Who owns the news? NOW YOU DO!

A large number of top reporters have left their main stream publications to prepare for the "second coming of free speech". Many new publication outlets have already started launching, with some of the best reporters in the world on staff.

Who owns the news? You do?

Today, only a handful of people own all of the news publications, radio and TV that you see daily. That is why you only see the same handful of "approved" stories, the stories written to upset the least number of owners and sponsors, in all of the mainstream outlets. The public has soundly rejected "condensed cream of information". Now, the smart part of the public gets what it wants.

The new News is HERE.

New News opens the doors of transparency and information like you have never seen in this decade:

The World Post with Huffington and the Homeless Billionaire

ProPublica with tons of great private eye reporters

Drudge Report with attitude

First Look with Glenn Greenwald and the not-so-homeless Billionaire

Somo News with EVERYBODY
