

WELCOME TO: "CRASH THE PIGS"

A powerful person has been accused of misconduct at a rate of nearly once every 20 hours since Weinstein

Since Harvey Weinstein was accused of sexual harassment and assault on Oct. 5, nearly 100 powerful people have been accused of sexual harassment. Here's where these accusations currently stand.

By Swetha Kannan and Priya Krishnakumar

Dec. 29, 2017

The industries

Fifty-one people accused of sexual harassment, assault or misconduct work in arts and entertainment.

Eighteen work in politics.

Twenty-one work in media.

Four work from the hospitality industry, including the restaurant and hotel business.

Four work in technology, sports, venture capitalism or other industries.

ADVERTISEMENT

Oct. 5 Dec. 28

1

Oct. 5

Harvey Weinstein

Co-founder of Miramax and the Weinstein Co.

Accused of: Rape, forcible oral sex, masturbating in front of women, indecent exposure, groping, kissing, asking for massages, voyeurism, sexual requests in exchange for industry access, physical assault and intimidation

Number of accusers: 84

Response: Weinstein sent a response to the New York Times following the initial allegations, saying, "I appreciate the way I've behaved with colleagues in the past has caused a lot of pain, and I sincerely apologize for it." In response to allegations in the New Yorker, Sallie Hofmeister, a spokesperson for Weinstein, stated, "Any allegations of non-consensual sex are unequivocally denied by Mr. Weinstein." Weinstein has since denied various accusations, including those from Lupita Nyong'o, Salma Hayek and Mira Sorvino. Source

Result: Fired from the board of the Weinstein Co. and resigned from the Directors Guild of America. He was expelled from the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and is also under investigation by police departments in Los Angeles, New York and London. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

2

Oct. 5

Andy Signore

Creator of "Honest Trailers" YouTube channel

Accused of: Propositioning, lewd comments, intimidation

Number of accusers: 2

Response: Denied the accusations to the New York Times through a statement from his lawyer, Yana Henriks. Source

Result: Fired from Defy Media and Screen Junkies. Source

Photo: Associated Press

3

Oct. 11

Ben Affleck

Actor and director

Accused of: Groping

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Affleck directly addressed his accuser, Hilarie Burton, via Twitter, saying, "I acted inappropriately toward Ms. Burton and I sincerely apologize." Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

4

Oct. 12

Roy Price

Former head of Amazon Studios

Accused of: Propositioning a TV producer and making lewd comments

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Price has yet to comment on the allegations.
Representatives for Price did not immediately respond to The Times' request for comment on Dec 26. Source

Result: Price has resigned from position at Amazon. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

5

Oct. 17

Chris Savino

Showrunner and creator of Nickelodeon's "The Loud House"

Accused of: Sexual requests in exchange for industry access, intimidation, sending lewd text messages to a colleague

Number of accusers: 12

Response: In a Facebook post that has since been deleted, Savino says, "Although it was never my intention, I now understand that the impact of my actions and communications created an unacceptable environment." Source

Result: Savino has been fired from Nickelodeon. Source

Photo: Getty Images

6

Oct. 17

Bob Weinstein

Current head of the Weinstein Co. and brother of Harvey Weinstein

Accused of: Making repeated romantic overtures to an executive producer, propositioning

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Bert Fields, Weinstein's lawyer, said in a response to Variety, "There is no way in the world that Bob Weinstein is guilty of sexual harassment." Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

7

Oct. 18

Cliff Hite

Ohio state senator

Accused of: Propositioning, lewd comments, online harassment, workplace harassment

Number of accusers: 1

Response: In a statement posted to Twitter, Hite wrote: "I recognize that this was inappropriate behavior. She deserves more respect than that and so does my wife." Source

Result: Hite resigned from his seat in the Ohio Senate on Oct. 17. Source

8

Oct. 19

Robert Scoble

Blogger and well-known figure in technology

Accused of: Groping

Number of accusers: 4

Response: After initially posting an apology on Facebook, Scoble deleted the post and posted on his blog, challenging the reporting of TechCrunch and Business Insider. "Even the most rudimentary fact check by news outlets would have caught a few obvious things ... I don't have employees, I don't cut checks for investment. None of the women who came forward were ever in a position where I could make or break their careers." He also responded to the allegations directly: "Each of the women who have come forward used grains of truth to sell false narrative."

Source

Result: Scoble has resigned from his augmented reality company. Source

Photo: Getty Images

9

Oct. 19

Lockhart Steele

Former editorial director of Vox Media

Accused of: Admitted to inappropriate conduct, but no specific details have been provided publicly

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Steele has not responded directly, but Vox's CEO said in a statement to the company that Steele had "admitted engaging in conduct that is inconsistent with [Vox's] core values.”

Source

Result: Fired from Vox Media Source

Photo: Associated Press

10

Oct. 20

Tyler Grasham

Former APA agent who represented "Stranger Things" actor Finn Wolfhard

Accused of: Propositioning, groping, intimidation, harassing phone calls

Number of accusers: 8

Response: Grasham has not responded to numerous requests for comment, including to a note by a Times reporter left at the door of his home. Source

Result: Grasham has been fired from APA and placed under investigation by the LAPD after one of his accusers filed a police report against him Source

Photo: Shutterstock

11

Oct. 21

John Besh

New Orleans-based chef with notable appearances on TV shows such as "Top Chef"

Accused of: Groping, kissing, oral sex, intimidation, workplace harassment

Number of accusers: 25

Response: In a statement initially posted by the Times-Picayune, Besh said he wanted to “apologize to anyone past and present who has worked for me who found my behavior as unacceptable as I do.” Source

Result: Besh has resigned from his restaurant group. Source

Photo: Getty Images

12

Oct. 22

James Toback

Director, screenwriter and actor

Accused of: Sexual requests in exchange for industry access, masturbating in front of women, groping, physical assault and intimidation

Number of accusers: The Times has reported receiving more than 200 accusations on top of our initial 38 accusations.

