibilities in the Federal Prisons Industries,

6 correct?

7 A Correct.

8 Q And, finally, it accepts certain responsibilities in the board of directors and

9 offices of the Federal Prison Industries, Inc., correct?

10 A Correct.

11 Q But everything else, at least according to this statute, is vested in the 12 Attorney General by 28 U.S.C 509, correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q Okay. Based on your experience as a lawyer and particularly a United

15 States attorney in your reading of the statute, is there any reason that you would have to 16 believe that Attorney General Garland did not have the authority to delegate to Mr.

17 Weiss the ability to bring any criminal charges against Hunter Biden anywhere in the 18 United States in any venue he chose?

19 A I'd have no reason to doubt that the Attorney General has that authority,

20 and it is my belief that the Attorney General has that authority. We all act at the

21 direction of the Attorney General unless the Attorney General directs us to do something

22 illegal, immoral, or unethical. We have an obligation to file. And, to be clear, the

23 Attorney General has never directed me or anyone else, to my knowledge, to do anything

24 illegal, immoral, or unethical.

25 Q Okay. So we talked at length about certain policies of the Department of

1 Justice and certain, I guess, procedures that are outlined in the Justice Manual. For
2 example, in tax cases that you might have to go to the Tax Division to get certain
3 approvals or permissions.
4 All of that approval or permission of policy, those are policies that are at the 5 discretion of the Attorney General of the United States. Is that fair to say?
6 A That is my understanding, yes.
7 Q Okay. So, if he promises to Congress -- the Attorney General, that is -- that 8 Mr. Weiss is going to have the authority to bring any charge anywhere in the United 9 States in any district, there's no reason, as far as you understand it, that that was not the 10 case here?
11 A Correct. And he has the authority to deliver on that -- he uniquely has the 12 authority to deliver on that commitment.
13 Q Okay. And I think that when [redacted] earlier was going through his 14 interpretation of Weiss' letters before we had entered them into the record, he was 15 suggesting to you that Attorney General Garland couldn't have promised Weiss the 16 authority that he said he did because of section 515, for example, or because of these 17 policies in the Justice Manual that talk about approvals from the Tax Division.
18 But Mr. Garland has explained that what he meant was: Mr. Weiss had the 19 authority because I said I would give it to him.
20 Do you have any reason to believe that Mr. Garland was being insincere in that 21 respect when he said that Mr. Weiss did have that authority?
22 A Absolutely not.
23 Q Okay.
24 BY [redacted]
25 Q There was discussion earlier about option one, option two, option three.

1 And I lost a little track of it, but I think option one was just offering administrative
2 assistance, and that's it.
3 And there was a statement made that, ultimately, you did offer administrative
4 assistance, but it came at the end of this 3-week period. But that wasn't accurate, right?
5 A That is -- that is correct that that was inaccurate.
6 Q Okay. So when did you agree to provide any logistical or administrative
7 support that Mr. Weiss could need?
8 A From the first call that Mr. Weiss made to me, we immediately began taking 9 steps on providing support.
10 Q And he was aware that you were doing that?
11 A My understanding is, yes, his people were made aware of what we were 12 doing and -- yes, of what we were doing.
13 Q Okay. And I think you said you could have declined to do that, correct?
14 A Yes.
15 Q And you used the phrase: You could have said I wasn't going to give him
16 my grand jury, for example.
17 A Yes. Yes. In theory, yes.
18 Q Okay. Can you explain broadly how it works when you let another U.S.
19 Attorney's Office or somebody or a Main Justice component use the grand jury?
20 A So we often refer to the grand jury. In actuality, at least in the District,
21 there are multiple grand juries sitting at any point in time. We maintain a schedule of 22 the grand jury. So, if you want time before a grand jury, you have to go to the 23 scheduler. If you're coming from our office and they know who you are, you can 24 request your time, and that's how you get authority to enter the grand jury.
25 If you're coming from a Main Justice component and we've what we call

1 deconflicted with them, and they're going it alone in our jurisdiction, they can reach out
2 to our coordinator, and our coordinator knows that it is a case that has been authorized
3 to be brought in our district. That's generally the process you have to follow.
4 You can't just show up at the Federal courthouse and say: I'm a Federal
5 prosecutor and I'd like to go into a grand jury now.
6 Q So, in addition to potentially making it possible for Mr. Weiss to schedule
7 time before the grand jury, was there any other logistical or administrative support that 8 you were offered to provide or, you know, could have provided?
9 A So I can't get into the specifics here. I think one thing I could generally note
10 is the extremely high number of Federal district court cases that were being brought in 11 that period of time. There were a lot of logistical demands on the court. So taking 12 steps to find available time is not -- was not necessarily an easy thing.
13 Q Okay. And so by saying "I will give you whatever support you need," what 14 you meant is: If you need time before a grand jury, we will make that happen. If you
15 need trial time or if you need time before a judge, we can make that happen. Right?
16 [redacted] And I'm sorry. But I think he can answer that hypothetically with 17 respect to such a conversation with any prosecutor looking to come into here, but I want
18 to be very careful not to get into specific steps that he may or may not or that his team
19 may or may not have offered to make available in this case.
20 Mr. Graves. Yeah. And so -- and I think I can clear this up even without going 21 to the hypothetical to more just, like, general.
22 As I recall the conversation, my question is -- was: What do you need?
23 And my attitude was: Of course we're going to provide it to you.
24 So, you know, how he heard it, what he expected, and the long litany of things
25 one could need in returning, I don't know, but I could just say my immediate response is,

1 "What do you need"; I was trying to signal we will give you whatever you need logistically.
2 BY [redacted]
3 Q And you never heard anything from Mr. Weiss directly suggesting that he 4 thought he would not get the support that he needed from your office?
5 A I never heard anything from him directly, and I never indirectly heard they 6 thought that something we were doing in D.C. was preventing them from taking some 7 step that they wanted to take.
8 Q Okay. And you said that, after the March 19th meeting or the meeting that 9 took place approximately on March 19th -- after your team made the decision not to join
10 the case, that was relayed back to Mr. Weiss?
11 A So I didn't get into the specifics because I'm precluded of what happened at 12 the March 19th and what the decision was.
13 I said what my direction to the team was when they were tasked. I said that 14 there was a conversation. And then after that meeting was when we conveyed to the 15 District that we would not be looking -- when we conveyed to Delaware that we wouldn't 16 be looking to add our own prosecutor to the case.
17 Q Thank you for that clarification.
18 A Yeah.
19 Q So that information was relayed back to Delaware late March 2023
20 approximately?
21 A I believe so.
22 Q Or 2022. I'm sorry.
23 A 2022. Yes. I believe so. And I'm kind of going off of a calendar entry for 24 the March 19th date to help me kind of -- whatever it is -- a year and a half after the 25 fact -- kind of repiece together the chronology.

1 Q Okay. And you said, based on what was occurring at that time -- again,
2 getting back to the question of logistical support.
3 You said, based on what was occurring at that time, there could be no doubt that
4 Weiss knew he had the administrative and logistical support that he needed?
5 A So, from my perspective, based on what we were doing, I would be surprised
6 if he didn't think he had -- I would be surprised if he didn't know that we were serious
7 about providing the support that he needed to get the case indicted if he wanted to indict
8 the case.
9 Q And is that because support had been provided at that stage?
10 A It was because of specific steps that we had taken, yes.
11 Q Okay. Have you ever had a case where -- and I'm sorry. I'm talking about 12 grand juries broadly, not with respect to this or any other case.
13 Grand juries serve a number of functions, right?
14 So they can return a true bill?
15 A Correct.
16 Q But grand juries can also authorize certain investigative steps to be taken,
17 right?
18 A So you would technically need to have an open grand jury matter to cut
19 grand jury subpoenas, for instance. Yes.
20 Q Okay. Have you ever had a case where a grand jury has declined to issue
21 an indictment?
22 A I am sure, at some point in time, I've seen a no-true bill. I can't think of a
23 specific instance off the top of my head.
24 Q But it does happen?
25 A It does happen.

1 Q And if the grand jury declines to take that step, then the case is effectively
2 over, right?
3 A It's a little bit more complicated than that, but that would be a serious
4 impediment to overcome.
5 Q And short of returning a true bill, as you said, you have to have an open
6 grand jury to take certain investigative steps, correct?
7 A Yes. You are supposed to have an open grand jury before you issue any 8 grand jury subpoenas in connection with that investigation.
9 Q And so, if a grand jury subpoena -- sometimes those grand jury subpoenas
10 are issued, and that brings back returns with relevant information for the case, correct?
11 A Correct.
12 Q And that can help inform whether to move forward with the case, correct?
13 A That is correct.
14 Q Okay. All right. I want to move on to something else that you've referred 15 to a couple times over the course of today.
16 In the very first hour, you said that you were already dealing with enough threats
17 to your career prosecutors?
18 A Yes.
19 Q And, in the last hour, you referenced urgent concerns being brought to your 20 attention about threats to the prosecutors. And I want to go through both of those 21 statements in a little bit of detail.
22 What is an urgent concern?
23 A So we have a mechanism within the Department for filing what we call
24 urgent reports, which is when something of significance needs to be elevated. And one
25 of those things is when there is a threat on prosecutors.

1 Q And, when you receive an urgent concern, what's the response in your
2 office?
3 A So we have a district office security manager -- DOSM is what we call
4 them -- who helps to ensure our safety. We also have Federal 1811 agents who are in
5 our office. We, in general --
6 Q Sorry to interrupt you, but what is an 1811 agent?
7 A Sorry. They are agents who are authorized to -- with arrest authority and 8 to carry firearms.
9 Q Thank you.
10 A They will often be alerted -- an assessment will be done of a security
11 situation in terms of, like, how credible the threat is, and then there will be mitigation 12 measures that are put in place depending on how credible the threat is.
13 Q When you previously served in the U.S. Attorney's Office as a line attorney, 14 were you aware of urgent concerns being brought to the office?
15 A Yes. I mean, we prosecute -- in, like, violent crime context -- cartels and 16 gang members, and there have been times when people who have done violent crime
17 cases where an assessment has been done that security measures had to be 18 implemented.
19 Q In your time now as a U.S. attorney, would you say that there are more
20 urgent concern matters being brought to your attention than in your time previously as a 21 line attorney?
22 A So, in my prior role, I wouldn't have had visibility into the totality and all of 23 that. I mean, from what I hear from those that did, though, yes, there are 24 greater -- there are a greater number of threats, and the nature of the threat is more
25 pervasive than what we've seen in the past.

1 Q What do you mean by "more pervasive"?

2 A So, in what I was used to and what I saw before, if you were prosecuting a

3 gang, a threat potentially could emanate from that gang, right? And so there is one set

4 of mitigation measures for that.

5 What we're seeing now is individuals from across the country who are not directly

6 affiliated with any of the subjects of our investigation engaging in threatening and

7 harassing conduct, which is harder to get your arms around because you know you're

8 seeing effectively the tip of the iceberg. You know that this is -- the sentiment is out

9 there. That people are trying to fuel the sentiment of stoking ire against these

10 dedicated civil servants. And you really don't even know the extent of it because it's not

11 group-affiliated.

12 If I am prosecuting a crew, I know the people -- you generally know who is in the 13 crew, and it's easier to take mitigation measures there.

14 Q Have you had to take specific mitigation measures to protect the

15 prosecutor -- and I don't want to get into specific cases, but have you had to take broadly

16 mitigation measures to protect the prosecutors in your office?

17 A Yes. We've had to do that, and I personally have had to do that.

18 Q For yourself?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Do you have concerns sitting here today for the safety of your office's

21 employees?

22 A Yes. Yes. Absolutely, which is why I am so hesitant to put on a public

23 record of a document -- that we all acknowledged at the outset might become

24 public -- individual names because, given the subject matter, the trajectory I've seen is as

25 soon as those individual names get out in the public, there's immediately, at a minimum,

1 harassing, if not legally threatening conduct that ensues.

2 Q And, sitting here today, do you have concerns for your own personal safety?

3 A Less of concerns for my safety than for my people's safety. More concerns

4 for my family's safety than my safety.

5 [redacted] Okay. All right.

6 We can go off the record. Thank you.

7 [Discussion off the record.]

8 [redacted] Back on the record. It's 1:45.

9 BY [redacted]

10 Q A couple questions about January 6 cases.

11 How many prosecutors do you have working on January 6 cases?

12 A So we have less than 3 percent of our full-time prosecutors working on 13 January 6 cases currently.

14 Q What's that number? 3 percent of 400?

15 A So it's 3 percent of, like, 370. We have less -- we have fewer than 10

16 people who all they do full time is work on January 6. There are a number of term

17 AUSAs who are specially designated for a brief period of time who we otherwise wouldn't

18 have and people who are on detail from other components that are prosecuting those

19 cases.

20 Q Can you give us any insight into the Ray Epps case and why he's only been

21 charged with one count of disorderly -- or disruptive conduct?

22 A So I obviously can't get into an ongoing investigation.

23 Q Okay. There's been some public outcry over some of the defendants, little

24 old ladies, that have been sentenced to long prison terms. What's your response to

25 that?

1 A So, without getting into any specific case, what I can say is, to my knowledge,
2 every sentence that we have asked for in the context of our January 6 cases has been
3 compliant with the United States sentencing guidelines, which is where we start our 4 analysis and, in this context, end our analysis.
5 Q So the age of a defendant isn't something you consider?
6 A So you, under what we call the 3553 factors, can consider personal 7 characteristics of a defendant, but the sentencing guidelines themselves -- which is where 8 we're supposed to begin our sentencing analysis -- do not take into account the 9 individual's age.
10 Q January 6 defendants haven't been awarded time served. Why is that?
11 A I am not aware of that. I think they have.
12 Q They have been awarded time served?
13 A Yes.
14 Q So they've been held pending trial?
15 A Yes. It should be automatic. Yes.
16 Q Okay. How many individuals are you currently trying to hunt down for 17 January 6-related crimes that you haven't indicted yet?
18 A So the FBI has received numerous tips about individuals who illegally -- not 19 only illegally entered the Capitol Grounds that day because the grounds outside the 20 Capitol are restricted, but the building itself -- and/or engaged in acts of violence or 21 destruction. There are estimates that there were thousands of individuals who might 22 fall into that category.
23 The Attorney General said we will seek to hold individuals accountable for their 24 conduct. Those -- FBI continues to investigate those leads, and we continue to assess 25 the results of their investigative fruits.

1 Q So how many people are you currently in the process of hunting down or
2 collecting that you haven't indicted yet?
3 A So there's no, like, set figure out there of we have to get this many people.
4 We are getting cases and considering cases as they're being presented to us, and if we
5 think -- consistent with the principles of Federal prosecution that we discussed
6 today -- the prosecution is warranted, we're going to go forward.
7 Q Okay. Have you been prosecuting individuals that were on the Capitol
8 Grounds but not -- that did not enter the building?
9 A Usually, for those prosecutions, it's only if there is some type of what we 10 would call aggravating factor: assaultive conduct, destructive conduct, interfering with 11 police officers, inciting others to enter the building even if you haven't yourself entered 12 the building.
13 Q And what's the charge for somebody that is accused of inciting others to 14 enter the building?
15 A So everybody -- to be clear, everybody who was on Capitol Grounds in the 16 context of January 6 -- there is probable cause that they have violated 18 U.S.C. 1752, and 17 we are exercising our prosecutorial discretion not to charge most of them.
18 Q But there's an intent element, if they didn't know the Capitol Grounds were 19 closed?
20 A Oh, absolutely. We have to prove that in all the cases. But in those 21 cases -- and it is the most photographed crime scene ever. There are bike racks that are 22 overturned, snow fencing that's overturned, officers that are trying to restrict, alarms
23 blaring. It's not that difficult to prove.
24 Q What's the charge for inciting others to enter the building?
25 A So, again, we're choosing to -- I mean, you can charge a number of different

1 of things, but you have to come back to the first principle of, just by being out there, even
2 if you weren't inciting anyone else, there is a valid 1752 charge there.
3 Q But what are some of the charges one could be charged with for inciting
4 others to enter the building?
5 A It depends on the evidence. It could be -- depending on the fact-specific
6 evidence, you could have an 18 U.S.C. 231. You could also have an 18 U.S.C. 1512. It
7 just depends.
8 Q And what are they? What are those two?
9 A 1512 is obstruction of an official proceeding, and 231 is civil disorder.
10 Q And what are the penalties for those?
11 A Well, there are statutory maximums, and then there's guidelines. The 231,
12 the statutory maximum is a 5-year penalty. 18 U.S.C. 1512 is a 20-year maximum. But 13 the guidelines in general are nowhere near the maximums, particularly for the 1512.
14 Q Mr. Epps was, you know, photographed on video -- captured on video
15 encouraging people to go into the Capitol. It's pretty demonstrative. Have you seen
16 that video?
17 A I believe I've seen some video, but to where your ultimate question is, I can't 18 get into the specifics of Mr. Epps' prosecution.
19 Q Have you seen the public video, though, about Mr. Epps?
20 A I believe I've seen some at some point in time.
21 Q But he hasn't been charged with 1512 obstruction?
22 A No. That is not the current charge. That is not the charge.
23 Q And he hasn't been charged with 231, has he?
24 A No. That is not the charge.
25 Q Okay. So he's not facing a 5-year penalty or a 20-year penalty?

1 A No. That's not the statutory maximum.

2 Q But others in similar circumstances have been facing those?

3 A Again, I can't get into the specifics of his prosecution. But I would say, in 4 general, we take great pains to try -- even though there was collective action that was 5 engaged on in that day -- to look at the individual and what they specifically did because
6 there's a pretty wide range of conduct, and it's a fact-intensive inquiry as to where people
7 should fall on the spectrum.

8 Q There's been a lot of criticisms from our Members that the January 6
9 defendants have been held pending trial unfairly. What's your response to that?

10 A We seek detention where we're lawfully able to do so and we believe it is 11 appropriate. I'd also note, in terms of our overall Federal prosecutions -- and I could get 12 you the specific numbers, but just kind of knowing our docket -- the percentage of 13 January 6 defendants that are detained or have been detained pretrial is greatly smaller
14 than, in general, our Federal defendants who are detained pretrial.

15 Q Okay. I mean, there's no bail in the Federal system. But what is the 16 analysis that goes through to determine whether someone is held over to trial?

17 A In general, it comes down to, are they at risk of flight, or are they a danger?

18 Q Okay. And everyone that's been held is either one or the other?

19 A Correct.

20 Q Is there any opportunity for those defendants waiting trial to appeal?

21 A Yes. And, to be clear, we don't unilaterally make the determination. We 22 seek detention. It goes to a magistrate judge. A magistrate judge makes the 23 determination. That magistrate judge's determination can be appealed by either party
24 to the Article III district court judge. The district court judge then can hear an appeal.

25 And defendants who are still detained after that process have the ability to take

1 an expedited appeal to the D.C. Circuit, which several defendants have done in the 2 January 6 context.
3 Q Do you believe some of the reporting on the January 6 cases and some of 4 the criticism you've received has been unfair?
5 A I'm not sure what you're talking about, like, with the reporting generally.
6 Q Just about individuals being treated more harshly because of their role in 7 January 6 than they would in a similarly situated crime.
8 A What I can say generally is I am not aware of a similarly situated crime to
9 January 6.
10 Q I want to call your attention to exhibit 5.
11 A Is that the June 7 letter?
12 Q Yeah. I just wanted to point out for the record the procedural history for 13 this letter is remarkably odd.
14 Mr. Weiss responds to Mr. Jordan -- he responds to -- Mr. Jordan writes the 15 Attorney General in May, and apparently, the Attorney General forwarded it to Mr. Weiss
16 to respond. Have you ever seen anything like that before?
17 A I mean, I don't know, with the caveat that I, in general, don't track filings
18 going back and forth between Congress and the Department.
19 Q No, but has the Attorney General ever asked you to respond to a letter
20 directly?
21 A Me to directly respond? No.
22 Q To Congress?
23 A Yeah.
24 Q The first sentence of the second paragraph states: While your letter does 25 not specify by name the ongoing investigation that is the subject of the committee's

1 oversight, its content suggests your inquiry is related to an investigation in my district.
2 Isn't that a weird sentence?
3 A I don't know.
4 Q It's sort of jumping to a conclusion that, although your letter doesn't specify
5 by name an ongoing investigation, I'm going to answer it anyway. I'm going to answer a
6 letter that's not written to me.
7 A [Nonverbal response.]
8 Q The letter goes on to -- are you familiar with the Linder letter?
9 A Not the letter itself.
10 Q The concept of it?
11 A The principle, yeah.
12 Q And the Linder letter lays out all the reasons Congress doesn't want to -- or 13 the executive branch and Justice Department doesn't want to give information to 14 Congress, right?
15 A I mean, I think specifically, it's about the dangers of ongoing investigations,
16 as I understand it. But I haven't reviewed the letter.
17 Q But there are other -- I mean, I can represent to you there's other topics in 18 there --
19 A Yeah. Okay.
20 Q -- that sort of covers the whole list of reasons why DOJ doesn't cooperate
21 with Congress. And a lot of that is included in this letter.
22 And I was just curious as to whether letters of this sort -- do you have any idea
23 who prepares them? Is it drafted by somebody in Main Justice?
24 A These kinds of letters, I have no -- I don't know.
25 Q You've been on the receiving end of letters from Congress?

1 A Yes.

2 Q How does the process normally work to respond?

3 A So, as with all things with elected Representatives, our responses are

4 coordinated through the Office of Legislative Affairs.

5 Q And do they just take that off your plate and handle it for you?

6 A I mean, no. I mean, while they take the lead on it, by definition, there's

7 information that only the component knows, so they have to work with the component

8 sometimes.

9 Q So how does it ordinarily work? Would you or your staff draft the response

10 for the Office of Legislative Affairs?

11 A So I don't know that I can speak to how it ordinarily works because, while 12 I've gone through this, my experience has been pretty limited.

13 Q Okay. In the limited experience that you do have, how has it worked?

14 A It was a collaborative effort in the limited experience I do have.

15 Q And who writes the first draft?

16 A I can't recall --

17 Q Okay.

18 A -- about who -- I can't recall.

19 Q During your prep for today, how many prep sessions did you have before

20 you came here today?

21 A I think that we had three sessions where the subject of the meeting was 22 today's appearance.

23 Q Okay. And were you shown any documents?

24 A I was not shown any documents in those meetings.

25 Q Okay. And did Department counsel tell you the types of questions we have

1 asked other witnesses?

2 A No.

3 Q Okay. Did they give you any guidance as to whether the interview would

4 proceed if there was a government shutdown?

5 A We did discuss that at one point in time. We did discuss that at a couple

6 points in time last week.

7 Q Okay. And what was the plan? Were you going to be appearing?

8 A Well, I was ready to follow the direction. I understood, I mean, like --

9 Q What was the direction, I guess?

10 A Whatever ultimately was reached with the committee. I mean, I think

11 there were practical questions about, if we were going to shut down, whether, for 12 instance, we'd be authorized to have a court reporter here. Things like that.

13 Q We would. We would.

14 A Yeah. So I think those were the kinds of practical things that people were 15 wondering about, but it wasn't -- I mean, I was ready to appear one way or another.

16 Q Of course. I appreciate that.

17 But, if there was a government shutdown, was it your -- did you believe you would 18 not be appearing today?

19 [redacted] This is getting into internal deliberations at the Department around

20 the impacts of a potential shutdown that didn't ultimately materialize. He's here today

21 voluntarily, and beyond that --

22 [redacted] It's not a hard question. He can either answer it or not. It's a

23 voluntary question. A voluntary interview.

24 Mr. Graves. I agree with the scope. I hope this puts it to an end. I thought it

25 was a possibility, like all of us, up until late Saturday night. It was uncertain as to what

1 was going to happen this week on a number of different fronts.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q So there was a possibility if there was a shutdown you wouldn't be able to 4 come?

5 A I thought that that was a possibility. I thought it was a possibility that I

6 would be able to come. You're asking, like, my view.

7 Q Okay. But you didn't receive ultimate guidance before the shutdown?

8 A To my recollection, it was still -- we were trying to work through the issue

9 over the weekend.

10 Q Okay. I think I understood what you were saying before that you have 11 worked with special counsels in your role as U.S. attorney. Probably not Mueller, but 12 Durham. Is that right?

13 A I can't get into --

14 Q Well, the Durham matter is over with.

15 A Yeah. So -- but, again, it would be internal deliberations.

16 Q Okay. Any other special counsels? How many special counsels have you

17 worked with? The number, not names.

18 A So, I mean, it depends. I've had interactions with, I guess, now four special

19 counsel's offices.

20 Q And would that be Hur, Durham, Smith, and what's the fourth?

21 A We're getting into, like, specifics now, and this is so far beyond my

22 conversations with then-U.S. Attorney Weiss about proceeding in my jurisdiction.

23 Q Okay. I mean, it has a relationship here because of Weiss' special counsel 24 status.

25 A Yes.

1 Q So I'm just asking for your experience, like -- okay. So it's four or five
2 special counsels that you've worked with?
3 A Yes. To my best recollection, it was four that I've had interactions -- I want
4 to be very clear --
5 Q Right.
6 A -- that I or my office have had interactions with.
7 Q And so how does it work with the special counsels? Do they have their
8 own prosecution teams, or do they use AUSAs from D.C.?
9 A Special counsels, in general, form their own prosecution teams. But, I
10 mean, they often go to preexisting people who are already prosecutors within the 11 Department to form their teams.
12 Q Okay. And so what types of coordination has to happen with your office
13 for a special counsel to bring a case?
14 A That is -- well, coordination to bring a case?
15 Q You know, you used the grand jury.
16 A A special counsel in general? They don't have to coordinate --
17 Q Well, the ones you've worked with.
18 A They don't have to do anything with our office to bring a case. That's the 19 virtue of special counsel in terms of --
20 Q So they have to coordinate with the grand jury?
21 A They have to coordinate with grand jury, yes.
22 Q Okay. Have you proposed with any of the special counsels you worked 23 with -- other than Weiss -- that they should form a hybrid type of prosecution team?
24 A So I'm not going to get into the deliberation and the ongoing -- and the 25 communications we've had with the special counsel in the ongoing investigations.

1 Q Okay. So the situation that you were working through with Weiss'
2 office -- which I guess we resolved after a bunch of back-and-forth -- that it was a bit of a
3 hybrid that you were evaluating?
4 A I think it is fair to say that -- I think the easiest way to say it to get past, like,
5 the labeling issues that we're all struggling with -- is whether we were going to cross-staff
6 the investigation or the investigation would just be his existing investigators.
7 Q Are you cross-staffing any other investigation with special counsels? Or 8 have you?
9 [redacted] That's a little outside the scope of what he's authorized to talk about,
10 staffing of other special counsel investigations.
11 BY [redacted]
12 Q So you're not going to answer?
13 A I agree it's outside the scope. I could say it's a matter of public record that 14 the office has cross-staffed with other special counsels.
15 Q Okay. Have you ever recommended to another special counsel that they 16 shouldn't move forward with a case?
17 A I could say, in general, I don't recall weighing in or opining on a matter that is 18 not in my office what that component head should or should not do, special counsel or 19 regardless. That's for them to decide.
20 Q Okay. Do you recall any discussions about a campaign finance charge
21 related to the Hunter Biden tax matter?
22 [redacted] Just even answering yes or no to that question, as I think you know,
23 gets into questions associated with the ongoing investigation and prosecution, and it's 24 outside the scope of what he's authorized to discuss.
25 BY [redacted]

Q And do you know the answer to the question?

A So, again, if I said I knew the answer to the question, that would be a backdoor way of answering a question I have not been authorized to cover.

Q No, it wouldn't because your answer might be no. So your answer to my subsequent question is, do you know the answer, is yes. And so I don't think that is a backdoor way of getting information here.

A So, I mean, I guess we just see it differently.

Q So you're not willing to testify whether you're aware of a campaign finance allegation that some -- you know, a Democrat donor paid off Hunter Biden's taxes? Whether that was a campaign finance issue?

A I am not authorized to discuss anything substantively to the case because this is an ongoing investigation, and none of us want to do anything that in any way compromises the ongoing investigation.

[redacted] Okay. I think we're done.

We can go off the record.

[Discussion off the record.]

[redacted] It is 2:08. We can go back on the record.

BY [redacted]

Q I actually want to clarify my own line from the previous round.

We were talking about grand jury and steps that they might take, and you said you didn't actually know if you'd ever been in a situation where a grand jury had declined to indict, correct?

A I was saying I couldn't recall a specific case. I generally recall that having happened and having to deal with it. I don't think it was -- I mean, it was not one of my cases.

1 Q So it's pretty rare that a grand jury doesn't indict somebody when a true bill
2 is sought?
3 A That is correct.
4 Q Okay. And we also said that grand juries can issue subpoenas. There can 5 be grand jury subpoenas that bring back relevant information?
6 A That is correct.
7 Q And it may be the case that a grand jury subpoena produces relevant
8 information that could help the prosecutors decide not to move forward and seek a true
9 bill, correct?
10 A That is correct.
11 Q And so just the process of having the grand jury can help to inform the
12 investigation?
13 A Yes. The grand jury, in most investigations, is the main investigative tool.
14 Q Okay. Thank you.
15 You were asked some questions just now about the potential for a government
16 shutdown and what may or may not have happened.
17 You're appearing today willfully of your own accord, correct?
18 A That is correct.
19 Q Voluntarily, I should say.
20 A Voluntarily, yes. Correct.
21 Q And you've sat here for 5, 6 hours and answered, to the best of your ability
22 and consistent with your authorization, every question presented to you?
23 A That's correct. I think we're -- what are we -- a shade over 4 now. Yes.
24 Q I'm terrible at math.
25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. And so it was never your intent to obstruct this investigation,
2 correct?
3 A That is correct.
4 Q Okay. The fact of the matter is, there was a lot of news about a
5 government shutdown, and nobody really knew what might happen?
6 A That is correct.
7 Q Okay. You were asked a number of questions just now about Ray Epps?
8 A Yes.
9 [redacted] I want to introduce as exhibit 9 an AP News article dated September
10 20th, 2023.
11 [Calce Exhibit No. 9
12 Was marked for identification.]
13 BY [redacted]
14 Q It's entitled "Ray Epps, Trump supporter targeted by January 6 conspiracy 15 theory, pleads guilty to Capitol riot charge."
16 A Yes.
17 Q Have you seen this before?
18 A I have not seen this article before.
19 Q I'll give you a minute to review it.
20 A Do you want me to read the whole --
21 Q I can tell you, I'm going to focus on -- actually, I'll just ask the question.
22 A Okay.
23 Q On page 2 of this article, the -- I guess it's the third full paragraph down, it
24 says: After the riot, Epps -- meaning Ray Epps -- became the focus of a conspiracy 25 theory echoed by right wing news outlets that he was a secret government agent who

1 incited the Capitol attack.

2 Are you familiar with that conspiracy theory?

3 A I am familiar with that conspiracy theory.

4 Q Do you have any information to suggest that Mr. Epps is, in fact, a secret

5 government agent who incited the Capitol attack?

6 A No. And, in fact, at his plea hearing, we put on the record that he -- and in

7 as a clear and unambiguous fashion as we could -- that he has never been a source,

8 government agent, or anything of that nature.

9 Q And, in fact, that's reflected in this article at the bottom of this page,

10 correct?

11 It says: Assistant U.S. Attorney -- it provides the name of the U.S. attorney --

12 A Yeah.

13 Q -- said during the hearing that Epps was not a confidential source for the FBI

14 or any other law enforcement agency.

15 A Yes. That's correct.

16 Q And that is a true statement that was made by that assistant U.S. attorney?

17 A Yes. That's correct.

18 Q And, in fact, on the next page, about halfway down, it says: A barrage of

19 death threats would force Epps and his wife to sell their home in Mesa, Arizona, and live

20 in a recreational vehicle in the Rocky Mountains, he said in an interview this year on CBS'

21 60 Minutes.

22 Are you aware of the fact that Mr. Epps has had to sell his home because of the 23 conspiracy theory and the impact that's had on him?

24 A I was not aware that he had to sell his home. I was aware that he was the 25 subject of harassment and threats.

1 Q Okay. And, in fact, as reflected here, he has said publicly that, because of 2 those threats which resulted from that conspiracy theory, he's had to sell his home, and
3 it's had a pretty profound impact on him and his wife, correct?
4 A I am generally aware that he has made public statements describing the 5 impact that these false allegations have had on his life.
6 Q Okay. Thank you.
7 I don't have any further questions, but I did want to ask, do you have anything
8 that you wanted to add based on the questions that you have not been able to address?
9 A I don't think there's anything else that we want to add that we haven't 10 covered in the last 4 or so hours.
11 [redacted] Great. All right. Thank you.
12 We can go off the record.
13 [Whereupon, at 2:13 p.m., the interview was concluded.]

COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIARY,

U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,

WASHINGTON, D.C.

DEPOSITION OF: ELVIS CHAN

Thursday, October 5, 2023

Washington, D.C.

The deposition in the above matter was held in room 2237, Rayburn House Office Building, commencing at 10:12 a.m.

1 [redacted]. Good morning. This was supposed to be a deposition of Federal
2 Bureau of Investigation Assistant Special Agent in Charge Elvis Chan.
3 Chairman Jordan requested this deposition as part of the committee's oversight of
4 how and to what extent the executive branch has coerced and colluded with companies
5 and other intermediaries to censor speech.
6 Mr. Chan is not here. The time is 10:12. The deposition was scheduled to start
7 at 10 a.m.
8 I'm going to make part of the record the subpoena issued for Mr. Chan on 9 September 15, 2023, for a deposition that was originally scheduled on September 21,
10 2023. We agreed to move that date, via letter, on September 21, 2023, to 11 accommodate Mr. Chan, who was traveling for work internationally.
12 So, on September 21st, we sent another subpoena, Mr. Jordan did, dated -- or the 13 return date was October 5, 2023. I'll make the two letters and subpoenas exhibit 1.
14 [Chan Exhibit No. 1
15 Was marked for identification.]
16 [redacted]. We'll mark exhibit 2 a copy of the notice sent out by the Judiciary
17 Committee's clerk on September 27th noticing today's deposition for 10 a.m. this 18 morning, Thursday, October 5th. Mark that as exhibit 2.
19 [Chan Exhibit No. 2
20 Was marked for identification.
21 [redacted]. I'm going to walk through the timeline of the committee's efforts to 22 speak with Mr. Chan.
23 On November 18th of 2022, Mr. Jordan, then the ranking member, first requested
24 testimony of Mr. Chan.
25 On January 17, 2023, after Mr. Jordan became the chairman of the committee, we

1 wrote to the FBI asking again for Mr. Chan's testimony, along with other key witnesses
2 the committee had been seeking.
3 On March 3, 2023, the committee reiterated its request that Mr. Chan appear
4 voluntarily for a transcribed interview.
5 On May 22nd of this year, committee staff again reiterated our request to 6 schedule a transcribed interview with Mr. Chan on a telephone call with FBI personnel.
7 On June 21st, July 5th, August 8th, and August 17th of this year, committee staff
8 again communicated with FBI personnel in an attempt to schedule Mr. Chan's voluntary 9 transcribed interview.
10 On August 30th of this year, the committee alerted the FBI that the chairman had 11 authorized a subpoena for Mr. Chan's testimony at a deposition. It was only then that 12 FBI and DOJ agreed to schedule Mr. Chan for a voluntary transcribed interview. That 13 was originally scheduled for September 15th.
14 On September 14th, the day before the scheduled transcribed interview, we were 15 informed by Mr. Chan's personal counsel, Larry Berger, that Mr. Chan will not appear on a 16 voluntary basis to the committee's transcribed interview unless he was permitted to bring 17 personal counsel and agency counsel.
18 At 4:34 on September 14th, committee staff emailed DOJ and FBI, communicating
19 again that the committee's practice is to allow the witness to pick either personal counsel
20 or agency counsel, but not both.
21 At 7:37 that evening, committee staff emailed Mr. Berger, DOJ, and FBI, stating:
22 Mr. Chan can have either agency counsel or personal counsel accompany him at a
23 transcribed interview, not both. It's Mr. Chan's choice.
24 At 7:57 that evening, Mr. Berger emailed committee staff to state that Mr. Chan
25 will appear with personal counsel. Berger did not make any objections to the

1 committee's practice of conducting transcribed interviews with either personal counsel or
2 agency counsel, but not both.
3 At 10:07 p.m. that evening, after Mr. Berger stated that Mr. Chan would appear
4 with personal counsel the next day, DOJ staff interjected and asserted: We've spoken
5 with Mr. Chan and his strong desire is to be represented by both personal and agency
6 counsel. We look forward to seeing you at 10 a.m.
7 At 11:13, committee staff emailed Mr. Berger, DOJ, FBI again, communicating the 8 committee's practice, stating: This is not an option we are offering. Mr. Chan has 9 requested personal counsel. We respectfully ask that you do not attempt to join.
10 On September 15th, the morning of the scheduled transcribed interview, Mr.
11 Chan did not appear.
12 Later, on September 15th, the committee issued a subpoena for Mr. Chan to 13 appear at the deposition, which we marked as exhibit 1, originally scheduled for 14 September 21st. After Mr. Chan communicated with the committee that he's traveling 15 on business, we reissued the subpoena for today.
16 The committee's practice of permitting witnesses to attend with personal or 17 agency counsel is something that has been communicated since the beginning of the 18 Congress.
19 On January 31st, counsel to the committee communicated to the FBI:
20 Witnesses -- I'm quoting from an email from committee counsel: "Witnesses appearing 21 for transcribed interviews can attend with personal or agency counsel but not both. It's 22 up to the witness." That was an email dated January 31st, and it was sent by me, the 23 committee's general counsel, to FBI, [redacted] at the FBI's Office of General Counsel.
24 Off the record for a second.
25 [Discussion held off the record.]

[Chan Exhibit No. 3

Was marked for identification.]

[redacted]. I'm going to mark as exhibit 3 the Judiciary Committee rules. On page 7 of the rules, Rule XI, with regard to depositions, Rule XI(k)(3): "Persons permitted to attend depositions. Deponents may be accompanied at a deposition by two designated personal, nongovernmental attorneys to advise them of their rights. Only members, committee staff designated by the chair or ranking minority member, an official reporter, the witness, and the witness's two designated attorneys are permitted to attend. Other persons, including government agency personnel, may not attend."

[redacted], do you have --

[redacted]. I do. Thank you.

[Chan Exhibit No. 4

Was marked for identification.]

[redacted]. I want to introduce as exhibit 4 an October 4, 2023, 7:35 p.m. email from Larry Berger to committee counsel. And we've redacted the names on this, but I'll represent that it involved [redacted] and myself, among others.

This email reads: "As you know" -- this is from Mr. Berger, who is Mr. Chan's personal counsel. It reads: "Good evening. As you know, I represent Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Elvis Chan. This evening, a short time ago, I received a letter from the Department of Justice informing me that ASAC Chan is directed not to appear before the committee, tomorrow, October 5, for a deposition, without his firm choice of counsel, which includes agency counsel.

Based on this unequivocal direction, as well as the belief of my client and I that the committee's subpoena is unenforceable for reasons previously stated, please be advised that ASAC Chan will not appear for a deposition tomorrow, October 5, before the

1 Committee, if the Committee continues to insist that agency counsel be precluded from
2 attending the deposition.
3 ASAC Chan stands, as he always has, ready, willing and able to attend the 4 deposition voluntarily, on October 5, or any other designated date, with his choice of 5 counsel, which includes agency counsel."
6 [Chan Exhibit No. 5
7 Was marked for identification.]
8 [redacted]. I want to introduce as exhibit 5 a September 19, 2023, letter from the 9 Federal Bureau of Investigation to Chairman Jordan concerning the deposition subpoena
10 request.
11 [Chan Exhibit No. 6
12 Was marked for identification.]
13 [redacted]. Introduce as exhibit 6 a September 29, 2023, letter from Mr. Berger
14 to Chairman Jordan on the same issue; and as exhibit 7 an October 3, 2023, letter from 15 Carlos Uriarte, Assistant Attorney General for the Office of Legislative Affairs, the 16 Department of Justice, to Chairman Jordan, again, concerning this deposition.
17 [Chan Exhibit No. 7
18 Was marked for identification.]
19 [redacted]. Each one of these letters makes clear that Mr. Chan was voluntarily
20 willing to appear, but was not willing to do so without his choice of agency counsel.
21 We are not taking a position on the validity of the subpoena or not, but I do want
22 to state for the record that it is my understanding that Mr. Chan has always been willing 23 to appear voluntarily and that he has always been firm in his position that he would like
24 to be represented by both personal counsel and agency counsel. There has been no
25 change in that position.

1 I also want to note for the record -- there was a reference to the practice of the 2 committee. It is my understanding that there is no past precedent for denying
3 witnesses the right to their choice of counsel in this committee. I understand that may 4 be the practice in the Oversight Committee, but in the Judiciary Committee that has not
5 been precedent.
6 And I would also note that in this investigation, there have been situations in 7 which we've had witnesses from technology companies who have been permitted to 8 appear with counsel for both their companies and personal counsel as well. So the 9 reference to practice that was made earlier does appear to be a practice of the 118th
10 Congress that Chairman Jordan has adopted.
11 I also want to note that it is my understanding that Mr. Chan did fly from San 12 Francisco to Washington, D.C., both on September 15, 2023, which was the original date
13 of the transcribed interview, was here and willing to voluntarily appear, and did also fly in
14 from San Francisco to Washington, D.C., today and is here and is willing to voluntarily 15 appear should the chairman be willing to permit him to appear with his choice of 16 representation.
17 We can go off the record -- or not.
18 [redacted]. I'd just like to -- we have had FBI witnesses, for example, Jill
19 Sanborn, Steven D'Antuono that have appeared for transcribed interviews with personal 20 counsel. Both of those witnesses asked for agency counsel as well, and after being 21 advised of the rule they selected personal counsel. And both of those happened during 22 the 118th Congress.
23 I'm also going to make part of the record --
24 [redacted] [redacted], can I respond to that quickly?
25 [redacted]. I'm just going to make --

1 [redacted]. Go ahead.

2 [redacted]. -- some additional letters, correspondence part of the record.

3 [Chan Exhibit No. 8

4 Was marked for identification.]

5 [redacted]. Exhibit No. 8 is a letter dated September 20th to the FBI Director

6 from the chairman.

7 [Chan Exhibits Nos. 9 and 10

8 Was marked for identification.]

9 [redacted]. Exhibit No. 9, a letter earlier this week from the chairman to Larry

10 Berger on this very issue; exhibit 10, a letter from the chairman dated October 4th,

11 yesterday, to the Attorney General, stating our position on that.

12 [redacted]. And if I can quickly respond, I would note for the record that both

13 Ms. Sanborn and Mr. D'Antuono were former FBI employees. Mr. Chan is obviously a 14 current agency employee.

15 I would also note that Mr. Chan, again, it is my understanding that he has a

16 number of significant concerns about his personal safety related to the broader litigation

17 here, and his interests in this -- I think he believes very strongly that his interests compel

18 him to have personal counsel.

19 [redacted]. Fair enough. I mean, on October 4th we offered what we

20 considered a fair accommodation, offering Mr. Chan the ability to have Justice

21 Department agency counsel available to him immediately outside the room. We offered

22 him the opportunity to stop the deposition at any point after any question, and he was

23 free to get up with his personal counsel, walk into the hallway, or we could have made a

24 separate room available for Mr. Berger to confer with Mr. Chan and agency counsel at 25 any time.

1 So we believe that that was a fair accommodation that would have allowed Mr.
2 Chan to consult with agency counsel without violating the rules of the House. So we
3 were disappointed they didn't take us up on that accommodation.
4 I'd also note with regard to Ms. Sanborn and Mr. D'Antuono, the purpose of the 5 questioning of both of those officials related to their official duties with the FBI. Both
6 asked for personal and agency counsel. And when we communicated to them the basis
7 for that rule -- and the basis for the rule is we allow agency counsel in instances where a 8 witness may not be able to afford personal counsel or where a witness may not have 9 access to one.
10 And so, allowing agency counsel is an accommodation to begin with to allow these 11 question-and-answer sessions to proceed.
12 When a witness does have personal counsel, the presumption is that personal 13 counsel would attend and agency counsel would not. And that's consistent with the 14 House rules for depositions and the committee's rule for depositions.
15 [redacted]. And briefly, I'm not sure that I -- that we accept your premise that the 16 basis for the rule is monetary in nature. These witnesses are testifying about events
17 that occurred when they were working in their professional capacities, so just put that on 18 the record.
19 I would also note that that accommodation offered to this witness to have agency
20 counsel outside the door I believe is the same accommodation that was offered to [redacted]
21 [redacted] in the prior administration. And the prior administration also declined to consider 22 that a valid accommodation, or a sufficient accommodation I should say.
23 [redacted]. I don't remember the circumstances of [redacted] other than I
24 remember taking his deposition myself so -- or whether it was a transcribed interview. I
25 don't know. I'm not sure who was there in the room with [redacted], but he appeared

1 and he answered our questions. So --

2 [redacted]. We don't have anything further.

3 [redacted]. Thank you.

4 [Whereupon, at 10:32 a.m., the interview was concluded.]

2 Good morning. This is a transcribed interview of Mr. Christopher Krebs.

3 Chairman Jordan has requested this interview as part of the committee's oversight of

4 how and to what extent the executive branch has coerced and colluded with companies

5 and other intermediaries to censor speech.

6 Would the witness please state your name for the record?

7 Mr. Krebs. Christopher Cox Krebs.

8 [redacted] We encourage witnesses who appear before the committee to

9 freely consult with counsel if they so choose, and it is my understanding that you are

10 appearing today with personal counsel. Is that correct, sir?

11 Mr. Krebs. That's correct.

12 [redacted] Could counsel please state your name for the record?

13 Mr. Walden. Jim Walden, W-a-l-d-e-n, Walden Macht & Haran, 250 Vesey

14 Street, New York, New York.

15 [redacted] On behalf of the committee, I want to thank you for appearing here

5 [redacted] [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

6 [redacted] Thank you.

7 I'd like to now go over the ground rules and guidelines that we'll follow during

8 today's interview.

9 Our questioning will proceed in rounds. The majority will ask questions first for 1

10 hour, and then the minority will have an opportunity to ask questions for an equal period

11 of time if they choose. We'll alternate back and forth until there are no more questions

12 and the interview is over.

13 Typically, we take a short break at the end of each hour, but if you would like to

14 take a break apart from that, please just let us know.

15 As you can see, there is an official court reporter taking down everything we say to

16 make a written record. So we ask that you give verbal responses to our questions. Do

17 you understand that?

18 Mr. Krebs. Yes, I do.

19 [redacted] So the court reporter can take down a clear record, we will do our

20 best to limit the number of people directing questions at you during any given hour to

21 just those people on the staff whose turn it is.

22 Please try and speak clearly so the court reporter can understand and so the folks

23 down at the end of the table can hear you as well.

24 It is important that we don't talk over one another or interrupt each other if we

25 can help it, and that goes for everybody present at today's interview.

We want you to answer our questions in the most complete and truthful manner as possible, so we will take our time. If you have any questions or if you do not understand one of our questions, please just let us know.

Our questions will cover a wide range of topics, so if you need clarification at any point, just say so.

If you honestly don't know the answer to a question or do not remember, it is best not to guess. Please give us your best recollection, and it is okay to tell us if you learned information from someone else. Just indicate how you came to know that information.

If there are things you don't know or can't remember, just say so, and please inform us who, to the best of your knowledge, might be able to provide a more complete answer to the question.

You should also understand that by law you are required to answer questions from Congress truthfully. Do you understand that?

Mr. Krebs. I do.

[redacted] This also applies to questions posed by congressional staff in an interview. Do you understand this?

Mr. Krebs. I do.

[redacted] Witnesses that knowingly provide false testimony could be subject to criminal prosecution for making false statements under 18 U.S.C., Section 1001. Do you understand this?

Mr. Krebs. I do.

[redacted] Is there any reason you are unable to provide truthful answers to today's questions?

Mr. Krebs. I don't believe so.

[redacted] Finally, I'd like to make note that the content of what we discuss

here today is confidential. We ask that you not speak about what we discuss in this interview to any outside individuals to preserve the integrity of our investigation.

For that same reason, the marked exhibits that we will use today will remain with the court reporter, and any copies of those exhibits will be returned to us when we wrap up the interview.

That is the end of my preamble.

Is there anything my colleagues from the minority would like to add?

[redacted] We just thank the witness for taking time out of his schedule to come and join us today.

[redacted] Is there anything --

Mr. Walden. Yeah. So Mr. Krebs has a short opening statement, if we may.

[redacted] Yes. Please go ahead, sir.

Mr. Krebs. Great. Thank you.

Thank you for inviting me to testify today.

As you know, I was the CISA director until November 17th, 2020. After that date, I had no role in the Agency's operations or policies. I have no intention today to comment on or speculate about what the Agency did after my departure.

Because I have been gone from the Agency for so long, I'll let you know if I believe I cannot reliably answer a question, and if I cannot, where I think you can go get that answer -- get an answer.

I want to start by clarifying issues that seem to be the subject of serious misunderstandings, and I'll limit myself to five points.

First, in the aftermath of the 2016 election, there was a pervasive and bipartisan agreement among State election officials that Russia was responsible for sweeping malign activities to interfere in the election and influence public discourse. Those officials

1 made the case for CISA to take an active role in addressing future interference campaigns.
2 One of the most ardent proponents was Mac Warner, who was then
3 West Virginia's secretary of state. He actually went on a road show of sorts to explain
4 Russia's activities, including its deployment of misinformation and disinformation. I've 5 marked the PowerPoint he used as Krebs Exhibit 1 and ask for it to be entered into the 6 record.
7 Slide 25 of exhibit 1 describes misinformation and disinformation using commonly 8 accepted definitions, which includes the rule -- the use of partial truth with an intent to 9 mislead.
10 Second, these State election officials asked CISA to help them connect with social 11 media platforms in an effort to convey mis- and disinformation that threaten local
12 elections.
13 As a result, the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force, which later became a
14 part of the Election Security Initiative during my tenure, started the switchboarding 15 effort, which did what its name implies -- passing information from those officials to 16 social media platforms.
17 Third, CISA was mindful of protecting Americans' freedom of speech and civil 18 liberties, which is why CISA saw its role as merely serving as a pass-through for the
19 information.
20 Any decision what about what to do with the information was left to each
21 platform, which had to make its own decisions based on its own terms of service.
22 During my tenure it was not a policy objective to advocate for or even try to
23 persuade social media platforms to alter their own content moderation policies, and I'm 24 not aware of any CISA employees having done so during my tenure.
25 Fourth, the switchboarding initiative was not some secret or shadow program.

1 For example, I recall that Matt Masterson, who headed the ESI, talked about the program
2 at a field hearing before the Committee on Homeland Security on October 15th, 2019.
3 In response to a question from Representative Underwood, Masterson, who I will
4 remind you is a Republican like me and a former election official from Ohio, explained:
5 "We have direct lines of contact with all the major social media companies.
6 Throughout 2018, State election officials and local election officials reported activity that 7 we were able to pass on not just to the platform that had the activity but to all the 8 platforms so they could see if it was cross-platform activity.
9 "We don't recommend any actions to take on the activity, but we are able to pass
10 it on and say, here is the activity that has been reported to us, here is the contact for the 11 State and local election official reporting it.
12 "I will say, when it comes to responding to disinformation around the elections
13 process, of misleading on where to vote, when to vote, things like that, the social media
14 companies took an aggressive posture and have published policies about takedown
15 processes regarding that kind of activity, and we are able to push that to them."
16 I've marked his testimony as Krebs exhibit 2 and ask that it be included in the 17 subcommittee's record.
18 Fifth and finally, it was my decision, and one that I'm proud of, to address false
19 rumors that were intended to interfere with or influence the outcome of elections. We 20 primarily did this on CISA's website, and we debunked false rumors with truthful
21 information and resources.
22 To the extent that anyone says that this rumor control effort was outside of CISA's
23 scope, I disagree. But more importantly, no one disagreed at the time since everyone,
24 including Congress, was fully aware that CISA viewed it as a core part of its election
25 security mission.

1 Indeed, at least one of the rumors CISA debunked during the 2020 election was
2 identified as problematic by the White House directly.
3 Having made these points, I am prepared to answer relevant questions. Thank
4 you.
5 [redacted] Thank you, sir.
6 Before we start our first hour of questioning I'll mark some exhibits here.
7 I'll do the PowerPoint that's marked Krebs Exhibit 1 as exhibit No. 1.
8 [Krebs Exhibit No. 1.
9 Was marked for identification.]
10 Mr. Krebs. Great.
11 [Krebs Exhibit No. 2.
12 Was marked for identification.]
13 [redacted] And then I'll mark the hearing transcript that's marked Krebs Exhibit
14 No. 2 as exhibit No. 2.
15 [Krebs Exhibit No. 3.
16 Was marked for identification.]
17 [redacted] And then I'll mark the opening statement that you provided as 18 exhibit No. 3.
19 Mr. Krebs. Thank you.
20 [redacted] The clock now reads 10:08 a.m. We'll start with the first hour of 21 questioning. I'll turn it over to my colleague [redacted]
22 EXAMINATION
23 BY [redacted]
24 Q Mr. Krebs, could you state your full name again for the record?
25 A Yeah. Christopher Cox Krebs.

1 Q And what is your current place of employment?

2 A Partner at the Krebs Stamos Group.

3 Q And what's your current title? Partner?

4 A Partner, yeah.

5 Q And what is your educational background, beginning with college?

6 A University of Virginia, environmental sciences, bachelor of arts, and then

7 juris doctorate from the Antonin Scalia Law School, George Mason University.

8 Q Starting with after law school, what is your professional background?

9 A Immediately upon completing law school, taking the bar. I then worked as

10 a schedule C political appointee in the Department of Homeland Security during the Bush

11 administration till 2009.

12 After that, went and established a risk management firm at Dutco Global Risk

13 Management. Then, a couple years later, moved on to Obsidian Analysis, also as a 14 consultant, risk management consultant.

15 And then ended up at Microsoft in 2014 or so, through 2017, as director of U.S.

16 cyber policy. And then, following that, took a schedule C appointment in the Trump

17 administration as a senior counselor to Secretary John Kelly.

18 Ultimately was -- well, not ultimately -- next, assistant secretary for infrastructure

19 protection in the National Protection and Programs Directorate, where, given I was the 20 senior ranking, was the senior official performing duties of the under secretary through

21 2018, February or so.

22 And I was nominated as the under secretary for the National Protection and 23 Programs Directorate, nominated by President Trump. I was confirmed in June of 2018.

24 Served in that role till November of that year, when the Cybersecurity and

25 Infrastructure Security Act -- Agency Act, rather -- was passed into law, signed into law by

1 the President.

2 And I then transitioned to the director of the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure

3 Security Agency. Played that role till November 17th of 2020.

4 Q And after November 2020, what was your --

5 A I had a bit of a break in employment till January, and then established, in

6 January of 2021, the Krebs Stamos Group and served in various academic and adviser

7 relationships as well.

8 Q What are some of the academic and adviser?

9 A University of Virginia Center for Politics. I was a fellow at the Harvard

10 University Belfer Center.

11 Q At a high level, what were your responsibilities as director of cyber policy at

12 Microsoft?

13 A Mainly taking a look at emerging cybersecurity-related policy issues, lawful

14 access policy issues, including encryption, that were emerging during the Obama

15 administration, and working with the technical teams, the leadership at Microsoft,

16 helping them understand what the impacts could be across potential products, services,

17 offerings.

18 Q From when you were under -- make sure I have your career timeline

19 correct -- from June to November 2018, you were the under secretary at NPPD.

20 A Yes.

21 Q Is that correct?

22 A Yes. Yes, that's correct.

23 Q Okay. And, again, at a high level, what were your responsibilities in that

24 role?

25 A So I led the agency. NPPD at the time was a combination of physical

1 security, cybersecurity, Federal Protective Service, emergency communications, and the 2 Office of Biometric Identity Management.
3 It was approximately 5,000 Federal employees, 10,000-plus contractors -- a lot of 4 those made up from the Federal Protective Service -- about a budget of, all told, including
5 fees, over $4-, $4.5 billion. So a very large organization.
6 So the day-to-day management of that organization. Some of the policy issues
7 that were emerging at the time with influencing the upcoming cyber strategy.
8 But probably top-line priority was the passage of the Cybersecurity and 9 Infrastructure Security Agency Act.
10 Q And who did you report to during this time?
11 A At that time it was the Secretary, Kirstjen Nielsen.
12 Q And you became director of CISA in November of 2020 -- or excuse
13 me -- November 2018?
14 A That's correct.
15 Q When you first became director, who did you report to?
16 A Same, Secretary Nielsen.
17 Q And how many people reported to you?
18 A I don't recall specifically how many, but there was a reporting structure
19 where some of the seniors would report to me but then also to the -- or rather to the 20 deputy under secretary, who was Matt Travis. Don't recall specifically. A handful.
21 Q Approximately how many seniors were there?
22 A The definition of "senior" varies, but as I would view it, it would be the 23 political leadership. So we had the assistant secretaries of cyber, assistant secretary of 24 infrastructure security. We'd have the chief of staff. We'd have the deputy under 25 secretary. And then there would be some senior other staff advisers. And then you'd

1 have emergency communications as well.

2 Q Who was your chief of staff when you first took the job?

3 A Timeframe?

4 Q Late 2018.

5 A I don't recall if I specifically had a chief of staff at that point, but ultimately

6 the chief of staff was Emily Early, who was also a schedule C political appointee.

7 Q I think this is covered in one of the exhibits you provided. Before we get 8 any further, how do you understand -- let me take one step back.

9 Are you familiar with the terms misinformation, disinformation, and

10 malinformation?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And do you understand what is the difference among those terms?

13 A I do.

14 Q And what's your understanding of what each term means and how they're

15 different?

16 A So I'll give you my view. It may not be the academic or some of the things

17 that have been specifically referenced in the documents.

18 But misinformation is false information that's shared with no ill intent necessarily.

19 Disinformation is false information that is shared with intent to deceive or harm. And

20 then malinformation is factual, true information that is shared out of context or 21 otherwise angled, slanted to deceive.

22 Q Do you recall the term "malinformation" being used around the time you

23 took the job as director of CISA?

24 Mr. Walden. Can you be more specific? Used by whom?

25 [redacted] Used by personnel at CISA.

1 Mr. Krebs. My recollection is that "malinformation" came into vogue a little bit
2 later on, but it was more about some of the operations that the Russians conducted in 3 2016 against political parties.
4 BY [redacted]
5 Q You said it came into vogue a little bit later on. Do you recall when 6 approximately?
7 A I do not. I don't recall.
8 Q Was it before the 2020 election?
9 A Again, I don't recall specifically when it came into the regular parlance. It
10 was used, but it wasn't necessarily an everyday term.
11 Q Do you recall if this was a term, in addition to being used by personnel at 12 CISA, by any industry partners?
13 A I think by then it had been established as part of the academic record.
14 Claire Wardle's First Draft, I think it identified it as an element of information disorder.
15 Q What is First Draft?
16 A First Draft, I think I said, it's either an academic research group or a nonprofit
17 that studies information disorder.
18 Q Did you work with them while you were director of CISA?
19 A No.
20 Q Had you worked with them prior to becoming director?
21 A No.
22 Q Have you worked with them since your tenure at CISA?
23 A I don't believe so, no.
24 Q Do you recall receiving any or hearing of any criticism regarding the term
25 "malinformation"?

1 Mr. Walden. Can you be more specific, counsel? You mean, first of all, time
2 period and who? Criticisms by who?
3 [redacted] The question is not restricted by a time period. At any point --
4 Mr. Walden. Like from --
5 [redacted] It sounds like the term didn't come into vogue until a few years ago.
6 So the time period --
7 Mr. Walden. Yeah, yeah, yeah, it's totally fine, but we're talking about a huge
8 period of time, assuming it was somewhere around the 2020 election. Are you saying at 9 any period of time, including this committee's own report? Because he certainly read
10 that, and it was critical of the -- of "malinformation." So that answer would be 11 responsive. I'm just trying to make sure he knows what he's asking -- or answering 12 rather.
13 [redacted] Sure.
14 BY [redacted]
15 Q I'll start with, during your tenure at CISA, do you recall hearing any criticism
16 from anybody regarding the use of the term "malinformation"?
17 A Not that I recall.
18 Q Okay. What about after your tenure at CISA?
19 A I don't recall any specific criticisms of the term.
20 Q Okay. What about generally?
21 A I think as a term it is not particularly specific. I think that's some of the 22 general criticisms. But, again, nothing. I don't recall a specific party necessarily 23 criticizing it.
24 Q Okay. Do you agree with that criticism?
25 A Honestly, I haven't really thought about whether I agree with it or disagree

1 with it.

2 Q Okay. You provided a definition for "malinformation."

3 A Right.

4 Q Are you familiar with any other definitions of "malinformation"?

5 A I think I can think of examples of malinformation, and I think the

6 typical example, one that was cited in the 2016 or 2017 Intelligence Community

7 Assessment, is hack and leak.

8 Q Regarding the criticism or concerns by other folks that it's not specific, to

9 your understanding has "malinformation" been used to apply to other examples besides

10 hack and leak?

11 A I'm sure it has. I don't know if I can give you an example right now.

12 Q Are you familiar with any conversations or did you ever partake in any

13 conversations or discussions where it seemed like two folks in the conversation had 14 different understandings of what "malinformation" meant?

15 A Not that I recall.

16 Q During your tenure at CISA, do you recall attending any meanings where the 17 term "malinformation" was used?

18 A Just my time with CISA or prior with NPPD?

19 Q No. During your tenure at CISA.

20 A Again, not that I recall specifically, but more broadly to the context point,

21 this was my earlier point about "malinformation" not being a specific term. It doesn't

22 tell you what it is necessarily on its face. And that's what I was getting at earlier.

23 Q Do you know who Brian Scully is?

24 A I do.

25 Q During your tenure at CISA, what was his role at CISA?

1 A I don't remember his specific title, but he was a part of our Election Security
2 Initiative efforts and handled some of the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force work.
3 Q How frequently did you interact with Mr. Scully?
4 A During what time period?
5 Q During your tenure at CISA.
6 A So do you have a specific time period? The reason I ask this question,
7 because it varied, and the variations were depending on where we were in our election
8 security efforts.
9 [redacted] Why don't you tell us about the variations then. If you can tell us
10 the various positions that he held during your tenure at CISA.
11 Mr. Krebs. Again, I can't tell you the specific position or titles he held. But if it
12 was in a cycle, if it was 2018 or 2020, I would have more regular contact with him rather 13 than if it was in between election cycles.
14 BY [redacted]
15 Q Okay. In 2019, an off-cycle year, how frequent would you have interactions
16 with him?
17 A I don't recall.
18 Q Would it be once a week?
19 A It was -- I would -- I couldn't put a number around it, but it would be more
20 infrequent.
21 Q And in the lead-up to an election -- we'll use the 2020 election as an
22 example -- how frequently were you in contact with him?
23 A So specific to Brian Scully, I can't say. I don't recall. But with the election
24 security team, I would get briefings on a regular basis, and that would be on a weekly 25 basis probably.

1 Q And who on the election security team was providing these briefings to you?
2 A Those briefings were usually Matt Masterson, Geoff Hale, and Scully would
3 attend those. And, again, there may have been meetings where it was just Matt and 4 Geoff. Sometimes Scully would or wouldn't be there.
5 Q Okay. Besides Mr. Masterson, Mr. Hale, Mr. Scully, and you, who else
6 would attend these briefings?
7 A On a regular basis, I don't recall. But generally speaking for meetings,
8 internal meetings with teams, I would usually see my chief of staff that would be there.
9 Emily Early. I mentioned her earlier.
10 Q Okay. So then other than your chief of staff, you, and then, again, either
11 Mr. Masterson, Mr. Hale, Mr. Scully, or some combination of them, would anybody else
12 attend these briefings?
13 A Not that I recall.
14 Q Okay. How were the briefings delivered?
15 A We typically had a standard format with slides. I don't recall specifically 16 what was in those slides, but we would work through updates on the various lines of 17 effort, and they would provide oral updates around the content.
18 Q And would you receive these slides or any other written work product in 19 advance of the meeting?
20 A I don't recall. I may have, but I don't recall if I would get them in advance.
21 Q And when the briefing was occurring with slides, obviously this is 2020, this 22 is happening over video conference? Is this in person?
23 A It depended on where we were in the COVID cycle. There were times when 24 all meetings were virtual. As I think we got through the summer closer, then they were 25 in person if people were available.

1 Q When did these briefings first start?

2 Mr. Walden. Can I just be clear, you're talking about the briefings on the run-up

3 to the 2020 election, those specific briefings?

4 [redacted] Yes.

5 Mr. Walden. Not briefings -- yeah, just the record was a little bit unclear. So I

6 just wanted to make sure that we're clear on that.

7 Mr. Krebs. So I think it would vary, of course, depending on my travel schedule,

8 depending on where we were in January -- or rather in the -- in 2020 in the run-up to the

9 election. I'm sure I had updates throughout the year. I can't tell you specifically when 10 they started, though.

11 BY [redacted]

12 Q Did the frequency ever change?

13 A I think, much like all our election security-related briefings, including

14 briefings at the White House with the National Security Council where the chief of staff

15 and the National Security Advisor would attend, as we approached the election, they

16 became more frequent, as we get closer to the date of the election. And also if there

17 were specific incidents that were emerging, then we would have more regular

18 discussions.

19 Q What was Matt Masterson's role in 2020 at CISA?

20 A Matt Masterson, as I think I mentioned earlier, was a schedule C political 21 appointee in CISA. He had the nominal title at least of our election security lead and

22 was a senior counselor or senior adviser, I think, if you looked at his -- whatever his billet

23 title was. Again, I don't remember his specific title. But he effectively ran our election

24 security efforts.

