A member who has consented to receipt of electronically transmitted notices may revoke the consent by delivering a revocation to the organization in the form of a record. Furthermore, the consent is automatically revoked if the organization is unable to electronically transmit two consecutive notices given by the organization, and this inability becomes known to the person responsible for giving notice. 3.2 Number

The Board shall consist of not less than three (3) nor more than fifteen (15) Directors. The number of Directors may be changed from time to time by amendment to these Bylaws, provided that no decrease in the number shall have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent Director.

3.3 Qualifications

Directors may have such qualifications as the Board may prescribe by amendment to these Bylaws.

3.4 Election of Directors

3.4.1 Initial Directors

The initial Directors named in the Articles of Incorporation shall serve until the first annual meeting of the Board.

3.8 Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board or any committee designated and appointed by the Board may be called by or at the written request of the President or any one Director, or, in the case of a committee meeting, by the chairman of the committee. The person or persons authorized to call special meetings may fix any place as the place for holding any special Board or committee meeting called by them. Notice of a special meeting shall be delivered to the Directors not less than ten days before the meeting according to the provisions of Section 3.11 if these Bylaws.

3.9 Meetings by Telephone

Members of the Board or any committee designated by the Board may participate in a meeting of such Board or committee by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other at the same time. Participation by such means shall constitute presence in person at a meeting.

3.10 Place of Meetings

All meetings shall be held at the principal office of the organization or at such other place designated by the Board, by any persons entitled to call a meeting or by a waiver of notice signed by all Directors.

3.11 Notice of Special Meetings

3.11.1 In Writing

Notices in writing may be delivered or mailed to the Director at his or her address shown on the records of the organization. If notice is delivered via regular mail, the notice shall be deemed effective when deposited in the official government mail properly addressed with postage thereon prepaid. 3.11.2 Personal Communication

Notice may be by personal communication with the Director.

3.11.3 Electronic Transmission

Notices may be provided in an electronic transmission and be electronically transmitted. Notice in an electronic transmission is effective only with respect to those Directors that have consented, in the form of a record, to receive electronically transmitted notices and designated in such consent the address, location or system to which these notices may be electronically transmitted. A Director who has consented to receipt of electronically transmitted notices may revoke the consent by delivering a revocation to the organization in the form of a record. Furthermore, the consent is automatically revoked if the organization is unable to electronically transmit two consecutive notices given by the organization, and this inability becomes known to the person responsible for giving notice. 3.11.4 Posting Electronic Notice

Neither the business to be transacted at nor the purpose of any regular or special meeting of the Board need be specified in the waiver of notice of such meeting.

3.12.2 By Attendance

The attendance of a Director at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a Director attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

3.13 Quorum

A majority of the number of Directors fixed by or in the manner provided by these Bylaws shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any Board meeting. If a quorum is not present at a meeting, a majority of the Directors present may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice.

3.14 Manner of Acting

The act of the majority of the Directors present at a meeting at which there is a quorum shall be the act of the Board, unless the vote of a greater number is required by these Bylaws, the Articles of Incorporation or applicable law.

3.15 Presumption of Assent

A Director of the organization present at a Board meeting at which action on any corporate matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action taken unless his or her dissent or abstention is entered in the minutes of the meeting, or unless such Director files a written dissent or abstention to such action with the person acting as secretary of the meeting before the adjournment thereof, or forwards such dissent or abstention by registered mail to the Secretary of the organization immediately after the adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent or abstain shall not apply to a Director who voted in favor of such action.

3.16 Action by Board Without a Meeting

Any action which could be taken at a meeting of the Board may be taken without a meeting if a written consent setting forth the action so taken is signed by each of the Directors. Such written consents may be signed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and all of which, taken together, shall constitute one and the same document. Any such written consent shall be inserted in the minute book as if it were the minutes of a Board meeting.

3.17 Resignation

Any Director may resign at any time by delivering written notice to the President or the Secretary at the registered office of the organization, or by giving oral or written notice at any meeting of the Directors. Any such resignation shall take effect at the time specified therein, or if the time is not specified, upon delivery thereof and, unless otherwise specified therein, the acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

3.18 Removal

One or more Directors (including the entire Board) may be removed from office, with or without cause, by the affirmative vote of a majority of the Directors fixed by or in the manner provided by these Bylaws.

3.19 Vacancies

A vacancy in the position of Director may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining Directors though less than a quorum of the Board. A Director who fills a vacancy shall serve for the unexpired term of his or her predecessor in office.

3.20 Board Committees

3.20.1 Standing or Temporary Committees

The Board, by resolution adopted by a majority of the Directors in office, may designate and appoint one or more standing or temporary committees, each of which shall consist of two or more Directors. Such committees shall have and exercise the authority of the Directors in the management of the organization, subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by the Board and by applicable law. The designation and appointment of any such committee and the delegation thereto of authority shall not operate to relieve the Board or any individual Director of any responsibility imposed upon it, him or her by law.

3.20.2 Quorum; Manner of Acting

A majority of the number of Directors composing any committee shall constitute a quorum, and the act of a majority of the members of a committee present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the committee.

3.20.3 Resignation

Any member of any committee may resign at any time by delivering written notice thereof to the President, the Secretary or the chairman of such committee, or by giving oral or written notice at any meeting of such committee. Any such resignation shall take effect at the time specified therein or, if the time is not specified, upon delivery thereof and, unless otherwise specified therein, the acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

3.20.4 Removal of Committee Member

The Board, by resolution adopted by a majority of the Directors in office, may remove from office any member of any committee elected or appointed by it.

Any such resignation shall take effect at the time specified therein or, if the time is not specified, upon delivery thereof and, unless otherwise specified therein, the acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

4.4 Removal

Any officer or agent elected or appointed by the Board may be removed by the affirmative vote of at least a majority of the Board whenever in its judgment the best interests of the organization would be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed.

4.5 Vacancies

A vacancy in any office created by the death, resignation, removal, disqualification, creation of a new office or any other cause may be filled by the Board for the unexpired portion of the term or for a new term established by the Board.

4.6 President

The President shall, subject to the Board's control, supervise the Executive Director's or other organization staff's control of all of the assets, business and affairs of the organization. The President shall preside over meetings of the Board. The President may sign deeds, mortgages, bonds, contracts, or other instruments, except when the signing and execution thereof have been expressly delegated by the Board or by these Bylaws to some other officer or agent of the organization or are required by law to be otherwise signed or executed by some other officer or in some other manner. In general, the President shall perform all duties incident to the office of President and such other duties as are assigned to him or her by the Board from time to time.

4.8 Treasurer

The Treasurer shall have charge and custody of and be responsible for all funds and securities of the organization; receive and give receipts for moneys due and payable to the organization from any source whatsoever, and deposit all such moneys in the name of the organization in banks, trust companies or other depositories selected in accordance with the provisions of these Bylaws; and in general perform all of the duties incident to the office of Treasurer and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to him or her by the President or the Board.

ARTICLE 5. INTERESTS OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

5.1 Compensation

Directors who receive any compensation for services in any capacity, directly or indirectly, from the organization may not vote on matters pertaining to that Director's compensation.

5.2 Conflict of Interest

Directors and officers shall disclose to the Board any financial interest which the Director or officer directly or indirectly has in any person or entity which is a party to a transaction under consideration by the Board. The interested Director or officer shall abstain from voting on the transaction.

5.3 Review of Certain Transactions

Prior to entering into any compensation agreement, contract for goods or services, or any other transaction with any person who is in a position to exercise influence over the affairs of the organization, the Board shall establish that the proposed transaction is reasonable when compared with a similarly-situated organization for functionally comparable positions, goods or services rendered.

ARTICLE 6. EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

An Executive Director may be appointed, employed, and discharged by the Board. If appointed, the Executive Director shall manage the affairs of the organization according to the policies, principles, practices and budget authorized by the Board; shall be responsible for management of personnel, finances and programs; and shall be responsible for staff management including hiring, training, disciplinary action, and discharge.

ARTICLE 7. ADVISORY BOARD

The Board of Directors may appoint an Advisory Board of two or more persons to provide advice and assistance to the Board. Members of the Advisory Board may be invited to meetings of the Board, but shall not be entitled to vote or exercise other powers of a director of the organization; provided, however, to the extent permitted by law, members of the Advisory Board shall be entitled to the same limitations on liability and rights to indemnification as directors of the organization. The Board of Directors may determine by separate resolution the operational rules which shall govern the Advisory Board. Advisory Board members may be removed at any time, with or without cause, by the Board.

ARTICLE 8. INDEMNIFICATION

Unless otherwise prohibited by law, the organization will indemnify and hold harmless any Director or officer or any former Director or officer of the organization against any and all expenses and liabilities actually and necessarily incurred by him or her or imposed on him or her in connection with any claim, action, suit or proceeding (whether actual or threatened, civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative, including appeals) to which he or she may be or is made a party by reason of being or having been such Director or officer, subject to the limitation, however, that there shall be no indemnification in relation to matters as to which he or she shall be adjudged in such claim, action, suit or proceeding to be guilty of a criminal offense or liable to the organization for damages arising out of his or her own negligence or misconduct in the performance of a duty to the organization.

Amounts paid in indemnification of expenses and liabilities may include, but shall not be limited to, counsel fees and other fees; costs and disbursements; and judgments, fines and penalties against, and amounts paid in settlement by, such Director or officer. The organization may advance expenses to, or where appropriate may itself at its expense, undertake the defense of any Director or officer; provided, however, that such Director or officer shall undertake to repay or reimburse such expense if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to indemnification under this Article.

The provisions of this Article shall be applicable to claims, actions, suits or proceedings made or commenced after the adoption hereof, whether arising from acts or omissions to act occurring before or after adoption hereof. Any future amendments to this Article will be prospective and will not reduce or in any way limit the right to indemnification provided for any covered claims, actions, suits or proceedings arising from acts or omissions to act occurring prior to the adoption of any such amendment.

The indemnification provided by this Article shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which such Director or officer may be entitled under any statute, Bylaw, agreement, vote of the Board of Directors or otherwise, and shall not restrict the power of the organization to make any indemnification permitted by law.

The organization will either (a) purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of or (b) create and maintain a self-insurance arrangement for the benefit of, in either case, any person who is or was a director or officer of the organization against any liability asserted against or incurred by such person which arises out of such person's status as a Director, officer, employee, or agent or out of acts taken in such capacity, whether or not the organization would have the power to indemnify the person against that liability under law.

If any part of this Article shall be found in any action, suit or proceeding to be invalid or ineffective, the validity and effectiveness of the remaining parts shall not be affected.

AMERICAN BRIDGE 21ST CENTURY FOUNDATION

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST POLICY

A. Purpose

The purpose of the Conflicts of Interest policy (the "policy") is to protect the interest of the organization when it is contemplating entering into a transaction or arrangement that might benefit the private interest of an officer or director of the organization or might result in a possible excess benefit transaction. This policy is intended to supplement but not replace any applicable state and federal laws governing conflict of interest applicable to nonprofit and charitable organizations.

B. Definitions

1. Interested Person

Any director, principal officer, or member of a committee with governing board delegated powers, who has a direct or indirect financial interest, as defined below, is an interested person.

2. Financial Interest

A person has a financial interest if the person has, directly or indirectly, through business, investment, or family:

- a. An ownership or investment interest in any entity with which the organization has a transaction or arrangement,
- b. A compensation arrangement with the organization or with any entity or individual with which the organization has a transaction or arrangement, or
- c. A potential ownership or investment interest in, or compensation arrangement with, any entity or individual with which the organization is negotiating a transaction or arrangement.

Compensation includes direct and indirect remuneration as well as gifts or favors that are not insubstantial.

A financial interest is not necessarily a conflict of interest. Under procedures outlined below, a person who has a financial interest may have a conflict of interest only if the appropriate governing board or committee decides that a conflict of interest exists.

C. Procedures

1. Duty to Disclose

In connection with any actual or possible conflict of interest, an interested person must disclose the existence of the financial interest and be given the opportunity to disclose all material facts to the directors and members of committees with governing board delegated powers considering the proposed transaction or arrangement.

2. Determining Whether a Conflict of Interest Exists

After disclosure of the financial interest and all material facts, and after any discussion with the interested person, he/she shall leave the governing board or committee meeting while the determination of a conflict of interest is discussed and voted upon. The remaining board or committee members shall decide if a conflict of interest exists.

3. Procedures for Addressing the Conflict of Interest

- a. An interested person may make a presentation at the governing board or committee meeting, but after the presentation, he/she shall leave the meeting during the discussion of, and the vote on, the transaction or arrangement involving the possible conflict of interest.
- b. The chairperson of the governing board or committee shall, if appropriate, appoint a disinterested person or committee to investigate alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement.

- c. After exercising due diligence, the governing board or committee shall determine whether the organization can obtain with reasonable efforts a more advantageous transaction or arrangement from a person or entity that would not give rise to a conflict of interest.
- d. If a more advantageous transaction or arrangement is not reasonably possible under circumstances not producing a conflict of interest, the governing board or committee shall determine by a majority vote of the disinterested directors whether the transaction or arrangement is in the organization's best interest, for its own benefit, and whether it is fair and reasonable. In conformity with the above determination, it shall make its decision as to whether to enter into the transaction or arrangement.

D. Violations of the Policy

1. If the governing board or committee has reasonable cause to believe a member has failed to disclose actual or possible conflicts of interest, it shall inform the member of the basis for such belief and afford the member an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose.
2. If, after hearing the member's response and after making further investigation as warranted by the circumstances, the governing board or committee determines the member has failed to disclose an actual or possible conflict of interest, it shall take appropriate disciplinary and corrective action.

E. Records of Proceedings

The minutes of the governing board and all committees with board delegated powers shall contain:

1. The names of the persons who disclosed or otherwise were found to have a financial interest in connection with an actual or possible conflict of interest, the nature of the financial interest, any action taken to determine whether a conflict of interest was present, and the governing board's or committee's decision as to whether a conflict of interest in fact existed.
2. The names of the persons who were present for discussions and votes relating to the transaction or arrangement, the content of the discussion, including any alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement, and a record of any votes taken in connection with the proceedings.

F. Compensation

1. A voting member of the governing board who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the organization for services is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to that member's compensation.
2. A voting member of any committee whose jurisdiction includes compensation matters and who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the organization for services is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to that member's compensation.
3. No voting member of the governing board or any committee whose jurisdiction includes compensation matters and who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the organization, either individually or collectively, is prohibited from providing information to any committee regarding compensation.

G. Annual Statements

Each director, principal officer and member of a committee with governing board delegated powers shall annually sign a statement which affirms such person:

1. Has received a copy of the policy,
2. Has read and understands the policy,
3. Has agreed to comply with the policy, and
4. Understands the organization is charitable and in order to maintain its federal tax exemption it must engage primarily in activities which accomplish one or more of its tax-exempt purposes.

H. Periodic Reviews

To ensure the organization operates in a manner consistent with charitable purposes and does not engage in activities that could jeopardize its tax-exempt status, periodic reviews shall be conducted. The periodic reviews shall, at a minimum, include the following subjects:

1. Whether compensation arrangements and benefits are reasonable, based on competent survey information and the result of arm's length bargaining.
2. Whether partnerships, joint ventures, and arrangements with management organizations conform to the organization's written policies, are properly recorded, reflect reasonable investment or payments for goods and services, further charitable purposes and do not result in inurement, impermissible private benefit or in an excess benefit transaction.

I. Use of Outside Experts

When conducting the periodic reviews as provided for in this policy, the organization may, but need not, use outside advisors. If outside experts are used, their use shall not relieve the governing board of its responsibility for ensuring periodic reviews are conducted.

Form 1024 Attachments

Part I, Line 7: Forms 990:

The American Bridge 21st Century Foundation ("the Foundation") has filed forms 990 with the Service for the tax years ending 2011 and 2012.

Part II, Line 1: Detailed Narrative Description:

In recent years, conservatives have made a strong push for ideological purity within their ranks. The result is a movement committed to Tea Party economics, blind to any empirical evidence that discredits their beliefs, and fiercely opposed to almost any form of compromise. Even Republican officials have conceded that President Ronald Reagan would not meet the rigid standards of today's conservative movement.

This shift has coincided with a rapidly increasing flow of money to conservative advocacy groups. For many years, contributions to right-leaning nonprofit organizations from wealthy individuals and donor foundations have flown largely under the radar. But many of those ideological advocates have become nakedly partisan and heavily involved in elections, while the emergence of super PACs has pushed conservative political giving to unprecedented levels.

We believe that entities with so much influence over the political process, and their accompanying conservative policy agendas, should be held to the same standards as politicians running for office. That is why Bridge Project has kept a watchful eye on the "conservative movement," pushing back against false attacks and radical rhetoric, and following the money behind an agenda that would take America backward.

Bridge Project will continue this work to expose and oppose the conservative movement's dishonest policies and tactics both at the national and state level. We will rebut and dismantle their extreme ideology while shining a light on the moneyed special interests funding it.

Part II, Line 14: Lease

The Foundation shares space with American Bridge 21st Century, a section 527 organization registered with, and reporting to, the Federal Election Commission. The two entities have entered into a cost-sharing agreement to allocate shared overhead costs so that neither entity is financially supporting the activities of the other. American Bridge 21st Century currently has a lease expiring on December 31, 2014, for which space is shared with the Foundation; that lease is attached. American Bridge 21st Century is currently negotiating a sublease for additional space; neither the Foundation nor American Bridge 21st Century will have any relationship with the sublessor.

Part II, Line 15: Political Activity

In its prior fiscal year, the Foundation spent $5,089 attempting to influence the selection, nomination, election, or appointment of any person to any federal, state, or local public office or to an office in a political organization. However, in the future the Foundation may engage in an increased amount of such activities.

The Foundation intends to spend only a limited amount of resources influencing elections. The organization's political activity will not become a majority of its budget in any fiscal year. Any political intervention that may be conducted by the organization will be conducted within the limits imposed by Internal Revenue Code section 501(c)(4), Treasury Regulation section 1.501(c)(4)-1(a)(2), and Revenue Ruling 81-95, 1981-1 C.B. 332. The organization tracks its expenses, including through use of timesheets for its employees, to ensure that political activities do not become a majority of its activities in the course of a fiscal year, and to ensure that all required taxes will be paid under Internal Revenue Code section 527(f).

Part III(A)

ARTICLE II PREMISES

2.1 Tenant leases the Premises from Landlord for the term and upon the conditions and covenants set forth in this Lease. Tenant will have the non-exclusive right to use the common and public areas of the Building. Except as may otherwise be expressly provided in this Lease, the lease of the Premises does not include the right to use the roof, mechanical rooms, electrical closets, janitorial closets, telephone rooms, parking areas or other non-common or non-public areas of the Building.

2.2 Landlord shall have the right to change the location and configuration of the Premises provided that: (a) Landlord shall provide Tenant with substitute space of similar nature and size elsewhere in the Building (the "Substitute Premises"); (b) if the Substitute Premises contain more square feet of rentable area than the Premises, then the Base Rent shall not be increased as a result thereof; (c) if the Substitute Premises contain fewer square feet of rentable area than the Premises, then the Base Rent shall be reduced proportionately; and (d) if Tenant has commenced beneficial use of the Premises, then (1) Landlord shall provide Tenant not less than ninety (90) days' advance written notice of the date Tenant must vacate the Premises, and (2) Landlord shall at Landlord's expense remove Tenant's equipment and furniture from the Premises and reinstall those items in the Substitute Premises. Within ten (10) days after the date Landlord submits an amendment of this Lease indicating the location and configuration of the Substitute Premises, Tenant shall execute such amendment. Notwithstanding the foregoing to the contrary, Landlord shall not exercise its rights under the foregoing provisions of this Section 2.2 during the initial Lease Term.

ARTICLE III TERM

3.1 All of the provisions of this Lease shall be in full force and effect from and after the date first above written. The Lease Term shall commence on the Lease Commencement Date specified in Section 3.2. The Lease Term shall also include any properly exercised renewal or extension of the term of this Lease.

3.2 The “Lease Commencement Date” shall be the date on which Landlord delivers possession of the Premises to Tenant. The “Rent Commencement Date” shall be the earlier of (a) July 1, 2011, and (b) the date on which Tenant commences beneficial use of the Premises. Tenant shall be deemed to have commenced beneficial use of the Premises when Tenant begins to move furniture, furnishings, inventory, equipment or trade fixtures into the Premises, it being understood that the installation of telephone lines and cabling in the Premises, without more, shall not constitute the commencement of beneficial use of the Premises (but shall be subject to Article IX below). Promptly after the Rent Commencement Date is ascertained, Landlord and Tenant shall execute the certificate confirming the Lease Commencement Date and the Rent Commencement Date attached to this Lease as Exhibit D.

3.3 It is presently anticipated that the Premises will be delivered to Tenant on or about the Anticipated Delivery Date; provided, however, that if Landlord does not deliver possession of the Premises by such date, Landlord shall not have any liability whatsoever, and this Lease shall not be rendered void or voidable, as a result thereof.

3.4 “Lease Year” shall mean a period of twelve (12) consecutive months commencing on the Rent Commencement Date, and each successive twelve (12) month period thereafter; provided, however, that if the Rent Commencement Date is not the first day of a month, then the second Lease Year shall commence on the first day of the month in which the first anniversary of the Rent Commencement Date occurs.

ARTICLE IV BASE RENT

4.1 From and after the Rent Commencement Date, Tenant shall pay the Base Rent in equal monthly installments in advance on the first day of each month during a Lease Year. On the first day of the second and each succeeding Lease Year the Base Rent in effect shall be increased by an amount equal to the product of (a) the Base Rent Annual Escalation Percentage, multiplied by (b) the Base Rent in effect immediately before the increase.

4.2 Concurrently with Tenant’s execution of this Lease, Tenant shall pay an amount equal to one (1) monthly installment of the Base Rent payable during the first Lease Year, which amount shall be credited toward the monthly installment of the Base Rent payable for the first full calendar month following the Rent Commencement Date. If the Rent Commencement Date is not the first day of a month, then the Base Rent from the Rent Commencement Date until the first day of the following month shall be prorated on a per diem basis at the rate of one-thirtieth (1/30th) of the monthly installment of the Base Rent payable during the first Lease Year, and Tenant shall pay such prorated installment of the Base Rent on the Rent Commencement Date.

4.3 All sums payable by Tenant under this Lease, whether or not stated to be Base Rent, additional rent or otherwise, shall be paid to Landlord in legal tender of the United States, without setoff, deduction or demand, at the Landlord Payment Address, or to such other party or such other address as Landlord may designate in writing. Landlord’s acceptance of rent after it shall have become due and payable shall not excuse a delay upon any subsequent occasion or constitute a waiver of any of Landlord's rights hereunder. If any sum payable by Tenant under this Lease is paid by check which is returned due to insufficient funds, stop payment order, or otherwise, then: (a) such event shall be treated as a failure to pay such sum when due; and (b) in addition to all other rights and remedies of Landlord hereunder, Landlord shall be entitled (i) to impose, as additional rent, a returned check charge of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) to cover Landlord's administrative expenses and overhead for processing, and (ii) if more than one (1) check is returned in any twelve (12) month period, to require that all future payments be remitted by wire transfer, money order, or cashier's or certified check.

ARTICLE V INCREASES IN OPERATING CHARGES AND REAL ESTATE TAXES

5.1 For the purposes of this Article V, the term "Building" shall be deemed to include the site upon which the Building is constructed (which site is sometimes referred to herein as the "Land"). If the Building is operated as a part of a complex of buildings or in conjunction with other buildings or parcels of land, then Landlord shall prorate the common expenses and costs with respect to each such building or parcel of land in such manner as Landlord, in its sole but not arbitrary judgment, shall determine.

5.2 (a) From and after the Rent Commencement Date, Tenant shall pay as additional rent Tenant's proportionate share of the amount by which Operating Charges (as defined in Section 5.2(b)) for each calendar year falling entirely or partly within the Lease Term exceed a base amount (the "Operating Charges Base Amount") equal to the Operating Charges incurred during the Operating Charges Base Year. Tenant's proportionate share with respect to Operating Charges shall be that percentage which is equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of square feet of rentable area in the Premises, and the denominator of which is the number of square feet of office rentable area from time to time in the Building (excluding storage, roof and garage space). Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, for purposes of calculating the amount due from Tenant under this Article, the Operating Charges Base Amount shall not include market-wide cost increases due to extraordinary circumstances including, but not limited to, force majeure events or conditions, terrorist acts or acts of war, boycotts, strikes, conservation surcharges, embargoes or other shortages, or amortized costs relating to capital improvements.

(b) "Operating Charges" shall mean the sum of all expenses incurred by Landlord in the ownership, operation, maintenance, repair and cleaning of the Building (including the parking facilities serving the Building), including, but not limited to, the following: (1) electricity, gas, water, HVAC, sewer and other utility charges of every type and nature; (2) premiums and other charges for insurance and deductibles under such insurance policies; (3) management fees and personnel costs of the Building; (4) costs of service and maintenance contracts relating to the Building as a whole; (5) maintenance, repair and replacement expenses and supplies which are deducted by Landlord in computing its federal income tax liability; (6) depreciation for capital expenditures made by Landlord to reduce operating expenses or to comply with legal or insurance requirements applicable to the Building after the date hereof or to replace existing equipment or machinery used in connection with the operation or maintenance of the Building, such capital costs to be amortized over such reasonable period as Landlord shall determine, together with interest at the rate paid by Landlord on any funds borrowed for such expenditures; (7) charges for janitorial, trash removal and cleaning services and supplies furnished to the Building; (8) any business, professional and occupational license tax payable by Landlord with respect to the Building; (9) reasonable reserves for replacements, repairs and contingencies; (10) costs of snow removal; and (11) any other expense incurred by Landlord in maintaining, repairing, operating or cleaning the Building. Operating Charges shall not include: (i) Retail Area Charges; (ii) principal or interest payments on any Mortgages (as defined in Section 21.1); (iii) leasing commissions or legal fees with respect to the negotiation of leases; (iv) capital expenditures, except as specified above; (v) the costs of special services and utilities separately paid by particular tenants of the Building; (vi) costs which are reimbursed to Landlord by insurers or by governmental authorities in eminent domain proceedings; (vii) advertising for vacant space in the Building; (viii) the cost of tenant improvements; (ix) expenses incurred by Landlord to lease space to new tenants or to retain existing tenants, including leasing commissions, advertising and promotional expenditures; (x) expenses incurred by Landlord to resolve disputes, enforce or negotiate lease terms with prospective or existing tenants or in connection with any financing, sale or syndication of the Building; (xi) cost of alterations, capital improvements, equipment replacement and other items which under generally accepted accounting principles are properly classified as capital expenditures, except as set forth in clause (6) above; (xii) expenses for the replacement of any item covered under warranty; (xiii) any penalty or fine incurred by Landlord due to Landlord's violation of any federal, state or local law or regulation; (xiv) any interest or penalties due for late payment by Landlord of any Operating Charges; (xv) costs of repair necessitated by Landlord's gross negligence or willful misconduct, or of correcting any defects in the initial construction, materials or equipment of the Building; (xvi) expenses for any item or service which Tenant pays directly to a third party or separately reimburses Landlord; (xvii) expenses incurred by Landlord to the extent the same are reimbursed from any other tenants, occupants of the property, or third parties (other than general reimbursements of Operating Charges or increases therein); (xviii) expenses for any item or service not made available to Tenant but exclusively to certain other tenants in the Building; (xix) management fees paid or charged by Landlord in connection with the management of the Building to the extent such management fee is in excess of the market range of management fees customarily paid or charged by landlords of the comparable buildings in Washington, D.C.; (xx) salaries of (1) employees above the grade of senior property manager, and (2) employees who spend time on multiple buildings, to the extent their time is not spent in the operation of the Building; (xxi) Landlord's general corporate overhead and administrative expenses; (xxii) costs incurred to cure violations (as opposed to instances of permitted nonconformance) of Laws with respect to the Building that exist as of the date of this Lease, as such Laws are interpreted as of the date of this Lease; (xxiii) fees paid to affiliates of Landlord to the extent that such fees exceed the customary amount charged for the service provided; (xxiv) the cost of purchasing new building artwork; (xxv) Real Estate Taxes (as hereinafter defined); and (xxvi) ground lease rental, but exclusive of utilities and other "net" elements constituting rent under a ground lease. "Retail Area Charges" shall mean those expenses, if any, that are solely attributable to and payable by tenants of the Retail Area (for example, expenses relating to janitorial services; storage and removal of trash; and electricity, gas, water, sewer and other utility service furnished solely to such space, to the extent applicable).