Response: Toback has denied the allegations against him in statements to The Times, saying he had never met the women or, if he did, it “was for five minutes and have no recollection.” He also repeatedly claimed that for the last 22 years it had been “biologically impossible” for him to engage in the behavior described by his accusers. Source

Result: Toback is under investigation by the Beverly Hills Police Department. Source

Photo: Getty Images

13

Oct. 24

George H.W. Bush

41st president of the United States

Accused of: Groping

Number of accusers: 7

Response: A statement released by Bush's camp denied the allegations, saying, "At age 93, President Bush has been confined to a wheelchair for roughly five years, so his arm falls on the lower waist of people with whom he takes pictures." Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Associated Press

14

Oct. 24

Leon Wieseltier

Former editor at the New Republic

Accused of: Kissing, lewd comments, workplace harassment

Number of accusers: In its initial report, the New York Times mentioned "several" women involved in an email chain detailing sexual harassment involving Wieseltier.

Response: In a statement initially reported by Politico, Wieseltier wrote: "For my offenses against some of my colleagues in the past I offer a shaken apology and ask for their forgiveness."

Source

Result: Wieseltier's upcoming projects have been suspended.

Source

Photo: Associated Press

15

Oct. 25

Knight Landesman

Former publisher of Artforum magazine

Accused of: Groping, kissing, sending lewd messages, intimidation

Number of accusers: 9

Response: In an emailed statement to Artnet, Landesman said, "I have never willfully or intentionally harmed anyone. However, I am fully engaged in seeking help to ensure that my behavior with both friends and colleagues is above reproach in the future." Source

Result: Landesman has resigned from the magazine. Source

Photo: WireImage

16

Oct. 25

Mark Halperin

Political journalist and author

Accused of: Propositioning women, groping, masturbating in front of women

Number of accusers: 12

Response: Halperin has denied allegations that he masturbated in front of or physically assaulted anyone. But on his Twitter account, he issued a broad apology for his behavior during his 10-year tenure at ABC. He added that he did not engage in “improper behavior” with colleagues and subordinates at subsequent jobs at Time Inc., Bloomberg News, NBC News or Showtime. Source

Result: Halperin was fired from MSNBC and NBC, and his upcoming collaborations with HBO and Penguin Press have been canceled. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

17

Oct. 26

Rick Najera

CBS Diversity Showcase director

Accused of: Propositioning, lewd comments

Number of accusers: Najera left CBS following an investigation into allegations of sexual harassment. No number of accusers was given.

Response: On his webpage, Rick Najera and his family denied accusations, saying, "It's unbelievable that a diversity program I directed and we supported for more than a decade would be twisted against me." Source

Result: Najera has resigned from the Diversity Comedy Showcase. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

18

Oct. 26

Ken Baker

E! News senior correspondent

Accused of: Propositioning, lewd comments and messages

Number of accusers: 2

Response: In a statement to the Wrap, Baker wrote: "To be clear: I was never asked to step down, and I have not been found guilty of anything that's been alleged." Source

Result: Baker parted ways with E! shortly after accusations came out, but both parties say it was unrelated to the allegations.

Source

Photo: Sipa USA

19

Oct. 29

Kevin Spacey

Oscar-winning actor, director, producer, screenwriter

Accused of: Pedophilia, groping, lewd comments

Number of accusers: 15

Response: In a post on Twitter, Spacey wrote: "If I did behave then as [Rapp] describes, I owe him the sincerest apology for what would have been deeply inappropriate drunken behavior." Spacey has yet to address other accusers. Source

Result: Spacey was fired from "House of Cards" and edited out of the new film "All the Money in the World." Source

Photo: Getty Images

20

Oct. 30

Hamilton Fish

President and publisher of the New Republic

Accused of: Workplace harassment, physical assault, lewd comments

Number of accusers: Allegations were known publicly when the New Republic launched an investigation into Fish's history of harassment. No specific number was given.

Response: In an email to the Associated Press on Nov. 3, Fish denied the allegations, saying, "As I understand it, some employees, to my deep dismay, complained this week that my presence had led them to feel uncomfortable at the New Republic." Source

Result: Fish has resigned as publisher of the New Republic. Source

Photo: Getty Images

21

Oct. 31

Kirt Webster

Publicist at Music Row

Accused of: Sexual requests in exchange for industry access, groping, lewd comments, workplace harassment, intimidation

Number of accusers: 22 former clients, employees and interns

Response: Through a representative from his firm, Webster Public Relations, Webster released a statement Nov. 4 to News4, saying, "As a single adult, Mr. Webster has had multiple relationships over the course of his professional life, all of which have been consensual." Source

Result: Webster has since been fired by several high-profile clients. Source

Photo: Getty Images

22

Oct. 31

Michael Oreskes

Editorial director of NPR

Accused of: Kissing, sexual advances under the pretense of offering work advice

Number of accusers: 3

Response: In an internal memo reported by CNN, Oreskes apologized, stating: "My behavior was wrong and inexcusable, and I accept full responsibility." Source

Result: Oreskes resigned from NPR. Source

Photo: Associated Press

23

Oct. 31

Jeremy Piven

Actor best known for his role on the comedy series "Entourage"

Accused of: Groping, physical assault, indecent exposure, masturbating in front of women

Number of accusers: 4

Response: In a statement posted on Twitter, Piven wrote, "The accusations against me are absolutely false and completely fabricated." He has further taken and posted a lie detector test in an effort to disprove the allegations. Source

Result: CBS canceled "Wisdom of the Crowd," which starred Piven, following the accusations. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

24

Oct. 31

Andy Dick

Actor

Accused of: Propositioning, groping, kissing

Number of accusers: Dick was fired from "Raising Buchanan" following accusations of harassment; no specific number was given.