25 Q And how frequently were you interacting with Mr. Masterson in 2020?

1 A I think probably as the lead for election security I spoke to him quite
2 regularly, particularly if there were issues emerging. So more than once a week, I can
3 say that, but I can't tell you beyond that with any specificity how often.
4 Q What was Geoff Hale's title in 2020?
5 A I don't recall Geoff's title.
6 Q Do you know which team he worked with?
7 A He was within the National Risk Management Center, and he was a part of 8 the Election Security Initiative.
9 Q Did the Election Security Initiative fall within the National Risk Management
10 Center?
11 A From an organizational perspective and kind of an org structure, that's 12 where we put emerging initiatives, and so ESI was one. Supply chain risk management 13 was another one, for instance.
14 Q Who was the head of the National Risk Management Center in 2020?
15 A Bob Kolasky.
16 Q We've mentioned it a couple times already. What is the Countering
17 Foreign Influence Task Force?
18 A The Countering Foreign Influence Task Force was the group that was 19 established earlier in my tenure -- I can't tell you when -- that brought together CISA and 20 Intelligence and Analysis analysts, I&A, DHS I&A analysts, to look at the broader 21 disinformation, foreign influence challenge that stemmed from the 2016 election.
22 Q Do you recall if it was created before 2020?
23 A Yes. Yes, it was created before 2020.
24 Q Okay. So your recollection is sometime after you became director, in 25 November 2018, to sometime in 2019 is when this task force was created?

1 A I don't recall specifically when it started or when it was stood up, but it was 2 sometime in the -- in or around 2018, prior to 2018 election timeframe.
3 Q Okay. Who from CISA played a role in its setup?
4 Mr. Walden. I'm sorry. Just to be clear, played a role in its setup, meaning who
5 was responsible for the decision to set something like it up, or who was on the task force
6 itself?
7 [redacted] Who was responsible for helping to create the task force? Who from 8 CISA was responsible?
9 Mr. Krebs. Yeah. No. Okay.
10 Mr. Walden. He's smarter than me.
11 Mr. Krebs. No.
12 Mr. Walden. Sometimes he understands, and I missed it.
13 Mr. Krebs. For one, it was under the direct guidance and leadership of -- and just 14 to clarify, my recollection is that it started, at least as kind of an ongoing effort, prior to 15 CISA, under the NPPD structure. So sometime likely in the spring probably of 2018.
16 And the direct guidance of this task force, or at least the direct -- it was stood up
17 under the general counsel, so Dan Sutherland. So he was the NPPD general counsel,
18 subsequently the CISA chief counsel. He'd been in the Department for several years.
19 In fact, in the Bush administration he was nominated to be the civil rights and civil 20 liberties leader -- or nominee -- at DHS.
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q Okay. We'll take it one step back then.
23 Were you one of the individuals that played a role in both the consideration of 24 and then the steps in creating the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force?
25 A So I can't recall specifically kind of the pathology of it and whether -- who

1 had the original idea. But as we were talking about it within the Department, I was, of 2 course, part of the decisionmaking process.
3 Q And was the Secretary of DHS involved in these discussions in 2018?
4 A So, again, I don't recall the specific whose idea was it all, but there were
5 initial ongoing efforts as I came into the Department in 2017 and through 2018 around
6 countering terrorism online.
7 I don't know if you're familiar with the Global Forum for Countering Terrorism,
8 GFCT, which is obviously relevant today. Those were some of the original conversations
9 in the Department post the 2016 election in looking at Russian, Iranian, and Chinese
10 foreign influence that stemmed from some of those internal conversations at DHS.
11 Q To your recollection, when is the first time that a task force, whether it's 12 called the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force or something else, when is the first 13 time it stood up and there were people who were assigned to the task force?
14 A I don't recall. 2018 sometime.
15 Q Do you recall --
16 A To the best of my recollection.
17 Q Do you recall if it was before or after the creation of CISA?
18 A Oh, well, my recollection is, is it was before, because my recollection is that
19 there were efforts under the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force prior to the 2018
20 midterms, and CISA was established after the 2018 midterms.
21 Q Did you work with Brian Scully before the creation of CISA?
22 A He worked for me as a employee of NPPD. Whether I had regular 23 interactions I don't recall.
24 Q To your understanding, so if there's folks who have been assigned at a high 25 level to this role, or if there's efforts that are going on pre-2018 midterms -- let me take

1 one step back.

2 When that was the case, do you recall what the -- who the task force was

3 comprised of at a high level, not specific names, but were there folks from I&A that were

4 pulled in to join this task force?

5 A I think I mentioned that already. There were detailees, or whatever you

6 want to call them, assignees from I&A. I don't recall how many or who they were, but

7 there were members. So it was not just a CISA effort. It was CISA and I&A. Hence,

8 intradepartmental task force.

9 Q But if it predated CISA --

10 A I'm sorry.

11 Q Yeah.

12 A Yeah. NPPD and I&A pre-CISA. And then after that, and whether it

13 continued in that name or form after the 2018 election, I don't recall, but at some point,

14 there were NPPD and I&A members on the task force.

15 Q Post-CISA, now that you're -- CISA's created, you're the director, who is

16 responsible, we'll say at the end of 2018, post-election, for leading the Countering Foreign

17 Influence Task Force?

18 A An individual?

19 Q Yeah.

20 A Solely responsible for the CF- -- the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force?

21 Q Well, who was the lead of the team?

22 A I don't recall.

23 Q Okay. At this time who would the lead of the team report to?

24 A So, again, it rolled up into, at some point, the Election Security Initiative.

25 The Election Security Initiative was in the National Risk Management Center. The

1 National Risk Management Center was run by Bob Kolasky.

2 Below that, at some point, I don't recall specifically when, but Matt Masterson

3 came into the Department from the Election Assistance Commission, and Matt had some

4 leadership over this.

5 And then below that, at some point, it was Brian Scully and that team.

6 Q Okay. So to your understanding, who was responsible for assigning, of 7 hiring who would join the task force?

8 A I'm sorry. What are you asking specifically?

9 Q Sure. So at the end of 2018, whether you know the person's name or their

10 title, who was responsible for determining who is on the Countering Foreign Influence

11 Task Force?

12 A I don't recall. I mean, that's an organization-level decision six layers below

13 the director's office.

14 Q So is it your understanding that Matt Masterson had oversight or 15 management responsibilities related to the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force?

16 A From an organizational perspective, whether it's -- I don't -- you know, I

17 couldn't tell you if Matt Masterson had administrative management responsibilities down

18 into the task force. I don't know if I ever knew what his specific responsibilities were for 19 management.

20 Q Okay. Do you know how big the task force was at the end of 2018?

21 A At the end of 2018 or around the 2018 election?

22 Q Well, I'll ask it both ways. First around the 2018 election.

23 A Well, I mean, I think the answer is going to be the same. I don't recall

24 specifically the numbers. I know it was likely larger around the 2018 election because of 25 the tempo, the operational tempo.

1 As an operational agency, we were quite busy around the 2018 election. By the
2 end of the 2018 calendar year, it was likely smaller because the demand was not what it
3 was in early November.
4 Moreover, there was probably no one working on the task force at the end of 5 2018 because we were all furloughed -- they were all furloughed -- because the 6 government was shut down.
7 Q How big was the task force in the lead-up to the 2020 election?
8 A I think that -- I don't recall if the task force, as an organization, was -- the 9 way I thought about the efforts in 2020 was that it was the Election Security Initiative. I
10 don't recall specifically if the task force was even a thing in 2020. I thought about these 11 efforts as Election Security Initiatives.
12 Q Okay. Were there any other task force or divisions -- actually, let me just 13 take one step back.
14 During your tenure as director of CISA at a high level, what was the nature of your 15 Agency's interactions with I&A?
16 A So they would provide intelligence on cyber and physical risks to us in 17 various forms.
18 Q Were there any other task forces that would have detailees from I&A?
19 A Not that I recall.
20 Mr. Walden. And I just want to be clear. Any CISA groups or whatever they're 21 called, any other places within CISA other than the Countering Foreign Intelligence (sic)
22 Task Force that had I&A appointees?
23 [redacted] Correct.
24 Mr. Walden. Okay. Got it.
25 Mr. Krebs. And are these task forces that CISA leads or task forces -- I'm just

1 trying to understand the scope of the question because obviously the Department's 2 massive.
3 BY [redacted]
4 Q Yeah. Task forces that CISA leads or that CISA participates in. I'm just 5 trying to get a sense of how your -- how CISA is interacting with I&A during this time in --
6 A Sure.
7 Q -- 2020.
8 A I think I get the question. Just I'm trying to -- I haven't thought about these 9 things in 3-plus years, right, and it's a massive -- or DHS is massive. And so I don't recall,
10 again, specific whether these were task forces established by a secretary or an under 11 secretary, something like that.
12 But there were concerted efforts within the Department where CISA employees
13 participated that there are naturally very likely going to be I&A members, and, for 14 example, southern border, COVID.
15 I suspect there were CISA employees alongside I&A employees around Portland
16 and the violence of the summer of 2020.
17 So I can't give you specifics of, yes, this person was doing that thing, but naturally,
18 because it was a fairly collaborative department, there were going to be CISA and I&A 19 employees working alongside each other.
20 Q Who was your counterpart at I&A in 2020?
21 A So there's a history here. I don't recall when Glawe, Dave Glawe, who was 22 the Senate-confirmed under secretary, I don't recall when he departed I&A, but his 23 deputy under secretary, whose name was Brian Murphy, Brian Murphy was the acting.
24 He was relieved at some point over, I think, some controversy about I&A. That's,
25 I don't know, summer or fall.

1 And then at that point it was Joe, the deputy general counsel, Joe -- God, I'm
2 blanking -- Joe Maher was the -- designated by Acting Secretary Wolf as the interim acting
3 under secretary or senior official performing the duties of the under secretary.
4 Q Are you familiar with the FBI's Foreign Influence Task Force?
5 A Yes.
6 Q And to your understanding, what is the mission of the FBI's Foreign Influence
7 Task Force?
8 A I don't know if I can tell you exactly what it was. I mean, this was, again,
9 this was years ago. But it was their effort to look at, under their authorities, what they 10 could do to [inaudible] foreign influence.
11 Q Were you familiar with the FBI's Foreign Influence Task Force during your 12 tenure as director of CISA?
13 A Was I aware of it? Yes.
14 Q To your understanding, was there any overlapping responsibilities between 15 the FBI's Foreign Influence Task Force and CISA's Countering Foreign Influence
16 Task Force?
17 A I don't remember if there were overlapping authorities or efforts.
18 Q Do you recall there being any meetings with folks at the FBI to discuss how 19 there's these two task forces that are working on similar issues?
20 A Oh, there were several meetings through the normal policy process at the 21 White House or through the National Security Council. There was the Pan Cyber (ph), so
22 the cyber team would have IPCs that there would be representatives from CISA and FBI
23 that would brief out their efforts.
24 I don't recall if there were one-to-one interactions between CISA and the FBI on a
25 regular basis, but there were, just given the way the interagency works, there were touch

1 points.

2 There was a separate set of touch points that was coordinated out of the Office of

3 the Director of National Intelligence. Those were led by the cyber threat executive,

4 Shelby -- I can't recall her last name.

5 Q Pierson?

6 A Yes, that's it.

7 I don't recall the frequency of the meetings that Shelby and her team pulled

8 together, but those were, again, going to be natural touch points for CISA and the FBI to

9 contact.

10 Q Going back to NPPD and when there are still discussions about the

11 Countering Foreign Influence Task Force, who was involved in, from an interagency

12 perspective, who was involved in those discussions to your recollection?

13 Mr. Walden. Do you understand what discussions he's talking about?

14 Mr. Krebs. No, I'm --

15 Mr. Walden. Because I got a little bit lost with the question.

16 Mr. Krebs. Yeah. Sorry.

17 BY [redacted]

18 Q So you said that Dan Sutherland was the one, the lead, at NPPD who was

19 taking the charge, leading discussions as it led to whether to stand up and how to stand

20 up the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force. Is that right?

21 A I'm not -- I don't disagree with your characterization.

22 Q Okay. Were these discussions internal to DHS only, or was there an

23 interagency discussion that took place as well?

24 A You know, I don't recall if there were external conversations about what

25 CISA or what -- sorry -- what NPPD at the time, what their mission was going to be. But,

1 again, if I can just step back and provide a little context around the time.
2 As we looked at the Intelligence Community Assessment of 2017 about the
3 Russian interference, that was then backed up by the Senate Intelligence briefs and some
4 of the other reports, there were three lines of effort -- around the hacking of election
5 equipment, election systems; the hacking of political campaigns and candidates; and then
6 there was this broader disinformation effort that the Russians had been conducting for 7 several years and continue, in fact, to this day, in fact, through this weekend, if you look
8 at some of the stuff that's been going on around Hamas in Israel.
9 And as we -- across the interagency there were conversations around, okay, who 10 is on point for each of those three work streams.
11 And I can't get into the deliberations around who does what and why and where,
12 but CISA -- or NPPD -- and this is -- these are Cabinet-Level conversations -- NPPD was 13 tapped with that first piece around election security and then providing assistance to 14 campaigns and candidates as needed, as requested.
15 And then the third was the intelligence community. And mainly the FBI would 16 have the lead on the third piece of broader disinformation with support from other
17 agencies, including NPPD.
18 Q When it came to that third line of effort regarding state-sponsored 19 disinformation efforts, what sort of support was NPPD, and then later CISA, able to 20 provide to the FBI or to whoever's taking the lead?
21 A It was actually fairly minimal, to the best of my recollection. In fact, it was 22 mainly around awareness and information sharing, so really getting to kind of core
23 authorities of the Department of Homeland Security, and particularly as it relates to 24 critical infrastructure.
25 And so from an awareness perspective, we're talking about understanding the

1 elements of how an information operation works, and then distilling that down into some
2 kind of public service campaign, the equivalent of "See something, say something."
3 Q Are you familiar with ODNI's Foreign Malign Influence Center?
4 A I have heard of it. I don't believe that was in -- was operational in my time
5 at CISA. I think that was something that came in, in fact, probably 2020.
6 Actually, I'll stop there, just because I don't recall specifically when it was stood
7 up.
8 Q Regardless of whether it was operational by the time you were not with CISA
9 anymore, do you recall participating in any discussions with the interagency regarding the 10 creation of the ODNI's Foreign Malign Influence Center?
11 Mr. Walden. So, again, so your question was a little bit unclear to me. It may 12 have been clear to Chris, so I apologize.
13 What discussion -- you're saying any discussions -- you said any discussion
14 interagency. So maybe just break it down. Was there discussion within CISA about 15 whether this ODNI was going to be created, and then discussions with other agencies, or 16 you only care about if there were discussions with other agencies?
17 [redacted] The question is about discussions with other agencies, so --
18 Mr. Walden. Okay.
19 [redacted] -- ODNI's separate from CISA.
20 Mr. Walden. Yeah.
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q So another way of asking the question, as director of CISA, were you brought 23 into any discussions --
24 A I don't recall specifically engaging in conversations. There may have been 25 recommendations that were happening within the National Security Council.

1 I recall at some point, I don't recall specifically when, but there was some
2 conversation of -- on the Hill about a statutory requirement to establish some function on 3 foreign malign influence.
4 You know, my main interactions with ODNI at the time or with the -- you know,
5 were with the ODNI leadership on election security threats. And how that manifested in 6 my one-to-one engagement, it didn't matter to me whether there was a center or a
7 threat executive or I was talking to the acting or Senate-confirmed Director of National 8 Intelligence or their deputy.
9 Q And for election security concerns, was your main point of contact Shelby
10 Pierson during this time, during 2020?
11 A So that I don't recall. But to step back again, context, if you recall, in 2020
12 it was a bit of a turbulent time for the DNI leadership. And I worked throughout my 13 tenure, and preceding 2020, with DNI leadership from Dan Coats and Sue Gordon.
14 And then when they left their positions, then it was Joe Maguire and 15 Andrew Hallman.
16 And then when they were relieved, there was a bit of a break in the conversation
17 with Ambassador Grenell and Kash Patel.
18 And then after that, I had known Congressman Ratcliffe for years, and so it was 19 good to see him come into that role, and so would talk to him and his team.
20 And those tended to be my primary point to points the staff would work with.
21 Masterson would talk to Shelby on a regular basis.
22 Q Do you know who Elvis Chan is?
23 A Yes.
24 Q And did you work with him during your time at CISA?
25 A Not that I recall.

1 Q Okay.

2 A I mean, he could've been in meetings, but I don't recall whether he was in

3 meetings with me.

4 Q Do you know who Laura Dehmlow is?

5 A I'm aware of who she is. Same. Like I don't recall what role she was in or 6 if she was in meetings that I was in.

7 BY [redacted]

8 Q And how did you come to know who Mr. Chan or Ms. Dehmlow were?

9 How did you become familiar with them?

10 A Well, I -- good question, right? I mean, I've read since media reports and

11 other case filings and things specific to Elvis and then similar sort of filings, whether it's

12 Fifth Circuit stuff, on Ms. Dehmlow.

13 Q During your tenure at CISA, did you have any interactions with Mr. Chan or 14 any interactions with Ms. Dehmlow?

15 A Not that I recall.

16 Well, can we split that up, though?

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A Like, again, I don't recall having interaction with Mr. Chan.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A Don't recall having any interactions with Ms. Dehmlow. It's possible that

21 there were briefings delivered. I just don't recall who provided delivering -- briefings on 22 any given time -- at any given time.

23 BY [redacted]

24 Q Did you receive -- during your tenure at CISA, did you receive briefings from 25 the FBI's Foreign Influence Task Force?

1 A So stepping back, there were FBI liaisons and attaches, and there were
2 Secret Service attaches, there were Coast Guard attaches, there were Cyber Command
3 attaches embedded within CISA.
4 So my regular interactions with the FBI were either with leadership -- the director,
5 the deputy director, or the head of FBI Cyber -- or directly from the FBI staff that would sit
6 in my intelligence briefings. But they also had open-door privileges and could come in 7 and we could talk about things.
8 Specific to the task force, I don't recall a directed, one-to-one, this is an FBI Task
9 Force briefing. But it's possible that an FBI Task Force member briefed -- participated in 10 a set of briefings to me.
11 Q During your time at CISA, did you have any interactions with the Global
12 Engagement Center?
13 A I recall having a -- I recall hosting at my office the head of the Global 14 Engagement Center. I don't recall her name at this point -- or at this time. I recall at 15 least one meeting with her.
16 Q Okay.
17 A And it was an introductory meeting, "get to you know you" type meeting.
18 Q During your tenure as director of CISA, was CISA working directly with the 19 Global Engagement Center?
20 A I know there was contact, but I don't recall the depth of conversation. My 21 interactions with the GEC were very infrequent.
22 Q To your understanding, members of your team at the Agency, are you aware 23 of any ongoing meetings or projects that were -- GEC and CISA were working on during 24 your tenure?
25 A So meetings, projects, that's a whole group of things.

1 Q Sure, I'm just trying to --

2 A You know, I mean, the simple answer here is I don't recall this -- or I'm not

3 even sure I was aware of any -- the extent of how often they would work with the GEC.

4 If the GEC released a report, if it was brought to my attention. But beyond that tracking

5 the GEC was not something that I was doing on a regular basis.

6 [redacted] Were you aware of any interactions that anyone at CISA, under your

7 role as the director, anyone at CISA, were they interacting with anyone at the GEC?

8 Mr. Krebs. I don't recall.

9 [redacted] Was it anyone's role to interact with the GEC?

10 Mr. Krebs. I don't know if anybody had that specifically in their job title. They 11 could've interacted during some of those IPC meetings focused on election security.

12 BY [redacted]

13 Q Are you familiar with the Center for Internet Security?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And what is CIS?

16 A CIS is a nonprofit organization based in New York that has been a -- it's a

17 partner of CISA's. They host the Multi-State ISAC. They host the Election

18 Infrastructure ISAC. They're a grantee of CISA.

19 Q And as a grantee of CISA, what do they provide?

20 A So they are a grantee, but my recollection is they are a statutorily-funded

21 grantee CISA provides grant funding to. They host, as I mentioned, the Election

22 Infrastructure ISAC. They stood that up in, I want to say, February of 2018.

23 By the 2018 midterm election, all 50 States were participating in the Election ISAC.

24 The Election Infrastructure ISAC provides cyber threat intelligence to the members.

25 They provide network security tools. Albert, you may have heard of the Albert tool,

1 which is an intrusion detection system that the EI-ISAC provides out to the members, has

2 data, information-sharing via platforms, rooms. So key partner.

1

2 [10:58 A.M.]

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q Did you have a main point of contact at CIS or at the EI-ISAC?

5 A No. Again, these are grantees contact issues. These are operational

6 issues that are managed by staff.

7 Q Did you have a main point of contact at Facebook during your tenure at

8 CISA?

9 Mr. Walden. This is the second question now that you've asked for a main point

10 of contact. I just want to make sure that I'm clear. Like, what do you mean by "main

11 point of contact"? Someone that he was contacting regarding CISA programs or election

12 interference work?

13 [redacted] During your tenure at CISA, who were you most frequently in contact

14 with at Facebook?

15 Mr. Walden. Counsel, so this is why I'm trying to clear -- and I hope you

16 understand I'm trying to be helpful. You mean on election security stuff? You don't

17 mean like any other reason that CISA would have to be in contact with Facebook?

18 [redacted] No. Any reason.

19 Mr. Walden. Any reason. Okay.

20 Mr. Krebs. I think I'd say the person I mainly interacted with would be probably

21 [redacted], and I had known him for years when he was at DOJ and National 22 Security Council.

23 BY [redacted]

24 Q And what was the nature of your interactions with [redacted] specific to

25 when you were at CISA?

1 A As I mentioned, I had known Nathaniel for years. I would see him at 2 industry events. I would, you know, when they had a report on coordinated inauthentic
3 behavior, that they, you know, they do fairly regular -- now they do quarterly. I don't 4 recall what the tempo was then. He would send them to the team. He would send 5 them to me. Those are the -- I mean, that's the nature of the relationship and the 6 contact then.
7 Q Anything else with respect to [redacted]?
8 A I mean, within that sort of engagement, there is -- you know, I assume you'll 9 ask about industry meetings. He was in those industry meetings.
10 Q With respect to those industry meetings, to your understanding, when did 11 those first start?
12 A So, as I mentioned earlier on, there were already efforts underway, again, at 13 some point. I don't recall when these specifically started, but around the GFCT, and 14 Nathaniel was participating in those. I mean, these were meetings that happened
15 across the interagency all the way up to G7. There were G7 meetings on these sorts of 16 counterterrorism activity online. So I can't -- I don't recall specifically when these sorts
17 of industry meetings initiated.
18 Q Were they ongoing when you were Under Secretary for NPPD?
19 A Were they ongoing, meaning were they underway? What's the --
20 Q Yes.
21 A Again, I don't recall specifically.
22 Q Okay, well, I'll rephrase the question.
23 While you were Under Secretary at NPPD, were there ongoing meetings between 24 folks at NPPD and industry partners?
25 A I believe so, yeah.

1 Q And what was the purpose of those meetings?

2 A So the nature of those discussions were threat sharing, and it was CISA
3 sharing with the platforms here are the things that we've threat modeled out all of the 4 bad things that could happen around the 2020 selection. These are the things we're 5 worried about.

6 And it's the same playbook that we saw the Russians play in 2020 -- or 2016,
7 excuse me, 2016, yeah, targeting election systems, targeting campaigns, and then
8 broader, you know, sowing distrust and dis-info, info operations.

9 Q Were one of the operations, one of the risks of the operation, were one of 10 those discussed was the risk of the hack-and-leak operation?

11 Mr. Walden. I'm sorry. Do you mean at these industry meetings, while he was 12 Under Secretary of -- Under Secretary -- I'm sorry. Under Secretary of NPPD?

13 Mr. Krebs. NPPD.

14 Mr. Walden. Yeah, thank you. Sorry. During those meetings specifically, I'm 15 trying to get at are you talking about time period? Are you talking about --

16 [redacted] Well, he was answering in the lead up to the 2020 elections. So
17 we're at CISA at that point. We're not with NPPD anymore.

18 Mr. Walden. That's what I was trying to clarify.

19 Mr. Krebs. No, I can answer. So again --

20 Mr. Walden. Just answer with the time period so I can follow. I was in a 21 different time period.

22 Mr. Krebs. So it doesn't matter if it was 2016 or through 2020, hack and leak was 23 a risk. We saw hack and leak in 2016. So, as we were preparing for 2018, naturally we 24 would include what had happened in the past in our current threat model, and that 25 extended through 2020.

1 In fact, what we saw in 2020 was a hack and leak operation by the Iranians where
2 they were able to get into a voter registration database. They did a screen cap and then
3 you might recall in late October they released a video to the backdrop of a Metallica song,
4 "Enter Sandman," of them doing something manipulating, and then they pushed that out
5 on social media.
6 So, yes, that was in the threat profile, and, in fact, we were right.
7 BY [redacted]
8 Q So, for the ongoing U.S. Government industry meetings that we're referring 9 to that CISA is partaking in and taking the lead in, those meetings that were ongoing in 10 2020, were they ongoing in 2019? I'm just trying to get a sense of when did they first 11 start?
12 A Again, just 4 -- this is 4-plus, 5-plus years ago we're talking about at this 13 point. So do I recall the month of the year when they started? No. My recollection is 14 there were some meetings before the 2018 election, and there were meetings through 15 2019. I don't recall how the meetings transpired in 2020 during COVID where we 16 weren't doing in-persons.
17 But, yes, I recall there were meetings in 2019. I think you probably have that I
18 attended at least two of them, and, you know, one was at LinkedIn, the other was at 19 Facebook.
20 Q In 2020, how frequently would you attend these meetings?
21 A Frankly, I don't recall attending any of them, and the model of the 22 engagements were different because of COVID. So I just don't recall.
23 Q With respect to when these --
24 A Let me just put a little bit more detail on that, right. You remember
25 walking into Facebook headquarters for a meeting. In 2020, I don't recall the thousands

1 of Zooms and Teams I attended. So I just don't recall what the tempo was like.

2 Q So pre-COVID, these meetings would occur in person?

3 A Some of them occurred in person. I don't recall, don't know if there were

4 other forms of meetings.

5 Q And, for the in-person meetings that you can recall, roughly how many

6 people would attend these meetings?

7 A Oh, again, we're talking 4 years ago. I don't recall. I mean, I don't recall

8 the companies that were, you know, in the meetings. The usuals would have been

9 there. I can tell you, on the CISA side, it was -- or NPPD side, either one, it was me, and

10 then there was always right there a lawyer. So one of the general counsel or the chief

11 counsel's office. And then there were other representatives from NPPD or CISA. There

12 were FBI there as well, and then there were the platforms.

13 Again, I don't recall the specific platforms other than, you know, the obvious

14 Facebook and Twitter and YouTube. I don't recall beyond that, and there would usually 15 be a primary and then a plus one.

16 Q And, for these, again, in-person ones, do you recall would there be CISA only 17 meetings to prep for these meetings in advance?

18 A Would we do prep meetings for these?

19 Q Yes.

20 A I don't recall. I had, you know, a lot of meetings. Not every meeting

21 would get a prep meeting just because time in the day. That I don't recall.

22 [redacted] Can we go off the record, please.

23 [Recess.]

24 [redacted] It's 11:18. We can go back on the record.

25 EXAMINATION

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q Mr. Krebs, thank you again for joining us today.

3 A Thank you.

4 Q I want to take a couple steps back. You were asked a lot of questions in the

5 earlier hour about CISA and about meetings you might have attended as part of CISA, but

6 we kind of glossed over the circumstances around CISA's creation. And you said at the

7 beginning that one of your major priorities when you initially started at DHS was getting

8 the act that formed CISA off the ground or getting it passed, right?

9 A Yes.

10 Q So can you describe for us the circumstances surrounding the creation of

11 CISA?

12 A So I came in in 2017. It was one of the Secretary's priorities, Secretary John 13 Kelly, Secretary's priorities.

14 Q And sorry. Not to break in, but why was it one of Secretary Kelly's

15 priorities?

16 A I think, by 2017, it was clear after a decade of Chinese intellectual property

17 thefts, Russian attacks on the 2016 election, Iranian attacks against the banking industry,

18 that the executive branch needed a civilian cybersecurity-focused agency, and there had

19 been conversations underway for the prior couple years led by Congressman McCaul,

20 who is chairman of House Homeland, now Foreign Affairs, to help stand up this agency.

21 Q And is it fair to say because at -- the impetus for setting up the agency was 22 really to protect national security?

23 A Absolutely, yes.

24 Q And so this was a priority for Secretary Kelly, and so what did you

25 actually -- what steps did you actually take towards helping CISA be set up?

1 A I worked with House Homeland majority and minority staff, say Republican
2 and Democratic staff, on the actual negotiating the language, devising the name of the 3 agency, would also work with Senate staff, worked with Energy and Commerce,
4 Transportation and Infrastructure Committee staff on kind of the contours of the 5 authorities and how this would happen.
6 Q And the act that actually created CISA was the Cybersecurity and 7 Infrastructure Security Agency Act of 2018. Correct?
8 A Yes.
9 Q And that ultimately passed the House Homeland Security Committee. It
10 passed out of committee unanimously by voice vote. Correct? If you recall.
11 A That is my recollection. In fact, that was I think in 2017.
12 Q And do you recall that it also passed out of the House Oversight Committee
13 by voice vote, so unanimously?
14 A Yes, that's my recollection.
15 Q And are you aware that Chairman Jordan, now chairman of the Judiciary
16 Committee, was on the House Oversight Committee at that time?
17 A I don't recall specifically whether he was on the -- but that sounds right.
18 Q And then, continuing on with the legislative process, in 2017 and 2018, the 19 House was under the control of the Republicans. Correct?
20 A Yes.
21 Q And the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency Act of 2018 passed
22 the full House by voice vote. Correct? Or I'm sorry -- on suspension of the rules.
23 Correct?
24 A And I recall that was late 2017, November, December.
25 Q So it passed the Republican --

1 A Yes.

2 Q -- House unanimously --

3 A Yes.

4 Q -- without objection. Is that fair to say?

5 A That's my recollection, yes.

6 Q And it also passed the Senate unanimously. Correct?

7 A In November of 2018, yes.

8 Q And the Senate at that time was also controlled by Republicans. Correct?

9 A Yes, I believe that's right.

10 Q And then, after the bill passed the Senate, it was signed into law by 11 President Trump. Correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Who is also Republican. Correct?

14 A Yes.

15 Q CISA considers election security a critical infrastructure subsector. Correct?

16 A Yes. That was the destination made in January of 2017 by the prior

17 Secretary and then reaffirmed by John Kelly.

18 Q And what's your understanding of why CISA or DHS writ large I guess

19 considers election security a critical infrastructure subsector?

20 A It is a critical infrastructure subsector, which is just a detail of kind of how

21 working with the critical infrastructure sector matters. But I think it was clear after the

22 2016 election that across the 8,000-plus jurisdictions, State and local election officials,

23 that they were under direct attack and threat from foreign cyber actors, and there were

24 also some physical considerations here as well and that they needed additional support

25 and more than anything focus from the Federal Government to help them secure their

1 systems.

2 Q And what do you mean by "focus"?

3 A They needed dedicated support, dedicated effort. Prior to the 2016

4 election, there was no, within NPPD, there was no election security initiative. There

5 was, in fact, no election security efforts at all, and my understanding is that the prior

6 administration was taken completely unawares by the Russian efforts in 2016. And, in

7 2017, as part of the Trump administration, as part of John Kelly's team, we were not

8 going to let that happen again.

9 Q And so, by maintaining the designation of election infrastructure as a critical

10 security subsector, did that help you obtain additional resources, additional personnel to 11 more directly confront this problem?

12 A Yes. We reaffirmed that designation. We provided multiple briefings. I

13 testified about election security multiple times. It was a priority wedge in our budget

14 and budget request, and we, you know, we were constantly, as I saw it, allocated funding

15 by the Congress to, you know, to continue those efforts through 2020.

16 Q In the prior hour, you were asked for your definition of the terms

17 "disinformation" and "misinformation" and "malinformation." Do you recall that?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And, when you provided your definitions, you made it clear. You said:

20 These are my definitions, not necessarily the academic definitions.

21 Do you recall saying that?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Can you explain why you made that distinction?

24 A Well, for one, I don't have a photographic memory to repeat whatever the

25 definitions are, but, again, this is a more recent field of study, and I think there are

1 probably variations in specific definitions.

2 Q And so it's fair to say this is an emerging field. Is that fair to say?

3 A Yes. And, relatedly, an emerging risk area for the national security

4 community.

5 Q And focusing on the emerging risk area, the fact that academic research is

6 still ongoing, that I think a lot of the academic programs are potentially still in their early

7 stages, that doesn't mean that the risk is any less to national security, right?

8 In other words, would you agree that misinformation, disinformation, and 9 malinformation, under whatever definition, pose a risk to national security?

10 A Yes. And I submit that what we've seen since the Russian invasion of 11 Ukraine and the Hamas attack on Israel is that it is more prevalent than ever.

12 Q And I want to turn back to that in a minute.

13 A Okay.

14 Q You were asked in the prior hour a number of questions about

15 malinformation specifically, and you said that malinformation is information which may 16 be true but that's manipulated or taken out of context. Is that a fair summary of what

17 you said?

18 A Yes.

19 Q In your opinion, as the former head of CISA and somebody who has

20 continued to work in the field of disinformation since leaving CISA, do you think that

21 malinformation specifically poses a risk to national security?

22 A I do, and I think that there is a direct link between the core cybersecurity

23 mission of CISA and malinformation. Again, I don't love the term, but this is part of what

24 we were doing, working with State and local officials to help them understand that bad

25 actors, cyber actors were looking to hack into their systems and not just disrupt the

1 systems but steal information from their systems that could then be released later to 2 undermine confidence in the process.
3 Q And can you explain how that works? How does the release of that
4 information, which may be true information, how does the release of that information
5 work to undermine confidence in the system?
6 A So I'll just use the example of the Iranians in 2020 that had gained access,
7 reportedly, to a State voter registration database. They screen-capped it. They 8 developed a video that showed them initially accessing that database and the reports and 9 the files, and then subsequently, they, again, taking it out of contact, said: We have 10 access to the database. We know who you're registered to vote for. We know who 11 you're going to vote for, and if you don't vote this way, then we're going to come after 12 you.
13 Again, they were posing as the Proud Boys, and the attempt there was to 14 intimidate voters to vote a certain way.
15 Q So is it fair to say that that could undermine confidence in the election by 16 discouraging people -- by making people concerned that, if they vote in the wrong way,
17 they could be harmed?
18 A Well, I mean, it's not just undermining confidence in the election. It's 19 intimidating voters one way or the other.
20 Q So would you say that posed a threat to the democratic process in 2020?
21 A Yes.
22 Q And, just on that example specifically, did CISA take particular steps to 23 counteract that intimidation?
24 A So this is one where I think, due to some of the classified information, we'll
25 need to tread carefully here. But I think it's fair to say that the specific Iranian Proud

1 Boys campaign of late October was the specific genesis of CISA's Rumor Control program
2 that I mentioned in my opening remarks, and that was a list of narratives around the
3 election that we provided information to the American public on how whether, you
4 know, whatever this claim is, how it's either not possible or it couldn't make an effect on 5 the election casting, counting, certification process.
6 Q Okay.
7 [redacted] And I want to introduce as exhibit 4 the Rumor Control website as it
8 appeared on November 1st, 2020.
9 [Krebs Exhibit No. 4.
10 Was marked for identification.]
11 [redacted] And I should say this is -- we took this off of the internet archive, and 12 when we printed it, there was actually a video that appears on the first page. It didn't 13 print in the printed version, but the text is the same.
14 And I'll give you a minute to review. Let me know when you're ready to 15 continue.
16 Mr. Walden. Yeah, but you're not going to ask him to authenticate this, right?
17 [redacted] No, I'm just going to talk through what it says.
18 Mr. Walden. Okay.
19 [redacted] And ask, you know, the purpose of the different sections. I'm not 20 really sure how you authenticate the Wayback Machine.
21 Mr. Walden. Okay.
22 BY [redacted]
23 Q So, having had a minute to recall or to review this, do you recall this as being
24 the Rumor Control website in early November 2020?
25 A Yes, I do. And specific to the Iranian Proud Boys campaign, I mean, a

1 number of these were specifically developed to get at some of the core elements of that
2 campaign.
3 Q And can you explain that? Can you talk us through those?
4 A Yeah, so, you know, the last -- page 5 of 7, at the bottom, safeguards are in
5 place to protect against fraudulent voting using Federal write-in absentee ballots, as I
6 recall, there was a campaign at the time that somebody was using the DOD Federal 7 write-in absentee for expats and those overseas to manipulate the votes.
8 So, as soon as we saw that, we worked with the Federal voting -- whatever FVAP,
9 that team, I think it's related to the Department of Defense -- to, once again, provide, you
10 know, here's how this actually works, and, most importantly, as I see it to this day and 11 saw it then, was the useful sources.
12 So, if it was available, we always would lead with U.S. Code. So, you know, the 13 legislative branch and then any executive branch information and then, you know, third
14 parties like National Conference of State Legislatures.
15 So another one is page 4 of 7. It says, the rumor: If State or local jurisdiction
16 information technology has been compromised, the election results cannot be trusted.
17 So this was specific to that video with the "Enter Sandman" video trying to get at 18 like, look, they were in the voter registration database, which is separately maintained
19 than any of the information that is associated -- or the systems that count ballots.
20 Again, trying to separate out and provide information to the public to help them kind of 21 interpret what they're seeing in the video.
22 Q So is it fair to say that the goal of the Rumor Control website was to educate
23 the public so they would have accurate information available to them?
24 A Rumor -- it's now -- maybe it's now called rumor versus reality, whatever.
25 So the idea here, again, was, understanding that there would be claims coming up around

1 the security of the election we could anticipate due to some of that threat modeling that
2 we had done for the year and a half prior, and we could provide: You may hear that or 3 you may be seeing that this -- you may be seeing this claim. Let us explain how that 4 couldn't happen. And, you know, with useful sources, it's: Don't believe us. Here's 5 some authoritative sources.
6 And, just as a matter of background, we shamelessly stole Rumor Control from 7 FEMA. FEMA had been doing this exact same model of public awareness for years.
8 Their theory was that, in the wake of a hurricane, for example, after 3 or 4 days, once
9 public assistance is made available to the public, then fraudsters start showing up and
10 demanding -- you know, asking for: Hey, if you give me this money, I can do this thing
11 for you; or you need to file your money with me -- and so people would turn over 12 their -- or file your information with me, and I'll go get you your public assistance. So
13 they then used the personally identifiable information to go get some of that public
14 assistance money.
15 So FEMA did it. Thought it was an effective model, and we lifted and shifted and 16 dropped it in place in late October.
17 Q So, just kind of to sum up what we just talked through, you described the 18 example of the Iranians posing as the Proud Boys to hack and effectively release
19 information in a way that could intimidate voters, right?
20 A Yes.
21 Q And that's an example of malinformation being used to intimidate voters?
22 A Yes.
23 Q And that was a concern to CISA because it could undermine voters'
24 willingness to participate in the Democratic process, right?
25 A Yes.

1 Q And so CISA responded to that malinformation by putting up a website,
2 among other things, to educate the public and give them accurate information.
3 Correct?
4 A Yes.
5 Q And is it true that there was also a press conference as part of the response
6 to the Proud Boys, the Iranians posing as Proud Boys incident?
7 A That's right.
8 Q Can you describe that?
9 A There was a press conference the evening of Wednesday, October -- I don't
10 remember if it was the 23rd or something like that, but it was at FBI Headquarters.
11 Director of National Intelligence Ratcliffe was there. Director Wray of the FBI was there.
12 Assistant Attorney General John Demers from the National Security Division was there,
13 and I was there.
14 So there was a press conference about the Iranian effort, publicly attributing the 15 activity to the Iranians, and talking about some of the things that we were doing to 16 counter. And I believe Director Wray or Director Ratcliffe even mentioned Rumor
17 Control, but that was, you know, a real -- that was kind of the breakout, coming out party
18 for Rumor Control.
19 Q And, again, the purpose of that press conference was to educate the public
20 and to provide them with information about what was happening so they wouldn't be 21 deceived if they saw the video?
22 A Yeah, I mean, again, this is about public awareness. Rumor Control is one
23 way to do it, but, of course, getting a press conference together with senior Trump 24 administration officials talking about these attacks on the election we all thought was 25 important. In fact, you know, we had had, without getting into specifics of various

1 conversations, you know, there were numerous National Security Council meetings,
2 including with the Chief of Staff and the National Security Advisor on what was happening
3 and what we were going to do about it.
4 And Rumor Control was CISA's contribution to the response that, as I recall at 5 least, was widely viewed and applauded, widely viewed as a positive thing and applauded
6 by the White House.
7 Q And do you recall -- when you say "the White House," does that mean
8 National Security Council? Does that mean -- well, what does "the White House" mean?
9 A Well, my, you know, recollection of the meetings was that there were senior
10 officials that were not just National Security Council staffers or the National Security
11 Advisor, but, you know, beyond that, others that were senior officials in the White House.
12 Q Do you recall who?
13 A You know, yes. The Chief of Staff was -- Chief of Staff Meadows was in 14 some of these meetings. Some of the public affairs and communications people were in 15 the meetings as well.
16 Q Was the White House press secretary, for example, in the meetings?
17 A I don't recall specifically. There was a lot going on at that time. I don't 18 recall, but there were definitely comms people there.
19 Q So it's fair to say that at least Chief of Staff Mark Meadows and other senior 20 White House officials were in support of the Rumor Control website?
21 A As we were briefing it out, and the initial returns, that's my recolle0ction.
22 Q I want to turn back. We talked through the concern inherent to
23 disinformation and associated with malinformation. Specifically with respect to election
24 workers, so I'm talking about poll workers, secretaries of State, the individuals who 25 administer elections in the States. Can disinformation undermine those officials' ability

1 to do their jobs?

2 A So, in the wake of 2016, one of the uniformly -- one of the requests that we
3 got the most from State and local election officials on a broadly bipartisan basis was to 4 help them communicate, help them engage their communities on disinformation, on the 5 threats to democracy from disinformation, specifically some of the stuff that they 6 experienced, that we experienced in the 2016 election, that we expected to continue,
7 that we did see continue.

8 And that's why I felt it was important to provide Secretary of State from West
9 Virginia Mac Warner's presentation that he both briefed at the National Association of 10 Secretaries of State, as well as with travel around West Virginia to speak to his 11 constituents about the risk.

12 And, you know, his, as I recall, his common plea or refrain was: Don't let them
13 hack your brain. That's what they're trying to do. They're trying to hack your brain.

14 Q And what does that mean? What does "hack your brain "mean?

15 A Well, so -- all right, stepping back a little bit, and I'm sorry --

16 Mr. Walden. No.

17 Mr. Krebs. So we have a certain view of how cyber and influence operations
18 work. The Russians and Chinese have a different view. The Russians, within 19 particularly the GRU, which is the main intelligence directorate at the military, their 20 operations, their information operations, as they call it, is the name of the overarching 21 doctrine; that doctrine is split up into two parallels lines of efforts that are correlated.
22 There is the technical operations, and then there is the psychological operations.

23 So what they do is they chain together technical attacks on infrastructure to 24 generate psychological effects, and the Iranians have copied that playbook, as we saw
25 with the hack and leak. So they would use a technical attack or compromise a voter

1 registration database that they could then repackage into an information operation, a
2 psychological operation.
3 The Russians have done the same thing. They did it at the beginning of or
4 throughout the Russian invasion of Ukraine. I suspect that we are seeing some of it
5 right now. There is a group called Anonymous Sudan who is linked to Russian
6 intelligence, allegedly, that conducted a denial-of-service attack on The Jerusalem Post
7 and knocked it offline for several hours on Saturday and Sunday.
8 This shows how they link together technical attacks with an impact on 9 psychological operations. So what would be the effect of a Jerusalem Post outage?
10 Well, people can't get information. At a time when everybody wants to know what's 11 happening in a country, their trusted source of information, The Post, is not available.
12 So this is how those things work. Our partners in State and local -- again, Mac
13 Warner is a Republican secretary of state who is running for Governor right now, and he 14 was one of our most ardent supporters and really the most frequent demand signal we 15 had from across our constituents for some help: We've got to do this.
16 Q So is it fair to say that State and local election officials like Mac Warner, like 17 secretaries of state across the country reached out to CISA for help because they might 18 not on their own have the expertise to combat this kind of psychological welfare you've 19 described? Is it fair to say it's "psychological welfare"? "Psychological operations" I
20 guess would be the better term?
21 A So, yes, that's -- I think that's correct. I think a lot of our activities in the 22 run up to 2020 specifically were informed by our partners, our stakeholders about their 23 requests for support. We moved away I guess from a -- well, again, we were responding 24 to requests for support from our partners.
25 Q And do you believe your efforts to respond to support those partners were

1 successful in 2020?

2 A I don't know how to measure success, but I think Rumor Control, for

3 example, was an effective program that I think still gets referred to as a, you know,

4 innovation and an example of how government should engage in this space, countering

5 disinformation and information operations.

6 Q Let me put it a little differently.

7 In your opinion, was CISA able to effectively counteract efforts by foreign malign

8 interests to interfere using kind of the psychological tactics in 2020?

9 A Again, I don't know if we were effectively able to counteract. I know that

10 we -- that there are people that found the information that we provided beneficial to 11 helping them understand the claims that they were being constantly bombarded with 12 from all over.

13 Q In your opinion, do foreign actors like Russia, like Iran, like China, have a 14 motivation to attempt to interfere in the 2024 election?

15 A This gets into speculation, and I don't have access to intelligence right now,

16 but they have previously had motivations in prior elections, and I don't really see a lot

17 that would -- that has changed to make them pull back.

18 Q If CISA or the Federal Government writ large were to be prevented from

19 taking steps to counteract foreign efforts to interfere, do you think that would potentially

20 be harmful for the 2024 election? In other words, do you think that foreign malign

21 interest might be able to successful interfere in the 2024 election?

22 A It's possible but, again, I don't think we need to even look out to the 2024

23 election. I think we can see it happening right now with Hamas and Israel.

24 Q And I'd like to talk about that a little bit. So you referenced the

25 denial-of-service attack. Can you explain in a little more detail what you were talking

1 about with that?

2 A So, according to reports and cyber threat intelligence companies,

3 Anonymous Sudan, which is -- they claim to be an activist group, but there are some

4 indications that they are linked to Russian intelligence -- conducted a denial-of-service

5 attack, and a denial-of-service attack is simply where you use techniques, including bots

6 and other, you know, hack devices across the internet to direct website access -- URL

7 requests to a webpage, and you overload the server's ability to render the URL, render

8 the page, causes the server on the back end to crash.

9 And these are more nuisance tactics without much in terms of a kind of long-term

10 technical impact, but it's the psychological impact of that, in the moment, can be quite

11 significant. And, yes, denial-of-service attacks against election night reporting, for

12 instance, in 2020, was one of the things that we had kind of threat modeled out, and

13 that's why -- I don't think I see it in here but -- oh, yeah.

14 Q I'm sorry. You're referring back to the rumor --

15 A I'm sorry, in the Rumor Control.

16 Q It's exhibit 4.

17 A I don't know if I see it in here. I'd have to look back, but I do believe at the

18 time there was a Rumor Control entry about the role that election night reporting plays

19 and how it's unofficial data. Yes, that's the bottom -- I'm sorry -- the top of page 7 of 7.

20 The reality, it says: Election night results are not official results. And the rumor is, if

21 election night reporting sites experience an outage, vote counts will be lost or 22 manipulated.

23 So that's the false, and there were claims that election night reporting is

24 authoritative or gets spun that way. So, again, going back to denial of service, it's just

25 bad guy overloads webpage; server crashes; you can't see the website anymore. And it

1 can create confusion, panic, you know, what's going on across the viewership, leadership.
2 Q Are you familiar with reports of other types of disinformation being spread
3 in the wake of the attack in Israel this past weekend?
4 A Yeah, so I'm aware of one where there was a report of a church that had
5 been attacked or bombed in Israel, and the church actually got on Twitter and said: No,
6 we're still here.
7 But it just kind of spins out of control.
8 Q And, when you say it spins out of control, does that mean online?
9 A Yes, online. It gets, you know, promoted, amplified. And, of course, there
10 is -- you know, there are other examples of harmful content that has been amplified, 11 that's getting spun out of control, and that includes executions of hostages, of some of 12 the dead, the deceased bodies throughout the country that have been amplified on these 13 platforms.
14 And, you know, in some cases the content moderation tools that are on the 15 platforms don't always catch them, so people report into the platforms: Hey, this is 16 harmful material. My understanding was that some of the schools in Israel and the UK
17 and even here in the U.S. were sending notes home to parents saying: Hey, you should 18 remove YouTube, TikTok, X, all of these from any of your kid's social media or any of their 19 devices because, if they see this, you know, they are long-lasting impacts.
20 Q Is the spread of that type of information online something that the United 21 States Federal Government would be concerned with in your experience?
22 A So this, you know, this goes to some of I think the prior efforts I mentioned
23 with the GFCT, you know, for instance, in the wake of the Christ Church shooting that
24 streamed online, that, you know, again, I can't speak to what the FBI was doing, but I
25 know that there were concerns across the government of the platforms, you know,

1 allowing content like that to propagate, and I don't see any difference now of both
2 allowing, you know, of that content appearing now on platforms.
3 Q And can you describe -- and can you explain why the government would be
4 concerned with that type of information proliferating on platforms?
5 A So, again, this goes into more of the kind of counterterrorism space, which is 6 not core to CISA, so I don't want to get too much into speculating why, what the kind of 7 policy elements are of that. It wasn't core to CISA but, you know, my understanding, it
8 was a concern of the government.
9 Q Let's turn back to CISA and turn back specifically to CISA's preparation or 10 CISA's work around the 2020 election.
11 A Uh-huh.
12 Q We talked through the Rumor Control website in some detail. Are you also 13 familiar with CISA's Protect 2020 campaign?
14 A Yes.
15 Q What was that?
16 A Protect 2020 was the tagline that ultimately -- that was created in 2019 to 17 create awareness around public awareness, both State and local partners, also the 18 general public of the various things we were doing to secure election systems and work
19 with election officials, in part, to instill confidence in the public, the voting public
20 specifically that we were taking this seriously and that we were improving the security
21 and resilience of our election systems.
22 And this is, you know, honestly, this was an initiative that President Trump, you
23 know, he endorsed and encouraged us to get more out there and talk about the things
24 we were doing to secure elections and get more paper ballots out there. He's a big
25 proponent of paper ballots. And that became kind of -- it started a tagline, but I think it

1 ultimately was maybe -- well, I don't know if it was the initiative name. It was a big part
2 of our messaging.
3 Q When you said that President Trump endorsed it, how did you know that he
4 endorsed it?
5 A You know, without getting too much into details of White House meetings,
6 there were briefings on our efforts that he supported, and there were other meetings
7 that I was not in that my staff felt the President supported our efforts.
8 Q Did you have any conversations with President Trump directly about the 9 Protect 2020 campaign?
10 A Not specifically.
11 Mr. Walden. Never mind. Go ahead.
12 Mr. Krebs. No.
13 [redacted] I want to introduce as the exhibit 5 CISA's protect 2020 website,
14 again, as it appeared on November 1st, 2020.
15 [Krebs Exhibit No. 5.
16 Was marked for identification.]
17 BY [redacted]
18 Q And I should note on the actual website, on page 2, there is a "Why Do We 19 Need Protect 2020"; page 3 is "Protect 2020 Resources"; those are all -- we clicked to 20 expand them here. So, as it appears on the actual website, they're all individual 21 headlines, and we expanded them all for purposes of this document.
22 A Okay.
23 Q Are you ready to continue?
24 A Yes.
25 Q So the section on page 2, it says: Why do we need protect 2020?

1 And I'm just going to briefly paraphrase. It says that CISA is working to help
2 secure election infrastructure and ensure an election free from foreign influence, and
3 that Protect 2020 outreach enables CISA to build on the trust, expertise, and 4 relationships -- it looks like there is a section blacked out -- through our election security
5 work to broaden our State and local cybersecurity risk-management efforts.
6 Do you see where it says that?
7 A Yes.
8 Q So the purpose of Protect 2020 is to work with State and local officials to 9 help broaden your efforts to counteract malign foreign influence. Is that a fair summary
10 of the purpose of it?
11 A Yes.
12 Q Okay.
13 And, following that, there is a whole list of protect 2020 resources. Do you see 14 that? It's the very next section.
15 A Yes, so this note, it looks like it's an interstitial, but the note says it's 16 committed to providing -- that, I think, box is just dropped in there because the list goes 17 on.
18 Q Right. And there is a list of probably two dozen, maybe more bullet points
19 of resources. Correct?
20 A Right.
21 Q Who is the target audience for this, if you recall?
22 A It depends. So I'll give you an example. Physical security of voting
23 locations and election facilities. This is a guide that was developed for State and local 24 officials that maintained, you know, whether it's election offices, to secure them against 25 robberies, break-ins, theft of equipment, but also the physical security of voting locations

1 for, you know, physical attack. So that's State and locals.

2 Election disinformation toolkit. So this was I think a part of a campaign that we
3 were working alongside the National Association of Secretaries of State, which represents
4 the secretary of states; the National Association of State Election Directors, which
5 represents secretaries -- or State election directors. I think it was trusted info
6 2020 -- but, you know, helping them, again, as a part of the demand we were hearing
7 from secretaries of state like Mac Warner of the basics of how a State official or local 8 official could help stylize kind of higher-level documents to local communities.

9 So, again, some of these were for State and locals, but if you look at the third, the 10 three P's of voting, that was for the general public, and that was, you know, be prepared,
11 participating, and patient. I actually came up with that. But, when you break those 12 down, prepared means, you know, in advance of the election, make sure you know where 13 you're supposed to vote. Make sure you're registered. Make sure you're registered.
14 So this is all just kind of mental resilience.

15 The participating, part of the concern at the time -- and this was a request that we 16 got for help from the Election Assistance Commission and State and locals was due to 17 COVID and a number of election officials that were immunocompromised, were 18 otherwise incapable of continuing volunteering, there were a lot of openings. And so,
19 you know, there was a national campaign, including up here on the Hill, to get more
20 people to volunteer as election officials.

21 And then, being patient, this was a, hey, you know, due to kind of the shifts in 22 policies and regulations around voting, but it's always been the case that it takes a little 23 bit longer to tally votes, and as a part of our threat modeling, we anticipated foreign 24 threat actors to kind of take advantage of that. And so concern around, you know, how 25 votes are being manipulated so this person wins or that person wins. So just be patient.

1 It takes time.

2 And I think the average person doesn't understand that certifications happens in

3 different States at different times and, you know, there is a lead time.

4 Q Okay. So it's fair to say that this is a list of resources for both local officials

5 and for the general public. Correct?

6 A Yes, that's correct.

7 Q And then the website goes on, and it provides a section on understanding

8 foreign influence that has a list of bullets of things that people should think about when

9 they see things online. Is that fair to say?

10 A Yes, yes, yes.

11 Q And then there is some additional information that follows that about

12 enhancing election infrastructure resiliency and additional election security, GCC and SCC

13 resources?

14 A Yes. And, you know, again, these, you know, tips to the public are

15 consistent with -- on page 5, these are consistent with some of the other public

16 awareness campaigns that CISA and NPPD before had undertaken for years.

17 So October is National Cybersecurity Awareness Month, and right now you'll see it

18 online, you'll see it on TV, you'll see various adds of, you know, understanding

19 cybersecurity risks and the steps you can take.

20 And like, think before you link is, you know, a parallel, right. It's like think before

21 you click. And you'll see the same thing right before Black Friday, the day after

22 Thanksgiving. You know, pay attention to scams. You know, when you get an email,

23 you know, think, take a look at it before you click on that link and provide a credit card.

1 [12:07 p.m.]

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Is it fair to say that this type of public awareness campaign and the

4 educational efforts that CISA engaged in, that that really was CISA's focus with respect to

5 2020 election security vis-à-vis the general public, that the focus was on pushing out

6 information and educating the general public?

7 A So, in terms of engaging the general public, yes, it was helping them

8 understand all the things that we had been doing to make sure their vote was secure.

9 Q And with respect to countering disinformation, misinformation,

10 malinformation specifically, CISA's focus was on pushing out additional information,

11 pushing out accurate information that would help the general public have the real facts at 12 their fingertips. Is that fair to say?

13 A It was pushing out information to the American public on how things work,

14 this is how the process works, so that they're knowledgeable on the underlying processes,

15 so when a claim comes in, they can put it into the proper context of, oh, that actually

16 can't happen because now I know that this is how elections work and these are the 17 processes in place.

18 Q Are you familiar with allegations that CISA, in fact, was intimidating or 19 coercing platforms into removing disinformation?

20 A Am I aware of --

21 Q Of --

22 A -- allegations?

23 Q -- allegations to that effect.

24 A Certainly not at the time. I mean, now I'm aware that that's been claimed.

25 Q I mean, sitting here today, are you aware that those allegations are out

1 there?

2 A I'm aware that that's kind of core to Missouri v. Biden, yes.

3 Q To your knowledge, did CISA ever monitor platforms, social media platforms,

4 to determine whether election-related misinformation or disinformation was present on

5 their websites?

6 A I'm not aware of whether we monitored.

7 Q To your knowledge, did CISA ever instruct or coerce any platforms into

8 removing particular misinformation or disinformation or malinformation?

9 A I'm not aware of any coercion or instruction by CISA.

10 Q So what is your response to allegations -- again, allegations that have been

11 made recently -- that CISA, in fact, did instruct or pressure or coerce social media

12 platforms into removing content?

13 A It's at odds with my understanding of how our relationship with the social

14 media platforms worked.

15 I've talked about switchboarding. That was State and local officials, connecting 16 them with the platforms as a pass-through.

17 I'm not aware of any requests to take down content.

18 Q And, in reality, to the extent CISA --

19 A By CISA, by CISA, to be clear.

20 Q And, in reality, to the extent that CISA was working to counteract

21 disinformation or misinformation or malinformation, CISA was doing that by working to

22 educate the public about the true facts of a situation or the true facts about allegations

23 that might be online. Is that fair to say?

24 A CISA was working to provide awareness and educate on election systems

25 and processes, and provided them resources -- Federal, and State and local government,

1 and other resources -- on how to better understand how those things worked.

2 Q Thank you.

3 A Uh-huh.

4 BY [redacted]

5 Q Okay, Mr. Krebs, I just want to have a more broad conversation with you to

6 kind of get a little bit more from you in your own words about what you see going on

7 here, specifically with respect to the allegations against CISA that we just discussed that

8 are in Missouri v. Biden and also held by members on this committee and probably are

9 part of the reason that you were brought here today. So, just directing you to that 10 subject.

11 When I read your opening statement, I was struck by the fact that, you know, you

12 came right out and said that there are what you considered, quote, "serious

13 misunderstandings" here. Is that right?

14 So, I'm sorry --

15 A Serious mis- --

16 Q -- do you want to look at your --

17 A Serious misrepresentations?

18 Q Well, the word here --

19 A Do I say "misunderstandings"? Okay.

20 Q You can use your own words.

21 A Okay. No, it's fine.

22 Q Tell me what you --

23 A I'm sorry. No, no, no. Sorry.

24 Q I'm trying to figure out what you want to say. I just want to give you an

25 opportunity to kind of elaborate a little bit.

1 You started your statement with what seems to be an intent to clear up some
2 misunderstandings. Is that fair?
3 A Yes.
4 Q Okay. And tell me, what is it? Just broadly, first, what are those 5 misunderstandings, as you sit here today, that led you to be asked to testify in this
6 committee, perhaps, or led to some of the allegations that are in the Missouri v. Biden
7 litigation?
8 A Look, I can just point to the letter -- no, not that, but the letter that invited
9 me and said that CISA engaged in censorship and monitoring of American speech. And 10 that is not my recollection --
11 Q Right.
12 A -- of how things worked in 2018 or 2020.
13 We worked with our partners in State and local election offices from across the 14 political spectrum. We connected them with social media platforms so they could work
15 with them. And that was, you know, I wouldn't even say uniformly bipartisan; there was 16 significant Republican election official participation, beyond Mac Warner.
17 Rumor control was one of those efforts. Hardening systems was one of those 18 efforts.
19 But, you know, it was certainly not a policy objective, from where I sat, to censor
20 political -- or American speech. It was not an objective to have platforms change their 21 content moderation policies. We were doing what was core within the DHS and CISA
22 mission of information-sharing and connecting partners.
23 Q Okay. And I just want to highlight a few things that you said, again, in your 24 statement.
25 The very first paragraph, when you list the misunderstandings as you see them,

1 addresses what you characterize as bipartisan agreement after the 2016 election among
2 State election officials that Russia was responsible for sweeping, malign activities.
3 So you go right to pointing that out, right? And tell me if the reason that's your
4 point number one is because you're trying to emphasize there that this 2016 interference
5 by the Russians is clear and uncontroversial. Is that one of the points you're trying to 6 make there?
7 A Yes, as documented in the intelligence community assessment of 2017,
8 which was not recalled or rescinded by the last administration.
9 Q Absolutely. So are you trying to suggest there that there is some 10 misunderstanding today about what happened in 2016? Is that why you brought that 11 up in your statement?
12 A My primary point here is that there were risks -- threats to elections in 2018
13 and 2020 based on our understanding of the 2016 efforts by the Russians, and those 14 continue. Russia is still there, their intelligence services are still there, and so this is an 15 ongoing concern.
16 Q Okay.
17 And you emphasize also that the concern, as it was expressed after 2016, was 18 bipartisan, and then you elaborated that it might have even been heavily within 19 Republican circles. You were hearing from State elected officials like Mac Warner, for 20 example, that this was a big concern and they wanted something done under the Trump
21 administration. Fair to say?
22 A It was a significant concern by Republicans and Democrats, yes.
23 Q And do you feel like that has changed, as you sit here today in 2023? Is this 24 no longer a bipartisan concern?
25 A I can tell you that, at the State and local level, that there are still concerns

1 from Republican secretaries of state and Democratic secretaries of state on foreign
2 influence and foreign threats to elections. That has not changed.
3 Q And, you know, it sounds like you follow the Missouri v. Biden litigation to 4 some extent. Is that fair?
5 A I mean, I was named in at least one filing, so --
6 Q Okay. So yes?
7 A Yes.
8 Q Okay. And some of the plaintiffs are State secretaries of state, correct?
9 A That is correct.
10 Q And Republicans? Fair?
11 A I --
12 Q Well --
13 A I believe so.
14 Q -- Republican secretaries of state.
15 A Um --
16 Q Attorneys general. Pardon me.
17 A I believe so.
18 Q Okay.
19 I understand from your background, as you've described it, you're a Republican
20 official and you're someone who cares about national security and particularly about 21 fighting foreign influence in elections. Fair to say?
22 A Yes.
23 Q What is your reaction to the State elected officials and to parts of the 24 Republican Party now no longer agreeing that that's a valid mission of the U.S.
25 Government -- fighting foreign influence, for example?

1 A Well, on Missouri v. Biden specifically, I noted with, you know, just a touch of
2 irony that Louisiana was also a party to the case, plaintiff, and the secretary of state in
3 Louisiana, Kyle Ardoin, and his office were one of the users of the switchboarding
4 process. There were also Missouri local officials who participated in switchboarding.
5 So --
6 Q So, in your opinion --
7 A -- I --
8 Q -- what's behind that change?
9 Mr. Walden. Can he just finish his answer? I'm sorry.
10 BY [redacted]
11 Q Sorry.
12 A So, you know, I'm not sure if this is a -- you know, I -- I'll just leave that there.
13 I think that it's my belief that that the external -- that the foreign-threat-actor
14 activities and threats facing American elections and the general public, I don't think those 15 have gone away. And I think it's a national security imperative that we continue to 16 address these challenges.
17 Q So do you think, for example, that the Louisiana official that you mentioned
18 who was once on board with CISA's mission, personally, and was asking to take advantage
19 of some of the tools that the organization offered but then changed his mind to some 20 extent, apparently, and joined this lawsuit to enjoin CISA --
21 Mr. Walden. So I'm not sure it's the same official.
22 [redacted] It's not? I'm sorry.
23 Mr. Walden. I'm not sure that it's --
24 [redacted] It's just his position?
25 Mr. Walden. Yeah.

1 [redacted] Okay.

2 Mr. Krebs. So it's the -- yeah, Louisiana attorney general, I think, is the named

3 party.

4 [redacted] Okay.

5 Mr. Krebs. The Louisiana secretary of state, as I understand it, according to

6 public reports, has decided not to run for office again, and, in his words -- well, I'm

7 paraphrasing his words -- the election disinformation has gotten too bad out there, that

8 he just can't do his job anymore.

9 BY [redacted]

10 Q Okay. That was the person that had --

11 A Kyle Ardoin --

12 Q -- partnered with CISA?

13 A -- is the secretary of state, yes.

14 Q Okay.

15 I'm trying to just get your opinion and your experience -- because you're in a

16 position, having worked in the position you were in at CISA and then having, you know,

17 remained kind of following, at least, the Missouri v. Biden lawsuit, I'm trying to 18 understand -- I'm sorry.

19 Were you trying to get my attention?

20 Mr. Walden. No. I was trying to get her attention. But, please, go ahead.

21 BY [redacted]

22 Q I'm just trying to understand what you think changed, from the position that

23 you're in.

24 You saw at one point after 2016 pretty broad, bipartisan Republican enthusiasm

25 from State officials and others to fight foreign influence in elections. And these people

1 seemed to be supporting you, up and to including President Trump.

2 But, then, after 2020 -- and you famously said it was the most secure election in

3 our history, correct?

4 A The executive committee of the Election Infrastructure -- those executives,

5 they made that statement, that --

6 Q You agree with that statement, fair?

7 A I do.

8 Q Okay. And in response to that, you were fired, essentially, right?

9 A That was likely an element of reasons I was fired.

10 Q So what changed? What changed from the point, in your opinion, from 11 when Republicans were on board with this mission to when they are actively fighting

12 against this mission?

13 A I -- something political changed. I think I'll --

14 Q Okay.

15 A I can leave it at that.

16 [redacted] We can go off the record.

17 [Recess.]

18 [redacted] Back on the record.