(c) If the average occupancy rate for the Building during any calendar year (including the Operating Charges Base Year) is less than one hundred percent (100%), or if any tenant is separately paying for (or does not require) electricity or janitorial services furnished to its premises, then Operating Charges for such year shall be deemed to include all additional expenses, as reasonably estimated by Landlord, which would have been incurred during such year if such average occupancy rate had been one hundred percent (100%) and if Landlord paid for electricity and janitorial services furnished to such premises.

(d) From and after the Rent Commencement Date, Tenant shall make estimated monthly payments to Landlord on account of the amount by which Operating Charges that are expected to be incurred during each calendar year (or portion thereof) would exceed the Operating Charges Base Amount. On or about the Rent Commencement Date and at the beginning of each calendar year thereafter, Landlord may submit a statement setting forth Landlord's reasonable estimate of such excess and Tenant's proportionate share thereof. Tenant shall pay to Landlord on the first day of each month following receipt of such statement, until Tenant's receipt of the succeeding annual statement, an amount equal to one-twelfth (1/12) of each such share (estimated on an annual basis without proration pursuant to Section 5.4). From time to time during any calendar year, Landlord may revise Landlord's estimate and adjust Tenant's monthly payments to reflect Landlord's revised estimate. Within approximately one hundred fifty (150) days after the end of each calendar year, or as soon thereafter as is feasible, Landlord shall submit a statement showing (1) Tenant's proportionate share of the amount by which Operating Charges incurred during the preceding calendar year exceeded the Operating Charges Base Amount, and (2) the aggregate amount of Tenant's estimated payments made on account of Operating Charges during such year. If such statement indicates that the aggregate amount of such estimated payments exceeds Tenant's actual liability, then Landlord shall credit the net overpayment toward Tenant's next estimated payment(s) pursuant to this Section. If such statement indicates that Tenant's actual liability exceeds the aggregate amount of such estimated payments, then Tenant shall pay the amount of such excess as additional rent.

(e) For a period of one hundred eighty (180) days after Tenant's receipt of such statement, Tenant, or an independent, certified public accountant who is hired by Tenant on a noncontingent fee basis and who offers a full range of accounting services and is reasonably acceptable to Landlord, shall have the right, during regular business hours and after giving at least ten (10) days' advance written notice to Landlord, to inspect and complete an audit of Landlord's books and records relating to Operating Charges for the immediately preceding calendar year; or, at Landlord's sole discretion and in lieu of such audit, Landlord will provide Tenant with an audited statement. Tenant shall (and shall cause its employees, agents and consultants to) keep the results of any such audit or audited statement strictly confidential. If such audit or audited statement shows that the amounts paid by Tenant to Landlord on account of increases in Operating Charges exceed the amounts to which Landlord is entitled hereunder, Landlord shall credit the amount of such excess toward the next monthly payments of Operating Charges due hereunder. All costs and expenses of any such audit or audited statement shall be paid by Tenant. If Tenant does not notify Landlord in writing of any objection to any statement within one hundred eighty (180) days after receipt thereof, then Tenant shall be deemed to have waived such objection.

5.3 (a) From and after the Rent Commencement Date, Tenant shall pay as additional rent Tenant's proportionate share of the amount by which Real Estate Taxes (as defined in Section 5.3(b)) for each calendar year falling entirely or partly within the Lease Term exceed a base amount (the "Real Estate Taxes Base Amount") equal to the Real Estate Taxes incurred during the Real Estate Taxes Base Year, as finally determined. Tenant's proportionate share with respect to Real Estate Taxes shall be that percentage which is equal to a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of square feet of rentable area in the Premises, and the denominator of which is the number of square feet of total rentable area from time to time in the Building (excluding storage, roof and garage space).

(b) "Real Estate Taxes" shall mean (1) all real estate taxes, vault and/or public space rentals, business district or arena taxes, special user fees, rates, and assessments (including general and special assessments, if any), ordinary and extraordinary, foreseen and unforeseen, which are imposed upon Landlord or assessed against the Building or the Land or Landlord's personal property used in connection therewith, (2) any other present or future taxes or governmental charges that are imposed upon Landlord or assessed against the Building or the Land which are in the nature of or in substitution for real estate taxes, including any tax levied on or measured by the rents payable by tenants of the Building, and (3) expenses (including, without limitation, attorneys' and consultants' fees and court costs) incurred in reviewing, protesting or seeking a reduction of real estate taxes, whether or not such protest or reduction is ultimately successful. Subject to the foregoing, Real Estate Taxes shall not include any inheritance, estate, gift, franchise, corporation, net income or net profits tax assessed against Landlord from the operation of the Building.

(c) If during any calendar year (including the Real Estate Taxes Base Year) the Building is not fully assessed for tax purposes, then Real Estate Taxes for such year shall be deemed to include all additional taxes, as reasonably estimated by Landlord, which would have been incurred during such year if the Building had been fully assessed.

(d) From and after the Rent Commencement Date, Tenant shall make estimated monthly payments to Landlord on account of the amount by which Real Estate Taxes that are expected to be incurred during each calendar year would exceed the Real Estate Taxes Base Amount. On or about the Rent Commencement Date and at the beginning of each calendar year thereafter, Landlord may submit a statement setting forth Landlord's reasonable estimate of such amount and Tenant's proportionate share thereof. Tenant shall pay to Landlord on the first day of each month following receipt of such statement, until Tenant's receipt of the succeeding annual statement, an amount equal to one-twelfth (1/12) of such share (estimated on an annual basis without proration pursuant to Section 5.4). From time to time during any calendar year, Landlord may revise Landlord's estimate and adjust Tenant's monthly payments to reflect Landlord's revised estimate. Within approximately one hundred fifty (150) days after the end of each calendar year, or as soon thereafter as is feasible, Landlord shall submit a statement showing (1) Tenant's proportionate share of the amount by which Real Estate Taxes incurred during the preceding calendar year exceeded the Real Estate Taxes Base Amount, and (2) the aggregate amount of Tenant's estimated payments made during such year. If such statement indicates that the aggregate amount of such estimated payments exceeds Tenant's actual liability, then Landlord shall credit the net overpayment toward Tenant's next estimated payment(s) pursuant to this Section. If such statement indicates that Tenant's actual liability exceeds the aggregate amount of such estimated payments, then Tenant shall pay the amount of such excess as additional rent.

5.4 If the Rent Commencement Date occurs or the Lease Term expires on a day other than the first or last day of a calendar year, respectively, then Tenant's liabilities pursuant to this Article for such calendar year shall be apportioned by multiplying the respective amount of Tenant's proportionate share thereof for the full calendar year by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days during such calendar year falling from and after the Rent Commencement Date or within the Lease Term, respectively, and the denominator of which is three hundred sixty-five (365).

ARTICLE VI USE OF PREMISES

6.1 Tenant shall use and occupy the Premises solely for general (non-medical and non-governmental) office purposes compatible with first class office buildings in the jurisdiction in which the Building is located, and for no other use or purpose. Tenant shall not use or occupy the Premises for any unlawful purpose, or in any manner that will violate the certificate of occupancy for the Premises or the Building or that will constitute waste, nuisance or unreasonable annoyance to Landlord or any other tenant or user of the Building, or in any manner that will increase the number of parking spaces required for the Building or its full occupancy as required by law. Tenant shall comply with all present and future laws (including, without limitation, the Americans with Disabilities Act (the "ADA") and the regulations promulgated thereunder, as the same may be amended from time to time), ordinances (including without limitation, zoning ordinances and land use requirements), regulations, orders and recommendations (including, without limitation, those made by any public or private agency having authority over insurance rates) (collectively, "Laws") concerning the use, occupancy and condition of the Premises and all machinery, equipment, furnishings, fixtures and improvements therein, all of which shall be complied with in a timely manner at Tenant's sole expense. If any such Law requires an occupancy or use permit or license for the Premises or the operation of the business conducted therein, then Tenant shall obtain and keep current such permit or license at Tenant's expense and shall promptly deliver a copy thereof to Landlord. Use of the Premises is subject to all covenants, conditions and restrictions of record. Tenant shall not use any space in the Building for the sale of goods to the public at large or for the sale at auction of goods or property of any kind. Tenant shall not conduct any operations, sales, promotions, advertising or special events outside the Premises.

6.2 Tenant shall pay before delinquency any business, rent or other taxes or fees that are now or hereafter levied, assessed or imposed upon Tenant's use or occupancy of the Premises, the conduct of Tenant's business at the Premises, or Tenant's equipment, fixtures, furnishings, inventory or personal property. If any such tax or fee is enacted or altered so that such tax or fee is levied against Landlord or so that Landlord is responsible for collection or payment thereof, then Tenant shall pay as additional rent the amount of such tax or fee.

6.3 (a) Tenant shall not cause or permit any Hazardous Materials to be generated, used, released, stored or disposed of in or about the Building, provided that Tenant may use and store reasonable quantities of standard cleaning materials as may be reasonably necessary for Tenant to conduct normal general office use operations in the Premises provided the same are handled, stored and disposed of in accordance with all Laws. At the expiration or earlier termination of this Lease, Tenant shall surrender the Premises to Landlord free of Hazardous Materials that may have been generated, used, released, stored or disposed of by Tenant or any Invitee and in compliance with all Environmental Laws. “Hazardous Materials” means (a) asbestos and any asbestos containing material and any substance that is then defined or listed in, or otherwise classified pursuant to, any Environmental Law or any other applicable Law as a “hazardous substance,” “hazardous material,” “hazardous waste,” “infectious waste,” “toxic substance,” “toxic pollutant” or any other formulation intended to define, list, or classify substances by reason of deleterious properties such as ignitability, corrosivity, reactivity, carcinogenicity, toxicity, reproductive toxicity, or Toxicity Characteristic Leaching Procedure (TCLP) toxicity, (b) any petroleum and drilling fluids, produced waters, and other wastes associated with the exploration, development or production of crude oil, natural gas, or geothermal resources, and (c) any petroleum product, polychlorinated biphenyls, urea formaldehyde, radon gas, radioactive material (including any source, special nuclear, or by-product material), medical waste, chlorofluorocarbon, lead or lead-based product, and any other substance whose presence could be detrimental to the Building or the Land or hazardous to health or the environment. “Environmental Law” means any present and future Law and any amendments (whether common law, statute, rule, order, regulation or otherwise), permits and other requirements or guidelines of governmental authorities applicable to the Building or the Land and relating to the environment and environmental conditions or to any Hazardous Material (including, without limitation, CERCLA, 42 U.S.C. § 9601 et seq., the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, 42 U.S.C. §6901 et seq., the Hazardous Materials Transportation Act, 49 U.S.C. §1801 et seq., the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, 33 U.S.C. §1251 et seq., the Clean Air Act, 33 U.S.C. §7401 et seq., the Toxic Substances Control Act, 15 U.S.C. §2601 et seq., the Safe Drinking Water Act, 42 U.S.C. §300f et seq., the Emergency Planning and Community Right-To-Know Act, 42 U.S.C. §1101 et seq., the Occupational Safety and Health Act, 29 U.S.C. §651 et seq., and any so-called “Super Fund” or “Super Lien” law, any Law requiring the filing of reports and notices relating to hazardous substances, environmental laws administered by the Environmental Protection Agency, and any similar state and local Laws, all amendments thereto and all regulations, orders, decisions, and decrees now or hereafter promulgated thereunder concerning the environment, industrial hygiene or public health or safety).

(b) Notwithstanding any termination of this Lease, Tenant shall indemnify and hold Landlord, its employees and agents harmless from and against any damage, injury, loss, liability, charge, demand or claim based on or arising out of (i) the presence or removal of, or failure to remove, Hazardous Materials generated, used, released, stored or disposed of by Tenant or any Invitee in or about the Building, whether before or after Lease Commencement Date or (ii) any non-compliance with Environmental Laws to the extent the same is a result of the use or occupancy of the Premises or any action or inaction of Tenant or any Invitee. In addition, Tenant shall give Landlord immediate verbal and follow-up written notice of any actual or threatened Environmental Default, which Environmental Default Tenant shall cure in accordance with all Environmental Laws and to the satisfaction of Landlord and only after Tenant has obtained Landlord's prior written consent, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. An "Environmental Default" means any of the following by Tenant or any Invitee: a violation of an Environmental Law; a release, spill or discharge of a Hazardous Material on or from the Premises, the Land or the Building; an environmental condition requiring responsive action; or an emergency environmental condition. Upon any Environmental Default, in addition to all other rights available to Landlord under this Lease, at law or in equity, Landlord shall have the right but not the obligation to immediately enter the Premises, to supervise and approve any actions taken by Tenant to address the Environmental Default, and, if Tenant fails to immediately address same to Landlord's satisfaction, to perform, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, any lawful action necessary to address same. If any lender or governmental agency shall require testing to ascertain whether an Environmental Default is pending or threatened, then Tenant shall pay the reasonable costs therefor as additional rent. Promptly upon request, Tenant shall execute from time to time affidavits, representations and similar documents concerning Tenant's best knowledge and belief regarding the presence of Hazardous Materials at or in the Building, the Land or the Premises.

6.4 Landlord at its expense (subject to reimbursement pursuant to Article V to the extent permitted thereby) shall take steps necessary to comply with Title III of the ADA to the extent same applies directly to the common areas of the Building as a whole; provided, however, that to the extent any non-compliance is a result of the use or occupancy of the Premises or any action or inaction of Tenant or any Invitee, or if any improvements made by Landlord to comply with the ADA benefit solely the Premises, then such compliance shall be at Tenant's cost. Tenant at its sole cost and expense shall be solely responsible for taking any and all measures which are required to comply with the ADA concerning the Premises (including means of ingress and egress thereto) and the business conducted therein. Any Alterations made or constructed by Tenant for the purpose of complying with the ADA or which otherwise require compliance with the ADA shall be done in accordance with this Lease; provided, that Landlord's consent to such Alterations shall not constitute either Landlord's assumption, in whole or in part, of Tenant's responsibility for compliance with the ADA, or representation or confirmation by Landlord that such Alterations comply with the provisions of the ADA.

ARTICLE VII ASSIGNMENT AND SUBLETTING

7.1 Tenant shall not assign, transfer or otherwise encumber (collectively, "assign") this Lease or all or any of Tenant's rights hereunder or interest herein, or sublet or permit anyone to use or occupy (collectively, "sublet") the Premises or any part thereof, without obtaining the prior written consent of Landlord, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, subject to Landlord's rights pursuant to Sections 7.4 and 7.5 hereinbelow. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing sentence, it is specifically agreed that it shall be reasonable for Landlord to withhold its consent to any proposed assignment or subletting of the Premises if (i) the use of the Premises pursuant to such assignment or sublease is not in compliance with Article VI hereof; (ii) the proposed assignee or subtenant is not of a type and quality consistent and compatible with a first class office building and with the Building and its tenants; (iii) Landlord is not reasonably satisfied with the financial condition of the assignee under any such assignment or the sublessee under any such sublease; (iv) the initial Tenant does not remain fully liable as a primary obligor for the payment of all rent and other charges hereunder and for the performance of all its other obligations hereunder; (v) the proposed assignee or subtenant is a governmental or quasi-governmental entity; or (vi) Tenant has defaulted under this Lease. No assignment or right of occupancy hereunder may be effectuated by operation of law or otherwise without the prior written consent of Landlord. Any attempted assignment, transfer or other encumbrance of this Lease or all or any of Tenant's rights hereunder or interest herein, and any sublet or permission to use or occupy the Premises or any part thereof not in accordance with this Article VII shall be void and of no force or effect. Any assignment or subletting, Landlord's consent thereto, or Landlord's collection or acceptance of rent from any assignee or subtenant shall not be construed either as waiving or releasing Tenant from any of its liabilities or obligations under this Lease as a principal and not as a guarantor or surety, or as relieving Tenant or any assignee or subtenant from the obligation of obtaining Landlord's prior written consent to any subsequent assignment or subletting. As security for this Lease, Tenant hereby assigns to Landlord the rent due from any assignee or subtenant of Tenant. For any period during which Tenant is in default hereunder, Tenant hereby authorizes each such assignee or subtenant to pay said rent directly to Landlord upon receipt of notice from Landlord specifying same. Landlord's collection of such rent shall not be construed as an acceptance of such assignee or subtenant as a tenant. Tenant shall not mortgage, pledge, hypothecate or encumber (collectively "mortgage") this Lease without Landlord's prior written consent, which consent may be granted or withheld in Landlord's sole and absolute discretion. Tenant shall pay to Landlord an administrative fee equal to five hundred dollars ($500) plus all other reasonable expenses (including attorneys' fees and accounting costs) incurred by Landlord in connection with Tenant's request for Landlord to give its consent to any assignment, subletting, or mortgage. Any sublease, assignment or mortgage shall, at Landlord's option, be effected on forms approved by Landlord. Tenant shall deliver to Landlord a fully-executed copy of each agreement evidencing a sublease, assignment or mortgage within ten (10) days after Tenant's execution thereof.

7.2 If Tenant is a partnership, then any event (whether voluntary, concurrent or related) resulting in a dissolution of Tenant, any withdrawal or change (whether voluntary, involuntary or by operation of law) of partners owning a controlling interest in Tenant (including each general partner), or any structural or other change having the effect of limiting the liability of the partners shall be deemed a voluntary assignment of this Lease subject to the provisions of this Article. If Tenant is a corporation (or a partnership with a corporate general partner), then any event (whether voluntary, concurrent or related) resulting in a dissolution, merger, consolidation or other reorganization of Tenant (or such corporate general partner), or the sale or transfer or relinquishment of the interest of shareholders who, as of the date of this Lease, own a controlling interest of the capital stock of Tenant (or such corporate general partner), shall be deemed a voluntary assignment of this Lease subject to the provisions of this Article; provided, however, that the foregoing portion of this sentence shall not apply to corporations whose stock is traded through a national or regional exchange or over-the-counter market. If Tenant is a limited liability company, then any dissolution of Tenant or a withdrawal or change, whether voluntary, involuntary or by operation of law, of members owning a controlling interest in Tenant shall be deemed a voluntary assignment of this Lease. In addition, a transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of Tenant, either by merger, consolidation, or otherwise shall be deemed to be an assignment under this Article VII.

7.3 If at any time during the Lease Term Tenant desires to assign, sublet or mortgage all or part of this Lease or the Premises, then in connection with Tenant's request to Landlord for Landlord's consent thereto, Tenant shall give notice to Landlord in writing ("Tenant's Request Notice") containing: the identity of the proposed assignee, subtenant or other party and a description of its business; the terms of the proposed assignment, subletting or other transaction; the commencement date of the proposed assignment, subletting or other transaction (the "Proposed Sublease Commencement Date"); the area proposed to be assigned, sublet or otherwise encumbered (the "Proposed Sublet Space"); the most recent financial statement or other evidence of financial responsibility of such proposed assignee, subtenant or other party; and a certification executed by Tenant and such party stating whether or not any premium or other consideration is being paid for the assignment, sublease or other transaction.

7.4 Landlord shall have the right in its sole and absolute discretion to terminate this Lease with respect to the Proposed Sublet Space by sending Tenant written notice of such termination within thirty (30) days after Landlord's receipt of Tenant's Request Notice. If the Proposed Sublet Space does not constitute the entire Premises and Landlord exercises its option to terminate this Lease with respect to the Proposed Sublet Space, then (a) Tenant shall tender the Proposed Sublet Space to Landlord on the Proposed Sublease Commencement Date and such space shall thereafter be deleted from the Premises, and (b) as to that portion of the Premises which is not part of the Proposed Sublet Space, this Lease shall remain in full force and effect except that Base Rent and additional rent shall be reduced pro rata. The cost of any construction required to permit the operation of the Proposed Sublet Space separate from the balance of the Premises shall be paid by Tenant to Landlord as additional rent hereunder. If the Proposed Sublet Space constitutes the entire Premises and Landlord elects to terminate this Lease, then Tenant shall tender the Proposed Sublet Space to Landlord, and this Lease shall terminate, on the Proposed Sublease Commencement Date.

7.5 If any sublease or assignment (whether by operation of law or otherwise, including without limitation an assignment pursuant to the provisions of the Bankruptcy Code or any other Insolvency Law) provides that the subtenant or assignee thereunder is to pay any amount in excess of the rental and other charges due under this Lease, then whether such excess be in the form of an increased monthly or annual rental, a lump sum payment, payment for the sale, transfer or lease of Tenant's fixtures, leasehold improvements, furniture and other personal property, or any other form (and if the subleased or assigned space does not constitute the entire Premises, the existence of such excess shall be determined on a pro-rata basis), Tenant shall pay to Landlord fifty percent (50%) of any such excess or other premium applicable to the sublease or assignment, which amount shall be paid by Tenant to Landlord as additional rent upon such terms as shall be specified by Landlord and in no event later than ten (10) days after any receipt thereof by Tenant. Acceptance by Landlord of any payments due under this Section shall not be deemed to constitute approval by Landlord of any sublease or assignment, nor shall such acceptance waive any rights of Landlord hereunder. Landlord shall have the right to inspect and audit Tenant's books and records relating to any sublease or assignment.

7.6 All restrictions and obligations imposed pursuant to this Lease on Tenant shall be deemed to extend to any subtenant, assignee, licensee, concessionaire or other occupant or transferee, and Tenant shall cause such person to comply with such restrictions and obligations. Any assignee shall be deemed to have assumed obligations as if such assignee had originally executed this Lease and at Landlord's request shall execute promptly a document confirming such assumption. Each sublease is subject to the condition that if the Lease Term is terminated or Landlord succeeds to Tenant's interest in the Premises by voluntary surrender or otherwise, at Landlord's option the subtenant shall be bound to Landlord for the balance of the term of such sublease and shall attorn to and recognize Landlord as its landlord under the then executory terms of such sublease or, at Landlord's sole option, the subtenant shall execute a direct lease with Landlord on Landlord's then-current standard form.

7.7 Notwithstanding anything contained in this Article VII to the contrary, and provided that no default has occurred under this Lease, Tenant, upon prior written notice to Landlord but without Landlord's prior written consent and without being subject to Landlord's rights and Tenant's obligations under Sections 7.4 and 7.5, may engage in Office Sharing (as hereinafter defined) with American Bridge 21st Century Foundation, a District of Columbia nonprofit corporation ("Foundation"), without the same constituting a subletting within the meaning of this Article VII. The term "Office Sharing" shall mean the use of portions of the Premises by Foundation; provided, however, that Tenant shall not separately demise the space being used for Office Sharing. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Tenant shall not have the right to engage in Office Sharing if the Premises will be used in a manner that is inconsistent with the permitted use set forth in Article VI. For purposes of this Lease, the acts or omissions of the employees or other personnel of Foundation shall be deemed to be the acts or omissions (as applicable) of Tenant or Tenant's employees.

ARTICLE VIII MAINTENANCE AND REPAIRS

8.1 Tenant, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, shall promptly make all repairs, perform all maintenance, and make all replacements in and to the Premises that are necessary or desirable to keep the Premises in first class condition and repair, in a clean, safe and tenantable condition, and otherwise in accordance with all Laws and the requirements of this Lease. Tenant shall maintain all fixtures, furnishings and equipment located in, or exclusively serving, the Premises in clean, safe and sanitary condition, shall take good care thereof and make all required repairs and replacements thereto. Tenant shall give Landlord prompt written notice of any defects or damage to the structure of, or equipment or fixtures in, the Building or any part thereof. Tenant shall suffer no waste or injury to any part of the Premises, and shall, at the expiration or earlier termination of the Lease Term, surrender the Premises in an order and condition equal to their order and condition on the Lease Commencement Date, except for ordinary wear and tear and as otherwise provided in Article XVII. Except as otherwise provided in Article XVII, all injury, breakage and damage to the Premises and to any other part of the Building or the Land caused by any act or omission of any invitee, agent, employee, subtenant, assignee, contractor, client, family member, licensee, customer or guest of Tenant (collectively, "Invitees") or Tenant, shall be repaired by and at Tenant's expense, except that Landlord shall have the right at Landlord's option to make any such repair and to charge Tenant for all costs and expenses incurred in connection therewith. Landlord shall provide and install replacement tubes for Building standard fluorescent light fixtures (subject to reimbursement pursuant to Article V); all other bulbs and tubes for the Premises shall be provided and installed at Tenant's expense.

8.2 Except as otherwise provided in this Lease, Landlord shall (subject to reimbursement pursuant to Article V) keep the exterior and demising walls, load bearing elements, foundations, roof and common areas that form a part of the Building, and the building standard mechanical, electrical, HVAC and plumbing systems, pipes and conduits that are provided by Landlord in the operation of the Building (collectively, the "Building Structure and Systems"), clean and in good operating condition and, promptly after becoming aware of any item needing repair, will make repairs thereto. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing to the contrary: (a) maintenance and repair of special tenant areas, facilities, finishes and equipment (including, but not limited to, any special fire protection equipment, telecommunications and computer equipment, kitchen/galley equipment, air-conditioning equipment serving the Premises only and all other furniture, furnishings and equipment of Tenant and all Alterations) shall be the sole responsibility of Tenant and shall be deemed not to be a part of the Building Structure and Systems; and (b) Landlord shall have no obligation to make any repairs brought about by any act or neglect of Tenant or any Invitee.

ARTICLE IX ALTERATIONS

9.1 Tenant shall accept the Premises in its "as is" condition as of the Lease Commencement Date. Landlord is under no obligation to make any structural or other alterations, decorations, additions, improvements or other changes (collectively, "Alterations") in or to the Premises or the Building.

9.2 Tenant shall not make or permit anyone to make any Alterations in or to the Premises or the Building, without the prior written consent of Landlord, which consent may be withheld or granted in Landlord's sole and absolute discretion with respect to Alterations to the Building Structure and Systems and otherwise shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Notwithstanding the foregoing, provided Tenant gives Landlord prior written notice, Tenant may install in the Premises, without obtaining Landlord's prior written consent, minor, nonstructural Alterations of a decorative or cosmetic nature whose value, when combined with the value of all Alterations made without Landlord's consent in the prior twelve (12) month period (all as reasonably determined by Landlord), is less than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500.00), which do not adversely impact the Building or the Building Structure and Systems and which do not require a building permit ("Minor Alterations"). Any Alterations made by Tenant shall be made: (a) in a good, workmanlike, first-class and prompt manner; (b) using new materials only; (c) by a contractor, on days, at times and under the supervision of an architect approved in writing by Landlord; (d) in accordance with plans and specifications prepared by an engineer or architect reasonably acceptable to Landlord, which plans and specifications shall be approved in writing by Landlord at Landlord's standard charge; (e) in accordance with all Laws and the requirements of any insurance company insuring the Building or any portion thereof; (f) after having obtained any required consent of the holder of any Mortgage; (g) after obtaining public liability and worker's compensation insurance policies approved in writing by Landlord, which policies shall cover every person who will perform any work with respect to such Alteration; and (h) upon request, after Tenant has delivered to Landlord documentation reasonably satisfactory to Landlord evidencing Tenant's financial ability to complete the Alteration in accordance with the provisions of this Lease. As Tenant pays for any such Alterations, Tenant shall obtain and deliver to Landlord written, unconditional partial waivers of mechanics' and materialmen's liens against the Premises and the Building from all contractors, subcontractors, laborers and material suppliers for such Alterations. Promptly after an Alteration is complete, Tenant shall obtain and deliver to Landlord written, unconditional waivers of mechanics' and materialmen's liens against the Premises and the Building from all contractors, subcontractors, laborers and material suppliers for all work, labor and services performed and materials furnished in connection with such Alteration. If any lien (or a petition to establish such lien) is filed in connection with any Alteration, such lien (or petition) shall be discharged by Tenant within ten (10) days thereafter, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, by the payment thereof or by the filing of a bond acceptable to Landlord. If Landlord gives its consent to the making of any Alteration, such consent shall not be deemed to be an agreement or consent by Landlord to subject its interest in the Premises or the Building to any liens which may be filed in connection therewith. All Alterations (including, without limitation, those involving structural, electrical, mechanical or plumbing work, fire and life safety systems, the roof of the Building, the heating, ventilation and air conditioning system of the Premises or the Building, and the roof of the Building) shall, at Landlord's election, be performed by Landlord's designated contractor or subcontractor at Tenant's expense. If Landlord elects not to so perform such work, then Landlord shall be paid a reasonable construction supervision fee (not to exceed three percent (3%) of the "hard" cost of such work). Promptly after the completion of an Alteration, Tenant at its expense shall deliver to Landlord three (3) sets of accurate as-built drawings showing such Alteration in place.