Response: When speaking to the Hollywood Reporter, Dick said, "Of course I'm going to proposition people. I'm single, depressed, lonely and trying to get a date. They can just say no, and they probably did and then I was done." Source

Result: Dick was fired from upcoming film "Raising Buchanan."
Source

Photo: Getty Images

25

Nov. 1

Brett Ratner

Film producer who worked on "Rush Hour"

Accused of: Rape, forcible oral sex, masturbating in front of women, indecent exposure, sexual requests in exchange for industry access, groping, physical assault and intimidation

Number of accusers: 11

Response: Martin Singer, Ratner's attorney, "categorically" disputed the women's accounts. "I have represented Mr. Ratner for two decades, and no woman has ever made a claim against him for sexual misconduct or sexual harassment," Singer said in a 10-page letter to The Times. "Furthermore, no woman has ever requested or received any financial settlement from my client."

Source

Result: Ratner's production deal with Warner Bros. was not renewed. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

26

Nov. 1

Dustin Hoffman

Two-time Oscar-winning actor

Accused of: Rape, groping, indecent exposure

Number of accusers: 8

Response: In a statement to the Hollywood Reporter, Hoffman addressed one of the accusations, saying, "I have the utmost respect for women and feel terrible that anything I might have done could have put her in an uncomfortable situation." Hoffman has not responded publicly to other accusations.

Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Getty Images

27

Nov. 1

Stephen Blackwell

Chief strategy officer at Billboard

Accused of: Unspecified sexual harassment

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Billboard issued a statement confirming Blackwell and the company parted ways. Blackwell has not responded to requests for comment. Source

Result: Blackwell has resigned from Billboard. Source

28

Nov. 1

Jeff Hoover

Kentucky House speaker

Accused of: Workplace harassment, including sending sexually charged messages to a staff member

Number of accusers: 1

Response: At a conference in Capitol Annex, Hoover announced his resignation but denied the claims, saying, "... But as inappropriate as those text messages were, I want to reiterate that at no time – at no time – did I engage in unwelcome or unwanted conduct of any kind. And at no time were there ever any sexual relations." Source

Result: Hoover has resigned from the Kentucky House. Source

Photo: Associated Press

29

Nov. 3

David Guillod

CEO of Primary Wave Entertainment

Accused of: Drugging, kissing, unspecified sexual assault

Number of accusers: 4

Response: Guillod's attorney denied allegations, saying that the LAPD investigated the allegations in 2012 and that no criminal or civil case was brought against him as a result. Source

Result: Guillod has resigned from Primary Wave Entertainment. Source

Photo: Getty Images

30

Nov. 7

Ed Westwick

Actor best known for his role on "Gossip Girl"

Accused of: Rape, propositioning, groping, physical assault

Number of accusers: 3

Response: "I do not know this woman," Westwick wrote on Twitter about accuser Kristina Cohen. "I have never forced myself in any manner, on any woman. I certainly have never committed rape." Two days later he stated in another Twitter post that he's cooperating with authorities "so that they can clear my name ... It is disheartening and sad to me that as a result of two unverified ... social media claims, there are some in this environment who could ever conclude I have had anything to do with such vile and horrific conduct. I have absolutely not." Source

Result: The LAPD is investigating sexual assault claims against Westwick. Source

Photo: Associated Press

31

Nov. 8

Jeffrey Tambor

Actor best known for his roles on “Arrested Development” and “Transparent”

Accused of: Propositioning, groping, lewd comments, intimidation

Number of accusers: 2

Response: Tambor denied the allegations to Deadline, saying, "I've already made clear my deep regret if any action of mine was ever misinterpreted by anyone as being aggressive, but the idea that I would deliberately harass anyone is simply and utterly untrue." Source

Result: Tambor indicated that he would quit the show "Transparent" in a statement released Nov. 19, but his publicist stated on Dec. 6 that no final decision had been made. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

32

Nov. 8

Robert Knepper

Actor known for his role in "Prison Break"

Accused of: Groping, violent attempts to initiate sex, forced oral sex, kissing without consent

Number of accusers: 5

Response: Knepper denied the initial allegation in an Instagram post, saying, "I am shocked and devastated to be falsely accused of violence against a woman. That's just not who I am." In a statement to the Deadline, Knepper addressed four additional accusations, saying, "I need to reiterate that these accusations against me are false." Source

Result: None Source

Photo: TNS

33

Nov. 8

Benjamin Genocchio

Executive director of the Armory Show, a top international art fair

Accused of: Unwelcome touching, lewd comments

Number of accusers: 5

Response: Genocchio issued a statement to the New York Times, saying, "To the extent my behavior was perceived as disrespectful, I deeply and sincerely apologize and will ensure it does not happen again." Source

Result: Genocchio has been replaced as the director of the Armory Show. Source

34

Nov. 8

Steven Seagal

Actor and producer

Accused of: Sexual requests in exchange for industry access

Number of accusers: 3

Response: A spokesman for Seagal denied a harassment claim made by a Playboy model to the Daily Beast. Seagal has also denied sexually harassing a Hollywood executive, who has remained anonymous. Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Associated Press

35

Nov. 8

Dan Schoen

Minnesota state senator

Accused of: Unwanted physical contact, sending photos of male genitalia

Number of accusers: The online newspaper MinnPost reported two known accusers as well as an unspecified number of anonymous accusers.