19 BY [redacted]

20 Q Mr. Krebs, to your knowledge, when did CISA first begin engaging in

21 switchboarding?

22 A I don't recall the specific date. I believe it was underway, at least, you

23 know, consistent with Matt Masterson's earlier testimony, at least in 2019, but I believe it

24 was also in effect in 2018.

25 Q And, to your understanding, if it was in effect in 2018, was this predating

1 CISA then?

2 A Yes. So that would've been during the NPPD days.

3 Q And was NPPD the agency that was conducting the switchboarding?

4 A So NPPD was the sub -- the element of -- there was an element of NPPD,

5 whatever the -- Election Security Initiative, that team, and its subcomponents was, yes,

6 taking submitted information from State and locals and sending it to platforms.

7 Q And which element was that?

8 A I don't recall whether it was -- again, from 2017-'18 through 2020, there

9 were renamings and restructurings within the National Risk Management Center and the

10 Election Security Initiative, so I don't recall at which moment which title team was doing

11 it.

12 Q Okay. From when you became Under Secretary until the creation of CISA,

13 which team was in charge of switchboarding at NPPD?

14 A Again, I don't recall the name at the time, but it would've been the team

15 within the National Risk Management Center that was responsible for election security.

16 Q And were you involved with that team?

17 A It was a part of NPPD, and, therefore, I was the direct -- or, the Under 18 Secretary.

19 Q When switchboarding first began -- actually, I'm going to take a step back to

20 even before that. To your understanding, who was involved in the discussions prior to 21 the approval of any agency partaking in switchboarding?

22 A What do you mean, "any agency"?

23 Q Okay. Prior to NPPD assuming the responsibility, I guess the question is,

24 who was involved in the discussions about whether NPPD should be permitted to engage 25 in switchboarding?

1 A I don't recall specifically within NPPD who was involved in the conversations.
2 However, any decision that would result in an effort like switchboarding would've had 3 legal counsel advising and reviewing whatever the process or procedure was.
4 Q And were you part of these discussions?
5 A I would've been generally aware of our election security efforts, but in a
6 granular, operational conversation around switchboarding and the process? No, not
7 that I recall.
8 Q Was this an interagency discussion?
9 A I think -- Jim, based on authorization, kind of, like, the predecisional --
10 Mr. Walden. Yeah, yeah.
11 Mr. Krebs. -- conversation point.
12 But I think within -- generally speaking, I think within CISA -- or, sorry, DHS, NPPD,
13 and in CISA's authorities, the authorities are all there for -- as an information-sharing and 14 partnership connection effort.
15 BY [redacted]
16 Q So, to your understanding, the authorities were there prior to the creation of 17 CISA as well. Is that right?
18 A CISA's authorities are derived from the Secretary's authorities, established
19 by the Homeland Security Act of 2003. The creation of CISA did not add any new -- net
20 new authorities on information-sharing.
21 Q When it came to the approval of CISA engaging in switchboarding, is that 22 ultimately something that went up to the Secretary?
23 A I don't recall, again, the process for the approval of switchboarding. But,
24 you know, again, for context, it was within the authorities delegated to the Under 25 Secretary for NPPD to conduct these activities.

1 Q You mentioned having a general awareness of different initiatives. Do you
2 recall if anyone ever raised concerns about CISA's or, then, NPPD's switchboarding
3 operation?
4 A I don't recall any specific concerns about switchboarding. But, again, I'll
5 point you to the close legal oversight of CISA programs -- NPPD programs and the CISA
6 programs specifically around elections and information-sharing here. So, if there were 7 concerns, they would've been evaluated and dealt with appropriately to ensure that First
8 Amendment protections are firmly in place.
9 Q And who would've been involved in those discussions?
10 A So I mentioned earlier Dan Sutherland was the primary legal representative
11 at the beginning of the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force efforts. And then,
12 subsequently, there was dedicated election security -- there was dedicated legal counsel
13 assigned to oversee election security. And that, I believe, for some period at least in the 14 run-up to 2020 was an attorney, Brian Eschels.
15 Q Were you in favor of switchboarding?
16 A We had heard clearly from our State and local representatives -- or, our 17 partners, rather, election partners, that they needed help connecting with platforms.
18 They didn't have the capacity; they didn't have the relationships. So we played a role to 19 connect them.
20 Q And prior to switchboarding occurring, were the State and local officials
21 reporting concerns directly to the platforms?
22 A I don't recall how they were doing it, but my understanding was, however 23 they were connecting, they were not connecting in a way that they felt was effective.
24 Q And, I guess, walk me through the rationale. Why is it that CISA is able to 25 get those reports heard better by the social media companies than --

1 Mr. Walden. Just to clarify, are you asking what the State and local officials said
2 when they asked us to get involved or why CISA thought it would be more effective?
3 [redacted] Yeah, what is CISA's thinking?
4 Mr. Walden. Okay.
5 BY [redacted]
6 Q You know, CISA -- and correct me if I'm wrong -- CISA doesn't have to take
7 this step. Is that right?
8 A CISA plays a role across the 16 sectors of critical infrastructure of connecting 9 various partners in -- partners in the space to both directly, point to point, CISA shares
10 information, but also connect relationships so that those organizations can talk to each
11 other.
12 And that's the role that we played here, was connecting State and local officials
13 with the platforms in a way that introduced -- you know, it was an efficient workflow.
14 Q Uh-huh.
15 A So they passed to us; we passed it to the platforms. They have contact
16 information. They can then go back directly.
17 Q Is it your understanding whether CISA engages in switchboarding today?
18 A I don't know. I don't know if they do or not.
19 Q Is it your understanding whether CISA engaged in switchboarding any time
20 following the 2020 election cycle?
21 A As I mentioned in my opening, you know, I left. My contact with programs
22 is done. So I don't know.
23 Q So you have not stayed in touch with individuals from CISA following your 24 departure?
25 A I have relationships, yeah, with CISA people, but I don't ask about specific

1 programs and the status of various programs.

2 Q Okay. Are you familiar with the testimony from Jen Easterly where she

3 testified that CISA no longer engages in switchboarding?

4 A Jen testifies a lot. I don't review the transcripts.

5 Mr. Walden. And, Counsel, how is this relevant? You told him at the beginning

6 of this that you wanted him to keep this confidential. I know that there hasn't been a

7 public report of what she said here unless you're going to point me to something. So

8 you realize the implication here, after he just said that he --

9 [redacted] Her testimony was in a hearing.

10 Mr. Krebs. Public testimony.

11 Mr. Walden. Public testimony.

12 Mr. Krebs. Public testimony.

13 Mr. Walden. Okay. Sorry. Go ahead.

14 [redacted] Okay --

15 Mr. Walden. My point is that you're coming across as if he's not being truthful

16 with you. And I said in the hallway to you earlier, that's not an effective way to go.

17 He's here to tell the truth.

18 [redacted] Okay. The accusation is uncalled for.

19 BY [redacted]

20 Q The question -- the original question, before these subsequent ones, is

21 whether CISA is required to engage in switchboarding.

22 I am happy to represent -- and I know our counsel is here -- that CISA no longer

23 engages in switchboarding.

24 A Okay.

25 Q So it seems that CISA had an option. Is that --

1 A Sorry. That --

2 Q It seems like it's a pretty basic question.

3 A So you just said "requires."

4 Q Yeah.

5 A That's the first I've heard you ask that question, unless I misinterpreted an

6 earlier question.

7 Q Yeah. Well, I think that's the case then, but that's fine.

8 Is CISA -- under its authorities, your understanding is it has the option to engage in

9 switchboarding. Is that right?

10 A So, generally speaking, the majority of CISA's authorities are voluntary.

11 They're public-private partnerships. We have some requirements in, like, the CFATS

12 program. There are some programs on Federal network security.

13 But when it comes to the private sector, when it comes to State and local partners

14 in our voluntary space, a lot of these are demand-oriented around what our

15 partners -- what help they need. And this is an example of request, demand, listening to

16 what our partners say, and saying, "Okay, we can connect you."

17 Was it mandatory? Was it in statute? No.

18 Q Okay.

19 And from CISA's perspective, when deciding whether to start to engage in

20 switchboarding, was it the belief that, via switchboarding, CISA would be able to put the

21 request from the State and local officials to the front of the line or get them more

22 attention to the social media platforms? What was the rationale?

23 A Well, again, the primary rationale was listening to our partners and helping

24 them connect with State and local. Beyond that, I don't believe there were any 25 expectations or any further rationale. It's connecting them together.

1 Q Okay. Well, what is the benefit, if there is any, from CISA engaging in the
2 switchboarding process as opposed to State and local officials directly submitting reports
3 to social media companies?
4 A The benefit for CISA was that we listened to our partners that needed help
5 connecting with the platforms, and so we connected them with the platforms.
6 Q Okay.
7 A That's the benefit to CISA, is that we listened to our partners and connected
8 them.
9 Q State and local officials have the ability to report things directly to social
10 media platforms. Is that your understanding?
11 A I think the ability and the capacity are probably two different things.
12 Q Okay. So they have the capacity to report to CISA --
13 A No. That's --
14 Q -- but they do not have the capacity to report to social media companies?
15 A Because they know they were working with us and we were partners with 16 them. They were not necessarily partners with the platforms. So we played, again, a
17 pass-through role. State and locals go to us, and it goes to the platforms. The State
18 and locals, as I understand it, did not have those relationships, where they could go
19 directly to the platforms.
20 Q Okay. So, again, is it, because they don't have the relationships, their 21 reports and concerns are not being heard?
22 A Again, you're asking me to speak to the mind of the State and local officials.
23 I'm telling you what we heard from them. They said they needed help connecting with 24 the platforms. We provided that connection.
25 BY [redacted]

1 Q Why didn't CISA provide the contact information for the social media
2 platforms to the State and local election officials, as opposed to forwarding the emails
3 themselves and acting as an intermediary directly? They could've connected them by,
4 for example, providing the email address for the person who would later receive the 5 email from CISA. What was the rationale behind taking that particular approach?
6 A I don't know if I recall the specific rationale, but there are multiple platforms,
7 and consolidation seems to be an efficient process.
8 Q And that would've been more efficient than, say, CISA providing all the State
9 and local election officials who had concerns with a list of people that they could contact
10 directly?
11 A I mean, again, this is providing -- you know, we're talking 8,000 jurisdictions.
12 Q Did CISA at no other point provide information to all of the jurisdictions,
13 through public materials or private materials?
14 A I'm trying to --
15 Q At any point, did CISA provide informational bulletins to all 8,000 of those 16 jurisdictions?
17 A Informational bulletins of what? I mean --
18 Q About anything. They had the capacity -- CISA had the capacity to 19 communicate with those jurisdictions; is that correct?
20 A Do we -- yeah. I mean, as you see here, there are materials that went out
21 to State and locals.
22 Q And so it would've been possible, then, to provide all of the State and local 23 election officials with the contact information for them to submit requests directly.
24 A I think there were perhaps some sensitivities around, you know, contact
25 information, providing it in a public bulletin.

1 But, again, at the time, the request from State and local partners was, "Help us
2 connect with platforms," and this was the way that it was determined to do it.
3 BY [redacted]
4 Q How resource-intensive did CISA view this request?
5 A How did we evaluate the, kind of, resource implications?
6 Q Exactly. Yeah.
7 A I don't recall.
8 Q Okay. I mean, do you recall any discussions?
9 The reason I ask is, Brian Scully testified in the Missouri v. Biden case --
10 A Uh-huh.
11 Q -- that switchboarding was resource-intensive. Is that your understanding
12 as well?
13 [redacted] I'm sorry. If you're going to quote the transcript, could we see the 14 quotation?
15 [redacted] We'll get it to you at the break. It's in our report; it's quoted.
16 [redacted] I just want to make sure that it's in the record.
17 [redacted] Sure.
18 Well, I'm not trying to --
19 Mr. Walden. He didn't read the testimony.
20 [redacted] I'm trying to get a sense of what --
21 Mr. Walden. He didn't read the testimony.
22 Did you think it was resource-intensive? Did you know whether it was 23 resource-intensive?
24 Mr. Krebs. I'm not sure I was aware of the resources required for 25 switchboarding.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q Okay.

3 At any point, did Mr. Scully or Mr. Masterson or anybody raise to your attention

4 concerns about the resources -- the degree of resources being devoted to

5 switchboarding?

6 A Not that I recall.

7 Q Were there ongoing conversations with State and local officials regarding

8 whether switchboarding was serving the beneficial purpose they were hoping for?

9 A I wasn't involved in any of those conversations, and I'm not aware of any

10 that were happening at the staff level.

11 Q Okay. Would those be appropriate conversations for your staff to be 12 having?

13 A Whether it's effective?

14 Q Yes.

15 A I would not be surprised if there were conversations about, you know, are

16 you getting -- are you connecting with the platforms? I assume that would be -- you

17 know, I wouldn't be surprised if that conversation was happening.

18 Mr. Walden. Can I ask -- I'm sorry to interrupt your questioning, but I hope this is 19 actually helpful.

20 Do you remember anyone complaining, saying switchboard wasn't achieving some 21 goal or it wasn't doing something that it was intended to do?

22 Mr. Krebs. No.

23 Look, switchboarding was one of many different election security efforts that we

24 were involved in and, as I recall it, one of the more minor ones. And, you know, I don't

25 recall getting any feedback or pushback on the program from election officials.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q Okay. But you recall election officials having discussions with CISA where 3 they're raising this issue that ultimately leads to CISA's decision to start to engage in 4 switchboarding. I'm just trying to get a sense of, do you have --
5 A Yeah, I mean --
6 Q -- any recollection of conversations -- CISA is now doing it. You said that
7 one of the benefits was listening to your partners. Okay, you listened to the partners.
8 What is the feedback after you started to engage in switchboarding?
9 A I assume that if I wasn't getting any additional feedback, then something's
10 happening here. So they are being connected.
11 Q Okay. I mean, they were not being -- switchboarding is not connecting 12 them directly. Switchboarding is, if I understood your testimony correctly, passing
13 information along from the State and local officials to the social media companies, right?
14 A State and local election officials, to the social media platforms, with, "Here's 15 contact information. If you have questions about this, go call the State and local 16 election officials." That's the process.
17 Q Yes. So CISA is passing along the reports via email to the social media
18 companies. When you're forwarding them, are you copying the State and local officials?
19 A I don't recall the specifics of the process and who was on the CC line. But,
20 again, part of the purpose here was to connect the two, saying, "This is a report that's 21 coming in. If you have questions about the report, you need to talk to this person at the 22 State and local level."
23 Q But the connection is with that report.
24 And the reason I ask is, let's say -- you mentioned the Louisiana secretary of state
25 as one party that was engaged in this, right? The Louisiana secretary of state sends in

1 their first report via switchboarding to CISA. CISA sends it on to, we'll say, Facebook,
2 right? To a certain degree, as your testimony said, that's making a connection.
3 If there's a second report a couple weeks later that the Louisiana secretary of 4 state wants to pass along, does that secretary of state now have the option to contact
5 Facebook directly? Or is it, when switchboarding is being used, they continue to go
6 through CISA to Facebook?
7 A Switchboarding is not mandatory. Could they go outside directly to 8 Facebook? If they had the contact information to do so, then that's possible.
9 Q Is CISA providing the contact information?
10 A If they were contacted by State and locals -- a State and local went through 11 switchboarding and there was a followup from Facebook, then I assume they would have 12 that ability to contact them directly, if Facebook followed up with Louisiana, as in your
13 example.
14 Q Is it your understanding that State and local officials were submitting
15 multiple reports via switchboarding to CISA?
16 Mr. Walden. If you knew.
17 Counsel, you know that in the entire life of this program there's, like, 200
18 requests, right, for 8,000 jurisdictions. So what are you talking about?
19 Like, be fair in your questioning at least. Seventy percent of the requests, if my 20 numbers are right from CISA, 70 percent of them were from Republicans. And the 21 contact information for the Republican officials was given to the social media platforms.
22 So I don't understand the import of your questioning, but could you just be clear?
23 Because I don't know what you expect him to know.
24 [redacted] Yes. His testimony is that the switchboarding is helping to connect
25 State and local officials with social media platforms.

1 Mr. Walden. No. That misstates his testimony.

2 He said the State and local officials asked for it. He gave it. The innovation was
3 that it went to all of them together, right? So, if there's cross-platform -- if it's
4 appearing -- if the disinformation from Louisiana is appearing on Facebook today, Twitter
5 knows about it today so that they can stop it tomorrow if they want to -- if they want to.
6 That's the innovation.

7 And the information to the election official was given. So, if Facebook calls the 8 Louisiana commissioner for elections, then there's a direct connection there. And then
9 the election director can keep calling them or can submit another switchboarding request
10 if there's a new piece of disinformation.

11 But you're not asking him whether he knows any of this stuff. That's why I'm 12 getting confused about the questioning.

13 [redacted] As I understood Mr. Krebs's testimony, the complaint from the State
14 and local officials was not that they needed CISA to be sending it across all platforms.
15 Now, maybe that's an innovation and an extra benefit. But it sounded like the problem
16 was State and local officials could not get their reports heard by social media companies,
17 and they went to CISA for help.

18 CISA believes it has the legal authority to engage in switchboarding --

19 Mr. Walden. Which I assume this committee is not denying, that they did have 20 the authority to do it. The question is, how did it happen?

21 So everyone's entitled to their own opinions. We don't have any. We just want
22 the facts clear.

23 And the facts are that the State and local officials were complaining. Some of 24 them had contacts with some of the platforms, but most of them didn't, right? And 25 even if they had individual contacts, they couldn't do cross-platform communications.

1 So they said, can you get us a place where we can have these effectively dealt with?

2 And CISA said, "Sure, we can help." And that's why they provided the contact

3 information for the complaining official, so that there could be outside CISA

4 communication after the original complaint. And that did happen from time to time for 5 the 200 or so people that used this during the program.

6 So, again, he's the Director. I just -- I want to be effective and fair with you, but I

7 don't understand what you're asking him. You're asking him for an entire category of

8 things that are each sui generis, but none of them were at his level. The only thing he

9 would've heard is the initial complaint, the solution, and then whether there were

10 problems with the solution.

11 And he didn't -- that's why I wanted you to have that information. No one

12 complained about it. So, as the Director, he's thinking, okay, this is working okay. No

13 one's raising concerns about it. So, you know, on to the next 30 billion things he's got to 14 deal with.

15 So, if you could just make your -- if you think that he was aware of certain

16 problems, like, we want to get the information to you. That's why we came here

17 voluntarily. So could we focus on things that you think that he knew, and maybe he can 18 help with you some of the problems that you're looking at from a later period?

19 [Krebs Exhibit No. 6.

20 Was marked for identification.]

21 Mr. Walden. So I'm just -- I just -- this is exhibit 6. It's an October 27, 2020,

22 email that he wasn't on, unless he's one of the redacted. Is he one of the -- am I missing

23 something?

24 [redacted] Well, there are redactions, but it's our understanding that Mr. Krebs is

25 not personally --

1 Mr. Walden. Not personally --

2 [redacted] -- on this chain. We're not asking about --

3 Mr. Walden. Okay. Yeah, yeah, yeah.

4 [redacted] -- the content --

5 Mr. Walden. No problem. I'm sorry. I was asking something different, which

6 is, is this the whole email chain?

7 [redacted] No. And this production was -- you know, this is one page of a

8 production. We're going to ask about the disclaimer. So --

9 Mr. Walden. Okay.

10 BY [redacted]

11 Q Are you ready?

12 A Yeah.

13 Q Are you familiar with the disclaimer at the bottom of Brian Scully's email?

14 Mr. Walden. So, just so we're clear, we're talking about the language in the 15 middle of the page that says that "CISA affirms that"? Or both of these?

16 [redacted] Both paragraphs.

17 Mr. Walden. Okay.

18 [redacted] Two paragraphs.

19 Mr. Walden. Okay.

20 BY [redacted]

21 Q Are you familiar with the disclaimer?

22 A So this is what we call "the banner" --

23 Q Uh-huh. Are you familiar with it?

24 A -- or "the disclaimer." Yes. Obviously, it's been several years since I've

25 seen it, but --

1 Q And what was its purpose?

2 A To very clearly state -- and this is, you know, once again, legal

3 guidance -- that we were sensitive to First Amendment protections and CISA is not asking

4 the platforms to take any action. There's no coercion, there's no encouragement. This

5 is bringing this to your attention.

6 Q When was the need for a disclaimer first discussed?

7 A I don't recall.

8 Q Was it prior to CISA, or NPPD, engaging in switchboarding?

9 Mr. Walden. So I just want to make the record clear, to the extent that he even

10 knows, which -- I thought you were first asking whether he knew, which I don't know that

11 you're going to be happy with the answer to that, because I think the answer is going to

12 be "I don't know."

13 But even if he was part of that conversation, it would've been advice of counsel,

14 which is CISA's attorney-client privilege and work product.

15 So could you just ask him, in the first instance, whether he knew that there was a 16 conversation concerning whether a disclaimer was advisable?

17 [redacted] Sure.

18 Mr. Krebs. As I've said a couple times today, from the very beginning, from the

19 get-go, we had legal counsel involved in reviewing our various efforts here. And it

20 would've been my expectation, therefore, that legal protections would've been baked in 21 to any of our initiatives from the beginning.

22 That was the entire purpose of having Dan Sutherland involved in the Countering

23 Foreign Influence Task Force, is that legal protections were a feature, not a bug, that they 24 were involved from the beginning and not bolted on later.

25 BY [redacted]

1 Q Okay. Were you involved in these discussions?

2 A Which discussions?

3 Q The discussions regarding the --

4 A The banner?

5 Q -- the drafting of the banner.

6 A Not that I recall.

7 Q Was Mr. Masterson involved?

8 A I don't recall when the first switchboarding text came or the process was

9 implemented, and I don't recall when Masterson came onboard. So I can't say

10 specifically if Masterson was involved at the beginning.

11 Q Okay. After Masterson joined, was he involved in ongoing discussions

12 regarding the banner?

13 Mr. Walden. You realize, his question is just about the drafting and the language

14 of the banner. That's all he's asking about.

15 Mr. Krebs. Right.

16 Mr. Walden. Do you know whether Masterson was involved in any of those 17 discussions at all?

18 Mr. Krebs. Again, this is kind of a time-distance problem. I don't know.

19 [redacted] Okay.

20 Mr. Krebs. I don't recall.

21 BY [redacted]

22 Q Do you know if other agencies had a say in the language of the banner?

23 A I don't recall.

24 Q Do you know if other agencies were given the opportunity to comment on 25 what disclaimer was included?

1 A Not that I recall. I mean, this is, again, 5 years ago or so, 4 or 5 years ago.

2 Q Do you recall if there were ongoing discussions regarding the disclaimer's

3 language?

4 A I don't recall.

5 Q Do you recall if there were any incidents that spurred the disclaimer -- that

6 required the disclaimer to be revised?

7 Mr. Walden. Can you restate that question? Is that a representation by you,

8 that you were actually -- I was going to ask you that very question. Did the disclaimer

9 change over time?

10 [redacted] Yes.

11 Mr. Walden. Oh. Well, then, can you establish whether he has a factual basis

12 to even know that? Because --

13 [redacted] He was the Director of CISA.

14 Mr. Walden. I know, but do you think that he's really comparing the languages

15 in different versions of the disclaimer? I'm just asking if you can establish whether he

16 knew that the disclaimer changed over time.

17 [redacted] I'm asking if he recalls an incident that spurred any change in the 18 disclaimer's language.

19 Mr. Walden. Are you aware of the disclaimer's language changing over time?

20 Mr. Krebs. I don't recall any shift in the language or, to your point, an incident

21 that would've --

22 BY [redacted]

23 Q Do you recall any incidents -- regardless of whether the language ultimately

24 changed or not, do you recall any incidents that required CISA to consider changing the 25 language of the banner?

A Not that I recall.

[Krebs Exhibit No. 7.

Was marked for identification.]

Mr. Krebs. Is this another exhibit, Jim?

Mr. Walden. Is this exhibit 7?

[redacted] It is.

Mr. Walden. I'd just note for the record it's an email chain that ends on October 28th and begins seemingly incompletely on October 28th at 5:06 p.m.

I just want you to look at the subject line.

Okay. Just so we're clear, I just want to make sure that we have the facts straight. The disclaimer didn't change, in the sense that the first two paragraphs are identical I think. We've never -- I have never seen this. It's the addition of the third paragraph that's the change that you're asking about?

[redacted] Yes.

Mr. Walden. Okay. Got it. Thank you. That's super-helpful.

So do you know when this paragraph was changed? Do you know when this was added?

Mr. Krebs. Well, by looking at the date stamps, about 24 hours after the first one.

Mr. Walden. Okay. Do you know what it was that caused that change to the banner, to the disclaimer, that addition?

Mr. Krebs. I don't recall, don't know if I was aware of anything to spur that.

Mr. Walden. Do you remember noticing?

Mr. Krebs. I did not see on a daily basis the workflow.

BY [redacted]

1 Q Okay. On October 28, 2020, who would have the responsibility for
2 updating the banner?
3 A The responsibility, or who would've been involved? Legal counsel, of 4 course. Chief counsel would've been involved.
5 Q Uh-huh.
6 A So someone in the chief counsel's office.
7 Q And who would be responsible for ultimately approving any change?
8 A Legal counsel would've been.
9 Q Anyone else?
10 Mr. Walden. His question, I just want to be super-clear about it. He's asking
11 you whether or not there was a requirement on something like this that anyone above
12 the chief counsel also sign off on the change. That's what he's asking.
13 Mr. Krebs. Is that --
14 [redacted] Yes.
15 Mr. Krebs. I don't recall any additional requirement for something above to add
16 this language -- someone above the chief counsel.
17 BY [redacted]
18 Q Are you familiar with the language in this third paragraph?
19 A You know, I'm not sure the last time I saw the banner or the language, so I
20 don't know, you know, which version is the one I'm familiar with or recall.
21 Q In your understanding of CISA's switchboarding function, did CISA have the 22 authority to follow up with the social media platforms?
23 A What does "follow up" mean?
24 Q Engage in email correspondence after the initial pass-through function has 25 been completed, at a later date ask to see if action was taken.

1 A Did they have the authority -- did CISA have the authority to follow up?

2 Mr. Walden. Wait. So I want to make sure that I'm clear about your question,

3 because you changed the question slightly. Because "follow up" doesn't necessarily

4 mean ask them to take it down or ask them to act at all. It could be more information.

5 "Louisiana just sent us this thing. Did you see it anywhere else on your platform?"

6 That could be a followup.

7 So are you asking him whether or not CISA was authorized to follow up for any

8 information? And then, secondly, were they authorized to ask the platform to do

9 something with the information? Are those two different questions?

10 [redacted] Yeah, the question at no point, you know, stated that CISA was making

11 a direct request for anything. It just --

12 Mr. Walden. Oh, then I misunderstood your question. I thought that you

13 actually said that. So, if I just misheard you, that's fine.

14 So do you know whether or not CISA is authorized to follow up with the platforms,

15 however the followup was? I'm not asking about taking action, the platform taking

16 action. I'm asking, was CISA authorized to follow up?

17 Mr. Krebs. Did they have the authority -- did CISA have the authority to follow

18 up? I believe so. Was it common practice? I don't know.

19 BY [redacted]

20 Q Okay. Regardless of whether it was common practice, do you know if it

21 occurred? And by "it," I mean, did CISA follow up with social media companies?

22 A I'm not sure I was aware of any specific followups with the social media

23 platforms at the time.

24 Q Did anyone from the social media companies contact CISA regarding

25 concerns about CISA following up with the switchboarding reports?

1 A Not that I was made aware of, at least to the best of my recollection.

2 Mr. Walden. No, no, no. I'm trying to be helpful, trying to be helpful here,

3 right? If you have a basis to believe that someone did and you tell him who it was, that

4 might jar a recollection.

5 So, I mean, again, I'm trying to learn this in real-time, because I didn't have

6 documents, so just a suggestion.

7 Mr. Krebs. To the point, CISA is a big agency. So, I mean, if you've got

8 something to share here, I --

9 BY [redacted]

10 Q I'm not trying to pin you down. And this is, again, going off of your

11 recollection. Just to your understanding, obviously -- I shouldn't say "obviously"; there

12 are redactions -- but it appears you are not the one engaging in switchboarding. Is that

13 right? Not you personally.

14 A Okay. So I think maybe this is a good baseline opportunity, right?

15 By 2020, CISA was a $2-billion-plus organization budget-wise, 2,500-plus

16 personnel. Physical security of infrastructure, cybersecurity of infrastructure,

17 emergency communications -- several initiatives. We were in the midst of hurricane 18 season. We had the Iranian disinformation campaign that we were just on the heels of.

19 We also had to deal with -- there was Russian activity against airports and State and local 20 governments.

21 There was a lot of activity. The election infrastructure piece was a small slice of 22 CISA. It was a priority, but it was a small slice.

23 And you're asking me if I recall specific emails or contacts from platforms to CISA.

24 Q No, that's not what I'm asking if you recall. I'm asking of your general

25 awareness of -- at minimum, you have awareness that switchboarding is occurring. You

1 have an awareness of what problems State and local officials flagged that spurred CISA's
2 decision to begin engaging in switchboarding.
3 A Right.
4 Q I'm asking if you had awareness of any complaints from social media
5 companies.
6 You've mentioned that you've had points of contact at social media companies,
7 many of whom -- I shouldn't say "many" -- some of whom you knew before your tenure.
8 A Yeah, that's fair.
9 Q Did you hear from any social media companies concerns or complaints about
10 CISA's requests and specifically -- or, excuse me, not "CISA's requests" -- CISA's
11 communications and, specifically, if there were concerns regarding CISA's followup
12 communications?
13 A So, to address your last point, I do not recall any outreach from the 14 platforms that they had concerns about CISA providing that contact information.
15 From a general concern from within the program, there was a day-to-day team
16 running the activities. I don't recall anyone flagging that there was a concern or a
17 problem within the program. And this is a team that, if there were significant concerns,
18 would've raised the flag. But I do not recall anyone saying that there was an issue that I
19 needed to be aware of.
20 Q Do you recall any discussions, whether in October 2020 or any point during 21 your tenure at CISA, whether followup communications implicated the First Amendment?
22 A I don't recall a conversation about a followup conversation implicating the 23 First Amendment.
24 Q Just to clarify so I understand your answer and so you understand what the 25 question was, any conversations regarding whether followup communications from CISA

1 could implicate in the First Amendment because, whether it did or not, it could create the 2 perception of pressure or coercion with respect to whatever is being emailed?
3 Mr. Walden. Can I just say this? I thought you were asking about from the 4 social media communications. Right? To the extent you're talking about internal 5 communications, they would've been with counsel. So I still think the answer to that is 6 "no," and you could phrase the question a little bit differently to elicit that answer.
7 But the way you've asked the question, you've asked for privileged information,
8 and CISA has directed him that he can't answer, to the extent it reflects a lawyer's
9 communication. So could I suggest a way to rephrase the question?
10 [redacted] Please.
11 Mr. Walden. Okay.
12 Do you recall CISA making a decision to change the disclaimer because of any
13 concern that followup communications violated the First Amendment?
14 Mr. Krebs. I don't recall.
15 Mr. Walden. Okay.
16 BY [redacted]
17 Q Do you recall any discussions within CISA regarding whether switchboarding
18 implicated the First Amendment?
19 Mr. Walden. Other than with legal counsel. Not including legal counsel.
20 Mr. Krebs. But I think there's --
21 [redacted] He can say if he consulted with counsel. He just can't get into the 22 discussions.
23 Mr. Walden. About the topic he can't, right? If you seek legal advice because 24 you want to know if murder is a crime in Texas, a Texas prosecutor could use that as 25 evidence that you committed a murder. I mean, I hate to --

1 [redacted] Right.

2 Mr. Walden. -- use that analogy, but you can't ask him whether or not he had

3 communications with lawyers about certain topics. That's why I was trying to get at the 4 decision to be helpful.

5 Could you just state your question again and let me see if I can just make a

6 suggestion for a workaround?

7 [redacted] Sure.

8 Are you aware of any internal CISA discussions regarding whether switchboarding

9 implicated the First Amendment?

10 Mr. Walden. Okay.

11 You can answer that "yes" or "no" -- "yes," "no," or "I don't remember."

12 A I don't recall.

13 But to provide you some context again, across the Election Security Initiative, this

14 was one of many different initiatives. And we had considerable and considered legal 15 counsel and oversight on all aspects of our election security efforts. And this was by 16 design, baked in from the beginning.

17 Again, that is precisely why Dan Sutherland was running the Countering Foreign

18 Influence Task Force from the beginning, so that everything that would result in a

19 program, a process, a workflow had legal considerations and First Amendment and

20 Fourth Amendment protections baked in from the very beginning and, again, not bolted

21 on at the end.

22 Mr. Walden. And you said this before, but I just want to make sure that it's clear.

23 Was one of the reasons that Sutherland was picked was because he had civil rights and 24 civil liberties experience?

25 Mr. Krebs. Yes. He was the nominee in the Bush administration for the DHS

1 Civil Rights/Civil Liberties Office.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q To your recollection, did CISA work with CIS to try to set up a misinformation

4 reporting portal in 2020?

5 A I -- I don't -- I don't have any recollection of that.

6 Q Okay.

7 [Krebs Exhibit No. 8.

8 Was marked for identification.]

9 Mr. Walden. Exhibit 8. Just for the record, exhibit 8 is an email dated January

10 3, 2020, at 11:09 a.m. It's a single email.

11 I'd just note for the record that Mr. Krebs does not appear to be a recipient.

[1:16 p.m.]

Mr. Walden. [redacted] can I ask you a question? It refers to a writeup. Is it possible that we can show him the writeup?

[redacted] I don't know if we have access to that --

Mr. Walden. Okay.

[redacted] -- document or not.

Mr. Walden. Okay. Only because, I mean, this might not refresh his recollection, but the writeup might.

Mr. Krebs. Geoff Hale.

Mr. Walden. I know.

Mr. Krebs. Yeah.

Mr. Walden. Isn't that a lawyer?

Mr. Krebs. No.

Mr. Walden. Okay.

Mr. Krebs. No. These are all -- so the CISA employees are Masterson, Scully, and Hale. And I guess there's a contractor, but I don't know who that is.

Mr. Walden. [redacted] just give me 1 second, okay?

Okay. Sir, go ahead.

Mr. Krebs. Sorry.

BY [redacted]

Q I think I asked this at the very start, but just to -- if this triggers your memory at all. Do you recall what Geoff Hale's role was in 2020 at CISA?

A So Geoff was -- I think best way to characterize him was the senior career official on the Election Security Initiative.

Q Mr. Masterson testified that there were different rules about what a political appointee could oversee as opposed to like a career. Is that your understanding?

A It depends. For instance, Jeanette Manfra was a political appointee -- a schedule C political appointee, and she was the executive assistant director for the cybersecurity directorate, and she had a budget of over a billion dollars and thousand-plus people.

So it depends on the billet. It's not necessarily is the person a political appointee or not.

Q Do you know who Aaron Wilson is?

A I don't recall. I don't -- doesn't ring a bell.

Q Okay. Does this document refresh your memory at all about whether there was any discussions with CIS regarding the creation of the misinformation reporting portal?

A So this is an email I'm not copied on, I'm not on.

Q Yes.

A It reflects a conversation, a proposal -- unsolicited proposal from CIS, by the looks of it, to Masterson and Scully. I mean, was there a request to set up a misinformation portal? I don't --

Mr. Walden. No. His question to you specifically was, does this refresh your recollection -- what was the end of the question?

Mr. Krebs. About.

[redacted] About whether there was consideration creating -- of CIS creating a misinformation reporting portal.

Mr. Krebs. So -- so CIS' expectations are not necessarily CISA's expectations, and whether they self-deployed or directed into setting up a misinformation portal, I can't speak to that. Was I briefed on this email? No, not that I recall.

1 [redacted] Do you recall receiving any briefings from anyone in CISA about 2 whether CIS was considering the creation of a misinformation reporting portal?
3 Mr. Walden. I'm sorry. Got to stop you for a second, and this is why I'm
4 confused by your line of questioning. You started this line of questioning by implying,
5 you didn't say, but you implied that there was a collaboration between CISA and CIS to 6 create one together. This email doesn't say that they're creating one together, unless
7 I'm just misunderstanding the relationship --
8 [redacted] My question didn't imply anything. I asked if anyone from CISA
9 briefed Mr. Krebs about CIS considering the creation of a misinformation reporting portal.
10 Mr. Walden. Okay.
11 Mr. Krebs. So CIS is also the home -- or the parent to the Election
12 Infrastructure-ISAC.
13 BY [redacted]
14 Q Yes.
15 A So was I briefed on Election Infrastructure-ISAC, and would the name CIS
16 come up in relation to that? Yes. Do I recall a specific conversation or briefing from 17 my team that said CIS wants to set up a misinformation reporting portal? I don't recall.
18 Q Okay. And just for clarity's sake -- so this email is dated January 3rd, 19 2020 -- the EI-ISAC had been stood up long before this?
20 A Correct.
21 Q Okay. And CISA's engaging in switchboarding long before this?
22 A Correct.
23 This is also January 3rd, 2020. This is the day after -- and let's see, this is 24 11:09 a.m. -- at 7 o'clock p.m. the day before it was announced that the U.S. had 25 launched a drone strike against General Soleimani of the Iranian Revolutionary Guard and

1 that for the following week and a half after that, 2 weeks after that, we were deeply
2 engaged in what was the first iteration of the Shields Up campaign.
3 So this could've been happening, but I was dealing with potential Iranian cyber
4 attacks against United States Government and an escalation in the Gulf, just to put, again,
5 some temporal context around what was happening at the time this email came forward.
6 Q Again, independent of this email and independent of January 2020, do you
7 recall any discussions at any point in 2020, any discussions with personnel at CISA
8 regarding whether CIS was considering the creation of a misinformation reporting portal?
9 A Not that I recall.
10 Q Okay. I'll take these back.
11 Mr. Krebs. Let me get -- we're going to hand them back, so go ahead.
12 Do you have blue ones? Can I have a blue one?
13 Mr. Walden. Oh, I thought you liked the green ones.
14 Mr. Krebs. Trade you a green one.
15 Mr. Walden. Yeah. I hate the green ones.
16 Mr. Krebs. Oh.
17 Mr. Walden. I got the green ones because I thought that's what you wanted.
18 Just make sure to capture all this on the record, please. My client's service needs 19 to be documented.
20 Mr. Krebs. Oh, here, take these if you hate the green ones.
21 Mr. Walden. No, I've got another pack.
22 Mr. Krebs. Oh.
23 Mr. Walden. I come prepared.
24 You're not at your time. If you need a couple minutes, can I just step outside
25 with him?

1 [redacted] Sure.

2 Mr. Walden. Literally 30 seconds I'll be back.

3 [redacted] We'll go off the record, please.

4 [Recess.]

5 [redacted] Can we go back on the record, please?

6 [Krebs Exhibit No. 9.

7 Was marked for identification.]

8 [redacted] So we just introduced exhibit 9. I'll give you a moment to review.

9 Mr. Walden. While he's reading, it's an email between February 10th, 2020, and

10 February 20th, 2020.

11 Mr. Krebs. Yeah.

12 BY [redacted]

13 Q Okay. First, do you know who Renee DiResta is?

14 A I do.

15 Q Who is she?

16 A Renee is a -- I think she's a part of the Stanford Internet Observatory. I

17 don't know her specific title.

18 Q Okay. Do you recall, just at a high level, whether the meeting occurred or

19 not, the planning about hosting a meeting with experts to discuss disinformation in 20 February of 2020?

21 A So -- so that the meeting request was for March 9th. The email went out

22 February 10th.

23 Q Yes.

24 A Okay. Got it.

25 Q The consideration ended February 2020.

1 A Yeah, yeah. I recall talking to the team and having a conversation with the
2 election security team about getting some of the leading thoughts around disinformation,
3 what we should be thinking about and how to engage the public. I don't know if the 4 meeting happened. If you have that, can confirm that, that would be helpful, but I don't
5 know if it matters.
6 March 9th was the Monday -- the last Monday that we were in person. On 7 Friday, everybody broke out with COVID. Schools were canceled. Saturday, Sunday.
8 We went remote.
9 I recall at some point after that, I don't remember when, but during the 10 next -- you know, I don't know what the following period was, but that we had a virtual 11 discussion with a number of thought leaders in disinformation research.
12 Q Regarding the planning and then -- again, regardless of whether the meeting
13 ultimately occurred or not --
14 A Yeah.
15 Q -- the four bullets points that Brian Scully has laid out in his email, is that 16 consistent with your recollection of what you wanted to discuss in this meeting?
17 A So I think let's kind of break up a couple things. One is my name gets -- got 18 used for various reasons, and whether these are the four points that I specifically 19 requested, I don't recall that. Are these things that we would've been thinking about at 20 the time? Probably.
21 Q Okay. The third bullet point says, How should we be thinking about 22 domestic versus foreign interference.
23 Was that something that CISA was thinking about during this time?
24 A Well, at a minimum, someone was thinking about it at CISA. It's a bullet
25 there. So whether it was Scully or someone else, you know, obviously someone was

1 thinking about it.

2 Q Okay. And are these internal discussions at CISA regarding domestic versus

3 foreign interference?

4 A What are you -- I'm sorry to interrupt you. Go ahead, please.

5 BY [redacted]

6 Q Sure. I'll help restart the question.

7 To your knowledge, were there discussions internally at CISA at this time

8 regarding domestic versus foreign interference?

9 A So I think there's kind of a definitional clarification we need to make here.

10 So when you talk about interference -- as it's kind of grown up in the last couple years,

11 there's interference and there's influence. Interference tends to get used to describe

12 actual attacks, attempts to change the voting process, counting, certification. So

13 thinking about more technical attacks. Sometimes, though, it gets moved over into 14 more of the influence and information operation space.

15 So I wouldn't necessarily think about this just as disinformation. This could also 16 include domestic attacks on critical election systems.

17 Q Were there discussions at CISA internally during your tenure as director of 18 CISA regarding domestic influence, to use the --

19 A Uh-huh.

20 Q -- correct term? Not necessarily interference.

21 A You know, in February of 2020, I don't recall what the -- you know, the state

22 of the discourse was around domestic verse foreign interference.

23 Q Not specific to February 2020, do you recall there being discussions

24 internally at CISA about domestic versus foreign influence?

25 A I think ultimately we became aware that there were, you know, concerns of,

1 you know, domestic originating claims around election -- election security issues. And I
2 think through that evaluation, the -- you know, given our -- our authorities and
3 capabilities, it was still within scope of CISA's authorities and -- you know, you can talk
4 about the edu- -- again, rumor control. Doesn't matter. We're educating on the 5 process and the work flow and how elections work.
6 Q When did these discussions regarding domestic influence first start?
7 A I don't recall.
8 Q Okay. Were they ongoing by beginning of 2020?
9 A Again, I don't recall the moment in time or the periods of time within which 10 we were thinking about the distinction between domestic and foreign interference.
11 Again, I think this gets to, as we ultimately saw with rumor control, narratives are 12 narratives, and we're providing explanations on how the things actually work. So, again,
13 it would not matter if it was foreign or domestic for the context, again, of rumor control.
14 [redacted] Can we go off the record, please.
15 [Recess.]

1 [1:50 p.m.]

2 [redacted] We can go back on the record. It's 1:50 in the afternoon.

3 Mr. Krebs, I want to return to what was marked as exhibit 7, and that's the email

4 from the Kentucky election workers.

5 Mr. Walden. Hold on a second.

6 [redacted] Okay. And I'm actually going to introduce as exhibit 10 the 7 complete chain, so --

8 Mr. Walden. Oh.

9 [redacted] You're welcome to go back to it if you want to compare the two, but

10 we're going to introduce the full chain as exhibit 10.

11 Mr. Krebs. Thank you.

12 [Krebs Exhibit No. 10.

13 Was marked for identification.]

14 [redacted] And the new material section is on the second page.

15 Mr. Krebs. Okay.

16 BY [redacted]

17 Q So on the earliest part of the chain, the part that was not produced in the

18 prior hour, it's an email that appears to be from somebody at Kentucky.gov, dated

19 October 28th, 2020, time-stamped 4:43 p.m., to Misinformation Reports -- which is an

20 email address that's redacted -- @cisecurity.org, and then copying a number of other

21 ky.gov email addresses. Do you see that?

22 A I do.

23 Q Okay. And I want to look at the -- and I realize you weren't on this email

24 chain --

25 A Right.

1 Q -- at any part, so I realize you're not familiar with this, but I want to look at 2 the very last sentence of the second paragraph.
3 A Uh-huh.
4 Q The email describes an incident involving a camera that may have been in an
5 election place or a polling place. And then that last sentence says, The county clerk has 6 been warned she needs to be armed.
7 Do you see where it says that?
8 A Yes.
9 Q So that suggests that the county clerk has either been threatened by 10 somebody, saying she needs to be armed, or somebody has told her she should be armed 11 for her own safety, correct?
12 A That's what I read from that.
13 Q Okay. And, again, you weren't on this chain, and we're not interviewing
14 the person who wrote this chain.
15 A Right.
16 Q But that's what's apparent on the face of this document.
17 A Right.
18 Q And the majority didn't present that to you earlier, correct?
19 A That page was not in the prior appen- -- or exhibit, rather.
20 Q And so what actually was transmitted to CISA from Kentucky, from the 21 assistant secretary of state general counsel's office with the Kentucky secretary of state,
22 was an email that said whatever is -- whatever misleading post is identified in this email
23 actually potentially involves something that could pose a risk of harm to the individual
24 involved, correct?
25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. Are you familiar -- there have been a lot of reports of election
2 workers facing increased threat due to the work they do. Are you familiar with these 3 reports?
4 A I am aware of threats against election officials across the country, yeah.
5 Q And broadly speaking, what's your understanding of those threats?
6 A Well, I think a lot of them, as I understand it, stem from claims around the 7 2020 election being stolen and that election officials were either complicit or otherwise
8 incompetent, and as a result, there's been, you know, both public and also private 9 communications -- I've received, of course, a number of threats myself -- and I think these 10 are kind of pretty -- pretty prevalent, you know, both at senior officials, secretaries of 11 state, as well as, unfortunately, county clerks at a local level, so kind of equal opportunity 12 threats.
13 Q And I want to focus on the State and local workers in particular. When 14 we're talking about State and local election workers, who are those people? What are 15 their jobs?
16 A Again, it kind of -- it varies. So you have, at the top, secretaries of state.
17 Those are constitutional officers typically in State outside of the chain of command of the 18 governor, you know, elected by the citizens of the State, the voters of the State, all the 19 way down to IT technicians that make sure that the computers in the election offices run
20 on time.
21 And then you also have volunteers, so election officials that volunteer to be poll
22 workers. And, you know, I don't think threats have been spared against any of them, 23 and it's resulting in fairly broad resignations and attrition across the election workforce in 24 advance of 2024. And it's one of the things I'm worried about, is we're going to have 25 fewer election workers come the next election.

1 Q And I want to talk about that a little more. When you say that there's been
2 broad attrition or a number of people leaving these positions, how do you know that?
3 A From, you know, conversations I've had with election officials, but also, you
4 know, there's plenty of media reporting on, you know, the state of election attrition,
5 election hiring.
6 Q And why does that concern you about -- with respect to 2024?
7 A Well, I think on the -- the first point is that, if you have fewer staff to conduct 8 an election, there's a capacity challenge, so we're going to have fewer opportunities for 9 people to vote. So you could have reduced polling hours. You could have statutory 10 requirements to be open certain periods of time, but then you're going to have 11 overworked election officials. So, you know, there are a range of different risks here.
12 Q Are you familiar with the Justice Department's Election Threats Task Force?
13 A I've read about that, yes.
14 Q Okay. What's your understanding of what it is?
15 A My understanding is that they investigate threats of violence and, you know,
16 similar activity against election officials across the country.
17 [Krebs Exhibit No. 11.
18 Was marked for identification.]
19 [redacted] Okay. I'm going to introduce as exhibit 11 an August 31st, 2023,
20 fact sheet on the Justice Department's Election Threats Task Force. And I'll give you a 21 minute to review it.
22 Mr. Walden. I'm sorry. This may be obvious, but while he's reading it, is there 23 some distinction between the ones that are in blue and underlined and those that are 24 not?
25 [redacted] The ones that are in blue and underlined are hyperlinks to, I believe,

1 to the actual criminal complaints, and the ones that are not -- I'm not sure why they're
2 not hyperlinked, but this is from the Justice Department's website. We can get you the 3 source if you'd like.
4 Mr. Walden. Oh, no, that's okay. I should've thought of that, but I couldn't 5 imagine that there wouldn't be hyperlinking to number 10 and 13.
6 [redacted] Yeah. I'm not --
7 Mr. Walden. Okay. Sorry. Go ahead.
8 BY [redacted]
9 Q Have you had a minute to review?
10 A Yes.
11 Q Okay. A couple minutes ago you said that you had spoken with people,
12 election workers and others, who had received threats. I want to go through just a
13 couple of the threats described here and ask if they're consistent with the type of things
14 that you're hearing, without getting into your personal conversations.
15 A Sure.
16 Q So, for example, the -- and I'm sorry, there's a list on this page of 13 criminal
17 cases involving threats to election workers or State officials that are involved --
18 A Right.
19 Q -- in administering elections, correct?
20 A Yes.
21 Q So, for example, the sixth example on this list, it's United States v. Walter Lee
22 Hoornstra in the Western District of Missouri.
23 A Right.
24 Q The individual -- the defendant was charged for allegedly leaving a voice mail 25 containing a threat on the personal cell phone of an election official in the 1 Maricopa County Recorder's Office in Maricopa County, Arizona.

2 A Uh-huh.
3 Q Correct?
4 A Correct.
5 Q Is that type of threat consistent with what you've heard through your 6 conversations with others in the election worker community?
7 A Yes. And I believe 6, so Walter Lee Hoornstra, those threats are against 8 Stephen Richer, who's a Republican. The second -- the next one down, 7, U.S. v.
9 Mark Rissi, Maricopa County Board of Supervisors, a number of those officials were 10 Republicans.
11 The official in the Office of the Arizona Attorney General, if I recall at the time,
12 that was a Republican attorney general.
13 So I think the -- the thing that I think is particularly concerning is that these threats
14 are against all political stripes. It's not Republicans or Democrats. It's everyone. And 15 so this should be a -- as I see it at least -- a bipartisan concern on threats to election
16 officials.
17 Q You've worked -- you worked at CISA beginning -- or I guess the predecessor
18 of CISA beginning in 2017, then were at CISA in 2018 when it got underway, and stayed
19 through 2020.
20 A Uh-huh.
21 Q And obviously today you're still following election security in the news,
22 right?
23 A Yes.
24 Q During that time period, have you observed an increase in threats against
25 election workers?

1 A Based on my understanding and what I have viewed, it seems as if there's an
2 increase in threats. I assume the Justice Department would have a authoritative set of 3 metrics that would be able to characterize that.
4 Q Are you familiar with reports about threats against members of academia
5 who study disinformation?
6 A Yes, I am.
7 Q Can you describe your -- what you know about those reports?
8 A I am aware of threats against researchers affiliated with the Election
9 Integrity Partnership, so Kate Starbird at University of Washington. We talked about
10 Renee DiResta earlier with Stanford. Alex Stamos with Stanford as well. So they -- I
11 both know from conversations with them that they have received significant, you know,
12 very specific, graphic threats.
13 Q And what's your understanding of why they've received those threats?
14 A Because of the research they conducted around the integ- -- the SIOEIP, the
15 2020 election.
16 Q And the SIOEIP is the Stanford Internet Observatory Election Integrity
17 Partnership, correct?
18 A It's the Election Integrity Partnership, which included, as I understand, SIO,
19 University of Washington. And they also had follow-on work with The Virality Project.
20 Q Okay. Some have expressed concerns that threats targeting academic 21 researchers who work in the disinformation sphere might have a chilling effect on 22 researchers' interest or willingness to do research into disinformation in the future.
23 Do you agree with that concern? Do you share that concern, I should say?
24 A I -- my understanding is that, yes, there has been a chilling effect, that there
25 are programs across the country that are shutting down or backing away. And I think

1 we're seeing similarly kind of a chilling effect across platforms, and as a result, again,
2 we're seeing platforms kind of pull back.
3 And if anyone was on Twitter, or X, over the weekend, you would've seen the 4 impact of the disbanding of trust and safety teams, the impact of shifting the verified blue
5 checkmark approach. And then you also would've seen the impact of some of the tools 6 that they've scuttled of -- of the level of manipulation and abuse of the platform and the,
7 you know, the quality of the information on the platform.
8 Q Looking ahead to 2024, do you think this pulling back, as you said, on the 9 platforms' behalf, and their -- the dismantling of the trust and safety team at Twitter, for 10 example, do you think that has -- creates a risk that foreign influence campaigns may, in 11 fact, have a chance at being more successful in 2024 than they did in 2020?
12 A I mean, they're certainly creating the circumstances where a motivated actor
13 could abuse the platform. But, you know, for Twitter, I'll say that at least in the 14 United States, these are decisions that -- that the Twitter/X leadership team can make,
15 and they get to decide how they run their platform until they run afoul of some law here
16 or in the EU, and they get to determine how their terms of service and then how content
17 on the platform complies with their terms of service.
18 Q Understood. And I'm not challenging that, but it does create a risk,
19 wouldn't you agree, that if a motivated foreign actor wanted a platform to spread
20 disinformation, you know, to interfere in the 2024 election, that could make platforms
21 that are not taking action against disinformation a more appealing target, correct?
22 A That's, yes, one of the many different ways that -- one of the many different
23 kind of events that -- that threat actors are going to manipulate the platform.
24 And it's not just the U.S. election, to be clear. In 2024, there are probably over a
25 billion people that will go vote across the world -- Russia, Taiwan, Mexico, the European

1 Union -- many different voters -- elections.

2 Q And a motivated foreign actor could have an interest in interfering in any of

3 those elections. Is that fair to say?

4 A Correct.

5 Q I want to return to exhibit 8, but we're actually going to introduce

6 as -- you're welcome to pull it out, but we're actually going to introduce as exhibit 11

7 the -- I'm sorry, exhibit 12, the proposal from CIS. I think the majority indicated they

8 didn't have it available to them. So I want to complete the record on that.

9 A Thank you.

10 [Krebs Exhibit No. 12.

11 Was marked for identification.]

12 BY [redacted]

13 Q And this was actually the next page in the production. So the exhibit 8 was 14 CIS-JUDCOM910. This is CIS-JUDCOM911.

15 Have you had a minute to review?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. So there was discussion in the earlier hour about this portal and, you

18 know, what discussions there were around the setting up of the portal. And you said

19 that you weren't -- you don't recall having been involved in any discussions to that effect,

20 right?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q So I want to look at the actual proposal, and I just want to highlight a couple

23 of things in this proposal. So the very first sentence, it says -- reads, CIS is 24 proposing -- and then it continues on, correct?

25 A Right.

1 Q And then the third paragraph down reads, Alternatively, CIS is
2 proposing -- and then it continues on, correct?
3 A Uh-huh.
4 Q And then in --
5 A Yes. Sorry.
6 Q -- in the fourth paragraph, again it reads, CIS proposes, correct?
7 A Right. Yes.
8 Q So over and over again in this document, it makes it clear that this is a
9 proposal from CIS, correct?
10 A Yes.
11 Q And this was not -- there's nothing here that suggests CISA solicited this 12 proposal, correct?
13 A I -- that's my -- that's my understanding, I guess. But there's nothing -- yes,
14 I'm not seeing anything --
15 Mr. Walden. She's just asking you, on the face of this document, there's nothing
16 that says --
17 Mr. Krebs. In response to.
18 Mr. Walden. -- at CISA's request --
19 Mr. Krebs. Yes.
20 Mr. Walden. -- we did X, Y, Z?
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q So this was -- this was an unsolicited -- based on all appearances --
23 A Yes.
24 Q -- this was an unsolicited proposal from CIS, correct?
25 A Correct.

1 Q And then the very last paragraph where it's italicized, I'm going to read that
2 out loud. It says, The Center for Internet Security Election Best Practices Team has
3 funding from the Democracy Fund to build and maintain a mis/disinformation reporting
4 portal through the 2020 election cycle.
5 Do you see where it says that?
6 A Yes, I do.
7 Q Are you familiar with the Democracy Fund?
8 A I've heard of it. So I've heard of it.
9 Q Is the Democracy Fund part of CISA?
10 A It is not.
11 Q Okay. What's your understanding of what the Democracy Fund is?
12 A It's some nongovernmental organization -- let me leave it at that.
13 Q And to your knowledge -- and I realize this may have been couple layers
14 below you, but to your knowledge sitting here today, did CISA provide any funding for the 15 Democracy Fund?
16 A I'm not aware of any funding that would go to the Democracy Fund,
17 no -- from CISA, no.
18 Q In the very first hour today, CIS came up, and you made the comment
19 that -- there was a question about how CIS is funded. And obviously it gets funding from 20 different sources, right, not just from CISA, correct?
21 A So I -- that is -- that is correct. CISA provides funding to CIS. I assume 22 they have other funding from elsewhere.
23 Q Okay. So, for example, from the Democracy Fund potentially?
24 A And that seems to suggest that, yes.
25 Q Okay. You said that CIS was a statutor- -- I'm sorry -- CIS was a statutorily

1 funded grantee. Do you recall saying that?

2 A Yes.

3 Q What's a statutorily funded grantee?

4 A Well, so my recollection specific to CIS and activities they -- MS-ISAC, that

5 Congress has set a set of funds available that would go to the projects like maintaining

6 the election -- or I'm sorry -- the Multi-State ISAC, because it has turned, over time, into a

7 competitive grant process.

8 But CIS has the infrastructure, has the systems and the relationships, and they

9 competitively have been awarded those over time, at least, again, up till my time.

10 Q Okay. And a statutorily funded grant program -- and I realize it has

11 changed over time, but a statutorily funded grant program means that Congress has

12 appropriated the funds, and it has to go --

13 A Yes.

14 Q -- to that entity, correct?

15 A It has appropriated funds, and over time I believe that that turned into, like I

16 said, a competitive grant program.

17 Q Do you know when that turnover happened?

18 A During, you know, my tenure.

19 Q Okay.

20 A So, you know, the tail end of the last decade.

21 Q Okay. Is CIS under the control of CISA?

22 A No.

23 Q Who manages CIS?

24 A My understanding is they have a board of directors or board of something.

25 They have an executive director or CEO. I don't know if I recall who the CEO is right

1 now.

2 Q In your role as the director of CISA, did you ever direct CIS to take any

3 particular steps, to the best of your recollection?

4 A Not that I recall, no.

5 Q Okay. In your role as the director of CISA, to the best of your recollection,

6 did anyone reporting to you ever direct CIS to take any particular steps?

7 A Not that I -- not that I recall.

8 Q Okay. Are you familiar with the election infrastructure information sharing

9 and analysis --

10 A I'm sorry. Let me go back to -- so under the terms of the grant, which is a

11 contract effectively, just like other government contractors, there were certain tasks that

12 CIS agreed to perform under the terms of the grant.

13 And so there was effectively a grant management position, I believe, that came

14 out of the cyber directorate -- cybersecurity directorate -- or division, I'm sorry. So there

15 were likely specific tasks or asks under the execution there for the execution of the grant.

16 Q Understood. But I'm talking about the day-to-day management of CIS.

17 A No, not that I recall.

18 Q Okay. Are you familiar with the Election Infrastructure Information Sharing

19 and Analysis Center, which is also known as the EI-ISAC?

20 A Yes.

21 Q What is the EI-ISAC?

22 A So information sharing and analysis centers exist across the 16 sectors and

23 then some, and it's effectively a community group within that sector that gets together

24 and shares best practices, cyber threat intelligence, conducts exercises and things like

25 that.

1 Prior to, you know, 2017, no such center existed for the -- for the election
2 community, and CIS under, you know, kind of based on its role with the Multi-State ISAC,
3 established the Election Infrastructure ISAC, and I think, believe, they use CISA grant
4 funding to set that program up.
5 Q And is it fair to say that the mission of the EI-ISAC was focused on 6 information sharing among the different -- information sharing between different
7 election workers?
8 A That was a key component.
9 Q Okay.
10 A There were -- there were, as I mentioned earlier with the Albert sensors,
11 there was also some technology deployments that would happen. But generally 12 speaking, the first order of business tended to be information sharing as the name would 13 imply.
14 Q Was the EI-ISAC under the control of CISA?
15 A No.
16 Q Was the EI-ISAC managed by CISA?
17 A No.
18 Q Who managed the EI-ISAC?
19 A There were personnel that were CIS personnel that managed the day-to-day
20 operations of the EI-ISAC.
21 Q Okay. And you referenced the MS-ISAC, which is the Multi-State
22 Information Sharing and Analysis Center, correct?
23 A Yes.
24 Q And what is the MS-ISAC?
25 A So the MS-ISAC was an ISAC that was established several years ago -- I

1 can't -- I don't recall the year it was established, but managed by CIS, also, as I recall,
2 grant funded by CISA. And it was the same -- you know, this is one where you didn't
3 have to be a State and local -- I'm sorry -- election official. You were any type of State or 4 local IT program out there, and so we worked with all sorts of different agencies up and
5 down from local communities to State-level government agencies.
6 Q And was the purpose of MS-ISAC, again, information sharing?
7 A Information sharing, and also as I mentioned earlier, deploying Albert
8 sensors.
9 Q Was the MS-ISAC under the control of CISA?
10 A No.
11 Q Was the MS-ISAC managed by CISA?
12 A No.
13 Q And who actually managed the MS-ISAC?
14 A The Center for Internet Security.
15 Q Okay. There have been allegations made that, during the 2020 election,
16 CISA, quote, funded and utilized CIS for the purpose of having social media companies
17 moderate content. Have you heard that allegation?
18 A I have seen that allegation, yes.
19 Q Do you believe that's an accurate allegation?
20 A I do not believe that is accurate.
21 Q And what is your response to that allegation?
22 A Again, we were focused on the -- the EI-ISAC aspects, and I'm not aware of 23 any funding that went to anything that would be censoring or monitoring speech around
24 the election.
25 Q And to your knowledge, did CIS direct social media companies to moderate

1 content? I'm sorry. Withdrawing that.

2 Did CIS direct social media companies to moderate content?

3 A I -- I don't know.

4 Q Okay. And you have no knowledge that they did. Is that fair to say?

5 A Not that I'm aware of, no.

6 Q Okay. There have been allegations that, during the 2020 election, the

7 EI-ISAC, quote, facilitated attempts to sensor core political speech. Are you familiar with 8 that allegation?

9 A The EI-ISAC?

10 Q Uh-huh. Are you --

11 A I'm not -- I mean, I'm not sure if I've heard that specific allegation. It

12 sounds a lot like the prior, but I'm not sure I've seen that, but --

13 Q Is it true or accurate that the EI-ISAC facilitated attempts to sensor core

14 political speech?

15 A Not that I'm aware of.

16 Q Do you have a reaction to that allegation?

17 A Certainly not within any of the activities that CISA was working with the 18 EI-ISAC on would that have been anywhere near the mission of the EI-ISAC.

19 Q To the best of your knowledge, during the 2020 election, did the EI-ISAC

20 have employees engaged in monitoring social media for election-related disinformation?

21 A I'm -- I'm not aware of any EI-ISAC employees ever doing that, particularly,

22 again, under any sort of CISA-funded activities.

23 Q To your knowledge, during the 2020 election, did the EI-ISAC monitor social

24 media for election-related disinformation using any other method? So using software,

25 for example.

1 Mr. Walden. If you know.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q If you know.

4 A I'm not aware of that.

5 Q You're not aware of that happening. Okay.

6 A No. For the record.

7 Q And to your knowledge, during the 2020 election, did the MS-ISAC have

8 employees engaged in monitoring social media for election-related disinformation?

9 A Not to my knowledge.

10 Q Okay. And to your knowledge, during the 2020 election, did the MS-ISAC

11 monitor social media for election-related disinformation using any other method, such as,

12 for example, by using software?

13 A Not that I'm aware of.

14 Q There was some -- actually, I'll withdraw that.

15 I want to return to the discussion about switchboarding that began in the prior

16 hour. Switchboarding at -- do you know who came up with the term "switchboarding"?

17 A I do not know.

18 Q Is it fair to say that what's referred to as switchboarding is actually

19 forwarding emails along?

20 A I think that's an accurate description.

21 Q Okay. So it could've just -- instead of saying, you know, we're -- this is

22 going to be switchboarded, or, we are going to do switchboarding, it could've -- CISA

23 could've just said, we're going to forward emails along, right?

24 A I think that's fair.

25 Q Okay. You, yourself, generally weren't the recipient of emails from State

1 and local election workers regarding disinformation, correct?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q They generally went to people on your team?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q And we actually looked at one of those earlier, right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay. Do you recall if you provided instructions to your team on how they

8 should handle those emails when they received them?

9 A No, I don't believe I was involved in the process or policy development.

10 Q Okay. I want to look at an example. You referenced earlier the secretary

11 of state from Louisiana --

12 A Uh-huh. Yeah.

13 Q -- participating in switchboarding, what's now known as switchboarding, and 14 I want to look at an example of that.

15 A Okay.

16 Q This will be exhibit 13.

17 [Krebs Exhibit No. 13.

18 Was marked for identification.]

19 Mr. Walden. Just noting for the record that, while the witness is reading it, it

20 appears to be an email between September 14th and September 15th of 2020.

21 Mr. Krebs. All right. Okay.

22 BY [redacted]

23 Q So this email originated -- as counsel said, this was originated on Monday,

24 September 14th, 2020, at 10:27:22 p.m. The email address and then the signature -- the 25 name and the signature block are redacted, but it comes from sos.la.gov, correct?

1 A Yes. Yes.

2 Q And so that's the secretary of state for Louisiana, correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And the secretary of state was Kyle Ardoin?

5 A Ardoin.

6 Q And Mr. Ardoin is a Republican, correct?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q So we don't have the attachment for this one. It wasn't produced in order,

9 but the forward from Matthew Masterson on September 14th, 2020 at 10:30 p.m., reads,

10 See attached from LA SOS -- the Louisiana secretary of state -- he called and views this as

11 coordinated disinfo campaign. Please pass ASAP to Facebook and FBI as well as other

12 platforms.

