

Documenting the Saga of The THOUSANDS of Meat Puppet Accounts Elon Musk Uses

Elon's Claims:

- He has a softcore character who farmed NINE citadels within the first 11 days of launch. The launch was on 12-6-2024, this video was recorded was on 12-17-2024.
- He had the #59 hardcore character 'Kekius Maximus'
- He \(as of posting this\) has the #21 hardcore character 'Percy_Verence'
- He has 'several' other hardcore characters who have died

If true, one would expect a decent baseline understanding of the how the game works (picking up items, entering maps, etc.).

Suspicious Instances From Elon's Streams:

- He does not seem to know to use a mana flask when out of mana \(10+ seconds\)
- He does not seem to understand that you can only run connected atlas nodes despite the account having characters at levels which would imply he has run 100s to 1000s of maps.
- He picks up items by dragging them into his inventory manually
- He seemingly struggles to understand why he cannot pick up an item when his inventory is full
- The "Four Things" comment possibly indicating he does not know what the 'map things' are
- He believes his gear is lacking due to it being "low level" he is unsatisfied that his gear is "level 65" appearing to not understanding the difference between item level and required level.
- Implies the Hand of Wisdom and Action unique could be a higher level than 52
- The account he is on puts their maps in a tab called "Elon's Map" if it was a one player only account wouldn't it just be 'maps'?

Unconfirmed Suspicious Activity :

- Rumored here - When players have whispered his account (MonkeBiznizz) to buy items through trade, the message defaulted to Chinese, indicating the account plays on a server that speaks primarily Chinese.
- Also allegedly the names of trade stash tabs belonging to Elon's account were in Chinese, indicating whoever is managing the stash prefers Chinese to English.
- Cannot confirm since the image links no longer work & the account he is playing on has delisted it's trade items.

Generally Suspicious Activity:

- No loot filter despite being multiple characters deep and on the hardcore leaderboard

- Generally enters maps with a full inventory and does not seem to know what to remove from his inventory to make space
- Generally he does not seem to understand which items to pick up (exalted/chaos/etc) but will pick up low tier maps (seemingly because the base loot filter highlights them).

Wondering what other folks think as well!

Edit: various typos & added links to hardcore characters

Good list. On top, his character movement is abysmal - pay attention to how he explores an area and how the cursor is placed. That's not how you end up in the top 20 in HC as a new player - in F'in PoE - on a melee class. He clearly hasn't played "his" character longer than a few hours, he teleports around like someone on crack while fighting a boss - missing his entire damage window. He only is able to kill stuff because his entire gear is pretty good for the unjuiced content he is running.