9.3 If any Alterations (other than Minor Alterations) are made without the prior written consent of Landlord, Landlord shall have the right at Tenant's expense to remove and correct such Alterations and restore the Premises and the Building to their condition immediately prior thereto, or to require Tenant to do the same. All Alterations to the Premises or the Building made by either party shall immediately become the property of Landlord and shall remain upon and be surrendered with the Premises as a part thereof at the expiration or earlier termination of the Lease Term; provided, however, that (a) if no Event of Default then exists, then Tenant shall have the right to remove, prior to the expiration or earlier termination of the Lease Term, all movable furniture, furnishings and equipment installed in the Premises solely at the expense of Tenant, and (b) Tenant shall remove all Alterations and other items in the Premises or the Building which Landlord designates in writing for removal. Movable furniture, furnishings and trade fixtures shall be deemed to exclude without limitation any item the removal of which might cause damage to the Premises or the Building or which would normally be removed from the Premises with the assistance of any tool or machinery other than a dolly. Landlord shall have the right at Tenant's expense to repair all damage and injury to the Premises or the Building caused by such removal or to require Tenant to do the same. If such furniture, furnishings and equipment are not removed by Tenant prior to the expiration or earlier termination of the Lease Term, the same shall at Landlord's option become the property of Landlord and shall be surrendered with the Premises as a part thereof; provided, however, that Landlord shall have the right at Tenant's expense to remove from the Premises such furniture, furnishings and equipment and any Alteration which Landlord designates in writing for removal or to require Tenant to do the same. If Tenant fails to return the Premises to Landlord as required by this Section, then Tenant shall pay to Landlord, as additional rent, all costs (including a construction management fee) incurred by Landlord in effecting such return.

9.4 Prior to commencing any Work (as hereinafter defined), Tenant shall furnish to Landlord the name and address of all Contractors (as hereinafter defined) who will be, or are reasonably expected to be, performing any of Work. All such Contractors shall be licensed by the District of Columbia and approved by ASB Capital Management, LLC (“ASB”), on behalf of Landlord, and by the business manager of the applicable local AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Council (“BCTC”) (when approved by ASB and the BCTC, such Contractor shall be an “Approved Contractor”). Prior to commencing any Work, Tenant shall also furnish to Landlord for approval, not to be unreasonably withheld, a copy of the construction contract(s), including all amendments, change orders and modifications thereof, for the construction and installation of the Work (“Construction Contract”). Tenant agrees to comply with the following Quality Contractor Policy and shall cause the Construction Contract to contain provisions requiring the Contractor (and all of its subcontractors) to comply with the following Quality Contractor Policy when performing its Work and when selecting any subcontractors to perform the Work:

All contractors and subcontractors at any tier performing any construction, repair, refurbishment or restoration (collectively, “Work”), including, without limitation, tenant improvements, build-out, alterations, additions, improvements, renovations, repairs, remodeling, painting and installations of fixtures, mechanical, electrical, plumbing, data, security, telecommunication, low voltage or elevator equipment or systems or other equipment, or with respect to any other construction work in, on, or to the Premises or the Building (including any such work performed by any person who contracts to provide services to any portion of the Premises or Building, such as cable, DSL, communications, telecommunications or similar services) (collectively, “Contractors”) shall: (i) be bound by and signatory to a collective bargaining agreement with a labor organization (a) whose jurisdiction covers the type of Work to be performed on the Building, and (b) who is an Approved Building Trades Department Contractor or Subcontractor (as hereinafter defined); and (ii) observe area standards for wages and other terms and conditions of employment, including fringe benefits. For purposes hereof, an “Approved Building Trades Department Contractor or Subcontractor” is a contractor or subcontractor who is currently affiliated with the Building and Construction Trades Department of the AFL-CIO (the “BCTD”) or, if no such BCTD-affiliated contractor or subcontractor is available for a particular trade (e.g., carpentry work), a contractor or subcontractor which is affiliated with a national trade union which was formerly affiliated with the BCTD and which recognizes (and will recognize and respect, for its work on the Building), the jurisdictional limitations established by the local BCTD. Upon request of Landlord, each such contractor and subcontractor shall provide written certification that all Work performed by such contractor or subcontractor was performed in compliance with such policy.

Contractors may not engage any subcontractor that does not satisfy the provisions of clauses (i) and (ii) above. If at any time a Contractor or subcontractor does not satisfy clauses (i) and (ii) above, such Contractor (and its subcontractors) or subcontractor shall not be an Approved Contractor.

ARTICLE X SIGNS

10.1 At Landlord's expense (provided that subsequent additions and changes shall be at Tenant's expense), Landlord will list Tenant's name in the Building directory and provide Building standard signage on one suite entry door. No other sign, advertisement or notice referring to Tenant shall be inscribed, painted, affixed or otherwise displayed on any part of the exterior or interior of the Building (including windows and doors) without the prior written approval of Landlord, which may be granted or withheld in Landlord's sole and absolute discretion. If any such item that has not been approved by Landlord is so displayed, then Landlord shall have the right to remove such item at Tenant's expense or to require Tenant to do the same. Landlord reserves the right to install and display signs, advertisements and notices on any part of the exterior or interior of the Building; provided, however that Landlord shall only affix, install, or display signs on the interior of the Premises which pertain to the management or operation of the Building.

ARTICLE XI SECURITY DEPOSIT

11.1 Simultaneously with Tenant's execution of this Lease, Tenant shall deposit with Landlord the Security Deposit Amount (as defined in Section 1.9) as a security deposit which shall be security for the performance by Tenant of all of Tenant's obligations, covenants, conditions and agreements under this Lease. Landlord shall not be required to maintain such security deposit in a separate account. Except as may be required by law, Tenant shall not be entitled to interest on the security deposit. Within approximately thirty (30) days after the later of the expiration or earlier termination of the Lease Term or Tenant's vacating the Premises, Landlord shall return such security deposit to Tenant, less such portion thereof as Landlord shall have appropriated to satisfy any of Tenant's obligations, or any default by Tenant, under this Lease. If there shall be any default under this Lease by Tenant, then Landlord shall have the right, but shall not be obligated, to use, apply or retain all or any portion of the security deposit for the payment of any (a) Base Rent, additional rent or any other sum as to which Tenant is in default, or (b) amount Landlord may spend or become obligated to spend, or for the compensation of Landlord for any losses incurred, by reason of Tenant's default (including, but not limited to, any damage or deficiency arising in connection with the reletting of the Premises). If any portion of the security deposit is so used or applied, then within three (3) business days after Landlord gives written notice to Tenant of such use or application, Tenant shall deposit with Landlord cash in an amount sufficient to restore the security deposit to the original Security Deposit Amount, and Tenant's failure to do so shall constitute an Event of Default under this Lease.

11.2 If Landlord transfers the security deposit to any purchaser or other transferee of Landlord's interest in the Property, then Tenant shall look only to such purchaser or transferee for the return of the security deposit, and Landlord shall be released from all liability to Tenant for the return of such security deposit. Tenant acknowledges that the holder of any Mortgage shall not be liable for the return of any security deposit made by Tenant hereunder unless such holder actually receives such security deposit. Tenant shall not pledge, mortgage, assign or transfer the Security Deposit or any interest therein.

11.3 Tenant, at its option, shall have the right to deliver to Landlord an unconditional, irrevocable letter of credit (the "Letter of Credit") in substitution for the cash security deposit, subject to the following terms and conditions. Such letter of credit shall be (a) in form and substance satisfactory to Landlord in its sole discretion (Landlord hereby approving the form of letter of credit attached hereto as Exhibit E); (b) at all times in the Security Deposit Amount, and shall permit multiple draws; (c) issued by a commercial bank reasonably acceptable to Landlord from time to time and located in the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area; (d) made payable to, and expressly transferable and assignable at no charge by Landlord or the holder of any Mortgage (which transfer/assignment shall be conditioned only upon the execution of a written document in connection therewith), it being understood that if such letter of credit is made payable to the holder of any Mortgage, such letter of credit shall provide that copies of all notices be sent to Landlord; (e) payable at sight to a local branch of the issuer of a simple sight draft; (f) of a term not less than one year; and (g) at least thirty (30) days prior to the then-current expiration date of such letter of credit, either (1) renewed (or automatically and unconditionally extended) from time to time through the ninetieth (90th) day after the expiration of the Lease Term, or (2) replaced with cash in the amount of the Security Deposit. Notwithstanding anything in this Lease to the contrary, any cure or grace periods set forth in this Lease shall not apply to any of the foregoing, and, specifically, if Tenant fails to timely comply with the requirements of subsection (g) above, then Landlord or its assignee shall have the right to immediately draw upon the letter of credit without notice to Tenant and apply the proceeds to the security deposit. Each Letter of Credit shall be issued by a commercial bank that has a credit rating with respect to certificates of deposit, short term deposits or commercial paper of at least P-2 (or equivalent) by Moody's Investor Service, Inc., or at least A-2 (or equivalent) by Standard & Poor's Corporation, and shall be otherwise acceptable to Landlord in its sole and absolute discretion. If the issuer's credit rating is reduced below P-2 (or equivalent) by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. or below A-2 (or equivalent) by Standard & Poor's Corporation, or if the financial condition of such issuer changes in any other materially adverse way, then Landlord or its assignee shall have the right to require that Tenant obtain from a different issuer a substitute letter of credit that complies in all respects with the requirements of this Section, and Tenant's failure to obtain such substitute letter of credit within ten (10) days following Landlord's or its assignee's written demand therefor (with no other notice or cure or grace period being applicable thereto, notwithstanding anything in this Lease to the contrary) shall entitle Landlord or its assignee to immediately draw upon the then existing Letter of Credit in whole or in part, without notice to Tenant. In the event the issuer of any Letter of Credit held by Landlord or its assignee is placed into receivership or conservatorship by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any successor or similar entity, then, effective as of the date such receivership or conservatorship occurs, said Letter of Credit shall be deemed to not meet the requirements of this Section, and, within ten (10) days thereof, Tenant shall replace such Letter of Credit with other collateral acceptable to Landlord and/or the holder of any mortgage in its sole and absolute discretion (and Tenant's failure to do so shall, notwithstanding anything in this Lease to the contrary, constitute an Event of Default for which there shall be no notice or grace or cure periods being applicable thereto other than the aforesaid ten (10) day period). Any failure or refusal of the issuer to honor the letter of credit shall be at Tenant's sole risk and shall not relieve Tenant of its obligations hereunder with respect to the security deposit.

ARTICLE XII INSPECTION

12.1 Upon reasonable prior oral notice to Tenant (except in the event of emergency), at all times Tenant shall permit Landlord, its agents and representatives, and the holder of any Mortgage, to enter the Premises without charge therefor and without diminution of the rent payable by Tenant in order to examine, inspect or protect the Premises and the Building, to make such alterations and/or repairs as in the sole and absolute judgment of Landlord may be deemed necessary or desirable, or to exhibit the same to brokers, prospective tenants, lenders, purchasers and others. Except in the event of an emergency, Landlord shall endeavor to minimize disruption to Tenant's normal business operations in the Premises in connection with any such entry.

ARTICLE XIII INSURANCE

13.1 Tenant shall not conduct or permit to be conducted any activity, or place or permit to be placed any equipment or other item in or about the Premises or the Building, which will in any way increase the rate of fire insurance or other insurance on the Building. If any increase in the rate of fire insurance or other insurance is due to any activity, equipment or other item of Tenant, then (whether or not Landlord has consented to such activity, equipment or other item) Tenant shall pay as additional rent due hereunder the amount of such increase. The statement of any applicable insurance company or insurance rating organization (or other organization exercising similar functions in connection with the prevention of fire or the correction of hazardous conditions) that an increase is due to any such activity, equipment or other item shall be conclusive evidence thereof.

13.2 (a) Throughout the Lease Term, Tenant shall obtain and maintain (1) commercial general liability insurance (written on an occurrence basis) including contractual liability coverage insuring the obligations assumed by Tenant under this Lease (including those set forth in Sections 6.3 and 15.2), premises and operations coverage, broad form property damage coverage and independent contractors coverage, and containing an endorsement for personal injury, (2) business interruption insurance, (3) all-risk property insurance, (4) comprehensive automobile liability insurance (covering automobiles owned by Tenant, if any), (5) worker's compensation insurance, and (6) employer's liability insurance. Such commercial general liability insurance shall be in minimum amounts typically carried by prudent tenants engaged in similar operations, but in no event shall be in an amount less than Two Million Dollars ($2,000,000) combined single limit per occurrence with a Four Million Dollar ($4,000,000) annual aggregate. Such business interruption insurance shall be in minimum amounts typically carried by prudent tenants engaged in similar operations, but in no event shall be in an amount less than the Base Rent then in effect during any Lease Year. Such property insurance shall be in an amount not less than that required to replace all Alterations and all other contents of the Premises (including, without limitation, Tenant's trade fixtures, decorations, furnishings, equipment and personal property). Such automobile liability insurance shall be in an amount not less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) for each accident. Such worker's compensation insurance shall carry minimum limits as defined by the law of the jurisdiction in which the Building is located (as the same may be amended from time to time). Such employer's liability insurance shall be in an amount not less than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) for each accident, One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) disease-policy limit, and One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) disease-each employee.

(b) All such insurance shall: (1) be issued by a company that is licensed to do business in the jurisdiction in which the Building is located, that has been approved in advance by Landlord and that has a rating equal to or exceeding A:XI from Best's Insurance Guide; (2) name Landlord, the managing agent of the Building and the holder of any Mortgage as additional insureds and/or loss payees (as applicable); (3) contain an endorsement that such policy shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding that the insured may have waived its right of action against any party prior to the occurrence of a loss (Tenant hereby waiving its right of action and recovery against and releasing Landlord and its employees and agents from any and all liabilities, claims and losses for which they may otherwise be liable to the extent Tenant is covered by insurance carried or required to be carried under this Lease); (4) provide that the insurer thereunder waives all right of recovery by way of subrogation against Landlord, its partners, agents, employees, and representatives, in connection with any loss or damage covered by such policy; (5) be acceptable in form and content to Landlord; (6) be primary and non-contributory; (7) contains an endorsement for cross liability and severability of interests; and (8) contain an endorsement prohibiting cancellation, failure to renew, reduction of amount of insurance or change in coverage without the insurer first giving Landlord thirty (30) days' prior written notice (by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested) of such proposed action. No such policy shall contain any deductible provision except as otherwise approved in writing by Landlord, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld. Landlord reserves the right from time to time to require Tenant to obtain higher minimum amounts or different types of insurance if it becomes customary for other landlords of first-class office buildings in the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area to require similar sized tenants in similar industries to carry insurance of such higher minimum amounts or of such different types of insurance; provided, however, that Landlord shall not exercise such right during the initial Lease Term. Tenant shall deliver a certificate (on Acord Form 27) of all such insurance and receipts evidencing payment therefor (and, upon request, copies of all required insurance policies, including endorsements and declarations) to Landlord concurrently with Tenant's execution of this Lease and at least annually thereafter. Tenant shall give Landlord immediate notice in case of fire, theft or accident in the Premises, and in the case of fire, theft or accident in the Building if involving Tenant, its agents, employees or Invitees. Neither the issuance of any insurance policy required under this Lease nor the minimum limits specified herein shall be deemed to limit or restrict in any way Tenant's liability arising under or out of this Lease.

13.3 Landlord agrees to carry and maintain all-risk property insurance (with replacement cost coverage) covering the Building and Landlord's property therein in an amount required by its insurance company to avoid the application of any coinsurance provision.

Landlord hereby waives its right of recovery against Tenant and releases Tenant from any and all liabilities, claims and losses for which Tenant may otherwise be liable to the extent Landlord is covered by property insurance therefor. Landlord shall use reasonable efforts to secure a waiver of subrogation endorsement from its insurance carrier. Landlord also agrees to carry and maintain commercial general liability insurance in limits it reasonably deems appropriate (but in no event less than the limits required of Tenant pursuant to Section 13.2).

ARTICLE XIV SERVICES AND UTILITIES

14.1 Subject to Tenant's obligations specified in this Lease: (a) during the Building Hours, Landlord will furnish to the Premises air-conditioning and heating during the seasons they are required in Landlord's reasonable judgment and consistent with other first-class office buildings of comparable age in the East End submarket in Washington, D.C.; and (b) Landlord will provide janitorial service on Monday through Friday (or, at Landlord's option, Sunday through Thursday) only (excluding legal public holidays), electricity sufficient for lighting purposes and normal office use only, water for lavatory and drinking purposes, elevator service (with at least one (1) elevator in operation at all times, except in the event of an emergency), and exterior window-cleaning service. Landlord shall not be liable for any failure to maintain comfortable atmosphere conditions in all or any portion of the Premises due to excessive heat generated by any equipment or machinery installed by Tenant (with or without Landlord's consent), due to any impact that Tenant's furniture, equipment, machinery, millwork or layout of the Premises may have upon the delivery of HVAC to the Premises or due to the occupancy load. If Tenant requires air-conditioning or heat beyond the Building Hours, then Landlord will furnish the same, provided Tenant gives Landlord sufficient advance notice of such requirement. Tenant shall pay for such extra service in accordance with Landlord's then-current schedule, which shall reflect Landlord's cost of providing such service, including labor, cost of electricity and wear and tear on equipment, plus an allowance of ten percent (10%) thereof to cover general overhead; however, during the initial Lease Term, the hourly charge for such extra service shall be sixty-five dollars ($65.00) per floor. If the same after-hours service is also requested by other tenants on the same floor as Tenant, the charge therefor to each tenant requesting such after-hours service shall be a pro-rated amount based upon the square footage of the leased premises of all tenants on the same floor requesting such after-hours services. Notwithstanding anything above to the contrary, Tenant shall have access to the Building twenty-four (24) hours per day each day of the year (except in the event of an emergency). Landlord shall provide a card key (or similar type of) access system to provide access to the Building at times other than the normal hours of operation of the Building. Twenty (20) access cards or other means of access shall be provided to Tenant at no cost to Tenant (except that Landlord may charge Tenant for replacement cards). Tenant shall not permit anyone, except for Tenant's employees and authorized guests, to enter the Building at times other than the normal hours of operation of the Building. At Landlord's request from time to time, Tenant shall inform Landlord of the name of the individual to whom each particular access card or other means of access has been provided.

14.2 Landlord may install checkmeters to electrical circuits serving Tenant's equipment to verify that Tenant is not consuming excessive electricity. If such checkmeters indicate that Tenant's electricity consumption is excessive, then Landlord may install at Tenant's expense submeters to ascertain Tenant's actual electricity consumption, and Tenant shall thereafter pay for such consumption at the then-current price per kilowatt hour charged Landlord by the utility. Tenant's electricity consumption shall be deemed excessive if the electricity consumption in the Premises per square foot of rentable area (including, without limitation, electricity consumed in connection with outlets and lighting use) during any billing period exceeds the average electricity consumption per square foot of rentable area during the same period for typical, similarly situated tenants in the Building, as reasonably calculated by Landlord.

14.3 Tenant shall reimburse Landlord for the cost of any excess water, sewer and chiller usage in the Premises. Excess usage shall mean the excess of the estimated usage in the Premises (per square foot of rentable area) during any billing period over the average usage (per square foot of rentable area) during the same period for the entire Building, as reasonably calculated by Landlord.

14.4 Subject to applicable regulatory prohibitions and the availability of insurance at commercially reasonable rates, Landlord shall provide an unattended fitness facility in the Building (subject to reasonable rules and regulations). The fitness facility (including men's and women's locker rooms with showers) shall be available to Tenant's employees who work at the Building on a non-exclusive first-come, first-served basis. Tenant's employees shall have access to the fitness facility at all times, except from the hours of 9:00 p.m. to 6:00 a.m. Use of the fitness facility shall be at no separate charge to Tenant or its employees, except for reasonable fees for services or extra amenities that may be available including, but not limited to, personal training or group classes. Landlord currently does not intend to provide any of the additional services specified in the preceding sentence. As of the date of Landlord's execution of this Lease, Landlord intends to provide towel service at no separate charge to Tenant or its employees; however, Landlord reserves the right to institute a separate charge for such towel service at any time (and thereafter to modify such charge from time to time) and/or to cease providing towel service at any time. Landlord shall not be liable to Tenant or any of its employees for injuries received by such parties while using the fitness facility, and Tenant agrees to indemnify and save harmless Landlord from any such liability. Landlord may specifically condition the use of the fitness facility by any person upon such person's execution of a written waiver and release holding Landlord harmless from any and all liability, damage, expense, cause of action, suit, claim, judgment and cost of defense arising from injury to such person occurring in the fitness facility or resulting from the use thereof.

14.5 Subject to applicable regulatory prohibitions and the availability of insurance at commercially reasonable rates, Landlord shall provide a roof deck located above the top floor of the Building. Tenant's employees and their guests (so long as such guests are supervised by Tenant) shall have access to the roof deck at all times, on a non-exclusive first-come, first-served basis, except from the hours of 9:00 p.m. to 6:00 a.m. and further excluding such days and times as Landlord shall reasonably determine, including such dates and times as Landlord may be using such roof deck or have granted another tenant exclusive use of such roof deck. Use of the roof deck shall be at no separate charge to Tenant or its employees. Landlord shall not be liable to any person for injuries received while using such roof deck, and Tenant agrees to indemnify and save harmless Landlord from any such liability.

14.6 Subject to applicable regulatory prohibitions and the availability of insurance at commercially reasonable rates, Landlord shall provide a conference room in the Building. Tenant shall be permitted to use such conference room on a non-exclusive first-come, first-served basis during the Building Hours, except such days and times as Landlord shall reasonably determine, including such dates and times as Landlord may be using such conference room or have granted another tenant exclusive use of such conference room. Landlord shall have the right, at its sole option, to institute a reservation system for such conference room. Use of such conference room shall be at no separate charge to Tenant, except that Landlord shall have the right to charge a cleaning and/or set-up fee for use of such conference room, as well as an additional fee if Tenant desires to serve food in such conference room (it being expressly understood and agreed that any such food shall be restricted to the conference room itself and shall not be served or consumed in the hallways or other common areas of the Building) and/or bring additional furniture into such conference room (which fees are subject to change from time to time). Landlord shall not be liable to any person for injuries received while using such conference room, and Tenant agrees to indemnify and save harmless Landlord from any such liability.

14.7 If elevator service and/or HVAC service is interrupted for any reason within Landlord's reasonable control and such interruption shall continue for more than five (5) consecutive business days after written notice of such interruption from Tenant to Landlord, and if such interruption shall render any portion of the Premises unusable for the normal conduct of Tenant's business, and if Tenant in fact does not use or occupy such portion of the Premises during the period of such interruption, then all Base Rent and additional rent payable hereunder with respect to such unusable portion of the Premises shall be abated for the period beginning on the sixth (6th) consecutive business day after such notice and such rental abatement shall continue until such portion of the Premises is tenantable again or Tenant recommences use or occupancy of such portion of the Premises, whichever occurs first.

ARTICLE XV LIABILITY OF LANDLORD

15.1 Landlord, its employees and agents shall not be liable to Tenant, any Invitee or any other person or entity for any damage (including indirect and consequential damage), injury, loss or claim (including claims for the interruption of or loss to business) based on or arising out of any cause whatsoever (except as otherwise provided in this Section), including without limitation the following: repair to any portion of the Premises or the Building; interruption in the use of the Premises or any equipment therein; any accident or damage resulting from any use or operation (by Landlord, Tenant or any other person or entity) of elevators or heating, cooling, electrical, sewerage or plumbing equipment or apparatus; termination of this Lease by reason of damage to the Premises or the Building; any fire, robbery, theft, vandalism, mysterious disappearance or any other casualty; actions of any other tenant of the Building or of any other person or entity; failure or inability to furnish any service specified in this Lease; and leakage in any part of the Premises or the Building from water, rain, ice or snow that may leak into, or flow from, any part of the Premises or the Building, or from drains, pipes or plumbing fixtures in the Premises or the Building. If any condition exists which may be the basis of a claim of constructive eviction, then Tenant shall give Landlord written notice thereof and a reasonable opportunity to correct such condition, and in the interim Tenant shall not claim that it has been constructively evicted or is entitled to a rent abatement. Any property placed by Tenant or any Invitee in or about the Premises or the Building shall be at the sole risk of Tenant, and Landlord shall not in any manner be held responsible therefor. Any person receiving an article delivered for Tenant shall be acting as Tenant's agent for such purpose and not as Landlord's agent. For purposes of this Article, the term "Building" shall be deemed to include the Land.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section, Landlord shall not be released from liability to Tenant for any physical injury to any natural person caused by Landlord's willful misconduct to the extent such injury is not covered by insurance (a) carried by Tenant or such person, or (b) required by this Lease to be carried by Tenant; provided, however, that Landlord shall not under any circumstances be liable for any consequential or indirect damages.

15.2 Tenant shall reimburse Landlord, its employees and agents for (as additional rent), and shall indemnify, defend upon request and hold them harmless from and against all costs, damages, claims, liabilities, expenses (including attorneys' fees), losses, penalties and court costs suffered by or claimed against them, directly or indirectly, based on or arising out of, in whole or in part, (a) use and occupancy of the Premises or the business conducted therein, (b) any act or omission of Tenant or any Invitee, (c) any breach of Tenant's obligations under this Lease, including failure to comply with Laws or surrender the Premises upon the expiration or earlier termination of the Lease Term, or (d) any entry by Tenant or any Invitee upon the Land prior to the Lease Commencement Date.

15.3 No landlord hereunder shall be liable for any obligation or liability based on or arising out of any event or condition occurring during the period that such landlord was not the owner of the Building or a landlord's interest therein. Within five (5) days after request, Tenant shall attorn to such transferee and execute, acknowledge and deliver any document submitted to Tenant confirming such attornment.

15.4 Tenant shall not have the right to set off or deduct any amount allegedly owed to Tenant pursuant to any claim against Landlord from any rent or other sum payable to Landlord. Tenant's sole remedy for recovering upon such claim shall be to institute an independent action against Landlord, which action shall not be consolidated with any action of Landlord.

15.5 If Tenant or any Invitee is awarded a money judgment against Landlord, then recourse for satisfaction of such judgment shall be limited to execution against Landlord's estate and interest in the Building. No other asset of Landlord, any partner, director, member, officer or trustee of Landlord (each, an "officer") or any other person or entity shall be available to satisfy or be subject to such judgment, nor shall any officer or other person or entity be held to have personal liability for satisfaction of any claim or judgment against Landlord or any officer.

ARTICLE XVI

RULES

16.1 Tenant and Invitees shall at all times abide by and observe the rules specified in Exhibit C. Tenant and Invitees shall also abide by and observe any other rule that Landlord may promulgate from time to time for the operation and maintenance of the Building, provided that notice thereof is given and such rule is not inconsistent with the provisions of this Lease. All rules shall be binding upon Tenant and enforceable by Landlord as if they were contained herein. Nothing contained in this Lease shall be construed as imposing upon Landlord any duty or obligation to enforce such rules, or the terms, conditions or covenants contained in any other lease, as against any other tenant, and Landlord shall not be liable to Tenant for the violation of such rules by any other tenant or its employees, agents, assignees, subtenants, invitees or licensees. Landlord shall use reasonable efforts not to enforce any rule or regulation in a manner which unreasonably discriminates among similarly situated tenants.