13 Do you see where it says that?

14 A I do.

15 Q What's a coordinated disinformation campaign?

16 A A coordinated disinformation campaign implies that there's a threat actor

17 that is leading a information operation across, in some cases, multiple platforms.

18 So it could be, I think, as Scully implies at the top, that it could be happening

19 across Facebook, it could be happening across Twitter, there could be stuff on YouTube.

20 But it tends to be, you know, coordinated in the sense that it's not just hitting one

21 platform, it's hitting multiple platforms.

22 Q And so Mr. Masterson passed this along to Scully. That's Brian Scully,

23 correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. And then Mr. Scully sent it along to Twitter, correct?

1 A Uh-huh, yes.

2 Q And the email addresses are redacted, but it's a twitter.com email extension,

3 correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And that happened -- so the email came in from Louisiana at 10:27:22 p.m.

6 on September 14th. This was passed along to Facebook -- or I'm sorry -- to Twitter at 7 9:18 a.m. the following morning, correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. And I want to look at the disclaimer here, and I want to compare it

10 quickly to -- sorry --

11 A Exhibit 6.

12 Q -- exhibit 6. Thank you.

13 And there's been some discussion about the third paragraph of the banner, as you

14 call it, correct?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And this is an email dated September 15th, 2020, and it does, in fact, include

17 that third paragraph, correct?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And exhibit 6 is dated October 27th, 2020, and it doesn't include the third

20 paragraph, correct?

21 A Correct.

22 Q And so it appears that the third paragraph at least was in existence, it had

23 been written, prior to October 27th, 2020, correct?

24 A Correct.

25 Q And actually I want to look at the language of the disclaimer a little -- or I'm

1 sorry, the banner a little more close --
2 A Disclaimer is fine.
3 Q Okay. I want to look at the language of the banner a little more closely.
4 And first, would you agree that the banner is italicized in exhibit 13, correct?
5 A Yes, it is.
6 Q So it stands out a little bit. Is that fair to say?
7 A It's italicized and it's different -- it distinguishes itself from the other text,
8 yes.
9 Q And in exhibit 6, the font size of the banner is larger than the font size of the 10 body of the message. Is that fair to say?
11 A Yes.
12 Q Okay. So it's also distinguished in that way. Is that fair to say?
13 A Yes.
14 Q Okay. I want to go through -- and you said you were not involved in the 15 drafting of the language for the banner, correct?
16 A Correct.
17 Q But you were aware that the banner existed?
18 A Yes.
19 Q And you were aware that it was regularly being attached to emails being 20 sent to the social media companies, correct?
21 A As a matter of policy, it would've been default included, yes.
22 Q So the very first paragraph reads -- and I'm looking -- sorry, I'm looking at 23 exhibit 13 --
24 A Yeah.
25 Q -- the longer version of the banner.

1 Mr. Walden. I'm sorry. Can we just get our exhibits straight?

2 [redacted] Yeah.

3 Mr. Walden. I apologize. I want to just be able to follow this, because we've

4 got really three exhibits. We've got 6, we've got 13 -- this is 13, right?

5 [redacted] Yeah.

6 Mr. Walden. And then we've got the one that has the additional information,

7 and I didn't write the -- is that 11 or 10? Yeah, 10, exhibit 10.

8 [redacted] That's 10.

9 Mr. Walden. So we actually have, just so the record's clear, in a sense, three

10 different banners, right, because the language of 13 is not the same as exhibit 10 or the 11 portion of 6 that 10 represents.

12 [redacted] Right.

13 Mr. Walden. Okay.

14 [redacted] So we're going to go through them --

15 Mr. Walden. Okay.

16 [redacted] -- and I understand that the language is different.

17 Mr. Walden. Okay.

18 [redacted] But I want to talk about how essentially they're conveying the same

19 message over and over again despite the differences in language.

20 Mr. Walden. Yeah.

21 BY [redacted]

22 Q So looking at exhibit 13, it reads, Neither the U.S. Department of Homeland

23 Security, nor the Department's Countering Foreign Interference, CFI, Task Force is the 24 originator of this information. The CFI Task Force is forwarding this information,

25 unedited, from its originating source. This information has not been originated or

1 generated by DHS or the CFI Task Force. Correct?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And it says, This information may also be shared with law enforcement or

4 intelligence agencies. Correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Looking at exhibit 6, it's fundamentally the same message that the entity is

7 not the originator of the information, and the information is being forwarded unedited.

8 It's just the names of who is --

9 A Right.

10 Q -- sending it are different, correct?

11 A Right.

12 Q And the same with, looking at exhibit 10, which is the complete version of 13 the Kentucky email. Again, the information relayed is that CISA is forwarding this

14 information, unedited, from its originated source, and it may be shared with law

15 enforcement or intelligence agencies.

16 So fundamentally it's conveying the same message. It's just the names of the 17 entities involved have changed.

18 A Yes.

19 Q Is that fair to say?

20 A Yes.

21 [2:28 p.m.]

22 BY [redacted]

23 Q Okay.

24 Again, looking at exhibit 13, it says, "DHS affirms that it neither has nor seeks the 25 ability to remove or edit what information is made available on social media platforms,"

1 correct?

2 A Correct.

3 Q And that language says pretty straightforwardly that DHS doesn't have the 4 ability to tell social media companies what to do, correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Looking at exhibit 6, it says, "CISA affirms that it neither has nor seeks the

7 ability to remove or edit what information is made available on social media platforms,"

8 correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And so it's the same message. It says CISA instead of DHS, correct?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And CISA is an agency of DHS, correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q And then exhibit 10, again, it says, "CISA affirms that it neither has nor seeks

15 the ability to remove or edit what information is made available on social medial

16 platforms." So fundamentally the same message, correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Going back to exhibit 13, the second line, "DHS makes no recommendations

19 about how the information it is sharing should be handled or used by social media

20 companies," correct?

21 A Correct.

22 Q Do you remember, to the extent that you know, what was the purpose of 23 including that line in this banner? What was it trying to convey to social media

24 companies?

25 Mr. Walden. Honestly, I think that he testified previously that he didn't notice it.

1 So are you asking him as he reads the language now why he thinks -- what policy he
2 thinks drove it?
3 [redacted] Yes.
4 Mr. Walden. Okay.
5 Mr. Krebs. So just to be clear, the line that's blank, makes no recommendations
6 about the information it is sharing should be handled or used by social media companies,
7 is that the line we're talking about?
8 BY [redacted]
9 Q Yes.
10 A Are you asking why we would have included that?
11 Q To the best of your knowledge.
12 A Because CISA, CFI TF, DHS, we're not telling them to do anything.
13 Q Thank you.
14 Again, exhibit 6 and exhibit 10, the second line is, "CISA" -- the second line of the 15 second paragraph.
16 Mr. Walden. The second or the third?
17 [redacted] The second.
18 Mr. Walden. Okay.
19 [redacted] Second line of the second paragraph.
20 Mr. Walden. Okay.
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q Is that, "CISA makes no recommendations about how the information it is 23 sharing should be handled or used by social media companies," correct?
24 A Correct.
25 Q Fundamentally the same message. It just says CISA instead of DHS.

1 A Okay, I got it.
2 Q Correct?
3 A Yes. Yes.
4 Q Okay. And in all three of these instances with this banner, DHS and CISA
5 are making it clear to the social medial companies that they are not telling the social
6 media companies what to do, correct?
7 A Correct.
8 Q Okay.
9 And then the third line of that second paragraph reads -- I'm looking at exhibit 13.
10 A Yes.
11 Q It reads, "Additionally, DHS will not take any action, favorable or 12 unfavorable, toward social media companies based on decisions about how or whether to 13 use this information," correct?
14 A Correct.
15 Q So the banner is making it abundantly clear that DHS is not going to take any 16 action against social media companies. It's up to them to do whatever they will with the 17 information. All that DHS is doing is passing it along, right?
18 A Neither carrots nor sticks. That's what that is.
19 Q And then, looking at exhibit 6 and exhibit 10, it reads, "Additionally, CISA will 20 not take any action, favorable or unfavorable, toward social media companies based on 21 decisions about how or whether to use this information," correct?
22 Fundamentally -- sorry.
23 A Yes. Yes. Sorry, yes.
24 Q Fundamentally the same message is being conveyed --
25 A Yes.

1 Q -- across all three versions of this banner, correct?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. And then let's look at that third paragraph. The third paragraph is 4 on exhibit 13 and exhibit 10 but not exhibit 6.

5 The third paragraph says -- and this is exhibit 13 -- it reads, "In the event that the

6 CFI Task Force follows up to request further information, such a request is not a

7 requirement or demand. Responding to this request is voluntary and DHS will not take

8 any action, favorable or unfavorable, based on decisions about whether or not to respond

9 to this follow-up request for information," correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And that language is substantially similar in exhibit 10. It just reads CISA

12 instead of the CFI Task Force and DHS, correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. So what you just said about the second paragraph, neither carrots

15 nor sticks, that's essentially repeated in the third paragraph, correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q So the third paragraph adds to the banner, but it doesn't take away from the

18 points already made in the second paragraph, that there will be no action taken against

19 the social media companies, either favorable or unfavorable, based on what they do with 20 the information, correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And, again, looking at exhibit 6, you're not on this exhibit. You're not on 23 the email here, correct?

24 A Correct.

25 Q So, for example, you don't know if when Mr. Scully included the banner here, maybe he copied and pasted the banner and he didn't copy and paste it on that third paragraph for this one instance. Is that possible?

A I don't know. I would hate to speculate on why there's differences across different ones. So I don't know.

Q Right.

Mr. Walden. I'm sorry. I'm going to do the same thing to you that I did to your colleague on the other side of the aisle.

I don't know if you can share this with us, but to the extent that it refreshes Mr. Krebs' information, has there been any reason offered to the committee by Mr. Scully or someone else why there's three different banners in the same period of time?

[redacted] No.

Mr. Walden. Okay.

[redacted] And my point is that the banners --

Mr. Walden. The substance is the same.

[redacted] But you would agree that substantively the banners are substantively similar throughout.

Mr. Walden. Yes, yes. No, no, no. I understand. I'm not trying to make that point. I'm not trying to make that point.

[redacted] And with respect to this one, where the one paragraph was not added, we don't know why it wasn't there. It might have just been a drafting error, correct?

Mr. Walden. I was just asking. I was just asking. Okay.

[redacted] Yeah. So that could have just been a drafting error, correct? Possible. We don't know.

Mr. Krebs. I, again, would hate to speculate on why. I mean, it could be multiple reasons.

[redacted] We can put those aside.

I think we can go off the record. I think we're good.

[Recess.]

[redacted] Can we go on the record, please.

Counsel.

Mr. Walden. Thank you.

So this is just FYI. Before anyone attributes significance on either side to the differences in the disclaimers, I would suggest that you check the devices on which these emails were sent, because I don't know if you've seen this in other investigations, but sometimes a device will have a footnote specific saved profile. And so if you send from your telephone, it could have a different disclaimer than if you send from your laptop, which could have a different disclaimer than if you send from your mobile device.

And here we have SCIFs that are involved. And depending on which SCIF you're using, there could be a saved profile. That could account for some of this back-and-forth thing between the language.

So I just ask you to look into that before anybody attributes intentionality there, because it may just be sloppiness, because if you don't have a disclaimer editing system built into your agency, you're going to have competing and inconsistent disclaimers.

[redacted] Thank you.

We'll start the --

[redacted] Just to clarify, I don't necessarily think they are inconsistent.

Mr. Walden. Oh, inconsistent in the sense that there is different language.

[redacted] The language may be but not necessarily --

Mr. Walden. Yes. I'm not the witness, so I'm not making points. I'm just

1 making suggestions. Sorry.

2 [redacted] We will start the next hour.

3 I'm planning to introduce exhibit 14.

1

2 [Krebs Exhibit No. 14.

3 Was marked for identification.]

4 Mr. Walden. While the witness is reading, this is a multipage email that has a lot

5 of questions.

6 [redacted] I'm happy to --

7 Mr. Walden. Oh, sure.

8 [redacted] -- represent that Mr. Krebs is not directly on this email chain. There

9 is an email dated March 13th, 2020, which claims to summarize what Mr. Krebs had said

10 during a meeting. Those Bates numbers are 8049 to 8050.

11 We will give you an opportunity to review as long as you'd like, but that's what

12 we'll be asking about.

13 Mr. Walden. I'm sorry. I didn't understand the two different Bates numbers

14 things.

15 So I see that the first email looks like a set of notes from -- dated March 13th.

16 And then there is something also dated March 13th that says "a more complete set of 17 notes."

18 I'm sorry. So there are two sets of notes but we only have one set of the notes?

19 [redacted] Yes. This is the full email chain. The Bates numbers, referring to 20 8049 and 8050, is the part of the email that summarizes Mr. Krebs' comments during the

21 meeting.

22 Mr. Walden. Just to be clear, have you ever seen these notes before?

23 Mr. Krebs. I have never seen these notes before.

24 Mr. Walden. Okay.

25 Mr. Krebs. I recall the call, but the notes, no.

1 Mr. Walden. Okay, thank you.

2 Counsel.

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q Well, that was going to be the first question.

5 You do recall this call?

6 A Yes. I mentioned previously that March 13th, Friday, the 13th, was the last

7 day in operations, which is then I actually mentioned it in the notes, that we did a practice

8 telework trial run.

9 This call I think was -- it was, like I said, the first in a series of calls. I bet if you

10 went and looked, you could -- there would be something on the order of like 6,000 or

11 7,000 people dialed in on this call. This was, as I recall, a pretty significant call from a 12 participation perspective.

13 Q I want to call your attention to about halfway down of 8049. There is your

14 name and title. And then there are some bullet points that start to lay out four core

15 lines of effort.

16 A Yes.

17 Q Do you recall speaking about these four core lines of effort?

18 A I do.

19 Q And then if I can call your attention to the top of 8050, there is a focal point

20 that says "Monitoring Disinformation."

21 Do you recall saying that monitoring disinformation was one of the core lines of 22 effort?

23 A I don't recall if "monitoring disinformation" was a specific word, but that was 24 an area that we were looking at.

25 Q Okay. And can you say more. By "we," you're referring to CISA, yes?

1 A CISA, yes, but I think, more broadly, the government was concerned.
2 And just to put this in context, the disinformation that we were talking about at
3 the time, I have two examples.
4 One is that 5G towers were spreading COVID. That was literally a theme at the 5 time, there is something to do with microwaves and radiation, all that. But that was one
6 of the things.
7 And so, you know, a natural rumor control. And FEMA, by the way, had a
8 COVID-related rumor control at the time or immediately thereafter, and they specifically
9 posted a rumor control on 5G towers do not, in fact, spread COVID.
10 The second example, which I think is probably a little bit more problematic than 11 what's obviously crazy, but this second one, which you might recall if you all were in the 12 D.C. area, is that there were text chains going around at the time that the Reserves, the 13 National Guard, was about to come in and federalize Washington, D.C., lock down New 14 York City. Those were the sorts of threats.
15 And that's why when you see in these notes that, hey, your best source of 16 information remains your State and local officials, that was the disinformation we were 17 concerned on in the pivot to don't listen to the people on text chains.
18 And there was some -- there was, as I recall, some sourcing of those efforts to 19 Chinese-based actors that were spreading those domestically.
20 So that's the disinformation that we were talking about.
21 Q Okay. Can you say more about during this time what was CISA considering 22 regarding how to monitor disinformation?
23 A I mean, I think we have it in -- I think it's in here, and I think at the time we
24 had a button on the CISA web page, but it's if you see anything that you have questions
25 about or concerned about, send it to us, report it to us.

1 But there are no -- there were no, at least that I was aware of, any sort of social
2 media monitoring tools deployed within CISA or maintained or managed by CISA.
3 Q Were there any tools that were under consideration?
4 A At that time, I don't believe so, no.
5 Q At any time during your tenure at CISA?
6 A Not that I had initiated. I am aware of reports previously that a data miner
7 may have been considered but before my time.
8 Q Do you know who was considering that?
9 A No, I don't recall.
10 Just to clarify, that CISA has a set of authorities we talked about. There are other 11 parts of the Department that have authorities. CBP and ICE have authorities that they 12 use. DHS I&A have authorities that they use. I don't -- I can't speak to those 13 authorities, and they may have actually deployed stuff. I don't know. I'm just telling 14 you about CISA and NPPD, which substantially similar authorities.
15 Q How did CISA become aware of disinformation being spread on text chains?
16 A Those, you know, I can't tell you the kind of first specific notification that 17 came in. I think some of our field agents, field -- like, I'm going to give you an example 18 of how that may have come in, and it would be a protected security adviser that is 19 working with the State or local official may have gotten a question: Hey, we're hearing
20 this. What do you guys know about it?
21 Or, for example, in these calls, somebody could ask: Hey, I got a text or I got 22 something like that.
23 And so, again, these calls were intended to both raise awareness, as well as 24 identify issues and concerns that our stakeholders were seeing.
25 And so it could come in, again, through a call like this: Hey, I heard about this

1 thing. What do you know? I don't know. We'll chase it down. We'll get back to
2 you.
3 And subsequent, we would take, if we couldn't answer a question, we would ask
4 that person to send us an email. And then we'd either respond directly or, you know,
5 say: Hey, somebody asked a question on the last call. Here's the answer as we 6 understand it on the second call.
7 We did these calls, I don't recall if it was twice a week or once a week, but these 8 became part of a regular cadence from which we got overwhelmingly positive feedback
9 from our partners that: Hey, these are really helpful to help us understand what the 10 government is doing beyond the regular kind of White House press. This is really 11 directed at critical infrastructure stakeholders.
12 Q Were there any efforts in 2020 to try to monitor or assess disinformation
13 that's being spread on text chains?
14 A We wouldn't have had a capability to do that. So I don't believe so, no.
15 Q Again, regarding any tools or techniques that you are aware of that were 16 being discussed in 2020, were you aware of any tools or techniques, not necessarily just 17 CISA, but any entity within DHS to monitor disinformation?
18 A I don't recall any specific examples, and particularly in 2020. Again,
19 not -- certainly not within CISA, as I recall. Elsewhere, I don't know.
20 Q We touched upon this at the end of our previous hour --
21 Mr. Walden. Are you done with this exhibit?
22 [redacted] I going to ask the next last question.
23 Mr. Walden. Oh, okay.
24 [redacted] I have a question.
25 [redacted] Sure.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q Generally speaking, what kinds of stakeholders were on this particular call?
3 What was the general audience being addressed with these comments?

4 A Yeah. No, that's a great question, particularly if we're talking like 6.000
5 people.

6 It was a mix of State and local election officials, State and local government
7 officials, college and university, like business continuity managers, executives from power
8 companies and healthcare, hospitals. I mean, you name the 16 sectors and we tended 9 to have representation across all those sectors.

10 This -- these -- the invitations to these calls went out through kind of a number of 11 different mailing lists. One of them would have been like the Sector Coordinating 12 Council mailing list, boom, that goes out.

13 It could have gone throughout, like, the US-CERT alert list. So sign up for that 14 and every time there is a cyber threat, you get -- or cyber alert -- you get that.

15 So, I mean, these went out. I mean, we had -- you know, it's a good problem to 16 have, but so many people want to get on these calls that the bridge crashed the first time
17 because we only had, like, 3,000 tickets, or whatever, sign-ins. And literally demand -- I
18 think we had one call that was like close to 10,000 people.

19 Now, I mean, like reporters would jump on and dig in. But it was a -- again, these 20 were, I think, fairly successful calls in terms of getting information out there, and just 21 like -- I'll stop.

22 But there's one -- kind of like my -- one of my favorite parts of these calls was 23 this -- so this is the 13th, again. That weekend the world changed, but for the preceding
24 2 or 3 weeks we would have -- even 3 to 4 weeks, when everybody kind of saw the cases
25 ticking up, some of the executives and officials would keep asking the question of CDC

1 like: Hey, guys, when are we going to know when we need to switch to work from home
2 and like get out of the offices?
3 And, you know, the CDC would give these answers like: Well, it's not a switch.
4 It's not a trigger. It's more of a dial. You'll kind of get through it.
5 No. Boom. March 14th, 15th, when the schools in the D.C. area sent the kids
6 home for like early spring break for 2 weeks, that was it. You know, you lost daycare.
7 You had to be home to manage the kids. That was the trigger and, boom, everything
8 from there changed.
9 So it was just -- it was interesting being able to kind of see some of these things
10 coming and see it happen in real time that, you know, just those little stories of the early 11 days of COVID.
12 Sorry for --
13 Q And do you agree with the characterization in these notes that in the context 14 of the discussion about monitoring disinformation, you said that the best source of 15 information is always your State and local officials?
16 A That is -- yes, that was one of our -- my principles, I guess, is one way to put
17 it.
18 Q And are the State and local officials you're referring to here, would that be 19 election officials or just generally?
20 A No, again, because this is a broader call, it would have been State and local,
21 like health officials mainly.
22 Q So, for example, one of the concerning narratives that you mentioned was 23 text chains that the National Guard was going to federalize D.C. or lock down New York.
24 In that case, how would the State and local election officials be the best source of
25 information?

A So specific to that, the National Guard is under the command of the governor. So the Guard would have been deployed at the behest of the governor. So if the governor, if Governor Cuomo at the time was going to lock down New York City, you probably would have heard that from him first rather than them just rolling out and blocking the Holland Tunnel. But those are the sorts of examples.

Again, it's like don't believe everything you hear on Twitter or get in a text chain. Go seek an authoritative source of information to confirm that information.

Q And you mentioned that on calls like this and others State and local officials would often have questions for CISA. Is that right?

A Well, State and locals, but private sector, academia, yes.

[redacted] So setting aside whether CISA was trying to develop any tools or techniques regarding monitoring disinformation, during 2020 did CISA work with any third parties where the third party was monitoring disinformation?

Mr. Walden. Monitoring through some sort of mining tool you mean? Because that's what you were asking about before. You mean like just monitoring --

[redacted] Any sort of monitoring. It does not have to be specific to that tool.

Mr. Walden. [redacted] that's an impossible question. I monitor social media for misinformation. So, I mean, you're saying -- you must be saying something more official than the way I'm understanding the question.

Unless you just understand him better than I do.

Mr. Krebs. No. I mean, what are we -- I guess what I'm trying to get at here is, like, are you talking about do we have a contractor, like a --

BY [redacted]

Q No, no.

So you testified that CISA is not monitoring disinformation.

1 A Correct.

2 Q Is that right?

3 And there are third-party groups, there are researchers that we've discussed who

4 monitor, who research disinformation online.

5 I'm asking, during 2020, was CISA working with any third party where the third

6 party was monitoring disinformation?

7 A I don't believe -- I certainly don't recall tasking anybody. I mean, I think the 8 definition -- like, the definition of working here.

9 So did third parties send us disinformation that they had seen? I assume so.

10 Did we tell anybody to do this work for us? Not to my recollection.

11 Q Okay. And maybe not tell or instruct, but did CISA request information

12 from any third party that was monitoring disinformation?

13 A I don't recall any specific CISA mandate to go request information. Might

14 somebody -- I mean, we just saw it in an email from Brian Scully.

15 Mr. Walden. Yeah, can I just stop you for a second?

16 Because, [redacted] look at me. I'll really having an honest disagreement -- not

17 disagreement, misunderstanding of what you're getting at.

18 CISA was -- he never said that CISA wasn't monitoring misinformation in the sense

19 that they were in communication with State and local officials, and they were getting

20 information from those officials about misinformation at the local level.

21 So in that way, you could call that monitoring in the sense that there was an

22 ongoing conversation with State and local election officials about misinformation that

23 they were seeing.

24 So I'm taking what you were asking about before [redacted] cut in with his questions

25 about tools to monitor, as opposed to like informal discussions, what people say, I'm seeing text chains with the National Guard closing down New York, or I'm seeing Hammer and Scorecard -- evidence of Hammer and Scorecard, whatever.

Do you understand the difference and why I don't understand your question?

[redacted] I'm not sure what part you don't understand. State and local officials --

Mr. Walden. Differentiate tools to mine from just having conversations with people about misinformation they're seeing.

[redacted] Okay. Regardless of whether the third party is using a particular tool or it's just, I don't know, if the researchers -- setting aside whatever tools or techniques they may or may not be using, the question is: Which third parties are in contact with CISA when the third party is monitoring disinformation?

Yes, State and local officials we talked about. We talked about switchboarding. I'm asking about, generally speaking, which third parties were in contact with CISA.

Mr. Walden. Okay. I need a minute with Mr. Krebs. We'll be right back. Can we go off the record, please?

[Recess.]

[redacted] Can we go back on the record?

BY [redacted]

Q Would you like me to repeat the question?

A Yes, please. Thank you.

Q Okay. During 2020, was CISA receiving information from third parties that were monitoring disinformation?

A So, okay, thank you for clarifying that, the working vice receiving.

There were a bunch of organizations out there that were studying disinformation. They would issue reports, and they'd share the reports with us.

1 Q Was CISA ever requesting information from third parties that monitor
2 disinformation?
3 A Whether we request -- I don't recall requesting specific information. But,
4 again, they would send us reports. Groups would send us reports and we'd look at it.
5 Q So setting aside sending the report, two things that aren't captured by that
6 answer.
7 So, first, is CISA, to your recollection, during 2020, ever making the request to the 8 third party where the third party is monitoring disinformation?
9 A I think -- I don't -- I don't know specifically if CISA, anyone down at CISA -- I
10 mean, this could be as simple as going to a website and signing up, subscribing to a 11 newsletter, effectively, when you issue your weekly or quarterly reports, please send one 12 to me.
13 That's possible that happened. And sometimes when these reports come out,
14 they also send them to people that they have emails for and say: Hey, let's take a look 15 at this.
16 Q Did CISA receive information from third parties that were monitoring
17 disinformation where the information was not a public report?
18 Mr. Walden. Can you please be a little bit more specific? I feel like you're 19 playing this guessing game where you know something and you're trying to figure out
20 whether he's going to be honest with you.
21 [redacted] Okay. No, you've made multiple accusations. That's not fair.
22 Mr. Walden. I'm not -- it's not -- [redacted] it's not an accusation.
23 [redacted] The question is broadly asked. You've provided very specific 24 examples in response. So you said, for example, that public reports would be provided
25 to CISA personnel. But the question is about information from third parties that are

1 monitoring disinformation.

2 So the most recent question is: Was CISA receiving information from third

3 parties that monitor disinformation where the information is not a public report, it's not a

4 newsletter, it is something that the third party knows privately?

5 Mr. Krebs. No, I get the question. And what I'm telling you is I'm telling you

6 what I'm aware of. I'm aware that we received the regular reporting, the publicly

7 available reporting from the EIP, for instance, the Election Integrity Partnership. They

8 would send those out. We were on the mailing list and the distro list.

9 Am I aware of any specific, discrete, you know, one-to-one contacts with CISA with

10 me or with someone else? I don't recall that. But there were a lot of people that were 11 monitoring, even at the platform level.

12 So, again, Facebook would issue their coordinated information -- coordinated

13 inauthentic behavior reports. They send those out. They would send them to us.

14 That's how I recall the workflow.

15 [redacted] Do you recall any internal CISA discussions regarding what types of 16 information CISA could solicit with respect to third parties that were monitoring

17 disinformation?

18 Mr. Walden. Did you understand that question?

19 Can you read back that question, please?

20 [redacted] No. The court reporter's equipment doesn't allow them to read back

21 quickly.

22 Mr. Walden. Oh, oh, oh.

23 Can you say it again, please?

24 [redacted] Yes.

25 Mr. Walden. Thanks.

1 [redacted] Do you recall any internal CISA discussions regarding whether CISA
2 could solicit information from third parties that were monitoring disinformation?
3 Mr. Walden. Okay, [redacted] that is such -- listen, you're an amazing questioner, but 4 that was not your high point.
5 Is he aware of internal discussions where the topic of the discussion was whether 6 or not there was legal authority for CISA to ask third parties for information about
7 disinformation?
8 Is that another way of saying: Were you aware of whether there were legal 9 limits on your ability to ask for information on disinformation?
10 [redacted] That would be part of it. It's not limited to that.
11 Mr. Walden. Okay. But do you see that there is a good faith lack of 12 understanding here like exactly what you're questioning? Because we want to answer
13 the question. So can we start there? Can we start there?
14 [redacted] No, I think the question was plainly asked, and I'm going to ask it
15 again, which is do you -- asking a witness whether he recalls discussions of a particular 16 topic is completely reasonable and it's completely par for the course with witnesses.
17 Mr. Walden. It was not -- that was not the problem I had with your question, but 18 I'm getting the sense that you're getting impatient with me and you don't want to 19 understand the legitimate question I have about what you're seeking.
20 Is what you're seeking legal advice that he got about whether, no, we can't get 21 this report because there is a legal limit on it?
22 Your question does not -- it does not give any parameters on exactly what you're 23 seeking?
24 [redacted] Either the witness recalls discussions or he doesn't. If there are legal 25 privileges you want to claim, then he can do so. But even the question itself wouldn't implicate. He can say yes or no whether these discussions occurred.

Mr. Walden. And with most of these things he's probably going to say: I don't remember. That's not the problem I have.

[redacted] Well, you haven't given him an opportunity to even respond.

Mr. Walden. [redacted] I really -- we have not had protracted -- we've had a couple protracted moments. This is one of them. I'd like to get through it because I'd like to get you an answer to your questions.

So are you saying legal limitations, technological limitations, like any limitations on their ability to get information from third parties about disinformation?

[redacted] It does not have to be restricted to limitations.

Mr. Walden. That's what you're --

[redacted] Regarding CISA, anything regarding CISA's solicitation of information from third parties monitoring disinformation. It could be legal. It could be practical. It could be technological.

Do you recall any discussions? Yes or no?

Mr. Krebs. Look, so you have an exhibit that has Brian Scully asking Facebook whether they're seeing something that was also reported to Twitter. So clearly we have at least one example of someone asking: Hey, are you seeing this? But that's to a platform.

Do I remember or recall any other conversations about, you know, what the go and no-go zones were? No, I don't recall that. That doesn't necessary happen at my level.

[3:15 p.m.]

BY [redacted]

Q Do you recall any discussions taking place or were you aware of any discussions taking place about the go versus no-go zones, to use your terminology?

A So do I recall any conversations? No, I don't. If you have something, an email or something you want to share to refresh, fine.

The second part, was I aware of conversations? I was aware of general conversations about the approach we were taking to ensure that we were protecting the First Amendment-protected speech of Americans.

Q Okay. And other than legal counsel, who at CISA was partaking in these conversations?

A Those conversations would have been an ESI-plus-legal counsel conversation. So a Matt Masterson and a Geoff Hale conversation.

Q Okay. And to your understanding, they were having conversations regarding interactions with third parties that were monitoring --

A I did not say that.

Q I know you didn't. I'm asking.

A I did not say that.

Q Did you -- do you have --

Mr. Walden. He's talking -- listen, [redacted] he's talking about the disclaimer. You know it. I know it. Everyone in the room knows it. Okay? So don't say that you're asking a different question. He's answering the question on how did you protect, and it was the question on the disclaimer.

[redacted] The question was not about the disclaimer.

Mr. Walden. Well, that's the question he was answering. He just told you that he didn't remember --

[redacted] I don't think that's -- were you referring to the disclaimer?

Mr. Walden. Give me a second, please.

[redacted] I don't think so.

Mr. Walden. Excuse me. I'm talking to you.

You're asking for conversations about limitations --

[redacted] That's not right.

Mr. Walden. -- conversations about limitations on their ability to collect information from third parties, right? He's answered that question numerous times, saying he doesn't remember those conversations.

He then said: I do remember conversations about the way to protect people's liberties, and that was by not coercing them, which is the disclaimer. That's what he was answering.

What are you asking about -- him about now? Was there some conversation that he had with someone where it said: Hey, boss, we can't ask for information in this way. If so, then ask him the question.

Did anyone tell you, you weren't allowed to get information in certain ways from third parties, as far as you recall?

Mr. Krebs. I'm not aware of conversations around whether they could go task EIP, for instance, to go monitor and collect information and send it back for their own purposes.

BY [redacted]

Q You're not aware?

A I'm not aware.

Q Okay. Not limited to EIP, any third party?

A I was giving you an example.

Q Sure.

A Yeah. Again, like to the point, like, I'm trying to be helpful. I know you're probably going to ask about EIP and all that at some point in greater depth. I mean, let's cut to the point here. I'm giving you an example.

And I'm not aware of any tasking or even asking whether we could task the EIP. Might a staff member have asked that question of legal counsel? Maybe, but I don't know. I'm just not privy to those conversations.

[Krebs Exhibit No. 15.

Was marked for identification.]

[redacted] This will be exhibit 15.

Mr. Walden. While he's reading the email, let the record reflect it's a two-page email, starting on November 4th and ending on November 4th of 2020, between Bret Schafer and Robert Schaul.

You ready?

Mr. Krebs. Yeah.

Mr. Walden. Shoot.

BY [redacted]

Q Do you know who Robert Schaul is, if I'm saying his last name right?

A Yeah. That last name is right, yeah. And I don't recall if he goes by -- yeah, he goes by Rob or Bob. Rob. Yeah.

Q And who is he?

A He was a part of the -- well, he's a lawyer for one, but also part of the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force. So, as I recall, he's a member of that team that was working on disinformation issues.

1 Q And during 2020, how frequently were you interacting with Rob?

2 A Again, as I mentioned earlier, my main interactions were with Masterson

3 and Geoff Hale. I don't really remember how often I met with Schaul.

4 Q Less frequently than with Mr. Masterson?

5 A Yes, I'd say so.

6 Q Are you familiar with the Alliance for Securing Democracy?

7 A I've heard of them. And I don't know who -- I don't recall who supports

8 them, whatever.

9 Q Were you familiar or were you aware that members of CISA were

10 communicating with the Alliance for Securing Democracy?

11 A As I -- to your point about, like, who are they, are these the guys that were 12 Atlantic Council?

13 Q That's DFRLab.

14 A Okay. Sorry.

15 Q They're within the German Marshall Fund.

16 A These guys are German Marshall Fund?

17 Was I aware that they were talking to them? I don't think I was -- I don't know if

18 I was directly aware, but it would make sense that they would talk to people.

19 Q On the back page, Rob says he wants to know if there's "anything of 20 particular concern that might be worth elevating to Director Krebs."

21 When it came to various narratives -- the date of this email is November 4th,

22 2020 -- was the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force elevating particular narratives up

23 to -- for your awareness?

24 A So just kind of like, again, context, people include lines like that to get a 25 response. They use the principal's name to elicit a response sometimes.

1 Was I aware? Again, this was November 4th, so the day -- this is Wednesday.
2 We're in the thick of it. I think there was a general tracking of themes popping up
3 because that's, in part, how we informed the rumor control, how we -- if we needed to 4 create a specific entry or repurpose a specific entry for rumor control, edit, revise,
5 whatever.
6 So how those came up to me, I don't recall. But usually the team would say:
7 Hey, this is trending. Do we have an entry that could address that?
8 Q So in early November 2020, who at CISA is responsible for maintaining this 9 internal awareness of that you referenced --
10 A Again, it was -- the day-to-day job of the Election Security Initiative was 11 Masterson and Hale, and that was their full-time job.
12 Q There's a back-and-forth that you've had a moment to review. There's an 13 email from Rob where he says, "Mail-fraud disinfo is in-bounds for us this time, domestic 14 or foreign."
15 First, is that line consistent with your understanding of what CISA was engaging in,
16 in November of 2020?
17 A Yeah. And I can point back to a prior exhibit that talks about the 18 documentation that was on rumor control that talked about the Federal voter absentee
19 ballot program. That is a mail-in fraud claim that was being boosted by the Iranian 20 intelligence services.
21 So when it comes and punches you in the face, you don't know if it's domestic or 22 foreign. And the way we address these things, again, is just through publicly posting
23 factual information that links to authoritative sources -- again, starting with statute, going 24 down to third parties that provide that information.
25 Q Was there an effort during this time to try to determine if the source was

1 domestic or foreign?

2 Mr. Walden. Is that limited to the CISA or throughout the Federal Government?

3 [redacted] CISA.

4 Mr. Walden. Oh, okay.

5 Mr. Krebs. So we certainly would look to the intelligence community if they

6 made a determination on foreign threat actor intelligence.

7 But, again, as these things pop up, things like Hammer and Scorecard, it doesn't

8 necessarily matter whether it's foreign or domestic.

9 Again, our authorities are rooted in the Homeland Security Act, which enables us

10 to act on domestic or foreign threats. And, again, they don't come waving a flag.

11 But our response here -- and perhaps "Countering Foreign Influence" is a

12 misnomer, because we didn't have necessarily active authorities. Our role was rumor

13 control. Government has a First Amendment right to speech as well, and that was our

14 way of exercising that, of posting on rumor control: We're seeing this theme, here's the 15 rumor, here's the reality, here's the useful context, here are the authorities.

16 [redacted] You mentioned that the "Countering Foreign Influence" might be a

17 misnomer. Are you aware that the team was renamed the Mis-, Dis-, and 18 Malinformation, the MDM team, later?

19 Mr. Walden. You mean after he left?

20 [redacted] Yes.

21 Mr. Krebs. I had heard that.

22 BY [redacted]

23 Q Were there any discussions that took place about renaming the team prior

24 to your departure from CISA?

25 A Sorry for laughing. It's just that things -- we were not worried about labels at the time I was still on the job, from the election through the time I was terminated, that we weren't moving deck chairs around the Titanic here. We were focused on mission, and changing names was the last thing that I was worried about at the time.

Q So you don't recall any discussions?

A I don't recall any discussions.

Q Rob's email -- again, in the middle of the page -- he says, "Mail-fraud disinfo is in-bounds for us this time," which seems to suggest that either it wasn't, that it perhaps wasn't earlier.

To your understanding, was there a change in what CISA considered to be within the scope of its authority?

A Look, that's Rob's email. You could ask him why he put that in there. I don't know.

No, I don't recall any shift of perspective.

Q At any point during your tenure at CISA?

A Not that I recall, no.

BY [redacted]

Q You said that CISA was conducting a general tracking of themes for rumor control. Was that general tracking based exclusively on external reports or was part of that internal detection by CISA officials?

A Sorry. What do you mean by internal detection?

Q As in they would be monitoring social media, not necessarily using a tool, but they themselves would go on social media to try to identify particular narratives.

A Look, I think that internal, as you put it, internal monitoring could manifest in a bunch of different ways.

One of them is you have a TV on and you see someone that's at a podium talking about Hammer and Scorecard or Hugo Chavez flipping votes. And I think that is entirely in-bounds. I see something with my own eyes. I'm not excluded from being part of a reporting process.

And so if it was media, if I would see something on a social media platform, I could -- we could send that over.

I would get requests like that. I mean, I mentioned in my opening the White House would send us stuff. I would have notes from Acting Secretary Wolf that would say: Hey, what is this? What can you guys do? And if you dig into it and, okay, this is pretty pervasive, so let's put up a rumor control entry.

Q So it would be accurate to say that some part of that general tracking of themes that you mentioned was internal detection by CISA officials?

Mr. Walden. No, I'm sorry. You're completely misstating his testimony.

[redacted] That was a question. That was a question. I wasn't --

Mr. Krebs. Was there a systematic internal monitoring function? Not that I recall.

[redacted] The question was, was any part of that general tracking of themes the result of internal detection, which can include things like watching a TV or monitoring social media?

Mr. Walden. [redacted] you're asking if he's sitting at someone's cubicle looking to see if they checked Facebook and saw something pop up? Come on. That question -- what are you asking him?

[redacted] Is there anybody --

Mr. Walden. How is he supposed to know, if somebody floated something up, whether they happened to see it on Twitter?

[redacted] Well, there had been previous testimony about the basis for

1 CISA's actions being external reports exclusively and that CISA was not conducting
2 monitoring of disinformation by itself. So I was trying to clarify --
3 Mr. Walden. CISA the agency --
4 [redacted] I was attempting to clarify.
5 Mr. Walden. CISA the agency had no policy of monitoring. Now you're asking
6 him whether or not anything that was given to him was the product of somebody else's
7 monitoring. And all I'm saying to you is, how the hell is he supposed to know that?
8 [redacted] If the witness doesn't know then the witness can say so.
9 Mr. Krebs. So in external reporting, can you point back to where I said that just 10 for clarification.
11 [redacted] I believe earlier there was some testimony about CISA not having 12 a policy of monitoring disinformation by themselves. And so I was attempting --
13 Mr. Krebs. Right.
14 [redacted] -- to clarify whether that was a total blanket ban on internal 15 detection by CISA or that some part of the general tracking of themes that you have 16 testified about previously was the result of CISA officials going on social media and 17 identifying narratives themselves.
18 Mr. Krebs. Yeah. No, I hear you.
19 So particularly when it comes to switchboarding, that was third-party reporting.
20 When it comes to just general awareness, there are multiple ways of things coming in.
21 One is the reports from Securing Democracy or whatever.
22 And, again, like, there were ad hoc inputs to awareness, but there was no
23 systematic tracking process. We didn't have somebody, for instance, literally sitting 24 there 8 hours a day looking at the TV or on Twitter 8 hours a day. So that -- it was,
25 again, as I mentioned, ad hoc, as I recall.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q Regarding the Countering Foreign Influence Task Force and its chosen name
3 and purpose, we've gone over a series of questions. And you provided your testimony
4 about how CISA's focus was on rumor control and during one of your answers said it
5 doesn't matter if it's domestic or foreign, ultimately, the focus is on what's being said.
6 Do you recall any discussions about -- with individuals involved in the task force or 7 on the task force -- about what the mission of the Countering Foreign Influence Task
8 Force should be?
9 A Do you have a time period?
10 Q During your tenure at CISA.
11 A During my tenure?
12 Q Yes.
13 A On the focus, the remit of the group?
14 Q Yes.
15 A I don't recall. Certainly not from me pointing down and saying: This is 16 what our focus is. Again, the part of setting up the CFI Task Force under legal was to 17 give us bounds of operation, as Jim mentioned earlier, just parameters, what are the 18 parameters.
19 And so those parameters would have been set through the legal review and 20 establishment of the task force and then subsequently -- subsequent, rather -- playbook
21 for how that was going to work.
22 Q To your understanding, for the parameters, the bounds that were set, were 23 they different depending on if the actor was domestic or foreign?
24 A I don't recall.
25 Q Do you recall any discussions on that topic?

1 A I don't recall. I mean, if there's a policy somewhere you can show me.
2 But I don't recall what the rules of the road were.
3 Q Do you recall anyone within CISA raising a concern that the parameters
4 should be different for domestic actors than for foreign actors?
5 A I don't recall anyone -- you know, I don't recall any specific conversation
6 around that.
7 But, again, I go back to the FEMA example and the FEMA rumor control. That's a 8 domestic activity typically, and that's what they use their rumor control for.
9 Again, our approach was to identify a narrative or a theme and then release how 10 things work, context, authorities.
11 Q I understand. But FEMA you've brought up a couple times. That's 12 obviously dealing with natural disasters, whatever it might be.
13 Take this as one example. Mail-fraud disinformation, right, that's a mode of 14 voting. That is a political issue.
15 Did anyone within CISA ever raise a concern to you about whether the parameters
16 as it relates to domestic actors were appropriate?
17 A I'm not sure I agree with your distinction with FEMA and their mission being 18 disasters being any different. When we talk about, again, mail-fraud disinfo in the 19 context of the Iranian Federal Voting Assistance Program, efforts like that, that's clearly 20 within bounds. It's mail-in fraud.
21 And per the content and context of that, that would have been consistent with my 22 understanding of how CISA was able to operate or was operating at the time.
23 Q You've pointed to the Iran example multiple times now, but that is a foreign 24 actor. So I guess what the question is trying to get at is --
25 Mr. Walden. Pretending to be the Proud Boys. Under your -- the implicit

1 meaning of your questions, the minute CISA sees Proud Boys, they should stand down
2 because it's a domestic actor. Only once the agencies go beyond that do they figure out
3 that it's Iran.
4 Now, in this case it happened within whatever it was, 48 hours. But oftentimes
5 it takes longer than that. So the whole point of --
6 BY [redacted]
7 Q Are you familiar with the term "attribution" in this context?
8 A Yes.
9 Q Okay. In instances where the government has conducted some sort of 10 assessment and has made the determination that they can attribute it to a domestic 11 actor, does -- do the parameters that we've been discussing, do they change for CISA at 12 that point?
13 A Look, I think if there's a narrative or a theme or an allegation out there that 14 misrepresents the electoral process, the infrastructure side, then it is in-bounds to 15 provide clarifying information on how things work. Sharpie-gate in Arizona is a great
16 example.
17 Q And, again, I'm not trying to needlessly play semantics here. Your answer is 18 about what CISA could do. So, again, I want to ask, again, a very simple question.
19 As far as what CISA could do when it is ultimately -- when an assessment has been 20 conducted, it's been determined that it can be attributed to a foreign actor, the 21 authorities, what CISA has available to it, is it your understanding, if the attribution is it's a
22 domestic actor, do the authority, what CISA has available to do, is it any different?
23 A Or a lack of attribution. There's a third option here.
24 Q Okay, or a third option.
25 A If there is no attribution. And it could be foreign, it could be domestic, it

1 could be both.

2 Q Yes.

3 A And that, as we see, it doesn't matter. Again, we could use Sharpie-gate as

4 an example. Sharpie-gate in Arizona, are you familiar with that?

5 Q I'm familiar, yes.

6 A Right. And as we engaged with the election officials and they explained:

7 Here's how the bleed-through on the Sharpie, on the bubble doesn't matter on the other

8 side because there's no scannable or readable content or space on the other side of the 9 ballot.

10 And yet, what they are doing is telling -- the people that are spreading this are

11 saying: Bring in a ballpoint pen. A ballpoint pen doesn't bleed through. Fine, but it

12 also leaves residue on the scanner, which creates malfunctions on the tabulation or 13 tallying of the votes.

14 What do we do? We identify the issue. We break it down. We point them to

15 the secretary of state or the recorder's office in Arizona and provide clarifying

16 information. They can go search for themselves.

17 We don't know necessarily who did it, whether it was domestic or foreign. So

18 we're in the ambiguous phase. But on what we've done there, particularly in light of 19 legal counsel, that was within our authorities and ability to do it.

20 Q Okay. And I guess my question is, yes, understanding that in this case it's 21 either domestic or we don't know, if it had been attributed to a foreign actor, were there

22 steps or authorities that CISA had that it wouldn't have absent that attribution?

23 A I mean, [redacted] I just got to say, I'm kind of losing the plot here. Is there a

24 more specific point you want to make here? Because I want to -- I do want to answer

25 the question, but I think I've made clear several times now that whether it was foreign or

1 it was domestic, from a rumor control perspective it doesn't matter.

2 Our authorities, CISA's authorities are domestic and they are foreign. We

3 protect against -- the same thing goes for Moore County and the energy grid last

4 December. Domestic shooter. We can work with the energy company on addressing

5 the risks to the critical infrastructure. It's the same set of authorities.

6 Q Okay. The question, just so we're on the same page, you're testifying

7 there's no difference between what CISA's authority would be, regardless if it's a foreign

8 or domestic actor?

9 Mr. Walden. [redacted] he's answered that question like ten times. But by you

10 continually asking it, here's the thing that I just -- like, I don't want to see ghosts where

11 there are none, but you're implying that there are authorities.

12 And you have to have a good faith -- as counselor, as a lawyer, you have to have a 13 good faith basis for your question.

14 So I'm going to ask you -- hold on -- I'm going to ask you very clearly, what is the

15 committee's good faith basis for asking whether -- repeatedly -- whether there are

16 authorities that constrain what he --

17 [redacted] Yes, the First Amendment.

18 Mr. Walden. Other than the First Amendment. That deals with coercion and 19 intimidation or favoritism. It doesn't deal with rumor control. The Federal

20 Government has a First Amendment right as well, as you well know. Your committee

21 has used it.

22 So I'm going to take that as a concession that there is no difference in authorities

23 other than the First Amendment.

24 [redacted] There is no concession whatsoever, and this exhibit shows that third

25 parties who were engaging with CISA in 2020 -- I will read it for the record: "Obviously,

1 what we're seeing domestically, particularly around mail-in fraud, is very concerning, but I
2 know that's outside your purview."
3 Mr. Walden. That's some third party's belief as to what the remit of a Federal 4 agency is. And the last time I checked, a private citizen doesn't get to tell a Federal 5 agency what the remit is.
6 I don't know what those people were talking about in an email, but what I do
7 know is that there is no authoritative difference between the way CISA can act with 8 respect to a domestically initiated rumor that deals with infrastructure versus a foreign 9 one. And I'm asking you whether or not you're aware of any authority that suggests
10 that I'm wrong.
11 [redacted] Yes. The First Amendment applies differently to domestic actors
12 than to foreign actors.
13 Mr. Walden. That's actually not completely true, but not in a way that we have 14 to debate right now. But happy to have that conversation with you off the record.
15 I'm talking about authorities other than the First Amendment. I have a reason to 16 ask you whether there are authorities other than the First Amendment that would lead
17 one to believe CISA had constraints on dealing with domestic misinformation or 18 disinformation other than the First Amendment, which we both know doesn't apply to 19 the way they deal with it as long as it's not coercion or favoritism. You're not giving me 20 an answer, so the record should be clear on that.
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q When did you first become aware of the idea for EIP?
23 A EIP?
24 Q Yes.
25 A Probably when I first -- when I saw one of its first reports or one of

1 the -- they would issue on Twitter like a, "Hey, we're seeing this thing."

2 Q Okay. You don't recall any discussions with Alex Stamos in the summer of 3 2020?

4 A I don't recall any conversations with Alex.

5 Q Not just the 2020. In the lead-up to the 2020 election, did you have any

6 conversations with Mr. Stamos regarding EIP?

7 A Not that I recall, no.

8 Q Were you aware that members of CISA were having discussions with

9 Mr. Stamos and others at EIP?

10 A Are we talking about interns or are we talking about Federal employees?

11 Q Federal employees.

12 A No, I was not aware.

13 Q You were not aware that Matt Masterson was having conversations with

14 EIP?

15 A Conversations about what? Well, you know what, let me just nip this in the 16 bud. No, I don't recall that.

17 Q Had you worked with Mr. Stamos prior to your tenure at CISA?

18 A So Alex is a recognized member of the cybersecurity community. Had I

19 bumped into him when I was at Microsoft? Probably. But not sure we did anything

20 notable from "working" together, as you put it. I was using air quotes around

21 "working."

22 Q Okay. How well did you know Mr. Stamos by the summer of 2020?

23 A I mean, look, again, he's a recognized member of the cybersecurity

24 community from his time at Facebook and Yahoo before that. I don't know how to say

25 how well I knew him, but knew him well enough. Were we friends? No.

1 Acquaintances? Yes.

2 Q By summer of 2020, how frequently were you interacting with him, if you

3 recall?

4 A I don't recall. I mean, I'm trying to even think about how I would even 5 characterize.

6 I mean, 2020, right? Summer of 2020 was weird, so certainly wasn't seeing him

7 in person. Don't think I was doing phone calls.

8 Would he pop up? You know, he was probably at some of those expert meetings

9 that -- our meeting that was referenced in the earlier exhibit.

10 Mr. Walden. It's getting late. Do you recall? If you don't recall, just -- 11 Mr. Krebs. Yeah, sorry. No, I just -- I don't recall.

12 BY [redacted]

13 Q He was your business partner by January 2021, right?

14 A Correct. Right.

15 Q Over the second half of 2020, when did you begin to get to know Mr. Stamos

16 better than you had by the summer of 2020?

17 A So I think like right after I got fired he was one of the many people that 18 reached out. You know, I liked Alex -- like Alex. And he asked: What's next?

19 And at that point, I didn't really have many things in mind. But as things got kind

20 of heating up through the rest of the year and I got a call from the SolarWinds CEO that

21 said they wanted help and I felt like I needed some technical help, Alex was one of the 22 first people that came to mind, given his expertise and his resume.

23 Q Following the 2020 election, and this is into the early part of 2021, EIP issued

24 a report entitled "The Long Fuse." At a high level, are you familiar with the report?

25 A Yes. Yeah.

1 Q Did you play any role in the preparation of that report?
2 A No.
3 Q Are you familiar with the software program called Jira?
4 A Yes.
5 Q And are you aware that EIP used the Jira system during the 2020 election
6 cycle?
7 A I've after the fact become aware of that, yes.
8 Q How did you become aware of that?
9 A I think it was reading the majority report, your report.
10 Q Did you have any awareness prior to the 2020 election about EIP's use of the 11 Jira ticketing system?
12 A No.
13 Q And so did you have any awareness of whether anyone from CISA had access
14 to EIP's Jira system?
15 A I did not know that, wouldn't have been aware of that.
16 Q We had in an earlier response clarified interns versus Federal employees.
17 Were you aware during the summer and fall of 2020 that there were CISA interns who 18 were Stanford students?
19 A Yes, I was aware of it. We had interns from a number of different colleges
20 and universities, and I was aware that the Stanford team was there, yes.
21 Q Were you aware that they were affiliated with the Stanford Internet
22 Observatory?
23 A I don't know if at the time I was aware that they were SIO interns or 24 whatever. I assumed they were computer science, but SIO specifically, I'm not sure.
25 Q And did you have any awareness that they were working on EIP?

1 A No, I did not know that.

2 Q You've mentioned that you were reading or at least had some awareness of

3 EIP's public reports. Is that right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Issued in the lead-up to the 2020 election?

6 A Yes.

7 Q So, to your understanding, was EIP monitoring both domestic and foreign

8 misinformation?

9 Mr. Walden. During what period of time? In the pre-election?

10 [redacted] Yes.

11 Mr. Krebs. Sorry. I don't know why I'm looking at you.

12 I mean, I think if you look at their reports then you could see that, yes, they were 13 monitoring -- they were reporting on domestic and foreign actors' disinfo.

14 [redacted] Can we go off the record, please?

15 [Recess.]

16 [redacted] We can go back on the record. It is 4:01 p.m.

17 BY [redacted]

18 Q Mr. Krebs, I want to get back to the conversation near the end of the last 19 hour about domestic authorities regarding domestic versus foreign actors.

20 You recall that conversation?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And the statement was made that the First Amendment applies differently

23 when you're considering domestic actors versus foreign actors.

24 Do you recall that statement being made?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. You understand that the primary -- one of the major arguments
2 in -- that the plaintiffs are making in Missouri v. Biden is that CISA censored the First
3 Amendment rights -- censored domestic actors, violating their First Amendment rights,
4 correct?
5 A I'm aware of that, yes.
6 Q Okay. So when CISA became aware of information regarding 7 disinformation that may have originated with domestic actors or may have been
8 unattributed, in general, CISA's reaction was to put out true information, correct?
9 A Correct.
10 Q In other words, CISA had an education mission, it worked to educate the 11 general public about accurate facts, correct?
12 A Correct.
13 Q CISA did not work to take down content from domestic actors. Is that fair
14 to say?
15 A I would agree with that.
16 Q Okay. So all the discussion about authorities of domestic versus foreign 17 actors, ultimately, what CISA was doing was exercising its own First Amendment right to 18 put out information. Is that fair to say?
19 A Specifically with our awareness and education products and rumor control,
20 yes.
21 Q I want to turn to the discussion about the Election Integrity Partnership that 22 was begun at the end of the last hour.
23 A Yes.
24 Q Briefly, can you just describe again for the record what your understanding
25 of what EIP was?

1 A A research partnership, colleges -- or universities, like Stanford and
2 University of Washington -- and NGOs, so I guess Atlantic Council, DFIR, that studied
3 narratives that went viral during the 2020 election.
4 Q Did CISA participate in the EIP?
5 A Not that I'm aware of.
6 Q Okay. There's been an allegation made that EIP was thoroughly
7 intertwined with CISA. Are you familiar with that allegation?
8 A I believe I've seen that in Missouri v. Biden, yes.
9 Q Do you believe that that is an accurate statement, that CISA was 10 thoroughly -- or, I'm sorry, that EIP was thoroughly intertwined with CISA?
11 A That is not my recollection of how things worked.
12 Q And why do you say that?
13 A It was an independent project that released public reports that CISA may 14 have consumed after they were publicly released.
15 Q And, to your knowledge, did you personally, in your capacity as the director
16 of CISA, for example, identify social media posts that EIP should look at?
17 A I don't recall doing that, no.
18 Q Are you aware if anybody that reported to you did that?
19 A I'm not aware that anyone did that.
20 Q Okay. There's been an allegation that CISA, quote, "aided EIP in the 21 process of reporting undesirable election-related speech to social media platforms."
22 Are you aware of that allegation?
23 A I believe I've read that, again, in Missouri v. Biden.
24 Q Do you believe that it is accurate that CISA aided EIP in the process of 25 reporting undesirable election-related speech to social media platforms?

1 A I don't know how we would have done that. They had their own
2 relationships with platforms.
3 Q Again, to your knowledge, did CISA flag content for EIP for the purpose of 4 having social media companies delete that content?
5 A Not that I'm aware of.
6 Q To your knowledge, did EIP ever tell CISA or report back -- and I'm not talking
7 about the after -- the report that came out afterwards -- but in the course of the lead-up
8 to the 2020 election, did EIP report back to CISA on the outcome of social media flags?
9 A Not that I'm aware of.
10 Q There have been allegations that the EIP was established to fill the gap in the 11 government's ability to police disinformation. Are you aware of that allegation?
12 A I am.
13 Q Is that an accurate allegation?
14 A Not -- you know, certainly not from a CISA perspective. I didn't ask
15 anybody to do anything along those lines.
16 Q Okay. So EIP, in other words, was not established for the purpose of doing
17 work that CISA could not do, to the best of your knowledge?
18 A EIP's establishment was independent of CISA and CISA's, you know, the 19 things that we were doing.
20 Q I want to turn to the discussion about some election narratives. Some of 21 them have come up earlier and some have not come up in detail today, but I just want to 22 ask you for some more detail on it.
23 You've referred repeatedly to the Hammer and Scorecard narrative today.
24 A Yes.
25 Q Can you explain for the record what the Hammer and Scorecard narrative is?

1 A Hammer and Scorecard was a theme that was -- that emerged on social
2 media and then actually on mainstream media in, what, late October-early November.
3 And the allegation is that a CIA supercomputer, Hammer, and Scorecard, a
4 software program, were being used by the CIA to go into State election systems and 5 manipulate votes.
6 Q And was that --
7 A Vote tallies, right.
8 And so as it emerged -- and it was quite pervasive. Again, when we talk about 9 me looking at a TV and seeing someone at the sticks, at a podium talking about Hammer
10 and Scorecard and CIA computer programs and then Hugo Chavez and all that, obviously,
11 it kind of reached across the threshold. And so the team took a look at the underlying
12 allegations.
13 And, most importantly, in rumor control, which is, again, where we broke down
14 these sorts of claims, we explained why this fanciful notion of a CIA supercomputer and 15 software program could not, in fact, change vote tallies because of the number of paper
16 ballots, 95 percent votes cast on a paper ballot, including all swing States, because you
17 would know, the proof's in the ballots. You go recount and count and audit.
18 And in all those cases, there was no evidence of any sort of manipulation of vote
19 counts.
20 Q Do you recall if the Hammer and Scorecard narrative -- which was a false
21 narrative, it's fair to say that, right?
22 A Yes.
23 Q Do you recall if the Hammer and Scorecard narrative was being spread by 24 domestic or foreign actors?
25 A So there was, I think, some evidence that it was being amplified by foreign

1 actors as well as put out there by domestic actors.

2 Q And was it often the case, or at least did it sometimes happen, that false

3 narratives were, in fact, amplified by both domestic and foreign actors?

4 A Yes, you could say that's happened.

5 Q And in the case of Hammer and Scorecard, CISA addressed that false

6 narrative by publishing on the rumor control website accurate information, correct?

7 A That is correct.

8 Q CISA did not contact the social media companies and say, "Please take this 9 narrative down," correct, to the best of your knowledge?

10 A That is my recollection.

11 Q Okay.

12 A And this is no different than elected officials on the Hill, when they hear

13 claims that are made and they will go to the sticks or they will issue press releases or they

14 will have FAQs on their own page.

15 So this is entirely consistent with how government does business and has always

16 done business. When there are claims made you disagree with, you have a government

17 First Amendment right to provide information. And that's consistent with how we did

18 rumor control.

19 Q In your opening statement you referred to -- I'll just read the sentence out

20 loud. It says: "Indeed, at least one of the rumors CISA debunked during the 2020

21 election was identified as problematic by the White House directly."

22 Are you able to identify what rumor that was?

23 A To the best of my recollection, that was the Antrim County tabulation error

24 that happened immediately after the 2000 -- sorry, the 2020 election. And we -- you

25 know, you get them circuitously, but there's a request that comes in. It says: Hey,

1 what's this? Can you get back to us?

2 And so as we look at it, we go out and see that this is emerging, that Antrim

3 County is an example of an election that was manipulated. And we then talk about

4 on rumor control how the counting and certification process works and how there are

5 errors sometimes that get caught and fixed, but it happens early in the process and you

6 get through it.

7 Q And do you recall who at the White House or what entity at the White House

8 identified that narrative as problematic to CISA?

9 A I don't recall.

10 Q I want to, in the couple minutes that I have left, I want to turn to something

11 that you had mentioned I think in my last hour of questioning, but it could have been 12 earlier in the day.

13 You referred to -- we were talking about the threats that election workers had 14 faced, that academics had faced, and you said that you yourself had also faced threats.

15 Do you recall talking about that?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And I know -- I don't want to get into the details around the circumstances

18 that you left CISA, but in the immediate aftermath of that did you face threats?

19 A Absolutely, foreign and domestic.

20 Q And do you continue to face those threats today?

21 A Less frequent than then, but they pop up every now and then.

22 Q Do you have concerns for your safety as a result of, for example, this

23 investigation potentially putting your name out in the spotlight again?

24 A It has generated some, you know, some attention, yes, that I'd rather not

25 have to deal with.

1 Q And are you -- do you have concerns for the safety of your family, for
2 example?
3 A Well, I would just go back to some of the threats I faced immediately after 4 the 2020 election, to me, to my children, and the fact that I had to expend personal
5 resources to have a guard -- armed guard -- outside my house for 2 months.
6 I had to expend personally $130,000, so kids' college tuition, because I had threats
7 against my family and my wife didn't want to stay in our house. So I had to get an 8 armed guard.
9 So I'd really rather not that happen again. And I'm never getting that money
10 back. Because I was not a Federal employee, I had to pay out of pocket 130 grand. I'm 11 still pissed off about that. No tax break, no nothing.
12 And that's just me. I could figure it out. There are others that can't. So sorry,
13 hit a sore spot there.
14 Q No, understood. And you were a civil servant, effectively --
15 A Yes.
16 Q -- when you were at the Department of Homeland Security, correct?
17 A Yes.
18 Q And these threats came after you left your service with DHS, correct?
19 A That's right.
20 Q Do you think others who see what happened to you might be dissuaded
21 from, for example, pursuing Federal service in the future?
22 A I mean, I've heard stories of people that are less incentivized to come into
23 the government now. I think we're seeing the same thing, as I mentioned, with election
24 officials, people that it used to be a civic duty to work in some of these jobs.
25 Now you don't get paid great, you don't get thanked a lot, and you get death threats. So I don't think there's going to be a lot of -- as many volunteers and people rogering up for jobs.

[redacted] Thank you. We can go off the record.

[Discussion off the record.]

[redacted] We can go back on the record, please.

BY [redacted]

Q Are you familiar with the ODNI notification framework?

A Generally, yes. I don't remember the specifics of it.

Q Were you involved in the drafting of the framework or its approval process?

A There was a, what do you call it, an IPC process that -- a policy process that ran through the NSC. And I was aware of it and contributed comments, yeah.

Q To your knowledge, do entities involved in the drafting of the script used for defensive briefings retain a copy of that script after the briefing is delivered?

A I don't recall.

Q Just one high-level question. We've received different testimony.

When people refer to the intelligence community, is CISA part of the IC?

A Absolutely not.

Q Thank you.

During your tenure at CISA or at NPPD, did you participate in any meetings involving the setup of a defensive briefing process?

A I don't believe so.

Q And were you ever briefed or provided a summary of conclusions related to any notification framework meetings?

A Not that I recall. I mean, and just to clarify, are we talking about the FBI process or the ODNI process?

1 Q The ODNI, but I'll ask the question as it relates to the FBI process.

2 A Yeah. No. I just -- I mean, obviously, if it was an FBI defensive briefing,

3 like your boss might get, like less than a chance of zero that we would ever get any sort of 4 feedback on that.

5 But the DNI defensive briefing mechanism, I don't believe I got any sort of readout

6 on those briefings.

7 Q Are you generally familiar with the New York Post article published on 8 October 14th, 2020, regarding the content of a laptop owned by Hunter Biden?

9 A Yeah. I mean that article, yeah.

10 Q Do you recall any discussions with personnel at CISA regarding that article in 11 the days following its publication?

12 A I don't recall any conversations either after that article or before about that

13 laptop.

14 Q And any conversations with industry partners?

15 A I don't recall any inquiries. If they asked, you know, it's not our space to 16 comment on.

17 Q Did you ever receive a briefing on the 2016 DNC hack?

18 A I don't know if I got like a focused, detailed briefing. I think it was part of

19 one of my initial here's what the intelligence community saw happen with some input

20 from the FBI. And I can't speak to the contents of that briefing, obviously. It's 21 classified. But, yes.