Response: In a meeting with MinnPost, Schoen said the allegations are “either completely false or have been taken far out of context... Despite this, if any of my actions or words have ever made another person feel uncomfortable or harassed, I deeply regret it and truly apologize.” Source

Result: Schoen has resigned from his position. Source

Photo: Associated Press

36

Nov. 8

Adam Venit

Agent at WME

Accused of: Groping

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Venit has not commented publicly on the allegations, and representatives for Venit did not respond to The Times' request for comment on Dec 5. Source

Result: Venit was suspended by WME after Crews accused Venit of grabbing his genitals at an industry party in 2016. He was later reinstated when an internal investigation found that the allegation was an isolated incident. Source

Photo: Getty Images

37

Nov. 9

Louis C.K.

Stand-up comedian and actor

Accused of: Masturbating in front and during phone conversations with women

Number of accusers: 5

Response: Louis C.K. acknowledged the allegations in a statement, saying, "These stories are true. At the time, I said to myself that what I did was okay because I never showed a woman my [penis] without asking first, which is also true."

Source

Result: The release of C.K.'s upcoming film was canceled, as were all of his upcoming projects. Source

Photo: Michael Nagle (For the Los Angeles Times)

38

Nov. 9

Roy Moore

Defeated Republican candidate for U.S. Senate

Accused of: Sexual assault of a minor, groping

Number of accusers: 8

Response: Moore has denied all the accusations made against him. Source

Result: Moore lost the Alabama Senate election to Democrat Doug Jones. Source

Photo: Getty Images

39

Nov. 9

Tony Mendoza

California state senator

Accused of: Inappropriate touching, groping and unwanted sexual advances

Number of accusers: 2

Response: In a Dec. 10 announcement, Mendoza stated: "I want to state clearly again that I deny the allegations in question."

Source

Result: Colleagues have asked him to take a leave of absence and have moved to expel him. He has refused as of Dec. 14, 2017. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

40

Nov. 9

Matthew Weiner

Writer, director and producer best known for creating AMC's "Mad Men"

Accused of: Inappropriate comments, unwanted sexual advances

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Weiner's representative said he “does not remember saying this comment nor does it reflect a comment he would say to any colleague.” Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Michael Nagle (For the Los Angeles Times)

41

Nov. 10

Andrew Kreisberg

Producer, writer and the creator of CW's "Arrow," "The Flash," "Supergirl" and "Legends of Tomorrow"

Accused of: Unwanted physical contact, requests for massages to female staff members, inappropriate comments

Number of accusers: 19

Response: Kreisberg has denied all allegations, telling Variety, "I have made comments on women's appearances and clothes in my capacity as an executive producer, but they were not sexualized. Like many people, I have given someone a non-sexual hug or kiss on the cheek." He further denies having inappropriately touched or attempting to massage anyone.

Source

Result: Kreisberg has been fired from the CW. Source

Photo: Associated Press

42

Nov. 10

Gary Goddard

Director, screenwriter, founder of the Goddard Group

Accused of: Pedophilia, sleeping in bed with underage boys, kissing, groping, physical assault and intimidation

Number of accusers: 8

Response: Goddard's publicist, Sam Singer, disputed the allegations, which he said were "full of innuendo and hearsay." Singer, in denying the allegations to The Times, questioned accusers who "maintained personal and professional relationships with Mr. Goddard well into adulthood, and now, out of the blue, are making false, disparaging and defamatory statements." Source

Result: Goddard announced he would take a leave of absence from Goddard Group. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

43

Nov. 10

Jann Wenner

Rolling Stone co-founder

Accused of: Unwanted kissing, offering of a writing deal in exchange for sexual favors

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Wenner, to the Hollywood Reporter, confirmed offering a sexual relationship but denied having offered the accuser a writing deal in exchange, saying, "He turned me down, which I respected. I had no intention of making him feel uncomfortable." Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Associated Press

44

Nov. 10

André Balazs

President and CEO of André Balazs Properties

Accused of: Groping, forced penetration, kissing

Number of accusers: 4

Response: Balazs has not responded to numerous requests for comment by the New York Times. Balazs' hotel management company did not immediately respond to The Times' request for comment on Dec. 27. Source

Result: None Source

Photo: AbacaPress

45

Nov. 10

Tony Cornish

Minnesota state representative

Accused of: Suggestive texts, repeated requests for sex, unwanted physical contact

Number of accusers: 2

Response: The Pioneer Press reported that Cornish has denied allegations of harassment by a female lobbyist but that he has confirmed having sent sexual texts to her saying he wanted to pursue a relationship. In response to another accuser, Cornish said the allegations were misinterpreted humor. Source

Result: Resigned from his position in the Minnesota House of Representatives. Source

Photo: Associated Press

46

Nov. 10

Eddie Berganza

Editor of DC Comics

Accused of: Kissing, groping, contributing to a hostile work environment for women

Number of accusers: 6

Response: Berganza has not commented on the allegations. Representatives for DC comics did not immediately respond to

The Times' request for comment on Dec. 26. Source

Result: Berganza has been fired from DC comics. Source

Photo: Getty Images

47

Nov. 11

George Takei

Actor known for portraying Hikaru Sulu in "Star Trek"

Accused of: Groping, attempting to take advantage of a sleeping man

Number of accusers: 1

Response: On Twitter, Takei denied the accusation, saying, "Those that know me understand that non consensual acts are so antithetical to my values and my practices, the very idea that someone would accuse me of this is quite personally painful."

Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Getty Images

48

Nov. 11

Mark Schwahn

Showrunner of "One Tree Hill"

Accused of: Verbal abuse, inappropriate jokes, humiliating cast members, propositioning, manipulation, groping, kissing, inappropriate touching

Number of accusers: 43

Response: A representative for Schwahn refuses to comment on the record. Source

Result: Suspended from "The Royals." Source

Photo: TNS

49

Nov. 13

Lars von Trier

Danish film director and screenwriter

Accused of: Inappropriate touching, suggestive comments, offers of sex, defamation

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Von Trier has denied the accusations, which were made by the singer Bjork. "That was not the case," the director told the online edition of Danish daily Jyllands-Posten (via the Guardian). "But that we were definitely not friends, that's a fact."