ARTICLE XVII DAMAGE OR DESTRUCTION

17.1 If the Premises or the Building are totally or partially damaged or destroyed thereby rendering the Premises totally or partially inaccessible or unusable, then Landlord shall diligently repair and restore the Premises and the Building to substantially the same condition they were in prior to such damage or destruction; provided, however, that if in Landlord's judgment such repair and restoration cannot be completed within ninety (90) days after the occurrence of such damage or destruction (taking into account the time needed for effecting a satisfactory settlement with any insurance company involved, removal of debris, preparation of plans and issuance of all required governmental permits), then Landlord shall have the right to terminate this Lease by giving written notice of termination within sixty (60) days after the occurrence of such damage or destruction. If this Lease is terminated pursuant to this Article, then rent shall be apportioned (based on the portion of the Premises which is usable after such damage or destruction) and paid to the date of termination. If this Lease is not terminated as a result of such damage or destruction, then until such repair and restoration of the Premises are substantially complete, Tenant shall be required to pay rent only for the portion of the Premises that is usable while such repair and restoration are being made; provided, however, that if such damage or destruction was caused by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of Tenant or any Invitee, then Tenant shall not be entitled to any such rent reduction. After receipt of all insurance proceeds (including proceeds of insurance maintained by Tenant), Landlord shall proceed with and bear the expenses of such repair and restoration of the Premises and the Building; provided, however, that (a) if such damage or destruction was caused by the act or omission of Tenant or any Invitee, then Tenant shall pay Landlord's deductible and the amount by which such expenses exceed the insurance proceeds, if any, actually received by Landlord on account of such damage or destruction, (b) Tenant shall pay the amount by which the cost of restoring any item which Landlord is required to restore and Tenant is required to insure exceeds the insurance proceeds received with respect thereto, and (c) Landlord shall not be required to repair or restore any Alterations or any other contents of the Premises (including, without limitation, Tenant's trade fixtures, decorations, furnishings, equipment or personal property). Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, Landlord shall have the right to terminate this Lease if (1) insurance proceeds are insufficient to pay the full cost of such repair and restoration, (2) the holder of any Mortgage fails or refuses to make such insurance proceeds available for such repair and restoration, (3) zoning or other applicable Laws or regulations do not permit such repair and restoration, or (4) the Building is damaged by fire or casualty (whether or not the Premises has been damaged) to such an extent that Landlord decides, in its sole and absolute discretion, not to rebuild or reconstruct the Building.

ARTICLE XVIII
CONDEMNATION

18.1 If one-third or more of the Premises, or the use or occupancy thereof, shall be taken or condemned by any governmental or quasi-governmental authority for any public or quasi-public use or purpose or sold under threat of such a taking or condemnation (collectively, “condemned”), then this Lease shall terminate on the day prior to the date title thereto vests in such authority and rent shall be apportioned as of such date. If less than one-third of the Premises or occupancy thereof is condemned, then this Lease shall continue in full force and effect as to the part of the Premises not so condemned, except that as of the date title vests in such authority Tenant shall not be required to pay rent with respect to the part of the Premises so condemned. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if twenty-five percent (25%) or more of the Land or the Building is condemned, then whether or not any portion of the Premises is condemned, Landlord shall have the right to terminate this Lease as of the date title vests in such authority.

18.2 All awards, damages and other compensation paid on account of such condemnation shall belong to Landlord, and Tenant assigns to Landlord all rights to such awards, damages and compensation. Tenant shall not make any claim against Landlord or such authority for any portion of such award, damages or compensation attributable to damage to the Premises, value of the unexpired portion of the Lease Term, loss of profits or goodwill, leasehold improvements or severance damages. Nothing contained herein, however, shall prevent Tenant from pursuing a separate claim against the authority for relocation expenses and for the value of furnishings, equipment and trade fixtures installed in the Premises at Tenant’s expense and which Tenant is entitled pursuant to this Lease to remove at the expiration or earlier termination of the Lease Term, provided that such claim shall in no way diminish the award, damages or compensation payable to or recoverable by Landlord in connection with such condemnation.

ARTICLE XIX
DEFAULT

19.1 Each of the following shall constitute an “Event of Default”: (a) Tenant’s failure to make when due any payment of the Base Rent, additional rent or other sum; provided, however, that with respect to the first such failure in any twelve (12) month period only, no Event of Default shall be deemed to have occurred unless such failure continues for a period of five (5) business days after Landlord delivers written notice thereof to Tenant; (b) Tenant’s failure to perform or observe any covenant or condition of this Lease not otherwise specifically described in this Section 19.1; provided, however, that with respect to the first such failure as to any particular Article of this Lease in any twelve (12) month period only, no Event of Default shall be deemed to have occurred unless such failure continues for thirty (30) days after Landlord delivers written notice thereof to Tenant, or such shorter period as is appropriate if such failure can be cured in a shorter period; provided, however, that such cure period shall not be applicable if, in Landlord’s sole and absolute discretion, such failure raises a life/safety issue with respect to the Building or its occupants or visitors, including but not limited to, a threat of personal injury or continuing physical injury to the Building, or if such failure is affecting another tenant’s use or occupancy of the Building or its premises; (c) an Event of Bankruptcy as specified in Article

XX; (d) Tenant's dissolution or liquidation; (e) any Environmental Default as specified in Section 6.3; or (f) any subletting, assignment, transfer, mortgage or other encumbrance of the Premises or this Lease not permitted by Article VII.

19.2 If there shall be an Event of Default (even if prior to the Lease Commencement Date), then the provisions of this Section shall apply. Landlord shall have the right, at its sole option, to terminate this Lease. In addition, with or without terminating this Lease, Landlord may re-enter, terminate Tenant's right of possession and take possession of the Premises. The provisions of this Article shall operate as a notice to quit, and Tenant hereby waives any other notice to quit or notice of Landlord's intention to re-enter the Premises or terminate this Lease. If necessary, Landlord may proceed to recover possession of the Premises under applicable Laws, or by such other proceedings, including re-entry and possession, as may be applicable. If Landlord elects to terminate this Lease and/or elects to terminate Tenant's right of possession, everything contained in this Lease on the part of Landlord to be done and performed shall cease without prejudice, however, to Tenant's liability for all Base Rent, additional rent and other sums specified herein. Whether or not this Lease and/or Tenant's right of possession is terminated, Landlord shall have the right, at its sole option, to terminate any renewal or expansion right contained in this Lease and to grant or withhold any consent or approval pursuant to this Lease in its sole and absolute discretion. Landlord may relet the Premises or any part thereof, alone or together with other premises, for such term(s) (which may extend beyond the date on which the Lease Term would have expired but for Tenant's default) and on such terms and conditions (which may include any concessions or allowances granted by Landlord) as Landlord, in its sole and absolute discretion, may determine, but Landlord shall not be liable for, nor shall Tenant's obligations hereunder be diminished by reason of, any failure by Landlord to relet all or any portion of the Premises or to collect any rent due upon such reletting. Whether or not this Lease and/or Tenant's right of possession is terminated or any suit is instituted, Tenant shall be liable for any Base Rent, additional rent, damages or other sum which may be due or sustained prior to such default, and for all costs, fees and expenses (including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees and costs, brokerage fees, expenses incurred in enforcing any of Tenant's obligations under the Lease or in placing the Premises in first-class rentable condition, advertising expenses, and any concessions or allowances granted by Landlord) incurred by Landlord in pursuit of its remedies hereunder and/or in recovering possession of the Premises and renting the Premises to others from time to time plus other actual or consequential damages suffered or incurred by Landlord on account of Tenant's default (including, but not limited to late fees or other charges incurred by Landlord under any Mortgage). Tenant also shall be liable for additional damages which at Landlord's election shall be either one or a combination of the following: (a) an amount equal to the Base Rent and additional rent due or which would have become due from the date of Tenant's default through the remainder of the Lease Term, less the amount of rental, if any, which Landlord receives during such period from others to whom the Premises may be rented (other than any additional rent received by Landlord as a result of any failure of such other person to perform any of its obligations to Landlord), which amount shall be computed and payable in monthly installments, in advance, on the first day of each calendar month following Tenant's default and continuing until the date on which the Lease Term would have expired but for Tenant's default, it being understood that separate suits may be brought from time to time to collect any such damages for any month(s) (and any such separate suit shall not in any manner prejudice the right of Landlord to collect any damages for any subsequent month(s)), or Landlord may defer initiating any such suit until after the expiration of the Lease Term (in which event such deferral shall not be construed as a waiver of Landlord's rights as set forth herein and Landlord's cause of action shall be deemed not to have accrued until the expiration of the Lease Term), and it being further understood that if Landlord elects to bring suits from time to time prior to reletting the Premises, Landlord shall be entitled to its full damages through the date of the award of damages without regard to any Base Rent, additional rent or other sums that are or may be projected to be received by Landlord upon reletting of the Premises; or (b) an amount equal to the sum of (i) all Base Rent, additional rent and other sums due or which would be due and payable under this Lease as of the date of Tenant's default through the end of the scheduled Lease Term, plus (ii) the expenses (including broker and attorneys' fees) and value of all vacancy periods projected by Landlord to be incurred in connection with the reletting of the Premises, minus (iii) any Base Rent, additional rent and other sums which Tenant proves by a preponderance of the evidence would be received by Landlord upon reletting of the Premises from the end of the vacancy period projected by Landlord through the expiration of the scheduled Lease Term. Such amount shall be discounted using a discount factor equal to the yield of the Treasury Note or Bill, as appropriate, having a maturity period approximately commensurate to the remainder of the Term, and such resulting amount shall be payable to Landlord in a lump sum on demand, it being understood that upon payment of such liquidated and agreed final damages, Tenant shall be released from further liability under this Lease with respect to the period after the date of such payment, and that Landlord may bring suit to collect any such damages at any time after an Event of Default shall have occurred. In the event Landlord relets the Premises together with other premises or for a term extending beyond the scheduled expiration of the Lease Term, it is understood that Tenant will not be entitled to apply any base rent, additional rent or other sums generated or projected to be generated by either such other premises or in the period extending beyond the scheduled expiration of the Lease Term (collectively, the "Extra Rent") against Landlord's damages. Similarly in proving the amount that would be received by Landlord upon a reletting of the Premises as set forth in clause (iii) above, Tenant shall not take into account the Extra Rent. The provisions contained in this Section shall be in addition to, and shall not prevent the enforcement of, any claim Landlord may have against Tenant for anticipatory breach of this Lease. Nothing herein shall be construed to affect or prejudice Landlord's right to prove, and claim in full, unpaid rent accrued prior to termination of this Lease. If Landlord is entitled, or Tenant is required, pursuant to any provision hereof to take any action upon the termination of the Lease Term, then Landlord shall be entitled, and Tenant shall be required, to take such action also upon the termination of Tenant's right of possession.

19.3 (a) Tenant hereby expressly waives, for itself and all persons claiming by, through or under it, any right of redemption, re-entry or restoration of the operation of this Lease under any present or future Law, including without limitation any such right which Tenant would otherwise have in case Tenant shall be dispossessed for any cause, or in case Landlord shall obtain possession of the Premises as herein provided.

(b) All rights and remedies of Landlord set forth in this Lease are cumulative and in addition to all other rights and remedies available to Landlord at law or in equity, including those available as a result of any anticipatory breach of this Lease. The exercise by Landlord of any such right or remedy shall not prevent the concurrent or subsequent exercise of any other right or remedy. No delay or failure by Landlord to exercise or enforce any of Landlord's rights or remedies or Tenant's obligations shall constitute a waiver of any such rights, remedies or obligations. Landlord shall not be deemed to have waived any default by Tenant unless such waiver expressly is set forth in a written instrument signed by Landlord. If Landlord waives in writing any default by Tenant, such waiver shall not be construed as a waiver of any covenant, condition or agreement set forth in this Lease except as to the specific circumstances described in such written waiver.

19.4 If Landlord shall institute proceedings against Tenant and a compromise or settlement thereof shall be made, then the same shall not constitute a waiver of the same or of any other covenant, condition or agreement set forth herein, nor of any of Landlord's rights hereunder. Neither the payment by Tenant of a lesser amount than the monthly installment of Base Rent, additional rent or of any sums due hereunder nor any endorsement or statement on any check or letter accompanying a check for payment of rent or other sums payable hereunder shall be deemed an accord and satisfaction. Landlord may accept the same without prejudice to Landlord's right to recover the balance of such rent or other sums or to pursue any other remedy. Notwithstanding any request or designation by Tenant, Landlord may apply any payment received from Tenant to any payment then due. No re-entry by Landlord, and no acceptance by Landlord of keys from Tenant, shall be considered an acceptance of a surrender of this Lease.

19.5 If Tenant fails to make any payment to any third party or to do any act herein required to be made or done by Tenant, then Landlord may, but shall not be required to, make such payment or do such act. The taking of such action by Landlord shall not be considered a cure of such default by Tenant or prevent Landlord from pursuing any remedy it is otherwise entitled to in connection with such default. If Landlord elects to make such payment or do such act, then all expenses incurred by Landlord, plus interest thereon at a rate (the "Default Rate") equal to the greater of fifteen percent (15%) per annum or the rate per annum which is five (5) whole percentage points higher than the prime rate published in the Money Rates section of the Wall Street Journal, from the date incurred by Landlord to the date of payment thereof by Tenant, shall constitute additional rent due hereunder; provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall be construed as permitting Landlord to charge or receive interest in excess of the maximum rate then allowed by law.

19.6 If Tenant fails to make any payment of Base Rent, additional rent or any other sum on or before the date such payment is due and payable (without regard to any grace period specified in Section 19.1), then Tenant shall pay to Landlord a late charge of five percent (5%) of the amount of such payment. In addition, such payment and such late fee shall bear interest at the Default Rate from the date such payment or late fee, respectively, became due to the date of payment thereof by Tenant; provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall be construed as permitting Landlord to charge or receive interest in excess of the maximum rate then allowed by law. Such late charge and interest shall constitute additional rent due hereunder without any notice or demand. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 19.6 to the contrary, Landlord shall waive such late fee the first (1st) time in any twelve (12) month period that Tenant fails to make a payment when due, provided such payment is made within five (5) days after the date such payment was due.

19.7 If more than one natural person or entity shall constitute Tenant, then the liability of each such person or entity shall be joint and several. If Tenant is a general partnership or other entity the partners or members of which are subject to personal liability, then the liability of each such partner or member shall be joint and several. No waiver, release or modification of the obligations of any such person or entity shall affect the obligations of any other such person or entity.

ARTICLE XX BANKRUPTCY

20.1 An “Event of Bankruptcy” is the occurrence with respect to any of Tenant, a Guarantor or any other person liable for Tenant’s obligations hereunder (including, without limitation, any general partner (or, if Tenant is a limited liability company, any member of Tenant) of Tenant (a “General Partner”)) of any of the following: (a) such person becoming insolvent, as that term is defined in Title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”) or under the insolvency laws of any state (the “Insolvency Laws”); (b) appointment of a receiver or custodian for any property of such person, or the institution of a foreclosure or attachment action upon any property of such person; (c) filing by such person of a voluntary petition under the provisions of the Bankruptcy Code or Insolvency Laws; (d) filing of an involuntary petition against such person as the subject debtor under the Bankruptcy Code or Insolvency Laws, which either (1) is not dismissed within thirty (30) days after filing, or (2) results in the issuance of an order for relief against the debtor; (e) such person making or consenting to an assignment for the benefit of creditors or a composition of creditors; or (f) such person submitting (either before or after execution hereof) to Landlord any financial statement containing any material inaccuracy or omission. At any time upon not less than five (5) days’ prior written notice, Tenant shall submit such information concerning the financial condition of Tenant, any Guarantor or any other person liable for Tenant’s obligations hereunder (including, without limitation, any General Partner), as Landlord may request. Tenant warrants that all such information heretofore and hereafter submitted is and shall be correct and complete.

20.2 Upon occurrence of an Event of Bankruptcy, Landlord shall have all rights and remedies available pursuant to Article XIX; provided, however, that while a case (the “Case”) in which Tenant is the subject debtor under the Bankruptcy Code is pending, Landlord’s right to terminate this Lease shall be subject, to the extent required by the Bankruptcy Code, to any rights of Tenant or its trustee in bankruptcy (collectively, “Trustee”) to assume or assume and assign this Lease pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code. After the commencement of a Case: (i) Trustee shall perform all post-petition obligations of Tenant under this Lease; and (ii) if Landlord is entitled to damages (including, without limitation, unpaid rent) pursuant to the terms of this Lease, then all such damages shall be entitled to administrative expense priority pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code. Any person or entity to which this Lease is assigned pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code shall be deemed without further act or deed to have assumed all of the obligations arising under this Lease on and after the date of assignment, and any such assignee shall upon request execute and deliver to Landlord an instrument confirming such assumption. Trustee shall not have the right to assume or assume and assign this Lease unless Trustee promptly (a) cures all defaults under this Lease, (b) compensates Landlord for damages incurred as a result of such defaults, (c) provides adequate assurance of future performance on the part of Trustee as debtor in possession or Trustee's assignee, and (d) complies with all other requirements of the Bankruptcy Code. If Trustee fails to assume or assume and assign this Lease in accordance with the requirements of the Bankruptcy Code within sixty (60) days after the initiation of the Case, then Trustee shall be deemed to have rejected this Lease. If this Lease is rejected or deemed rejected, then Landlord shall have all rights and remedies available to it pursuant to Article XIX. Adequate assurance of future performance shall require, among other things, that the following minimum criteria be met: (1) Tenant's gross receipts in the ordinary course of business during the thirty (30) days preceding the Case must be greater than ten (10) times the next monthly installment of Base Rent and additional rent due; (2) Both the average and median of Tenant's monthly gross receipts in the ordinary course of business during the seven (7) months preceding the Case must be greater than the next monthly installment of Base Rent and additional rent due; (3) Trustee must pay its estimated pro-rata share of the cost of all services performed or provided by Landlord (whether directly or through agents or contractors and whether or not previously included as part of Base Rent) in advance of the performance or provision of such services; (4) Trustee must agree that Tenant's business shall be conducted in a first-class manner, and that no liquidating sale, auction or other non-first-class business operation shall be conducted in the Premises; (5) Trustee must agree that the use of the Premises as stated in this Lease shall remain unchanged and that no prohibited use shall be permitted; (6) Trustee must agree that the assumption or assumption and assignment of this Lease shall not violate or affect the rights of other tenants of the Building; (7) Trustee must pay at the time the next monthly installment of Base Rent is due, in addition to such installment, an amount equal to the monthly installments of Base Rent, and additional rent due for the next six (6) months thereafter, such amount to be held as a security deposit; (8) Trustee must agree to pay, at any time Landlord draws on such security deposit, the amount necessary to restore such security deposit to its original amount; (9) Trustee must comply with all duties and obligations of Tenant under this Lease; and (10) All assurances of future performance specified in the Bankruptcy Code must be provided.

ARTICLE XXI SUBORDINATION

21.1 This Lease is subject and subordinate to the lien, provisions, operation and effect of all mortgages, deeds of trust, ground leases or other security instruments which may now or hereafter encumber the Building or the Land (collectively, "Mortgages"), to all funds and indebtedness intended to be secured thereby, and to all renewals, extensions, modifications, recastings or refinancings thereof. The holder of any Mortgage to which this Lease is subordinate shall have the right (subject to any required approval of the holders of any superior Mortgage) at any time to declare this Lease to be superior to the lien, provisions, operation and effect of such Mortgage and Tenant shall execute, acknowledge and deliver all documents required by such holder in confirmation thereof.

21.2 Tenant shall at Landlord's request promptly execute any requisite or appropriate document confirming the foregoing subordination. Tenant appoints Landlord as Tenant's attorney-in-fact to execute any such document for Tenant. Tenant waives the provisions of any statute or rule of law now or hereafter in effect which may give or purport to give Tenant any right to terminate or otherwise adversely affect this Lease and Tenant's obligations hereunder in the event any foreclosure proceeding is prosecuted or completed or in the event the Building, the Land or Landlord's interest therein is transferred by foreclosure, by deed in lieu of foreclosure or otherwise. If this Lease is not extinguished upon any such transfer or by the transferee following such transfer, then, at the request of such transferee, Tenant shall attorn to such transferee and shall recognize such transferee as the landlord under this Lease. Tenant agrees that upon any such attornment, such transferee shall not be (a) bound by any payment of the Base Rent or additional rent more than one (1) month in advance, except prepayments in the nature of security for the performance by Tenant of its obligations under this Lease, but only to the extent such prepayments have been delivered to such transferee, (b) bound by any amendment of this Lease made without the consent of the holder of each Mortgage existing as of the date of such amendment, (c) liable for damages for any breach, act or omission of any prior landlord, or (d) subject to any offsets or defenses which Tenant might have against any prior landlord; provided, however, that after succeeding to Landlord's interest under this Lease, such transferee shall agree to perform in accordance with the terms of this Lease all obligations of Landlord arising after the date of transfer. Within fifteen (15) days after the request of such transferee, Tenant shall execute, acknowledge and deliver any requisite or appropriate document submitted to Tenant confirming such attornment.

21.3 If any prospective or current holder of a Mortgage requires that modifications to this Lease be obtained, and provided that such modifications (a) are reasonable, (b) do not adversely affect in a material manner Tenant's use of the Premises as herein permitted, and (c) do not increase the rent and other sums to be paid by Tenant, then Landlord may submit to Tenant an amendment to this Lease incorporating such required modifications, and Tenant shall execute, acknowledge and deliver such amendment to Landlord within fifteen (15) days after Tenant's receipt thereof.

21.4 If (a) the Building or the Land, or both, are at any time subject to a Mortgage, (ii) this Lease and rent payable hereunder is assigned to the holder of the Mortgage, and (iii) the Tenant is given notice of such assignment, including the name and address of the assignee, then, in that event, Tenant shall not terminate this Lease or make any abatement in the rent payable hereunder for any default on the part of the Landlord without first giving notice, in the manner provided elsewhere in this Lease for the giving of notices, to the holder of such Mortgage, specifying the default in reasonable detail, and affording such holder a reasonable opportunity to make performance, at its election, for and on behalf of the Landlord, except that (x) such holder shall have at least 30 days to cure the default; (y) if such default cannot be cured with reasonable diligence and continuity within 30 days, such holder shall have any additional time as may be reasonably necessary to cure the default with reasonable diligence and continuity; and (z) if the default cannot reasonably be cured without such holder having obtained possession of the Building, such holder shall have such additional time as may be reasonably necessary under the circumstances to obtain possession of the Building and thereafter to cure the default with reasonable diligence and continuity. If more than one such holder makes a written request to Landlord to cure the default, the holder making the request whose lien is the most senior shall have such right.

ARTICLE XXII
HOLDING OVER

22.1 Tenant acknowledges that it is extremely important that Landlord have substantial advance notice of the date on which Tenant will vacate the Premises, because Landlord will require an extensive period to locate a replacement tenant and because Landlord plans its entire leasing and renovation program for the Building in reliance on its lease expiration dates. Tenant also acknowledges that if Tenant fails to surrender the Premises or any portion thereof at the expiration or earlier termination of the Lease Term, then it will be conclusively presumed that the value to Tenant of remaining in possession, and the loss that will be suffered by Landlord as a result thereof, far exceed the Base Rent and additional rent that would have been payable had the Lease Term continued during such holdover period. Therefore, if Tenant (or anyone claiming through Tenant) does not immediately surrender the Premises or any portion thereof upon the expiration or earlier termination of the Lease Term, then Tenant shall automatically forfeit all rights to the security deposit then being held by Landlord pursuant to this Lease and the rent payable by Tenant hereunder shall be increased to equal the greater of (1) one hundred twenty-five percent (125%) of the fair market rent for the entire Premises, or (2) the following percentages of the Base Rent, additional rent and other sums that would have been payable pursuant to the provisions of this Lease if the Lease Term had continued during such holdover period: one hundred fifty percent (150%) for the first month of such holdover and two hundred percent (200%) thereafter. Such rent shall be computed by Landlord and paid by Tenant on a monthly basis and shall be payable on the first day of such holdover period and the first day of each calendar month thereafter during such holdover period until the Premises have been vacated. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Lease, Landlord's acceptance of such rent shall not in any manner adversely affect Landlord's other rights and remedies, including Landlord's right to evict Tenant and to recover all damages. Any such holdover shall be deemed to be a tenancy-at-sufferance and not a tenancy-at-will or tenancy from month-to-month. In no event shall any holdover be deemed a permitted extension or renewal of the Lease Term, and nothing contained herein shall be construed to constitute Landlord's consent to any holdover or to give Tenant any right with respect thereto.

ARTICLE XXIII
COVENANTS OF LANDLORD

23.1 Landlord covenants that it has the right to enter into this Lease, and that if Tenant shall perform timely all of its obligations hereunder, then, subject to the provisions of this Lease, Tenant shall during the Lease Term peaceably and quietly occupy and enjoy the full possession of the Premises without hindrance by Landlord or any party claiming through or under Landlord.

23.2 Landlord reserves the following rights: (a) to change the street address and name of the Building (provided, however, that if Landlord voluntarily changes the street address or name of the Building, Landlord shall reimburse Tenant for the reasonable out-of-pocket costs of replacing its on-hand stationery, business cards and promotional materials, up to an amount equal to one thousand dollars ($1,000.00)); (b) to change the arrangement and location of entrances, passageways, doors, doorways, corridors, elevators, stairs, toilets or other public parts of the Building; (c) to erect, use and maintain pipes, wires, structural supports, ducts and conduits in and through the Premises; (d) to grant to anyone the exclusive right to conduct any particular business in the Building not inconsistent with Tenant's permitted use of the Premises; (e) to exclusively use and/or lease the roof areas, the sidewalks and other exterior areas; (f) to resubdivide the Land or to combine the Land with other lands; (g) to relocate any parking areas designated for Tenant's use; (h) if Tenant vacates the Premises prior to the expiration of the Lease Term, to make Alterations to or otherwise prepare the Premises for reoccupancy without relieving Tenant of its obligation to pay all Base Rent, additional rent and other sums due under this Lease through such expiration; (i) to construct improvements (including kiosks) on the Land and in the public and common areas of the Building; (j) to prohibit smoking in the entire Building or portions thereof (including the Premises) and on the Land, so long as such prohibitions are in accordance with applicable law; and (k) if any excavation or other substructure work shall be made or authorized to be made upon land adjacent to the Building or the Land, to enter the Premises for the purpose of doing such work as is required to preserve the walls of the Building and to preserve the land from injury or damage and to support such walls and land by proper foundations. Landlord may exercise any or all of the foregoing rights without being deemed to be guilty of an eviction, actual or constructive, or a disturbance of Tenant's business or use or occupancy of the Premises.

ARTICLE XXIV PARKING

24.1 During the Lease Term, upon the request of Tenant, Landlord agrees to make available to Tenant and its employees monthly parking permits for the unreserved parking of standard-sized passenger automobiles in the garage on the lower levels of the Building (the "Garage") in an amount equal to one permit for each one thousand two hundred fifty (1,250) square feet of rentable area of the Premises. The charge for such permits shall be the prevailing rate charged from time to time by Landlord or the operator of the Garage. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Landlord does not guarantee the availability of such monthly parking permits to Tenant during the fourth (4th) or any subsequent month of the Lease Term if and to the extent that Tenant does not purchase such monthly parking permits during the third (3rd) month and each subsequent month of the Lease Term. Tenant shall notify Landlord at least sixty (60) days before the anticipated Rent Commencement Date of the initial number of monthly parking permits Tenant will require. Tenant shall notify Landlord at least thirty (30) days in advance of any change in the number of monthly parking permits. Tenant shall not assign, sublet or transfer any parking permits. Any attempted assignment, sublet, or transfer shall be void. Landlord reserves the right to institute either a valet parking system or a self-parking system. Tenant and its employees shall observe reasonable safety precautions in the use of the Garage and shall at all times abide by all rules and regulations governing the use of the Garage promulgated by Landlord or the Garage operator. The Garage will remain open on Monday through Friday (excluding legal holidays) during the hours of 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Landlord reserves the right to close the Garage during periods of unusually inclement weather or for repairs. At all times when the Garage is closed, monthly permit holders shall be afforded access to the Garage by means of a magnetic card or other procedure provided by Landlord or the Garage operator. Landlord does not assume any responsibility, and shall not be held liable, for any damage or loss to any automobile or personal property in or about the Garage, or for any injury sustained by any person in or about the Garage.