22 Q Do you recall when, approximately, that briefing occurred?

23 A Within the first 6 months of being on the job. So December -- sorry, not

24 December, but 2017 sometime through -- into the summer.

25 Q And do you remember which agencies delivered the briefing?

1 A I don't recall if it was just a DHS I&A briefing or -- but, obviously, the content
2 of the intelligence collected was from a patchwork of agencies that all rolled up into the 3 total report.
4 Q Do you recall if they identified which agencies were involved during the
5 briefing?
6 Mr. Walden. Are you allowed to answer this question?
7 Mr. Krebs. What? Whether I got a briefing or this --
8 Mr. Walden. What agencies were involved in what I'm understanding is a 9 classified briefing.
10 Mr, Krebs. I mean, I think if you read the intelligence community assessment
11 that was the unclassified version, it shows some of the agencies that contributed to it.
12 So do I recall the specific pieces of finished intel I read that were kind of all up in 13 that bucket? No, I don't recall.
14 [Krebs Exhibit No. 16.
15 Was marked for identification.]
16 Mr. Walden. It's a two-page email chain all on September 25th of 2020.
17 Go ahead. I didn't want anyone waiting for me.
18 BY [redacted]
19 Q First, do you recall reaching out to Alex Stamos on or around September 20 15th, 2020, regarding the claim here about ballots being dumped?
21 A I don't recall specifically reaching out to Alex on this issue, but I'll take it for 22 face value.
23 Q Okay. Independent of this specific email chain and EIP ticket, do you recall
24 generally reaching out to Mr. Stamos regarding narratives that were of particular 25 concern?

1 A I think like you have like Scully reached out, did I reach out to Alex on: Hey,
2 what's going on with this thing? I recall doing that a couple times. I can't tell you the
3 specifics. I mean, obviously, Sonoma. But this is, again, it's awareness, trying to figure 4 out what's going on.
5 Q And why were you contacting Mr. Stamos?
6 A To understand what -- so an issue is raised and: Hey, Alex, do you -- what 7 do you have on this?
8 Q Do you recall how many times you reached out to Mr. Stamos prior to the
9 2020 election?
10 A I don't.
11 Q During this time, do you recall how you were communicating with 12 Mr. Stamos?
13 A I don't know if I was sending him text messages or emails.
14 Q Does this document refresh your memory at all regarding what EIP was 15 tracking with respect to narratives and posts that they were not making public or not yet
16 making public?
17 A I mean, it says they did make it public. They published a Rapid Response
18 blog post.
19 And I think that's what I was talking about earlier, where they would have like
20 end-of-week roll-ups -- at least this is how I recall it -- end-of-week roll-ups; or they would 21 do these flash Rapid Response as it -- as something kind of broke the -- sort of their 22 threshold for reporting.
23 Q If I could have you flip the document over.
24 So the email is from an atlassian.net email, which is the company that runs Jira.
25 And so happy to represent that this is a -- the initial email is being forwarded to Alex

1 Zaheer. And then if you look down at the bottom lines in the light gray text, it says:
2 This is shared with EI-ISAC, Twitter, and then an individual.
3 To your understanding, were folks at CISA, was anyone receiving updates prior to 4 a Rapid Response blog post or EIP somehow making the information public?
5 A Not that I'm aware of.
6 Q During this time were you aware that the EI-ISAC was participating with EIP?
7 A That the EI-ISAC was participating with the EIP? No.
8 Q Were you aware that CIS was participating with EIP?
9 A No.
10 [redacted] You said you reached out to Mr. Stamos on several occasions for 11 awareness purposes and to gain an understanding of particular narratives. Who in 12 those cases would have raised the issue to you originally that would have prompted you
13 to reach out to Mr. Stamos?
14 Mr. Walden. Just -- we can go back to the record -- but I think he said a couple of 15 occasions, not several, but --
16 [redacted] In whatever number of occasions.
17 Mr. Krebs. Oh, I -- again, there's -- if you're looking for a systematic method of 18 raising these issues, it was not that refined at the time. Again, we're talking about ad
19 hoc stuff that I would see, stuff that people would report up, stuff that was on the news.
20 So there's no like -- I don't think there was a single source that would spark me to 21 want to understand an issue more thoroughly.
22 [redacted] Once you reached out to Mr. Stamos and in cases that he 23 provided you with information, did you then share that information with anybody at
24 CISA?
25 Mr. Krebs. I may have passed an update on here, you know, here's what Alex

1 says. But, again, I assume you all requested my emails, so I don't believe I put -- you
2 know, I emailed that around.
3 And it was a fairly infrequent occurrence, and sometimes it was good enough to 4 hear: Oh, it's this, that, or the other.
5 Or typically, it was like you see the Rapid Response blog post, it's we're going to 6 issue a blog post on this. Looking forward to seeing the blog post.
7 [redacted] Are you familiar with the Global Disinformation Index?
8 Mr. Krebs. Doesn't ring a bell. Is there -- I mean, maybe there's something you
9 could refresh me. But don't -- I'm not recalling it immediately right now.
10 [redacted] Are you familiar with NewsGuard?
11 Mr. Krebs. Yeah.
12 Mr. Walden. I'm sorry, what is it?
13 [redacted] NewsGuard.
14 Mr. Krebs. I've heard of NewsGuard, yes.

[4:29 p.m.]

BY [redacted]

Q During your tenure at CISA, did you have any interactions with them?

A Not that I recall.

Q Are you familiar with the Center for Countering Digital Hate?

A I've heard about it recently due to threats of lawsuits by Twitter, but I don't if I was tracking them as an organization in 2020 -- or my tenure at CISA, to be clear.

Q Are you familiar with The Aspen Institute?

A Yes, I am.

Q What are your -- what's the nature of your interactions with The Aspen Institute?

A So right now I'm a fellow with The Aspen Institute.

Q And how long have you been a fellow for?

A Since 2021, yeah.

Q Are you familiar with the Commission on Information Disorder?

A Yes.

Q And what is that?

A It was a group that was established after -- sometime in probably, I guess -- I don't know, sometime in 2021, that was studying broader information disorder, including the prevalence of dis- and misinformation across social media and, like, what are some of the contributing factors, and what are some maybe recommendations that -- that, you know, public discourse.

Q And when were you invited to join?

A I was co-chair, and there were -- you know, Will Hurd, former Congressman Will Hurd was a member as well. And that was, you know, again, January -- sometime in like January through March or April.

Q It was after your tenure at CISA?

A Oh, yes. Yeah, yeah, yeah. Yeah, I had no formal relationship with Aspen before I departed. I participated in some of their cyber working group meetings, but -- here -- here in D.C., but, yeah, all the, like, fellow, after CISA, information disorder commission, after CISA.

Q Did you attend any tabletop exercises hosted by The Aspen Institute in 2020?

A No, I did not.

Q Does the Krebs Stamos Group have any government clients?

A No, we do not.

Q To your knowledge, we -- I think this might have been back in the first hour. We were discussing the ongoing U.S. Government/industry meetings.

A Yeah.

Q Do you know if anyone on the U.S. Government side was tasked with recording notes from those meetings, putting together meeting minutes?

Mr. Walden. Wait, wait, wait. I'm sorry. Since he's left, is he aware of meetings at which -- [redacted] No. During his tenure.

Mr. Walden. Oh, I got it. Sorry, sorry, sorry.

Mr. Krebs. At least the meetings that I attended, I don't recall that there were specific meeting minutes recorded. I don't recall if I saw any particularly afterwards. That said, there was Brian Eschels or some other CISA attorney there, and I suspect that they were taking contemporaneous notes, but I don't know.

BY [redacted]

1 Q Do you know if there were any requirements or other obligations for
2 someone from the government side to record notes from those meetings?
3 A I -- I don't recall what the legal guidance was for the -- for those -- those
4 meetings. Sorry.
5 Q Did anyone from CISA consult with you earlier this year regarding what
6 should be shared on CISA's website?
7 A Did somebody ask me?
8 Q Yes.
9 A This year?
10 Q Yes.
11 A So --
12 Mr. Walden. Can you give some context, like --
13 [redacted] Sure. I mean, this is in our report.
14 Mr. Walden. Yeah, yeah.
15 [redacted] I'm not trying to hide the --
16 Mr. Walden. Yeah.
17 [redacted] CISA changed its MDM page earlier this year.
18 Mr. Krebs. Okay. All right. The reason -- thank you, Jim.
19 Mr. Walden. Yeah, yeah, yeah.
20 Mr. Krebs. But as I go back, like, CISA does a lot of different stuff, right,
21 and -- but did anybody specifically ask me about updating the web page? No. But I'll 22 tell you this much. The overall redesign of the CISA web page has -- what year is it,
23 '23 -- has been under way since 2019.
24 In fact, that was probably, of my greatest frustrations with my time at CISA, the 25 number one. You know, like best job ever, worst job ever, seriously. But the biggest

1 frustration is Saint Elizabeths and getting a CISA headquarters.

2 So we've been in rented -- so I was a contractor for CISA and -- I will give you this

3 time back. I'm sorry I'm eating into your time.

4 Mr. Walden. Well, don't bargain for -- I'm the one with the --

5 Mr. Krebs. I'm paying for your time.

6 Mr. Walden. Yeah, yeah, yeah. Allegedly.

7 Mr. Krebs. So as a contractor in like 2005, I was one of the first contractors to

8 move into the CISA building at Glebe Road. So if y'all have ever been there, to see like

9 the -- used to call it the end kick. And then I came back as the director in, you know,

10 2017 or whatever, the acting. It was the same carpet. It was the exact same carpet.

11 Like, 15 years later, whatever, it's the same carpet.

12 And we were scattered at one point within the D.C. area, CISA had eight different

13 offices. It's like the most ridiculous, inefficient thing. And so what -- you know, we

14 always wanted to get into a single consolidated space. GSA wouldn't let us do it

15 because they were trying to get away from -- from leased buildings.

16 So then we get into this Saint Elizabeths thing with DHS headquarters, and it's just

17 a nightmare. Like, you have to work with the city council to get it done, you have to get

18 the appropriations. And I guess they finally agreed to it. But like if that gets finished

19 by 2030, and y'all are out of government by then, I'll buy you drinks. Like, I will -- you

20 know, I got it covered, because I don't think it's ever going to happen.

21 The second -- sorry.

22 Mr. Walden. MDM page, are we going to get back to the MDM page?

23 Mr. Krebs. The second frustration, though, was just how, kind of like, piss poor

24 the CISA web page was. And, you know, we had a complete redesign in process under 25 2018 and 2019, and I guess they finally got it done this year.

1 So I don't know if part of the MDM page getting re-architected was part of that,
2 but just, you know, I'll put the marker down, the web page redesign had been underway
3 for 4 years. So maybe that's context for what happened. Sorry for the rant, but --
4 BY [redacted]
5 Q No. Appreciate the context. And just to clarify then for the banter, the 6 short answer is no?
7 A No, I -- yeah, sorry. To answer your question, no, I don't recall anybody
8 reaching out and saying what should we put on the website on MDM, no.
9 Q Do you think CISA should be a stand-alone agency?
10 A These guys are red-zoned by op-eds. I think there are multiple different
11 ways that CISA could exist in the future. I think number one is you cut the Department
12 of Homeland Security in half. You take CBP and ICE and CIS and their own min- -- you
13 know, Department of Interior, something like that, with a different name.
14 I think the second is TSA, CISA, FEMA, they have theirs.
15 I think a second option is, yeah, CISA's a NASA subagency equivalent.
16 And the third option is you kind of grab other bits and pieces and have one digital
17 focused agency with NIST and NTIA and parts of Treasury and Commerce. I think that 18 would be interesting and effective. Do I think that's going to happen anytime soon?
19 No. But it's a long way of saying, as an -- you know, an independent agency is one
20 possibility.
21 Q During your time as director of CISA, do you recall having any disagreements
22 with the DHS Secretary regarding CISA's purview or mission?
23 A I gen- -- sorry, go ahead.
24 Mr. Walden. Is this -- are we -- is there something specific? Because I'm 25 getting worried about deliberative process privilege.

1 Mr. Krebs. So -- yeah. No, I -- let me just put it this way. I generally recall
2 being left alone, that the DHS Secretary was worried, you know, had his arms -- hands full
3 with border and immigration issues.
4 Mr. Walden. Good thing that's changed.
5 Mr. Krebs. So -- well, never mind. I'm not going to waste your time. I've got 6 stories here, but -- not about those conversations, just about one reason for DH -- for 7 breaking the Department off in half as I suggested, because when you have a Cabinet
8 agent -- head that's focused on border and immigration issues, that's all they're focused
9 on, in the current political climate, and I think rightly so as we're seeing what's
10 happening.
11 And so giving those other agencies -- FEMA, TSA, CISA -- some room to breathe
12 and executive Cabinet-level attention I think would be helpful for -- would be beneficial
13 for everybody, including, you know, whoever is the Secretary at the time. But that's just 14 my opinion. Sorry.
15 BY [redacted]
16 Q Following your -- after the end of your tenure at CISA, at any later point, did
17 you have any contracts or agreements or, you know, consulting agreements with CISA?
18 A No. I've intentionally kept them at arm's length for their own sake and 19 mine.
20 Q And setting aside any personal friendships you may have with personnel at 21 CISA, have you had any other interactions with personnel at CISA following the end of 22 your tenure?
23 A It's the same thing, right, arm's length, that it's Jen's agency now, not mine.
24 You know, they've called me back for -- you know, I think I did one of the CISA
25 Summit -- the Cyber Summit video sit-downs with Jen, which is, you know, publicly

1 streamed. I may have -- I don't know if I did a all-hands -- maybe I did an all-hands at 2 one point, but, no, there's no meaningful relationship with CISA right now.
3 Q Did you know who Brian de Vallance --
4 A De Vallance?
5 Q Do you know who he is? De Vallance. That's d-e and then V-a-l-l-a-n-c-e.
6 A Yeah. So that name rings a bell. He was an Obama front office guy. And 7 is he back now in the DHS front office?
8 Q I'm just asking if you -- did you have any interactions with him during --
9 A No. No, no, no.
10 Q -- your tenure at CISA?
11 A No. I mean, it's like that's a -- that's kind of like Obi-Wan's name. I
12 haven't heard it in a very long time.
13 [redacted] Can we go off the record, please?
14 [Whereupon, at 4:41 p.m., the interview was adjourned.]

1 [redacted] Good morning. This is a transcribed interview of Mr. Scott Brady,
2 former U.S. Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania. Chairman Jordan has
3 requested this transcribed interview as part of the committee's oversight of the Justice
4 Department's commitment to impartial justice in its handling of its investigation into
5 Hunter Biden.
6 Would the witness please state your name for the record.
7 Mr. Brady. Scott Brady.
8 [redacted] We encourage witnesses who appear before the committee to
9 freely consult with counsel if they so choose. And it is my understanding that you are 10 appearing today with personal counsel. Is that correct?
11 Mr. Brady. That's correct.
12 [redacted] Could personal counsel please state your name for the record.
13 Mr. Lelling. Andy Lelling.
14 Ms. Wilhelm. Brittany Wilhelm.
15 [redacted] Thank you.
16 On behalf of the committee, I want to thank you for appearing here today to 17 answer our questions. The chairman also appreciates your willingness to appear 18 voluntarily.
19 My name is [redacted] and I'm with Chairman Jordan's staff.
20 I'm going to have everyone else from the committee who is here in the room
21 introduce themselves as well.
22 [redacted] [redacted] with Mr. Jordan's staff, the House Judiciary Committee.
23 [redacted] [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.
24 [redacted] [redacted] Oversight counsel on Mr. Nadler's staff.
25 [redacted]. [redacted] Ranking Member Nadler's staff.

1 [redacted] Oversight counsel with Mr. Nadler's staff.

2 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

3 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

4 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

5 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

6 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

7 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.

8 [redacted] I'd like to now go over the ground rules and guidelines that we'll

9 follow during today's interview.

10 Our questioning will proceed in rounds. The majority will ask questions first for 1

11 hour, and the minority will have an opportunity to ask questions for an equal period of 12 time, if they so choose. We'll alternate back and forth until there are no more questions

13 and the interview is over.

14 Typically, we take a short break at the end of each hour, but if you would like to

15 take a break apart from that, please just let us know.

16 As you can see, there is an official court reporter taking down everything we say to

17 make a written record, so we ask that you provide verbal responses to all questions.

18 Do you understand?

19 Mr. Brady. Yes.

20 [redacted] So the court reporter can take down a clear record, we'll do our best

21 to limit the number of people directing questions at you during any given hour to just

22 those people on the staff whose turn it is. Please try and speak clearly so the court

23 reporter can understand and so the folks down at the end of the table can hear you as 24 well.

25 It's important that we don't talk over one another or interrupt each other, if we can help it, and that goes for everybody present at today's interview. We want you to answer our questions in the most complete and truthful manner as possible, so we will take our time.

If you have any questions or if you do not understand one of our questions, please let us know. Our questions will cover a wide range of topics, so if you need clarification at any point, just say so. If you honestly don't know the answer to a question or do not remember, it is best not to guess. Please give us your best recollection, and it is okay to tell us if you learned information from someone else. Just indicate how you came to learn that information.

If there are things you don't know or can't remember, just say so, and please inform us who, to the best of your knowledge, might be able to provide a more complete answer to the question.

You should also understand that, by law, you are required to answer questions from Congress truthfully.

Do you understand that?

Mr. Brady. Yes.

[redacted] This also applies to questions posed by congressional staff in an interview.

Do you understand this?

Mr. Brady. Yes.

[redacted] Witnesses that knowingly provide false testimony could be subject to criminal prosecution for making false statements under 18 U.S.C., section 1001.

Do you understand this?

Mr. Brady. Yes.

[redacted] Is there any reason you are unable to provide truthful answers to

1 today's questions?

2 Mr. Brady. No.

3 [redacted] Finally, I'd like to make note that the content of what we discuss

4 here today is confidential. We ask that you not speak about what we discuss in this

5 interview to any outside individuals to preserve the integrity of our investigation.

6 For the same reason, the marked exhibits that we will use today will remain with

7 the court reporter to go into the official transcript, and any copies of those exhibits will be

8 returned to us when we wrap up.

9 That is the end of my preamble.

10 Is there anything my colleagues from the minority would like to add?

11 [redacted] No. We just thank the witness for joining us today.

12 [redacted] And I understand your counsel, Mr. Lelling, has some statements

13 that he'd like to make.

14 Mr. Lelling. Thank you.

15 I just wanted to note that Mr. Brady has received an authorization letter from DOJ.

16 I've given the committee a copy. I'd ask you to make it part of the record.

17 I think, following the guidelines they followed in the past when having witnesses

18 before the committee, they have basically told him to abide by the attorney-client

19 deliberative process privileges when testifying today, and also, whatever ethical

20 obligations cover the use of confidential client information.

21 They have also directed him to identify by name only senior supervisory personnel

22 in the course of his testimony but others by title only. So that may come up from time

23 to time.

24 And that's it. Thank you.

25 [redacted] Could we have a copy, please?

1 [redacted] Yes. We're going to make it exhibit No. 1.

2 [Brady Exhibit No. 1

3 Was marked for identification.]

4 [redacted] Okay. The clock now reads 10:06 a.m. We'll begin with our first

5 hour of questioning.

6 EXAMINATION

7 BY [redacted]

8 Q Mr. Brady, can you tell us a bit about your professional background?

9 A Sure. I attended Harvard University undergraduate, had a bachelors in

10 government.

11 I spent 7 years working in the field of international relief and development,

12 including 4 years overseas in Europe, the Caucasus region, and the Middle East.

13 I came back to law school at Penn State, started my career as an associate at Reed

14 Smith in Pittsburgh, and then clerked for a Federal judge, Tom Hardiman, when he was on 15 the U.S. District Court in WDPA. Now he's on the Third Circuit.

16 And was an AUSA in WDPA for 6 years. Three years, approximately, was doing

17 drugs and guns. The second three was doing white collar and antiterrorism work.

18 Then was an associate at Jones Day for roughly 2 years, and then was head of 19 litigation for a public financial services company in Pittsburgh for five.

20 Was then appointed U.S. attorney in the last administration by President Trump.

21 Served from 2017 to 2021.

22 And then was a partner at Jones Day in the white collar practice, and recently

23 moved to be chief compliance officer for a public company in Pittsburgh.

24 Q And when were you nominated by President Trump to become the U.S.

25 attorney for the Western District?

1 A I was nominated in the summer of 2017, and then, actually, was sworn in
2 and took office on December 23rd of 2017.
3 Q And were you asked to resign by the Biden administration at the beginning
4 of President Biden's Presidency?
5 A Yes. It was roughly the middle of February, and our exit date, for those of 6 us who were holdovers, was I think the 28th of February. So the end of February.
7 Q So how many years did you spend at the Department of Justice in total?
8 A Total? I think 9 or 10 years.
9 Q Did you ever do any time at Main Justice or just at the Western District?
10 A Just in the Western District, but I was on General Barr's advisory committee.
11 So I spent a good bit of time at Main Justice but no positions at Main Justice.
12 Q Okay.
13 [redacted] Let me ask one question.
14 [redacted] Uh-huh.
15 BY [redacted]
16 Q Whose decision was it to ask you to -- and the rest of the U.S. attorneys -- to 17 depart? Was it the White House counsel's office? Does that come from DOJ?
18 A I don't know who made the decision, but the Acting Attorney General had a 19 conference call with all of us who were remaining and thanked us for our service and told
20 us that they would request our resignation that day, effective the end of February. So it
21 was, roughly, you know, February 15th or so.
22 Q But, ultimately, it's the White House's decision. Correct? DOJ doesn't get 23 to pick its own U.S. attorneys, right?
24 A I don't know. I assume but I don't know.
25 Q And for those U.S. attorneys that did stay on, do you know who made that

1 decision?

2 A No.

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q So you left the Western District's office in February 2021. Is that accurate?

5 A That's right.

6 Q While you were serving as the U.S. attorney, did then Deputy Attorney

7 General Rosen assign you the responsibility of vetting information related to Ukraine?

8 A I don't -- it wasn't DAG Rosen. I got that information from the PADAG that I

9 had been given this assignment.

10 Q And who was the PADAG at the time?

11 A It was Seth DuCharme.

12 Q And when did Mr. DuCharme reach out to you?

13 A I think it was January 3rd of 2022.

14 Q And who had been vetting the information coming in related to Ukraine prior

15 to your assignment?

16 A I don't know.

17 Q You don't know, okay.

18 [redacted] I'll mark as exhibit No. 2 a February 18th, 2020, letter from Assistant

19 Attorney General Stephen Boyd to then Chairman Nadler.

20 [Brady Exhibit No. 2

21 Was marked for identification.]

22 Take a moment to review.

23 Mr. Lelling. What number.

24 [redacted] This is No. 2.

25 BY [redacted]

1 Q I'll direct your attention to the third paragraph on that first page, and I'll just
2 read it into the record.
3 It says: In light of several open matters being handled by different U.S.
4 attorneys' offices and Department components that in some way potentially relate to 5 Ukraine, the existence of which have been publicly reported, Deputy Attorney General
6 Rosen has assigned Richard Donoghue the U.S. Attorney for the Eastern District of New 7 York to assist in coordinating such matters.
8 The Deputy Attorney General implemented this policy to avoid duplication of 9 efforts across Department offices and components, to facilitate information sharing, to 10 ensure there are no conflicts among potentially overlapping matters, and to efficiently
11 marshal the resources of the Department.
12 To protect the integrity of ongoing matters, particularly with respect to unsolicited
13 information offered to the Department, the Deputy Attorney General has also assigned 14 Scott Brady the U.S. Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania to assist in the 15 receipt, processing, and preliminary analysis of new information provided by the public
16 that may be relevant to matters relating to Ukraine.
17 So, with respect to your responsibilities, does the last sentence of that paragraph 18 accurately depict what your responsibilities were?
19 A Yes.
20 Q And can you provide any additional context as to what the process looked 21 like for incoming information?
22 A Well, as Stephen Boyd describes to Representative Nadler, ours was an 23 intake and a vetting process, kind of akin to a due diligence, where we were to take 24 information provided by the public, including Mayor Giuliani, relating to Ukrainian 25 corruption. We were to vet that, and that was how we described it internally, a vetting

1 process.

2 We did not have a grand jury. We did not have the tools available to us that a

3 grand jury would have, so we couldn't compel testimony. We couldn't subpoena bank

4 records.

5 But we were to assess the credibility of information, and anything that we felt was

6 credible or had indicia of credibility, we were then to provide to the offices that had

7 predicated grand jury investigations that were ongoing.

8 Q And how many people within your office worked on vetting information?

9 A Including me, there were five of us.

10 Q And were all of those other individuals AUSAs or --

11 A Yes.

12 Q -- what was their role?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay.

15 And how did you assess the credibility of information coming in?

16 A Well, we would look at public sources. General Barr in other public

17 statements had said that we are to coordinate with the FBI and intelligence services, so

18 we did. We asked -- we met with them on a regular basis, asked to, you know, run

19 names, emails, bank account numbers through their existing files. We would vet that

20 against information that was provided by the public. And, again, open source

21 information, and then make a determination about credibility or next steps.

22 Q And so, after you made an assessment regarding the credibility, then you

23 would pass that information along to other offices who had predicated grand jury

24 investigations. Is that correct?

25 A That's right. At the end of our process, we then would brief those offices

1 with information that we believed was either credible or had indicia of credibility and we
2 felt, in our judgment, required some additional investigation, probably using tools
3 available to a grand jury. But, ultimately, it was their decision. Our visibility beyond
4 that point was over.
5 Q And were those briefings ongoing, or did they all happen at one point in
6 time?
7 A We would have ongoing conversations with the different offices to 8 coordinate and to apprise them of what we were doing, but at the end of our vetting
9 process, we provided substantive briefings to each of the offices, which was the handoff
10 of any information we felt they might want to look at or should be interested in.
11 Q And, when you say "offices," are you referring to other U.S. attorneys' offices
12 or FBI field offices? What are you referring to?
13 A Other U.S. attorneys' offices. So our interface was U.S. attorney's office to 14 U.S. attorney's Office. So specifically, I'm talking about Delaware, EDNY, SDNY.
15 Q And, when you were speaking with those other offices, did you have direct 16 points of contact?
17 A We did. We had multiple points of contact. So there were FBI contact to 18 FBI contact in the FBI field offices that were supporting the U.S. attorneys' offices. Our 19 litigation team, as it were, had primary interface with AUSAs that were running those 20 investigations in those offices, and then I would usually interface with the U.S. attorneys
21 or the first assistants from those offices.
22 Q And so, when you reached out to the other U.S. attorneys' offices, was it first
23 at the line level between AUSAs, or did you make the first contact with the other U.S.
24 attorneys?
25 A I made the first contact with other U.S. attorneys.

1 Q Okay.

2 On the second page of the letter, at the top, it says: Nor do these procedures

3 grant any individual unique access to the Department. Indeed, any member of the 4 public who has relevant information may contact the Department and make use of its

5 intake process for Ukraine-related matters.

6 So did this mean that any member of the public could reach out to you, or was this

7 just for Mr. Giuliani to reach out to you?

8 A No, this was any member of the public. And that happens in other types of

9 investigations where, if people from the public have information they want to provide to

10 Federal law enforcement, they will reach out to the FBI, to the U.S. attorney's office, any

11 number of Federal agencies. It's not uncommon.

12 Q And it wasn't unusual for the Deputy Attorney General or the PADAG to 13 assign these responsibilities to you, as that happened before. Is that correct?

14 A That I can't speak to.

15 Q In the letter, going from the first page to the second page, it says: The 16 Department regularly assigns U.S. attorneys to coordinate or focus on certain matters.

17 Did you have any awareness of other assignments similar?

18 A I know that Jeff Jensen was assigned to look at the matter involving General

19 Flynn. I had no interface with him during the pendency of his inquiry.

20 You know, because we were on AJC, I know from time to time, and I can't provide

21 specifics, but I know that different U.S. attorneys were given different assignments, some

22 involving investigations, some involving new initiatives, some involving task forces that

23 we all sat on at different times at the pleasure of either the Attorney General or the 24 Deputy Attorney General.

25 So it wasn't uncommon.

1 Q And, further on in this paragraph, it states that all information provided
2 through this process will be treated just like any other information provided to the 3 Department.
4 So would you say it's accurate that the information that you would have received
5 as part of this vetting process was not afforded any sort of special treatment?
6 A No. No, it was not.
7 Q So the Deputy Attorney General gave you the authority to vet new 8 information. Would you say that your role was limited in what you could do with that
9 information?
10 A Yes, it was. And it was limited by both the scope of what we were to look 11 at and the tools that were available to us, as I mentioned. It really was a vetting to 12 assess credibility. It was not to make determinations about whether there was evidence 13 sufficient to open criminal investigations, anything like that.
14 It was really to say, yes, we believe that this, again, as I said, is credibility, has 15 indicia of credibility, and then pass it on to one of the offices with the predicated jury
16 investigation.
17 Q And can you just tell us again which tools were not available to you to use?
18 A Sure. Anything that could compel testimony or the production of 19 documents. Witnesses, bank records, emails, we weren't able to access any of those 20 kinds of things or compel them from third-parties.
21 Q Could you interview any individuals involved with the information or no?
22 A We could. So that was something that was available to us and that we did.
23 Q And so you weren't able to act upon the information to open an assessment
24 or preliminary or full investigation. Is that correct?
25 A That is -- those are administrative categories that the FBI has pursuant to

1 their DIOG. That is not how we do things in the Department. In the Department, we
2 open a matter, and then we assess whether, in a traditional investigation, whether a
3 grand jury should be impaneled to investigate that, and then that case moves forward.
4 Our tasking was more narrow. We opened a matter, and then we did our task.
5 The FBI has different steps administratively that they identified and that we 6 discussed with them, but, ultimately, that didn't impact what our job was.
7 Q So could you close any matter?
8 A Internally, in the U.S. attorney's office? Yes.
9 Q But, after you passed that information along to another U.S. attorney's office
10 or you could -- were you involved in the investigation at all?
11 A Not after we gave the briefing. We weren't involved. We had no visibility 12 into what they did with that after we gave our briefings.
13 Q And can you kind of quantify, if you can, how much information you received
14 when you were vetting?
15 A I'm not sure I can quantify that. You know, there were a number of names
16 and information relating to those names, including phone numbers, email addresses,
17 bank account numbers that were provided to us, some of which we were able to look 18 into, some of which we were not.
19 Q And how much time would you say was devoted by the Western District and 20 the other five individuals that worked on this information? How much time did they 21 spend on these matters?
22 A With stops and starts, they worked -- our final briefings were in 23 mid-October. So, from January 3rd, when we were given this assignment, for two of our 24 members, it was their full-time assignment. And two of the supervisory AUSAs who 25 were more senior would be involved on an as-needed basis but provided significant

1 support.

2 And then I was involved as well on a regular basis.

3 Q But you continued doing your other duties as U.S. attorney, is that correct, in 4 addition to these duties?

5 A Yes, that's correct.

6 Q As part of this work, did your office obtain an FD-1023 dated June 30th,

7 2020?

8 A We did not obtain a physical copy, but there was one that was generated

9 from the investigation. That's correct.

10 Q And so how did this information come in then?

11 A Well, again, respecting the privileges that attach to this, during the course of 12 our investigation, we were made aware of a confidential human source who -- and 13 because the 1023 is public, I can speak to that.

14 A confidential human source in a previous 1023 had identified an interaction with

15 a Ukrainian national who discussed -- it wasn't the focus of that 1023 from several years

16 prior but had made reference to Hunter Biden serving on the board of Burisma.

17 At my direction, we asked the FBI to re-interview the CHS. And, again, in the 18 previous 1023, it wasn't really the focus of the information that was being provided to the

19 FBI. It was just one sentence. And so we said, "We need to understand what this is or 20 is not, so can you please re-interview him or her," which they did, and that then resulted

21 in the January 2020, 1023.

22 [redacted] And we'll offer that as exhibit No. 3, just so you can have it in front

23 of you while we're talking about it.

24 [Brady Exhibit No. 3

25 Was marked for identification.]

1 Mr. Brady. Sure.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Can you detail for us what an FD-1023 is?

4 A Sure. A 1023 is a report of a confidential human source. They are very

5 sensitive because, obviously, the FBI and the Department of Justice want to protect the 6 identities of the confidential human source. They assist in investigations.

7 And so the normal form for memorializing interviews during the course of an

8 investigation is an FD-302. Because of the sensitivity and how they are handled, they

9 are categorized differently, and they are -- you know, the number assigned is an FD-1023.

10 But they assist in ongoing information. It could be an investigation. It could

11 just be background information about certain subjects or targets. That's what's, you

12 know, that's what's represented here.

13 Q And so, when your office discovered the information in the previous 1023,

14 did you have an understanding of whether the field office in possession of that 1023 was 15 doing any sort of investigating regarding the information that was contained in the 1023?

16 A We did not. We don't believe that it was because it wasn't the focus of the 17 previous 1023. That was about a different subject but also interfacing with a Ukrainian 18 national.

19 Q You said that you had an interaction with the FBI asking them to re-interview

20 the CHS. Can you tell us a little bit more about that interaction? When did it occur?

21 Mr. Lelling. You can say when it occurred, if you remember.

22 Mr. Brady. Yeah, so we identified the previous 1023 probably at the beginning of

23 June and then went back and forth with the FBI about reaching back out to the CHS and

24 doing a full interview on the line referencing Hunter Biden and Burisma. But it took a 25 while.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q And when you say there was a back and forth, what do you mean by that?

3 Was there pushback from the FBI?

4 Mr. Lelling. I would describe it generally.

5 Mr. Brady. I think there was concern by the FBI about the sensitive nature of

6 both the information and also the fact that this was an important confidential human

7 source who had provided information to them in the past, that had been used in other

8 investigations. So it was an important CHS to them.

9 [redacted]

10 Q And, when you say that the information was sensitive, what do you mean by

11 that?

12 A Certainly anything relating to Ukraine, Ukrainian nationals that intersected

13 with Hunter Biden and his role serving on the Burisma board was sensitive and certainly

14 in 2020, months before an election cycle when different policies kick in for the 15 Department and for the FBI.

16 Q And was it sensitive because Hunter Biden's father, Joe Biden, was running in 17 the 2020 election?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And talking about the CHS a little bit, you said that the CHS was important to 20 the FBI. Did you get a sense of the CHS' credibility from the FBI?

21 Mr. Lelling. I would ask you not to answer that.

22 [redacted]

23 Q The FBI has said that they had a pre-existing relationship with this source, as

24 well as they had been used in multiple investigative matters, including during the Obama

25 administration. Are you aware of those public statements from the FBI?

1 A I'm not aware of those, but that's consistent with my understanding.

2 Q The FBI has also said that they've reviewed information that the CHS has

3 provided and found them to be, quote, highly credible. Have you seen those public

4 statements?

5 A I have not, but that's consistent with my understanding.

6 Q And can you tell us about the process that your office went through to vet

7 the information that's now contained in this FD-1023?

8 Mr. Lelling. You can speak generally to that. I would not get into details.

9 Mr. Brady. So we attempted to use open-source material to check against what

10 was stated in the 1023. We also interfaced with the CHS' handler about certain

11 statements relating to travel and meetings to see if they were consistent with his or her

12 understanding.

13 [redacted]

14 Q And did you determine if the information was consistent with the handler's

15 understanding?

16 A What we were able to identify, we found that it was consistent. And so we

17 felt that there were sufficient indicia of credibility in this 1023 to pass it on to an office

18 that had a predicated grand jury investigation.

19 Q And did you determine that the CHS had traveled to the different countries

20 listed in the 1023?

21 Mr. Lelling. I would decline to answer that.

22 [redacted]

23 Q And what did -- after you corroborated some of the information that was 24 obtained in the FD-1023, what did you do next?

25 A So we received this at the end of June. We did what we could to

1 corroborate certain things, and then that was a part of the briefing that we gave to, in this
2 case, the District of Delaware.
3 Q So you passed this information along to the District of Delaware. Is that
4 correct?
5 A We did and confirmed that the FBI -- we did not have physical possession of 6 the 1023, though we saw it and reviewed it. We also then, after a briefing, confirmed
7 that the FBI provided a copy of the 1023 to not only the Baltimore Field Office, which 8 supported the District of Delaware, but also the U.S. attorney's office in the District of 9 Delaware, and the FBI confirmed that they had done so at our request.
10 Q And so, regarding this 1023, when you were passing this information along 11 to the USAO in Delaware, did you have a communication with Mr. Weiss, the U.S.
12 attorney there?
13 A I did.
14 Q And was that the first time you had spoken with Mr. Weiss?
15 A No. Mr. Weiss and I had spoken on a number of occasions. We also 16 overlapped on AJC, so I knew Mr. Weiss well.
17 But, concerning this particular assignment by DAG Rosen relating to Ukraine, we 18 had several conversations and interactions, both between David and me and then 19 between our respective teams that were running our -- vetting on our side, investigation
20 on their side relating to the sharing of information from, you know, January, let's say,
21 10th through mid to late October when we provided the final briefing to the District of 22 Delaware.
23 Q And how would you describe how regular those interactions occurred
24 between you and Mr. Weiss specifically?
25 A They were really on an as-needed basis. So they might be every, you know,

1 4 weeks, 6 weeks.

2 Mr. Lelling. Just to clarify for the record, this is you personally, not your

3 subordinates?

4 Mr. Brady. Yes. This is between David and me, between Mr. Weiss and me.

5 He and I would speak on a semi-regular basis, but usually it was when certain issues

6 would rise up to us that we needed to speak directly and resolved.

7 BY [redacted]

8 Q And this was regarding specifically the assignment from DAG Rosen

9 regarding vetting Ukrainian information. Is that correct?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q And did you pass a lot of information that your team had vetted and deemed

12 credible to the U.S. attorney in Delaware?

13 A I'm not sure what you mean by a lot of information, but we gave a

14 substantive briefing with the information, including the 1023 that we thought would be of

15 interest to them or that they should investigate further, and made other

16 recommendations about possible investigative avenues that we would recommend that 17 they take.

18 Q So the October, the late October briefing, did it include materials additional

19 to the FD-1023?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And so was that a final briefing of everything that you had sent over to the 22 Delaware office?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q But you had had interactions with Mr. Weiss leading up to the October 2020

25 briefing. Is that correct?

1 A Yes, that's correct.

2 Q Besides you, who communicated with the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office?

3 Mr. Lelling. I would identify them by title only.

4 Mr. Brady. My first assistant would communicate with the Delaware first

5 assistant. They had a professional relationship prior. And then most of the regular

6 communication would be between -- there were particularly two AUSAs that were kind of

7 leading the day-to-day taskings and interfaced with the FBI on our process, and they

8 would interface with AUSAs on Mr. Weiss' team that were leading the investigation.

9 BY [redacted]

10 Q Did you ever have any interactions with an AUSA in the U.S. attorney's office

11 for Delaware named Lesley Wolf?

12 A I believe I was on some initial calls in which Ms. Wolf was a participant. I

13 believe we also had a global meeting with members of various U.S. attorneys' offices and

14 leadership in the FBI in April that Ms. Wolf attended. Otherwise, after that, all my 15 interaction was with Mr. Weiss directly.

16 Q And, when you were on that call where Ms. Wolf was a participant, was 17 Mr. Weiss on that call as well?

18 A On the early calls, yes. Yes. I was never on a call with Ms. Wolf that 19 [redacted] was not a part of.

20 Q And did the AUSAs from your team correspond regularly with Ms. Wolf, to

21 your understanding?

22 A Fairly regularly, as needed, but, yes, on a regular basis over the course of our

23 process.

24 Q And were there other AUSAs that your team would reach out to at Delaware

25 besides Ms. Wolf?

1 A I am not familiar with any. I believe the primary interface was with
2 Ms. Wolf.
3 Q And do you remember the date of the October 2020 briefing at all?
4 A I want to say it was October 20th or 22nd. It was the final briefing of the 5 three briefings that we gave to other U.S. attorneys' offices.
6 Q And so the other U.S. attorneys' offices that you interfaced with, other than 7 the District of Delaware, what were those U.S. attorneys' offices again?
8 A SDNY, the Southern District of New York, and EDNY, the Eastern District of 9 New York.
10 Q And did you have a final briefing with the Southern District and Eastern 11 District around the same time?
12 A Yes, earlier in October, and each briefing was separate. So the information
13 was limited to and provided to only members of that office. So we had one for SDNY, 14 one separate one for EDNY, and one separate one for Delaware. There were no kind of 15 shared communications where one would sit in on another's briefing.
16 And those briefings were provided by my team, and the FBI participated, but the 17 briefings were given by members of my team.
18 Q And similar to your interactions with the U.S. attorney's office for Delaware,
19 did you have ongoing communications with the Southern District and the Eastern District
20 of New York?
21 A Again, on an as-needed basis. There were more at the beginning of the 22 project because we were trying to define the rules of engagement among the offices to 23 understand how information would be shared and utilized and what information would 24 come back to us and be shared with us.
25 But, yes, Geoff Berman was the U.S. attorney for the Southern District of New

1 York, so he and I would speak occasionally. Rich Donoghue at that time was the U.S.
2 attorney for EDNY before he became PADAG and replaced Seth DuCharme later in the
3 administration.
4 And, as the letter from Stephen Boyd to Mr. Nadler, Representative Nadler states,
5 Rich and I would also speak on a regular basis because he was responsible for overseeing
6 all of the Ukraine-related investigations that were going on, was kind of an air traffic
7 controller to make sure, you know, we weren't duplicating efforts, that we were aware of 8 the things that were going on in the other offices.
9 Q And I think you mentioned FBI, the Pittsburgh Field Office being involved
10 with the 1023 and passing that along to Baltimore. Is that correct?
11 A That's correct.
12 Q And did they have any involvement in the vetting process, FBI Pittsburgh?
13 A Yes. FBI Pittsburgh was our primary support on a day-to-day basis in, you
14 know, running things to ground, looking at FBI files, and anything that we asked them
15 relating to the vetting process.
16 Q And were there regular points of contact at FBI Pittsburgh that you would 17 work with?
18 A Yes, I and my team.
19 Q And who was your primary point of contact by title?
20 A Mine was mostly the SAC or one of the ASACs, one of the senior ASACs.
21 And then my team worked on a regular basis with, to a lesser degree, the ASACs but 22 primarily an SSA, supervisory senior assistant.
23 Mr. Lelling. Supervisory special agent.
24 Mr. Brady. Supervisory special agent. Thank you.
25 And, as I say, and the special agents who were on the vetting team for the

1 Pittsburgh Field Office.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q And how many individuals were involved in the vetting team at FBI

4 Pittsburgh, to your knowledge?

5 A To my knowledge, it was unclear. There was a small group that did

6 day-to-day assignments. There was a larger group at the FBI, including FBI

7 Headquarters, that had eyes on what was happening and which required signoff for any

8 investigative steps that FBI Pittsburgh was asked to take by us.

9 Q Okay.

10 And so they would only elevate an investigation if you had asked them to take

11 investigative steps?

12 A It was my understanding that they could not take any steps absent the

13 approval, the review and approval of FBI Headquarters, not just the leadership of FBI

14 Pittsburgh.

15 Q And when you would reach out to Delaware or the Eastern District of New

16 York or Southern District of New York, did FBI Pittsburgh also reach out to the 17 corresponding field office for that district?

18 A I don't know what the regularity of their communications was. Sometimes

19 our conversations were just U.S. attorney's office to U.S. attorney's offices to make sure

20 we were sharing information, communicating. The interaction regularity, content

21 among the different FBI field offices I'm not aware.

22 Q And you were aware that the FBI Pittsburgh Office sent the 1023 to the FBI

23 Baltimore Field Office. Is that correct?

24 A That's right. That was at our request/direction.

25 Q Did you have any understanding of how regularly FBI Pittsburgh

1 communicated with FBI Baltimore?

2 A I don't but I think it was regular.

3 Q Did you have any interactions with the FBI Field Office?

4 A I did not personally, no. I think my team did. So, for example, when we

5 did the briefing to Delaware, I think there were members of the Baltimore Field Office

6 who participated in the call, in the briefing. It was my understanding that Lesley Wolf,

7 perhaps another AUSA, and unknown number of special agents for FBI Baltimore were on

8 the receiving end of our briefing.

9 Q And, when did you give the direction to pass the FD-1023 on to the U.S.

10 attorney's office in Delaware and FBI Baltimore?

11 A I can't remember if it was prior to the briefing or during the briefing, but we

12 requested that, and FBI Pittsburgh ASAC confirmed that they would and then, after the 13 fact, confirmed that it had been transmitted.

14 Mr. Lelling. You're referring to the briefing in October 2020?

15 Mr. Brady. Correct, yeah, our briefing in October 2020 to the Delaware U.S.

16 Attorney's Office.

17 Ms. [redacted] And, when you passed the FD-1023 along to the other offices, did

18 you let them know that you had concluded the information in the FD-1023 was credible?

19 Mr. Lelling. I don't know that he can accept that as phrased, characterization.

20 Mr. Brady. Yes, and I can explain.

21 We were not making a representation that everything in this 1023 was credible.

22 That was not our process. We didn't have the tools to do so. We were not making

23 that kind of representation.

24 What we were doing was, as a part of the briefing, giving them the investigative

25 steps that we had taken within our limited ability to corroborate the information that the

1 CHS had provided us, and we informed them that we felt that the 1023 had indicia of
2 credibility sufficient to merit further investigation.
3 And so that's what we communicated to them.
4 BY [redacted]
5 Q And you did this in the form of the October 2020 briefing. Is that correct?
6 A That's correct.
7 Q And do you remember who was present for this briefing? Who from your 8 office was present for the briefing?
9 A The two AUSAs who were running points on the investigation and really had 10 the most substantive knowledge were present. I believe at least one or two of the FBI
11 special agents in the Pittsburgh Field Office were also present. And, as I sit here, I don't
12 recall whether either of the two senior members of our office were a part of that briefing
13 or not. I was not; neither was David Weiss.
14 Q And do you know who attended from [redacted] office?
15 A Lesley Wolf. Ms. Wolf attended. There may have been another AUSA
16 from Delaware and then unknown number of special agents from the Baltimore Field
17 Office.
18 Q And who gave the briefing? Who was in charge of providing the
19 information?
20 A It was the lead AUSA on my team.
21 Q And did you ever receive information on how the briefing went from your 22 team?
23 A Yes.
24 Q What was there overall characterization of how the briefing went?
25 A All of our information that we wanted to have communicated to Delaware

1 was communicated.

2 Q And was the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office receptive of the information

3 that you provided?

4 A I can't characterize their receptivity. As I mentioned, I wasn't a part of it.

5 It was received, however, and we gave that full briefing.

6 And then, as I mentioned, after we provided the briefing, any documents we sent

7 to them, including the 1023, then our tasking was done, and our visibility into what any of 8 the offices did with that information ended.

9 BY [redacted]

10 Q Did you have any issues developing a channel of communication initially with 11 the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And could you talk to us about that?

14 A Speaking generally, from a process perspective, I think there was both a

15 skepticism of the information that we were developing, that we had received, and

16 skepticism and then weariness of that information. I think they were very concerned

17 about any information sharing with our office.

18 It became problematic at different points, which required Mr. Weiss and me to get

19 involved and level set, as it were, but it was regularly a challenge to interact with the 20 investigative team from Delaware.

21 Q Why do you think that was? I mean, your office contacts their office. I

22 mean, what was the harm in having a telephone call and sharing information? I mean,

23 you certainly don't have any authority of the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office. What do

24 you think was going on there?

25 A That's absolutely correct in terms of having no authority to dictate anything

1 that Delaware did or looked at.

2 I don't want to speculate as to why, but I know that there was no information

3 sharing back to us about what they were -- or very limited. And, at one point, the

4 communication between our offices was so constricted that we had to provide written

5 questions to the investigative team in Delaware, almost in the form of interrogatories,

6 and receive written answers back.

7 Q Okay.

8 Now, do you think their reluctance was because Hunter Biden was involved?

9 A I can't speak to that, but, obviously, this is a very sensitive investigation, and 10 it was an election year.

11 Q Did you have to have interactions with the DAG's office to facilitate

12 communications with the District of Delaware?

13 A Most of our interactions with the DAG's office was to facilitate

14 communication with the FBI. We did, on occasion, have to involve the DAG's office to 15 facilitate communication with Delaware as well.

16 Q Okay.

17 So you were having trouble talking with [redacted] office, so you went to the 18 DAG's office. Who did you go to in the DAG's office?

19 A It was usually the PADAG.

20 Q And you told the PADAG, like, they're not willing to have an information

21 sharing dialogue. Can you help us?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q And how did that ultimately get resolved? Did the PADAG then call

24 [redacted] or?

25 A If he did, I'm not aware. I know from public reporting there was a later

1 communication between then PADAG Rich Donoghue and either [redacted] or his team
2 ordering them to meet with us for the briefing.
3 Q So he had to order them to meet with you?
4 Mr. Lelling. This is not your personal knowledge.
5 Mr. Brady. This is not my personal knowledge. I've only read that in public
6 sources from Mr. Shapley's testimony.
7 BY [redacted]
8 Q But, based on your experience, that doesn't conflict with anything you're 9 aware of?
10 A I'm sorry. I don't -- what doesn't conflict?
11 Q The public reporting, what Mr. Shapley said.
12 A No, I have no knowledge one way or the other --
13 Q Right.
14 A -- relating to that.
15 Q But, if the District of Delaware was enthusiastic to meet with you, you
16 certainly wouldn't have to go through the DAG's office. Correct?
17 A Typical U.S. attorney to U.S. attorney office communication, even on 18 sensitive matters, is fairly clear and transparent. We're all professionals. We all 19 understand our ethical obligations, especially for 60-year grand-jury-derived information.
20 So that happens on a regular basis on investigations that are being run by multiple offices.
21 So this was unusual.
22 Q So you don't ordinarily have to get the DAG's office involved to pass
23 information?
24 A Not to pass information. Sometimes the DAG's office has to get involved
25 when two U.S. attorneys' offices or multiple U.S. attorneys' offices are investigating the

1 same course of conduct or crime, and then which office is the lead office, essentially, for
2 indictment purposes. This was not that.
3 So this was very unusual, but we had to involve the DAG's office with Delaware
4 and the FBI on a regular basis.
5 Q And did your AUSAs ever communicate to you issues they were having with
6 Ms. Wolf?
7 A Not with Ms. Wolf specifically -- well, no strike that.
8 There was an occasion with Ms. Wolf as well, but they would communicate to me
9 the issues that we were having, our investigative team was having with both the FBI and 10 with Delaware and with SDNY. Really the only office we didn't have any issues with was 11 EDNY. It was Rich Donoghue's office.
12 Q Okay.
13 And so, before you communicated with the PADAG that you needed assistance,
14 did you have an initiative to talk with Mr. Weiss?
15 A Yeah, I wouldn't always run to the principal right away, right. I would try to 16 go professional to professional, you know, U.S. attorney to U.S. attorney, and we would
17 try to resolve things. And, only when we couldn't, would we elevate it to the DAG's
18 office and involve the PADAG.
19 Mr. Rosen was never involved directly in our communications. It was always the 20 PADAG.
21 Q Okay.
22 And what feedback was Mr. Weiss giving you during that time period before you
23 had to involve the PADAG?
24 Mr. Lelling. Only in general terms.
25 Mr. Brady. Usually Mr. Weiss was in receiving mode and would say that he

1 would talk to his team to try to resolve it?

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q At any point did you have to advise Mr. Weiss that you've been, you know,
4 you've been charged by the DAG to collect this information, and part of your charge and
5 your duty, and correct me if I'm wrong, is to analyze it and hand it off?

6 A That's correct and to coordinate with other offices. And, yes, I reminded 7 Mr. Weiss of that obligation that we have, of that requirement, and the FBI on a regular 8 basis as well.

9 Q And you certainly weren't trying to go into the District of Delaware and open
10 your own grand jury. You're simply trying to hand this information off.

11 A That's correct. And what we wanted to do and the whole -- one of the 12 reasons, at least subjectively, my understanding was that this process was set up to 13 protect the predicated grand jury investigations. And so one thing that the coordination 14 would allow us to do would be to make sure that we weren't duplicating any efforts that 15 they had had.

16 For example, creating two 302s of witness interviews, which might conflict. We 17 didn't want to do that. We didn't want to do anything that would make any of the 18 offices' jobs more difficult or complicate cases. And so we felt that that kind of 19 coordination would obviate that. It wasn't always viewed that way by the other office.

20 Q And were you aware of what the PADAG did ultimately to get Delaware to 21 take your calls, essentially?

22 A Not always. No, I didn't always have visibility into that. Sometimes
23 resolutions would be, as I mentioned, you know, we would have to submit interrogatories
24 to get information. Sometimes, again, from Mr. Shapley's testimony, I understand that 25 they were ordered by PADAG Donoghue to participate in our briefing. There was

1 apparently reluctance to participate in that briefing at the end of our process.

2 Q And, even if you were presenting a case to Mr. Weiss that was airtight, which

3 I'm not suggesting this was, but even if you were presenting a case that was airtight, and

4 you had everything, it was still Mr. Weiss' call whether to prosecute, whether to open up

5 a grand jury matter. Correct?

6 A Yes. I understand your question. Yes, we had no ability to direct the 7 actions of what the offices with predicated grand jury investigations would do with the

8 information that we believed was either credible or had indicia of credibility. We could

9 only present what we had identified, explain to them the sources by which we believed

10 something had indicia of credibility, and then make recommendations about what we

11 think they might want to do with that. But that was it.

12 Q Did you ever have any discussions with the DAG's office about the prospect

13 of special counsel being named here?

14 A No.

15 Q Do you think -- at this point, you know, October 2020, did you think that a 16 special counsel was warranted?

17 Mr. Lelling. Don't answer that.

18 Mr. Brady. That was beyond my purview.

19 BY [redacted]

20 Q But clearly there was a potential conflict here. Mr. Weiss was U.S. attorney

21 in the District of Delaware, which is the home district of the Democratic nominee for 22 President.

23 Mr. Lelling. I'm instructing the witness not to answer that.

24 BY [redacted]

25 Q So did you have any communications with anyone on your team about that

1 prospect?

2 A Of the appointment of a special counsel?

3 Q Yes.

4 A No.

5 And, just to be clear, separate and apart from Mr. Weiss and his tasking, U.S.
6 attorneys' offices investigate highly sensitive matters, including matters of potential public
7 corruption in cities across the United States. We do that on a regular basis. And,
8 because of the ethical obligations and the professionalism of the offices and the agencies
9 that support DOJ, we understand what our marching orders are. We, they, understand 10 what the marching orders are and abide by those.

11 Q So you weren't particularly invested in encouraging Mr. Weiss to prosecute
12 or not prosecute? You were simply handing off information. Is that correct?

13 A That's absolutely right. My goal was for us to do our task, our job that we 14 were given by AG Barr, DAG Rosen. Do it effectively and professionally, with integrity.
15 Make sure that there was no information that was going to the public outside of our 16 team, and then hand that off to those offices and allow them to do with it as they felt 17 best.

18 Q So you weren't advocating for any type of prosecution by Mr. Weiss?

19 A No, nor would it have been my place to do so.

20 Q Okay.

21 And so the fact that Mr. Weiss wasn't receptive to taking your calls didn't
22 necessarily, you know, frustrate you other than you're just trying to do your job? You
23 weren't out to get the particular targets of this information that you acquired?

24 A No, not at all. And he wasn't reluctant, just to clarify the foundation of 25 your question. He wasn't reluctant to take my calls. We usually just had to solve a

1 problem, and we would engage, U.S. attorney to U.S. attorney, to try to solve the working
2 relationship between our teams.
3 Q But, at some point, the DAG's office had to get involved to facilitate that?
4 A Occasionally, yes.
5 Q So that seems like you weren't always able to resolve it with Mr. Weiss.
6 A That's correct. Sometimes.
7 Q Did you ever suggest to Mr. Weiss, like, "We're just looking to have a
8 telephone call, we're just looking to have a meeting, we're just looking to give this 9 information to you, and you can do with it whatever you deem appropriate"?
10 A Yes.
11 Q But still you had to get the DAG's office involved?
12 A On occasion. Not every time.
13 Q Okay.
14 BY [redacted]
15 Q And, when you said you had to communicate using written questions, how 16 many occasions did you have to do that?
17 A We did that one time, and I don't remember the number of questions but in 18 excess of probably 20.
19 Q And that was prior to the October 2020 briefing; Is that correct?
20 A Yes, that was much earlier.
21 Q Do you kind of remember the general timeframe?
22 A I want to say that was around -- that was prior to this, which was June. So I
23 want to say maybe April or May.
24 Q And the point of the written questions was to obtain information from the 25 District of Delaware; Is that correct?

1 A Yes, to understand what they had looked at, what they had not looked at to
2 make sure we weren't, again, to [redacted] point, duplicating efforts, stepping on toes,
3 doing anything that would in any way complicate their lives and their investigation.
4 Q And, at that point, you had an understanding that Mr. Weiss was looking
5 into some of the matters in which you were looking into as well regarding the information
6 that was coming into your office?
7 A Yes.
8 Q And you said that you had some communication troubles with the FBI as 9 well; Is that correct?
10 A That's correct.
11 Q Was that a specific field office?
12 A We had -- my knowledge is limited to the issues that we had with the 13 Pittsburgh Field Office and, by extension, FBI Headquarters.
14 Q And how would you characterize those problems that you were having?
15 A It was a challenging working relationship. I think there was reluctance on 16 the part of the FBI to really do any tasking related to our assignment from DAG Rosen and
17 looking into allegations of Ukrainian corruption broadly and then specifically anything
18 that intersected with Hunter Biden and his role in Burisma. It was very challenging.
19 Q And you said reluctant. Did you get a sense of why the FBI was reluctant to 20 take any action?
21 Mr. Lelling. You can characterize that generally.
22 Mr. Brady. I don't know why they were reluctant. I know that, because of what
23 they deemed to be the sensitive nature, and this was sensitive, as it related to Mr. Biden,
24 that there were a lot of steps of approval and a lot of eyes that had to look at things and
25 sign off on any action that the special agents that were doing the day-to-day work and

1 interacting with our team would take.

2 It was my understanding that FBI Headquarters had to sign off on every

3 assignment, no matter how small or routine, before they could take action, which then

4 just lengthened the amount of time, you know, between us asking them to do something

5 and them actually performing it.

6 BY [redacted]

7 Q And, in your dealings with the FBI, was this level of signoff regular, that the 8 special agent would have to get signoff to take any little investigative action?

9 A Not in my experience. In my experience, on most investigations, even

10 sensitive investigations, and/or public corruption investigations, it was usually contained

11 within the field office. So you would have special agents interacting with their

12 immediate supervisor, the SSA, who would bring in maybe an ASAC on occasion or read in 13 the SAC.

14 Even something as simple as extending the assessment that we talked about, that

15 requires a renewal every 30 days under the FBI DIOG. Normally that, either opening or

16 renewal, can be by -- at the SSA level. In this case, it required 17 different people,

17 including mostly at the headquarters level to sign off on it before the assessment could be 18 extended.

19 And so, at different times, we were told by the special agents that they had to go

20 pens down sometimes for 2 or 3 weeks at a time before they could re-engage and take

21 additional steps because they were still waiting on, again, someone within the 17 chain

22 signoff to approve.

23 Q And had you ever seen a 17-person signoff required by the FBI?

24 A Never in my career.

25 Q And you had to go to the DAG's office to kind of rectify some of this

1 challenging relationship and the reluctance. Is that correct?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q And how many times did you have to go to the DAG's office for help?

4 A With the FBI specifically?

5 Q Correct.

6 A It's fairly regular. I want to say at least five or six times on a myriad of 7 different issues.

1 [11:01 a.m.]

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q And did you get a sense of where the reluctance and the root of the 4 challenges were coming from? Was it coming from FBI headquarters, or was it specific

5 agents within the Pittsburgh office? Did you get a sense of where that was coming

6 from?

7 A Typically, when we would elevate an issue that required the attention of 8 senior management of the FBI, the PADAG would interact with the Deputy Director.

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A The Deputy Director at that time was David Bowdich. And Mr. Bowdich

11 was terrific. We would meet, sometimes Seth would talk to Mr. Bowdich directly, and

12 that problem would be solved. Sometimes the three of us would confer and huddle,

13 and I would apprise him, and he would say, "I will take care of it," and he would.

14 So usually the issues were not at the Pittsburgh Field Office, including the ASACs or 15 SAC levels. It was somewhere at FBI headquarters, and I had no visibility into where 16 that choke point was.

17 Q And what did the challenging relationship that was going on with the FBI and

18 the reluctance on the part of the FBI to, you know, look into some of the information you

19 were receiving, what did that mean for your process and your assignment?

20 A It meant, as I stated earlier, there were a lot of stops and starts.

21 Even the process by which the FBI categorized the opening of the assignment -- as

22 I said, they have their administrative procedures that are governed by the DIOG. We

23 could simply open a matter and then move forward. I don't believe, from the time we

24 were given this assignment and it was made public, including when we met with Mr.

25 Giuliani -- that all happened in January. I don't believe that the FBI opened this as an

1 assessment until the end of March.

2 And, for a period, they were pens down and not able to do anything until it was
3 both approved as an assessment and then signed off on. And then, again, it required
4 every 30 days a renewal. And so there were several times, because of the sign-offs
5 required, where the agents would go pens down for weeks at a time. And so that was 6 incredibly frustrating.

7 Q And did these challenges continue throughout your whole assignment from 8 January until, we'll say, October of 2020? Were the challenges consistent? Did they 9 just happen at one period of time?

10 A It happened at the beginning and then through -- the SAC in Pittsburgh, I
11 believe, retired at the end of March. He was replaced with an acting SAC through 12 perhaps May and June and then was replaced around that same time -- I don't remember
13 the dates exactly -- with a permanent SAC. Once that SAC got in place, then things got 14 moving, and the relationship was much, much better. However, though, there was still 15 interaction with headquarters and sign-off required by headquarters.

16 So, in that last period, once the new SAC came on board, it was much better and 17 we could get things moving. So, really, from January until, again, end of May, it was 18 incredibly challenging and we did not make much progress at all.

19 Q And when you had to, you know, have these meetings between you, the 20 PADAG, and the Deputy Director at the FBI, was the Deputy Director receptive to what 21 the PADAG was saying?

22 Mr. Lelling. You can describe those meetings in very general terms.

23 Mr. Brady. Yes, Deputy Director was effective. He understood our tasking.
24 He wanted the FBI to be supportive, and so, to the extent there were issues or problems,
25 he did his best to solve those. And then we didn't have visibility in what his

1 communication downstream was, but they were usually resolved.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q And was there a point in time when the FBI got rolling with their

4 assessment?

5 A Yes. Later, again, in June-ish of 2020, when the new SAC for Pittsburgh was

6 appointed, he and I had a meeting where we sat down, I explained what our tasking was,

7 what we were trying do, what the history had been, including some of the problems in

8 the working relationship, and things were much better after that point.

9 [redacted] We can go off the record.

10 [Recess.]

11 [redacted] Go on the record, please. It is 11:14.

12 Hi again, Mr. Brady.

13 Mr. Brady. Hi.

14 EXAMINATION

15 BY [redacted]

16 Q I have a couple questions just really briefly on the appointment process that 17 we mentioned before.

18 You were asked a series of questions about whose decision it was to remove you

19 from office. Do you recall those questions?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Do you know who your predecessor was when you became U.S. attorney in 22 the Western District?

23 A The Presidentially appointed U.S. attorney was Dave Hickton.

24 Q Okay.

25 A And then Soo Song was first assistant and then acting in the interim.

1 Q So was your predecessor asked to be removed, as well, when there was a
2 new change in administration?
3 A I have no idea.
4 Q Okay. Is that common, in your experience or to your knowledge, that 5 Presidents remove U.S. attorneys when there's a new administration coming in?
6 A It's regularly understood that at the end of an administration that's a change
7 that the U.S. attorneys will resign and then be replaced by nominees, you know, from the 8 party of the incoming administration. That's understood by all of us. We are know
9 that we have a shelf life and that we'll be replaced.
10 Q But you didn't think anything unusual happened in your case, is that fair to 11 say, when you were asked to step down?
12 A No. No. We knew it was coming; we just didn't know the timing.
13 Q Okay.
14 And moving on from that, let's talk about your January 2020 assignment. You
15 characterized that as an assignment to vet information. Is that what you would say?
16 A That's correct. And that's what Attorney General Barr, when he spoke of it
17 publicly, also described it, as I recall.
18 Q Okay. So the task that you were given came ultimately from Attorney
19 General Barr. Is that right?
20 A I believe so, yes.
21 Q And the scope was for you to vet information related to Ukraine that was 22 coming into the Justice Department from members of the public, including, particularly,
23 Mr. Giuliani and his lawyer, Bob Costello, correct?
24 A I don't know about "particularly," but, yes, any member of the public,
25 including Mayor Giuliani.

1 Q Okay. So, in your experience, are you saying that you didn't have any
2 expectation that you were going to be receiving information particularly from Mr.
3 Giuliani?
4 A We knew he would be one of the members of the public that would be
5 providing us with information --
6 Q Okay.
7 A -- but the process was open to any member of the public that had
8 information relating to Ukrainian corruption.
9 Q Okay. How did you know that the information coming to you was going to 10 be coming from Mr. Giuliani?
11 A His attorney reached out to our office once the process had been identified 12 and asked to set up a meeting with our office to provide us with the information that 13 Mr. Giuliani had.
14 Q Okay. And his attorney was Bob Costello; is that correct?
15 A That's correct.
16 Q Okay.
17 Who was the person at the Attorney General's Office who gave you your 18 assignment or informed that you would be the person responsible for this assignment?
19 A Seth DuCharme, the PADAG.
20 Q Okay. And do you recall how it was that you were informed?
21 A I believe I received an email that's in the public, I believe, pursuant to FOIA
22 requests, that he wanted to speak with me and, then, about a new assignment.
23 Q Okay.
24 And I am going to mark for the record as exhibit 4 an email.
25 [Brady Exhibit No. 4

1 Was marked for identification.]

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q This is the email I think you were referring to, right, Mr. Brady?

4 This is an email dated January 3, 2020. It's from you to Seth DuCharme. And

5 then underneath it is the original message which came from Mr. DuCharme to you on

6 Friday, January 3rd, correct?

7 A That's correct. This was the first I was made aware and/or asked about this

8 assignment.

9 Q Okay.

10 And the actual message is brief. Mr. DuCharme simply asked you, quote:

11 "Scott do you have time for a quick call today in re a possible discreet assignment from 12 OAG and ODAG?", unquote. Is that right?