Source

Result: None, but an employee of Trier's company is facing an investigation over sexual harassment charges. Source

Photo: Associated Press

50

Nov. 13

Steve Jurvetson

Venture capitalist

Accused of: Creating a hostile work environment for women in his venture capital firm DFJ

Number of accusers: An unknown number of allegations compelled DFJ to conduct an investigation, starting Oct. 24

Response: Jurvetson has denied the accusations and stated on Twitter, "I am leaving DFJ to focus on personal matters, including taking legal action against those whose false statements have defamed me." Source

Result: Jurvetson has resigned from DFJ. Source

Photo: Getty Images

51

Nov. 13

Tom Sizemore

Actor and producer

Accused of: Molestation of an 11-year-old actress

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Sizemore declined to comment to the Hollywood Reporter when the accusation was published. In a statement to the Daily Mail on Nov. 21, he said, "I never, nor would I ever, sexually touch a child. I have done many things I'm not proud of in this life. However, I did not do this... These allegations are completely untrue and unfounded and I will do everything in my power to clear my name." Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Associated Press

52

Nov. 16

Sylvester Stallone

Oscar-winning actor best known for his role in the “Rocky” films

Accused of: Sexual assault of a minor, forced oral sex

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Michelle Bega, a spokeswoman for Stallone, released a statement saying, "This is a ridiculous, categorically false story." Source

Result: A police report has been filed in Santa Monica accusing Stallone of sexual assault. Source

Photo: TNS

53

Nov. 16

Danny Masterson

Actor best known for his roles on “That 70s Show” and “The Ranch”

Accused of: Sexual assault, choking, assaulting an unconscious victim

Number of accusers: 5

Response: Masterson denied allegations to The Times, saying, "From day one, I have denied the outrageous allegations against me." Source

Result: Masterson will not appear in future seasons of "The Ranch." Source

Photo: Associated Press

54

Nov. 16

Al Franken

U.S. senator from Minnesota

Accused of: Groping, kissing, inappropriate touching

Number of accusers: 8

Response: Franken resigned Dec. 7 but denied the allegations, saying, “Nothing I have done as a senator — nothing — has brought dishonor on this institution. And I am confident that the Ethics Committee would agree.” He appeared to have pulled back from a Nov. 16 statement in which he said he was “ashamed” of behavior that was “completely inappropriate.”

Source

Result: Franken has announced he'll resign from the U.S. Senate on Jan. 2. Source

Photo: Getty Images

55

Nov. 16

David Sweeney

NPR chief news editor

Accused of: Kissing, attempting kissing, unsolicited gifts

Number of accusers: 3

Response: Sweeney could not immediately be reached for comment. NPR did not immediately respond to The Times' request for comment on Dec. 26. Source

Result: Sweeney has left NPR Source

56

Nov. 16

Stephen Bittel

Chairman of the Florida Democratic Party

Accused of: Inappropriate comments, contributing to an unprofessional workplace

Number of accusers: 6

Response: In a statement reported by Politico, Bittel acknowledged his behavior and offered an apology, saying, "Every person, regardless of their gender, race, age or sexuality, should be treated with respect...if any of my comments or actions did not reflect that belief I am deeply sorry." Source

Result: Bittel has resigned from his position. Source

Photo: Associated Press

57

Nov. 17

Murray Miller

Producer and filmmaker

Accused of: Sexual assault, additional details not provided

Number of accusers: 1

Response: In a statement to the Hollywood reporter, Miller's attorney Don Walerstein denied claims, stating, "Mr. Miller's legal team gathered overwhelming evidence directly contradicting these false and offensive claims." He further alleged that an accuser sought money from Miller but later rescinded, saying, "Neither Ms. Perrineau nor her lawyers have ever made a demand for money." Source

Result: Miller is under investigation by the LAPD. Source

58

Nov. 17

Ryan Seacrest

Radio personality, television host, and producer

Accused of: Accused by a former hairstylist of inappropriate behavior; further details not included

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Seacrest denied the allegation in a statement published by the Hollywood Reporter: "I dispute these reckless allegations, and I plan to cooperate with any corporate inquiries that may result." Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Associated Press

59

Nov. 19

Russell Simmons

CEO of Rush Communications and founder of Def Jam Recordings

Accused of: Rape, forcible oral sex, masturbating in front of women, sexual requests in exchange for industry access,

indecent exposure, groping, forced kissing, physical assault and intimidation

Number of accusers: 11

Response: Simmons, in a statement to The Times, denied all allegations. "I want to restate categorically what I have said previously: I have never been violent or abusive to any women in any way at any time in my entire life." Simmons's attorney Brad Rose released a statement saying that Simmons "... fully supports and will cooperate with ..." an inquiry by New York police. Source

Result: Simmons has resigned from his companies and is under investigation by the NYPD. Source

Photo: Associated Press

60

Nov. 20

Raul Bocanegra

Democratic California assemblyman

Accused of: Kissing, unwanted sexual advances

Number of accusers: 6

Response: Announcing his immediate resignation, Bocanegra said, "It is my hope that in taking this action we can help clear the path so that women and men who have been truly victims of sexual assault and workplace harassment can step forward and get justice for any crimes committed against them. While I am not guilty of any such crimes, I am admittedly not perfect." Bocanegra said in an earlier statement that he "accepted responsibility for my actions" as they relate to that "regrettable encounter" regarding a 2009 incident with one of his accusers. Source

Result: Bocanegra has resigned from the Assembly. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

61

Nov. 20

John Conyers Jr.