ARTICLE XXV
GENERAL PROVISIONS

25.1 Tenant acknowledges that neither Landlord nor any broker, agent or employee of Landlord has made any representation or promise with respect to the Premises or the Building except as herein expressly set forth, and no right, privilege, easement or license is being acquired by Tenant except as herein expressly set forth.

25.2 Nothing contained in this Lease shall be construed as creating any relationship between Landlord and Tenant other than that of landlord and tenant. Tenant shall not use the name of the Building for any purpose other than as the address of the business to be conducted by Tenant in the Premises, use the name of the Building as Tenant's business address after Tenant vacates the Premises, or do or permit to be done anything in connection with Tenant's business or advertising which in the reasonable judgment of Landlord may reflect unfavorably on Landlord or the Building or confuse or mislead the public as to any apparent connection or relationship between Landlord, the Building and Tenant.

25.3 Landlord and Tenant each warrants to the other that in connection with this Lease it has not employed or dealt with any broker, agent or finder, other than the Broker(s). Landlord acknowledges that Landlord shall pay any commission or fee due to the Broker(s) pursuant to a separate agreement. Tenant shall indemnify and hold Landlord harmless from and against any claim for brokerage or other commissions asserted by any broker, agent or finder employed by Tenant or with whom Tenant has dealt, other than the Broker(s).

25.4 At any time and from time to time, upon not less than fifteen (15) days' prior written notice, Tenant and each subtenant, assignee, licensee or concessionaire or occupant of Tenant shall execute, acknowledge and deliver to Landlord and/or any other person or entity designated by Landlord, a written statement certifying: (a) that this Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect (or if there have been modifications, that this Lease is in full force and effect as modified and stating the modifications); (b) the dates to which the rent and any other charges have been paid; (c) whether or not Landlord is in default in the performance of any obligation, and if so, specifying the nature of such default; (d) the address to which notices to Tenant are to be sent; (e) that this Lease is subject and subordinate to all Mortgages encumbering the Building or the Land; (f) that Tenant has accepted the Premises and that all work thereto has been completed (or if such work has not been completed, specifying the incomplete work); and (g) such other matters as Landlord may reasonably request. Any such statement may be relied upon by any owner of the Building or the Land, any prospective purchaser of the Building or the Land, any holder or prospective holder of a Mortgage or any other person or entity. Tenant acknowledges that time is of the essence to the delivery of such statements and that Tenant's failure to deliver timely such statements may cause substantial damages resulting from, for example, delays in obtaining financing secured by the Building. Tenant shall be liable for all such damages. If any such statement is not delivered timely by Tenant, then all matters contained in such statement shall be deemed true and accurate.

25.5 LANDLORD, TENANT, ALL GUARANTORS AND ALL GENERAL PARTNERS EACH WAIVES TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY ACTION, PROCEEDING, CLAIM

OR COUNTERCLAIM BROUGHT IN CONNECTION WITH ANY MATTER ARISING OUT OF OR IN ANY WAY CONNECTED WITH THIS LEASE, THE RELATIONSHIP OF LANDLORD AND TENANT HEREUNDER, TENANT'S USE OR OCCUPANCY OF THE PREMISES, AND/OR ANY CLAIM OF INJURY OR DAMAGE. TENANT CONSENTS TO SERVICE OF PROCESS AND ANY PLEADING RELATING TO ANY SUCH ACTION AT THE PREMISES; PROVIDED, HOWEVER, THAT NOTHING HEREIN SHALL BE CONSTRUED AS REQUIRING SUCH SERVICE AT THE PREMISES. LANDLORD, TENANT, ALL GUARANTORS AND ALL GENERAL PARTNERS EACH WAIVES ANY OBJECTION TO THE VENUE OF ANY ACTION FILED IN ANY COURT SITUATED IN THE JURISDICTION IN WHICH THE BUILDING IS LOCATED, AND WAIVES ANY RIGHT, CLAIM OR POWER, UNDER THE DOCTRINE OF FORUM NON CONVENIENS OR OTHERWISE, TO TRANSFER ANY SUCH ACTION TO ANY OTHER COURT.

25.6 All notices or other communications required under this Lease shall be in writing and shall be deemed duly given and received when delivered in person (with receipt therefor), on the next business day after deposit with a recognized overnight delivery service, or on the second (2nd) business day after being sent by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, to the following addresses: (a) if to Landlord, at each of the Landlord Notice Addresses specified in Article I, with a copy to Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP, 2300 N Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20037, Attention: Christian A. Buerger, Esq.; (b) if to Tenant, at the Tenant Notice Address specified in Article I. Either party may change its address for the giving of notices by notice given in accordance with this Section. If Landlord or the holder of any Mortgage notifies Tenant that a copy of any notice to Landlord shall be sent to such holder at a specified address, then Tenant shall send (in the manner specified in this Section and at the same time such notice is sent to Landlord) a copy of each such notice to such holder, and no such notice shall be considered duly sent unless such copy is so sent to such holder. Any such holder shall have the rights set forth in Section 21.4. Any cure of Landlord's default by such holder shall be treated as performance by Landlord.

25.7 Each provision of this Lease shall be valid and enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law. If any provision of this Lease or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall to any extent be invalid or unenforceable, then such provision shall be deemed to be replaced by the valid and enforceable provision most substantively similar to such invalid or unenforceable provision, and the remainder of this Lease and the application of such provision to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is invalid or unenforceable shall not be affected thereby. Nothing contained in this Lease shall be construed as permitting Landlord to charge or receive interest in excess of the maximum rate allowed by law.

25.8 Feminine, masculine or neuter pronouns shall be substituted for those of another form, and the plural or singular shall be substituted for the other number, in any place in which the context may require such substitution.

25.9 The provisions of this Lease shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties and each of their respective representatives, successors and assigns, subject to the provisions herein restricting assignment or subletting.

25.10 This Lease contains and embodies the entire agreement of the parties hereto and supersedes all prior agreements, negotiations, letters of intent, proposals, representations, warranties, understandings, suggestions and discussions, whether written or oral, between the parties hereto. Any representation, inducement, warranty, understanding or agreement that is not expressly set forth in this Lease shall be of no force or effect. This Lease may be modified or changed in any manner only by an instrument signed by both parties. This Lease includes and incorporates all Exhibits attached hereto.

25.11 This Lease shall be governed by the Laws of the jurisdiction in which the Building is located. There shall be no presumption that this Lease be construed more strictly against the party who itself or through its agent prepared it, it being agreed that all parties hereto have participated in the preparation of this Lease and that each party had the opportunity to consult legal counsel before the execution of this Lease.

25.12 Headings are used for convenience and shall not be considered when construing this Lease.

25.13 The submission of an unsigned copy of this document to Tenant shall not constitute an offer or option to lease the Premises. This Lease shall become effective and binding only upon execution and delivery by both Landlord and Tenant.

25.14 Time is of the essence with respect to each of Tenant's obligations hereunder.

25.15 This Lease may be executed in multiple counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and all of which together constitute one and the same document. Faxed signatures shall have the same binding effect as original signatures.

25.16 Neither this Lease nor a memorandum thereof shall be recorded.

25.17 Landlord reserves the right to make reasonable changes and modifications to the plans and specifications for the Building without Tenant's consent, provided such changes or modifications do not materially and adversely change the character of the Building.

25.18 The rentable area in the Building and in the Premises has been measured by Landlord's architect in accordance with the ANSI/BOMA Z65.1-1996 method of measurement.

25.19 Except as otherwise provided in this Lease, any additional rent or other sum owed by Tenant to Landlord (other than Base Rent), and any cost, expense, damage or liability incurred by Landlord for which Tenant is liable, shall be considered additional rent payable pursuant to this Lease to be paid by Tenant no later than ten (10) days after the date Landlord notifies Tenant of the amount thereof.

25.20 Tenant's liabilities and obligations with respect to the period prior to the expiration or earlier termination of the Lease Term shall survive such expiration or earlier termination.

25.21 If Landlord is in any way delayed or prevented from performing any obligation due to fire, act of God, governmental act or failure to act, strike, labor dispute, inability to procure materials, or any cause beyond Landlord's reasonable control (whether similar or dissimilar to the foregoing events), then the time for performance of such obligation shall be excused for the period of such delay or prevention and extended for a period equal to the period of such delay, interruption or prevention.

25.22 Landlord's review, approval and consent powers (including the right to review plans and specifications) are for its benefit only. Such review, approval or consent (or conditions imposed in connection therewith) shall be deemed not to constitute a representation concerning legality, safety or any other matter.

25.23 The deletion of any printed, typed or other portion of this Lease shall not evidence the parties' intention to contradict such deleted portion. Such deleted portion shall be deemed not to have been inserted in this Lease.

25.24 At the expiration or earlier termination of the Lease Term, Tenant shall deliver to Landlord all keys and security cards to the Building and the Premises, whether such keys were furnished by Landlord or otherwise procured by Tenant, and shall inform Landlord of the combination of each lock, safe and vault, if any, in the Premises.

25.25 Tenant and the person executing and delivering this Lease on Tenant's behalf each represents and warrants that such person is duly authorized to so act; that Tenant is duly organized, is qualified to do business in the jurisdiction in which the Building is located, is in good standing under the Laws of the state of its organization and the Laws of the jurisdiction in which the Building is located, and has the power and authority to enter into this Lease; and that all action required to authorize Tenant and such person to enter into this Lease has been duly taken.

25.26 Any elimination or shutting off of light, air, or view by any structure which may be erected on lands adjacent to the Building shall in no way effect this Lease or impose any liability on Landlord.

25.27 [Intentionally omitted].

25.28 Neither Tenant nor any other person having an interest in the possession, use, occupancy or utilization of the Premises shall enter into any lease, sublease, license, concession, assignment or other agreement for use, occupancy or utilization for space in the Premises which provides for rental or other payment for such use, occupancy or utilization based in whole or in part on the net income or profits derived by any person from the party leased, used, occupied or utilized (other than an amount based on a fixed percentage or percentages of receipts or sales), and Tenant agrees that any such proposed lease, sublease, license, concession, assignment or other agreement shall be absolutely void and ineffective as a conveyance of any right or interest in the possession, use, occupancy or utilization of any part of the Premises.

25.29 The parties intend that all payments made to Landlord under this Lease will qualify as rents from real property for purposes of Section 512(b)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (“Qualified Rents”). If Landlord, in its sole discretion, advises Tenant that there is any risk that all or part of any payments made under this Lease will not qualify as Qualified Rents, Tenant agrees (i) to cooperate with landlord to restructure this Lease in such manner as may be necessary to enable such payments to be treated as Qualified Rents, and (ii) to permit an assignment of this Lease, in each case provided such restructuring or assignment will not have a material economic impact on Tenant.

25.30 Each of Landlord and Tenant, each as to itself, hereby represents its compliance with all applicable anti-money laundering laws, including, without limitation, the USA Patriot Act, and the laws administered by the United States Treasury Department’s Office of Foreign Assets Control, including, without limitation, Executive Order 13224 (“Executive Order”). Each of Landlord and Tenant further represents (i) that it is not, and it is not owned or controlled directly or indirectly by any person or entity, on the SDN List published by the United States Treasury Department’s Office of Foreign Assets Control and (ii) that it is not a person otherwise identified by government or legal authority as a person with whom a U.S. Person is prohibited from transacting business. As of the date hereof, a list of such designations and the text of the Executive Order are published under the internet website address www.ustreas.gov/offices/enforcement/ofac.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Landlord and Tenant have executed this Lease under seal as of the day and year first above written.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

This Exhibit is attached to and made a part of that certain Lease Agreement dated as of _____, 2011 (the “Lease”), by and between Square 516S Office Venture, LLC (“Landlord”), and American Bridge 21st Century (“Tenant”).

The following rules and regulations have been formulated for the safety and well-being of all tenants of the Building. Strict adherence to these rules and regulations is necessary to guarantee that every tenant will enjoy a safe and undisturbed occupancy of its premises. Any violation of these rules and regulations by Tenant shall constitute a default by Tenant under the Lease.

A. ALL TENANTS.

The following rules shall be applicable to all tenants of the Building:

1. Tenant shall not obstruct or encumber or use for any purpose other than ingress and egress to and from the Premises any sidewalk, entrance, passage, court, elevator, vestibule, stairway, corridor, hall or other part of the Building not exclusively occupied by Tenant. No bottles, parcels or other articles shall be placed, kept or displayed on window ledges, in windows or in corridors, stairways or other public parts of the Building. Tenant shall not place any showcase, mat or other article outside the Premises.

2. Landlord shall have the right to control and operate the public portions of the Building and the facilities furnished for common use of the tenants, in such manner as Landlord deems best for the benefit of the tenants generally. Tenant shall not permit the visit to the Premises of persons in such numbers or under such conditions as to interfere with the use and enjoyment of the entrances, corridors, elevators and other public portions or facilities of the Building by other tenants. Tenant shall coordinate in advance with Landlord’s property management department all deliveries to the Building so that arrangements can be made to minimize such interference. Tenant shall not permit its employees and invitees to congregate in the elevator lobbies or corridors of the Building. Canvassing, soliciting and peddling in the Building are prohibited, and Tenant shall cooperate to prevent the same.

3. Tenant shall not attach, hang or use in connection with any window or door of the Premises any drape, blind, shade or screen, without Landlord’s prior written consent. All awnings, drapes projections, curtains, blinds, shades, screens and other fixtures shall be of a quality, type, design and color, and shall be attached in a manner, approved in writing by Landlord. Any Tenant-supplied window treatments shall be installed behind Landlord’s standard window treatments so that Landlord’s standard window treatments will be what is visible to persons outside the Building. Drapes (whether installed by Landlord or Tenant) which are visible from the exterior of the Building shall be cleaned by Tenant at least once a year, without notice from Landlord, at Tenant’s own expense.

4. Tenant shall not use the water fountains, water and wash closets, and plumbing and other fixtures for any purpose other than those for which they were constructed, and Tenant shall not place any debris, rubbish, rag or other substance therein (including, without limitation, coffee grounds). All damages from misuse of fixtures shall be borne by the tenant causing same.

5. Tenant shall not construct, maintain, use or operate within the Premises any electrical device, wiring or apparatus in connection with a loudspeaker system or other sound system, in connection with any excessively bright, changing, flashing, flickering or moving light or lighting device, or in connection with any similar device or system, without Landlord's prior written consent. Tenant shall not construct, maintain, use or operate any such device or system outside of its Premises or within such Premises so that the same can be heard or seen from outside the Premises. No flashing, neon or search lights shall be used which can be seen outside the Premises.

6. Tenant shall not bring any bicycle, vehicle, animal, bird or pet of any kind into the Building, except seeing-eye or hearing-ear dogs for handicapped persons visiting the Premises.

7. Except as specifically provided to the contrary in the Lease, Tenant shall not cook or permit any cooking on the Premises, except for microwave cooking and use of coffee machines by Tenant's employees for their own consumption. Tenant shall not install any microwave oven or coffee machine in the Premises without Landlord's prior written approval of such equipment and its location within the Premises. Tenant shall not cause or permit any unusual or objectionable odor to be produced upon or emanate from the Premises.

8. Tenant shall not make any unseemly or disturbing noise or disturb or interfere with occupants of the Building.

9. Tenant shall not place on any floor a load exceeding the floor load per square foot which such floor was designed to carry. Landlord shall have the right to prescribe the weight, position and manner of installation of safes and other heavy equipment and fixtures. Landlord shall have the right to repair at Tenant's expense any damage to the Premises or the Building caused by Tenant's moving property into or out of the Premises or due to the same being in or upon the Premises or to require Tenant to do the same. Tenant shall not receive into the Building or carry in the elevators any safes, freight, furniture, equipment or bulky item except as approved by Landlord, and any such furniture, equipment and bulky item shall be delivered only through the designated delivery entrance of the Building and the designated freight elevator at designated times. Tenant shall remove promptly from any sidewalk adjacent to the Building any furniture, furnishing, equipment or other material there delivered or deposited for Tenant.

10. Tenant shall not place additional locks or bolts of any kind on any of the doors or windows, and shall not make any change in any existing lock or locking mechanism therein, without Landlord's prior written approval. Tenant shall keep doors leading to a corridor or main hall closed at all times except as such doors may be used for ingress or egress and shall lock such doors during all times the Premises are unattended. Tenant shall, upon the termination of its tenancy: (a) restore to Landlord all keys and security cards to stores, offices, storage rooms, toilet rooms, the Building and the Premises which were either furnished to, or otherwise procured by, Tenant, and in the event of the loss of any keys so furnished, Tenant shall pay the replacement cost thereof; and (b) inform Landlord of the combination of any lock, safe and vault in the Premises. At Landlord's request, a charge of three dollars ($3.00) per key shall be paid for all keys in excess of two (2) for each public entrance door to the Premises. Tenant's key system shall be consistent with that for the rest of the Building.

11. Tenant shall not install or operate in the Premises any electrically operated equipment or machinery without obtaining the prior written consent of Landlord. Landlord may condition such consent upon Tenant's payment of additional rent in compensation for the excess consumption of electricity or other utilities and for the cost of any additional wiring or apparatus that may be occasioned by the operation of such equipment or machinery. Tenant shall not install any equipment of any type or nature that will or may necessitate any changes, replacements or additions to, or changes in the use of, the water system, heating system, plumbing system, air-conditioning system or electrical system of the Premises or the Building, without obtaining Landlord's prior written consent, which consent may be granted or withheld in Landlord's sole and absolute discretion. If any machine or equipment of Tenant causes noise or vibration that may be transmitted to such a degree as to be objectionable to Landlord or any tenant in the Building, then Landlord shall have the right to install at Tenant's expense vibration eliminators or other devices sufficient to reduce such noise and vibration to a level satisfactory to Landlord or to require Tenant to do the same.

12. Landlord reserves the right to exclude from the Building at all times any person who does not properly identify himself to the Building management or attendant on duty. Landlord shall have the right to exclude any undesirable or disorderly persons from the Building at any time. Landlord may require all persons admitted to or leaving the Building to show satisfactory identification and to sign a register.

13. Tenant shall not permit or encourage any loitering in or about the Premises and shall not use or permit the use of the Premises for lodging, dwelling or sleeping.

14. Tenant, before closing and leaving the Premises at any time, shall see that all windows are closed and all lights and equipment are turned off, including, without limitation, coffee machines.

15. Tenant shall not request Landlord's employees to perform any work or do anything outside of such employees' regular duties without Landlord's prior written consent. Tenant's special requirements will be attended to only upon application to Landlord, and any such special requirements shall be billed to Tenant in accordance with the schedule of charges maintained by Landlord from time to time or as is agreed upon in writing in advance by Landlord and Tenant. Tenant shall not employ any of Landlord's employees for any purpose whatsoever without Landlord's prior written consent.

16. There shall not be used in any space, or in the public halls of the Building, either by any tenant or by jobbers or others in the delivery or receipt of merchandise, any hand trucks, except those equipped with rubber tires and side guards. Tenant shall be responsible for any loss or damage resulting from any deliveries made by or for Tenant.

17. Tenant shall not install or permit the installation of any wiring for any purpose on the exterior of the Premises.

18. Tenant acknowledges that it is Landlord's intention that the Building be operated in a manner which is consistent with the highest standards of cleanliness, decency and morals in the community which it serves. Toward that end, Tenant shall not sell, distribute, display or offer for sale any item which, in Landlord's judgment, is inconsistent with the quality of operation of the Building or may tend to impose or detract from the moral character or image of the Building. Tenant shall not use the Premises for any immoral or illegal purpose.

19. Unless otherwise expressly provided in the Lease, Tenant shall not use, occupy or permit any portion of the Premises to be used or occupied for the storage, manufacture, or sale of liquor.

20. Tenant shall purchase or contract for waxing, rug shampooing, venetian blind washing, interior glass washing, furniture polishing, janitorial work, removal of any garbage from any dining or eating facility or for towel service in the Premises, only from contractors, companies or persons approved by Landlord.

21. Tenant shall not remove, alter or replace the ceiling light diffusers, ceiling tiles or air diffusers in any portion of the Premises without the prior written consent of Landlord.

22. Tenant shall not purchase water, ice, coffee, soft drinks, towels, or other merchandise or services from any company or person whose repeated violation of Building regulations has caused, in Landlord's opinion, a hazard or nuisance to the Building and/or its occupants.

23. Tenant shall not pay any employee on the Premises except those actually employed therein; nor shall Tenant use the Premises as headquarters for large scale employment of workers for other locations.

24. Landlord shall have the right, upon written notice to Tenant, to require Tenant to refrain from or discontinue any advertising by Tenant which, in Landlord's opinion, tends to impair the reputation of the Building or its desirability for offices.

25. Tenant shall not in any manner deface any part of the Premises or the Building. No stringing of wires, boring or cutting shall be permitted except with Landlord's prior written consent. Any floor covering installed by Tenant shall have an under layer of felt rubber, or similar sounddeadening substance, which shall not be affixed to the floor by cement or any other non-soluble adhesive materials.

26. Should Tenant's use and occupancy of the Premises require the installation of supplemental cooling, and should the Building contain a closed loop, Tenant agrees that its supplemental cooling requirements will be serviced by tapping into the Building's closed loop. Tenant shall be responsible for the cost of connecting into the loop and agrees to pay to Landlord as additional rent the monthly tap fee in accordance with Landlord's then-current rate schedule.

Should the Building not contain a closed loop, Tenant agrees to be responsible for fees associated with placing equipment on the roof of the Building.

27. Each Tenant shall handle its newspapers and "office paper" in the manner required by the District of Columbia Recycling Act (as the same may be amended from time to time) and shall conform with any recycling plan instituted by Landlord.

28. Tenant shall not bring or keep, or permit to be brought or kept, in the Building any weapon or flammable, combustible or explosive fluid, chemical or substance.

29. Tenant shall comply with all workplace smoking Laws. There shall be no smoking in or about the Building.

3. "As Is" Condition. ABOUT US

Bridge Project is dedicated to exposing the conservative movement's dishonest tactics, dismantling its extreme ideology, and shining light on the moneyed special interests that fund it.

In recent years, conservatives have made a strong push for ideological purity within their ranks. The result is a movement committed to Tea Party economics, blind to any empirical evidence that discredits their beliefs, and fiercely opposed to almost any form of compromise. Even Republican officials have conceded that President Ronald Reagan would not meet the rigid standards of today's conservative movement.

This shift has coincided with a rapidly increasing flow of money to conservative advocacy groups. For many years, contributions to right-leaning nonprofit organizations from wealthy individuals and donor foundations have flown largely under the radar. But many of those ideological advocates have become nakedly partisan and heavily involved in elections, while the emergence of super PACs has pushed conservative political giving to unprecedented levels. In 2012, conservative outside groups will spend more money than Mitt Romney or the Republican National Committee to elect their chosen candidates.

We believe that entities with so much influence over the political process should be held to the same standards as politicians running for office. However, unlike political candidates, the conservative groups and funders driving the right will not disappear after the election. That is why Bridge Project is committed to keeping a watchful eye on the "conservative movement," pushing back against false attacks and radical rhetoric, and following the money behind an agenda that would take America backward.

With your help, we will hold conservatives accountable for putting their extreme ideological goals above the values and best interests of the American people.

Barriers To Reform: The Anti-Immigration Policies And Extremist Money Blocking Progress In The Senate

Summary

As immigration reform moves forward in the Senate, the success of any legislation will depend on the cooperation of conservative lawmakers with troubling histories on the issue. However, it is not only their past policy positions and quotes that are disturbing. These key conservative senators also share a history of campaign contributors who also fund extremist anti-immigrant organizations, including those labeled as hate groups by the Southern Poverty Law Center.

Each of the Republican senators in the immigration "gang of eight" have supported extreme positions and aligned themselves with anti-immigrant forces. Beyond the "gang," leading conservatives such as Minority Leader Mitch McConnell, Sens. John Cornyn, Chuck Grassley, David Vitter, and Ted Cruz will figure prominently into the fate of immigration reform despite having similarly concerning records.

Worst Anti-Immigrant Rhetoric

- Rubio on a path to citizenship: "Well, we have a path to citizenship. It's called coming legally into this country."
- McCain on racial profiling: "...drivers of cars with illegals in it that are intentionally causing accidents on the freeway."
- Graham on birthright citizenship: "People come here to have babies... They come here to drop a child. It's called 'drop and leave.'"
- Flake on birthright citizenship: "How in the world can you explain that's a good policy to have? It simply doesn't promote respect for the rule of law."
- Cruz on enforcement: "triple the border patrol; use walls, fences, and technology; end sanctuary cities; repeal Obama's newly ordered amnesty; end benefits like in-state tuition for illegal aliens."
- McConnell on the DREAM Act: "I do not believe we should reward illegal behavior."
- Vitter on the DREAM Act: "I am extremely pleased that the U.S. Senate has once again rejected the illegal alien student bailout known as the DREAM Act."
- Grassley on the DREAM Act: "...discussing another amnesty will only create a rush to the border."

Sen. Marco Rubio (R-FL)

Rubio is a member of the "gang of eight."