13 A Correct.

14 Q Okay. Do you -- oh, first, just for the record, "OAG" is the Office of the 15 Attorney General; is that right?

16 A Correct.

17 Q And "ODAG" is the Office of the Deputy Attorney General, correct?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q So those were the sources of your assignment, correct?

20 A Correct.

21 Q And Mr. DuCharme refers to your assignment as a, quote, "discreet 22 assignment," correct?

23 A Yes. And I think what he meant by "discreet" was limited in scope and

24 duration.

25 Q Oh, "discreet" means limited in this case?

1 A My understanding was that it was "discrete" meaning limited in scope and
2 duration.
3 Q Okay. Did you think in any way that he was implying that it ought to be 4 kept out of the public, this assignment?
5 A No. I -- no, because, on the one hand, the Attorney General was speaking
6 publicly of the assignment.
7 However, it should be kept secret, to use your words, just as any investigation
8 would be, any process would be that -- whether vetting or an investigation between the 9 U.S. attorney's Office and the FBI or any Federal agency.
10 Q You mean the information itself that you were discussing or coming upon in 11 the investigation, that should be kept discreet or out of the public eye?
12 A The investigation, the process, all of that -- none of that is public --
13 Q Got it.
14 A -- when we do that.
15 Q And you indicated that you believe that the Attorney General at that time
16 was discussing your assignment publicly? Is that -- in your recollection, was he doing
17 that publicly on January 3, 2020?
18 A No. I mean subsequent comments.
19 Q Okay. So, after it became known that this investigation or assignment had 20 been given to you, Attorney General Barr did make public comments. Is that right?
21 A Yes.
22 Q Okay.
23 So I am going to mark as exhibit 5 -- this is also part of the FOIA production.
24 [Brady Exhibit No. 5
25 Was marked for identification.]

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q Oh, sorry. Oh, this is the other version.

3 Sorry. I'm sorry. It's not that.

4 A Not this first one?

5 Q I'm going to give you the transcript. It's easier.

6 A No problem.

7 Q Sorry. So sorry. Thank you.

8 A This is 5?

9 Q Yes, sir, exhibit 5.

10 This is another email. There's actually a Bates number, just for the record, on

11 the bottom. This is part of an American Oversight FOIA case, DOJ-20-0220-A. And the 12 Bates number is 20-0221-B-000002.

13 At the top of this exhibit, you'll see that this is an email from Kerri Kupec to Bill

14 Ahern. Do you see that?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. And "Bill Ahern" is an alias for the Attorney General, Mr. Barr. Is

17 that correct?

18 A I am not aware of that.

19 Q Okay. Well, it says "OAG." Does that, again, stand for the Office of the 20 Attorney General?

21 A Correct.

22 Q Okay. And do you know who Kerri Kupec is?

23 A Yes. She was in the Office of Public Affairs.

24 Q Okay.

25 And if you flip through it -- you don't need to read all of it, but this is a series

1 of -- actually, I only really need you to look at the first page. The first page, these are
2 transcribed comments from an interview that Senator Lindsey Graham gave to CBS.
3 And if I can direct your attention to the second page -- this is on the back, I think,
4 maybe, of the document that you have.
5 A Uh-huh.
6 Q Yeah. This is Mr. Graham telling a CBS News affiliate -- middle of the page,
7 this is highlighted: "No, the Department of Justice is receiving information coming out
8 of Ukraine from Rudy."
9 Brennan says: "Already?"
10 Graham responds, quote: "He told me that they had created a process that Rudy 11 could give information and they would see if it's verified," unquote.
12 Do you see that part?
13 A Yes.
14 Q Okay. Did you hear those comments when Senator Graham made them?
15 A No, I did not.
16 Q Did you become aware of them at some point?
17 A I don't know that I was aware of Senator Graham's comments relating to 18 this.
19 Q Okay.
20 And you indicated that you're not familiar with the alias "Bill Ahern"?
21 A I am not.
22 Q Okay.
23 Do you have any idea whether Attorney General Barr was made aware of Senator
24 Graham's comments?
25 A I have no idea about General Barr's knowledge.

1 Q Okay. And you never discussed it with General Barr?

2 A No.

3 Q And you never discussed it with Seth DuCharme?

4 A No.

5 Q Okay.

6 At some point, did you become aware from the public or news coverage that

7 Senator Graham had made comments about this process of receiving information from 8 Rudy?

9 A I don't believe so. I don't remember --

10 Q Okay.

11 A -- as I sit here.

12 Q Okay.

13 Now, this email was sent February 9, 2020, so approximately a little bit over a 14 month after your "discreet assignment" was given, correct?

15 A Correct, after my assignment was given.

16 Q Okay. Do you recall at that point the Attorney General making public

17 comments about the fact that this process existed and that the public could send in 18 information about Ukraine?

19 A The only comments that I'm aware of were in response to a -- there was a

20 question at a press conference, I believe around this same time, where he explained the 21 intake process for information relating to matters of Ukrainian corruption from the public.

22 And then the letter between -- well, from Steven Boyd to Representative Nadler,

23 which also explained it.

24 And then, I believe, the other comment I'm aware of is in the summer, when

25 General Barr testified before -- and forgive me, I might be misremembering this -- I

1 believe it was the House Judiciary Committee, and there was one brief exchange about
2 my tasking and assignment.
3 Q Okay.
4 And I recall the letter that you mentioned from Mr. Nadler came in response to 5 Senator Graham's comments. Were you aware of that?
6 A I was not. I was only aware of exhibit 2, the response from Steven Boyd to 7 Representative Nadler.
8 Q Okay. Did you ever discuss Representative Nadler's letter with anybody in 9 the Attorney General's Office during your assignment?
10 A I don't believe I did.
11 Q Okay.
12 When we look at the transcript of Senator Graham's comments, again, the ones
13 that I just pointed out on the second page, do you agree with Senator Graham's
14 characterization of your assignment from Attorney General Barr, as he describes it, quote,
15 "a process that Rudy could give information and they would see if it's verified," unquote?
16 A I'm sorry. Where is that in the transcript?
17 Q That's the second page. So, if you can turn it over to the second page,
18 there's a ton of highlighting, but the beginning of that quote is, like, in the middle. It
19 says, "GRAHAM:".
20 A I'm sorry. So your question is, do I agree with Senator Graham's
21 characterization of the process?
22 Q Well, as -- yeah, the terms that Senator Graham used to characterize the 23 process as: "He told me that they had created a process that Rudy could give 24 information and they would see if it's verified," unquote. That's Senator Graham's 25 description of the process that you were undertaking.

1 So, again, the process is, quote, "a process that Rudy could give information and 2 they would see if it's verified."
3 A And, I'm sorry, so "he" refers to Attorney General Barr?
4 Q Exactly.
5 A I don't know that I would agree or disagree with that characterization. It
6 was irrelevant to my tasking. My understanding of my assignment was that it was for all
7 members of the public who ever had information, including Mr. Giuliani.
8 Q Okay. So Senator Graham mischaracterized your assignment in this sense?
9 A I can't speak to Senator Graham's knowledge or understanding of, you know,
10 what my assignment was on that day.
11 Q Okay.
12 A So I won't characterize it.
13 Q And just record for the record, I want to explain that this highlighting on this
14 document is not highlighting that we did. It was a part of the production under the FOIA
15 case. I don't know who did it.
16 A Okay.
17 Q And we can set that aside for a second.
18 So this is going to be our exhibit No. 6, please.
19 [Brady Exhibit No. 6
20 Was marked for identification.]
21 BY [redacted]
22 Q Okay. So you indicated your understanding of your assignment was to 23 receive information regarding Ukraine from anyone in the public, not just Rudy Giuliani,
24 correct?
25 A That's correct.

1 Q Okay. But, in fact, the person that you first received information from was
2 Rudy Giuliani, fair to say?
3 A That's correct.
4 Q Okay. And the connection that was made actually came via the PADAG.
5 Once again, Mr. DuCharme is the one who put you in touch with Rudy Giuliani's attorney
6 to start receiving this information. Is that fair to say?
7 A That's correct.
8 Q Okay.
9 And so exhibit 5 is an email, again from the American Oversight production, with 10 Bates number at the end C-00019.
11 A I don't mean to interrupt you. Exhibit 6?
12 Q It is, yes.
13 Right?
14 Thank you.
15 This is an email from you to Seth DuCharme at the top, but the original email
16 comes from Mr. DuCharme to you, January 7, 2020, correct?
17 A Correct.
18 Q And this was the -- no -- a few days after your January 3rd assignment,
19 correct?
20 A That's correct.
21 Q All right. And, in this email, Mr. DuCharme provides you -- the subject
22 matter is "contact information," correct?
23 A Correct.
24 Q So he's giving you contact information for Rudy Giuliani's attorney, right?
25 A He's giving me the contact information for Mr. Costello. That's correct.

1 Q Okay. And do you understand Mr. Costello to be Rudy Giuliani's attorney?
2 A Yes.
3 Q Okay. And it gives you his name, his phone number, and a way to get in 4 touch with him, correct?
5 A That's correct.
6 Q Okay.
7 The purpose of this email was for Mr. DuCharme to put you in contact with Mr.
8 Giuliani's attorney so that he could start giving you the information that Mr. DuCharme
9 knew was coming into the Department from Mr. Giuliani, right?
10 A I don't know what Mr. DuCharme's thought process was, but my 11 understanding was it was to give me Mr. Costello's information to coordinate with him if 12 there was information that his client had to give to the Department.
13 Q Okay. But the information or the contact initially with Mr. Costello was 14 between Mr. Costello and Mr. DuCharme? Or was it between Mr. Costello and you?
15 A I'm sorry. Could you repeat that?
16 Q Sorry. That was a terrible question.
17 A No, that's okay.
18 Q What I'm trying to say is, who was it that first contacted the -- who at the 19 Department did Mr. Costello first contact? Somebody at the Attorney General's Office
20 or you?
21 A It was someone in the Department of Justice at Main Justice. How it
22 arrived on Seth's desk I don't know, but Seth communicated it to me.
23 Q Okay.
24 A So Mr. Costello did not reach out to us directly.
25 Q Got it.

1 All right. Now, as your assignment progressed and you were vetting information
2 provided by Mr. Giuliani, did you keep Mr. DuCharme and others in the Attorney
3 General's Office informed as to what you were doing?
4 A Yes.
5 Q And how did you do that? What was the process of keeping them
6 informed?
7 A At a high level, I would -- Mr. DuCharme and I would speak periodically or on 8 an as-needed basis. And there were a few occasions where I provided an update to the 9 Attorney General.
10 Q Personally, you updated the Attorney General?
11 A Personally.
12 Q Okay. In person or on the phone or something else?
13 A In person.
14 Q Okay. And about how many times did you update Attorney General Barr
15 about your assignment?
16 A Perhaps two?
17 Q Okay.
18 A Most of it went through the PADAG.
19 Q Understood. And how many times would you say that you gave updates to 20 the PADAG?
21 A Most of my interaction with the PADAG, either Mr. DuCharme or, later, Mr.
22 Donoghue, was to talk about issues that we might be having, so we would speak on a
23 semi-regular basis about that. And then, in those conversations, I would apprise him of,
24 kind of, what our next steps were or where we were in the process.
25 Q Okay. Did you ever receive any direction from Mr. DuCharme?

1 A No, not that I recall.

2 Q Before I move on, could we just pick up exhibit No. 6 again?

3 A Uh-huh.

4 Q This is the one we just looked at.

5 In the body of the email that came from Mr. DuCharme to you on January 7th, Mr.

6 DuCharme indicates, quote, "Give him a call sometime today whenever you're ready,"

7 unquote.

8 Do you see that?

9 A Yes, uh-huh.

10 Q And what he is saying there is, he wants -- he, Mr. DuCharme, wants you to 11 call Mr. Costello sometime today, the day of the email, correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Do you consider that direction?

14 A Oh, forgive me. I thought you meant "direction" in terms of how we 15 conduct our investigation or vetting process.

16 Q Okay.

17 A So, yes, in this email, he's saying, get in touch with Mr. Costello. If that's a

18 direction, then, yes, I agree. Beyond that, in terms of steps we were to take in our

19 investigation or how to run ours, no, he left that to my discretion as a United States

20 attorney.

21 Q Did you ever consult with him about steps in your investigation?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Such as asking him whether he would concur with a decision that you made

24 to interview a witness, for example?

25 A I can't remember specifically, but, yes, in the course of me giving him

1 updates or talking about issues we were having, yes. Mr. DuCharme had previously
2 been the criminal chief of EDNY, was very experienced, very thoughtful, very professional.
3 And so I valued his input when he would give it. But in terms of direction or marching
4 orders, no, that was not our interaction.
5 Q Okay. But because of his experience in the Criminal Division, you're saying 6 that you would ask sometimes his advice or his concurrence on decisions that you were 7 making in your role? Is that fair to say?
8 A Yes, sometimes. I can't remember specifics, but, yes, sometimes we would 9 have those conversations.
10 Q Okay.
11 Would it surprise you that at one point during your investigation, specifically on 12 January 15, 2020, Mr. DuCharme and you exchanged emails, and Mr. DuCharme informed 13 you in an email that he, quote, "concurs with your proposal" to interview a witness in 14 your probe?
15 A I would have to see the email.
16 Q Okay. You don't recall that, as we sit here?
17 A As we sit here? No.
18 Q Okay.
19 A So, if you have the email and can show it to me, I'd be happy to see it.
20 Q I'll show it to you, but I don't have it for everyone else. I'm going to get a 21 copy.
22 A Okay.
23 Q Moving on, though, would it be unusual, in your experience as a United 24 States attorney, to -- like, for you, personally, I am asking right now, not Mr. DuCharme.
25 A Uh-huh.

1 Q Is it unusual for a United States attorney to participate in witness interviews
2 directly, personally?
3 A No. It depends on the scope and sensitivity of the matter.
4 Q Okay. And have you, as a U.S. attorney, ever participated in a witness
5 interview in an investigation or matter under your direction?
6 A As U.S. attorney, I have been involved in many meetings with the line AUSAs
7 and agents, including our Tree of Life prosecution for the synagogue shooting. We had a
8 number of high-level investigations and indictments of the Russian intelligence
9 directorate of the GRU, and I was in the room and a part of those meetings. I can't 10 remember if we had a witness interview that I was involved in, but I may have been.
11 So, again, if the matter were important or sensitive, it would not be unusual for 12 the U.S. attorney to be involved. On regular cases, line cases? No.
13 Q Okay. So, when the U.S. attorney is involved in a witness interview, in your 14 experience, that is because of the sensitivity of the matter, fair to say?
15 A It can be. Not limited to that. That would be, you know, a determination
16 by each U.S. attorney, him- or herself, and the size of the office and the type of matter.
17 For me, I felt it was important to be involved in some of those so I also had an 18 understanding of what was going on.
19 Q Okay. And with respect to this "discreet assignment" that we're talking 20 about here today, did you ever participate personally in a witness interview?
21 A Yes.
22 Q More than once?
23 A In this vetting assignment, I only participated in one.
24 Q Okay. Did you actually conduct the interview, I mean, ask questions of the 25 witness, yourself?

1 A I did not conduct the interview. I was present.

2 Q Okay. Who conducted the interview?

3 You can use just a title. I'm not looking for a name.

4 A I don't recall, but I believe it was the SSA from the FBI. Typically -- in typical

5 cases or investigation, the agents of the investigative agency would conduct the

6 interview, and an AUSA would participate. Not exclusively, but that was what happened

7 in this case.

8 Q Okay. And the interview that you were present at of the witness, do you

9 recall when that interview was conducted?

10 A Yes. January 29, 2020.

11 Q Okay. And do you recall where it was conducted?

12 A It was conducted at FBI Pittsburgh.

13 Q That's the field office there?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay.

16 So you indicated it's not unusual for a U.S. attorney to participate in a witness

17 interview like this, correct?

18 A For particularly sensitive or important matters, yes.

19 Q And this was -- I know you may not recall this. When you participated in 20 that interview, was this the interview that you had consulted Mr. DuCharme about and he

21 indicated that he, quote, "concurred" with your proposal to interview that witness?

22 A Again, it would be best if I could see the email, and then I can speak to it.

23 [redacted] You can show it to him to just refresh his recollection, and then you

24 can --

25 [redacted] Sorry for the logistics --

1 Mr. Brady. No, no, no. It's okay.

2 [redacted] Yeah. Thank you.

3 I am going to mark this exhibit 7.

4 [Brady Exhibit No. 7

5 Was marked for identification.]

6 [redacted]

7 Q And I'll get copies for everyone. It's very short.

8 This is an email from Seth DuCharme to you, subject: "Interview." The date is

9 Wednesday, January 15, 2020.

10 And, for the record, the text of the email is, quote, "Scott I concur with your

11 proposal to interview the person we talked about - would feel more comfortable if you

12 participated so we get a sense of what's coming out of it. We can talk further when

13 convenient for you. Best, Seth."

14 And tell me if you recall that email.

15 A Yes, I do recall it.

16 Q Okay. And the date, again, is January 15, 2020, correct?

17 A That's right.

18 Q So that was 14 days before the interview that you just described at which

19 you were present, correct?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Does that help you recall whether this email between you and Seth

22 DuCharme was referring to the witness that you participated in the interview of on

23 January 29, 2020?

24 A Yes, it definitely did.

25 Q Okay. Just for clarity, yes, this email is about that witness?

1 A Yes, that email is about setting up a meeting and interview of Mr. Giuliani.
2 Q Okay. So the witness was Mr. Giuliani? That's who you're talking about?
3 A Yes.
4 Q Okay. And it was, in your judgment, important to get Mr. DuCharme's
5 opinion or, quote, "concurrence" about interviewing Mr. Giuliani. Is that fair to say?
6 A As I sit here, I don't know if it was about interviewing Mr. Giuliani or just the 7 logistics of where the interview would take place -- Pittsburgh, New York, D.C. It
8 might've been about that.
9 Q So you needed Mr. DuCharme's opinion about where the interview would be 10 taking place?
11 A No, I didn't need his opinion.
12 Q Oh. I'm just trying to --
13 A Yeah.
14 Q -- understand, what was the reason, if you can recall, why you consulted
15 with Mr. DuCharme about that particular decision, about whether or not you should 16 interview Mr. Giuliani and any other aspect of that decision?
17 A Yeah, I -- I don't know. I may have just been circling back to him, saying,
18 "Hey, here's the plan." And he said, "Yeah, that sounds fine."
19 BY [redacted]
20 Q Okay. Well, he also said that he would feel more comfortable if you
21 participated, right?
22 A In that email, he did, yes.
23 Q Yeah. Was that consistent with what your experience with Mr. DuCharme
24 was when you discussed interviewing Mr. Giuliani, or is there something unusual about 25 the email?

1 A I don't remember that there's anything unusual. I would've sat in on that
2 interview anyways, in all likelihood.
3 Q Okay.
4 And just -- I don't want to take this away from you, because I know you and I --
5 A Oh, sure.
6 Q -- just have one copy. But just, again, what this email says is, "I concur with 7 your proposal to interview the person we talked about."
8 And then he says, "Would feel more comfortable if you participated so we get a 9 sense of what's coming out of it."
10 Do you see that?
11 A Uh-huh.
12 Q Okay.
13 A Yes.
14 Q So what did he mean by "we"? Who was he referring to by "we"? Do you
15 know?
16 A I don't know.
17 Q Okay. Is it fair to infer that he is referring to the Attorney General and the 18 Office of the Deputy Attorney General where he was working?
19 A I don't know. Yeah, some group of people at Main Justice, but I don't know
20 specifically if it was DAG Rosen, Attorney General Barr, or the people that were 21 supporting them in ODAG and OAG.
22 Q Okay. But they wanted to, quote, "get a sense of what's coming out of it,"
23 correct?
24 A From the email, yes.
25 Q Okay. Well, from your experience with Mr. DuCharme and others in Main

1 Justice, did that seem to be fair, that they did want to know what came out of the
2 interview?
3 A Yes, I think that's fair. I don't think that would be uncommon for sensitive
4 cases.
5 Q Okay.
6 In other experience that you've had as a United States attorney, some of the 7 matters that you discussed in your earlier answer, like the synagogue shooting or other
8 high-profile matters --
9 A Uh-huh.
10 Q -- have you had the experience of Office of the Deputy Attorney General or 11 the Attorney General himself asking to hear what's coming out of your witness
12 interviews?
13 A Yes. And I can explain.
14 Q Yeah.
15 A Kind of a basic management rule is: No surprises.
16 Q Uh-huh.
17 A Right? And so it's important that the people who report up the chain 18 understand, if there are things that are either public or in the news or particularly 19 sensitive, that they are not surprised by things.
20 So, for example, for the synagogue shooting case, I received a call from both
21 then-DAG Rosenstein and from Attorney General Sessions. And then, after we had met 22 with the victims' families, had a prosecution plan in place, talked about when the 23 President was coming, I needed to keep them informed, again, so they were not surprised
24 by things.
25 So that's my understanding, as a good U.S. attorney, that you should interface

1 with ODAG and OAG on an as-needed basis.

2 Q And this was definitely a sensitive matter, correct?

3 A This was sensitive given that it was an election year and possibly involved

4 the now-President's son, then-Vice President's son.

5 Q Absolutely. And it also involved the attorney, the personal attorney, of the 6 sitting President of the United States, correct, during your investigation?

7 A Yes. That was not a part of our conversation at any level, that he

8 represented the President, but I do understand that Mr. Giuliani was the personal

9 attorney of the President, yes.

10 Q So you're saying that wouldn't have been a concern and even for the 11 appearance of, you know, some kind of sensitivity in public.

12 Was that a concern of the Department of Justice, that you were interviewing the 13 private attorney of the President of the United States, who was very publicly trying to

14 push information about his election opponent into every corner of the Federal

15 Government that he could find? Was that a concern of the Department at the time that 16 this was happening?

17 A What was a concern was that this process be conducted in a way that would

18 be consistent with other cases -- so the same professionalism, the same objectivity be

19 with Mr. Giuliani versus any other member of the public who would bring us information.

20 So the fact that we would give any kind of preferential treatment was not a part of 21 the conversation. I was informed that Mr. Giuliani had information, and we were the

22 intake for that, and so we set up a meeting to receive that. But it wasn't a part of -- him

23 representing the President, that was not a part of our conversation or my tasking.

24 Q Okay.

25 When you got your tasking in January 2020, were you aware that Mr. Giuliani had

1 been pushing information to other areas of the government, like the State Department,
2 for example?
3 A I believe I was aware that he had given information to Secretary Pompeo.
4 Q Okay. And what was your understanding about the information that he
5 was passing to Mr. Pompeo at that time?
6 A I didn't really have a specific understanding. I believe it was similar to the 7 information that he provided to us, but I don't know. I did not see what he provided
8 Secretary of State.
9 Q Okay. So you didn't see the packet of information that he gave to Pompeo.
10 A I don't believe I did, no.
11 Q Okay. But what makes you say that you believe it was similar to the 12 information that you received in your capacity with this assessment?
13 A I am trying to remember if, on the day, there was a representation made by 14 Mr. Costello that much of the information was similar to but wasn't complete. I think 15 there was additional information that he was providing us that maybe he hadn't provided
16 Mr. Pompeo.
17 So I think it was a representation. It wasn't anything that I received information
18 from the State Department or ODAG or OAG.
19 Q Okay. So it was from Mr. Costello, that -- 20 A I believe so. Yeah, I believe so.
21 Q Okay. Did you talk to Mr. Costello before you interviewed his client Mr.
22 Giuliani?
23 A There may have been one coordination call that I was on. Most of the 24 interaction was between the first assistant from my office and Mr. Costello, for logistics.
25 Q Okay. But fair to say that Mr. Costello gave you some kind of preview

1 about what was to come when you interviewed Mr. Guiliani?

2 A I don't remember that was a part of it. It was really just the logistics of 3 setting up, you know, where, when are we going to conduct this.

4 Q Okay. I'm just trying to drill down on what you just said about it was

5 Costello that was source of your understanding that the information you were about to

6 receive from Mr. Giuliani was similar to what the State Department had received.

7 A Sorry. Yeah, I believe that was a part of the conversation on the 29th --

8 Q Okay.

9 A -- but I don't remember specifically as I sit here.

10 Q Okay. That was the day that you participated in the interview of Mr.

11 Giuliani.

12 A That's correct.

13 Q Okay. And Mr. Costello was present; is that right?

14 A He was.

15 Q Okay.

16 So this will be our exhibit No. --

17 A Eight.

18 Q -- 8. Thank you.

19 [Brady Exhibit No. 8

20 Was marked for identification.]

21 BY [redacted]

22 Q So, for the record, exhibit No. 8 is -- it's a letter on letterhead from Rudolph

23 Giuliani, PLLC. The date is November 22, 2019. And it's directed to Lindsey Graham,

24 who was then chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee. This is part of the American

25 Oversight production, bearing Bates number 000109.

1 November 22, 2019, Mr. Brady, that was a few months before your assignment
2 began, correct?
3 A Correct.
4 Q Okay. Have you ever seen this letter before?
5 A I think I have seen it as a part of -- I have seen the FOIA productions that 6 were provided to American Oversight on their website. So I'm aware of those 7 productions. Whether I saw it prior to that, I don't remember.
8 Q Okay.
9 The production to American Oversight from the Department of Justice was 10 documents that were provided to your office during your assessment, correct?
11 A Not exclusively.
12 Q Okay. So, then, to your knowledge, was this letter produced to your office
13 from Mr. Giuliani, Mr. Costello, or anyone related?
14 A I don't remember.
15 And, also, just as a matter of practice, the U.S. attorney's offices, we don't usually 16 pay attention to what -- no offense -- Congress is talking about or doing. Different
17 branch, different motivations, different assignments. So I can't remember if I saw this or 18 not, but our playbook is different.
19 Q Okay. So I'm assuming that you don't know what's inside this letter as you
20 sit here today?
21 A Again, I read it as part of the publicly available production on American
22 Oversight's --
23 Q Okay.
24 A -- website, but the details I don't remember as I sit here. I could read it if 25 you want me to.

1 Q No, you don't need to read it.

2 A Okay.

3 Q Just based on your recollection as you've described it, is it fair to say that this

4 letter contains a range of allegations against Democrats, Joe Biden, the American

5 Ambassador to Ukraine, and other embassy staff?

6 A I would have to read it again.

7 I mean, in a quick reading, it appears to be that.

8 Q Okay. Were you familiar with any of these allegations before you started

9 your assignment?

10 A I was aware that Hunter Biden was on the board of Burisma.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A I was aware that then-Vice President Biden was Obama's, quote, "point

13 man," on page 2, for the Ukraine.

14 Q How about, were you aware of Mr. Giuliani's allegation that the United

15 States Ambassador to Ukraine, Ms. Yovanovitch, and others of her staff were doing some 16 kind of cover-up of investigations that he was pushing in Ukraine?

17 A I don't believe I was aware of that at the time.

18 Q Okay. And were you aware of Mr. Giuliani's claim that Ukraine had

19 interfered in the 2016 Presidential election?

20 A I don't believe I was aware of that.

21 Q Okay. And just -- were you aware of the intelligence community's

22 conclusion that Russia actually interfered in the 2016 Presidential election?

23 A Wait. Let's unpack that. So -- could you ask that again, please?

24 Q Are you aware of the U.S. intelligence community's conclusion that Russia

25 interfered in the 2016 Presidential election?

1 A I am aware of allegations of Russian interference. Conclusive
2 determinations by the entire intelligence community of the United States, I'm not certain,
3 especially in light of the Crossfire Hurricane investigation.
4 Q Have you read the Mueller report?
5 A The whole Mueller report? Parts of it. I have read parts of it.
6 Q Marking as exhibit 8 -- 9, sorry -- 9.
7 [Brady Exhibit No. 9
8 Was marked for identification.]
9 Mr. Brady. This is 9?
10 [redacted] Yes.
11 [redacted] Do you want me to --
12 [redacted] Uh-huh, yep.
13 [redacted] Okay.
14 BY [redacted]
15 Q Have you seen this before?
16 A What is this, please?
17 Q All right. So what we just introduced is entitled "Background to 'Assessing
18 Russian Activities and Intentions in Recent US Elections': The Analytic Process and Cyber 19 Incident Attribution." It's dated January 6, 2017. And it's a report from the Office of 20 the Director of National Intelligence and the Office of the -- I'm sorry, the National 21 Intelligence Council.
22 A Was this under DNI Ratcliffe?
23 [redacted] Yes.
24 Mr. Brady. Under --
25 [redacted] 2017.

1 Mr. Brady. -- DNI Ratcliffe?

2 [redacted] No. This would've been prior to DNI Ratcliffe.

3 [redacted] 2017.

4 Mr. Brady. Oh, 2017. I apologize. I was thinking of the 2021 report that he

5 released.

6 BY [redacted]

7 Q So --

8 A I don't know that I've read this --

9 Q Okay.

10 A -- particular -- but generally I understand --

11 Q So you understand that the intelligence community in 2017 concluded that

12 Russian intelligence agencies conducted cyber operations against targets associated with

13 the 2016 election?

14 Mr. Lelling. Why are we asking Scott Brady about this? The report says what it

15 says --

16 [redacted] Because of his answer.

17 [redacted] I'm just asking if he's familiar with this report.

18 Mr. Lelling. What difference does it make?

19 [redacted] Because he just said he wasn't aware of the --

20 Mr. Lelling. And he's said he's -- he's said he's aware of allegations of Russian 21 interference.

22 [redacted] Right, but he wasn't aware of the conclusions.

23 [redacted] Sorry, can I --

24 Mr. Lelling. So?

25 [redacted]. [redacted] Let's confirm that.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q So I can just wrap this up real quickly.

3 Are you -- do you have any -- have you reviewed this report before?

4 A I have not.

5 Q Okay. And so you don't have any opinion of whether the findings, the 6 conclusions of this report are true and accurate or not?

7 A Well, I don't know what the findings are.

8 I am generally aware of allegations of Russian interference in U.S. elections. My

9 office has investigated Russian investigations -- I'm sorry. My office has investigated

10 Russian interference in French elections, Georgian elections.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A So I have no doubt that Russia and other adversaries attempt to interfere in 13 our elections on a regular basis.

14 Q And you have no evidence to dispute the findings of the Director of National

15 Intelligence in this report?

16 A Other than what is publicly available given Mr. Mueller's report and then his

17 appearance before Congress and then General Barr's disposition of that matter.

18 Q But you have no personal knowledge. In other words, you have not

19 personally investigated the matter.

20 A Could I have a moment, please?

21 [Discussion off the record.]

22 Mr. Brady. I am aware of this.

23 [redacted] Uh-huh.

24 Mr. Brady. The Pittsburgh office, the U.S. Attorney's Office in the Western

25 District of Pennsylvania, had an investigation into the hacking of the DNC.

1 [redacted] Uh-huh.

2 Mr. Brady. We were investigating that until it was transmitted to Director

3 Mueller's office for part of his investigation. So, yes, I am -- I am aware.

4 [redacted] Okay.

5 Mr. Brady. I'm not aware of the conclusions --

6 [redacted] Okay.

7 Mr. Brady. -- drawn from that.

8 [redacted] Sorry. Go ahead.

9 [redacted] So you have no reason to dispute the conclusions that are in that

10 document?

11 Mr. Lelling. He hasn't read it.

12 Mr. Brady. I haven't read it.

13 BY [redacted]

14 Q Okay.

15 All right. Let's bring out exhibit 3 again, which is the 1023. You had a series of 16 questions about that -- or, I'll wait until you grab it. Do you have it in front of you?

17 A Yes. Sorry. Let me just put these in order here.

18 Okay.

19 Q Okay. First, a little bit of high-level. You said in the first hour that you

20 were aware that the FBI had determined that the CHS was credible. Is that fair to say?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q Okay. And then you indicated that your investigation or assessment found

23 indicia of credibility with respect to what was in the 1023, correct?

24 A Some indicia of credibility, yes.

25 Q Okay. And, just to clarify, when you're talking about "indicia of credibility,"

1 you're referring to, first, the CHS, him- or herself. Is that fair to say?
2 A That's correct. And the FBI's assessment of his or her credibility and what
3 he or she has done in prior investigations, correct. Their history with the CHS.
4 Q Okay. But when you were conducting this assessment, you were not in 5 position, as you've already explained, to look into the information that's recorded in the 6 1023 and to assess the credibility of the claims writ large. Is that fair to say?
7 A I don't know about writ large, but we were able to corroborate certain
8 information that was represented by the CHS and is memorialized in this 1023. Some of 9 the underlying allegations relating to Hunter Biden and President Biden by Mr. Zlochevsky 10 we were not in a position to investigate further or determine whether they were true or 11 false.
12 Q Okay.
13 This document contains several layers of hearsay, fair to say?
14 A I mean, it's all hearsay, right? It's secondhand from the CHS.
15 Q Right. So anything that the CHS is attributing so some other speaker is 16 hearsay, correct?
17 A If this were a trial, perhaps. But --
18 Q Okay. Well --
19 A -- this is how reports are drafted up by witnesses.
20 Q Okay. So what I'm saying is, there's, you might call it a sub-source, more
21 than one, who is described, or statements attributed to sub-sources are within this 1023,
22 correct?
23 A I'm sorry. I don't know what you mean.
24 Q There are statements attributed to sub-sources or people other than the CHS
25 that are contained in this 1023.

1 A Yes.

2 Q Is that correct?

3 A Uh-huh. Correct. Yep.

4 Q Okay. And with respect to those people that I am going to call

5 "sub-sources," not with any particular, I don't know, legal reasoning -- but I'm talking

6 about the people who are speaking who are not the CHS whose --

7 A Sure.

8 Q -- statements are attributed in here.

9 A Yes.

10 Q With respect to those individuals, was your office in a position to evaluate

11 the credibility of those people?

12 A I don't know if I can answer that. We were not in a position to interview

13 those sub-sources, and that was not a part of our credibility determination relating to the 14 1023.

15 Q Okay.

16 So let's just get right down to it. In this 1023, the CHS is reporting alleged 17 statements made by individuals in Ukraine, including Mr. Zlochevsky, correct?

18 A Yes.

19 Q All right. The statements that are attributed to Mr. Zlochevsky, did you do

20 any work, you or anyone on your team, to determine whether those statements are 21 consistent or inconsistent with other statements made by Mr. Zlochevsky?

22 Mr. Lelling. He's not going line by line from a 1023. He's not discussing at that 23 level of detail.

24 [redacted] Okay.

25 Could you answer the question that I asked you though?

1 Mr. Lelling. No. Do not answer.

2 [redacted] That was not a line-by-line question.

3 Mr. Lelling. Do not answer the question.

4 You picked the line. You read it. You were asking him --

5 [redacted] That's not -- no, I didn't. What line did I read from?

6 Mr. Lelling. Okay. I'm being figurative.

7 [redacted] Okay. I'm asking --

8 Mr. Lelling. He is not going to go detail by detail through the 1023.

9 [redacted] I'm not asking that. No, I'm not going to ask that. I am asking a

10 general question about whether he tried to determine whether there were consistent or 11 inconsistent statements made by one of the sub-sources, generally.

12 Mr. Lelling. Yeah. No. He can't answer that. This is too much --

13 [redacted] So we're going to keep asking the questions -- I understand he may 14 not want to answer. We're going to keep asking the questions to make a record.

15 If you decline to answer --

16 Mr. Lelling. Sure. I understand. And some maybe he can. This is --

17 [redacted] We're going to keep asking the questions though.

18 Mr. Lelling. This is a blurry line, a --

19 [redacted] Understood.

20 Mr. Lelling. -- deliberative-process question. And I'm sort of making those 21 judgments question by question. So, maybe, categorically, he can't answer any of the 22 questions you're about to ask. Maybe he can. So --

23 [redacted] Well, if you let me ask them, then we can have your response.

24 Mr. Lelling. Sure.

25 [redacted] Fair? Okay.

1 So the sub-source, Mr. Zlochevsky, did you make any effort in your investigation to
2 look in public sources, for example, whether Mr. Zlochevsky had made statements
3 inconsistent with those attributed to him by the CHS in the 1023?
4 Mr. Brady. I don't remember. I don't believe we did.
5 I think what our -- broadly, without going into specifics, what we were looking to 6 do was corroborate information that we could receive, you know, relating to travel,
7 relating to the allegation of purchase of a North American oil and gas company during this 8 period by Burisma for the amount that's discussed in there. We used open sources and 9 other information to try to make a credibility assessment, a limited credibility
10 assessment.
11 We did not interview any of the sub-sources, nor did we look at public statements
12 by the sub-sources relating to what was contained in the 1023. We believed that that 13 was best left to a U.S. attorney's office with a predicated grand jury investigation to take 14 further.
15 BY [redacted]
16 Q And you've used the word "limited" here with us just now and you used it in 17 the prior hour a little bit as well. When you're using the word "limited," how did you
18 define that? What does that mean to you, specifically?
19 A You mean our limited, kind of, tasking and what --
20 Q When you were using -- just sitting here today, you've used the word
21 "limited."
22 A Right.
23 Q What does "limited" mean to you? Can you explain what you mean by 24 "limited"?
25 A Sure. I mean that our tasking was to vet --

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A -- to basically conduct due diligence, on the credibility of the information

3 that was provided to us by members of the public. And it's limited in the sense that we

4 did not have the tools of a grand jury. We are never going to have the tools of a grand

5 jury. It was never going to develop into a grand jury investigation in the Western District

6 of Pennsylvania. And so that's when I mean by "limited."

7 Q And so some of the things that you just described, for example, the purchase

8 of an oil and gas company, for example, or the attempt to purchase an oil and gas

9 company, that's the type of thing that would be in public records, correct?

10 A Correct, open-source records or possibly in existing FBI files. But, yes, 11 those were the limitations of what we could look at.

12 Q Okay. So kind of the low-hanging fruit. Is that fair to say?

13 A I don't know if it's low-hanging fruit. It's just a level of process that every 14 investigation goes through.

15 Q Okay. Thank you.

16 BY [redacted]

17 Q All right. You indicated, I think, in the earlier hour that you did interview

18 some witnesses during the course of your assessment, correct?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q Other than Mr. Giuliani?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay. And did you interview any witnesses based on the information that

23 you received in this 1023?

24 A Other than the confidential human source, no.

25 Q Okay. And you're saying that was part of the limitation that you found was

1 on you in terms of the scope of this assignment, correct?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. But open-source -- so, other than witness interviews, you did do

4 some open-source or your team did some open-source review to attempt to corroborate

5 some of what was in the 1023? Is that fair?

6 A Just limited to the 1023?

7 Q Well, let's start with that.

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. And what does that generally involve, in terms of the open-source

10 investigation?

11 A It could be looking at -- it could be looking at public financial filings. It

12 could be looking at news articles. It could be looking at foreign reporting as well, having 13 that translated.

14 Anything that is not within a government file would be open-source, and it could

15 be from any number of -- any number of sources.

16 Q So, when you look at news reports, for example, would you note if there was

17 a witness referred to in the 1023 that had made a statement that was reported in the 18 news article, for example? Would that be of note to your investigators?

19 A Relating to the 1023? No. We had a more limited focus, because we felt

20 that it was more important to do what we could with certain of the information and then

21 pass it on to the District of Delaware, because then they could not only use other grand

22 jury tools that were available but, also, we didn't have visibility into what they had

23 already investigated, what they had already done with Mr. Zlochevsky, with any of the 24 individuals named in this CHS report.

25 [redacted]

1 Q When you say "we didn't have visibility" -- you talked in the earlier hour
2 about trying to get information from the District of Delaware.
3 A Correct.
4 Q And when you say you didn't have visibility, that was part of -- you were
5 trying to get visibility into what they had already done maybe so that you didn't duplicate
6 efforts? Is that fair to say?
7 A That's right.
8 Q Okay. And so the -- I think you said you passed along -- or, not you
9 personally, but your office passed along interrogatories or questions for them.
10 A That's right.
11 Q That was along the lines of asking them what steps they had taken. Is that
12 fair to say?
13 A Some limited steps. Correct.
14 Q Okay. So you were asking them about their investigation to help inform 15 your investigation.
16 A Yes, to help focus our process so that we weren't doing anything that, as I
17 mentioned, would be duplicative or would complicate their investigation in any way.
18 Q Okay. And so -- okay. Thanks.
19 A Sure.
20 BY [redacted]
21 Q Well, on that topic, since we're there -- so you indicated that there was some 22 back-and-forth of information flow, not just you sending information to other districts but 23 districts sending information to you. Is that correct?
24 A It was almost all a one-way street with all of the offices. There was very 25 limited information that was coming back to us from EDNY, SDNY, District of Delaware.

1 Q Okay. With respect to Delaware in particular, I think you said earlier, in the 2 first hour, that there was frustration that they weren't giving you information, correct?
3 A Correct.
4 Q And by that, are you talking about information about their investigation or 5 some other kind of information?
6 A Mostly about, as I mentioned, things that they had done, steps they had
7 taken. Not what they had received. We didn't want to see the underlying evidence.
8 We just wanted to know, have you looked at these bank records? Have you looked at,
9 you know, foreign bank accounts that are bringing information into -- or, bringing funds
10 into Mr. Biden's accounts?
11 So, broadly, we were just trying to understand what they had done and what they 12 had not done. Beyond that, we were not asking for specific information, specific 13 evidence that they had received.

1 [12:09 p.m.]

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Okay. And you wanted to know that because you didn't want to start doing

4 the same investigative steps that they were doing?

5 A Correct.

6 Q But you indicated before that you didn't have the power to get bank records,

7 for example; is that right?

8 A Correct.

9 Q So was there a reason that you would need to know whether the other

10 district had subpoenaed something if you weren't able to subpoena bank records

11 yourself?

12 A Yes. For example, if we were given a bank account number and wanted to

13 see if they had already looked at that, we would want to know if they had visibility and

14 say, you know: Here's a bank account that we had received; have you, you know, have

15 you subpoenaed these records, have you -- can you examine whether this bank account

16 has sent funds into other Burisma-related accounts or Biden-related accounts?

17 Q So you were looking to sort of use their grand jury or subpoena authority to 18 learn information because you didn't have that tool in your own investigation?

19 A We weren't really looking to learn information about their investigation.

20 We just wanted to know if we needed to do anything with that, to try to corroborate it

21 through perhaps other sources or through the FBI, or if we should even hand it over,

22 again, if it was credible or not credible. If there is nothing to be gained, I don't want to

23 waste their time if they said: Oh, yeah, we've looked at that, and this bank account

24 doesn't show up anywhere in our records.

25 Q So, if you had some kind of information or question about a bank account,

1 was there anything stopping you from just passing that onto Delaware without asking
2 them also to tell you whether they had received any information pursuant to a subpoena
3 or any other lawful process?
4 A We could have, but that wasn't my understanding of our assignment. Our 5 understanding of the assignment was to really separate the wheat from the chaff and not 6 waste their time with a dump of information, maybe, you know, a percentage of which 7 would be credible or have indicia of credibility. So they have limited resources. They 8 have, you know, a broad tasking. So we didn't want to waste their time by doing that.
9 We thought it would be more efficient to engage them, ask them: Have you seen this?
10 Yes, no. And then pass it on, make a determination of what to pass onto them.
11 Q So you were looking out for the Delaware office's time, that's why you 12 wanted to get more information from them about their subpoena practices, and what 13 they received in response to a subpoena?
14 A Well, as I stated, what we were primarily concerned with was protecting the 15 existing grand jury investigations.
16 Q In Delaware?
17 A In any of the offices that had predicated investigations that we intersected 18 with and/or briefed. That was our primary intent. And so that was what our 19 interactions consisted of.
20 Q Okay. I just -- let's move on.
21 Do you want to do that?
22 [redacted] Yeah.
23 So, sorry. Turning back to exhibit 3. We only have a couple minutes left, and I
24 do want to note for the record, that turning to page 3 of 4 here, the second full paragraph 25 on this page, I want to look at this paragraph quickly.

1 Mr. Lelling. Is this the one that starts with "regarding"?

2 [redacted] Yeah. Regarding.

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q And this is -- again, you said your office took limited steps to corroborate,

5 but there were other steps you could not take, right?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q And so here, the confidential HUMINT source himself said, quote:

8 Regarding the seemingly open and unsolicited admissions by Pojarski and Zlochevsky be

9 about their purpose for their attention of Hunter Biden and the forced payments

10 Zlochevsky made to the Bidens, CHS explained it is very common for businessmen in 11 post-Soviet countries to brag or show off, right?

12 A Correct.

13 Q So, when he said that it was common for them to brag or show, but again

14 that was hearsay that he was relaying. So some people might make untrue statements

15 as part of bragging, correct?

16 A Well, that's not hearsay. That's his estimation based on his experience.

17 Q Correct. Referring specifically to the bragging, though?

18 A Correct. And then, below that, he said: CHS did not perceive Pojarski or

19 Zlochevsky's statements to be unusual, self-serving, or pretextual. So, again, we felt

20 that that was best left in the hands of Delaware to run that to ground to understand that,

21 you know, does puffery exist in conversations with Russian or Ukrainian oligarchs? Yes.

22 Q Right.

23 A Is this that? We don't know, as we sit here in Pittsburgh, so Mr. Weiss and 24 team, you guys might want to look at this.

25 Q And that last sentence of that paragraph provides: However, has CHS only

1 met Zlochevsky in person on one occasion and has spoken to him only twice on the
2 telephone. As such, CHS is not able to provide any further opinion as to the voracity of 3 Zlochevsky's aforementioned statements, correct?
4 A That's absolutely correct, that we were unable to -- the CHS, as my 5 understanding, did not see the recordings Mr. Zlochevsky claimed to have or the 6 documentation relating to wire transfers and payments that Mr. Zlochevsky claimed to 7 have. So, correct.
8 Q And the CHS said that you upfront, correct?
9 A In the document, yes.
10 Q He wasn't trying to hide that fact. He said: This is what I've heard; do 11 with it what you will.
12 A Correct.
13 Q And you were not in a position from where you sat to do any further 14 investigation on that?
15 A In Pittsburgh, correct.
16 [redacted] You have 30 seconds.
17 Mr. Brady. Short question.
18 [redacted]
19 Q You indicated that most of the information flow was coming your office to 20 the other U.S. attorney's offices that had some interest in the information that you were 21 gathering, correct?
22 A Correct.
23 Q But sometimes you actually did receive information from those offices to 24 you; is that right?
25 A Not evidence, not --

1 Q No. Information. I'm sorry.

2 A Information. Yes, I believe so. I'm not sure I understand specifically.

3 Q Okay. Let me be more specific. At some point, the U.S. Attorney for the

4 Southern District of New York, Mr. Berman, wrote you a letter or email that provided

5 information he thought that you should have because of the material that he knew you

6 were reviewing, that he thought might be inconsistent with what you were finding; is that

7 correct?

8 A That's correct. And then we wrote him an letter back saying that some of 9 the contents in his letter was incorrect.

10 Q Okay. So you had some kind of dispute with Mr. Berman about the 11 information that they had versus the information that you had, the subject had seemed

12 inconsistent. Is that fair to say?

13 A I think there was a clarification process that was important that we shared

14 information and made sure that they especially had an understanding because they had a

15 predicated grand jury investigation, what was in our estimation and our limited purview

16 correct and incorrect. So we wanted to make sure they had the correct information.

17 [redacted] Okay. We're out of time. We'll get back to that. Thank you.

18 [Recess.]

1 [12:21 p.m.]

2 [redacted] Back on the record. It's 12:21 p.m.

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q Mr. Brady, at the end of our first hour, we were talking about interactions

5 that your office had had with the FBI and interactions that you had had with PADAG and

6 the Deputy Director regarding challenges that you had had at the FBI.

7 Were there any other -- besides the reluctance to, you know, pursue investigative

8 actions, additional signoffs that were required, were there any other challenges that you

9 experienced with the FBI?

10 A Yes. There was one occasion where we were informed by members of the 11 Pittsburgh FBI team that was conducting this investigation, this vetting process with our

12 U.S. attorney team in Pittsburgh, that they were told by someone at FBI Headquarters

13 that they were not to affirmatively share information with us but that they were only to

14 share information with us if we asked them a direct question relating to that information,

15 which is not typically how the investigative process goes.

16 At one point, when we were setting up the entire vetting process, and there was a

17 discussion with the FBI about whether -- how, in their administrative process, it should be

18 characterized, and I said: Well let's all sit together around a table and talk this out;

19 could you please share with me your DIOG, which is the FBI's bible for their processes and 20 procedures.

21 We were told that someone at FBI Headquarters, unknown to me, said: Don't

22 share that with the U.S. attorney's office, to which I said: I'm a presidentially appointed

23 United States attorney. We're on the same team, part of the Department of Justice.

24 What do you mean you can't share your DIOG with me.

25 They said: That's what we were told, so we can't, sir.

1 Q And you said that it wasn't the typical investigative process for you to have
2 to ask the specific question to the FBI for them to give you information.
3 What was the normal kind of reporting process between your office and FBI
4 Pittsburgh?
5 A I mean, on a normal case, it's an iterative process, a collaborative process
6 between agent, investigator, and AUSA and prosecutor. There's mutuality of 7 information sharing. There's a certain transparency because, you know, the goal is to 8 conduct an investigation and make a determination at some point with the agency's 9 recommendation about prosecute, not prosecute. But, even short of that, make 10 a -- take investigative steps that you discuss and agree on, and you know, to move an 11 investigation forward or to open other avenues, identify potential witnesses, subjects,
12 targets. This was not that dynamic.
13 Q And, with the FBI not following the typical investigative process at the 14 direction of FBI headquarters, what did that mean for your assignment in vetting
15 Ukraine-related information?
16 A It just meant, as I testified earlier, there were stops and starts. It was 17 sometimes difficult to get full information back from the FBI. Again, as I mentioned, 18 sometimes they had to go pens down while they were awaiting approval from 19 headquarters. There were delays when we were trying to re-interview the CHS in June 20 of 2020. It was challenging.
21 Chairman Jordan. Did they tell you why?
22 Mr. Brady. No, sir.
23 Chairman Jordan. The Attorney General of the United States has appointed you
24 as a clearinghouse for this investigation. You're supposed to get the information to 25 figure how it goes, how it works, and you've got people at the FBI telling you: We can't

1 give you that information, things you're specifically asking for.

2 No one told you why?

3 Mr. Brady. Our interaction was with members of the Pittsburgh Field Office, so

4 special agents, supervisory special agents, ASAC, SAC. Whatever orders related to

5 information sharing, not sharing, approvals, delays came from somewhere in FBI

6 Headquarters below the Deputy Director. As I testified earlier, when we needed to

7 elevate these issues, they were elevated to Deputy Director Bowdich and PADAG

8 DuCharme or later PADAG Donoghue, and then they were resolved. So I didn't have

9 visibility into what was happening at that headquarters level below the Deputy Director

10 and above the SAC.

11 Chairman Jordan. Okay.

12 BY [redacted]

13 Q Did you raise these specific issues of the not sharing unless it was

14 affirmatively asked or not being able to obtain the DIOG to the PADAG and the Deputy

15 Director? Was that something that was brought up at one of those interactions?

16 A I believe so. I can't remember specifically. But, when we would have

17 those conversations, those would have been the types of issues that we were raising to

18 try to make sure that we could remove those obstacles, do our jobs, do them with

19 integrity and professionalism, and then brief the other offices, and move on with our 20 lives.

21 Q And were these obstacles ever removed, the having to affirmatively ask the 22 FBI for information or able to obtain the DIOG?

23 A No, never received a copy of the DIOG. I found a redacted declassified

24 version online that I used in our meeting to refer to. Some were. Some were not. As

25 I mentioned earlier, the interaction between the FBI and our office was improved when

1 the replacement SAC was appointed in, I think, June of 2020. And then we met, had a
2 very productive conversation, and then they were more responsive. So I don't know
3 what his interaction with headquarters or with other people in that approval chain was,
4 but things became markedly better.
5 Q Did that reluctance go away? Was FBI Pittsburgh more willing to take
6 investigative action into the information that you were receiving?
7 A Yes. There was a different appetite to move things, and the SAC owned, I
8 think, more of the decisions. One of the complicating things was, in the interim
9 between the SAC when this assignment began, so from January through the end of 10 March, and then let's say June forward until October when our tasking was completed,
11 there was an Acting SAC who was brought in from main -- from FBI's Headquarters. And 12 so, I don't know whether he felt he had the authority to make those decisions, or they 13 had to go up to headquarters. So that was an internal conversation that I wasn't privy
14 to.
15 Q When you said there were points in time when the FBI had to go pens down,
16 does that mean that all investigative activity ceased? Was that your understanding?
17 A Yes. When they were, for example, seeking reauthorization of the 18 assessment every 30 days because it required, my understanding was, 17 different 19 approvals at headquarters, the agents told us they were not permitted to do any 20 investigative work until that was reauthorized. Sometimes that would be 2 or 3 weeks,
21 so they had to go, quote, pens down. They couldn't do any investigative work.
22 Q And the 17 approvals that were required for the assessment, were those 23 approvals all at headquarters, or were there some that needed to be obtained from FBI
24 Pittsburgh as well?
25 A I don't know. I assume that that chain from SSA, ASAC, SAC was still

1 present, but that would have been, you know, perhaps 3 layers of 17. So I'm not
2 certain.
3 Q And was the three layers more regular than the 17 that were required for 4 the specific assessment?
5 A I'm sorry. I don't understand your question.
6 Q The three layers of signoff at the Pittsburgh office, you know, the ASAC, SAC
7 that needed to sign off on the assessment, was that a more regular signoff process than 8 the 17 signoffs that were required for this assessment?
9 A No. Under the DIOG, when an assessment, a type one or type two 10 assessment is opened, the idea is for a regular case, let's say, you receive information;
11 you have certain information identified that may develop into a full investigation, and so
12 you open an assessment that's limited in duration and scope to probe that information,
13 to see if it's something that should be brought before a grand jury and then use the full 14 tools of a grand jury.
15 So, because it's supposed to be short in duration, the DIOG has a 30-day time
16 period on that. It should be short because that determination should be made early.
17 Then it requires an additional approval to extend it, and an -- in that authorization, a
18 justification for that to extend it an additional 30 days. In this case -- and normally that 19 is at the SSA level as I testified to before. This having to go through those 17 layers was 20 unusual. I had not seen that before. But it extended the time in which, you know, we 21 could do work. So that was a challenge.
22 Q And were those all of the challenges that you faced with the FBI, the not
23 being able to obtain the DIOG, having to affirmatively ask questions, and then, you know,
24 the reluctance on the part of the FBI to do investigative actions? Were those all of the 25 challenges that you faced with the FBI, or were there additional?

1 A There were additional. And, without disclosing privileged communications,
2 there were representations made to senior leadership of the FBI about what we were
3 doing or not doing that were not true that we had to correct, both internally at DOJ, with 4 ODAG, and General Barr, and then subsequently with the Director and Deputy Director,
5 but we resolved that. But there was information that was being shared up that chain at 6 the FBI that was incorrect.
7 Q And, when you say what you were doing, that's in reference to what the 8 Western District of Pennsylvania was doing regarding your assignment from Mr. Rosen?
9 A That's correct.
10 Q According to public statements by Attorney General Barr, your office in 11 vetting the information provided by the CHS for the FD-1023, you went back and 12 developed more information that apparently had been overlooked by the FBI.
13 Is that an accurate statement?
14 A I can't say "overlooked." I don't know that I agree with that 15 characterization because I don't know what -- again, because this was referenced in a 16 previous CHS report, I don't know what the focus of that investigation was. So it might 17 have been ancillary information that wasn't directly related to what they were looking at 18 in 2017. But it had not been developed. It's fair to say that it had not been looked into 19 or developed any further.
20 Q And so it was by your directive that the information that's included in the 21 FD-1023 was developed; is that correct?
22 A That's correct. Once we were made aware of it, and my -- the AUSAs who 23 were running point on this project requested to see that underlying 1023, the previous 24 one, identified that line relating to Mr. Biden and his role at Burisma. They brought that 25 to my attention, and we then engaged the FBI and said we need to understand what this

1 is or what this is not; can you please go out and re-interview the CHS and develop this.
2 That then led to this June of 2020 1023.
3 Q And when did you make the request for the re-interview of the CHS?
4 A I think we identified that in early June, so perhaps the first week of June.
5 And then there was some back and forth between us and the FBI. And then they 6 interviewed him and memorialized this on 6/30.
7 Q When you say "back and forth," are you referring to some sort of reluctance
8 on the part of the FBI, or there was just conversations that needed to be engaged in?
9 A There were conversations. There was reluctance. Again, this was a CHS
10 that was known to the FBI, was credible, had been used -- had provided information that 11 was used in other investigations. And so, there's always a sensitivity in engaging CHSs.
12 You know, the FBI wants to make sure it's for a purpose that they agree with. So we had 13 discussions. I think there was initial reluctance, and then through, you know, a series of 14 conversations they agreed to go out and re-interview.
15 Chairman Jordan. Can you further describe that initial reluctance?
16 Mr. Lelling. I don't know that you can go into additional detail.
17 Mr. Brady. And, sir, as I sit here, I don't remember specifically what those 18 conversations were, that they would have shared with me their internal deliberations, but 19 there was resistance.
20 BY [redacted]
21 Q And the original FD-1023 that you're referring as information was mentioned
22 about Hunter Bidden and the board of Burisma, how did that information come to your
23 office?
24 A At a high level, we had asked the FBI to look through their files for any 25 information -- again, limited scope, right? And by "limited," I mean, no grand jury tools.

1 So one of the things we could do was ask the FBI to identify certain things that was
2 information brought to us. One was just asking to search their files for Burisma,
3 instances of Burisma or Hunter Biden.
4 That 1023 was identified because of that discreet statement that just identified
5 Hunter Biden serving on the Burisma board. That was in a file in the Washington Field
6 Office. And so, once we identified that, we asked to see that 1023. That's when we
7 made the determination and the request to re-interview the CHS and led to this 1023.
8 Q And when did you make that initial request for the FBI to do a search of its 9 databases?
10 A I don't remember specifically. I mean, it was an ongoing conversation.
11 These were things, these were taskings that we needed to perform. So, sorry, I don't
12 remember when it was, but I'm sure when we made that in May, and they performed it, it
13 was likely not the first time we made that request.
14 Q And did you make those requests to FBI Pittsburgh or to FBI Headquarters?
15 A We would make them to FBI Pittsburgh. They would be, again, per their 16 reporting channels. It was our understanding they were reporting that up to 17 headquarters. Again, when we would have challenges or issues, and we would elevate
18 it to the PADAG and the Deputy Director, we would, you know, inform the Deputy 19 Director of things that we were -- steps that we were taking, some of which he was aware 20 of already. So mostly it was through Pittsburgh.
21 Q And at what point in time did your investigators become aware of first
22 FD-1023 with just the discreet mention of Hunter Biden and Burisma?
23 A I think it was at the beginning of June.
24 Q At the beginning of June?
25 A Early June of 2020.

1 Q Okay.

2 [redacted] And I'll mark as exhibit 10, an article from The Federalist from

3 July 24, 2023, titled "FBI told Delaware U.S. attorney it had already partially corroborated

4 Biden bribery claims, source says."

5 That will be exhibit No. 10.

6 [Brady Exhibit No. 10

7 Was marked for identification.]

8 [redacted] And I'm going to point to specific portions of it. Please take a 9 moment to review.

10 [redacted]

11 Q The pages aren't numbered, but if you count from the first page, the fourth

12 page, the first full paragraph states, following the late June 2020 interview with the CHS,

13 the Pittsburgh FBI Office obtained travel records for the CHS, and those records

14 confirmed the CHS had traveled to the locales detailed in the FD-1023 during the relevant

15 time period. The trips included a late 2015 or early 2016 visit to Kiev, Ukraine, a trip a 16 couple months later to Vienna, Austria, and travel to London in 2019.

17 Does this kind of match your recollection of what actions the Pittsburgh FBI Office

18 was taking in regards to this.

19 Mr. Lelling. Don't answer that. Too specific a level of detail.

20 [redacted]

21 Q You had mentioned last hour about travel records. Did your office obtain

22 travel records, or did you have knowledge that the Pittsburgh FBI Office obtained travel

23 records?

24 Mr. Lelling. That you can answer yes or no.

25 Mr. Brady. Yes.

1 [redacted] Okay. And then, in -- so the CHS is interviewed June 2020, late
2 June 2020, and then your office briefs the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office and the 3 Baltimore FBI Field Office at the end of October; is that correct?
4 Mr. Brady. That's correct.
5 [redacted] And I'll mark as exhibit No. 11, you referenced last hour some 6 testimony by Mr. Gary Shapley. So this is a September 20, 2023, statement of 7 supervisory special agent Gary Shapley. We'll mark that as 11.
8 [Brady Exhibit No. 11
9 Was marked for identification.]
10 [redacted] Focus on number four here, paragraph four.
11 Mr. Brady. Paragraph four.
12 [redacted] Yes.
13 Mr. Lelling. Is this an attachment to his testimony? Is that why it says
14 attachment one? I'm just curious.
15 [redacted] These were documents that were provided to the Ways and Means
16 Committee, and then, following an executive session business meeting, they made these 17 documents public. So it was just an attachment that Mr. Shapley provided.
18 Mr. Lelling. I was just curious. Thank you.
19 [redacted] Uh-huh.
20 BY [redacted]
21 Q Have you had sufficient time to review?
22 A Yes.
23 Q Okay. So, looking at paragraph four on page 2, as it continues onto page 2,
24 the second full sentence, it says: The prosecution team discussed the Hunter Biden
25 related work of the Pittsburgh USAO on several occasions, as it was a line item on the

1 recurring prosecution team's call agenda for a long period of time. Assistant U.S.
2 Attorney Lesley Wolf told us the Pittsburgh USAO and U.S. Attorney Scott Brady requested
3 to brief the Delaware USAO's Hunter Biden's investigative team on multiple occasions,
4 but they were turned down by AUSA Wolf and the Delaware USAO.
5 Is it accurate that you had requested multiple times, you or your office, to brief
6 the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office?
7 A Yes.
8 Q And do you recall whose decision it was at the Delaware U.S. Attorney's 9 Office not to accept the briefing?
10 A I don't know.
11 Mr. Lelling. Do you have personal knowledge of that?
12 Mr. Brady. I don't have -- yeah, I don't have personal knowledge of it.
13 BY [redacted]
14 Q So those interactions that would have occurred between Ms. Wolf and your 15 team, would that have been at the AUSA level?
16 A Correct, and they would have been with Ms. Wolf.
17 Q And were you ever told that the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office did not want
18 a briefing from your office?
19 A I believe I was. I don't remember. But I know that we had trouble
20 scheduling it.
21 Q Okay. And then, further down, it states AUSA Wolf's comments made clear
22 she did not want to cooperate with the Pittsburgh USAO, and that she had already 23 concluded no information from that office could be credible stating her belief that it all
24 came from Rudy Giuliani.
25 Were you ever made aware of Ms. Wolf's processing and decisions regarding this

1 briefing, and why she didn't want the briefing?

2 A I was not. We did, however, make it clear that some of the information

3 including this 1023 did not come from Mr. Giuliani.

4 Q And did your team ever tell you that they were receiving comments from 5 Ms. Wolf that she didn't find the information your office was receiving credible?

6 A I don't remember that, no.

7 Q If those conversations took place, would those have been between a AUSA

8 at your office and Ms. Wolf?

9 A If they would have shared that with us at all, yes, likely, and had I been made

10 aware, I would have called Mr. Weiss directly.

11 Q When you would have called Mr. Weiss directly, would you have told him

12 the information the 1023 wasn't coming from Mr. Giuliani, is that accurate?

13 A Yes, I would have, and that was already communicated to their office, that

14 the 1023 was from a credible CHS that had a history with the FBI, and that it was not

15 derived from any of the information from Mr. Giuliani.

16 Q And how did you know that that information had already been

17 communicated to Mr. Weiss' office? Was that a communication between you and 18 Mr. Weiss?

19 Mr. Lelling. Wait a minute. What information?

20 [redacted] The information that the FD-1023 did not come from Mr. Giuliani.

21 Mr. Lelling. Thank you.

22 Mr. Brady. That would have been relayed to me by my AUSAs who were in 23 communication with Ms. Wolf, and you know, members of Mr. Weiss' team.

24 [redacted]

25 Q So one of your AUSAs would have communicated to Ms. Wolf that the 1023

1 did not from Mr. Giuliani; is that correct?

2 A That's correct. And should have been aware in the FBI as well. The FBI

3 Baltimore Field Office should have been aware of that as well, but I can't speak to that.

4 Q Did you ever get a sense of why Ms. Wolf was under that belief?

5 A No, I did not.

6 Q A little bit further on the next sentence, it states, on the October 22, 2020,

7 prosecution team call, AUSA Wolf informed us that because the Delaware U.S. Attorney's

8 Office had been ordered by the principle deputy attorney general at Justice Department

9 headquarters to receive the briefing from the Pittsburgh USAO, it would be happening the 10 next day, October 23, 2020.

11 Does that match your recollection of how things went down, the PADAG

12 communication?

13 A I didn't have specific knowledge that that was what happened between the 14 PADAG and the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office until I saw Mr. Shapley's testimony.

15 Q Did you bring this concern that the USAO in Delaware was not wanting a 16 briefing from you? Did you bring that concern to the PADAG?

17 A I'm sure I did. I don't remember the specific conversation. Rich and I

18 talked on a regular -- Mr. Donoghue and I talked on a regular basis, especially once we

19 had transmitted a report to him, and with our recommendation to brief the separate

20 offices.

21 Q Did you ever get a sense that there was tension between U.S. Attorney

22 Weiss and AUSA Wolf?

23 A I have no knowledge for that, no basis for knowing that.

24 Q And the briefing on October 23, 2020, you said you did not attend that

25 briefing; is that correct?

1 A I did not. Correct.

2 Q Do you know if that occurred in person?

3 A No, it did not occur in person, and neither I nor U.S. Attorney Weiss were 4 present at that briefing.

5 Q And, to kind of just go back to the last hour where we were discussing this,

6 you said that two of you AUSAs that were kind of the principle on this assignment, they

7 attended the briefing, one to two FBI special agents from Pittsburgh. You weren't sure if

8 your senior AUSAs attended the briefing, and that was all that you could recall from your

9 office that attended; is that correct?