Democratic congressman from Michigan

Accused of: Inappropriate touching, requesting sexual favors, inappropriate use of congressional resources

Number of accusers: 6

Response: Conyers has denied the allegations to the Associated Press, saying, "I have been looking at these things in amazement." Source

Result: Conyers has announced his plans to retire from Congress. Source

Photo: EPA

62

Nov. 20

Glenn Thrush

Political reporter at the New York Times

Accused of: Unwanted advances, groping, unwanted kissing, inappropriate touching

Number of accusers: 4

Response: Thrush denied allegations to Vox media but offered an emailed apology. "I apologize to any woman who felt uncomfortable in my presence, and for any situation where I behaved inappropriately. Any behavior that makes a woman feel disrespected or uncomfortable is unacceptable.” Source

Result: Thrush was suspended from the New York Times, but an announcement to staff stated that he would resume work at the New York Times in late January covering a different beat. Source

Photo: Getty Images

63

Nov. 20

Charlie Rose

Host of "CBS This Morning" and PBS' "Charlie Rose"

Accused of: Groping, indecent exposure

Number of accusers: 8

Response: Rose issued an apology on Twitter, saying, "I am greatly embarrassed. I have behaved insensitively at times, and I accept responsibility for that, though I do not believe that all of these allegations are accurate," he said. "I always felt that I pursued shared feelings though I now realize that I was mistaken." Source

Result: Rose has been fired from CBS, and his PBS show has been canceled. Source

Photo: Associated Press

64

Nov. 21

Oliver Stone

Award-winning filmmaker and writer

Accused of: Orchestrating a humiliating audition in which an actress was asked to perform suggestive acts, groping

Number of accusers: 2

Response: Stone defended himself against allegations that he had created a humiliating audition process for one of his movies, saying on his radio show that “our film was going to be a raunchy, no-holds-barred rock 'n' roll movie.” Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Associated Press

65

Nov. 21

John Lasseter

Co-founder of Pixar

Accused of: Unwanted physical contact, creating a hostile work environment (women described being barred from meetings because they would be a “distraction” for Lasseter)

Number of accusers: The Times interviewed six former employees who allege harassment by Lasseter. He was placed on leave due to internal allegations of an unspecified number.

Response: In a memo to staff obtained by the Times, Lasseter wrote, "...I especially want to apologize to anyone who has ever been on the receiving end of an unwanted hug or any other gesture they felt crossed the line in any way, shape, or form."

Source

Result: Lasseter has taken a leave of absence. Source

Photo: Associated Press

66

Nov. 29

Matt Lauer

NBC's "Today" host

Accused of: Inappropriate sexual behavior, indecent exposure

Number of accusers: 7

Response: Lauer denied the allegations in a statement, saying, "Some of what is being said about me is untrue or mischaracterized, but there is enough truth in these stories to make me feel embarrassed." Source

Result: Lauer was fired by NBC after the investigation of a complaint filed against him. Source

Photo: Associated Press

67

Nov. 29

Garrison Keillor

Radio personality best known as the creator of "A Prairie Home Companion"

Accused of: No details were released about the "inappropriate behavior" that prompted Minnesota Public Radio to fire Keillor

Number of accusers: Keillor was fire over allegations of an unspecified number.

Response: Garrison denied accusations, saying to the Associated Press that he's been fired over "a story that I think is more interesting and more complicated than the version MPR heard."

Source

Result: Keillor has been fired from Minnesota Public Radio.

Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

68

Nov. 29

Johnny Iuzzini

Chef and judge on ABC's "The Great American Baking Show"

Accused of: Verbal abuse, groping, simulated having sex with one of his employees, racism, made female employees massage his shoulders, coerced employee into sexual interactions

Number of accusers: 4

Response: After reviewing the initial Mic report, Iuzzini denied several accusations and said “many of the other allegations are inaccurate, others I do not recall and none were meant to hurt people.” Source

Result: ABC pulled “The Great American Baking Show” and fired Iuzzini. Source

Photo: TNS

69

Nov. 30

Justin Huff

Casting director involved in Broadway shows

Accused of: Huff was fired in response from Telsey & Co. in response to allegations of sexual misconduct. Further details have not been disclosed

Number of accusers: Fired in response to an unspecified amount of internal reports of sexual misconduct

Response: Representatives for Huff did not immediately respond to The Times' request for comment on Dec. 26. Source

Result: Huff has been fired from his position at casting company Telsey & Co. Source

70

Nov. 30

Israel Horovitz

Broadway casting director

Accused of: Sexual assault, groping, indecent exposure, molesting a minor

Number of accusers: 9

Response: In responding to the New York Times' investigation, Horowitz denied the accusations, saying he had “a different memory of some of these events.” Source

Result: Two of Horowitz's plays at the Jobsite Theater were canceled, Circle Theatre stopped production of his play, and Gloucester Stage Company cut ties with him. Source

Photo: Associated Press

71

Nov. 30

Shervin Pischevar

Venture capitalist

Accused of: Kissing, groping, displaying explicit images

Number of accusers: 6

Response: Pischevar announced his resignation Dec. 14, so that he can focus on challenging what he calls a “smear campaign” against him. Source

Result: Resigned From Sherpa Capital Source

Photo: Getty Images

72

Dec. 1

John Hockenberry

Award-winning journalist and radio personality

Accused of: Propositioning, inappropriate correspondence, kissing, attempts to initiate a sexual relationship, sexual comments

Number of accusers: 8

Response: Hockenberry denied knowingly harassing anyone, saying to the Cut, "It horrifies me that I made the talented and driven people I worked with feel uncomfortable, and that the stress around putting together a great show was made worse by my behavior." Source

Result: None (Hockenberry is retired) Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