Rubio: "We Have A Path To Citizenship. It's Called Coming Legally Into This Country." In an interview with Human Events, Sen. Marco Rubio was asked, "Are you in favor of creating a path to citizenship for the millions who are here?" Rubio answered, "Well, we have a path to citizenship. It's called coming legally into this country. The ones who are already here. You can't do it." [Human Events, 5/6/10]

Rubio: "You're Never Going To Have A Legal Immigration System That Works If You Grant Amnesty." According to Rubio in an interview with Human Events, "And you're never going to have a legal immigration system that works if you grant amnesty. [...] There are going to be stories of very young kids that were brought to this country at a very young age who don't even speak Spanish that are going to be sent back to Nicaragua or some other place. And it's gonna feel weird and I understand that. The goal here is to have an immigration policy that works. And if you provide a path for people to enter this country illegally and if they stay here long enough and pay enough in taxes, well let them stay legally...why would anyone come in through the legal process?"[Human Events, 5/6/10]

PolitiFact: Rubio Said That The Arizona Immigration Law Would Create A "Police State," Then Later Said He Would Have Voted For The Legislation. According to PolitiFact, "The law, generally speaking, makes being an illegal immigrant a state crime and requires legal immigrants to carry papers that confirm their legal status. On April 27, 2010 in front of a largely Cuban-American crowd in West Miami, Rubio likened Arizona's bill to the creation of a 'police state,' saying the American people wouldn't be comfortable with people being required to have documents on them at all times proving their citizenship status. Then on April 30, he told Fox News' Neil Cavuto that didn't believe the Arizona law was 'the best answer to that problem.' But in an interview with a conservative blogger nine days later, Rubio said he would've voted for the measure." [PolitiFact.com, 5/12/10]

Rubio Said That The Democratic Version Of The DREAM Act Would "Create Incentives For Illegal Immigration, Chain Migration, And All Sorts Of Problems." During an interview with the National Review, Rubio stated, "The problem is that all of the existing policy proposals that are out there like the DREAM Act create amnesty. They create incentives for illegal immigration, chain migration, and all sorts of problems. What I have said is that I believe we can deal with these kids and these circumstances without making all of the DREAM Act's mistakes." [National Review, 3/30/12]

• New York Times Editorial: Rubio's Version Of The DREAM Act Would Not Provide A Path To Citizenship. According to the New York Times Editorial Board, "Senator Marco Rubio of Florida, who has recently been floating his stripped-down version of the Dream Act, a bill to legalize young unauthorized immigrants — Americans in all but name — who serve in the military or go to college. Mr. Rubio's idea to make it palatable to his party is to offer them legalization without citizenship. 'You can legalize someone's status,' he says, 'without placing them on a path toward citizenship.' He warns that if Dream Act youths became citizens, they could — horrors — someday sponsor family members to enter legally. This idea is nothing more than some newly invented third-class status — not illegal, but not American. It's the Dream Act without the dream and should be dismissed out of hand, along with similar half-measures embraced by Mitt Romney and other Republican presidential candidates, who endorse legalization for military service but not college, and not citizenship in any case." [New York Times Editorial, 3/27/12]

Rubio Co-Sponsored Mandatory E-Verify Bill With Senator Grassley. According to The Tampa Bay times, "Sen. Marco Rubio has signed on as a co-sponsor to a bill that would reauthorize the E-Verify employment check system and make it mandatory for all employers. 'I know firsthand the great things that immigration has meant for America,' Rubio said in a statement posted on his website. 'Immigration is woven into the fabric of our nation and is a critical part of our future. But we can't be the only nation in the world that does not enforce its immigration laws. Consistently, I have stated that a modernization of the legal immigration system is impossible unless we must first secure the border and implement an E-Verify system that will help prevent the hiring and exploitation of undocumented workers. That's why I support Senator Charles Grassley's bill to make E-Verify permanent.'" [The Tampa Bay Times, 6/15/11]

Rubio Said That English Should Be The Official Language Of The United States. According to The Miami Herald's Naked Politics blog, "Republican Senate candidate Marco Rubio said only 'nuances' separate his stance on immigration from that of his new ally, U.S. Sen. James DeMint of South Carolina. Rubio, who is Cuban-American, said he agrees with DeMint's position that English should be the official language of the U.S. 'We have to have a common language that unites the people,' said Rubio, the former state lawmaker from Miami. 'I'm not in favor of banning other languages, but my name is spelled the same way in Spanish as it is in English.' Lucky for him, since ballots might not be available in Spanish and Creole in Rubio's diverse Miami turf under legislation backed by DeMint that says government documents and services need only be available in English." [The Miami Herald's Naked Politics Blog, 6/16/09]

Ties To Extremist Anti-Immigrant Funding

Rubio Received $12,000 From Board Members Of The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation. Rubio received two separate $2,400 contributions from San Orr, the first on July 7, 2009 and the second on November 11, 2009. Rubio received two separate $2,400 contributions from Dennis K. Kuester, the first on January 18, 2010 and the second on October 15, 2010. Rubio received a contribution of $2,400 from Art Pope on September 21, 2010. Orr, Kuester, and Pope are board member of the Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation. [Center for Responsive Politics, accessed 4/3/13; BradleyFdn.org, accessed 4/3/13]

• The Lynde And Harry Bradley Foundation Has Given At Least $220,000 To The Anti-Immigrant Center For Immigration Studies. The Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation contributed $220,000 to the Center for Immigration Studies. According to the Southern Poverty Law Center, the Center for Immigration Studies is "at the nexus of the American nativist movement" and "part of a network of restrictionist organizations conceived and created by John Tanton, the 'puppeteer' of the nativist movement and a man with deep racist roots." [Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation IRS Forms 990, 2003-2011; SPLCenter.org, February 2009]

Rubio Received $3,000 From A William H. Donner Foundation Board Member. Rubio received two separate contributions of $1,500 from Joseph W. Donner, the first on May 10, 2010 and the second on October 5, 2010. Donner sits on the board of the William H. Donner Foundation. [Center for Responsive Politics, accessed 4/3/13; Donner.org, accessed 4/3/13]

• William H. Donner Foundation Has Given At Least $175,000 To Anti-Immigrant Groups. The William H. Donner Foundation contributed $140,000 to the Center for Immigration Studies (CIS) from 2006-2011. The foundation also contributed $35,000 to FAIR in 2003. According to the Southern Poverty Law Center, the Federation for American Immigration Reform and the Center for Immigration Studies are "at the nexus of the American nativist movement" and "part of a network of restrictionist organizations conceived and created by John Tanton, the 'puppeteer' of the nativist movement and a man with deep racist roots." SPLC also designates FAIR an anti-immigrant hate group. [Center for Responsive Politics, accessed 4/3/13; Donner Foundation IRS Forms 990, 2003-2011; SPLCenter.org, February 2009; SPLCenter.org, Summer 2002]

Rubio Received $250 From Minuteman PAC. According to the Center for Responsive Politics, Minuteman PAC donated $250 to Rubio's campaign in 2010. [Center for Responsive Politics, accessed 4/11/13]

• Minuteman PAC Believes The "United States Are At War" And Is Concerned About "Colonization And Balkanization." According to its website, "Minuteman PAC is a citizens' political action committee created to serve as a potent political arm of the Minuteman Movement, the grassroots initiative that seeks to secure America's sovereign territory against incursion, invasion, and terrorism. [...] These United States are at war, and under siege by forces and interests that have the capacity, over time, to destroy our great experiment of responsible self-government. [...] If you are concerned about the chaos upon our broken borders, if you believe America should welcome legal immigration but reject colonization and Balkanization, we invite you help us secure the future of our nation for the American people and her posterity." [MinutemanPAC.com, accessed 4/11/13]

Sen. John McCain (R-AZ)

McCain is a member of the "gang of eight."

McCain Suggested Arizona Wildfires Were Started By "People Who Have Crossed Our Border Illegally." According to CNN, "U.S. Sen. John McCain is blaming illegal immigrants for starting some of the wildfires that have scorched hundreds of thousands of acres in Arizona. 'There is substantial evidence that some of these fires have been caused by people who have crossed our border illegally,' McCain, R-Arizona, said Saturday at a press conference. 'The answer to that part of the problem is to get a secure border.' The Arizona senator, however, did not say what the evidence is, prompting a swift rebuke from Latino civil rights advocates." [CNN, 6/19/11]

McCain Defended Arizona Immigration Law By Claiming "Illegals" Were "Intentionally Causing Accidents On The Freeway." During an interview on "The O'Reilly Factor," McCain was asked "what about the racial profiling" that would result from Arizona's immigration law SB 1070. McCain answered, "I would be very sorry if some of that happens, and I regret it. But I also regret the – really, it's not just the murder of Robert Krentz. It's the people whose homes and property are being violated. It's the drive-by – the drivers of cars with illegals in it that are intentionally causing accidents on the freeway. Look, our border is not secured. Our citizens are not safe." [Fox News, "The O'Reilly Factor," 6/19/10]

McCain Called Arizona Immigration Bill "A Very Important Step Forward." According to Politico, "Sen. John McCain praised a tough Arizona anti-immigration bill that will let police arrest people who aren't carrying identification, the latest move in McCain's rightward shift in advance of a tough Republican Senate primary this summer. 'I think it's a very important step forward,' McCain said Monday. 'I can fully understand why the legislature would want to act.' It's a dramatic switch for a senator who supported comprehensive immigration reform with Democratic lion Sen. Ted Kennedy (D-Mass.) just four years ago. McCain is facing a primary challenge from the right in former Rep. J.D. Hayworth. His office later said his comments did not represent an endorsement, though a spokeswoman would not condemn the bill, either." [Politico, 4/19/10]

In 2010, McCain Joined Filibuster Of Dream Act, Which He Previously Cosponsored. On December 18, 2010, Sen. John McCain voted against cloture on the Dream Act. In a statement, McCain said, "I cannot put the priorities of these students, as difficult and unfair in many respects as their situation is, ahead of my constituents and the American people who demand that the Federal government fulfill its Constitutional duty to secure our borders before we undertake other reforms. Once we fulfill this commitment, we can then address all of the issues plaguing our broken immigration system. There simply isn't sufficient political support to do anything before we secure our borders and there won't be until we do." McCain cosponsored the DREAM Act in 2003, 2005, and 2007. [H.R. 5281, Vote #278, 12/18/10; McCain Statement, 12/18/10; Thomas.loc.gov, accessed 4/2/13]

After Touting "Amnesty," McCain Repeatedly Claimed He "Never Supported Amnesty." In June 2010, the New York Times reported, "Repeatedly over three days, Mr. McCain was asked why he had supported 'amnesty' for illegal immigrants in the past ('I never supported amnesty,' he says)." McCain also repeatedly claimed he "never supported amnesty" during presidential debates in 2008. However, McCain previously endorsed the idea of "amnesty" as part of immigration reform, saying, "Amnesty has to be an important part because there are people who have lived in this country for 20, 30 or 40 years, who have raised children here and pay taxes here and are not citizens. That has to be a component of it." [New York Times, 6/21/10; Associated Press, 1/6/08; GOP Primary Debate, 5/15/07; Politico Playbook, 6/4/07]

McCain Released Ad Saying "Complete The Danged Fence" On The U.S.-Mexico Border. According to ABC News, "Sen. John McCain has released a tough-talking television ad that blames illegal immigrants for 'home invasions [and] murders' and calls for the completion of the 'danged fence' along the U.S.-Mexico border, reversing years of criticizing such a barrier. [...] Walking along the incomplete fence with Pinal County Sheriff Paul Babeu, McCain says: 'drug and human smuggling, home invasions, murder.' To, which Babeu responds, 'We're outmanned. Of all the illegals in America, more than half come through Arizona.' Babeu tells McCain that his proposal for curbing illegal immigration is a perfect plan: 'You bring troops, state, county and local law enforcement together.' 'And,' adds McCain, 'complete the dangged fence.' 'It'll work this time. Senator, You're one of us,' Babeu replies." [ABC News, 5/11/10]

Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-SC)

Graham is a member of the "gang of eight."

Graham In 2010: DREAM Act Vote "Is Nothing More Than A Political Game By The Democrats To Try And Drive A Wedge Between The Hispanic Community And Republicans." According to a statement from Sen. Graham on his opposition to the DREAM Act, "Illegal immigration is a nightmare for America. Giving a pathway to citizenship without first securing the border is an inducement to encourage more illegal immigration. This is nothing more than a political game by the Democrats to try and drive a wedge between the Hispanic community and Republicans. Today's cynical vote on the DREAM Act, along with a series of other votes, convinces me that the Democratic leadership in the Senate does not get the message from the last election. They care more about politics than policy in a variety of areas, including illegal immigration." [Graham Press Release, 12/9/10]

Graham Argued For Eliminating Birthright Citizenship, Saying Immigrants "Come Here To Drop A Child. It's Called 'Drop And Leave.'" According to Politico, "Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-S.C.) announced Wednesday night that he is considering introducing a constitutional amendment that would change existing law to no longer grant citizenship to the children of immigrants born in the United States. Currently, the 14th Amendment grants citizenship to any child born in the United States. But with 12 million illegal immigrants living in the U.S., Graham said it may be time to restrict the ability of immigrants to have children who become citizens just because they are born in the country. 'I may introduce a constitutional amendment that changes the rules if you have a child here,' Graham said during an interview with Fox News' Greta Van Susteren. 'Birthright citizenship I think is a mistake ... We should change our Constitution and say if you come here illegally and you have a child, that child's automatically not a citizen.' [...] 'People come here to have babies,' he said. 'They come here to drop a child. It's called 'drop and leave.' To have a child in America, they cross the border, they go to the emergency room, have a child, and that child's automatically an American citizen. That shouldn't be the case. That attracts people here for all the wrong reasons.'" [Politico, 7/29/10]

Graham Expressed Support For Universal Biometric ID Cards To Verify Work Eligibility So "You Wouldn't Have To Look At Somebody Based On Their Accent Or Their Background." On CNN's State of the Union, Sen. Lindsey Graham stated, "I'm willing, Candy, to have every American take their Social Security card and turn it into a biometric document; put your ID on there, a fingerprint, so when you go get a job or I go get a job, we can present a Social Security card to our employer and they can verify we are who we say we are. If we all agree to do that as a people, you wouldn't have to look at somebody based on their accent or their background. You would have a document that's trustworthy and verifiable. I can get you a fake Social Security by midnight." [CNN, State of the Union, 8/1/10]

Graham Co-Sponsored An Amendment To Declare English The National Language. In 2006 and 2007, Sen. Graham voted in favor of amendments introduced by Sen. Sen. Jeff Flake (R-AZ)

Flake is a member of the "gang of eight."

Flake Abandoned Long-Held Position On Immigration Reform In Conjunction With Run For Senate. According to The Arizona Republic, "For years, Rep. Jeff Flake was one of the most reliable Republican champions for comprehensive immigration reform. Not anymore. As his campaign for Arizona's 2012 GOP Senate nomination revs up, Flake is explicitly rejecting his past advocacy for far-reaching legislation that would secure the border, enact a temporary-worker program and give many undocumented immigrants a pathway to legal status. 'In the past I have supported a broad approach to immigration reform -- increased border security coupled with a temporary worker program. I no longer do,' Flake says in an immigration-policy statement that was expected to be posted on his campaign website as early as today. 'I've been down that road, and it is a dead end. The political realities in Washington are such that a comprehensive solution is not possible, or even desirable given the current leadership. Border security must be addressed before other reforms are tackled.'" [The Arizona Republic, 3/23/11]

- WSJ Op-Ed: Flake Once Said That "Virtually All" Undocumented Immigrants Have Ties To Smuggling And Drugs. According to the Wall Street Journal, "Mr. Flake has represented suburban Phoenix since 2001 and distinguished himself as, among other things, a champion of comprehensive immigration reform that includes not only more border security but also viable guest worker programs to meet U.S. labor market demand and a pathway to citizenship for undocumented workers already here. These days, he sounds more like Arizona's Sheriff Joe Arpaio, denouncing comprehensive immigration reform as 'a dead end' and saying it's no longer 'possible or even desirable.' He touts his support for walling off the Mexican border and suggests (incorrectly) that illegal Latinos drive violent crime in the U.S., telling one interviewer that 'virtually all' of the people entering the country illegally today are tied to smuggling rings and drug cartels. Mr. Flake, who is also known as a staunch fiscal hawk, apparently believes that kind of immigration rhetoric is necessary to win over Republican primary voters." [Wall Street Journal Op-Ed, 7/10/12]

Flake Urged SCOTUS to Uphold Arizona Immigration Law. According to a press release from Sen. Flake's office, "Republican Congressman Jeff Flake, who represents Arizona's Sixth District, today urged the Supreme Court to uphold SB 1070, Arizona's immigration enforcement law. Congressman Flake has consistently opposed the Obama Administration's decision to sue Arizona over the law. 'It should be expected that states like Arizona will take action to enforce immigration laws when the federal government continues its long history of failing to do so,' said Flake. 'The Obama Administration ought to focus on securing the border instead of suing Arizona for trying to help.'" [Flake Press Release, 4/25/12]

Flake Voted Against the DREAM Act. On December 8, 2010, Flake voted against the DREAM Act. According to the Immigration Policy Center, "The DREAM Act ... provides 'conditional' permanent residency to qualified unauthorized immigrants who enrolled in college or serve in the military. After meeting a set of requirements, including completion of at least two years of college or military service, the conditional status could be converted to full-fledged permanent resident status, which is a prerequisite for obtaining U.S. citizenship. The legislation currently before the Senate and the House would permit individuals up to age 35 to benefit from the DREAM Act, provided that they entered the United States before their 16th birthday and resided in the country for at least five years before the bill's enactment. The two-year college or military requirement could be met in a variety of ways, including attending community or vocational school or service in the National Guard. Upon completion of the two-year requirement, applicants could seek to remove the condition and become permanent residents." [H.R. 5281, Vote# 625, 12/8/10; ImmigrationPolicy.org, 6/5/12]

Flake Supported Ending Birthright Citizenship. According to The Washington Times, "House Republicans are looking closely at ending birthright citizenship and building a barrier along the entire U.S.-Mexico border as they search for solutions to illegal immigration. ... 'There's been recent scholarship that says we can do it by statute, and we ought to try,' said Rep. Jeff Flake, Arizona Republican, who usually finds himself on the opposite side of immigration issues from Mr. Tancredo. 'How in the world can you explain that's a good policy to have? It simply doesn't promote respect for the rule of law,' Mr. Flake said." [The Washington Times, 11/4/05]

Sen. Ted Cruz (R-TX)

Cruz sits on the Judiciary subcommittee on Immigration, Refugees, and Border Security.

Cruz Claimed Obama Wants Immigration Reform Bill To "Crater" So Democrats Can Use It As "A Political Wedge." According to Ted Cruz in an interview with the Dallas Morning News, "[Obama's] behavior concerning immigration leads me to believe that what he wants is a political issue rather than actually to pass a bill. What he wants is for the bill to crater, so that he can use the issue as a political wedge in 2014 and 2016. That is why I believe the president is insisting on a path to citizenship for those who are here illegally. Because by insisting on that, he ensures that any immigration reform bill will be voted down in the House." [Dallas Morning News, 3/24/13]

Cruz: "I Do Not Support The Dream Act And Categorically Oppose Amnesty." In an interview with the blog Conservatives in Action published on Cruz's campaign website, Cruz said, "I do not support the Dream Act and categorically oppose amnesty. I categorically oppose amnesty and I strongly support legal immigration for those that have followed the rules and come here to pursue the American dream." [TedCruz.org, 7/18/11]

Cruz: "End Benefits Like In-State Tuition For Illegal Aliens." According to the Texas Tribune, Ted Cruz said, "We need leaders who will get serious about enforcing the border: triple the border patrol; use walls, fences, and technology; end sanctuary cities; repeal Obama's newly ordered amnesty; and end benefits like in-state tuition for illegal aliens." [Texas Tribune, 6/25/12]

Cruz Called On Romney To End Obama's "Deferred Action" Policy Toward Young Undocumented Immigrants. According to the Huffington Post, "Ted Cruz, a Republican senatorial candidate from Texas, said Monday he thinks presidential candidate Mitt Romney should end President Barack Obama's deferred action policy, going beyond Romney's line that he doesn't need to because he'll fix the problem quickly through Congress. Asked by Telemundo whether Romney should reinstate deportations of young people granted deferred action, Cruz said, 'I do.' 'I think it is without authority, and we're a nation of rule of law, and it is not defending anyone's freedom to be undermining rule of law,' he said of President Obama's June announcement that his administration would grant work authorizations and deferred action -- reprieve from deportation concerns for two years -- to some undocumented young people." [Huffington Post,

Cruz Attacked Primary Opponent's Support For Guest Worker Program. According to Fox News Latino, "Cruz went on the offensive against Dewhurst on illegal immigration—a key issue in the state that shares the longest stretch of U.S.-Mexico border—calling attention to Dewhurst's 2007 support of a guest worker program for the state's undocumented immigrants, announced at a speech in South Texas. Cruz called the guest worker idea more expansive than President Obama's decision to call off deportations for immigrants without criminal records who came here illegally as children—a policy that Cruz opposes and called 'illegal.'" [Fox News Latino, 7/18/12]

Cruz Supported Border Wall, Including Possibility Of Confiscating Private Property. According to Fox News Latino, "Cruz also distinguished himself from Dewhurst with his full-throated support for a border wall estimated by the Department of Homeland Security to cost $7.3 billion, or $6.5 million per mile. Cruz defended the border wall proposal even if it meant expropriating private property—a position that the debate's moderators, WFAA reporter Brad Watson and Gromer Jeffers of the Dallas Morning News, said contrasted with Cruz's message of fiscal conservatism. 'One of the specific powers and responsibilities of the federal government is to secure the borders,' Cruz said. 'Property can be taken with due process of law and just compensation.'" [Fox News Latino, 7/18/12]

Cruz Criticized Idea Of Providing Green Cards To Unauthorized Immigrants. According to the Washington Examiner, "Sen. Ted Cruz signaled yesterday on FOX News that he was concerned about allowing illegal immigrants to get a green card – reportedly part of the Gang of Eight Senate bill for immigration reform. Sen. Marco Rubio, R-Fla., supports the idea of allowing illegal immigrants to apply for a green card after a 10-year wait. 'The problem with the green card is the green card is a permanent legal residence status, and anyone who has a green card is eligible for citizenship within five years,' Cruz explained to FOX News host Sean Hannity. 'And so, if someone can get a green card, that is a path to citizenship.'" [Washington Examiner, 4/2/13]

McConnell Defended Arizona Immigration Law, Said Obama Should Take "Amnesty Off The Table."

According to a statement by Sen. Mitch McConnell responding to the Justice Department's challenge to Arizona's immigration law, "Suing the people of Arizona for attempting to do a job the federal government has utterly failed to execute will not help secure our borders. If the President wants to make real progress on this issue, he can do so by taking amnesty off the table and focus his efforts on border and interior security. It is long past time for this administration to prioritize solving a crisis over imposing an agenda and the first step is to recognize that attorneys and amnesty are not acceptable alternatives to border security and job creation." [McConnell Statement via ABC News, 7/6/10]

McConnell: Congress "Ought To Take A Look At" Birthright Citizenship Granted By The 14th Amendment. According to The Hill, "Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell (R-Ky.) told The Hill on Monday that Congress 'ought to take a look at' changing the 14th Amendment, which gives the children of illegal immigrants a right to U.S. citizenship. McConnell's statement signals growing support within the GOP for the controversial idea, which has also recently been touted by Senate Minority Whip Jon Kyl (R-Ariz.) and Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-S.C.). In an interview, McConnell said the 14th Amendment provision should be reconsidered in light of the country's immigration problem. McConnell stopped short of echoing Graham's call for revamping the amendment. 'I think we ought to take a look at it — hold hearings, listen to the experts on it,' McConnell said. 'I haven't made a final decision about it, but that's something that we clearly need to look at. Regardless of how you feel about the various aspects of immigration reform, I don't think anybody thinks that's something they're comfortable with.'" [The Hill, 8/2/10]

• McConnell Subsequently Claimed "I'm Not Aware Of Anybody Who Has Come Out For Altering The 14th Amendment." According to the New York Times, "At a breakfast on Thursday in Washington, Senator Mitch McConnell, the Senate minority leader, tried to tamp down a controversy that started when Senator Lindsey Graham, Republican of South Carolina, questioned the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, which grants the right to citizenship to anyone born in the United States. 'I am not aware of anybody who has come out in favor of altering the 14th Amendment,' Mr. McConnell said. But Mr. Graham, speaking on Fox News last week, said it was 'a mistake' to allow American-born children of illegal immigrants to become citizens automatically, a practice known as birthright citizenship. He said that along with a plan to grant legal status to millions of illegal immigrants, he would also amend the 14th Amendment as a way of discouraging future unauthorized immigration." [New York Times, 8/6/10]

McConnell Opposed DREAM Act Because "We Should Not Reward Illegal Behavior." According to floor remarks by Sen. Mitch McConnell, "I am disappointed my colleagues on the other side of the aisle are not continuing on the bipartisan path of enhancing our security. Instead, they are bringing up a controversial issue with the DREAM Act. This bill is an attempt to put illegal immigrants who graduate from a U.S. high school or obtain their GED on a special path to citizenship. Though I recognize and appreciate the tremendous contributions to our country made by generations of legal immigrants, I do not believe we should reward illegal behavior. It is our duty to promote respect for America's immigration laws and fairness for U.S. citizens and lawful immigrants. The DREAM Act fails that test and I will oppose it." [McConnell Remarks, 10/24/07]

Sen. John Cornyn (R-TX)

Cornyn is the Ranking Member of the Judiciary subcommittee on Immigration, Refugees, and Border Security.

In 2007, Cornyn Voted Against The DREAM Act, And In 2010 He Warned It Would Lead To "Chain Migration." According to The Houston Chronicle's Texas on the Potomac blog, "Texas Sen. John Cornyn criticized the DREAM Act Tuesday at the measure's first-ever Senate hearing, calling it a move that could spur illegal immigration and fraud in the absence of comprehensive immigration reform. [...] [H]e added that the legislation offers too few protections against fraud and could lead to 'chain migration' if it is not paired with comprehensive immigration reform. 'Were we to pass this bill as a stand-alone bill without addressing the rest of our broken immigration system, I believe it is far less likely that we would ever get to the other issues in our broken system,' he said." In 2007 Cornyn voted against cloture on a version of the DREAM Act. Cornyn Called Democratic Support For DREAM Act "A Cynical Effort To Use The Hopes And Dreams Of These Young People As A Political Wedge." According to The Houston Chronicle's Texas on the Potomac blog, "Cornyn called the act's attempted passage in 2010 'political football in a political stunt.' 'It had all of the hallmarks of a cynical effort to use the hopes and dreams of these young people as a political wedge in the run-up to the 2012 election,' he said." [Houston Chronicle's Texas On The Potomac Blog, 6/29/11]

Sen. Cornyn Linked Illegal Immigration To Swine Flu Outbreaks. During an April 2009 Senate Judiciary Committee hearing on comprehensive immigration reform, Sen. Cornyn stated, "Obviously, there is a public health component of our immigration system, and so we need to restore one that is protective of the public health as the recent incidents of this last week or so have reminded us." According to The Huffington Post, "Conservative media hosts, including Michelle Malkin and Glenn Beck, have placed the blame for the spread of swine flu to the United States squarely on the shoulders of undocumented Mexican immigrants. Some even suggested yesterday that Mexicans were purposefully carrying the virus across the border to sabotage the United States. There's no basis for either claim -- in fact, news reports and health officials suggest that Americans traveling to Mexico likely carried the disease home." [Senate Judiciary Committee Hearing via Nexis, 4/30/09; Huffington Post, 4/28/09]

Cornyn Has Repeatedly Opposed Comprehensive Immigration Reform. Sen. Cornyn voted against

Jim Inhofe (R-OK) that would have declared English the national language. [S. Amdt. 1151 to S. Amdt. 1150 to S. 1348, Vote #198, 6/6/07; S. Amdt. 4064 to S. 2611, Vote #131, 5/18/06]

The Southern Poverty Law Center also writes that VDARE "is an anti-immigration hate website" that "regularly publishes articles by prominent white nationalists, race scientists and anti-Semites," while the Center for American Unity, which originally created VDARE, "has served to promote the work of white supremacists, anti-Semites and others on the radical right." Sen. David Vitter (R-LA)

Vitter chairs the Border Security and Enforcement First Immigration Caucus.