10 A Yes. That's correct. And, as I mentioned, the briefing was conducted by 11 our AUSAs, not by the FBI. It was AUSA to AUSA and team.

12 Q And, after the briefing, when you were told how it went, did you get a sense

13 of what actions U.S.A. Delaware planned to take on the information that your team had

14 provided?

15 A No. None. Once we provided the briefing, our assignment was

16 completed, and we passed that information and recommendations. And then we had 17 no visibility on what they did, nor did they share with us what they planned to do.

18 Q So, as part of the briefing, did your office recommend certain actions?

19 A We did.

20 Q Were those -- did you want them to look further into the allegations in the 21 FD-1023, and the information that you had provided them?

22 Mr. Lelling. I don't think you can answer that as phrased. You need something

23 more general. I don't think he can testify here to his characterization of the quality of 24 the evidence when he gave it over to Delaware.

25 BY [redacted]

1 Q So the process of how -- the specific assignment that you were given by DAG
2 Rosen was that you would vet the information and kind of make a preliminary
3 determination about credibility; is that correct?
4 A That's correct. The credibility of the information that we were receiving.
5 Q And then, if you determined that that information was credible, then you
6 would pass it on to a U.S. attorney's office; is that accurate?
7 A Yes. Credible or had indicia of credibility, we would then pass it on to the 8 U.S. attorney's office with a predicated grand jury investigation, including the District of 9 Delaware.
10 Q And the U.S. attorneys' offices were the ones that could kind of escalate the 11 information that you found had some indicia of credibility into a preliminary investigation
12 or a full investigation; is that correct?
13 A That's a different -- that's FBI nomenclature. That's not how DOJ does that.
14 Q So it was on the USAO and their FBI counterparts to kind of further the 15 investigation; is that correct?
16 A Right. So two separate streams, right; how the FBI characterized their 17 opening of the work that they were doing, together with us as part of this vetting
18 assignment, was under their DIOG as I mentioned was unique to them. Delaware had a 19 grand jury investigation open, right? So our recommendation and our briefing was on 20 information that we believed in our limited ability to vet information coming from the 21 public should be looked at, required further analysis, further investigation, including using 22 the tools of a grand jury. We made that -- those recommendations, and that briefings
23 and that included information, including this 1023.
24 Q So you provided information in that briefing that you thought needed
25 further analysis or investigation; is that correct?

1 A That's correct, and made specification recommendations that I can't share.
2 Q And you passed along the information that your office had deemed had
3 some sort of indicia of credibility; is that correct?
4 A Broadly, yes, and specifically relating to the 1023, yes.
5 Q And so, in terms of briefing the USAO Delaware's Office, you only had one
6 briefing; is that correct? Your office only had one briefing with them?
7 A Yes. As I mentioned, we had several conversations along the way, but at 8 the end of our tasking, as I mentioned, I wrote a formal report, our team wrote formal
9 report that went to the PADAG. In that, we made recommendations that -- we made 10 recommendations consistent with our original tasking that we would provide briefings to 11 the SDNY, EDNY, and the District of Delaware, we laid those out in our report to Rich.
12 He and I spoke. He concurred, and as a result, then we scheduled those. And I believe 13 it went SDNY, EDNY, and then Delaware in October. So the report went to Rich's desk in 14 September with those recommendations. He and I spoke. He agreed, and then we 15 scheduled the briefings.
16 Q So, after the briefing on October 23, 2020, with the U.S. attorney's office in 17 Delaware, did you have any other interactions with -- either between you and Mr. Weiss
18 or your team and Delaware?
19 A No. That was the end of your tasking. We pulled up our stakes and 20 folded our tent and went on to other things.
21 Q So when did your assignment officially end?
22 A To my understanding, it ended when we did the final briefing to Delaware,
23 and then our tasking was done. We had done everything we deemed important and 24 that, you know, we could look at and we could vet the credibility of, and then passed it
25 onto the offices that had grand juries.

1 Q So, after you passed the information along to the Delaware U.S. Attorney's
2 Office, did Mr. Weiss ever follow up with you --
3 A No.
4 Q -- regarding his taskings?
5 A No. Nor did anyone from the U.S. attorney's office there.
6 Q And how was it communicated to you that kind of your assignment
7 regarding the Ukrainian-related information had ended or wrapped up? Was that your 8 decision?
9 Chairman Jordan. One second. Did anyone from Southern District of New 10 York, Eastern District of New York, did any of them follow up with you after that similar 11 briefing was given to them?
12 Mr. Brady. No to SDNY. We had a different interaction with EDNY for different
13 purposes that I can't get into, but relating to what we communicated to them, I don't 14 believe so, sir. I think that was the end of our assignment.
15 Chairman Jordan. Okay. I'm sorry.
16 BY [redacted]
17 Q There have been some public statements that, you know, your office closed
18 the investigation of the allegations documented into the FD-1023. Are those statements
19 accurate?
20 A I know have been several statements from General Barr, some from 21 Representative Raskin. I'd be happy to talk about either or both of those, but probably 22 need to separate them.
23 Q Okay. So, to the extent that, you know, Mr. Raskin has claimed that you
24 shut down the investigation of the FD-1023 information, specifically focusing on 25 Mr. Raskin, are those allegations correct?

1 A My understanding of Mr. Raskin's public statements is that, based on the
2 determination that I and my team found the allegations in the 1023 not credible or other
3 information not credible, we did not escalate the assessment to a limited or full
4 investigation. That's not true. What General Barr said publicly is true.
5 What is true is, that the nomenclature of the FBI was immaterial to us. How they 6 characterized the administrative title of what they needed to assign to begin to work
7 under their DIOG had nothing to do with our tasking, had nothing to do with our
8 assignment.
9 We discussed very frankly with the FBI that this would never be developed into a
10 full investigation. This would never be a grand jury investigation out of the Western 11 District of Pennsylvania. Everyone knew that. There was no confusion about that.
12 So it would never escalate into a full investigation under the lexicon of the FBI.
13 What happened was, once we had written our report, our memo to Mr. Donoghue
14 as the PADAG, we made our recommendations about briefing the offices. From our 15 perspective, A, we wanted to get those to the grand jury investigation sooner rather than 16 later. We had already had a myriad of delays in this process. The then SAC of 17 Pittsburgh called me and said: Is there anything left for us to do on your punch list.
18 I said: No, you know, thank you for your help in this.
19 He said: Then, is it okay if we close this assessment?
20 And I said: Yes, that's fine. I don't care what you guys called it from the 21 beginning, but yeah, there's no more work for us to do. Now we pass it off to the offices
22 with the grand juries, and our job is done.
23 Q Okay. And, to the extent that Attorney General Barr had stated publicly in 24 regards to Mr. Raskin's claims, quote, "It's not true, it wasn't closed down, on the 25 contrary it was sent to Delaware for further investigation," end quote, that's accurate to

1 your recollection?

2 A General Barr's statements are all accurate, including his statement that the

3 information contained in the 1023 was not derived from any Giuliani-related information

4 and are not from -- this is General Barr's public statement -- not from known sources of 5 Russian disinformation.

6 Q And, in fact, the FBI has stated publicly, and you said it matched your

7 recollection earlier, that the source was highly credible, the FBI deemed the source was

8 highly credible, and they had used that source in other investigative matters; is that

9 correct?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q To the best of your knowledge, after the FD-1023 and the briefing occurred

12 with the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office, do you know if the Delaware U.S. Attorney's 13 Office or FBI Baltimore shared that 1023 with their FBI investigative team?

14 A I have no idea.

15 Q Do you have any knowledge as to whether they shared it with the IRS

16 investigators?

17 A No contemporaneous knowledge in 2020. I know from public reporting

18 that it was -- they were not a part of the briefing. That I knew at the time, that it was

19 only Ms. Wolf as I mentioned, perhaps another AUSA from the Delaware team and special

20 agents from the Baltimore Field Office of the FBI. There was no IRS involvement in the

21 briefing. And I know from, you know, Mr. Shapley's testimony, I believe, that the 1023

22 was not shared with him or his team or anyone at the IRS.

23 Q And did you know contemporaneously that the IRS investigators had asked

24 to be a part of that briefing that your office was providing?

25 A No, I had no visibility into that.

1 Q When you did learn from Mr. Shapley's testimony that the IRS investigators,
2 you know, weren't told about or the FD-1023 wasn't shared with them, did that surprise
3 you?
4 A Yes.
5 Q Why did that surprise you?
6 A Typically, not specific to this, but in investigations where you have multiple 7 agencies that investigative team; AUSAs, Federal prosecutors, investigators, agents from 8 sometimes, you know, agencies with overlapping or concurrent jurisdiction, you share
9 information pretty transparently, and you know, on a realtime basis.
10 Because even though they might have different jurisdiction and might be looking 11 at different agency specific statutes and potential charges as part of their investigation,
12 you want your team to have kind of full knowledge of everything that is coming; good,
13 bad, credible, not credible. And so I would have expected that that would have been 14 shared with the IRS.
15 Q And, prior to your departure from the Western District of Pennsylvania in 16 February 2021, did you ever become aware of attorney -- the tasking being made to U.S.
17 Attorney Weiss that he would be -- have full authority over the Hunter Biden
18 investigation?
19 A Only from -- only what's publicly reported. That's the only knowledge I 20 have. I haven't spoken to Mr. Weiss since we left the Department, since I left the 21 Department.
22 Q Okay. Are you aware of an August 2020 assessment that was opened by an 23 FBI supervisory intelligence analyst, Brian Auten, regarding the Hunter Biden information?
24 A At the time, I was not. I am now from public reporting.
25 Q So you didn't became aware during your tenure at the Western District of

1 the Auten assessment?

2 A This was never shared with me by the FBI, but there was many things. I

3 was not aware of that the FBI was in possession of the Hunter Biden laptop. There were

4 many things that were not shared back with the Pittsburgh Office.

5 Q So when did you become aware that the FBI had the Hunter Biden laptop?

6 A When it was first reported publicly, I think, December of 2020. I don't

7 remember.

8 Q It was October 14, 2020. Is that kind of -- that was when the New York Post

9 article came out regarding the Hunter Biden laptop?

10 A Yeah. That was when I was first aware, and I was surprised.

11 Q You were surprised. Why were you surprised by that?

12 A I would have thought that would be something, especially as has been

13 publicly reported, there's information relating to Hunter Biden's activities on the board of

14 Burisma in Ukraine, that might have been helpful in our assessment of the information

15 that we were receiving about him. I would have expected that be shared. However,

16 not knowing the source, now I know the source. But, you know, if it had been grand

17 jury derived or subpoenaed or seized as a result of a search warrant, that wouldn't

18 surprise me it wouldn't be shared with us. But, yeah, we were all surprised.

19 Q And to the extent that you had asked the FBI to do a search of their

20 databases regarding information relevant to your assignment, do you think the laptop

21 information would have been part of that?

22 A I would have expected -- if it were information or evidence that the FBI had, I

23 would have expected that to be part of that search.

24 Q And, in regards to the Auten assessment, we'll call it, you said you became

25 aware of that after your tenure at the Western District. And what did you learn about

1 the Auten assessment?

2 A Only what was public and broad brushstrokes there was an assessment, that

3 Mr. Auten identified all of the information relating to allegations of corruption, of, you

4 know, Hunter Biden and Ukraine and Burisma to be not credible and/or sourced by

5 Russian mis- or disinformation, and that assessment was closed. That's all I know. I

6 don't know if information that came through the Pittsburgh Office as a part of this vetting

7 process was included in that, excluded from that. I don't know.

8 Q So, if that was -- the assessment was done in August of 2020, how did that

9 kind of jibe with the work that you were doing?

10 A Separate work streams. We had no visibility into what headquarters was

11 doing. They did not share with us. They were only watching and approving our 12 investigative steps that we requested.

13 Q And were you surprised to learn that there was this kind of assessment

14 conducted?

15 A Not necessarily surprised an assessment would be conducted, but knowing

16 so little about it, the genesis the scope of it, I would have thought -- I would expect that if

17 it intersected with what we were doing, that someone would have talked to us. Now,

18 maybe that was just headquarters to FBI Pittsburgh conversation. But I would have 19 thought that we would be read into or be a part of that conversation.

20 Q And did you have any communications with the Washington Field Office of 21 the FBI?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And how many communications did you have with the Washington Field

24 Office?

25 A They were limited. So headquarters versus Washington Field Office, our

1 interaction with the Washington Field Office related to the underlying 1023 that predated
2 this one that we looked at and then gave rise to our request to re-interview the CHS in
3 the June-2020 1023.
4 Q And so did the underlying 1023, did that come from the Washington Field
5 Office? Was that why there was interaction?
6 A Yes.
7 Q Who did you interact with at the WFO?
8 A I don't remember. It would have been my AUSAs, I think, that were 9 interacting with -- AUSAs and Pittsburgh special agents that were interacting with special
10 agents from WFO.
11 Q Were there any other interactions that occurred between your office and 12 the WFO?
13 A Not that I recall.
14 Q Do you know if there was any interaction with the FBI's Public Integrity
15 Section Or Division?
16 A No.
17 Q Any DOJ Public Integrity Division interactions that your office had?
18 A Relating to this?
19 Q Correct.
20 A No.
21 Q Did your office regularly communicate with Main Justice?
22 A Yes.
23 Q And who was your point of contact? Was that the PADAG?
24 A Yes. It would have primarily been the PADAG, first Mr. DuCharme, then 25 Mr. Donoghue.

1 Q And so, besides the SDNY, the Eastern District of New York, and the U.S.
2 Attorney's Office for Delaware, did you have any other interactions any other U.S.
3 attorney's offices regarding your assignment?
4 A Yes.
5 Q What other U.S. attorney's offices did you have contact with?
6 A Northern District of Illinois, and Northern District of Ohio.
7 Q And did you give briefings to the Northern District of Illinois and the 8 Northern District of Ohio?
9 A No. As part of our initial tasking and Mr. Donoghue's role as kind of 10 quarterback or air traffic controller for all Ukraine investigations, there was an 11 investigation in the Northern District of Illinois. So I spoke with the U.S. District
12 Attorney, talked with him about what we were tasked with doing, what I believed the 13 scope of that to be, asked him if that intersected at all with his case and investigation.
14 He said: No.
15 And so we had no further interaction.
16 The Northern District of Ohio had a -- it's public -- an investigation into PrivatBank
17 and Mr. Kolomoisky for a series of activities that were occurring in the Northern District
18 of Ohio and elsewhere. There was some interaction with PrivatBank in this case. And 19 so I wanted to, again, do the same thing, talk with the U.S. attorney, say: Here's what 20 we're looking at. Here's where PrivatBank plays a role in this. And does this intersect
21 with yours?
22 And we determined that it did not. And so, didn't have any followup
23 communications with them.
24 Q And did you provide any sort of report or product to the PADAG regarding
25 this information?

1 A This information, meaning ND Illinois and ND Ohio?

2 Q Correct. Correct.

3 A I don't know that it would have been written, but I certainly would have

4 apprised him, that yes, I talked with ND Illinois, you know, no intersection. Talked with,

5 you know, Justin in the Northern District of Ohio. We talked about PrivatBank. Theirs

6 is separate from what we're looking at. As I mentioned, all of our work with SDNY, EDNY

7 and the District of Delaware was summarized in our final report and recommendations to

8 Mr. Donoghue. I think we sent that in September.

9 Q And did you have an understanding whether the Northern District of Illinois

10 or the Northern District of Ohio had grand jury investigations regarding the information

11 you were passing along?

12 A They did. That's why I spoke with them.

13 Q And, for the FBI, I know we've spoken about the FBI Pittsburgh Field Office,

14 the Baltimore Field Office, the Washington Field Office.

15 Were there any other field offices that your office communicated with regarding 16 your task?

17 A New York. The New York Field Office, which supported both EDNY and 18 SDNY.

19 Q And, when you needed to interact with those field offices, was that normally

20 the FBI Pittsburgh Field Office that was interacting with them, or was it the individuals

21 within your office?

22 A Normally, that was -- it depended on what was going on, right? So the kind

23 of normal interface was AUSA to AUSA, special agent on an investigative team to special

24 agent. At times when there were issues with, for example, SDNY, which is supported by

25 the field office, the New York Field Office, then that would be elevated, and we would

1 speak AUSA to AUSA and either SAC to SAC. Sometimes we had to involve the Deputy
2 Director. So that happened on occasion with the New York Field Office.
3 Q And, when your office was conducting your review to determine whether 4 the information that was coming in had some sort of indicia of credibility, would your 5 team undertake interviews of individuals?
6 A For the 1023 specifically?
7 Q Related to any Ukrainian information that came in?
8 A Yes.
9 Q And were those individuals pertinent to the investigation -- or the 10 information that you were receiving as well as individuals who were providing
11 information?
12 A Yes. They were potential witnesses who may or may not have had 13 information, you know, relating to Ukrainian corruption. So we identified, there were 14 many that were identified that were in the Ukraine. We did not interview them. There
15 were some that were in the United States. So we did conduct interviews in the United 16 States.
17 Q So your office had additional interviews or meetings with people other than 18 Mr. Giuliani; is that correct?
19 A That's correct.
20 Q Did you get a sense of why Mr. DuCharme and the Deputy Attorney General
21 had tasked you with this assignment?
22 A I think there was -- could I have a moment to talk to Andy?
23 [redacted] Absolutely. We'll go off the record.
24 [Discussion off the record.]
25 [redacted] We can go back on the record.

1 Mr. Lelling. I'm afraid he can't answer that question.

2 [redacted] Can't answer why he was tasked with this?

3 Mr. Lelling. Correct.

4 Mr. Brady. I do think -- so separate and apart from specific conversations, I think
5 we were tasked with this, as was Mr. Jensen and the Flynn investigation, as were other 6 U.S. attorneys, because General Barr and DAG Rosen had confidence that we would 7 conduct our assignment with professionalism, that we would, you know, uphold the best
8 principles of the Department, and that we would do it discreetly to the previous 9 questioning, and we would be thorough and thoughtful.

10 When I put my team together, without identifying certain names, I put a team of 11 Republicans and Democrats together. Again, we were politically appointed, but the 12 work of the Department of Justice shouldn't matter. And so, as I mentioned, there were 13 two supervisory AUSAs, senior, our most experienced white collar investigators. One
14 was my FAUSA, a Democrat, and one was my head of white collar, a Republican. My 15 two AUSAs, Democrat, unknown because it didn't matter. You know, what my tasking 16 to them was that we are going to run this to ground, and if we do everything ethically in 17 the right way, then we will never have to worry about what the outcome is. Then we'll 18 do our job. We'll do it professionally, ethically, and then we will pass it off to the other
19 offices that have grand juries.

20 [redacted] We can go off the record.

21 [Recess.]

1 [1:24 p.m.]

2 [redacted] Back on the record.

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q In the last hour, you were talking about how the original 1023 came to you.

5 So I'm talking about the 1023 from 2017.

6 A Yes.

7 Q And you said that you asked the FBI to search its files for the word

8 "Burisma."

9 A Yes. I believe that's how that was identified.

10 Q Okay. What led you to ask the FBI to search its files for "Burisma"?

11 Mr. Lelling. Well, wait a minute.

12 Did you ask the FBI to search its files for "Burisma"?

13 BY [redacted]

14 Q Or somebody in your office. Maybe not you personally.

15 A I don't remember if this was identified because we asked specifically for 16 "Burisma," but "Burisma" appeared in a lot of the material we received from Mr. Giuliani.

17 So, to try to narrow the scope of --

18 Q Okay.

19 A -- the universe of information, we thought that would be one of the work

20 streams that we would try to at least wrap our arms around.

21 Q Okay. So your request that the FBI look in its files for "Burisma" or

22 whatever the actual search term was, that was because you had gotten information from

23 Giuliani, correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay.

1 And so, in the -- actually, in the first and second hours, you said pretty extensively
2 that your role was to vet information provided from the public, correct?
3 A Correct.
4 Q And so the 1023, the original 1023, was not information provided from the 5 public, correct?
6 A That's correct --
7 Q Okay.
8 A -- yes.
9 Q But it came up because you'd received information from Mr. Giuliani and, in 10 your vetting of that information, you ran a search?
11 A Correct.
12 Q Okay.
13 A And just to clarify, I don't remember if we asked the FBI to search for
14 "Burisma" --
15 Q Right.
16 A -- or "Zlochevsky."
17 Q Understood.
18 A But I think it's all equal, to the premise of your question.
19 Q Right.
20 And the 1023 itself, which is exhibit 3, this refers over and over again to 21 Zlochevsky, correct?
22 A Correct.
23 Q And we talked through -- you said in the earlier hour that the FBI deemed 24 the source highly credible. And the source was the confidential human source that 25 actually provided the interview that led to the 1023, right?

1 A Correct.

2 Q That's not Zlochevsky, though, right?

3 Mr. Lelling. Don't answer.

4 [redacted] Oh. Understood. Withdrawn.

5 BY [redacted]

6 Q The source discusses conversations with Zlochevsky, correct?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q Okay. It was beyond the scope of what you were able to do to actually

9 assess Zlochevsky's credibility directly, correct?

10 A Correct. We had no basis of assessing that or tools to --

11 Q Okay.

12 A -- determine whether what he claimed was true or not.

13 Q So this is essentially a report of what a confidential human source told you

14 about his or her conversations with Zlochevsky, correct?

15 A Correct.

16 Q And, in this, the source, himself or herself, actually directly says that -- and

17 this is, again, on page 3; we talked through it in my prior hour -- that the "CHS is not able

18 to provide any further opinion as to the veracity of Zlochevsky's aforementioned

19 statements."

20 A That's correct. And that's why we thought Delaware would be in the best

21 position to take that further or not.

22 Q Understood.

23 Okay. Go ahead.

24 [redacted] Okay.

25 BY [redacted]

1 Q So let's talk a little bit about Zlochevsky. I understand why you weren't in a
2 position to interview him as far as -- actually, I don't even think anyone knows where he
3 was at that point, but he wasn't in the United States, right?
4 A Correct.
5 Q So you were limited in scope and also just as a practical matter.
6 But I think in the first hour or one of our hours you said that you did do some 7 open-source -- or, you or someone on your team did open-source searching to see
8 whether information could be corroborated, right?
9 A Correct. Yeah. We and the FBI.
10 Q Sure. I mean your team when I say "you."
11 A Oh, yes. Yeah.
12 Q So, with respect to Zlochevsky's statements in particular, like the ones that 13 are memorialized in the 1023, or attributed to him, were you able to find -- or, you or 14 anyone on your team able to find in open-source reporting that Mr. Zlochevsky had made
15 statements inconsistent with those that were attributed to him in the 1023?
16 A No. We didn't find statements one way or the other relating to that.
17 Q Okay.
18 You did interview Rudy Giuliani, correct?
19 A Correct.
20 Q Did you ever have occasion to interview a person associated with 21 Mr. Giuliani, Lev Parnas?
22 Mr. Lelling. I don't want him to get into -- I was going to allow him to identify 23 Rudy Giuliani because it's now so widely known that DOJ interviewed Giuliani, but going 24 past that is problematic.
25 [redacted] Okay.

1 BY [redacted]

2 Q Do you know who Lev Parnas is?

3 A I know of him based on the SDNY investigation.

4 Q Okay. He was indicted, correct?

5 A Indicted, correct.

6 Q Right. And he was associated with Mr. Giuliani, correct?

7 A Correct. That's my understanding.

8 Q Okay. Did Mr. Giuliani disclose the fact that he had a relationship with Lev

9 Parnas?

10 Mr. Lelling. Don't go into that.

11 [redacted] Okay.

12 This is going to be marked as exhibit 12.

13 [Brady Exhibit No. 12

14 Was marked for identification.]

15 [redacted]

16 Q This is a document that includes typed questions and answers. This

17 document was provided by Mr. Parnas to Rudy Giuliani.

18 Mr. Giuliani directed Mr. Parnas and another person by the name of Vitaly Pruss

19 to directly interview Mr. Zlochevsky, to ask these questions, and these are the answers

20 that they received.

21 Have you ever -- oh. Sure.

22 [redacted] And just to make it clear for the record, this document, in the form

23 we're producing it to you today, was subsequently produced by Mr. Parnas to Mr. Raskin,

24 and Mr. Raskin has made it available on his website. That's how it came into our 25 possession.

1 Mr. Brady. Oh, I see. Okay. Thank you.

2 [redacted] Go ahead.

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q I understand it's also available -- it was part of the impeachment inquiry to

5 Trump's first impeachment, and it's part of the HPSCI investigation. I don't know if

6 you've had a chance to look at that or if you did during the assessment.

7 A Not all of it, no.

8 Q Okay. But have you seen this document before?

9 A I don't believe I have.

10 Q Okay. The -- I'll just give you a second to look at it, actually, then, if you've

11 never seen it before. It's three pages -- two pages. Let me know when you've had a 12 chance to look at it. Take your time too.

13 A Okay.

14 Q Have you had a chance to review it?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. And just to be clear, I think my colleague has already explained this,

17 but this document was provided to investigators on the House Permanent Select

18 Committee on Intelligence in 2019, before your assessment began, in relation to the first

19 impeachment inquiry of President Trump.

20 But you indicated you were not aware that that evidence was in the record of that

21 investigation?

22 A Correct.

23 Q Okay.

24 A And I'm sorry, could I just clarify?

25 Q Sure.

1 A Who's answering the questions?

2 Q Yeah, let me -- I'll explain.

3 A Oh, I'm sorry.

4 Q Sorry. I know it's a little confusing.

5 Mr. Lelling. Don't jump ahead.

6 [redacted]

7 Q That's a good question.

8 All right. So my understanding, again, from the evidence in the previous

9 impeachment inquiry and our investigation and other ways, is that this interview was

10 conducted in July of 2019. The person who was actually doing the questions directly to

11 Mr. Zlochevsky was a man by the name of Vitaly Pruss, V-i-t-a-l-y, Pruss, P-r-u-s-s. And 12 Mr. Pruss was in direct contact with Lev Parnas, who was also in contact with Giuliani.

13 So there's a little string here. Mr. Giuliani is asking Mr. Parnas to ask Mr. Pruss to 14 ask these questions directly of Mr. Zlochevsky. Does that make sense?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. And that was explained during the HPSCI investigation, as well, in 17 the context of this document being produced in that investigation.

18 So, on July 7, 2019, Mr. Pruss sent these written summaries -- which is the exhibit,

19 No. 12 -- sent these answers that Mr. Zlochevsky had given to Lev Parnas and to 20 Mr. Giuliani in the form of a Word document. That's why it looks the way it does.

21 A Sure.

22 Q Okay. So you indicated you've never seen this document before. May I

23 actually ask you, before we go through it: You, during the course of your investigation,

24 you asked the FBI or directed others to ask the FBI to review their holdings for any 25 information related to Burisma or Zlochevsky, correct?

1 A Yes. We asked them, for certain specific questions, to look in open-source,
2 as we talked about, and then to look in their investigative files to see if they had
3 intersected with these names or, you know, this topic before.
4 Q Okay. And they yielded this 2017 1023 that then led you to interview the 5 CHS, correct?
6 A Yes.
7 Q Okay. But you never asked, for example, the House Permanent Select 8 Committee investigators or anyone associated with that investigation to do a similar
9 inquiry for evidence relating to Zlochevsky?
10 A No, I don't believe we did.
11 Q Okay. And, like you said, you were not aware that this interview had taken
12 place in 2019. Is that fair to say?
13 A I don't believe I was, no.
14 Q Okay. And anyone on your team, as far as you know, was not aware that 15 Mr. Zlochevsky had been interviewed at the direction of Giuliani before your assessment
16 began?
17 A I don't believe so.
18 Q Okay. So let's go through it, then, since this is the first time you've seen it.
19 The first question, for the record, states, quote, "What caused you to hire Devon
20 Archer and Hunter Biden in 2014?"
21 And the answer from Mr. Zlochevsky is, quote, "We wanted to" -- and there's a
22 typo. It says "uild." I think it means "build" -- "Burisma as international company. It
23 was very important to have strong board. So when we review resumes of Biden and 24 Archer they both had great resumes. We also thought it would help in Ukraine to have 25 strong international board figures with great relationships in the United States and

1 Europe," end quote.

2 Let's move to question -- oh, actually, let me ask you about this. There's nothing

3 in Mr. Zlochevsky's answer to question 1 that says he needed the Bidens in order to,

4 quote, "take care of Shokin," correct?

5 A Nothing in that answer, no.

6 Q And there's nothing at all with respect to any investigation of Burisma,

7 correct?

8 A Oh, in the answer?

9 Q In the answer.

10 A No. No.

11 Q I'm sorry. I'm just asking you about his answer.

12 A Yeah. No, no. No.

13 Q So, to that extent, the answer that Mr. Zlochevsky gave to the question of 14 why you hired Hunter Biden and his associate Mr. Archer is inconsistent with this claim

15 that Mr. Zlochevsky is attributed -- or the statement that is attributed to Mr. Zlochevsky in 16 the 1023, correct?

17 A I'm sorry. Could you ask that again?

18 Q Yeah.

19 A I'm sorry.

20 Q That's okay.

21 To the extent that Mr. Zlochevsky is asked in this interview why he hired Biden,

22 Hunter Biden, to be on his board -- and he answers the way we just described, right?

23 Because he wanted a strong board. He did not say anything about investigations of 24 Burisma, correct?

25 A Not in that answer, no. Correct.

1 Q No. And not in that answer does he say anything about protecting Burisma
2 from investigations, correct?
3 A Correct.
4 Q Or protecting Burisma from anything, correct?
5 A Correct.
6 Q So, to that extent, the answer he gave here is inconsistent with the 7 statement attributed to him in the 1023, that he hired Hunter Biden to protect him?
8 A Oh, I see. I'm sorry. Yeah -- yes, they seem to be inconsistent.
9 Q Okay.
10 Question number -- let's see -- 8, which is I think on the second page, the question
11 asks, quote, "Did you ever learn why VP Joe Biden asked for Shokin to be fired as PG?"
12 Do you see that question?
13 A Yes.
14 Q Okay. And, to be clear, "VP" stands for "Vice President," I believe, and "PG"
15 probably stand for "Prosecutor General."
16 Are you aware that Mr. Shokin was the Prosecutor General of Ukraine during the 17 time that this allegation arose?
18 A Yes, for a discrete period in 2015-2016, I believe.
19 Q Okay. But the allegation about bribery and the firing of Shokin --
20 A Oh, yes.
21 Q -- had to do with his role as Prosecutor General, correct?
22 A Correct.
23 Q Okay.
24 The answer that Mr. Zlochevsky gave to that question of why did Biden ask for 25 Shokin to be fired, he responds, quote, "We learned about it from newspapers and

1 internet. We never had contacts with VP Biden during his visits to Ukraine," end quote.
2 Do you see that answer?
3 A Yes.
4 Q Okay. And you had never, before today, learned through your investigation
5 that Mr. Zlochevsky told Giuliani's investigators that?
6 A Not that I recall. Correct.
7 Q Okay.
8 Mr. Zlochevsky's answer also includes the statement, quote, "We never had 9 contacts with VP Biden during his visits to Ukraine," end quote. Do you see that 10 answer?
11 A Yes.
12 Q Okay. Did you ever learn of that part of his statement, that Mr. Zlochevsky
13 had told Rudy Giuliani's investigators in 2019 that he, quote, "never had contacts with 14 Vice President Biden during his visits to Ukraine"?
15 A No, not that I recall.
16 Q Okay.
17 All right. Anywhere in Mr. Zlochevsky's statement -- and you can take a minute
18 to review it if you need to review it further -- did Mr. Zlochevsky say that he paid either
19 Hunter Biden or Joe Biden to pressure Poroshenko to fire Shokin?
20 A No.
21 Q Okay.
22 Now, the answers that we've discussed here that Zlochevsky gave in this 2019
23 interview are inconsistent with the statements attributed to Mr. Zlochevsky in the 1023, 24 to some extent, correct?
25 A Yes.

1 Q Specifically on the key point that Mr. Biden is alleged to have received a
2 bribe to pressure Poroshenko to fire Shokin, correct?
3 A Correct.
4 Q If you had known during the course of your investigation that Mr. Zlochevsky
5 had made these statements that are inconsistent with what was attributed to him in the 6 1023, would that have affected your investigation in any way?
7 A Had we been aware of this, we would've definitely shared that with
8 Delaware when we shared the 1023 with them and allowed them to reconcile the two, do
9 further investigation or not, based on their discretion and knowledge.
10 Q Because that's just a normal thing that an investigator would do, is assess 11 credibility by looking to see whether there were prior inconsistent statements from a 12 witness, right?
13 A Correct.
14 Q And, in this case, you were not aware of the prior inconsistent statement
15 when you did your investigation, correct?
16 A Correct. I can't speak for my team, but I don't believe that we were aware 17 of these.
18 Q If someone on your team were aware of this prior inconsistent statement,
19 you would've expected them, as professionals, to bring that to your attention, correct?
20 A Yes, absolutely. We would've put that in our report to Mr. Donoghue.
21 We would've absolutely put that in the briefing to Mr. Weiss's team.
22 Q And you have no reason to think that anyone on your team was hiding this 23 or trying to keep it from you?
24 A No.
25 Q Okay.

1 Then the other question I think that I have to ask about this is: This is a prior
2 inconsistent statement of Mr. Zlochevsky that your investigation did not uncover, but it's
3 a statement that Mr. Giuliani was certainly aware of. Would you agree?
4 A Yes, if -- based on your representation, yes, absolutely.
5 Mr. Lelling. Well, wait a minute. Do you have any personal knowledge of 6 whether Rudy Giuliani was aware of that?
7 Mr. Brady. No, only counsel's representation.
8 Mr. Lelling. Okay.
9 [redacted]:
10 Q Okay. Well, right, and the record in the impeachment inquiry, I suppose,
11 and other evidence. But you're not familiar with that evidence, correct?
12 A I'm not.
13 Q And you didn't familiarize yourself with that evidence at the time that you
14 conducted your investigation, correct?
15 A Correct.
16 Q Okay. But you knew that it had happened though, right? Like, that the 17 investigation that preceded Mr. Trump's first impeachment, that that investigation had 18 happened in Congress before your investigation started, right?
19 A Yes. And, forgive me, can you remind me of the dates of the first 20 impeachment? I just --
21 [redacted] So it would've been Septem- -- well, approximately September 2019.
22 And then I think the impeachment vote was December of 2019, thereabouts.
23 Mr. Brady. Yes. Thank you.
24 We were aware --
25 [redacted] Sorry. To clarify, that's just the House impeachment vote. And the

1 Senate trial would've been January and February of 2020.

2 Mr. Brady. Of 2020.

3 Yes, we were certainly aware. I was not familiar with the record, and I don't

4 believe that our team looked into the record.

5 BY [redacted]

6 Q I mean, you personally had no role in it as an investigator, correct?

7 A No, not -- no.

8 Q But you were the sitting U.S. attorney at that time in Pittsburgh?

9 A Correct.

10 Q Okay.

11 But when you got this assignment to investigate or to receive information from

12 Giuliani and others, was there any kind of a recollection on your part, just from reading

13 news articles or other exposure, that this information associated with Giuliani had just 14 passed through the investigative process in the impeachment?

15 A I wasn't sure what, of the information that he presented to us, was a part of 16 the impeachment.

17 I think what General Barr said was that we were to treat any information relating

18 to Ukrainian corruption with skepticism --

19 Q Right.

20 A -- because there were a lot of cross-currents and mixed motives. And so

21 we had that view with the information we were receiving from Mr. Giuliani as well.

22 But, to your specific question, no, as to the information before the House or the 23 Senate for the impeachment inquiry.

24 Q Okay. And, just to be very clear, Mr. Giuliani himself never gave you a copy

25 of this statement, fair to say?

1 A Fair to say. Not that I recall. And, as you said, had my team been aware,
2 it would have been elevated.
3 Q Okay.
4 A Mr. Giuliani gave a series of podcasts. I don't know if this was a part of 5 his -- if this was a part of his public podcast. I just don't know, as I sit here.
6 Q Okay. And he never told you that he had interviewed or spoken to 7 Mr. Zlochevsky or anybody had spoken to him on his behalf?
8 Mr. Lelling. Can't answer that.
9 [redacted] Okay.
10 Mr. Brady. And could I clarify one thing?
11 [redacted] Of course. Yes.
12 Mr. Brady. So, just to clarify, without going into detail, because Mr. Parnas had 13 been indicted by SDNY, we didn't develop any information relating to Mr. Parnas that 14 either Mr. Giuliani gave us or that we received from the public, and we felt that it was 15 best handled by SDNY, since they had that full investigation.
16 [redacted] Okay.
17 Mr. Brady. So I can't speak to whether SDNY has that. I just don't know.
18 BY [redacted]
19 Q Okay. I guess my question was just more based on your own description of 20 your own investigative efforts. I mean, you went on your own, on your own initiative, to 21 search FBI records that had anything to do with Zlochevsky, correct?
22 A Correct.
23 Q Or Burisma, but you don't know what the search term was.
24 A Correct. There were multiple, but yes. I can't remember the specific one
25 that uncovered the underlying 1023.

1 Q Okay. But you didn't make a similar effort to search the impeachment
2 investigative files that were released and public at that time and dealing with the same
3 matter. Is that --
4 A Correct. To my knowledge, yes --
5 Q Okay.
6 A -- that's correct.
7 Q Thank you. Okay.
8 Okay. Switching gears a little bit --
9 A Sure.
10 Q -- do you know who Vitaly Kasko is? Spelled V-i-t-a-l-y, Vitaly, K-a-s-k-o,
11 Kasko.
12 A I'm not sure. I don't remember.
13 Q Okay.
14 I'm going to mark this as exhibit 13.
15 [Brady Exhibit No. 13
16 Was marked for identification.]
17 BY [redacted]
18 Q This is a news article from Bloomberg, dated May 7, 2019, entitled, quote,
19 "Ukraine Ex-Official Casts Doubt on Biden Conflict Claim," end quote.
20 Have you seen this article before?
21 A I don't believe I have, no.
22 Q Please just take a minute to review it.
23 Have you had a chance to review it?
24 A Yes.
25 Q Okay. So Vitaly Kasko, as reported in the article, was Viktor Shokin's

1 deputy when Shokin was the Prosecutor General of Ukraine, correct?

2 A Correct, according to this article, yes.

3 Q Okay. I mean, in your investigation, did you ever, sort of, look into who

4 Shokin's associates were?

5 A I can't remember as I sit here. I think we did. And we knew Mr. Shokin

6 had several roles in the PGO prior to becoming the Prosecutor General as well.

7 Q Okay.

8 Are you aware that Mr. Kasko made public statements about the Burisma

9 investigation that was happening under Shokin's leadership?

10 A I may have been aware at the time, but I don't remember as I sit here.

11 Q Okay. Would that have been something that your open-source review, you

12 or your team's review, would've looked to look into, just any statements that Shokin or

13 his other prosecutors had made about the Burisma investigation?

14 A Yes, both in U.S. reporting and in Ukrainian reporting or European reporting.

15 Q Okay. And, I'm sorry, did you indicate you've never seen this article before, 16 though?

17 A I don't believe I have, no.

18 Q Okay.

19 Let's look at the statements made by Mr. Kasko that are contained in the 20 reporting on page 2, at the bottom of the first paragraph.

21 Okay. Mr. Kasko stated that the probe into Burisma had been, quote, "long

22 dormant," end quote, at the time that Vice President Biden made his comments about

23 firing Shokin.

24 Kasko further stated that "there was no pressure from anyone from the U.S. to 25 close cases against Zlochevsky. It was shelved by Ukrainian prosecutors in 2014 and through 2015," end quote.

Had you ever discovered in the course of your investigation that Mr. Kasko had made that statement?

A No.

Q On the third page, in the fourth paragraph, the article states that the case against Zlochevsky and Burisma was assigned to Shokin when Shokin was a deputy prosecutor, but, according to the reporting, quote, "Shokin and others weren't pursuing it," end quote, according to internal reports from the Ukrainian prosecutor's office that were reviewed by Bloomberg.

Were you aware of this reporting, that Shokin was not pursuing the case against Burisma when he was the deputy prosecutor?

A Not this specific reporting, but we had seen information that was consistent with that as well.

Q Okay.

Were you aware in your investigation that internal reports from the Ukrainian prosecutor's office documented the fact that Shokin and others were not pursuing the case at this time?

A Could I have a second to ask Andy?

Q Of course.

[Discussion off the record.]

Mr. Brady. Thank you.

So we did make some effort to secure files from the Prosecutor General's Office in Ukraine.

BY [redacted]

Q I think you indicated earlier you didn't have any subpoena authority; is that

right?

A That's correct.

Q International.

A There's some information regarding the docket and filings that is public --

Q Okay.

A -- and so we were going through the FBI legat in Kyiv to try to secure those.

Q Okay.

[redacted]:

Q This statement in the -- turning back to this article, on page 2, the statement from Mr. Kasko that there was no pressure from anyone from the U.S. to close cases against Zlochevsky, that would be inconsistent with some of the statements made in the 1023, correct?

A I'm sorry. Could you just tell me where that is? Generally, or --

Q It's the -- no, it's a direct quote.

[redacted] Second page, bottom of the first paragraph.

BY [redacted]

Q Yeah. Second page, right after the first paragraph, there's a little mini standalone paragraph. That first sentence is, "'There was no pressure from anyone from the U.S. to close cases against Zlochevsky.'"

A Yes, that's inconsistent with the 1023.

Q Okay. Do you know if this is the type of information that your team had access to through its open-source investigation research?

A We would've had access to public reporting like this, articles, yes.

Q Do you know if this particular statement was something that was passed along to Delaware?

1 A I don't recall.

2 Q Okay. Would it have been potentially relevant to Delaware's investigation?

3 A Yes, if they were looking at Zlochevsky and Burisma, yes.

4 Q Because it could potentially go to Zlochevsky's credibility, correct?

5 A Absolutely. Yes.

6 Q Okay.

7 Go ahead.

8 BY [redacted]

9 Q Can you explain a little bit, though? You indicated before that you were 10 here to vet information from Giuliani and others, correct?

11 A Correct.

12 Q But not to investigate with any kind of legal process, correct?

13 A Yes. We didn't have a grand jury, so we couldn't do that. We couldn't 14 compel testimony or documents.

15 Q Okay. And you indicated earlier that you did interview witnesses, correct?

16 A Correct. Voluntary interviews.

17 Q And you reviewed FBI systems, correct?

18 A Correct.

19 Q But now you are also indicating that you contacted foreign countries to ask

20 for documents voluntarily? Like, for them to consensually just turn them over to you?

21 A The legat is FBI personnel. So we would go through the FBI if there was

22 public information or if we had to run something down. And we did that with several

23 things that came to our attention.

24 Q Oh, I misunderstood. So you were just asking the legat if the legat had FBI

25 documents? You weren't asking the legat to then reach out to Ukrainian counterparts?

1 A No, we were asking the legat to reach out to counterparts to see what was
2 publicly available on dockets, for example, or pleadings and to, if possible, pull that
3 information and provide it to us.
4 Q Okay. So you were looking at, like, Ukrainian foreign government
5 documents, essentially.
6 A We were trying to.
7 Q Okay.
8 Mr. Lelling. Publicly available information, correct? Meaning publicly available
9 in Ukraine.
10 Mr. Brady. Yes. That's correct.
11 [redacted] Okay.
12 Okay. We're marking for the record exhibit No. 14.
13 [Brady Exhibit No. 14
14 Was marked for identification.]
15 BY [redacted]
16 Q This is a Washington Post article dated September 25, 2023. The title is,
17 quote, "The Republican Case Against Biden Takes a Body Blow...from Fox News," end
18 quote.
19 Have you seen this article before?
20 A I don't believe I have.
21 Q Okay. This was a more recent article. As I indicated, it's from 2023, so
22 this was after you left the Department and after your assessment was completed.
23 So -- and also after the release of the 1023 that we've discussed here today.
24 Were you following the fact that Chairman Comer had released the 1023 to the 25 public?

1 A Yes. Yeah.

2 Q Okay. And when did you become aware of that?

3 A I was aware of, broadly speaking, the conversation between the House and

4 the FBI about that and the briefings. Followed just the public reporting about the FBI

5 briefings. And then followed General Barr's statements and some of Representative

6 Raskin's statements.

7 Q Okay. But you knew that the actual document had been released to the

8 public?

9 A Oh, yes. I'm sorry. Yes, I did.

10 Q Okay.

11 Now, let's -- focusing on the reporting here in exhibit 14, this is referring to a

12 television interview on Fox News. One of the reporters had interviewed

13 Mr. Poroshenko.

14 Do you know who Mr. Poroshenko is?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And who is he?

17 A He was the President -- the then-President of Ukraine.

18 Q Okay. And Mr. Poroshenko, would you agree, is relevant to your

19 investigation to the extent that the accusation that was made in the 1023 was that Biden

20 had put pressure on Poroshenko to fire Shokin, correct?

21 A Broadly speaking, yes.

22 Q Okay.

23 So, when Poroshenko was interviewed by the Fox News host, he was asked about

24 the claim that Shokin was fired from his position as Prosecutor General due to pressure

25 from Biden to interfere with the investigation of Burisma, which is the allegation that is central -- or one of the allegations that's central to the 1023, correct?

A Yes.

Q Okay.

And, in response, Poroshenko said in this televised interview, quote, "First of all, this is the completely crazy person," referring to Shokin. Poroshenko continued, quote, "This is something wrong with him. Second, there is no single word of truth," end quote. And here, he's referring to Shokin basically repeating the claim that he had been fired because of the Burisma investigation.

Were you familiar with that interview and the statement that Poroshenko made during that televised interview?

Mr. Lelling. When was --

Mr. Brady. I'm sorry. Yeah. When was it?

BY [redacted]

Q Just ever. Did you know it happened, as you sit here today? And then we can --

A I apolo- -- I'm not trying to be obtuse.

Q Yeah.

A What --

Q Did you know that Mr. Poroshenko was interviewed on Fox News in 2023?

A No, I did not.

Q Okay. On the subject of Shokin's firing.

A No. No, I didn't.

Q Okay. So this is the first time, today, that you've learned that Mr. Poroshenko made these comments about why Shokin was fired?

A In this interview, correct, yeah.

1 Q Okay.

2 A I can't remember if -- there may have been contemporaneous reporting that

3 we looked at during our vetting process, but, yeah, this is all new to me.

4 Q Okay.

5 BY [redacted]

6 Q In the course of your investigation in 2020, did you look at other statements

7 that Mr. Poroshenko had made to see if they might be inconsistent with information in 8 the 1023?

9 A We may have. And the problem was, as we got further attenuated from,

10 kind of, the actionable information, as it were, then it seemed less the best use of our

11 limited resources and --

12 Q Why is that?

13 A Well, because if we didn't have any ability to interview Mr. Shokin, President

14 Poroshenko, Mr. Zlochevsky, we thought it best to pass that to, you know, in this case,

15 the office with the grand jury.

16 And, also, recognizing that it was an election year, particular sensitivities about

17 possibly interviewing people in Ukraine, we thought that was best handled by someone

18 that had the full view of that investigation, like Mr. Weiss and his team.

19 Q So can you explain to me, you -- it was not beyond the scope of what you

20 could do to reach out to the legat in Kyiv to try and get information, but interviewing

21 actual witnesses was a step too far? Is that what you're saying?

22 A So let's differentiate between U.S.-based witnesses and Ukrainian-based

23 witnesses. And then within the Ukrainian-based witnesses, you could have individual

24 witnesses who may have been former employees of Burisma and then people like the 25 former Prosecutor General, the former President of the country.

1 We made the tactical decision to, where possible, interview U.S.-based fact
2 witnesses and then memorialize that and send that to the appropriate offices.
3 Given the sensitivity in an election year, the possibility of manipulation of what we
4 were doing and why we were doing it, we felt it best not to go to Ukraine, you know,
5 2 months before the election and try to interview these folks. Because, again, if Weiss
6 and his team were looking at bank records, emails --
7 Q Uh-huh.
8 A -- you know, texts, things like that, they would be in a much better position
9 to understand what was --
10 Q Right. But you didn't have the same concern when it came to documents
11 from the Prosecutor General's Office which could've potentially been produced by some 12 of these Ukrainian-based witnesses?
13 Mr. Lelling. That's not what he said.
14 Mr. Brady. Yeah.
15 BY [redacted]
16 Q So what I'm not understanding is, why did you, given the sensitivities, the 17 election-year sensitivities that you described, why didn't you have any hesitancy when it
18 came to reaching out to the legat in Kyiv to try and get, you know, documents from the 19 Prosecutor General's Office?
20 A So we --
21 Mr. Lelling. Well -- are you concerned about whether you can give the answer?
22 I was drawing a distinction between publicly available documents and not publicly
23 available documents. Anybody can walk in and get documents off a court docket. Are 24 you concerned about --
25 Mr. Brady. No. I can --

1 Mr. Lelling. -- this issue?

2 Mr. Brady. No. I think I can explain broadly.

3 BY [redacted]

4 Q Okay.

5 A We were concerned about interfacing with NABU or the PGO --

6 Q Uh-huh.

7 A -- because of just a lack of confidence in, again, motivation. As General

8 Barr said, treat all this information with extreme skepticism. Be worried about different

9 motivations, cross-currents.

10 And so, when we would reach out to the legat, it was FBI-to-FBI. And is there a

11 discreet, non-public way of securing information about these cases, including from 12 publicly available documents or dockets, in a way that then wouldn't, you know --

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A -- raise a flag and make the Ukrainian media, the national media aware?

15 Because we were very concerned --

16 Q So "discreet" here means quietly, basically. You could do that quietly. Is

17 that fair to say?

18 A Yes, quietly, as an investigation is --

19 Q Okay.

20 A -- usually conducted.

21 BY [redacted]

22 Q Okay. So you were looking for things that you could find without making a

23 lot of noise, correct?

24 A Correct.

25 Q All right. But you would be interested to know that Mr. Poroshenko had

1 made prior inconsistent statements if you could find that out through open-source, right?

2 A Yes, but, again -- and I'm not disputing the premise of your question -- I think

3 those credibility determinations would be best done by Weiss and his team based on

4 their full view of all the evidence that they had compiled.

5 Q Sure.

6 A So we were less worried -- if we could find these things, we would try to

7 memorialize those in our reports. That wasn't most specifically what we were looking 8 for.

9 Q Okay.

10 I'm going to mark for the record exhibit 15.

11 [Brady Exhibit No. 15

12 Was marked for identification.]

13 BY [redacted]

14 Q This is a Politico article dated June 21, 2020, and the title is, quote, "Former 15 Ukrainian president says Biden never pressed him on Burisma," end quote.

16 Have you seen this article before?

17 A I have not. I don't know if my team has.

18 Q Okay. Just take a quick second to look at it.

19 A Uh-huh.

20 Q And note the date is June 21, 2020, and the interview that's reported in it

21 happened the day before, which would be June 20, 2020.

22 This is a brief article, so it shouldn't take too long to look at.

23 And just for time purposes, if you could focus on the first paragraph, I'll just ask

24 you about that.

25 A Sure. Sorry. Just have a couple more paragraphs.

1 Q Yeah, no worries.

2 A Sure. Okay.

3 Q Okay. So this article discusses a CNN televised interview of Petro

4 Poroshenko that occurred on June 20, 2022, when he was interviewed by Fareed Zakaria.

5 According to the first --

6 [redacted] You misstated the date. June 20, 2020.

7 BY [redacted]

8 Q I'm sorry. June 20, 2020. Yeah. That is important.

9 So this interview happened during the course of your assessment, correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And it would've been available to anybody looking in open sources to learn

12 that this statement had been made on television, correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q And so, according to this reporting, in the first paragraph, the article reports

15 that Poroshenko was asked whether Joe Biden ever approached him about Burisma, and 16 he responded, quote, "My absolutely clear answer: no, never," end quote.

17 Had you ever heard that Mr. Poroshenko had made that statement before today?

18 A Not this specific statement.

19 But just one thing that our team was doing is they were looking at open-source

20 information and then summarizing those statements, even inconsistent statements. We

21 summarized those in the report to Mr. Donoghue and said that, you know, there's a lack

22 of clarity about several of the key aspects, you know, relating to Mr. Shokin, the existence

23 or nonexistence of PGO investigations relating to Burisma and Mr. Zlochevsky, you know,

24 what happened with the U.K. case and how that was resolved and then how the fine was 25 paid downstream from that in the Ukraine.

1 So some of this type of information -- I don't know if it's this specifically -- you
2 know, our team did put together. We didn't -- you know, we focused -- strike that. If 3 there were inconsistent statements that they were aware of, they'd put that in there and 4 summarize that in a memo to Rich Donoghue.
5 BY [redacted]
6 Q Was that also passed along to Mr. Weiss and Mr. Weiss's team?
7 A I don't remember as I sit here. They did not receive the report that was 8 sent to Mr. Donoghue unless Mr. Donoghue shared it.
9 Q Okay. So it's possible that there were, kind of, inconsistent statements
10 from Mr. Poroshenko that were not passed along to Weiss's team then?
11 A There certainly could be, yes.
12 Q Okay.
13 A Yeah, there certainly could be.
14 Q Okay.
15 A And as I mentioned, I have no knowledge of what they knew relating to 16 those.
17 Q Yep.
18 A So that might've been part of their investigation.
19 BY [redacted]
20 Q Okay. I'm marking for the record exhibit 16.
21 [Brady Exhibit No. 16
22 Was marked for identification.]
23 BY [redacted]
24 Q This is a Reuters news report dated June 4, 2020. The title is "Ukraine
25 found no evidence against Hunter Biden in case audit: former top prosecutor."

1 Have you seen this article before?

2 A I don't remember it, but --

3 Q Okay. This is very brief, so you can review that, if you would, please.

4 A Okay.

5 Q Okay. So do you know who Ruslan Ryaboshapka is?

6 A Forgive me. I knew in 2020. I don't remember if he was a subsequent

7 Prosecutor General or if he was the head of NABU.

8 Q Okay.

9 A I assume he was the Prosecutor General.

10 Q Okay. So, according to the article, he was the Prosecutor General of 11 Ukraine in 2020. Is that fair to say?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. And, according to the article, Mr. -- I'm just going to call him

14 "Mr. R" -- conducted an audit. During the time that you were leading your assessment,

15 he conducted an audit of cases involving Hunter Biden. And that was because of the 16 controversy that was brewing all over the world after the impeachment inquiry and other

17 matters.

18 Were you aware that this Prosecutor General, who was sitting at the time of your

19 assessment in Ukraine, had done an audit of Burisma, Hunter Biden, and Biden-related

20 matters that were in his office?

21 A As I sit here, I don't remember. I believe we did, and I believe my team was 22 aware.

23 Q Okay.

24 And, in the article, Mr. R says specifically, quote, "I specifically asked prosecutors

25 to check especially carefully those facts about Biden's alleged involvement. They

1 answered that there was nothing of the kind," end quote.

2 Were you aware that the Prosecutor General of Ukraine had made this request of 3 his prosecutors during his audit in 2020?

4 A I don't remember, as I sit here, if I knew that at the time.

5 Q Okay. And were you aware that his prosecutors had found no evidence of 6 any involvement by the Bidens in the cases that they were prosecuting?

7 A I don't remember. My team may have been.

8 Q Okay.

9 BY [redacted]

10 Q Do you know if that information was passed -- if your team had been aware

11 of it, if it was passed along to Mr. Weiss?

12 A It may have been summarized in the report to Mr. Donoghue --

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A -- which talked about some of these broader issues. Our readouts and

15 briefings to the specific U.S. attorney's offices related to specific investigatory leads, so it

16 may not have been part of the Delaware briefing.

17 Q Okay.

18 I want to turn to the discussion earlier about the FBI and your interactions with

19 the FBI.

20 A Sure.

21 Q There was a reference a number of times to, I think, 17 steps or 17 layers of 22 approval. Was that an actual number, or was that just hyperbole? Were there

23 17 boxes to check? Can you explain that?

24 A Yeah. So it was our understanding, related by someone on the FBI team in

25 Pittsburgh, that that was an actual number, that there were 17 approvals that were

1 required to extend the assessment an additional 30 days.

2 Q Okay.

3 I want to introduce as exhibit 17 a February 5, 2020, memorandum from the 4 Attorney General entitled "Additional Requirements for the Opening of Certain Sensitive

5 Investigations."

6 [Brady Exhibit No. 17

7 Was marked for identification.]

8 BY [redacted]

9 Q Have you seen this before?

10 A Yes.

11 Q I want to look -- and this came out -- you were tasked with your "discreet

12 assignment" approximately January 3, 2020, correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q And so this would've come out a little over a month afterwards.

15 A Correct.

16 Q Were you aware of it when it was released?

17 A This? Yes, uh-huh.

18 Q And it was sent to all United States attorneys, of which you were, correct?

19 A Correct.

20 Q All Department component heads, so that would've been, like, DOJ Criminal

21 or DOJ Tax, right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And then all law enforcement agency heads, correct?

24 A I believe so, yes.

25 Q So that would include the FBI.

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay.

3 So the second and third sentences of the very first paragraph here read, "While 4 the Department must respond swiftly and decisively when faced with credible threats to 5 our democratic processes, we also must be sensitive to safeguarding the Department's 6 reputation for fairness, neutrality, and nonpartisanship. In certain cases, the existence
7 of a federal criminal or counter-intelligence investigation, if it becomes known to the 8 public, may have unintended effects on our elections."

9 Correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And so this was actually an advisory of sorts sent out by the Attorney
12 General at the time, Attorney General Barr, correct?

13 A Correct, and, I believe, a process for opening these types of investigations.

14 Q Right. And it specifically laid out concerns about the potential impact that 15 a sensitive investigation might have on the 2020 election, correct?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q Okay.

18 The paragraph continues, "For this reason, the Department has long recognized
19 that it must exercise particular care regarding sensitive investigations and prosecutions
20 that relate to political candidates, campaigns, and other politically sensitive individuals 21 and organizations -- especially in an election year."

22 Correct?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q Okay. And so, realizing that this pertains to the opening of investigations, 25 would you agree that these types of concerns also pertain to investigations while they're

1 ongoing in an election year?

2 A Yes. Absolutely.

3 Q And what's your understanding of what a politically sensitive investigative

4 matter is?

5 A It's, especially during a Presidential year, as described in detail on page 2,

6 that, broadly speaking, any investigation, any investigatory steps, especially grand jury

7 steps, which could include subpoenas or compelled testimony of anyone, relating to a

8 political candidate at certain levels or members of their staff or family should be deemed

9 sensitive. And, in an election year, there are different requirements and processes and 10 approvals that are triggered once that takes place.

11 Q And do you know if FBI, in particular, has specific guidelines for the 12 processing of politically sensitive matters in an election year?

13 A I believe they do. I don't know what specifically is in the DIOG relating to 14 that. Certainly, anything that the Attorney General requires would be required of the 15 FBI as well.

16 Q Okay.

17 And you reference the DIOG earlier, and you said that you weren't able to get a

18 copy of, I guess, the law enforcement sensitive version of the DIOG, but you did receive

19 an unclassified version or a publicly available version. Is that correct?

20 A Right. I found it. But yes, uh-huh.

21 Q Okay. You found it.

22 A Yes.

23 Q And did you ever look in that copy to see if there were guidelines on 24 politically sensitive investigations in that DIOG?

25 A I don't remember that I did. You know, our guidance that applied to me

1 and our team of AUSAs was certainly DOJ policy, which is very explicit, and then this
2 additional guidance from the Attorney General.
3 Q Okay. And what's your understanding of the DOJ policy?
4 A Well, that, before cases are opened, before certain investigatory steps are
5 taken, there must be, kind of, a consultation or a notification with usually the DAG's
6 office. And then they will either weigh in on that, approve, disapprove; that'll be a part
7 of a conversation. But they need to be notified -- again, their, kind of, "no surprise"
8 rule -- but especially of sensitive investigations during a Presidential year.
9 Q And that's laid out in the Justice Manual, correct?
10 A Yes.
11 Q And what is the Justice Manual, for the record?
12 A The Justice Manual used to be called -- what did it used to be called?
13 Mr. Lelling. The U.S. Attorneys' Manual.
14 Mr. Brady. Doggone it. Yes. Sorry. The U.S. Attorneys' Manual.
15 The U.S. Attorneys' Manual/the Justice Manual provides the guidelines but also 16 specific processes for everything from identifying subjects and targets, to notification, to 17 how certain investigations and certain subject matter areas are to be taken; if approvals
18 are required within the DOJ, what those are, what those steps are.
19 But it was also just kind of a practical handbook for AUSAs, as well, to understand
20 how they are to conduct themselves, conduct investigations, interface with Federal 21 agencies and defense counsel.
22 [Discussion off the record.]
23 [redacted]
24 Q You mentioned earlier that you had briefings -- that you passed along
25 information via briefings to Mr. Weiss in Delaware. But you also referenced the Eastern

1 District of New York and the Southern District of New York.

2 A Correct.

3 Q Very briefly, who was your contact at the Eastern District of New York?

4 A Eastern District was, at the time, Rich Donoghue until late summer, and then

5 he and Mr. DuCharme changed places. Rich became the PADAG; Mr. DuCharme became

6 the U.S. attorney in EDNY.

7 It was Geoff Berman through, I believe, most of that, Audrey Strauss, maybe, at 8 the end, when she was acting U.S. attorney, in SDNY.

9 Q Okay.

10 With respect to the Eastern District of New York, in particular, Mr. Donoghue and 11 then Mr. DuCharme, can you talk broadly to what their investigation concerned?

12 A Could I have a minute? I don't --

13 Q Yeah.

14 Mr. Lelling. I don't know that he can go into that.

15 [redacted] Okay.

16 [redacted]

17 Q With respect to the Southern District of New York, can you talk broadly as to 18 what their investigation concerned?

19 Mr. Lelling. I don't think you want to do that.

20 Mr. Brady. I think it's public.

21 Mr. Lelling. Oh, it's public?

22 Mr. Brady. In Geoff's book.

23 Mr. Lelling. Oh, yeah. Well --

24 Mr. Brady. Per publicly available sources, including Mr. Berman's book, he was

25 looking at Mr. Parnas, Mr. Fruman, and Mr. Giuliani for potential FARA violations, among 1 other things.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Okay. And so your office did develop information which you deemed either

4 credible or that had sufficient indicia of credibility to pass along to the Southern District of 5 New York in that investigation into Mr. Giuliani and others, correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay.

8 Go ahead.

9 BY [redacted]

10 Q Quick question on the closing of the matter. It sounds like, and I think you

11 clarified in the previous hour, that there is some difference in nomenclature between the 12 DOJ and the FBI. Is that right?

13 A That's right.

14 Q So, when they talk about "assessments," that's an FBI word, not a DOJ word?

15 A Correct.

16 Q And DOJ talks about "matters," among other things?

17 A "Matters," "cases," yes, uh-huh.

18 Q Okay.

19 So you indicated in your testimony that you spoke with the SAC in Pittsburgh and

20 discussed your concurrence or permission for him to close an assessment because there

21 was no further investigative activity to undertake. Is that right?

22 A That's right.

23 Q Okay. So that language that appeared in Mr. Raskin's letter about closing

24 an assessment may very well have come from that experience, like, the closing of the FBI

25 assessment? Is that fair to say?

1 A Yes as to the administrative closing. No as to the basis for why it was
2 closed. It wasn't because we deemed it not credible or felt that it didn't merit, you
3 know, continuing into a preliminary or full investigation.
4 Q Right. Because you weren't even in a position to really opine on that,
5 right?
6 A It wasn't our tasking. It was never going to become a full investigation or
7 grand jury investigation.
8 Q Right. That wasn't your role, right?
9 A Correct.
10 Q Okay.
11 And the FBI, they were being tasked by you and they have language about 12 assessments, and they just wanted to administratively close that assessment because 13 there was no further investigative work for them to do under that tasking. Is that right?
14 A That's right.
15 Q Okay. And do you know, did that happen in August of 2020?
16 A I don't remember specifically. I believe it would have happened in August,
17 because our report to Rich was in mid-September. So we wouldn't -- I believe that's 18 right. I believe our conversation with the SAC, yes, I signed off on closing, and then we 19 write the reports to Rich and do the briefings.
20 Q Okay.
21 And, from your perspective, when you passed on the 1023, in particular, to those 22 other U.S. attorney's offices, it was, in your judgment, their providence to then look into 23 whether that was credible and to do further investigation if they deemed it appropriate,
24 correct?
25 A That's absolutely right. Just a --

1 Q Uh-huh?

2 A -- small clarification: The only office that received a 1023 was Delaware.

3 Q Oh.

4 A Neither SDNY nor EDNY did.

5 Q Were they briefed on it, or just --

6 A No.

7 Q Not at all. Okay. So we're just talking about Delaware?

8 A Could I talk to him for one second?

9 Q Oh, sure.

10 A Sorry.

11 [Discussion off the record.]

12 Mr. Brady. Okay. Sorry. Not with SDNY.

13 [redacted] Uh-huh.

14 Mr. Brady. We did with EDNY. As I testified previously and as Mr. Barr stated

15 publicly, the 1023, the CHS, was vetted against known sources of Russian disinformation.

16 It was found that it was not sourced from Russian disinformation. To do analysis, we

17 interacted with EDNY.

18 [redacted] Okay.

19 Mr. Brady. So they were aware, but it wasn't part of their investigation.

20 BY [redacted]

21 Q Okay.

22 You're aware that the 1023 was publicly released, correct?

23 A By Senator Grassley?

24 Q Or, well, Comer.

25 A Yes.

1 Q Right.

2 A Oh, yes.

3 Q I don't know, maybe Grassley too.

4 Okay. And you indicated that the FBI, at certain points when they were working

5 with you, was reluctant to do certain things and seemed to be protective of their CHS. Is

6 that fair to say?

7 A Yes. Kind of two different buckets. They were very protective of their

8 CHS --

9 Q Let's talk about that for a minute. Did you get the impression that the FBI

10 was trying to protect him as a source so that they could continue to use him or her?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. And do you think that's a valid concern of the FBI?

