

Thousands Of Google Employees REVOLT Demand Company Stop Supporting US War Machine

More than 3,100 Google employees are calling for the cancellation of a controversial drone program and saying that they want out of the business war.

By John Vibes -

Sh. 2K

Tw

+1

Pir

Sh

2K

Last month, a press leak revealed that Google has been working with the U.S. Department of Defense on a drone program called "Project Maven," which is being developed to scan images in drone footage and identify targets.