In 2010, Sen. Vitter Ran A Racist Anti-Immigration Attack Ad. According to the Times-Picayune, "Sen. David Vitter's campaign for re-election to the U.S. Senate is running a anti-immigration TV ad against Rep. Charlie Melancon, D-Napoleonville, that is being denounced as 'racist' and 'reprehensible' by the Louisiana Hispanic Chamber of Commerce and a leading national immigrant advocacy group. The ad, done in the broad, comic style of Vitter's ad-maker John Brabender, shows Hispanic 'illegal aliens' sneaking through a hole in a fence and being welcomed by folks holding a Melancon banner, a giant check made out to 'all illegal aliens' and signed by Treasury Secretary Timothy Geithner. The immigrants also are greeted by a band playing 'America the Beautiful,' fireworks and a limo that drives them away. Darlene Kattan, executive director of the Hispanic Chamber of Commerce of Louisiana, characterized the ad as 'racist' in the way that it plays off a 'Hollywood stereotype image of Latino workers.' 'It is totally unacceptable and we demand an immediate apology and the removal of the ad,' Kattan said. She added that the spot 'uses the word 'illegal' too many times, and we stress that word.'" [The Times-Picayune, 10/8/10; Vitter For Senate Ad, 10/6/10]

• Vitter Had Previously Put Out A Racially Fraught Anti-Immigration Campaign Ad. According to the Washington Post, "In the ad, a menacing photo of 'illegal aliens' stares out in black-and-white from the screen. The photo also showed up in advertising for Sen. David Vitter (R-La.), with the words 'Benefits for Illegals' scrawled beneath the three men's faces. Only the photographer says the men were not illegal and had not immigrated to the United States at the time the photograph was taken. [...] They were farmers who had traveled from the far south of Mexico after their entire crop had failed and they were left with nothing to sell. They hoped to cross the border, but [photographer Chris] Floyd said he never knew if they did. At that point, 'It was a picture of Mexicans in Mexico.' [...] The caption for the photograph clearly identifies them as 'Mexicans pose for a portrait whilst gathered in the town square of Altar, Mexico.' The key words for the photograph do not use the term 'illegal,' but they do use the term 'Mexican Ethnicity.'" [Washington Post, 10/8/10]

Sen. Vitter: Gang Of Eight's Immigration Reform Proposal Is "Ridiculous" And Sen. Rubio Is "Amazingly Naïve." According to Politico, "Sen. David Vitter on Wednesday called Florida Sen. Marco Rubio 'amazingly naïve' and 'nuts' on the issue of immigration and slammed the new bipartisan reform proposal as 'ridiculous.' The Louisiana Republican told 'The Laura Ingraham Show' that the blueprint unveiled by a group of eight senators is a plan that mirrors the 'same old' failed immigration reform of 1986. Rubio's belief that enforcement mechanisms will work this time around is 'just amazingly naïve,' Vitter said. 'I love and respect Marco. I think he's just amazingly naïve on this issue,' Vitter said. 'This is the same old formula that we've dealt with before, including when it passed in 1986, and that is promises of enforcement and immediate amnesty. And of course, the promises of enforcement never materialize. The amnesty happens immediately — the millisecond the bill is signed into law, and the same is true here. No, they won't be citizens immediately. They will be legal.' 'Citizenship is guaranteed at that point as a practical matter,' he added. Vitter said that if the Florida Republican doesn't think legal status offers a pathway to citizenship, 'he's nuts.'" [Politico, 1/30/13]

Vitter: DREAM Act Is “The Illegal Alien Student Bailout.” According to a press release from Sen. Vitter, “I am extremely pleased that the U.S. Senate has once again rejected the illegal alien student bailout known as the DREAM Act,” said Vitter. “The American people have made it very clear that they favor border enforcement over policies that encourage lawlessness, and today’s bipartisan vote reaffirms what I have long argued - the American people will not tolerate amnesty in any form. In these difficult economic times, when unemployment rates are on the rise and government spending is unsustainable, the last thing legal tax-paying American citizens need is to see their hard-earned money used to finance the education of illegal aliens. Amnesty and economic incentives only exacerbate the problem of illegal immigration, and despite the efforts of liberals to push it yet again, I am pleased that we were once again able to defeat this irresponsible legislation,” said Vitter.” [Vitter.Senate.gov, 10/9/10]

Sen. Vitter Cosponsored A Bill Requiring Government Services To Be Conducted In English Only.

In 2008, Sen. Vitter co-sponsored S. 2719, which reads, in part, “No funds appropriated pursuant to any provision of law may be used to promulgate or enforce any executive order that creates an entitlement to services provided in any language other than English.” The bill specifically nullified Executive Order 13166, “Improving Access to Services for Persons with Limited English Proficiency.” [Library of Congress, accessed 4/5/13]

• Vitter Co-Sponsored An Amendment To Declare English The National Language. In 2006 and 2007, Sen. Vitter voted in favor of amendments introduced by Sen. Jim Inhofe (R-OK) that would have declared English the national language. Vitter co-sponsored the 2007 amendment. [S. Amdt. 1151 to S. Amdt. 1150 to S. 1348, Vote #198, 6/6/07; S. Sen. Vitter Blamed “Illegal Immigrants” For Louisiana’s Loss Of A Congressional Representative.

According to Politico, “Sen. David Vitter is blaming Louisiana’s loss of a congressional seat on the large number of illegal immigrants he says are living in other states. By including illegal immigrants in the new 2010 census population counts, Vitter contends the federal government is penalizing states that don’t ‘welcome’ them. ‘Louisiana stands to lose clout in Congress, while states that welcome illegal immigrants stand to unfairly benefit from artificially inflated population totals,’ the Republican senator said in a statement Tuesday.” [Politico, 12/21/10]

Sen. Vitter Has Repeatedly Introduced A Bill Ending Birthright Citizenship, Which He Describes As “A Magnet To Attract More And More Adults Into Our Country Illegally.”

According to an op-ed from Sen. Vitter, “America’s illegal immigration problem is out of control. To change this, we must better protect our borders, particularly the Mexican border, and ensure that only citizens and those in our country legally can be hired for jobs. Another change we must make is to stop babies born in this country to two illegal immigrant parents from automatically becoming U.S. citizens as they do now; this happens tens of thousands of times in the U.S. every year. This is just flat wrong, and it serves as a magnet to attract more and more adults into our country illegally. I believe the policy of birthright citizenship is incompatible with both the text and the legislative history of the 14th Amendment, which is why I recently introduced legislation so that a person born in the United States to illegal immigrants does not automatically gain citizenship unless at least one parent is a legal citizen, a lawful permanent resident (green card holder) or an active member of the Armed Forces.” Sen. Vitter introduced a similar bill, the Birthright Citizenship Act of 2013, in the 113th Congress. [Sen. Vitter Op-Ed via CNN.com, 2/15/11; Birthright Citizenship Act of 2013 via Library of Congress, accessed 4/5/13]

Sen. Vitter Cosponsored E-Verify Legislation. According to a press release from Sen. Chuck Grassley, “Senator Chuck Grassley today introduced legislation that would permanently authorize and require employers to use the E-Verify program. [...] The Accountability Through Electronic Verification Act of 2013 is cosponsored by Senators John Boozman, Bob Corker, Mike Johanns, Mike Lee, Jeff Sessions, David Vitter, Roger Wicker, Deb Fischer, Orrin Hatch and Mike Enzi.” [Grassley.Senate.gov, 1/31/13]

Sen. Vitter On Arizona’s Immigration Law: “If President Obama Doesn’t Want States To Act On Immigration, He Should Start Doing His Job.”

According to a press release from Sen. Vitter’s office, “The Arizona law is absolutely constitutional. If President Obama doesn’t want states to act on immigration, he should start doing his job and controlling the border himself, not looking the other way,” Vitter said. Vitter serves as chairman of the U.S. Senate Border Security and Enforcement First Immigration Caucus and has been a vocal supporter of the Arizona immigration law. In November 2011, Sens. Vitter, Jim DeMint (R-S.C.) and Jeff Sessions (R-Ala.) offered legislation to prohibit President Obama’s administration, including the Department of Justice (DOJ) and other agencies, from participating in lawsuits against South Carolina, Alabama and Arizona over recently passed immigration laws. In May 2011, Vitter applauded the U.S. Supreme Court ruling to uphold an Arizona law that requires all businesses to check to make sure their employees are in the country legally. In 2010, Vitter also introduced an amendment that would have prevented the administration from suing with taxpayers’ money to block the Arizona law.” Vitter.Senate.gov, 4/24/12]

Sen. Chuck Grassley (R-IA)

Grassley is the Ranking Member on the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Grassley: The DREAM Act Would “Incentivize And Reward Illegal Behavior” And “Create A Rush To The Border.” According to Sen. Grassley’s prepared remarks for a Judiciary Committee hearing on the DREAM Act, “The sponsors of the legislation claim only children who came to this country through no fault of their own would benefit. But the legislation would actually set the stage for another mass amnesty by putting millions of individuals, not just young people, on a path to citizenship. It would open the door to massive fraud and abuse of our immigration system. [...] I’m concerned that the repercussions in discussing another amnesty will only create a rush to the border. This is dangerous not only for the men and women who patrol our boundaries, but for the immigrants themselves. It is not unusual for those wanting a better life to justify their illegal behavior, but it is just that: illegal. [...] I agree that diversity has made this country the greatest in the world. We are a nation of immigrants, and continue to be an incredibly welcoming nation. But we need to be cautious when considering proposals that incentivize and reward illegal behavior.” In 2010, Grassley voted against the Senate’s version of the DREAM Act. [Grassley Prepared Statement, 6/28/11; S.3992, Vote #268, 12/9/10]

Grassley Suggested That Obama’s DREAM Act Directive Would Take Jobs Away From Young Americans. According to a press release from Sen. Grassley shortly after President Obama signed a directive ordering immigration officials to cease deportations of certain undocumented immigrants, “On top of providing amnesty to those under 30 years old, the administration now will be granting work authorizations to illegal immigrants at the same time young Americans face record-high unemployment rates. Americans also deserve to know how this amnesty program for hundreds of thousands of people will be funded, and whether resources for border security and enforcement will be diverted.” [Grassley.Senate.Gov, 6/15/12]

Grassley Introduced Mandatory E-Verify Bill. According to a press release from Grassley’s office, “Senator Chuck Grassley today introduced legislation that would permanently authorize and require employers to use the E-Verify program, an Internet-based system that assists employers in determining the eligibility of employees to work in the United States. Grassley is Ranking Member of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary which is responsible for immigration legislation.” [Grassley.Senate.gov, 1/31/13]

• Grassley-Sponsored E-Verify Amendment Previously Passed In Senate. According to the ACLU, “Under Grassley’s proposal, the DHS E-Verify system would require that all workers present government-issued photo ID to their employers, such as a passport or driver’s license. This documentation requirement would apply to all workers, including U.S. citizens, employed with an employer enrolled in E-Verify. The Grassley amendment encourages employers enrolled in E-Verify to verify the identification of all current employees, even if they have worked many years for that employer and even if they started work prior to the employer's enrollment in E-Verify. The Grassley amendment was one of many 'enforcement-only' amendments passed by the Senate this week and added to the Homeland Security Appropriations Act." [ACLU, 7/10/09]

Grassley Voted For An Amendment Barring The Justice Department From Challenging Arizona's Immigration Law. From a press release from Vitter's office, "U.S. Sens. David Vitter (R-Louisiana), chairman of the U.S. Senate Border Security and Enforcement First Immigration Caucus, and Jim DeMint (R-South Carolina), chairman of the U.S. Senate Steering Committee, introduced an amendment that would prohibit President Obama's administration, including the Department of Justice and other agencies, from participating in lawsuits seeking to invalidate the recently enacted Arizona immigration law. The DeMint-Vitter amendment (#4464) could be voted on next week as part of the debate on the small business bill on the Senate floor." [Vitter.Senate.Gov, 7/14/10; H.R. 4212, Vote #214, 7/21/10]

Grassley Voted Against Classifying "The Spouses And Minor Children Of Lawful Permanent Residents As Immediate Relatives." In 2007, then-Senator Clinton proposed an amendment to the Comprehensive Immigration Reform Act of 2007 to "reclassify the spouses and minor children of lawful permanent residents as immediate relatives." Grassley voted against the amendment. [S. Amdt. 1183 to S. Amdt 1150 to S. 1348, Vote #195, 6/6/07]

Grassley Voted For Amendment To Put Limit On Family-Sponsored Immigrant Visas. In 1996, Senator Simpson proposed an amendment to the Immigration Control and Financial Responsibility Act of 1996 "To provide for temporary numerical limits on family-sponsored immigrant visas, a temporary priority-based system of allocating family-sponsored immigrant visas, and a temporary per-country limit--to apply for the five fiscal years after enactment of S. 1664." Grassley was one of only 20 Senators to vote for the amendment. [S. 1664, Vote #83, 4/25/96]

Grassley Has Repeatedly Opposed Comprehensive Immigration Reform. Sen. Grassley voted against passage on the immigration reform bill of 2006 and against cloture on the 2007 version of immigration reform. [S. 2611, Vote #157, 5/25/06; S. 1639, Vote #235, 6/28/07]

Grassley Supported A Review Of Birthright Citizenship. According to the Iowa Independent, "U.S. Sen. Chuck Grassley, R-Iowa, has joined the list of Republicans who support a review of 'birthright citizenship.' The group — which thus far includes GOP Sens. Mitch McConnell, John McCain, Tom Coburn, John Kyl and Lindsey Graham — want to look into changing the Constitution's 14th Amendment to remove automatic citizenship for children born in the United States." Richard and Helen DeVos Foundation

About

The Richard and Helen DeVos Foundation, with assets worth over $97 million as of the end of 2010, is a conservative Grand Rapids-based charitable organization. In addition to funding educational and artistic ventures in Michigan and around the country, the DeVos Foundation directs a significant portion of its grants to conservative outfits, especially ones focused on socially or religiously conservative causes.

At least $10 million each has gone to the Heritage Foundation and Young America's Foundation, both of which are important parts of the conservative institutional structure, with the former producing studies and papers to bolster a right-wing perspective on public policy and the latter working to spread conservative values among America's high school and college students. Over $5 million has been given to Focus on the Family, James Dobson's socially conservative venture that has long been at the forefront of anti-LGBT activism. Another couple of million dollars has been given out among several groups that oppose abortion rights, including notoriously deceptive crisis pregnancy centers.

The foundation's namesakes, Richard and Helen DeVos, derive their fortune from Amway, a direct selling company Richard co-founded in 1959. Tied for 205th on Forbes' list of billionaires, Richard is worth $5 billion, and the DeVos family owns the Orlando Magic. They also contribute generously to Republican candidates and campaigns from their personal funds, most notably pouring over $35 million into son Dick DeVos' unsuccessful 2006 quest to become Governor of Michigan. In 2012, Richard Devos donated $250,000 to help Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker win his recall election.

The contributions documented in Conservative Transparency are based on a review of publicly available filings with the Internal Revenue Service and Federal Election Commission, as well as state-level data from a variety of sources. Please contact us for more information.

Richard and Helen DeVos Foundation

About

The Richard and Helen DeVos Foundation, with assets worth over $97 million as of the end of 2010, is a conservative Grand Rapids-based charitable organization. In addition to funding educational and artistic ventures in Michigan and around the country, the DeVos Foundation directs a significant portion of its grants to conservative outfits, especially ones focused on socially or religiously conservative causes.

At least $10 million each has gone to the Heritage Foundation and Young America's Foundation, both of which are important parts of the conservative institutional structure, with the former producing studies and papers to bolster a right-wing perspective on public policy and the latter working to spread conservative values among America's high school and college students. Over $5 million has been given to Focus on the Family, James Dobson's socially conservative venture that has long been at the forefront of anti-LGBT activism. Another couple of million dollars has been given out among several groups that oppose abortion rights, including notoriously deceptive crisis pregnancy centers.

The foundation's namesakes, Richard and Helen DeVos, derive their fortune from Amway, a direct selling company Richard co-founded in 1959. Tied for 205th on Forbes' list of billionaires, Richard is worth $5 billion, and the DeVos family owns the Orlando Magic. They also contribute generously to Republican candidates and campaigns from their personal funds, most notably pouring over $35 million into son Dick DeVos' unsuccessful 2006 quest to become Governor of Michigan. In 2012, Richard Devos donated $250,000 to help Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker win his recall election.

The contributions documented in Conservative Transparency are based on a review of publicly available filings with the Internal Revenue Service and Federal Election Commission, as well as state-level data from a variety of sources. Please contact us for more information.

Richard and Helen DeVos Foundation

About

The Richard and Helen DeVos Foundation, with assets worth over $97 million as of the end of 2010, is a conservative Grand Rapids-based charitable organization. In addition to funding educational and artistic ventures in Michigan and around the country, the DeVos Foundation directs a significant portion of its grants to conservative outfits, especially ones focused on socially or religiously conservative causes.

At least $10 million each has gone to the Heritage Foundation and Young America's Foundation, both of which are important parts of the conservative institutional structure, with the former producing studies and papers to bolster a right-wing perspective on public policy and the latter working to spread conservative values among America's high school and college students. Over $5 million has been given to Focus on the Family, James Dobson's socially conservative venture that has long been at the forefront of anti-LGBT activism. Another couple of million dollars has been given out among several groups that oppose abortion rights, including notoriously deceptive crisis pregnancy centers.

The foundation's namesakes, Richard and Helen DeVos, derive their fortune from Amway, a direct selling company Richard co-founded in 1959. Tied for 205th on Forbes' list of billionaires, Richard is worth $5 billion, and the DeVos family owns the Orlando Magic. They also contribute generously to Republican candidates and campaigns from their personal funds, most notably pouring over $35 million into son Dick DeVos' unsuccessful 2006 quest to become Governor of Michigan. In 2012, Richard Devos donated $250,000 to help Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker win his recall election.

The contributions documented in Conservative Transparency are based on a review of publicly available filings with the Internal Revenue Service and Federal Election Commission, as well as state-level data from a variety of sources. Please contact us for more information.

FUNDER

Richard and Helen DeVos Foundation

About

The Richard and Helen DeVos Foundation, with assets worth over $97 million as of the end of 2010, is a conservative Grand Rapids-based charitable organization. In addition to funding educational and artistic ventures in Michigan and around the country, the DeVos Foundation directs a significant portion of its grants to conservative outfits, especially ones focused on socially or religiously conservative causes.

At least $10 million each has gone to the Heritage Foundation and Young America's Foundation, both of which are important parts of the conservative institutional structure, with the former producing studies and papers to bolster a right-wing perspective on public policy and the latter working to spread conservative values among America's high school and college students. Over $5 million has been given to Focus on the Family, James Dobson's socially conservative venture that has long been at the forefront of anti-LGBT activism. Another couple of million dollars has been given out among several groups that oppose abortion rights, including notoriously deceptive crisis pregnancy centers.

The foundation's namesakes, Richard and Helen DeVos, derive their fortune from Amway, a direct selling company Richard co-founded in 1959. Tied for 205th on Forbes' list of billionaires, Richard is worth $5 billion, and the DeVos family owns the Orlando Magic. They also contribute generously to Republican candidates and campaigns from their personal funds, most notably pouring over $35 million into son Dick DeVos' unsuccessful 2006 quest to become Governor of Michigan. In 2012, Richard Devos donated $250,000 to help Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker win his recall election.

The contributions documented in Conservative Transparency are based on a review of publicly available filings with the Internal Revenue Service and Federal Election Commission, as well as state-level data from a variety of sources. Please contact us for more information.

Young America's Foundation

About

Calling itself the "principal outreach organization of the Conservative Movement," Young America's Foundation (YAF) seeks to inculcate high school and college students with a commitment to free-market economics, strong national defense, and "traditional values." Started by a group of Vanderbilt University students in 1969 under the name of "University Information Services," YAF is currently headquartered in Virginia near Washington, D.C. The group's youth outreach activities include organizing conferences for college and high school students, helping college students set up YAF chapters and bring conservative speakers to campus, and running the National Journalism Center (NJC), which merged with YAF in 2001.

A training center for aspiring conservative journalists that's been in operation since 1977, NJC churns out young conservative authors and reporters armed with strategies on how to counter purported "bias in the mainstream media." However, with alumni that include Ann Coulter, bombastic former Human Events editor Jason Mattera, the Wall Street Journal's John Fund, and Fox News' Greg Gutfeld, the NJC seems to be less about combating bias in general than it is about elevating conservative bias by pushing their perspective into the mainstream media.

In 2011, Young America's Foundation absorbed another organization: the aptly acronymed Young Americans for Freedom. Young Americans for Freedom is a network of chapters on college campuses that provide a forum for conservative students who are "tired of liberal and Marxist professors indoctrinating [their] classmates." The website on how to start a Young Americans for Freedom chapter informs interested students that "Radical feminists, big government bureaucrats, fringe environmentalists, race-baiters, Islamo-fascists, and run of the mill leftists are distraught that you would even think about promoting conservative ideas." YAF pledges training for chapter members and financial assistance for chapters interested in hosting conservative speakers on campus.

YAF also runs the Reagan Ranch Center, which it opened in 2006. Located in Santa Barbara near Ronald Reagan's former ranch home (which YAF also owns), the Reagan Ranch Center is billed as "a schoolhouse for Reaganism." YAF uses the center's classrooms, lecture space, movie theater, and conservative library to host conferences and retreats for high school and college students, and the center's exhibits on Reagan's personal life and political legacy are open to the public.

YAF's history is closely connected to Reagan. The group sponsored a radio program with Reagan, then the Governor of California, in the 1970s, helping him reach millions of Americans just before running for president. After his election, President Reagan hosted an annual YAF student conference at the White House in every year of his presidency. YAF's president, Ron Robinson, was an education adviser in the Reagan administration, and he is also a director of the American Conservative Union and Citizens United. He is married to the president of a fellow conservative advocacy organization, the Clare Boothe Luce Policy Institute.

The conferences YAF puts together regularly draw big names in the conservative movement. YAF leaders (along with the American Conservative Union) is responsible for controlled Carthage Foundation and Sarah Scaife Foundation, the John M. Olin Foundation, the Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation, and the Richard and Helen DeVos Foundation. Scaife is vice chairman of Heritage's board. Philanthropist and former investment banker Thomas Saunders III serves as chairman.

In 2010, Heritage added a 501(c)(4) advocacy group, Heritage Action for America, promising "that when a wavering congressman thinks of voting for higher taxes, increased regulation, or a weaker national defense, television ads in his home district will remind him that a vote for bigger government is a vote for less freedom."

The contributions documented in Conservative Transparency are based on a review of publicly available filings with the Internal Revenue Service and Federal Election Commission, as well as state-level data from a variety of sources. Please contact us for more information.

The Heritage Foundation

About

Perhaps the most widely recognized of the many conservative think tanks that have proliferated since the 1970s, the Heritage Foundation occupies a privileged position among Washington's Republican establishment. Unlike corresponding institutions on the left (and many of its fellows on the right), Heritage has managed to clamor to the top of the influence ladder less through rigorous research and analysis than through effective messaging, a methodology hinted at in its mission to "formulate and promote conservative public policies." As one Democratic figure explained ruefully in 1998, after Heritage had firmly rooted itself in Washington politics, the organization "wrote the book on how to market and popularize political ideas."

Founded in 1973 by Paul Weyrich, who served Heritage's first president, and Edwin Feulner, who has been president from 1977 to today, the organization cemented the foundations of its legacy during the Reagan administration, when it became an influential generator of conservative policy ideas. Its Mandate for Leadership, a 1,000-plus-page publication with suggestions on how to make government more conservative, became a sort of manual for President Reagan, whose administration, according to Heritage itself, introduced almost two-thirds percent of its prescriptions. Then-Reagan adviser Ed Meese, who later became attorney general, met with Heritage staff about the guide. Heritage continues to produce the Mandate policy books for each administration, albeit pared-down versions of the original detailed behemoth.

Heritage has long tried to brand itself as an ideologically conservative outfit rather than a tool of Republican insiders, but since its early collaboration with Reagan the group has been cozily intertwined with the GOP establishment. Employees are often exchanged between the think tank and Republican administrations. Several contributors to the Mandate were hired as part of Reagan's cabinet. Reagan attorney general Meese joined Heritage in 1988, immediately after Reagan's presidency ended, and continues fulfill two prominent roles at Heritage. Similar exchanges happened with both Bush administrations. Mitt Romney's foreign policy team includes at least four Heritage alumni. Yet it's been fighting the perception that it's aligned with the "establishment" for decades.

What most betrays Heritage as an institution built to support the Republican Party is the way it has shifted rightward in concert with the GOP. Heritage, along with other conservative figures and organizations, was the first to sponsor the idea of health insurance mandates. Stuart Butler, a Heritage fellow, advised in 1989 that government "mandate all households to obtain adequate insurance" in a speech on health care. As the Democratic Party warmed up to the idea, however, Heritage fled from its proposal. It opposed health care reform efforts in 1993, and it wrote an amicus brief in support of those suing the federal government over the Affordable Care Act.

Heritage is extremely well-funded, pulling in over $73 million in 2010 and boasting assets of nearly $200 million. That year it spend over $80 million, a tenth of which went to "media and government relations" – that is, its efforts to promote its work among elected officials, the media, and the general public. As a tax-exempt charity, the think tank doesn't have to disclose its donors, but tax forms show that it gets a lot of funding from key right-wing foundations like the Koch-run Claude R. Lambe Charitable Foundation, the Richard Scaife-

David Vitter (R-Louisiana), chairman of the U.S. Senate Border Security and Enforcement First Immigration Caucus, and Jim DeMint (R-South Carolina), chairman of the U.S. Senate Steering Committee, introduced an amendment that would prohibit President Obama's administration, including the Department of Justice and other agencies, from participating in lawsuits seeking to invalidate the recently enacted Arizona immigration law. The DeMint-Vitter amendment (#4464) could be voted on next week as part of the debate on the small business bill on the Senate floor." [Vitter.Senate.Gov, 7/14/10; H.R. 4212, Vote #214, 7/21/10]

In 2007, then-Senator Clinton proposed an amendment to the Comprehensive Immigration Reform Act of 2007 to "reclassify the spouses and minor children of lawful permanent residents as immediate relatives." Grassley Voted For Amendment To Put Limit On Family-Sponsored Immigrant Visas. In 1996, Senator Simpson proposed an amendment to the Immigration Control and Financial Responsibility Act of 1996 "To provide for temporary numerical limits on family-sponsored immigrant visas, a temporary priority-based system of allocating family-sponsored immigrant visas, and a temporary per-country limit--to apply for the five fiscal years after enactment of S. 1664." Grassley was one of only 20 Senators to vote for the amendment. [S. 1664, Vote #83, 4/25/96]

Grassley Has Repeatedly Opposed Comprehensive Immigration Reform. Sen. Grassley voted against passage on the immigration reform bill of 2006 and against cloture on the 2007 version of immigration reform. [S. 2611, Vote #157, 5/25/06; S. 1639, Vote #235, 6/28/07]

Grassley Supported A Review Of Birthright Citizenship. According to the Iowa Independent, "U.S. Sen. Chuck Grassley, R-Iowa, has joined the list of Republicans who support a review of 'birthright citizenship.' The group — which thus far includes GOP Sens. Mitch McConnell, John McCain, Tom Coburn, John Kyl and Lindsey Graham — want to look into changing the Constitution's 14th Amendment to remove automatic citizenship for children born in the United States." SEN. CHUCK GRASSLEY (R-IA)

Grassley is the Ranking Member on the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Grassley: The DREAM Act Would “Incentivize And Reward Illegal Behavior” And “Create A Rush To The Border.” According to Sen. Grassley’s prepared remarks for a Judiciary Committee hearing on the DREAM Act, “The sponsors of the legislation claim only children who came to this country through no fault of their own would benefit. But the legislation would actually set the stage for another mass amnesty by putting millions of individuals, not just young people, on a path to citizenship. It would open the door to massive fraud and abuse of our immigration system. [...] I’m concerned that the repercussions in discussing another amnesty will only create a rush to the border. This is dangerous not only for the men and women who patrol our boundaries, but for the immigrants themselves. It is not unusual for those wanting a better life to justify their illegal behavior, but it is just that: illegal. [...] I agree that diversity has made this country the greatest in the world. We are a nation of immigrants, and continue to be an incredibly welcoming nation. But we need to be cautious when considering proposals that incentivize and reward illegal behavior.” In 2010, Grassley voted against the Senate’s version of the DREAM Act. [Grassley Prepared Statement, 6/28/11; S.3992, Vote #268, 12/9/10]

Grassley Suggested That Obama’s DREAM Act Directive Would Take Jobs Away From Young Americans. According to a press release from Sen. Grassley shortly after President Obama signed a directive ordering immigration officials to cease deportations of certain undocumented immigrants, “On top of providing amnesty to those under 30 years old, the administration now will be granting work authorizations to illegal immigrants at the same time young Americans face record-high unemployment rates. Americans also deserve to know how this amnesty program for hundreds of thousands of people will be funded, and whether resources for border security and enforcement will be diverted.” [Grassley.Senate.Gov, 6/15/12]

Grassley Introduced Mandatory E-Verify Bill. According to a press release from Grassley’s office, “Senator Chuck Grassley today introduced legislation that would permanently authorize and require employers to use the E-Verify program, an Internet-based system that assists employers in determining the eligibility of employees to work in the United States. Grassley is Ranking Member of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary which is responsible for immigration legislation.” [Grassley.Senate.gov, 1/31/13]

- Grassley-Sponsored E-Verify Amendment Previously Passed In Senate. According to the ACLU, “Under Grassley’s proposal, the DHS E-Verify system would require that all workers present government-issued photo ID to their employers, such as a passport or driver’s license. This documentation requirement would apply to all workers, including U.S. citizens, employed with an employer enrolled in E-Verify. The Grassley amendment encourages employers enrolled in E-Verify to verify the identification of all current employees, even if they have worked many years for that employer and even if they started work prior to the employer’s enrollment in E-Verify. The Grassley amendment was one of many ‘enforcement-only’ amendments passed by the Senate this week and added to the Homeland Security Appropriations Act.” [ACLU, 7/10/09]

Sen. Vitter On Arizona's Immigration Law: "If President Obama Doesn't Want States To Act On Immigration, He Should Start Doing His Job." According to a press release from Sen. Vitter's office, "The Arizona law is absolutely constitutional. If President Obama doesn't want states to act on immigration, he should start doing his job and controlling the border himself, not looking the other way," Vitter said. Vitter serves as chairman of the U.S. Senate Border Security and Enforcement First Immigration Caucus and has been a vocal supporter of the Arizona immigration law. In November 2011, Sens. Vitter, Jim DeMint (R-S.C.) and Jeff Sessions (R-Ala.) offered legislation to prohibit President Obama's administration, including the Department of Justice (DOJ) and other agencies, from participating in lawsuits against South Carolina, Alabama and Arizona over recently passed immigration laws. In May 2011, Vitter applauded the U.S. Supreme Court ruling to uphold an Arizona law that requires all businesses to check to make sure their employees are in the country legally. In 2010, Vitter also introduced an amendment that would have prevented the administration from suing with taxpayers' money to block the Arizona law." Vitter.Senate.gov, 4/24/12]

Vitter: DREAM Act Is “The Illegal Alien Student Bailout.” According to a press release from Sen. Vitter, “I am extremely pleased that the U.S. Senate has once again rejected the illegal alien student bailout known as the DREAM Act,’ said Vitter. ‘The American people have made it very clear that they favor border enforcement over policies that encourage lawlessness, and today’s bipartisan vote reaffirms what I have long argued - the American people will not tolerate amnesty in any form. In these difficult economic times, when unemployment rates are on the rise and government spending is unsustainable, the last thing legal tax-paying American citizens need is to see their hard-earned money used to finance the education of illegal aliens. Amnesty and economic incentives only exacerbate the problem of illegal immigration, and despite the efforts of liberals to push it yet again, I am pleased that we were once again able to defeat this irresponsible legislation,’ said Vitter.” [Vitter.Senate.gov, 10/9/10]

Sen. Vitter Cosponsored A Bill Requiring Government Services To Be Conducted In English Only.