73

Dec. 1

Ruben Kihuen

Democratic congressman from Nevada

Accused of: Inappropriate touching, sending sexually suggestive text messages

Number of accusers: 3

Response: Kihuen responded to the accusations in a statement, saying, "I want to state clearly again that I deny the allegations in question." Source

Result: Kihuen announced that he will not seek reelection in 2018. Source

Photo: Associated Press

74

Dec. 1

Bruce Weber

Fashion photographer

Accused of: Sexual harassment, discrimination, kissing

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Boyce's attorney, Mark Risk, did not respond to a request for comment by Rosemary Feitelberg of WWD. Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Associated Press

75

Dec. 3

James Levine

Metropolitan Opera conductor

Accused of: Molesting a minor, inappropriate touching, fondling

Number of accusers: 4

Response: Levine issued a response Dec. 7, which was reported in the New York Times, in which he denied the claims. He said, "As anyone who truly knows me will attest, I have not lived my life as an oppressor or an aggressor." Source

Result: Levine has been suspended. Source

Photo: Associated Press

76

Dec. 4

Matt Dababneh

Democratic assemblyman from Woodland Hills

Accused of: Masturbating in front of women, inappropriate talk in a workplace

Number of accusers: 5

Response: In a resignation letter issued Dec. 8, Dababneh denied the allegations, saying, "My stepping down isn't out of guilt or out of fear." Source

Result: Dababneh has resigned, effective Jan. 1. Source

Photo: Associated Press

77

Dec. 4

Dylan Howard

Editor of National Enquirer Entertainment

Accused of: Inappropriate talk in a workplace, harassment

Number of accusers: At least 12

Response: Howard denied the allegations, calling them “baseless” in a statement to the Associated Press. A company lawyer said its investigation concluded that Howard committed no serious wrongdoing. Source

Result: None Source

78

Dec. 6

Lorin Stein

Editor of the Paris Review

Accused of: Inappropriate touching, creating a hostile work environment for women, unwelcome advances

Number of accusers: 2

Response: In a letter of resignation to his board, Stein acknowledged that dating those that worked for the magazine was “an abuse of my position.” He admitted to sexual encounters in the office but said that these encounters were consensual and occurred before he was married in 2015. Source

Result: Stein has resigned from the Paris Review. Source

Photo: WireImage

79

Dec. 7

Bryan Singer

Director, best known as the director of the "X-Men" films

Accused of: Sexual assault of multiple minors

Number of accusers: 3

Response: Singer was accused in a lawsuit of raping a 17-year-old boy on a yacht in the Seattle area 14 years ago. Andrew Brettler, Singer's attorney, said in a statement that the director "categorically denies these allegations and will vehemently defend this lawsuit to the very end." Source

Result: Fired from a number of movies, including an upcoming Freddie Mercury biopic, and is facing a lawsuit from one of his accusers. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

80

Dec. 7

Trent Franks

Republican congressman from Arizona

Accused of: Offered former employees money in exchange for carrying his child, workplace retaliation

Number of accusers: 2

Response: Franks denied allegations in a statement on Dec. 7, saying that he never physically intimidated, coerced or attempted to have sexual contact with any member of his congressional staff. Source

Result: Franks has resigned. Source

Photo: Getty Images

81

Dec. 8

Alex Kozinski

Federal appeals judge

Accused of: Inappropriate touching, showing women pornography

Number of accusers: 15

Response: Kozinski denied the allegations, saying in a statement distributed by the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals that “it grieves me to learn that I caused any of my clerks to feel uncomfortable; this was never my intent. For this I sincerely apologize.” Source

Result: Kozinski abruptly retired in the wake of more than a dozen complaints from former clerks, junior staff members and others accusing him of sexual misconduct. Source

Photo: Associated Press

82

Dec. 11

Ryan Lizza

Reporter for the New Yorker and a CNN contributor

Accused of: Sexual misconduct; no further details given

Number of accusers: Fired by the New Yorker in response to an investigation by the company into an unspecified number of complaints.

Response: Lizza denied the allegations in an emailed statement, saying, "I am dismayed that the New Yorker has decided to characterize a respectful relationship with a woman I dated as somehow inappropriate." Source

Result: Lizza has been fired by New Yorker and suspended by CNN. Source

Photo: Getty Images

83

Dec. 11

Mario Batali

Celebrity chef

Accused of: Inappropriate touching, groping

Number of accusers: 4

Response: Batali did not deny the allegations, saying in a statement that “although the identities of most of the individuals mentioned in these stories have not been revealed to me, much of the behavior described does, in fact, match up with ways I have acted.” Source

Result: Batali is stepping away from companies and projects, including ABC's “The Chew.” Source

Photo: Associated Press

84

Dec. 11

Steve Edwards

Anchor of Fox 11's "Good Day L.A."

Accused of: Sexual harassment; no further details given

Number of accusers: Left Fox 11 in the wake of an investigation by the company into an unspecified number of complaints.

Response: Edwards has not commented publicly.
Representatives for Fox 11 have not immediately responded to

The Times' request for comment on Dec. 27. Source

Result: A Fox spokesperson said Edwards was "no longer employed" by the station. Source

Photo: KTTV

85

Dec. 12

Ken Friedman

Restaurateur, best known for owning the Spotted Pig in New York

Accused of: Unwanted advances, both in and outside of the workplace, inappropriate touching, creating a hostile work environment

Number of accusers: 10

Response: In a statement posted on the New York Times' website, Friedman responded that "some incidents were not as described, but context and content are not today's discussion. I apologize now publicly for my actions." Source

Result: Friedman is taking an indefinite leave of absence from the Spotted Pig and his other restaurants. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

86

Dec. 13

Morgan Spurlock

Director best known for starring and directing in the Oscar-nominated documentary "Super Size Me"

Accused of: Spurlock published an essay detailing his behavior, including sexual harassment in the workplace.