13 A Yes, absolutely.

14 Q Okay. And now that the 1023 has been released after, you know, being

15 exposed to this kind of politicized process, do you think that some of their fears kind of 16 came to pass, in the sense that now it's more difficult to use that CHS?

17 A I do. I think they would say that. And, yeah, it's a concern.

18 Q Okay. Could the FBI and the DOJ -- even though they work together, they 19 do have different interests at different times. Is that fair to say, in your experience?

20 A Yes, I think that's fair.

21 Q Okay.

22 And another one might be between U.S. attorney's offices. You also discuss

23 some, kind of, differences or frustrations about communications and other matters,

24 information flowing between you and particularly the Delaware office. Is that right?

25 A That's right.

1 [2:24 p.m.]

2 [redacted]

3 Q And I think you said that the fear that they expressed was not wanting to

4 kind of give out information about their case. They were keeping it close hold. Is that

5 right?

6 A That's right.

7 Q Can you imagine reasons why they might have wanted to do that for

8 legitimate reasons for the protection of their own cases?

9 A Sure, one is an ethical and statutory obligation of under 60, any grand jury

10 information should not be even shared unless there's a legitimate investigatory purpose,

11 you know, that other members, that somehow it might be exposed to the public. And

12 with respect to your question about CHSs. The recruitment of CHSs, that's a valid

13 concern of the FBI. That's within their domain. And I think if the FBI is saying it would

14 become more difficult to recruit CHSs and utilize them in investigations if their identities,

15 even reverse engineered, would be made public, that's a valid concern.

16 Q It's bad for the FBI, right?

17 A Bad for the FBI.

18 Q And it's also bad for the CHS who might be harmed or killed, correct?

19 A It could be, yes. Absolutely.

20 Q We're out of time. Let's go off the record.

21 [Discussion off the record.]

22 [redacted] Back on the record.

23 Chairman Jordan. Mr. Brady, when did you learn about the laptop?

24 Mr. Brady. When it was -- there was public reporting about its existence.

25 Chairman Jordan. So you didn't learn about it until the story in the Post on

1 October 14th or thereabouts?

2 Mr. Brady. Yes, sir.

3 Chairman Jordan. Okay. Did you raise that on the 23rd when you did the final

4 briefing with Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office; did you bring up the laptop?

5 Mr. Brady. We did not because our purpose during that briefing was a one-way

6 flow of information to them.

7 Chairman Jordan. Okay. Okay. Let me just go back. I just want to make

8 sure I got the story line down. So you get the job, the task coming to the clearinghouse

9 on February 18, 2020. Is that right?

10 Mr. Brady. January 3rd of 2020.

11 Chairman Jordan. January 3rd. That's when it was official?

12 Mr. Brady. That's when internally PADAG Seth DuCharme told me that I had 13 been assigned this task.

14 Chairman Jordan. Okay. January 3rd, 2020. And then what I am

15 understanding is, right, throughout the winter and spring, you're asking the FBI for

16 information they have regarding Ukraine and Hunter Biden, you're requesting that you

17 get information they may have?

18 Mr. Brady. We're trying to identify investigative leads, and from the information

19 we had received from the public, including information about Hunter Biden and Burisma,

20 and then asking the FBI -- and we were also tasked with coordinating this is public from

21 Attorney General, Attorney General Barr, how to coordinate also with intelligence

22 services. And so we were interfacing with them relating to that tasking. It wasn't

23 everything that they had because certainly Delaware with the grand jury investigation

24 would have had a lot of information relating since it began in 2019.

25 Chairman Jordan. Okay. But there's communication back and forth with the

1 FBI and other agencies on what your task involves, information they may have that's
2 relevant to the task you have been assigned by the Attorney General?
3 Mr. Brady. That's correct.
4 Chairman Jordan. Okay. And every 30 days, there has to be a new, kind of a
5 re-up and a signoff on how your task as the clearinghouse, how that continues. Is that
6 right?
7 Mr. Brady. Not from the DOJ side. Administratively from the FBI side for the
8 assessment?
9 Chairman Jordan. Right. And you said, I think, earlier, maybe the first hour
10 before I was here, but then subsequently talked about there was 17 individuals involved
11 in signing off on this every 30 days. Is that right?
12 Mr. Brady. That's what we were told by the Pittsburgh FBI agents.
13 Chairman Jordan. Seventeen people had to sign off on you to continue your 14 task?
15 Mr. Brady. For the FBI to continue. Our guys kept running. It was the 16 FBI -- for any FBI agents to continue to do any functions that we requested of them.
17 Chairman Jordan. And I think you said in your experience, that was unusual?
18 Mr. Brady. Yes, sir.
19 Chairman Jordan. You had never seen that before?
20 Mr. Brady. Never.
21 Chairman Jordan. And then you also asked, I think specifically of the FBI to get
22 the DIOG, which is like this sort of manual on how things are done, what are the process
23 and steps involved in the investigation, and you were not permitted to have access to 24 that. Is that right?
25 Mr. Brady. That's correct. Because at the beginning, we were trying to just talk

1 through -- they said we want to open an assessment. We said, Well, let's talk about
2 that. What does that mean? What does that require under your processes under the 3 DIOG? So the best way to do that is let's just look at the book and understand that.
4 And they said we can't share that with you.
5 Chairman Jordan. Did the book follow the book, and they said, No, we're not 6 even going to look at the book?
7 Mr. Brady. They were. We were not permitted to look at it. Yes, sir.
8 Chairman Jordan. Right. They weren't going to let you. Okay. Then you
9 had communications with the PADAG and the FBI over this fact that there seemed to be a
10 reluctance -- I think is the term you used -- reluctance of the FBI to work with you and 11 give you the information that you thought was pertinent to your investigation. Is that 12 fair?
13 Mr. Brady. Yes, we had multiple conversations about specific issues that would 14 arise.
15 Chairman Jordan. And throughout this time when you're doing this back and
16 forth, have to go to the PADAG, all this going on, you finally get -- and let me make sure 17 I'm characterizing this right -- you finally get the original 1023 in early June of 2020. Is 18 that right?
19 Mr. Brady. That's correct.
20 Chairman Jordan. And did you feel like you should have had that information
21 sooner?
22 Mr. Brady. I don't --
23 Chairman Jordan. From January -- it took you 6 months, you've been asking for 24 it. You had to go to PADAG. They don't show you the DIOG. You finally get this 25 information in 6 months later.

1 Mr. Lelling. Well, was that initial reluctance from the FBI tied to the 1023, or it
2 was more generally?
3 Mr. Brady. Yeah, I think there were two different things at play here. I think 4 one was the general resistance, perhaps bureaucratic inertia of characterizing how we 5 were going to, you know, start our task, the steps, how that was going to work, the 6 approval process. When the 1023 was identified, the underlying 1023 in early June, we
7 were moving a little better. We were working together better. So I think that was a
8 function of just identifying that Washington Field Office, the WFO file that it contains, and 9 having that as a part of the search of what they were looking for. So I am not trying to 10 confuse, but just to kind of clarify there were issues throughout.
11 Chairman Jordan. Well, let me ask it this way: Were you a little surprised you
12 hadn't gotten that underlying kind of original 1023 sooner?
13 Mr. Wilkerson. Given the stops and starts and the issues that we had, I don't 14 know that I was surprised. We had a lot of issues with just having them follow our 15 requests.
16 Chairman Jordan. Okay. So you weren't surprised because it had been 17 a -- there had been a reluctance to accommodate a reluctance to work a slow walking
18 from the get-go. So it wasn't like, Oh, well, we got this information, we should have had 19 it sooner, but we finally got it now.
20 Mr. Brady. It was an ongoing issue.
21 Chairman Jordan. Got it. Got it. Now, also, based on what you said,
22 throughout the process, you said that the Delaware U.S. Attorney's Office wasn't willing 23 to cooperate, so much so that you had to send interrogatories?
24 Mr. Brady. Yes, we had conversations, asked for communication and a flow of 25 information, mostly one way from us to them, but also, as I testified, we wanted to make

1 sure we weren't duplicating what they were doing. They would not engage. And so
2 finally, after me calling Mr. Weiss and saying can you please talk to your team, this is 3 important, this is why we want to interact with them, the response that we got back is 4 you can submit your questions to our team in written form, which we did.
5 Chairman Jordan. And that was unusual?
6 Mr. Brady. I had never seen it before.
7 Chairman Jordan. Did the conversation go like you called up and say, Hey, David,
8 we're working together here. Can you start working with us? And then you get back,
9 send us the questions in writing. Is that how it went?
10 Mr. Brady. Yes, perhaps a little more colorful language. And then he said, I will 11 talk with my team, and then he got back to us.
12 Chairman Jordan. Can you give me any idea how colorful that language was?
13 Mr. Brady. I don't remember, sir.
14 Chairman Jordan. But it was colorful?
15 Mr. Brady. We're peers and friends, and we can speak frankly with each other.
16 Chairman Jordan. Okay. But that is -- in your time as an assistant U.S. attorney, 17 U.S. attorney, you ever seen anything like that?
18 Mr. Brady. Not where an office had to submit written interrogatories to another
19 office for permission.
20 Chairman Jordan. Okay. Now on the 14th, so just days before you're going to 21 have this final briefing with Delaware, on the 14th the story broke, that's when it went 22 public. Were you surprised that you didn't know about the existence of this laptop?
23 Mr. Brady. Yes.
24 Chairman Jordan. All right. I think anyone would be surprised. How about on 25 the 19th when 51 former intel officials signed a letter that -- you know, again, the context, of course, is we're just weeks before the most important election we have, the election of the President, 51 former intel officials signed this letter that then goes public. And then that letter is cited in the final debate and the Presidential campaign. Did that also surprise you as well?

Mr. Brady. I really didn't have a basis to know why they signed or did not sign to that letter given my purview of it.

Chairman Jordan. But the fact that the story broke on the 14th, that there was this laptop that the FBI had since prior to you even being assigned this task, had the laptop in the late fall of 2019, the fact that you didn't know about it, was -- is it fair to say, shocking?

Mr. Brady. It was surprising, yes, sir.

Chairman Jordan. Okay. And then finally on the 23rd when you had this briefing, the laptop didn't come up in the briefing from Delaware talking to you or you talking to Delaware; it didn't come up at all in that briefing.

Mr. Brady. Our briefing was us to them. They were in pure receipt mode. I don't know that they were offering anything about what they were doing. So we didn't bring it up in our briefing, no.

Chairman Jordan. Okay.

Mr. Brady. And again, our briefing was, here are specific actionable items and recommendations for your investigation.

Chairman Jordan. Did it come up in the briefing with the Eastern District of New York and the Southern District Of New York?

Mr. Brady. No, sir.

Chairman Jordan. Okay. Go ahead, [redacted]

BY [redacted]

1 Q And you said you were surprised about -- that you didn't know about the 2 laptop. Did you share that surprise with anyone, or did you get any other reactions from 3 individuals within your office?
4 A Just perhaps our team. We discussed it internally and --
5 Q So no one on your team knew about the laptop. Is that correct?
6 A No.
7 Q Did you get a sense of whether anyone in the Eastern District of New York or 8 Southern District of New York knew about the laptop prior to the October 14th story?
9 A I don't know. I have no knowledge.
10 Q At one point you --
11 Chairman Jordan. Let me ask you this: When you talked with your team, how 12 was that, if you can kind of characterize those conversations, was it like, can you believe
13 they didn't -- give me the tone. I don't know how I would -- I can't believe they wouldn't 14 share this with us. The Attorney General of the United States tasked us with coming to 15 the clearinghouse for this information on this very subject, and there's an important piece
16 of evidence they don't share with us? Was that the tone?
17 Mr. Lelling. Was your team surprised, too?
18 Mr. Brady. We were all surprised we would share that surprise. Yes.
19 Chairman Jordan. Okay. Thank you.
20 [redacted]
21 Q During one of our hours of questioning, you stated that there was false
22 representation, I believe, by the FBI, about what the work that you were doing. Do you 23 remember that conversation we were having?
24 A Yes.
25 Q And can you provide a little bit more context about who was making those representations? Was it headquarters? A field office?

A I don't know. Could I talk to Andy for one second?

Q Sure. We'll go off the record.

[Discussion off the record.]

Mr. Lelling. I'm sorry. I will instruct him not to answer that.

BY [redacted]

Q Okay. Is there anything else you can go into detail about regarding those representations that were made?

A We resolved them.

Q You resolved them. And did you have to reach out to anyone in order to resolve those? We'll go off the record.

[Discussion off the record.]

BY [redacted]

Q Back on the record.

A We resolved it through direct communications with senior members of the Department of Justice and senior members of the FBI.

Q Okay. And at the end of the last hour, you were discussing regarding the publication of the FD-1023. So there were two buckets. The protection of the CHS that there was FBI concern of the protection of the CHS, and then you also -- I think the second one was about reluctance. And I know you had an opportunity to talk about the first CHS protection, but can you expand upon the reluctance regarding the 1023 the FBI giving you?

A I'm sorry. I don't fully understand your question. So.

Q Yeah, at the end of the last hour, you described two buckets, and I just wanted to get a sense of the second bucket that you were talking about. You said CHS

1 protection and then reluctance. And the topic was the publication of the FD-1023 by
2 Senator Grassley and Representative Kilmer.
3 A So reluctance by the FBI? I am sorry, I don't --
4 Q I believe that's what you were saying, but I just wanted to give you an 5 opportunity if you wanted to talk about the second bucket of worry regarding the 6 publication of FD-1023.
7 A I could be misremembering this. I think what I was trying to differentiate 8 was that there was general reluctance with the tasking and issues that we had with the 9 FBI as bucket one. And then there was the 1023, specifically, in our interaction with the 10 FBI on that. So --
11 Q Okay.
12 A So I think the first bucket we kind of unpacked a good deal.
13 Chairman Jordan. Go to that second bucket. Tell me about -- so you learned in 14 early June about the original 1023. You want to talk to the confidential human source,
15 which you do, I think, on June 26th. What happened in that interim? Was there
16 pushback from the FBI there in those 20-some days?
17 Mr. Brady. There was. They were concerned with the protection of the source.
18 This was a valued CHS. Again, as we discussed in the previous hours, this was someone 19 known to them, was credible, they had -- he or she had given information in previous 20 investigations. And so, reengaging and having a follow-up interview, there was general
21 concern.
22 Chairman Jordan. Okay. There were concerns. This was the valued source,
23 and they had used this source before. And there's always those concerns when they are 24 going to be interviewed. But you felt it was important to do this interview nonetheless?
25 Mr. Brady. Correct, yes.

1 Chairman Jordan. And when you did the interview, you determined, you
2 reached the same conclusion that the FBI did that this individual was credible and what
3 he was saying -- you made the same determination that he was credible?
4 Mr. Lelling. I don't think you can answer that.
5 Well, you have discussed indicia of credibility.
6 Mr. Brady. Yeah, I think there's two different things, sir.
7 Chairman Jordan. Okay.
8 Mr. Brady. And perhaps parsing it this way might be helpful. I relied on the 9 FBI's assessment of the credibility of the CHS as a trusted source. I didn't have any 10 independent knowledge of that.
11 Chairman Jordan. Okay.
12 Mr. Brady. With respect to what's contained in the 1023, the indicia of 13 credibility were things that we were able to run to ground without a grand jury, and then
14 felt that it was sufficient, had sufficient indicia of credibility to then pass on to Delaware.
15 Chairman Jordan. Fair enough. Okay.
16 [redacted]
17 Q In the last hour, there was a discussion of some of the substance of the 18 FD-1023 and Mr. Shokin. And you discussed how in the final report, you noted a lack of 19 clarity. Can you describe that a little bit more? Was that based on publicly available
20 information?
21 A Yes, most of it was -- there was information we received from Mr. Giuliani on 22 a broad range of topics. But then we, our team, the FBI, in coordination with the 23 intelligence community, aggregated information, including inconsistent statements.
24 We're examining that. Again, our tasking was not to determine the basis and validity of 25 Mr. Shokin's firing and why that took place. We were running to ground investigatory

1 leads, and then passing that off to an office that had a broader purview of all of that and
2 the tools to run some of the specific allegations to ground.
3 So in our report to Mr. Donoghue in September, we summarized some of the 4 allegations that had been brought or alleged by Mr. Giuliani and noted where there
5 was -- either we had no basis of opining, or there was conflicting information. To the 6 best of our ability, again, we weren't going to draft a, you know, a comprehensive memo
7 just on that specific issue. But we tried to aggregate what we could.
8 Q Okay. And I know last hour there was also discussion about the DOJ policy
9 regarding elections and stopping, you know, DOJ actions prior to an election. Are you
10 familiar with Mr. Shapley's testimony that Delaware delayed, you know, some of its 11 investigative work to get into that 60- or 90-day window that the FBI would have to stop
12 overt actions?
13 A Generally aware, yes.
14 Q Did it concern you that the fact that the FBI had to go pin down several times
15 and stop their investigative activity that it would get closer and closer to the 2020
16 election?
17 A I viewed our entire tasking once Vice President Biden declared and was a
18 candidate for President. Even though there's that 60- or 90-day window in the policy, I 19 viewed that as incredibly sensitive from the very beginning and was to be treated as such 20 from January 3rd forward. So that was how our team kind of viewed that and dealt with 21 that. And then only later does that intersect with the specific date ranges in the DOJ
22 policy.
23 Q We can go off the record.
24 [Discussion off the record.]
25 [redacted]

1 Q It is 2:46. We can go back on the record. Mr. Brady, you made some
2 references earlier to Pittsburgh FBI field office having an acting SAC, that's an acting
3 special agent in charge, right?
4 A Correct.
5 Q I want to talk through the timeline on that.
6 A Okay.
7 Q So when you were -- first received the tasking on January 3rd, 2020, did FBI
8 Pittsburgh field office have an acting SAC at that time?
9 A No, not an acting. They had a regular SAC.
10 Q And then how long was that SAC there?
11 A I think he retired at the end of March of that year.
12 Q Okay. And on March 13th of that year, it was 2020, so that would have 13 been when the first COVID work-remote directives came into place, correct?
14 A I believe, yes. In the middle of March, correct.
15 Q So there's a permanent SAC, but at some point in mid-March, things kind of 16 get turned upside down. Is that fair to say?
17 A Yes.
18 Q So he retired at the end of March, and then there was -- and he was, I guess,
19 in January, or February, March, until he retired, he was kind of in the last, the end of his 20 career, correct?
21 A Yes.
22 Q He retired -- or she retired, they retired, and then there was some period of 23 time there was an acting SAC?
24 A Right. That's right.
25 Q How long was that?

1 A Certainly through -- I believe it was through April and May.
2 Q Okay.
3 A And then, I could have my dates wrong. I believe there was a replacement
4 that was either the end of May or the beginning of June.
5 Q Okay. So for approximately, probably all of April, maybe all of May into 6 early June, there was an acting SAC?
7 A That's right.
8 Q Okay. And during that time, it's still COVID, so there was still, you know,
9 everyone was still working remotely. There were the separation orders and everything
10 else in effect, right?
11 A Absolutely, yes.
12 Q Would you say that that impacted your office?
13 A Yes, it impacted every office, DOJ and FBI.
14 Q And could you briefly describe the impacts it had?
15 A We had to quickly move to an all-remote working environment, which was 16 certainly new to the Department. All the agencies had IT issues with that quick change.
17 It impacted our investigations, big and small. There was difficulty in traveling, in 18 meeting with witnesses in person. We had to have briefings and meetings that were 19 mostly remote and through video conference. So there was definitely an impact.
20 Q And this was across all of your investigations, right?
21 A Yes. Absolutely.
22 Q So not just this investigation but every investigation your staff worked on 23 was impacted by the COVID, the shutdowns, and the remote work requirements, correct?
24 A Yes, absolutely.
25 Q And FBI was also dealing with similar requirements, correct?

1 A They were, yes.

2 Q So FBI, again, looking at April, May, mid-March on, then had some

3 combination of an acting special agent in charge and also the office was dealing with

4 shutdowns and remote work situations, correct?

5 A Yes, absolutely.

6 Q Okay. And then you said that once there was a permanent SAC put in

7 place, that would have been early June-ish?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Things improved?

10 A Yes, this did.

11 Q And do you think that the assignment of a permanent SAC helped in that

12 process?

13 A I believe so. It was SAC who was experienced who had worked previously

14 in the Pittsburgh office, in the Pittsburgh field office and knew our office. I think he was

15 either vested with, or assumed more authority for decisionmaking. And so -- and also

16 understood that, you know, these were taskings that we needed to complete. They

17 were assigned by the Attorney General, so we needed to get them moving and complete

18 them, especially as we got further in the election season.

19 Q And you just said that he assumed more responsibility for decisionmaking.

20 Is it your experience that individuals in acting roles are sometimes reluctant to make

21 decisions?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And is that true in your experience with the prosecutor's offices as well?

24 A Yes, absolutely.

25 Q The Western District of Pennsylvania, specifically.

1 A Yes.

2 Q And why do you think that is?

3 A I think the authority granted to someone in an acting position, whether real 4 or perceived, is just more limited than someone who was either presidentially appointed,
5 or in the case of the FBI has, you know, been given the position of SAC by the director and
6 deputy director. I think the people who were acting are usually, in the near-term, after 7 we departed, there's turnover. First assistants. The first assistants are among the 8 most experienced prosecutors in the office. However, there's still a bit of reluctance to 9 make those decisions without, on either side, going up the chain for review and approval
10 in a different way than U.S. attorneys or SACs would.

11 Q And, again, that's kind of across the board in your experience in all
12 investigations, not this particular investigation, right?

13 A Yes, I think smaller ones. Certainly if it's, you know, drug, gun cases, they 14 have more confidence in making those kind of decisions locally. And sensitive 15 investigations are ones that impact the election year policy, they're certainly going to 16 treat that differently.

17 Q And it may be the case that an acting official hasn't handled many sensitive
18 investigative matters, correct?

19 A That could be yes, not in that position.

20 Q And so they may not feel confident in making those decisions for that reason
21 as well?

22 A Yes, that's fair.

23 Q With regard to the FBI, you referenced the deputy director a couple times.
24 That was David Bowdich. Is that right?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. And it was the case that when you -- when David Bowdich got
2 involved, that kind of cleared up the blockages, correct?
3 A Yes, absolutely.
4 Q It made things move through more quickly?
5 A Yes, so it resolved issues that required his opinion and intervention, yes.
6 Q So it's fair to say that the senior executives at the FBI, you know, had an 7 interest in making sure that this matter could proceed, right?
8 A Yeah, whether the deputy director or the director, we never had any issues
9 with them, and they were fully supportive of what we were doing.
10 Q Okay. Sorry for the pause.
11 A No, that's okay.
12 [Brady Exhibit No. 18
13 Was marked for identification.]
14 [redacted]
15 Q We want to introduce as exhibit No. 18 an October 17, 2020, article from the 16 Daily Beast. This is entitled: "Rudy: Only 50/50 Chance I Worked with a Russian Spy
17 to Dig Dirt on Bidens and Ukraine." Have you seen this before?
18 A If I could just have a minute to review it.
19 Q Absolutely. And I can tell you we have highlighted a sentence on page 5
20 that we're going to focus on, but feel free to take as long as you need to review it.
21 A Sure. Okay.
22 Q Have you had a chance to, a minute to review?
23 A Yes.
24 Q Okay. And this article, I want to note for the record, it is a Daily Beast
25 article, but it reports on an hour-long interview that the Daily Beast journalist had directly

1 with Mr. Giuliani, right? That's the text of the article.

2 A Yes.

3 Q So according to this article, Mr. Giuliani had a copy of the laptop, correct?

4 A I believe that's what it says, yes.

5 Q And you said in the prior hour that Mr. Giuliani passed along a lot of 6 information to you, right?

7 A Correct.

8 Q Can you describe the volume of information Mr. Giuliani passed along to

9 you?

10 A There were a lot of names, which included details allegedly derived from

11 those people, including, as I mentioned before, possible bank account records -- or I'm

12 sorry, bank account numbers, email addresses, cell phones that would purportedly point

13 towards evidence. There were a lot of -- there was information about a variety of 14 schemes and accusations not limited to Burisma and Mr. Biden. Some of it has been

15 part of a FOIA production, I believe.

16 Q So, but Mr. Giuliani had a copy of the laptop, he claimed. Did he provide 17 that to you?

18 A He did not.

19 Q So when you said earlier that you were surprised you hadn't seen the laptop,

20 were you surprised that Mr. Giuliani didn't produce it to you?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And why is that.

23 Mr. Lelling. I don't think you can go into that. You can say you were surprised.

24 [redacted]

25 Q You can't tell us why you were surprised?

1 Mr. Lelling. He can't characterize his rationale for his surprise. That's correct.

2 [redacted] Why is that? Just for the record, what is the reason?

3 Mr. Lelling. Because it gets too close to deliberative process concerns that the 4 Department has.

5 [redacted] It's deliberative process to explain why he was surprised that Giuliani

6 didn't give him something that Giuliani said he had public access to?

7 Mr. Lelling. Correct.

8 [redacted] Or publicly say he had access to.

9 Mr. Lelling. Well, if you want to fill in the answer to your question, that's fine.

10 I'm just telling you, you can't ask him.

11 [redacted] Okay. I am just noting the objection for the record. I understand 12 where you're coming from.

13 Mr. Brady. I was surprised.

14 BY [redacted]

15 Q Mr. Giuliani, in this article, says that he was the person who obtained the 16 laptop, correct?

17 A I'm sorry, I'm not trying to be obtrusive. Where does it say that?

18 Q So he said that he -- I'm sorry, that you were asked in the earlier hour about

19 The New York Post article regarding the laptop. And Mr. Giuliani says he was the source

20 of the leak to The New York Post?

21 A Oh, I see. Yes.

22 Q Okay. And Mr. Giuliani actually said that he -- and this is on page 5, this is a

23 quote from the article. And he gets paraphrasing Mr. Giuliani, but it's not a direct quote

24 from him -- but Giuliani said he viewed his latest leak to The New York Post as an

25 extension of his years'-long efforts to work with Ukrainians to dig up dirt on the Bidens,

1 correct?

2 A Correct.

3 Q So Mr. Giuliani is saying that the laptop that he had a copy of, he had

4 obtained from -- through his years' long work, or as an extension of his years' long work

5 to dig up dirt on the Bidens with the Ukrainians, right?

6 A That's a fair assumption. I don't know how we got there.

7 Q And turning back to page 3, we've had like -- and these highlightings, we did

8 add to that article. It's not highlighted in the article on the website.

9 A Sure.

10 Q Halfway down it says, Asked, for instance, whether he was concerned if the 11 material he may have obtained, in reference to the laptop, might be, in some way, be

12 linked to the hacking of Burisma last year, an act attributed to Russian intelligence.

13 Giuliani said, wouldn't matter, what's the difference. I read that correctly, right?

14 A You did, yes.

15 Q Would it have mattered to you as somebody reviewing evidence, vetting

16 evidence for, you know, indicia of credibility if it was possibly Russian sources, possibly

17 Russian intelligence?

18 Mr. Lelling. Don't answer that. They're essentially asking him for an expert

19 opinion on something Giuliani might have said.

20 BY [redacted]

21 Q Well, I'm just saying that -- would it have been -- as you were vetting the

22 information that you received, was it something -- would it have been of concern to

23 you -- let me rephrase that.

24 Was something that you were looking out for was whether the information could

25 be disinformation?

1 A Yes. That was a concern. That was an act of an ongoing concern with the 2 information that we received, including from Mr. Giuliani.
3 Q And that's actually a concern that Mr. Barr had said publicly as well, correct?
4 A Yes, I don't know if he said that specifically, but it was definitely a concern.
5 And he may have said that publicly.
6 Q And here Giuliani himself was saying, It might be Russian intelligence, it
7 might not, what's the difference. That's what Giuliani said here.
8 A That is, yes.
9 Q Okay.
10 A I'll turn it over to you.
11 BY [redacted]
12 Q Okay. You indicated during previous questioning a distinction between 13 information that you received during your assessment from Giuliani and information that 14 was not received or sourced from Giuliani. Is that a distinction that you wanted to 15 emphasize?
16 A I'm not sure if I am -- forgive me, I might be misremembering my testimony.
17 The distinction I made was that the 1023 wasn't derived from information we received
18 from Mr. Giuliani. We had the information from Mr. Giuliani, and then we had 19 developed work streams through discussions with other, either components within DOJ
20 or other Federal agencies to run certain things to ground. But it wasn't limited to just 21 Mr. Giuliani's information, yes.
22 Q Okay. Well, I think you indicated, and maybe this was in discussion of the 23 reluctance on the part of the -- some other DOJ officials in Delaware to receive 24 information from Giuliani. Did they express that kind of reluctance that was related to 25 Giuliani originating information?

1 A I saw what Mr. Shapley said. I don't remember those concerns being
2 expressed in that way. I think there was a general concern, a skepticism by everyone
3 involved relating to Mr. Giuliani's information. I think some of the concerns that
4 Delaware may have dealt with, not just keeping a close hold on very sensitive information
5 and what they're doing in their investigation, but making sure there are no leaks outside
6 of that, but it doesn't become public, and especially in an election year, which are 7 absolutely valid concerns.
8 Q Okay. But I thought you said something, specifically, when you were 9 talking about AUSA Wolf, that maybe she had expressed concerns about the credibility of 10 information that had come from Giuliani. Did you say something about that, or did I 11 misunderstand?
12 A I think the question was asked based on Mr. Shapley's testimony, and I said I
13 wasn't aware of those statements by Ms. Wolf.
14 Q Oh, okay.
15 A I wasn't personally aware.
16 Q Got it. Okay. Let's talk a little bit more. We just went through the 17 article that discussed, you know, some people's concerns about information originating 18 from Mr. Giuliani.
19 A Yes.
20 [Brady Exhibit No. 19
21 Was marked for identification.]
22 BY [redacted]
23 Q I want to mark as exhibit 19, another article. This is an October 24th, 2020,
24 article from Politico, entitled: Former Giuliani Associate Raises Questions About Hunter
25 Biden's, quote, "Hard Drive from Hell," end quote. Have you seen this article before?

1 A I'm not sure.

2 Q Okay.

3 A I may have.

4 Q Just take a minute to look at it, if you wouldn't mind. And as you look at it,

5 just kind of on the reporting that talks about the May 30th, 2019, meeting that Lev Parnas

6 described involving Giuliani and others.

7 I don't want to stop you reading the whole article, especially if you want the

8 context, but I am going to ask you about paragraph -- I guess it's the third full paragraph

9 on page 3, just so you understand where I am going.

10 A Okay. Oh, page 3?

11 Q Yeah, and it's the May 30th, 2019, there's reference to that, on the second

12 page also, so I just wanted you to be aware of that.

13 A Okay.

14 Q And then it kind of just goes into the middle of page 3.

15 A Okay. I'm almost done.

16 Q No worries. Take your time.

17 A Okay. Thank you.all right. Thanks. I am going to direct your attention,

18 first, to briefly to the second page and the third paragraph. There's just one line. In

19 this portion of the article, Mr. Lev Parnas is being quoted, and he is discussing a May 30th,

20 2019, meeting that he had involving Mr. Giuliani, Vitaly Pruss, who you mentioned earlier,

21 and himself. Did you glean that from your reading of the article?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And according to Mr. Parnas in this reporting, the first time that he and

24 Giuliani and the associates learned of this derogatory information that was on the hard

25 drive that people sometimes referred to as a laptop of Hunter Biden's was May 30th,

1 2019. So Mr. Parnas is identifying that date as the date that Giuliani and his associates
2 learned of this derogatory information, correct?
3 A Yes.
4 Q According to the article?
5 A Yes.
6 Q Okay. During the course of your investigation, had you ever received any 7 information that -- to that effect, that Mr. Giuliani was aware of this -- I keep calling it the 8 laptop because that's what people call it, but actually are you aware that it's just some 9 hard drives?
10 A Yes, but --
11 Q Okay.
12 A No, I was not aware.
13 Q Okay.
14 A I'm sorry, maybe I cut your question off.
15 Q No, no, no. So Mr. Giuliani first learned of the -- I am going to call it the 16 hard drive, because that's what it was, the hard drives, multiple. He learned of the 17 existence of those hard drives that were circulating around the world on May 30th, 2019,
18 according to the article, correct?
19 A Yes, that's correct.
20 Q Okay. And what I am asking you is, have you ever heard that during the 21 course of your investigation that Mr. Giuliani actually learned of the hard drive material
22 on May 30th, 2019?
23 A No, not during our 2020 vetting process, no.
24 Q Mr. Giuliani never shared anything about the hard drives or the laptop or 25 any of that in his material with you?

1 Mr. Lelling. Don't answer that.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Oh, you are not going to answer?

4 Mr. Lelling. I instruct him not to answer.

5 [redacted] He did answer earlier that the hard drive. That Mr. Giuliani did not

6 provide a hard drive.

7 Mr. Lelling. Okay.

8 Mr. Brady. He did not provide it. We were unaware of it.

9 BY [redacted]

10 Q All right. So moving on. To the third page in the article, this is, I guess,

11 the third full paragraph again. In here there's a description of this May 30th, 2019,

12 meeting involving Mr. Parnas, Vitaly Pruss, and Giuliani, and according to Mr. Parnas'

13 telling, there were some statements of Mr. Zlochevsky that were discussed, correct?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And these statements that are attributed to Mr. Zlochevsky here were again

16 about the Bidens, correct?

17 A Correct.

18 Q Okay. And according to the article Press told Giuliani at the May 30th,

19 2019, meeting that Mr. Zlochevsky had stated that he had, quote, "derogatory

20 information about Biden, and he was willing to share it with Giuliani if Giuliani would help

21 Zlochevsky, 'curry favor with the Department of Justice and help him with an extradition

22 request or other efforts by DOJ to investigate or prosecute Zlochevsky.'" Do you see

23 that allegation in the report?

24 A I see the first part, I'm sorry. I don't see the extradition.

25 Q Okay. So what it says in the article is that Zlochevsky was interested in

1 currying favor with the Department of Justice, correct?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Are you aware that Mr. Zlochevsky was accused of money laundering among 4 other financial crimes?

5 A I'm sorry, by which jurisdiction? I'm aware that there were allegations

6 regarding potential money laundering and Mr. Zlochevsky that were investigated by the 7 U.K. and by Ukrainian prosecutors. Could I just have one second?

8 Q Sure.

9 Mr. Lelling. I don't think he can give you further detail.

10 BY [redacted]

11 Q Okay. The allegation in this article is that Zlochevsky asked Giuliani to help

12 curry favor with the Department of Justice in exchange for derogatory information on the 13 Bidens, correct?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And regardless of what the favor was or what the curry favor was about, had

16 you ever heard that allegation that there was a proposal from Zlochevsky to Giuliani that

17 an exchange for some kind of favor with the Department of Justice, Mr. Zlochevsky would 18 offer Giuliani dirt on the Bidens?

19 A I don't believe I did at the time.

20 Q Okay.

21 A In 2020, I don't believe I was aware of that.

22 Q Of the allegation?

23 A Of that allegation, yes.

24 Q You're aware of it now as you sit here today?

25 A I am now.

1 Q Because of this article or something else?

2 A I believe because of this article.

3 Q Okay.

4 A There were a lot of statements made about that intersection among those

5 people and Mr. Zlochevsky. So I don't remember that specific allegation, but I am now

6 aware of it.

7 Q Okay. And in the course of your investigation, though, you had not

8 uncovered any reports of Zlochevsky making statements or asking Giuliani for favors. Is

9 that fair to say?

10 A Yes, I believe that's fair to say.

11 Q Okay.

12 A And just to be clear, there were other allegations relating to Mr. Zlochevsky

13 and actions he may or may not have taken allegedly in Ukraine and with respect to 14 certain prosecutions, but I don't remember that one specifically.

15 Q Okay. Did you remember any allegations that you came across involving 16 Zlochevsky and Giuliani, like, together, like their relationship?

17 A I don't remember, as I sit here.

18 Q Okay. When -- now Mr. Parnas --

19 A Oh, I'm sorry, could I clarify one thing? I know that as we talked about

20 earlier, Mr. Giuliani has had a number of podcasts, and has interviewed Shokin and a 21 number of people in Ukraine, that may have included Mr. Zlochevsky, I can't remember.

22 But as to your specific question, this allegation, I don't recall that.

23 Q Okay. Mr. Parnas, we talked about him a little bit earlier. You indicated

24 that you did not speak to Mr. Parnas during the course of your investigation?

25 A That's correct.

1 Q But you were aware that he was an associate of Mr. Giuliani, correct?
2 A Yes.
3 Q And you were aware that he had made statements regarding the matters
4 that were kind of at the subject of your investigation, the Ukraine, Bidens, and other
5 matters?
6 A Yes.
7 Q Okay. Were you also aware that he had provided evidence and 8 information to investigators during the impeachment?
9 A I don't believe I was.
10 Q Okay. And you already indicated that you didn't know about that 11 statement, that Mr. Giuliani had directed his associates to obtain for Mr. Zlochevsky,
12 correct?
13 A Correct.
14 Q Okay. And nothing else that Mr. Parnas had been involved in with respect 15 to that?
16 A That's correct. And as I said, you know, we cordoned that off as an SDNY
17 matter. So, any information that we received from Mr. Giuliani, for example, relating to 18 Mr. Parnas, we relayed to SDNY.
19 Q Okay. And I think that you had have made this clear, but I just want to be 20 very, very clear here. You've talked about indicia of reliability, or credibility, as you put 21 it, that were in the 1023. But you did not make an effort to, during the course of your 22 investigation, to determine whether Mr. Zlochevsky himself was a credible witness,
23 correct?
24 A Yes, that's fair. Yes, that's correct.
25 Q You were focused on the CHS when you talk about credibility as a source.

1 You said that the FBI had deemed him credible, correct?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And you understood that he had indicia of credibility, correct?

4 A Correct, from the FBI, yes.

5 Q But you didn't make an effort to determine whether Zlochevsky was a

6 reliable narrator, for example?

7 A That's correct, because of those conflicting statements that were in the

8 public.

9 [redacted] And along the same lines, you didn't make any effort to determine

10 what Zlochevsky's motivation might have been for providing information either to the 11 confidential human source or to Giuliani, correct?

12 Mr. Brady. That's correct.

13 BY [redacted]

14 Q I think this is going to be a brief line of questions. But in the previous hour,

15 you were asked some questions about the Auten assessment. It might have been the 16 first hour. Do you recall that?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And you said that you had no exposure to that or knowledge of whatever

19 that is from a professional standpoint within the DOJ. Is that right?

20 A Yes, I was not aware of that in 2020.

21 Q Okay. And the term "Auten assessment," as far as you know, you heard

22 that from public sources, news articles, or even this investigation. Is that fair?

23 A Public sources. I couldn't pick Brian Auten out of a lineup. I had no

24 knowledge of who he was or what he was doing.

25 Q Okay. So you don't even know if there was a quote, "Auten assessment."

1 Is that fair to say?

2 A That's correct. I have no knowledge of tat.

3 Q No more than any other person in the public would have, right?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q And you don't know who Brian Auten is?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q Okay. Can we just talk a little bit too. I have tried this once before. I

8 just want to be more precise when I'm asking these questions. You talk about, or you

9 talked about reluctance that you perceived on the part of the Delaware office to engage

10 with you. Is that right?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. And you kind of parsed that out a little bit in the other hour. I want

13 to ask you about reasons that one might be reluctant in that position. And this is, you

14 know, I am going to try to be specific here. Do you understand, as a United States

15 Attorney, the sensitivities and the legal requirements of protecting 6(e) material, correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And I know that you're an expert, so can you explain for the record. What 18 is rule 6(e)?

19 A 6(e) governs grand jury secrecy, and that any information that appears

20 before the grand jury that's derived as a part of the grand jury investigation -- and, in fact,

21 the existence or nonexistence of a grand jury investigation, and also including targets,

22 subjects, witnesses, is all covered by Rule 6(e) which is a rule that applies to all

23 prosecutors that that shall not be made public in any way.

24 Q And --

25 A -- with the exception of identifying a witness, I'm sorry. Strike that.

1 With the exception of identifying a subject or a target of the investigation at the
2 appropriate time in an investigation.
3 Q Okay. Rule 6(e) carries criminal penalties for violation in some instances,
4 correct?
5 A That's correct.
6 Q So it's a very serious matter for prosecutors to follow the rules under rule
7 6(e), correct?
8 A Absolutely, yes.
9 Q And at the time that your office was interacting with Lesley Wolf and other
10 members of the Delaware office, they had an open grand jury investigation, correct?
11 A Correct.
12 Q And so rule 6(e) applied to them with respect to any information that they 13 were sharing, correct?
14 A Yes, correct.
15 Q Okay. Do you think that it's a valid concern on the part of those AUSAs to 16 be very careful about the information that they're sharing when they have an open grand 17 jury investigation?
18 A Yes, absolutely.
19 Q Okay. Could that be one of the reasons that they chose to communicate in 20 writing versus in a less formal way?
21 A Possibly. Typically, U.S. attorney to U.S. attorney and AUSA to AUSA
22 communication is a little more open, but I don't want to opine as to, you know, what
23 Lesley Wolf or, you know, Mr. Weiss' motivations were. But 6(e) is always a concern, 24 and that is always one of the primary concerns in any investigation.
25 Q I just want to get down to something. With respect to this relationship, in

1 particular, that you had at this time between the district in Delaware and yourself, it was 2 sort of unusual, would you agree, to be in a position where you're in one U.S. attorney's 3 office district, and you're being asked to communicate with another district who has an
4 open grand jury investigation about their matter, right? That doesn't happen every day
5 when you don't have joint venue issues, or you're not prosecuting something that just 6 happens to be in your district that's related to their case, right?
7 A It was unique. I mean, as you identify sometimes, there are dual
8 investigations going on among U.S. attorney's offices. Sometimes the U.S. attorney's 9 office will, as a part of a separate investigation, identify and develop information and 10 evidence that they will share with a different office if they have an investigation into that 11 subject or target or matter.
12 Q Right.
13 A Again, that's kind of a one-way, one-way sharing. So, yes, this was a unique
14 arrangement in my experience.
15 Q And it was unique, in particular, because you didn't have an investigation.
16 You had this kind of unique assignment about vetting information that might relate to 17 other investigations, correct?
18 A Yes.
19 Q So you're being asked by a U.S. attorney who has an active grand jury
20 investigation and a full investigation that they're handling, you're being asked by them,
21 you know, to share information back and forth. Can you think of another time when 22 you were in that position where you didn't have a related investigation, but you had 23 information that might be relevant to their investigation, and you had to have a 24 relationship developed that would involve two-way sharing of information?
25 A That has happened.

1 [3:26 p.m.]

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q Okay.

4 A Not looking the same as this relationship, but I have had that, certainly

5 where we have to coordinate activities and make sure there's no conflict, there's no

6 overlap.

7 Q But I mean, vetting information, where your role is simply to vet information

8 and not, you know, conduct your own investigation. You're just vetting information,

9 right, in this case?

10 A Correct. Yes.

11 Q And the Delaware office is actually conducting a grand jury investigation,

12 right?

13 A Correct.

14 Q Okay. So have you ever had that situation before, where you're over here

15 vetting and then you're asked to interact with somebody who is actually conducting a

16 grand jury investigation?

17 A No.

18 Q Okay. So when Delaware is receiving information from you, there's no 6(e)

19 concern, right?

20 A Receiving from us --

21 Q From you. When it's going from you to them, there's no 6(e) concern

22 because you don't have a grand jury open, right?

23 A That's true. There's law enforcement information. There's high side or 24 classified or top secret information which we have to transmit in a SCIF.

25 Q Sure.

1 A But 6(e) is not a concern from our information unless it's information derived
2 from a grand jury investigation.
3 Q Okay. But in this case, you didn't have a grand jury, right?
4 A Correct. We did not, yes.
5 Q Okay. So you're not worried about 6(e) when you're sending information
6 to other offices, right?
7 A Not 6(e) specifically. That's fair. Yes.
8 Q But Delaware is potentially worried about 6(e) when they're sending 9 information your way. Is that right?
10 A 6(e) is always a concern, but typically prosecutors because we have the same 11 ethical obligations, if we receive 6(e) information, we have to treat it the same as if we 12 generated it.
13 Q Right.
14 A So typically, I have not seen that type of reluctance before. We always are 15 careful in sharing information back and forth, and make sure that only people who 16 absolutely need to know that will receive it.
17 Q Okay.
18 A But that was also a little unique in my experience. Both things were 19 unique.
20 Q I just want to drill down, when you say "reluctance," you're talking about 21 reluctance on the part of the Delaware Office to share information about their case with 22 you, right?
23 A That's correct. Yes.
24 Q And one of the reasons could be that they have concerns over 6(e) material;
25 fair to say?

1 A Fair. Possible. Yes.
2 Q Among other reasons, right?
3 A Yes. Uh-huh.
4 Q Okay. You also said that you wanted to give information to them, and you
5 did, in fact, brief them on the 1023 and other matters, correct?
6 A That's correct.
7 Q And they received that information, right?
8 A That's right.
9 Q Okay. They didn't tell you, no, keep it to yourself. Eventually, they 10 received the information that you wanted them to have, correct?
11 A Yes. Just going back to the public testimony relating to DAG Donoghue
12 ordering the Delaware Office to meet with us and receive that briefing, but I can't agree
13 with the premise, but eventually, we did the briefing, yes.
14 Q Okay. So you're saying that there was some reluctance, but eventually 15 they received the information that you wanted them to have?
16 A That's correct.
17 Q Okay. And that they did with it, you don't know because you weren't in a
18 position to be part of the investigation any longer?
19 A That's correct. Our tasking was complete.
20 Q Okay. And throughout this whole time when you're interacting with the 21 Delaware office and they're acting however they act, the person who is in charge of the 22 DOJ is who?
23 A Oh, General Barr.
24 Q Okay.
25 A Attorney General Barr.

1 Q And who is in charge of that investigation of Hunter Biden, Mr. Weiss,
2 correct?
3 A Mr. Weiss, correct.
4 Q And Mr. Weiss was an appointee of President Trump, correct?
5 A That's correct.
6 Q Do you have any reason to believe that Mr. Weiss was uninterested in fairly
7 and honestly prosecuting the case that he had in front of him?
8 A No.
9 Q Okay. You also mentioned that there was some friction or -- I don't know,
10 "friction" is the word I'm going use. But you can choose the word you want -- between 11 yourself, or your team, and some of the FBI officials when you were asking them to 12 perform specific tasks.
13 Is that fair to say?
14 A Yeah. So it wasn't friction as much as they weren't able to perform them
15 perhaps in the timing that we wanted because of the approval process the FBI had set up.
16 Q Okay. We talked about that quite a bit before. Would you attribute most 17 of that delay to the formal layers of approval that they now needed to deal with sensitive 18 matters like this?
19 A Yes. Yes. The layers of approval were unique, in my experience, but that 20 was a part of the reason for the delay, yes.
21 Q Okay. Did you have any reason to believe that the FBI agents and officials 22 you were working with were unprofessional, biased, or, in any way, unwilling to do their 23 jobs?
24 A The FBI agents that I had direct contact with, including SAC down in the 25 Pittsburgh field office, deputy director, and Director Wray, no, not at all. Very 1 professional, outstanding agents.

2 Q Okay. And ultimately, they did perform the tasks that you asked them to

3 perform, correct?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q Was there ever anything that you wanted to do in your investigation or 6 assessment that DOJ officials refused to let you do or FBI officials?

7 A No.

8 Q Okay. So you're satisfied that you did your job thoroughly when you were

9 asked to make this assessment?

10 A I am.

11 BY [redacted]

12 Q Mr. Weiss has told Congress that as of July 11 or July 10, 2023, as of 13 mid-July 2023, he had not requested special counsel status. Obviously, he later did in

14 August.

15 But do you have any information that would contradict that statement that prior

16 to July of this year, Mr. Weiss had never requested special counsel status?

17 A I have no information or knowledge about that topic at all.

18 Q Okay. Do you have any information or knowledge about the Central 19 District of California preventing Mr. Weiss from bringing any type of case?

20 A I do not.

21 Q Do you have any information or knowledge about the District of Columbia

22 preventing Mr. Weiss from bringing any type of case?

23 A Personal knowledge, no. I do not.

24 Q In fact, Mr. Weiss has said that nobody has ever stopped him or blocked him

25 from bringing charges in any judicial district in the country.

1 Do you have any information to contradict what Mr. Weiss has said?

2 A I do not.

3 Q Okay. Couple of quick wrap-up questions.

4 The name, Vitaly Pruss, has come up a couple of times.

5 Can you tell us if you were able to interview Mr. Pruss?

6 Mr. Lelling. No, he can't say that.

7 BY [redacted]

8 Q He was in the United States at that time, correct?

9 Do you know?

10 A I don't remember if he was or not.

11 Q Okay. All right. I think we're almost done.

12 You were U.S. attorney in Pittsburgh through, I think, you said the end of 13 February 2021, correct?

14 A Correct.

15 Q So you were there during the 2020 election, correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Are you aware of allegations that there was widespread voter fraud in 2020?

18 Mr. Lelling. You're a little outside the scope.

19 [redacted] All right. So he's declining. It's fine. I'm just making a record.

20 You're declining to answer?

21 Mr. Lelling. He's declining to answer.

22 BY [redacted]

23 Q Are you aware of allegations that President Biden was not fairly elected in 24 2020?

25 Mr. Lelling. Same. He's not going to answer questions on that subject.

1 [redacted] Okay.

2 BY [redacted]

3 Q And do you believe that President Biden was fairly elected in 2020?

4 Mr. Lelling. He's not going to answer that question.

5 [redacted] No more questions.

6 [redacted] All right. So we can go off the record.

7 [redacted] Thank you.

8 [Whereupon, at 3:33 p.m., the interview was concluded.]

1 [redacted] Good morning. This is a transcribed interview of Mr. Martin
2 Estrada, the U.S. Attorney for the Central District of California.
3 Chairman Jordan has requested this transcribed interview as part of the 4 committee's oversight of the Justice Department's handling of the investigation of Hunter
5 Biden.
6 The Committee on the Judiciary has legislative and oversight jurisdiction of the 7 Department pursuant to rule X of the Rules of the House of Representatives.
8 My name is [redacted]. I'm a staffer with the House Judiciary Committee with 9 Mr. Jordan.
10 I'll have the rest of my colleagues introduce themselves for you, starting with
11 [redacted]
12 [redacted] with Chairman Jordan's staff.
13 [redacted], Chairman Jordan's staff.
14 [redacted] Ranking Member Nadler's staff.
15 [redacted] Ranking Member Nadler's staff.

21 [redacted], Chairman Jordan's staff.
22 [redacted], Chairman Jordan's staff.
23 [redacted] Chairman Jordan.
24 [redacted] Chairman Jordan's staff.
25 [redacted] I understand you're here with DOJ counsel.

1 Would you introduce yourselves for the record.

2 Ms. Zdeb. Sara Zdeb, Department of Justice.

3 Ms. Gao. Greta Gao, Department of Justice.

4 [redacted] And you understand the Department lawyers have a duty to 5 represent the Department, not you personally?

6 Mr. Estrada. I understand they represent the Department and I'm an employee

7 of the Department.

8 [redacted] Okay. But, to the extent your interests diverge, they represent the 9 Department, and you're comfortable with that?

10 Mr. Estrada. I'm comfortable with them representing the Department and me

11 being an employee of the Department and testifying here voluntarily.

12 [redacted] Okay. We will have questions for you. We'll go in rounds. First,

13 the majority will ask questions for an hour. Then the minority will go for an hour. We

14 often takes breaks at the end of each hour or whenever you'd like. You're here

15 voluntarily, of course, so to the extent you want to confer with DOJ counsel or take a 16 break for any reason or no reason, feel free to do that.

17 We'd like to make your experience here today as comfortable as possible, given

18 the fact that we have a court reporter, and it's not necessarily a, obviously, comfortable

19 environment.

20 We'll do our best to limit the number of people asking you questions just for the

21 benefit of the court reporter. Usually, it's just one person per round, and then maybe a

22 second jumps in to ask a clarifying question, but we will do our best to keep it limited.

23 We want you to answer our questions in the most complete and truthful manner

24 as possible. If you have any questions or if you don't understand one of our questions,

25 let us know.

1 If you don't know the answer to a question or you don't remember, it's best not to
2 guess. Please give us your best recollection, and it's okay to tell us if you learned of 3 information from somebody else. The hearsay rules and so forth don't apply in this 4 setting.
5 You understand you're required to be truthful in the questioning with Congress?
6 Mr. Estrada. Yes.
7 [redacted] And 18 United States code 1001 makes it a crime to knowingly
8 provide false or misleading information to Congress.
9 You're aware of that?
10 Mr. Estrada. Yes. I'm familiar with 1001.
11 [redacted] And we say that to all witnesses, so certainly mean no disrespect.
12 Obviously, as a U.S. Attorney, you are very familiar with those obligations.
13 Mr. Estrada. Understood.
14 [redacted] We will -- to the extent we mark exhibits, we'll keep them. So, you 15 know, we try to keep as much of the proceedings confidential as we can.
16 That's the end of my welcoming remarks.
17 [redacted] do you have any greetings?
18 [redacted]. We would just thank the witness for traveling cross-country to join us
19 today.
20 Mr. Estrada. Thank you.
21 [redacted]. Ms. Zdeb, would you like to offer your welcoming remarks?
22 Ms. Zdeb. I would. Thank you. As you acknowledged, Mr. Estrada is here
23 voluntarily and, as you know, the committee's inquiry implicates an ongoing criminal 24 investigation and prosecution.
25 At this juncture, Mr. Estrada is going to be able to answer questions that can be

1 answered without compromising the ongoing matter. Specifically, the Department has
2 authorized him to discuss United States Attorney Weiss' authority, and this includes the
3 committee's interest in whether Mr. Estrada and his office somehow prevented or denied
4 Mr. Weiss the ability to bring charges related to his investigation in the Central District of 5 California. There may be some additional information Mr. Estrada can share, depending 6 on the question and, again, consistent with the need to protect the ongoing investigation
7 and prosecution.
8 To the extent you have questions outside the scope of what the Department has 9 authorized him to discuss at this juncture, we reiterate our willingness, as always, to take 10 those questions back and consider what additional information might be able to be 11 shared at a future juncture. But, that said, our goal is to facilitate Mr. Estrada in sharing 12 as much information as he can today, consistent with the scope of his authorization.
13 [redacted] All right. Thank you.
14 EXAMINATION
15 [redacted]
16 Q Sir, when were you nominated to be the U.S. Attorney?
17 A I don't recall the exact date, but I believe it was in June of 2022.
18 Q Okay. And you were confirmed by the Senate subsequently in September,
19 as I understand it?
20 A I was confirmed by the Senate. I don't know the exact timeframe, but I
21 believe it was around the September timeframe.
22 Q Okay. And you were sworn in as the U.S. Attorney shortly thereafter?
23 A Yes.
24 Q And do you know the date?
25 A I know the date I took the seat, which was September 19th of 2022.

1 Q Okay. And, prior to joining the U.S. Attorney's Office, what was your
2 experience with the Justice Department?
3 A Can you repeat the question, please?
4 Q Prior to joining the U.S. Attorney's Office in September of 2022, what was 5 your DOJ experience?
6 A Okay. So my DOJ experience was I previously served as an Assistant United 7 States Attorney for about 7 and a half years, from 2007 through 2014. I externed for the 8 U.S. Attorney's Office as well in the summer of 2000.
9 Q Okay. How many attorneys are there in your office?
10 A There are about 300 attorneys that cover both civil matters, tax matters,
11 criminal matters and national security matters.
12 Q And how is your -- how is the office organized?
13 A So we have five divisions. We have an Administrative Division, which is 14 mostly staff and -- professional staff and nonattorneys. Then we have a Tax Division,
15 which handles mostly civil tax matters. We have a Civil Division, which handles defense
16 of the government and also forms of litigation dealing with civil rights and civil fraud.
17 We also have a National Security Division, which handles matters of national security and 18 cyber matters. And we have a Criminal Division, which handles all criminal prosecutions
19 that don't fall within the ambit of national security.
20 Q Okay. And, as far as reporting up to Main Justice, how does that work for 21 you in your office? Who do you report to at headquarters?
22 A So, in terms of the organizational chart, I am under the Deputy Attorney
23 General, who is currently Lisa Monaco. But, in terms of reporting, we operate
24 somewhat independently. And certainly in terms of the cases we choose to litigate on 25 the civil side, tax side, criminal side, national security side, we operate independently.

1 But, obviously, there's a collaborative relationship with the folks at Main Justice.

2 Q In terms of the DAG's office, who is your primary contact?

3 A Primarily, the Deputy Attorney General and also her principal assistant.

4 Q Is that Mr. Miller?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Anyone else in the DAG's office that you have frequent communication with?

7 A I have communications on occasion with others in the Deputy Attorney

8 General's Office in different areas, such as national security, when we talk about cyber

9 matters, things of that sort, but no regular communication.

10 Q Okay. As it relates to the Hunter Biden matter, did you have any

11 communications with the DAG's Office?

12 A None.

13 Q So you didn't have any emails or telephone calls with Marshall Miller, the 14 PADAG, on this topic?

15 A No. But I should qualify that. When you're talking about the Hunter

16 Biden matter, I'm referring to my dealings with Mr. Weiss. I did have communications

17 with a career attorney within the Office of the Deputy Attorney General, Brad

18 Weinsheimer, when I got contacted by the media in the spring of 2023 and also with

19 regard to the testimony I'm giving here today. But that's the only contact I've had with 20 anyone within the Office of the Deputy Attorney General.

21 Q And what were the nature of the contact you had with Mr. Weinsheimer?

22 A So, most recently, I received a letter on October 18th of 2023, authorizing

23 me to appear before this committee but also limiting the scope of what I can discuss

24 before this committee. And then, previously, in the spring of 2023, when I received

25 media inquiries to discuss what statement I would be making to the media.

1 Q Okay. And what statement did you make to the media?

2 A I don't know the exact statement. It's probably a matter of public record.

3 But it was something to the effect of, as the Attorney General has stated, U.S. Attorney

4 Weiss had full authority to conduct the investigation, prosecute the case as he saw fit.

5 Q Okay. And the letter from Mr. Weinsheimer about your testimony here

6 today, is that something you can provide to the committee?

7 A It is something that I had received, but in order to provide anything, I need

8 to consult with Department of Justice attorneys, given I'm an employee of the 9 Department of Justice. So I'll consult with them and see what their position is.

10 Ms. Zdeb. If the committee is requesting the letter, we can provide it. I don't 11 have it with me today, but we can share it with you.

12 [redacted]. That would be great. Thank you. Is this the same basic letter that 13 we've seen for other witnesses?

14 Ms. Zdeb. I think that the letter will speak for itself. It is tailored to Mr.

15 Estrada, but otherwise it is the same.

16 [redacted]. But is it materially different than the one we had for Mr. Graves, the 17 other U.S. Attorney that we spoke with?

18 Ms. Zdeb. Well, insofar as it pertains to the Central District of California and not

19 the District of Columbia. Otherwise, the scope of the authorization is the same in that 20 neither one of them can speak about the ongoing investigation.

21 [redacted] Okay. But you'll give us a copy of that?

22 Ms. Zdeb. Yes.

23 [redacted]. Okay.

24 [redacted]

25 Q How often does your office interact with the Tax Division out of Main Justice,

1 and can you explain that ordinary relationship?

2 A So there's some interaction between my office and the Tax Division. We

3 need Tax Division authorization to file certain tax charges. I don't know those specific

4 code sections off the top of my mind, but there are certain ones that we need

5 authorization for. But that would be done at the line and supervisory level, not myself.

6 Q Okay.

7 A I have had no interactions directly with the Tax Division myself since

8 becoming U.S. Attorney.

9 Q Okay. So you haven't had any communications with Mr. Goldberg,

10 the head of the Tax Division?

11 A No, I have not.

12 Ms. Zdeb. Could I just clarify for the record. Mr. Goldberg is not the head of 13 the Tax Division. And I know that the committee is scheduled to hear from him.

14 [redacted] Okay.

15 Ms. Zdeb. But he is an Acting Deputy Assistant Attorney General in the Tax

16 Division.

17 [redacted]. Is he the top official in the Tax Division?

18 Ms. Zdeb. Well, you can ask him tomorrow.

19 [redacted] Okay. Is there someone more senior to him? I mean, should I be 20 asking about a different witness -- or a different individual?

21 Ms. Zdeb. You should -- I wouldn't presume to tell you who you should be asking

22 about. I'm simply saying he is the Acting Deputy Assistant Attorney General.

23 [redacted] Okay.

24 BY [redacted]

25 Q Do you know who is the top official in the Tax Division --

1 A No.

2 Q -- at Main Justice?

3 A I do not.

4 Q You do not, okay.

5 A No.

6 Q If there is a disagreement between your office and DOJ Tax about

7 proceeding on a tax matter, how is that ordinarily resolved?

8 A I haven't had that situation come up during my tenure, so I don't know how

9 it's normally resolved. But the Tax Division can, just like many components of the 10 Department of Justice, I believe can bring cases in whatever district they would choose to

11 bring the cases, just like my office can bring cases in our district that we believe are 12 appropriate to bring.

13 Q Right. But, if your office is bringing a tax case, there's certain types of tax

14 cases where before you bring it you have to get the okay, the authorization of DOJ Tax

15 out of headquarters, correct?

16 A Certain statutes you need to get authorization from the Tax Division, yes.

17 Q Okay. And, in your experience, has there ever been a disagreement

18 between your line AUSAs and the Tax Division on how to proceed?

19 A Not that I'm aware of. But, again, these issues and questions don't usually

20 rise to my level. I usually don't deal with disputes between line attorneys and folks in

21 the Tax Division about tax prosecutions. So they may have happened. I'm just not

22 aware.

23 Q Okay. How does it ordinarily work when a U.S. Attorney from outside of 24 your district has a case that needs to be venued in your district?

25 A So there are often prosecutions by other districts that touch on our district.

1 Generally speaking, those are cases that can be venued in multiple jurisdictions, and they
2 happen to be prosecuted by a different jurisdiction.
3 We generally will support that prosecution. If search warrants need to be 4 executed, if process needs to be done, we'll support that. But, generally, they are 5 prosecuted out of the district where the investigation arose.
6 Q Okay. And how does it ordinarily work? Like, what does support look like
7 when you need to support a U.S. Attorney from a different district move a case in your
8 district?
9 A So I think -- I just want to be clear on what we're talking about, move a case
10 in our district. The more typical thing -- I'll give you an example: Varsity Blues, which 11 was prosecuted by the District of Massachusetts. It was -- involved many defendants in 12 our district, so they executed search warrants there, and we assisted with those search 13 warrants.
14 But, ultimately, all those defendants were called to appear in the District of 15 Massachusetts, and the case was prosecuted in the courts of the District of 16 Massachusetts. That is a more typical scenario.
17 Q Okay. Is it ever the case where a U.S. Attorney from outside of your district
18 prosecutes a case in the Central District of California?
19 A I have not had that occur during my tenure.
20 Q Okay. Are you aware, has it occurred in the past before your tenure?
21 A I'm not aware of it occurring in the past. It could have happened. It could 22 not have happened. I'm just not aware.
23 Q So, if a case arises in a different district but has venue in your district, how 24 does that ordinarily resolve, get resolved?
25 A So I don't think there's an ordinary process there that I'm familiar with.

1 Generally speaking, that situation doesn't arise where another district is prosecuting a
2 case that can only be venued in our district.
3 I'm aware of at least one instance in the past where a court issued an order that
4 venue was improper in a certain district so it had to be transferred to our district. And
5 the AUSAs from that office prosecuted the case in our office because it was transferred,
6 but that was under a court order.
7 Q Okay. And how did that work? Did you need to provide them special U.S.
8 Attorney status or --
9 A So they would become appointed special assistant United States attorneys,
10 otherwise known as SAUSAs. That gives them the permission to litigate within our 11 district. And that's my understanding what occurred. And then those attorneys from 12 the other district handled the case entirely.
13 Q Okay. So you didn't -- there wasn't an AUSA from the Central District of 14 California on that prosecution team?
15 A On the prosecution I'm thinking of, there was not.
16 Q Was that particular matter -- did that occur before you were the U.S.
17 Attorney?
18 A That occurred when I was an Assistant United States Attorney.
19 Q During your tenure as an AUSA, did any other case like that occur?
20 A Not that I'm familiar with, but I was one AUSA, one criminal AUSA out of 21 180. So that's all I was aware of.
22 Q Okay. When did you first learn that the Hunter Biden case might have a
23 nexus with your district?
24 A I first learned about -- that there was a Hunter Biden investigation touching
25 on our district shortly after taking the seat. So it would have been late September 2022

1 or early October 2022.

2 Q How did you learn about that?

3 A I learned from attorneys in my office, career attorneys in my office, that
4 there was a request from the District of Delaware to partner or cocounsel on certain 5 charges that they were investigating; that our career attorneys had communicated that 6 they were recommending against partnering or cocounseling in the charges being 7 contemplated; and that the District of Delaware, through Mr. Weiss, wanted to speak to 8 me about that.

9 Q When did the District of Delaware Attorneys first contact your office on this
10 case?

11 A That I don't know, when they first contacted -- my office -- just to give some 12 context, we have 300 lawyers but, at the time I came in, about 140 criminal AUSAs. We 13 were down about 40 bodies in the criminal section. But nonetheless, we have a district
14 of almost 20 million people, the largest district in the country.

15 I don't deal with cases on a day-to-day basis. I rely on section chiefs. The 16 Criminal Divisions are separated into sections, and there are deputy chiefs within those 17 sections. They deal with the day-to-day running of cases. I don't deal with those 18 matters unless, of course, it -- they rise an issue -- they raise an issue that I need to look 19 at.

20 So there may have been interaction at the line level or the deputy chief or the 21 chief level with the District of Delaware, but I would not be aware of when that would 22 have started.

23 Q So what do you recall when this matter was first brought to your attention?
24 Like, who brought it to your attention and when was it? Was it late September or early 25 October?

1 A There's a few questions there. So the timing, late September-early October