In 2008, Sen. Vitter co-sponsored S. 2719, which reads, in part, “No funds appropriated pursuant to any provision of law may be used to promulgate or enforce any executive order that creates an entitlement to services provided in any language other than English.” The bill specifically nullified Executive Order 13166, “Improving Access to Services for Persons with Limited English Proficiency.” [Library of Congress, accessed 4/5/13]

Sen. Vitter Blamed “Illegal Immigrants” For Louisiana’s Loss Of A Congressional Representative.

According to Politico, “Sen. David Vitter is blaming Louisiana’s loss of a congressional seat on the large number of illegal immigrants he says are living in other states. By including illegal immigrants in the new 2010 census population counts, Vitter contends the federal government is penalizing states that don’t ‘welcome’ them. ‘Louisiana stands to lose clout in Congress, while states that welcome illegal immigrants stand to unfairly benefit from artificially inflated population totals,’ the Republican senator said in a statement Tuesday.” [Politico, 12/21/10]

Sen. Vitter Has Repeatedly Introduced A Bill Ending Birthright Citizenship, Which He Describes As “A Magnet To Attract More And More Adults Into Our Country Illegally.” According to an op-ed from Sen. Vitter, “America’s illegal immigration problem is out of control. To change this, we must better protect our borders, particularly the Mexican border, and ensure that only citizens and those in our country legally can be hired for jobs. Another change we must make is to stop babies born in this country to two illegal immigrant parents from automatically becoming U.S. citizens as they do now; this happens tens of thousands of times in the U.S. every year. This is just flat wrong, and it serves as a magnet to attract more and more adults into our country illegally. I believe the policy of birthright citizenship is incompatible with both the text and the legislative history of the 14th Amendment, which is why I recently introduced legislation so that a person born in the United States to illegal immigrants does not automatically gain citizenship unless at least one parent is a legal citizen, a lawful permanent resident (green card holder) or an active member of the Armed Forces.” Sen. Vitter introduced a similar bill, the Birthright Citizenship Act of 2013, in the 113th Congress. [Sen. SEN. DAVID VITTER (R-LA)

Vitter chairs the Border Security and Enforcement First Immigration Caucus.

In 2010, Sen. Vitter Ran A Racist Anti-Immigration Attack Ad. According to the Times-Picayune, “Sen. David Vitter’s campaign for re-election to the U.S. Senate is running a anti-immigration TV ad against Rep. Charlie Melancon, D-Napoleonville, that is being denounced as ‘racist’ and ‘reprehensible’ by the Louisiana Hispanic Chamber of Commerce and a leading national immigrant advocacy group. The ad, done in the broad, comic style of Vitter’s ad-maker John Brabender, shows Hispanic ‘illegal aliens’ sneaking through a hole in a fence and being welcomed by folks holding a Melancon banner, a giant check made out to ‘all illegal aliens’ and signed by Treasury Secretary Timothy Geithner. The immigrants also are greeted by a band playing ‘America the Beautiful,’ fireworks and a limo that drives them away. Darlene Kattan, executive director of the Hispanic Chamber of Commerce of Louisiana, characterized the ad as ‘racist’ in the way that it plays off a ‘Hollywood stereotype image of Latino workers.’ ‘It is totally unacceptable and we demand an immediate apology and the removal of the ad,’ Kattan said. She added that the spot ‘uses the word ‘illegal’ too many times, and we stress that word.” [The Times-Picayune, 10/8/10; Vitter For Senate Ad, 10/6/10]

- Vitter Had Previously Put Out A Racially Fraught Anti-Immigration Campaign Ad. According to the Washington Post, “In the ad, a menacing photo of ‘illegal aliens’ stares out in black-and-white from the screen. The photo also showed up in advertising for Sen. David Vitter (R-La.), with the words ‘Benefits for Illegals’ scrawled beneath the three mens’ faces. Only the photographer says the men were not illegal and had not immigrated to the United States at the time the photograph was taken. [...] They were farmers who had traveled from the far south of Mexico after their entire crop had failed and they were left with nothing to sell. They hoped to cross the border, but [photographer Chris] Floyd said he never knew if they did. At that point, ‘It was a picture of Mexicans in Mexico.’ [...] The caption for the photograph clearly identifies them as ‘Mexicans pose for a portrait whilst gathered in the town square of Altar, Mexico.’ The key words for the photograph do not use the term ‘illegal,’ but they do use the term ‘Mexican Ethnicity.’” [Washington Post, 10/8/10]

Sen. Vitter: Gang Of Eight’s Immigration Reform Proposal Is “Ridiculous” And Sen. Rubio Is “Amazingly Naïve.” According to Politico, “Sen. David Vitter on Wednesday called Florida Sen. Marco Rubio ‘amazingly naïve’ and ‘nuts’ on the issue of immigration and slammed the new bipartisan reform proposal as ‘ridiculous.’ The Louisiana Republican told ‘The Laura Ingraham Show’ that the blueprint unveiled by a group of eight senators is a plan that mirrors the ‘same old’ failed immigration reform of 1986. Rubio’s belief that enforcement mechanisms will work this time around is ‘just amazingly naïve,’ Vitter said. ‘I love and respect Marco. I think he’s just amazingly naïve on this issue,’ Vitter said. ‘This is the same old formula that we’ve dealt with before, including when it passed in 1986, and that is promises of enforcement and immediate amnesty. And of course, the promises of enforcement never materialize. The amnesty happens immediately — the millisecond the bill is signed into law, and the same is true here. No, they won’t be citizens immediately. They will be legal.’ ‘Citizenship is guaranteed at that point as a practical matter,’ he added. Vitter said that if the Florida Republican doesn’t think legal status offers a pathway to citizenship, ‘he’s nuts.’” [Politico, 1/30/13]

criticized the DREAM Act Tuesday at the measure's first-ever Senate hearing, calling it a move that could spur illegal immigration and fraud in the absence of comprehensive immigration reform. [...] [H]e added that the legislation offers too few protections against fraud and could lead to 'chain migration' if it is not paired with comprehensive immigration reform. 'Were we to pass this bill as a stand-alone bill without addressing the rest of our broken immigration system, I believe it is far less likely that we would ever get to the other issues in our broken system,' he said." Sen. Cornyn Linked Illegal Immigration To Swine Flu Outbreaks. During an April 2009 Senate Judiciary Committee hearing on comprehensive immigration reform, Sen. Cornyn stated, "Obviously, there is a public health component of our immigration system, and so we need to restore one that is protective of the public health as the recent incidents of this last week or so have reminded us." According to The Huffington Post, "Conservative media hosts, including Michelle Malkin and Glenn Beck, have placed the blame for the spread of swine flu to the United States squarely on the shoulders of undocumented Mexican immigrants. Some even suggested yesterday that Mexicans were purposefully carrying the virus across the border to sabotage the United States. There's no basis for either claim -- in fact, news reports and health officials suggest that Americans traveling to Mexico likely carried the disease home." MINORITY LEADER MITCH MCCONNELL (R-KY)

McConnell Defended Arizona Immigration Law, Said Obama Should Take "Amnesty Off The Table." According to a statement by Sen. Mitch McConnell responding to the Justice Department's challenge to Arizona's immigration law, "Suing the people of Arizona for attempting to do a job the federal government has utterly failed to execute will not help secure our borders. If the President wants to make real progress on this issue, he can do so by taking amnesty off the table and focus his efforts on border and interior security. It is long past time for this administration to prioritize solving a crisis over imposing an agenda and the first step is to recognize that attorneys and amnesty are not acceptable alternatives to border security and job creation." [McConnell Statement via ABC News, 7/6/10]

McConnell: Congress "Ought To Take A Look At" Birthright Citizenship Granted By The 14th Amendment. According to The Hill, "Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell (R-Ky.) told The Hill on Monday that Congress 'ought to take a look at' changing the 14th Amendment, which gives the children of illegal immigrants a right to U.S. citizenship. McConnell's statement signals growing support within the GOP for the controversial idea, which has also recently been touted by Senate Minority Whip Jon Kyl (R-Ariz.) and Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-S.C.). In an interview, McConnell said the 14th Amendment provision should be reconsidered in light of the country's immigration problem. McConnell stopped short of echoing Graham's call for revamping the amendment. 'I think we ought to take a look at it — hold hearings, listen to the experts on it,' McConnell said. 'I haven't made a final decision about it, but that's something that we clearly need to look at. Regardless of how you feel about the various aspects of immigration reform, I don't think anybody thinks that's something they're comfortable with.'" [The Hill, 8/2/10]

- McConnell Subsequently Claimed "I'm Not Aware Of Anybody Who Has Come Out For Altering The 14th Amendment." According to the New York Times, "At a breakfast on Thursday in Washington, Senator Mitch McConnell, the Senate minority leader, tried to tamp down a controversy that started when Senator Lindsey Graham, Republican of South Carolina, questioned the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, which grants the right to citizenship to anyone born in the United States. 'I am not aware of anybody who has come out in favor of altering the 14th Amendment,' Mr. McConnell said. But Mr. Graham, speaking on Fox News last week, said it was 'a mistake' to allow American-born children of illegal immigrants to become citizens automatically, a practice known as birthright citizenship. He said that along with a plan to grant legal status to millions of illegal immigrants, he would also amend the 14th Amendment as a way of discouraging future unauthorized immigration." McConnell Opposed DREAM Act Because "We Should Not Reward Illegal Behavior." According to floor remarks by Sen. Mitch McConnell, "I am disappointed my colleagues on the other side of the aisle are not continuing on the bipartisan path of enhancing our security. Instead, they are bringing up a controversial issue with the DREAM Act. This bill is an attempt to put illegal immigrants who graduate from a U.S. high school or obtain their GED on a special path to citizenship. Though I recognize and appreciate the

Cruz Attacked Primary Opponent's Support For Guest Worker Program. According to Fox News Latino, "Cruz went on the offensive against Dewhurst on illegal immigration—a key issue in the state that shares the longest stretch of U.S.-Mexico border—calling attention to Dewhurst's 2007 support of a guest worker program for the state's undocumented immigrants, announced at a speech in South Texas. Cruz called the guest worker idea more expansive than President Obama's decision to call off deportations for immigrants without criminal records who came here illegally as children—a policy that Cruz opposes and called 'illegal.'" [Fox News Latino, 7/18/12]

Cruz Supported Border Wall, Including Possibility Of Confiscating Private Property. According to Fox News Latino, "Cruz also distinguished himself from Dewhurst with his full-throated support for a border wall estimated by the Department of Homeland Security to cost $7.3 billion, or $6.5 million per mile. Cruz defended the border wall proposal even if it meant expropriating private property—a position that the debate's moderators, WFAA reporter Brad Watson and Gromer Jeffers of the Dallas Morning News, said contrasted with Cruz's message of fiscal conservatism. 'One of the specific powers and responsibilities of the federal government is to secure the borders,' Cruz said. 'Property can be taken with due process of law and just compensation.'" Cruz Criticized Idea Of Providing Green Cards To Unauthorized Immigrants. According to the Washington Examiner, "Sen. Marco Rubio, R-Fla., supports the idea of allowing illegal immigrants to apply for a green card after a 10-year wait. 'The problem with the green card is the green card is a permanent legal residence status, and anyone who has a green card is eligible for citizenship within five years,' Cruz explained to FOX News host Sean Hannity. 'And so, if someone can get a green card, that is a path to citizenship.'" [Washington Examiner, 4/2/13]

SEN. TED CRUZ (R-TX)

Crux sits on the Judiciary subcommittee on Immigration, Refugees, and Border Security.

Crux Claimed Obama Wants Immigration Reform Bill To "Crater" So Democrats Can Use It As "A Political Wedge." According to Ted Cruz in an interview with the Dallas Morning News, "[Obama's] behavior concerning immigration leads me to believe that what he wants is a political issue rather than actually to pass a bill. What he wants is for the bill to crater, so that he can use the issue as a political wedge in 2014 and 2016. That is why I believe the president is insisting on a path to citizenship for those who are here illegally. Because by insisting on that, he ensures that any immigration reform bill will be voted down in the House." [Dallas Morning News, 3/24/13]

Crux: "I Do Not Support The Dream Act And Categorically Oppose Amnesty." In an interview with the blog Conservatives in Action published on Cruz's campaign website, Cruz said, "I do not support the Dream Act and categorically oppose amnesty. I categorically oppose amnesty and I strongly support legal immigration for those that have followed the rules and come here to pursue the American dream." [TedCruz.org, 7/18/11]

Crux: "End Benefits Like In-State Tuition For Illegal Aliens." According to the Texas Tribune, Ted Cruz said, "We need leaders who will get serious about enforcing the border: triple the border patrol; use walls, fences, and technology; end sanctuary cities; repeal Obama's newly ordered amnesty; and end benefits like in-state tuition for illegal aliens." [Texas Tribune, 6/25/12]

Crux Called On Romney To End Obama's "Deferred Action" Policy Toward Young Undocumented Immigrants. According to the Huffington Post, "Ted Cruz, a Republican senatorial candidate from Texas, said Monday he thinks presidential candidate Mitt Romney should end President Barack Obama's deferred action policy, going beyond Romney's line that he doesn't need to because he'll fix the problem quickly through Congress. Asked by Telemundo whether Romney should reinstate deportations of young people granted deferred action, Cruz said, 'I do.' 'I think it is without authority, and we're a nation of rule of law, and it is not defending anyone's freedom to be undermining rule of law,' he said of President Obama's programs to meet U.S. labor market demand and a pathway to citizenship for undocumented workers already here. These days, he sounds more like Arizona's Sheriff Joe Arpaio, denouncing comprehensive immigration reform as 'a dead end' and saying it's no longer 'possible or even desirable.' He touts his support for walling off the Mexican border and suggests (incorrectly) that illegal Latinos drive violent crime in the U.S., telling one interviewer that 'virtually all' of the people entering the country illegally today are tied to smuggling rings and drug cartels. Mr. Flake, who is also known as a staunch fiscal hawk, apparently believes that kind of immigration rhetoric is necessary to win over Republican primary voters." [Wall Street Journal Op-Ed, 7/10/12]

Flake Urged SCOTUS to Uphold Arizona Immigration Law. According to a press release from Sen. Flake's office, "Republican Congressman Jeff Flake, who represents Arizona's Sixth District, today urged the Supreme Court to uphold SB 1070, Arizona's immigration enforcement law. Congressman Flake has consistently opposed the Obama Administration's decision to sue Arizona over the law. 'It should be expected that states like Arizona will take action to enforce immigration laws when the federal government continues its long history of failing to do so,' said Flake. 'The Obama Administration ought to focus on securing the border instead of suing Arizona for trying to help.'" [Flake Press Release, 4/25/12]

Flake Voted Against the DREAM Act. On December 8, 2010, Flake voted against the DREAM Act. According to the Immigration Policy Center, "The DREAM Act ... provides 'conditional' permanent residency to qualified unauthorized immigrants who enrolled in college or serve in the military. After meeting a set of requirements, including completion of at least two years of college or military service, the conditional status could be converted to full-fledged permanent resident status, which is a prerequisite for obtaining U.S. citizenship. The legislation currently before the Senate and the House would permit individuals up to age 35 to benefit from the DREAM Act, provided that they entered the United States before their 16th birthday and resided in the country for at least five years before the bill's enactment. The two-year college or military requirement could be met in a variety of ways, including attending community or vocational school or service in the National Guard. Upon completion of the two-year requirement, applicants could seek to remove the condition and become permanent residents." [H.R. 5281, Vote# 625, 12/8/10; ImmigrationPolicy.org, 6/5/12]

Flake Supported Ending Birthright Citizenship. According to The Washington Times, "House Republicans are looking closely at ending birthright citizenship and building a barrier along the entire U.S.-Mexico border as they search for solutions to illegal immigration. ... 'There's been recent scholarship that says we can do it by statute, and we ought to try,' said Rep. Jeff Flake, Arizona Republican, who usually finds himself on the opposite side of immigration issues from Mr. Tancredo. 'How in the world can you explain that's a good policy to have? It simply doesn't promote respect for the rule of law,' Mr. Flake said." [The Washington Times, 11/4/05]

Jeff Flake was one of the most reliable Republican champions for comprehensive immigration reform. Not anymore. As his campaign for Arizona’s 2012 GOP Senate nomination revs up, Flake is explicitly rejecting his past advocacy for far-reaching legislation that would secure the border, enact a temporary-worker program and give many undocumented immigrants a pathway to legal status. ‘In the past I have supported a broad approach to immigration reform -- increased border security coupled with a temporary worker program. I no longer do,’ Flake says in an immigration-policy statement that was expected to be posted on his campaign website as early as today. ‘I’ve been down that road, and it is a dead end. SEN. LINDSEY GRAHAM (R-SC)

Graham is a member of the “gang of eight.”

Graham In 2010: DREAM Act Vote “Is Nothing More Than A Political Game By The Democrats To Try And Drive A Wedge Between The Hispanic Community And Republicans.” According to a statement from Sen. Graham on his opposition to the DREAM Act, “Illegal immigration is a nightmare for America. Giving a pathway to citizenship without first securing the border is an inducement to encourage more illegal immigration. This is nothing more than a political game by the Democrats to try and drive a wedge between the Hispanic community and Republicans. Today’s cynical vote on the DREAM Act, along with a series of other votes, convinces me that the Democratic leadership in the Senate does not get the message from the last election. They care more about politics than policy in a variety of areas, including illegal immigration.” [Graham Press Release, 12/9/10]

Graham Argued For Eliminating Birthright Citizenship, Saying Immigrants “Come Here To Drop A Child. It’s Called ‘Drop And Leave.’” According to Politico, “Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-S.C.) announced Wednesday night that he is considering introducing a constitutional amendment that would change existing law to no longer grant citizenship to the children of immigrants born in the United States. Currently, the 14th Amendment grants citizenship to any child born in the United States. But with 12 million illegal immigrants living in the U.S., Graham said it may be time to restrict the ability of immigrants to have children who become citizens just because they are born in the country. ‘I may introduce a constitutional amendment that changes the rules if you have a child here,’ Graham said during an interview with Fox News’ Greta Van Susteren. ‘Birthright citizenship I think is a mistake ... We should change our Constitution and say if you come here illegally and you have a child, that child’s automatically not a citizen.’ [...] ‘People come here to have babies,’ he said. ‘They come here to drop a child. It’s called ‘drop and leave.’ To have a child in America, they cross the border, they go to the emergency room, have a child, and that child’s automatically an American citizen. Once we fulfill this commitment, we can then address all of the issues plaguing our broken immigration system. SEN. JOHN MCCAIN (R-AZ)

McCain is a member of the “gang of eight.”

McCain Suggested Arizona Wildfires Were Started By “People Who Have Crossed Our Border Illegally.” According to CNN, “U.S. Sen. John McCain is blaming illegal immigrants for starting some of the wildfires that have scorched hundreds of thousands of acres in Arizona. ‘There is substantial evidence that some of these fires have been caused by people who have crossed our border illegally,’ McCain, R-Arizona, said Saturday at a press conference. ‘The answer to that part of the problem is to get a secure border.’ The Arizona senator, however, did not say what the evidence is, prompting a swift rebuke from Latino civil rights advocates.” [CNN, 6/19/11]

McCain Defended Arizona Immigration Law By Claiming “Illegals” Were “Intentionally Causing Accidents On The Freeway.” During an interview on “The O’Reilly Factor,” McCain was asked “what about the racial profiling” that would result from Arizona’s immigration law SB 1070. McCain answered, “I would be very sorry if some of that happens, and I regret it. But I also regret the – really, it’s not just the murder of Robert Krentz. It’s the people whose homes and property are being violated. It’s the drive-by – the drivers of cars with illegals in it that are intentionally causing accidents on the freeway. Look, our border is not secured. Our citizens are not safe. [Fox News, “The O’Reilly Factor,” 6/19/10]

McCain Called Arizona Immigration Bill “A Very Important Step Forward.” According to Politico, “Sen. John McCain praised a tough Arizona anti-immigration bill that will let police arrest people who aren’t carrying identification, the latest move in McCain’s rightward shift in advance of a tough Republican Senate primary this summer. ‘I think it’s a very important step forward,’ McCain said Monday. ‘I can fully understand why the legislature would want to act.’ It’s a dramatic switch for a senator who supported comprehensive immigration reform with Democratic lion Sen. Ted Kennedy (D-Mass.) just four years ago. McCain is facing class status — not illegal, but not American. It's the Dream Act without the dream and should be dismissed out of hand, along with similar half-measures embraced by Mitt Romney and other Republican presidential candidates, who endorse legalization for military service but not college, and not citizenship in any case." Rubio Co-Sponsored Mandatory E-Verify Bill With Senator Grassley. According to The Tampa Bay Times, "Sen. Marco Rubio has signed on as a co-sponsor to a bill that would reauthorize the E-Verify employment check system and make it mandatory for all employers. 'I know firsthand the great things that immigration has meant for America,' Rubio said in a statement posted on his website. 'Immigration is woven into the fabric of our nation and is a critical part of our future. But we can't be the only nation in the world that does not enforce its immigration laws. Consistently, I have stated that a modernization of the legal immigration system is impossible unless we must first secure the border and implement an E-Verify system that will help prevent the hiring and exploitation of undocumented workers. That's why I support Senator Charles Grassley's bill to make E-Verify permanent.'" [The Tampa Bay Times, 6/15/11]

Rubio Said That English Should Be The Official Language Of The United States. According to The Miami Herald's Naked Politics blog, "Republican Senate candidate Marco Rubio said only 'nuances' separate his stance on immigration from that of his new ally, U.S. Sen. James DeMint of South Carolina. Rubio, who is Cuban-American, said he agrees with DeMint's position that English should be the official language of the U.S. 'We have to have a common language that unites the people,' said Rubio, the former state lawmaker from Miami. 'I'm not in favor of banning other languages, but my name is spelled the same way in Spanish as it is in English.' Lucky for him, since ballots might not be available in Spanish and Creole in Rubio's diverse Miami turf under legislation backed by DeMint that says government documents and services need only be available in English." SEN. MARCO RUBIO (R-FL)

Rubio: “We Have A Path To Citizenship. It’s Called Coming Legally Into This Country.” In an interview with Human Events, Sen. Marco Rubio was asked, “Are you in favor of creating a path to citizenship for the millions who are here?” Rubio answered, “Well, we have a path to citizenship. It’s called coming legally into this country. The ones who are already here. You can’t do it.” [Human Events, 5/6/10]

Rubio: “You’re Never Going To Have A Legal Immigration System That Works If You Grant Amnesty.” According to Rubio in an interview with Human Events, “And you’re never going to have a legal immigration system that works if you grant amnesty. [...] There are going to be stories of very young kids that were brought to this country at a very young age who don’t even speak Spanish that are going to be sent back to Nicaragua or some other place. And it’s gonna feel weird and I understand that. The goal here is to have an immigration policy that works. And if you provide a path for people to enter this country illegally and if they stay here long enough and pay enough in taxes, well let them stay legally...why would anyone come in through the legal process?” [Human Events, 5/6/10]

PolitiFact: Rubio Said That The Arizona Immigration Law Would Create A “Police State,” Then Later Said He Would Have Voted For The Legislation. According to PolitiFact, “The law, generally speaking, makes being an illegal immigrant a state crime and requires legal immigrants to carry papers that confirm their legal status. On April 27, 2010 in front of a largely Cuban-American crowd in West Miami, Rubio likened Arizona's bill to the creation of a ‘police state,’ saying the American people wouldn’t be comfortable with people being required to have documents on them at all times proving their citizenship status. Then on April 30, he told Fox News’ Neil Cavuto that didn’t believe the Arizona law was ‘the best answer to that problem.’ But in an interview with a conservative blogger nine days later, Rubio said he would’ve voted for the measure.” [PolitiFact.com, 5/12/10]

Rubio Said That The Democratic Version Of The DREAM Act Would “Create Incentives For Illegal Immigration, Chain Migration, And All Sorts Of Problems.” During an interview with the National Review, Rubio stated, “The problem is that all of the existing policy proposals that are out there like the DREAM Act create amnesty. They create incentives for illegal immigration, chain migration, and all sorts of problems. What I have said is that I believe we can deal with these kids and these circumstances without making all of the DREAM Act’s mistakes.” [National Review, 3/30/12]

- New York Times Editorial: Rubio’s Version Of The DREAM Act Would Not Provide A Path To Citizenship. According to the New York Times Editorial Board, “Senator Marco Rubio of Florida, who has recently been floating his stripped-down version of the Dream Act, a bill to legalize young unauthorized immigrants — Americans in all but name — who serve in the military or go to college. Mr. Rubio’s idea to make it palatable to his party is to offer them legalization without citizenship. ‘You can legalize someone’s status,’ he says, ‘without placing them on a path toward citizenship.’ He warns that if Dream Act youths became citizens, they could — horrors — someday sponsor family members to enter legally. This idea is nothing more than some newly invented third-

Introduction

As immigration reform moves forward in the Senate, the success of any legislation will depend on the cooperation of conservative lawmakers with troubling histories on the issue. However, it is not only their past policy positions and quotes that are disturbing. These key conservative senators also share a history of campaign contributors who also fund extremist anti-immigrant organizations, including those labeled as hate groups by the Southern Poverty Law Center.

Each of the Republican senators in the immigration “gang of eight” have supported extreme positions and aligned themselves with anti-immigrant forces. Beyond the “gang,” leading conservatives such as Minority Leader Mitch McConnell, Sens. John Cornyn, Chuck Grassley, David Vitter, and Ted Cruz will figure prominently into the fate of immigration reform despite having similarly concerning records.