Number of accusers: No accusers have come forward.

Response: Spurlock's essay, titled "I Am Part of the Problem," stated, "Over my life, there have been many instances that parallel what we see everyday in the news ... I can't blindly act as though I didn't somehow play a part in this." Source

Result: Spurlock resigned from his production company. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

87

Dec. 13

Tavis Smiley

Author and talk show host on PBS

Accused of: Sexual misconduct; no further details given

Number of accusers: PBS said in a statement that an investigation “revealed a pattern of multiple relationships with subordinates ...”

Response: In a Facebook video posted Dec. 13, Smiley strongly denied the accusations, saying, "To be clear, I have never groped, coerced, or exposed myself inappropriately to any workplace colleague in my entire broadcast career, covering six networks over 30 years." Source

Result: PBS suspended distribution of his late-night talk show.
Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

88

Dec. 14

Bob Hertzberg

Democratic state senator from Los Angeles

Accused of: Uncomfortable hugging despite requests to stop

Number of accusers: 3

Response: Hertzberg released a statement reported by the Sacramento Bee, saying: “My intentions have only been to foster a warm, human connection. I apologize to anyone who may have ever felt uncomfortable, and I will change how I greet people moving forward.” Source

Result: Hertzberg is cooperating with a state Senate investigation after a complaint that he gave unwanted hugs to a former lawmaker. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

89

Dec. 14

Carter Oosterhouse

Host of "Carter Can" on HGTV

Accused of: Coercing oral sex from a makeup artist

Number of accusers: 1

Response: In a statement to the Hollywood Reporter, Oosterhouse denied the claim, saying, "I would have never done anything that I was not sure was mutually agreeable." Source

Result: None; Oosterhouse appeared on this year's HGTV's Christmas special, "The Great Christmas Light Fight." Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

90

Dec. 15

Stephen Henderson

Managing director of opinion and commentary for the Detroit Free Press

Accused of: Sexual misconduct, sexually themed conversations with co-workers

Number of accusers: 2

Response: Henderson apologized to the women who came forward on his radio show, saying “as a senior leader at the Free Press, I should have acted more responsibly.” Source

Result: Henderson was fired following an investigation into inappropriate workplace conduct. Source

91

Dec. 15

Andrea Ramsey

Kansas Democratic congressional candidate

Accused of: Firing employee for refusing her sexual advances

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Ramsey denied the accusation in a Facebook post, saying, "Let me be clear: I never engaged in any of the alleged behavior." Source

Result: Ramsey has pulled out of 2018 congressional race.
Source

92

Dec. 15

Andrew Duncan

Co-founder of June Pictures and producer of the film "The Florida Project"

Accused of: Sexual harassment, improper behavior with employees, propositioning, kissing

Number of accusers: 12

Response: Duncan has denied any wrongdoing in a statement to the Hollywood Reporter, saying, "The several circumstances that have been presented to me by news outlets are each distorted or demonstrably false in several key respects." Source

Result: Duncan has resigned from his production company.
Source

Photo: Associated Press

93

Dec. 16

Jerry Richardson

Owner of the Carolina Panthers

Accused of: No details have emerged about the misconduct that prompted the NFL to investigate.

Number of accusers: An NFL investigation was prompted by an unspecified number of accusations of sexual and racist misconduct

Response: Richardson has released a statement announcing his intentions to sell the Panthers. He has not addressed the allegations. The Panthers have not immediately respond to The Times' request for comment on Dec. 26. Source

Result: Richardson announced that he would sell the team after the 2017-18 season after reports emerged that he previously settled harassment claims with an unknown number of employees. Source

Photo: Getty Images

94

Dec. 19

T.J. Miller

Actor and comedian known for his role on "Silicon Valley"

Accused of: Hitting, sexual assault

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Miller has denied the claim in a statement to the Daily Beast, saying of his accuser: "Sadly she is now using the current climate to bandwagon and launch these false accusations again." Source

Result: None Source

Photo: TNS

95

Dec. 20

Chuck Close

Artist known for large portraits

Accused of: Inappropriate comments, luring women into his studio on false premises

Number of accusers: 2

Response: Close has denied the allegations to the New York Times, saying, "Last time I looked, discomfort was not a major offense," he added. "I never reduced anyone to tears, no one ever ran out of the place. If I embarrassed anyone or made them feel uncomfortable, I am truly sorry." Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Associated Press

96

Dec. 22

Charles Dutoit

Famed music conductor

Accused of: Groping, kissing, intimidation

Number of accusers: 4

Response: Dutoit's office in Montreal issued a statement to the Associated Press denying the accusations, saying they “have absolutely no basis in truth.” Source

Result: Montreal Symphony Orchestra has launched an investigation into the accusations. Boston Symphony Orchestra and San Francisco Symphony severed ties with Dutoit. Other orchestras released statements confirming Dutoit had withdrawn from certain upcoming performances. Source

Photo: EPA

97

Dec. 23

Max Landis

Screenwriter, director, comic book writer

Accused of: Sexual misconduct

Number of accusers: 2

Response: Representative for Landis declined to comment.
Source

Result: None Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

98

Dec. 26

Corey Lewandowski

President Trump's former campaign manager

Accused of: Groping

Number of accusers: 1

Response: Lewandowski did not immediately respond to an email by The Times seeking comment on Dec. 27. Source

Result: Lewandowski's accuser has filed a sexual assault complaint with Washington's Metropolitan Police Department. Source

Photo: Los Angeles Times

Sources: Images from Associated Press, Getty Images, Los Angeles Times, Shutterstock, Sipa USA, TNS, AbacaPress, KRT and EPA

Credits: Additional reporting by Kyle Kim